Commencement Week.

Next week is commencement week in the school here and the week will be well taken up. The following are the dates of these different days:

Sunday evening at the M. E. Church the baccalaureate address will be given by Rev. D. C. Littlejohn.

Monday evening, June 17, occurs the annual exercises at the opera house and of course everyone for miles around will attend. The program will be found in another place in this issue.

Tuesday the annual exhibit will take place in the upper rooms. This part of commencement week has been very interesting for several years and this year it will evidently be the best ever held. Be sure you take the time to go and see what has been accomplished by the pupils in the grade the past year.

Friday will be promotion day and of course the pupils will be interested in that.

Friday evening the Alumni will have a social gathering at the High school rooms. Invitations have been sent out and it is hoped that there may be a good attendance. There will be a program of music, toasts, etc.

This will close a very successful school year and the teachers and pupils have worked hard. Encourage them in their endeavors by attending their different exercises.

LOCAL NEWS.

Stockbridge will celebrate July 4. Tomorrow, June 14, is Flag day. Everybody get out your flag.

The excursion from Detroit to Jackson, brought many visitors to this village.

July 2 is the date set for the dedication of the Bunkerhill Catholic Church.

Miss Winter and wife of Penton were the guests of their daughter, Mrs. H. Gillette over Sunday.

Mrs. John Schenk and daughter, Alma, of Chelsea were guests of her sister Mrs. J. A. Cadwell over Sunday.

Teachers examinations at Howell next week Thursday and Friday, June 20-21. Many from here are to attend.

The Church workers of the Cong'l church will serve supper in the Maccafee dining hall Wednesday, June 19th, from 5 until all are served. Everyone invited.

The Chelsea stove company are erecting a water tower to be 120 feet high for their own protection. In the tower will be placed a fine clock that can be seen all over the town.

Workmen while driving a well for the water works plant of Chelsea struck a flowing well at 21 feet deep and flows 300 barrels per hour. It comes through 15 feet of gravel, so is pure.

Miss Ida Burchiel gave a party to several of her young lady friends Thursday evening last, the occasion being her eighteenth birthday. The evening was spent in games and a dainty lunch was served.

Walter and Clair Reason have been doing a good business in the fishing business the past week, having caught and sold several hundred small sunfish and roach. They seem to have the knack of catching 'em.

Through the kindness of Miss Mildred Anna Kuhn, we have an invitation to attend the commencement exercises of St. Mary's school of Monroe, Michigan, which occurs on the afternoon of Thursday, June 20.

Mr. Kerwin of Preston, Iowa, is visiting relatives here.

C. A. Parshall and wife of Howell were the guests of their daughter, Mrs. H. Gillette over Sunday.

Mrs. John Schenk and daughter, Alma, of Chelsea were guests of her sister Mrs. J. A. Cadwell over Sunday.

Chas. Eldert was in Detroit last Wednesday.

A little more like spring for a day or two this week.

Quite a thunder storm visited this place Monday evening.

Mrs. Louis Boucher returned to her home on Grosse Isle, Saturday.

Willie Jones of Detroit spent Sunday with his uncle, Perry Blunt.

Circuit court is in session at Howell this week but no jury was drawn.

John Mortenson of Toledo spent Sunday with his parents and other relatives here.

Ann Arbor is to have a cement brick factory that will turn out 12,000 brick per day.

Miss Hazel Johnson has been engaged as organist in the Cong'l church for the coming year.

F. M. Peters has been at the sanitarium the past week. We are glad to state that he is on the gain.

Prosecuting attorney, James A. Green and wife of Howell were guests of her parents here the first of the week.

Mrs. W. G. Stephens of Northville and sister, Miss Dunbar, of Canada, were guests of Mrs. F. G. Jackson over Sunday.

Mrs. E. W. Mann and son Erwin, Mrs. S. P. Young and daughter, Grace of Detroit were guests of relatives here Sunday.

Miss Mame Brady closed a very successful term of school Friday in the Harris District. The pupils presented her with a beautiful gift.

Small fruits, strawberries, etc. will be from fifteen to twenty days late this season, and we do not expect to hear many, crowing over their eating new potatoes from their own garden before the Fourth.

Raymond Sigler and family, who have been in Ann Arbor the past year where Mr. S. has been attending college, have returned for the summer and he will have charge of the ice cream parlors.

Word was received here Tuesday of the death of Miss Euphemia E. Turner, daughter of Thos. Turner, of Stirling, Neb. She passed away June 5, 1907. The funeral was held from the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Atha, of Stirling.

We are sorry to state that Carter, the little six year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Brown, east of this village, will lose the sight of one eye as the result of being struck with the end of a wire over two weeks ago. All has been done that could be to save the sight but no hopes are held out.

The spring term of school at Chubbis Corners taught by Miss Veronica Fohey, closed last week. Ice cream and candy was given the pupils and prizes for correct spelling to Misses Kitney Allison and Lizzie Harris. Norman Peole carried off the prize for attendance and punctuality.

The bill by Senator Tuttle of Ingham county if it becomes a law will make it easy for country students to attend the high school. It has already passed the house and provides that school districts in which there are no high schools shall pay the tuition of pupils from that district while completing their education in the high school of another district. It is also provided that the district may arrange to furnish transportation to and from schools and spread the amount of expence on the tax roll.

M. E. Church Notes.

Although there was not a large crowd present as usual Sunday morning there was over 100 who listened to an excellent sermon by the pastor and 104 remained in Sunday school.

The school is making arrangements for their usual big time on Children's day, next Sunday. A excellent program is being arranged by the children and all are invited to come out and enjoy the entertainment.

In the evening the pastor will deliver the baccalaureate address before the graduating class.

Come and by your presence assist in the good work.

Cong'l Church Notes

Last Sunday was an ideal day for children's exercises. Everyone seemed to be happy and did their best to make it a success. One could not claim more credit than another, all did so well. The church was beautifully decorated.

The Thursday evening meetings are well attended and much interest is shown.

The missionary meeting at Mrs. Read's was both pleasant and profitable.

HARRY ORCHARD CONFESSES TO CHAIN OF AWFUL CRIMES

Slayer of Gov. Steunenberg Takes Stand in Haywood Trial and Relates Bloody Tale—Alleges Miners' Leaders Were Instigators.

VICTIMS MARKED FOR DEATH AT ORCHARD'S HANDS.

FRED BRADLEY, retired mine official, San Francisco; blown half way across street and maimed for life by bomb concealed by Orchard under doorstep; also object of poison plot. Motive, revenge.

SHERMAN BELL, adjutant-general of Colorado national guard, Denver; waylaid by Orchard and other assassins who sought his life; escaped. Motive, revenge for activity in putting down strike lawlessness.

JUSTICE GABBERT of Supreme court of Colorado, Denver; bomb placed in his pathway exploded by another man, who was blown to pieces. Motive, decisions against Moyer.

GOV. PEABODY of Colorado, Denver; bomb placed in front of his home to kill him by Orchard failed to explode by accident. Motive, upholding law in strikes.

DAVID MOFFATT, president of First National bank of Denver; Adams and Orchard tracked him with guns, but he escaped. Motive, supposed activity on side of mine owners.

JUDGE GODDARD, Denver. Motive, declared eight-hour bill unconstitutional.

FRANK STEUNENBERG, former governor of Idaho; Caldwell. Blown to pieces by bomb placed at gate of home by Orchard.

Boise, Idaho.—Alfred Horsley, alias Harry Orchard, the actual assassin of Frank Steunenberg, went on the stand Wednesday as a witness against William D. Haywood, and made public confession of a long chain of brutal, revolting crimes, done, he said, at the inspiration and for the pay of the leaders of the Western Federation of Miners.

