The Pinckney Dispatch, one of the cleanest, newsiest, and brightest little papers in the country, heretofore published by Jerome Winchell, has fallen into the hands of J. L. Newkirk, late foreman of the Fowlerville Review. Mr. Newkirk is a thoroughly competent man, and we trust will make the Dispatch even better than ever.—Stockbridge Sun.

The Jackson Patriot thus gives the testimony of James Pearson at the Crouch trial:

"James Pierson came next. Live in Hamburg and have a farm near Pinckney; a man calling himself Pulaski Harrington came along and bargained for my farm at $9,000 and came to Jackson to get the money; he said he was the first man at the house after the murder; I saw him here in a saloon at the time of the examination. No cross-examination."

This week we received a communication with no name whatever attached, and, of course, cannot publish it. This rule must be imperative: "that anonymous communication will be published." We are very glad to have people hand us news, but we also like to know the source from which they come, that we may be certain the items furnished are facts. The communication referred to in all probability was given in the best of faith, but the omission of the signature prevents its publication. Please remember this in the future.

New Years Gathering.

The twenty-fourth anniversary of the Sessions' gathering met New Years day at the residence of Ora Sample, in the town of Commerce, Oakland Co., Mich. The gathering was composed of the Sessions, Burches, Bowens, Phillips, Noes, Osterbanks and Whitcombs, numbering 49. All sat down to a sumptuous repast while oysters and chickens disappeared from sight. It was a very pleasant gathering. The relative ages of five were 324 years; the average of the five were 77 years.

Marriage Anniversary.

January 1st, 1885, being the fifth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brown, a genuine surprise was arranged by their many friends and relatives, and everything was carried out to the letter. To make the surprise more complete the worthy couple were invited to spend the evening at a relative's not far distant—where they accordingly went, and the surprise party to the number of about 40 took possession of the house, carrying refreshments with them, and not until a sumptuous repast was spread upon the table did they send for the unsuspecting couple, and their surprise on finding their house filled with such a merry lot of friends can better be imagined than described. At an appropriate time during the evening another surprise greeted them by Mr. James VanHorn presenting them by a few well-chosen words in behalf of the company present, with a fine black walnut center table and a beautiful chromo. All considered the evening well spent and when the company dispersed many a wish for the future happiness and prosperity of Mr. and Mrs. Brown were heard.

Two Years Old.

This week's issue of the Dispatch closes the second year of its existence, and it is in a strong, healthy condition. The cash in advance system established by our predecessor, Mr. Winchell, has proven itself the true way to conduct a newspaper. Therefore we shall adhere strictly to this rule. All dues for subscription are thus avoided and we do not have to pay paper bills for those who do not pay us. We will be glad to receive and maintain your name upon our subscription list, but cannot unless paid for in advance, and all shall be used the same. A number of subscriptions expire to-day and unless renewed will next week be stricken from our list. We hope to keep the reputation of the paper as high in your estimation as it has been under the control of Mr. Winchell. We shall endeavor to give you all the home news possible, as well as news in general, and hope that our association among you will be both pleasant and profitable. We expect to-morrow to take possession of the rooms over Hoff & Hoff's, where we will be pleased to see you, one and all, and if there is any way we can serve you would be very glad to do so.

PINCKNEY DISPATCH.

J. L. NEWKIRK, EDITOR AND PUBLISHER.

Pinckney, Michigan, Thursday, January 8th, 1883.

Stolen—and editor's shirt—on Friday night, December 6, from Fanny Ferguson's clothes-line. Brand: strawberry mark on right sleeve, above elbow; inverted letter A on brisquet; bottom eyelet enlarged from agitation of diamond stud; no wattle. We offer a prize chromo entitled "An Editor's Lament, or The Tale of a Shirt," for the safe return of the same.—Western Ex.

In a recent trial at Salt Lake city, Apostle John Taylor, the head of the Mormon church, swore that he had absolutely no knowledge of a certain matter, yet on the following Sunday in a statement to his congregation concerning the matter said he meant he had no knowledge of it "to divulge." Plain folks would say the apostle perjured himself, and he might find his way to prison for the offence. It will readily be judged from this occurrence how hard a job it is to fight Mormonism in its stronghold, when such an example of veracity under oath is set by the head of the church.

