Tendered a Reception

Tuesday evening the people of this village to the number of about 100, met at the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Cadwell and tendered a reception to Rev. and Mrs. A. G. Gates the new pastor of the Cong'l church. A program of songs and readings was rendered and Rev. D. C. Littlejohn pastor of the M. E. church spoke a few words of welcome which was responded to by Rev. Gates.

There seems to be a spirit of unity among the churches of this place such as has not been evident in many years and it is hoped that it may continue as it is by this alone that the most good can be accomplished.

After the speeches the rattle of dishes proclaimed that the ladies of the society had not been idle and a bountiful lunch was served of coffee, sandwiches, cake, etc. and the guests returned home feeling that it had been good to be there and that a new fellowship had sprung up. May these social gatherings increase.

We have a fine line of Books Toilet Cases, Manicure Sets and other Fancy Articles that make good presents for the graduates.

the absolute confidence will be placed in the world, and see if some better not be found to escape their present misery than by seeking oblivion in the icy waters of the North river. Of course, like all new and startling innovations the new bureau was considered by many as doomed to failure—that people who wished to kill themselves would not stop to see if there were hope and prospects of new life in the little reception room of the Salvationists; but all this was before the first haggard, wild-eyed creature had knocked hesitatingly at the door of Colonel Holland's office, or had been ushered into the motherly presence of the floor below. LOCAL NEWS.

Cecil Sigler was in Detroit the past week.

We shall certainly have a short summer.

S. Grimes and wife visited her sister in Howell a few days the past week.

Mrs. Serena C. Flanigan of Erie, Pa., is visiting her sister, Mrs. M. Kearney.

The ice man has certainly been handed the "icy mitt" by the weather man this season.

No school today.

The mail carriers have a vacation today.

Learn to say Murphy and Dolan after June 1st.

The chance club were entertained by Marie Brogan Tuesday evening.

Some of our citizens are attending the decoration day exercises at Howell today.

Decoration day will be observed at Hamburg today with appropriate exercises.

Friday, May 31, is the date that President Roosevelt is to speak at Lansing.

G. W. Reason is making a good recovery from the recent removal of a tumor of the neck.

Six cans of wall-eyed pike were placed in Silver lake south of this village the first of the week.

Members of the K. O. T. M. M. will please take note that assessment No. 139 is due and must be paid by June 1.

That fine exhibition of fishing tackle at The Teeple Hardware Co.'s store attracts the sportsman and draws trade.

Many of the village schools have their annual catalogues out for 1907-8. It is a good thing to have the advertising out early.

Mrs. Geo. Reason Jr. and children of Detroit were guests of her parents, F. A. Sigler and wife and other relatives here the past week.

W. E. Murphy, our popular groceryman, is to take F. E. Dolan, his old clerk, as full partner commencing June 1st.

J. W. Placeway is in Detroit taking treatment at Harper hospital. His remaining eye is troubling him and fears are entertained that he may lose the sight entirely.

The many friends of Dr. C. L. Sigler will rejoice to know that he is rapidly regaining his health. Mr. Shehan reports him looking fine and a recent picture received would indicate that he will soon be a fit candidate for the "fat man" in some show. He has accepted a position on the Sanitarium medical staff and will remain a few weeks longer. It is needless to say that Dr. H. F. is "going some" these days but then he always had a reputation for that.

Although we attended the Hamburg Sunday school convention last week it slipped our mind and we failed to mention it in our last issue. The convention was largely attended and very interesting papers were read although there was not time to discuss them. The music furnished by the Pinckney Male quartette and the North Hamburg Ladies quartette was excellent and added to the entertainment. Also the solos by Misses Kice and Rolison.

Thos. Burchiel, who has been spending a couple of weeks in Canada, returned home Thursday.

In our item last week about the sanitarium team the amount should have read $375 instead of $350.

Dr. Jeanette Brigham was in town last Friday to assist Dr. Sigler in some surgical cases at the Sanitarium.

Chas. Reason and wife are again residents of Pinckney having moved from Pontiac to their place in the western part of the village.

Raymond Sigler of the U. of M. was home again Friday and Saturday. His wife was called to Northville to care for her mother who is ill.

Joe Kennedy, who has been working the past six months or more in a printing office in Detroit, is visiting his parents here a couple of week.

The storm that struck this section Sunday must have been the tail end as other places in the state were visited with severe storms which did considerable damage. Snow to the depth of several inches fell in some parts of the state.

We had a variety of weather Sunday. In the early morning a fire was comfortable; by 10 a.m. the sun was shining and it was warm to oppressiveness; thunder storm about 11 and in the afternoon the weather became cold and one needed an overcoat to ride in and fires were again needed.

Owing to the heavy rain last Wednesday evening only about thirty attended the reception given by the Epworth League at the parsonage. However the scarcity of numbers was made in enthusiasm and a very pleasant time was spent. It is an intention of this society to give more of this class of entertainment and thus keep in touch with the people and each other.

FRIDAY, THE 13th

By Thomas W. Lawson

COPYRIGHT, 1914, BY DUNDELL, PAGE & COMPANY

CHAPTER I.

"Friday, the 13th; I thought as much, if Bob has started, there will be hell, but I will see what I can do."

The sound of my voice as I dropped the receiver seemed to part the mists of five years and usher me into the world of then as though it had never passed on.

I had been sitting in my office, letting the tape slide through my fingers while its every yard spelled "panic" in a constantly rising voice, when they told me that Brownley on the floor of the exchange wanted me at the phone, and "quick." Brownley was our junior partner and floor man. He talked with a rush. Stock exchange floor men in panics never let their speech hobble.

"Mr. Randolph, it's sizzling over here, and it's getting hotter every second. It's Bob—that is evident to all. If he keeps up this pace for 20 minutes longer, the sulphur will overflow 'the street' and get into the banks and into the country, and no man can tell how much territory will be burned over by to-morrow. The boys have begged me to ask you to throw yourself into the breach and stay him. They agree you are the only hope now."

"Are you sure, Fred, that this is Bob's work?" I asked. "Have you seen him?"

