More than one fourth of the timber cut each year in the United States is made into boxes, barrels, crates and other things. A great majority of the lumber thus employed is destroyed after the box or package has been used but once.

Ninety nine out of every hundred people who see an article they wish to ask what is the price, and yet few business men recognize this when writing their advertisements. Mail order houses give the prices of articles which is one secret their success.

This office is in receipt of tickets to the state fair and to show that the managers appreciate the advertising that they receive outside of their paid matter the following is printed on the back of the ticket: "This ticket is transferable because the publication named hereon has paid for it many times by publishing liberal press notices for the State Fair and it will be accepted at both the gate and the grand stand."

St. Mary's Picnic.

The annual picnic of St. Mary's society occurred on Thursday last and was the usual successful affair. The crowd began to arrive early and remained until the evening. The ladies served the usual big spread and the drinking and ice cream stands held a crowd most of the time. Cones were used this year for the sale of cream and it was no unusual thing to see a half dozen people, each with a cone of ice cream sitting by themselves laughing and having a good time while they enjoyed their cream.

The speaking was enjoyed by a great many and the speakers said many excellent things. Henry Ruen introduced the speakers in a few well chosen words. Morley Vaughn gave a short address of welcome and Hon. Robt. E. Frazier gave the address of the day.

After the speeches came the ball game and the small teams did some good work. The Stockbridge team was too much, however, for our boys and cleaned up on them to the tune of 14 to 4. We will try and do better next time.

The society had a successful day and the coffers were enriched by over $400.

Pleasant Home Wedding.

Monday morning at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Johnson, on Unadilla Street, occurred the marriage of their only daughter, Hazel, and Theodore J. Gaul. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives of the bride and groom, by Rev. D. C. Littlejohn. The brides brother, Gale Johnson, was best man, and Miss Helen Dolan bridesmaid.

The bride is one of Pinckney's fair daughters and is well known in musical circles having graduated from the Ann Arbor conservatory and the groom is a graduate of the State Normal and principal of the school here.

They left amid a shower of rice, old shoes, etc., and the best wishes of their many friends, for Howell, where they took the train for Detroit, thence to Philadelphia, Pa., and Ocean City, N. J. On their return they will be at home in the Graham residence on Mill street.

M. E. Church Notes.

The Sunday services were well attended and the Pastor preached two of as good sermons as were ever delivered here. They were full of inspiration and one could not help but try and do better after listening to them.

The Sunday school attendance was 94, collection $1.76. The school is talking of a picnic and it is hoped there may be a good attendance next Sunday as the matter will be brought up.

The Epworth League meeting was well attended and the lesson very interesting, Miss Mary Van Fleet, leader. The subject was on Sunday school lines and the pastor followed with a sermon on the same lines.

At the quarterly conference Friday evening presiding elder Dawe said that the Pinckney charge was in the best shape spiritually and financially of any charge in the Detroit conference. The members gave an unanimous vote for the return of Rev. Littlejohn to the work here for another year. There is only three more weeks before conference and it is hoped that there may be a good attendance at all services. Come and bring your friends. Remember all are welcome and all seats are free.

Next Sunday morning the pastor will preach on the subject of The Children and the Church. All parents are especially invited to come and bring their children.

ADDRESS:

Glennbrook Stock Farm.
PINCKNEY, MICH.

F. L. Andrews and family and Miss Mae Ratz spent a couple of days camping at Portage the first of the week.

The Fowlerville Review started in with its 34th year last week. Bro. Adams, one of the founders of the paper, is still at the head and is making a good paper—clean and wholesome. May he continue at the head 33 years more.

The Young Peoples Club of North Hamburg will hold their next meeting with Walter and Mae Van Fleet Saturday evening, Aug. 1, 1907. As this is the election of officers every member is urgently requested to be present. t 35

Ross Read and wife are nearly ready to move into their new house on Main street, the brick work has reached the second story on Marion Reasons new house and the carpenters are rushing their work on Guy Teeple's new residence.

We understand that the canal between Portage and Base lakes will be opened Monday of next week for launches and other craft. There is talk of a sort of a celebration but as we go to press we can learn nothing definite. It will probably bring a great many more residents to Portage each year as they can come to Lakeland and over to this beautiful piece of water in launches. Our genial resorter, C. E. Baughn will have his hands full, but he is equal to the occasion.

New Immigration Act.

On July 1, 1907, the new immigration act of February 20, 1907, went into effect. As this law is to represent, for the present at least, our policy with regard to the admission of aliens to the United States, it is well to see clearly at this time what changes the new act has made in previous legislation, and what the probable effects will be. The new act is weak, remarks Robert DeC. Ward, in North American Review, in that the excellent "poor physique" clause is largely nullified by giving the secretary of commerce and labor authority to admit physically defective aliens under bonds (except in cases of tuberculosis or loathsome and dangerous contagious diseases). All past experience goes to show that such bonds are useless. All common-sense goes to show that a physically defective and degenerate alien is undesirable, whether he be a public charge or not. Better to have 100,000 aliens spending all their lives in American almshouses, insane asylums or prisons than to have 500 physically weak, defective and degenerate aliens spending their lives in sweat shops or factories, and reproducing their kind, to hand down these qualities of degeneracy and of poor physique to succeeding generations. We might establish a physical standard for admission to this country like that of the United States army or navy. That would be too high. We might require every alien to have a physique sufficiently rugged to enable him to work at hard manual labor, whether he be a clerk or a painter or a farm hand. That, also, might be too severe. The very least we can do is to establish a physical standard such that any one so weak, degenerate or defective as to have his ability to support himself thereby interfered with should be excluded.

The conservative element in China has been greatly upset by two incidents which occurred almost simultaneously. The "holy duke, Yen," who is a lineal descendant of Confucius in the seventy-sixth generation, visited Peking for the express purpose of opposing the government plan for a memorial university to his great ancestor. He expressed his belief that the institution should teach modern languages and modern science, as well as the Confucian sacred books, which are the pillars of the old Chinese learning. The other incident, even more shocking to tradition, was the visit of Count Otani, the abbot of one of the most famous Buddhist monasteries in Japan. He represents the advanced wing of the sect which advocates the marriage of the priesthood, tolerates meat eating, and accepts modern science. He has his countenance with him, and traveled in that most dangerous of "foreign devil wagons," an automobile.

Our attention has just been called to the case of a diabolically clever young man in Iowa who invented a novel method of discontinuing a love affair. He hit upon the scheme of pretending to be dead. He got in a coffin and had himself photographed with a border of flowers around him, and sent the photograph to the betrothed. She believes that he is in his grave and eaten by worms—and we congratulate her upon her sorrowful condition, for it is nothing to the sorrow she would suffer if married to the unscrupulously inventive genius.

The very large number of drownings now being reported brings out the familiar counsel as to the importance of learning to swim. It happens, however, that in many of the more notable cases reported the victims were good swimmers and succumbed to their daring in tempting fate. The reckless swimmer exposes himself to more dangers than those who cannot swim at all. The land lubbers can at least keep ashore.

Most of the fine American vessels that fought the Spanish war in one round without loss of wind have been sent to the scrap pile or the museum as back numbers, or at least are in the repair shop, where the government expert is looking them over and shaking his head. In building a modern warship the work must be hurried along as much as possible lest the vessel be out of date before it is completed.

LATEST NEWS OF MICHIGAN

A CLERICAL ERROR DOES NOT MAKE BINDER TWINE ACT VOID.

A SELF-CORRECTING ACT.

The Opinion Says There Is Nothing Doubtful About It, So Jackson Prison Will Be Equipped.

Law Is Valid.

The state binder twine plant act has been declared valid by the supreme court and Gov. Warner's satisfaction is plainly evident. When Attorney General Bird advised Auditor General Bradley recently that there was some doubt as to the validity of the law, the word "thousand" having been omitted in one of the paragraphs of the measure after the bill had been passed by the legislature and before being signed by the governor, an effort was at once made to get the supreme court together to pass upon the law. Several of the judges were absent from the city on their summer vacations, but upon the urgent request of the governor and attorney general, both of whom desired the matter settled definitely, Judges McAlvay, Montgomery and Ostrander with Judges Hooker and Moore who were in town, received the papers in the case and passed upon the law. The matter was presented by the attorney general who, while of the opinion that the court would sustain the law, still had a doubt sufficient to justify the advice given to the auditor general not to pay out any part of the appropriation until the question was decided.

