Demonstration Culminates in Great Mass Meeting at Board of Commerce Where Speakers Are Heard.

Detroit-Michigan's new Wolverine Pavedway, which is to connect Detroit with Grand Haven, was the subject of talks by men of prominence throughout the state at a mass meeting held at the Detroit Board of Commerce, Friday night, as the culminstion of a demonstration to create enthusiasm for the new trans-state highway in which boosters from every town on the road between Detroit and Grand Haven took part.

George F. Moody, of the Newcomb-Endicott company, of Detroit, delivered the address of welcome to the highway boosters and then turned the meeting over to E. C. Shields, of Lansing, who introduced the speakers of the evening and presided at the session.

The speakers included W. K. Prudden, president of the Wolverine Pavedway organization, of Lansing; Philip T. Colgrove, president of the Michigan State Good Roads commission, of Hastings; Patrick H. The delegation of boosters arrived in Detroit about 5:30 o'clock Friday evening and more than 1,000 automobiles were in line when the procession passed the intersection of Grand River avenue and the boulevard.

The boosters were given the warmest reception they have received since the inception of the new road pian. Banquets were held in various hotels throughout the city and the festivities culminated in a mass meeting at the Detroit Board of Commerce at 8 o'clock.

Throughout the entire trip the way was littered with signs having some connection with the movement for the pavedway. In Livingston county the signs were not only plentiful, but some of them were unique. This counroad which is to be laid next spring.

FOR DEFENSE

Estimates of Government Expenditures Are Submitted to Secretary of Treasury Friday.

Washington-Estimates of government expenditures for the next fiscal year, totaling about $1,240,000,000, and the largest ever submitted in time of peace, were presented Friday to the secretary of the treasury.

Although no estimate of receipts for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1916, in which the increased expenditures will take effect has been made by Secretary McAdoo, officials now are convinced they cannot count on more than $750,000,000 for the twelve months, and some believe the total income will not go over $700,000,000.

Congress is to be asked to pass two revenue measures early in the coming session, one extending the emergency war tax, which expires December 31 next, and the other providing for retention of the present duty on sugar beyond next May, when it would see on the free list.

MEXICAN POLICY DEAD MINERAL POTASH FOUND IN UTAH

FIRST TIME THIS ARTICLE HAS BEEN PRODUCED IN THE UNITED STATES.

LANE MAKES ANNOUNCEMENT

America Has Been importing This Mineral From Germany in Large Quantities for Many Years.

Washington-Production for the first time in the United States of commercial mineral potash, for which in the past Americans have spent millions of dollars abroad annually, was announced Sunday night by Secretary Lane, of the interior department. A report had just reached the department from a special agent of the geological survey telling how, by a simple process, potash had been produced from alunite found in a great vein in Piute county, Utah.

As alunite is known to exist in large quantities in Utah, Colorado, Nevada, California and Arizona, Mr. Lane believes the discovery assures the country of an adequate supply of potash for agricultural purposes and for use in the manufacture of explosives. Statistics show that imports of potassium salts from Germany amounted to $15,000,000 in 1913, the last year for which figures are avail-

The Utah alunite experimented with is in a vein 10 feet wide which has been traced for about 3,500 feet. Its depth has not been ascertained. Reports show that more than 20 tons of the mineral have been milled, producing two tons of 99 per cent pure potash. At the present time there are 100,000 gallons of alunite containing large amounts of potash salts in the course of evaporation.

POLICE CHIEF IS KILLED

Shot While Raiding Negro Gambling House in Galesburg.

Galesburg, Ill.-Lynn Mathews, chie of police, was shot and killed Sunday night while leading a raid on a Negro gambling house. His assailant is said by the police to have been "Lottie" Hopkins, a Negro gambler.

The shot fired by Hopkins was the signal for general fusillade and when it ended was found that Hopkins had escaped. He was arrested later, however, and hurried out of the city to avoid violence.

Mathews was 38 years old, and leaves a widow. He was shot through the right lung and died in a few minutes.

Chicago's Second Dry Sunday. Chicago-Fifty-two violations of the Sunday saloon closing law were reported to police headquarters Sunday night. The previous Sunday, when Mayor Thompson's order enforcing the law went into effect, 28, violations were reported. There are 7,152 saloons in the city.

In the towns and villages outside Chicago liquor was sold as usual with one exception. Phoenix, with a population of 1,200 and 18 saloons, was "dry" throughout the day.

SYNOPSIS.

