Bakery for Pinckney.

For some time work has been going on at the Bock place, the home of the Michigan Hattbery Co., and our reporter could not find out anything definite about it although we understood Mr. Bock was to open up a bakery there as he has been in that business in Detroit for many years.

He has now completed the arrangements and has an announcement in this issue. We are glad for the new enterprise in our village and hope our citizens will give it their support. His announcement in another column tells what he is prepared to do.

He comes out with a fine covered delivery wagon which gives Pinckney quite a citified air.

This section was visited Monday with a heavy rain. It must have been very general as the train from Chicago on which we were returning kept just behind the storm from a few miles this side of the city. At South Bend, Ind., it was almost a cloudburst and it was thought that at least three inches fell in an hour. Leaves were dripping at nearly every depot and the streets showed a recent storm but the train was in business nearly all the time.

The New Farmer.

The president's address last month at the Michigan State Agricultural college is so clear an expression of the conditions of modern farm life that a future historian may turn to it to read our times. All national leaders have told us that the farmer is the backbone of the nation. Washington and Jefferson were farmers, and good ones. The Illinois that bred Lincoln was one vast farm—Chicago was then only a small town. The president of today, not bred in farm life, although he has been a practical ranchman, is the first to express the unity between farm labor and all other kinds, says Youth's Companion. The farmer to him is an expert mechanic and business man, whose problems are precisely those of the workman in the town, who depends for success on industrial and social cooperation. He must be an educated, aggressive participant in the work of life, competing with the farmer of Europe, inviting to his workshop of many acres the most skillful young men, learning from technical students and the practical experience of his neighbors the best that is known about his business. City workers, meeting in the friction of crowded life, have always learned their craft from one another. The farmer has until recently been in social and business isolation. Now he is a citizen of the world, often closer, in point of time, to the nearest city than his grandfather was to the farmers of the adjacent town. The difference between the townsman and the countryman in educational and intellectual opportunities and in industrial responsibility is rapidly diminishing. That means the diminishing of the old real or fancied disadvantage of farm life which drove ambition and initiative to the city for opportunity to show themselves. The advantage remains and increases, for no matter how near together modern instruments of unity, the trolley and telephone, bring city and country, broad acres still remain broad, and produce the conditions of free and independent life.

The Woman Worker.

Woman's increasing ability to secure employment in gainful occupations is convincingly shown in some information gathered by the Washington correspondent of the Chicago Tribune. According to his statement, about one in every three women in the United States between the ages of 16 and 20 works for a living. There are over 5,000,000 workingwomen of all ages and classes in the country, 44 per cent. being between 16 and 24, and the larger number in any one line may be found in the ranks of typewriters and stenographers. It would appear that women as a rule find work earlier than men, as only 25 per cent. of the males are less than 25 years old. But here is what differentiates the sexes as workers. Most of the girls drop out when they have a chance to marry and start homes of their own, while the men continue right along for life, or as long as they are capable of active effort. It is the old, old story, and no doubt will be while love and the domestic instinct exist.

Electricity, like fire and steam, is a good servant but a troublesome customer when it sets out to be master, as has been shown on numerous occasions of late, sometimes with tragic results. There were lively times in portions of New York city the other afternoon when for a while the strong current which supplies power for moving the New York Central trains escaped from control and went cavorting where it would. There were shocks and fireworks in many directions as the mischievous fluid was distributed along the line of least resistance, and general demoralization of train service. But finally the power was shut off and the excitement ended with very little real damage done. It seems to have been a sort of electric half-holiday, with the subtle fluid out for a bit of a "racket."

A London savant says smoke causes snub noses. Down with the filthy chimneys! If smoke merely ruined people's lungs we might permit the smokers to go on profiting at the expense of others, but we must positively decline to become a snub-nosed race even for the benefit of the gentlemen who regard the smoke ordinance as a nuisance.

NEWS TO THEM.

The Checker Players—What's all the row about?

WHITE DAMP KILLS NINE

ITALIAN MINERS PERISH IN AN ABANDONED SLOPE.

Bodies of the Victims Are Recovered—Disaster Occurs at Honeybrook, Pa.

Hazleton, Pa.—Seven mine workers, all Italians, were killed in an abandoned slope of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal company at Honeybrook Thursday by deadly white damp. Three others are missing.

Of the dead only the body of James Lavanno, a foreman, has been recovered from the slope.

The accident is said to have been due to the ignorance of the workmen regarding the mine gases. Two of the men had been sent into the slope to measure water by Foreman Lavanno. When they failed to return to the surface two other men were sent into the mine to assist them. These also failed to return and two more descended. Finally Lavanno went into the workings with Frank Bowda, an experienced inside man. Bowda detected the white damp and got out safely, but Lavanno refused to leave and perished.

James Goldsmith, superintendent; William Goldsmith, fire boss; William Davis, foreman; Charles Schaar, fire boss, and Phillip Harstelt, a pumpman, organized a rescuing party and went into the slope, but they were driven back. Dr. J. K. Farrar, of Audenried, was finally lowered 160 feet into the slope and succeeded in bringing up the body of Lavanno, though he was almost unconscious when he was drawn up from the workings.

Superintendent Morgans, of Wilkesbarre, and other officials, after an investigation refused to let any more men enter the slope until fans have been installed.

SECOND JAP SPY CAUGHT.

Arrested at Fort Rosecrans with Blueprint of the Works.

San Diego, Cal.—It was learned Friday night from a trustworthy source that, in addition to the Japanese detected in making sketches at Fort Rosecrans a few days ago, another was arrested in the fort Friday for having a blue print of the works in his possession. This latter Japanese was employed as a servant at the fort. He is a man of superior attainments. In his room was found a standard work on engineering. The blue print was well drawn and showed much technical skill.

Toledo Trust Men Sentenced.

Toledo, O.—Twenty-one members of the Lumber Dealers' Credit association, nine members of the Brick Dealers' association, and two bridge agents, who two months ago pleaded guilty to indictments charging violations of the Valentine anti-trust law, were sentenced by Judge Lindley W. Morris Friday. The lumbermen and the bridge men were sentenced to six months in the workhouse and the brick men were fined $1,000 each.

Nine Bodies Recovered.

Hazleton, Pa.—The bodies of nine victims of white damp in the abandoned slope of the Lehigh & Wilkesbarre Coal company at Honeybrook have been recovered. The accident is the first that has occurred in an anthracite mine since the new employers' liability act passed by the last legislature went into effect.

TALK OF PEACE ENDS.

Telegraphers' Strike Likely to Be Extended at Once.

Oakland, Cal.—Following refusal of Assistant General Superintendent Miller, Jr., of the Western Union Telegraph company, Tuesday, to meet a committee of the striking operators, President Small, of the Telegraphers' union, will leave Wednesday for the east. It is believed he will order strikes in Chicago and other cities.

Mr. Miller refused to let the committee enter his office, but sent them a note stating that he would meet them as individuals if they sought reinstatement, but would meet no union men as such.

President Small, much disappointed at the failure of a peace conference, issued the following statement:

"I feel absolved from further responsibility, inasmuch as I have made every effort, before and after the strike occurred, to bring about a conference. In the future we will have to pay less attention to the feelings of the opposition and public opinion and carry on our fight with more determination and with the one object in view of crippling the enemy until they are willing to meet us in a peace conference. Future moves will be forcible and decisive."

TORNADO HITS LOUISVILLE.

One Man Loses His Life and Great Damage Is Done.

Louisville, Ky.—A terrific wind storm which burst upon the city shortly before five o'clock Tuesday afternoon brought death to one man and injury to several other persons.

Many horses and mules were killed, buildings unroofed, smaller structures blown down and unprecedented damage done to shade trees all over the city. The records of the weather bureau show that the maximum velocity of the wind was 68 miles an hour.

Jeffersonville, Ind., across the river, escaped the full force of the blow, but the damage to property in New Albany is estimated at $50,000, the heaviest loss being sustained by the Ohio Falls Iron company. Three churches and one schoolhouse were unroofed in New Albany.

Escapes at Prison's Door.

Marquette, Mich.—Within 50 feet of the prison here and about to be turned over to that institution, Albert Peverate, bank robber and convict—one of the Richland bank robbers and a member of the notorious Lake Shore gang—escaped from two guards Thursday at midnight while the trio were entering the prison driveway. Peverate leaped from the carriage they were in, having slipped the shackles from both hands and feet.

