Vol. XXXVII

Pinckney, Livingston County, Michigan, Thursday March 11, 1920

No. 11,

OBITUARY

Under most circumstances the duties of the publisher of a rural newspaper run along pleasant lines. It is a pleasure to publish the news of weddings, births, social gatherings and most of the general news that the people wish to know and see in the home paper.

This winter, however, the duties of publishing of so much sickness, of many deaths, week after week, is not so pleasant. Looking over the county papers we notice that issue after issue is devoted largely to telling of deaths and sickness. Our own paper has surely had a super-abundance of this news. So many of those we all know, respect and admire have departed this life this winter that we begin to wonder if there is to be no end.

This community has lost more than its share of its best members, stricken down in the prime of life, leaving motherless or fatherless children to face the battle of life without the help and guidance of one most needed in their young lives. Their loss is indeed great.

Young families of children suddenly bereft of a kind parent, husbands and wives without their dearest companions and helpmeets. Fond parents without the company of well loved children.

large portion of our paper is devoted to that class of news, and this week is no exception.

15, 1840 at Turin Lewis Co. New York and died at his home in Pinckney March 5, 1920 at the age of 79 years 6 months and 19 days. He was united in marriage with Lucy Love of Marion. To this union two daughters were born, Clara Ethel who died in infancy and Mrs. Arthur Allyn.

At the age of eighteen he enlisted in the Civil War in Company H New York Heavy Artillery for 3 years 4 months and 10 days.

After his marriage he moved to Bay City where he lived for twelve years then moved to a farm in Marion, and in 1905 he moved to Pinckney where he spent the remainder of his life. He leaves to mourn his loss his wife, a daughter Mrs. Arthur Allyn of North Lake a little granddaughter Ruth Allyn and two brothers, G. A. Williston of Bay City and B. F. Williston of Detroit besides nieces, nephew and other relatives.

The funeral was held at the residence Monday Rev. Cook officiating. Burial was in Pinckney cemetery.

M. Alma McCluskey Roche, the eldest child of Mr. and Mrs. J. Edward McCluskey was born October 3, 1888 and died March 4, 1920, after an illness of a few weeks.

She was married June 21, 1911 to Bert Roche.

To mourn the loss of a faithful wife, a devoted mother, a loving daughter and an affectionate sister, are her husband, seven small children, her father, and mother, four sisters and three brothers.

The funeral mass was said at St. Mary's Saturday morning, March 6, Fr. Crowe pontificated. The burial was private.

Mary Jane Hubbard was born in Casco, Allegan County, Mich., July 5, 1877 and departed this life March 8, 1920.

When a small child, she, with her parents, moved to Laketown, where, in 1885, she was united in marriage with John Docking.

In 1902 Mr. and Mrs. Docking moved to Putnam township, where they have since resided.

She was a loving wife, fond mother, a good neighbor, and will be deeply missed by all who knew.

She leaves to mourn her loss her husband, one son, two daughters, one brother and a host of other relatives and friends. Interment was held in Pinckney cemetery, Rev. J. E. Cook officiating.

CALLED SUDDENLY

Tuesday afternoon after finishing her noon household duties, Mrs. Patrick Leavey retired to her bedroom as usual for a short rest. About 3:30 Mr. Leavey entered the room and discovered his wife dead on the bed.

She had been suffering with heart trouble for some time back, but on the day of her death was as well as usual and made no mention of being ill.

Dr. Sigler was called immediately, but stated she had been dead probably two hours before his arrival.

BEAR CUBS PROBABLY UNIQUE YEARS BUT ADD TO BEAUTY

New Species the Result of Mating Canadian Black and Russian Brown, in London Zoo.

A "marriage was arranged" in London some time ago between Teddy, the black bear from Canada, and Daisy, the brown bear from Russia. The result is the first hybrid black-brown bear cubs ever born in the zoo—they may even be unique, for nature let alone produces no hybrids. They are a rich mahogany compromise between their parents' colorings, and are doing splendidly. Among with the news comes word that the ugliest beast in the world, the Matamora tiger, another emigrant from the new world, has been on a hunger strike ever since his arrival in London. At home he gets his food in a nasty, treacherous way. He has a shell which looks like a lump of rock on which weed grows freely. He keeps quiet and looks like a pleasant stone for fish to nibble on.

Exactitude.

"Hiram," said Mrs. Cornstossel, "it was going too far for you to say our boy Josh isn't worth his salt."
"Mebbe 'twas. Salt ain't so dear. But I'll hang to it that the way he's workin' now, Josh ain't worth his sugar."

It Sometimes Happens.

"Well, he made his bed—"
"And now he lies in it?"
"No, he lies about it."

Particularly Graceful Tribute Paid to the Elderly by Widely Known American Writer.

I have carried these my preferences through life, and I still regard old ladies as angelic, inasmuch that I have never seen one that I did not revere. I do not know when they begin to look old to other eyes, but to mine they never look old, as old men look. Very likely some of them may once have been silly, and some naughty, but they do not show it, while all the goodness and wisdom of their youth has grown upon them.

