

PINCKNEY DISPATCH

Vol. XXXVI

Pinckney, Livingston County, Michigan, Thursday November 13, 1919

No. 45

THE BONDING PROPOSITION

On November 25th the voters of Livingston County will decide whether or not to bond the county for six hundred thousand dollars in order to supply funds for the completion and up-keep of the State Reward roads now under construction or contemplated to be built soon. The following communication from the Board of County Road Commissioners explains the proposition:

Shall the citizens of Livingston County follow the example set by the by the whole state of Michigan when they voted to authorize a bond issue of $50,000,000 to assist to carry the inland commerce and travel of the state? Shall we back up the Board of Supervisors, who are the townships' representatives, when they voted to submit the County Road System to the people, and shall we finally back up our own county's vote when we adopted the County Road System and carry the County Good Roads Bond Election on November 25 by a rousing majority?

If we carry the bond issue then your County Road Commissioners can go ahead with the plans they have made to complete the County Road System within the next four years. We shall then have a splendid system of high-a system of roads radiating out to the County line in every direction and there connecting with similar highways in adjoining counties. Furthermore, when these highways are built they will not be left to go to pieces, but will be maintained in splendid condition through the years to come.

By voting this Bond Issue we do not have to pay for these roads all at once, yet we get the benefit of the use of them just as soon as they can be constructed. The exact dates of issue of the bonds and their maturities will be governed somewhat by conditions as to the market for bonds, etc., but the general plan is to issue the bonds as needed for construction, spreading the issue of them out over a period of five years. By making the bonds due serially their will spread over a period of five years. At this interval you dispose of your share in the County and move on. You also pay their share of the bond issue. You won't have to pay for the cost of the roads all at once and those who enjoy them in the future will pay their share of the cost. Remember, the State helps liberally will help pay for the other counties through our state tax. Let us build our own County system and get the benefit of State and Federal aid.

When the Board of County Road Commissioners submitted their plan in detail to the Board of Supervisors, the Supervisors appointed a committee of members to investigate and report.

The Road Commissioners' report was approved without a dissenting vote by the Supervisors. Surely you who elected these men to represent you can see their combined unanimous judgment that the issue of $600,000.00 of bonds for good roads is the proper and only way to build an adequate and complete County road system that will be a credit to Livingston County and a source of satisfaction, pleasure, and profit to every citizen of the County.

Come to the Good Roads meetings scheduled in your township or nearest town. If you want further information you can get it there.

Remember the date of the Special Election on the Bond Issue! Tuesday, November 25, 1919! All those who don't want good roads will be there. Be sure and vote and vote right that day.

Board of County Road Commissioners:

A public meeting will be held in Pinckney Monday, December 1st, 1919, at 7:30 P. M. Everybody invited.

BUSINESS MAN RETIRES

Mr. L. E. Richards, of the late firm Richards & Kennedy has sold his interest in the concern, leaving Mr. C. H. Kennedy the sole proprietor. Mr. Richards was born in Pinckney and is from one of the oldest families here. His father, Daniel Richards, who died a few years ago was in his younger days identified with the business activities of the village. His mother died a few weeks ago. Then he suffered from a slight paralytic stroke and was compelled to retire from business.

His business career was a success from the start. He was independent in his policies and original in his methods and leaves the concern in good shape for his successor to start alone.

Mr. Claude Kennedy, the present proprietor has lived in Pinckney practically his whole life. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Kennedy, Sr.

His war record started with the S. A. T. C. at Ann Arbor and he was in France with the Engineers Corps when the armistice was and there seems to be no reason why he should not ultimately increase the business into one of the largest concerns in this part of the county.

WRIGHT-FITCH

Miss Bessie Wright of Grand Blanc and Mr. Lee Fitch were married Monday, Nov. 10th by Rev. J. A. Crowe of St. Mary's parish.

Card of Thanks

We take this opportunity to thank all who have favored us with all or part of their patronage. It was only by their favors that we owe such success as was ours in Pinckney.

Richards and Kennedy.

