There's Nothing so Successful as Success.
Detroit White Lead Works, the Hinchman & Rogers Company, is just closing the year of its corporate existence. This company has a notable instance of extraordinary success achieved in a short time by enterprising, fair dealing and good goods. They occupied a position in three years that it has other houses a quarter of a century to reach, and they are now the largest paint house of Michigan and one of the foremost in the country.—Distinct Commercial.

AN ANECDOTE OF GENERAL SHERMAN

By V. Smalley, in the January Century.

Many good anecdotes of Sherman were current during the war. Some of them, he once said, when they were brought to his notice, had been told of every general since Hannibal. Here is one of unquestionable authenticity, which shows his sagacity in dealing with the population of conquered towns. After he occupied Memphis, the people kept the churches, schools, and places of business closed, so that, save for the movements of the soldiers, the place looked like a city of the dead. He issued an order directing that the stores and shops should be opened during business hours, the schools resume their courses, and the churches hold their customary services. Among the people who called at his headquarters to protest against this order, or to ask for explanations, was the clergyman of an Episcopal church, who said that the ritual of his denomination contained a prayer for the President which, under the circumstances, embarrassed him. "Whom do you regard as your President?" asked Sherman bluntly. "We look upon Mr. Davis as our President," replied the minister. "Very well; pray for Jeff Davis if you wish. He needs your prayers badly. It will take a great deal of praying to save him." "Then I will not be compelled to pray for Mr. Lincoln?" "Oh, no. He's a good man, and don't need your prayers. You may pray for him if you feel like it, but there's no compulsion," answered Sherman, instantly divining that the worthy clergyman wanted to pose as martyr before his parishioners, and had hoped that he would be ordered to use the prayer for the President of the United States. The next Sunday the prescribed prayer was so modified by the preacher as to leave out all mention of the President, and to refer only to "all in authority."

The Fragments.

Arthur's Magazine.

Taking into view the circumstances under which it was spoken, how singular the command, "Gather up the fragments, that nothing be lost." But no doubt the lesson was meant for us in these remote times and nations, as well as for believers in those early days. There is a beautiful economy in all God's works. There is no real waste anywhere.

"The dust we tread
Shall change beneath the summer showers
To golden grain or mellow fruit,
Or rainbow-tinted flowers—
The glad rocks disencumber
And feed the hungry moths they bear.
The forest leaves drink daily life
From out the vernal air."

If the Creator thus saves every atom of material in carrying out His works, surely it becomes us to be thoughtful of the use we make of that which He entrusted to us. A good steward is ready to give an itemized account of all that is entrusted to him, and no less will be expected of us. The unused garments in our presses and garret boxes will all come to a review. I know some very successful business men who have great quantities of this kind saved as relics or from the possible chance of their being some time of service. That, too, in a world so full of shivering, half-clad forms. Old carpets are rolled away to tempt the moths and mice which might cover some poor widow's floor and help keep her poor feet from suffering with cold. I wonder if the Lord would think the best use to which an outgrown garment could be put to cut it in strips for ragged rags. If we could but realize fully that these are not our things, but His, we should be more careful of fragments.

Whatever can be made of use to humanity is worth saving and using. How many houses are cumbered with good papers and journals that, once read, are thrown aside, which would bring great pleasure and profit to some destitute home. These are fragments that should be gathered up and put to good use. Invalids, in particular, are very grateful for such favors, and they often serve to beguile many weary hours. The army of want is ever full—no fear of our not being able to find suitable avenues for all our charities if we have but the disposition to look about for them.

The time is short, and we can make but one journey through this world. Every new day a record is sealed up to await the grand review.

It is not understood why druggists keep in stock so many kinds of medicines for coughs, colds and consumption, when it is only necessary to keep Allen's Lung Balm, that old, reliable remedy, which is a pure vegetable preparation, and perfectly harmless as it contains no opium in any form. Sold everywhere.

A HUMAN FIRE.

The Phenomenon of a Burning Mine Repeated in the Physical System.

A few years ago one of the most important coal mines in Pennsylvania caught fire. It started slowly but soon obtained such headway that it spread through the greater portion of the entire mine. To flood it with water would extinguish the fire, but well nigh ruin the mine; and still the flames continued to increase. At that juncture a young man stepped forward and suggested that all the entrances and vent notes of the mine be covered and secured, thus shutting off the supply of air. His advice was followed and the flames were finally subdued.

