A Breath of the West

We received the following letter from Chas. Grimes one day this week and as Mr. Grimes was a former Pinckney boy we thought his friends here would be as interested in the letter as we were and so are taking the liberty of publishing it.

Dear Caverly:—

A change having come over the spirit of my dreams, the new school year finds me in northern Wyoming, superintending the schools of Gillette, the county seat of Campbell county, 500 miles north-west of Republican City, my location the past three years, and about half as far from our home, on Willow Ranch, South Dakota.

Gillette is a town of 1000 people in life and habits, a frontier town, in a typical ranch and range country, where cattle and sheep, the chief products, are counted by the thousand.

I have a splendid new school building, just built, modern and up to date in every respect, including flowing water throughout, drinking fountains in the halls, and a nice gymnasium.

Mrs. Grimes and our little Mae will remain on the ranch the greater part of the school year, so that we may be able to "prove up", next year, fulfil our obligations to the government, and its homestead laws.

The summer was a strenuous one for Mrs. Grimes and myself as we tore down the most of our buildings, and built a new house and barn, a half mile away. In addition to this, building fences and taking care of our crops, kept us "going some".

We have as pleasant a home as we have seen in the homestead country. From the door, we can see the city of Chadron, Nebr., eighteen miles to the south, and, both east west of Chadron, for seventy-five miles, we have a beautiful view of Pine Ridge, that lost range of the Rockies, which wanders eastward 150 miles through northern Nebraska, until it is finally lost, in the desolate Sand Hill Region.

Lloyd was elected to a position in the graded school of Heildreth, southern Nebr., last spring, but resigned, that he might spend the next year in the State Normal, at Chadron, where he has been studying during the summer and at the same time, he will hold as he has held during the summer, a position in the office of the city Y. M. C. A.

One year ago to-day in response to a message, I hurriedly left for Pinckney to see our sick mother. Since that day, fate has doubly afflicted us, has enshrouded our lives with deeper and darker shadows. But, though the last link of the chain, which, though far away, has ever bound our hearts to the dear old home of our earlier years, has finally been severed, in the death of our father, in our hearts there shall ever live a deep affection, which not even time can dim, for the old home town, the town of our birth and boyhood years.

Yours sincerely,
CHAS. L. GRIMES.

Want The Dollars?

The following is taken from the Fowlerville Review and is well worth the space given here;

"It is not uncommon to see a man searching for money he has dropped along the road side. In fact, in the past men have been known to take up several securely fastened planks from a sidewalk to get a dime that had dropped through a crack. Half an hour's time and the damage to the plank are sacrificed for the sake of getting the dime.

"Not a week passes that special bargains are not offered in this paper. Not only dimes, but dollars may be saved by taking advantage of these bargains. In this age of intelligent advertising, merchants have learned that they get the confidence of their patrons by making a clear statement in black and white of the bargains they have to offer. The merchant who advertises has something a little better or a little cheaper to offer you. He is the one that saves you money.

WATER IN FARMHOUSE

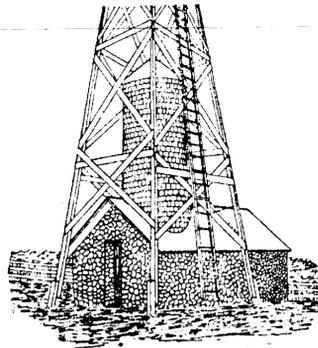

Northwestern Farmer Describes His Milkhouse and Tank.

Walls of Structure Were Built of Stone Taken From Field—Floor, Has Drain in the Center and is Sanitary and Clean.

(By R. G. WEATHERSTONE.) In writing of the great changes which he made in his farm within a few years, a northwestern farmer mentions one thing which should interest every farmer. The man thus describes his milkhouse and water tank:

"A water tank holding 30 barrels has been mounted in the tower of the windmill and pipes laid to the house, barn and sheep shed. Below this tank and over the pump was built a stone milkhouse. The tank was incorporated into the roof of this house as a tower. To protect the tank against freezing it was boarded in, leaving an air space which was filled with cut straw. The outside was papered and shingled. This has proven entirely satisfactory.

"The walls of the milkhouse were built of stone, taken from the field, laid with their rounded surfaces exposed, giving a very pretty effect. The floor, with a drain in the center, is cemented, which makes it sanitary and easy to keep clean. This house, which is thus in direct connection with the water supply, is used in separating the cream and in churning.

The above is a splendid convenience for every one on the farm. The fact that there is running water in the house, makes bathroom conveniences possible, and to say nothing of the comfort and saving of labor by having water in the kitchen. We call the man who thought up the scheme and carried it to a successful conclusion, an ideal farmer. You can depend upon it, he is a successful one, too.

Pigweed.

Prevent pigweed from going to seed, and avoid sowing the seed in grain and grass seeds. Frequent and thorough cultivation of the seed bed before sowing the seed will check growth in grain fields. Good plowing, thorough cultivation, with some hand hoeing and pulling, will eradicate the weed from cultivated crops. It does not give serious trouble in fields where crops are grown in a good rotation. It is most troublesome in gardens, but shallow cultivation and hoeing or pulling by hand will eradicate it.

Easy Victim for Sharper.

The man who does not read up on his business is blind to his own interests, and is an easy victim to the sharper who wants to get money without giving anything of value in return.

Making Pastures.

If the woodland pasture has only a few scraggly trees, cut them down. They will not pay as timber and they only serve to cast shade which retards the grass. Make it all pasture or all woodlot.

Signal of Danger.

As soon as a cow shows signs of sickness it is the safe thing to stop using her milk until an investigation has been made.

Rounding Up Dairy Herd.

Picking up a promising heifer calf wherever one is purchasable, is a good, inexpensive way to round up a dairy herd.

Ashes as Fertilizer.