DISSOLUTION OF PARTNERSHIP

Owing to the sickness of L. E. Richards of this firm the partnership will be dissolved. Allowing accounts to the firm or to L. E. Richards please call and settle same at once.

SCHOOL NOTES

The following is the percentage of attendance for last week: Doyle Kettler 90, Irene Warner 80, Lorenzo Lavey 40, Pauline Swarthout 80, Harlow Shehan 90, Arthur Ahrens 80, Myra Graves 80, Bessie Swarthout 90. All other students stood 100.

The football game with Chelsea last week proved a dismal failure from many standpoints. Chelsea had players grouped together from all over the country for the purpose of battling Pinckney's light team. This they did with a vengeance. The boys from here were kept busy most of the afternoon dodging the pugilistic attacks of their opponents; in fact, so pronounced was the unfair play that Chelsea's official found it necessary to expel two of her players from the game. Pinckney's team was weakened by the loss of McCuskey at quarter. Shehan took his place and handled the team in stellar form, but in playing quarter was great.

"HE'S A WONDERFUL BOY."
Synopsis—Dave Elden, son of a drunken ranchman and almost a maverick of the foothills, is breaking bottles with his pistol from his running cayuse when the first automobile he has ever seen arrives and tips over, breaking the leg of Doctor Hardy but not injuring his beautiful daughter Irene. Dave rescues the injured man and starts for the nearest doctor, 20 miles away.

She looked about the place somewhat hopelessly. Her father read her perplexity.
"It seems as though you would be in charge here for a while, Reenie," he said, "so you will save time by getting acquainted at once with your equipment. Look the house over and see what you have to work with."
"Well, I can commence here," she answered. "This is Dave's room. I suppose I should say Mr. Elden's, but—that was it he said about 'mistering'? It would be splendid if it were cleaned up," she continued, with kindling enthusiasm. "These bare logs, bare floors, bare rafters—we've got back to essentials, anyway. And that's his bed." She surveyed a framework of spruce poles, on which lay an old straw mattress and some very gray blankets. "I suppose he is very tired when he goes to bed," she said, drolly, as though that could be the only explanation of sleep amid such surroundings.
In the south end of the larger room a jiffy." And she was off at a sharp trot down the trail along which she had so recently come in Dave Elden's wagon.

The grips were duly found, and Irene congratulated herself that she and her father were in the habit of traveling with equipment for overnight. Arrived at the house, she deftly wrapped a bandage about her father's injury and set to work at the preparation of supper—a task not strange in her, as her mother considered it correct that her daughter should have a working knowledge of kitchen affairs.
Once during the evening she took a glance into the other room. It was even less inviting than Dave's, with walls bare of any adornment save dirty garments that hung from nails driven in the logs. On the rude bed lay an old man. She could see only a part of his face—a gray mustache drooping over an open mouth, and a florid cheek turned to the glow of the setting sun. On a chair beside the bed sat a bottle and the room reeked with the smell of breath charged with alcohol. She gently closed the door and busied herself through the long evening with reforms in the kitchen and with little ministrations designed to relieve the sufferings of her father.
The sun sank behind the Rockies and a darkness, soft and mystical and silent, stole up the valley, hushing even the noiseless day. The girl stood framed in the open window and the moonlight painted her face to the purest ivory and toyed with the rich brown fastness of her hair and gleamed from a single ornament at her throat. She was under a spell. She was in a new world, where were manhood, and tor, of whose presence she had been unconscious. "Cat's eyes. Full gallop through the dark; side-hills, mountain streams, up and down; breakneck. Well, here we are." The doctor breathed deeply, as though this last fact was one to occasion some wonderment. "Your brother tells me you have an injured man here. Accident, Stranger, I believe? Well, shall we go in?"

