Residence Burned.

Sunday afternoon as Mrs. J. A. Donaldson and two grandchildren, who live just west of the village, were in the chamber, she noticed smoke coming into the room. Opening the door she found that the house was on fire and her way to the stairway cut off by smoke and flames. Closing the door she took the little ones out onto the woodshed roof and thence to the ground. The building and contents were all destroyed with the exception of sewing machine, cook stove, some bedding, and a few small articles. The building was insured but not the contents.

Owing to the large west wind burning shingles were blown into the woods just east of the house and in a few minutes the leaves and brush were set on fire. After the fire had sweep over about 20 acres of woodland the firemen succeeded in putting it out. No damage was done except to destroy fences and kill a few trees.

Millions for Music.

An industrious calculator has estimated that $10,000,000 were spent last winter by the people of America for the enjoyment of serious music—music, that is to say, as it is known in our concert halls and opera houses; not the music of the comic opera stage and the vaudeville house. The figure is more likely an underestimate than an exaggeration, says Everybody's Magazine. Few social phenomena of recent years in this country have been more remarkable than the enormous increase in the popular demand for music of the better class. Then years ago the works of Wagner, of Beethoven, of Schubert, of Schumann, of Tchaikowsky, were relegated in the average mind, to the vague and unattainable limbo of "classical" music; today, one catches one's carpenter whistling the "Siegfried" motive from "Der Ring des Niebelungen," and the little dressmaker from the suburbs discourses intelligently upon the revolutionary art of Richard Strauss. The publishers will tell you of the large and increasing demand for operatic guide books, for biographies of great composers, for introductions of all kinds to the secrets of that supposedly mysterious art—the art of music; and the great tribe of popularizers flourishes as never before.

The College Girls' Ideal.

Nearly three-fourths have as their ideal a friend, while only four take a historical character. The qualities of this ideal friend vary considerably, writes Amy E. Tanner, Wilson college, Pennsylvania, in International Journal of Ethic, and fall into three groups, each group chosen by nearly the same number of students—an altruistic ideal, with breadth of view, tolerance and unselfishness as the qualities most admired; a broad personal ideal of sweetness and strength of character; a narrow personal ideal, with brightness, attractiveness, good looks, popularity and social influence as the desired traits. For the most important virtue, a little more than one-third take honesty; one-fourth love of humanity; one-sixth, chastity, and one-fifth, self-control. One-sixth consider dishonesty the greatest vice; one-third drunkenness; one-fifth, impurity of life or unchastity, and one-fifth murder.

It would be hard to find, even in the noblest fiction, a story more tragic or more touching than that of the death of M. Berthelot, the great French chemist. Three months ago Mme. Berthelot became ill, and it was discovered that she had a form of heart disease from which recovery was impossible. M. Berthelot gave up all his studies and all his other interests and took his place by his wife's bedside. From that time on he scarcely left it. Not only did he sit there by day, but such sleep as he got he secured in the same chair. When the end came he had been 72 hours without sleep. Mme. Berthelot, rousing herself as death touched her, recognized her husband holding her hand. "My dear, how good you are!" she murmured. Although the accounts of the closing scenes differ, they all agree that when he knew that his wife was dead, he expired almost instantly. In their deaths they were separated by a few moments only.

At a recent meeting of the French Societe de Biologie there was an animated debate on the danger of being poisoned by eating oysters. At Toulouse recently a number of persons were taken ill after eating oysters taken from the beds at Cetta; but the illness was traced by M. Baylac, a chemist of Toulouse, to other causes. During the debate it appeared that the handling of oysters after they are taken, rather than the waters from which they are taken, was the cause of infecting them with toxic germs. One of the speakers mentioned the curious fact that "stale" oysters are less unwholesome when suffered to remain stale, than they are when revived and refreshed by pure water.

Now the premier of Australia declares that it is Germany and Japan that will fight for the supremacy of the Pacific. The other nations seem either very anxious or very eager about the possibility of Japan's getting into another war. Falling to make trouble materialize with the United States, Germany has now been selected as the next best foe upon whom to "let" the Japanese.

MICHIGAN EVENTS NOTED

POSTOFFICE ROBBERS MAKE SCRAP OF MIDLAND'S SAFE.

STOLE OVER A THOUSAND

No One Was Disturbed by the Dynamite Explosion, So the Thieves Got Away With Swag.

Watchman Heard Nothing.

The safe in the postoffice was demolished by robbers, who secured $1,000 in money and stamps, Thursday night. The deed was done so quietly, notwithstanding the amount of damage that no one had an inkling of the robbery until Lynn, son of Postmaster Northway, went to the office in the morning.

Mr. Northway says he found the front door unfastened and a large hole in the window. The interior of the postoffice was strewn with debris, the furnishings being badly wrecked and the door of the safe blown across the room. The clock had stopped at 1:42. The nightwatchman says that he was on his beat, but that he neither heard nor saw anything suspicious. Several residents say that they heard a muffled explosion, but it was not loud enough to disturb them. The booty the robbers carried away consisted of $900 in stamps and $100 in cash. The postoffice safe at Mattawan, 12 miles west of Grand Rapids, on the Michigan Central, was dynamited Thursday night and $150 worth of stamps and $250 in cash was taken. Officers are after the robbers.

Paranoia Is Queer.

Dr. Arthur I. Noble, superintendent of the Kalamazoo asylum for the insane proved a powerful aid to the insanity defense in the Lewis murder trial in Jackson. Lewis, he testified, was suffering from paranoia ingrafted on alcoholism, when he murdered Capt. Holzappel.

The doctor further testified that while, in his opinion, Lewis knew right from wrong, when he did the shooting, could realize the consequences of the act, and its probable effect upon himself, his paranoiac alcoholic condition made it probable that he did not have sufficient will power to resist a wrong impression.

State Analysis.

Secretary Shumway, of the state board of health, is already making preparations for establishing a state bacteriological laboratory, fully expecting that the bill passed by both houses of the legislature will be signed by the governor and give him authority to make the outlay.

It is proposed to furnish free analyses to public officials of the state, and that the laboratory will be of great benefit to the health department in ascertaining sources of contagion. Five thousand dollars is to be appropriated for the first year and $3,500 for each subsequent year for the maintenance of the laboratory.

Needs Correction.

A. Eanon Brown, aged 12, adopted son of a Saginaw family, is in jail charged with starting three fires within an hour. The first was at Cobb's cooper shop, another in a stable in the rear of the Valley hotel in Lyon street, and another in a Niagara street storehouse. The latter blaze was kindled at the top of a stairway and threatened to be a bad fire. The boy says he likes to see the fire horses run. He will be sent to Lansing.

Direct Nominations.

The Dickinson direct nominations bill failed to pass in the senate, the vote being 16 to 16. The failure was due to the unsuccessful efforts of the "convention senators" to hitch on a 40 per cent plurality amendment for governor and lieutenant governor.

The bill was reconsidered and re-referred and now stands where it did before the day's debate.

If the bill finally fails of passage the administration is said to have plans under consideration—a referendum, or a special session of the legislature next spring when the rebellious senators are up for renomination.

Naval Reserves' New Ship.

Michigan Naval Reserves may secure the steel cruiser Austria, captured during the war with Spain, to replace the good ship Yantic. The Yantic is not seaworthy at present and to put her so will cost $10,000. The Austria is a steel boat built in 1889 and rebuilt two years ago. She is 183 feet long and has a speed of 14 knots. She is equipped with all modern appliances and her engines are in good shape. The boilers are her weakest part, but after an official inspection it was decided that they could stand two years of continuous steaming.

The Saginaw police are trying to stop the "stall saloon" evil in the city. An inspection of a dozen stall saloons at night revealed over 100 girls in revelry. In one place a young woman was found stretched full length on a table, dead drunk, surrounded by tipsy friends.

Short of Hay.

The hay supply of Negaunee and Ishpeming, which has been short for some weeks past, is now practically exhausted, and as a result many horses and cows are getting short rations. With the exception of an occasional few carloads, which are quickly snapped up at $23 a ton, little hay has been received since the first of the year, prior to which time the home crop had been exhausted. The price of the forage is now 100 per cent greater than last fall. In some instances the increased cost of feeding stock led to the slaughtering of cattle. The wholesale price of flour has advanced a dollar a barrel.

Spends a Million.

Taking the present dramatic season now drawing to a close, as a criterion, the people of Detroit will have poured through the little windows of the box offices in the local play houses a stream of gold and greenbacks that might be conservatively estimated at from $750,000 to $1,000,000. When the fact is considered that several of the Detroit theaters are low-priced houses, and that with a single exception they all close their doors for the warm weather season, the full import of the figures may be appreciated. The theater is but one of Detroit's sources of popular amusement, and there are only six of the larger houses.

Miss Gleason's Sad Plight.