Justice Montgomery, in the opinion signed by the other four justices who had the matter under consideration says: "It is perfectly manifest that the legislature appropriated $50,000 for the purpose of purchasing, erecting and equipping the necessary buildings, and it is equally obvious that that $50,000 could not be subtracted from $175, and that the $175 was plainly intended to mean $175,000 is again made manifest by the fact that in the same clause, after appropriating $50,000 the legislature further appropriated a remaining $125,000, which must be a remainder after deducting $50,000 from $175,000. It is a clerical error which corrects itself and leaves nothing doubtful. Such clerical errors will not be permitted to defeat the plain intent of the legislature."

Warden Armstrong said that the prison board had expected the court would sustain the act, and had made arrangements to enter into contracts for machinery as soon as possible. The board has assurances that the machinery necessary can be delivered by December 15 and that the plant will be in operation by the middle of January.

The decision of the court requires the auditor general to pay the claims of the prison board out of the appropriation. That official had previously decided to spread the necessary tax under the act.

McCurdy Loses.

Despite the fact that Hugh McCurdy, the well known Mason, has been improving in health the last few days, the fact is being kept from him that Shiawassee county voted 3 to 1 against the proposal to reimburse him for money loaned the county and used in the construction of the new court house. The loan was declared illegal and some of the supervisors who entered into the deal were indicted by the grand jury.

The fact that the voters of the county twice before refused to sanction a payment of the debt to him seriously affected the health of McCurdy. This third refusal, it is currently remarked, won't help his case any.

She Took a Chance.

One of Maple Grove's young ladies discovered a large skunk calmly making a feast of 13 small chickens which it had killed and piled up ready for a feed. Without hesitation she grabbed the perfumed visitor by the tail, swung it around a few times and let it fly. The pole-cat was taken so by surprise and rendered so dizzy that it did not resort to its usual weapon, and was subsequently dispatched by the young lady's father. The young heroine came out of the encounter without any souvenir of the occasion.

Fourth Victim Dies.

A fourth victim in the Jackson automobile accident of last week, when a D. U. R. interurban car struck an automobile, killing three of the occupants, was claimed Tuesday morning when R. A. Oliver died in the White Cross sanitarium. Oliver, who was 45 years old, was one of the city's most prominent business men. He was interested in various manufacturing enterprises, having climbed from a position as letter carrier to one of wealth.

Drowns Saving Girl.

In an effort to save Miss Myrtle Bowerman, 21 years old from drowning at North Lake, near Fostoria, Harold Harding, 20 years old, lost his own life. Miss Bowerman became exhausted and cried for help, when she was some distance from a raft from which ten young people were swimming. Harding succeeded in getting Miss Bowerman back to the raft and then sank before people realized that he was drowning.

'SLAYS HER HUSBAND.

Woman Says He Compelled Her to Live an Immoral Life.

Goaded to frenzy by the life of which she declares her husband forced her to live, in order that she obtain means for their support, Mrs. Clara Sweeney, aged 25 years, of Grand Rapids, shot and killed her husband, James Sweeney, aged 27, Thursday afternoon.

The woman, apparently heartbroken over her deed, lies on a cot in the county jail, constantly moaning for "Jimmie." The woman tells a pitiful story.

She says that he brought men to their rooms on Commerce street. Thursday he brought a man to their place, but she rebelled. Sweeney left for liquor, and when he returned his wife had turned the man from her home and barricaded the doors against her husband. She told him he would have to get in through a window. He did, and a quarrel ensued, during which she shot him four times. When she saw he was mortally hurt she repented, and throwing her arms about him cried out for forgiveness. She was formerly Clara Connelly, of Alma, and the divorced wife of G. M. Hodgkinson, of that place. She had two children by Hodgkinson. The dead man was the son of Daniel Sweeney, a Conklin farmer.

Bloodhounds Trailing.

About 10:30 Tuesday night, an unknown man shot and probably fatally wounded Night Policeman Clarence Shockley, of Niles, and a sheriff's posse and bloodhounds from Battle Creek are trailing the man who did the shooting. Officer Shockley is unable to talk. Four bullets took effect in his body. The affair happened in C. R. Smith's lumber yard, and the wounded policeman was found by Glen Kugler, who was directed to the spot by hearing groans. Of late Shockley has been active in ridding the city of suspicious looking characters and toughs, and it is thought he had trailed this man to the lumber yard, and when attempting an arrest was shot down. About that time two citizens saw a young man, dressed in black, run down the railroad tracks. The bloodhounds were given the scent here and took it readily.

A Working Cruise.

Rumors are "afloat" to the effect that the triumphant cruise of the Don Juan de Austria from the coast to Detroit was not as harmonious and constantly in one tune as was the battle of Manila, in which the Spanish flagship went to the bottom. Some members of the crew, it is now said, have grievances against the officers and tales of woe to tell. "I think the trouble originated with some of the men who went down expecting a pleasure trip, but found out that it was not a pleasure trip, but a cruise," said one of the crew. "The most of the complaint was because the boys did not get shore liberty at Montreal, but there was good enough reason for that. They were afraid the 20 regulars we had aboard as coal passers, etc., would not get back in time. The reason was a good one, and we were all treated alike—they gave no shore liberty at all. I cannot see that they have any reasonable complaint."

The Detroit Tunnel.

The first steel section of the Michigan Central tunnel under Detroit river will be laid from the Detroit shore within the next ten days. Already 500 feet of the trench in which the mammoth tube is to be laid have been dredged out. The first drifts for the tunnel approaches, from eight to sixteen feet in height, have been completed.

A steam shovel is soon to be started on the open cut work on the American side. It will gouge out from fifty to seventy-five carloads of earth a day. From all indications noted in making the cuts, the engineers in charge of the tunnel work expect to have very few difficult tasks to perform. Chief Engineer Kinnear says the character of the soil to be worked through is well known, and if the present rate of progress is kept up, the big subway will be done in the fall of 1909.

The Bean Market.

George Winans, son of the late governor and state organizer of the American Society of Equity, stated recently that the farmers will get $1.50 per bushel for their beans if they hold them for that price. He said that the speculators are holding them at a low price and that it is up to the farmer to break the market. Further, the legitimate dealers are as anxious as the farmer to have this done. The growing crops, he said, on the ground, have been sold to the wholesalers and jobbers for $1.35 per bushel, to be delivered in October and November. He says that the Michigan farmer has the power to break the combination, which all legitimate dealers are anxious to see broken.

The Walkers.

How would you like to take a jaunt of about 500 miles with "shank's mare" as the only means of conveyance? This is what Elmer Thayer and Albert Chamberlain, of Jackson, and James M. Hutchinson and A. E. Reed, of Lansing, did. The quartet likes to walk, and when in the east they used their legs to get from the Jamestown exposition to Washington, Philadelphia, Harrisburg, the battlefields of Gettysburg and many other points of interest. The young men are members of the Overland Walking club of Jackson.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE AT OLD ORCHARD, ME.

17 SUMMER HOTELS AND 60 COTTAGES AMONG BUILDINGS BURNED—LOSS $500,000.

TWO LIVES LOST IN FIRE

The Telegraphers' Strike is Spreading Both Sides Are Very Optimistic and Claim Victory is in Sight.

Hotels Burn at Old Orchard, Me.

Seventeen summer hotels, 60 summer cottages and a score of buildings occupied by stores were burned last night in a fire which swept the eastern section of the town, along the shore, causing a loss estimated at half a million dollars. The insurance is $150,000.

Philip Partridge, of Kennebunk, was killed by a locomotive while crossing the track on his way to the fire.

An unknown man was killed and two others severely injured by a soda water tank which exploded in a burning drug store and shot out among a group standing on the street. Mayor Fitzgerald, of Boston, who was passing, was struck by flying fragments and slightly injured.

The burned buildings were of wooden construction and an easy prey of the flames, which reduced to ashes a section of half a hundred acres within a few hours. The burned area extends from Old Orchard avenue eastward between Milliken street and the beach for nearly half a mile, and in it were included some of the finest guest houses and private residences of this popular resort.

The hotels burned include the following: Florida house, Olympia, Emerson and annex, Cleaves, Alberta, Irving, Flske, Linwood, Veaper, Arvine, Lawrence, Lewiston, Boyden, De Bernier, New Palmer and Seashore.

The injured are: Newton Morrill, 25, Greene street, Boston & Maine railroad engineer; and Rev. Rufus H. Jones, pastor of Trinity Episcopal church, Saco.