Bold Robbery of Pawnshop.

Indianapolis, Ind.—Two men entered the pawnshop of Emil Mantel and Charles Medias on Massachusetts avenue, in the downtown district, Thursday night and after striking the clerk down with a piece of hose and rendering him unconscious, escaped with plunder valued at $3,000. The clerk, Simon Gold, was fatally hurt.

Six Persons Drowned.

Jamestown, N. Y.—Six people were drowned late Friday evening near Russell, Pa., 11 miles south of here. Nine people had taken a gasoline launch off the Conewango river, which was very high owing to rains, and the boat was swept over a dam.

INCrimINATING

INQUEST ON THE DEATH OF MISS EDITH PRESLEY HAS BEGUN.

WARD TO BE EXAMINED.

Trend of the Testimony Before the Wayne County Coroner—Ward's Father Seriously Ill.

Bring Out the Facts.

"Rep. Charles E. Ward, whose name is connected with the death of Edith Presley, has been called to the bedside of his dying father in Du Quoin, Ill. He stands ready to come to Detroit as soon as we telegraph him that we want him. And we shall surely want him."

That was the statement made before Coroner Parker Thursday morning by Prosecutor Robinson. The prosecutor said he deemed it wise to make the statement in order to satisfy the desire of all directly interested and the general public as well as to whether Ward intended to come to testify. In the afternoon the prosecutor introduced a small black volume containing the diary of Miss Presley. It was written in shorthand with here and there a name in longhand. From questions asked of Miss Letta Brown, a Lansing stenographer, it is apparent that the prosecutor will have the diary read in evidence.

One of the letters written Miss Presley by Ward reads: "I wish you might know, my dear one, how lonesome it is around here for your old fellow. Some time, some day, there will be a different story to tell. One of the happy days when life's cup of bliss will be full to overflowing; where flowers will bloom, birds will sing and the music of childhood's mirth and prattle will make an endless symphony of concord. And through this picture, in fact that out of which the dream is woven, floats a flaxen-haired angel, who has become, as it were, the guiding star of my ambition. How lost like the picture? And can you solve the allegory?"

The inquest was adjourned on Saturday to July 23, following a conference between Ward's attorneys, the prosecuting attorney and attorneys for the other parties interested in the case.

Shortly after adjournment Prosecutor Robinson was asked whether it was taken in order to have Ward testify before the proceedings go any further.

"Ward will testify," he remarked. "His attorney has promised to produce him at any time within twenty-four hours if we want him, and we certainly shall want him. The adjournment was taken because of a desire on the part of the attorneys to have the case go over for that length of time."

The session brought forth Dr. Russell P. Wixom, of Detroit, who gave the most damaging testimony as to Ward's connection with the case that has yet been produced.

Dr. Wixom met Ward in the Hotel Ste. Claire on the day before Edith Presley came to Detroit. Ward sought the doctor's advice as to a suitable hospital in which "a friend who is in trouble can stay until she gets better."

Dr. Wixom's testimony was straight from the shoulder; unequivocal and unswerving. He had previously made the same statements to Chief McDonnell and members of the local detective bureau, and he affirmed them on the stand before the coroner. Although his testimony does not contain a mention of the name of Edith Presley, yet it shows beyond a shadow of doubt that on the day before she arrived in Detroit Ward had spoken of making arrangements for a young woman in trouble. It was sufficiently strong to arouse the suspicion that a warrant for Ward's arrest, in connection with the case, will be asked for; but Prosecutor Robinson refused to affirm or deny having any such intention.

Edith Presley's name was not used in the conversation which Ward had with Dr. Wixom about a young woman in trouble. But the name "Mary E. Hall" was used directly, and as Mary E. Hall Edith Presley registered at the Wayne hotel on the day following the conversation.

Dr. Wixom said that he knew Edith Presley in Bancroft, but declared that he never suspected that she was the young woman about whom Ward was speaking. Ward met Dr. Wixom in Detroit a day or two before Miss Presley came to the city and asked the physician: "Where is there a nice, quiet hospital?" Dr. Wixom referred to several sanitariums, including the Hope sanitarium, which he referred to as the "Home" sanitarium on Third street. He asked Ward whether he himself was ill, and Ward said, "No, I have a friend who is in trouble, and I want a place for her to stay until she gets better."

Dr. Wixom then surmised the truth, and after cautioning Ward, told him that in order to get the girl into a sanitarium, she would have to conceal her real trouble until she got in, under pretext of wanting some minor operation, such as having a boil lanced. Ward told the doctor that he had covered up his tracks pretty carefully; that he had arranged for treatment with a doctor who would be known as Dr. Perrin, taking the name of a doctor long since dead.

Ward said that the girl would register at the Wayne as "Mary E. Hall," which prophecy came true the next night.

Thaw Indignant.

Harry Thaw, Jr., indignant at reports that have been put out to effect that Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw has been lax in her attentions to him since the end of the trial. He declared that since the first of the year there have been 170 days on which a prisoner in the Tombs could receive a visitor, and Mrs. Thaw has missed just one of those days. On that occasion she went, at his request, down to Long Beach to spend the day with Mrs. Daniel O'Reilly, the wife of his counsel. On all other days, frequently against his wishes, she has insisted upon coming down to the Tombs all sorts of weather, and how she was feeling, and the circumstances Thaw left no room for criticism that had been passed on his wife for her supposed neglect and through a friend tried to set the matter straight.

Help Is Needed.

The labor problem in and about Traverse City is becoming serious. Help is wanted by farmers; the factories want help; the summer lumber camps need men as well as housewives; resort hotels and the city-paying bosses are clamoring for workers.

The W. E. Williams flouring plant, which was destroyed in April by fire, has just started up again, needs 70 men, but can't get them.

The Traverse City Canning Co. will open its plant July 20 for the biggest run in its existence, and must have 700 women and 100 men. Where they are coming from is not known. The cherry season is on with the trees loaded and pickers are lacking. Unless the demand for this class of labor can be immediately supplied it will mean a loss of thousands to Grand Traverse farmers.

War Talk Absurd.

His Excellency, Admiral Baron Yamamoto, Japan's minister of marine during the Russian war, who arrived in this country from England Wednesday on the Cunard liner Carmania, says that the present war talk is absurd.

"We want peace," were his first words to the reporters. "We can't forget that America has shown our country friendly feeling for many years. This cannot be broken by a passing storm. The Japanese are not thinking as you are writing."

The admiral wasn't stumped either when asked by the newspaper men what the effect would be in Japan of the United States sending a large fleet to the Pacific coast.

FRIDAY, THE 13th

By Thomas W. Lawson

The sacredness of the scene made me feel like an intruder, and I started to leave the room. But in a moment Beulah Sands was her usual self and, turning to me, she said: "Mr. Randolph, please forget what you have seen. For an instant, as I saw Mr. Brownley's awful misery, I thought of nothing but what he had done for me, what he had tried to do for my father, what a penalty he has paid. From what you said when you left and the fact that I got no word from either of you, I feared the worst and did not dare look at the tape; I simply waited and hoped and—prayed. Yes, I prayed as my mother taught me I should pray whenever I was helpless and could do nothing myself. And I felt that God would not let the noble work of two such men be overthrown by those you were battling with. In the midst of a calmness that I took for a good omen, you came. Can you blame me for forgetting myself? Mr. Brownley," the voice was now calm and self-controlled, "tell me what you have done. Where do we stand?" "There is little to tell," Bob answered. "Camemeyer and Standard Oil have taken me into camp as they would take a stuck pig. They have made a monkeyified ass out of me, and we are ruined, and I have caused Mr. Randolph a heavy loss. Roughly, I figure that of your four hundred thousand capital and the million four hundred thousand profit you had this morning, only your capital remains."

Wishing to spare Bob, I interrupted and myself gave the girl briefly the details of what had happened. She listened intently and seemed to take in all the trickery of the "System" masters; seemed to see just what it meant to us and to her. But she made no comment, showed by no outward sign that she suffered. As soon as I was through she turned to Bob, who had stood with his eyes fastened upon her face, as though somewhere out of its soft beauty must come an assurance that this was all a bad dream.

