That Basket Picnic

The business men of Stockbridge are to be congratulated on the success of their basket picnic held at Stilsonburg, last Thursday, in which Munith, Gregory and Pinckney were invited to join in the festivities of the day. The business places of Stockbridge were all closed and the majority of the stores in the other places were also closed, which showed their appreciation of the invitation to join hands with the Stockbridge aggregation for a good time at their expense. It was an ideal day with the exception of a little sprinkle of rain about twilight in the evening. There were over five hundred present, fifty tickets being sold from here while many from all four places went in autos and other conveyances. Plenty of tables and benches had been provided for and it was a happy, jolly crowd at noon. Everyone was made to feel at home and if anyone went hungry, it was their own fault. A launch had been engaged to take passengers to Whitmore and many took advantage of this splendid boat ride while others enjoyed themselves at visiting and bathing.

The ball game between the business men of Stockbridge and the business men of Pinckney was the special attraction of the day. The line-up had not been drawn any too tight as to the players all being business men or clerks and a pretty bunch of "old timers" made up a stiff team on both sides, with the exception of four or five. We do not know who picked out the grounds for the game, but, who ever did, liked scenery and stubbles, the grounds being a rocky poly affair that reminded one of some woods. Matt did the twisting for Stockbridge and he was in excellent form. He sure is a kinky boy with the ball, the result of the score showing that he did not allow much safe hitting. Guy Kuhn of Gregory, on the mound for Pinckney, was on the job every minute and with the exception of one inning held them scoreless. Stockbridge made their three tallies by a home run hit by Paul Dancer, bringing in two men. Pinckney secured one run in the third inning and garnered three more in the seventh by a home run hit by Guy Kuhn bringing in two men. The final result of the game being four to three in our favor. Harold Swarthout won the honors of the game by making several fancy catches while playing third base. Pinckney also pulled off three double plays. Ump's Smith of Stockbridge and Norm Reason of Pinckney gave universal satisfaction at umpiring by dividing up the close decisions, although someone was mean enough to say that the hot sun affected their eyes on balls and strikes. A dandy game was the result of all.

Immediately following the ball game came other sports of various kinds which is always included in a days outing of this kind. The principal feature being the tug-of-war between Pinckney and Stockbridge. Pinckney has a reputation of being "right at home" at this game and had no trouble in walking away with the Stockbridge bunch, even pulling them up hill in the bargain, had it not been for the trees, might have pulled them in the lake.

The Unadilla band furnished the music for the day and were there with music from early morning until night.

All in all it was a grand success and we hope that we may again be included in an invitation of this kind from our sister village.

A Farmer Who Advertised

The following shows how an up-to-date Macomb county farmer handles the sale of his products and his methods are well worth every farmer's consideration. He says: "When I am ready to sell my stuff I insert a little advertisement in my local paper, telling the people what I have to sell. If live stock, how many head of each and when they will be ready to ship. The result has been that the buyers are right after me and I get the highest prices. On the other hand if I want to buy a cow, or a steer or a horse or a dozen of each, I insert a little advertisement that costs me twenty-five or thirty cents, and instead of traveling over the country inquiring if my neighbors have this or that for sale, the newspapers do it for me at less expense; and vice versa if I have any of the above mentioned animals to sell, I let my neighbors know by the same medium. In this way I save the time and expense of traveling aimlessly about and get a better selection to choose from when I wish to buy or the best market prices when I wish to sell."

New School Book Law

According to the new law which goes into effect August 14, 1913. It appears that school books may be handled in three ways. First, the retail dealer may purchase from the publisher, using his own money there-for, and sell books at 15 per cent advance on the wholesale price. Second, school boards may purchase the books from the publisher at the wholesale price, using the district money therefor, and may furnish the books to the pupils at actual cost. Third, the board may buy the books from the publishing houses at the wholesale price, using the district money therefor, and appoint a retail dealer or dealers as agents or agents of the district. The agent may sell the books at ten per cent advance on the wholesale price and receive this ten per cent as compensation.

Oh, You Tidings Man

The editor of the Livingston Tidings is a handy man with the scissors these days and we are wondering how he has the nerve to do it. The news to those who take that paper in this vicinity must be rather stale as four correspondents together with a little sprinkling of Pinckney news taken from the Dispatch without credit and published in Friday's issue of last week, helped to fill that little leaflet in its shape.

Tax Notice.

I am now ready to collect all village taxes and anyone wishing to pay them can call at the mill and do so at any time.
E. E. Hoyt, Village Treasurer.

State Meeting Road Asso.

The Michigan State Good Road Association will convene in this city Oct. 1st to 4 of the present year. At the same time will be held exhibitions of road machinery and material under the auspices of the American Road Congress and the road department of the government. Good speakers will talk on the various phases of road building and it will be an excellent opportunity for highway officials of Michigan to secure first hand information while considering plans for roads building during the next year. One of the leading Detroit attractions will be the concrete roads of Wayne County that have already attracted attention all over the continent. Actual building will be in progress at that time.—Detroit News.

Auto Ordinances

The ordinance prohibiting a speed of over 15 miles per hour for autos, is a farce in Webberville.—Webberville Index.

Brighton's speed limit for autos is 8 miles per hour, and we have never seen the ordinance violated—provided that it means that autos shall not run LESS than eight miles an hour in the village. None do, and would any reasonable person expect them to?—Brighton Argus.

No ordinance here to prohibit the speeding of autos that we know anything about, judging by the way some whiz through town. Never heard of any ordinance of that kind or any other being any good anyway.

Two Big Sales

Two big sales are now going on at Meyer's Drug Store. One is on wall paper and you really can buy paper, this years patterns, at less than cost. The sale on crockery and china is making a big hit and the people are taking advantage of it.

