LOCAL JOTTINGS.

N. B. Mann and J. J. Teeple have each sent home from the north woods. the carcass of a noble deer.

George Day, from Pleasant Lake, contemplates opening a bazaar store in the Hinchey building, on West

Main Street. In Prussia they keep a statistical record of habitual drunkards—and, Petersburg (Monroe Co.,) thinks of strange to say, the percentage of that having a newspaper. Anything new class is much smaller than in this in that rusty old town would make the people stand on their heads with astonishment.

> Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Chalker, of Harrison, Clare Co., have been visiting friends in this vicinity during the past week.

> The Lowry family drew rather a small audience, Friday evening last, and while some features of the enter-

A veteran tramp died, recently, in tainment were good the little boys were both evidently suffering from colds and were too much "worn out" to d themselves justice. We hope they may

Chas. Grimes, of the Agricultural College, paid a brief visit to his home in Pinckney, this week,

Tompkins & Ismon the Star Clothiers have a new sign.

A good bakery would not be out of place in Pinckney now.

W. B. Jenkins and family bade their Pinckney friends good bye, the first of the week, and ere this are probably located at their home near Bear Lake Antrim County. Our best wishes go with them. Of course the DISPATCH will make its weekly visits to their new home.

Miss Hattie Martin went to Ann Arbor, Saturday last, to spend several months studying-music.

The construction trains will now be employed in back-tieing and ballsating. Several weeks more will be required to put the track in shape for passenger trains.

A union praise meeting will be held at the M. E. Church on Sunday evening next. These services are highly complimented by those who have attended them, and the public are cordially invited.

The Chautauqua Reading Circle will meet at the residence of Dr. Sigler, Friday evening, Nov. 16th, at seven o'clock p. m. It is desired that all members be present, and a special in-

The gale of Sunday night last, was one of the most severe that has occurred for years, and as a result reports ot loss of life and vessel property come in thick and fast. The steamboat docks at Petoskey and Bay View, were entirely swept away. Wrecks line the shores of all the lakes.

S.G. Teeple has purchased one-half interest in the famous stock ram No. 57, bred by E. Kelly, of Oceola.

Thermometor 12 degrees below zero in Minnesota and Dakota, yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Plimpton started yesterday for Muskegon and other points, where they will visit friends. Mr. Plimpton also making a business trip in the interest of Sykes & Soz's carriage works.

The litigation, for the present, on the Pinckney public square, came to a close last Saturday, having occupied Judge Newton and a host of witnesses several days. The case was decided against James Pearson, and in favor of the Kirkland beirs. It was claimed on the part of the Kirkland heirs, that fraud and deception had been used in taining a quit-claim deed of the land. On the other side, it was claimed that the Kirkland heirs were of age. and ought to know whether to sign a deed or not, if not a guardian ought to be appointed for them. The case will provably go to the Supreme court. -Howell Republican.

THE first colored man who ever passed an examination in the judicial depariment in New York has just been admitted to the bar by the supreme court of that state.

MR E. E CONKLIN, of the Knickerbocker Ice Company, has expressed to a reporter of the Albany Evening Journal the opinion that not less than 800,-000 tons of last winter's ice harvest remain in the storehouses along the Hudson. The companies are buying up all the old ice they can find in expectation of an open winter. They make this prophecy boldly. for was not the wind in the South when the sun crossed the line? And isn't that an infallible sign that south winds will prevail during the next six months.

ABOUT 250 Norwegians left Chicago for New York a few da, s ago, there to take one of the Scandinavian line of steamers for Norwegian ports. About 200 of the excursionists came from Wisconsin, Dakota and Michigan, and about fifty are from Chicago. They all have return tickets limited to one year. Their object in visiting the old country is to spend the holidays with their relatives and friends, and if pos sible induce them to come out to this country, About 600 will leave on the 22d of this month, half of that number being already booked for passage.

THE chain-gang is likely, it seems, to come into the Georgia courts. A negro was sentenced to pay a fine of $10 or serve six months upon the public works. As the law permits, he hired himself out to a man who paid the fine. The m.n, hewever, tired of his bargain, and sold his contract to the lessees of the state convicts These persons put felons' stripes upon the negro, his offence being only a misdemeanor. He brings suit for damages, making this one of the grounds of complaint, but as the principal ones a denial of the right to transfer and a charge of false imprisonment- Probably the destruction of the chain-gang system can only be had through an aroused public sentiment acting upon the legislature, but an exposure of some of its iniquitous and outrageous features in court would help toward its downfall, and it is to be hoped this suit will not be hushed up before trial.