"Mr. Brownley," she said, "let us figure up just where we stand, so that we may know what to do to recoup. You have said so many times, since I have been here, that Wall street is magic land; that no man may tell 24 hours ahead what will happen to him. You have said it so many times that I believe it. We know that this morning we were at the goal, that we were millions ahead, and all from 24 hours' effort. We have yet almost three months left, and I do not see why we have not just as much chance as we had day before yesterday. Yes, and more, because we know more now. Next time we will include the dividend cuts and the senate duplicity in our figuring."

We both dumbly stared in wondering admiration at this marvellous woman. Was it possible that a girl could have such nerve, such courage? Or had woman's hope, so persistent where her loved ones are concerned, made Beulah Sands blind to the awfulness of the situation? As I looked at her I could not doubt that she fully realized our position, that she was really suffering more than either of us, that she was only acting to ease Bob's anguish. Bob brought out his memoranda, and in half an hour we had the figures. The total loss was nearly three millions. As Beulah Sands' 20,000 shares had cost less than ours and Bob figured to leave her capital of $400,000 intact, we felt some comfort. Beulah Sands had watched the figuring with the keenness of an expert, and when Bob announced the final figures, which showed that she still had what she started with, she drew the sheet containing the totals to her. "I was willing to accept your assistance," she said, "when the deal promised a profit to all of us, because I appreciated your goodness and knew how much it would hurt your feelings if I were churlish about the division; but now that we all lose I must stand my fair share; I must." She said this in a way that we both knew precluded the possibility of argument. "We owned together 150,000 shares. I was to have had the profits on 20,000 shares. Our total loss is $2,775,000, of which I must bear my just proportion. Mr. Brownley, you will see that $370,000 is charged to my account. I shall have $30,000 left. If our cause is as just as we think, God in His goodness will make this ample for our purposes."

Though Bob and I were in despair at her determination to strip herself of what Bob had worked so hard to accumulate, we could not help feeling a reverence for her faith and her sturdy independence. She now showed us in her delicate way that she wished to be alone; as we went she held out her hand to Bob. "Mr. Brownley, please, for the sake of the work we have to do, look on the bright side of this calamity, for it has a bright side. You wanted me to send word to my father that we were about to grasp victory. Think if we had sent it—then you will know that God is good, even when we think He is chastening us beyond endurance."

Bob took me into his office. "Jim, you see what a woman can do, and we are taught women are the weaker sex. Now listen to what you must do. Accept my notes for the whole loss, less one hundred thousand which I have to my credit, and which I will pay on account. I won't listen to any objection. The deal was mine; you came in only to help us out, and I ought never to have tempted you. If I remain in my present busted condition, the notes will be blank paper. Therefore you do me no harm in taking them. If I should strike it rich, I should never feel like a man until I made up the loss."

It was no use arguing with him in his inflexible mood, so I took his demand notes for $2,405,000. I begged him to go home with me to dinner, but he insisted that he could not face my wife with his last night's break still fresh in her mind. Next day he did not turn up. Along in the afternoon I received a telegram from him, saying that he was on his way to Virginia, that he needed a rest and would be back in a week. I was worried, nervous. It takes until the next day and the day after, and the week after that, to get down to the deepest misery of an upset such as we had been through. I did not feel easy with Bob out of sight while he was sounding for a new footing. I went to Beulah Sands in hope we might talk over the affair, but when I told her that Bob was to be gone for a week and that I was uneasy, she said in her calm, confident manner: "I don't think there is anything to worry about, Mr. Randolph. Mr. Brownley is too much of a man to allow an affair of dollars to do anything more than annoy him. He will be back all the better for his rest."

CHAPTER IV.

The following week Bob returned to the office. He had not changed, and yet he had changed greatly. Rest had apparently done much for him. His color was good, his step elastic as of old, and his head was thrown back as if he were buckled up for the fray and wanted all to know it. Yet there was something in the eye, in the setness of the jaw, in the hair-trigger calm, yet fiercely savage grip in which he closed his strong hands on the arms of his chair, that told me more plainly than words that this was not the optimistic, soft-hearted Bob Brownley I had known and loved. I could not help feeling that if I had been a leader of the Russian terrorists, and this man who now sat before me had come to my ken when I was selecting bombthrowers, I should have seized upon him of all men as the one to stalk the czar or his marked minions. Surely the iron that had entered Bob's soul a week before had affected his whole being. I think Beulah Sands had some such thoughts. For I saw a shadow of perplexity cross her broad, low forehead after her first meeting with him, a shadow that had not been there before.

For days after Bob's return I saw little of him. I think Beulah Sands saw less. During stock exchange hours he spent most of his time on the floor, but he executed few of our orders. He merely looked them over and handed them out to his assistants. As far as I could learn, he spent much of his time there yesterday through hope's graveyards, a not uncommon pastime for active exchange members whose first through specials have been open-switched by the "System" towerman. So strong had become this habit of going about from pole to pole with bent head and a far-off gaze that his fellow members began to humor and respect it. They all knew that Bob had gone up against the Sugar panic hard. No one knew how hard, but all guessed from his changed appearance and habits that it must have been a bone-smashing blow. Nothing so quickly and so deeply stirs a stock ex-come without me, but I knew it was Bob who wanted to see, and I felt that the best thing I could do for them was to leave them alone. So I made some excuse for a moment's delay at my desk telling Bob to go into her office, and promising to follow shortly. He went in, leaving the door partly open. I think that from the moment he entered the room both of them utterly forgot my existence. From her desk Beulah could not see me, and Bob sat so that his back was half toward me. "I dislike to trouble you about my account," I heard her begin in a voice a trifle uneven, "but as I must go back to father Christmas week, I wanted to get your advice as to the advisability of writing him that, though there is still a chance for doing wonders, I do not think we shall be able to save him. Of course I won't put it in just that blunt way, but it seems to me I should begin to prepare him for the blow. I have not talked over any more plunging with you, Mr. Brownley, since the unlucky one in Sugar, and—"

"Miss Sands, I understand what you mean," Bob broke in, "and I should apologize for not having consulted with you about your business affairs. The fact is, I have not been quite clear as to the best thing to do. I hope you don't think I have forgotten. Never for a moment since I took charge of your affairs have I forgotten my promise to see that they were kept active. Truly I have been trying to think out some successful plunge, but—but—there was a hoarseness in his voice—"I have not had my old confidence in myself since that day in Sugar when I killed your hopes and destroyed the chance of saving your father—no, I have not had that confidence a man must have in himself to win at this game."

GETS VENOM FROM BEES.

The bees were in a glass bottle, buzzing fiercely. They rested on a very fine wire netting and below the netting was a transparent fluid. Every little while the chemist stirred them up with a toothpick and their wrath redoubled. "I am extracting their venom," said the man. "I am making them sting everything in sight. The venom drops down through the netting into that liquid, which is alcohol, and I make medicine of it. These angry bees, in a word, are assisting me to make medicine. 'Bees' venom—'apis,' as it is called—is a very good remedy for gout, rheumatism, cancer and a dozen other ailments."

Where the "Brave" Excelled.

Bloodthirsty, vindictive, treacherous, crafty, scornful of suffering, brave unto death when at bay, more cunning than the fox and of infinite patience on the trail, the Indian has proven more than a match for the white in the jungle. It is certain that more whites than savages have perished in forest fighting. But in set battle the redman is without steadfastness and perseverance. The least reverse disheartens him. After the first mad rush his purpose wanes and the slightest check is apt to dispirit his capricious mind.—Outing Magazine.

Hindoo Likes Many Clocks.

The Hindoo places a clock in his room, not because he ever desires to know what the hour is, but because a clock is a foreign curiosity. Instead, therefore of contenting himself with one good clock, he will have, perhaps, a dozen in one room. These clocks are signs of his wealth, but they do not add to his comfort, for he is so indifferent to time that he measures it by the number of bamboo lengths the sun has traveled about the horizon.

Mysteries of Feminine Attire.

The toilet of woman never, even in its most obvious details, comes within the understanding of man. He may admire, appreciate, or adore a woman's dress, but he never for a moment understands it. Few, indeed, are the mysteries which this age of advertisement has left to us, but the time happily is not yet when the ordinary plain man can gauge fine distinctions of chiffon or crepe de chine.—Vanity Fair.