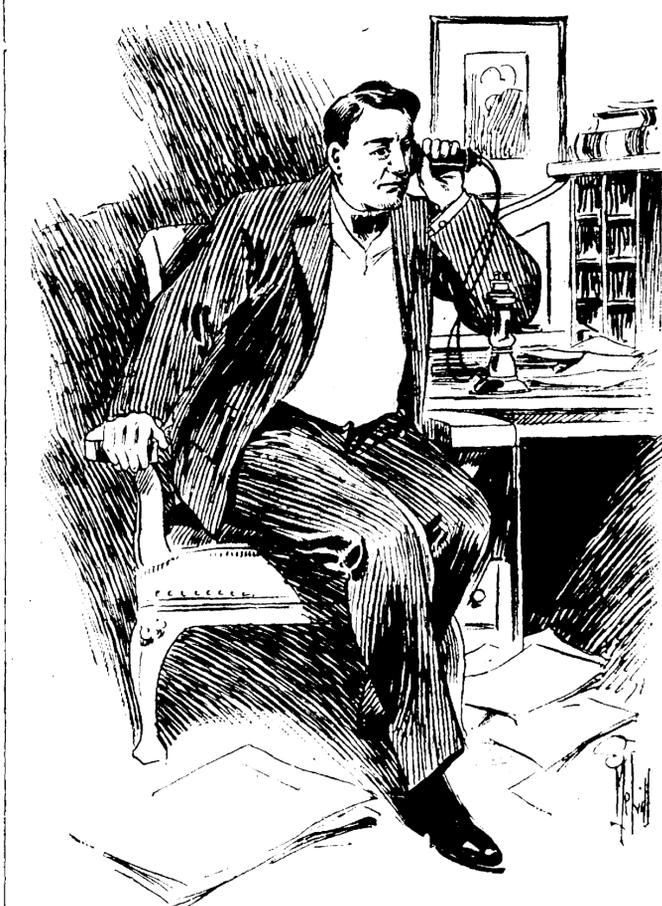

"Yes, I have just come from his office, and glad I was to get out. He's on the war-path, Mr. Randolph—uglier than I ever saw him. The last time he broke loose was child's play to his mood to-day. Mother sent me word this morning that she saw last night the spell was coming. He had been up to see her and sisters, and mother thought from his tone he was about to disappear again. When she told me of his mood, and I remembered the day, I was afraid he might seek his vent here. Also I heard of his being about town till long after midnight. The minute I opened his office door he flew at me like a panther. I told him I had only dropped in on my rounds for an order, as they were running off right smart, and I didn't know but he might like to pick up some bargains. 'Bargains!' he roared, 'don't you know the day? Don't you know it is Friday, the 13th? Go back to that hell-pit and sell, sell.' 'Sell what and how much?' I asked. 'Anything, everything. Give the thieves every share they will take, and when they won't take any more, ram as much again down their crops until they spit up all they have been buying for the last three months!' Going out I met Jim Holliday and Frank Swan rushing in. They are evidently executing Bob's orders, and have been pouring Anti-People's out for an hour. They will be on the floor again in a few minutes, so I thought it safer to call you before I started to sell. Mr. Randolph, they cannot take much more of anything in here, and if I begin to throw stocks over, it will bring the gavel inside of ten minutes, and that will be to announce a dozen failures. It's yet 20 minutes to one, and God only knows what will happen before three. It's up to you, Mr. Randolph, to do something, and unless I am on a bad slant, you haven't many minutes to lose."

It was then I dropped the receiver with "I thought as much!" As I had been fingering the tape, watching five and ten millions crumbling from price values every few minutes, I was sure this was the work of Bob Brownley. No one else in Wall street had the power, the nerve, and the devilish cruelty to rip things as they had been ripped during the last 20 minutes. The night before I had passed Bob in the theater lobby. I gave him close scrutiny and saw the look of which I of all men best knew the meaning. The big brown eyes were set on space; the outer corners of the handsome mouth were drawn hard and tense as though weighted. As I had my wife with me it was impossible to follow him, but when I got home I called up his house and his club, intending to ask him to run up and smoke a cigar with me, but could locate him nowhere. I tried again in the morning without success, but when just before noon the tape began to jump and flash and snarl, I remembered Bob's ugly mood, and all it portended.

Fred Brownley was Bob's youngest brother, 12 years his junior. He had been with Randolph & Randolph from the day he left college, and for over a year had been our most trusted stock exchange man. Bob Brownley, when himself, was as fond of his "baby brother," as he called him, as his beautiful southern mother was of both; but when the devil had possession of Bob—and his option during the past five years had been exercised many a time—mother and brother had to take their place with all the rest of the world, for then Bob knew no kindred, no friends. All the wide world was to him during those periods a jungle peopled with savage animals and reptiles to hunt and fight and tear and kill.

It is hardly necessary for me to explain who Randolph & Randolph are. For more than 60 years the name has spoken for itself in every part of the world where dollar-making machines are installed. No railroad is financed, no great "industrial" projected, without by force of habit, handing a by-your-leave of Randolph & Randolph, and every nation when entering the market for loans, knows that the favor of the foremost American bankers is something which must be reckoned with. I pride myself that at 42, at the end of ten years I have had the helm of Randolph & Randolph. I have done nothing to mar the great name—my father and uncle created, but something to add to its sterling reputation for honest dealing, fearless, old-fashioned methods, and all-round integrity. Bradstreet's and other mercantile agencies say in reporting Randolph & Randolph: "Worth fifty millions and upward, credit unlimited." I can take but small praise for this, for the report was about the same the day I left college and came to the office to "learn the business." But, as the survivor of my great father and uncle, I can say, my Maker as my witness, that Randolph & Randolph have never loaned a dollar of their millions at over legal rates, six per cent, per annum; have never added to their board by any but fair, square business methods; and that blight of blights, frenzied finance, has yet to find a lodging place beneath the old black-and-gold sign that father and uncle nailed up with their own hands over the entrance.

Nineteen years ago I was graduated from Harvard. My classmate and chum, Bob Brownley, of Richmond, Va., was graduated with me. He was class poet, I, yard marshal. We had been four years together at St. Paul's previous to entering Harvard. No girl and lover were fonder than we of each other.

My people had money and to spare, and with it a hard-headed, northern horse sense. The Brownleys were poor as church mice, but they had the brilliant, virile blood of the old southern oligarchy and the romantic, "salutem-no-ono" Dixie-land pride of before-the-war days, when southern prodigality and hospitality were found wherever women were fair and men's mirrors in the bottom of their julep-glasses.

Bob's father, one of the big, white pillars of southern aristocracy, had gone through congress and the senate of his country to the tune of "Spend and Not Spare," which left his widow and three younger daughters and a small son dependent upon Bob, his eldest.

Many a warm summer afternoon, as Bob and I paddled down the Charles, and often on a cold, crisp night as we sat in my shooting-box on the Cape Cod shore, had we matched up for our future. I was to have the inside run of the great banking business of Randolph & Randolph, and Bob was eventually to represent my father's firm on the floor of the stock exchange. "I'd die in an office," Bob used to say, "and the floor of the stock exchange is just the chimney-place to roast my hoe-cake in." So when our college days were over my able old father stood us up against the wall in his office, and tried us by his tests, and proud we both were when dad said: "Jim, you and Bob have chosen well. You, Jim, are just the chap to step into my shoes, and Bob is cut out to a thirty-second and sixty-fourth for the floor." Proud we were, not so much because of what my father's decision meant for our future, for we knew we should get into the business all right, but because our judgment was indorsed by one we both thought as near infallible as man could be in anything pertaining to business affairs.