A few wagon loads of ashes scattered anywhere on the farm makes an immense amount of difference in the crop.

Prevents Cream Splashing.

A sheet of paper folded and pinned about the top of the dash churn keeps the cream from splashing out.

Bone Food Needed.

All kinds of young fowls need bone food. Neglect this and something is bound to go wrong with your profits.

Makes Gentle Cow.

The gettied heifer becomes a gentle cow.

TREATING CASES OF CHOLERA

Animals Afflicted Should Be Isolated as Completely as Possible—Prevent Spread of Disease.

Immediately disinfect the premises thoroughly. Separate the well hogs from the sick ones, and divide the healthy animals in two or more groups and isolate them as completely as possible. All carcasses of hogs which have died from cholera should be burned or buried deeply and covered with quicklime.

As the germs of cholera gain access to the system through feeding, the way of prevention is well marked. All feeding troughs and utensils should be thoroughly cleaned and fumigated, the yards plowed and preferably planted with forage crop in season. Feed sparingly, using a laxative, easily digested and nourishing ration. When hog cholera serum is used the hogs treated should remain together in the infected yards. The possible introduction of the disease into the pens by people, dogs, birds, etc., should be guarded against especially if hog cholera is in the neighborhood.

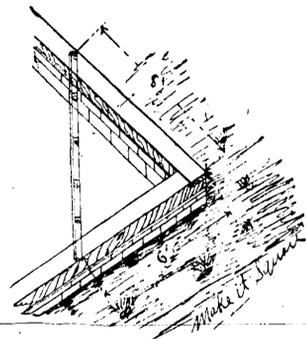

Whenever it is necessary for a person to enter a hog lot when the disease is present the shoes should be thoroughly cleaned and disinfected. Persons taking care of diseased animals should take necessary measures to prevent the spread of the disease, and see that others take similar precautions.

WAY OF SQUARING A CORNER

Infallible Method Given for Finding Perfect Square on Corner Where Some Doubt Exists.

Sometimes we are in doubt as to whether a corner is square, even after we have had the steel square on it. Sometimes the square has been knocked out of square, and many other things that could cause the corner to be wrong.

To get the square by this method, measure off six feet from the corner on one side and eight feet on the other side. Then lay a ten-foot measuring pole, as shown in the drawing, and adjust the corner until the arrows point at 1. and 10.

Be sure and have the arrows pointing on the same side of the measuring pole. This method is infallible.

Testing Eggs.

During incubation eggs should be tested on the seventh and fourteenth days. At the first test the air cell should measure about a quarter of an inch, on the tenth day a half inch, fifteenth day five-eighths inch, nineteenth day three-quarters inch. The measurement should be taken from the middle of the large end.

Color of Eggs.

The first eggs of the brown-egg layers are generally of a good color, but as the hen increases her laying she decreases the amount of color, owing to the gradual loss of the pigment which colors the eggs.

Effective for Vermin.

When whitewashing the inside of the poultry house don't forget to add a little crude carbolic acid. It makes the wash more effective for vermin.

Poultry Grains.

Rye is the poorest of poultry grains. Corn and buckwheat should be fed sparingly. Wheat leads as a well balanced food, and barley is a close second. Feeding too much buckwheat has a tendency to produce a white skin and light colored yolks in eggs.

Profitable Ducks.

The duck generally lays at night. It thrives best on succulent food. Strong, vigorous birds can be successfully bred at four years of age. When properly fed at eight months of age green ducks will weigh nine pounds per pair. The best prices for green ducks is given about May 1.

Counting Profits.

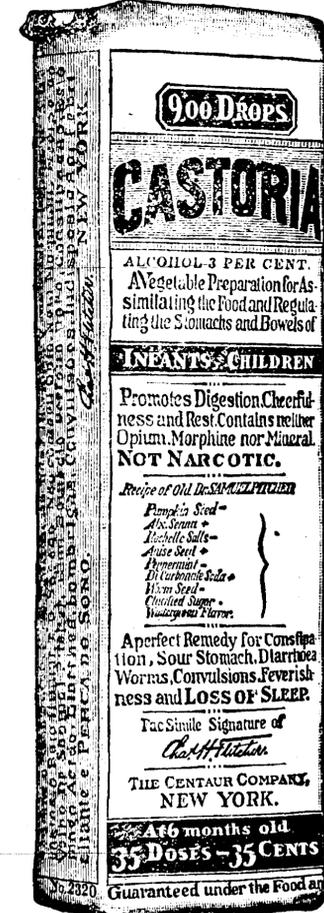

In counting the profits from your flock, do not fail to count the value of the fat lambs killed during the twelve months for family use and the high value of all the manure.

Stack Oats for Straws.

It pays to stack oats for the straw. The straw is of much better quality and will of course keep better stacked than if threshed.

Physicians Recommend Castoria

CASTORIA has met with pronounced favor on the part of physicians, pharmaceutical societies and medical authorities. It is used by physicians with results most gratifying. The extended use of Castoria is unquestionably the result of three facts: First—The indisputable evidence that it is harmless; Second—That it not only allays stomach pains and quiets the nerves, but assimilates the food; Third—It is an agreeable and perfect substitute for Castor Oil. It is absolutely safe. It does not contain any Opium, Morphine, or other narcotic and does not stupefy. It is unlike Soothing Syrups, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, etc. This is a good deal for a Medical Journal to say. Our duty, however, is to expose danger and record the means of advancing health. The day for poisoning innocent children through greed or ignorance ought to end. To our knowledge, Castoria is a remedy which produces composure and health, by regulating the system—not by stupefying it—and our readers are entitled to the information.—Hall's Journal of Health.

Letters from Prominent Physicians addressed to Chas. H. Fletcher.

Dr. B. Halstead Scott, of Chicago, Ills., says: "I have prescribed your Castoria often for infants during my practice, and find it very satisfactory."