Diet for Dyspeptics.

Although many people eat too much there are some dyspeptics who do not eat enough. Constipation is sometimes due to too concentrated food. In such cases a larger bulk is needed in the intestines. Spinach is excellent for this purpose.

Furnishing a House.

One of the most agreeable features of modern life is the pleasure and enthusiasm which is shown in the furnishing of the present-day house.—London Bystander.

A Sherlock Holmes.

"You are angry, madam." "How do you know? You have just come in." "I met your best friend leaving the house in a new and stunning costume."

Not in His Line.

"Do you think Hamlet was mad?" Inquired the critic. "Sir," answered Mr. Stormington Barnes, "I am an actor, not an alienist."

MICHIGAN NEWS

THE LEGISLATURE DID SOME WORK THAT IS FATALLY DEFECTIVE.

MR. BIRD'S EXAMINATION.

Mt. Pleasant Normal Must Close—Binder Twine Plant Doubtful—Other Acts Full of Flaws.

Laws That Are Not Laws.

Attorney General Bird is scrutinizing the acts of the late legislature and some of the results follow:

He has declared the members of the state legislature are ineligible to election as delegates to the constitutional convention.

Declared the act appropriating $154,000 for the support of the Mt. Pleasant Normal school invalid.

Discovered flaws in the act appropriating $175,000 for a binder twine plant at the Jackson prison.

Declared circuit judges ineligible to election as delegates to the constitutional convention.

Outlined the defense of the secretary of state in the mandamus proceedings to be commenced by Lieut. Gov. Kelley to test the constitutionality of the concurrent resolution submitting the primary election amendments to a vote of the people.

It is stated at the attorney general's office that so far as examined the work of the legislature has been found to be full of flaws. Not more than eight or ten of the more important measures have been submitted to the department for scrutiny, but in nearly every case the enactments have been found defective. The attorney general's knock-out drops were first applied to the military bill, which was so defective that the governor refused to sign it.

Discovered that the act appropriating $154,000 for the support of the Central Normal school at Mt. Pleasant as signed by the governor had not been passed by either house of the legislature in the form in which it was signed, and that as a result of its nullity the institution will not be permitted to draw any portion of the appropriation for the next two years, and it will have to be closed until a special session of the legislature shall be called to pass an emergency appropriation.

A glaring error which may affect the establishment of a binder twine plant at the Jackson prison has also been discovered by the attorney general. The bill makes an appropriation of $175,000 for establishing the plant and providing for the expense of operation. In the first section, after naming the amount of the appropriation, the bill reads:

"That of the amount of one hundred and seventy-five dollars so appropriated, the sum of fifty thousand dollars shall be expended for establishing the plant," etc.

Few mathematicians will be able to subtract $50,000 from $175 and have a remainder. Of course, it is plain to be seen that the word "thousand" was carelessly left out of the bill, but the courts may hold that the error is clerical and the law be held valid. The attorney general is closely scrutinizing the act with a view to the discovery of other errors if they exist.

Another glaring piece of botch work is announced. Many requests have come in for a copy of the juvenile court law and for instructions. The department has not received a copy of the law. Rep. Stimpson, the author of the bill, was very much surprised to find that it had been given immediate effect. He had no intention of asking that, and does not know why it was done.

Judges of probate over the state are sending children to the industrial homes without proper forms and without copies of the law. The law as passed late in the session, and no printing has been done for the juvenile courts.

Stopped to Fight Fire.

As an interurban car on the M. U. R. was making its last trip from Jackson to Battle Creek Wednesday night, passengers discovered the farm house of Roy Chappel, of Sandstone township, on fire. They induced the motorman to stop the car, and, forming themselves into a volunteer fire brigade, worked for nearly an hour trying to save the building and contents. The house was nearly destroyed, however, and the loss is $3,000.

STATE NEWS BRIEFS.

GRAND TRUNK — GRAND RAPIDS

At the eastern approach of Grand Rapids new solid concrete bridge is the passenger station of the Grand Trunk Railway System. No better site in the city could have been selected. It is centrally located near the corner of Canal and Bridge Streets, only a few steps from the heart of the city and to the leading hotels and mercantile establishments. Four different street car lines pass directly by its door affording its passengers direct transfer to all other railroad stations, hotels, furniture exhibition buildings and other important places of business. Less than one block distant are three other street car lines, a total of seven lines distributing people in fourteen different parts of the city.

It is seldom that a site so centrally located can be approached by trains without more or less annoyance on account of so many street crossings, noise and smoke; but, in this instance, all these troubles have been overcome by the Grand Trunk System's large investment in one and one-half miles of concrete wall on the east front of the river on the top of which are located the tracks. This not only gives the city the benefit of a great improvement but affords passengers on this route a beautiful view of the Grand River rapids and many of the cities busy factories. The entire premises are attractive in appearance and are well in keeping with the many other improvements that are continually being made by merchants and factories in its immediate locality. All trains will enter the station from the rear, where suitable sheds will be placed for convenience and protection of the traveler.

The building was designed by Spier and Rohms, Architects, Detroit, Mich., and erected by C. Hoertz and Son, Grand Rapids, Mich. It is constructed of Maine granite, semi-glazed pressed brick, laid up in Flemish bond and trimmed with Bedford Limestone. The roof is constructed of steel, covered with green glazed Spanish tile. The first story floor is made of reinforced concrete finished off with mosaic floor tiling. The main waiting room has a wainscot 13 feet high of scagliola marble finished off with friezes and cornices in white and gold. The ceiling is arched divided into three panels by girth arches extending down to top of wainscot. A series of clerestory windows along river side of this room and also a large arched window in rear furnish good and effective light for every part. The decorations of this room are a light green and cream embellished by ornamental friezes and panels. The ticket office front consists of marble ornamented wrought iron and beveled plate glass. The north-east corner is provided with a news stand, built of quarter-sawn oak. The Ladies' room is treated in white and gold, Men's smoking room in dark red, both rooms have quarter-sawn oak wainscoting, and connected with these rooms are the toilets. All plumbing fixtures are of the best and most modern design. The building is heated by steam, with some indirect radiation for ventilation.

TEMPERANCE

The Boston Post tells of a boy who was found in an almost dying condition because paralysis of certain muscles, through an excessive dose of nicotine, had nearly stopped his breathing. He had been using a large number of cigarettes.

Wonderful changes coming our way in West Virginia. We have had one saloon in our town for over forty years, but that is now a thing of the past, and fourteen more in our county are closed and our people are being aroused to stand for prohibition.—J. Goodloe Jackson, Jane Lew, W. Va.

Kentucky dispatches state that the Republican state convention in session at Louisville, June 19, reflected the rapidly growing sentiment of the state in the adoption of the following platform plank: "We favor the enactment and enforcement of a uniform local option law applicable alike to every county in the state with the county as the governing unit."

One of the most notable temperance victories yet won in Ohio under the local option law, was recently gained by the voting out of the saloons from the city of East Liverpool, by a majority of 293. East Liverpool is a manufacturing city of 24,000 population and is the largest city in the state yet carried entire for temperance. By this victory 73 saloons are put out of business.

HEALTH FOR ALL WOMEN

Who Lose the Bonyancy of Youth? Whether Young or Old—Every Woman May Be Healthy.

To look well and feel well, you must be well. To do this, you must keep the mechanism of your body in perfect running order.

A woman's constitution is far more intricate and delicate—more easily injured and disarranged—than the mechanism of the finest watch. Yet no one would think of allowing a watch to get all out of order before repairing or cleaning it.

How many young ladies there are, who pay no attention to the first symptoms of diseased organs. Pains in the back, head, abdomen, right or left side, and sometimes in the hips and lower limbs. Tired and languid feeling in the morning; worn out and distracted nerves, leading to a cross and petulant disposition. Natural color fading from the cheek, the light and luster from the eye, the once pleasant smile from the face—all these going or gone. What does it mean? Simply that some one or more of the delicate organs are not performing their work as they should.

Nature needs some assistance. These aches and pains—although slight at first—are danger signals, and you ought to heed their warnings before the trouble becomes chronic and disease gets a firm hold on your system.