An undertaking by the special prosecutors for the state that they would, by later proof and connection, legitimize his testimony opened the way like a floodgate to the whole diabolical story and throughout the entire day Orchard went on from crime recital to crime recital, each succeeding one seemingly more revolting than those that had come before.

Tells of Revolting Crimes.

Orchard confessed that as a member of the mob that wrecked the Bunker Hill and Sullivan mill in the Coeur d'Alenes he lighted one of the fuses that carried fire to the giant explosion; confessed that he set the death trap in the Vindicator mine at Cripple Creek that blew out the lives of Superintendent McCormick and Foreman Beck; confessed that because he had not been paid for his first attempt at violence in the Vindicator mine he had been treacherous to his associates by warning the managers of the Florence & Cripple Creek railway that there was a plot to blow up their trains; confessed that he cruelly fired three charges of buckshot into the body of Detective Lyte Gregory, of Denver, killing him instantly; confessed that for days he stalked Gov. Peabody about Denver, waiting a chance to kill him; confessed that he and Steve Adams set and discharged the mine under the spot at Independence that instantly killed 14 men, and confessed that, failing in an attempt to poison Fred Bradley, of San Francisco, he blew him and his house up with a bomb of gelatin.

And he has more brutal crimes to tell that will bring his bloody career down to its end at Caldwell, where with a great bomb he killed Gov. Steunenberg. These will come Thursday, for he is to resume the stand when the district court sits again.

Crowd Sickened by Recital.

The story was told to a tense, nervous, rigid crowd that watched with staring eyes for every move and word of the confessing witness; a crowd that was sickened and weary of its disgusting details long before James H. Hawley, pleading illness of himself at three o'clock in the afternoon, secured adjournment for the day.

Orchard retained control of himself almost from the moment he took the stand, and if he suffered much he did not show it. His eyes met those of Haywood several times and the two gazed fixedly at each other.

There were a few preliminaries as to Horsley's birthplace and real name and his first days in the North Idaho cessful attempt at the Vindicator mine country, and then Hawley led him down to the destruction of the Bunker Hill and Sullivan mine. Horsley said that W. F. Davis, later the president of the union of the Western Federation of Miners at Cripple Creek, had command of the mob. He told of the seizure of the train, the theft of the giant powder, the attack upon the mines, and concluding, said: "I lit one of the fuses myself."

Destruction of Vindicator Mine.

Horsley then told of his flight into Montana and of various journeys in the western country until he turned up in Cripple Creek in 1902, went to work in the mines and joined the Western Federation of Miners again. The witness told of the plot to blow up the Vindicator mine. He confessed that after the strike began he went down into the mine "high grading," and there discovered a quantity of powder. He reported this to Davis, and there, he said, began the plot to do violence in the mine. He said the first attempt was a failure because the cage man discovered him and his pal and drew their fire, but later a contrivance was successfully fixed by which a discharged pistol set off a bomb and killed Superintendent McCormick and Foreman Beck. Five hundred dollars, he said, was the reward for the murderer.

Then came the journey to Denver, where the witness said he met Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone and entered their employ as assassin. He swore that Haywood paid him $300 for blowing up the Vindicator mine. Next came the making of two bombs that were tossed into the coal heap at the Vindicator mine, but were never heard from again, and then a digression to confess that before the such he had informed the railway management of a plot to blow up its trains carrying nonunion men. Next the prisoner related how he journeyed to southern Colorado as a guard to Moyer.

After the noon recess the witness told of his journey with Moyer and his return to Denver, where it was suggested, he said, that he kill Gov. Peabody. He said he picked Steve Adams to aid him, and together they stalked the governor between the capitol building and his home, trying for a shot at him with cut-off shotguns.

Next came a plot to dynamite Peabody, and Horsley said they made a bomb, but gave the plan up at the suggestion of Haywood, who was in fear that they would all be arrested. He said he and Adams were told to lay off for a time, but meantime Pettibone suggested that they kill Lyte Gregory, who had been a deputy sheriff and had given testimony against some of the members of the federation.

Orchard Ends Gory Tale.

Boise, Idaho.—Harry Orchard craved his admissions of grave crimes Thursday when, continuing his testimony against William D. Haywood, he made an explicitly detailed INTERESTING POINTS OF ORCHARD'S STORY.

Haywood told me the blowing up of the (Vindicator) mine was a fine piece of work. Moyer gave me $200 and Haywood paid me $300 for blowing up the mine.

Haywood and Moyer both told me I could not get too fierce to suit them—to go ahead and blow up everything I could think of—to get some of the soldiers if possible.

Moyer and Pettibone wanted to know if I could not work up some scheme to assassinate Governor Peabody of Colorado.

Haywood thought Steve Adams was the best man for the work. Pettibone gave us some sawed-off shotguns and shells loaded with buckshot. We kept after Peabody for three weeks, when Haywood told me to lay off for awhile.

Haywood, Pettibone and Shupkins then wanted something pulled off at Cripple Creek. We planned to blow up the Independence depot. The depot was wrecked and twelve or fourteen men killed. The next day Pettibone gave me $300. Adams told me he got $200.

confession of the murder of Frank Steunenberg by an infernal machine that directly opens the way for his own conviction and execution.

He swore that the assassination of Steunenberg was first suggested by Haywood, was jointly plotted by Haywood, Moyer, Pettibone and himself, was financed by Haywood and was executed by himself after the failure of an attempt in which Jack Simpkins had participated.

Orchard lifted the total of his own murdered victims to 18, and detailed the circumstances under which he tried to murder former Gov. Peabody, Judge Goddard, Judge Gabbert, Gen. Sherman Bell, Dave Moffat and Frank Herne. Incidentally, he confessed to a plan to kidnap the child of one of his former associates.

Under cross-examination by the defense Orchard confessed guilt of the sordid social crimes of deserting his young child and wife in Ontario, fleeing to British Columbia with Hattie Simpson, the wife of another man, and committing bigamy by marrying a third woman at Cripple Creek.

Orchard's Story Unshaken.

Boise, Idaho.—Counsel for William D. Haywood continued their attack on the testimony of Harry Orchard at both sessions of the trial Friday, and centered their strongest assault on the events beginning with the explosion in the Vindicator mine and ending with the earlier meetings between the witness and the leaders of the Federation of Miners in Denver. To the extent that traffic with "the other side" in the war of labor and capital in Colorado was discreditable they succeeded in discrediting the witness.

Orchard stood the test and strain very well and held tenaciously to the story he related Wednesday and Thursday.

More crimes, great and small, were added to Orchard's record Friday. The Cripple Creek woman with whom he committed bigamy had three sons; Orchard stole high-grade ore from a mesquite; he stole two cases of powder from the Vindicator mine; he stole powder to make one of the bombs thrown into the Vindicator coal pit, and he told a lie.

WON FURLOUGH FOR JEEMS.

Artless Appeal That Touched the Heart of Jefferson Davis.

Humor lightens everything, even grim war. Jefferson Davis, with all the weight of a losing cause on his shoulders, could yet spare time to appreciate and respond to an artless appeal. The incident is related by Capt. Sutherland. Among the numerous papers received by the confederate president, the following turned up one day:

"Dear Mr. President—I want you to let Jeems C. of Co. onth, 5th South Carolina Regiment, come home and get married. Jeems is willin', but Jeems Capt'n he ain't willin'. Now when we all are willin' 'cept Jeems Capt'n, I think you might let up and let Jeems come. I'll make him go straight back when he's done got married and fight hard as ever.

"Your affectionate friend," and so forth.

Mrs. Davis, telling the story, adds that Mr. Davis wrote his directions in regard to the matter on the back of the letter. They were:

"Let Jeems go."—Youth's Companion.

Corporations Oust Miners.