"Brother! But why should she explain? Dave hadn't bothered. Why hadn't he? He had told about the stranger. Why had he not told about both strangers? Why had he ignored her altogether? This time came another flush, born of that keen womanly intuition which understands.
With a commonplace she led the doctor into the house and to the bedside of her father. When the operation was completed the girl turned her attention to the kitchen, where she found Dave, sweating in vicarious suffering. He had helped to draw the limb into place and it had been his first close contact with human pain. It was different from branding calves and he had slipped out of the room as soon as possible. The morning sun was now pouring through the window and the distraught look on the boy's face touched her even more than the frankness of the words spoken in the darkness. She suddenly remembered that he had been up all night—for her. She would not deceive herself with the thought that it was for her father's sake Dave had galloped to town, found a doctor, secured a fresh team and driven back along the little-used foothill trails. No doubt Dave would have done it all for her father, had her father been there alone, but as things were she had a deep conviction that he had done it for her. And it was with a greater effort than seemed reasonable that she laid her fingers on his arm and said:
"Thank you, Dave."
"What for?" he asked, and she could not doubt the genuineness of his question.
"Why, for bringing the doctor, and all that. I am sure I can't—father won't be able to—"
"Oh, shucks!" he interrupted, with a manner which on the previous after-be borne; an unfair load laid on a boy who had done nothing to deserve this punishment. The miseries associated with his parentage had gone far to make him sour and moody. Irene at first had thought him rude and gloomy; flashes of humor had modified that opinion, but she had not yet learned that his disposition was naturally a buoyant one, weighed down by an environment which had made it soggy and unresponsive. In years to come she was to know what unguessed depths of character were to be revealed when that stoic nature was cross-sectioned by the blade of a keen and defiant passion.

Mr. Elden promptly engaged the doctor in conversation, and in a few moments had gleaned the main facts in connection with the accident and the father and daughter which it had brought so momentarily under his roof. He was quite sober now and his speech, although slovenly, was not indelicate. He was still able to pay to woman that respect which curbs the coarseness of a tongue for years subjected to little discipline.

Irene takes the first of many rides with Dave.

"FATHER OF POSTAGE STAMP"

Sir Rowland Hill Had to Fight Hard to Get Great Britain to Adopt Scheme He Advocated.

The power of a postage stamp, in unjust taxation, in 1776, rent her American colonies from Great Britain. Viscount Hill, a tough old British soldier, ancestor of Sir Rowland Hill, the great philanthropist, and inventor of penny postage, was born on August 13, 1772. His fighting qualities blustered again in his descendant, Sir Rowland. In 1835 his fearless originality and largeness of view flung itself into the question, "How shall the poor send letters at 1 shilling and 4 pence (33 cents) each?" The government hostile to him, he suffered insults, yet so that it had fallen in its places and was no longer employed for its original purpose. A very rusty and greasy stove now occupied the space immediately in front of the fireplace, the stovepipe leading into the ample but tottering chimney. Near the stove was a bench supporting a tin wash-basin, a wooden pail and certain fragments of soap—evidently all the equipment necessary for the simple ablutions of the Elden household. The remnant of a grain-bag, with many evidences of use and abuse, performed the functions of a towel, and a broken piece of looking-glass gave the faintest intimation that a strain of fundamental relationship links the sexes. By the western wall was a table, with numerous dishes, and to the wall itself had been nailed wooden boxes—salmon and tomato cases—now containing an assortment of culinary supplies. A partially used sack of flour and another of salted oats leaned against the wall, and a fragment in the floor gave evidence of the resources beneath. A window in the east and another in the west, both open and uncurtained; myriads of flies gave the only touch of life to the dismal scene.

stars, and soft breezes pushing this way and that without definite direction, and strange, quiet noises from out of the depths, and the incense of the evergreens, and a young horseman galloping into the night. And conventions had been swept away, and it was correct to live, and to live!
The first flush of dawn was mellowing the eastern sky when the girl was awakened from uneasy sleep by sounds in the yard in front of the ranch-house.
The stars were still shining brightly through the cold air. In the faint light she could distinguish a team and wagon and men unhitching. She approached and, in a voice that sounded strangely distant in the vastness of the calm night, called:

