Pinckney, Livingston County, Michigan, Thursday April 8, 1920

No. 15,

ELECTION RETURNS

After a snow storm that lasted all Easter Sunday, and with about six inches of snow on the ground, election day opened up bright and clear and soon the snow was converted into slush on the roads and walks.

The usual Democratic victory was in order, with D. W. Murta, township clerk, receiving the largest majority. The count of votes showed surprising strength in the run of Alfred Morgan for supervisor. He was defeated by the present incumbent, M. J. Reason by only 18 votes.]

Following are the returns from Putnam and the nearby townships:

Supervisor, M. J. Reason	18
Clerk, D. W. Murta	88
Treasurer, Bert Roche	56

Overseer, Caspar Vollmer	66
Bd of Review, B. VanBlaircum	65
Justice, W. B. Darrow	39
Constables, Irvin Kennedy, Rex Smith, Sylvester Harris, Wm. Collier. The constables received 75 majority.

The vote for presidential candidates showed General Wood to be the favorite with the Republicans, and that old campaigner, Wm. Jennings Bryan, showed great strength with the Democrats. Hoover was weak on the Republican ticket but made a good show.

"THE 'GABBLE'-UNS 'LL CATCH HIM IF HE DON'T WATCH OUT"

Have you noticed on the faces of the feminine portion of Pinckney's population a new expression—grim determination, blended with both timidity and expectancy? Have you also noticed a different expression on the faces of the unmarried young, middle-aged and older men? Some of the latter seem to be dreading the future and are startled, and shrink away on the near approach of a miss, while others make an extra effort to be pleasant and affable when one of the opposite sex is near. Yes, you have noticed the difference and wondered why the change. The answer is easy. The Pinckney ladies are going to give a Leap Year Dance, and are wondering whether the preferred "fellow" will accept or decline the invitation, while some of the men are putting themselves on their best behavior toward being invited, and others are contemplating taking to the tall woods in order to escape the ordeal.

It is reported that one man of uncertain age and supposed discretion, address Anderson, lingers near the telephone

OBITUARY

Mrs. Wm. Caskey died March 22, her husband dying three days later.

W. S. Caskey, son of Solomon and Clavea Caskey, was born September 20, 1852, and passed away March 25, three days after the death of his wife. He died on the farm on which he was born and lived all the 63 years of his life. He was a man liked and respected by his neighbors and all who knew him.

He is gone, but should we mourn him? No, our loss is but his gain, For the stream of death has borne him To a land that's free from pain.

Elizabeth Affleck, daughter of John and Margaret Affleck, was born in Detroit March 9, 1853. When a small child she came to live with her grandmother Affleck in the township of Putnam, where she lived until the place was sold, when she was united in marriage to W. S. Caskey of Iosco Nov. 9, 1886.

Two children were born to them, Mrs. Nick Burley and Mrs. Elva Anderson. She left a good husband who departed this life just three days, two daughters, nine grandchildren and a host of friends to mourn her loss.

She was converted when a young girl and united with the M. E. church and another man—same kind or age, same kind of discretion, same address, is now camping in the Big Cedar Swamp and does not expect to return until after the dance, not daring to trust himself in the society of a bunch of determined girls who are fully prepared to inform him that the income tax is easier for married men than it is for bachelors. He's got a fat chance to escape, for one of Pinckney's most captivating fair ones has decided he will be her partner at the dance and she is going after him, Big Cedar Swamp or no Big Cedar Swamp, and it's dollars to doughnuts that Friday evening, April 9, he will attend the Leap Year Party given by the Ladies of Pinckney at the Opera House.

and has been a faithful member ever since. In all her affiliations with her church work she showed a deep interest and her home and heart were always open to any effort for its welfare. The church Aid will long remember and miss her.

She departed this life March 22, age 67 years and thirteen days.

The Great God who gave her being Called and took her for his own. And, if faithful, we shall see her When our earthly work is done. The double funeral services were held by Rev. F. C. Watters Friday afternoon.