The Klondike proper—that is, that portion of the Yukon territory in the vicinity of Dawson—as far as the individual miner is concerned, is on a rapid decline owing to the immense area of ground being acquired by dredging companies. One company alone has purchased nearly all the placer ground on the three principal creeks, namely: Bonanza, Eldorado and Hunker, and has banded considerably more on Dominion and other creeks for various reasons. Where formerly hundreds of miners were working for wages or working their own ground, thus creating a demand for provisions, clothing, machinery, hardware, etc., and the transportation from Dawson to the different mining operations, now dredges are either operating or in course of construction.—Consular Reports.

The World's Dairy the Parent of Consumption.

This is the argument put forward by scientists to-day, and is causing no little alarm, because practically all the leading men who have made the subject a careful study and test are united on the statement and agree that a great per cent. of all cattle in the U. S. have Bobine Tuberculosis. In Denmark 50% of all Cattle are infected. Recently The Mutual Mercantile Co., Cleveland, O., have issued a free booklet showing how it is wrong to kill so many thousands of our Dairy Cows when a few cents worth of Rasawa purchased at any Drug Store will positively prevent Tuberculosis. The claim is made that it is a germicide and renders the cow immune. Ask your dealer or the above company for a free book.

AFRAID OF PARALYSIS

A NERVOUS SUFFERER CURED BY DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS.

The Medicine That Makes Rich, Red Blood and Performs Wonders as a Tonic for the Nerves.

Why are nervous people invariably pale people?

The answer to that question explains why a remedy that acts on the blood can cure nervous troubles.

It explains why Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are also for nervous people.

It is because of the intimate relation between the red corpuscles in the blood and the health of the nerves. The nervous system receives its nourishment through the blood. Let the blood become thin, weak and colorless and the nerves are starved—the victim is started on the road that leads to nervous wreck. Nervous people are pale people—but the pallor comes first. Enrich the blood and the nerves are stimulated and toned up to do their part of the work of the body. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make red blood and transform nervous, irritable, ailing people into strong, energetic, forceful men and women.

Mrs. Harriet E. Porter, of 20 Liberty Avenue, South Medford, Mass., says:

"I had never been well from childhood and a few years ago I began to have dizzy spells. At such times I could not walk straight. I was afraid of paralysis and was on the verge of nervous prostration. Then neuralgia set in and affected the side of my face. The pains in my forehead were excruciating and my heart pained me so that my doctor feared neuralgia of the heart. I tried several different kinds of treatment but they did me no good.

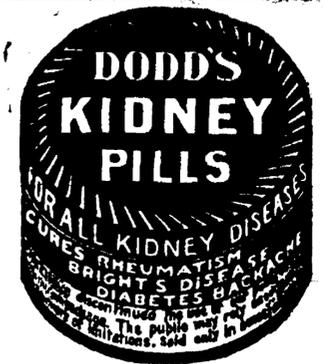

"One day my son brought me some of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I found that they strengthened my nerves. I took several boxes and felt better in every way. There were no more dizzy attacks, the neuralgia left me and I have been a well woman ever since."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are invaluable in anemia, rheumatism, after-effects of the grip and fevers and in sick headaches, nervousness, neuralgia, and even partial paralysis and locomotor ataxia.

Our booklet "Nervous Disorders, a Method of Home Treatment" will be sent free on request to anyone interested. Write for it today.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

We should do everything we can for others, if only to dissipate the thought of what they omit to do for us.—Madame Swetchine.

For medicinal purposes, the only medicine that is both safe and effective, and is held by all druggists or sent by postpaid for the same amount. JAS. H. HULL, Mfr., Reading, Pa.

DAISY FLY KILLER

DEFIANCE STARCH—16 ounces in other packages only. "DEFIANCE" is SUPERIOR.

The Finckney Dispatch

F. L. ANDREWS & CO. PROPRIETOR

THURSDAY, JUNE 18, 1907.

We are told that milk containing more than one-half million of bacteria to the gallon is not safe. Well, we should say not, unless bacteria in milk, like microbes in cheese, are necessary to excellence.

Remarkable Rescue.

The truth is stranger than fiction, has once more been demonstrated in the little town of Fedora, Tenn., the residence of C. V. Pepper. He writes: "I was in bed, entirely disabled with hemorrhages of the lungs and throat. Doctors failed to help me, and all hope had fled when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery. Then instant relief came. The coughing soon ceased; the bleeding diminished rapidly, and in three weeks I was able to go to work." Guaranteed cure for coughs and colds. 50c. and $1. at F. A. Sigler's Drug store. Trial bottle free.

Only a short time ago the Thaw trial in New York drew the eyes of the world that way and kept the newspaper reporters busy. Now there is fully as great a trial going on at Boise, Idaho, and the world is looking that way and will for some time to come.

The Magic No. 3.

Number three is a wonderful mascot for Geo. H. Harris, of Cedar Grove, Me., according to a letter which reads: "After suffering much with liver and kidney trouble, and becoming greatly discouraged by the failure to find relief, I tried Electric Bitters, and as a result I am a well man to-day. The first bottle relieved and three bottles completed the cure." Guaranteed best on earth for stomach, liver and kidney troubles, by F. A. Sigler, Druggist. 50c.

It looks as if Rev. Dr. Long, the Nature writer, may keep on insisting on further remarks from Mr. Roosevelt until he brings down on himself something like that letter to the Labor delegation. Mr. Roosevelt takes plenty of time in which to make his replies but when he does they are usually all that was asked for. However, Mr. Long is a literary not a political issue.

There is no case of indigestion, no matter how irritable or how obstinate that will not be speedily relieved by the use of Kodol. The main factor in curing the stomach of any disorder is rest, and the only way to get rest is to actually digest the food for the stomach itself. Kodol will do it. It is a scientific preparation of vegetable acids containing the very same juice found in a healthy stomach. It conforms to the Pure Food and Drugs Law.

Sold by F. A. Sigler, Druggist.

Excellent provision has been made at the State Fair for dining halls and lunch booths right near the main buildings, where the many thousands may find ample facilities for luncheon. Two large and airy dining halls provided by the society will be operated by experienced parties who have leased the buildings. Several religious orders will maintain restaurants, so there will be on the whole convenient and unnecessary for visitors to bring their lunches with them.

The Agricultural college will present an interesting exhibit showing the different methods of packing apples and pears. This demonstration will prove helpful and instructive to many Michigan farmers and fruit growers.

A Fortunate Texan.

Mr. E. W. Goodloe, of 107 St. Louis St., Dallas, Tex. says: "In the past year I have become acquainted with Dr. King's New Life Pills, and no laxative I ever before tried so effectually disposes of malaria and biliousness. They don't grind or gripe. 25c. at F. A. Sigler's drug store."

Jackson Chautauque.

Jackson is to have a Chautauque Assembly this season, June 27 to July 7, and it promises to be a big affair and one of unusual interest to people in this section. The program is one of exceptional strength and is certainly one of the best ever presented by any Assembly. It is well balanced, instruction and entertainment being so arranged as to produce a most harmonious effect. It is broad in its scope, embracing science, history, literature, art music and popular events and live questions of the day. Interspersed throughout the program are features of entertainment of an especially high character that furnish a delightful relaxation and an agreeable respite from the heavier numbers. It would be difficult to pick out any one day as being superior to all the rest. There is not a dull moment; the program is continuous from 9:30 a. m. until 10:00 p. m. There is really not a feature on the program that anyone can afford to miss.

The talent includes many persons of national and international reputation. Among the most prominent speakers, educators and entertainers on the program are: Judge Brown of the Juvenile court of Salt Lake City, Senator Dolliver of Iowa, Sen Tillman of South Carolina, Fr. L. J. Vaughan, Mrs. Florence Maybrick, Dr. Wm. A. Colledge, Gibeon Carl, characterist, Charles Pierce Burton, Rounds' Ladies' Orchestra, the Harmonia Ladies' Quartet, Dr. Benjamin F. Aldrich, Belle and Walter Squire, Mrs. Eleanor Bingham, lectures on art; Dr. Stanley L. Kerbs, psychologist; Ralph Bingham, humorist; Manion C. Peters, Herbert Leon Cope, humorous lecturer; Dixie Colored Jubilee Singers with plantation melodies and old-time jubilee songs, Rev. Fred V. Hawley, D. M. Hazlett, stereopticon lecturer and Miss Eda McCollister with her Seton Indian Games for boys and girls.