"Is that you, Dave?"
And in a moment she wondered how she had dared call him Dave. But she soon had other cause for wonder, for the boy replied from near beside her, in that tone of friendly confidence which springs so spontaneously in the darkness:
"Yes, Reenie, and the doctor, too. We'll have Mr. Hardy fixed up in no time. How did he stand the night?"
How dared he call her Reenie? A flush of resentment rose in her breast, only to be submerged in the sudden remembrance that she had first called him Dave. That surely gave him the right to address her as he had done. Then she remembered she was in the ranch country, in the foothills, where the conventions—the conventions she hated—had not yet become rooted, and where the souls of men and women stood bare in the clear light of frank acceptance of the fact. It would be idle—dangerous—to trifle with this boy by any attempt at concealment or deception.
She could see his form now as he led the horses toward the corral. How straight he was, and how bravely his footsteps fell on the hard earth!
"He's a wonderful boy," said the doctor, of whose presence she had been unconscious. "Cat's eyes. Full gallop through the dark; side-hills, mountain streams, up and down; breakneck. Well, here we are." The doctor breathed deeply, as though this last fact was one to occasion some wonderment. "Your brother tells me you have an injured man here. Accident, Stranger, I believe? Well, shall we go in?"

"Oh, shucks!" he interrupted, with a manner which on the previous after-home some grub. The chuck here was pretty tame. Guess you found that out last night." He looked about the room and she knew that he was taking note of her house-cleaning, but he made no remark on the subject.

"Well, let's get breakfast," she said, after a moment's pause and for lack of other conversation. "You must be hungry."
Dave's purchases had been liberal. They included fresh meat and vegetables, canned goods, coffee, rice and raisins. He laid the last three items on the table with a great dissembling of indifference, for he was immensely proud of them. They were unvoted items on the Elden bill of fare; he had bought them especially for her. But she busied herself at the breakfast without a thought of the epoch-marking nature of these purchases.
The doctor, who had been resting in the room with his patient, entered the kitchen. During the setting of the limb he had gradually become aware of the position of Irene in the household; but had that not been so, one glance at the boy and girl as they now stood in the bright morning sunshine, he with his big, wiry frame, his brown hair, his dark, wavy hair, his pink shining through her fair skin and ed at the mouth, and declared he would ruin the country, and upset the throne. The official world sufficed when he appeared before a commission of post office inquiry to describe his invention—the penny stamp—"an adhesive postage stamp, a bit of paper, just large enough to bear the imprint of her Majesty's bust, and covered at the back with a glutinous wash."

But the diplomatic ability, and the dare and push of his old ancestor in his veins, carried him through to triumph for the people. On January 10, 1840, penny postage was established. The gross revenue rose from 1,000,000 pounds to 4,000,000 pounds. The business of the money order office multiplied fifty-two fold. He was buried in Westminster abbey, London—the highest honor a grateful nation could accord him.—Kansas City Journal.

Handkerchiefs were in use in England as early as the time of Queen Elizabeth. At first they were used only by women and were not particularly in favor in public places. Silk handkerchiefs embroidered and fringed silk are mentioned in the chronicles of that queen's reign. In this country they were not in favor for public use. Abigail Adams in her "Familiar Letters" says that "an order has been given in this town that no person shall be seen to wipe his face with a white handkerchief in this town."—July 1776, page 87. Their usefulness, however, overcame prejudice and both sexes in time found the handkerchief to be indispensable.

THIS WEEK, NERVOUS MOTHER

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I was very weak, always tired, my back ached, and I felt sickly most of the time. I went to a doctor and he said I had nervous indigestion, which added to my weak condition kept me worrying most of the time—and he said if I could not stop that, I could not get well. I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound my husband wanted me to try it. I took it for a week and felt a little better. I kept it up for three months, and I feel fine and can eat anything now without distress or nervousness."—Mrs. J. WORTHLINE, 2842 North Taylor St., Philadelphia Pa.

The majority of mothers nowadays overdo, there are so many demands upon their time and strength; the result is invariably a weakened, run-down, nervous condition with headaches, back-ache, irritability and depression—and soon more serious ailments develop. It is at such periods in life that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will restore a normal healthy condition, as it did to Mrs. Worthline.