Bernice Gleason, aged 18 years, daughter of Charles Gleason, prominent citizen of Kalamazoo, collapsed on the streets in Chicago Friday night, and it was not until noon Saturday that the police in that city were able to identify her. All she could remember was that she came from a city where they made buggles. Mrs. Gleason says that her daughter went to visit an uncle and she believes that the relative missed the train and the girl became confused and fainted. The young lady was a student in the Kalamazoo college. She recently underwent an operation for appendicitis.

Popular Lam Bing.

Lam Bing, Chinese lad, who came to America four years ago, is now doing excellent work in the seventh grade and hopes to enter the Battle Creek high school next fall. Lam is 16 years old and attended school in China, but he says his studies in China have been but little benefit in this country. Bing lives with his cousin—every Chinaman is a cousin to every other Chinaman—and after school works in the laundry. Lam tried to learn baseball, but has given it up. He is a favorite with the girls and is a model of politeness.

Jennie Flood's Freedom.

Mrs. Jennie Flood, who is serving a life sentence for the murder of John London in 1893, may be pardoned. Attorney C. E. Watkins, of Grand Rapids, will present affidavits in favor of the woman to the pardon board. London's head was blown off while he was eating his dinner at his farm house and Mrs. Flood was suspected of doing the deed to get his insurance. Now some of the jurors who convicted her make affidavit to the effect that they were not thoroughly convinced of her guilt and favor her pardon.

Bandit Took the Rig.

While Mrs. Nelson Crosby and three girls were on their way to Billings, in Gladwin county, to visit her parents, it became very dark and a man stepped up to her, stopping her horse and demanding her money or her life. She told him she had no money, but he could take her horse and rig, which he did. She recognized his voice as one of the young men of the neighborhood and swore out a warrant for him, but no officer could be found to serve it, and the young man is still at large with the rig.

A May Snow Storm.

People who are complaining that the recent snowstorm in May is unprecedented in southern Michigan, have forgotten Memorial day, 1889, when snow fell nearly all day, and many celebrations were called off as a result of the cold. The mercury hovered about the freezing point, and snow fell to such a depth that it banked up on the windward sides of the houses.

AROUND THE STATE.

When Vanderbilt's electric light plant was started citizens paraded and the band gave a concert.

Mrs. Grace Whitney Hoff, of Paris, formerly of Detroit, has sent $200 to the building fund of the Bay City Y. W. C. A.

Nine arrests were made in Hillsdale by State Deputy Botting, of Sault Ste. Marie, for illegal spearing. All pleaded guilty and paid fines of $12 and costs each.

Frank A. Osborne, for four years a member of the legislature from Kalamazoo county, desires to be a candidate for the Republican nomination for auditor general.

This story comes from Ludington: A traveling man picked an uncut diamond valued at $500 from crushed stone, which was being used for paving. Some careless laborer must have lost his shirt stud.

Braving flames and smoke, John Erickson, of Haff, fought his way into his burning home and rescued his wife, baby and a Miss Milio. All were quite badly burned.

Nathaniel Laird, of Bay City, was notified some weeks ago that he was one of the heirs of an estate in New York. He has just received word that his share is $50,000.

How a Kid Raises Hob With Navy's Wireless Messages—Matters of Note and Comment.

Alfonso of Asturias.

With even more pomp and ceremony than attended his first presentation to the officials on the day of his birth, May 10, Alfonso, prince of the Asturias, was baptized Saturday in the private chapel of the royal palace, Madrid, in the presence of the royal family, the state and court officials, the representatives of the foreign powers and a host of grandees, heads of the various Spanish orders and other important personages.

The pope was represented by Cardinal Rinaldini, papal nuncio; King Edward, by Prince Arthur of Connaught; Emperor William, by Prince Leopold of Hohenzollern; Emperor Francis Joseph, by Archduke Eugene of Austria, and King Carlos of Portugal, by the Duke of Oporto. The officials and invited guests began gathering at the palace long before noon, and as that hour approached the reception halls were filled to their utmost capacity, while outside gathered large and enthusiastic crowds of people.

The greatest watchfulness has been observed over the baby prince since the hour of his birth, special guards having been stationed day and night outside of his bedchamber, for Spanish custom does not permit any possibility of a changeling being foisted on the nation.

Mrs. Eddy's Fortune.

Two affidavits filed by the defense in the suit of the Rev. Mary Baker Eddy, by her next friend, vs. Calvin A. Frye and others, for the first time disclose to the world an idea of the wealth of the founder and leader of Christian Science, which will easily reach $1,000,000. Fred. N. Ladd, Mrs. Eddy's private secretary, who avers that on March 6 he turned over to the trustees under the deed of trust, executed that day, bonds of the par value of $788,770, and notes and bank books for $58,614.84. The real estate holdings are not given. Hawey N. Chase, an expert accountant of Boston, certifies Mr. Ladd's figures.

Kid Having Fun.

The fact that there is no law reposing authority in government officers to protect official wireless stations during the exchange of wireless messages is giving a great deal of trouble to the station at the Washington navy yard. A youth living in that vicinity, the son of a policeman, has set up a station of his own and takes delight in intercepting messages during official exchanges. He has represented himself to be at a distant naval station or at sea on warships equipped with wireless apparatus. The local police authorities were appealed to, but said they had not the power to interfere with the youth's experiments.

Ruef Pleads Guilty.

Abraham Ruef, San Francisco's notorious political boss, nervous and pallid, in Judge Dunne's court, pleaded guilty to the crime of extortion, for which he was to be tried by the jury already selected. In pleading guilty he made an impressive address to the judge, stating that he had commenced his career in politics with high ideals for himself and for the city, but that conditions had broken him down, and now desired only an opportunity to make reparation and restore his character before the world.

As he concluded he fell back into his chair, almost fainting, and the tears coursed down his cheeks. His health, he said, could not endure the strain of the trial which he was facing and the torture was beyond the endurance of those who were nearest and dearest to him.

Confederate Headstones.

The war department will award within a few days the contract for the 20,000 white marble headstones, to mark the graves of confederate soldiers and sailors who died in federal prisons and military hospitals in the north during the civil war, and who were buried near the place of their confinement. This will be the first step toward action by the government to mark these graves.

Col. Wm. Elliott, an officer of the confederate army, and formerly representative from South Carolina, has been appointed commissioner to take charge of the work.

Down the Mississippi.

President Roosevelt intends, if possible, to make a three or four days' trip next fall down the Mississippi river, from some point in middle Illinois or Iowa to Memphis. It will, if at all, be made in company with the members of the inland waterways commission, of which Rep. Burton, of Ohio, is chairman, and who, like the president, will be the guests of the Lakes-to-the-Gulf Deep Waterway association.

The proposition to bond Plymouth for $12,000 for paving purposes was defeated.

Tribe Experiments.

The Hereros' outbreak in German Africa has ended with the practical extermination of the tribesmen. The trouble was started by the ill treatment the natives received at the hands of the German military. They arose in rebellion and with their old-fashioned guns and their clumsy spears inflicted defeat after defeat upon the Germans. The war cost Germany many millions of dollars and several thousands of lives. Nearly 100,000 men had to be sent out to put down the uprising, and a demand had to be made to the reichstag for more money to carry on military operations. The money was refused, whereupon the kaiser in a rage dissolved the house.

Meantime the Hereros had exhausted their ammunition and finding it impossible to get fresh supplies, had given up the unequal fight and withdrawn from German possessions. There were about 15,000 of them left, and they determined to move northward and seek a new settlement in the Lake Ngami region. Food was scarce and they met with many hardships on the way, and when they reached their destination there were only 4,000 of them left. All the others had perished on the way.

Stifle Competition.

A portion of the recommendations of Attorneys Frank B. Kellogg and Charles Severance to the interstate commerce commission concerning the Harriman railroad investigation has been published.

The report reviews the testimony and holds that railroad competition has been suppressed in an area equal to one-third of the United States; that the contracts between the Union Pacific and Rock Island for the control of the Alton railway as well as the control of the Illinois Central and the San Pedro road are all in violation of the Sherman anti-trust act.

It recommends that the attorney-general institute proceedings to annul these agreements.

It also recommends that there should be new and effective laws to prevent inflation of securities and declares that the profits of the great railroads of the far west are being used to buy stocks and control systems in the east, instead of building more roads for the development of the west, as they should be.

Now He Resigns.

Rev. John L. Clark, whose action in marrying William E. Corey, the divorced head of the Steel trust, to Mabelle Gilman, the actress, has been criticized by many churchmen and others, and denounced roundly by Rev. Nehemiah Boynton, moderator in Rev. Clark's church, has resigned.

Rev. Boynton characterized the wedding as "a miserable, unholy and disgustingly bestial proceeding."

"If the home means anything," said Dr. Boynton, "if we are to be half-way decent, we can't have our clergy standing up in the middle of the night to sanction such promiscuity as the Corey-Gilman affair."