There are many other splendid attractions and the wonder is how so much as the Jackson Chautauque offers can be furnished for so little cost to patrons.

Season tickets for adults, which permits the owner to go in and out of the grounds at will any time during the session of eleven days, may be had, if purchased prior to the opening day, at $1.50 each for adults and 75 cents for children. Later, season tickets will cost $2.00 for adults and $1.00 for children. Single admission tickets are 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for children eight to fourteen. Children under eight free. Season tickets may be reserved by mail or telephone.

July 4th is to be made a special patriotic day and celebrated in a manner entirely different than the usual custom.

Special rates will be made on the railroads, with an extra special rate for parties of ten or more and a grand special rate for July 4. The agent should be consulted for particulars.

A very neat little booklet containing the program, complete, and detailed information has been issued by the management, which may be had by addressing Chautauque Assembly, Jackson, Michigan.

MICHIGAN STATE FAIR

Held in Detroit Aug. 29 to Sept. 6

$10,000 ADDED TO PREMIUMS

Determined Effort to Make It the Best Ever Held in Michigan and in Many Respects Superior to the Great Toronto Exposition.

Visitors to the State Fair, held under the auspices of the Michigan State Agricultural society at Detroit, August 29 to September 6, will witness an industrial exhibition that will surpass in many respects the famous Toronto exposition. As a matter of fact both in attendance, the value of the exhibits, and the premiums offered, the State Fair has grown into an annual exposition that has attained no little fame far beyond the boundaries of the state.

One of the most important factors that has entered into the upbuilding of the fair is the perfect harmony existing between the officers of the Agricultural society. President Fred Postal, former senator, A. J. Doherty, Secretary I. H. Butterfield, Treasurer John McKay, and Business Manager Chas. A. Floyd, have worked early and late for the success of the 1907 exhibition, and the wonderful improvements made in the buildings, grounds, transportation facilities, premium lists, and extra attractions are mute testimonials to their efforts. The experience Mr. Doherty gained as chairman of the finance committee last year has proved invaluable to him as general superintendent. He knows the fair's shortcomings and has evolved plans that will overcome them as rapidly as possible.

It has been determined to add $10,000 of the appropriation made by the state legislature to aid the fair to the premium lists. This will make the awards given exhibitors by far the most liberal in the history of the state. In addition new classes have been added in the cattle, horse, sheep, and swine departments. Secretary Butterfield will begin the work of mailing the premium lists to farmers, stock growers, and former exhibitors about June 1.

An improvement this year that will appeal to every exhibitor is the adding of three sidetracks to the railroad facilities within the grounds. Negotiations are now on with the Grand Trunk railroad for the installation of the new sidings, and the improvement will almost triple the capacity of the fair yards.

The fair of 1906 was handicapped to a great extent through several buildings being completed only a day or two before the gates were opened. In many instances unfinished sidewalks, and rough interiors greeted the visitor, but this has all been changed and the grounds undergone a complete transformation. Under the direction of L. R. Taft, of the Michigan Agricultural college, a landscape gardener has laid out new walks, and arranged to turn the north end of the grounds into a rest spot. Heretofore it has been used by the horsemen and contained tumble down sheds. The beautifying of this spot will remove the only unsightly feature on the many acres devoted to State Fair purposes. By mid-summer a superb collection of shrubs will be at their best while lawns that were seeded a year ago will be covered with a carpet of heavy grass.

"Something doing every minute," has been the motto of Business Manager Floyd in arranging the attractions to be seen from the grand stand at night and between races during the afternoon program. Mr. Floyd has contracted for almost every form of entertainment known to the amusement world, and also for several special features that have never been seen outside of New York and Chicago. His program as arranged includes: High diving, deep sea diving, gymnastic work on apparatus, tumbling, tight rope walking, trained animals, exciting cowboy races, and wild west scenes. He is at present endeavoring to arrange for a genuine western village to be shown on the grounds. If he is successful in completing arrangements tiny Indian papooses can be seen as they stare unblinkingly from the narrow framework strapped to their mother's back. War dances will be given in full Indian regalia every afternoon and evening, and among the relics of the old western days shown will be a stage coach that has been riddled with bullets time and again while crossing the plains. A special feature will be made of the Indian museum, lecturers being present to explain the history and significance of every article shown.

Every visitor will be interested in the ostrich farm. Between 50 and 30 birds will be shown, in addition to over a score of "chicks" that are far larger than a good-sized hen. The details of ostrich farming will be gone into thoroughly while a collection of magnificent feathers will be on exhibition. Several of the mammoth birds have been trained to draw sulkeys and will be seen upon the race track.

The fair management has determined that no criticism can be made this year of the various entertainments granted the privileges of the fair grounds. Every show must be absolutely moral in tone, and fulfill every representation of what is to be seen inside the tents.

Dairymen who visit the state fair will have an opportunity of seeing a milking machine in actual operation. Gov. Warner is the owner of the only milking machine in the state in addition to the one that will be shown at the fair. They are mechanical contrivances that show the constant effort inventors are making to reduce the cost of production in the dairy and butter business.

The educational department of the fair is under the personal supervision of George B. Horton, of Fruit Ridge, president of the Michigan State Grange. Mr. Horton has placed a large share of the detail work in the hands of Thomas M. Sattler, superintendent of the Jackson county schools. The work has become one of Mr. Sattler's hobbies, and in a letter to President Postal he recently declared, "that he would fill every inch of exhibition space allowed him."

Liberal prizes will be given for the best examples of graded school work. Specimens will be shown embracing what is accomplished throughout the state by classes in manual training, forestry, domestic science, drawing, clay modeling and painting. Mrs. Belle F. Clark, of Denton, will have active charge of the needlework department, and has already asked that she be allowed twice the amount of space given to the needlework exhibition last year.

C. A. Tyler, of Nottawa, secretary-treasurer of the American Hampshire Sheep Association, and also secretary of the State Livestock Sanitary Commission, will again superintend the exhibit of cattle. In furtherance of the determination of the state fair officials to increase the premiums paid to Michigan bred cattle from time to time, the "home bred" classes will be treated with unusual liberality this year. A class has been added for Ayrshire cattle, and a special prize will be offered for dairy short horns. The American Short Horn Breeders' Association prize of $200 will be increased to $400 by the society. This amount will be given in addition to the regular premiums offered for American short horns.

The special dairy prize of $100 given last year for economical dairy production will be continued this year. This prize is open to all breeds. Tests will be made for three days by the State Dairy and Food Department based on cost per unit of the total product.

The horse department has been greatly improved. The classifications have been enlarged covering standard bred, coach and saddle horses. A new class has been added for the American coach horse while the Clydesdale and Englishshire horses have been placed in separate classes. A champion cup will be offered for the best stallion shown with a colt of his get. This department is in charge of L. C. Holden, of Sault Ste. Marie. Mr. Holden is the owner of a large stock farm situated in Chippewa county, and is known to every horse breeder in Michigan.

The largest premiums in the history of the fair will be offered this year for Michigan bred sheep. The classification and the number of breeds represented will be larger than those shown at any fair in the United States. W. E. Boyden, of Bay City, who will supervise this department, is an experienced sheep breeder and is known personally to every stockman in the lower peninsula.

Rep. W. J. Galbraith, of Calumet, has been gradually adding to the mineral collection that will be shown at the fair this year. Not only will every mineral that is taken from the ground in Michigan be displayed, both in its natural and manufactured state, but the method of mining, the machinery used, and the history of the mining discoveries will also be gone into. The mineral collection will be featured in a way that will be of the greatest value as an educational factor.