Bob was then 22 and I a year older—I one of your raw-boned New Eng-

the heavy responsibilities of husbanding and directing his family's slim finances that he took to business as a swallow to the air. We entered the office of Randolph & Randolph on the same day, and on his anniversary, a year later, my father summoned us into his office for a sort of tally-up talk. Neither of us quite knew what was coming, and we thrilled with pleasure when he said:

"Jim, you and Bob have fairly outdone my expectations. I have had my eye on both of you and I want you to know that the kind of industry and business intelligence you have shown here would have won you recognition in any banking house on 'the street.' I want you both in the firm—Jim to learn his way round so he can step into my shoes; you, Bob, to take one of the firm's seats on the stock exchange."

Bob's face went red and then pale with happiness as he reached for my father's hand.

"I'm very grateful to you, sir, far more so than words can say, but I want to talk this proposition of yours over with Jim here first. He knows me better than anyone else in the world, and I've some ideas I'd like to thrash out with him."

"Speak up here, Bob," said my father.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

EVOLUTION OF GLASS EYES.

Were First Brought Into Use in the Seventeenth Century.

"That is an artificial eye of the seventeenth century," said the curator of the medical museum. "It isn't very deceptive, is it?" The ancient eye resembled what is called a patch. There was a band to encircle the head, and a semi-circle of leather with a human eye painted on it—a large, blue, staring eye. It was, in fact, simply a patch on which an eye was painted. "Next came these silver shells," said the curator. "They were inserted under the lid in the empty socket. A little more deceptive, eh?" The shells, in shape like halves of walnuts, had eyes upon them, and were not unsightly. They were so dull and opaque, though, that no one would ever have taken them for the real thing. "Next came eyes of porcelain," the curator went on, waving his hand toward a case of fairly presentable porcelain eyes, "and finally we got glass eyes—transparent, brilliant eyes that will never be improved on till a movable pupil is invented, a pupil that, somehow, will work in harmony with the other pupil. Many an inventor is working on this movable pupil idea. Of course, there's a fortune in it for the successful man."

WATCH THE LARGE AFFAIRS.

Business Man Makes Mistake in Being Smothered in Detail.

When you are so buried in the detail of your business that you cannot get a clear, sharp view of your affairs in all their relations, you are in danger of failure. No great general ever takes a gun and goes with his soldiers into the thick of the fight, where he would be so stunned by the noises and so blinded by the smoke of battle that he could not watch the movements of the enemy, could not see where his own troops needed reinforcements, or how to hurl his forces on the weakest place in the enemy's ranks. He must go where he can watch every movement of the armies. If you are going to be a general in business, you must keep where you can get a clear view of your affairs and know what is going on everywhere. While you are buried in detail, your business may be in a dangerous position, from which you could extricate it if you knew the exact situation. Many a man fails in trying to be a general and a private at the same time.—Success.

Milady's Bath.

It is said there is but one carbonic acid bath in New York, and it is in the home of a very rich widow. The apparatus as described is complicated and expensive. The acid is allowed to escape from stout metal cylinders, where it is stored under pressure, and mixed with the bath water. The effect upon the skin is highly stimulating. Such a bath leaves a feeling of great freshness. The widow was advised to visit Nauheim several years ago for a heart disorder, the waters at that celebrated German village being naturally effervescent and strongly carbonated. She dared not undertake the ocean voyage, and the artificial Nauheim was installed in her home.

Weary of Abstractions.

"There is some satisfaction in knowing you are right, even if the world does not recognize it," remarked the idealist. "Not much," answered young Mrs. Torkins. "I can't help wishing Charley would bet on the horse that does win instead of the one that ought to."

Love and Marriage.

A good bit of love goes to waste before marriage that would help a lot afterward.—Puck.

THE CHRISTIAN WORLD

A SUICIDE BUREAU.

How the Salvation Army is Saving People From Themselves.

"One thousand people, beaten in the battle of life, commit suicide in New York every year."

Such was the startling statement made by Colonel Holland, of the Salvation Army, three days after the new Anti-Suicide Bureau was established at the army headquarters on Fourteenth street, New York.

The Anti-Suicide bureau asks all who have grown desperate and have determined to take their own lives, to come in and tell their troubles with the absolute assurance that their confidences will be withheld from the world, and see if some better way cannot be found to escape their present misery than by seeking oblivion in the icy waters of the North river. Of course, like all new and startling innovations the new bureau was considered by many as doomed to failure—that people who wished to kill themselves would not stop to see if there were hope and prospects of new life in the little reception room of the Salvationists; but all this was before the first haggard, wild-eyed creature had knocked hesitatingly at the door of Colonel Holland's office, or had been ushered into the motherly presence of the brigadier on the floor below. In three days 20 people in deep distress had called "to talk it over."

"I am firmly convinced," said Colonel Holland, "that all of our callers were people who had had the idea of committing suicide. There were no 'fake cases.' They gave us their whole life and heart history without reserve."

Religious Progress in Japan.

Bishop Harris of Japan writes: "The Greek and Roman Catholics in Japan number about 100,000. The Protestants are equally strong, and all won in less than a generation. Most of the Protestant churches have become independent national institutions, and the Japan Methodist church is soon to be organized by the union of the Methodist Episcopal church, the Methodist Episcopal church, south, and a Methodist church of Canada, which will have over 12,000 members, 128 organized churches, 133 ministers, 62 Bible women, 14 boarding schools for both sexes, with 2,729 pupils, 32 day schools, with 2,713 pupils, two theological schools with 53 students, and churches and parsonages worth over $100,000."

Chinese Women's Christian Conference.

A remarkable conference of Christian women met recently in Wei Hsien, the Holy Land of China. There were 300 women representing over 200 villages, and 200 more came from the neighborhood. Here was a gathering of women, some of them over 70, who had hobbled on their bound feet for 50 miles or less, carrying bedding, hymn book and Bible. More remarkable still is the fact that their husbands encouraged them to go, though many had never before been more than two miles from home.

Boys' Work Grows.

The Boys' department membership in the Y. M. C. A., throughout the country increased from 23,405 to 65,000, and its qualified secretaries from 1,100 to 175. The number of students in educational classes has reached 38,826.

The Church Arraigned.

A Unitarian clergyman writing on Sabbath observance, says that the great menace to the Sabbath in this country is not the tendency of the people to seek recreation on that day, but the disposition of some to turn the church itself into a place of recreation. He charges that certain ministers—oddly enough, he claims there are no Unitarians in the number he accuses—are changing their services into half vaudeville shows instead of dealing with the basic principles of life. In such circumstances church-going becomes simply one item in a choice of recreations.

Mission Day Conference.