Entrance to the one large room of which the house consists is gained through a long tunnel about five feet in height, in which the dogs live. In the rear of the living room is a raised dais on which the entire family sleep, and in the front part stands the stove. This stove consists of a hollow stone filled with seal oil in which burns a rag wick, which lights and heats the house and cooks the meals.

Then one day mother announced that she had been invited to join a bridge club. Every one was anxious for her to join but little Timothy, who sighed: "Oh, mother, now will you have to study, too, before you go there? What do they recite at your club?"

Everybody smiled but dear old grandmother, who did not approve of bridge clubs. "Oh, she won't have to study much," she retorted tartly. "She can just listen at the first few meetings until she learns how to gossip like the rest of them."

HEADACHE Often Caused by Acid-Stomach

Yes, indeed, more often than you think. Because ACID-STOMACH, starting with indigestion, bloating, belching, food-repeating, bloating and gas, if not checked, will eventually affect every vital organ of the body. Severe, blinding, splitting headaches are, therefore, of frequent occurrence as a result of this upset condition.

Take EATONIC. It quickly banishes acid-stomach with its sour blood, pain and gas. It aids digestion—helps the stomach get full strength from every mouthful of food you eat. Millions of people are miserable, weak, sick and ailing because of ACID-STOMACH. Poisons, created by partly digested food charged with acid, are absorbed into the blood and distributed throughout the entire system. This often causes rheumatism, biliousness, cirrhosis of the liver, heart trouble, ulcers and even cancer of the stomach. It robs its victims of their health, undermines the strength of the most vigorous.

If you want to get back your physical and mental strength—be full of vim and vigor—enjoy life and be happy, you must get rid of your acid-stomach. EATONIC you will find the very help you need and it's guaranteed. So get a big 50c box from your druggist today. If it fails to please you, return it and he will refund your money.

Of course, I knew that I could not hope to buy it, as it was far more expensive than we could afford. The price was—"

"Perhaps we could manage it, dear, if you wish it so much," Tom interrupted fondly. "Business has been a little better the last month. I have two new contracts for large apartment houses. How much is the hat?"

"That is dear of you, Tom," she responded with a grateful smile, though her eyes grew sad, "but it is too late. Our cook happened to pass the store. I saw her wearing it home."

Easily Pleased. "Some of these office seekers are not so particular," remarked Senator Shortsworthy.

"No?" replied a visiting constituent. "A fellow came to Washington the other day from a town in my state to get an easy berth with Uncle Sam. After I told him there wasn't a thing in sight in the way of a government job he wanted to know if I could use him as my chauffeur."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Plain Pastry
This recipe is for one large pie with top and bottom crust

2 cups flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
3 teaspoons Royal Baking Powder
1/2 cup shortening
cold water

Sift together flour, salt and baking powder; add shortening and rub in very lightly with tips of fingers (the less it is handled the better the paste will be). Add cold water very slowly, enough to hold dough together (do not work or knead dough). Divide in halves; roll out one part thin on floured board and use for bottom crust. After pie is filled roll out other part for top.

Rich Pastry
2 cups pastry flour
1/2 teaspoon Royal Baking Powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup shortening
cold water

Sift flour, baking powder and salt; add one-half shortening and rub in lightly with fingers; add water slowly until of right consistency to roll out. Divide in halves; roll out one half thin; put on in small pieces half remaining shortening; fold upper and lower edges in to center; fold sides in to center, fold sides to center again; roll out thin and put on pie plate. Repeat with other half for top crust.

Apple Pie
1 1/2 cups flour
1/2 teaspoon Royal Baking Powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons shortening
4 apples, or 1 quart sliced apples
3 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon milk

Sift flour, baking powder and salt; add shortening and rub in very lightly; add just enough cold water to hold dough together. Roll half out on floured board, line bottom of pie plate; fill in apples, which have been washed, pared and cut into thin slices; sprinkle with sugar; flavor with cinnamon or nutmeg; wet edges of crust with cold water; roll out remainder of pastry; cover pie, pressing edges tightly together and bake in moderate oven 30 minutes.