Confederate Sergeant Wyatt is sent a spy to his native county on the Briar. He meets a mountaineer named Jem Taylor. They ride together to a house beyond Hot Springs and meet Major Harwood, father of Noreen and an old neighbor of Wyatt, who is sent to bed while the two other men talk. Wyatt becomes suspicious, and finds that Taylor has murdered Harwood and escaped. Wyatt changes to the U.S. cavalry uniform he has with him, and tides away in the night, running into a detachment of Federal cavalry, to whom he identifies himself as Lieutenant Raymond, Third U a. cavalry, by means of papers with which he has been provided. Captain Fox finds Harwood's body and follows Taylor's trail. Fox and Wyatt believe Taylor to be old New Cowan The detachment is ambushed. Wyatt escapes to the Green Briar country and goes to Harwood's apparently deserted home where he finds Noreen Harwood alone. She does not recognize him, and he introduces himself as Lieutenant Raymond. Parson Nichols comes to the house and tells Noreen of her father's death. Wyatt forces Parson Nichols to confess that he has bene sent in advance of Anse Cowan, who proposes to marry Noreen at once, and so quiet title to the land in dispute between the Cowans and Noreen's dead

Aided by its distant flicker we raced back down the upper hall to where it narrowed. A ladder stood there leading upward to a small scuttle above. Instantly my mind grasped her planthe attic! I felt her hand touch mine softly, and bent my head until her lips were at my ear.

"That was Anse Cowan," she whispered. "I recognize that voice. What do you suppose they will do now?"

My fingers tightened their grip; the men below had moved on, their voices grumbling along the hall.

"They will discover the preacher presently," I said, endeavoring to make my words as reassuring as possible. "I only wonder they have overlooked him so long; I supposed he would make an outcry."

She drew in her breath sharply, and sat up. The movement was noiseless, but in the instant of intense silence which followed, we heard below us the sudden sound of struggle, a muffled voice calling for mercy, the shuffling of a body being hauled forward across the floor. Then someone ran along the hall, passing just beneath us.

"What have you found, Kelly?" It was Anse's voice roaring out the ques tion. "Ah! the old for dug out of his hole, hey! Now see here, you canting old Baptist hypocrite, what kind of a trick is it you are playing on me? Stand him up there boys, against that rail. Stop your howling, or I'll smash you one in the face. Where did you find the fool, Jack?"

"Locked in a closet yonder; looks like it might be the girl's room. The darn fool is too skeered ter talk yet."

"Well, I'll make him, er else thar'll be a dead preacher in 'bout a minute. I reckon as how I'll do as much skeering as anyone. Now, Nichols, ye see thet! Whut the devil wus yer doing in thet closet?"

There was a gasping sound as though Anse's hand had closed again heavily on the fellow's throat.

He sputtered a bit as he began to tell his story and there were muffled words we could not distinguish. Occasionally someone of his auditors interrupted with an oath, or exclamation. He spoke faster as he proceeded, as though feeling less fear, and eager to have the task over. Finally Cowan interjected a brief question.

"You damn coward! Did you tell?" "Honest, Anse, I don't jest know; but I reckon I did spit it most out, fer he'd a killed me if I hadn't."

"Do you mean to say you told them I was comin' yere tonight, an' goin' fer ter make the girl marry me-you whinin' cur?"

The Recognition.

I began to understand the state of affairs now, piecing this and that together, lying there in the darkness, listening for some sound of guidance from below. I could hear the soft breathing of the girl at my side, but she did not speak or meve. She had overheard all that was said; she must also realize fully the object of these men, and the desperation of our position. Would she continue to trust me? To believe in my purpose, or had the words of betrayal spoken by Anse Cowan and Kelly left a sting of suspicion behind? If they had, would l dare to confess the truth, fully reveal my identity, and thus leave the fate of my secret mission in her hands?

Her sympathies must naturally be with the Union forces; she would see the issues from the viewpoint of her father. That would have nothing to do with these banditti, but later might greatly interfere with the work to which I had been assigned. I had two duties to perform—to the army, and to this helpless girl; which was paramount if by any chance they clashed? I could not answer, but I did comprehend which came first-I must save Noreen Harwood from the merciless clutch of Anse Cowan. I must remain with her loyally, until she was safe in the protection of friends. Possibly I could accomplish this, and still retain my secret.

"Is there any other way out of here. Miss Noreen?" I asked, scarcely above a whisper, "any opening leading to the 700[?"

"I have never seen one, though often up here when I was a child."

"Then our only means of escape is by the ladder, and we dare not venture that until assured those fellows have really left. Do you hear any sound below?"