Leut. Abercrombie recently returned to Portland, Ore., from Alaska, where he has been engaged in government explorations. He gives an interesting and attractive account of that far-northern corner of Uncle Sam's domain. The Yukon river is one of the largest streams in the world. Leut. Abercrombie explored it a distance of 2,700 miles, and did not see either the beginning or the end of it. The fisheries are said to be the finest known. The waters abound in salmon, cod and other choice fish, which throng the streams with no fear of man. And it is no longer a question about the existence of gold; Alaska is an auriferous region. Lieut. Abercrombie found men working in places on Yukon river and taking out $150 a day to the man.

Twenty-two years have passed since the war, but where is the old soldier who ever forgets? The blue and the gray were enemies then, but as the years go by they are drawing nearer to each other, and now probably there are none who would not clasp hands even over the recital of a bloody battle. A remarkable illustration of this growing feeling of friendliness is illustrated by a little child. When Brownlee Zurer was killed on the cars at Warren last September while on his way to Gettysburg to locate the positions of the Eighty-third Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers, at that battle (most people remember his death) he left a little daughter at home whom he had promised a Christmas present of a doll. The little girl wrote to a Washington paper just before the holidays saying she would get no doll now as her papa was dead. Since then she has been deluged with dolls. Wax dolls, China dolls, dolls that open and shut their eyes, and all kinds of dolls. They came from the south and the north, from Union and Confederate and from A. A. R. posts all over the country. In several instances dolls were received bought particularly by Union and Confederate veterans.

It is announced this week that Hon. Edwin Willits has virtually accepted the presidency of the state agricultural college, with the understanding that the scope of the institution is to be enlarged so as to embrace to the fullest extent the objects named in the land grant of 1862. In other words, while retaining its prominence as an agricultural college, and advancing still further in this respect, a course of polytechnics is to be established, both courses and all cognate sciences developed, and the college made a scientific institution in the highest sense. Mr. Willits served several terms in congress with great credit to himself and profit to his constituents and the country generally, his indefatigable industry in one line of search alone saving possibly hundreds of thousands of dollars to the treasury. After his congressional term expired he was secured as the head of the Normal school, and in its conduct he has secured further honors. He is worthy this call to a higher station and broader field, and if his hands are properly upheld Michigan's agricultural college will be long stand in the very front rank of educational institutions. Every Saturday.

To the Afflicted.

Since the introduction of Kellogg's Columbian Oil it has made more permanent cures and given better satisfaction on Kidney Complaints and Rheumatism than any known remedy. Its continued series of wonderful cures in all climates has made it known as a safe and reliable agent to employ against all aches and pains, which are the forerunners of more serious disorders. It acts speedily and surely, always relieving suffering and often saving life. The protection it affords by its timely use on rheumatism, kidney affection, and all aches and pains, wounds, cramping pains, cholera morbus, diarrhoea, coughs, colds, catarrh, and disorders among children, makes it an invaluable remedy to be kept always on hand in every home. No person can afford to be without it, and those who have once used it never will. It is absolutely certain in its remedial effects, and will always cure when cures are possible.

Call at WINCHELL'S DRUG STORE and get a memorandum book giving more full details of the curative properties of this wonderful medicine.

Hickory Corners, Mich., Oct. 18, 1881. Mr. J. D. Kellogg, Dear Sir:—Your Columbian Oil has cured my husband of lung fever two different times. I commenced by giving him nearly a teaspoonful every half hour and bathed his breast and stomach freely, and at the end of three hours he was quite easy, and the next day he was around again. It has also cured others. One lady in particular had got so bad she had chills, and was in the most acute pain; but within four hours after using, she commenced to raise freely. I made a complete cure with the Oil in a short time. My husband had the catarrh so badly that he could not eat a meal of victuals without getting up from the table, but he commenced using the Oil as directed, and it has entirely cured him. Yours truly, Mrs. Mary Stanley.