I should like to touch here, but barely touch, the thought of the dear and lovely lady which has all this time been in the back of my mind, as a supreme proof of the highest praise that could be given to aging woman, writes W. D. Howells in Harper's Magazine. She was of the finest modernity in her love of the best things beauty which is one with it.

She is gone now, who was so lately here in such perfection of mind and soul, that it seems as if she could never have left us who were privileged to share the bounty of her wisdom and grace.

An army officer said at dinner: "Some of our gallant young officers are accused of having acquired the use of face creams and powder over in France. Be that as it may—"
Here the officer winked his eye.
"Be that as it may, I know of some young officers here at home who took even greater care of their skins."

PNEUMONIA LEFT BOY WEAK AND SICKLY

Parents Were Almost Hopeless, But He Is Now Well and Strong.

"Our little boy's health was so poor we were afraid we were going to lose him. He is ten years old, and has had weak lungs ever since he was eight months old, caused by pneumonia. We have been very careful with him and doctored him continually, but we had almost despaired of ever having a strong, well boy."

"But since giving him Milks Emulsion all his trouble is gone, and he is in perfect health."—Mrs. G. W. Smiley, 20 Maple St., Dayton, O.

For restoring appetite, health and strength in sickly children, mothers will find Milks Emulsion the thing they have always sought. Most children like to take it, because unlike many emulsions and tonics, it really tastes good.

Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physica. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength Milks Emulsion is strongly recommended to those whom sickness has weakened, and is a powerful aid in resisting and repairing the effects of wasting diseases. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions, and if not satisfied with the results your money will be promptly refunded. Price 80c and $1.20 per bottle. The Milks Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold by druggists everywhere.—Adv.

man tyrannizes over the farmer, and he wound up with a story.

"He said the farmer's position reminded him of a cop. This cop saw a fairly well-dressed customer playing a cornet on his boat, and after the man had played three or four tunes he walked up the front steps of a handsome house.
"No, ye don't, friend," says the cop. "Play yer cornet as much as ye've a mind to, but I'll have no beggin' or sollicitin' on this beat."
"Quite right, officer," says the cornetist. "Glad to bear you're so strict. I guess you don't mind my entering my own house, though. You see, wife objects to my practicing indoors."

"I presume he never saw a wild animal he was afraid of?"
"Oh, yes. That's why I like the book. He writes entertainingly of times when the hypnotic power of his eye was nothing, but his ability to spring was everything."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush out the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder trouble. It is a natural, non-toxic, and makes a refreshing beverage. It is a lithia-water drink.—Adv.

Fit Not Needed.

A rather plainly dressed young man went into a furnishing goods store and asked to see a suit of clothes. "Oh, don't bother about fitting it, just wrap it up as it is—and, by the way, put in a hat."

"What size, please?"
"Any old number around seven will do."

"Any shirts?" ventured the clerk, wonderingly selecting a hat.

"Yes, throw in three or four, and and I'm afraid if I got any duds to fit me now I won't feel at home," said the former soldier.—Tenshun 21.

The Important One.

A young stenographer was discussing her Christmas shopping with the girl who worked across the hall from her. "I've got something for all my nieces and nephews except the newest one," she said, "and she is only two months old. Can't you suggest something for a baby of that age?"

The other girl smiled. "Why are you going to get her anything?" she asked. "A baby two months old doesn't know there is such a thing as Christmas."

"No," agreed the stenographer—then added wisely: "But her mother does."

Quite So.

HAD LOST HOPE

But Doan's Effected a Complete Recovery After Other Remedies Failed. Now in Good Health.

Mrs. J. A. Stitworth, E. Bell Ave., Red Key, Ind., says: "Kidney trouble came on me suddenly and before I realized it I was in a critical condition. My body swelled like toy balloons. The kidney secretions burned terribly in passage. My face puffed up and the flesh under my eyes and on my cheeks hung down in folds. I had smothering spells, when I thought I would die. So much water had collected under my skin, I weighed 176 pounds, a gain of 45 pounds. My sight failed and little black specks passed before my eyes. I felt drowsy and was so nervous, I couldn't stand the least noise. Rheumatic pains darted all through me and it felt as if every nerve in my body was affected. Medicine didn't help me and I had little hope or strength left. Finally I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they restored me to health. I am now well and strong."

Sworn to before me, M. M. WHITTINGHILL, Notary Public.

BILIOUSNESS Caused by Acid-Stomach

If people who are bilious are treated according to local symptoms they seldom get very much better. What relief is obtained is usually temporary. Trace biliousness to its source and remove the cause and the chances are that the patient will remain strong and healthy. Doctors say that more than 70 non-organic diseases can be traced to an Acid-Stomach. Biliousness is one of them. Indigestion, heartburn, belching, sour stomach, flat and gas are other signs of acid-stomach. BIONIC, the marvelous modern stomach remedy, brings quick relief from these stomach ailments which lead to a long train of ailments that make life miserable if not corrected.