Pontiac.—Sheriff's officers after a long chase, seized two cars loaded with whisky near Farmington on their way to Grand Rapids. It came from Canada, according to the story of the men.

Lansing.—During the calendar year 1919, the state paid $91,924.96 to owners of condemned cattle, when 1,447 animals were slaughtered in tuberculin tests, according to statistics of the livestock commission. In that period 26,837 animals were tested and of this total, only 1,580 were classed as reactors, placing this percentage remarkably low at 5.9 per cent.

Lansing.—Handy Brothers, of Port Huron, who are building a railroad to parallel the river from Detroit to Port Huron, obtained permission from the Michigan Public Utilities Commission to sell $500,000 of bonds. Marquette.—Frozen in an iceberg at the shore line near Crisp Point, the body of William J. Reilly, assistant engineer of the ill-fated steamer John Owen which sank in a terrific storm on Lake Superior last November 13, was found by coast guards. It is the only body of the crew of the missing boat that has been recovered.

Lansing.—Moses B. Parker, of Scottville, who waited more than half a century for his bounty as an enlisted man in the Army during the Civil War, died, according to word just received by the Board of State Auditors, the same day that warrant for the bounty with interest, was delivered to his home. Alex J. Groesbeck, attorney general, has ruled that the warrant becomes part of the estate. The bounty was originally for $150, but interest brings it up to $644.

Battle Creek.—Charlie Chaplin had nothing on the Lew Phillips family during the recent tornado in Johnstown, Barry County. First Orson Phillips, 10 years old, was carried skyward and dropped into a huckleberry marsh. Then the father opened a door to assist his son, when Eleanor, aged 6, was blown so hard against his stomach that she knocked him down. A fire started in the house and while the family extinguished the fire, the wind removed the porch, then part of the roof and finally the outbuildings.

Grand Rapids.—The city's net budget as it was submitted to the commission amounts to $1,818,688.27, an increase of nearly $350,000 over last year's budget. The increase is represented almost entirely by higher wages. The board of education's budget is $1,567,376.50.

Lansing.—D. MacFarlane, in charge of the state labor department, said that Michigan farms face a serious labor shortage, that farmers are offering from $50 to $80 a month, room and board, but cannot get men because they prefer working in the city factories at higher wages.

Charlottee.—Mrs. Eva Martens, of Nashville, attempted to ford Quaker Brook, swollen by spring floods. The buggy upset, throwing Mrs. Martens and her small son into the water. Mrs. Martens was able to save her and the boy. A crate of eggs was rescued with only one egg broken.

Bay City.—Mrs. Thomas Francis, 44 years old; her father, James Neil, 85, and her son, Milton, 5, were killed while Thomas Francis was fatally injured, as the result of an accident near Quincasssee when a train on the Detroit, Bay City & Western railroad hit an automobile in which they were returning to their home from Bay City.

Grand Rapids.—Unless the movement of farmers to the city is immediately arrested America will be importing food from other countries within the next five years, says John I. Petoskey.—The state fish commission has appropriated $10,000 for the Oden fish hatchery, on which work will begin at once. Rainbow trout spawn will be hatched. Kalamazoo.—Judge Welmer, in circuit court has decided it is cruel for a wife to refuse her husband a kiss upon his return from France. Benjamin Everett Edwards sought a divorce on such grounds. Big Rapids.—While preaching in the Rushfield church, hear here, Rev. A. L. Howlett of Lakeview, was struck by a bolt of lightning. Members of the congregation carried his stiffened body outside of the church to a pool of water. After immersion in the water the minister regained consciousness two hours later and will recover. LESS MEAT IF BACK AND KIDNEYS HURT

Take a Glass of Salts to Flush Kidneys if Bladder Bothers You.

Eating meats regularly eventually produces kidney troubles in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, clog up, and cause all sorts of distress, particularly back-ache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.—Adv.