At a meeting of representatives from Woman's Home Mission societies of several denominations recently held in New York city, it was decided to institute interdenominational home mission conferences at Northford, Mass., and probably one in the middle West, for the first year. The committee contemplates yearly conferences at several points eventually.

An immense contract for the widening of St. Mary's river at the "Soo" has been begun by the MacArthur Bros. Co., of Chicago, the principal contractors on the Chicago Drainage canal. The lake traffic which now passes through the Soo each year has become so immense that congestion has resulted and about $6,000,000 of Uncle Sam's money will be expended in providing more ample channels.

My Best Friend.

Alexander Benton, who lives on Rural Route 1, Port Edward, N. Y., says: "Dr. King's New Discovery is my best earthly friend. It cured me of asthma six years ago. It has also performed a wonderful cure of incipient consumption for my son's wife. The first bottle ended the terrible cough, and this accomplished, the other symptoms left one by one, until she was perfectly well. Dr. King's New Discovery's power over coughs and colds is simply marvelous." No other remedy has ever equaled it. Fully guaranteed by F. A. Sigler, druggist. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Japan astonishes us quite as much by her rapid progress in civil and political affairs as she does by her progress in the arts and in war. She has been taking note of the arts of peace as well as the art of war, and it is resolved not to be exploited, played for a sucker, Harrimanized or Rockefellerized by private enterprise. She hands those people the "icy mitt"—it costs too much for "graft investigations" in the future.

The new bill making road taxes payable in cash which was signed by the Governor last week, while presented by a farmer, there are others who think the old way the best—at least the easiest. It was this class of farmers that brought the "direct tax" about and they have no kick coming. Had the work on all the roads been done there would have been no need of a change. As it was so many that tried to get off with but little if any work, that something had to be done in order to keep the roads passable.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL.

Mrs. McKinley died at her home in Canton Ohio, Sunday.

Munday's Free Press contained a picture of the Y. S. Normal Base ball team, with Capt. Munks in the center. This team has won victories over all the other college teams of the state and have made a good record.

Several weeks ago the Dispatch mentioned the fact that there ought to be a poultry organization in this county with an occasional show or exhibit. We knew there were many fancy poultry breeders in the county and thought the time was ripe for such an organization. As we were not in that class of people we did not push the matter, but it seems the idea has found friends as such an association was formed at Howell last week with 16 members.

New Road System.

Last Thursday Gov. Warner signed the bill which does away with the old system of road work when farmers paid their road taxes by working so many days on the road each year. The system was never satisfactory as in some places the work was well done while in other districts little if any would be done and many times it would have been better if nothing had been done as the roads would be left as bad or worse than when commenced.

The new law abolishes the office of pathmaster and requires that in every organized township all road taxes must be paid in money. Each township is made a single road district. Two funds are created, a road repair fund and a permanent improvement fund. All road work shall be done under the supervision of one township road inspector, who shall have one assistant. The town meeting annually shall designate the amount to be raised for the roads, but it shall not exceed 50 cents on each $100 valuation.

A Good Move.

The bill passed by both houses at Lansing Wednesday afternoon withdrawing from sale 40,000 acres of agricultural land in Iosco and Alcona counties, with the view of turning them into a state forest reserve. This action was taken, it is stated, to head off lumbermen who were about to purchase these timber lands for a song. It is stated that were there an average of but two trees to the acre on the 40,000 acres, the stumpage of one acre would pay for 10 acres at $1.25 per acre.

The action is good and the movement should not stop with the saving to the state of these 40,000. There are, no doubt, many thousands of acres of state land, valuable for timber, still for sale for a song and the reclamation movement should continue until these lands are properly valued for sale or placed in state forest reserves for the benefit of all the people in the state.

 Pinckney, Michigan

Horses with blankets and men with fur overcoats has been no uncommon sight on our streets the past week. Wonder when the weather will change for good.

Michigan and her citizens have every reason to feel proud as they probably never was so large an aggregation of distinguished people within her borders at any one time as this week. With the President of these United States, college presidents from different states and the alumni of the agricultural college home to help celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of the agricultural colleges in the U. S., all make it a time long to be remembered. The rubbing together of the peoples of the different states cannot help but be of benefit to all concerned.

Let me mail you free, to prove merit, samples of Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and my book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart, or the Kidneys. Address me, Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating the result of your ailment and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—means Stomach weakness, always. And the Heart, and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves." Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write for my free book now. Dr. Shoop's Restorative sold by all dealers.

under most any conditions. There is a lot of money to be made in the egg business if conditions are right. There is no reason why Farmers and Poultry Raisers should not make just as good profits on their investments as any other line of business, and it is possible for them to do so. The price of eggs during the winter months is double and sometimes more than double that paid during the summer months. The only way to take advantage of this advance is to hold summer eggs for winter prices. That fresh eggs can be kept from six to nine months or more has been proven by careful testing with

Wonderful Eczema Cure.

"Our little boy had eczema for five years," writes N. A. Adams, Hagerstown, Pa. "Two of our home doctors said the case was hopeless, his fingers being affected. We then employed other doctors but no benefit resulted. By chance we read about Electric Bitters; bought a bottle and soon noticed improvement. We continued this medicine until several bottles were used, when our boy was completely cured." Best of all blood medicines and body building health tonics. Guaranteed at F. A. Sigler's Drug Store. 50c.

A Slight Mistake.

Chitto Harjo was pleading in Washington for the Indians' right to roam in unquipped fashion, like their fathers. "They tell us to trust to fortune," Chitto Harjo said, "and then we'll get our rights. But we are tired of trusting to fortune. Fortune has used us Indians as it used the pale face instructor at the Indian school in 1837." Chitto Harjo smiled and went on: "This success found a horseshoe and to get good fortune put it under my pillow, along with her false teeth. In the morning in the hurry of dressing, she substituted the shoe for the teeth and did not discover her mistake till her affianced husband asked her in tones of horror at breakfast what was the matter with her mouth."

Held Their Own.

A regiment of regulars was making a long, dusty march across the rolling prairie land of Montana during a recent summer. It was a hot, blistering day, and the men, longing for water and rest, were impatient to reach the next town. A rancher rode past. "Say, friend," called out one of the men, "how far is it to the next town?" "Oh, a matter of two miles or so, I reckon," called back the rancher. Another long hour dragged by, and another rancher was encountered. "How far to the next town?" the men asked him eagerly. "Oh, a good two miles." A weary half hour longer of marching, and then a third rancher. "Hey, how far's the next town?" "Not far," was the encouraging answer—"only about two miles." "Well," sighed an optimistic sergeant, "we're holdin' our own anyhow."

Poll Parrot as a Game Bird.