To compare the condition of this mine with many phases of the human system, it is most natural and appropriate. "Fire in the blood" is not a mere expression, it is a most serious fact. How it originates, it may be impossible to say; but that it burns and rages with an increasing fury, the one who is its victim only too painfully knows. The blood is the life. It is designed by nature to purify, strengthen and sustain the system. It is too often made the channel through which poison and death are transported. Poisonous acids coming through the veins and arteries inflame and cause a fire just as real as the one which existed in the mine. They burn and irritate, causing the brain to become weak and nervous and unstrung; they carry pain to the muscles and leave agonies in the joints; they bring destruction instead of strength; they devastate the very portions of the body that most require help, and they hasten the approach of death in its most horrible form. These things have been felt by innumerable people who have been the victims of rheumatic disorders, and the agonies they have endured confirm this description.

There is but one way by which this fire in the blood can be extinguished, and that is by shutting off the supply of these poisonous acids. The lactic, lithic and uric acids come into the blood through the liver and kidneys, and they remain in solution in the blood producing inflammatory rheumatism, sciatica, lumbago, neuralgia, gout and all rheumatic fevers and affections. When they are deposited as gritty crystals in and near the joints, they cause articular rheumatism; when in the muscles, muscular rheumatism and lumbago; when in the tissues covering the nerves, sciatica; when in the face, head and nerves generally, neuralgia. In every case they are painful; in most instances, dangerous. Inflammatory rheumatism is likely to locate in some joint and become chronic, or suddenly attack the brain or heart, causing apoplexy or heart disease. The fire in the blood must be extinguished—the supply must be shut off. This can only be done by guarding the portals to the blood—the kidney and liver; and no means has ever been found for accomplishing this which can equal Warner's Safe Rheumatic Cure. It acts directly upon the seat of the disorder; it extinguishes the fire by controlling the supply and removing the cause.

The well known standing of H. H. Warner & Co. of Rochester, N. Y., the remarkable success which Warner's Safe Cure has achieved, being indorsed by no less a personage than Dr. Robert A. Gunn, Dean of the United States Medical College, New York, and the fidelity with which they have carried out all their promises to the public, should be a sufficient warrant that the above statements are true. They, however, guarantee to cure ninety-five per cent. of all rheumatic troubles, especially acute, knowing full well that the demonstrated power of the remedy justifies them in so doing. Nothing can be fairer than this, and those who suffer in the future from rheumatism with such an offer before them, do so on their own responsibility, and can blame no one if living pain and untimely death are the results.

How "Sweet By-and-By" was Written.

Mr. Bennett and Mr. Webster were intimate friends. He came in to where his friend Bennett was at business one day, while up a depression of spirits. "What is the matter now?" said Bennett, noticing his sad countenance. "No matter," said Webster, "it will be right by and by."

"Yes; that sweet by-and-by," said Bennett. "Would not that sentiment make a good hymn, Webster?" "Maybe it would," replied Webster, indifferently.

Turning to his desk, Bennett wrote the three verses of the hymn, and handed them to Webster. When he read them his whole demeanor changed. Stepping to his desk he began to write the notes. Having finished them he requested his violin, and played the melody. In a few minutes more he had the four parts of the chorus jotted down. It was not over thirty minutes from the first thought of the hymn before the friends and two others who had come in in the meantime were singing all the parts together. A bystander who had been attracted by the music, and had listened in tearful silence, remarked, "That hymn is immortal."

It must have been sung in public shortly afterward, for within two weeks almost every child was singing it. It is now sung in every land under the sun.

Reduce Your Baggage.

After the first of December, 1883, according to the recent compact by the Michigan roads, no piece of baggage weighing more than 250 pounds will be accepted for transportation as baggage, this to include the baggage and bill trunks of theatrical companies. An order has been issued to the station and baggage agents not to accept as baggage, after December 1, pianos and organs weighing more than 250 pounds each; horses, mules, donkeys, ponies and other animals (excepting dogs), wagons and carts carried by theatrical, concert or show companies will not be carried as baggage. Should any such property be tendered for shipment as baggage, the owner or person in charge, will be referred to the express company, or required to ship as ordinary freight.