"How do they know what Johnson's got—Whether he uses a curve or not—How can they tell how his outshoots fall? Whether his incurve's big or small? How can they tell what he's got on the ball? Nobody's seen it yet."

O sang a minor poet of the major leagues.

The hero of this baseball epic was Walter Johnson, the marvelous pitcher of the Washington club, who has just beaten all records by hurling the ball for 56 consecutive innings with such skill and cunning that not a batsman of an opposing club has been able to score a run.

Speed was the great factor in the achievement—dazzling, sizzling speed! The big Idahoan's delivery is like the flight of a shell. The mightiest hitters of the American league are as helpless as town lot players when Johnson turns loose his fastest ball; "Ty" Cobb, "Home Run" Baker and Jackson alike are babes in his hands.

Johnson's amazing swiftness in pitching is no mere fancy. It has been scientifically measured. In the testing room of the Remington Arms company at Bridgeport, Conn., Johnson showed that his right arm could hurl the baseball at the rate of 122 feet a second! It was acknowledged that he could do even better, because in athletic parlance he was not warmed up. It is well known that a hurler gathers speed as a game progresses.

Johnson flung the sphere through an aperture in a frame of wood about two feet square. Running from top to bottom were ten very delicate and filmy copper wires. These were broken by the ball, and by an electrical device the moment of passage was accurately timed. Five yards away was a steel plate and the impact of the ball on this barrier again caused the electric clock to register. Thus the exact time of the ball's flight was mathematically determined.

The velocity obtained by Johnson is all the more extraordinary when it is known that a bullet from the new government .45 automatic pistol travels 800 feet per second.

A high power hunting rifle, .35 caliber, auto-loading, travels 2,000 feet per second.

The Twentieth Century limited, the fastest long-distance train in the world, makes the 978.7 miles from New York to Chicago in just 20 hours, or an average speed of 48.9 miles every hour. This means a velocity of nearly 72 feet a second.

Suppose Johnson's speedball kept on traveling at 122 feet a second right on toward the Windy City at its own hurricane speed. It would eat up the 5,163,840 feet to Chicago in just 11 hours and 48 minutes. The ball would beat the train to Chicago by eight hours and 12 minutes. In other words, the catcher who received the ball could go to bed, have a full night's rest, get up and into his uniform again, and be on hand in the morning to meet the Twentieth Century as she rolled into Chicago.

Putting it another way—the train leaves New York at 2:45 p. m. daily. Time is set back at Buffalo by just an hour, so that the onrushing train gains 60 minutes on her westward journey. Eleven hours and 48 minutes after the start Johnson's bender has reached Chicago, or at 1:33 a. m. Chicago time, the roaring locomotive has just plunged through Cleveland without stopping, more than 350 miles away.

The striking energy of Johnson's missile was shown to be 160 foot pounds. That means that it possessed approximately half the force in impact of a bullet fired from a .45 automatic pistol!

According to these figures, it takes less than half a second for a ball thrown by Johnson at his high speed to travel from his fingers to catcher's glove!

That is why he bewilders even the quickest witted batsman. He isn't able to guess whether it is a straight ball, an in or an out curve, a drop, or whether the sphere is going to jump up into the air in defiance of the law of gravity.

"Any time you get a hit off Johnson," declared Napoleon Lajoie, himself one of the most formidable wielders of the bat that the game ever knew, "you must not think that you're smart. Just figure that you're lucky—lucky that you were able to make that blind swing at just the right spot. There never was, and I doubt if there ever will be, a pitcher as great as Johnson. If he turned loose his very hardest throw with his best curve on it no catcher could get down in time to receive the ball.

"Every ball he throws has stuff on it that can't be solved. Some of the hops that his swiftest ones take are bigger curves than a man ever threw before. I've seen him slam balls up to the plate that didn't look larger than a pinhead."

Not surprising, is it, that Johnson is such a terror?

The quiet, modest young Idaho youth—he is only twenty-five years old—also fooled his opponents into giving him another record. Last year he struck out 303 men in 388 innings. None of the other wizards could touch that mark. Before he became a big leaguer striking out batsmen was merely a pastime for him. Out in Weiser, when only nineteen, he was playing in the Idaho State league, and among the performances credited to him was the striking out of the first eight men who faced him in an important game, and he later struck out 11 other men during the nine innings.

And these men were all crack players, many of whom are now stars in the western leagues. In that Idaho season Johnson was the slab artist in fifty-seven straight games in which not a run was scored off his delivery. So you see he got the habit early!

After that feat Johnson applied to various smart managers of the clubs in the big cities. But they wouldn't even give him a trial. They were disdainful, and easily declared that Johnson would be shattered by the heavy artillery of the major leagues. It remained for the then tall-ender Washington team to send Catcher Blenkenship in 1907 out to Weiser to investigate the picturesque stories that came east of the youth's prowess. The scout lost no time in getting Johnson to sign a contract as soon as he had seen him pitch a few innings. That Washington is now one of the leading clubs of the American league is due in large part to the skill of the western recruit.

When Johnson made good from the jump there was woe among all the Napoleonic managers who had turned him down. But his steady and astonishing improvement is shown by the following official table:

Year	G.	B.	H.	R.	B.B.	S.O.	W.	L.	Ave.
1907	14	99	34	16	78	5	8	284
1908	28	167	55	50	149	14	11	518
1909	37	238	109	85	158	12	24	633
1910	41	258	88	74	208	24	16	650
1911	88	281	107	68	209	23	15	605
1912	40	344	88	72	281	30	10	750

Total for 6 years 198 1287 137 380 1163 108 84 563

A big, likable fellow is Johnson, a raw-boned product of the prairie farms. There is nothing very speedy about him except his pitching. Otherwise he is slow as law. He moves slow, eats slow and even runs his motor car in an "out-of-gasoline manner." He saves all his energy for the diamond.