While the parrot is a bird of beautiful plumage, as a table delicacy it is not to be recommended, as I know from sad experience. My first essay at eating a parrot was attended with no ill success. The bird must have been comparatively young, and after several hours' boiling became soft enough to masticate and finally swallow, leaving behind it an impression that we had lunched on the side of a rubber boot. Sour Stomach

No appetite, loss of strength, nervousness, headache, constipation, bad breath, general debility, sour risings, and catarrh of the stomach are all due to indigestion. Kodol relieves indigestion. This new discovery represents the natural juices of digestion as they exist in a healthy stomach, combined with the greatest known tonic and reconstructive properties. Kodol for dyspepsia does not only relieve indigestion and dyspepsia, but this famous remedy helps all stomach troubles by cleansing, purifying, sweetening and strengthening the mucous membranes lining the stomach. "Mr. S. S. Bak, of Ravenswood, W. Va., says: 'I was troubled with sour stomach for twenty years. Kodol cured me and we are now using it in milk for baby.'"

Kodol Digests What You Eat. Bottles only. Relieves indigestion, sour stomach, belching of gas, etc. Prepared by E. O. DeWitt & Co., Chicago. Sold by F. A. Sigler, Druggist.

Stop That Cold

To check early colds or grippe with "Preventics" means sure defeat for Pneumonia. To stop a cold with Preventics is safer than to let it run and be obliged to cure it afterwards. To be sure, Preventics will cure even a deeply seated cold, but taken early—at the sneezing stage—they break, or head off these early colds. That's surely better. That's why they are called Preventics. Preventics, little Candy Cold Cures. No Quinine, no physic, nothing sickening. Nice for the children—and thoroughly safe too. If you feel chilly, if you sneeze, if you ache all over, think of Preventics. Promptness may also save half your usual sickness. And don't forget your child, if there is feverishness, night or day. Herein probably lies Preventics' greatest efficiency. Sold in 5c boxes for the pocket, also in the boxes of 48 Preventics. Insist on your druggists giving you

Nothing I Ate Agreed With Me.

MRS. LENORA BODENHAMER.

Mrs. Lenora Bodenhamer, R. F. D. 1, Box 99, Kernersville, N. C., writes: "I suffered with stomach trouble and indigestion for some time, and nothing that I ate agreed with me. I was very nervous and experienced a continual feeling of uneasiness and fear. I took medicine from the doctor, but it did me no good.

"I found in one of your Peruna books a description of my symptoms. I then wrote to Dr. Hartman for advice. He said I had catarrh of the stomach. I took Peruna and Manalin and followed his directions and can now say that I feel as well as I ever did.

"I hope that all who are afflicted with the same symptoms will take Peruna, as it has certainly cured me."

The above is only one of hundreds who have written similar letters to Dr. Hartman. Just one such case as this entitles Peruna to the candid consideration of every one similarly afflicted. If this be true of the testimony of one person what ought to be the testimony of hundreds, yes thousands, of honest, sincere people. We have in our files a great many other testimonials.

PALE, WEAK PEOPLE

MADE STRONG AND ENERGETIC BY DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS.

General Breakdown Caused by Deficient Blood Quickly Corrected by This Tonic Remedy.

A feeling of general weakness, poor appetite, loss of breath after the slightest exercise and broken sleep are some of the symptoms of general debility. You may think that they have no relation to each other and that you will worry along, hoping all the time to feel better soon. This is a mistake, for every one of the symptoms is caused by bad blood, which must be made pure and new before health will be restored again. A tonic treatment is necessary and for this purpose there is no better remedy than Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Mr. J. G. Harvey, of 95 Willow St., Chelsea, Mass., says: "I was sick for a number of years from general debility and indigestion. I was never free from stomach trouble and my nerves were so shattered that the least excitement unfitted me for any serious work. My sleep was restless on account of terrible pains in the small of my back. These pains would sometimes last for a month or two. Mysight grew weak, there seemed to be a blur constantly before my eyes. I couldn't concentrate my mind on my work, and the attempt to do so completely exhausted me.

"I was finally forced to give up a position I had held for twenty-eight years. After trying several medicines without help, I read of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and gave them a trial. They made me feel so much better and so much stronger that I started in business for myself here in Chelsea. I have never had a return of my former sickness and cheerfully recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as an excellent nerve and blood tonic."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have long been recognized as an excellent tonic remedy in cases of indigestion and general debility, where the stomach and other organs of the body are weakened and disordered simply through lack of proper nourishment. They have also been especially successful in curing anemia, rheumatism, after-effects of the grip and fevers.

A pamphlet on "Diseases of the Blood" and a copy of our diet book will be sent free on request to anyone interested.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

HOME TRADE FABLE

HOW THE TRANSFORMATION OF A TOWN WAS EFFECTED.

A STORY WITH A MORAL

One Public Spirited Citizen Who Realized the Big Possibilities and Cultivated the Field to Advantage.

Once upon a time there was a Man, who in his youth was reared upon a farm located near a Small Town of Great Promise. Two weeks in each year when he was not sawing wood, feeding the stock or picking potatoes, he was allowed to attend the little red schoolhouse in the town. By hard labor during the day, and persistently reading a few old books which were heirlooms in his family, and each week absorbing the intelligence contained in the Weekly Mirror, he, by the time he could mark down his age at 18 years, had accumulated sufficient knowledge to run away from home. He wandered to a large city and there

Strenuous business life and assiduous attention to the accumulation of capital without vacation, caused him to suffer from what the doctors pronounced neurasthenia, and advised total rest from mental effort. The man had labored too diligently in amassing money. Residence in a quiet place was recommended and retirement from all commercial worries. The Great Merchant sold his vast interests to a combine, and after careful thought, concluded that he would seek rest and a renewal of health in the town where he at one time attended the little red schoolhouse, and where in childish imagination he would be powerful and famous by becoming chairman of the village board. Accordingly he retired from the city, purchased the old homestead where he was reared and picked potatoes, and also built a residence and became a Great Factor in the town. Time had made few changes in the landscape. Buildings and streets were the same, only showing the ravages of decay. The old stores were in possession of the descendants of the owners who conducted them when he was a boy. They were not doing the business that they should. One great innovation was the town had a railroad. All about was suggestive of peace. It was an ideal place for a man who desired to pass his declining advertisement for the new store, and to get a new press for the printing of circulars and posters.

One month after the opening of the store the graveyard quietness of the town had passed away. Streets were lined with the teams and the wagons of the farmers. A new elevator for grain had been started. The railroad placed a new switch in the yard to accommodate the increased business. The son of the old town blacksmith reopened the old shop closed for years because of no trade. New life was rapidly being injected into the place.