In the poultry department, Superintendent Daniel Thomas, of Pontiac, has prepared good lists and liberal premiums. A. H. Griffith, of Detroit, director of the Detroit Museum of Art, who will superintend the art exhibit, has arranged for an elaborate display of costly paintings. In the fruit and flower department many premiums have been offered. Pen. L. W.

Snell, of Highland Park, Ill. stated that the dairy exhibit, of which he will have charge, will be one of the most complete ever seen in Michigan.

Some idea of the growing fame of the State Fair even beyond the confines of the state can be gained by the fact that Secretary Butterfield has received over 50 applications from implement dealers all over the country for space to display their wares. Hardware dealers and manufacturers throughout the state have awakened to the opportunity offered by the State Fair for the exhibition of their wares, and it is thought that the booths in the industrial building this year will be both numerous and costly.

While the fair will be closed on Sundays this year, it will be open every night. The gates will swing for visitors the first thing every morning and will not be locked until the last visitor has wended his way homeward.

The executive committee of the Michigan Agricultural society announces that all entries must be made in the various classes before the following dates:

- All live stock entries close on August 22.
- All speed entries close on August 22.
- Entries in fruits and flowers close August 30.
- In all other divisions on August 23.

A prompt, pleasant, good remedy for coughs and colds, is Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup. It is especially recommended for babies and children, but good for every member of the family. More Money for Eggs

Under most any conditions. There is a lot of money to be made in the egg business if conditions are right. There is no reason why Farmers and Poultry Raisers should not make just as good profits on their investments as any other line of business, and it is possible for them to do so. The price of eggs during the winter months is double and sometimes more than double that paid during the summer months. The only way to take advantage of this advance is to hold summer eggs for winter prices. That fresh eggs can be kept from six to nine months or more has been proven by careful testing with

HAGER'S EGG PRESERVATIVE

Sawing Out a Segment.
This rule is given by the Woodworker for sawing out a segment—a piece straight on one edge and curved on the other: Suppose the segment is to be 48 in. long and 4 inches wide at the central or widest place. Square one-half the length (24 inches), which gives 576; square the width (4 inches), which gives 16; add 576 and 16, obtaining 592; divide 592 by twice the width (8), which gives 74 inches, the radius. This rule will apply to any case.

Special prizes have been offered during the past five years for exhibits of grains, fruits and vegetables from the upper peninsula. When first offered they met with little response but the exhibit has grown to be one of the largest and most important seen at the fair. The Upper Peninsula Agricultural college will be represented this year with a complete display of agricultural products. The exhibit will be in charge of Prof. Leo M. Geismar, Chatham, Mich., who is the secretary.

Sour Stomach

No appetite, loss of strength, nervousness, headache, constipation, bad breath, general debility, sour risings, and catarrh of the stomach are all due to indigestion. Kodol relieves indigestion. This new discovery represents the natural juices of digestion as they exist in a healthy stomach, combined with the greatest known tonic and reconstructive properties. Kodol for dyspepsia does not only relieve indigestion but it helps all troubles by cleansing, purifying, sweetening and strengthening the mucous membranes lining the stomach. Mr. S. S. Bell, of Ravenswood, W. Va., says: "I was troubled with sour stomach for twenty years. Kodol cured me and we are now using it in bulk for baby."

Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism! Not a remedy that will straighten the distorted limbs of chronic cripples, nor turn bony growths back to flesh again. That is impossible. But I can now surely kill the pains and pangs of this deplorable disease. In Germany—with a Chemist in the City of Darmstadt—I found the last ingredient with which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was made. Without a perfected, dependable prescription. Without that last ingredient, I successfully treated many formerly incurable cases of this heretofore much dreaded disease. These sand-like granules, wastes, found in Rheumatic Blood, seem to dissolve and pass away under the action of this remedy as freely as does sugar when added to pure water. And then, when dissolved, these poisonous wastes freely pass from the system, and the cause of Rheumatism is gone forever. There is now no real need—no actual excuse to suffer longer with out help. MICHIGAN EVENTS NOTED

LONG SESSION OF THE STATE LEGISLATURE TO END JUNE 29.

LONGEST SESSION EVER.

Grand Rapids Home Ready to Be Probed—Fished the Girl Out—A Physician on the Down Grade.

Preparing to Go Home.

The senate has passed the house resolution providing for ceasing legislative work on June 19, making it one of the longest sessions of the Michigan legislature ever held.

Soldiers' Home Ready.

The board of managers of the soldiers' home have issued a formal statement in response to the resolution passed in the legislature providing for a committee to investigate the expenditure of veterans' money at the home.

Saved the Girl.

Because she had been punished in school, 9-year-old Lena Constantino, daughter of a Bay City saloonkeeper, induced her little brother to run away with her to spend the afternoon on the docks.

Going Down.

Henry Pippin, of Leland, the son of an ex-mayor of Montreal, a graduate of the University of Vermont, former student in Paris medical schools and once a wealthy physician in South Haven, was taken to Detroit in company with four tramps to spend 90 days in the house of correction.

Now Comes Divorce.

Wm. F. Pack, former Michigan legislator and member of a Michigan regiment in the war with Spain, seeing service in Cuba and afterward going to the Philippines in the regular service and becoming governor of the province of Benguet, is defendant in a suit for divorce brought by his wife in Centerville.

Not So Bad Weather.

Contrary to the opinions of most people this weather is not so bad after all. Many can recall that in 1897 Michigan experienced a killing frost on May 31. While crops in the vicinity of Detroit did not suffer to a great extent further north there was serious damage.

Wedding and Death.

Within 15 hours after her marriage, Mrs. Homer Decker died at her home in Lansing. Mrs. Decker, who was 41 years of age and a widow, was married Monday night. There was a merry wedding. The excitement of the occasion and the preparations for the wedding had undermined the constitution of the bride, who was taken sick shortly after the ceremony and died Tuesday. Besides her husband, Mrs. Decker is survived by a daughter 7 years old.

Condition of Crops.

The average condition of wheat is according to the June crop report issued by the state department. This is 4 per cent lower than one month ago, but it shows that the entire crop will not be lost as was feared. It is estimated that 8 per cent of the wheat sown last fall was winter killed, and that 4 per cent has been destroyed by the Hessian fly.

The condition of rye is reported at 81 per cent, corn at 63, oats at 75, meadows at 69 and potatoes at 2. The acreage of potatoes is estimated at 91 per cent, sugar beets at 89 per cent, barley at 86 per cent and corn at 9 per cent.

Early strawberries are hurt by frosts and will be a light crop and late; late strawberries look good; raspberries and blackberries, not over one-fourth of a crop; sour cherries will be a fair crop near the lake; apparently no sweet cherries; peaches, very light, injured by frost and San Jose scale; plums, a light crop; early apples set very full; late apples will be a good crop; pears will be a fair crop where trees were not frozen last October; muskmelons will have probably reduced acreage.

"Call of the Wild."

In a wild and almost impregnable swamp one and one-half miles south of the village of Suttons Bay, Leelanau county, in the midst of a thickly populated section dotted with well-tilled farms and only twelve miles from a city of 12,000 inhabitants, Jack London's "Call of the Wild" has been duplicated. In this case, however, the dog is a female, the mother of six puppies and all have "reverted to type."

How long ago this dog left the haunts of man and took up her abode in the wilds of the swamp is not known, but it must have been over a year. Four months ago she was noticed, and with her were seven puppies that were several months old. Since then the pack has been frequently seen, and on several occasions they have given battle to men, and it was only by strenuous efforts that they escaped being torn to pieces by the sharp teeth.

A Fair Slice.