A RUSSIAN Jew, Solonion Schasgal by name, and only nineteen years old, the son of a watchmaker in Berditschen, has invented a watch which goes by electricity, and which is declared by Herr Chwolson, professor of physics at the university of St. Petersburg, to be an instrument of wonderful simplicity and value. In an article in 'The Nowosti, describing the invention, which he believes will revolutionize the manufacture of watches, Professor Chwolson says: "The watchess are without any springs and consist solely of two wheels. From the Saginaw Hersld we learn how ne minister spent his summer vacation, and the good results that followed: Two years ago Rev. Mr. Shanafelt went to Manistique to spend his summer vacation hunting and fishing in that vicinity. He made many friends and was asked to preach, which he did in the village school house, and the result was the bringing together a considerable number of old church members. These he gathered together and urged them to organize a church, and with the aid and advice of the flome Mis sion association, a minister was sent there and has been handsomely supported. In addition they have the past summer crected a $4,000 church edifice, now complete, and a council has been called to receive the new church into the Baptist association, and at the same time dedicate the new edifice.

SIX THANKSGIVING TURKEYS.

BY E. P. ALLEN

Dan Riley was eating his breakfast. Strange to say, he wasn't thinking much about the buck wheat cakes and honey this-morning, -though Grandma always said breakfast was the only time that Dan was not absent-minded. She had known him to go to school without his giving as long as I live!' hat, and go to used in his boots, and leave his candle burning all nighs, and forget to mail a letter for a week; but | Charles Dudley Warper in S. S. Times. he never failed, Grandma would say, with a funny twinkle in her eye, to hear Prue's step at the door, and was always there to meet her and bring in the hot cakes.

But te-day die was having a debating society with himself and was so interested in the discussion that he didn't even know how many cakes ie was getting away with

It was two days before Thanksgiving. There was a line snow /ou the ground and Dan had a new shed lke Paxion, his chum had no sled and no time to make one (it was all tke's mother could and clothe him and the other three boys [hen.

Riley took the fact of the six turkeys very quietly

"T'aint often you make me a present Mother," said the old farmer, "and I want one of them turkeys for Jim Coales's family.'

"Grandma, can't I have one for Ike Paxton's mother?" said Dan, conscious of a guilty thought that this might buy off his conscience about that coasting business.

"Oh! go 'long," said Grandma; "but you needn't ask for t'other, 'cause Prue is a-goin' to fetch it to her old uncle. And now come 'long and help me and Prue to pick them six turkeys, Dan'el Riley."

Ngxt afternoon Dan and Dobbin went round getting rid of those turkeys. But giving is a very spreading sort of thing. When Dan got to Mrs. Paxton's, he had almost forgotten his old broken sled, and he and Ike laid their plans for double riding on the Rainbow. And the spreading did not stop there. That was the gayest Thanksgiving the Rileys had ever known. The story of the six turkeys was told, amid shouts of happy laughter, and, when it had quieted down, John's wife said:

"Sister Caroline, while we come home to eat mother's turkeys, I think we might kill our own for somebody that hasn't any." And they made the bargain between them.

When Grandpa Riley was covering the bedroom fire for the night, Grandma shook her head at him from the pillows, and said, in the tone of one who quells an enemy:

"You needn't say a word, old man, I mean to kill six turkeys every Thanks-

The Old-Fashioned Thanksgiving.

