Local Dispatches.

Cornelius Lynch spent Sunday with friends in South Lyon.

Mrs. F. L. Andrews was in Jackson

on business last Friday.

Dexter village will receive over $1,- 100 from taxes this year.

Another death occurred in Howell

last week from diphtheria.

The past week and this are busy ones for farmers—hayings.

Lizzie Hammond, of Chelsea, is visiting her friend Inez Wright.

We would like to get a good bright boy to learn the printers trade at this office.

O. A. Tupper who is working in Ann Arbor, spent the fourth in this vicinity.

Jim Green is at Stockbridge assisting Spaulding in training horses for the track.

Meda Smith who has been home for a couple of weeks returned to Ypsilanti Monday.

The most of our business places were closed on Monday so all could enjoy the fourth.

George Burch went to Stockbridge

this week to assist in caring for and training horses.

This is the week when the papers will be obliged to publish the usual fourth of July accidents.

John Harris sent his horses to the Stockbridge track the first of the week to have them fitted.

Miss Nellie Foley, who has been at work in Jackson, visited her parents near here the past week.

Gen. Weaver, of Iowa, was nominated as president on the People's ticket at the convention at Omaha on Monday.

Glenn Richards, of Grand Rapids, spent Sunday and the fourth with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dan. Richards of this place.

Rev. W. G. Stephens, pastor of the

M. E. church of this place is visiting his mother and other friends in Toronto, Canada.

E. Burden has a flock of 370 sheep from which he took this year 2,836 pounds of wool, selling it for 23 cents per pound straight.

The Howell summer Normal school opened Tuesday of this week. This is a good opportunity for teachers to brush up on certain studies.

A band of gypsies camped near South Lyon last week. Trot out your trading stock for they will probably put in an appearance here soon.

Our agricultural dealers can not get enough hay-tedders to supply the demand. Heavy hay and poor weather make a good demand for hay-tedders.

A band of gypsies, or turks, with five bears were in our village Tuesday. Of course they drew a crowd and made some 'mon' with their bear dance.

The Dexter common council has ordered and posted notices to the effect that all dogs running at large on the streets without muzzles will be taken up by the marshal and shot.

There will be an ice cream social on Wednesday evening, July 13, in the temperance hall. The members of that order extend a cordial invitation to all.

Music will be furnished during the evening. A good time is expected.

Where did you spend the fourth?

Uncle Joe Hodgeman is quite sick.

A change of 'adv' for F. E. Wright

this week.

Lyle Younglove visited his brother in Detroit last week.

Myron Mills, of Marysville, visited friends here the past week.

There are at present eighteen inmates at the county poor house.

The Fowlerville Catholic church will not be dedicated until July 24.

Elmer Watrous, of Rochester, Mich.

visited at F. E. Wright's this week.

The annual Catholic picnic of the Brighton Catholic society will be held

Aug. 15.

Genoa democrats united one evening last week in a genuine hurrah and cannon shoot.

Quite a good many young people from this vicinity attended the celebration at Jackson.

A great many of our citizens spent the forth at Dexter and report a good time and quite a crowd.

W. H. Cadwell, one of the graduates from our school this year is clerking in the store of Teeple & Cadwell.

Mrs. T. B. Knapp, of Howell, had the misfortune to be thrown from a buggy last week and break one of her arms.

It is reported that H. H. Swarthout, who went to Arizona a few weeks ago, had the misfortune to shoot off three fingers.

John Turner, who has been at work near North lake, returned home last week. He will work around here the rest of the season.

T. J. Barlum and Thos. Dolan, of Detroit, are spending a couple of weeks here. T. Dolan was formerly a resident of Pinckney.

Jeff. Parker, who has been clerking in Teeple & Cadwell's hardware store for the past nine months is working for Will Dunning during haying and harvest.

Mrs. Fred Melvin, of Howell, and her mother, Mrs. J. M. Kearney, of this place, are visiting in Welland,

Ont., Toronto, Erie, Pa., and Brews-ville, Ind.

Frank G. Lenz passed through Jackson on Friday last enroute for a trip around the world on a "Victor" pneumatic bicycle. He started from New York June 4 and expects to be gone

two or three years.

About forty of our villagers went to Portage Lake on Monday for a picnic. With boating, fishing, swinging, and a bounteous dinner the day passed very pleasantly. The day was a beautiful one for a picnic.

A good many responded to our call for money last week but there are those who owe us on subscription yet from whom we should like to hear. If anyone is too poor to pay for their paper and do not use tobacco, liquor, or keep a dog just let us know and we will never ask for the money again.

According to a recent ruling of the postoffice department, when a letter has been deposited in a postoffice for mailing the writer may, upon identifiing the same to the satisfaction of the postmaster, withdraw it from the postoffice; but if the stamp thereon has been canceled, it cannot be re-mailed, without the payment of postage anew thereon.—Democrat.

The people of Ann Arbor, who took so much interest in the trial of the "Prince" Michael case, will be glad to learn that little Bernice Bechel is to be cared for. Mr. J. L. Hudson, of Detroit, has been appointed her guardian, and will see that she is properly cared for. He will have her name changed, and send her to an eastern school and give her an opportunity to bury the sad past, and begin life over again. It is a noble deed for Mr.

Hudson to do.—Ann Arbor Courier.

Read the village ordinance in this issue.

There will be no service in the M.

E. church while it is being repaired.

G. W. Teeple and daughter spent the last of last week in Owosso and Corunna.

Rev. O. B. Thurston will preach his farewell sermon in the Cong'l church on Sunday morning next. There will also be service in the evening.

Played Ball.

A game of ball was played at Plymouth last week between a Boston female team and the Plymouth team.

The girls played well, the score stad-

ing 17 to 21 in favor of Plymouth.

The gate receipts were $107 of which the female team received two-thirds.

A Sad Accident.

While Wren, little son of Rev. O. B.

Thurston, was playing on the streets

last Friday he fell, doubling his leg under him in such a manner as to break it between the knee and hip.

MOST INTERESTING MATTERS CONDENSED.

A Grand Rapids Crook Turned Over to Justice by His Wife.—An Almont Man Subduces After a Protracted Drunk.—Drowning Accidents.—Other News.

The Local Option Law Defective.
Dennis T. Covert, of Ithaca, Gratiot county, has applied to the supreme court for a writ of mandamus to compel Frank Munson, county treasurer, to sell him a license to sell liquor, notwithstanding the fact that local option took effect in that county on May 1. Covert alleges that there is no legal record of the proceedings of the board of supervisors in connection with the election, either before or after it was held, for the reason that the record was not written up by the clerk for several weeks after the proceedings were had. The petition also states that the petition from one township asking that election be called was fatally defective, and that its elimination would have left less than the statutory number of petitioners.