It is believed that the fire started from an overturned lamp in the annex of the Hotel Olympia.

The Telegraphers' Strike.

The long awaited general strike order to telegraph operators was issued at 1:30 Friday morning by President Samuel J. Small, who arrived in Chicago from San Francisco. By Small's order all telegraphers are now on strike and are compelled to quit work wherever contracts at union terms have not been signed.

The issue is now clearly drawn for the first time since the locals began to go out. No operator who continues to work will be considered a union man, whether he holds membership in the union or not.

President Small was welcomed at the station there on his arrival by an enthusiastic crowd of 2,000 operators who carried him on their shoulders to an automobile which awaited him. Cries of "We win" and "No arbitration" greeted him.

The Postal Telegraph Co. has installed a number of "printing telegraph" machines, each one of which, it is said, does work equal to that of two men. Girls can take off the messages received and the company declares that it will keep the machines in preference to the men when the strike is over. Despite the optimism of the companies, however, business is moving slowly in the board of trade, where 12 operators are doing their best to do the work formerly handled by 300.

There was no noticeable increase in the number of strikers and the companies renewed their assertion that business is being handled without any great trouble.

The efforts at peace-making have so far had no effect. The companies still declare positively that under no circumstances will they consent to arbitrate and the men still insist that they do not desire any mediation. President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, declared this morning he was still working for peace, but admitted that present prospects are not bright.

The Parcels Post.

Postmaster General Meyer said while in New York that in his annual report to the president he will recommend a parcels post, probably limited to 10 pounds; a postal savings bank; reduction of mail charges on letters to Europe to two cents; postage stamp slot machines and other reforms.

Mr. Meyer decried the recent criticism of the rural free delivery as a useless expense to the government. He said this branch was as nearly self-supporting as the rest of the service. The postmaster general is conducting an investigation whereby he hopes to discover the cause of the annual deficit and avoid it in the future. He believes the department can be put on a paying basis.

Two Boston officials, Supt. of Streets James H. Doyle and Councilman James H. Hatton, of Charlestown, have been indicted for alleged boodling in connection with the passage of a $1,500,000 loan bill by the council.

The Union Pacific, the principal Harriman railroad, is to increase a steel plant it owns in Laramie, Wyo., and roll its own rails. Twenty years ago it used to roll a few rails and the decision to resume this work is the result of the trouble experienced with rails supplied by the steel trust, the breakage having increased greatly in the past year.

FRIDAY, The 13th

By Thomas W. Lawson

She had drawn his head down close to her face, and her great blue eyes searched his as though they would go to his very soul. She was a child in her simple appeal for him to allow her to see his heart, to see that there was nothing black there.

As she gazed her beautiful hands played through his hair as do a mother's through that of the child she is soothing in sickness.

"Bob, speak to me, speak to me," she begged, "tell me there was no dishonor in the getting of those millions. Tell me no one was made to suffer as my father and I have suffered. Tell me that the suicides and the convicts, the daughters dragged to shame and the mothers driven to the madhouse as a result of this panic, cannot be charged to anything unfair or dishonorable that you have done. Bob, oh, Bob, answer! Answer no, or my heart will break; or if, Bob, you have made a mistake, if you have done that which in your great desire to aid me and my father seemed justifiable, but which you now see was wrong, tell it to me, Bob, dear, and together we will try to undo it. We will try to find a way to atone. We will give the millions to the last, last penny to those upon whom you have brought misery. Father's loss will not matter. Together we will go to him and tell him what we have done, what we have lived through, tell him of our mistake, and in our agony he will forget his own. For such a horror has my father of anything dishonorable that he will embrace his misery as happiness when he knows that his teachings have enabled his daughter to undo this great wrong. And then, Bob, we will be married, and you and I and father and mother will be together, and be, oh, so happy, and we will begin all over again."

"Beulah, stop; in the name of God, in the name of your love for me, don't say another word. There is a limit to the capacity of a man to suffer, even if he be a great, strong brute like myself, and, Beulah, I have reached that limit. The day has been a hard one."

His voice softened and became as a tired child's.

"I must go into the hustle of the street, into the din and sound, and get down my nerves and get back my head. Then I shall be able to think clear and true, and I will come back to you, and together we will see if I have done anything that makes me unfit to touch the cheek and the hands and the lips of the best and most beautiful woman God ever put upon earth. Beulah, you know I would not deceive you to save my body from the fires of this world, and my soul from the torture of the damned, and I promise you that if I find that I have done wrong, what you call wrong, what your father would call wrong, I will do what you say to atone."

He took her hand between his hands, gently, reverently, and touching his lips to her glorious golden hair, he went away.

Beulah Sands turned to me. "Please, Mr. Randolph, go with him. He is soul-dead. One can never tell what a heart sorely perplexed will prompt its owner to do. Often in the night when I have got myself into a fever from thinking of my father's situation, I have had awful temptations. The agents of the devil seek the wretched when none of those they love are by. I have often thought some of the blackest tragedies of the earth might have been averted if there had been a true friend to stand at the wrong one's elbow at the fatal minute of decision and point to the sun behind, just when the black ahead grew unendurable. Please follow Mr. Brownley than you may be ready, should his awakening to what he has done become unbearable. Tell him the dread morrows are never as terrible actually as they seem in anticipation."

I overtook Bob just outside the office. I did not speak to him, for I realized that he was in no mood for company. I dropped in behind, determined that I would not lose sight of him. It was almost one o'clock. Wall street was at its meridian of frenzy, every one on a wild rush. The day's doings had packed the always crowded money lane. The newsboys were shouting afternoon editions. "Terrible panic in Wall street. One man against millions. Robert Brownley broke the street. Made twenty millions in an hour. Bank failed. Wreck and ruin everywhere. President." Bob gave no sign of hearing. He strode with a slow, measured gait, his head erect, his eyes staring ahead, a man thinking, thinking, thinking for his salvation. Many hurrying men looked at him, some with an expression of unutterable hatred, as though they wanted to attack him. Then again there were those who called him by name with a laugh of joy; and some turned to watch him in curiosity. It was easy to pick the wounded from those who shared in his victory, and from those who knew the frenzied finance buzz-saw only by its buzz. Bob saw none. Where could he be going? He came to the head of the street of coin and crime and crossed Broadway. His path was blocked by the fence surrounding old Trinity's churchyard. Grasping the pickets in either hand he stared at the crumbling headstones of those guardsmen of Mammon who once walked the earth and fought their heart battles, as he was walking and fighting, but who now knew no ten o'clock, no three, who looked upon the stock-gamblers and dollar-trailers as they looked upon the worms that honeycombed their headstones' bases. What thoughts went through Bob Brownley's mind only his Maker knew. For minutes he stood motionless, then he walked down Broadway. He went into the Battery. The benches were crowded with that jet-sam and flossam of humanity that New York's mighty sewers throw in armies upon her inland beaches at every sunrise. Here a sodden brute sleeping off a prolonged debauch, there a lad whose frankness of face and homespun clothes and bewildered eyes spelt "from the farm and mother's watchful love." On another bench an Italian woman who had a half-dozen future dollar kings and social queens about her, and whose clothes told of the immigrant ship just into port. Bob Brownley apparently saw none. But suddenly he stopped. Upon a bench sat a sweet-faced mother holding a sleeping babe in her arms, while a curly-pated boy nestled his head in her lap and slept through the magic lanes and fairy woods of dreamland. The woman's face was one of those that blend the confidence of girlhood with the uncertainty of womanhood. 'Twas a pretty face, which had been plainly tagged by its Maker for a light-hearted trip through the world, but it had been seared by the iron of the city.

"Mr. Brownley—" She started to rise.

He gently pushed her back with a "hush," unwilling to rob the sleepers of their heaven.

"What are you doing here, Mrs. —?" He halted.

"Mrs. Chase. Mr. Brownley, when I went away from Randolph & Randolph's office I married John Chase; you may remember him as a delivery clerk. I had such a happy hour and my husband was good; I did not have to typewrite any longer. These are our two children."

"What are you doing here?"

The tears sprang to her eyes; she dropped them, but did not answer. "Don't mind me, woman. I, too, have hidden hells I don't want the world to see. Don't mind me; tell me your story. It may do you good; it may do me good; yes, it may do me good."