The Tcherkees gave to the Caucasus and the fancy dress ball the Tcherkeska, the familiar skirted costume of the warlike Cossack in the Georgian grandee. It is the original opera bouffe uniform, with a narrow waist and flaring skirts above soft boots without heels. This costume is also distinguished by 18 cartridge cases ranged across the chest. Modernity has gone even further. One of these cartridge cases is now sometimes used for a fountain pen, and the ultra-fastidious dandy sometimes has hollow decorations in whose solid gold shell is concealed rich perfume for the occasion. The Tcherkeska is not distinguished solely by legendary lore and fancy dress manhood. Smoke Even Is Found Costly

Washington.—The smoke even, which costs each city dweller of this country from $12 to $20 each year in property damage alone, cannot be abated if the people insist on the old way the same smoky coal, according to the bureau of mines, department of the interior. The bureau indicates that the only way to get rid of the smoke plague in the residential portions of the cities is to turn the bituminous coal into coke and gas, which are smokeless, the coke being used for house heating and gas for cooking. The factories may continue as usual to use the soft coals, for it has been demonstrated that in the boiler and heating plants the coal can be burned practically smokeless.

Use Smokeless Fuel. The only way of eliminating smoke in large cities is by using smokeless fuel," says Dr. Van H. Manning, director of the bureau of mines. "A fact that will burn without producing smoke in any equipment now in use. In the past the only smokeless fuel available in quantity for house heating was anthracite. However, anthracite is mined in only one district in the United States and, therefore, its use is limited to the area lying within reasonable freight distance of the anthracite mines. Much the larger part of the country has to depend on soft coal. Coke should be used for heating houses because it is a clean and convenient fuel. It eliminates smoke, reduces the necessity of cleaning the burners and stoves, requires less attention than coal, and gives a more uniform temperature in the house. By burning coke for domestic heat, more plants, which save many valuable by-products that are wasted when the coal is used directly. The by-products of the coking process are gas, light oils, ammonia and tars. By-Products of Coking. "With soft coal costing $7 a ton turned into its by-products, you will get 5,000 cubic feet of gas valued at $5; three gallons of light oil valued at 75 cents; 25 pounds of ammonia sulphate valued at $1.25; nine gallons of tar worth 50 cents; and more than half a ton of coke valued at $10. "When our mineral supply of oil is exhausted, soft coal will be a material source of motor fuel. The light oil recovered from soft coal now supplies part of the ever-increasing demand for motor fuel. Germany, during part of the war, was cut off from every supply of mineral oil, and she depended entirely for her motor fuel on her coal. As a result of this condition, Germany sent most of her coal through by-product coking plants. What has been done in Germany in the future have to be done in the United States."

Names Mean Nothing

Washington.—Names mean nothing at all in the job of counting noses in the United States for the 1920 census. You have a name when you come into the big barn-like building here where 4,000 clerks are tabulating you and about 110,000,000 like you. Very soon, though, you become nothing but a card with a lot of holes punched in it. You have sex, age, nationality, and a lot of other things, but no name. Your card is just as important, yet as anonymous, as the president's. In the census bureau the president isn't Woodrow Wilson. He is merely a

AUSTRALIA "LOW" IN H. C. I.

Advance Only 48 Per Cent, 86 Per Cent in United States and 216 in Sweden.

Washington, D. C.—Living costs have advanced more in six foreign countries since 1914 than in the United States, according to a comparison of retail food prices in nine countries, including America, made public by the bureau of labor statistics. In Australia and New Zealand, however, the advance was less than in this country. The comparisons are made from the latest reports from the various countries. In August, 1919, the increase in the United States was 90 per cent, compared with 93 per cent in Canada, 100 per cent in France, 112 per cent in Norway, 118 per cent in Great Britain and 210 per cent in Sweden, while in Australia and New Zealand prices climbed but 48 per cent. April, 1919, the latest report from Italy, showed an advance of 181 per cent there, against 78 per cent in this country.