An Ugly Convict.
James Mills, a convict serving a term of five years at Jackson for burglary in St. Clair county, was ordered from the breakfast-room at the prison and refused to go. In attempting to keep Deputy Warden Celem from compelling him, he threw everything in reach on the table at him and would have killed him with a blow of a large dish had not the deputy's hand averted the blow. He was overpowered and punished, losing all the good time he had made. He would have been released in 60 days.

A Leap for Liberty.
Sheriff McQueen and a deputy left Grand Rapids for Jackson with Charles Crampton and Frank Bickford who is to serve out a 12 years' term. About three miles west of Charlotte, Bickford asked to go to the closet. He locked the door and at once jumped out the window while the train was running 40 miles an hour. McQueen came on to Jackson, landed Crampton in prison and then went back to Charlotte and freed his man in the woods. He had received a scalp wound and a bruised arm by the jump.

His Wife Told of His Thieving.
William Seymour has been arrested at Grand Rapids for wholesale larceny. For six months past he has been making night pilgrimages into the country, driving an old horse and returning early in the morning. Farmers have frequently reported the loss of harness, chickens, feed and other movables. Seymour was watched. He refused to talk when arrested, but his wife told the whole story and said she had often remonstrated with him. His house was filled with stolen property.

A Murderous Assault.
Elmer E. Johnson, a member of the city fire department, of Grand Rapids, is under arrest accused of a murderous assault. He was riding on a street car and refusing to pay his fare was put off the car by the conductor, George Powers. Johnson then grabbed up a stone and throwing it struck Powers on the back of the head and dangerously injured him.

Made a Big Haunt.
Burglars blew open and took pieces of the safe in the office of Hungerford's carriage factory at Lapeer. The explosive placed in the safe blew the door 15 feet through a partition and the concussion broke every window glass in the building. They secured 45 cents in money and some private papers.

An American Tin Plate Banner.
Give the town of Sherman credit for the first American tin plate campaign banner of the state. The wide-awake Republicans of this village have stretched a banner across the street bearing the names of Harrison and Reid, the letters being cut from 14x20 sheets of American tin plate.

Hotel Fire at Holly.
The National hotel at Holly was destroyed by fire, caused by incendiarism. The occupants had a narrow escape for their lives and ran from the burning building in all states of undress. The loss will aggregate $25,000, with $1,700 insurance.

An Aged Man Suicides.
Morris Domling, an aged German who resided with his son about two miles north of Ida, committed suicide. An inquest held on the body by Justice Aldin revealed the fact that he came to his death by shooting himself.

Suicided After a Spree.
Fred Wolf, a shoemaker, who has been on a protracted spree at Almont, became despondent and committed suicide by taking morphine. Physicians worked on him an hour but without success. He leaves a family.

Resisted a Gambling Joint.
Frank Burton's gambling den at Saginaw was raided and 13 of his visitors were captured. All were released on their own recognizance. The police are determined to suppress gambling if possible.

The thousands of winged ants have lately invaded Montague.
Gov. Winans will make Columbus Day, Oct. 12, a legal holiday.

William H. Linn, aged 40, and David Hoffman, aged 24, were killed by lightning four miles west of Constantine while driving home. The horse was also killed and a third man in the vehicle rendered unconscious by the bolt.

Thomas W. Walters, 21 years of age, working in the East End Mine, at Marquette, started to see why a charge did not explode and had arranged in front of it when it went off, mangle him in a terrible manner. He died shortly afterward.

The 12-year-old son of Joseph West, living south of Cadillac, fell from a horse's back and became entangled in the harness. He was dragged over rail piles and stumps for a quarter of a mile and was dead before assistance reached him.

The church scandal at Wauonta is still agitating every one. The 10 ex-communicated persons and 15 others in good standing have called for an investigation of the pastor on July 5. They want the charges made against the pastor sifted.

A three-year-old child was rescued from a drowning at Big Rapids by Mrs. A. Peterson the other night. The lady never thought of her own safety, but plunged in and grabbed the little one, bringing it to shore, where it was resuscitated after much hard work.

John McCarthy attempted to cut the insides out of a street car driver at Muskegon after insulting a lady passenger. He was knocked down by his opponent and handed over to a policeman. Attempt to kill and murder will be the charge he will be tried on.

At Six Lakes, near Edmore, parties from Gratiot, the local option county, have erected a building on a flat boat in the middle of the lake. Large quantities of hot stuff are being transported to it, and it is reported that it will open up a full-fledged rum shop.

The first rainy day of the next school year at the University at Ann Arbor is looked forward to with much anticipation by lovers of light opera. The "co-eds" are circulating a resolution among themselves to use Mrs. Jenness-Miller's "rainy day" dress when occasion arises. It only reaches the knee.

CLARKSON IS OUT

NEW CHAIRMAN OF THE REPUBLICAN NATIONAL COMMITTEE.

He is an Illinois Man and Was Selected at the Request of President Harrison.—Clarkson Declines Reappointment, But Is Indorsed by the Committee.

The meeting of the Republican National committee was called to order at Washington by the temporary chairman, Gen. J. S. Clarkson. After the roll had been called showing the presence, either in person or by proxy, of all the members of the committee except those from Nevada, Wyoming and Oklahoma, J. Sloat Fassett, of New York, took the floor and placed in nomination for permanent chairman of the committee Gen. J. S. Clarkson.

Mr. Fassett's remarks were several times interrupted by applause and it was hearty and enthusiastic when reference was made to Mr. Clarkson's service early in the campaign of 1888. As Mr. Fassett took his seat, Gen. Clarkson arose and said that although a majority of the members of the committee had tendered him their support and votes he had it from the President that he desired some other person for the position. He (Mr. Clarkson) believed it would be for the best interest of the party to place in the chair some one who was recommended by the candidates for president and vice-president. After a recess a committee was appointed to draft resolutions on the labors of Mr. Clarkson as chairman. James F. Burke, of the University of Michigan, president of the College League of Republican clubs, made an address which was well received.

Mr. Payne, of Wisconsin, placed in nomination as chairman of the Republican National committee William J. Campbell, of Illinois. Representatives of several other states seconded the nomination as one eminently fit and proper and predicting under his leadership complete success for the Republican party in November. Mr. Campbell was elected by acclamation.

Representative Hansbrough, of North Dakota, placed in nomination as vice-chairman M. H. De Young, of San Francisco, and he was elected by acclamation. Thomas Carter, of Montana, was selected as secretary; C. N. Bliss, of New York, treasurer; F. L. Swords, of Iowa, sergeant at arms.

Resolutions thanking Mr. Clarkson for his services were passed unanimously and he made a happy reply. Mr. Fassett, of New York, was also thanked for his services.