Attorney-General Bird expects, now that the legislature has given him full authority to do so, to begin suit to rearrange the boundary line between Wisconsin and Michigan. As fixed back in the '30s, the boundary is declared on the part of Michigan to be incorrect through an error by the engineer in charge, detailed by the war department to make the survey. Because of the error, Wisconsin now holds a few hundred square miles said to rightfully belong to Michigan.

If documentary information that has come to the attorney-general's department is correct, then the attorney-general feels that Michigan has a good case. It is probable that the proceedings will be by suit in the United States supreme court and that preliminary to the trial of it the state will have a survey made under the instructions laid down for the original survey.

Doctor Suicides.

Edwin F. Kressler, formerly of Scottville, Mich., hanged himself in his room in Milwaukee after writing the following letter to Senator S. M. Marsh, who is pushing a medical registration bill in the legislature: "May my untimely death be revenged on those who drove me to it; I have been persecuted by the attorney for the state board of medical examiners, robbed of my certificates of registration and not being financially able to fight in the courts, nothing remains for me but the clothesline."

"I have practiced medicine honestly for nearly 23 years. "There has never been a complaint against me for malpractice, but now I am deprived of my right to make an honest living and being ashamed to become a county charge I will do away with my life." Kressler's body has been sent to Scottville.

A Trusty Escapes.

William W. Hawley, alias William Smith, the trusty who escaped from the Jackson prison farm Sunday night, has not yet been located. His defection caused the prison officials to lose faith in "trusty" human nature. Hawley has worked outside for some years, and as he had but a short time to serve, it was thought that he would be found in some saloon and all were searched, but nothing was found of Hawley. He had about $150 to his credit on the prison ledgers, and draws a pension of $40 a month. Now he will experience difficulty in giving an address to which Uncle Sam's dollars may be sent.

White Plague Victims.

Ellen Clark, aged 14 years, of Battle Creek, died Friday of tuberculosis. During the past year her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Clark, has silently watched the entire family pass away from this disease. First the father died, then his son Robert; a daughter, then son, William, and finally Ellen.

STATE NEWS BRIEFS.

Harry Darling's dog bit Miss Hanna Granger, aged 60, of Sackinaw, just above the ankle, and she has recovered $500 damages.

At a special election Downagie voted $25,000 bonds for public improvements, the amount to be used to induce factories to locate there.

JINGOISM.

Obama Talks for Home Consumption Against United States.

Count Okuma's "Jingo" utterances and hostility to the United States are regarded by Japanese leading statesmen as principally for home consumption, and part of the progressive party's efforts to overthrow the present ministry in the interest of Admiral Yamamoto, the navy minister in the last cabinet, who is now traveling in Europe.

The recall of Viscount Aoki, ambassador to the United States, is also one of the progressive plans. They desire a "more aggressive" representative at Washington and Baron Kaneko is mentioned as his successor.

Count Itagaki, one of the foremost of the elder statesmen and a leader in the former Okuma cabinet, has written an open letter to the president of The Hague conference, urging international consideration of the exclusion question. He says race differences often cause war, and that exclusion is entirely contrary to the principle of mutual intercourse.

Wrecked the City.

A destructive cyclone swept over Kurrachi, India. Several steamers were driven ashore and hardly a building remains unwrecked. The casualties have not been reported.

Kurrachi, also spelled Kurrachee and Karachi, is one of the principal seaports of British India, capital of the Sindh division of the Bombay Presidency, and of the district of Kurrachi. It is situated on the Arabian sea, twelve miles northwest of the westernmost outlet of the Indus. Kurrachi, when it passed into the hands of the British in 1842, was but a straggling village. It is now a modern city, noted for its manufacture of carpets and fine silverware and has a population of over 120,000.

Japs Are Wearisome.

A Washington correspondent says United States officials at the capital are becoming extremely weary over the constant complaints of the Japanese and hint that if the policy of trying to magnify a quarrel among strikers into an international incident is not given up a few plain truths will be handed to the "little brown men." The fact that Japs continue to pour into America in spite of the exclusion treaty also helps to exhaust the patience of Uncle Sam. The Japs were treated with such courtesy in the San Francisco school "incident" that they seem to have the idea that America fears them and can be bullied at will.

Harriman Must Talk.

E. H. Harriman will have to answer the questions concerning the Alton deal at which he balked in the recent inter-state commerce inquiry, if there is any way to make him. President Roosevelt and Commissioner Lane have reached the decision to start suit to compel Harriman to talk. The suit will be filed in New York before July 1. A conference will be held between the president and all the members of the inter-state commerce commission, as well as the government attorneys, and the filing of the suit will follow. It may take a year to get a decision.

Bad Rails.

The railroads of the country, aroused by the unusual number of wrecks attended by great loss of life, have declared war on the United States Steel corporation to compel a better grade of steel rails, the breaking of which has been the principal cause of the catastrophes. The steel trust supplies nearly all the rails used in this country, and the roads want better and more reliable ones.

The American Railway association, composed of the executive heads and operating officials of all the great systems, has appointed a committee to consider the problem.

For Dollar Wheat.

The 200 delegates to the convention of the American Society of Equity in Nebraska practically completed the organization of the "dollar wheat combine," the most formidable ever attempted to control the prices of grain. It is to be known as the Grain Growers' department of the American Society of Equity.

The organization will control distribution and name a minimum price at which its members may dispose of their farm products. Over 500 banks have agreed to furnish the farmers money.

A Reign of Terror.

There has been a reign of terror and violence in Lodz, Russian Poland, since June 2. Eleven persons have been killed, including two mill owners, and 27 have been wounded. The workmen have formed a secret vigilance committee, which every night executes one or more bandits or terrorists.

The corpses are left in the street, and to the lips of the dead men are pinned pieces of paper setting forth the exact reasons for the execution.

Circuit Judge Peter F. Dodds has granted a temporary injunction to prevent the board of supervisors building the new Midland county building pending a recount of the ballots on the bonding proposition. Fraud is charged.

PIERCE STORM.

Twenty-nine People Killed and Forty Injured.

Twenty-nine people known dead and 40 injured constitute the list of casualties resulting from storms of wind and rain which swept over southern Illinois and Indiana and Central Kentucky Friday night and Saturday. These fatal visitations came in the shape of cloudbursts, high winds and electrical disturbances. The property damage is many thousands of dollars. Houses were swept away, demolished and thousands of growing crops destroyed.

Gradyville, Ky., was the worst sufferer. A cloudburst caused by a cyclone to deluge that village of 175 persons last night, and 21 persons were drowned or crushed by falling houses. In New Minden, Ill., a tornado this morning killed five persons and injured six others.

In York, Ill., three were killed and 20 injured by a tornado. In Duquoin, Ill., many houses were blown down in the outskirts of the town and four persons were injured.

A Mighty Conflict.

A mighty conflict has just begun in San Francisco. It is a war between capital and labor. Conditions resemble those in the nation about the time of the firing on Fort Sumter. A great issue has been dalled with and temporized with until the battle has been joined.

San Francisco is suffering from over-capitalization in every line. Labor has formed itself into a trust, which is over-capitalized. The cost of rebuilding the fallen city has been altogether excessive. Material dealers have been forced to lower prices within the last two days.

The next step is to squeeze the water out of the stock of the labor trust. There is no indication that labor will yield peacefully. Even with the strike of 12,000 iron workers settled, there are now 8,000 men on strike in San Francisco. Indications are there will be many thousands more idle, with violence and bloodshed as an incident, and that the progress of the city will be stopped until this great issue has been settled. Building is practically at a standstill.

