The Coming Village Election

The financial statement of the village of Pinckney is the subject of a report...

During the past few days persistent rumors have been circulated to the effect that this village had been run in debt to the tune of $100,000 while Dr. C. H. Sigler was president.

Dr. Sigler is daily denied this statement, which amounts to $501.51 in all bills paid for all bills.

Dr. Sigler has sworn in his own defense that there had been no such thing as an improvement of the village in the past two years.

The village has been running north from the depot for corporation bonds has been running from a...

of St. Mary's picnic. On that night there was plenty of current until the dance was over.

After the fall rains there was a good supply of water but the service continued very poor. Mr. R. Clinton, besides being the proprietor of the electric lighting company, is also an auctioneer and on several occasions when engaged at auctions in the country, he was too busy to attend to the village lighting and of course he could not be at two places at once.

He has absolutely refused to give a written statement to his patrons as to the number of kilowatts used and also refused to give receipt for the money paid in lighting bills. If the citizens did not like his style of doing business they could use candles or kerosene. This "Public be damned" policy should be ironed out for once and for all.

Dr. Sigler, at the request of many citizens, has been in communication with the Edison Light and Power Co. in an effort to persuade them to bring their system to Pinckney. It seems to be the popular sentiment here that this would be the most satisfactory settlement of the problem, as their lights are good, service here and the cost of lights is less than the Pinckney price at present.

There are many homes here and some pieces of business and houses would welcome the Edison Company's rates but they positively will not patronize...

In view of the above facts Dr. Sigler's name was presented at the Union village caucus for the nomination for the office of Village President to succeed himself. He received the nomination unanimously.

L. E. Richards, Louis Monks, C. M. Ingersoll, R. J. Carr, Miss Nellie Gardner and Mrs. Grace Crofoot were chosen unanimously as the choice of the caucus for the offices of Village Trustees.

These candidates are all business men and women and all are successful in their business enterprises. One and all are anxious to see the lighting problem settled satisfactorily to the citizens and they are also willing to put forth their best efforts for the welfare of the village and surrounding community.

The candidates for clerk and treasurer, Mrs. Villa Richards and E. Lumbertson, are too well known here to have either their ability or loyalty questioned. Like all the other candidates, the nominee for assessor did not seek the nomination, and only consented to run after Mr. Ross Road, the present efficient incumbent, declined to accept the office. The nominee for assessor is more interested in the success of the balance of the ticket than for his own success at the polls.

Another ticket—the Independent—was also placed in nomination, but their caucus, but as every candidate has declined in favor of the Union ticket this leaves only the one ticket on the official ballot. However, it is possible to ballot any candidate by slips.

For weeks, at various times, we had no lights at all. At other times the current has been so weak that consumers have been compelled to resort to oil and candles to get sufficient illumination.

Jangles between the councilmen and Mr. R. Clinton regarding the service and payment therefor were disgraceful to the community. The renewal of the franchise permitting the company to operate in the village was refused by the council while M. J. Reason was President.

Last summer, the council, upon the recommendation of Dr. Sigler, refused to allow the Clinton Lighting Co. to furnish current for street lights unless a satisfactory guarantee of reasonable service was assured. The lighting company declined to furnish adequate service and the streets have been dark ever since at considerable inconvenience to our citizens and some financial loss to the lighting company.

For many weeks there was hardly any light for the stores and private houses. Churches were dark and public worship in the Protestant churches impossible without kerosene or candles.

The excuse given was that the water power was not sufficient. This excuse did not sound plausible to those whose homes and business places were without light for several nights both before and after the dance given on the night

UNCLE PEABODY SPURNS BRIBE OFFERED BY GRIMSHAW TO SEAL BART'S LIPS.

Synopsis.—Barton Baynes, an orphan, goes to live with his uncle, Peabody Baynes, and his Aunt Deel on a farm on Rattleroad, in a neighborhood called Lickitysplit, about the year 1826. He meets Sally Dunkelberg, about his own age, but socially of a class above the Bayneses, and is fascinated by her pretty face and fine clothes. Barton also meets Roving Kate, known in the neighborhood as the "Slight Woman." Amos Grimshaw, a young son of the richest man in the township, is a visitor at the Baynes home and Roving Kate tells the boys' fortunes, predicting a bright future for Barton and death on the gallows for Amos. Barton meets Silas Wright, Jr., a man prominent in public affairs, who evinces much interest in the boy. Barton learns of the power of money when Mr. Grimshaw threatens to take the Baynes farm unless a note which he holds is paid. Now in his sixteenth year, Barton, on his way to the post office at Canton, meets a stranger and they ride together. They encounter a highwayman, who shoots and kills the stranger. Barton's horse throws him and runs away. As the murderer bends over the stranger Barton throws a stone, which he observes wounds the thief, who makes off at once. A few weeks later Bart leaves home to enter Michael Hackett's school at Canton. Amos Grimshaw is arrested, charged with the murder which Bart witnessed.