Dr. William Belmont, of Cleveland, Ohio, says: "Your Castoria stands first in its class. In my thirty years of practice I can say I never have found anything that so filled the place."

Dr. J. H. Taft, of Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I have used your Castoria and found it an excellent remedy in my household and private practice for many years. The formula is excellent."

Dr. R. J. Hamlen, of Detroit, Mich., says: "I prescribe your Castoria extensively, as I have never found anything to equal it for children's troubles. I am aware that there are imitations in the field, but I always see that my patients get Fletcher's."

Dr. Wm. J. McCrann, of Omaha, Neb., says: "As the father of thirteen children I certainly know something about your great medicine, and aside from my own family experience I have in my years of practice found Castoria a popular and efficient remedy in almost every home."

Dr. J. R. Clausen, of Philadelphia, Pa., says: "The name that your Castoria has made for itself in the tens of thousands of homes blessed by the presence of children, scarcely needs to be supplemented by the endorsement of the medical profession, but I, for one, most heartily endorse it and believe it an excellent remedy."

Dr. R. M. Ward, of Kansas City, Mo., says: "Physicians generally do not prescribe proprietary preparations, but in the case of Castoria my experience, like that of many other physicians, has taught me to make an exception. I prescribe your Castoria in my practice because I have found it to be a thoroughly reliable remedy for children's complaints. Any physician who has raised a family, as I have, will join me in heartiest recommendation of Castoria."

A housefly "as big as a cat," exhibited at the recent International Congress of Hygiene and Demography at Washington, D. C., is now permanently on exhibition at the American Museum of Natural History. This, however, is not the real thing, but a model 15 inches in length and 64,000 times the size of a living fly. This model, the making of which required a year of patient labor, is the most adequate representation of the external anatomy of the common house fly in existence.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

THE BEST TREATMENT FOR ITCHING SCALPS, DANDRUFF AND FALLING HAIR

To allay itching and irritation of the scalp, prevent dry, thin and falling hair, remove crusts, scales and dandruff, and promote the growth and beauty of the hair, the following special treatment is most effective, agreeable and economical. On retiring, comb the hair out straight all around, then begin at the side and make a parting, gently rubbing Cuticura Ointment into the parting with a bit of soft flannel held over the end of the finger. Anoint additional partings about half an inch apart until the whole scalp has been treated, the purpose being to get the Cuticura Ointment on the scalp skin rather than on the hair. It is well to place a light covering over the hair to protect the pillow from possible stain. The next morning, shampoo with Cuticura Soap and hot water. Shampoos alone may be used as often as agreeable, but once or twice a month is generally sufficient for this special treatment for women's hair. Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Sample of each free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post card "Cuticura, Dept. L, Boston."—Adv.

MINE COMPANY SNUBS UNION MAN

PRESIDENT OF MICHIGAN FEDERATION OF LABOR IS REFUSED CONFERENCE.

IS DENIED ADMISSION TO THE MANAGER'S OFFICE.

Last Chance for Arbitration of Strike Seems to Be Gone and Both Sides Prepare for Fight to a Finish.

Calumet, Mich.—President Claude O. Taylor, of the Michigan Federation of Labor, was denied admission to the office of General Manager James MacNaughton, of the Calumet & Hecla company, when he sought an interview with him to lay before the magnate a plan for a possible settlement of the strike which includes the arbitration of the question as to whether the mining companies should recognize local unions. Taylor says he will not again attempt to see MacNaughton.

The mining companies evidently determined to stand by their first decision to recognize no union, to confer with no union or federation men, and to hold out no promise to the strikers for a settlement of the labor dispute. They have announced their willingness to treat with the men personally and individually.

The strikers look upon this incident as a victory because they believe it will gain adherents to their cause.

The Federation of Miners is angered and say they will not give the companies another opportunity to arbitrate, but will fight to a finish.

Motorman Hero Saves Child.

Saginaw, Mich.—The heroism of Jesse Ladue, of Ohio, motorman on a Detroit-Saginaw interurban, saved the life of a 2-year-old child which had wandered upon the car tracks.

As his car rounded a curve just outside the city limits, and while traveling at the rate of 50 miles an hour, Ladue saw the child between the rails only a few rods ahead. Shutting off power and applying the brakes, he flung open the vestibule door and climbed out upon the fender. Reaching forward at a perilous angle as the heavy car swept down upon the child, the nifty motorman flung out his free hand, grasped the baby's clothing and lifted it to safety.

The car came to a stop about 100 feet beyond the place where the child had stood.

Report of State Sanatorium.

Howell, Mich.—The annual report for the State Sanatorium for Tuberculosis, located at Howell, has been made by Dr. Eugene B. Pierce, the superintendent. It shows that during last year the average number of patients has been 78, and average weekly cost for each patient was $11.27. The patients stay so long that it is difficult to estimate the total number during the year, but the records show that 144 were admitted who came from 47 counties. Forty-seven per cent of the patients were discharged as cured. Wayne county furnished the largest number from any county last year, 25 persons being admitted. Treatment cost the 43 counties $21,194.

SIMPLE FUNERAL FOR GAYNOR

WIDOW OF MAYOR SAYS HE WOULD NOT WISH MILITARY DISPLAY NOR OSTENTATION

New York—The funeral of William J. Gaynor on Monday, September 22, will be without military display. The mayor would have wished it so, Mrs. Gaynor said at a conference in the Gaynor home.

Which Mayor Kline and other officials she approved the plans for the obsequies that had been arranged. Ostentation was not to the mayor's liking. He was a lover of simplicity and during the public tribute to the dead executive of the city that will be begun on the arrival of the Lustrania the only escort of his coffin will be mounted police.