DR. PENNELL: "Please send me $5.00 worth of your valuable medicine. It is doing wonders for some ladies here, one in particular, who a year ago was confined to her room, and most of the time to her bed. Every one said she had consumption. I knew she had diseases your medicine was recommended to cure, and persuaded her to try it. In a few weeks there was a decided change; in a few more she let her hair go, and has now her housework ever since, and walks every day a distance of a mile and a half. Respectfully yours, MRS. GEO. #### Skillful Surgery!

Removal of Urinary Calculus by the Knife.

A LUCKY MAN.

Mr. Simeon Tietzel, of Saugerties, N. Y., had been treated for seven years by various physicians for what they call Stricture of the Urethra, without benefit. He finally consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who found his trouble to be Urinary Calculus, or Stones in the Bladder. The Doctor at once removed the foreign bodies with the knife and then gave his great Blood-Specific, "Favorite Remedy," to prevent their reformation. The entire treatment was eminently successful, and Mr. Tietzel's recovery was rapid and perfect.

While "Favorite Remedy" is a specific in all kidney and bladder diseases it is equally valuable in cases of Bilious Disorders, Constipation of the Bowels, and all the class of ills apparently inseparable from the constitutions of women. Try it. Your druggist has it, and its cost is only one dollar a bottle. The lucky man is he who puts this advice in practice. Don't forget the name and address: Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y.

IN CINCINNATI
Treating Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, Nasal Catarrh, Sore Throat, Loss of Voice, and other Maladies of the Nose, Throat and Lungs.

DR. WOLFE treats the above-named diseases by Medicinal Inhalations. When thus administered, remedies are brought "face to face" in contact with the disease; whereas, if they are swallowed, they mix with the contents of the stomach and never reach the organs of respiration.

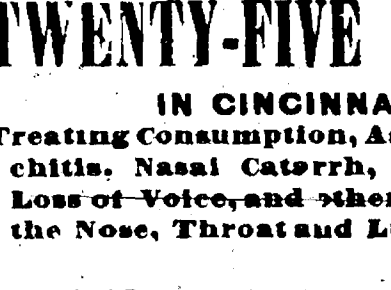

DR. WOLFE has, by the judicious employment of Medicinal Inhalations, assisted thousands to regain their health, many of whom had been pronounced incurable, and given up to die by their family physicians and friends.

DR. WOLFE has prepared a list of questions for sick people to answer by mail. They are characteristic of the same would ask were he by the bedside of the invalid. By writing answers to these questions any one can send an accurate statement of his disease, and receive and use inhalant remedies at home, in any part of the United States or Canada, without incurring the expense and discomfort of making a visit to Cincinnati. Any one sending his name and postoffice address with a three-cent postage stamp, will receive a copy of the "Circular of Questions" by return mail.

DR. WOLFE has published a medical book called "Common Sense, Cause and Cure of Consumption, Asthma, etc." a copy of which he will send to any body who orders it by mail and incloses a three-cent postage stamp, with his name and postoffice address. The book is of great value to any one afflicted with any disease of the Nose, Throat or Lungs.

DR. WOLFE has also published another book of 64 pages entitled "Facts about the Hæmæ We Live In," which every healthy person, as well as sick, ought to read. This book has a special interest to persons who have weak lungs, or any symptoms of Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, or Catarrh. Sent to any address free by mail, on receipt of cents in postage stamps.

IN SHORT, TAKE ALL THE BEST qualities of all these, and the best qualities of all the best Medicines of the World and you will find that HOP BITTERS have the best curative qualities and powers of all concentrated in them, and that they will cure when any or all of these, singly or combined, fail. A thorough trial will give positive proof of this.

A Remarkable Remedy.

Sidney Ourchundro, of Pittsburg, Pa., writes:

"I have used DR. WM. HALL'S BALSM FOR THE LUNGS many years, with the most gratifying influence. The relieving influence of Hall's Balsam is wonderful. The pain and rack of the body, incidental to a tight cough, soon disappear by the use of a spoonful according to directions. My wife frequently sends for Hall's Balsam instead of a physician, and health is speedily restored by its use."

Cornell University has an Egyptian student. He is a bright young fellow, and particularly gifted as a speaker.

FARMINGTON, ILL.—Dr. M. T. Gamble says: "I prescribe Brown's Iron Bitters in my practice and it gives satisfaction."

"Mine is a high calling," says the bell-ringer in Trinity temple.

There is Nothing so Successful as Success!