I had dropped into a seat a few feet away. Both were too much occupied with their own thoughts to notice me or any one else. I could not overhear their conversation, but long afterward, when I mentioned our old stenographer, Bessie Brown, to Bob, he told me of the incident at the Battery. Her husband, after their marriage, had become infected with the stock-gambling microbe, the microbe that gnaws into its victim's mind and heart day and night, while ever fiercer grows the "get rich, get rich" fever. He had plunged with their savings and had drawn a blank. He had lost his position in disgrace and had landed in the bucket-shop, the sub-cellar pit of the big stock exchange hell. From there a week before he had been sent to prison for theft, and that morning she had been turned into the street by her landlord. I saw Bob take from his pocket his memorandum-book, write something upon a leaf, tear it out and hand it to the woman, touch his hat, and before she could stop him, stride away. I saw her look at the paper, clap her hands to her forehead, look at the paper again and at the retreating form of Bob Brownley. Then I saw her, yes, there in the old Battery park, in cash her check and she went away.

From the Battery Bob sought the wharves, the Battery, Five Points, the hothouses of the under world of America. He seemed bent on picking out the haunts of misery in the misery-infested metropolis of the new world. For two hours he tramped and I followed. A number of times I thought to speak to him and try to win him from his mood, but I refrained. I could see there was a soul battle waging and I realized that upon its outcome might depend Bob's salvation. Some seek the quiet of the woods, the soothing rustle of the leaves, the peaceful ripple of the brook when battling for their soul, but Bob's woods appeared to be the shadowy places of misery, his rustling leaves the hoarse din of the multitude, and his brook's ripple the tears and tales of the man-damned of the great city, for he stopped and conversed with many human derelicts that he met on his course. The hand of the clock on Trinity's steeple pointed to four as we again approached the office of Randolph & Randolph. Bob was now moving with a long, hurried stride, as though consumed with a fever of desire to get to Beulah Sands. For the last 15 minutes I had with difficulty kept him in sight. Had he arrived at a decision, and if so, what was it? I asked myself over and over again as I plowed through the crowds.

Bob went straight to Beulah Sands' office, I to mine. I had been there but a moment when I heard deep, guttural groans. I listened. The sound came louder than before. It came from Beulah Sands' office. With a bound I was at the open door. My God, the sight that met my gaze! It haunts me even now when years have dulled its vividness. The beautiful, quiet, gray figure that had grown to be such a familiar picture to Bob and me of late, sat at the flat desk in the center of the room. She faced the door. Her elbows rested on the desk; in her hand was an afternoon paper that she had evidently been reading when Bob entered. God knows how long she had been reading it before he came. Bob was kneeling at the side of her chair, his hands clasped and uplifted in an agony of appeal that was supplemented by the awful groans.

Moorish Idea of Feminine Beauty.
The amiability of Moorish women strikes me greatly, says a writer in the National Review. I visited some the other day, and they were full of kindly interest. They liked my fair hair, they liked my clothes; one old crone suggested how lovely I should be were I to paint my cheeks a brilliant red, stain my under lips coal black, adding three black vertical lines on my forehead and one in the middle of my chin, also stain my teeth with walnut juice, my hands with henna! I therefore rubbed my cheeks with my handkerchief till they turned crimson; that amused them highly, and they laughed and said I needed no paint, but did need henna and blacking!

Milk Peddler's Trick.
"Of course, in this city," said a Philadelphia milk inspector, "the milk is pure, but I've been in some towns where impure milk dealers have played some funny dodges on me. You know how I work? Sneak along the streets, hold up a milkman, and take a sample right out of the can? Well, it has been a common thing when a milkman has known me by sight for him to pretend to trip on seeing me coming, fall headlong and upset his can of milk all over the pavement. Yes, that trick worked the first time, and I wasted a lot of pity on the man that played it."

Trade with Malaysia.
Malaysia—that is, Java, Sumatra and the federated Malay states—is of much more commercial importance than is usually thought. It buys canned apricots, peaches and pears almost entirely from California. Until 1903 the United States supplied three-fourths of the flour, but Australian flour has cut into that trade heavily. It is a large buyer of condensed milk from Europe, the United States and Canada. Its agricultural implement requirements are large. Modern mining machinery is growing in use for tin mining.

In Ocean's Greatest Depths.

Pressure of Water That Would Destroy a Battleship.

More than half the surface of the globe is hidden under water two miles deep; 7,000,000 square miles lie at a depth of 18,000 feet or more. Many places have been found five miles and more in depth. The greatest depth yet sounded is 31,200 feet, near the island of Guam. If Mount Everest, the world's highest mountain, were plucked from its seat and dropped into this spot the waves would still roll 2,000 feet above its crest. Into this terrific abyss the waters press down with a force of more than 10,000 pounds to the square inch. The staunchest ship ever built would be crippled under this awful pressure like an eggshell under a steam roller. A pine beam, 15 feet long, which held open the mouth of a trawl used in making a cast at a depth of more than 18,000 feet, was crushed flat as if it had been passed between rollers. The body of the man who should attempt to venture to such depths would be compressed until the flesh was forced into the interstices of the bone and his trunk was no larger than a rolling pin. Still, the body would reach the bottom, for anything that will sink in a tub of water will sink to the uttermost depths of the ocean.—Eugene Willoughby in The Ocean.

EMPRESS TSI HSU.

To Abdicate the Chinese Throne on the New Year.

Dispatches from Shanghai contain the interesting news that Tsi Hsu, the empress dowager of China, has announced her determination to abdicate at the next Chinese new year. She desires to hand over the cares of state to the emperor and, it is stated, a secret decree has been issued calling a meeting of the Grand council to make the change.

The dowager empress, now 78 years old, has been supreme in Chinese affairs for many years. Her career is a remarkable one. The daughter of a Manchur, sold in infancy by a brother who ran into financial difficulties, she became at an early age, one of the secondary wives of the Emperor Hien Fung. She won his admiration and affection and bore him a son. This son she placed on the throne, but his career was brief, poison, it has been thought, causing his death.

As there was no heir to the throne the infant son of Prince Chung became emperor under the name of Kwang Su and under the regency of Tsi Hsu, the dowager empress. In 1889 the emperor nominally assumed full control of the government, but nine years later, when he issued some reform decrees, the regency of the empress dowager was restored and she has since vigorously kept him in the background.

Throws $3,000 into Stove.

Mrs. Gardlepy, of Hancock, found a roll of bills containing $3,000, the savings of her husband and son, in a place where they had been hid in the cellar and threw them in the fire. The woman told her husband what she had done when he returned from work at the South Kersage shaft. All that he could find was two $5 gold pieces and two 50-cent pieces that happened to be in the roll. Mrs. Gardlepy was taken to Houghton, where she is awaiting the decision of the examining physicians and the probate court as to her sanity.

New Extension to Gratot Mine.

The story that the Mineral Range railroad, an offshoot of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic, would extend its line from Houghton and Calumet through Keweenaw county to either Copper Harbor or Eagle Harbor, is now discredited. It is stated that the road will extend its lines from the Mohawk to the Gratot mine, and Calumet & Hecla property, in the near future.

Fights Badger With Whip.

Herrick Dunsmore, a farmer living near Mason, found what he supposed to be a woodchuck killing his chickens at night, and started to kill the animal with a black snake whip. He chased it a quarter of a mile before overtaking it and when finally caught the creature turned and fought viciously. When killed the "woodchuck" proved to be a large badger.

If the conflict between the people and the big corporations continue with consequent demoralization of private and public business, the government will have to step in and take charge either by arbitration or acquisition. This might be termed socialism but that perhaps would be preferable to business paralysis.

I will mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative and my book on Dyspepsia, The Heart or the Kidneys, Troubles of Stomach, Heart or Kidneys, are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—mean Stomach weakness, always. And the heart, and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves." Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write me to day for sample and free book. Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. The Restorative is sold by All Dealers.

The Limit of Life.

The most eminent medical scientists are unanimous in the conclusion that the generally accepted limitation of human life is many years below the attainment possible with the advanced knowledge of which the race is now possessed. The critical period, that determines its duration, seems to be between 50 and 60; the proper care of the body during this decade cannot be too strongly urged; carelessness then being fatal to longevity. Nature's best helper after 50 is Electric Bitters, the scientific tonic medicine that revitalizes every organ of the body. Guaranteed by F. A. Sigler, druggist.