Tekonsha, Mich., Sept. 10, 1881. J. D. Kellogg, Dear Sir:—I feel it an obligation to ourselves and others to say that when our little boy had typhoid fever, and at the turning point he commenced sinking, and the restoratives the doctor had left for the occasion did him no good, and he kept sinking, finally we commenced bathing him with your Columbian Oil, and he commenced to rally from the very first application, and I am happy to say that he is now in perfect health. For the last four years, we have used it for almost every ailment, and it has given us perfect satisfaction. Yours very truly, Mrs. Wm. Howard.

A Wonderful Discovery.

Consumptives and all, who suffer from any affection of the throat and lungs, can find a certain cure in Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Thousands of permanent cures verify the truth of this statement. No medicine can show such a record of wonderful cures. Thousands of once hopeless sufferers now gratefully proclaim they owe their lives to this new discovery. It will cost you nothing to give it a trial. Free trial bottles at WINCHELL'S DRUG STORE. Large size $1.00.

Very Remarkable Recovery.

Mrs. Geo. V. Wilking, of Manchester, Mich., writes: "My wife has been almost helpless for five years, so helpless that she could not turn over in bed alone. She used two bottles of Electric Bitters, and is so much improved, that she is able now to do her own work."

Electric Bitters will do all that is claimed by them. Hundreds of testimonials attest their great curative powers. Only fifty cents a bottle, at WINCHELL'S DRUG STORE.

Pronounced A Great Remedy.

Dr. Warner:—Dear Sir:—In behalf of the White Wine of Tar Syrup, I can say it is a great remedy for weak lungs. I had pneumonia eight years ago which left my lungs in bad condition. I used the White Wine of Tar Syrup you sent me, and am greatly benefited. I can recommend it as a good medicine. I hope you will supply our druggist at Cabool, Mr. Gorman, as I would like more of it. Yours truly, Rev. J. W. Brown.

The Best in the World.

Dr. J. W. Hamilton, of Merriman, Wis., says: "I have sold Warner's White Wine of Tar Syrup for years. It is the best cough medicine in the world and has no equal for asthma."

For sale at C. E. Hollister's, Bigler Bro's, and Winchell's Drug Store.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS.

CHUBB'S CORNERS.

From our Correspondent

The young folks of Chubb's Corners enjoyed a very pleasant surprise party and watch meeting last Wednesday evening at Mr. and Mrs. Herman Swarthout's.

The question for debate at the last evening was, "Resolved that very has caused more misery than intoxicating drink," decided in favor of the affirmative. The chief disputants were R. Stackable and J. Chambers. Mr. Grimes and E. L. Markey favored with declamations which were very good. Miss Carrie Harrington read an essay on the affirmative.

Theodore Welker, of Marion, has just returned from a four months' trip in Europe.

Wirt Smith returned from Illinois yesterday.

Mrs. Irene Roberts returned Friday from a visit to South Lyon and Salem.

FOWLERVILLE.

From the Review.

Mr. John Elliott, of Losco, has moved his family to this place. He has put a run of stone in his cider mill and will grind feed and saw slats this winter.

Mr. Phineas Barber died at his residence on Sunday evening, aged 54 years, of typhoid pneumonia. He was an active member of the M. E. church for many years and died in the faith.

Enoch Smith is having a remarkable run of bad luck lately. Last week he had a valuable horse die. About five weeks ago he had five hogs bit by a dog and they have since went mad and had to be killed this week. He also had five head of cattle bitten by the same dog and expects every day when they will also have to be killed as he thinks they already show signs of madness. The dog belonged to Chas. Mapes, of Losco, and died on Wednesday last.

ANN ARBOR.

From the Courier.

A generous farmer brought in six bushels of potatoes Saturday and gave them to Mr. Keech for distribution among poor families. A good hint to those who have a plenitude of the necessities of life.

Dr. Frothingham performed a difficult operation on Wm. Copeland of this city last Friday for an abscess on the side of the head just behind the ear. It was necessary to trephine the skull. Mr. Copeland is doing very nicely now and will probably entirely recover.

Two men chopping ice from an caevstrough at the Cook House last Friday, got a serious fall. A large mass of ice falling broke the platform below, and the ladders on which they were standing tumbled and precipitated them to the ground. Luckily no serious injuries were broken.