The Detroit White Lead Works, the Hinchman, Dean & Rogers Company, is just closing the third year of its corporate existence. This company furnishes a notable instance of extraordinary success achieved in a short time by enterprise, energy, fair dealing and good goods. They have attained a position in three years that it has taken other houses a quarter of a century to reach, and they are now the leading paint house of Michigan and one of the foremost in the country.—Detroit Commercial.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

STOCKBRIDGE.

From the Sentinel.

Quite a number of converts thus far, as the result of the revival interest here.

Satisfactory arrangements with proper parties are under way for wheat buying, and, it is expected, will be speedily concluded.

Graham Cooper will go into the draying business. He has done faithful work "over the hills" and we wish him success.

Several car-loads of lumber arrived here on the 25th, and more since, for the new yard, represented by F. A. Holbrook, of Muir.

On Christmas day a pair of yearling steers belonging to W. C. Nichols broke through the ice near the lake and were drowned.

There was quite a family gathering on Christmas at G. F. Sperry's, consisting of W. C. Nichols and family, Geo. Westfall and family, Mr. and Mrs. G. Backus, and Mr. and Mrs. James Ewing, of Onondaga. After partaking of a sumptuous repast, a Christmas tree was erected for the benefit of those present, especially the children, which was very much enjoyed by them.

ANN ARBOR.

From the Register.

The ranks of company A are filled nearly to the prescribed limit, the roll numbering 80 members.

Over twenty $100 subscriptions have already been made to the fund which the Catholics are raising to pay for the lots on Elizabeth street recently purchased for the society.

Yesterday afternoon, Peter Leitz, while intoxicated, drove a team of horses over the embankment near the fifth ward engine house into a gravel pit, 20 feet below. One of the horses was killed and considerable damage was done to the quarry. The team and rig were the property of Louis Wade, and were taken from the owner's premises without his knowledge. Mr. Wade has had Leitz arrested.

Dr. Conway returned to Ann Arbor on Saturday and has been conducting meetings at the Elks hall every night this week. So far the attendance has been large and the interest and enthusiasm fully as great as when the doctor was here before. Many new names have been secured and several hard drinkers have donned the blue badge and entered heartily upon the work of rescuing others.

FOWLERVILLE.

From the Review.

L. H. Beebe spent Christmas at home. Mr. Beebe has a well established business in Pinckney in the furniture and undertaking line and has a good outlook for future success.

L. H. Beebe & Son will furnish the new Baptist church in the Fuller district with 100 chairs for seating the same. This is a new way of seating a church, but it certainly will be preferred to the bench custom, and is, also, cheaper.

Mr. Wirt Stowe, son of Isaac Stowe of Howell, and Miss Alice Smith, daughter of Enoch Smith of this place, were married at the residence of the bride's parents on Tuesday evening, Dec. 25, by Rev. J. H. Caster, of Webberville, a large gathering, mostly relatives, being present.

SOUTH LYON.

From the Picket.

The Free Methodists will resume services at their church next Sunday. They have repaired in a very substantial manner.

E. A. Adams has decided to move his family to Ypsilanti about January 10th. We understand I. N. Just, cashier of the bank will occupy his dwelling on Wells street when vacated by him.

John Shirlock and family were called to attend the funeral of his mother at Clinton, Lenawee Co., last week.

Prof. Seaman resigned his position as principal of the Union, which took effect at the close of the school on Friday. The professor is a young man against whom, as a gentleman, no person can speak. He is this week visiting at Charlotte, but will begin teaching at White Rock, Huron county, Jan. 7th.

DEXTER.

From the Leader.

L. D. Alley has rented the store recently occupied by Tunney Bros., and when his goods arrive invites his old customers to call and see him.

A very fine altar has been put into St. Joseph's Catholic church, the gift of Lawrence Hoigan, deceased, costing about $1,300. Another gift of $1,000 from another deceased member, will probably go towards a fine bell.

There was an interesting Sunday school concert held at the Methodist church last Sunday evening.

They had a Merry Christmas at the North Lake M. E. Church, Christmas Eve, and it was a good one.

The Lyndon and North Lake Lyceum is in a high state of prosperity. Question for discussion at their next regular meeting: "Resolved, That the woman question is of more importance than the Chinese."

UNADILLA.

From our Correspondent.

Willie Watts is at home for a visit. Hattie Chapman is home from Lansing for a few weeks.

