Republicans have departed from their last two elective posts in state government in Michigan, the state highway dept. and public instruction and are on the outside looking in. Ziegler was highway commissioner 14 years and said he had awarded $58,800,000 in trunkline construction for completion this year and had plans for another $64,000,000

Mackie, the Democrat who succeeds will face a court fight by the Michigan Society of Professional Engineers as they contend he must be a member of their society to qualify.

Clair Taylor has been in the dept. of instruction for 20 years but only supt. for 4, he said during that time, the states share of the public school cost has increased from $37,400,000 to $258,501,582

There are 10,000 inmates in the state prisons now and they need more room. They want a $20,000,000 medical center to treat sex deviates, mentally disturbed, pyschotisetc. Because of the finanial situation this program may have to wait years.

Lack of religion is said to contrib ute greatly to delinquency. Most of the prison inmates were brought up in non-religious families who did not attend church. The inmates of Jackson prison are building a chapel themselves and furnishing it. They have already raised $8000 of the $32000 cost.

TORNADO HITS BRIGHTON

A tornado hit the Detroit suburban area in the afternoon July 4th during considerable damage. The areas it struck were Huntington Woods, Hazel Park, Royal Oak and Brighton.

At Brighton the Saxony Gardens sub division was struck. The home of David Bidwell was blown off its foundation and demolished, He, his wife, 2½ year old daughter and five day old baby just home from the hos pital, escaped serious injury. The tents at Camp Howell, the Boy Scout camp near there were blown down. A tree was blown down on a tent occupied by a woman at Island Lake To make matters worse the people at the parks and beaches started to return home when the storm started blocking the roads in all direction so that traffic did not move at all for some time.

Edwin Reiss, 19, of Detroit was hurt July 4th when he dived off the dock at Newport Beach, Portage lake. He was taken to St. Joe Hospital in the Swarthout ambulance. His father is dead. His mother lives in Detroit.

Current Comment

Pinckney experienced one of the hottest school elections in her history Monday. Not that she has not had others. One 50 years ago went to the supreme court where the plaintiff lost. They sought to throw out the election because the chairman, John Teeple they alleged made a mistake. Under the present system of voting by ballot it is harder to control a school election than in the old days when a candidate could bring in 25 or 30 voters and take over. The big trouble at the school this year was they did not have sufficient funds. Their mileage increase was defeated last year but they got by this year by borrowing from next years funds. No one knows what the school funds will be next year and the legislat. ure made them dependent on the con. sumption of whiskey and cigarettes. This cannot go on forever and the people must face the fact that sooner or later they will have to vote more school money. It is inevitable. It is hard to keep teachers here particulary high school teachers as other schools who pay more are continually taking them away.

July 4th celebrations where the spell binders plucked the eagle until it screamed are pretty much a thing of the past. Brighon and Ypsilanti celebrated the 4th this year but theirs was more on the carnival order with few of the old time features. We have an account of one celebrated here back in the eighties. It said the day was heralded by the shooting of the anvil at the break of day. Who knows how to shoot an anvil now? The parade was usually in the morning at supposed to be. There was always more or less delay in starting it. The marshall on horseback headed it followed by the band. Then came the decorated floats by the business places organizations etc. There was always a Goddess of Liberty float with the goddess and her ladies in waiting. The dinner was served in the grove across the pond. Then the program. Dr. C. W. Haze read the Declaration of Independence. Dennis Shields of Howell was toastmaster. and the speaker Cong. Edwin Winans of Hamburg later governor. Then the races and contests. the most exciting of which was catching the greased pig. The winner got the pig. Then the ball game and the fireworks display at night from the town hall roof. It had a flat roof then. The last event was the bowery dance on the square operated by William Cobb of Portage Lake, his sons, Kit and Willie and daughter, Nell. Old man Cobb was a character. How Henry Ford would have loved to add him to his collection of old fiddlers. When everything was ready and the dancers were on the floor he would flourish his bow. call out "Come on now Willie" and they were off to the races.The old man also called.The town was packed. Every post and tree had a horse tied to it, whose owners brought their feed and stayed all day.

Governor G. Mennen Williams certainly gets around and his energy in doing so is boundless. He probably had the busiest schedule of anyone in the state July 4th, At 7:30 a. m. he attended a Maronic breakfast at Port Huron, a parade at Utica at 9:45. another parade at Wyandotte at 11:00 dinner at North Park, Detroit at 11:30 American Legion Celebration at Ypsilanti at 4:30, dinner at Plymouth at 6:00, Disabled Veterans celebration at Saginaw at 9:05 and final appearance at Mt.Pleasant. According to the press he also visited the Brighton cyclone area. He must have been a little fatigued at night.

The State Board of Heath reports burnt toast as effective antidote for poisions even if their exact nature is unknown. It should be burned, ground ed in a glass and stored in a dark room or kitchen. During World War I common salt was found to have many curative qualities. We worked in Detroit then and they used it a lot in the factory first aid rooms.

On behalf of the re-elected School Board members, I take this opportunity to thank all of our friends for their loyal support, and I compliment you on the good common sense used to determine the REAL issues of the past campaign.

Now that the election is over and the voters have made their desires known, I call upon all the citizens of the Pinckney Community School District to patch up their differences of opinion and unite in supporting your School Board.

I want to personally thank the many organizations for their efforts on behalf of Adequate and Equal Educational Opportunities for our children.

Knowing the magnitude of the task that lies ahead, may I ask for your prayers that the task be successfully accomplished.

Yours truly,

CARSON HOLLINGSWORTH,
President,
School Board