FRIDAY THE 13th

By Thomas W. Lawson

A girl who came into our office early Saturday, just in time to interfere with the outing Bob Brownley and I had laid out, and who was destined to divert my chum's heretofore smooth-flowing river of existence and turn it into an alternation of roaring rushes and deadly calms, was truly the most exquisite creature one could conceive of. I know my thought must have been Bob's, too, for his eyes were riveted on her face. She dropped the black lashes like a veil as she went on:

"Mr. Brownley, I have just come from Sands Landing. I am very anxious to talk with you on a business matter. I have brought a letter to you from my father. If you have other engagements I can wait until Monday, although," and the black veiling lashes lifted, showing the half-laughing, half-pathetic eyes, "I wanted much to lay my business before you at the earliest minute possible."

There was a faint touch of appeal in the charming voice as she spoke that was irresistible, and we were both willing to forget we had lunch waiting us on the Tribesman.

"Step into my office, Miss Sands, and all my time is yours," said Bob, as he opened the door between his office and mine. After I had sent a note to my wife, saying we might be delayed for an hour or two, I settled down to wait for Bob in the general office, and it was a long wait. Thirty minutes went into an hour and an hour into two before Bob and Miss Sands came out. After he had put her in a cab for her hotel, he said in a tone curiously intent: "Jim, I have got to talk with you, got to get some of your good advice. Suppose we hustle along to the yacht and after lunch you tell Kate we have some business to go over. I don't want to keep that girl waiting any longer than possible for an answer I can give her. I'll get your ideas." After lunch, on the top end of the upper deck Bob relieved himself. Relieved is the word, for from the minute he had put Miss Sands into the carriage until then, it was evident even to my wife that his thoughts were anywhere but upon our outing.

"Jim," he began in a voice that shook in spite of his efforts to make it sound calm, "there is no disguising the fact that I am mightily worked up about this matter, and I want to do everything possible for this girl. No need of my telling you how sacred we have got to keep what she has just let me into. You'll see as I go along that it is sacred, and I know you will look at it as I do. Miss Sands must be helped out of her trouble.

"Judge Lee Sands, her father, is the head of the old Sands family of Virginia. The Virginia Sands don't take off their bonnets to another family in this country, or elsewhere, for that matter, for anything that really counts. They have had brains, learning, money and fixed position since Virginia was first settled. They are the best people of our state. It is a cross-road saying in Virginia that a Sands of Sands Landing can go to the bench, the United States senate, the house, or the governor's chair for the starting, and nearly all of the men folks have held one or all of these honors for generations. The present judge has held them all. I don't know him personally, although my people and his have been close friends back. Sands Landing on the James is some 50 miles above our home. The judge, Beulah Sands' father, is close on to 70, and I have heard mother and father say is a stalwart, a Virginia stalwart. Being rich—that is, what we Virginians call rich, a million or so—he has been very active in affairs, and I knew before his daughter told me, that he was the trustee for about all the best estates in our part of the country. It seems from what she tells, that of late he has been very active in developing our mines and railroads, and that particularly he took a prominent hand in the Seaboard Air Line. You know the road, for your father was a director, and I think the house has been prominent in its banking affairs. Now, Jim, this poor girl, who, it seems, has recently been acting as the judge's secretary, has just learned that that coup of Reinhart and his crowd has completely ruined her father. The decline has swamped his own fortune, and what is worse, a million to a million and a half of his trust funds as well, and the old judge—well, you and I can understand his position. Yet I do not know that you just can, either, for you do not quite understand our Virginia life and the kind of revered position a man like Judge Sands occupies.

You would have to know that to understand fully his present purgatory and the terrible position of this daughter, for it seems that since he began to get into deep water he has been relying upon her for courage and ideas. From our talk I gather she has a wonderful store of up-to-date business notions, and I am convinced from what she lays out that the judge's affairs are hopeless, and, Jim, when that old man goes down it will be a smash that will shake our state in more ways than one.

"Up to now the girl has stood up to the blow like a man and has been able to steady the judge until he presents an exterior that holds down suspicion as to his real financial condition, although she says Reinhart and his Baltimore lawyer, from the ruthless way they put on the screws to shake out his holdings in the Air Line, must have a line on it that the judge is overboard. The old gentleman can keep things going for six months longer without jeopardizing any of the remaining trust funds, of which he has some two millions, and while his wife, who is an invalid, knows the judge is in some trouble, she does not suspect his real position. His daughter says that when the blow came, that day of the panic, when Reinhart jammed the stock out of sight and scuttled her father's bankers and partners in the road, the Wilsons of Baltimore, she had a frightful struggle to keep her father from going insane. She told me that for three days and nights she kept him locked in their rooms at their hotel in Baltimore, to prevent him from hunting Reinhart and his lawyer Rettybone and killing them both, but that at last she got him calmed down and together they have been planning.

"Jim, it was tough to sit there and listen to the schemes to recoup that this old gentleman and this girl, for she is only 21, have tried to hatch up. The tears actually rolled down my cheeks as I listened. I couldn't help it; you couldn't either, Jim. But at last out of all the plans considered, they found only one that had a tincture of hope in it, and the serious mention of even that one, Jim, in any but present circumstances, would make you think we were dealing with lunatics. But the girl has succeeded in making me think it worth trying. Yes, Jim, she has, and I have told her so, and I hope to God that that hard-headed horse-sense of yours will not make you sit down on it."

Bob Brownley had got to his feet; he was slipping the shackles of that fiery, romantic, southern passion that years in college and Wall street had taught him to keep prisoner. His eyes were flashing sparks. His nostrils vibrated like a deer buck's in the autumn woods. He faced me with his hands clinched.

"Jim Randolph," he went on, "as I listened to that girl's story of the terrible cruelty and devilish treachery practiced by the human hyenas you and I associate with, human hyenas who, when in search of dirty dollars—the only thing they know anything about—put to shame the real beasts of the wilds—when I listened, I tell you that I felt it would not give me a twinge of conscience to put a ball through that slick scoundrel Reinhart. Yes, and that hired cur of his, too, who prostitutes a good family name and position, and an inherited ability the Almighty intended for more honest uses than the trapping of victims on whose purses his gutter-born master has set lecherous eyes. And, Jim, as I listened, a troop of old friends invaded my memory—friends whom I have not seen since before I went to Harvard, friends with whom I spent many a happy hour in my old Virginia home, friends born of my imagination, stalwart, rugged crusaders, who carried the sword and the cross and the banner inscribed 'For Honor and for God.' Old friends who would troop into my boyhood and trumpet, 'Bob, don't forget, when you're a man, that the goal is honor, and the code: Do unto your neighbor as you would have your neighbor do unto you. Don't forget that millions is the crest of the groundlings.' And, Jim, I thought my friends looked at me with reproachful eyes, as they said, 'You are well on the road, Bob Brownley, and in time your heart and soul will bear the hall-mark of the snaky S on the two upright bars, and you will be but a frenzied fellow in the Dirty Dollar army.' Jim, Jim Randolph, as I listened to that agonizing tale of the changing of that fast could be that it would only be a question of time until Bob would be his clear-eyed self.

"Now, what is it she wants you to do?" I persisted. "Is it a case of money, of our trying to tide her father over?"

"Nothing of the kind, Jim. You don't know the proud Virginia blood. Neither that girl nor her father would accept money help from any one. They would go to smash and the grave first."

He paused and then continued impressively:

"This is how she puts it. She and her father have raked together her different legacies and turned them into cash, a matter of $60,000, and she got him to consent to let her come up here to see if during the next six months she might not, in a few desperate plunges in the market, run it up to enough to at least regain the trust funds. Yes, I know it is a wild idea. I told her so at the beginning, but there was no need; she knew it, for she is not only bright, but she has the best idea of business I ever knew a woman to have. But it is their only chance, Jim, and while I listened to her argument I came around to her way of thinking."

"But how did she happen to come to you with this extraordinary scheme?" I interrupted.

WHY BOB WAS ANNOYED.

Emptying of Golf Bag Made Embarrassing Situation.