After seeing Johnson shoot the ball at the plate you wouldn't wonder the poet was inspired to song. You wouldn't wonder at the dazed batsmen.

If you can't see it you can't hit it.

Resuscitated Memory.

Charles Reade, the novelist, believed in the daily newspaper as a source for incidents that would furnish better material for romance than could possibly be created by any effort of fancy. He kept a scrap book in which he stored away newspaper clippings which were afterward to masquerade as fiction. His story of "A Simpleton" is one in which Dr. Christopher Staines of London is lost overboard in mid-ocean, picked up all but dead from a raft, taken to Cape Town with all memory of the past utterly obliterated, but afterward restored in small installments through the agency of a couple of the terrific thunderstorms peculiar to that latitude. That story of forty years ago has been more than confirmed over and over again in real life by incidents of memory and personality lost and regained. The last of these comes from Warren, Pa., of a man, a common laborer, working at a silica sand plant, who, struck by a fall of ice, has, while lying in a hospital, regained his identity, lost a dozen years ago, and says he is John Oliver, the owner of 125 valuable building lots in Wheeling, W. Va., and of mineral lands in Lancaster, Pa. A telegram from relatives in Chicago confirms the story. It can not be wholly unpleasant to wake up after twelve years' sleep of this kind and find one's self not dead broke, but entirely solvent.

Some Books Must Pass Away.

The discovery by Professor Cobb of the department of agriculture that documents can be preserved apparently indefinitely in a vacuum offers, if further tests verify his results, a convenient way of exhibiting precious and rapidly disintegrating manuscripts while permitting their exhibition under glass. But it does not offer much comfort to authors whose work is printed on wood pulp paper. With so many books in the world, to try to preserve sample copies in a vacuum would be far too ambitious an undertaking. Whatever books survive will have to be kept alive by the process of reprinting from time to time, and not many modern books stay in vogue long enough for that.

Practical Fashions

LADY'S WAIST.

This is a most unusual model. It is cut with body and sleeves in one and with the closing in the center of the back. There is a group of tucks at each shoulder in front and a low neck with or without a large collar as trimming. Voile, batiste, pongee silk, fine gingham and other soft fabrics will make up well in this style.

The waist pattern (6272) is cut in sizes 34 to 42 inches bust measure. Medium size requires 2½ yards of 38 inch material.

To procure this pattern send 10 cents to "Pattern Department," of this paper. Write name and address plainly, and be sure to give size and number of pattern:

BOY'S SUIT.

In this design we have one of the utility suits for little boys. The blouse opens down the front and has a large sailor collar at the neck. The shirt sleeves end in a band cuff at the wrist. The trousers are made with the straight open leg at the knee, which is the latest style. Linen, Khaki, plain gingham, serge and flannel are used for these suits in summer.

The pattern (6306) is cut in sizes 6 to 12 years. Medium size requires 2¾ yards of 36 inch material, ¼ yard of 27 inch contrasting goods.

Only Rights Left.

Michael J. Gibbons, junior vice-commander of the Medal of Honor Legion (membership thereof is a proof that one has received a medal for most distinguished gallantry in action) was talking at Portsmouth about a Fourth of July parade that had been broken up by a procession of automobiles.

"What is the world coming to?" said Mr. Gibbons. "They tell a story about a city chap who in an effort to cross a busy street dodged an electric truck, leaped over a 60 horse power roadster, squirmed out of the way of a trolley car, escaped a taxicab by the skin of his teeth, and was just getting his foot on the opposite sidewalk with a sigh of relief when a descending monoplane bore down on him.

"Has a pedestrian no rights these days?" cried the poor fellow, dodging this way and that.

"Sure he has—funeral rites," answered the aviator, as he volplaned heavily down on the man's head."

MURPHY HELPED KEEP HOUSE

His Work Not Altogether Perfect, but Probably on a Par With That of Most Men.

Murphy's wife was ill. So Murphy—for he was only newly wedded—decided, on completing his day's work, to try to make himself generally useful in the house.

Accordingly, he bought a pound of bacon and a pound of soap, and about, so he thought, to prepare a savory meal for his ailing wife.

The latter, however, even on the bed of sickness, detected the ensuing smell, and sniffed at it wonderingly.

Then, as the odor grew stronger and more unpleasant, she hastened to the kitchen as quickly as she could, and:

"What are you doing, Murphy?" she inquired.

"Cookin' bacon," came the blunt reply.

"Bacon, man! Why, that's soap!"

"Then, bedad," exclaimed the man, "I must have washed me wid the bacon."—Exchange.

ECZEMA ON ENTIRE SCALP

R. F. D. No. 2, Sunfield, Mich.—"I was troubled with eczema. It began with a sore on the top of the scalp, broke out as a pimple and grew larger until it was a large red spot with a crust or scab over it. This became larger finally covering the entire scalp and spread to different parts of the body, the limbs and back and in the ears. These sores grew larger gradually until some were as large as a quarter of a dollar. They would itch and if scratched they would bleed and smart. The clothing would irritate them at night when it was being removed causing them to itch and smart so I could not sleep. A watery fluid would run from them. My scalp became covered with a scale and when the hair was raised up it would raise this scale; the hair was coming out terribly.

"I treated about six months and got no relief and after using Cuticura Soap and Ointment with two applications we could notice a great difference. It began to get better right away. In a month's time I was completely cured." (Signed) Mrs. Bertha Underwood, Jan. 8, 1918.

EIGHTEEN DEAD IN MINE HORROR

EXPLOSION OF DYNAMITE AND GAS IN PENNSYLVANIA MINE KILLS MEN.

FIVE RESCUERS PERISH WHEN SECOND EXPLOSION OCCURS.