Get full strength from your food. Thousands say that BIONIC is the most effective stomach remedy in the world. It is the only YOU need. Try it on our money-back-if-not-satisfied guarantee. At all druggists. Only 50 cents for a big box.

Lansing—The epidemic of influenza and pneumonia that has afflicted Michigan since January is at an end, according to Dr. W. J. V. Deacon, epidemic specialist of the State Health Commission. The two diseases caused 3,621 deaths from Jan. 1 to March 1. The total number of cases reported was 53,854.

Kalamazoo—Conditions at Jackson state prison are far from being as deplorable as they have been pictured and are better than at any other prison in the country which was built in the heart of a large city, according to Maude Ballington Booth, "Little Mother of the Prisons" who lectured to students of Western State Normal school.

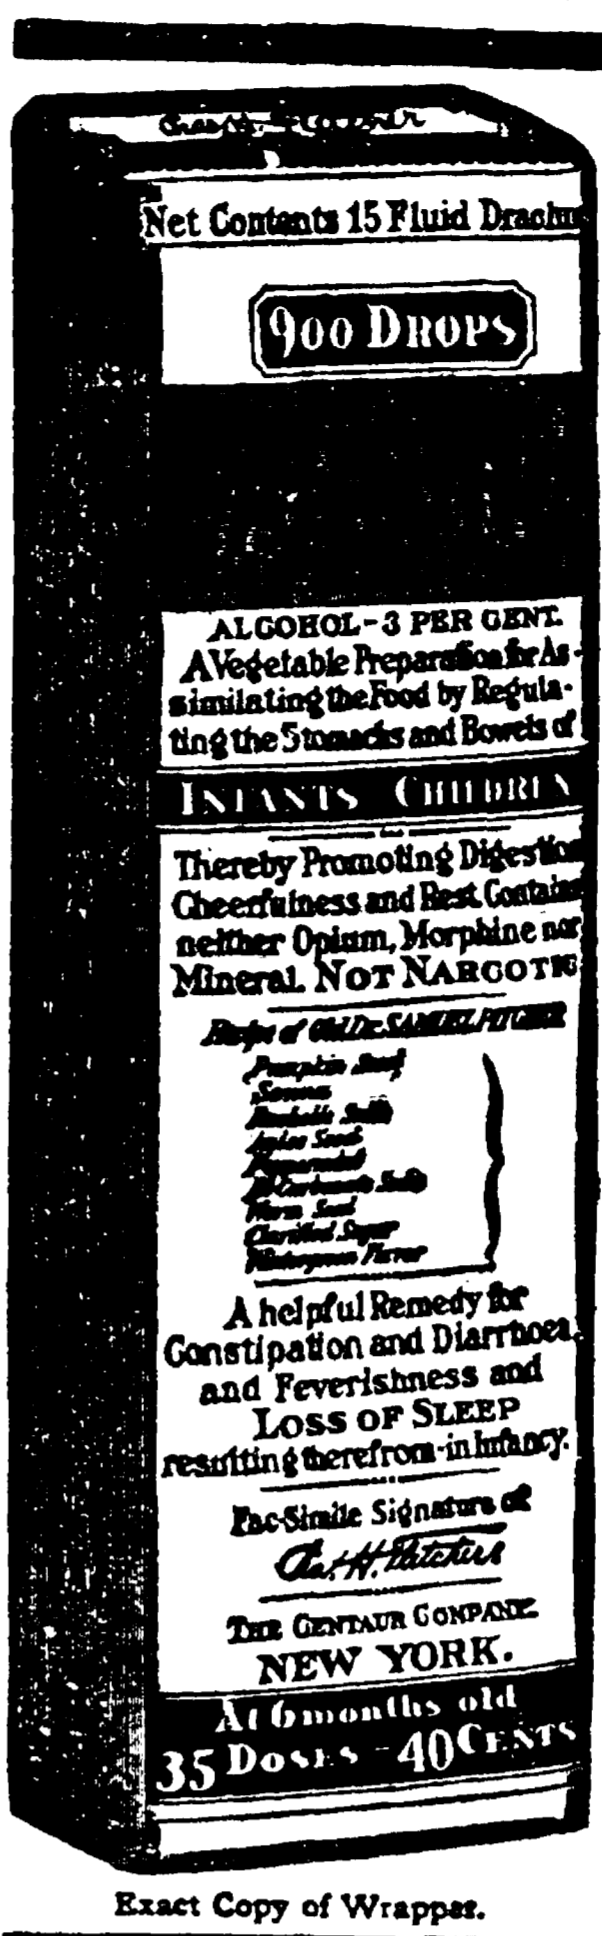

Kalamazoo—Thousands of milk bottles illegally held out by Kalamazoo consumers, have been returned to the distributors since two dealers filed a suit with the state to have been lost in the last eight months. Formerly replevin suits will be filed, distributors say, unless the rest of the bottles are returned.