"Old Santa" gave Clark and Aggie Chapman, a new live baby for a Christmas present.

Mellie Weston, Hattie Calkins and Minnie Newton, of Dexter, have had a jolly time at the Unadilla House, the past week.

Services were held in the Presbyterian church last Sunday, for the first time since it was repaired.

V. Potter of Dexter, Lucy Nutting of Webberville, Willie Moore of Toledo, Mr. and Mrs. Emory Holmes of Lansing, Libbie and Lucy Gilbert of Jackson, Nellie Backus of Ann Arbor, and Josie Watson of Chelsea, have all been visiting Unadilla friends since Christmas.

Last Thursday evening Annie and Nettie Sayles were agreeably surprised by a visit from about forty of their young friends, who came to help them enjoy their location. They are attending the Howell school.

LYNDON.

Examination in school district No. 4 resulted as follows:

ADVANCED ARITH. Hattie Purchase, 100; Lucy Farrel, 100; Agnes Conlan, 100; Lewis Miller, 100.

Playing May Against December.

But there is another scheme for getting cheap clerks that the dry-goods merchant essays, generally with great success.

It is this:

A young man enters the store, and asks for something to do. The employer wrinkles his forehead, works his eye over him, and then gives him the appearance of being capable of profound thought, and says:

"So you want work?"

"Yes."

"Well, we are full at present. How much do you expect?"

"Ten dollars a week."

"Ten dollars a week!—ten dollars a week!" replies the merchant, snatching the young man's sentence and hurling it back at him like a brick.

"Yes, sir," says the young man; "ten dollars a week."

Then the merchant lies back in the chair and regards the young man with a patronizing air.

"We never give such a salary to young, fresh and inexperienced men. We can get men of fifty, with years of experience, for the sum you ask. We have no use for boys, because they are wild and more bother than they are worth. What we want are men of years and experience. We will give you two dollars per week."

The young man accepts and goes to work. Then a man of about fifty walks in and solicits employment.

The merchant lies back in his chair so far that, if he happens to be corpulent, he reminds one of the terrapin stretched out in front of a restaurant, with a placard on his under shell informing the pedestrian when he is to be served up. Then the merchant says, as he did to the young man:

"So you want work?"

"Yes."

"Well, we are full at present. How much do you want?"

"Ten dollars a week."

"Ten dollars a week?" says the merchant, in a tone that shows that he is in a condition bordering on asphyxia.

"Yes, sir," responds the old man. "Ten dollars per week."

Then the merchant lies back in his chair so far that he barely escapes going all the way over and sliding along the floor on his spine.

"We never give such a large salary to old men, because they are slow and decrepit, and in their own way. We don't care for old men, because they have old ideas and are way behind the times. For the sum you ask we can get bright young men with the light of the morning of life in their faces. They have new ideas, and are full of vim, and can work five times harder and longer than the fossils who base their claims on an experience that might have been valuable in 1840. What we want are live young men. We will give you two dollars per week."

The old man accepts. And this is the way the merchant plays December off against May, and May off against December.—Puck.

CUTTING PRICES HARDWARE

Down to the lowest notch. For the next thirty days we will sell you Cheaper than any other Dealers in Michigan.

We have an over stock of Heating Stoves which we will close out at prices far below what they cost us. We also have a stock of the Sherman S.

Jewett & Co. Cooking Stoves that shall go CHEAP. We have in stock a complete line of the

"GARLAND" STOVES AND RANGES, Which lead the world in this line of goods, and we are selling at as low prices as other dealers are asking for inferior goods. We have a large stock of the Westmore and the Simpson, every one was made. Our "ROUND OAK" Heaters are the best in the market, every one made air tight, and so warranted by the manufacturer, and they will hold fire longer and be-the market. These drawbacks do not exist in the case of sealskin. Its depth, its color, its softness, its fine shading, adapts it to fastidious tastes,