"I noticed in one newspaper a statement that Congregational ministers do not object to marrying divorced persons. We have a church law that no minister shall marry divorced persons, and the Corey wedding was a flagrant violation of that law. The man who performed the ceremony does not properly appreciate what he has done. That is the most charitable thing to say. A man did the same thing down in Connecticut and died of a broken heart."

"Well," said Dr. Clark, when shown this statement, "I would not care to dispute Dr. Boynton. I have only been in the Congregational church since April, 1906, and I am not an authority upon the church laws."

Severely Rebuked.

In stating that "Congregational ministers do not mind marrying divorced persons," Rev. John L. Clark, who cemented the union of William Ellis Corey and Mabelle Gilman, has brought down on his head a severe rebuke from the Rev. Nehemiah Boynton, moderator of the council which received him into the bosom of the Congregational church, and former pastor of the First Congregational church of Detroit.

BRIEFS.

Ralph Atkins, a Harris youth who was arrested on a charge preferred by Miss Nora Carl, of Harris, escaped from the officer and got stuck in the mud in a swamp where he was easily captured. He was taken back to his accuser.

"I'm a regular human dynamo. Connect me with an electric light wire, and I will furnish power for this city's lighting plant. I'm a wonder." This is the illusion under which Axel Olson, of Marquette, has been laboring, and caused him to be sent to the asylum.

Mrs. Nellie Lewis, the woman who climbed the fire escape and stabbed her lover, Martin Post, so that he died a few days later from his injuries, will be held to the circuit court in Grand Rapids for trial for murder in the first degree. Her aged mother continually sits near her in her cell.

A Christmas card sent by Mrs. Martha E. Van Auken, of Grand Rapids, to Mrs. Marion E. Boswell, of Milwaukee, have led the police there to believe that she is a sister referred to in a letter found in Mrs. Boswell's room, near her charred remains. The letter, started, "Dear Sister Martha: Your prayers are about to be answered." Mrs. Van Auken had written, begging her sister to be better.

CHAPTER XXXVII.

The Gentle Carries Off His Spoil.

Half an hour later they heard the sound of voices and wheels. Follett looked up and saw a light wagon with four men in it driving into the meadows from the south. The driver was Seth Wright; the man beside him he knew to be Bishop Snow, the one they called the Entablature of Truth. The two others he had seen in Amalson, but he did not know their names.

He got up and went forward when the wagon stopped, leaning, casually on the wheel.

"He's already dead, but you can help me bury him as soon as I get my wife out of the way around that oak bush—I see you've brought along a spade."

The men in the wagon looked at each other, and then climbed slowly out.

"Now who could 'a' left that there spade in the wagon?" began the Wild Ram of the Mountains, a look of perplexity clouding his ingenious face.

The Entablature of Truth was less disposed for idle talk.

"Who did you say you'd get out of the way, young man?"

"My wife, Mrs. Ruel Follett."

"Meaning Prudence Rae?"

"Meaning her that was Prudence Rae."

"Oh!"

The ruddy-faced bishop scanned the horizon with a dreamy, speculative eye, turning at length to his companions.

"We better get to this burying," he said.

"Wait a minute," said Follett.

They saw him go to Prudence, raise her from the ground, put a saddle blanket over his arm, and lead her slowly up the road around a turn that took them beyond a clump of the oak brush.

"It won't do!" said Wright, with a meaning glance at Entablature of Truth, quite as if he had divined his thought.

"I'd like to know why not?" retorted this good man, aggressively.

"Because times has changed; this ain't '57."

"It'll almost do itself," insisted Snow. "What say, Glines?" and he turned to one of the others.

"Looks all right," answered the man addressed. "By heck! but that's a purty saddle he carries!"

"What say, Taggart?"

"For God's sake, no, Bishop! No—I got enough dead faces looking at me now from this place. I'm hanted into hell a'ready, like he said he was yesterday. By God! I sometimes think I'll have my ears busted and my eyes put out to git away from the bloody things!"

"Ho! Scared, are you? Well, I'll do it myself. You don't need to help."

"Better let well enough alone, Brother Warren!" interposed Wright.

"But it ain't well enough! Think of that girl going to a low cuss of a Gentle when Brigham wants her. Why, think of letting such a critter get away, even if Brigham didn't want her!"

"You know they got Brother Brigham under indictment for murder now, account of that Aiken party."

"And maybe this cuss has got friends," suggested Glines.

"Who know but the girl?" Snow insisted. "And Brother Brigham would fix her all right. Is the household of faith to be spoiled?"

"Well, they got a railroad running through it now," said Wright, "and a telegraph, and a lot of soldiers. So don't you count on me, Brother Snow, at any stage of it now or afterwards. I got a pretty sizable family that would hate to lose me. Look out. Here he comes."

Follett now came up, speaking in a cheerful manner that nevertheless chilled the enthusiasm of the good Bishop Snow.

"Now, gentlemen, just by way of friendly advice to you—like as not I'll be stepping in front of some of you in the next hour. But it isn't going to worry me any, and I'll tell you why. I'd feel awful sad for you all if anything was to happen to me—if the injus got me, or I was took bad with a chill, or a jack-rabbit crept up and bit me to death, or anything. You see, there's a train of 20 big J. Murphy wagons will be along here over the San Bernardino trail. They are coming out on their way, almost any time now, on purpose to pick me up.

That is, my ears have been pricking up all morning to hear the old bull-wheps drach! There were 21 men in the train when they went down, and there may be more coming back. It's a train of Ezra Calkins, my adopted father. You see, they know I've been here on special business, and I sent word the other day I was about due to finish it, and they wasn't to go through coming back without me. Well that bull outfit will stop for me—and they'll get me or get pay for me. That's their orders. And it isn't a train of women and babies, either. They're such an outrageous rough lot, quick-tempered and all that, that they wouldn't believe the truth that I had an accident—not if you swore it on a stack of Mormon bibles topped off by the life of Joe Smith. They'd go right out and make Amalson look like a whole cavayard of razor-footed buffaloes had raced back and forth over it. And the rest of the 2,000 men on Ezra Calkins' pay roll would come hanging around pestering you all with Winchester. They'd make you scratch gravel, sure!

"Now, let's get to work. I see you'll be awful careful and tender with me. I'll bet I don't get 'even a sprained ankle. You folks get him, and I'll show you where he said the place was."

Two hours later Follett came running back to where Prudence lay on the saddle blanket in the warm morning sun.

"The wagon train is coming—hear the whips? Now, look here, why don't we go right on with it, in one of the big wagons? They're coming back light, and we can have a J. Murphy that is bigger than a whole lot of houses in this country. You don't want to go back there, do you?"

She shook her head.

"No; it would hurt me to see it now. I should be expecting to see him at every turn. Oh, I couldn't stand that—poor sorry little father!"

"Well, then, leave it all; leave the place to the women, and good riddance, and come off with me. I'll send one of the boys back with a pack mule for any plunder you want to bring away, and you needn't ever see the place again."

She nestled in his arms, feeling in her grief the comfort of his tenderness.

"Yes, take me away now."

The big whips could be heard plainly, cracking like rifle shots, and shortly came the creaking and hollow rumbling of the wagons and the cries of the teamsters to their six-mule teams.

A hail came from the rear of the train, and a bronzed and bearded man in a leather jacket cantered up on a small pony.

"Hello, there, Rool! I'm whoopin' glad to see you."

Follett shook hands with him heartily, and turned to Prudence.

"This is my wife, Lew. Prudence, this is Lew Steffins, our wagon master."

"Shoo, now!—you young cub—married? Well, I'm right glad to see Mrs. Rool Follett—and bless your heart, little girl!"

"Did you stop back there at the settlement?"

"Yes; and they said you'd hit the pike about dark last night, to chase a crazy man. I told them I'd be back with the whackers if I didn't find you. I was afraid some trouble was on, and here you're only married to the sweetest thing that ever—why, she's been crying! Anything wrong?"

"No; never mind now, anyway. We're going on with you, Lew."

"Bully proud to have you. There's that third wagon—"

"Could I ride in that?" asked the girl, looking at the big, lumbering conveyance, doubtfully.

"It carried 6,000 pounds of freight to Los Angeles, little woman," answered Steffins, promptly, "and I guess you to heft over 28 or 30 at the outside. I'll have the box filled in with spruce boughs and a lot of nice bunch grass, and put some comforts over that, and you'll be snug and tidy. You won't starve, either, not while there's meat running."

"And, say, Lew, she's got some stuff back at that place. Let the extra hand ride back with a packjack and bring it on. She'll tell him what to get."

"Sure! Tom Callahan can go."

An hour later, when the train was nearly ready to start, Follett took his wife to the top of the ridge and showed her, a little way below them, the cedar at the foot of the sandstone ledge. He stayed back, thinking she would wish to be there alone. But when she stood by the new grave she looked up and beckoned to him.