"We never repent of eating too little," was one of the ten rules of life of Thomas Jefferson, president of the United States, and the rule applies to everyone without exception during this hot weather, because it is hard for food, even in small quantities, to be digested when the blood is at high temperature. At this season we should eat sparingly and properly. We should also help the stomach as much as possible by the use of a little Kodol for Indigestion and Dyspepsia, which will rest the stomach by digesting the food itself. Sold by F. A. under most any conditions. There is a lot of money to be made in the egg business if conditions are right. There is no reason why Farmers and Poultry Raisers should not make just as good profits on their investments as any other line of business, and it is possible for them to do so. GASOLINE ENGINE POWER

The gasoline engine exhibit promises to be the largest and most interesting ever made at any Fair, as most of the leading manufacturers have already applied for space in which to show.

The power question has become a very important one, not only in the cities and villages but on the farms. Thousands of Michigan farmers have given this important problem a careful study, and decided that they could use a gasoline engine on the farm, and save a very great amount of labor and at a very moderate operating expense. The opportunity for investigating the various makes and determining the special advantage of each, should not be overlooked.

Weak Women

To weak and ailing women, there is at least one way to help. But with that way, two treatments, must be combined. One is local, one is constitutional, but both are important, both essential. Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the Local.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative, the Constitutional. The former—Dr. Shoop's Night Cure—is topical mucous membrane suppository remedy, while Dr. Shoop's Restorative is wholly an internal treatment. The Restorative reaches throughout the entire system, seeking the repair of all nerve, all tissue, and all blood elements.

The "Night Cure," as its name implies, does its work while you sleep. It soothes sore and inflamed mucous surfaces, heals local weaknesses and discharges, while the Restorative, eases nervous excitement, gives renewed vigor and ambition, builds up wasted tissues, bringing about renewed strength, vigor, and energy. Take Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—as a general tonic to the system. For positive local help, use as well

REPLY BY BONAPARTE

ATTORNEY GENERAL ASSERTS HE INTENDS TO ENFORCE LAW.

CAREFUL AT THE START

Department of Justice Bound to Punish Wealthy Men and Big Corporations That Are Offenders.

Baltimore, Md. — Attorney General Bonaparte, in an interview given the Washington correspondent of the News, answers the criticisms of Wall Street by a flat statement that he intends to continue the prosecution of wealthy men and corporations that break the laws.

The interview is really a statement carefully prepared by Mr. Bonaparte himself. In part he says:

"I cannot understand how any sensible person could be affected in dealing with matters of business by any remarks which have been attributed to me. I should say that business men ought to wish to have the laws strictly and impartially enforced. If this is done, everybody knows what he can do and what he can't, and everybody has a fair field and no favorites. The department of justice proposes to do precisely this and nothing more. It is required by law to enforce certain penal statutes which make certain forms of action crimes against the United States, and also provide civil remedies for such illegal action.

Careful Inquiry First.

"The department, since I have been at its head, has never taken proceedings to enforce the laws without a very careful preliminary investigation to determine whether there was good reason to believe that the laws had been, in fact, violated. Moreover, it has consistently and frequently overlooked merely formal violations of law, or offenses attended with trivial consequences, and has invariably refused to intervene in such cases when there was any reason to suspect that its intervention was desired to further private ends.

Is After Big Law-Breakers.

"If the ground of complaint against the department is that it proposes to punish prominent and wealthy men or corporations having vast amounts of capital and engaged in very extensive business, when these are shown to have been wilful and persistent law-breakers on a great scale and with grave injury to the purposes of the law, I must admit that these complaints are well founded. That is precisely what the department of justice is trying to do, and, while I remain its very unworthy head, will continue to do, so far as it can."

POPE COMPANIES FAIL.

Receivers Appointed for Big Concern in Several States.

New York. — Receivers for the Pope Manufacturing company and its subsidiary company, the Pope Motor Car company, which are engaged in the manufacture of automobiles and bicycles, with main offices and plant at Hartford, Conn., were appointed Wednesday in New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and Massachusetts. Similar action will be taken shortly in Illinois, Ohio, Indiana and Maryland, where the companies own plants.

The petitions filed by the Monus-Kelly company, of Toledo, O., asking for receivers, show the total assets of both companies to be $11,205,570, with total liabilities reaching $1,972,826. The difficulties of the Pope companies were the direct result of a curtailment of loans and reduction of loans on notes. Albert Rathbone, counsel for Albert L. Pope, vice president of the Pope Manufacturing company, who has been appointed a receiver in New York, Massachusetts and Connecticut, said that the troubles of the companies were the outcome of the present rigid monetary conditions.

New Test for Mrs. Eddy.

Concord, N. H. — Counsel for the "next friends" have agreed to the suggestion of the masters who are inquiring into the competency of Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy, the Christian Science leader, that they accompany two alienists to Pleasant View to make "tests" of her mental condition. Mr. Streeter, Mrs. Eddy's counsel, objected, but will consult with his client before the next session of the hearing on Tuesday, and it is possible that he will then agree to the proposal of the masters.

Burlington Railroad Fined.

Chillicothe, Mo. — The Burlington Railroad company was found guilty Friday of violating the eight-hour telegraphic law and was fined $200 by Justice Crall. This is the first conviction obtained under the law passed at the last session of the legislature and which the railroad declares conflicts with a federal statute.

1,000 DEAD AT CASABLANCA

MOST OF THEM ARABS KILLED BY FIRE OF THE WARSHIPS.

Immense Quantity of Loot Recovered — French and Spanish Ready to Repulse Attackers.

Casablanca, Morocco. — The town is quiet and business is being transacted. The French authorities are still engaged in clearing up the streets, burying the dead and collecting property. The commandant is making domiciliary visits in search of loot, of which an immense quantity has been found. A meeting of the foreign consuls will be held to decide on its disposal. It probably will be sold for the benefit of the sufferers from the bombardment and rioting.

The number of persons killed in and about Casablanca has been greatly exaggerated. Probably about a thousand men were killed in the fighting and massacre. The majority were Arabs killed by the fire of the warships. Only 5,000 people remain in Casablanca; the others have fled to Gibraltar, Tangier or Spain.

The town is completely under the control of the French and Spanish authorities and no further trouble need be feared. French troops to the number of 3,000 are camped about a mile east of Casablanca. Their outposts are in touch with the Moors and continual skirmishing is taking place.

Five hundred Spanish troops have arrived here and are camped in the town. Fifteen hundred more are expected shortly and two more French transports with troops are due to arrive within a few days.

Gen. Drude, the French commander, is holding a defensive position pending the arrival of reinforcements. The Moors have received large reinforcements and the French and Spanish authorities hear that they are planning a great attack on Casablanca. There are enough troops available to repulse any attack.

NATIONS TO CONFER ON FOOD.

United States Expected to Call a Conference on Adulteration.

Washington. — It is believed at the state department that the outcome of the present visit to Europe of Dr. Wiley of the department of agriculture will be the calling of an international gathering in this country to endeavor to secure uniformity of practice in the treatment of food adulterations. Although taking an advanced position in this matter, as revealed in the stringent legislation contained in the pure-food law, the government of the United States has been obliged at times to take sharp issue with some of the European government officials as to the harmfulness of certain ingredients of our food exported. With the passage of the pure-food act, with the authority contained therein to apply its provisions to imported food and drugs and wines, the department finds its hands much strengthened in dealing with European governments, and is felt that it will not be a difficult matter to induce other nations to second the efforts of the United States government either by an international gathering or by diplomatic correspondence to reach an understanding upon a general set of rules relative to the use of preservatives in food products.

CONNOR'S RAILWAY HIT.

Wisconsin Commission Scores Practices of Lieutenant Governor's Road.

Madison, Wis. — That the practices of the Marathon County Railroad company owned by Lieut. Gov. W. D. Connor, are "unlawful, inequitable and socially and economically parasitic" is the conclusion of a decision handed down by the railroad commission Friday on a complaint lodged against the road by Nicholas Strevler.

The commission found that in some cases passengers were carried free over this road and, in many cases, less than carload lots of lumber did not have to pay freight. It was also disclosed that the company did not publish a tariff schedule as is required by law.

Accused of Grabbing Railroad.

Washington. — A unique complaint was filed with the interstate commerce commission Friday in which the Chicago & Alton Railroad company is charged with having practically confiscated another railroad which now forms a part of the Chicago & Alton system. The complainant is John B. Manning, of New York city, a minority stockholder in the Louisiana & Missouri River railroad, and the defendants are the Chicago & Alton and the Louisiana & Missouri River roads.

Car Kills Bill Nye's Brother.