Cause of Accident Unknown But Theory is That Dynamite Explosion Liberated Gas Which Was Responsible for Second Blast.

Eighteen men were killed and two seriously injured in a double explosion in the East Brookside mine of the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron company, near Tower City, Pa., by a double explosion of what is believed to have been dynamite and gas.

Thirteen men died in the first explosion of what is believed to have been dynamite and gas.

Thirteen men died in the first explosion and five went to their death in the second blast after an heroic attempt to rescue the first victims. One of the rescuers escaped.

It is not known exactly what caused the explosions, but the miners at the colliery are inclined to the belief that the first explosion was that of dynamite and the second was caused by gas which had been liberated by the dynamite explosion. The dead were scattered about for a distance of about a quarter of a mile. Only three men were taken out alive and one of these died on the way to the hospital.

The men were killed in three different ways. Some of them were violently hurled against the side of the tunnel in which they were working and crushed. Some were burned to death by the explosion of gas and others were suffocated by the after-damp which always follows an explosion in the mines.

Two Conventions at Toledo.

A strong current was running and all were carried away and drowned, despite efforts made by a policeman who jumped into the water to rescue them.

Must Raise Water Rates.

The St. Louis water system is said to have netted in eight years a loss of $1,922,618 to the taxpayers by reason of too low a rate for service. Rates may be raised.

Irritating Skin Troubles, so prevalent in summer, such as hives, poison oak, chafing, sunburn, eczema, etc., are quickly relieved when Tyree's Antiseptic Powder is used. 25c. at drugists or sample sent free by J. S. Tyree, Washington, D. C.—Adv.

Unique Laboratory Planned.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., is planning the erection of a psychological laboratory, which will be one of the most remarkable in the world. The purpose is to save girls from crime.

No Chance.

"What is your objection to working in the country?" inquired Mr. Subbubs of the domestic at the employment agency.

"I'm afraid I'll be lonely," replied she.

"Impossible. Why, there are 16 of us in my family."

Rich Man Speaks.

Otto Kahn, returning from Europe on a sea-going palace, praised the music and the drama in which he had participated in his travels.

"It is a great privilege," he said, "to go abroad from time to time. The poor, who cannot enjoy the privilege, are to be pitied."

"I, you know, am not in the same class as the broker who said: 'The poor are to be envied. Poverty is a blessing.'"

"Goodness," exclaimed a listener, respectfully, "I didn't know you were as rich as all that!"

What Stood Between Them.

A man and woman waiting for a car were watching a span of heavy draft horses pulling a big load up a hill. Their "team" work was perfect.

"Just look how beautiful those dumb brutes pull together," said his wife. "Why can't human beings do as well—why can't we?"

"Easiest thing in the world," replied the husband. "We could if—"

"Then why don't we?" interrupted the wife.

"If we had but one tongue between us," finished the "brute" member of the household.—Kansas City Journal.

Like Buggins.

Charles W. Morse, at a luncheon in New York, said of a certain complaining type of French investor:

"Here in New York, just the same as over there in Paris, you've got to be content with a very low rate of interest if you want a perfectly safe investment."

"It is folly to buy highly speculative stock and then growl because they oscillate the wrong way."

"Such people remind me of Buggins. Buggins, you know, is always trying to get something for nothing."

Mr. Morse paused and a broker asked:

"And how does Buggins make out?"

"Well," said Mr. Morse, "he always gets nothing for something."

North, South, East, West

men and women are subject to the numerous ailments caused by defective or irregular action of the organs of digestion and elimination. Headaches, lazy feelings, depression of spirits are first consequences, and then worse sickness follows if the trouble is not removed. But thousands have discovered that

Beecham's Pills

(The Longest Sale of Any Medicine in the World)
are the most reliable corrective, and the best preventive of these common ailments. Better digestion, more restful sleep, greater strength, brighter spirits, clearer complexions are given to those who use occasionally this time-tested home remedy. Beecham's Pills will no doubt help you—it is to your interest to try them—for all over the world they

When Woman Rules.
Mr. Meekley—Then you would have the word "obey" omitted from the marriage service?
Miss Strongmind—Not at all; merely transferred so that the man will say it.

Purged.
Visitor—Good heavens! The dog! Host—Don't be alarmed, he's only going for Frits' bread and butter that you've been sitting on.—Megendorfer Blatter.

Improvement Noted.
"Do you think the great fortune you have amassed makes the world better?"
"A man can speak only from personal knowledge," replied Mr. Dustin Star. "I must say that since I amassed a fortune the world seems very much better to me than it did before."

Why He Quit.
Two members of a country club were discussing a fellow member. The latter, it appears, did not have a reputation for outbursts of wild extravagance.

"I understand that 'Bucky' Brown has quit the game of golf."
"What! 'Bucky' Brown? He used to be so fond of the game! Why on earth did he stop playing?"
"He lost his golf ball."

Peppery.
Mandy and Rastus had been quarreling for some time, and before deciding to go to court and end their differences in a divorce, agreed to wait for advice the friendly justice of the peace who had married them two years previously. For ten minutes he listened to them patiently, as best he could, following the recriminations first from the one and then the other. Finally all the testimony was in.

"Now, look here, Mandy, I think you're the one to blame. You simply haven't taken time to learn Rastus. Haven't you ever heard that a woman must eat a peck of salt with a man before she can live with him friendly?"

"Shore she has, judge," breaks in Rastus, "but dat don't mean she got to fill up wid pepper along wid it, does hit, judge?"

Secure.
It was the dead of night when all good people are supposed to be in bed and asleep.

Relaxed.
The fellow who has spring fever doesn't feel at all springy.

"No; he feels sprung."