Sick for Five Years and Given Up

Pontiac, Mich.—"A few years ago I was in a very bad state. I had been sick for about five years. Had several good doctors but kept getting worse all the time. Some said I had consumption; some one thing, and some another. I finally made up my mind they did not know what did all wrong. I began to think I was never going to get better. I had tried several different kinds of medicines but nothing seemed to give me any relief. One day I saw Dr. Pierce's medicine advertised and I got a bottle of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and it began to help me. I felt that I had some other weakness so I got the 'Favorite Prescription' and the 'Pleasant Pellets' also, and these medicines cured me completely in just one year when I had doctor'd five years before. I feel very grateful to Dr. Pierce for my good health and keep his medicines in my home for immediate use. I consider they saved me lots of suffering and doctors' bills as well. I have recommended Dr. Pierce's remedies to many people and will gladly reply to anyone wanting to know about these medicines and what they did for me."—MRS. E. J. BALDWIN, 246 Norton Ave.

STOMACH TROUBLE Can Now Eat Anything

Grand Rapids, Wis.—"I have used Dr. Pierce's medicine and found them very beneficial. I had stomach trouble for about eight years. I had to be very careful what I would eat or I would be down sick. I suffered something terrible about a year ago. I started to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and two bottles put me in fine condition. I can eat anything and not feel distressed. I had taken many medicines previous to this and had doctors prescribe for me but nothing seemed to give me any relief until I started taking the 'Discovery.' It gave me great relief. I take pleasure in recommending it."—MRS. EMIL OESTREICH, 212 14th Ave., North.

he offers convincing evidence of his statement. A grizzly cub in Yellowstone park, he says, once found a ham skin—a prized delicacy. Just as the little fellow was lifting it to his mouth a big bear appeared. The cub instantly dropped the ham skin, sat down on it and pretended to be greatly interested in watching something in the edge of the woods.

Another young grizzly in the Yellowstone one day found a tin can that was open at one end and partly filled with fish. He raised it in his forepaws and peeped in, then deliberately turned the can upside down and shook it. Nothing came out. He shook again, but still nothing came out. He then placed the can on the ground, open end down, and hammered the bottom of it with a stone until the fish dropped out.

In a zoo one day a piece of hard-tack that a grizzly bear wanted fell into the hands of a black bear. The black bear dipped the hard-tack in water and started to take a bite. Evidently it was too hard. He put it in the water again, and while it soaked gave his attention to something else. When the black bear was not looking, the grizzly, standing on the farther edge of the pool, stirred the water with a forepaw and started the hard-tack toward him on the waves. The instant the first wave touched the black bear he looked round, grabbed the precious hard-tack, which was rapidly floating away, and, pushing it to the bottom of the pool, put one hind foot upon it. How very like the mental processes of human beings!

Solved the Problem.

Hunting Alaskan Bear.
 The Alaskan bears have been hunted with perfect safety from boats among the coastal islands, and they are comparatively easy to kill along the streams where they come in the fall to catch salmon. In this hunting the hunter lies in wait, and pots brim from a safe distance. But at that time of year the fur is not prime. The true sportsman goes up into the mountains in the early spring, still-hunts his bear and kills him often at close quarters—unless he gets killed himself.

It may be that you are mysteriously attacked by pain in back, (lumbago), or limbs, "neuragic" pains—shooting anywhere. Backache of any kind, is often caused by kidney disorder, which means that the kidneys are not working properly. Poisonous matter and uric acid accumulate within the body in great abundance, overworking the sick kidneys. Perhaps you have become nervous, dependent, sick, feverish, irritable, have spots appearing before the eyes, bags under the lids, and lack ambition to do things. The latest and most effective means of overcoming such trouble, is to drink plenty of water between meals, and take a single Anuric (anti-uric acid) Tablet before each meal for a while, as until recovered. All druggists.