New York. — Fred Nye, a brother of the late "Bill" Nye and an assistant editor of the Sunday World, died of injuries received by being struck by a trolley car Monday night. Mr. Nye had written many humorous poems and the book of the comic opera, "The King and the Broker."

HOUSE WRECKED; FIVE DIE

A CHICAGO TENEMENT COLLAPSES DURING STORM.

Victims Are Crushed to Death While Asleep—Structure Was About to Be Moved.

Chicago. — Five persons instantly killed, nearly a score of others seriously injured, three fatally; buildings wrecked, roofs hurled through the air, vast sections of the city inundated by torrents of water, was a portion of the toll exacted by a storm that swept through the city early Friday.

The storm broke shortly after one o'clock. The heavy wind increased in velocity until at 1:30 o'clock it assumed an extreme velocity of 45 miles an hour, carrying death and disaster in its wake.

The collapse of a tenement building at 55 Fry street, crushing out the lives of five sleeping victims and dealing injury to 16 others, was the worst incident of the havoc wrought by the winds.

Twenty-five persons were sleeping in the house when the dilapidated structure rocked by heavy wind, its foundations weakened by the razing of adjacent houses for a new city park, crashed to the ground.

The dead are: Annie Marwaranski, 22 years old, sister of Mrs. Nosal; Mrs. Annal Nosal, 35 years old, owner of the rooming house; Kate Nosal, six years old, daughter; John Nosal, 20 years old, son; Albert Stehm, 33 years old, boarder.

Mrs. Annie Nosal, one of the victims, was the owner of the ruined house, which had been raised on jacks preparatory to moving it away in order to establish a small park. Every member of the household had retired when the crash came without warning at 1:30 a. m.

STOCK VALUES MELT.

Slump in Wall Street Sends Prices to New Levels.

New York. — Distrust of the government's attitude toward the corporations, a threatened monetary stringency in all the leading markets of the world and the financial embarrassment of the Pope Manufacturing company combined to demoralize the stock market Wednesday.

Prices melted in sensational fashion and the average level of declines was below that reached in the memorable Northern Pacific panic of May, 1901. Stocks were sold lower than ever before in their history. Of the several causes named, the failure of the New England corporation probably excited the greatest amount of apprehension.

During the early session of the market there was no hint of coming storm. In fact, it was not until the failure of the Pope company became generally known that the list became unsettled. Then the speculators for a decline, encouraged by their successful attacks on prices during the past fortnight, renewed their attacks, concentrating their forces on the Harriman and Hill issues, Reading, St. Paul, the coppers, American Smelting and the steel stocks. Under vigorous hammering, a great many orders to sell to stop losses were uncovered, and, as is usual in times of great excitement, numerous accounts were thrown over and sold for what they would bring.

Burglars Rob Bank.

Crookston, Minn. — Bank robbers blew open the safe in the Farmers State bank at New Felden, a small town near here, Wednesday night and secured $2,200. The robbers escaped.

TWO DIE IN MAINE FIRE.

Blaze Sweeps Old Orchard Resort Wiping Out Seventeen Hotels.

Old Orchard, Me. — Two lives were lost and five persons were injured, three seriously, as a result of a fire which swept through this seashore resort Thursday night, causing a loss estimated at $800,000.

Seventeen summer hotels, 60 cottages and a score of buildings occupied by stores were destroyed. The explosion which caused so many injuries occurred in Horgan's drug store on Old Orchard avenue. It is believed that the fire started from an overturned lamp in the annex of the Hotel Olympia. The total insurance on the burned property, it is understood, will not exceed $150,000.

As a result of the fire, the season at Old Orchard is brought to an abrupt close, as only one large hotel, the Old Orchard, remains. All trains, including several extras, were packed Friday with persons leaving the shore. The burned area extends east along the railroad, between the tracks and the ocean, for nearly half a mile. The people who were driven from the hotels were compelled to spend the night on the beach. A stiff breeze blew in from the sea and brushwood fires were kept going all night, around which the refugees sat in shivering groups waiting for the dawn and the warmth of the sunlight.

TRUSTED OFFICIAL ARRESTED.

J. W. Hastings, of Boston Subtreasury, Charged with Embezzlement.

Boston. — J. Warren Hastings, since 1864 a trusted official at the United States subtreasury in this city, was arrested Friday on the charge of embezzling $3,000 from the government June 7. The money was taken from a package containing $105,000 in bills prepared for shipment to Washington to be retired from circulation, and the shortage was made good by another clerk who technically was responsible, but who at no time was under suspicion.

Hastings' record for 43 years' service was practically faultless. The one who made good the shortage because of his technical responsibility was J. H. Vassar, the specie clerk, who counted the money previous to shipment.

BLOODY TRAGEDY IN NEW YORK.

Man Murders His Wife and Is Killed by Daughter.

New York. — George Wasser, 57 years of age, murdered his wife and was in turn slain by his daughter at the home of the women in Harlem Thursday. Wasser fired upon his wife and then exchanged shots with the daughter. The latter was not wounded.

Mrs. Wasser soon succumbed to her injuries and her husband died a little later. The daughter was arrested. She asserted that the father had persistently practiced cruelties upon his family.

Maryland Republican Ticket.

Baltimore, Md. — The Republican state convention Wednesday made the following nominations: For governor, George R. Gaither, of this city; for attorney general, Hammond Urner, of Frederick; for comptroller, James P. Baker, of Kent county; for clerk of the court of appeals, Thomas Parrar of Calvert county.

"Lord" Barring on Not to Die.

Kansas City, Mo. — Gov. Folk Tuesday signed an order commuting to life imprisonment the sentence of "Lord" Frederick Barrington, who was condemned to death for the murder of James McCann.

The Manchester canal was built at a cost of $75,000,000 to reduce freight rates for a distance of 35 miles, and, while it did not prove a good interest bearing investment on such a large expenditure, its indirect and more permanent benefits are said to have warranted it.

Germany has 3,000 miles of canal, carefully maintained, besides 7,000 miles of other waterway. France, with an area less than we would consider a large state, has 3,000 miles of canal; and in the northern part, where the canals are most numerous, the railways are more prosperous. England, Germany, France, Holland and Belgium are all contemplating further extension and improvement of their canal systems.—Century Magazine.

Used Ink for Bluing.

"One can never be too careful about apparently harmless articles setting about the house," said a housewife the other day. "Not long ago my husband brought home one of those big tall bottles of ink from the office. It had got to be such a nuisance buying one of the small five-cent bottles every time we ran out of ink, that he said he would bring home a supply.

"About a week after that I got a new maid, and when she did the washing she took the big bottle of ink for bluing. Of course every stitch of our white clothes in the washing was ruined."

Fresh Fuel.

The scrap between the married couple had died down to a few listless mutterings, and the canary bird in the cage was beginning to think about singing again, when she remarked, as a sort of afterthought:

"At any rate, everybody in my family thinks I am very intelligent."

"Yes, by the side of them you are," he replied with a bitter snort.

After this the scrap was renewed jubilantly.

Yes, Yes.

"I suppose," said Mrs. Tartleigh, "when you die you expect to meet all your husbands?"

"You are very rude," retorted Mrs. Muchwedde. "When I die I expect to go to heaven."—Young's Magazine.

FOOD FACTS

Grape-Nuts

FOOD
A Body Balance

People hesitate at the statement that the famous food, Grape-Nuts, yields as much nourishment from one pound as can be absorbed by the system from ten pounds of meat, bread, wheat or oats. Ten pounds of meat might contain more nourishment than one pound of Grape-Nuts, but not in shape that the system will absorb as large a proportion of, as the body can take up from one pound of Grape-Nuts.

This food contains the selected parts of wheat and barley which are prepared and by natural means predigested, transformed into a form of sugar, ready for immediate assimilation. People in all parts of the world testify to the value of Grape-Nuts.

A Mo. man says: "I have gained ten pounds on Grape-Nuts food. I can truly recommend it to 'th' people." He had been eating meat, bread, etc., right along, but there was no ten pounds of added flesh until Grape-Nuts food was used.

One curious feature regarding true health food is that its use will reduce the weight of a corpulent person with unhealthy flesh, and will add to the weight of a thin person not properly nourished. There is abundance of evidence to prove this.

Grape-Nuts balances the body in a condition of true health. Scientific selection of food elements makes Grape-Nuts good and valuable. Its delicious flavor and powerful nourishing properties have made friends that in turn have made Grape-Nuts famous. "There's a Reason." Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

CHILDREN IN FLATS

ONE REASON WHY THEY ARE NOT MORE WELCOME.