"I wanted you by me," she said, as he reached her side. "I never knew how much he was to me. He wasn't big and strong like other men, but now I see that he was very dear and more than I suspected. He was quiet and always so kind—I don't remember that he was ever stern with me once. And though he suffered from some great sorrow and from sickness, he never complained. He wouldn't even admit he was sick, and he always tried to smile in that little way he had, so gentle. Poor, sorry little father!—and yesterday, not one of them would be his friend. It broke my heart to see him there so wistful when they turned their backs on him. Poor little man! And now, here's another grave all grown around with sage and the stones worn smooth; but there's the cross he spoke of. It must be some one that he wanted to lie beside. Poor little sorry father! Oh, you will have to be so much to me!"

The train was under way again. In the box of the big wagon, on a springy couch of spruce boughs and long bunch grass, Prudence lay at rest, hurt by her grief, yet soothed by her love, her thoughts in a whirl about her.

Follett, mounted on Dandy, rode beside her wagon.

"Better get some sleep yourself, Rool," urged Steffins.

"Can't Lew, I ain't sleepy. I'm too busy thinking about things, and I have to watch out for my little girl there. You can't tell what these cusses might do."

"There's 30 of us watching out for her now, young fellow."

"There'll be 31 till we get out of this neighborhood, Lew."

He lifted up the wagon cover softly a little later, and found that she slept. As they rode on, Steffins questioned him.

"Did you make that surround you was going to make, Rool?"

"No, Lew, I couldn't. Two of them was already under, and, honest, I couldn't have got the other one any more than you could have shot your kid that day he up-ended the gravy dish in your lap."

"Hell!"

"That's right! I hope I never have to kill anyone, Lew, no matter how much I got a right to. I reckon it always leaves uneasy feelings in a man's mind."

Eight days later a tall, bronzed young man with yellow hair and quick blue eyes, in what an observant British tourist noted in his journal as "the not unpicturesque garb of a border ruffian," helped a dazed but very pretty young woman on to the rear platform of the Pullman car attached to the east-bound overland express at Ogden.

As they lingered on the platform before the train started they were hailed and loudly cheered, averred the journal of this same Briton, "by a crowd of the outlaws' companions, at least a score and a half of most disreputable-looking wretches, unshaven, roughly dressed, heavily booted, slouch-hatted (if they swung their hats in a drunken frenzy), and to this rough ovation the girl, though seemingly a person of some decency, waved her handkerchief and smiled repeatedly, though her face had seemed to be sad and there were tears in her eyes at that very moment."

At this response from the girl, the journal went on to say, the ruffians had redoubled their drunken pandemonium. And as the train pulled away, to the observant tourist's marked relief, the young outlaw on the platform had waved his own hat and shouted as a last message to one "Lew," that he "must not let Dandy get gandered up," nor forget "to tie him to grass."

Later, as the train shrieked its way through Echo canyon, the observant tourist, with his double-visored plaid cap well over his face, pretending to sleep overheard the same person across the aisle say to the girl:

"Now we're on our own property at last. For the next 60 hours we'll be riding across our own front yard—and there ain't any keys and passwords and grips here, either—just a plain Almighty God with no nonsense about Him."

Whereupon had been later added to the journal a note to the effect that Americans are not only quite as prone to vaunt and brag and tell big stories as other explorers had asserted, but that in the west they were ready blasphemers.

Yet the couple minded not the observant tourist, and continued to enlarge and complicate his views of American life to the very bank of the Missouri. Unwittingly, however, for they knew him not nor saw him nor heard him, being occupied with the matter of themselves.

"You'll have to back me up when we get to Springfield," he said to her one late afternoon, when they neared the end of their exciting journey. "I've heard that old Grandpa Corson is mighty peppery. He might take you away from me."

Her eyes came in from the brown rolling of the plain outside to light him with their love; and then, the lamps having not yet been lighted, the head of grace nestled suddenly of its pillow of brawn with only a tremulous sigh of security for answer.

This brought his arm quickly about her in a protecting clasp, plainly in the sidelong gaze of the now scandalized but not less observant tourist.

THE END.

LOCATION OF EDEN

MANY REGIONS ASSOCIATED WITH LOST PARADISE.

Finding of Spot Has Always Been One of the Fascinating Pursuits of Ages, But Quest Seems Hopeless.

Every once in awhile an ingenious theorist arises with the announcement that the Garden of Eden has at last been located. The world is concerned more for the restitution to the race of a large measure of the innocence and happiness that is associated with the lost paradise than it is with the location of the place which is woven into the majestic lines of Milton in his pictures of the creation and the tragedy of the garden. Nevertheless, the strength of human interest in the facts of human origin makes the location of the Garden of Eden one of the fascinating pursuits of the ages. As there is no known spot upon the face of the earth that corresponds with the features attributed to the location of Eden, and as, even admitting the validity of the Bishop Ussher chronology, there has elapsed sufficient time for the utter transformation of the physical aspects of Eden as described in Genesis, the hunt for the actual Eden seems hopeless.

The cradle of the race undoubtedly lies somewhere in the east, and, accepting the Indo-European theory of race identity of the Caucasian races, it would seem as though the approximate birthplace of this branch of the human family could be placed. But ethnologists are themselves astounded as they endeavor to track the path of humanity and to trace the breakup of the race into its many branches, through the evidence of language and other enduring records. They are nonplused and cannot arrive at a common agreement, excepting that, after research has reached to the farthest limit, the borderland of civilization appears to be brought little nearer.

Nevertheless, there is no tradition among the nations so entrancing as that of Eden. Hardly a nation of the ancient east but that retains the story among its folklore. But the tradition has traveled westward and has spread over the whole world. Even the Sandwich Islanders, the people of the Pamirs, and it is even said the Eskimos, have traditions of Eden not dissimilar from the story of Genesis. The records of the Aztecs disclose the story of the serpent delineated unmistakably in the picture language of that ancient people. But while the valley of Mexico has the credit of being one of the spots identified with the location of Eden, on the other hand the north pole is a candidate for the honor, it being claimed that Eden was wiped out by the advance of the ice sheet during the glacial ages. South and Central America, Mexico, the Sahara desert, the jungles of the dark continent—almost every tropical country—has its defenders in this respect.

The point of these claims usually rests upon evidence of the existence of a race earlier than any of which history has knowledge. But as these ancient stocks are scattered throughout the globe, this appears to prove nothing. But tradition, world-wide, enshrines the Garden of Eden among the beliefs of widely dissimilar peoples, and this fact itself indicates the early identity of the races of mankind. The Mexican tradition, relating as it does to this continent, has especial interest. This assumes there was a race of human beings on this continent many thousands of years ago, and this is to some extent confirmed by discoveries along the Pacific coast of South America. Traces of a race and a civilization have been discovered there, which go far back of recorded time.

King Came to Rescue.

At the time of the marriage of the crown prince of Sweden, Miss Emma Thursby, the American singer, and Mme. Christine Nilsson were appearing on alternate nights at the Royal theater at Stockholm. Mme. Nilsson would sing in opera one night and Miss Thursby in concert the next.

Both ladies were invited to the court ball given by King Oskar in honor of the crown prince and his bride, and both wished to attend. But neither had a court train, and they were at their wits' ends to know what to do. Every dressmaker in Stockholm was busy night and day; it was too late to order their trains from Paris. Mme. Nilsson finally solved the difficulty.

"I will write to the King about it," she said. And she did.

"Your most gracious majesty," she wrote in her letter, "Miss Thursby and I have no flaps to wear to the court ball. What shall we do?"

"Come without them. Oskar," was the answer they got back the same day.

They went to the ball and had a memorable time.

After the North Pole.

Commander Robert E. Peary has decided upon some changes in the method to be followed in his next attempt to reach the north pole.

"The main improvement over the last plan," said the explorer, "will be that I shall continue farther to the westward along the North Great Land coast, and then, when I take to the ice, I shall bear always to windward and thus offset the continuous drift to the east."

"There will be no separation of the parties this time as there was last, and I shall have the relay system so perfected that at that time, in any event, I can reload ample supplies from the supporting sledges and press forward with the pole party. For the rest there will be the dogs and the Esquimaux just as on the former expedition. This time I shall win."

Commander Peary said that he thought the necessary $100,000 would be forthcoming soon. He denied a report that his wife would accompany him.

Russian Brutality.

Forty-five officials and workmen of Kuttner's spinning mills were shot down in Loda by a patrol of Cossacks, because a band of terrorists attacked a mail wagon in the neighborhood, killed a Cossack guard and wounded another Cossack and two postoffice officials.

While the wagon was passing through Lonkova street the terrorists suddenly appeared from a side street, opened fire on the Cossack escort, seized $1,000 from the wagon and escaped. A moment later a patrol of Cossacks arrived on the scene and, infuriated by the fate of their comrades, rushed into the Kuttner factory, which was near the spot where the robbery occurred, and began firing indiscriminately, killing 15 and wounding over 30 persons.