The night before Thanksgiving was perhaps the best of the whole, the anticipation and excitementalmost reached their climax. The hen-roost was invaded, and the boy could indulge his inatural propensity for slaughter with a feeling that it was sanctioned by the Christian religion. The squawking was music in his ears, the cutting off of heads a bloody joy, the Indierous Attempts of the hens to go about without any heads a source of inexhaustible merriment. Neither age nor sex was spared; youth did not excuse the rooster from quitting his perch at the suddo to spare him school times, and al- den summons in the dark, nor old age meet more than she could do to feed and munificence in eggs the venerable Whatever the breakfast was, and it was abundant, it always had one dish met on Big Spring Hill-for, of course, chicken shortcake. I still believe that nothing else ever made is so good as old piece of a sled, that wouldn't go it had; and how it assimilated with the brown-coated, erystal-flaked potatoes. If the Times were a cook-book, I would give the recipe for it. But its moral Everybody went to meeting, every-Sunday. The sermon was a sober political "rouser." Was it Parson smiling. "You don't say nothin' 'bout Hallock, or Parson Grout, or Parson how many ears of corn Dobbin gets. 1 Field preached it? Making Butter in Winter.

More butter is consumed in wipter than in any other season, as the human system demands more fat in cold weather than in warm. Within a few years the public taste for butter has become is demanded for every day in the year. For the best quality of new-made perfect butter, especially in winter, a good price will always be paid. Housewives | polish with linseed oil. on the farms are beginning to learn that the butter they make during grass time and keep until winter cannot compete with the butter fresh from the churn of one who knows her business. Formerly that was the only good butter in the market during the winter months, for grass butter was thought to be preeminently the best, and because no one knew how to make good butter in winter, but little milk was obtained, the facilities for keeping it were not good, and thus winter butter was hard, nearly white, and every way very inferior. Now, however, farmers' wives know how to make good but er in winter, and the advantages of nanufacturing the main quantity then instead of selecting that time for the cows can be made from the same cows in[°] time, also, is a very important consideration, the winter months being less of the year.

Mending Broken Limbs.

The Dairy.

In an English paper, it is reported that a valuable shorthorn cow has been killed because of having one of her legs broken. Now, such an accident as this is only difficult to remedy when the fracture is high up in the thigh, in the thick, fleshy part. Otherwise a broken leg may be repaired as easily as the leg of a chair. That we mend by applying glue and a bandage to keep it in pr sition while the glue is hardening. In the case of an animal, nature supplies the glue in the immediate growth of new bory tissue, which unites the broken surfaces, very quickly, and all we wan is the bandage to keep the bone in posi tion until the cartilage or soft bone hard ens. And to make these bandages is a very simple matter. WEEK. THE

WANGS NUTON. A REPENTANT WOMAN.

Some months ago John Barnard, an elderly elerk in the Bureau of Frinting and Engraving, cloped with Blanche Burr, a young and pretty elerk whose parents reside in Washington. Barnard left a large number of unpaid bills, borrowed money of all his friends and deserted a wite and four children to run away with Blanche. Nothing was known of the pair until a few days ago, when Blanche's father received a telegram from her dated St. Joseph, Mo., in which there was a pitiful appeal for money to pay her fare home. Letters received later show that Barnard was kind to her only a very short time. As they travelled from city to city, after the novelty of the situation wore off he began to treat her with great brutality, which she endured as long as possible and then left him. He followed her, and by threats of repconstatious that she was his wife, which she, of course, could not deny, compelled her to live with him again. The brutal treatment continued, and she again left him at Omaha and went to St. Joseph. She says he is there and threatens to kill her if she attempts to go to Washington. Before the elopement Blauche was a modest, accomplished and much respect ed young lady, belonging to good society. The clerks in the bureau where she worked have raised a considerable sum of money to bring Blanche back. Barnard will not dare to return. A JUDGE'S SALARY.

Joseph W. Fisher, chief justice of Wyoming brought suit in the supreme court to recover The amount of deficiency in his salary, which was formerly $3,000, but under a later statute had heen reduced to $2,000, while the former statute had never been replaced. A decision was rend ered in his favor.

A-party of 358 Morinous arrived in New York the other day on the Guion, steamship, Wisconsin. With them were twenty returning Mormon missionaries, who have been laboring abroad during the last two years. This is the fifth party which has landed there this year, making the total Mormon immigration since last January 2,600. Of this party 120 are Scandinavians, while the others came from England, Ireland and Wales. The ma-jority are males. There are about 100 children in the party. A number of the men are mechanics, while the others are farm hands. All are well provided with money and baggage.

CRUSHED TO DEATH.