Parents to Make Them Understand the Necessity for Quiet Tone of Voice—One Woman's Numerous Experience.

For some, can understand why children are not more welcome as flat-dwellers!" sighed a weary working woman. "A boy of five or thereabouts will more than fill a six-room apartment. I once occupied a room, rented from a widow, who, beside myself, had for lodgers a widower and his little son. The oldest daughter of the widow, a girl of 20, was the boy's prospective stepmother, and so upon her devolved the duty of putting him in his little bed at night in a room adjoining mine. Now, it was quite useless to try to impress it upon this youngster that he should lower his voice on account of the thinness of the wall between him and his neighbor; and as it was only natural that his future mamma in the course of argument should raise her voice in proportion to his, I innocently eavesdropped. For instance: "Oh, don't make such a noise, child, with your yelps and groans! You will disturb the lady in the next room."

"Huh! If she had the stomach ache that I've got, she'd holler too."

When the child was free from aches and pains he was none the more inclined to go quietly to sleep. No matter how he might have been stretching and yawning in the parlor, where his papa and his papa's fiancée had been playing bezique, once in bed, he was inclined to be wakeful and argumentative, especially when rebuked.

"I hope," remarked his guardian one night, "that before you go to sleep you will think of what a bad boy you are. It grieves your father, I can tell you. He said to me to-day that the thought of it fairly took away his appetite. After ordering his breakfast at a restaurant this morning, he began thinking about the way you behave, and, when the food was brought, he found himself unable to eat."

"And what did he do then?" asked the bad boy with some interest.

"Paid for it and went out."

"Well," remarked Frank, "I think he was pretty foolish to go and order a breakfast and pay for it when he couldn't eat. I don't believe it was me that took away his appetite. I know that sometimes I have been just as sorry as I could be about something, and I could eat lots—and men are just like boys, only bigger."

"Oh, stop your talk! The lady in the next room will hear you," remonstrated the mamma (to be).

"Is she married?"

"No."

"Why isn't she married?"

"Can't find anyone good enough for her, I suppose."

"Do you think she will ever get married?"

This was too much for feminine patience. The gas was turned out.

A Near-Professional.

The Ingenue—So our sterling young leading man, Mr. Hogstage, is going to wed a non-professional, eh?

The Comedian—Not exactly. I hear that the prominent young society woman, who will soon bear his name, has been divorced twice, lost her jewels more than once, been reported engaged to four different titles, owns a French bulldog, has written a tooth powder testimonial, and is devoted to a simple home life and her books!—Puck.

Cured.

"I thought that prisoner was reported in a dying condition," said the visitor, pointing to a husky specimen.

"He was," replied the warden, "but when he found the public didn't care whether he died or not, he seemed to lose interest in the plan."

Survivors of Seminole War.

The Seminole war was put down 70 years ago. At Watrous, N. M., there is a venerable and worthy patriarch named Madison Horn, whose neighbors boast that he is the sole survivor of the Florida war. He is 88 and as spry as a cricket. At West Palm Beach, Fla., there is a certain Judge Andrew Jackson Lewis—born in South Carolina, by the way—who bears honorable scars as the result of wounds received while he was fighting as a private in the ranks of a South Carolina regiment against the Seminoles. Judge Lewis is 89, and although he fought four years in the confederate army he looks strong and active enough to shoulder his gun again and keep step to the drum's tap.

She was pretty and the drug clerk was glad to sell her a stamp. Also to weigh her letter.

Also to lick the stamp and affix it to the envelope.

TEN YEARS OF PAIN.

Unable to Do Any Housework. Re- sults of Kidney Trouble.

Mrs. Margaret Emmerich, of Clinton St., Napoleon, O., says: "For fifteen years I was a great sufferer from kidney troubles. My back pained me terribly. Every turn or move caused sharp, shooting pains. My eyesight was poor, dark spots appeared before me, and I had dizzy spells. For ten years I could not do housework, and for two years did not get out of the house. The kidney secretions were irregular, and doctors were not helping me. Doan's Kidney Pills brought me quick relief, and finally cured me. They saved my life."

CAME PRETTY FAST FOR PAT.

At That, He Had Had Only What the Doctor Ordered.

A Philadelphia physician says that not long ago he was called to see an Irishman, and among other directions told him to take an ounce of whisky three times a day. A day or so later he made another visit and found the man, while not so sick, undeniably drunk.

"How did this happen?" the physician demanded of Pat's wife, who was hovering about solicitously.

"Sure, dochter, an 'tis just what you ordered, an' no more, that he had," she protested.

"I said one ounce of whisky three times a day; that could not make him drunk," the physician said. "He has had much more than that."

"Divil a drop more, dochter, dear," she declared. "Sure an' oi didn't know just how much an ounce was so oi went to the drug store an' asked, an' the lad—he's a broth of a boy, too—told me that an ounce was 16 drams and Pat has had thim regular, an' no more!"—Harper's Weekly.

Rule of Cornish Chapels.

In Cornish (Eng.) chapels the invariable rule is for the men to sit on one side of the building and the women on the other.

A visitor and his fiancée, who are staying in the district, went to chapel, and just before the service began the young man was greatly astonished when the chapel steward, observing that the couple were seated in the same pew, came over to him and, in an audible voice, said: "Come on out of that, me son; we don't ave no sweetheartin' ere."

A Country Marvel.

The little fresh air boy was comfortably quartered in a farm house near the salt water for his summer's outing. The first day he strolled down the road to the marshes and he stared in astonishment at the cat-tails growing there. Then turning around to a native of the place who was accompanying him he said: "Gosh; I didn't know that sausages grow on sticks."

Foreign Waterways.

Since we began the neglect and abandonment of canals, France has quadrupled her waterways. According to figures furnished by commercial associations, the British isles have 8,000 miles of canal and it does not all antedate the railroad.

WHAT'S THE USE?

To Pour in Coffee When It Acts as a Vicious Enemy.

Fasters have gone without food for many days at a time but no one can go without sleep. "For a long time I have not been sleeping well, often lying awake for two or three hours during the night but now I sleep sound every night and wake up refreshed and vigorous," says a Calif. woman.

"Do you know why? It's because I used to drink coffee but I finally cut it out and began using Postum. Twice since then I have drunk coffee and both times I passed a sleepless night, and so I am doubly convinced coffee caused the trouble and Postum removed it."

"My brother was in the habit of drinking coffee three times a day. He was troubled with sour stomach and I would often notice him getting soda from the can to relieve the distress in his stomach; lately hardly a day passed without a dose of soda for relief."

"Finally he tried a cup of Postum and liked it so well he gave up coffee and since then has been drinking Postum in its place and says he has not once been troubled with sour stomach."

Even after this lady's experience with coffee her brother did not suspect for a time that coffee was causing his sour stomach, but easily proved it.

Coffee is not suspected in thousands of cases just like this but it's easily proved. A ten day's trial works wonders. "There's a Reason."

FULLY UP WITH THE TIMES.

Oklahoma City Surprised Narrow-Minded New Yorker.

Oklahoma amazes an easterner. The wide, asphalted streets, the plate glass fronts of department stores, the clean sidewalks, the well-dressed, unhurried shoppers, the finish, the metropolitan air you find in Oklahoma City, for example, seem marvels to find in a territory only 17 years old. But do not say so.

A New Yorker who went there on business complained that fate was thrusting him into a wilderness, and his Oklahoma associates could not reassure him. But coming down to breakfast the first morning, at his hotel in Oklahoma City, he stared around in wonder as he entered the dining-room.

"This," he exclaimed, "this is Oklahoma! Why, do you know?" confidentially, "I even found a porcelain bathtub in my room."

"Well," said an Oklahoman, drily, "don't you have those in New York?"

BABY TORTURED BY ITCHING.

Rash Covered Face and Feet—Would Cry Until Tired Out—Speedy Cure by Cuticura.

"My baby was about nine months old when she had rash on her face and feet. Her feet seemed to irritate her most, especially nights. They would cause her to be broken in her rest, and sometimes she would cry until she was tired out. I had heard of so many cures by the Cuticura Remedies that I thought I would give them a trial. The improvement was noticeable in a few hours, and before I had used one box of the Cuticura Ointment her feet were well and have never troubled her since. I also used it to remove what is known as 'cradle cap' from her head, and it worked like a charm, as it cleansed and healed the scalp at the same time. Mrs. Hattie Currier, Thomaston, Me., June 9, 1906."