We both listened in breathless silence, but no noise reached us with any distinctness. I thought I caught sorter man ter fool with onet he gits from outside the house-possibly someone yelling a report from the

Testimony Be Doubted

I wish to testify to the good that your Swamp-Root did me. I was bothered with Kidney trouble and lame back for some three years; had taken medicine from several doctors but without effect. I finally tried Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and after taking three bottles was completely cured. I have also recommended it to several friends who have been completely cured of kidney and bladder trouble. In one case a friend of mine in Toledo 'nok two bottles of Swamp-Root, which dissolved a stone in his bladder. He has not been troubled since. Also a friend in Springfield. Ohio, who was employed at the Springfield Metallic Casket Company, was completely cured of kidney trouble after taking Swamp-Root. I give this testimonial unsolicited, for it may be the means of helping some one else.

Yours gratefully,

What Mamma Said.

Little pitchars not only have long ears, but wide mouths sometimes. One of these is in Buffalo, and when the bell rang the other day, she went to the door, where she found some ladies.

"My dear," said one, "will you please tell your mother that we would like to see her?

The child departed silently, and after a while returned, sat down and silently watched the callers.

"Well," said one at length, "and what did mamma say?"

"She said, 'Oh, dear! I don't want to, but I s'pose I must.'"

Josh Juniper-Why, when he goes to town he don't walk his team most all the way an' then whip up an' come whirlin' over the top of the hill an' down into the village, a-snortin' an' a-sawin'; but just comes pokin' along into town like he didn't care a durn whether anybody was lookin' at him or not.

Her Reason. "What do you suppose made Fanny refuse that young real estate man who asked her to marry him the other day?"

"Oh, she got offended the way he proposed."

'Why, what did he say?" "Oh, he asked her for a refusal of her hand."

HARD ON CHILDREN When Teacher Has Coffee Habit.

"Best is best, and best will ever live." When a person feels this way about Postum they are glad to give testimony for the benefit of others.

A school teacher down in Miss. says: "I had been a coffee drinker since my childhood, and the last few years it had injured me seriously.

"One cup of coffee taken at breakfast would cause me to become so nervous that I could scarcely go through with the day's duties, and this nervousness was often accompanied by deep depression of spirits and heart palpitation.

"I am a teacher by profession, and when under the influence of coffee had to struccie against crossness when in the school room.

"When talking this over with my physician, he suggested that I try Postum, so I nunchesed a package and made it carefully according to directions: found it excellent of favour. and neurishing.

"In a short time I noticed very gratifring effects. My nervousness disanpeared, I was not irritated by my penils. His seemed full of exactine, and my heart troubled me no longer.

"I attribute my change in health and mirita to Postum alone."

Lay Corner-Stone Oct. 22

Michigan's formal recognition of the largest woman's fraternal benefit society in the world will take place at Port Huron Friday, October 22nd when the corner stone will be laid for the new Home Office Building of the Woman's Benefit Association of the Maccabees, of which society Miss Bina M. West is the supreme head. This structure when completed, will represent an outlay of $200,000 and this Association is the only one exclusively for women in the United States or, in fact in the world which has built and owns its own building. Consequently, the corner stone laying will be an occasion memorable history.

The United Doctors, licensed by the State of Michigan for the treatment of deformities and all nervous and chronic diagenses of men, women and children, office all who call on the case, considering examination, advice the making no charge whatever except the state of treatment. All that is asked in return for these valuable services is that every person treated will state the result obtained to their friends and thus prove to the sick and afflicted in every city and locality, that at last treatments have been discovered that are reasonably sure and certain in their effect.

These doctors are among America's leading stomach and nerve specialists and are experts in the treatment of chronic diseases and so great and wonderful have been their results that in many cases it is hard to find the dividing line between skill and miracle.

Diseases of the stomach, intestines, liver, blood, skin, nerves, heart, spieen, kidneys, or bladder, rheumatism, sciatica, diabetes, bed-wetting, tape worm, leg ulcers, weak lungs and those long standing, deep seated chronic diseases, that have baffied the skill of the family physicians, should not fall to call. Deafness often has been cured in sixty days.

According to their system no more operations for appendicitis, gall stones. tumors, goiter, piles, ect., as these diseases are treated without operations or hypodermic injection.

They were among the first in America to earn the name of Bloodless Surgeons', by doing away with the knife with blood and with all pain in the successful treatment of these dangerous diseases.

If you have kidney or bladder troubles bring a two ounce bottle of your urine for chemical analysis and microscopic examination.

No matter what your sizeent may be, no matter what others may have told you, no matter what experience you may have had with other physicians, it will be to your advantage to see them at once. Have it forever settled in your mind. If your case is incurable they will give you such advice as may relieve and stay the disease. Do not put off this duty you owe yourself or friends or relatives who are suffering because of your sickness, as a visit at this time may help you.