In the evening the committee met at the Arlington and went in a body to the White House to call on the President. The committee was conducted to the blue room where they were joined by the President. Chairman Campbell introduced each member and explained that the committee had effected an organization and had called to pay their respects. The President in a few words expressed his appreciation of the courtesy and after shaking hands with all who were present the committee withdrew.

Shot Him Through the Heart.

Max Clergett, 18 years old, was shot and instantly killed in part 1 of the court of general sessions in New York city by Edward Divens. Clergett had been arraigned before Judge Martine on the charge of raping Divens' 15-year old sister, Sarah, on the 14th instant and had pleaded guilty. He was remanded for sentence, and as he turned and walked through the aisle to go to the prisoner's pen young Divens arose and holding a self-cocking derringer to Clergett's breast fired before a hand could be outstretched to restrain him.

Clergett fell on the broad of his back dead. For an instant there was not another sound in the room. The smoke from the pistol mounted in the air. Divens stood over his victim, a look of hate on his face and his revolver pointed down at the motionless figure on the floor. The police awoke first from their lethargy and jumped for the murderer. He made no resistance and was led into the hall. Then he became hysterical and cried aloud for his sister. He was taken before a coroner, who committed him at once. He refused to make any statement, but on the way to prison he continued to call for "Sarah, Sarah, Sarah," the dead man's victim.

Clergett's body was taken to the morgue, where an autopsy was made. The bullet cut clean through his heart. Death was instantaneous. General sympathy is expressed for Divens whose brain is thought to have been turned by the ruin of his sister, who was his pet and favorite. He has always been sick and paralytic, the muscles of his right side being seriously affected. He gave his age as 25 years.

Southern Belles Fight a Duel.

Gertrude Hager and Lizzie Spears are two of the handsomest young ladies in the region of Lincoln county, W. Va., in which they live. A long continued contest between them for social preference led to bitter enmity and Miss Spears, having recently made several conquests by her superior charms, her rival and bitter enemy, Miss Hager, could stand it no longer, and one day last week challenged the object of her hatred to mortal combat and fired five shots at her. She proved a bad marksman and none of the shots took effect. Miss Spears was before Justice Smith the day following for a warrant to restrain her enemy from further violence, and the end is not yet.

THE PEOPLE'S CHOICE.

Judge Gresham the Most Popular Free Silver-People's Party Candidate.

H. R. Wolcott, of Denver, brother of United States Senator Wolcott, was at the Auditorium, in Chicago, where he gave quite an impetus to the boom started to nominate Judge Walter Q. Gresham on the People's party ticket for President. "If Gresham is nominated by the People's party on a free silver platform," said Mr. Wolcott, "he will undoubtedly carry many of the western states. Nevada is all ready to jump to any party which declares for free silver and Idaho is in the same condition. My own state would certainly poll a big vote for a free silver candidate, and particularly if Judge Gresham were the nominee. If he were nominated his name would create an enthusiasm not often witnessed in politics. The people of the west have great confidence in Judge Gresham and believe him to be an eminently upright man and jurist."

A SAD CASE.

A Seventy Year Old Minister Driven From a Town for Immoral Conduct.

Rev. James Wilson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Visalia, Cal., was given 24 hours to leave town. Wilson owns a 20-acre vineyard 100 miles north of Visalia occupied by a tenant named Miller who had two daughters aged seven and nine. Wilson was in the habit of taking the girls riding in a buggy and on several occasions took undue liberties with them. The father of the children came to the town to kill Wilson but was persuaded not to do so by the deacons of the church. Wilson acknowledged his guilt. He is over 70 years of age and was heretofore greatly esteemed. He left town at once leaving his family behind.

SUICIDED IN HIS CELL.

An Aged Man, in Prison for Assaulting a Young Girl, Ends His Miserable Career.

August Gey, who was arrested at Saginaw charged with criminally assaulting Augusta Hildabrand, aged 11 years, and who was in the city prison awaiting a hearing committed suicide in his cell by hanging, using a stocking and a handkerchief as a rope.

Gey was 63 years old, and has a brother in this city. The circumstances connected with the charge against him were of a peculiar, atrocious and revolting nature.

Important Supreme Court Decision.

A recent ruling of the supreme court settles a much disputed point in legal and commercial transactions.

A woman named Moyer, who resides at Grand Lodge, owned a certain piece of property. She failed to pay the taxes, and the lands were sold to John W. Fitzgerald. The limit of redemption expired on April 30, which occurred on Saturday. On that day Mrs. Moyer, by telephone, asked the auditor-general if the money should be sent in on that day if it would be in time to redeem the land, and was told that it would. The check for the amount of the delinquent taxes was mailed, but it failed to reach the auditor-general until Monday, the 23 day of May.

Fitzgerald applied for a deed on the grounds that the time for redemption had expired on April 30, and that he, being the lawful foreclosed, should be entitled to the property. The auditor-general refused to issue the deed, and Fitzgerald applied to the supreme court for a mandamus to compel him to do so. The court held that the assurance of the auditor-general warranted Mrs. Moyer in making the check and that a mandamus should not issue.

Rejected the Nuns as School Teachers.

At a meeting of the board of education at Stillwater, Minn., a resolution was adopted that the applications of five sisters of charity to be employed under the recent arrangement with St. Michael's parish as teachers in the public schools be rejected. Another resolution was adopted that hereafter no church or other sectarian property shall be leased for school purposes. President Mulvey of the defenders presented a communication signed by over 1,200 members of the society, asking that this board take such action as would place the city schools on their previous basis before any agreement was made with the Roman Catholic church. This is a decided victory for the defenders, and affects Bishop Ireland's parochial public school at Stillwater.

Made a Compromise.

Grand Chiefs Arthur, of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and Sargent, of the firemen, were at Marquette to adjust certain difficulties between the engineers and firemen of the D. S. S. & A. road and the company. The men asked for a 10-hour day and 15 cents advance in wages. The day has been 12 hours.

After a conference at the office of General Manager Fitch a compromise was reached, the company granting the advance of pay asked, and the day being fixed at 11 hours. This affects chiefly the switch and ore train engineers and firemen as the through freight and passenger men had little or nothing to ask.

Will Run the Negroes Out.

The indications are that the governor of Oklahoma Territory, will be compelled to order out the military to protect the colored citizens who have located in Cleveland county. It is asserted that notices are being served on every Negro settler in that county to pack his things and leave. The Norman Democrat, published at the county seat, came out with a long article and advised the citizens to drive the Negroes out of the country and further advocated the boycotting of any man or merchant who expressed any sympathy with the colored settlers.

FOSTER, OF INDIANA.

APPOINTED TO THE OFFICE OF SECRETARY OF STATE.