A nerve- tonic and strength-builder—the best you can get—is what you need at such times. Zoa-Phora is just that; ladies—lots of them—who have used it, say so. We know it is so because Zoa-Phora is made for women—all women—old and young, and has a successful record for thirty years. We want you to know this too by a thorough trial of Zoa-Phora in ly weakness in a more serious degree Zoa-Phora will help you. Thousands similarly afflicted have been cured by its aid, why not you? The record of what Zoa-Phora has done for women is proof of its virtue. The Zoa-Phora Co., Kalamazoo, Mich., can send you books of testimonials containing the names of hundreds of women who are glad to recommend Zoa-Phora to their suffering sisters.

If the delicate organs are congested, relaxed, displaced, or in any way diseased, and do not perform their duties properly and regularly, Zoa-Phora will restore them to their normal activity. The vital force known only to a healthy woman will return and there will be joy of living.

Thousands of women—not hundreds—my sister, attest the fact of the restoration of their health by the use of Zoa-Phora. Ask some of your lady friends about Zoa-Phora. Better still, go to a reliable druggist and get a bottle, begin its use according to full and complete instructions in each package. You will receive Zoa-Phora from the druggist already prepared, compounded in just the right proportions, and put up in sealed, sterilized, one dollar bottles. Just ask for Zoa-Phora—no other explanation will be needed—and no mistake be made.

In each package will be found a copy of "Dr. Pengelly's Advice to women," a medical book giving interesting and instructive information about all diseases of women, and the way to successfully treat them in the privacy of your own home. You need not tell your troubles to any one, your own case. Whether you are slightly ailing from periodical sickness, or suffering from some of woman-

Jamaica's Green Turtles.
An official of Jamaica in a report on turtle fishing, which is the chief industry of the Cayman islands, says the green turtles display an extraordinary sense of locality. It has happened more than once that turtles marked with the initials of their captors have escaped from their crawls in Grand Cayman and within three months have been recaptured at the fishing ground, a distance of over 200 miles. The last instance of this was when a crawl was cut down and 200 turtles escaped. Within three months thirty of them were caught by different fishing boats off the Nicaraguan coast.

His Share.
A gamekeeper found a boy fishing in his master's private waters.
"You mustn't fish here!" he exclaimed. "These waters belong to the Earl of A."
"Do they? I didn't know that," replied the culprit, laying aside his rod. He then took up a book and commenced reading.
The keeper departed, but on returning about an hour afterward found the same youth had started fishing again.
"Do you understand that this water belongs to the Earl of A.?" he roared.
"Why, you told me that an hour ago!" exclaimed the angler, in surprise. "Surely the whole river doesn't belong to him? His share went by long ago!"—London Telegraph.

Long Live The King! is the popular cry throughout European countries; while in America, the cry of the present day is "Long live Dr. Kings New Discovery, King of Throat and Lung Remedies!" of which Mrs. Julia Ryder Paine, Truro, Mass., says: "It never fails to give immediate relief and to quickly cure a cough or cold." Mrs. Paine's opinion is shared by a majority of the inhabitants of this country. New Discovery cures weak lungs and sore throats after all other remedies have failed; and for coughs and colds it's the only sure cure. Guaranteed by F. A. Sigler, druggist. 50c and $1.00. Indigestion Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific nerve sickness—nothing else.
It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had. For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. HAYWOOD IN DENIAL

DEFENDANT ON WITNESS STAND IN HIS OWN BEHALF.

GIVES LIE TO CHARGES

Says He Never Made Threat Against Steunenberg and Never Gave Any Money to Orchard.

Boise, Idaho.—William D. Haywood took oath Thursday, a witness in his own defense, and in a lengthy narrative of his life and his work as a leader of his fellow miners, that was interrupted by adjournment, denied guilt of the murder of Frank Steunenberg and the manifold crimes charged against him by Harry Orchard.

Haywood was pale and trembled with nervousness when he left the table of his counsel and walked around to the elevated witness stand, where he faced the judge and jury and raised his right hand to be sworn. When he began to respond to Clarence Darrow's questions his voice was low and somewhat uncertain, but he soon regained his composure.

As he told of his boyhood that began with toil at the age of nine and gave the history of his family his invalid wife, who sat just to the left of the witness stand, began sobbing softly. Her mother-in-law and her nurse soon comforted her, however, and during the rest of the afternoon she and the rest of Haywood's kinsfolk remained quiet but deeply concerned auditors.

Haywood's testimony was chiefly characterized by positive denials of the allegations made against him by the prosecution. He denied that he met Orchard until some time after the Vindicator explosion; denied that he sent Orchard back to Cripple Creek to blow up the Independence station; denied participation in the Lyte Gregory murder, and denied suggesting or discussing the Steunenberg murder. He swore that he never gave Orchard any money at any time or place for any purpose.

He declared that he never made a threat against Steunenberg, whom he said he regarded only as he did any politician who was being swayed by capitalistic influence. He told of a number of occasions when he met Orchard in Denver in the ordinary course of his relations with the federation and George A. Pettibone, and said he saw Orchard for the last time in August, 1905, when Orchard told him he was going to Alaska, and Haywood said he chided him for deserting his wife at Cripple Creek. The direct examination had not reached the connection of Jack Simpkins and the action of the federation after Steunenberg was murdered when adjournment interrupted it.

Borah Cross-Examines Moyer.
The state completed the cross-examination of Charles E. Moyer at noon, and in dealing with his testimony directed its strongest attack against the circumstances under which the federation, at the suggestion of Jack Simpkins, came to the relief of Orchard when he was arrested for killing Steunenberg.

Senator Borah, who conducted the examination, emphasized the connection of Jack Simpkins and the federation and the fact that the federation, without inquiry as to the guilt or innocence of Orchard, gave $1,500 from its treasury to provide for his defense. He also developed the fact that the federation is providing for the defense of Steve Adams, who is charged with killing two claim jumpers at the instigation of Jack Simpkins.

Moyer denied knowing anything about the $100 that Haywood sent to Jack Simpkins a few days before Steunenberg was assassinated, which is traced to Orchard by an unsigned note he got at Caldwell jail and a coincidence of dates.

Haywood Ends Testimony.
Boise, Idaho.—William D. Haywood, the defendant charged with the murder of Frank Steunenberg, left the witness chair after he had been under examination six hours, the time being equally divided between his own counsel and Senator Borah, who conducted the cross-examination.

There is a prospect now that the case may be brought to a conclusion within two weeks. The state expects to close the rebuttal by Wednesday or Thursday next. The defense expects the opinion that the rebuttal will be in by Saturday. Under these circumstances the case will be given to the jury by the end of the last week of this month.

Building Falls; Three Dead.

Philadelphia.—Three men are known to have been killed, one was fatally hurt and 18 others were injured in the collapse of a new concrete building Wednesday at the plant of Bridgman Bros. company, manufacturers of steam fitters' supplies at Fifteenth street and Washington avenue, in the southwestern section of the city. It is believed several other victims are buried in the ruins.

"UNWRITTEN" LAW FREES

MRS. BOWIE AND SON ACQUITTED
OF THE POSEY MURDER.

Avenge Girl's Wrong—Jury at La
Plata, Md., Requires But Five Minutes to Reach Verdict.

La Plata, Md.—It took the jury in the Bowie murder trial Friday but five minutes to decide that, in southern Maryland, at least, the "unwritten law" is the law to which the seducer must hold himself answerable. And while there was no marked demonstration when the verdict became known, there was sufficient evidence that the verdict of the jury was the verdict of the people of this section of the country.

Both jury and people acquit Mrs. Mary E. Bowie and her son, Henry, of all blame for their acknowledged slaying last January of Hubert Posey, the seducer of their daughter and sister, Priscilla Bowie, who, with her fatherless child, made a most pathetic picture in the courtroom during the progress of the trial. That there was no demonstration was doubtless due to the fact that the verdict of the jury was announced to the judges while they were at dinner during recess.

State's Attorney Wilmer's request to the jury that they bring in a verdict of manslaughter, not of murder, made Thursday evening, was not more noteworthy than the frankness with which Congressman Sidney E. Mudd, of counsel for the defense, appealed to the "unwritten law" in behalf of his clients. Throughout his address, which evidently voiced the sentiments of most of his hearers, Mrs. Bowie and her son sat in stolid composure, while Priscilla Bowie, seated outside the rail among the spectators, wept continuously.