EASY NOW TO SAW LOGS AND CUT DOWN TREES

Only one man, or even a boy, with the improved Ottawa Engine Log Saw can easily cut twenty-five to forty cords a day, and at a cost of less than 2c per cord. This machine, which outdoes all others, has a heavy, cross cut saw driven by a powerful especially designed 4-cycle gasoline engine. It's a fast money-maker for those using it, and does more than ten men could do, either cutting down trees, sawing logs, or hauling branches while you rest.

The entire machine is mounted on truck wheels to make it easy to move to the trees or logs, and from cut to cut on a log without stopping the engine. For moving on the road, the truck wheels are placed parallel with the skids and the rig hauled straight ahead. The wheels turn on a two-way spindle. You do not have to take them off, but can change direction of wheel travel by merely taking out a pin.
The Ottawa can be fitted for sawing down trees. It cuts level with surface of ground, thereby getting all the timber and leaving no stumps sticking up. An automatic friction clutch stops the saw in case of undue resistance. Two men can fall forty to fifty trees a day in ordinary timber. The whole outfit is compact, simple, durable against a lifetime of hard wear. It sells for a low price and is fully guaranteed for reliable operation in the hands of every one who has trees to cut down and logs to work up. Full information and low factory prices can be had simply by addressing the following:

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhs deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or sharp-piercing hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surface. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists.

Make the conventional savings of fall and winter months by having your home furnished with FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR. It will save you a year's heating.

FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR

"Honey and Tar will give you ease when you start to cough and sneeze."

FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR

DON'T wait for a cold to attack you. Fight back. Attack it. Hit first, if you can.

At the first indication of the presence of the enemy, get busy. Go right after him and keep right after him until you know positively he has retreated and gone for good.

Watch — But Don't Wait

Don't be afraid of answering a false alarm. You never can tell what a cold will do when it gets a good start. So there's only good and no harm done when you stop a cold before it gets any start at all.

It is far better to take a dose of safe and harmless such medicine when you don't quite need it than it is to fail to take it when you do need it. Don't wait. Hit first. It pays to be long run.

How to Attack Successfully

The best way to attack a cold is to take a few doses of FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR Compound. It quickly checks the cold and by its action builds up a strong system. It stops the spread of inflammation, clears the air passages, loosens the phlegm, soothes the throat and breathes the stuff up, wheezing conditions.

FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR Compound contains no opiates, is absolutely safe and harmless, and has been used in thousands of homes for many years to prevent and overcome coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, la grippe and bronchitis coughs. You get the original and genuine FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR Compound when you insist on FOLEY'S.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By REV. F. B. FITZWATER, D. D., Teacher of English Bible in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.

LESSON FOR NOVEMBER 16

WITNESSES OF CHRIST'S GLORY.

LESSON TEXT—Luke 9:28-36. GOLDEN TEXT—This is my beloved Son; hear ye him.—Mark 9:7.

ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—Matt. 17:1-8; Mark 9:2-8; II Peter 1:16-18. PRIMARY AND JUNIOR TOPIC—Peter and John with Jesus on the mountain.

SENIOR AND ADULT TOPIC—The glory of Jesus Christ.

While it is true that in this lesson the disciples are witnesses of Christ's glory, the full truth is that the manifestation of Christ in glory was to give to the discouraged disciples a foregleam of the Messianic Kingdom.

Jesus took with him Peter, James, and John, and went into the mountain to pray. His chief aim in retirement was to get the disciples apart into a state of receptivity so that he might show them the method of the Kingdom.

Before going to the mountain he declared that there were some standing in his presence who would not taste of death till they should see the Son of Man coming in his Kingdom (Luke 9:27; Matt. 16:28).

Then, too, God's own voice was heard in words of approval of Christ's course, directing them to hear the Master.

"I have reached the age of eighty-three years," admitted old Tybolt Totter, "and yet I do not think that a man is only as old as he-ee-hee! hee!—feels, and that all the comely widows are after me, merely because they treat me with civility. I have never had much cause to complain of anybody's lack of respect for the aged—

I find that the aged generally get all the respect their behavior entitles them to. And I have found that the average busy citizen is not deeply interested in the trivial happenings of 1854 and thereafter.