Carrying out the idea of simplicity at the funeral it has been decided that the offers of many orchestras to render the music at Old Trinity shall be declined and that the musical part of the service be carried out only by the Trinity choir and organ. Mrs. Gaynor has chosen only one number, the Bach-Gounod "Ave Maria," of which the mayor was very fond.

Further details of the battle given by the returning soldiers, placed the number of Mexican dead at two, with three seriously wounded and 14 captured.

Carranza to Run for President.

Mexico City, Mexico—That Venustiano Carranza will be a candidate at the October elections for president, if given full guaranties by the administration and will abide by the result whether he wins or loses, was the statement made by a representative of the northern rebels who is here to see General Huerta, but who desires that his name be withheld. He states that General Carranza's trip to Sonora was for the purpose of persuading Sonora rebels to agree to this arrangement.

McAneny Named for Mayor.

New York—George McAneny, president of the borough of Manhattan, was designated by the Gaynor campaign managers as their candidate for mayor, to take the place made vacant by the death of Mayor Gaynor, whom the whole city mourns. McAneny at present is on the Fusion ticket for the presidency of the board of aldermen. He is a Roosevelter.

The order is the result of the experience of Patrolman Edward Janssens, who was taken on a wild ride by auto-thieves two weeks ago, in which he was nearly killed, and which could have been avoided had he known how to operate the car.

HOUSEHOLD WORD WITH HER REBUKE THAT WAS DESERVED

Small Girl's Idea of Gem Was the Familiar Article on the Dining Table.

It was in a rural district and they were having a spelling bee for the youngest members of the class.

The teacher departed a little from the usual custom and each pupil was required to spell and define the word given him.

"Jewel," said the teacher. One little rosy-cheeked maid spelled it correctly, and then gave the definition "Gem."

"How does a gem look?" the teacher asked. "What is a gem?"

The little girl did not know. The entire class looked puzzled. Finally one little maid brightened, and raised her hand triumphantly. When she was called on she almost shouted out in the excess of her zeal:

"A gem is a little cake baked in a gem pan!"

In the Stone Age.

"Here are sign words, professor, on the walls of this cave."

"So I see."

"They tell, no doubt, a tale of great historical value."

"Not exactly. This is just the lease of the cave. Says the tenant must pay forty clam-shells per month in advance and isn't allowed to keep dinosaurs, pterodactyls or sabre-toothed tigers."

Amelia E. Barr, in her autobiography, tells of her experience in looking for a "church home" in the big city. She enjoyed a sermon by a famous preacher and wrote to ask about joining his congregation. An officer of the church called. After the polite preliminaries he said: "Doctor C. would like to know the name of your banker." "My banker," she replied in amazement. "I have no banker." "You see," he continued, "ours is a very extravagant church—I mean in good works—and our members must be looked to for large subscriptions. Doctor C. is acquainted with your name, and thinks highly of you, but he is afraid you would not be able to give as—liberally as our church expenses demanded." Mrs. Barr looked at him silently while he floundered in explanations. Finally she said: "You had better make no more explanations, sir. I understand that only the rich can be members of Doctor C.'s church. The Lord Christ also is therefore ineligible. I will remain outside with him."—San Francisco Argonaut.

Its Advantage.

"Fog has one advantage in the language used about it."

"What might that be?"

"It is correct to talk about its taking people in its mist."

Did it ever occur to you what a similarity there is between boots and men? Boots go on the feet, so do men. A boot sometimes gets tight, so do men. Some boots have red tops, so do men. Some boots are imitation calf, some men are the same article. Some boots can't stand water, neither can some men. When a boot is well soaked it is a bad case, so is man. A boot to be of much account needs a mate, so does man. A boot when well healed is comfortable, so is man.

Owing to the fact that the last legislature passed a law requiring physicians to treat the eyes of newly born infants with a prophylaxis approved by the state board of health, within one hour after birth, it has been necessary for Secretary of State, Martindale, to make a change in the prescribed form of birth certificates. The new birth certificate makes provision for a statement from the physician that the eyes of the child have been treated in the manner prescribed by law.

The new Mothers' Pension act is now in effect. This bill provides for the care of children of widows who are worthy but which would otherwise have to be sent to the State Public School at Coldwater, and the keeping them in the homes. By the way the applications are rushing in in some counties it looks as if the new law would prove the most expensive piece of legislation which the state has passed in some time. The pay comes from the general fund of the county.

There are merchants who take the wrong course in order to head the farmers off from going to the mail order houses by trying to club them back. Won't do. Guard Your Children Against Bowel Trouble

Many children at an early age become constipated, and frequently serious consequences result. Not being able to realize his own condition, a child's bowels should be constantly watched, and a gentle laxative given when necessary. Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets are especially well adapted to women and children. The Sisters of Christian Charity, 531 Charles St., Luzerne, Pa., who attend many cases of sickness say of them:

"Some time ago we began using Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets and find that we like them very much. Their action is excellent and we are grateful for having been made acquainted with them. We have had good results in every case and the Sisters are very much pleased."

The form and flavor of any medicine is very important, no matter who is to take it. The taste and appearance are especially important when children are concerned. All parents know how hard it is to give the average child "medicine," even though the taste is partially disguised. In using Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets, however, this difficulty is overcome. The shape of the tablets, their appearance and candy-like taste at once appeal to any child, with the result that they are taken without objection.

The rich chocolate flavor and absence of other taste, make Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets the ideal remedy for children.

WEBSTER A GREAT ORATOR

He Spoke With Impassive Deliberateness and Really Had Something to Say.

A few years ago one might occasionally meet an old man, who, in his youth, had heard Daniel Webster, who remembered and could quote much of that great man's utterances. The day has gone by for any such efforts of memory. The orator of today does not feel that he is "delivering the goods" unless he is rattling off two hundred words a minute, a rapidity that puts it beyond the power of the hearer to remember anything but the idea sought to be conveyed, and that too often not any too clearly. The great Daniel spoke with impressive deliberateness, for when he spoke he really had something to say and his speed was not above 120 words a minute. He would have been considered "easy" today, even by a stenographic beginner.