TOBACCO TRUST ATTACKED.

Petition Filed Against Several Individuals and Concerns.

New York.—With a severe thrust the blow has fallen on the tobacco trust. Attorney General Bonaparte, who for a long time has been investigating the great international combine, under the president's direction, Wednesday caused to be filed in the United States circuit court in this city a petition against the following concerns:

American Tobacco company, Imperial Tobacco company, British-American Tobacco company, American Snuff company, American Cigar company, United Cigar Stores company, American Stogie company, Macandrews & Forbes company, and Con-Joy Foli company.

Fifty-six other corporations and 29 individuals connected with the foregoing companies also are named. These corporations and individuals constitute what is generally known as the "tobacco trust," and the petition directed against them sets forth the intention of the government to dissolve this trust by breaking up the agreements under which the concerns are working.

James J. McReynolds, the special assistant attorney general who filed the complaint, said that criminal prosecution of some of the defendants was highly probable, as the Sherman law, under which the action is brought, makes a conspiracy in restraint of trade a criminal offense.

GUIDA IN ABSOLUTE POVERTY.

British Government Grants Novelist
Pension of $750 a Year.

London.—The appearance of the name of the English novelist Ouida (Louise de la Ramee), on the new list of civil pensions for literary merit occasioned some surprise here. Inquiries were at once made concerning the novelist's circumstances and from them it turns out that the pension of $750 a year granted by the government is a greatly needed benefaction.

Until two years ago Mlle. de la Ramee lived at Lucca, Italy, in luxury. As a result, however, of her complete ignorance of the value of money her resources dwindled until she was reduced to a state of absolute poverty, being sometimes actually in want of food. Lately she has been living in a milkman's squalid cottage at Massarosa, eight miles from Lucca.

Close Call for 40 Men.

Mitchell, S. D.—Forty laborers on a wrecking train had a narrow escape from death Tuesday night in a wreck on the Milwaukee road, three miles east of here. Three cars of the train were precipitated into the James river, but the coach containing the workmen landed on top, and not a man was seriously hurt.

South African Hotel Dynamited.

Johannesburg.—The dynamite outrages arising from the strike situation throughout the mining regions continue. The first fatalities occurred Friday when Kilfoil's hotel at Boksburg was blown up. Three men were killed and several injured. An attempt also was made to damage the Jompers Deep mine.

IN OUR STATE

JURY DECLARED NELLIE LEWIS
DID NOT MURDER
POST.

STRAY BULLET KILLED.

Notes and Comments on Happenings in Various Parts of the State Put in Brief Form.

The Lewis-Post Case.

After being out some 20 hours, a Grand Rapids jury in the trial of Nellie Lewis, charged with murdering Martin Post, a bartender, one night in May, by stabbing him with a butcher knife, returned a verdict of not guilty. The verdict is a big surprise to those who have been following the case closely, although sympathy was universally with the defendant. Nellie Lewis is the woman with whom he had lived some years ago and who says she left him when she found he would not marry her. Later their relations were resumed and when the knife wounds were inflicted another woman, Mrs. Anna Parmelee, was in the room with Post. Self defense was the plea relied upon, the woman swearing that Post had struck her first.

A Fatal Shot.

John Bender, the 12-year-old son of Wolfgang Bender, was shot through the heart by a stray bullet Friday afternoon and instantly killed. The boy was standing on one of the Menominee docks watching his comrades swimming in the waters of the bay, when of a sudden he gave an outcry, dropping over dead. No one seems to be able to tell where the fatal shot came from.

Solved the Mystery.

It now transpires that Charles Bunnell and William Jakway, who were drowned in Legby Lake, July 4, were the victims of an accident and that there was no foul play. With Bunnell and Jakway in the boat was Bill Ketchum and Len West. All had been drinking. Either Ketchum or Jakway jumped overboard and in so doing capsized the boat. The marks found on Bunnell, that looked as if he had been struck with a club, were caused by an accident shortly before he was drowned.

May Save the School.

Bradley is so thoroughly convinced that it would be a serious mistake to close the Central Normal school in Mt. Pleasant because the legislature blunderingly failed to pass the appropriation that he will bring the matter before the board of state auditors at the next meeting and try to secure an allowance sufficient for maintenance. The attorney-general's department is of the opinion that no money could be legally voted to the normal by the board, but Mr. Bradley contends that this is an extraordinary situation and requires extraordinary action.

Not Eligible.

Attorney General Bird, after a study of the constitutional provisions bearing on the subject, believes that members of the legislature cannot legally be elected to the constitutional convention.

More or less circuit judges having been proposed for convention delegates, the attorney general reports them to be also ineligible, under section 6, article IX, of the constitution. He explains that circuit judges, serving as delegates, might be called upon to fix their own salaries. He points out also that some parts of the constitution need no supplementary action by the legislature, which would place the judges in a position of serving both as lawmakers and jurists.

AROUND THE STATE.

George Howard swore at his mother-in-law, and Justice Torrey gave him 15 days in the county jail to think it over.

South Haven voters have rejected the proposition to bond for $52,000 to secure new factories and refund the floating debt.

Edward Sedlacek, aged 23, of Chicago, while bathing in Sister lake with four companions, sank and failed to rise again.

Joe McCauley, arrested in Bay City, Sunday on a petty charge, turns out to be an escaped convict from Marquette prison. He was returned.

Major Boynton's 70th birthday was celebrated by about 200 Port Huron business men and prominent Macca-bees, who tendered him a banquet.

Asgaard Nault, aged 12, of Ishpeming, died of blood poisoning as a result of a July 4 injury, when he was shot in the abdomen with a paper wad.

The output of strawberries in Traverse City and vicinity is large, but they are being shipped to Chicago at fancy prices and local people are given no opportunity to buy.

Because his daughter Agnes neglected to lock the safe Postmaster Christopher, of Fruitport, will have to stand the loss of $200 worth of stamps stolen by burglars last week.

Edith Martin, aged 16, and Glencoe J. Wiley, aged 18, of Allegan, classmates in school, eloped to Galesburg, and were married. A brother-in-law of the girl appeared on the scene and broke up the happy couple.

New Use for Old Ropes.
Some time ago a Welsh manufacturer in the north of England succeeded in making a fabric from old ropes. He obtained a quantity of old rope and cordage, unwoveled them and wove them by a secret process into a kind of rough cloth.

WESTERN MEN IN NEW YORK.

Brains of Mountain and Prairie in Demand in the Financial Center.

Ever since the early days, when D. O. Mills, J. B. Haggin and James R. Keene "emigrated" from California to New York, the metropolis has been drawing largely on the west and south for its supply of "men who do things." Theodore P. Shonts, both a southerner and westerner, who has undertaken to solve New York's great transit problem, is the latest importation in response to the call of the east.

The promptness with which Thos. F. Ryan, of Virginia, turned the Equitable Life Assurance Society over to its policyholders, who now elect a majority of its Board of Directors, and divested himself of the control of the stock which he bought from Jas. H. Hyde, and the success of the new management of the Society under the direction of President Paul Morton, have created a demand for the strong men of the south and west that is greater than ever before. Under the Morton management the Equitable has made a better showing than any other insurance company in the way of improved methods, economies and increased returns to policyholders.

E. H. Gary, head of the greatest corporation in the world—the U. S. Steel Co.—John W. Gates, Henry C. Frick, Norman B. Ream, Wm. H. Moore and Daniel G. Reid are other westerners who are among the biggest men in New York.

SOMEWHAT OF A REFLECTION.

Naive Comment of Debutante That Amused Hostess.

A charming hostess of one of the "big houses," as they are called by those who are welcomed into them, has the added beauty of premature white hair. That which seems to her contemporaries an added charm may appear to the crudely young a mark of decline, at least so it appears in one instance of which the hostess herself tells with enjoyment.

The lady is a connoisseur of antiques. At one of her teas a debutante rich with the glow of youth, but sadly constrained with her sense of novelty, was handed a cup of tea; the cup was beautifully blue and wonderfully old. The hostess desiring to lighten the strain on her youthful guest by a pleasant diverting remark, said: "That little cup is a hundred and fifty years old!"

"Oh," came the debutante's high strained tones: "How careful you must be to have kept it so long!"