"As well as I can remember, the weather back yonder was usually just about the same as it is now. I cannot say that I am greatly surprised to find profiteering going on, for to the best of my recollection a considerable proportion of the people have hogged each other at every chance they got. transfiguration is to give the disciples a foregleam of the coming Kingdom, to enable them to see the Kingdom in embryo. That this is true is not only shown by the context and circumstances, but by the inspired interpretation of one who was with him and knew all that happened.

For we did not follow cunningly devised fables when we made known unto you the power and coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, but we were eye witnesses of his majesty, for he received of God the Father, honor and glory when there came such a voice to him from the excellent glory.

This is my beloved Son in whom I am well pleased; and this voice we ourselves heard come out of heaven, when we were with him in the holy mount. And we have the word of prophecy made more sure; whereunto we do well that ye take heed, as unto a lamp shining in a dark place, until the day dawn, and the day-star arise in your hearts (2 Peter 1:16-19 R. V.).

To those who believe in the inspiration of the Bible these words are final. Let us therefore note the outstanding features of the Kingdom as displayed in the transfiguration.

I. Jesus Christ the Glorified King on Mount Zion (v. 29).

The glorified King on this Mount the Mount of Olives in Jerusalem (Zech. 14:4-17). This is still in the future, and will be literally fulfilled.

11. The Glorified Saints With Christ (vv. 30, 31).

1. Moses, who was once denied an entrance into Palestine, appears now in glory, representing the redeemed of the Lord who will pass through death into the Kingdom. Many thousands of the redeemed have fallen asleep and at the coming of the Lord shall be awakened to pass into the Kingdom.

2. Elijah, now glorified, represents the redeemed who shall pass into the Kingdom through translation. Many shall be living upon the earth when the Lord shall come, and shall without dying be changed and thus pass into the Kingdom (1 Cor. 15:50-53; 1 Thess. 4:14-18).

3. They talk of the very thing which the disciples refused to believe, namely, the death of Christ.

111. Israel, in the Flesh, in Connection With the Kingdom, Represented by Peter, James and John (v. 28).

Israel shall be called from their hiding place among all nations of the earth and shall be gathered to Jesus Christ the King, as the central people in the Kingdom (Ez. 37:21-27).

1. Peter proposes to build three tabernacles (v. 38). The Feast of Tabernacles looked forward to the glorious reign of Christ. Peter caught a glimpse of the significance of the transfiguration. His proposition showed that he thought of the Feast of Tabernacles, and therefore of the Millennium.

2. The divine voice (v. 35). At this time God himself uttered his words, assuring them that this one in glory was his son Jesus Christ.

GRAY'S SYRUP of RED SPRUCE GUM

INDIGESTION Caused by Acid-Stomach

Millions of people—in fact about 9 out of 10—suffer more or less from indigestion, acute or chronic. Nearly every case is caused by Acid-Stomach.

There are other stomach disorders which also are sure signs of Acid-Stomach—belching, heartburn, bloating after eating, food repelling, sour gassy stomach. There are many ailments which, while they do not cause much distress in the stomach itself, are nevertheless traceable to the acid stomach. Among these are nervousness, biliousness, cirrhosis of the liver, rheumatism, impoverished blood, weakness, insomnia, melancholia and long train of physical and mental miseries that keep the victims in miserable health year after year.

The right thing to do is to attack these ailments at their source—get rid of the acid stomach. A wonderful modern remedy called EATONIC now makes it easy to do this.

One of hundreds of thousands of grateful users of EATONIC writes: "I have been troubled with intestinal indigestion for about nine years and have spent quite a sum for my bowels disappeared. EATONIC is just the remedy I needed."

We have thousands of letters telling of these marvelous benefits. Try EATONIC and you, too, will be just as enthusiastic in its praise.

Your druggist has EATONIC. Get a big 50c box from him today. He will refund your money if you are not satisfied.