Lansing—Michigan's supreme court has reversed the decision of Judge Webster in a case involving tenants, landlady and a verbal lease. The high court's decision holds the property-owner to the terms of an oral lease agreement, even though local conditions and the skyward jump of rental figures tempt the owner to sidestep the arrangement.

Kalamazoo—Under the rule "three times and out," Dorothy Cave, 10 years old, is at the end of her misfortunes. While running upstairs the child fell and broke both bones of her right leg. When three years old she blinded herself in one eye by running the point of a knife into the eyeball. A year ago she was knocked down and run over by an automobile.

Detroit—Detroit has had 125 cases of sleeping sickness since last September, when the disease was apprehended in this country. This is the finding of Dr. P. F. Morse, who, with Dr. E. S. Crump, of Harper Hospital, has published in the Journal of Laboratory and Clinical Medicine the first article on bacteriological and pathological findings of the disease.

Detroit—Burning gasoline flying in every direction from a tank which exploded in the automobile sales room occupied by the Frank P. Gmelin company, 998 Woodward avenue, quickly set the whole building afire and destroyed property valued at about $100,000. The greatest damage was to automobiles, new and old, stored in the building and valued at about $75,000.

FOLEY'S HONEY and TAR
COMPOUND

COLD weather, snow, slush, sleet outside—over-heated or under-heated rooms inside—heavy, damp clothing—wet feet, chilled ankles—infection and germs in school, church, theatre, halls, street cars, wherever people gather—

Can any one wonder at the prevalence of coughs and colds and the alarming reports of pneumonia, pleurisy, diphtheria, bronchitis and consumption?

Don't Be Careless or Foolish

If you've a cough or cold, be sensible. Don't take chances. Don't neglect it. If you've the slightest reason to fear a cold is taking a serious turn, consult a physician immediately. Don't delay.

Cure a cold as soon as you can. Don't let any member of the family, young or old, go around snuffling, sneezing, coughing, hawking or wheezing.

A Time-Tried, Reliable Medicine

It Helped the Whole Family

Mr. James Edwards, 208 Harriett St., Bellaire, Montgomery, Ala., writes: "I am using Foley's Honey and Tar Compound and I am getting all right again. I can sleep all night and cough but little. I give all thanks to you for it. I feel like a new man from using Foley's Honey and Tar. My whole family is using it, the little ones and the old ones. My wife tells me just as soon as the bottle gets low and I have to get another one, I have cured all of our coughs and broken our colds. They are all in better shape than I now, and I am in good shape. My health is getting good; my cough is broken; the soreness in my chest is all gone. So many thanks to you for your treatment. I find it all right and will not be without it in my house."

Paris as a Watering Place.

The Paris municipal council, at its closing meeting of 1919, voted a resolution in favor of the capital being officially "classed" as a watering place. The object of the motion is to enable the city to collect a small poll tax on visitors in order to swell the municipal revenues, as is already done in other watering places. While agreeing that such a tax probably would bring in a good round sum, the Figaro criticizes the proposal as hardly in keeping with the city's traditions.

RUB RHEUMATIC PAIN FROM ACHING JOINTS

Bottle of Old "St. Jacobs Oil."

Stop "dosing" Rheumatism. It's pain only; not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil" right on the "tender spot," and by the time you say Jack Robinson—out comes the rheumatic pain and distress. "St. Jacobs Oil" is a harmless rheumatism liniment which never disappears and doesn't burn the skin. It takes pain, soreness and stiffness from aching joints, muscles and bones; stops sciatica, lumbago, backache and neuralgia.

Limber up! Get a small trial bottle of old-time, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" from any drug store, and in a moment, you'll be free from pains, aches and stiffness. Don't suffer! Rub rheumatism away.—Adv.

Manitoba Has Largest Elk Herd.

Manitoba boasts that it has the largest herd of elk in the world and one of the last two herds known to exist on the North American continent. It is to be found in the Riding Mountain reserve and is believed to number between 8,000 and 8,000 head. The elk are strictly preserved under the game laws of Manitoba and their feeding grounds are within the prescribed areas in which no guns can be carried by other than a game guardian or other officer of the crown.

DON'T FEAR ASPIRIN
IF IT IS GENUINE

Look for name "Bayer" on tablets, then you need never worry.

To get genuine "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" you must look for the safety "Bayer Cross" on each package and on each tablet.

The "Bayer Cross" means true, world-famous Aspirin, prescribed by physicians for over eighteen years, and proved safe by millions for Colds, Headache, Earache, Toothache, Neuralgia, Lumbago, Neuritis, and for Pain in general. Proper and safe directions are in each unbroken "Bayer" package.

Handy tin boxes of 12 tablets cost but a few cents. Druggists also sell larger "Bayer" packages. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylic-acid.—Adv.

Beyond Doubt.