Judges at Their Best.

In the course of a recent case before Mr. Justice Darling the judge declined to make a requested ruling, saying that if he did so the court of appeals would say he was wrong. Counsel having expressed disagreement with this view, the judge said: "Well, you know the court of appeals as well as I do, perhaps better, for you see them at work, while I only meet them at luncheon." To which the barrister dryly replied: "Your lordship sees them at their best."—Law Notes.

A SMALL SECRET.

Couldn't Understand the Taste of His Customers.

Two men were discussing the various food products now being supplied in such variety and abundance.

One a grocer, said, "I frequently try a package or so of any certain article before offering it to my trade, and in that way sometimes form a different idea than my customers have."

"For instance, I thought I would try some Postum Food Coffee, to see what reason there was for such a call for it. At breakfast I didn't like it and supper proved the same, so I naturally concluded that my taste was different from that of the customers who bought it right along."

"A day or two after, I waited on a lady who was buying a 25c package and told her I couldn't understand how one could fancy the taste of Postum."

"I know just what is the matter," she said, "you put the coffee boiler on the stove for just fifteen minutes, and ten minutes of that time it simmered, and perhaps five minutes it boiled; now if you will have it left to boil fifteen minutes after it commences to boil, you will find a delicious Java-like beverage, rich in food value of gluten and phosphates, so choice that you will never abandon it, particularly when you see the great gain in health. Well, I took another trial and sure enough I joined the Postum army for good, and life seems worth living since I have gotten rid of my old time stomach and kidney troubles."

Postum is no sort of medicine, but pure liquid food, and this, together with a relief from coffee worked the change. "There's a Reason."

BREAKING UP A WASP

Insects Will All Go to Their Jug of Hot Water.

"Most people think of hornets and yellow jackets as strictly country products, but as a fact the big wasp-take gardens in the southwestern part of the city are very well supplied with both," says a St. truck farmer.

"Of course at this season of the year they give very little trouble, but in the autumn, when fall plowing progress it is a very common sight to turn up a nest of hornets, and then there is generally a fight in two directions, for the farmer, ill-tempered when disturbed, takes both the farmer and his horse the latter takes one direction and the farmer tracks in another."

"It is a very easy matter to exterminate the wasps before beginning to plow, so when a gardener notices there is a nest of them anywhere on his land he prepares for them before he plows. He takes a common earthenware jug half full of very hot water, sets it down close to the mouth of the wasps' nest, puts on a pair of gloves, covers his head and neck with a handkerchief under his hat, gives the nest a poke with a long pole, and runs. The angry wasps come out by hundreds, and, seeing nothing unusual but the jug, they attack it with might and main, diving down through the narrow neck, apparently under the impression that their enemy is hidden inside."

"The hot water kills them, but those that are not immediately drowned keep up a tremendous buzzing, which seems to exasperate still further all the wasps within hearing, and it looks as though they can't get into the jug fast enough. I have several times taken more than a thousand drowned wasps out of the jug after a raid, for so long as a wasp is left he makes for the mouth of the jug, and the whole nest can be exterminated in this way. It is a queer illustration of stupidity on the part of an otherwise intelligent insect, but the trick never fails."

A Chinese Dinner.

"E. T. Snuggs, of Shiu Hing, missionary of Southern convention, and I dined with P. P. Wong, a wealthy business man of Shanghai," said the Rev. Dr. N. R. Pittman, one of the two Missouri representatives to the great centenary missionary conference in China and the only representative from Kansas City.

"He invited to dine with us four Chinese gentlemen of learning and wealth. They spoke English with accuracy. The dinner was a feast. The course consumed two hours. When we had been dining almost an hour I asked Sinsing Wong how many more courses. He said 'Sixteen.' Every 15 minutes a servant brought to each one of us a hot cloth with which he wiped our hands and faces. We surely had a hundred different dishes. We had birds' nest soup. We had things from the air and earth and sea and brook. That dinner must have cost Sinsing Wong $100 in gold."

Facetious Testators.

Will making often affords a man an unrivaled opportunity of paying off old scores and speaking his mind without any fear of unpleasant consequences to himself.

The great duke of Marlborough evidently could not resist the temptation of a farewell "slap" at his duchess when he left her £10,000 where-with to spoil Blenheim in her own way and £15,000 to keep clean and to go to law with."

There is also a distinct note of spitefulness in the extract from the testament of a Mr. Kerr, who, after declaring that he would probably have left his widow £10,000 if she had allowed him to read his evening paper in peace, adds: "But you must remember, my dear, that whenever I commenced reading you started playing and singing. You must therefore take the consequences. I leave you £1,000."—Grand Magazine.

Slept on the Snakes.

"Yes, I think I'll go on a vacation this summer, but I hope I fare better than I did last year," said the clerk.

"What happened last year, Burt?"

"Well, the first night I took the hotel was crowded, but the proprietor insisted he could fix me up a nice bed on the veranda and draw curtains around it to shut it off. It was a hot night, so I submitted. My bed was rather hard and I didn't sleep very well. The next day I got acquainted with a man at my table who said he was a showman and that he had his snakes along with him. I became interested and asked to see them. He led me to my improvised bedroom and frightened the life out of me by lifting up the lid of the box that they had called my bed. It was full of snakes, and I had slept on them. That day I moved."

"Josiah," said Mrs. Chugwater, wiping her spectacles, "baseball must be an awful cruel game. This paper says a man named Smith was pounded all over the lot. And I guess it must have been true, for it says that is the next inning he died on second base."

Mrs. Emma Stolt, of Appleton, Wisconsin.

"A neighbor, advised me to use Peruna. I began to improve at once."

MRS. EMMA STOLT.

Mrs. Emma Stolt, 1069 Oneida St., Appleton, Wis., writes:

"Peruna has done me a great deal of good since I began taking it and I am always glad to speak a good word for it. Three years ago I was in a wretched condition with backaches, bearing down pains, and at times was so sore and lame that I could not move about. I had inflammation and irritation, and although I used different remedies they did me no good."

"A neighbor who had been using Peruna advised me to try it, and I am glad that I did. I began to improve as soon as I took it and I felt much better."

"I thank you for your fine remedy. It is certainly a godsend to sick women."

Catarrrh of the Internal Organs.

Miss Theresa Bertles, White Church, Mo., writes:

"I suffered with catarrrh of the stomach, bowels and internal organs. Everything I ate seemed to hurt me. I never had a passage of the bowels without taking medicine. I was so tired mornings and ached all over. I had a pain in my left side, and the least exertion or excitement made me short of breath."

"Now, after taking Peruna for six months, I am as well as I ever was. Peruna has worked wonders for me. I believe Peruna is the best medicine in the world, and I recommend it to my friends."

Tone Up With Good Paint

It is good business to keep property "toned up."

Pure White Lead gives an opaque, durable coat that protects and preserves from the ravages of time and weather.

HAD HIS REVENGE

ORANG OUTANG GOT EVEN WITH TORMENTORS.

Chattering Monkeys Pestered Big Brute Beyond the Limits of His Patience, and a Tragedy Was the Result.

When Pete, the big orang outang, took offense at the continual chattering of eight African monkeys which occupied a cage directly opposite the crate containing Pete between decks on the big British freighter Schuykill, which got in recently from Manila, Singapore and other parts of the far east, Capt. Anderson did not pay much attention to his protests, says the New York Times. They put him down as a crank, and let it go at that. The vessel put into Boston some days ago, but before she got there Pete had found his chance to even accounts with his tormentors. The brute broke out of his cage, and before he could be captured had killed four of the monkeys.

The Schuykill left Manila on February 12, and her last port of call before arriving on this side was Algiers. The orang outang and the monkeys were brought on board at Singapore, as were a number of snakes and a tiger. The orang outang was rather a docile appearing animal when the Schuykill got out into the Atlantic, but he soon showed signs of disliking his traveling companions. The chattering of the monkeys got on his nerves, and his resentment increased from day to day. Apparently the little family became aware of Pete's aversion, for they rather took delight in poking monkey fun at him. It got so bad that whenever the big orang outang came within their view they greeted him with a chorus of monkey chatter and laughter.