GIRLS DRAW A MOIST CLOTH
THROUGH HAIR

Let "Danderine" save your hair and double its beauty

Oh, girls, such an abundance of thick, heavy, invigorated hair; a perfect mass of wavy, silky hair, gloriously fluff, bright and so easy to manage. Just moisten a cloth with a little "Danderine" and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; this magically removes all dirt, excess oil and grease, but your hair is not left brittle, dry, stringy or faded, but charmingly soft, with glossy, golden gleams and tender lights. The youthful glints, tints and color are again in your hair.

"Danderine" is a tonic-beautifier. Besides doubling the beauty of the hair at once, it checks dandruff and stops falling hair. Get delightful Danderine for a few cents at any drug or toilet counter and use it as a dressing and invigorator as told on bottles.—Adv.

By questioning the Italian, Lou gained the information that his client was a man of odd jobs, mowing lawns, carrying coal, washing windows, etc.

"You see," explained the client, "I am going to have some advertising cards printed and I think it would give an influence if I say on them I am incorporated."

"But how," asked Guernsey, "do you expect to have yourself incorporated?" "I have no knowledge," was the reply, "but if it costs, I will pay!"—Los Angeles Times.

Important to all Women Readers of this Paper

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease. If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer pain in the back, headache and loss of ambition.

But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kinner's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine, will do for them. By enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kinner & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., you may receive sample size bottle by Parcel Post. You can purchase medium and large size bottles at all drug stores.—Adv.

Applied Knowledge.

Our little boy asks so many questions and so many of them we are unable to answer, so we give him this answer: "That's just nature, son." One day I asked him how he got his face so dirty, and he said: "That's just nature, mother."—Chicago Tribune.

Special Election

Notice is hereby given that the Board of Supervisors of the County of Livingston, State of Michigan, has by resolution passed at a regular session of said Board, held in the City of Howell on Friday, October 17, 1919, ordered a Special Election, to be held in the several precincts of said County, on Tuesday, November 25, A. D. 1919.

For the purpose of submitting to the legally qualified voters of said County the question of bonding said County in the sum of Six Hundred Thousand ($600,000) dollars for the purpose of graveling, macadamizing, building cement roads, building or repairing bridges, or in any other way in the discretion of the Board of County Road Commissioners, providing for the better construction, improvement and care of the highways in said county.

Said proposition will be voted upon by ballot in the following form:

OFFICIAL BALLOT

Instructions:—If you wish to vote for the proposition of bonding the County in the sum of Six Hundred Thousand ($600,000) dollars for purpose of constructing and improving highways, put an x in the square [] opposite the word [yes]. If you wish to vote against said proposition put an X in the square [] opposite the word [no].

Fold your ballot before leaving the booth.

For the issuing of county bonds to improve the highways [] YES

For the issuing of county bonds to improve the highways [] NO

Every legally cast ballot found to have a cross marked by an elector in the square pertaining to the word "yes" will be counted for said proposition, and every ballot so marked pertaining to the word "no" will be counted against said proposition.

Dated Oct. 24, A. D. 1919.

PULLETS HATCHED IN SPRING

Eggs Can Be Assured From Fowls in Fall—Proper Housing and Feeding of Importance.

Poultry owners who wish to obtain eggs in the fall and early winter should arrange to hatch their pullets in March or April, say specialists in the department of agriculture, Washington, D. C. Birds hatched in March or April will be well matured in the fall. The rest is a matter of proper housing, feeding, and handling. The chicken house should be comfortably warm, well ventilated, and clean. The feed should include beef scrap or similar material. There should be temptation to exercise in scratching over clean litter on the floor.

GIVE FEMALES BEST OF CARE

Breeders Should Not Be Forced to Heavy Egg Production During the Winter Months.

Females should be given the best care possible, and it is doubtful if breeders should be forced for heavy egg production during the winter months. Heavy egg production preceding the breeding season will probably affect the vitality of the chicks. Fresh air, exercise and green food are essentials, in order to keep the breeding females in the pink of condition.