The class in business organization at the Arsenal technical schools was listing the essentials of production, which included management. D. C. Morgan, teacher, defined the meaning of the word and cited examples of "good managers." To illustrate a poor manager, he asked: "What would you call a cook who put one cup of sugar and forty-eight eggs in a cake?" "I should call her a rich woman," answered one pupil instantly.

ARMY GRAFT TRIAL CLOSES

Three Found Guilty in $30,000,000 Salvage Fraud Case.

Detroit—Grant Hugh Browne, of New York, Raoul Waterbury, former major in the United States army, and Soterios Nicholson, former army captain, were found guilty on both counts charged by the government by a jury in the so-called $30,000,000, army salvage graft trial in federal browne to serve two years and waterbury 18 months for conspiring to defraud the government in the purchase of army salvage.

Sentence of Capt. Soterios Nicholson, the third defendant found guilty, was postponed until March 22 and his present bonds continued.

After hearing their sentences in Federal court Grant Hugh Browne and Raoul Waterbury were admitted to bail pending the filing of writs of error in an appeal by their counsel.

Fred C. Collins, Detroit, Bert Harris, New York, and Monroe H. Burdach, Albany, were acquitted.

The first count of the indictment under which the men were convicted charges conspiracy to defraud the government. The second count alleges attempted bribery of a government agent.

The six defendants were arrested last June after an investigation by agents of the department of justice. They were accused of conspiring to defraud the government through the sale of army salvage in Detroit.

The conspiracy, according to agents of the department of justice, contemplated elimination of all other bidders for the material to be disposed of, whereupon, they charged, bids would be entered in the names of Collins, Harris and Browne, the highest of which would be far below the value of the supplies offered for sale.

The three bids were arranged, it was declared, because of the requirement that at least three must be received before government-owned material could be sold. It was alleged Harris, the junk dealer, was to dispose of the material.

DANIELS PLANS BIGGER NAVY

Says If League Is Not Accepted U. S. Fleet Must Be Greatest in World.

Washington.—Provisional naval building programs, dependent on Senate action on the Peace Treaty, have been laid before the House Naval Committee by Secretary Daniels.

If the United States ratified the treaty and became a member of the League of Nations, Mr. Daniels said he would recommend new construction only to "round out" the fleet now built or building; if the Senate rejected the treaty and the United States definitely decided not to join the league, he said he would urge duplication of the three-year program of 1916, with some modifications, with a view of making the fleet "incomparably" the greatest in the world.

In case the Senate took no final action on the treaty at this session of Congress, the secretary said he would present a 69-ship program for construction as rapidly as possible in order that the United States might not lose ground in competitive naval building.

Secretary Daniels told the committee it must choose between the three proposals.

Barkeep Seeks Work As Domestic.
San Francisco.—Here is an advertisement that appeared in a daily paper here recently: Wanted—Position in kitchen or general housework by man that has been keeping bar for 25 years. The applicant, John Kornahrens, according to a newspaper interview, suggested that as household help is lacking the "members of a noble old profession might come to the rescue."

Sleuth Arrests Own Son For Murder.
Redwood City, Cal.—Trailing an alleged cook for months as a suspect in a murder case, finally capturing him and bringing him before a bar of justice only to find that the boy is his own son, was the experience of Detective John Burke. His success but a crown of thorns, Detective Burke carried out his plan of duty and brought his son here to answer a charge of murder.

Steam Shovel Saves Drowning Man.
Columbus, Ohio.—The life of David Elkins of Columbus, a watchman employed to patrol the river bank here, was saved when another watchman lowered a steam shovel into the river and scooped Elkins from 12 feet of water. Elkins had slipped on the bank and fallen 60 feet into the river, fracturing a leg. His companion lowered the shovel into the river when he saw bubbles rising and saved the drowning man.

"Cough Medicine" Vendors Nabbed.
Chicago.—The "talcum powder drug-gists," whose equipment is said to consist of a box or two of talcum powder, for window display purposes and an inexhaustible supply of whiskey, for medicinal purposes, are under investigation by federal officials following the arrest of two physicians. One of the doctors is said to have admitted he had written from 100 to 200 prescriptions for whiskey daily collecting a fee of from $1 to $7 per prescription.

American Barred From Mexico.
Washington.—Blunt rejection met the effort of the state department to induce the Mexican government to permit Henry Porres, an American citizen, to re-enter Mexico after testifying before the senate sub-committee on Mexican condition. Hilario Medina, sub-secretary of foreign affairs, said that "in view of the antecedents" of Porres, his entry could not be permitted. Medina also charged that Porres had conducted a propaganda against Mexico.

Reminded Him.
A well-known preacher was giving one of his stirring discourses, when he remarked:

"Ah! that reminds me of something I shall never forget."

Then he stopped and thought and, after thinking and waiting a long time, greatly to the astonishment of the congregation, he said:

"Dear me, I can't think of what it is!"—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

OUT O' LUCK

Constipated

Everyone must occasionally give to the bowels some regular help or else suffer from constipation, bilious attacks, stomach disorders and sick headache. But do not whip the bowels into activity with harsh cathartics.