From the Courier.
The case of landlord Stone, of the ... expiring to-morrow, it will hereafter be conducted by Cooley & Co., a firm composed of two live hotel men of experience and ability, who will refit and improve it. ... payers of this county are obliged to work hard to support their crime. ... idleness. Why not turn the thing around, and make the criminals work? Have the tramps pound stone, and pay for their food and lodging. What sense is there in keeping a prisoner in jail for 10, 20, 30, 60 and 90 days, without a thing to do but draw his rations, smoke and play at cards. Why will not the people wake up to this matter?

Monday evening last Wm. Fisher one of the oldest residents of this city, and a printer from boyhood up, died at his home in the 3d ward, of old age and general debility. He was born at Boothbay, Lincoln Co., Mass., Oct. 16th, 1813, and had resided in ... ever since 1859, working ... in various offices of the city, ... earned his livelihood at his trade ... two months ago.

HOWELL.

From the Republican.

On Christmas day Sheriff Axtell made the state workhouse a present of Jas. Butler, sent up for 90 days. Vagrancy.

During the excellent sleighing some of our farmers who have "true pullers" drew as high as four cords of block wood to market at a time.

With deep feeling of regret will the many friends learn of the death, by diphtheria, of the four bright and promising children of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jordon; respected residents of West Howell township, all within two weeks, and comprising their entire family. Maggie, aged 16 years, died Dec. 12th; Clifford, aged 2 years, died Dec. 15th; Amy, aged 14 years, died Dec. 20th, and Kittie, aged 12 years, died Dec. 28th.

Messrs. Kellogg, Garland & Co. have concluded to continue their branch at South Lyon, and the local papers are exceedingly pleased. They will carry a stock of clothing, hats, caps and groceries, and will continue to make things hum at that burg.

BRIGHTON.

From the Citizen.

Married, at the residence of the bride's father, in Brighton, Wednesday evening, Dec. 24th, by Rev. P. P. Paruum, of Kensington, Herbert E. Foot and Miss Ella D. Burt, both of Brighton township.

Mike Sheban, from Petoskey, who was a Brighton kid once, but is now a man of a family, was in town last week prospecting, and concluded to move here and open a tailor shop, as his father did before him.

H. B. Rose and wife returned home from this village Thursday evening and upon entering the house found about ten square feet of the floor burned and a considerable quantity of the carpet consumed. It is supposed a spark from the stove started the fire.

From the Argus.

Mrs. S. McClements, of North Brighton, slipped and fell one day last week, breaking it is thought one of her wrists.

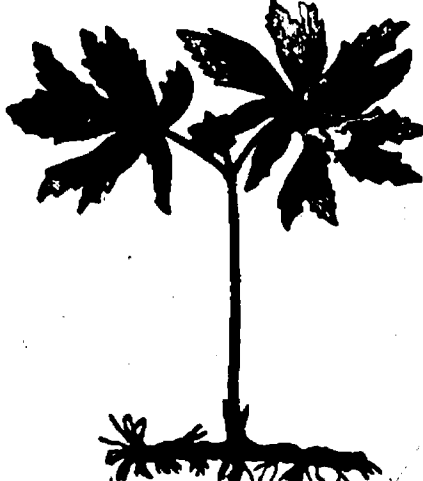

At a marriage ceremony not over 40 miles from here last week, in a well known church, the contracting parties were 30 minutes behind time, and the organ pealed out. "On, dear, what can the matter be?"

Christmas morning while at work in his shop, A. W. Lanning had the misfortune to cut his leg just below the knee very bad with a draw shave. Dr. McHench is attending him and says he will be laid up for some time to come.

There are two cases of diphtheria near here, not in the city as reported however. The victims are two of C. L. Carpenter's children, who are at Mr. May's, their grandfather. We understand on going to press that they are in a fair way of recovery.

CURRENT TOPICS.

Let's not ponder on the troubles that the dead year has seen, on the friends it has taken away, or the losses it has brought us. There are enough bright things to occupy our minds, and if we are willing to do justice to the old year each of us can find something pleasant to think and say of it.