The Senate at Once Confirms the Appointment, the President Signs the Commission and Gen. John W. Foster Steps into the Shoes Vacated by James G. Blaine.

The President sent to the Senate the nomination of John W. Foster, of Indiana to be secretary of state, and the Senate in executive session almost immediately confirmed the nomination. Upon receipt of the information that the Senate had confirmed the nomination, the President at once signed Gen. Foster's commission to the office.

The nomination of Gen. Foster, with general favor and is everywhere accepted as a proper compliment to a deserving official. Mr. Foster is particularly well equipped for the office through his diplomatic knowledge and ability and his thorough familiarity with the business of the department for the past two years. He was tendered the office a few days ago and hesitated to accept it because of the financial sacrifice that was entailed.

John W. Foster was born in Pike county, Ind., March 2, 1836. He was graduated at the Indiana State university in 1857, and after one year at Harvard Law school was admitted to the bar and began practicing in Evansville. He entered the national service in 1861 as major of the Twenty-fifth Indiana Infantry. Later he was appointed colonel of the One Hundred and Thirty-sixth Indiana regiment. He was sent as United States minister to Mexico by President Grant in 1873, and was reappointed by President Hayes in 1880. In March of that year he was transferred to Russia and held that mission until November, 1881, when he resigned. President Arthur appointed him minister to Spain and he served from February, 1883, to March, 1885, when he resigned and returned to the United States, having negotiated an important commercial treaty with the Spanish Government.

The Queen Prorogues Parliament.

London special: Her majesty has signed the decree dissolving parliament. The queen's speech proroguing parliament says: "The time has arrived when it is expedient that the electoral body of the country be consulted by the assembly of a new parliament. I have therefore, summoned you for prorogation at an earlier period than usual. I am glad to record that my friendly relations with foreign powers remain unaltered. Treaties have been duly ratified referring the differences with the United States with respect to the Behring sea to arbitration."

Referring to the bills passed at the session just ended, the speech says that the arrangements that parliament has made enabling workmen to purchase agricultural holdings will increase the class of cultivating owners, which is of great importance to the state. The application to Ireland of the educational measures recently adopted in Great Britain will confer great benefits upon the people of that country.

Trouble in Behring Sea.

According to advices received from Honolulu things are going to be lively in Behring Sea this season. Already there is a report that the warship Mohican has fired upon a runaway sealer. The indications are that a number of the poachers will defy the fleet and enter the Behring Sea at the risk of seizure and imprisonment. The migrating herds are now near the passes in the closed sea and the cruisers are following them. "Fighting Bob" Evans has evinced a determination to balk the poachers without regard to consequences. He has been informed that it is a part of the sealers' plan to dodge into Russian waters in case of pursuit and is ready to checkmate that move.

Captain Johnson, commanding the United States steamer Mohican, has telegraphed from Sitka, Alaska, announcing the seizure of the vessels Kodiack, Lettie and Jennie for violation of the modus vivendi. No further details are given, but it is assumed that the vessels are American registered.

Aged Lady Killed by a Train.

Sarah Packard, aged 63 years, was struck by an engine and instantly killed. She was walking on the track and paid no attention to the train. A coroner's jury exonerated the trainmen.

Frank N. Bennett, a young man of Mt. Pleasant, went to Alaska in 1880. He has been lost on the Yukon river and his father contemplates fitting out an expedition to search for him.

Senor Don Manuel Ant ma Matta, of Naparaiso, Chili, died in his coach while on his way to his home, of apoplexy. It was he that came near bringing on war with the United States.

A dastardly attempt was made to derail a motor car at Bay City and thereby cause loss of life, as had the accident happened 10 feet further on great loss of life would have been probable.

The court of claims has given judgment for $104,026 in favor of the Pottawatamie Indians in their suit to recover $804,303 for lands in Michigan and Indiana ceded to the United States under treaties.

The body of a well dressed man has been found floating in the water at Pike's Bay, near Houghton, with his head crushed in. Foul play is suspected, but as the body has been in the water for some it is impossible to identify it.

'They are Upon Us!'

For some minutes, holding the beloved form in my arms, I forgot all else, realizing only the rapture of the present. Only when she releases herself and looks around for Ivan, I remember how much I have to tell her. She turns white when she hears about the landlord's objections, and I tell her that Ivan has gone to seek Pavel Yegorovich, to make arrangements for my removal there that night. At this she clasps her hands.

"God only knows! Thou speakest as if I could choose," I reply, with a touch of bitterness. "A stranger and an alien in a foreign land should I reach it, my prospects are nil." Then, noting the effect of my gloomy observations in her downcast, woe-begone features, I hasten to add more cheerfully, "Nevertheless, Maruschka, I

Good Roads.

About the only road of consequence the government has to its credit is a portion of the old national road from Cumberland, Md., to Wheeling, a distance of about two hundred miles, built at a cost of about $1,700,000. Yet this is a splendid example to show the fruitfulness of the judicious placing of a good road, giving rise to a splendid system of pikes by the government, states and private corporations, stretching from Baltimore, St. Louis and Jefferson City. This is particularly so in the states of Maryland and West Virginia. One of the best systems of artificial roads in our country is situated in the limestone region of Frederick and Hagerstown, Md.

Good roads have brought prosperity to the farmers there, fences are in good repair, land in good cultivation, barns and houses large, comfortable and well painted. But this is only a Tiber in our great Sahara of mud roads.

It surely requires no argument to convince an American of the need of better accommodation and improved methods governing the common roads of the country. Our government has felt the need of good roads as much and more than any farmer. Of what surpassing value would have been good wagon roads from Washington in the direction of Antietam Gettysburg. Look at the millions of dollars in horses, mules, wagons and cannon, to say nothing of men, lost in the mud of Virginia! Those roads are no better at the present day. How fortunate that Sheridan had a good pike on which to make his famous ride!

Our country and state road tax system of improvement is a hideous failure—such roads never have the services of a skillful engineer, but are invariably in the care of laymen, unschooled as well as unskilled. It is an apparent fact that we shall never have roads in keeping with our civilization until their management is centered in the government, as were all the roads of history and the splendid modern highways of Europe. Every year rivers and harbors swallow our money by the millions, yet the common roads to feed this commerce get not a cent. The roads are public property and why should not the government improve them by the same legislative care that is bestowed upon our rivers and harbors? What is the value of vessels compared to the value of wheeled vehicles? What is the proportion of traffic on roads to that on rivers and harbors? How much more enduring is the work on a good road than that in a river or harbor? Here is an opportunity to increase our army in a way that will not be a burden to the people; enlist laborers and place them on the highways. Who mined the coal you have in that comfortable fire? Were those shoes of yours made in the penitentiary? We have our criminals competing with industrious classes; why are they not on the public roads for the public good? As long as time lasts man will erect costly unproductive piles to perpetuate his memory in the cemeteries; would it not be more appropriate to build a pretty memorial stone bridge and present it to a public road? Do the riders and drivers of the country ever stop to figure the extravagance of poor roads, the wear, tear, (sweat?) and loss of time, not to mention comfort and pleasure? How far around a man will go to get to drive a short distance on a good road! With a farmer going to town should not be a question of weather any more than it is on a railroad. He should be in a position to take advantage of any shade of the market, and not require a day to go and one to return when living but a few miles from home.