The entire roof, inside walls, iron and stone columns of the new couth wing of the capital at Madison, Wis, fell in the other afternoon, burying a large number of workmen in the rulus. The cause of the terrible accident is somewhat uncertain, but the most plausible theory is that the heavy iron pillars supporting the roof of the second story balcony sunk into the plank on which they rested, thus pulling the sound wall outward which in turn caused the roof of the envire wing to cave in. These columns were made of large pieces of bailer iron rulled into circular form, stove pipe fashiou, the jointures not being bolted together. About 25 men-were buried beneath the wall, four of whom were killed, and the others wounded, many dangerously. It is the opinion of the contractor that the loss will fall on the commonwealth, as the plans were approved by the state architect, and the blame can be as-cribed to no one. The loss cannot be estimated at present. The additions were to be completed March 1, 1884. Two hundred thousand dollars were appropriated by the legislature to meet the necessary expense. The wing was designed for the use of the historical society. THE REASON FOR IT

Treating Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, Nasal Catarra, Sore' Throat, Loss of Voice, and other Maladies of the Nose, Throat and Lungs.

DR. WOLFE treats the above named diseas es by Medicated Inhalations. When thus ad-ministered, remedies are brought "face to face" in contact with the disease; whereas, if they are swallowed they mix with the contents o the stomach and never reach the organs of reapiration.

DR. WOLFE has, by the judicious employment of Medicated Inhalations, assisted thousands to regain their health, many of whom had been pronounced incurable, and given up to die by their family physician and friends.

"DR. WOLFE has prepared a list of questions for sick people to answer by mail. They are in character the same he would ask were he by the bedside of the invalid. By writing answers to these questions any one can send an accurate statement of his disease and receive and use inhaling remedies at home, in any part of the United States or Canada, without incurring the expense and discomfort of making a visit to Cincinnati. Any one sending his name and post-office address with a three-cent postage stamp, will receive a copy of the "Circular of Questions" by return mail.

.DR. WOLFE has published a medical book called "Common Sense, Cause and Cure of Consumption, Asthma, etc.," a copy of which

- Lorne's Logic.

A special cable to the Toronto Globe says: The Contemporary Review for November contains an article by the Mar quis of Lorne, late Governor-General of the Dominion, entitled "Canadian Home Rule." It was written in compliance with a request to furnish notes suggestive of steps that might be taken to meet the demand for home rule for Ireland, or provide information having bearing upon the future of Australia The Marquis discusses the chief features of the federal government of Canada, indicates the individual rights reserved to the different provinces and dwelter specially upon the danger which must arise should one member of the confederation become strong enough to oppose the will of the central government.

The Marquis of Lorne declares that should the provincial feeling be developed stronger than the feeling of loyalty to the general government, the American civil war may be repeated in Canada. Equality of strength among the various members of the Confederation would be the best guarantee against this.

The conclusion drawn is, that the experience of the American States shows that while purely local matters may be left to the control of local assemblies, it is all important that no provingeshould be organized in such strength as

A batch of University Students have been granted leave of absence to make a tour of the eastern states for the purpose of measuring their prowes with the students of other educational institutions as "kickers" of the foot ball Foot ball exersise may be a healthy pastime, and very proper to enliven the minds and invigorate the bodies of students between lessons, but do not the long vacations furnish ample time for tours of conquest, and wouldn't it be better for the faculty to encourage the boys to devote their time to study during the months set apart for study, instead of humoring them to the practice of wasting weeks of time in senseless contests of physicial prowes? Many parents who send their sons to the university for education can illy afford to spare the money and time required for such needless indulgences.

Monsignore Capel made an excellent impression in Detroit, as he has done in other cities where he has visiten or lectured. His theme: "Freedom of thought in the Catholic church," is a timely one, and is handled in such manner as to correct many wrong .impressions which have prevailed in 1egard to the Catholic church both at at home and abroad. The Monsignore's rare combination of the mental and spiritual culture of the priest with the social qualities of the true gentleman have won for him many friends and admirers.

never been very loyal to any party except when he could have his own way. and for Butler to run the party would be as grevious to other pollticians who might have ambitions of their own to gratify, as to suffer defeat without him. He has been identified with every political party that has existed during the past quarter of a century (except the prohibition party). He is possessed of a certain amount of shrewdness but was never noted for his: consistency. His defeat probably spoils any chances he may have had for the presidential nomination, and the party will consider it good riddance.