A MAGNIFICENT cathedral has just been completed at Moscow, to commemorate the retreat of Napoleon from Russia. The building, which will accommodate 10,000 worshippers and the total cost of which has been over £2,000,000 ($10,000,000), has been in process of construction for the last fifty years. One of its bells, it is said, weighs over twenty-six tons. The human figures on the dome are fifty feet in height.

HERE is good sound sense from the Lansing Republican: "Where is my boy tonight?" is a question which every parent should propound to himself each evening about half past eight o'clock, and if the youth does not make his appearance the fond parent should form himself into a procession of one and launch forth on a voyage of discovery. There are hundreds of boys in Lansing from 8 to 14 years of age on the way to destruction across lots who might be saved by a little wholesome discipline.

AMONG the attractions of a church fair in a Montana town recently was a raffle for a fawn. At the conclusion of the fair the holder of the winning ticket in the raffle asked one of the lady managers for his fawn. She replied that she had no fawn for him, but that there were plenty out on the hills and he could have all he could catch. The man got wrathful, declaring that the whole thing was "a damned swindle." For using this language he was promptly suspended by the church, and the local paper declared that he was no gentleman for talking in that way to the fair managers.

Four years ago William H. Vanderbilt invested $50,000,000 in United States four per cent. bonds. Since that time he has converted $18,000,000 of these bonds into money. Financial men in New York say that within the past four years Vanderbilt's fortune of $200,000,000 has been cut squarely in half. In 1880 New York Central was selling at 155, Lake Shore 155, Michigan Central 112 and Canada Southern 90. January quotations for the same stocks were 85, 61, 55 and 30 respectively. Vanderbilt's boys, including his son-in-law Twombly, have lost him $15,000,000 alone in the last two years.

SAYS THE Cincinnati Times-Star. The loss of life by extraordinary casualties, on land and sea, and on the battlefield, during the past year has been above the average of years when no destructive wars have taken place between any of the great nations of the world. In January, the number of lives lost in such casualties as are given prominence in the newspapers reach about 580. The February list foots up 7,000, including Bakor Pasha's force of 3,500 that the Sudanese rebels annihilated. The record for March shows 200 deaths, and for April 476. In May, Berber was captured and 3,500 of the population and garrison were massacred. There were, in addition, 280 lives lost in disasters during the month, making a total loss of 3,780 from unusual causes. June, July and August brought few accidents of much consequence, the total loss for the three months being 182. In the Kiang Lee Province of China 70,000 people perished by the floods in September, and eighty-two deaths by catastrophes were reported from other parts of the world. The October record was 140; November, 78; and December has experienced one great calamity—the earthquake in Spain, involving a loss of about 3,000 human lives. From other causes, including the sinking of a French transport by a Chinese cruiser, 1,400 persons have perished, bringing the total up to 4,00. At a low estimate, 93,000 lives were lost by the greater casualties during the year.

The archaeological institute of America has sent into the country of the Ephraim and the Tigris an expedition, under the command of the Rev. W. H. Ward. Miss Wolfe of New York defrays the expenses of the researcher.

Depopulating the Prisons.

Monday, December 29, Gov. Bagge sent in the following commutations of long time sentences: George Davis, sent from Genesee county, Nov. 25, 1882, to serve 20 years in the state prison for rape—to 10 years; William Witham sent from Genesee county, February 26, 1880, for life for murder—sentence commuted, so that the term expires January 1, 1885; Julia Carpin sent from Saginaw County December 19, 1876, for life—term commuted so as to expire December 23, 1885.

Elizabeth Vanderhoof, Berrien county, who was sent to prison December, 1884, for life for murder, has been ordered to be transferred to the Detroit House of Correction.

Mark A. Barker, sent from Bay county, June 23, 1883, to three years at Jackson, for burglary, and Henry Milliot, sent from Manistee county, February 14, 1879, to 15 years, for rape, have been pardoned.

School Legislation.