The system in general use in our country of temporary road making—piling up dirt to be washed down by the first rain—is no more than that of the Hebrews and Greeks. If it is impossible for us to approach the Romans or the Incas, can we not do as much as Carthage?

The NEW WAY

There is an old saying that there is "nothing new under the sun." We want to tell you that there is something new, and it's very new, too. It is the new way to the Summer Resorts, Petoskey, Bay View and Charlevoix, and one that will prove to be as popular a means of reaching them as the places are popular in themselves. From all parts of the country come every year—the number increasing as the resorts become better known—a throng of tourists, some bent on pleasure only, and going from one resort to another, enjoying to the utmost the pleasures afforded by each. Others go to some favored place, spending the hot months in quiet rest and regaining the health and strength impaired by too close attention to business and the cares of every day life.

But everybody knows of the advantages to be derived from a vacation spent among the woods and lakes of Northern Michigan, and our object now is to tell you of the "New Way" to reach them.

The extension of the popular Chicago & West Michigan Railway is now completed, the new line running from Traverse City, through Charlevoix, to Petoskey to Bay View, a distance of seventy-five miles through magnificent forests and along the shores of beautiful lakes and rivers. Passing directly in front of the two resorts of Charlevoix (one of the most delightful places for a summer home of the many in that region,) the road, a few miles further on, strikes the shore of Little Traverse Bay, which, almost at the water's edge it follows into Petoskey and Bay View.

Through train service will be commenced via the new route on June 26, and with the excellent service and fast time, which will be a special feature, "The New Way" cannot fail to prove a popular one with travelers.

Through parlor and sleeping cars run from Chicago via the West Michigan and from Detroit via the other line of this system, the DETROIT LANSING & NORTHERN R. R. to Grand Rapids, thence via the C. & W. M. R. R. to Petoskey, through Traverse City and Charlevoix.

Try the "New Way" this year, and be convinced that it is a good one.

THE BAW'S HORN

INDIANAPOLIS, IND.

THE BAW'S HORN has become a great newspaper success, and is already known everywhere. It is full of light and life; gives whole columns in a sentence, and doesn't a dull line in it. It is unconventional, original and unique in every way, and has certainly saved the question of how to make religious reading attractive to those who are not Christians. It is down to earth, every lover of the Bible falls in love with it at sight. It is a favorite with old and young, and if you take a dozen other papers every day in the family will want to read THE BAW'S HORN first. It can be read clear through from beginning to end like a book, without a break in the interest. No better picture was ever presented of life in the itinerant ministry than those in the "Gonderfoot Letters." The characters in them are living people who can be found in thousands of churches.

THE BAW'S HORN is a handsomely printed weekly paper of sixteen pages, 22x11 inches in size.

Subscribe now. Terms, $1.50 per year; eight months, $1.25; six months, $1.00; three months, $0.75. Send for free sample copy.

A Piano SENT on trial

WE PAY FREIGHT

If you do not keep it.
We think you will keep it.
It pleases everybody.
It is an honest piano.
It is the WING Piano.

You may have a preference for some other make. Still you are a reasoning creature, and open to conviction, no doubt.

The question is too important to be settled without due thought. Years of satisfaction or of regret come with a piano. Does it wear well? The WING Piano does. "Look before you leap."

Whatever piano you buy, there are piano secrets you ought to know. Our free book tells them. Send a postal card for it. It may help you to buy a different piano. We take that risk. We also tell you the nearest dealer where you can see a WING Piano. It is worth looking at. So is the price. WING & SON, 245 Broadway, New York.

Have you written me yet? If you have, wisdom and intelligent ambition suggest you to-day. I am anxious to give my special, personal instruction. I teach any fairly intelligent person to write, read and write, and when, after instruction, you can read and write, you will find it a great relief. I will furnish the situation or employment, at which you can earn from $100 to $300 a month. I change nothing and receive nothing but the best. As above, nothing difficult. I require but one person from each district or county. I have already taught and prepared with me a large number who are making over Three Thousand Dollars a Year each. All is true, solid, sure. Full particulars free. After you know all, if you decide to go on further, why, no harm is done. Address, L. C. ALLEN, Box 420, Augusta, Maine.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, JULY 7, 1892.

President Harrison's appointment of Mr. John W. Foster, of Indiana, to be Secretary of State is the most talked of event of the week. So far as the personal fitness of the new Secretary is concerned the appointment is generally commended, but all the same it does not please the republican leaders. They say that the appointment should have gone to some State that did not already have a representative in the cabinet. But it is probable that Mr. Harrison made the selection because of Mr. Foster's familiarity with the affairs of the Department of State, with which he has been connected for several years as a sort of brevet Secretary, and not to please anybody.

Gen. B. F. Butler, who has occupied a conspicuous position in several Presidential campaigns, was at the Capitol this week. He says of the present one: "I am like the little boy playing in the attic—I don't care how hard it rains. I do not care what the result is; I take no interest in it and do not intend to take any." The old man must be growing old in feeling as well as in years.

Representative Jerry Simpson, before leaving for the Omaha convention with his Alliance colleagues, said: "The politicians who are not in touch with the people's party have no sort of idea what a serious and important movement this is. We are apt to poll a very large vote in the so-called silver States and to carry some or all of them, and I believe we will carry Kansas, Nebraska, Minnesota, South Carolina, South Dakota, Georgia, North Carolina and Texas, and that we shall elect a sufficient number of Congressmen to hold the balance of power in the next House." At least one man in Washington takes a hundred dollars worth of stock in Jerry's last claim, as I saw that amount waged that the people's party would hold the balance of power in the next House of Representatives, that is to say that they will elect enough members to prevent either the republican or democrats organizing the House without their votes.

A scheme that was dear to the heart of the late Senator Plumb, who almost succeeded in his efforts to get it adopted by the fifty-first congress, has been revived by Representative Pattison, of Ohio, who has introduced a joint resolution providing for the creation of a permanent, nonpartisan Tariff Commission, which shall investigate and consider all questions relating to the agricultural, commercial, mercantile, manufacturing, mining and industrial interests of the United States, and annually transmit the information obtained to Congress, together with such recommendations as the commission may deem necessary and proper, so far the resolution is almost identical with the one which Mr. Plumb offered as an amendment to the McKinley tariff bill and which was adopted by the conference committee, but Mr. Pattison's resolution contains a proviso which prohibits the commission recommending a duty on anything manufactured in the United States in excess of the difference in the cost of producing the same article abroad.