Still In The Lead

For over fifteen years Grape-Nuts, the pioneer health cereal, has had no equal, either in flavour or nutrition.

Thousands of families use it regularly because

Grape-Nuts

Has qualities which make it the ideal food—

Delicious Flavour,
Rich Nourishment,
Quick Preparation,

and withal, easily digested.

Grape-Nuts and cream, in place of heavy, indigestible food, helps to make one cooler and more comfortable on hot days; and builds up and sustains in a way that gives zest and energy.

"There's a Reason" for Grape-Nuts

Sold by Grocers everywhere.

STRONG WORDS

From a Doctor With 40 Years Experience.

"In my 40 years' experience as a teacher and practitioner along hygienic lines," says a Calif. physician, "I have never found a food to compare with Grape-Nuts for the benefit of the general health of all classes of people."

"I have recommended Grape-Nuts for a number of years to patients with the greatest success and every year's experience makes me more enthusiastic regarding its use."

"I make it a rule to always recommend Grape-Nuts, and Postum in place of coffee, when giving my patients instructions as to diet, for I know both Grape-Nuts and Postum can be digested by anyone."

"As for myself, when engaged in much mental work my diet twice a day consists of Grape-Nuts and rich cream. I find it just the thing to build up and keep the brain in good working order."

"In addition, Grape-Nuts always keeps the digestive organs in a perfect, healthy tone." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Strong endorsements like the above from physicians all over the country have stamped Grape-Nuts the most scientific food in the world.

The Dispatch erred last week in stating that E. W. Kennedy and wife and Belle Kennedy were Niagara Falls visitors. They said that they only got as far as Fowlerville where they enjoyed a pleasant visit at the home of O. J. Sawyer.

If your neighbor is prosperous let him prosper. Don't grunt, growl or grumble. Say a good word for him and let it go at that. Don't be a knocker. Your turn will come. No one man is the whole show. If you see that the town is moving along nicely, feel good about it. Help things along, shove a little. Try to get some of the benefits yourself. Don't stand around like a chilly old cadaver. Don't waste time feeling sore because some fellow has more sand and sense than you have. Do a little hustling yourself. Don't be a knocker.

An exchange bids farewell to a departed citizen as follow: He was a man of push; he played marbles with a boy for keeps and cheated all his playmates out of their allies; he swapped a bladeless knife unseen for a four blader, sold it for 50 cents, bought a pound of sugar, made a barrel of lemonade which he sold on circus day for $8. He started in business and sold tough meat for choice cuts and made a fortune. When he got a thousand dollars he started a company with five thousand dollars, mostly water and sold the stock at par. When the company busted it was found that he had since sold out. He died a millionaire and left all his money here. It is very water where he is now.

LaRue Moran of Howell spent Sunday here.

Mrs. Dan Lantis spent Friday with Blanche Martin.

Paul Carlett of Howell was home over Sunday.

Norma Curlett spent several days last week in Dexter.

Carl Skyes and wife of Detroit are visiting relatives here.

Mr. L. W. Hoff and wife of Flint visited here the first of the week.

Mrs. Joseph Sparling of Prescott, is visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Hoyt.

Rooms to rent for pupils attending school here the coming year. Inquire of Mrs. Adda Potterton.

Miss Florence Collins of Gregory and Miss Saylor of Big Rapids spent Thursday of last week with Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Hoyt.

Several new houses are to be built at Howell as a result of calling the attention of the need of more places to rent.

Many of Brighton's able bodied citizens would rather catch frogs at 15c per dozen than work in the oat field at $2.50 a day.

The annual picnic at Rush Lake under the auspices of the North Hamburg church was held last Saturday. A large crowd was in attendance and a good time was reported by all. The ball game in the afternoon between Pettysville and Chilson resulted in an easy victory for Pettysville by a score of 17 to 7.

The officials of Michigan Agricultural College estimate that the various alfalfa campaigns will result in an increase in the acreage for this crop more than three hundred per cent this year. Hundreds of letters have been received asking for detailed information in regard to preparing the ground, seed, etc., of the stock food that has done so much for many localities.

Harry Moon, treasurer of Hamburg township, has through his attorneys commenced suit against Louis Howlett and Arthur Prosser executors of the estate of the late G. J. Baetcke of Brighton to recover money deposited in the Bank at a late hour on the date in which the bank was opened for the last time. The amount involved is $506.12. An injunction has been granted by the circuit court restraining any farther dividends.

In the future a standard barrel of apples must be 26-inches between the heads, 64-inches in circumference, outside measurements around the middle, and the heads must be 17½-inches in diameter. In accordance with a recent act of congress such a barrel, if the apples in it are handpicked and free from blemishes, may be labeled "Standard" but a fine of one $1 and costs will be exacted for every barrel that is marked "Standard" and does not conform to the requirements. The law passed at the urgent solicitation of those who believe that a purchaser has a right to know what he is getting when he buys a barrel of apples.

I. H. C. ENSILAGE CUTTER

The Advantages of Silage

1. Silage keeps young stock thrifty and growing all winter.
2. It produces fat beef more cheaply than does dry feed.
3. It enables cows to produce milk and butter more economically.
4. Silage is more conveniently handled than dry fodder.
5. The silo prevents waste of corn-stalks, which contain about one third the food value of the entire crop.
6. The silo will make palatable food of stuff that would not otherwise be eaten.
7. It enables a large number of animals to be maintained on a given number of acres.
8. It is the most economical method of supplying food for the stock during the hot, dry periods in summer, when the pasture is short.

The International ensilage cutter is one of the best means of filling a silo that the farmer can use. Made in four sizes. Drop in and let us explain to you why the I. H. C. is the best cutter to buy.

GOMEZ IS GIVEN DICTATORSHIP

VENEZUELA TAKES DECISIVE STEPS TO PUSH CASTRO REBELLION.