The question of school legislation which has been agitating the minds of some of our prominent educators for some time was entrusted to a committee, and as a result the following recommendations were made by the chairman, Prof. David Howell, superintendent of the Lansing schools:

That the civil townships be made the district unit for the management of local school affairs. This would reduce the number of district school officers in the state by about 15,000. Incredible as it may at first appear, the statement is true as the records prove.

That a change be made in the method of school supervision. The records show that the ungraded schools were better served under the system of township supervision than under the present.

That the recent law requiring the teaching of the effects of alcohol and narcotics on the human system be strengthened by a clause making a penalty for non-compliance with its provisions.

Semi-annual disbursement of the primary school fund.

The establishment of manual training schools in connection with the state normal and agricultural college.

Paul Loewer, who was found guilty of murdering his wife in Montague in July last, has been sentenced to Jackson for life, solitary confinement and hard labor. He said he was not to blame but was driven to commit the deed by jealousy. He took the sentence with indifference.

Lake Superior Copper Wanted.

A special to the Detroit Post from New York, says: An important contract has been made in New York which calls for the delivery of about 2,000,000 pounds of Lake Superior rhyolite copper, deliveries to be made monthly for five months next ensuing, beginning with January. Buyers are to have the option of taking 25 per cent. more than the quantity specified within five months, but binding themselves to purchase none but the brand controlled by the Ca. uet & Hecla company. In the interim the prices of deliveries are to be based upon the average of Chili bars in the London market between the 15th and 25th of each of the five months covered by contracts.

Part of the roof of Wilson's carriage works which was being erected on Jones street, Detroit, gave way the other day. Three men at work on the building were seriously injured, one of whom died.

The total cereal production of Michigan for 1884, amounted to 70,000,000.

Nearly 9,000,000 bushels of cereals were shipped out of Detroit during the year just closed.

Hon. Edwin Willets has decided to accept the presidency of the state agricultural college, provided that the scope of the institution be so broadened as to meet all the requirements of a first-class scientific institution for agricultural and mechanical instruction.

Rev. G. Nickander, Finnish priest of the Reformed church, arrived at Portland, Me., on the Polyanian December 31. The object of his visit to this country is to establish a 3,000 Finn in Michigan. He is accompanied by an advance guard of sturdy men and women.

Brutal Treatment of an Old Lady.

Burglars visited the toll house on the Tuscola plank road, three miles from Bay City the other morning. The manner in which the burglars conducted operations is most dastardly and outrageous. Mrs. Hogue, the lady at the toll house is about 65 years of age. There was also a hired man about the house, and several children. The burglars broke open the door with cord-wood. The hired man was aroused, and attempted to fire at the burglars, but his revolver would not work, and he was cornered by the desperate men, who then turned their attention to Mrs. Hogue and the children, and at the muzzle of a revolver drove them up stairs, and bound and gagged them threatening them with instant death if they did not tell where the money was kept. The threats did not move Mrs. Hogue, and she was bound more securely and compelled to kneel upon the floor for the purpose of being raped. One of the burglars removed the chimney of the lamp and placed the flame close to Mrs. Hogue's body. In the meantime one of the robbers had gone down stairs to search for money and quiet the hired man. Fortunately however, that individual was able to effect his escape, and the burglars, after hitting one of the robbers on the forehead and blowing off the nose, fled.

cried out in pain, and his pals who were up stairs torturing the old lady came to his rescue. The three then left the house. Mrs. Hogue managed to free herself, but she was badly bruised, and suffered such torture that she says she could not have endured it five minutes longer. The police were at once notified and after a little search arrested "Shang" Clark, a noted desperado (who is wanted in Syracuse on a grave charge.) Wm. Brennan, a Detroit crook, and Thomas Larny a crook of Bay City. The burglars were arrested at a disreputable house kept by John Mathison, known as "Canada Jack." The burglars secured only about $25 at the toll-house.

UNDER WATER.

Grand Rapids Nearly Inundated, and the Situation Growing Worse.

A City in Darkness.

GRAND RAPIDS, January 4.—This city is threatened with a flood, exceeding in magnitude that of two years ago. On the night of January 24 an ice jam began eight miles above Grand Haven, and by midnight on the 23 a solid gorge of ice had formed to Grand Rapids. The gorge varied from four to fifteen feet in thickness. The water immediately began to settle back of the jam, and to rise at the rate of a foot an hour. About four o'clock the ice moved east rapidly, and piled up below the city 15 feet high.