The greatest indignation prevails, as it is claimed that the employees of the factory had nothing to do with the attack on the mail wagon.

A War Alliance.

The Paris correspondent of the Russ in a dispatch announces that he has obtained information from authentic sources to the effect that the Franco-Japanese agreement now in course of negotiation will contain secret conditions applying to the eventuality of a European war, and binding Japan to place at the disposal of France 300,000 men, while the British will lend a contingent of 100,000 to 150,000 men.

Great Britain and France, it is added, not only guarantee the inviolability of Japanese territory, but also engage to float several loans. The statements made are received with incredulity in diplomatic circles there.

F. L. ANDREWS & CO. PROPRIETORS

THURSDAY, MAY 23, 1907.

"Ward is doing nicely," says the bulletin. It is not recalled that any bulletins were issued at Hope hospital.

A Narrow Escape.

G. W. Cloyd, a merchant of Plunk, Mo., had a narrow escape four years ago, when he ran a jimson bur into his thumb. He says: "The doctor wanted to amputate it but I would not consent. I bought a box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve and that cured the dangerous wound." 25c at F. A. Sigler's, Druggist.

Masters and owners of 20 vessels, icebound at Fort William, wonder whether they are frozen up for last winter or for next winter.

My Best Friend.

Alexander Benton, who lives on Rural Route 1, Port Edward, N. Y., says: "Dr. King's New Discovery is my best earthly friend. It cured me of asthma six years ago. It has also performed a wonderful cure of incipient consumption for my son's wife. The first bottle ended the terrible cough, and this accomplished, the other symptoms left one by one, until she was perfectly well. Dr. King's New Discovery's power over coughs and colds is simply marvelous." No other remedy has ever equaled it. Fully guaranteed by F. A. Sigler, druggist. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Ground having been broken for the Michigan building at Jamestown, the state should invest in a sectional and portable structure which can be used for all future expositions.

Don't Pay Alimony

to be divorced from your appendix. There will be no occasion for it if you keep your bowels regular with Dr. King's New Life Pills. Their action is so gentle that the appendix never has cause to make the least complaint. Guaranteed by F. A. Sigler, druggist. 25c. Try them.

The strike of the longshoremen in New York has forced several ocean steamers to sail without their cargo of merchandise but fortunately for the companies the longshoremen cannot interfere with the human cargoes which are breaking all records this year.

"Here's to your health and happiness." DeWitt's Little Early Risers—famous little pills. Nasty, sick headache or biliousness may come on any time; the cure is an Early Riser. Sold by F. A. Sigler, Druggist.

There is but little abatement of the third term talk. The President tolerates and it is said even approves it, not that he expects a nomination nor that he desires to run again for the Presidency but there are yet two more years of administrative work before him. There are unaccomplished policies with which his name and fame are inseparable. The third term idea furnishes a rallying point and holds together the political and moral forces necessary to legislative accomplishment.

When your back aches it is almost invariably an indication that something is wrong with your kidneys. Weak, diseased kidneys frequently cause a break down of the entire system. DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills afford prompt relief for weak kidneys, backache, inflammation of the bladder and all urinary troubles. Sold by F. A. Sigler, Druggist.

Old Boy Interested.

Jackson, Nebraska,
May 15, 1907.

My Dear Mr. Andrews:

What about our Old Home Week Association? I hear nothing about it through the Dispatch these days and hope interest in it is not dying out. I believe there was a committee appointed at the last meeting, who should have met soon afterwards but have not. Please stir them up. I was unable to meet with you last year as was in California, but I am looking forward eagerly to the next reunion and wish to see it a "whopper," and the very best one yet. If there is anything I can do in the way of pushing this good thing along, you have but to call on me. Hope to see you all sometime this summer as I missed my last years visit to the good old town. How would this be for one of the features of our next meeting: Have Prof. Sprout select a play, assign the several parts (with understudies for each) to some of those who formerly starred under him, have them arrive a few days ahead of time so he could drill them, and produce the play at the opera house. I believe this would be of much interest to the people. But keep pushing for an organization as it needs the Press to make good progress.

Sincerely,

E. T. Kearney.

How do I stand as to dues?
You stand O. K.—Sec.

The Committee.

The above letter calls us again to our duty as past secretary of the association, that of informing the people who the committee elected were. There is but little over a year between now and the third biennial meeting of the old boys and girls of our own old home town and something should be done to finish the work by the committee meeting officers for the coming year.

They have been notified once or twice but have failed to hold a meeting.

The association is in better shape than ever now there being quite a sum of money on hand to start in with and a good many faithful members. It is gratifying to see the number of villages throughout the state that are following the lead of Pinckney in holding these home comings. Pinckney was the first town in the state outside of Bad Axe to take up the matter and bring the old boys and girls together in reunion. We have made a success of the meetings and the interest should not lag now. The following is the committee:

Guy L. Teeple, chairman.
E. R. Brown.
Geo. Reason.
Mrs. J. A. Cadwell.
Mrs. H. W. Crofoot.

Can the committee not meet some time within the coming week and choose their officers—it is only the work of a few moments then the work can go on.

For a cold or a cough take Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup. It is better than any other cough remedy because its laxative principle assures a healthy, copious action of the bowels and at the same it heals irritation of the throat, strengthens the bronchial tubes and always inflammation of the mucous membrane. Contains Honey and Tar, pleasant to take. Children like it. Conforms to the National Pure Food and Drug Law.

Sold by F. A. Sigler, Druggist.

Auditor General Bradley has received from the railroad companies during the past month and deposited in the treasury about three millions of dollars, and the balance in the Michigan strong box on the first of May was over seven millions, without a dollar of indebtedness against the state from any source.

Get quick and certain relief from Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment. Please note it is made alone for Piles, and its action is positive and certain. Itching, painful, protruding or blind piles disappear like magic by its use. Large nickel capped glass jars 50 cts. Sold by All Dealers.

Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, are merely Symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating the result of your ailment and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—means Stomach weakness, always. And the Heart, and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves." Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write for my free book now. Dr. Shoop's Restorative sold by all dealers under most any conditions. There is a lot of money to be made in the egg business if conditions are right. There is no reason why Farmers and Poultry Raisers should not make just as good profits on their investments as any other line of business, and it is possible for them to do so. The price of eggs during the winter months is double and sometimes more than double that paid during the summer months. The only way to take advantage of this advance is to hold summer eggs for winter prices. That fresh eggs can be kept from six to nine months or more has been proven by careful testing with

Wonderful Eczema Cure.

"Our little boy had eczema for five years," writes N. A. Adams, Henrietta, Pa. "Two of our home doctors said the case was hopeless, his legs being affected. We then employed other doctors but to no benefit resulted. By chance we read about Electric Bitters; bought a bottle and soon noticed improvement. We continued this medicine until several bottles were used, when our boy was completely cured." Best of all blood medicines and body building health tonics. Guaranteed at F. A. Sigler's Drug store. 50c.

The Impression He Gave.

His honor Judge Willis, on one occasion going home in an omnibus which landed him at an inn known as the Green Man, as usual passed the time in friendly discourse with the passengers. To one housewife who had been marketing, he remarked that, owing to free trade, she was enabled to buy much more for her money than if she lived in a tariff country. To others he talked freely and dispensed counsel and advice indiscriminately. Arrived at his destination, he intimated to the conductor, "I want to get out at the Green Man." Accordingly the omnibus slowed down, but as he was leaving his seat a lady touched him on the sleeve and earnestly inquired, "My good man, don't you think you've had enough?"—London Tit-Bits.

The Judge in Jail.

"I," said an esteemed magistrate, "spent a week in jail before I entered on my judgeship. I ate the prison food. I slept in a cell. I conformed with all the prison rules. I wore the prison clothes. I did the prison work. Thus I learned the value of the sentences I was to mete out later on. I got to know what a week, a month, a year, in jail meant. As a result I am more merciful than most judges. I think it would be a good thing if every judge before taking office would spend a little while in jail as I did. He would then know the value of prison sentences, a thing he doesn't know now. Now he is like a cashier who attempts to pay out money in a cologne of which he is ignorant. In Baden this thing I speak of must be done. Every judge in Baden before he takes his seat on the bench is required by law to pass weeks like a common prisoner in jail."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Lies Low.

"Of course she doesn't like discussions about ages." "No. Usually when she's queried about hers she just says nothing, but lies low." "Yes, or if she says anything she lies low."—Philadelphia Press.

Convenient.

"So you have three pairs of glasses, professor?" "Yes. One pair to read with, another for nearsightedness and a third pair to look for the other two with."—Philadelphia Blatter.

Hardly a woman in the land... "Mild" is a good word to use with mankind. Mildness is a by-product of the cousin the professor. Mild—No, he doesn't look as clever as that. He looks more as though he might propose to you.—Ellegende Blatter.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific nerve sickness—nothing else. It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had. For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and check fully recommended.