What the liver and bowels need is a gentle and natural tonic, one that can constantly be used without harm. The gentlest liver and bowel tonic is "Cascarets." They put the liver to work and cleanse the colon and bowels of all waste, toxins and poisons without griping—they never sicken or inconvenience you like Calomel, Salts, Oil or Purgatives.

Twenty-five million boxes of Cascarets are sold each year. They work while you sleep. Cascarets cost so little too.—Adv.

Such a medicine is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, kidney, liver and bladder remedy. The same standard of purity, strength and excellence is maintained in every bottle of Swamp-Root.

It is scientifically compounded from vegetable herbs.

It is not a stimulant and is taken in teaspoonful doses.

It is not recommended for everything. It is nature's great helper in relieving and overcoming kidney, liver and bladder troubles.

A sworn statement of purity is with every bottle of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root.

If you need a medicine, you should have the best. On sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large.

Hillsdale, Mich.—"I am giving this testimony regarding the merits of Dr. Pierce's medicines from the actual use of them and the good they have done me. I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for feminine trouble and it cured me in a very short time. I have also taken Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The doctor once burnt my tonsils with caustic and they would not heal up; they would bleed, and 'Golden Medical Discovery' cured me when nothing else seemed to do any good. I have also used Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. I cannot say too much in praise of Dr. Pierce's medicines; they are all good."—Mrs. SARAH CULVER, 72 St. Joseph St.

Dizzy's Rap at His Old Foe.

Disraeli's unpublished novel will be read with eager interest by all who care to learn his view of his great rival, Gladstone, who is therein portrayed as Joseph Topiady Falconet. In denying him any sense of humor the novelist does not exceed the privileges of poetic license, for certainly somewhat maliciously exaggerates, for Gladstone's smile was not infrequent, and was among his many personal charms. But it must be remembered that the novel was written when the two statesmen had long been settled and unrelenting foes, and Dizzy was a good hater.—London Chronicle.

RECIPE FOR GRAY HAIR.

To half pint of water add 1 oz. Bay Rum, a small box of Barbo Compound, and ¼ oz. of glycerine. Apply to the hair twice a week until it becomes the desired shade. Any druggist can put this up or you can mix it at home at very little cost. It will gradually darken streaked, faded gray hair, and will make harsh hair soft and glossy. It will not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy, and does not rub off.—Adv.

One Box of Dodd's
Kidney Pills Relieves
Mrs. Frey's Rheumatism.

Mrs. Ira Frey, of Le Mars, Ia., suffered for six long months with the agonies of rheumatism. Then she heard of Dodd's Kidney Pills and bought a box. Here is what she writes:

"For six months I had rheumatism. I had swelling of the limbs, stiffness in the joints and cramps in the muscles. I suffered greatly from backache. My limbs felt heavy, and I had a dragging sensation across my loins. I had a great deal of pain in the top of my head, was often dizzy and had flashes of light and floating specks before my eyes. I had heart flutterings and could not sleep well. My appetite was fitful and I felt heavy and sleepy after meals. I suffered from shortness of breath. After taking one box of Dodd's Kidney Pills I was much improved."

Mighty few people realize in time that Kidney Trouble is making its advances upon their health. They put off treatment—they say, "Oh, I'll be all right in a day or two." And the malady tightens its grip. Result: Bright's Disease, hospital treatment, doctor's bills—often death.

If your druggist does not carry Dodd's order direct, sending us the 10 stamps and mentioning your druggist's name, Dodd's Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

"He'll soon be well, don't you think, master? He said he would be well when the holidays—"

But Dave's expression stopped the boy, whose own face went suddenly wild with fear. "He is well now, Charlie," he said, as steadily as he could. "It is all holidays now for him."

The match had burned out and the room was in utter darkness. Dave heard the child drawing his feet across the floor, then suddenly whimpering like a thing that had been mortally hurt. He groped toward him, and at length his fingers found his shock of hair. He drew the boy slowly into his arms; then very, very tight. . . . After all, they were orphans together.

"You will come with me," he said at length. "I will see that you are provided for. The doctor will soon be here, or we will meet him on the way, and he will make the arrangements for—the arrangements that have to be made, you know."

They retraced their steps toward the town, meeting the doctor at the broken bridge. Dave exchanged a few words with him in low tones, and they passed on. Soon they were swinging again through the city streets. Even with the developments of the evening pressing heavily upon his mind Dave could not resist the temptation to stop and listen for a moment to bulletins being read through a megaphone.

"The Kaiser has stripped off his British regalia," said the announcer.

still; the cigarette drop from his nerveless lips.

"You are a brave man, Conward," he said, and there was the rasp of hate and contempt in his voice. "You are a very brave man."

Mrs. Hardy, sensing something wrong, came out from her sitting room. With a little cry she swooned away.

Conward tried to speak, but words stuck in his throat. With a dry tongue he licked his drier lips.

"Do you believe in hell, Conward?" Dave continued. "I've always had some doubt myself, but in thirty seconds—you'll know."