With the exception of the last proviso, which seems unnecessary, the idea of a non-partisan tariff commission is an excellent one.

There is no good reason why the tariff should figure in the partisan politics of this country, and it would not if undisputed statistics showing its effect upon all branches of business and all classes of people were obtainable; then there would be but one opinion among intelligent men, as the one object aimed at by the protectionist, the tariff reformer and the free trader is to get that which will bring the greatest benefit to their fellow countrymen, and the principle reason for differences of opinion at this time is the impossibility of securing official statements in favor of either that are not flatly contradicted by other official statements. The professional politicians have no desire, however, to see the tariff taken out of politics, and for that reason Congress is not likely to authorize the creation of a tariff commission.

There is a bare possibility that there will be another silver fight in the House before the close of the session, and in order to prepare for it Representative Pierce, of Tennessee, who was Mr. Bland's lieutenant in the last fight, has introduced in the House Senator Stewart's amendment to the free coinage of all silver, except that from foreign countries. Mr. Pierce says, he is certain that the House cannot fail to act on the bill after it has passed the Senate. Others are not so confident that the bill will come up again in the House, although there are some unusually well-informed people who believe that Senator Stewart's amendment restricting free coinage to American silver was offered at the suggestion of President Harrison, and that if the amended bill should be passed by the House it would be signed by Mr. Harrison.

PINCKNEY,

MICHIGAN.

The way to get good teachers is to have them thoroughly interested in the work and thoroughly equipped for it. There will then be no empty school houses or dull classes.

Integrity is the first moral virtue, benevolence the second, and prudence is the third. Without the first the two latter cannot exist, and without the third the two former would be often rendered useless.

The question "What are we here for?" is a question not without pertinence to members of the various professions, many of whom regard the parchment that admits them to practice as exclusively for their personal advantage. To a certain extent members of the clerical and medical professions recognize their obligations to the public. Each accredited member of these professions performs many public duties in care for mind or body of those who are unable to make personal recompense to their helpers. This is right. It would also be equal right for members of the other important profession, the law, to emulate this good example.

This is a time-saving age and everything and every plan that will contribute at all to time economy at once becomes popular. The train that will carry a passenger to New York an hour quicker than another is the train that is to secure the more passengers. A person contemplating a saunter through Europe and having the whole summer for a long saunter and convinced that the ocean ride is going to be of physical benefit to him, still will hanker for the steamer that will take him across in the quickest possible time. The get-there spirit comes pretty near being omnipresent. Even the tramp, who has till eternity to reach his destination, will take the shortest cut to it if he knows it.

The sunshine of life will never be found laughing amidst the excesses of living. It will be found playing only about the moderate; and the temperate man—he who is temperate in all things—is seldom at a loss for splendors to admire and amusements to enjoy. To him life is an elegant panorama that never ceases to reveal something new and exciting. It reflects the landscapes with their varied beauty until his soul is filled with delight; and it even portrays the best sentiments of the heart and the best melodies that the zephyrs, the birds, the streams, the human voice or angels ever make. He exhausts neither his taste or appetite or the thing of which he partakes in his enjoyment of it.

When men are so devoted to the accumulation of so-called riches as to pay no attention to their physical and intellectual needs it is not surprising that they are apathetic in matters which only concern them as units of a great whole. While thoughts of material aggrandizement absorb every waking hour to a greater or less degree, and leave no time for real home life and proper supervision of the children's up-bringing, there is no reason to wonder that civic affairs should be left exclusively to professional politicians—men whose whole thought is personal advancement at no matter what cost to the public they are supposed to serve. The strength or weakness of a nation lies in the public-spiritedness of its individuals.

It is largely lack of public spirit among lawyers that has with thousands of intelligent people brought the legal profession into disrepute. Many serious public wrongs need legal counsel for their remedy. It is not enough that members of the legal profession stand ready to undertake these causes for a fee; as a retainer. It is the apparent willingness of many lawyers to take up either side, as they are paid to do so, no less than the unwillingness to act without pay, that has discredited them as wholly mercenary. Whether they recognize the fact or not, the public believes that the lawyer, by virtue of his legal training, owes an extra service to the community, just as do the clergyman and the doctor. It is by virtue of these public services supposed to be due that each of these bodies of men are classed among the liberal professions.

IN FAMOUS LONDON.

DR. TALMAGE GREETED BY A MIGHTY THROG.

His First Sermon Heard by Many Thousand People—"Ye Are Bought With a Price" For a Text.

LONDON, England, June 26, 1892.—An enormous audience greeted Dr. Talmage in this city to-day, composed of people who had come from all parts of the British metropolis to hear the famous American preacher. His reception in England has been most enthusiastic. Many letters were awaiting him from different cities eagerly pleading for a visit. The doctor will have to preach five or six times a week if he accepts even a small percentage of the urgent invitations already sent to him. He is very much gratified by the extreme cordiality of his reception. Dr. Talmage entitled his sermon, "The Immense Cost," from the text, 1 Cor. 6:20, "Ye are bought with a price."

Your friends takes you through his valuable house. You examine the arches, the frescoes, the grass-plots, the fish-ponds, the conservatories, the parks of deer, and you say within yourself or you say aloud: "What did all this cost?" You see a costly diamond flashing in an earring, or you hear a costly dress rustling across the drawing-room, or you see a high-mettled span of horses harnessed with silver and gold, and you begin to make an estimate of the value.

The man who owns a large estate cannot instantly tell you all it is worth. He says: "I will estimate so much for the house, so much for the furniture, so much for the stock, so much for the barn, so much for the equipage—adding up in all making this aggregate."

Well, my friends, I hear so much about our mansion in heaven, about its furniture and the grand surroundings, that I want to know how much it is all worth, and what has actually been paid for it. I cannot complete in a month nor a year the magnificent calculation, but before I get through to-day I hope to give you the figures. "Ye are bought with a price."

With some friends I went to your tower to look at the crown jewels. We walked around, caught one glimpse of them, and being in the procession were compelled to pass out. I wish that I could take this audience into the tower of God's mercy and strength, that you might walk around just once, at least, and see the crown jewels of eternity, behold their brilliancy, and estimate their value. "Ye are bought with a price."

Now if you have a large amount of money to pay, you do not pay it all at once, but you pay it by installments—so much the first of January, so much the first of April, so much the first of July, so much the first of October, until the entire amount is paid, and I have to tell this audience that "you have been bought with a price," and that price was paid in different installments.