Sour Stomach

No appetite, loss of strength, nervousness, headache, constipation, bad breath, general debility, sour risings, and catarrh of the stomach are all due to indigestion. Kodol relieves indigestion. This new discovery represents the natural juices of digestion as they exist in a healthy stomach, combined with the greatest known tonic and reconstructive properties. Kodol for dyspepsia does not only relieve indigestion and dyspepsia, but this famous remedy helps all stomach troubles by cleansing, purifying, sweetening and strengthening the mucous membranes lining the stomach.
Mr. S. S. Bell of Ravenswood, W. Va., says: "I was troubled with sour stomach for twenty years. Kodol cured me and we are now using it in milk for baby."

Mortgage Sale

WHEREAS default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage, whereby the power of sale therein has become operative, made by HENRY THEBOLT and his wife CAROLINE THEBOLT, of Dearfield, Livingston County, Michigan, to NELSON LAMB of the same place at witness bearing date March 29th, A. D. 1882, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for Livingston County, Michigan, in Liber 17 of Mortgages at page 501 thereon on March 30th A. D. 1882 which said mortgage was duly assigned by NELSON LAMB on the 10th day of August, 1886 to HENRY THEBOLT, JR. which assignment was recorded in the Register of Deeds office for the County of Livingston on the 12th day of August, 1886 in Liber 87 of Mortgages at page 47, and by HENRY THEBOLT, JR. duly assigned to CAROLINE THEBOLT on November 5, 1896 and recorded in the Register's office, Office for Livingston County on the 18th day of May, 1898 in Liber 85 of Mortgages at page 267. And by CAROLINE THEBOLT duly assigned to HENRY THEBOLT, JR. on March 12, 1907 and recorded in the Office of the Register of Deeds for Livingston County on March 12, 1907 in Liber 80 at page 111. And whereas the amount claimed to be due on said Mortgage at this date is the sum of one hundred and eighty dollars and eighty five cents ($180.85) of principal and interest and no suit or proceeding having been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage or any part thereof:

Therefore notice is hereby given that by virtue of said power of sale and in pursuance of the statute in such case made and provided the said mortgage will be foreclosed by sale of the premises therein described at public auction to the highest bidder at the West front door of the Court House in the village of Howell in said County of Livingston that being the place of holding the Circuit Court for the County of Livingston on Saturday the 13th day of July A. D. 1917 at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay the principal and interest due on said mortgage, the Attorney so provided thereon and costs of said sale, of the following described premises, to-wit: commencing twenty rods East of the Northwest corner of Section twenty-two (22) in township four (4) North of Range five (5) East Michigan, running thence South eight rods thence East sixty rods thence North eight rods thence West to beginning containing three acres of land.
HENRY THEBOLT, JR., Assignee of the Mortgage. Dated, Howell, April 1, 1917. WM. P. VAN WINKLE, Attorney for Assignee.

Laxative 5 C Sweet to Eat A Candy Bowl Laxative.

I hear no shouts as the soldiers come
To the mellow throb of the distant drum.

They come—A fragment of what they were:
The ranks are scattering year by year,
For one by one with his olden air
Has answered the summons of Death with "Here!"
I see them waver and falter on,
Their blue grown shadowy gray with dust—
Grown shadowy gray, as in years ago
Their sabers fell into shadowy rust.

O, this the vision that comes to me:
I watch them trudging down the street,
The ready soldiers that used to be,
With vibrant drumming to time their feet;
I see them swinging along the way
With brave Old Glory above them all;
And all the lines are complete to-day—
Made so by the mystical trumpet call.

And quick and eager, erect and bold,
They march triumphantly through my dream—
The soldier men of the day of old
With flags ablow and with swords agleam.
The cannons rumble their warring note,
The muskets blaze on the battle's marge,
And out of the bugle's brazen throat
There shrills the terrible cry of "Charge!"

But hold. The mist that was in my eyes
Now drifts away as a cloud is blown,
And the shadows fade, as across the skies
The silent arm of the wind is thrown.
And gray, and grizzled, and halt, and lame,
They falter on to the rounded graves
That glow to-day in the grace of fame
Beneath the flag that honor waves.

They go—A shadow of what they were;
The ranks are vanishing year by year,
For one by one with his gallant air
Has answered the summons of Death with "Here!"
And so they waver and falter on,
Their blue made shadowy gray with dust—
The fading host that in years ago
Bore forth the grail of the nation's trust.

And into the shadows march they all
To the sign of a far-off trumpet call.

STILL LIVE FOR US

Funeral March for Heroic Dead Has Meaning Be- yond Mere Honor to the Fallen.

EVERY year, in the full tide of spring, at the height of the symphony of flowers and love and life, there comes a solemn pause, and through the silence the nation hears the lonely pipe of death.

Year after year lovers wandering under the apple boughs and through the clover are surprised with sudden tears as they see black-veiled figures stealing through the morning to a soldier's grave.

Year by year the comrades of the dead follow, with public honor, procession and commemorative flags and funeral march—tribute from us who have inherited a nation's glory to the heroes who gave it.

As surely as this day comes round

we are in the presence of the dead. But not all the associations of this day are sad; some of them are triumphant, even joyful.

We seem to hear the funeral march become a pean. Our heroic dead still live for us, and bid us think of life, not death—of life to which in their youth they lent the passion and glory of the spring.

Memorial day may and ought to have a meaning beyond mere honor to the dead. It celebrates and solemnly re-affirms from year to year a national act of enthusiasm and faith. It embodies in the most impressive form our belief that to act with enthusiasm and faith is the condition of acting greatly.

Peace calls for its patriotic devotion, no less than war. And, stripped of the direct associations which gave rise to it, this is a day when by common consent we pause to become conscious of our national honor and to rejoice in it, to recall what our country has done and is doing for us, and to ask ourselves what we can do for our country in return.

IN LABOR OF LOVE

Multitudes Gather to Aid Veterans Decorate Graves in Beautiful Arlington Cemetery.

THE Coliseum in the national cemetery at Arlington, in which people gather annually for the exercises, is indescribably beautiful. The space is surrounded by columns, a light lattice work forming the roof. Beside the columns have been planted wistaria, roses, clematis and other early flowering vines, which form a perfect bower overhead, while the majestic trees make ample shade for the multitude who come to join in the labor of love.

The thousands of ex-union officers and soldiers who have died during the 38 years since the first Decoration day, and the hundreds that have fallen since the Spanish-American war, and whose bodies have been borne across the sea to be buried in Arlington, have made this the largest city of patriotic dead on the globe. This 30th of May, like all others, will see every low green mound of the extensive field covered with flowers and immortelles. There will be a repetition of the annual ceremonies, with probably additional interesting features.

The patriotic organizations, sons and daughters of veterans, and the loyal people have taken up the work which older hands have had to lay down. The spirit of gratitude and devotion to the memory of the country's defenders inspires the whole nation to-day as it did in 1868.

DIED IN PRISON PENS

Record of Those Who Passed Away in Military Confine- ments Is an Appal- ling One.

The largest confederate prison was at Andersonville, Ga., where 45,023 union soldiers were imprisoned. The prison had its maximum number on August 8, 1864, when the rolls showed the presence of 33,114. Death claimed 12,912, or 28 per cent. of the entire number. Every day the death roll averaged 30. The greatest number of deaths occurred on August 23, 1864, when 127 yielded up their lives.

The largest military prison in the north was at Elmira where 11,916 prisoners were confined in an open pen or stockade. The death list reached 2,994, about 25 per cent. In March, 1865, the greatest mortality occurred—495—or 16.5 per cent. of all the deaths. All except six of the dead were buried in a field which was afterward plowed up and planted with wheat, and now neither summer nor winter shows a sign of where 3,000 hapless confederates were laid away.

WORN TO A SKELETON.

A Wonderful Restoration Caused a Sensation in a Pennsylvania Town.

Mrs. Charles N. Preston, of Elkland, Pa., says: "Three years ago I found that my housework was becoming a burden. I tired easily, had no ambition and was fading fast. My complexion got yellow and I lost over 50 pounds. My throat was terrible, and there was sugar in the kidney secretions. My doctor kept me on a strict diet, but as his medicine was not helping me, I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. They helped me at once, and soon all traces of sugar disappeared. I have regained my former weight and am perfectly well."

He is a schoolmaster, for he gives good understanding. He is a good speaker, for he always works the thread of his argument, waxes warm to his subject, and holds all to the last."

Yale University Wealthy.

According to the Yale Alumni Weekly, the property of the university in New Haven which is exempted from taxation, is appraised at $3,427,400, an increase of $355,000 over the appraised tax exemptions of last year, though this increase does not necessarily represent actual additional values subtracted from the New Haven grand list. Of the total exemptions, about $1,370,000 belongs to the Sheffield-Scientific School. The old campus, as land, is valued at $1,033,400, and the buildings on this campus at $2,393,500. The appraisals are high on many of the buildings, as compared to actual cost. The valuations are placed, and as they are exemptions, there has been no occasion to appeal for their reduction.