Irene appeared on the stairway. For a moment her eyes refused to grasp the scene before them: Conward cowering terror-stricken; Dave fierce, steely, implacable, with his revolver lined on Conward's brain. Through some strange whim of her mind her thought in that instant flew back to the bottles on the posts of the Elden ranch, and Dave breaking five out of six on the gallop. Then suddenly she became aware of one thing only. A tragedy was being enacted before her eyes.

"Oh, don't, Dave! Don't, don't shoot him!" she cried, flying down the remaining steps. Before Dave could grasp her purpose she was upon him, had clutched his revolver, had wrapped her arms about his. "Don't, don't, Dave!" she pleaded. "For my sake don't do—that!"

Her words were tragically unfortunate. For a moment Dave stood as one paralyzed; then his heart dried up within him.

"So that's the way of it!" he said.

length. "I got it—where I didn't expect it—but I guess that's the way with everyone." He tried to philosophize; to get a fresh grip on himself. "Where are we, anyway?" he continued. "This country looks familiar." He got up again and walked about, finding his way back to the road. He went along it a little way. Vague impressions suggested that he should know the spot, and yet he could not identify it. Then, with a sudden shock, it came to him. It was the hillside on which Doctor Hardy had come to grief; the hillside on which he had first seen her bright face, her wonderful eyes. . . . A poignancy of grief engulfed him, sweeping away his cheap philosophies. Here she stood, young and clean and entrancing, thrust before him in an instant out of the wonderful days of the past. And would she always follow him thus? With an unutterable sinking he knew that was so—that the world was not big enough to hide him from Irene Hardy. There was no way out.

He started his motor, and even in his despair felt a thrill of pride as the faithful gears engaged and the car climbed back to its place on the trail. Was all faithfulness, then, in things of steel and iron, and none in flesh and blood? He followed the trail. Why stop now? The long-forgotten ranch buildings lay across the stream and behind the tongue of spruce trees, unless some wandering foothill fire had destroyed them. He forded the stream without difficulty. That was where he had carried her out. . . . He felt his way slowly along the old fence. That was where she had set up bottles mind—all urging him back into the old groove; all saying: "The routine is the thing. Be a spoke in the wheel; go round with the rest of us."

"No," he reminded himself. "No, I can't do that. I have business on hand. First—to kill the wolf."

He remembered that he had given his revolver to Irene. And suddenly she sat with him again at the tea table. . . . Where was he? Yes, he had given his revolver to Irene. Well, there was another in his room.

In the hallway of the block in which he had his bachelor apartments Dave almost collided with a woman. He drew back, and the light fell on his face, but hers was in the shadow. And then he heard her voice.

"Oh, Dave, I'm so glad— Why, what has happened?" The last words ran into a little treble of pain as she noted his haggard face.

"You—Edith?" he managed to say. "Whatever—"

She came toward him and placed her hands on his. "I've been here a hundred times—ever since morning—ever since Bert Morrison called up to say you had disappeared—that there was some mystery. There isn't, is there, Dave? You're all right, Dave, aren't you, Dave?"

Negritos Generally Regarded as the True Aborigines of the Philippines, Have Not Advanced Far.

The Negritos are generally considered the true aborigines of the Philippines, and are racially sharply distinct from other numerous tribes of the islands, says a National Geographic society bulletin, based on a communication by Dean C. Worcester. They are of low stature, sometimes even dwarfish with very dark brown or black skins. Their heads are covered with closely curling hair and many of them have abundant woolly beards. Their noses are broad and flat, their lips thick, their arms disproportionately long. They do not tattoo their bodies, but ornament them with scars produced by cutting through the skin with a sharp piece of bamboo and rubbing dirt into the wounds to infect them and make the scars.

through the mob; then someone struck up a well-known refrain—"What the hell do we care?" Up and down the street voices caught up the chorus.

Within a year the bones of many in that thoughtless crowd, bleaching on the fields of Flanders, showed how much they cared.

Dave drove direct to the Hardy home. After some delay Irene met him at the door, and Dave explained the situation in a few words. "We must take care of him, Reenie," he said. "I feel a personal responsibility."

"Of course we will take him," she answered. "He will live here until we have a—some place of our own." Her face was bright with something which must be tenderness. "Bring him upstairs. We will allot him a room and introduce him first to—the bathroom. And tomorrow we shall have an excursion downtown, and get some new clothes for Charlie—Elden."

right; take it," and he placed the revolver in her hand. "You should know what to do with it." And before she could stop him he had walked out of the house.

She rushed to the gate, but already the roar of his motor was lost in the hum of the city's traffic.

CHAPTER XIII.

When Dave sprang into his car he gave the motor a full head and drove through the city streets in a fury of recklessness. His mind was numbed; it was incapable of assorting thoughts and placing them in proper relationship to one another. He was soon out of the city, roaring through the still autumn night with undiminished speed.