while its quality is so easily ascertained,
its genuineness so readily tested, that no lady need buy in ignorance of what she is purchasing. The Shetland seal ranks the highest, and is really an economical purchase, for it literally never wears out, while its beauty and luxury are a joy forever. In Paris a Shetland seal paletot cloak will cost five hundred francs ($100); in England, twelve guineas ($65); here, from $250 to $350.
No wonder ladies take the opportunity to make purchases abroad and perpire in them, under the eyes of the officials of the custom-house and the heats of August or September. The shape of the seal-skin jacket and paletot has greatly improved of late years. It was formerly short, square, baggy and ill-fitting.
Now it is cut to the figure, is longer,
higher upon the shoulder, and the sleeve
is shaped to the top of the arm.
The paletot is succeeding the jacket; and next season will be the most sought for, as it is now
the newest of the seal-skin garments.
This lovely fur can not be so well utilized as some others for the smaller garments, such as fur capes and trimmings; probably it is too precious to be cut up and wasted. For these purposes black fox, natural beaver, gray fox and rat fur are largely used. The latter is not often sold under its true name, but it is very largely employed, and is really one of the most desirable of common furs, for it is soft, dark and durable.
Oiler is one of the prettiest and most expensive furs used for trimming purposes; and its exquisite shade of brown and soft silkiness have long made it a favorite with gentlemen, for whose collars, capes, mufflers and other cold-excluding accessories it was almost monopolized. What is called "Labrador fur" in Paris is a beautiful brown, long-haired fur, for which we seem to have no name or corresponding trimming in this country—not one at least that is prepared in the same way—although it has the appearance of belonging to the fox family.—Jenny June, in ### Italian Macaroni.

Macaroni, the common kind, is simply flour and salt worked together with water till a paste is made that is as fine as possible. It is then rolled out into sheets and hung across poles till partially dried, and cut into long narrow thread-like strips and the drying finished. When hung out in sheets it has the general appearance of hides in the first process of tanning, i. e., with the hair taken off. This is the common variety. The process of cooking is very simple: it is simply boiled in water till it is done, and the process of eating is quite as simple. The macaroni seller stands beside his caldron on the sidewalk, with a pile of tin plates. The hungry purchaser hands him a coin and a ladle full is placed upon a plate and the eater takes the long strings with his fingers and stuffs his mouth with them, repeating the operation till the portion is gone. It is needless to state that the tin plates are never washed, and that the vendor who gets too much on a plate always takes back the excess with his fingers, which were never washed.
The finer kinds of macaroni, made for export, has eggs added, in proper proportions, and the paste is forced through holes over metal tubes forming the cylindrical paste which is considered a great delicacy in other countries.

Travel in Italy is, however destroying the trade, and the macaroni manufacturers are very supple to have immense establishments where foreigners can see the operation. If there is anything more filthy than a manufactory of macaroni we have not yet found it. There are a score of them in the road from Naples to Pompeii, and the favorite location seems to be close to a tannery, the smell of which is only excelled in general ferocity by the odors of the alleys in the city. Here is the tannery with its horrible odors, and in close juxtaposition is the macaroni factory, the odors of the one permeating and saturating the other; however the macaroni men don't seem to mind it. The interior of their concerns are just as filthy, the only difference being that flour, salt and eggs can not be made to emit a smell so hideous as the hides of animals under a scorching sun.

It was observable that those who were the fondest of macaroni, those who were connoisseurs, after going through the macaroni regions, declined the delicacy at table on their return, and it is safe to say that not one of them will ever eat a portion of it when they return unless they can be satisfied that it was not made in Italy.—D. R. Locke, in Toledo Blade.

"One gunboat on the Nile could command the whole of Egypt," remarked Rev. Henry M. Field, a great traveler, in speaking of the dangers of further invasion by the False Prophet.
"People forget the shape and form of Egypt. Egypt is, in fact, more than one thousand miles long and only six miles wide. The only habitable or traversable country extends some three miles on each side of the Nile. This is fertile because the river overflows its banks, and the hills, and above these the best, during Nile's descent."

Recent false statements in regard to Mrs. Theodore Tilton have developed the facts that she lives with her children in one of the best streets in Brooklyn, receives per annum from Mr.
Tilton, her husband, her time and talents to the teaching of music.

Preparation for Marriage.

"Hiding chest" was the name of a chest in Virginia and to a bride's outfit of un-and bed-linen.

passed her twelfth year, her needle with skill, she prepare her own wedding

Marvelous were the mysteries of hem-stitching, fell, embroidery and lacework bestowed on these snow-white garments; each as it was finished being laid aside for the far-off wedding.

A common Christmas gift was a delicious of table-cloths or towels, of a little girl in panta-would not be allowed to over for years. That bride was looked upon as little better than a sinner who did not bring to her husband enough linen of her own making to furnish their house.