The south end of the west side canal went out and the canal and river were all one, and in a short time the water flooded all the sewers at the main part of the city and the basements along canal street contained from one to two feet of water. The floating mills in the vicinity were soon flooded and their contents were removed. The basements of the jail contained over a foot of water, it was impossible to have a fire in the jail.

To add to the horrors of the situation the electric light works were drowned out, leaving the city in total darkness.

On the west side the people at once began to move out of their houses to places of safety. The police force has been doubled, as the city is full of crooks waiting to take advantage of the confusion and darkness to ply their nefarious calling.

The river was filled with floating ice on the morning of the 5th and in all probability a rise will occur, as the ice is still in about the city adding pressure to the already immense strain.

On the evening of the 4th the water reached the mark of the great log jam of 1883, and another foot's rise will flood the whole north end of the city.

Would Not be Beaten.

The Veteran.

One of the Michigan regiments in the Army of the Potomac was brigaded with a Pennsylvania regiment into which their chaplain had infused considerable religious feeling. Several had been baptized; this feeling prevailed to some extent in other regiments of the brigade, but had not taken effect in the Michigan regiment. The chaplain referred to, having the welfare of the Michigan regiment at heart, conceived the idea of calling on the colonel, a soldier from his youth and every inch a man, gruff, but brave; not sudden and quick in quarrel, nor full of strange oaths, but bearded like the pard; gaining reputation even at the cannon's mouth. Consequently the chaplain waited upon him, calling at his tent and finding him, stated that several members of other regiments of the brigade had recently experienced religion, and in his own regiment he had baptised fifteen the previous day; remarking, also, that he was very desirous of a like result in the Michigan regiment; but, unless the colonel made some effort in that direction, the regiment would be behind in the matter. The colonel, a little nettled at what he called over-zeal of the chaplain, and especially at the idea of having his regiment suspected even of being slow or behind in any respect, started to his feet, called the sergeant major, and hurriedly said: "Give my compliments to the adjutant and direct him to detail immediately with orders to report to the chaplain here, twenty men for baptism; my regiment shall not be beat in any way by any regiment in the brigade." The chaplain gave him one serious look and left quick.

He Got Trusted.

Ontonagon Herald.

He walked into the office as County Clerk Powers was about to close up, and inquired "if that was the place a mon got his paypurs."

"Yes, sir, this is the place where we can make a Yankee of you, if that is what you want," replied the officer.

"Well, just be after silling out mine, sor, for I am about to wash me hands of the Quane." The clerk did as requested, and after going through the proper form, was asked by the newly made citizen, "How mooch do ye want for that job?" "Two dollars," answered Mike, handing him the money.

"Well, sor, I suppose I am right now," "You are O. K. now," said the recorder of births and deaths, and can get trusted for any amount, and want in these United States." "Well, thin, sor, I will commence right here, you trust me for thin paypurs," and as he spoke he slid out of the door, Mike has not been seen to smile since.

GENERAL GRANT, in his "Shiloh," written for the CENTURY, scouts the idea that any was in a defenseless condition. He says that before any of Burnside's troops had taken position, he had given orders to his division commanders to attack at daybreak on the second day. Of the close of the first day he says: "General Grant was arrived after firing had ceased, and was placed on the right. Thus night came, Wallace came, and the advance of Nelson's division came, but none—except night—in time to be of material service to the gallant men who saved Shiloh on that first day, against large odds." He gives the story of the capture of General Prentiss as certainly after half-half four o'clock in the afternoon, as he himself was with Prentiss at that hour, "when his division was standing up firmly, and the general was as cool as if he had been expecting victory."

OUR VILLAGE.

Mr. Editor:

Will you please allow me space in your paper to answer "Taxpayer?" We think with your correspondent, that something important will happen to our village. The greater part of the taxpayers have signed a petition to disincorporate. Why this petition was so numerously signed was not on account of mismanagement of the funds intrusted to the care of the Trustees.