The Money Devil.

"It's my candid opinion," he said, "that money is infested with seven devils, and I shouldn't wonder if 70 wouldn't be more correct. There is trouble and a world of worry in the very name of it! When I haven't got it, I'm worrying as to where I'll get it, and when I get it I worry about what to do with it; if I put it in the bank I worry because it don't grow fast enough, and if I spend it I worry because I got rid of it so soon; so you see, it's a world full o' trouble anyway you take it! The poor bless and curse it; the rich don't know what to do with it; there isn't a handful of happiness in a ton of it. Here comes a bill collector now, to get what little I haven't got. Stay here and entertain him while I climb to the roof!"—Atlanta Constitution.

FIT THE GROCER

Wife Made the Suggestion.

A grocer has excellent opportunity to know the effects of special foods on his customers. A Cleveland grocer has a long list of customers that have been helped in health by leaving off coffee and using Postum Food Coffee.

He says, regarding his own experience: "Two years ago I had been drinking coffee and must say that I was almost wrecked in my nerves."

"Particularly in the morning I was so irritable and upset that I could hardly wait until the coffee was served, and then I had no appetite for breakfast and did not feel like attending to my store duties.

"One day my wife suggested that inasmuch as I was selling so much Postum there must be some merit in it and suggested that we try it. I took home a package and she prepared it according to directions. The result was a very happy one. My nervousness gradually disappeared and to-day I am all right. I would advise everyone affected in any way with nervousness or stomach troubles, to leave off coffee and use Postum Food Coffee." "There's a Reason." Read, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional treatment. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running ear or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; also cause out of ear are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. When You Want Pure White Lead, Get It

Probably there is no other article of commerce so much adulterated and misrepresented as White Lead. Out of 25 brands of "White Lead" recently analyzed by the Government Agricultural Experiment Station of North Dakota, 5 contained absolutely no White Lead, 5 less than 1% of White Lead, and only 3 over 90% of White Lead.

There is, however, a way to be certain of the purity and genuineness of the White Lead you buy, and that is to see that the keg you buy bears the Dutch Boy trade mark. This trade mark is a positive guarantee of absolutely Pure White Lead made by the Old Dutch Process.

Tired Nervous Women Make Unhappy Homes

MRS. NELLIE MAKHAM

MRS. GEO. A. JAMES

A nervous irritable woman, often on the verge of hysterics, is a source of misery to everyone who comes under her influence, and unhappy and miserable herself.

Such women not only drive husbands from home but are wholly unfit to govern children.

The ills of women act like a fire brand upon the nerves, consequently seven-tenths of the nervous prostration, nervous despondency, the "blues", sleeplessness, and nervous irritability of women arise from some organic derangement.

Do you experience fits of depression with restless alternating with extreme irritability? Do you suffer from pains in the abdominal region, backache, bearing-down pains, nervous dyspepsia, sleeplessness, and almost continually cross and snappy? If so, your nerves are in a shattered condition and you are threatened with nervous prostration.

Proof is monumental that nothing in the world is better for nervous troubles of women than Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs. Thousands and thousands of women can testify to this fact.

Mrs. Nellie Makhham, of 151 Morgan St., Buffalo, N. Y., writes:—

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I was a wreck from nervous prostration. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs and today holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases of any medicine the world has ever known, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the laboratory at Lynn, Mass., which testify to its wonderful value.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; a Woman's Remedy for Women's Ills.

I suffered so I did not care what became of me, and my family despaired of my recovery. Physicians failed to help me. I was urged to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I want to tell you that it has entirely cured me. I think it is the finest medicine on earth and I am recommending it to all my friends and acquaintances.

Mrs. Geo. A. James, a life long resident of Fredonia, N. Y., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— "I was in a terribly run down condition and had nervous prostration caused by female trouble, in fact I had not been well since my children were born. This condition worked on my nerves and I was irritable and miserable. I had tried many remedies without getting much help but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought me back to health and strength. It has also carried me safely through the Change of Life. I cannot too strongly recommend your medicine."

Mrs. Pinkham's Invitation to Women.

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to communicate promptly with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. From the symptoms given, the trouble may be located and the quickest and surest way of recovery advised. Out of her vast volume of experience in treating female ills Mrs. Pinkham probably has the very knowledge that will help your case. Her advice is free and always helpful.

RELIGIOUS FIELD

FROM SHIP'S BRIDGE TO PULPIT.

How a Rough Fisherman Was Led to Become a Fisherman of Men.

The lives of many city missionaries read like romance. Such a life has been that of Rev. W. H. Collinson, evangelist of the United Christian Workers City Mission church, Bronx, N. Y. Left as a walf at a London door, some one took him in. Soon homeless again, he was taken on a fishing smack to the North sea fishing grounds, and he helped bring the harvest of the ocean to the famous Billingsgate market in London. Here he heard D. L. Moody and was converted. He had the aid and sympathy of Rev. C. H. Spurgeon, and soon was preaching the Word to fishermen in the market and those engaged in deep-sea fishing in the North sea. He there witnessed the spiritual transformation of many lives. He had greater influence with the men because he had learned "to scrub the cabin, make puddings, mend nets, splice the ropes, steer the ship and command a vessel."

His first pulpit was a three-legged table in a barn, where he spoke to 40 farmers on "Being Saved by Grace." His best loved work was among the fishermen, and he was the first recipient of a silk "Bethel Flag" from the late Baroness Burdett Coutts. Like many seafaring men, the captain likes change of scene, but is ever ready to engage in hard service on sea or land for the lost. He followed for awhile John Sampson, the "Cornwall preacher," and was a coworker with Gipsy Smith. At Steelton, Pa., he started a mission among 3,000 steel workers and held "shop" meetings. He recently held Gospel services at the Union church, Corona, N. Y. His earnest addresses abounded in nautical terms and pictures, adding zest to his exhortations, says the Christian Herald.

At the City Mission church in the Bronx the Gospel is preached, the sick are visited and situations are secured for the unemployed. Mrs. Collinson, his "first mate," helps in his Gospel services and his daughter Eva, the "second mate" of the Gospel ship, is also the musician. Together they hold meetings on board ship, in saloons, barber shops and factories. Their work has been supported by voluntary gifts and has been a means of blessing to many.

Successful Missionary Labor.
For several years the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions has been doing a missionary work in Nauru, an island separate from all other groups in the Pacific ocean. Its people seem to be hardy and vigorous, numbering somewhat less than 2,000 souls at the present time. A German missionary, Rev. De la Porte, has labored there since 1899 under the American board with extraordinary vigor and success. He has gathered converts in numbers that parallel, it is said, the earliest beginnings at Jerusalem. From the beginning Mr. De la Porte labored at translation work. In 1902 he translated part of the New Testament; this was printed on the missionary press at Kusale in the Caroline islands, 500 copies in all. These were distributed among the people in 1903, and Mr. De la Porte writes: "The living Word of God has since then worked mightily in the hearts of this little nation."

Preacher Descended from a King.
W. M. Jackson, D. D., who is the great-great-grandson of a Madagascar king, was recently ordained in the American Episcopal church. He was born in North Carolina in 1854. The king from whom he descended was induced to send his two children, a boy and a girl, to Europe to be educated, but through treachery they were brought to America and sold into slavery. Dr. Jackson's father was a free man, and moved with his family to Oberlin, O. The son attended the public schools and in September, 1872, entered the freshman class of Oberlin college, two of his classmates being President Frost of Berea, Kentucky, and Rev. F. H. Avenue, pastor of St. Paul's church, East Cleveland, O.

Received with Honor.
It is said that at the India missionary jubilee no two persons were received with greater honor than Dr. J. H. Humphrey, who baptized the first native converts, and Mrs. William Butler, wife of the founder of Methodism in India.

His Classification.
"Oh, I don't intend to be scrupulous about the way I get on," said the young lawyer, who thought himself the greatest ever. "I frankly intend to rent out my head to anybody who wants to make use of it." "Then, if you advertise it," replied his cynical friend, "they'll put you under the heading of Empty Flats."

Famous Book Free.

He Was Thicker Skinned.
Walter Howard, the London dramatist, was leaving the stage door of a theater one evening when an anemic-looking youth stepped up and said: "Are you Mr. Howard?" The author replied in the affirmative, whereupon the young fellow said he wanted to go on the stage. Noticing his evident unfitness for such a life, Howard advised him to stick to his present occupation, whatever it was. "I am assistant pawnbroker across the way," said the ambitious young man. "And what do your people think of your going on the stage?" asked Howard. "Oh, they are right against it," was the jaunty reply, "but I shouldn't mind the disgrace myself."

ITCHING RASH 18 YEARS.
Girl's Rash Spread and Grew Worse Under Specialist's Care—Perfect Cure by Cuticura Remedies.