Worn-out and run-down men or women, no matter what your ailment, consult them as it costs nothing.

Remember, this last free offer is for this visit only.

THOME BEAUTIFUL Files and Shrubbery-S Their Care and Cultivation

A Lavishness of Bloom Scarcely Believable.

GROW HARDY ROSES

By ELIZABETH VAN BENTHUYSEN. The season of bloom of the "hybrid perpetual" can be greatly extended by intelligent cultivation and a proper selection of varieties. The sturdy bushes should carry their beautiful flowers way into the fall. We have come to think of roses in the fall as a delusion and a snare, excepting, of course, the hybrid teas, which have so long been regarded in America as the only everblooming roses. There are, however, a good dozen and a half that can be relied upon to give a sec-beauty in August and September. The Frau Karl Druschki, one of the very best and most popular plants ever raised, has done more to redeem hardy rose culture than any other hybrid perpetual class. It adapts Itself to almost any soil, and stands unique as a hardy white rose of its class.

ond crop of bloom and be a thing of

The very best of the long season bloomers in pink include the Mrs. John Laing, a pure, pale pink; Madame Gabriel Luizet, deep rosy pink with white at the base much like the Mrs. R. G. Sharman-Crawford.

You certainly cannot afford to ignore when planting for second bloom, Pride of Waltham, delicate flesh colored shaded with bright rose; Anna de Diesbach, very large; Heinrich Schultheis, light rose, very fragrant; Mrs. F. W. Sanford, blush shading to white; Paul's Early Blush, pale pińk, flowering all the summer right up to These roses form a group of roses from which a selection may easily be made.

FERNS EASY TO RAISE

By L. M. BENNINGTON.

The ordinary way to propagate this class of plants is by dividing the plant, by the creeping rhizomes, by the little bulblets that form on the fronds and by the seeds or spores that appear on the underside of the leaves.

The enterprising fern lover will find it most interesting to propagate by spores and perchance produce a really valuable addition to these beautiful and graceful plants.

Procure a seed pan or box with plenty of drainage holes, and cover the bottom with broken crockery. On this place half-decayed sod and fill with carefully mixed and sifted leaf mold and sand.

Make the surface of the soil perfectly smooth and level, and then scatter the spores on it and leave them without any covering, that is, of soil. However, they must be inclosed in glass by placing a pane of glass over the seed box or pan.

Water by placing the seed pan in water, and keep it there until the water appears on the surface of the se']. Then remove at once, for too much water will destroy the spores. Keep the box in the light, but not in the sun, for ferns naturally grow in shady places. Follow nature's lead.

REVIVING

PARISIAN DRESSMAKERS WORK FOR ITS ADOPTION.

Charming Model. Recently Seen in France is Described by Correspondent-Postilion Hat Sure to Be a Favorite.

Several notable Parisian dressmakers are reviving the long tunic. Some of the latest Callot models give this effect; Redfern also seems to favor the long, graceful tunic. But in all cases the underdress is quite as full as the tunic; indeed, the latter gives the effect of a double skirt, or immensely long flounce.

A Callot model, recently worn at Biarritz by the dachess de Arion, ladyin-waiting to the queen of Spain, had an underdress of black charmeuse and a very long tunic of old yellow lace. On the hips, under the lace tunic, there was a deep insertion of silver lace, worked over with tiny beads in various shades of red, blue and gray.

There were full lace sleeves, caught in at the wrist by bands of beaded silver lace, and a touch of rose pink was very cleverly introduced on the corsage. With this charming gardenparty dress the duquesa wore a large, flat-brimmed hat, made of black chiffon and lined with black chip.

Lewis is showing many lovely hats and toques. At first sight these models are quite startling, because in al most all cases the crowns are high, some of them even exaggeratedly high. The very newest and most popular model is the "Postilion" hat in black silk beaver.

This is truly a quaint shape. Narrow in the brim and very high in the crown, with no trimming save a folded drapery drawn through a long diamond buckle; the latter being placed right in front of the hat. It is certain that this model will be one of the most fashionable novelties of the fall and winter seasons.

It is just the right hat to wear with a Cossack coat; or with a redingote costume which is finished with a jer-

NEW GARMENT HAS CHARN

Corset Cover, Easily Made at Home Will Be Source of Gratification to its Wearer.

If you are tired of just underwaists and corset covers, the sleeveless, low bust kind and the wee camisole, try making this quite new garment for wear under your blouse.