Webster was born at Salisbury, N. H., January 18, 1872. His most remarkable efforts were his speeches in the senate on the Greek revolution, and in his debate with Hayne of South Carolina. He also acquired great fame by two orations—one at the laying of the corner stone of the Bunker Hill monument, on the anniversary of the battle, June 17, 1825, and the other on the completion of the monument, in 1843. One of his greatest utterances, which may be looked upon as a prophecy of the conflict that came near to the destruction of the Union, may be cited as the best remembered of his utterances: "When my eyes shall be turned to behold for the last time the sun in heaven, may I not see him shining on the broken and dishonored fragments of a once glorious Union; on states dissolved, discordant, belligerent; on a land rent with civil feuds, or drenched, it may be, in fraternal blood."

Don't Let Baby Suffer With Eczema And Skin Eruptions

Babies need a perfect skin-covering. Skin eruptions cause them not only intense suffering, but hinder their growth. DR. HOBSON'S ECZEMA OINTMENT can be relied on for relief and permanent cure of suffering babies whose skin eruptions have made their life miserable. "Our baby was afflicted with breaking out of the skin all over the face and scalp. Doctors and skin specialists failed to help. We tried Dr. Hobson's Eczema Ointment and were overjoyed to see baby completely cured before one box was used," writes Mrs. Strubler, Dubuque, Iowa. All druggists, or by mail, 50c. Stages Built to Last.

The old stages were a triumph of the wagon maker's art; most of them were built by John Stephenson of this city, and all were built on the principle of the one-hoss shay. The bodies and running gear were made to last, and these old Broadway friends seem to have been as widely scattered over the world as were later the locomotives of the elevated railroads. We have memoranda of two Broadway stages still running in Peru in the first years of this century. In the early 30's one was encountered in suburban service at Cape Town with the Wall street ferry inscription still discernible under coats of later paint.—New York Press.

Rough on the Aviator.

The physician turned to the office patient in the canvas coat and leggings. "You must follow my directions implicitly," he said, handing him a small vial of liquid. "You are to take three drops in water every four hours." "Three drops in water every four hours!" ejaculated the patient in a bewildered manner. "And I'm an aviator!"—Lippincott's Magazine.

TERRORS OF WARS OF OLD

Doubtful if Battles of Today Make Greater Demands on Courage Than in Ancient Times.

Much is written of the terrors of modern war. Little is written of the terrors of the wars of old. Yet it is doubtful if war today makes greater demands on human courage than war in the time of Grant, of Washington, of Turenne, of Caesar, of Alexander. Consider a stand-up infantry fight in the days of the revolution. After the preliminary cannonade and long-distance musketry practice, the two regiments marched toward each other in closed ranks. At a given distance, frequently at 80 yards, there was a halt, a smashing volley, and then a bayonet charge through the smoke. Bullets those days were large and of solid lead, and the man who was hit went down. Over him tramped his comrades and the enemy, shooting and stabbing.

That was the type of infantry battles for 150 years. To minimize the courage needed to make a good soldier under such circumstances is to fly in the face of common sense. Modern war requires a different type of courage from that needed of old. The old touch of elbows is lacking. The old feeling of companionship is gone. The modern soldier must be more alert, better taught, keener witted than the olden soldier of equal valor. But it does not follow that the modern soldier is the braver man.

The men who fought at the "bloody angles" of Chickamauga and Spotsylvania, at Bunker Hill and Oriskany, at Rivoli, Zorndorf and Malplaquet, had no need to learn heroism in any modern school. It was theirs already.

Swiss Independence. Switzerland secured its independence in the Austro-Swiss war. It commenced in 1385 and peace came in 1389.

COMMISSIONER SCULLY IS DEAD

A HEAVY COLD RESULTING IN PNEUMONIA CAUSES DEATH OF STATE OFFICIAL.

WAS PROMINENT IN POLITICS OF MICHIGAN.

Declined Democratic Nomination for Governor in 1912 and Gave Support to Ferris Who Honored Him With Appointment.

Ionia, Mich.—James Scully, state railroad commissioner, died at his home here at 5:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. His death was the direct result of a heavy cold which he contracted while at work in Saginaw the latter part of August. Pneumonia developed and he took to his bed on September 1. For several days his life was prolonged by the use of oxygen. He was 51 years old.

Mr. Scully was one of the best known democrats in Michigan. He refused an offer of the nomination for governor on the democrat ticket in 1912, supporting Gov. Ferris. He was appointed railroad commissioner by the latter January 1 for a six-year term. Many of his friends already were booming him for the democrat nomination for governor in 1916.

He first attracted state-wide attention in 1907, when as a member of the legislature he waged a battle for progressive legislation and carried on a brilliant fight against the men in control of the lower branch of the legislature.

Mr. Scully was born in Oscoda township, near Howell, January 13, 1862. He was educated in the Howell schools and the Penton Normal, and taught in the Oscoda county schools until he came to Ionia and entered the law office of A. A. Ellis. He was admitted to the Ionia bar and in 1890 formed the law partnership with John B. Chaddock, now of Detroit. In 1894 Mr. Chaddock withdrew and the firm was Davis & Scully until last September, when E. M. Davis moved to Grand Rapids and F. O. Eldred became a member of the firm. Mr. Scully was an Elk and Knight of Columbus.

Village of Hooper Burned.

Kalamazoo, Mich.—Only one house and a saw mill remain standing in Hooper, a little settlement 20 miles north of this city in Allegan county, flames having destroyed the general store, the depot, a crate factory, the freight house and nine homes. The fire started, it is said, from sparks from a freight engine and set fire to dry grass. Driven by a strong wind that was blowing, it rapidly crept to a small shed, then leaped to a small lumber yard owned by the railroad. Railway laborers, women and farmers fought the fire by hand, but could not stop its progress and by midnight only a smoldering mass marked the place where the little place had once stood. The loss will probably reach $12,000.