Your correspondent states that the village is free from debt, there being $450 in the treasury. Allow me to state why this plethoric state exists. In the first place the Street Commissioner would not allow us to work out our tax; and secondly, the exorbitant assessment of last year, when no actual necessity existed to raise such an amount. Further, we have received no benefit from being incorporated. It is true, the Trustees have furnished us with a lock-up entirely inadequate to hold a determined inmate, located in a part of the village near a former slaughter-house, where ordinary mortals would not place a hog pen. As regards the pound, the law has never been properly enforced. The "necessary expenses" I suppose consists in one Street Commissioner filling up the holes and gutters that his predecessors made, and in leaving inequalities in sidewalks detrimental to life and limb of pedestrians.

A majority of the citizens object to the way the village is plotted, the center of the incorporated village being located south-east far away from any dwelling, in a marsh, where no building ever will be erected, much less any business interests started. I would suggest that this matter be thoroughly sifted. Perhaps "Taxpayer" would not be so over anxious to keep the village incorporated if the amount of taxes was levied on his property. Why was not the center of the village located in the principle street, say near the tavern. Three-fourths who signed the petition to incorporate signed with the expectation that such was the case. We rather think that individuals who drew up the petition had an axe to grind, viz: to diminish their taxes at the expense of others, with respect to the Trustees elected in a "certain interest" we think they have performed their sworn duties equally as well as those Trustees who hold contrary places. The clause in our charter concerning bridges is not so very advantageous. It has to be paid in our township taxes. We know that those who signed the petition to disincorporate were fully cognizant of the facts alluded to in this communication.

We would only be too glad to have our village properly located and incorporated, if it be done in a fair and equitable manner, and we think the proper thing to do now would be to convene a meeting of citizens with this object in view. We would be rejoiced if interests would be started to benefit the village; but "Taxpayer," as well as others, must not hold their properties so high as to preclude capitalists from making investments. As regards the money in the treasury, let the President of the village call a meeting of citizens and determine what is to be done. When our Representative is acquainted with the facts of the case he will not be placed in such a humiliating position as "Taxpayer" intimates. On the contrary, he will be equally as glad to assist us in having our incorporation act amended to meet the wishes of his constituents.

EDITOR DISPATCH:

When mercury seeks the bottom of the thermometer, goes down into the hole and pulls the hole in after it as it did here this morning it is a consolation to know that we are not alone in the enjoyment of the pleasures that such a state of temperature invariably brings. We notice that down in Iowa they are having 32° below zero with damp atmosphere, that is warranted to give every resident the blues for six weeks. Boastful Chicago which claims to be a fashionable resort and which is supposed to be kept warm by its politics and politicians, marks 15° below, while the following reports from Mount Washington indicates how the exuberant eccentricities of the weather are being enjoyed by the genozens of the effects and arctic east. The mercury is frozen up here, the numbers registered by the spirit thermometer is 42° below zero and still falling. A northwest hurricane with an estimated velocity of over one hundred miles an hour prevails. It is difficult to obtain the exact velocity as the aerometer is blowing away and cannot be replaced until the weather moderates which will not be at present. Mercurial gymnastics in Dakota are not always pleasant, but we will average up pretty well with the rest of the world at this time of the year. The Dispatch comes every week and we take pleasure in learning the home news.
Truly yours, J. C. E.

SUPERIOR.

From our Correspondent.

A Farmer's vigilance Association, representing the townships of Superior, Ann Arbor and Salem, has been organized. Those thieves will please take warning.

The bonds of friendship which have so long existed between Abram Gorslin and T. S. Vandvoort, are suddenly snapped assunder. Abram claims that he is the inventor of a patent creamery, now in use in this township, while T. S. declares that his fertile brain conceived the plan and so, of course, a clash is the outcome. They have applied for legal remedies for the settlement of their difficulties, of which we shall give notice as the fun proceeds. They both have bull-dog grit and will probably know each other pretty fine before letting loose.

A. G. Clark, who moved from this township to Texas three years ago, is about moving to Nebraska, for the reason that the soil of Texas is so rich that it gives his family the diphtheria.