The first installment paid for the clearance of our souls was the ignominious birth of Christ in Bethlehem. Though we may never be carefully looked after afterward, our advent into the world is carefully guarded. We come into the world amid kindly attentions. Privacy and silence are afforded when God launches an immortal soul into the world. Even the roughest of men know enough to stand back. But I have to tell you that in the village on the side of the hill there was a very bedlam of uproar when Jesus was born. In a village capable of accommodating only a few hundred people, many thousand people were crowded; and amid hostlers and muleteers and camel-drivers yelling at stupid beasts of burden the Messiah appeared. No silence. No privacy. A better adapted place hath the eagle in the eyrie—hath the whelp in the lion's lair. The exile of heaven lieth down upon straw. The first night out from the palace of heaven spent in an outhouse! One hour after laying aside the robes of heaven, dressed in a wrapper of coarse linen. One would have supposed that Christ would have made a more gradual descent, coming from heaven first to a half-way world of great magnitude, then to Caesar's palace, then to a merchant's castle in Galilee, then to a private home in Bethany, then to a fisherman's hut, and last of all to a stable. No! It was one leap from the top to the bottom.

Let us open the door of the caravan-sary in Bethlehem and drive away the camels. Press on through the group of idlers and loungers. What, O Mary! no light? "No light," she says, "save that which comes through the door." What, Mary! no food? "None," she says, "only that which was brought in the sack on the journey." Let the Bethlehem woman who has come in here with kindly intentions put back the covering from the babe that we may look upon it. Look! Look! Uncover your head. Let us kneel. Let all voices be hushed. Son of Mary! Son of God! Child of a day—Monarch of eternity! In that eye the glance of a God. Omnipotence sheathed in that Babe's arm. That voice to be changed from the feeble plaint to the tone that shall wake the dead. Hosanna! Hosanna! Glory be to God that Jesus came from throne to manger, that we might rise from manger to throne, and that all the gates are open, and that the door of heaven, that once swung this way to let Jesus out, now swings the other way to let us in. I see all the bellmen of heaven lay hold the rope and ring out the news: "Behold, I bring you glad tidings of great joy; which shall be to all people: for to-day is born in the city of David a Savior, which is Christ the Lord!"

The second installment paid for our soul's clearance was the scene in Quarantania, a mountainous region, full of caverns, where there are to this day panthers and wild beasts of all sorts, so that you must now go there armed with knife, or gun, or pistol. It was there that Jesus went to think and to pray, and it was there that this monster of hell—more sly, more terrible, than anything that prowled in that country—Satan himself, met Christ.

The rose in the cheek of Christ—that Publius Lullullus, in his letter to the Roman Senate, ascribed to Jesus—that rose had scattered its petals. Abstinence from food had thrown him into emaciation. A long abstinence from food recorded in profane history is that of the crew of the ship Juno; for twenty-three days they had nothing to eat. But this sufferer had fasted a month and ten days before he broke fast. Hunger must have agonized every fibre of the body, and gnawed on the stomach with teeth of death. The thought of a morsel of bread or meat must have thrilled the body with something like ferocity. Turn out a pack of men hungry as Christ was a-hungered, and if they had strength, with one yell they would devour you as a lion a kid. It was in that pang of hunger that Jesus was accosted, and Satan said: "Now change these stones, which look like bread, into an actual supply of bread."

Had the temptation come to you and me, under those circumstances, we would have cried: "Bread it shall be!" and been almost impatient at the time taken for mastication; but Christ with one hand beat back the hunger, and with the other hand beat back the monarch of darkness. O ye tempted ones! Christ was tempted. We are told that Napoleon ordered a coat of mail made; but he was not quite certain that it was impenetrable, so he said to the manufacturer of the coat of mail: "Put it on now yourself, and let us try it," and with shot after shot from his own pistol, the emperor found out that it was just what it pretended to be—a good coat of mail. Then the man received a large reward.

I bless God that the same coat of mail that struck back the weapons of temptation from the head of Christ we may now all wear; for Jesus comes and says: "I have been tempted and I know what it is to be tempted. Take this robe that defended me, and wear it for yourselves. I shall see you through all trials and I shall see you through all temptation."

"But," says Satan, still further to Jesus, "come and I will show you something worth looking at; and after half a day's journey they came to Jerusalem, and to the top of the temple. Just as one might go up in the tower of Antwerp and look off upon Belgium, so Satan brought Christ to the top of the Temple. Some people at a great height feel dizzy, and a strange disposition to jump; so Satan comes to Christ in that very crisis. Standing there at the top of the temple they looked off—A magnificent reach of country. Grain fields, vineyards, olive groves, forests and streams, cattle in the valley, flocks on the hills, and villages and cities and realms. "Now," says Satan, "I'll make a bargain. Just jump off. I know it is a great way from the top of the Temple to the valley, but if you are divine you can fly. Jump off. It won't hurt you. Angels will catch you. Your Father will hold you. Besides I'll make you a large present if you will. I'll give you Asia Minor, I'll give you China, I'll give you Ethiopia. I'll give you Italy, I'll give you Spain, I'll give you Germany, I'll give you Britain, I'll give you all the world." What a temptation it must have been!

Go to-morrow morning and get in an altercation with some wretch crawling up from a gin cellar in the lowest part of your city. "No," you say, "I would not demean myself by getting into such a contest." Then think of what the King of heaven and earth endured when he came down and fought the great wrath of hell, and fought him in the wilderness and on top of the temple. But I bless God that in the triumph over temptation Christ gives us the assurance that we also shall triumph. Having himself been tempted, he is able to succor all those who are tempted. In a violent storm at sea the mate told a boy—for the rigging had become entangled at the mast—to go up and right it. A gentleman standing on the deck said: "Don't send that boy up; he will be dashed to death." The mate said: "I know what I am about." The boy raised his hat in recognition of the order and then rose hand over hand and went to work; and as he swung in the storm the passengers wrung their hands and expected to see him fall. The work done he came down in safety; and a Christian man said to him, "Why did you go down in the forecastle before you went up?" "Ah!" said the boy, "I went down to pray. My mother always taught me, before I undertook anything great to pray." "What is that you have in your vest?" said the man. "Oh! that is the New Testament," he said; "I thought I would carry it with me if I really did go overboard." How well the boy was protected! I care not how great the height or how vast the depth, with Christ

NEVADA WILL BOLT.

Free Silver Will Take the State From Any Party.

The third party convention met at Reno, Nev., with C. C. Downing as permanent chairman. The platform demands remonetization of silver and free and unlimited coinage thereof. It denounces the action upon the coinage question by the recent national Republican and Democrat conventions and repudiates the nominees of both conventions. It pledges the presidential electors selected by the convention to support no man for president who is not unqualifiedly in favor of free coinage, and confers upon the silver league of Nevada the right to direct presidential electors for whom they shall cast their votes. "The silver party of Nevada" was then selected as the name of the new organization. Three presidential electors were chosen and 12 delegates to the Omaha convention were appointed.