There was an election. A lot of newcomers selected the Public Spirited Citizen for chairman of the town board. He was elected. In six months the streets were paved, an electric lighting plant was in operation, along with a water works. The Great Storekeeper had a way of doing things, and he did them. News of the activity of the town reached near-by villages, and the people came to see the Big Store and to buy goods. A gold storage plant in connection with a new commission house operated by friends of the Storekeeper, caused Farmers to bring in tons of butter and hundreds of thousands of eggs, and chickens and other produce. The transformation was quick from a Dead Town to a Lively Small City. A high school was established, new churches built, and some of the pious people were shocked to see an opera house erected. The Pau-Handle & Skedunk railroad, which for years had been running 20 miles from the town so changed its route as to have it on the main line, so the place had two railroads. Enterprising men who wanted to locate in a Live Town turned their eyes toward the place. Soon there was smoke from a half dozen big factories, and in five years after the Public-spirited Citizen had started his store his old home town has increased its population 1,000 per cent. It was no longer printed in little type on the maps, but in capital letters.

MORAL—Do not underestimate the possibilities of your community, or fail to develop them. No city was ever made great by its people buying goods elsewhere.

D. M. CARR.

PUZZLED OVER CAT FIGHT.

Artist Couldn't Locate It Until He Happened to Think.

Everybody who is fond of pictures of tigers listening to birds sing and of cats sitting in the snow and looking at the moon, and the like, knows the artist of whom I am writing.

He is tall and broad of chest that few, to look at him, would have believed that he could have contracted such a cold. It was one of those colds which reached right down to the intercostal spaces.

He awoke the other night in his studio on the top of Carnegie hall, and he was sure that he heard far out on the roofs below the caterwauling of felines in nocturnal fray.

He had not seen a truly delectable cat fight in years, and in a moment he was at the window peering down upon the roofs for inspiration. He scanned the battleground up and down and there was not a cat in sight.

Hardly had he crept back into bed than he heard a long-drawn-out purr, then a snarl and muffled meows. The conflict had been shifted to beneath his bed.

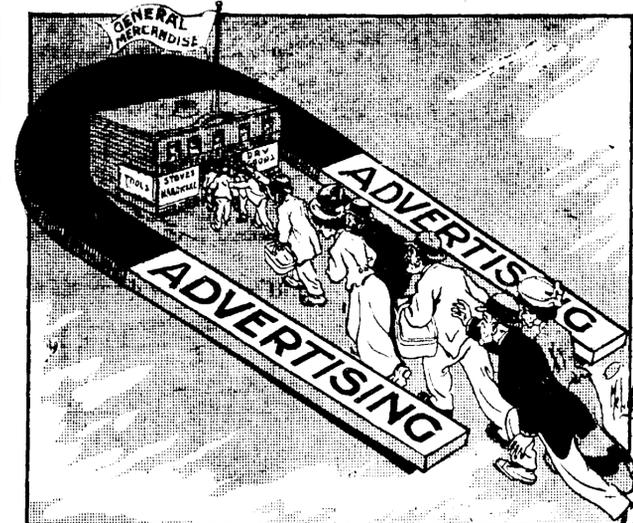

He was sure of it, and so certain that he got up and peered beneath it.

"It all came over me like a flash," the artist said in telling of his experience later. "I was listening to a cat fight in my own bronchials. I had forgotten that I had a cold."

Some of his friends say that he is absent-minded.—N. Y. Herald.

Two Items Omitted.

World's commerce is now $26,000,000,000. However, this does not include dukes imported and heiresses exported.

The advertising magnate will draw trade to the stores of our community just as the advertising of the catalogue houses is now drawing it away from the home store. The people are interested in the store news of this town. Will you not give it to them?

his great muscular power assisted to gain for himself a position as Chief Scrubber in a large store. He had not acquired the cigarette habit, and his faithfulness to his scrubbing brush, and his unwillingness to know all about his employer's business, soon attracted the attention of the Old Man, and at the end of a year he was promoted to Head Rustler in the shipping department at the large salary of eight dollars a week.

His disregard for scooting when the closing time came, and his total lack of swelled head so pleased the Old Man that from time to time the ambitious youth was advanced until at the end of six years he was drawing the biggest salary paid by the house, and soon he was taken in as a member of the firm. Age and hard knocks and brushes with the business world developed in him marked business acumen. He forged to the front as a financier and a public-spirited citizen. As years passed he prospered. Early and late he was ever looking after his vast business interests. There were times that he longed to be again in the small home town. Often in his youth he dreamed of some day being chairman of the village board. Only once since parting from the old home had he returned, and then to find the town just the same only a little more dilapidated, and in the weed-overgrown graveyard the neglected graves of his good parents.

GOLD IS NOT GOOD IN CHINA.

What Money Is Depends Upon the Locality, Says a Traveler.

"It is hard to define just what money is," said Representative Julius Kahn, of San Francisco, recently. "At best, it seems to be a relative term—that is, what passes for money in one part of the world is regarded with suspicion at some other place.

"Gold is supposed to be the one circulating medium that passes current everywhere, but it is not true. In the far east, for instance, the natives positively refuse to take anything but silver. Gold is not money to them and in Washington or New York or any of the cities along the Atlantic coast when I hand a man a ten dollar or $20 gold piece to change he looks upon me with suspicion. He almost says in so many words that he would rather not have it. But let me hand out a worn and dirty bill and he accepts it without looking at it.

"Out in California bills are still more or less of a curiosity and consi-quely the people are not accustomed to them. Go into a bank in San Francisco and tender a $50 bill for change. The chances are that the president of the bank and the entire staff of officials would be called into consultation as to its genuineness and I doubt if there is a store in the town where a bill would be accepted and changed offhand. We are all creatures of habit and custom rules the world after all.

"The silver coins in circulation in China," Mr. Kahn continued, "are objects of curiosity to foreigners. In China the coinage of money is let to private parties and the amount of silver in a coin depends largely on the personal honesty of the man in charge of the particular mint. On this account each coin as it passes around in circulation has to be stamped with the initials of the merchant last having it in his possession. The last man stamping the coin is held responsible for any shortage in weight in the coin. The result is that the coins from repeated stampings, resemble small wauzers and each one fits into the other when stacked up in a pile. I imagine that they might be useful for picnic purposes, but they are certainly inconvenient to carry around, as anyone can bear witness who has traveled through the flowery kingdom."

World's Submarine Cables.

The total length of submarine cables in the world is about 450,000 kilometers—279,622 miles, of which 60 per cent. are British, ten per cent. American, a little more than nine per cent. French, and about seven per cent. German. A great advance in this domain has been made during the last few years by Germany, whose efforts tend to constitute an independent system.—Memorial Diplomatique.

Only Road to Success.

If you want to succeed in the world you must make your own opportunities as you go on. You cannot commit greater folly than to sit by the roadside until some one comes along and invites you to ride with him to wealth or influence.—John B. Gough.

BACKACHE IS KIDNEYACHE.

Cure the Kidneys and the Pain Will Never Return.

Only one way to cure an aching back. Cure the cause, the kidneys.