Appointments by the Governor.

Lansing, Mich.—Acting on the recommendation of Judge Clement Smith of the fifth judicial circuit, Governor Ferris has appointed Chas. H. Bauer, of Hastings probation officer for Barry county, and James H. Brown, of Charlotte, probation officer for Eaton county.

Judge Peter F. Dodds, of the twenty-fifth circuit recommended the following appointments, which the governor confirmed: Wilbert E. Preston, Mt. Pleasant, chief probation officer for the circuit; William Murphy, Harrison, assistant probation officer for Clare county; James Lamy, Midland, assistant probation officer for Midland county.

Tallest Man is Insane.

Houghton, Mich.—Louis Moilanen, believed to be the tallest man in the world, living on a farm with his parents north of Houghton, became violently insane and had to be taken to the insane ward of the county jail. His condition is caused by illness.

Moilanen is a Finn. He is seven feet, eight inches tall. For several seasons he traveled with a circus, but found the "freak" business unpleasant. Though perfectly proportioned Moilanen always has been weak physically.

Two Twin City residents Monday celebrated the forty-fifth anniversary of their escape from one of the greatest of Lake Michigan tragedies. They are Capt. Charles Morrison, of St. Joseph, and Cyrus Rittenhouse, of Benton Harbor, the only living survivors of the Hippocampus, which sank in mid-lake. Twenty-eight persons were drowned.

The fight between the good roads men and the anti's was renewed at Grand Haven when attorneys for the latter commenced suit for the cancellation of the temporary order issued against the county clerk and board of election commissioners, restraining them from calling an election for a vote on the rescinding of the $600,000 bonding proposition voted in 1912.

HANDLE MONEY AND HATE IT.

Peculiar State of Mind That Comes of Employes of the Most Noted Gambling Resort.

Probably no one hates the sight of money as do the croupiers at Monte Carlo, through whose hands thousands and thousands of pounds pass every year.

It is not everyone who can be a croupier. Fingering and counting money at the casino requires special training, and, accordingly, there is a school of croupiers in Monaco. Here there are tables similar to those used in the gambling rooms, and each "scholar" is taught by a "master" how to become a croupier.

The "masters" and the "scholars" personate players, while one "scholar" takes the part of croupier. The money used is sham, metal discs being substituted for coins, and slips of paper for bank notes. Within a given time the croupier-scholar must calculate and pay out the winning stakes, and he must make no mistakes. He has to learn how to pitch money from one end of the table to a precise spot at the other end, and a good many other things.

When a "scholar" is passed as perfect he enters the service of the casino under an agreement which stipulates that he can be dismissed at a moment's notice without any reason being given him.—London Tit-Bits.

Prince Charming.

"And you really once saw a prince?"
"Yes."
"Oh," she exclaimed, clasping her hands and gazing with awe into the eyes that had looked upon royalty, "what was he doing?"
"Trying to balance a chair on his chin to amuse a chorus girl."

Quite So.

"Everything is done now by machinery."
"Yes, I notice that even children are brought up by elevators."

Its Oddity.
"There is one thing very paradoxical about bread."
"What is it?"
"We want bread before we knead it."

Cold and Warm Affection.
"Don't you like a man to tell you of his burning love for you?"
"I would rather have him treat me to ice cream."

Its Character.
She—I waive all claim to you miserable, undesirable affections.
He—Well, you needn't make it such a hot waive.

The Test.
"How can you tell if a purse is real alligator skin?"
"I don't know, but I suppose you ought to be able to tell by the snap."

The Method.
"I'm afraid we can't send a telegraph message if we have no cash."
"Nonsense! All telegraphic messages are sent on tick."

Its Advantages.
"There is one very good thing about a circus."
"What is that?"
"A man can 'see the elephant' without having a lot of fuss made about it."

Agreeable Change.
First Clubman—I've been watching Blowhard over there smoking.
Second Clubman—Where's the interest?
First—It's such a pleasant change to find him puffing something else besides himself.

Impossible.
"Your old clock is good for a long life yet."
"How can it be when I can see for myself that its hours are numbered?"

Berlin in 1911 consumed 577,537,791 pounds of milk.

A Suggestion for Digestion

Many persons suffer more or less from headache, dizziness, biliousness, and symptoms common to indigestion. There are various causes, such as over-starchy or greasy foods, improper mastication, or bad cooking.

Grape-Nuts

Solves the digestion problem.

This food, made from prime whole wheat and barley, is perfectly baked until the starch cells are either converted into easily digested grape sugar, or thoroughly broken down for quick digestion—generally in about one hour.

There is no animal fat in Grape-Nuts.

The crisp granules of Grape-Nuts come to your table ready-to-eat direct from package, invite thorough mastication and have a peculiarly sweet, nut-like flavor.

Grape-Nuts, containing all the rich elements of wheat and barley, including the vital mineral salts, is a perfectly balanced food for building muscle, bone, brain and nerve.

Grape-Nuts is probably the longest baked, the best balanced, and the most easily digested of all cereal foods. Wonderfully appetizing with cream and sugar.

"There's a Reason" for Grape-Nuts

ALL SIMPLE OF CUT

BLOUSE EFFECTS IN ORDER FOR SEASON'S GARMENTS.

Smart Little Coat Suit Illustrated May Be Taken as Design That Will Have the Sanction of Those Who Know.

Delightful and more useful than ever are the coat and skirt suits of the coming season, the majority of which are suitable for dress wear or street in a wide range of handsome materials. The blouse effects are constantly growing in favor—in fact, they are the preferred designs for the soft, supple goods like the velour surfaced ones and the new cheviot weaves.