FORMER PRESIDENT SUFFERS TWO DEFEATS.

Governors Promise Loyal Support to Government—All News of Fight Will Be Published Says President.

In consequence of the outbreak of the revolution in Venezuela and the invasion of the country by forces under the leadership of former President Cipriano Castro, the federal council constitutionally authorized President Juan Vicente Gomez to assume dictatorial powers until the movement is crushed.

President Gomez sent a telegram to the governors of all the Venezuelan states asking prompt action in putting down the rebellion.

The governors in their replies promised unqualified support of the government. Some of them requested the dispatch of additional arms and ammunition.

On the other side of Venezuela, revolutionists commanded by a nephew of Castro, attacked the city of Macuro and were defeated, it is claimed, by government troops led by Gen. Zeyago.

The president announced that all news of hostilities would be published whether favorable or unfavorable to the government.

Dean of Women Chosen.

Dr. Emma Curtis Tucker, of New Haven, Conn., has been hired as dean of women and assistant professor of English at Olivet college to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Dr. Georgia L. White. The latter is now abroad, but when she returns she will accept the deanship of women at M. A. C. Miss Edna Estelle Hall, also of New Haven, has been secured as instructor of piano to replace Mrs. Minnie Powers Burritt, resigned. Dr. Tucker took her Ph. D. degree at Yale last year, while Miss Hall has just returned from Berlin, where she has been studying for the last two years. President E. G. Lancaster is now looking for a man to coach the football team and act as assistant in biology.

A Plea for Freedom

John H. Allison appeared before Gov. Ferris and for two hours spoke in an impassioned manner. He told the chief executive how it seemed to be a reformed criminal and what experiences he had gone through in bringing about his "absolute reformation," as he termed it.

Allison was arrested for bank robbery, served part of a 17-year term in Jackson prison, escaped from that institution eight years ago, was at large two years and eight months, was recaptured again and returned to prison, serving 14 months, and then was given a conditional pardon by Gov. Warner. He violated the terms of the pardon by leaving the state, was once more re-arrested and now faces a prison term. Until the governor makes his decision Allison will be locked up in the county jail at Jackson.

Triangle Building Still a Menace.

The Asch building on Washington place, New York city, the scene of the Triangle Waist Co.'s fire in March, 1911, when 148 lives were lost, is still a fire trap, according to inspectors of the bureau of fire prevention, who summoned to court four occupants of the building on charges of violating the fire and labor laws. The building is occupied by clothing companies, as it was at the time of the Triangle fire, and since that calamity it has been placarded freely with fire regulations, prohibiting smoking in the building, requiring doors to open outward and other stipulations.

Eighteen Feet of Ballot

The 14-foot ballot which came in for so much ridicule during the election primaries last fall has been outdone by one 18 feet long which will be used in the democrat primaries of New York city this fall. BRYAN'S PLAN IS REJECTED

Secretary Is Asked to Submit New Nicaraguan Treaty With Protec- torate Clause Omitted.

Secretary Bryan's plan for an American protectorate over Nicaragua, providing American supervision of Nicaragua's finances, independence and foreign relations, was shelved by the senate for the time being.

Apparently with the knowledge of the administration, the senate foreign relations committee, before which the project has rested for two weeks, passed a resolution asking the secretary of state to submit a new Nicaraguan treaty, omitting the protectorate policy. The compact, at the request of the senate committee, is to be limited strictly to the original negotiations with Nicaragua, by which the United States will pay $3,000,000 for an exclusive canal right across the country, a naval base site on the bay of Ponceca and a lease to the Corn Islands in the Caribbean sea.

Heavy Auto Exports Reported.

Automobile parts to the value of $40,000,000 were shipped from the United States in the past fiscal year, as against $1,000,000 worth in 1903, a decade ago, according to figures by the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce.

Of last year's shipments, $28,500,000 worth were in finished automobiles. Canada was the largest buyer, having taken 7,200 cars, valued at $9,200,000. England bought almost 4,000, valued at $3,000,000; then came British Oceania, South America, British South Africa, Germany, British East Indies, France and Russia, in the order named.

Less than $2,000,000 worth of automobiles were imported, at an average price of $2,300, while in 1907 more than $4,000,000 worth were brought in, at an average price of $3,400.

Russia Not to Be at Exposition.

The Russian government decided not to participate officially in the San Francisco exposition.

Mitchel for Mayor of New York.

Republicans, progressives and independents, of New York, as represented by a fusion committee of 107 members, agreed on the nomination of John Purroy Mitchel, collector of customs of the port of New York, as a candidate for mayor. Wild Rice a Valuable Food.

Wild rice, according to a consular report, is "the most nutritious cereal in America." The plant has a long black grain, and hence is sometimes called black rice. It has been used from time immemorial by certain Indian tribes as their principal food. In recent years it has come into the white man's markets, selling for considerably more than ordinary white rice.

Secret of Perfect Mortar.

The man who could discover the buried recipe for Roman mortar would be bowed down to and worshiped by the builders of the present day. COCA COLA HABIT, A GHOST.

We have all heard of ghosts, but none of us have ever seen one. It's the same way with coca cola "fiends;" you can hear about them but you might search for them until dooms day and you would never find one. Physicians who have treated hundreds of thousands of drug-habit cases, including opium, morphine, cocaine, alcohol, etc., say that they have never seen a case where the use of Coca-Cola has so fastened itself upon the individual as to constitute a habit in the true sense of the word. Although millions of glasses of Coca-Cola are drunk every year, no Coca-Cola fiends have ever made themselves visible at the doors of the sanitariums for the treatment of drug habits.