"When my daughter was a baby she had a breaking out behind the ears. The doctor said that she would outgrow it, and it did get somewhat better until she was about fifteen years old, and after that she could get nothing that would drive it away. She was always applying something in the way of salves. It troubled her behind the knees, opposite the elbows, back of the neck and ears, under the chin, and then it got on the face. That was about three years ago. She took treatment with a specialist and seemed to get worse all the time. We were then advised to try the Cuticura Remedies, and now I don't see any breaking out. M. Curley, 11-19 Sixteenth St., Bay City, Mich., May 20, 1906."

An Oversight.
When Chapple got up the other morning he wandered around his apartment in his pretty pink pajamas, the very picture of woe.

"What's the matter, sir?" inquired his valet.

"I don't know, Alphonse," he groaned; "I passed a most unhappy night."

Alphonse looked him over carefully.

"Oh, sir," he exclaimed, "I know what was the matter. The trousers of your pajamas were not creased. You must be more careful, sir. Those I had prepared for you were hanging across the foot of the bed."—The Bohemian.

in an attempt to stamp out Bovine Tuberculosis, and yet the disease is spreading. A most sensible and inexpensive remedy is recently claimed in a free booklet issued by The Mutual Mercantile Co., Cleveland, O., in simply feeding small doses of Rasawa to the cattle. It can be had at any Drug or Feed Store, and costs but a few cents per year for each cow. The remedy is claimed to be a positive germicide and renders the cattle free from the disease. Every reader should get a free booklet from the Druggist and read the statements made.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have PAREGORIC or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and A FEW DROPS TOO MANY will produce the SLEEP FROM WHICH THERE IS NO WAKING. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labelling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without your or your physician know of what it is composed. CASTORIA DOES NOT CONTAIN NARCOTICS, if it bears the signature of Chas. Dr. J. W. Dinsdale, of Chicago, Ill., says: "I use your Castoria and advise its use in all families where there are children."
Dr. Alexander E. Mintie, of Cleveland, Ohio, says: "I have frequently prescribed your Castoria and have found it a reliable and pleasant remedy for children."
Dr. J. S. Alexander, of Omaha, Neb., says: "A medicine so valuable and beneficial for children as your Castoria is, deserves the highest praise. I find it in use everywhere."
Dr. J. A. McClellan, of Buffalo, N. Y., says: "I have frequently prescribed your Castoria for children and always got good results. In fact I use Castoria for my own children."
Dr. J. W. Allen, of St. Louis, Mo., says: "I heartily endorse your Castoria. I have frequently prescribed it in my medical practice, and have always found it to do all that is claimed for it."
Dr. C. H. Glidden, of St. Paul, Minn., says: "My experience as a practitioner with your Castoria has been highly satisfactory, and I consider it an excellent remedy for the young."
Dr. H. D. Benner, of Philadelphia, Pa., says: "I have used your Castoria as a purgative in the cases of children for years past with the most happy effect, and fully endorse it as a safe remedy."
Dr. J. A. Boardman, of Kansas City, Mo., says: "Your Castoria is a splendid remedy for children, known the world over. I use it in my practice and have no hesitancy in recommending it for the complaints of infants and children."
Dr. J. J. Mackey, of Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I consider your Castoria an excellent preparation for children, being composed of reliable medicines and pleasant to the taste. A good remedy for all disturbances of the digestive organs."

Among Our Correspondents

HOWELL.

Howell claims several miles of cement walks. A few more miles would be an improvement.

Howell will celebrate Decoration day next Thursday, May 30, with appropriate exercises.

Village attorney Roche has been ordered by the council to bring condemnation proceedings against a certain piece of land in order to open up a new street near the milk factory.

The Howell council talked "sewer" until long after 12 o'clock at their meeting last week. They finally decided to ask engineer, Riggs, to make estimates on the actual cost of construction.

NORTH HAMBURG.

Mrs. J. Kice is visiting friends in Detroit and Canada.

A memorial sermon will be preached at the church next Sunday.

Little Thome boys of Howell visited Laurence Dunning over Sunday.

ANDERSON FARMERS' CLUB.

The May meeting of the Anderson Farmer's Club was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Greiner, with a good attendance, Saturday May 11.

The program consisted of recitations and music, both instrumental and vocal, which were much appreciated. Pres. Webb appointed G. M. Greiner Vice Pres. in place of Chas Hoff.

After supper was served to all present the meeting adjourned to meet with Mr. and Mrs. V. G. Dinkle, June 8.

When Oregon Was in the Balance.
There is no boundary in the world of greater political importance than the forty-ninth parallel, which divides Canada from the United States. When this boundary was under discussion, the Pacific coast was almost inaccessible, and the ownership of Oregon, now a state of vast wealth, with opulent cities and a teeming population, was in the balance. The matter was settled by the report of Captain Temple, a brother of Lord Palmerston, who wrote to the admiralty "that the country was not worth a cuss because the salmon would not take a fly."—Manchester Chronicle.

The Only Way.

"I am writing an article," he said, "on 'The Way to Manage a Woman.'" "I suppose it will be a long one," she replied in a slightly scornful tone. "No," he answered, "it will be quite short. In fact, it will consist of only two words—'Don't try.'"—Birmingham Post.

Long Wait.

"Grandpa, how old are you?" "I am eighty-seven years old, my dear." "Then you were born eighty years before I was. What a long time you had alone waiting for me!"

Worse Still.

Griggs—The idea of your letting your wife go round saying she made a man of you! You don't hear my wife saying that. Briggs—No, but I heard her telling my wife that she did her best.

Mrs. E. M. Fobey and two children of Woodmore visited her mother, Mrs. Sweetman here this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Reason have moved into the Goodrich house on Pearl street for the summer.

Ice cream at the town hall, Saturday evening, June 1, served by the seniors of the P. H. S. Come.

Ice has froze quite hard several nights the past week. Overcoats and mittens are still useful articles.

Read the communication from an old Pinckney boy on page 4. Others are requested to also send in suggestions.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. VanKeuren of Howell were the guests of her parents G. W. Teeple and family, the past week.

The Livingston county teachers association meet at Howell Saturday at 10:30. A good program has been arranged.

The seniors will again serve ice cream at the town hall Saturday evening, June 1. Everyone should give them a lift.

We are glad to inform our readers that Mrs. Louis Boucher, nee Miss Julia Brady, who has been at the sanatorium here for the past three weeks, is rapidly improving.

The State Sanatorium directors the past week purchased of Cash Valentine of Webster, Washtenaw county, a fine span of horses for the sanatorium farm. The price paid was $350.

G. J. Bastcke set out 10,000 young locust trees on his farm in Genoa one day last week. He set out 8,000 of the same kind a few years ago and in a few years more they will become valuable timber.

Arrangements have been made with the Grand Trunk Railroad company so that notices of the local trains will hereafter be published in the DISPATCH as well as notices of specials, excursions, ect.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs S G. Kin. of Breckenridge, will be sorry to learn that their family has been passing through a severe seige of diptheria in which one son died and one girl is still very ill but hopes are entertained for her recovery.

The seventh annual Bible conference and Christian Workers institute will be held at Lake Orion July 18 to 29. The program contains a list of prominent speakers and Bible students. This annual meeting has become very popular and is largely attended. The lake and grounds is a beautiful place and one can combine pleasure with the work.

Would it not be a good plan for the committee of the old boys and girls association to get together for organization this evening or Friday, while the present president, G. W. Sykes is with us to offer suggestions? The following is the committee:

Guy L. Teeple, chairman.
E. R. Brown.

Congregational Church.

You are invited to the memorial address Sunday morning, May 26. There will be Union Temperance meeting in the M. E. church in the evening.

The pastor delivered two very impressive sermons last Sunday. The male quartette was much enjoyed at each service.

Rev. Gates, pastor of the Cong'l church, will move his family into the parsonage the last of the week. The pastor is making many friends here and his family will be welcome.

The parsonage is being decorated on the interior and made ready for the pastor's family.

M. E. Church Notes.

All services were well attended Sunday. Sunday school 111, collection $2.25.

Next Sunday morning the pastor will preach a memorial sermon and all are invited, especially all old soldiers. Come early as all seats will be filled. Seats reserved for soldiers however. Tell your friends.

Sunday evening there will be a union temperance meeting at the M. E. church to which all are most cordially invited. Rev. Gates of the Cong'l church will deliver the address of the evening followed by remarks by others.

The teacher of the Old Peoples Bible class, (class No. 8) would like to see a rally of not only the members of the class next Sunday but of all old people. Come to the memorial service and remain for a short session of the school.

Do not forget the entertainment by the young people of the Sunday school Wednesday, May 29, given by Mrs. Lulu Belle Rodda, and impersonator. Admission, 10 and 20 cents.

NOTICE.

The people of Pinckney and others are hereby ordered not to throw rubbish in the highways. It is not only unsightly but dangerous and there may be an accident that the township would be liable for.