All tailored suits are extremely simple of cut, but more or less complex of silhouette, and, contrary to preceding seasons, very little trimming is used. The success of the costume depends largely on graceful draping and swathing of materials.

The smart little coat suit of the sketch is representative of the simpler models. The coat is what is known as a Russian cutaway, an attractive compromise between two of the season's favorite whims. Its material is one of the pebble-finished woolen weaves in mole brown. The skirt is rather long and plain, with the tunic

IN BLUE VELVET.

Model of blue velvet with tunic of embroidered tulle. High satin belt. Sleeves of Mousseline de Soie.

WHITE DECORATION ON GREEN

Effective Ornaments That May Be Applied on the Simplest of Costumes.

A stunning dress can be made from oyster-white linen embroidered in a rather subdued row of green. Button-hole a diagonal row of green scalloping from the neck to the bottom of the skirt and place from six to twelve white crochet buttons, the number depending upon the size, along the row of scalloping on the waist and continuing on down below the waist line for some distance on the skirt. Each white crochet button should have in its center a large green French knot. The lay-down collar and turn-back cuffs of the dress are scalloped in green, and in the curve of each of the collar and cuff scallops is nestled a group of three green French knots. One large knot may be used if preferred. A spray of green leaves worked solidly on the front of the waist, or a soft green silk tie slipped under the collar and knotted in front, carries out the color scheme. Wear with the dress a crush green silk girdle with the popular ends at the side back or a green suede leather belt. This costume over a green silk underskirt occasionally peeps out above white-shod feet should make, at the very least, an "impression." Heavy, clinging linen should be used, and no starch should be used in laundering it.

OF DAINTY CREPE DE CHINE

Charming Frock That is Fresh From the Hands of One of the Most Famous Designers.

Crepe de chine, which is the most beautiful of the silks for draping and shirring, has been fashioned into the above charming frock. The blouse portion was gathered into two shirred puffs forming a bolero over a dainty vest of cream shadow lace with little pointed yoke of the same. The sleeve is similarly treated at the elbow and a little cuff of the lace shows below. Satin-covered buttons of the shade of the crepe, which is a soft gray, trim bodice and underskirt; the latter with this exception being perfectly plain.

Latest French Makeup.

French women have abandoned their purple powder which was specially manufactured for electric light make-up. Nor are they as keen about the saffron powder that made them look as if they had just returned from long holidays and were nicely tanned. At the moment they seem inclined to turn to pink and whiteness, with natches and powdered hair.

Costumes of this Type Are Fashionable for Early Fall.

fastened across the front at the knees by a square tab held in place with oval buttons, and trimmed with soutache motifs in purple and black. Mole brown satin is used for the under plain skirt and only needs a panel of the suit material down the center front to fill in the space above and below the buttoned-over section of the tunic.

In the blouse the fullness is distributed across the sides, which pouch a ruffle over the crushed satin belt. The fronts cross each other, the right side over the left, in a tab that reproduces the one of the tunic, and similarly is trimmed and held in place with the oval-shaped buttons.

The soft collar rolls up high about the neck, and the soft purple satin tie running under the tab hangs out below it in a loop and tasseled end. The three-quarter-length sleeves are set into dropped shoulders finished with soft roll-back cuffs and trimmed with the soutache motifs.

Smoking Table.
A smoking table made of lacquered brass stands on a high standard which brings the table just about the level of the arm of a chair. It is equipped with the usual cigar jar, ash tray and match box holder. In the center of the table is a long-armed electric light, which bends to any angle and is shaded with a brass shade. The wire runs through the leg of the table, and is there run into a silk-covered cord, which is screwed into a convenient socket. Surely this table suggests a comfortable tuck with cigars and newspaper or magazine.

Bad, but All Well.

The saying "the good funeral of the bad woman," may be apocryphal, but it is attributed to the duke of Buckingham, not otherwise noted for the exercise of functions proper to the clergy. In the wicked London of the restoration an evil woman named Crestwell ordered the payment of £10 for a funeral sermon in which no ill should be spoken of her. Buckingham's sermon was: "All I shall say of her is this, she was born well, she married well, lived well and died well; for she was born in Shadwell, married in Creswell, lived at Clerkewell and died at Bridewell."

Baby's Deduction.

A well known clergyman tells this story to illustrate the early age at which children learn to "notice."

A young father, not ordinarily given to profanity, had slipped into the habit of using bad words when, as too frequently happened, his collar refused to fasten easily. One day the collar—impatiently discarded—fell upon the floor and later was retrieved by the baby, just beginning to creep and talk.

"Dada, dada," cried the baby, waving the rejected article of apparel.

"Yes, it belongs to dada," said the proud parent, snatching up his son and heir. "Now, baby, tell papa its name."

"Dada's damn," came the cooling reply.

GROWING STRONGER
Apparently, with Advancing Age.

"At the age of 50 years I collapsed from excessive coffee drinking," writes a man in Mo. "For four years I shambled about with the aid of crutches or cane, most of the time unable to dress myself without help.

"My feet were greatly swollen, my right arm was shrunken and twisted inward, the fingers of my right hand were clenched and could not be extended except with great effort and pain. Nothing seemed to give me more than temporary relief.

"Now, during all this time and for about 30 years previously, I drank daily an average of 6 cups of strong coffee—rarely missing a meal.

"My wife at last took my case into her own hands and bought some Postum. She made it according to directions and I liked it fully as well as the best high-grade coffee.

"Improvement set in at once. In about 6 months I began to work a little, and in less than a year I was very much better, improving rapidly from day to day. I am now in far better health than most men of my years and apparently growing stronger with advancing age.

"I am busy every day at some kind of work and am able to keep up with the procession without a cane. The arm and hand that were once almost useless, now keep far ahead in rapidity of movement and beauty of penmanship."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Write for copy of the little book, "The Road to Wellville."