The Coca-Cola habit is analogous to the beefsteak habit and to the strawberry habit and the ice cream habit. People drink Coca-Cola first because they see it advertised and thereafter because it tastes good and refreshes their minds and bodies. They drink it when they can get it and contentedly do without it when they can't get it. If you had ever witnessed the ravings of a real drug fiend when deprived of his drug, if you had ever observed the agony he suffers, you would never again be so unfair as to mention Coca-Cola in the same breath with the "habit-forming" drugs.—Adv.

AFTER THE FIRST FEW WORDS

Preliminaries Attended to Before Col- ored Man and Wife Began the Real Fighting.

The conversation in the Washington hotel drifted to domestic infelicity a few nights ago, when Senator Luke Lea of Tennessee told a story which would seem to indicate that there is a mistaken idea as to what constitutes a real family fight.

Down in one of the southern states recently, so ran the senator's narrative, a colored man and his wife were haled into court on a charge of disturbing the peace.

"Rastus," said the magistrate, addressing the husband, "you are accused of disturbing your entire neighborhood on Tuesday night. What have you got to say for yourself?"

"It wah dis way, jedge," explained Rastus, glancing first at the magistrate and then at his wife. "Me an' Lucy got into an ahgment obah de coin she got fo' a week's wash. She call me a lazy loafah, an' I slap her down flat. 'Up she hop, an' smash a skillet on my haid, an' draps me flat. Den up I riz an' welt her wid a chain leg, an' den she flang a tea kittle at me, which scald quite consid'able."

"I see," commented the magistrate. Rastus hesitated. "And then what happened?"

"An' den, jedge," answered Rastus with great deliberation, "an' den we bergun to fight."

PANTRY CLEANED A Way Some People Have.

A doctor said:
"Before marriage my wife observed in summer and country homes, coming in touch with families of varied means, culture, tastes and discriminating tendencies, that the families using Postum seemed to average better than those using coffee."

"When we were married two years ago, Postum was among our first order of groceries. We also put in some tea, and coffee for guests, but after both had stood around the pantry about a year untouched, they were thrown away, and Postum used only."

"Up to the age of 28 I had been accustomed to drink coffee as a routine habit and suffered constantly from indigestion and all its relative disorders. Since using Postum all the old complaints have completely left me and I sometimes wonder if I ever had them."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Write for booklet, "The Road to Wellville."

Postum comes in two forms.
Regular (must be boiled).
Instant Postum doesn't require boiling but is prepared instantly by stirring a level teaspoonful in an ordinary cup of hot water, which makes it right for most persons.

A big cup requires more and some people who like strong things put in a heaping spoonful and temper it with a large supply of cream.

Experiment until you know the amount that pleases your palate and have it served that way in the future. "There's a Reason" for Postum.

IN SUMMER MATERIAL

LINGERIE DRESSES FASHIONED FROM WHITE COTTON VOILE.

Has Many Advantages Which Make it Approach the Ideal for Hot Weather—Sketch Shows Pretty Embroidery Method.

Some of the most useful and charming lingerie dresses are fashioned from fine, white cotton voile, which launders satisfactorily and wears fairly well. Hand or machine needlework is a favorite trimming medium

White Voile Costume With Border Embroideries.

In a frock of this sort, oftentimes combines with cluny insertions or Irish lace.

This season, with the vogue for colorful embroideries, much can be done with thin materials that have colored border designs, whether hand worked or included in the weave.

Just how different are the methods of utilizing border embroideries for dress trimmings from those of other seasons is demonstrated in the model sketched for today. The material of the frock is a soft, fine white voile, with an oddly patterned border design outlined in coral and white floss.

The lower edge of the design is set in deep points and scallops, and this is used for the lower part of the blouse, with one of the points running up over either shoulder in front and in back. The rest of the blouse is of plain plaited voile made with elbow-length sleeves cut in one with the sides. A small, round collar finishes the neck, and a row of little coral buttons is set down the center front as trimming.

The tunic skirt has the cut-out border at the bottom, and is mounted evenly to the waist with gathers. The lower part of the underskirt is plait-

DESIGN FOR LITTLE SISTER

Silk and Cotton Combined in Pretty Costume That Has Some Really New Features.

Pale blue silk and cotton material has been made up most charmingly for a little girl in this instance. The sleeves are trimmed with narrow plaited frills of the material and a black velvet sash passes under a strap buttoned down with black velvet buttons.

There is a round yoke edged with the plaited frilling and over this little yoke lies a round collar of machine embroidery which fastens at the back. Pale blue silk stockings and buttoned strap slippers of white kid complete the dainty costume.

Square Necks Worn.

A peasant bodice cut out square to the bust line and filled in with folds of soft chiffon or net is gradually winning by a neck over the pointed décolleté. As with all necks, whether round, square or V-shaped, it has its omnipresent ruche of plaited lace or net, and an original note on some of these gowns shows a fall of lace in the middle of the back from the up-standing de Meisel ruff—a jabot worn behind.

ed like the blouse and attached to a net foundation.

Black or coral colored satin may be used for the sash, which is tied in large loops at the back.—Washington Star.

"TUB" MATERIALS IN PLENTY

Among the Many Offered There is Ample Opportunity for Selection of Pretty Frock.

The tub frock has included washable voile in its materials this summer, and that dear old fabric has arisen from its ashes more delightfully useful and ornamental than ever, and makes the prettiest frocks for those who want something fairly thin, washable, that will wear a decent time, and which will look nice to the end. The washing crepons, among other popular materials, always look smart if well cut and worn, while, in my opinion, the most useful frock of all is of the handkerchief type, plain cambric or batiste with little hemstitched colored edges. It is extraordinary how adaptable this type of frock is; simplicity being the order, it can be worn with the most country sort of hat, or by the addition of a not too elaborate but smart sash and a capeau of a more afternoon description (still holding to the simple note), and the possible finish of a frilled collar and elbow cuffs, or a set in old embroidered net or muslin, it can be pressed into service for a far more important occasion. All the foregoing is to the address of the young person, and not to that of her mother—or even grandmother!—these fair ladies having a way of taking to themselves advice to the ingenue as a matter of course nowadays unless firmly told they must not!—London Queen.