Buy one yard of white silk muslin at 25 cents a yard, one and one-fourth yards of narrow, stout lace and two skeins of white mercerized cotton Make a waist by kimono pattern with very short sleeves, folding the goods crosswise. Cut the neck V shape in front and slightly rounded or equally V'd behind; have the fronts of the waist one-eighth inch longer than the back. Scallop the entire edge and ends of sleeves and do it in buttonhole stitch, preferably well padded. Ther put a double row of French eyeleti inside the buttonhole stitching. The seams are under the arms. Put these seams together with the lace; down the front put the lace also, tacking to one side; the other side may be fas tened with tiny snaps or with wee gold pins. Turn up the bottom of the waist and fit by means of rubber band rur through the hem made. This, by the way, is the easiest way to finish all blouses just now.

Lace blouses are usually lined with chiffon, and the chiffon shrinks when the blouse is washed, leaving a gar ment that has lost its loveliness. With the new corset cover chiffon linings can be removed before the first washing. No lining is needed with such an underwaist.

DESIGNED FOR YOUNG MISS

Many Attractive Features Have Been Provided-Beited Coats Are Among the Favored Ones.

The box coat for misses is very youthful and becoming. Another style for misses is the flare coat, the fullness starting from the shoulders and occasionally from a small yoke. This is also made quite short and jaunty. Sometimes these coats are made with a fiare back and a more fitted front. Russian styles are well liked for young people. Some of them fasten at the side, while others button up the front.

Beited coats will also be worn to DOAN'S a great extent. Sometimes the belt appears only at the sides, while in others it appears only in back and a low waist line. Simple Apparatus for the Formalin Treatment Consisting of Trough, Tub and Sawhorse-a, Trough; b, Tub; c, Pine Plug; d, Perforated Tin Plate.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Wheat growers in this country not infrequently experience serious losses caused by preventable diseases. Wheat is preyed upon by a number of parasitic fungi, three of which are classed as smuts. Two of these smuts are common pests in the wheatfields of North America, the other, commonly known as flag smut, is thus far unknown to this continent, though it is fairly common in Australia and certain other parts of the world where wheat culture has been in progress for centuries, says the department of agriculture.

Of the two smuts, bunt or covered smut of wheat, sometimes referred to as stinking smut, is found wherever wheat is grown, sometimes resulting in losses to the farmers of the United States of $20,000,000 or more annually. Not infrequently fields planted to untreated seed and giving promise of yielding 30 to 40 bushels per acre good wheat, will produce a crop of covered smut amounting, in some cases, to as much as 40 to 60 per cent of the crop.

This smut disease is caused by a parasitic fungus which attacks the growing wheat plant before the first had they been allowed to develop.

The liberated spores become attached to the seed, which, if planted without previous treatment, may produce another crop of smutted wheat. Treat Seed With Formalin.

These smut balls consist of nothing

Bunt or covered smut of wheat is one of the most easily prevented of any of the cereal diseases. The following procedure is recommended: Run all seed wheat through a fanning mill in order to blow out the unbroken smut balls. This being done, the grain should be soaked ten minutes in a solution consisting of one pound of commercial formalin (obtainable at nearly all drug stores) added to 40 gallons of water. The seed thus treated is next allowed to drain and is then piled on the floor and stirred frequently until sufficiently dry to sow. If, during this process, the kernels have swollen very much, the drill should be set to sow a little thicker, else the quantity sown per acre will be less than was intended.

Rotation in Severe Cases.

Recent experiments have shown that in certain sections of the country the soil of a field producing a crop of smutted wheat this year may harbor enough smut spores to cause the appearance of smut in next year's crop if the field be reseeded to wheat. This sometimes occurs, where smut is very bad, in spite of the planting of treated seed, and shows that in such localities crop rotation should be practiced in addition to seed treatment. Bunt or covered smut of wheat attacks no other cereal crop, but other cereals have their own smut diseases.

The other wheat smut occurring in this country, known commonly as loose smut, is not so serious as bunt. although it probably produces an average loss of three-fourths of one per cent of the total wheat crop of the country. Loose smut may be prevented by treating the seed by the Jensen hot-water method or some modification

The Jensen method consists in soaking the seed for ten to fifteen minutes in hot water at a temperature of 132 to 133 degrees, Fahrenheit. It is highly important that the water shall not rise over 135 degrees or fall below 130 degrees. Fahrenheit. A temperature below this will not kill the smut, while a temperature too high may affect the germination of the seed. The grain after treatment should be immediately spread out to dry. If it cannot be spread at once it should be dipped into cold water to cool at once, and spread as soon as possible.

Determine Value of Cow.

To determine the value of a cow it is necessary to measure her milk flow and also to test her milk for butterfat. A cow producing 40 pounds of 3 per cent milk and one producing 20 pounds of 6 per cent milk give equal amounts of butter.