To my utter surprise he resumed his talk with me as the young man went away. "You see all ways are north when you put this lodestone near the needle," he went on. "If it is to tell you the truth you must keep the lodestone away from the needle. It's that way, too, with the compass of your soul, partner. There the lodestone is selfishness, and with its help you can make any direction look right to you and soon—you're lost."

I had carefully chosen my words and I remember saying, with some dignity, like one in a story book, although with a trembling voice: "It is an honor to meet you, sir, and thank you for the right to vote—when I am old enough."

"What shall I say when—when you introduce me?" "Oh, say anything you want to say," he answered with a look of amusement. "I'm kind of scared," I said. "You needn't be—he was once a poor boy just like you."

roots of my hair. As I neared the home of Mr. Hackett I heard hurrying footsteps behind me and the voice of Sally calling my name. I stopped and faced about. How charming she looked as she walked toward me! I had never seen her quite so fixed up.

"Just like you—covetous and all—the son of a small freeholder in Kinderhook on the Hudson," he went on. "But he was well fed in brain and body and kept his heart clean. So of course he grew and is still growing."

I wanted to go but got the notion all at once that the Dunkelbergs were in need of information about me and that the time had come to impart it. So then and there that ancient Olympus of our family received notice as it were.

We had come in sight of the house. I lagged behind a little when I saw the great man sitting on the small piazza with Mrs. Wright. I see vividly, as I write, the full figure, the ruddy, kindly face, the large nose, the gray eyes, the thick halo of silver hair extending from his collar to the bald top of his head. He rose and said in a deep voice:

"I can't," I said. "I've got to study my lessons before I go away with your father."

"The plowman has overtaken the reaper, Mr. President. I bid you welcome to my humble home."

I described the interview and the looks of the great man. Not much more was said as we sped away toward the deep woods and the high hills.

"Come on," was the playful remark of the president as he took my hand. "I shall be looking for you."

of milk and a plate of cheese and some jerked meat and an apple pie. "Set right down an' eat—I just want to see ye eat—ayes I do!"

Mr. Grimshaw came soon after we had finished our luncheon. He hitched his horse at the post and came in. "Good day," he said, once and for all, as he came in at the open door. "Baynes, I want to have a talk with you and the boy. Tell me what you know about that murder."

"This boy see it plain. It was a gun with a piece o' wood broke out o' the stock." "Is that so?" was the brusque demand of the money lender as he turned to me.

"I am not a liar," I declared with indignation, whereupon my aunt angrily stirred the fire in the stove and Uncle Peabody put his hand on my arm and said:

"Look a' here, Baynes," Mr. Grimshaw began in that familiar scolding tone of his. "I know what you want an' we might jest as well git right down to business first as last. You keep this boy still an' I'll give ye five years' interest."

"By the eternal jampin!" He stopped, pulled down the left sleeve of his dannel shirt and walked to the water pail and drank out of the dipper.

"Say, Mr. Grimshaw, I'm awful sorry for ye," said my uncle as he returned to his chair. "but I've always learnt this boy to tell the truth an' the hull truth. I know the danger I'm in. We're gettin' old. It'll be hard to start over ag'in an' you can ruin us if ye want to an' I'm as scared o' ye as a mouse in a cat's paw, but this boy has got to tell the truth right out plain. I couldn't tuzzle him if I tried—he's too much of a man. If you're scared o' the truth you mus' know that Amos is guilty."

Under the circumstances Mr. Grimshaw is afraid that Bart's story will make it difficult for Amos to prove his innocence.

Uncle Peabody shook his head with a look of firmness. Again Grimshaw laughed between his teeth as he looked at my uncle. In his view every man had his price. "I see that I'm the mouse an' you're the cat," he resumed, as that curious laugh rattled in his throat. "Look a' here, Baynes, I'll tell ye what I'll do. I'll cancel the hull mortgage."

"No, sir!" he shouted so loudly that we all jumped to our feet and Aunt Deel covered her face with her apron and began to cry. It was like the explosion of a blast. Then the fragments began falling with a loud crash: "NO, SIR; YE CAN'T BUY THE NAIL ON MY LITTLE FINGER OR HIS WITH ALL YER MONEY—D—N YOU!"

He paid no attention to our visitors—neither did my aunt, who followed us. The two men talked together a moment, unhitched their horses, got into their buggies and drove away.