Over tortuous country roads, across sudden bridges, along slippery hillsides, through black bluffs of scrub land—in some strange way he tried to drown the uproar in his soul in the frenzy of the steel that quivered beneath him. On and on into the night. Bright stars gleamed overhead; a soft breeze pressed against his face; it was such a night as he had driven, a year ago, with Bert Morrison. Was that only a year ago? And what had happened? Where had he been? Oh, to bring the boy—Charlie, the boy. When was that? Under the calm heaven his mind was already attempting to establish a sequence, to set its outraged home again in order.

Suddenly the car skidded on a slippery hillside, turned from the road, plowed through a clump of scrub, ricocheted against a dark obstruction, poised a moment on two wheels, turned around, and stopped. The shock brought Dave to his senses. He sat on the running board and stared for a long while into the darkness.

"No use being a d—d fool, anyway, Dave," he said to himself at the yard. That was where she had first called him Dave. . . . Then he found the doorstep and sat down to wait.

When the sun was well up he arose and walked about. His lips were parched; he found himself nibbling them with his teeth, so he went to the stream. He was thirsty, but he drank only a mouthful; the water was flat and insipid. . . . The old cabin was in better repair than he would have thought. He sprang the door open. It was musty and strung with cobwebs. He did not go in but sat down and tried to think.

Later he walked up the canyon. He must have walked swiftly, for the sun was not yet at the meridian when he found himself at the little nook in the rock where he and Irene had sat that afternoon when they had first laid their hearts open to each other. Suddenly one remark stood up in his memory. "The day is coming," she had said, "when our country will want men who can shoot and ride." And he had said, "Well, when it does it can call on me." And today the country did want men who could shoot and ride, and he had flown into the foothills to nurse a broken heart. . . . Broken hearts can fight as well as whole ones. He could be of some use yet. At any rate there was a way out.

Some whim led him through the grove of spruce trees on his way back to the ranch. Here, in an open space, he looked about, kicking in the dry grass. At length his toe disturbed a few bleached bones, and he stood and looked with unseeing eyes far across the shimmering valley.

"Brownie," he said at length. "Brownie." The whole scene came back upon him—the moonlight, and Irene's distress, and the little bleeding body. And he had said he didn't know anything about the justice of God; all he knew was the critter that couldn't run was the one that got caught. . . . And he had said that was life. . . . He had said it was only nature.

And then they had stood among the trees and beneath the white moon and pledged their faith. . . .

Again his head went up and the old light flashed in his eyes. "The first thing is to kill the wolf," he said aloud. "No other innocent shall fall to his fangs. Then—my country."

Darkness had again fallen before Dave found his car threading the streets of the city, still feverish with its newborn excitement of war. He returned his car to the garage; an attendant looked up curiously—it was evident from his glance that Dave had already been missed—but no words were exchanged. He stood for a moment in the street, collecting his thoughts and rehearsing his resolves.

He was amazed to find that, even in his bitterness, the city reached a thousand hands to him—hands of habit and association and customs of

A chip of wood is held between the tooth; the point of a bolo is placed in such a position as to slant across the corner of the tooth, and a sharp blow on the bolo chips a piece from the tooth. The opposite corner is similarly operated on and an artistic point is produced.

The music and dancing of the Negritos are specially interesting. Many know how to make and play the bamboo nose flute, and a jewsharp made from bamboo. The bronze tom-tom, or "ganza," is in universal use, some playing it with a drumstick and others with their hands.

Gastronomic Animals.

One occasionally hears the question: "Is it Welsh rabbit or Welsh rabbit?" It is Welsh rabbit. "Rarebit" is only an altered form of the "rabbit," an afterthought intended to simulate an absurd derivation from "rare" and "bit," as the Century dictionary characterizes it. "Welsh rabbit" itself is "genuine slang" and belongs to the class of names of jocular origin. There are many others; an Essex lion is a calf; a Fieldian duck is a baked sheep's head; Glasgow magistrates or Norfolk capons are red herrings; Irish apricots or Munster plums are potatoes; and Gravesend sweetmeats are shrimps, to name over a few examples taken from English usage. At the moment the only American samples that can be offered are the Albany bee (sturgeon) and Cape Cod turkey (codfish).

Electric Lamp Best for Mines.

Nowadays the up-to-date miner carries a package of electricity about with him while underground. It is a small storage battery attached to the back of his belt, and is connected by a cord with a lamp fastened to the front of his cap. The lamp, provided with a reflector, throws a flood of light in front of the miner. But its chief advantage is absolute safety. In olden days miners (who must, of course, have light) carried about with them open-flame lamps. These caused innumerable disastrous accidents through ignition of coal dust or gases. Sir Humphry Davy's invention of a safety lamp whose flame was protected by a wire gauze saved an immense number of lives. It is in common use today, but the electric mine lamp is better and more convenient.

Dusted With Shells.

Whole forests may be seen coated with shelly substances on the Australian continent. These encrustations are supposed to arise from the decomposition of shell fish, which, transported by the winds, are deposited in the form of dust on trees and plants.