Young Harwood's Cousin Evelyn had invited him down to her country place to stop over the holidays. He arrived just before dinner, to find that he had left his golf clubs behind him. It was most exasperating; but his cousin comforted him somewhat by promptly offering the use of her clubs. The next day he started early for the links with Evelyn's husband, but in an hour he was back again. "Were the clubs so bad?" she inquired; "couldn't you finish the game?" He answered shortly that he had not cared to finish the game—of course there was nothing the matter with the clubs. When Evelyn's husband came home for luncheon at noon she questioned him. "What's wrong with Bob, Henry?" she asked; "didn't the game go smoothly?" Her husband chuckled. "It was your clubs," he explained. "I don't wonder he isn't happy. He was preparing to 'tee off' at the hole in front of the clubhouse, with a lot of girls on the veranda watching him. He picked up your bag of clubs to take out the 'driver,' but it was caught in some way, and he turned the bag upside down to shake it loose. The driver tumbled out then, and with it came your false fringe, your powder puff, your green veil, and that little ivory handglass you carry around. Do you wonder his feelings are somewhat bruised?"—Harper's Magazine.

MADE HIS RECORD CLEAN.

Driver Had Missed One Rock and Had to Go Back.

Some years ago Gen. Miles started to drive from Red Lodge, Mont., to Cody, Wyo., to see his friend, Buffalo Bill. The road was rough, and the reckless driving of the man holding the lines made it seem rougher, but the Indian fighter compressed his lips and clung to the seat without complaint. When near Cody the general suddenly prodded the driver in the back with his walking stick and said curtly: "Driver, turn around." "What?" exclaimed the astonished driver. "Do as I tell you," commanded Miles. So the man turned the horses about and started back to Red Lodge. "Now turn here," ordered Miles, after they had driven a few yards. Convinced that his distinguished passenger had suddenly lost his mind, the driver turned about once more and started for Cody. "There!" exclaimed Miles, in a tone of satisfaction, as the side wheels struck a stone and he bounded into the air. "You hit it! Now, driver, you can go back to Red Lodge and tell them that you drove 75 miles and never missed a rock. You've hit them, every one."

Concrete Work in Mines.

The newest innovation that has taken place in the method of working a coal mine is the substitution of concrete for the mine timbering. The experiments along this line are being made by the Reading Coal company at Shamokin, Pa. A plant for the manufacture of these cement props will be erected at the North Franklin colliery, Trevorton, from which place the new style of "timbering" will be sent to all the other collieries. The Reading company has spent considerable time and money in determining the best method for preserving mine timbers, and the present step seems to indicate that in the future cement will replace wooden props.

HAS HELPED CHINA UP.

Remarkable Educational Work Which Rev. Cornaby Has Done.

One of the most famous and useful of living missionary pioneers in China is just now on furlough in England. Mr. A. W. Cornaby belongs to the same category of accomplished litterateurs in the missionary field as Dr. Timothy Richard and Dr. Griffith John. These three wonderful experts in the language and literature of the great oriental empire are achieving extraordinary results in transforming the mind of the cultured section of the native community throughout the land. Mr. Cornaby is editing two papers in the native language, says Christian Herald.

REV. A. W. CORNABY.

Mr. Cornaby gave the following account of the social system in China: "The government rests on a purely patriarchal foundation, with the emperor as patriarch or priest-king, as in the case of Job or Melchizedek, the people being his little children, or 'pink babies,' as the Chinese call themselves to this day in relation to the emperor as their head. The mandarins are regarded as the 'deputy parents of the people.' These latter dignitaries are supposed to be above the need of any salary. They are unpaid magistrates. The arrangement seems to have worked well in the ideal days of certain early rulers of China, but its working now is a proverb and a byword of contempt, and it is the great drawback to any real progress or real reform.

"I said that these mandarins were unsalaried," Mr. Cornaby remarked; "but, to be precise, a governor of a province (as large, say, as New York state) gets about $5,000 a year, while a county magistrate gets not more than $100 a year. This being utterly inadequate, the rest is made up from taxes, public money, presents from parties at law, and 'squeeze' generally. Huge sums of money are thus in many cases amassed.

"A change must come over the whole mandarin system," continued Mr. Cornaby, "before China can really prosper. It will not matter how far the nation may adopt western methods; there will be no progress worth regarding unless such a radical change is effected. Two things are essential before the world can look on a regenerated China. One is a new system, the other is moral force to work it. This is only another way of saying that the case of China is hopeless without a conquest of the empire by Christian principles. But let me say right here that the signs of the times are marvelously encouraging in the far east. Christianity is steadily overcoming the whole fabric of Chinese civilization and heathenism. The missionaries are regarded to-day with quite another spirit than that displayed before the Boxer outbreak. A few years ago it was very difficult for a missionary to gain any contact with a viceroy, but for the last three years I have had the privilege of saying 3,000 words to the various 'Princes of the Provinces'—viceroys, governors, treasurers, judges—over 50 of them, seeing and talking with some of them week by week, on subjects connected with Christian civilization, international harmony and the supreme lordship of Jesus Christ."

An Encouraging Outlook.

The Rev. S. R. Smith, of the Niger mission of the English Church Missionary society, writes from Onitsha, West Africa: "The possibilities of work in this district are enormous, and every week I am receiving deputations asking for teachers from towns which were once a terror to their neighborhood. I am sure that the millions of 100-speaking people have a great future before them, especially if they can be induced to turn their attention to the development of the soul. During the past four months there have been over 150 adult baptisms and there are many more ready to be baptized."

Million of Bibles.

One million two hundred and fifty thousand Bibles are contained in the new warehouse of the British and Foreign Bible society, in Queen Victoria street, London.

Missionary Forces.

The United States maintains 3,776 missionaries in Japan, China, Corea, the Philippines, Burmah, Siam, India, Tibet, Persia, Turkey, Egypt and the South American countries.

Law Term Explained.

"Well, proceed," said the lawyer. "The plaintiff resorted to an ingenious use of circumstantial evidence," said the witness.

"For the benefit of the jury state in plainer language exactly what you mean by that," interrupted the judge. "Well, my meaning is that he lied."

Bert Barber, of Elton, Wis., says "I have only taken four doses of your Kidney and Bladder Pills and they have done for me more than any other medicine has ever done. I am still taking the pills as I want a perfect cure." Mr. Barber refers to DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills, which are unequalled for backache, weak kidneys, inflammation of the bladder and urinary troubles. A weeks treatment for 25 cents.

OBITUARY.

Charlotte E. the eldest daughter of Wm. and Mary Moon, was born in Honesoe Falls, New York, Sept. 14, 1818. At the age of 15 she came to Michigan with friends, settling near Ann Arbor.

After teaching school for a number of years she was united to Lewis M. Rolison in 1842. He died Sept. 28, 1872 death a panic leaving her a widow with seven children; all of whom are living, and were present at the funeral, except the eldest son—who died Jan. 4, 1899. She also leaves 12 grand children and one great grand daughter.

At the age of 20 she united with the Methodist Episcopal Church and was a faithful worker in the church and Sunday school until her failing health.

She died June 6, 1907 after a lingering illness of over 15 years. She was one of the few surviving pioneers of Hamburg.

The funeral was held at the home Saturday, June 8, Rev. D. C. Littlejohn officiating, assisted by Rev. A. G. Gates.

Valentine Wiegand was born in Saxony, Germany Oct. 18, 1822 and died June 6, 1907, aged 84 years, 7 months and 18 days.

He came to this country in 1842 landing in New York City, where he worked at the Cabinet maker's trade for eleven years then he decided to come to Michigan, arriving at Pettysville in 1853, where he has since resided. He married Kittie Warren May 4, 1867, who with one son, Volla, survive him.

Funeral services were held at the North Hamburg church Sunday afternoon Rev. A. G. Gates officiating. Burial in cemetery by church.