"I feel sorry, awful sorry, for that boy." We spent a silent afternoon gathering apples. After supper we played old sledge and my uncle had hard work to keep us in good countenance. We went to bed early and I lay long, hearing the autumn wind in the popple leaves and thinking of that great thing which had grown strong within us, little by little, in the candle light.

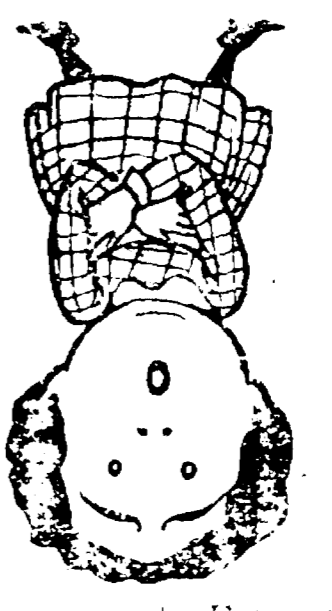

Bart encounters a new peril as a result of his knowledge regarding the crime of which Amos Grimshaw is accused. How Bart escaped him is told in the next installment.

(TO BE CONTINUED) Accuracy Better Than Speed. People who go in for speed records are not as wise as they think they are, for speed without accuracy is of no avail. True, time is at a premium in every line these days and we should not under any circumstances waste a minute unnecessarily. But if we aren't sure about any phase of our work we must take sufficient time to go into it and not rely on chance to help us where we can possibly help ourselves.

For the Middle-Aged

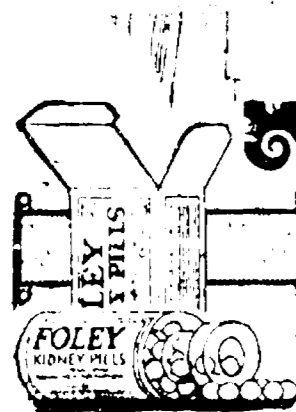

WE believe that letters like the following from Mrs. David Henry, 65 So. Lincoln Ave., Washington, N. J., tell the story of what Foley Kidney Pills will do better than in any other way:

"I tried a sample of Foley Kidney Pills, and they did me good. So I went to my drug store and bought them and began to take them and I found they were doing me much good both for my kidneys and for rheumatism. They took all the drab and drowsiness out of my limbs, so that I hardly feel it on a long walk. I have taken five boxes of them, and I will be pleased to give any one information about what they have done for me, if they choose to write me."

We have many letters like the above in our files, written from every state in the Union. They are all genuine and tell in some way of the relief and happiness the benefits derived by the writers from taking men and women past middle age. The old and young who work at a hard, ordinary occupation, are prone to have weak, inactive kidneys, and this fact fails to properly perform their functions. Headaches, dizziness, backaches, rheumatism, pains, swollen feet, and other symptoms of kidney trouble are likely to develop.

Foley Kidney Pills strengthen and invigorate weak, inactive, sluggish kidneys. When the kidneys and bladder properly perform their functions, poisonous waste is removed from the system and the road to good health is made easy.

According to the official figures in the records of the State Tax Commission offices at Lansing, the farm property of Michigan represents about 37 per cent of the total assessed valuation of the State. Unless Michigan can have funds available to meet the dollar and a half Federal Aid to be distributed by Uncle Sam, it appears to have his 37 per cent of the expense.

To correct them you will find nothing better than Chamberlain's Tablets. One tablet at bed time will do the work and will make your child bright and cheerful the following morning. LOOK AT CHILD'S TONGUE IF SICK, CROSS, FEVERISH

HURRY, MOTHER! REMOVE POISONS FROM LITTLE STOMACH, LIVER, BOWELS.
GIVE CALIFORNIA SYRUP OF FIGS AT ONCE IF BILIOUS OR CONSTIPATED.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad, has stomach-ache, sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of the little bowels without gripping, and you have a well, playful child again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless "fruit laxative;" they love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeiters sold here.

GATHER TROOPS FOR NEW DRIVE

BRITISH MAKE PREPARATIONS FOR NEW BLOW TO BE STRUCK NEAR ARCHANGEL.

ANARCHISTS PLANS A FAILURE

Volunteer Army of Russian Peasants and Cossacks Halt Advance of Red Mobs.

London. What is purported to be a copy of the military plans of the Bolsheviks in Russia during 1919 has come into the possession of the British government. It gives interesting information on what the Bolsheviks hoped to accomplish and an idea of their strength in the light of what has happened up to this time.