Thousands tell of cures made by Down's Kidney Pills. John C. Coleman, a prominent merchant of Swainsboro, Ga., says: "For several years my kidneys were affected, and my back ached day and night. I was languid, nervous and lame in the morning. Down's Kidney Pills helped me right away, and the great relief that followed has been permanent." Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. Seven Billion Gallons of Milk. The 7,500,000,000 gallons of commercial milk annually consumed represents an enormous white river pouring across the U. S. in every direction and yet few people realize that it is fast becoming a veritable river Styx, for it is so disease laden that millions of people are day-by-day drinking disease in various forms from this greatest of disease-spreading agents. Chiefest among these diseases is Consumption. Health office reports show that 25% of the Dairy Cows have Bovine Tuberculosis and through the milk and meat are dealing out Consumption to the people at an alarming rate. An effective remedy is recently claimed in the simple feeding Rasawa in small doses to the cattle. The remedy is cheap and a few cents worth procured at any Drug Store will render a cow entirely immune is the claim made in a free booklet issued by The Mutual Mercantile Co., Cleveland, O. ## WENT IN A HURRY

MAN LITERALLY ROLLED OUT OF TROUBLE.

Old-Timer Tells of Tough Experience in a Western Texas Town Where the Country Was Wide Open.

The passing of gambling in Texas brought out reminiscences of the early days when the games were wide open in many of the towns of the state. Jess Fry of San Antonio, who was in the front during the construction of the Southern Pacific through the western part of Texas, tells this story.

"In 1884 I was railroad and express agent at a new station, which was then the end of the line of the Southern Pacific. This experience of mine happened on a monthly pay day. Every workman in camp had money. Most of them had the gambling fever, and leeches from all over the west were on hand to get their share of the dinero.

"On this particular day the most notorious of the professional gamblers in camp was like Winters, who had come over from Tombstone, Ariz. Along in the evening Winters and a few others started a poker game in a tent which was pitched just at the edge of a steep hill. When I got through with my duties as agent I went up to take a look at the game.

"I was invited to take a hand, and that being about the only way to pass away the time I sat in. The other players were sitting upon empty powder kegs and boxes, and I went to the commissary tent near by and got an empty flour barrel, which I used for a seat.

"The game progressed without incident for an hour or two, and then there occurred the biggest rumpus I was ever in. There were five or six players besides Winters. Among them was a half-breed Mexican who had come over from Mexico with a reputation as a killer.

"He was, like Winters, a professional gambler.

"The pot was a large one. The half-breed Mexican and Winters caught match hands. Both men claimed the pot. Each started to reach for it about the same instant, each drawing his gun with his right hand. They fired at each other simultaneously.

"That was only the beginning of the melee. The light was knocked out, and in the darkness the flash of pistols could be seen. I am old enough now to admit that I was scared.

"The first thought that occurred to me was that I must seek some place of safety. Why not crawl into the empty flour barrel? I got into the barrel all right, and was lying there trembling when one of the gamblers gave the barrel a kick to get it out of his way and sent it beneath the flap of the tent and away it went, rolling down that steep hill, with me inside of it.

"That hill was nearly half a mile long, and the barrel went tumbling down it, bumping over stones and crushing through the desert vegetation. Toward the end of the declivity it was going at a terrific speed.

"I suffered untold agony during that terrible ride. I could not get out. I was rolled over and over at the rate of a hundred times a second, it seemed to me. It happened that there were no nails protruding through the barrel. Had there been I would have been punctured full of holes.

The barrel finally came to a standstill and I crawled out. I was bruised all over, but managed to pull myself up the steep hill to the railroad station. I had escaped from the scene of the shooting, but I felt that I would probably have fared better had I remained there.

The shooting affair resulted in the killing of Winters, the half-breed Mexican and another gambler.—N. Y. Sun.

Medicine of Bamboo Sap.

In India the sap of the female bamboo is used for medicinal purposes. "Tabasheer," or "banslochan," is sold in all Indian bazars, as it has been known from the earliest times as a medicinal agent. It is also known in Borneo and was an article of commerce, with early Arab traders of the east. Its properties are said to be strengthening, tonic and cooling. It has been analyzed and has been shown to consist almost entirely of silica, with traces of lime and potash. From its remarkable occurrence in the hollows of bamboos the eastern mind has long associated it with medicinal powers.

A Promise.

"Reginald, what is this I hear about you having been engaged in a fight with our new neighbor's little boy?"
"Yes'm, I was."
"Now, I wish you to promise that you will never quarrel with him again; will you make me that promise?"
"Yes'm; he kin lick me."—Houston Post.

THE NEW INSURANCE AGENT.

He Comes in With the New Law—Paul Morton on His Opportunity.

The new insurance law of the State of New York has opened up a promising field for both men and women with brains and energy in the sale of life insurance. The law now provides standard forms of policies, each of which practically bears the hall mark of the State of New York, and this new order of things has established the sale of life insurance on a correct basis.

The prohibition against rebating and extravagant allowances to agents has driven out of the business the old type of insurance agent, who in many cases virtually bought business, with large rebates, instead of selling it. His place is being taken by professors, lawyers, school teachers of both sexes, and others, who find that being a life insurance agent under the new system offers greater reward than their previous vocations. The law has reduced commissions but all of the commission now goes to the agent. Life insurance is something that everyone needs and under the present system its sale is being conducted with becoming dignity and propriety.

Paul Morton, president of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, has taken the lead in building up an agency organization that is in keeping with the demands of public sentiment, and the standard he has set for his company. He says: "We want new agents, both men and women, but none except energetic, able and truthful people need apply. For such there is a splendid opportunity."

Mr. Morton's policy of injecting new and vigorous blood into the agency force of the Society is meeting with success in all parts of the country.

"Tainted Money" No New Thing.

"Nay, nay, nay!" said the archbishop, waving a white, jeweled hand as the chief began to divulge some of his larger plans. "Tell me not of thy wicked schemes! Thy methods I must condemn utterly, but if thou bringest me the money, well, I can at least see to it that it be not used for bad purposes. And speaking of money, we need for the walls of the apse a hundred bags of gold. Dost think thou couldst manage it?"

"Ay," said the Gentle Robber, and that night he despoiled nine men, killing three that resisted longest, for he was a great lover of holy church, and a devout believer, nor could he ask of him any service that he would not perform.—"The Gentle Robber," in McClure's.

Not So Long.

There was so much ceremony connected with a church cornerstone laying in New York city a few weeks ago that the moving picture machine felt warranted to take a couple of miles of photographs.

These pictures proved to be very good, and large crowds were delighted with the exact reproduction of the dedicatory exercises.

"I like the moving pictures better than I did the original service," confessed a prominent member of the congregation.

"You do," gasped a devout elder. "I'm surely pained to hear you say so. Why should you prefer the pictures?"

"Because the picture man," answered the prominent member, pleasantly, "cut out all the sermons."

All Misfortune.