Postum comes in two forms: Regular Postum—must be well boiled. Instant Postum is a soluble powder. A teaspoonful dissolves quickly in a cup of hot water and, with the addition of cream and sugar, makes a delicious beverage instantly.
"There's a reason" for Postum.

Most men spend more time talking it over than working it out.

Literally So.
"There goes a man of sterling worth."
"Who is he?"
"He is a silversmith."

The Reason.
"I wonder why London is so damp and foggy?"
"I guess it is on account of the long reigns they have had there."

Considerably Removed.
"Rather nasty looking dairy maids in this musical comedy."
"Yes, but I dare say the nearest they ever got to a dairy was a dairy lurch."

Father Would Understand.
This is the letter a boy away at boarding school for the first time's is said to have written home:

"Dear Parents: I hardly think I will be able to send you many letters while here. You see, when things are happening, I haven't time to write, and when they aren't happening, I haven't anything to write about. You'll understand how it is, won't you, father? And, mother, dear, you just ask father to explain to you how it is. So now I'll say good-by, with lots of love and sign myself, in haste. Your
"LOVING SON."

Fanaticism and Progress.

Without fanaticism of a certain sort, progress would be impossible. The minds of men and women must be surcharged with love of a cause, or hatred of a wrong, else they will not put their all into the fighting. The very origin of the word "fanatic" connotes absorption in a single idea, for the word is derived from the Latin "fanum" (a temple) and the "fanaticus" was supposed to be maddened by the divinity whose fane he frequented. And it is quite certain that now, as of old, the motive power of every great propaganda is essentially religious, even though the leaders call themselves agnostics or atheists. No absolutely selfish or absolutely skeptical person, can lead either the masses or the classes. At the core of the true leader's being there must be an idea to which he clings and to which he will sacrifice all else with a light heart. Parnell was cold, but he loved Ireland with an all-consuming passion; William III. was cold, but he loved Holland with a devotion that knew no bounds.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Women Avoid Operations

When a woman suffering from some form of feminine disorder is told that an operation is necessary, it of course frightens her.

The very thought of the hospital operating table and the surgeon's knife strikes terror to her heart, and no wonder. It is quite true that some of these troubles may reach a stage where an operation is the only resource, but thousands of women have avoided the necessity of an operation by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. This fact is attested by the grateful letters they write to us after their health has been restored.

These Two Women Prove Our Claim.

Cary, Maine.—"I feel it a duty I owe to all suffering women to tell what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. One year ago I found myself a terrible sufferer. I had pains in both sides and such a soreness I could scarcely straighten up at times. My back ached, I had no appetite and was so nervous I could not sleep, then I would be so tired mornings that I could scarcely get around. It seemed almost impossible to move or do a bit of work and I thought I never would be any better until I submitted to an operation. I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt like a new woman. I had no pains, slept well, had good appetite and was fat and could do almost all my own work for a family of four. I shall always feel that I owe my good health to your medicine."
—Mrs. HAYWARD SOWERS, Cary, Me.

Charlotte, N. C.—"I was in bad health for two years, with pains in both sides and was very nervous. If I even lifted a chair it would cause a hemorrhage. I had a growth which the doctor said was a tumor and I never would get well unless I had an operation. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I gladly say that I am now enjoying fine health and am the mother of a nice baby girl. You can use this letter to help other suffering women."
—Mrs. ROSA SIMS, 16 Wyona St., Charlotte, N. C.

Now answer this question if you can. Why should a woman submit to a surgical operation without first giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial? You know that it has saved many others—why should it fail in your case?

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No one sick with woman's ailments does justice to herself if she does not try this famous medicine made from roots and herbs. It has restored so many suffering women to health.
Write to LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO., (CONFIDENTIAL) LYNN, MASS., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

The physicians have a way of balancing the good against the bad that endears them to the general public. They have enabled us to worry over countless new diseases by discovering new germs that our forefathers wot not of. Their benevolent activity sometimes makes us uncomfortable. But, on the other hand, they reassure us in other matters. Especially are they inclined to hold nowadays that the appetite is an excellent guide as to what one should eat. And as long as we are allowed to eat what we like we are able to reconcile ourselves to lesser ills. An editorial in the current Journal of the American Medical association gives us back white bread, stamped with its approval. Welcome gift! When the physicians tell us to follow our natural inclinations at the table, we are bound to admit that we forget all the grievances we may have secretly cherished against them.

Dachshund Disappearing.

The dachshund three feet long in reality and six or more in the eyes of the caricaturist, is slowly but surely disappearing from the pavements and from the pages of the comic papers in Berlin. The new style of Viennese cafe, into which no dogs are admitted, is against him, and so, too, is the fashion which calls with constantly increasing force for Russian wolfhounds and toy dogs.

"But the greatest enemy of the dachshund is the dog tax," says the Berlin correspondent of The London Telegraph. "This year the tax was raised from 20 shillings to 30 shillings ($5 to $7.50). The result is that in Berlin the number of these dogs has diminished by 4,500 in the course of the twelve months. In contrast the number of dogs free of tax obligation has increased, and is now 6,600, as against 35,000 paying the 30 shillings. Among the dogs paying no duty are forty-six police dogs."

Touching.

Mr. Newlywed (reading letter from his wife at seaside)—My own darling—a thousand kisses—could you send me $50 at once? Thank you so much. I won't ask for any more until I write again. I will try and make that last until I need some more. If you could send me $75 instead of $50 it would save me writing before next week. I have to pay 2 cents for every stamp I use. The extortion of these hotel keepers is something frightful. Good-by, lovey.—Brooklyn Citizen.

Limited Experience.

The Widow—I suppose you are familiar with warfare in all its various forms, major?
The Major—Not all, madam; not all. I am still in the bachelor ranks.—Exchange.