One of the principal offensives was planned for the Archangel front where the results up to the present time are well known. It is indicated, however, that the Bolsheviks are making plans there for a greater effort later. They plan to maintain only a defensive force on the Murmansk front and on the Finnish front.

In the west the Bolsheviks decided to undertake an attack from Narva to Tyvisch with the object of overrunning Estonia and Latvia and occupying Riga, Libau and Reval. They have captured Riga and still hold it. They also took Libau but have been driven out.

Trotsky's Army Checked.

The plans to take Estonia have failed and the advance into Latvia has been checked east of Libau. The plan of following the retiring German army in Western Russia and capturing the territory under military administration has been successless.

SAGE AND SULPHUR DARKENS GRAY HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Restore Color, Gloss and Attractiveness.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.—Adv.

LESSON HE SORELY NEEDED

Probably Uncivil Youth Did a Little Thinking After He Left the Toll Gate Keeper.

The son of a wealthy man was given a much-needed lesson in politeness by a poor gatekeeper. One rainy day as the young man was proudly driving his new car he came to a tollgate and asked haughtily what he was to pay.

"Ten cents, if you please," said the civil gatekeeper.

Instead of handing the money to him the spoiled young man, with the air of a grand duke, threw half a dollar carelessly on the wet and muddy ground.

"There, take your change out of that," he said.

The keeper stooped for the silver and, placing the change exactly on the same spot, walked into his cottage.

The lesson was not wasted for the boy learned that it does not pay to be impudic or disrespectful to anyone.

HOW MRS. BOYD AVOIDED AN OPERATION

Canton, Ohio.—"I suffered from a female trouble which caused me much suffering, and two doctors decided that I would have to go through an operation before I could get well. My mother, who had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, advised me to try it before submitting to an operation. It relieved me from my troubles so I can do my house work without any difficulty. I advise any woman who is afflicted with female troubles to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial and it will do as much for them."—Mrs. MARIE BOYD, 1421 5th St., N. E., Canton, Ohio.

Sometimes there are serious conditions where a hospital operation is the only alternative, but on the other hand so many women have been cured by this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, after doctors have said that an operation was necessary—every woman who wants to avoid an operation should give it a fair trial before submitting to such a trying ordeal. If complications exist, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for advice. The result of many years experience is at your service.

Your smoke-enjoyment depends as much upon the Quality and kind of flavoring used as upon the Quality and aging of the tobacco.

Tuxedo tobacco uses the purest, most wholesome and delicious of all flavorings—chocolate! That flavoring, added to the finest of carefully aged and blended burley tobacco, produces Tuxedo—the perfect tobacco—

RECEPTION

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Brown, Chicago, Ill., had the pleasure of giving a reception to Mr. and Mrs. C. A. VanWinkle at their residence, 2630 N. Richmond St. on Thursday evening, February 27th. Two principals and twenty-five teachers of the public schools with whom Mrs. VanWinkle, nee Miss Kate Brown, had been intimately associated in the work, extended in person their congratulations.

Yellow was the predominating color, entering into the scheme of decorations of the rooms where the reception was given. Light refreshments were served.

This pleasant event concluded a week's stay in Chicago after having spent three months in the West during which time they visited many of the most important cities in several states. Mrs. VanWinkle was for many years a teacher in the Chicago schools and resigned her position to be near her mother. They will be "at home" after March 10th.

Prohibition

Edited by M. E. S.
 Should the Saloon Amendment to be submitted to the voters at the April election carry, is there any danger of the liquor traffic gaining a foothold in Michigan again, if the manufacture of all liquor under War Prohibition should cease April 30, 1919, and Federal Prohibition become effective January 16, 1920?

for how long. Yes, Federal Prohibition may be delayed through litigation, and not go into effect for one, two or three years. Yes, whatever the period might be, before Federal Laws would nullify such an amendment, Michigan would become the dumping ground and storage place for all kinds of liquor, much more illegally, and the curse of it would be here for years to come. Yes, should the proposed amendment carry and should the National Prohibition Amendment become effective in January 1920, Michigan sheriffs, constables, police, etc., would have no authority to aid in its enforcement. This would be a serious situation. There would be no concurrent enforcement legislation in Michigan laws. This would make a condition of lawlessness beyond comprehension.

One thing sure, Michigan has a state wide Prohibition Amendment now. Keep it. And the sure way to keep it is to defeat the Proposed Saloon Amendment. This new amendment submitted to the voters if carried means the old saloon "Safety first!"

dry state register!! Every man and woman who is interested in the April 1919!! Then whether War Prohibition comes or not—whether Federal Prohibition is delayed or not, we continue on as a saloonless state.