COAT SUIT OF TAN EPONGE

Both in Cut and Materials Particularly Effective for the Young Girl's Wear.

A particularly becoming coat suit of eponge for a young girl is offered here as a suggestion. Tan eponge was used for the suit with collar and turned-back cuff of the same material in white. A broad, stiffened belt of black velvet holds the blouse fullness of the coat. The blouse closes in slightly surplice effect above the belt, while the lower coat portion shows the cutaway influence. Buttons of black velvet with attendant buttonholes are placed just outside the shaped collar of white. The skirt is plain save for three deep tucks half way between knees and hem.

HANDS NEED NOT BE ROUGH

Even the Busiest of Housewives Can Find Time for This Simple Beautifying Process.

Here are some useful hints, which, if followed, will be found to produce excellent results in keeping the hands in good condition. The last thing at night, wash the hands with a good soap in not too hot water, and after they have been thoroughly cleaned (a soft nail-brush being permissible as long as the skin is not injured), in clean warm water to which a few drops of tincture of benzoin has been added.

Dry them on a soft towel and rub them well with cocoa butter, allowing it to sink into the skin. Massage the back of each hand and the fingers with the fingers of the other hand, rubbing them with the tips in a circular movement, and gradually working down to the nails.

Now rub over with olive oil, and put on a pair of old chamois leather gloves, which, if kept on all night, will make the skin soft, as well as nice and white.

In cleaning the nails never use a steel instrument or the points of the scissors. Stains and dirt can be removed by rolling a tiny wad of cotton-wool on the end of an orange stick and moistening it with diluted peroxide of hydrogen.

Pretty Brassiere.

A pretty brassiere is made of alternate stripes of lace and beading, through which wide ribbon is threaded. Adjustable straps are used for evening wear.

MUCH WORK YET TO BE DONE

Need of Provision for Care of Tuberculosis Patients Pointed Out by National Association.

Nevada, Utah, Wyoming and Mississippi are the only states in the United States which have made no hospital or sanatorium provision for consumptives, says the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis in a bulletin. At the same time the association asserts that, while there are 33,000 beds for tuberculosis patients in other states, this number is very inadequate, hardly more than one for every eight or ten needy patients being provided. Some states have less than 30 beds, and in not a single one is there a sufficient number available.

The bulletin points that, although the death rate from tuberculosis has declined steadily for the last 25 years, a marked increase in hospital and sanatorium beds must be made before a rate of even 4 or 5 deaths per 1,000 population can be reached. At the present time the city death rates in this country range from 8 or 9 per 1,000 living to as high as 35 or 40, with the average around 15 or 16, according to the latest reports of the bureau of the census.

Johnnie, the office boy, is as ingenuous in his excuses as he is prolific with them. One day he showed up an hour late for about the sixth time that month. While being reprimanded Johnnie exclaimed: "But you will have to excuse me, Mr. Thompson, for I had to see my mother off on the nine o'clock train; she's gone to New York to visit for a month."

Two days after Johnnie came in an hour late again, but anticipated Mr. Thompson by rushing into the latter's private office and exclaiming:

"O, Mr. Thompson, the stork left me a baby sister at our home this morning."

"Indeed!" sarcastically exclaimed Mr. Thompson, "and your poor mother away down in New York, too!"

"O, that's nothing," answered Johnnie. "My Aunt Sophie was at home when the stork brought the baby."

A man may be rough-looking and yet have a touch of sentiment about him.

A ragged, ill-kept-looking man appeared at the door of a Providence woman's home and in a pleading tone asked:

"Have you a piece of cake, lady, to give a poor man who hasn't had a bite for two days?"

"Cake?" echoed the woman in surprise. "Isn't bread good enough for you?"

"Ordinarily, yes, ma'am. But this is my birthday," explained the tramp.—Harper's Magazine.

Marriage.

George Ade, at one of his famous picnics at Hazelden Farm, his Indiana estate, turned the conversation, according to his wont, to matrimony.

In the midst of Mr. Ade's jests a business man declared stoutly: "Well, say what you please, George, marriage broadens a man."

"I suppose it might be put in that way," said Mr. Ade. "Flatten," though, is the word I've always used."

Another Form of It.

TRAPPING IN MAINE PAYS

Foxes and Minks Are Liquidating the Mortgages on Many of the Farms.

It is estimated that 1,500 foxes have been shot and trapped for their hides in Somerset county this season, according to a Skowhegan correspondent. The fur dealers claim that the foxes and mink have never been so plentiful. The fox skins have brought more money per skin than in several years back. It is estimated that the hunters have realized from fox skins alone in the county nearly $15,000.

One of the most unusual things in connection with this industry, one man alone in the county caught in two days time a black fox and a gray one that brought him a check for $2,500 and in a week's time this man trapped ten red foxes.

This is getting to be one of the greatest industries and many farmers are making as much money hunting as they earn on the farm during the rest of the season. Many have earned enough money from catching foxes and skunks to pay the mortgages on their farms. A fox skin on an average this year brings $5.

One farmer this winter let his dog out of doors in the morning and it immediately left for the woods. Along in the middle of the forenoon the man, while sitting in the house, heard a noise in the entry and opened a door and a red fox, closely followed by the dog, rushed in.

The kitchen window was open and before the man could stop it the fox had made a leap for it, but when he did he knocked the stick out that held the window up and he was caught by the window as it fell and was then killed.—Lewiston Journal.