"Pop," said Farmer Korntop's little boy, "what does it mean when you say 'misfortunes never come singly'?"

"Wal," replied Farmer Korntop, "that's just about the truth. First comes a wet spell that'll spile the tomatoes an' then comes a dry spell that spiles everything else."

DR. TALKS OF FOOD

Pres. of Board of Health.

"What shall I eat?" is the daily inquiry the physician is met with. I do not hesitate to say that in my judgment, a large percentage of disease is caused by poorly selected and improperly prepared food. My personal experience with the fully-cooked food, known as Grape-Nuts, enables me to speak freely of its merits.

"From overwork, I suffered several years with malnutrition, palpitation of the heart, and loss of sleep. Last summer I was led to experiment personally with the new food, which I used in conjunction with good rich cow's milk. In a short time after I commenced its use, the disagreeable symptoms disappeared, my heart's action became steady and normal, the functions of the stomach were properly carried out and I again slept as soundly and as well as in my youth.

"I look upon Grape-Nuts as a perfect food, and no one can gainsay but that it has a most prominent place in a rational, scientific system of feeding. Any one who uses this food will soon be convinced of the soundness of the principle upon which it is manufactured and may thereby know the facts as to its true worth." ### "Whiskers."

"Whiskers" was a word formerly used to designate the hair on the upper lip. Scott more than once speaks of "whiskers on the upper lip" and so does Defoe in "Robinson Crusoe." Johnson defined a "whisker" as the hair growing on the upper lip or cheek unshaven; a mustachio. It seems to have taken its name from a fancied resemblance to a small brush, to "whisk" properly meaning to sweep, and a "whisker" having been a particular kind of feather brush—also, in the slang of a former time, a switch or rod. In the seventeenth century a "whisker" signified among other things a brazen lie, a "whopper."

BABY ITCHED TERRIBLY.

Face and Neck Covered with Inflamed Skin—Doctors No Avail—Cured by Cuticura Remedies.

"My baby's face and neck were covered with itching skin similar to eczema, and she suffered terribly for over a year. I took her to a number of doctors, and also to different colleges, to no avail. Then Cuticura Remedies were recommended to me by Miss G—. I did not use it at first, as I had tried so many other remedies without any favorable results. At last I tried Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Resolvent Pills, and to my surprise noticed an improvement. After using three boxes of the Cuticura Ointment, together with the Soap and Pills, I am pleased to say she is altogether a different child and the picture of health. Mrs. A. C. Brestlin, 171 N. Lincoln St., Chicago, Ill., Oct. 20 and 30, 1906."

An Old Time Alderman.

Several patrons of the restaurant at Broadway and Tenth street were lunching there a few days ago, seated at a table between the corner windows on the second floor which commanded a fine view down Broadway, which makes a sharp turn at Tenth street. Said one of them: "Do you know that this bend in Broadway was made in order to save a tree? Well, it was. As originally planned, Broadway would have cut a slice off the lawn of Hendrik Brevoort, who ran a tavern in the Dutch farmhouse which stood where Grace church now is. He was an alderman, like many of his profession today, and not only succeeded in saving the magnificent tree in the shade of which his customers lingered over their pipes to watch the traffic on Bloomingdale road, but about 1840 also prevented the opening of Eleventh street from Fourth avenue to Broadway, which would have necessitated the tearing down of his tavern."—New York Sun.

The Madrigal.

The word madrigal sounds very formidable to a beginner in music. More than once have I heard the question, "What is a madrigal?" Strictly speaking, a madrigal is an elaborate vocal composition in from three to six parts, generally sung in chorus. The melody should not be carried through a single part, but should be dispersed in phrases through the different voices in the conversational manner peculiar to the music of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries. The true madrigal has no accompaniment. This form of song is considered English, but is thought to have had its origin in the Netherlands. The exact derivation of the word is not known. The first madrigals are believed to have been morning songs, shepherds' lays or songs in praise of the Virgin.—Cirelo Magazine.

Granite, the Bedrock of the Earth.

Granite is the bedrock of the world. It is the lowest rock in the earth's crust and shows no signs of animal life. It is from two to ten times as thick as all the other layers of rocks combined. No evidences of life of either animal or vegetable are apparent in granite. The presence of lime is due to animal life. Some scientists assert that all the lime in the world has at some time been a part of some animal. This includes human beings.

No Apology Needed.

"I hope our running the graphophone last night didn't annoy you," said the renter of the third floor flat.

"What?" responded the new renter of the fourth floor flat, producing an ear trumpet.

"I say it's a fine morning!" bellowed the other into the trumpet.—Chicago Tribune.

A Portrait of Wordsworth.

One of Charles Lamb's friends said to him that he had never seen Wordsworth.

"Why, you've seen an old horse, haven't you?" asked Charles Lamb.

"Yes, I suppose so."
"Then you've seen Wordsworth?"
Pall Mall Gazette.

Her Dear Friend.

Clara—I wish I could believe what he says, but—Maud—What does he say? Clara—Why, he says he loves me, and he has known me only two days. Maud—Well, perhaps that's the reason. Philadelphia Inquirer.

The U. of M. will in the future look after the literary education of her medics as well as their ability to carve the human anatomy. Beginning with 1909 that department of the University will require six years' work for graduation, two years in the Literary Department and four in the Medical School.

M. E. Church Notes.

The memorial service was attended by a full house of interested people Sunday morning and the pastor gave as stirring and address as will be listened to anywhere in the state. There were fifteen old soldiers present and each was presented with a button-hole bouquet arranged by Mesdames C. E. Henry and H. M. Williston. The music was very appropriate and was furnished by the W. I. C.

The Sunday school report showed an attendance of 120 and collection of $2.90.

The church was crowded in the evening to attend the union temperance meeting. The music was furnished by Miss Hazel Johnson, pianist, Miss Lola Moran and Miss Ida Burchiel, each singing solos, and the male quartette, Messrs. Gates, Swarthout, Nixon and Gaul. The addresses by Revs. Gates and Littlejohn were stirring and to the point. A severe storm threatened during the meeting which frightened the people and several left the room to look after teams and open windows.

Passed Both Houses.

Bill number 538, "A bill to protect fish in that part of Big Portage Lake lying in Washtenaw county and to protect fish in Little Portage Lake in Washtenaw county, and to regulate the spearing of ciscoes and carp in said Little Portage Lake"; has passed both houses and will take immediate effect. Rep. Farmer succeeded in having the part of the big lake lying in Livingston county exempt from above.

Casasweet for babies is the best remedy for colic, summer complaint, diarrhoea and sour stomach. It is especially good in cases of teething when irritation affects the stomach and intestines. Casasweet is a pleasant, safe remedy, containing neither opiates nor narcotics; all the ingredients are painted plainly on the wrapper. Endorsed by mothers because it acts so quickly.