The climax came when the vessel was about four days from Boston. Pete, it appeared later, had for some time been quietly working on the bars of his cage, and about noon he got out and started in to clean up his objectionable neighbors in the flat next door.

The first the officers knew of Pete's escape was when a great hullabaloo arose from the hold and out of the obscurity below shot up the forms of three little black monkeys, their hair literally standing on end. The officers hurried below and there found that Pete had torn off the front part of the monkey cage, and was engaged in making short work of its occupants. Four he killed before he could be driven from his task, and one who had been unable to get out of the hold was cowering in fear behind a pile of freight.

Such was the rage of the orang outang that before he could be cornered he started after the escaped monkey. Behind him came two of the ship's crew, armed with stout sticks. The double chase was continued about the place before they cornered the angry beast and forced him back into the crate.

The monkeys that were left were put back in their cage and it was taken out of Pete's sight. The rest of the voyage Pete passed behind double bars.

Crafty John.

Genial John, the oil king of ancient times, was observed to be piloting old Diogenes among the biggest thieves and grafters of the age.

"Why don't you steer him among good people," asked the astonished friend. "Why, he will never find an honest man among that rabble."

Genial John laughed craftily. "Ah, my friends," he whispered, "you are not wise. If Diogenes should find an honest man he would naturally extinguish his lantern and stop using oil. Therefore it is to my advantage that he should continue the search."

And Genial John started for Egypt to have another wig made.

Dog Outshines Royalty.

A little yellow dog took it into its head to show the way down the Strand and Fleet street for the king and queen of Denmark as they proceeded from Buckingham palace to the Guildhall to lunch with the lord mayor.

In the middle of the road ahead of the mounted police, gentleman outriders, and the Life Guard, the dog sedately trotted along, unmoved by the cheers of the crowds on the sidewalks, apparently completely absorbed in the discharge of the important duty he had assumed.

The sensation he caused quite overshadowed that aroused by the royal visitors from Denmark. Everybody cheered the dog, and only a few cheered the royalties whose movements he had undertaken to supervise.—London Cor. N. Y. Times.

A Vivid Description of the Most Injurious of Diseases.

Miss Emma Shirley, Killbuck, N. Y., writes: "Kidney disease mysteriously fastened itself upon me two years ago and brought awful headaches and dizzy spells. I was all unstrung, weak and nervous, could scarcely totter about. Pains in the side and back completely unnerved me. My food distressed me, I looked badly and the kidneys were noticeably deranged. I sank lower and lower until given up and at this critical time began with Doan's Kidney Pills. Details are unnecessary. Twelve boxes cured me and I weigh six pounds more than ever before. They saved my life."

MAN AND HIS WAYS.

Fertile Brain Has Evolved a New Style of Cradle.

A new cradle has been invented—and by a man. Which latter statement is a redundancy—for no up-to-date woman would really ever think of inventing anything so pernicious to her infant's welfare. Has she not become enlightened to the dreadful ills of that time-honored institution of our ancestors? Dare she imperil the intellect that is to sway the twentieth century by untimely "juggling" in its embryo stage? Poor modern babe! When colic's gripes assail, it may not know the luxury of a steady tramp swung across father's shoulder—strange to say, men do not fear at this dictum of the new motherhood—much less will it experience the bliss of being lulled to rest in a wooden-slatted cradle or fluffy bassinet, swayed by the foot of a wondrous being who swings and croons, swings and croons, till baby woes are merged in blessed sleep. Its maker claims that sideways rocking is, indeed, injurious to babykins, but to his eyes, not his brain. Therefore has he constructed a cradle that swings lengthwise, and is shaped like a boat!

SCALY ERUPTION ON BODY.

Doctors and Remedies Fruitless—Suffered 10 Years—Completely Cured by Cuticura.

"Small sores appeared on each of my lower limbs and shortly afterwards they became so sore that I could scarcely walk. The sores began to heal, but small scaly eruptions appeared. The itching was so severe that I would scratch the sores until the blood began to flow. After I suffered thus about ten years I made a renewed effort to effect a cure. The eruptions by this time had appeared on every part of my body except my face and hands. The best doctor in my native county and many remedies gave no relief. All this was fruitless. Finally my hair began to fall out and I was rapidly becoming bald. A few months after, having used almost everything else, I thought I would try Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Soap. After using three boxes I was completely cured, and my hair was restored, after fourteen years of suffering and an expenditure of at least $50 or $60 in vainly endeavoring to find a cure. B. Hiram Mattingly, Vermillion, S. Dak., Aug. 18, 1906."

THE STORY OF A WISCONSIN MAN IN WESTERN CANADA.

Three Years Ago Worth Only $2,000; To-Day Is Worth $13,000.

The following is a copy of a letter, of which the Agents of the Canadian Government throughout the United States receive similar orders many times during the year:

Cayley, Alta., Dec. 7, 1906. Agent Canadian Government, Watertown, S. D.

Dear Sir: Your letter dated Nov. 27th at hand and was very glad to hear from you. I see that you are still at work persuading people to move into the Canadian Northwest. I must tell you that I owe you many thanks for persuading me to come out here, am only sorry that I wasn't persuaded sooner, and there is still plenty of good chances for many more right at the present time. I hope that you will be able to induce more to make a start out to this part of the country.

Now I must tell you what I have accomplished since I came out here and it won't be three years till the 1st of July. I shall shortly receive my patent for my homestead, the homestead cost me $10.00 in all, to-day it is worth $30.00 per acre, but it is not for sale. Then a year ago last May I bought 320 acres at $7.00 per acre and sold this fall for $20.00 per acre and cleared a profit of $4,160.00. How is that for the Northwest? I now have 320 acres of land and all paid for, 15 head of horses, 30 head of cattle, 22 pigs, 2 sheep and about 150 chickens and other poultry, and all new machinery and everything is paid for. We also bought 8 lots in Calgary and 7 in High River. We gave $470 for the 15 lots and they are paid for. At present I consider myself worth $13,000.00, and when I left Wisconsin less than three years ago I had about $2,000.00. This year I threshed a little over 4,000 bushels of grain, have about one thousand bushels of fine potatoes and about five hundred bushels of turnips. Mrs. Beisiegel sold about $200 worth of garden truck and poultry this fall. Now there are lots of others in this community who did as well as I did in the same length of time.

The family and myself are all well at this writing and hope this letter will find you the same.

Yours very truly, (Signed) PHILIP BEISIEGEL, Cayley, Alta., Canada.

Vacation.

The secret of rest is to get rid of detail for a time. Why is it that a sea voyage is regarded as the best of tonics? Simply because the entire change of surroundings wipes out the mass of complications attendant upon the daily routine of the ordinary worker. We all need occasional freedom from the bondage of the tiny strings that bind us to wearing tasks. The man who realizes this and plans his vacation accordingly makes no mistake.

The "Pull" and the Job.

Business men are constantly being pestered by young men who seek positions through letters of recommendation, often in the form of personal requests from fellow business men. One may well question whether these letters have any great "pulling" power after all. The Saturday Evening Post tells of such an instance. After being very politely dismissed by several managers with the stereotyped expression that there was not a vacancy at present, the young man tore up the letters and went back to the place last visited.

"What can I do for you now?" the manager asked in an annoyed tone. "Pardon me," said the young man, "but I've just torn up those letters. Could you give me a job on my own hook?"

The manager looked amused and said: "We need a young fellow to chip castings in the machine shop at $6 a week. If you like, you can have that until something better turns up." "Yes, sir," replied the job hunter "I'm ready now."

Half a tea-spoonful of black pepper, finely ground, should be mixed with double the quantity of brown sugar, the compound to be moistened with condensed milk. The flies will eat greedily of this mixture if placed where they can easily reach it; but it will be their last meal, for the least taste of it will poison a fly. If watched, they will often be seen to drop dead within a short distance of the place which they have just left, and some of the greediest eaters do not live to leave the plate.

The sermons both morning and evening were excellent with good attendance. Two excellent duets were sung, one in the morning entitled "Star of the East" by Mr. Gates and Mrs. F. G. Jackson; in the evening Percy Swarthout and Mrs. Emma Burgess sang "Just a Word with Jesus." Both were much appreciated. The C. E. meetings are growing in interest and attendance.

By request the pastor will repeat the sermon, "Is American Christianity in earnest." Evening subject, "Vacation."