Three Times and Out.

Annie Flynn, a servant at Cedar Rapids, Ia., took desperate means to end her life. She made three attempts at suicide, the last proving successful. First she took laudanum but was saved. Then she drank a large quantity of horse liniment which rendered her unconscious for about four hours. Then she poured coal oil over her clothing, set fire to them and jumped from a second story window, striking on her head on the pavement. Death resulted instantly. The cause of her conduct is unknown.

Three Men Blown to Atoms.

Three men were blown to atoms and one boy was seriously injured in the detonator building of the Brownsburg, Ont., cartridge factory. The detonator building was blown through the door and was the only one who got out of the building alive. The killed are: James Kearns, of Montreal; Wm. Gunn, of North Malton; and John Curran, foreman. The explosion was distinctly heard at this place, which is four miles away.

Pearly Relief Expedition.

The Red Cross steamer Miranda, which goes to the relief of Lieut. Peary's Arctic expedition, has sailed from Brooklyn for St. Johns, N. E. The party on board will consist of Prof. Angelo Heppner, Henry G. Bryant, Wm. E. Mohan and F. W. Stokes, of Philadelphia; Dr. Jackson M. Mills of this city; C. E. Hill, Burlington, N. J.; Albert W. Vorse and Samuel J. Entriiken. At St. Johns they will take passage on the Kite and sail for Greenland.

A Horrible Suicide.

Eljah Lloyd, a rich mine owner, residing at Joplin, Mo., committed suicide in a shocking manner. He took a giant cartridge in his left hand, lighted the fuse with the right, placed the cartridge to his head and when it exploded the top of his head and his left hand were blown off. Temporary insanity is supposed to have prompted the deed.

A Huge Mortgage.

The Cincinnati, Jackson & Mackinaw railroad filed a mortgage at Hastings for $1,500,000 in favor of the Central Trust company, of New York. It will be used in making extensions to the road.

Weekly Review of Trade.

New York, June 27.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade: Another week has blessed the country with great improvement to the growing crops. In wheat so great a change of condition appears that it is a question whether the yield this year will not closely approximate the unprecedented crop of 1891. For other grain and cotton the outlook is decidedly better and there is reason now to hope for highly satisfactory results from the year's agriculture. In consequence there is stronger trade throughout the country, especially at western centers of distribution. The improvement is less marked at the south, owing to the very low price of cotton and continued high water in some regions. The one point of anxiety in regard to the wheat crop is the iron manufacture operations for the present to cause increased trade, while in other great industries the situation is clearly more favorable than usual. Confidence in the monetary future has been much strengthened by political events, and silver has declined 1 1/2 per cent. In every part of the country money is in abundant supply, and the demand at nearly all points is only moderate, collections being generally quite satisfactory for the season. The business failures occurring throughout the country during the last seven days number 190. For the corresponding week of last year the figures were 234.

WOMAN'S LABOR AND WAGES.

Some Reasons for Inequality in the Remuneration Given the Sexes.

The annual report of the Massachusetts bureau of labor statistics shows that with the increased employment of women and children in factories the number of marriages and births has not diminished on the one hand, and the average death rate has not increased on the other. In addition to these facts the figures also show that the wages of women are less than the wages of men in the same industries. The explanation of this disparity is that the women do not perform the same work as the men, and that in most cases a comparison of wages is out of the question. This, answer, however, the Philadelphia Record thinks, is not altogether satisfactory. There are some industries in which the women do actually perform the same amount of productive labor as the men and yet receive less wages. In piece wages, for example, where the amount of wages depends precisely upon the quantity and quality of the work delivered, there can be no mistake about the means of correct comparison. Yet in this kind of work in which the women deliver as much as the men, they do not receive the same wages.

The cause of this apparent injustice to women is said to be found in various social conditions. One reason given for it is that the supply of women is greater than that of men in certain kinds of factory labor, and that they are willing, therefore, to work for less wages. Another reason is that the majority of women who engage in factory labor have no families to support. Still another reason is that they are not subject to the expenses of men for beer and cigars and that their expenses do not necessarily require an enhancement of wages to meet them. On the other hand, the new spring bonnet and like expensive fancies of the women must be taken into account. But whatever reasons may be assigned for the fact that women receive less wages than men, they do not establish the equity of this discrimination. The same amount of service ought to be paid for in the same amount of wages whether performed by a man or woman.

Everlasting.

A jester sat in his lonely cave,
B. C. 94,
And he cracked him there a joke, which
All the neighboring tribes roar;
His gentle spirit has long since fled,
I trust to the realms of day,
But the excellent quip that he sprung I read
In a paper the other day.

MASCULINITIES.

A jealous man always finds more than he looks for.

The man who is shadowed is necessarily under a cloud.

Polish is given, not by adding something, but by removing imperfections. Lay by a good store of patience, but be sure that you put it where you can find it.

No man can get very much of an education without going to school to his mistakes.

The Druids held many plants sacred, as, for instance, vervain, selago, mistletoe, and among trees the oak and the rowan.

Two men attended church services in Faulkner county, Ark., on a recent Sunday, after which they adjourned to a wood near by and fought a fatal duel with knives.

Judge Clancy: "What sort of a man was it you saw commit the assault?" Policeman: "Sure, your honor, he was an insignificant cratur about your own size, your honor."

There were 48 men and one woman in the graduating class in the College of Pharmacy of the Northwestern university, New York, and the woman, Viola Griswold, took the first prize.

There is said to be a volcanic area 40 miles square in extent in Lower California, that is a veritable fire land. Every square yard of the territory is pierced by a boiling spring or spouting geyser.

Old man's darling, imploringly: "Tell me the worst, doctor. Believe me, I can stand it." Smart doctor, doubtfully: "I don't know about that. However, nerve yourself, then, madam. Your husband will get well."

John Randolph of Roanoke, who bore no love for the first of the Bayard family, used to speak of the distinguished senator as the gentleman from Delaware who represented three counties at low tide and one at high.

"Reginald," she said to a wealthy young dandy who had been paying his attentions to her, "I would like to ask you one very serious question." "What is it, my dear?" he replied. "Would you object to marry mama if I refused you? You see, we really don't want to lose you."

J. C. Young of Albany has two wooden legs. A fool friend, who could think of no other way to be funny, tried to throw a knife into one of his legs. He succeeded, but it struck above the knee where the leg was flesh and blood. Mr. Young is now nursing an ugly and painful wound. The fool friend isn't in jail, but he ought to be.