Her mother, a generation earlier, helped to spin her outfit, a custom brought over from England by the earlier colonists in the South. Indeed, the word "spinster" originally meant a woman who had spun and prepared her marriage outfit.

Another custom among wealthy families in the same section was a storing of a certain amount of wine, on the birthday of a daughter, to be opened on her wedding-day. More commendable was the custom of putting a sum out at compound interest, or the setting apart of certain number of cattle or sheep, whose increase was some day to furnish the dowry for the little new-born daughter.

The motive at the bottom of these old-fashioned customs was, that a woman from her birth was regarded as a prospective wife and mother, and the duty of her parents was, according to these old-fashioned ideas, to make her ready in all respects, knowledge and skill, to be a helpmeet to her husband.

The daughter of the bonanza king, nowadays, whose tressou is ordered wholesale from Paris, and exhibited to reporters of the press for publication in the society column, is prepared for marriage on totally different bases of theory and fact.

But between these two classes there are innumerable grades of young girls who have as small means as the old-fashioned farmer's daughter, but whose education, tastes and habits are the same as though their fathers were worth millions. They imitate in their weddings and in their married life the later fashions, and choose which it is wisest for them to follow.—

A Street-Car Passenger.

A big, burly, good naturedly aggressive man entered a Charlestown street-car yesterday, accompanied by a large turkey, and, having placed his turkey on the seat beside him, he sat down rapidly, and, although several ladies were compelled to stand, the turkey kept its seat, guarded by its burly owner. When the conductor came through the car he noticed the turkey, and, addressing the man, said: "You will have to take that turkey up."

"What for?"
"To let some of these people sit down. You can't keep him on that seat."

"What's the reason I can't?"
"Because these people are as much as a seat as is your turkey."

"Well, who said they weren't?" This man isn't bothering any one and I'd like to see any one bother him."

"You'll have to take him up, anyway," said the conductor.

"I'm a deuced sight bigger than any passenger you ever saw, and I ain't telling all the while he isn't drunk, he don't spit, and he don't spit all the while."

"All the passengers were and the peculiar appearance of the man, he sat bolt upright and spread out on the seat, his legs sticking out. The conductor, seeing the laughter, excitedly said in this car that's occasioned for now you take that turkey up."

"Here's a ticket for you, and here's a punch in it. I don't want to see any difference to that kind of an answer, as long as it's paid for, and I'll keep his seat, and I'll enjoy the passengers.

Fashionable Furs.

Fashionable fur at the presented undoubtedly sealskin, and you'll place after a very hard fight, by virtue of inherent which was not accorded to few believed then that it would supersede the then fashionable fur. Twenty years ago the very woman's ambition in direction consisted in the
of a dark and heavy and the belief that the found the ladies and they take mink
as a lining,
usually in silk scarves.

Reasons, however, for this change more creditable to the fashion caprice. In the
of a dressy
and re-

the market. These drawbacks do not exist in the case of sealskin. Its depth, its color, its softness, its fine
shading, adapts it to fastidious tastes,
while its quality is so easily ascertained,
its genuineness so readily tested, that
no lady need buy in ignorance of what
she is purchasing. The Shetland seal
ranks the highest, and is really an economical purchase, for it literally never
wears out, while its beauty and luxury
are a joy forever. In Paris a Shetland seal paletot cloak will cost five hundred
francs ($100); in England, twelve
guineas ($65); here, from $250 to $350.
No wonder ladies take the opportunity
to make purchases abroad and perpire
in them, under the eyes of the officials of
the custom-house and the heats of August or September. The shape of the seal-skin jacket and paletot has greatly improved of late years. It was formerly short, square, baggy and ill-fitting.
Now it is cut to the figure, is longer,
higher upon the shoulder, and the sleeve
is shaped to the top of the arm.
The paletot is succeeding the
jacket; and next season will be
the most sought for, as it is now
the newest of the seal-skin garments.
This lovely fur can not be so well utilized as some others for the smaller garments, such as fur capes and trimmings; probably it is too precious to be cut up and wasted. For these purposes
black fox, natural beaver, gray fox and rat fur are largely used. The latter is not often sold under its true name, but it is very largely employed, and is really
one of the most desirable of common
furs, for it is soft, dark and durable.
Oiler is one of the prettiest and most