He Was Not to Blame.

Little Bartholomew's mother overheard him swearing like a mule driver, says the Cleveland Leader. He displayed a fluency that overwhelmed her. She took him to task, explaining the wickedness of profanity as well as its vulgarity. She asked him where he had learned all those dreadful words. Bartholomew announced that Cavert, one of his playmates, had taught him. Cavert's mother was straightway informed and Cavert was brought to book. He vigorously denied having instructed Bartholomew, and neither threats nor tears could make his confess. At last he burst out: "I didn't tell Bartholomew any cuss words. Why should I know how to cuss any better than he does? Hasn't his father got an automobile, too?"

STOP WOMAN AND CONSIDER

First, that almost every operation in our hospitals, performed upon women, becomes necessary because of neglect of such symptoms as Backache, Irregularities, Displacements, Pain in the Side, Dragging Sensations, Dizziness and Sleeplessness.

Second, that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, has cured more cases of female ills than any other one medicine known. It regulates, strengthens and restores women's health and is invaluable in preparing women for child-birth and during the period of Change of Life.

Third, the great volume of unsolicited and grateful testimonials on file at the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., many of which are from time to time being published by special permission, give absolute evidence of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Mrs. Pinkham's advice.

Late Already.

Five minutes after the tardy gong had struck, the principal of the school was walking through the lower hall when he saw a pudgy little fellow scampering toward the first grade room as fast as his fat legs could carry him. "See here, young man, I want to talk to you," called the principal to the late comer. "I hain't got time to talk to you; I'm late already," replied the breathless beginner as the door of his classroom closed.—The Circle.

BEST HORSE EXHIBIT EVER.

AN Breeds and Classes to Be Shown at State Fair.

Judge L. C. Holden, of Sault Ste. Marie, who has the superintendency of the horse department of the Michigan State Fair, Detroit, Aug. 29th to Sept. 6th, is meeting with splendid results in his campaign for a complete exhibition of the different breeds and classes of horses at the coming fair. Among those exhibited which will come in for their share of the great interest usually shown, which have already been secured, will be the roadster and light harness horses, saddle horses, high school and exhibition horses, the famous French and German coach horses, the high-stepping American carriage horse, which is becoming such a general favorite; the heavy draft horses, including Percherons from LaPerche, France; the Clydesdale from Scotland, the shire of England, Belgium horses and a very large exhibition of shetland ponies. One exhibitor alone will bring fifty handsome ponies from his Indiana stock farm. The mule, the "Asel," will be shown in large numbers.

JUDGE L. C. HOLDEN
WHO IS GETTING A FINE LOT OF ENTRIES FOR HORSE DEPARTMENT

Judge Holden has already arranged with many importers of European horses to show their classes at the coming fair, and from the present indications the coming exhibition will be way ahead of any ever made in Michigan.

Four-in-hands will give a free exhibition in front of the grand stand each day, and it is also probable that the famous six-in-hand owned by Armour & Co., of Chicago, will also make an exhibition.

A THREE-LEGGED ROOSTER.

Never was there a time when there was so much interest centered on poultry raising as at the present time, and it is because for the money invested and the time and attention required, it is a most profitable business. The farmer, the factory workman, and others regardless of their wealth, are engaging in poultry raising either for profit or as a hobby. The poultry exhibit at the Michigan State Fair, Detroit, Aug. 29th to Sept. 6th, will be the largest ever shown in the state. Enough entries have already been received to fill every nook and corner of the building assigned exclusively for this department. Every kind of poultry will be exhibited, also incubators, brooders and poultry supplies. Supt. Daniel Thomas, of Pontiac, who has charge of the Poultry Department, says that one of the attractions of the poultry show this fall will be a freak rooster which has three developed legs, two of which are used for scratching and digging while the third maintains an equilibrium. The bird differs from the ordinary three-legged variety, in that each of the three legs is fully developed.

SPECIAL STATE FAIR DAYS.

The Michigan State Fair at Detroit opens on Thursday, August 29th, and closes Friday, September 6th. The grounds will not be open on Sunday. Saturday, August 31st, has been set aside for "Children's Day," Monday, September 2nd, is "Labor Day," and will be fittingly observed by the laboring people of Michigan. It is expected that the attendance will be very large on this day, as it is a general holiday for all laboring men. Tuesday is "Fraternal Day," and Wednesday will be known as "Michigan Day." Invitations have been sent to the United States Senators, the Governor and other State Officers and members of the Legislature, inviting them to attend on "Michigan Day." Thursday will be "Detroit Day," at which time it is expected that Mayor Thompson, members of the City Council and City Officers will be present.

HALF MILLION PEOPLE WILL ATTEND.

The Michigan State Fair is becoming famous throughout the country on account of the excellent exhibition given each year. At the coming fair August 29th to September 6th, inclusive, all buildings will be beautifully decorated with flags of all nations and American colors. All stock barns and exhibition buildings will be crowded with exhibits.

The organization for this year's fair will be perfect in every respect. Each department will be run separately and distinct under the general head. The different employes will be carefully drilled so that the whole operating end of the fair will move like clock-work. This is a stupendous task when you consider that a half a million people are handled and cared for during the eight days of the fair.

This year there will be no congested concession stands. There will be no gambling, nor games of chance, the shows will be clean, wholesome and educational, and whatever profits there may be through the operation of the fair of 1907, will be used in the construction of new buildings and increased facilities.

THE VEHICLE EXHIBIT.

Superintendent Stevenson of the Vehicle Department of the State Fair says that the exhibit in his department will be larger than any in the history of the State Fair. Exhibitors with one exception have already arranged for space, and six new firms have applied for and been granted space in the vehicle row. Mr. Stevenson says that if other department of the State Fair show as much improvement over previous years as will the Vehicle Department, that it will be a great fair.

Mr. Stevenson is one of the largest breeders of short-horn cattle in the State of Michigan, and he says he will take the largest herd to Detroit this year that he has ever shown at any Michigan fair.

GREAT LIVE STOCK EXHIBIT.

C. A. Tyler, of Nottawa, Mich., a member of the Michigan Live Stock Commission, is superintendent of the cattle department of the Michigan State Fair. Mr. Tyler says that the

C. A. TYLER

SUPERINTENDENT OF THE CATTLE DEPARTMENT cattle exhibit of this year will be the largest in the history of the association. Many herds will be exhibited from outside the State as well as every well known herd in Michigan.

One of the new features this year will be the cattle parade, which will take place at least four times during the fair. The plan is to put every prize winner in the parade and show the people the excellent grade of cattle which come to the State Fair.

The judges have been selected from some of the best known cattle men in the country, which insures a fair deal for every exhibitor. Special attention will be given to furnishing suitable sleeping quarters for the stockmen, an innovation which will be welcomed by those who do so much to make the Fair a success.

Superintendent Tyler will be on the grounds three days in advance of the Fair prepared to take care of all exhibitors, and furnish such information as may be required.

THE NEPARIOUS LICENS SYSTEM

It is not every person who has language fit for characterization of the abominable license system of dealing with saloons, but Rev. Grant A. Robbins of Maryville, Mo., was enabled, in the thick of a recent temperance struggle, to voice his objections in words worthy of wide reading. Speaking of the license policy he said:

"First—We have no moral right to legalize that which, in itself, is essentially wrong. That is my first point.

"Second—The license system perpetuates the institution. There is no plan in it for the ultimate extinction of the liquor traffic. It might be the best method of control for a time, did it make any plan for the ultimate extinction of the business. But there is none. It is forever and forever and forever continuing and perpetuating the infamous institution.

"Third—I am opposed to the license system because it makes us partners in the crime. I suppose the lawyers here would say 'particeps criminis.'"

Passing to the effective but disagreeable argument, "we need the money," he scored these points:

"We need the money, but, so far as I am concerned, we don't need it bad enough to hold up that poor fellow and say he shall furnish it. We need the money but we don't need it bad enough to snatch the bread from the women and children of the poor fellow who is so unfortunate as to have the drink habit. We need the money, but we don't need it bad enough to send the poor women over the steaming wash tub, to wash dirty clothes to buy food for her children. We need the money, but we don't need it bad enough to take the shoes off the feet of children born in drunderd's homes.

"I want to say that you must take into consideration when you say, 'We need the money'—you must take into consideration where the money comes from."