Corunna, Mich.—"I had been sick a long time with kidney and bladder trouble. Had backache all the time. I did everything, but could not find any relief. One day I saw an advertisement of Anuric (anti-uric acid) in the paper. I sent 10 cents to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for a trial package. The sample did me so much good that I got more from the druggist. I can't begin to tell what Anuric has done for me. I will always speak a good word for it, for I can't be too grateful."—MRS. JULIA MONTFORT, Box 46.

GERMAN REBELS AGREE TO DISARM

BOLSHEVIST ATTEMPT TO SEIZE POWER OF GOVERNMENT APPARENTLY FAILS.

GENERAL STRIKE CALLED OFF

Revolutionists Charge That Allies Backed Attempt to Overthrow Present Republic.

Dusseldorf—Soldiers of the workmen's army in the Ruhr district must make a delivery of their arms to local authorities before April 10 under the agreement reached between the government and the central committee of the workmen's general conference at Essen.

The commander of the communist troops before Wesel gave a pledge to the conference for the strict observance of the agreement. He declared he had really a good army, but could not continue fighting because he lacked ammunition and asserted all looting had been suppressed and that all looters had been shot.

There is some apprehension felt as to a few extremist groups, particularly as they have learned of a report that government troops have entered the edge of the Ruhr district at several points and that two workmen's delegates were arrested while going to Essen for the conference.

The general strike throughout the Ruhr industrial and mining district has been ordered called off.

At the last meeting of the workmen speakers said that the revolutionists could not have lived to accept a final agreement if the Allies had not backed them.

ASSEMBLY EVICTS SOCIALISTS

Albany, N. Y.—Five Socialists, Louis Waldman, August Claessens, Charles Solomon, Samuel A. Dewitt and Samuel Orr, all of New York city, the entire delegation of their party in the New York assembly, have been expelled from the legislature.

The majorities in favor of unseating the men, suspended on the opening day of the legislative session on charges of disloyalty, were substantial.

The resolutions charged the Socialist members with being engaged in a "large and well-organized conspiracy to subvert the due administration of the law and to destroy the right to own and hold private property honestly acquired, and to overturn the whole fabric of our constitutional form of government."

By its action the assembly established a precedent unique in legislative history in the United States as never before has an entire party delegation been ejected from any legislative body.

The evicted men say they will appeal their case to the supreme court.

RAIL WAGE CONFERENCE ENDS

Owners Refuse to Consider Demands Unless Public is Represented.

Washington.—Wage negotiations between the conference committees representing the railroads and the unions were broken off last week when the railroad representatives declined to continue consideration of demands which have been estimated to total $1,000,000,000, unless the public was given a voice in the proceedings.

Under the provisions of the transportation act, the wage controversy now will be referred to the railroad labor board, which is yet to be appointed by President Wilson. The law provides for three representatives of the public on the board.

Guaranty provisions of the new railroad law will cost the government approximately $175,000,000 for the six months they are operative, Secretary Houston estimates.

GRAIN DEALERS FILE BIG CLAIM

Ask Government to Pay $5,000,000 Loss Caused By Price Fixing.

Washington.—Grain dealers from Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri and Illinois have appealed to the House Agricultural Committee for reimbursement for losses said to aggregate $5,000,000 in 1917, due to the fact the price of wheat was fixed at 60 cents less than the market price. Herbert Hoover, former food administrator, and Julius Barnes, president of the Government Grain Corporation, were declared by the dealers to be responsible for the losses.

- State Auto License Fees Total $3,719,433—Goes to Highway Fund

- Lansing—Complete tabulations of the motor vehicle, automobile drivers' and chauffeurs licenses issued in 1919, published by the secretary of state, show that 283,708 pleasure vehicles, 37,105 commercial vehicles, 7,875 motorcycle, 967 dealers, $53,983 chauffeurs, and 394,352 operators were licensed, bringing to the state and county highway funds $3,719,433. The total fees for 1919 were $2,875,266; for 1917, $2,471,270, and for 1916, $1,735,343. The number of passenger cars has doubled and the commercial cars trebled in three years. Wayne County is credited with 81,274 passenger cars and 15,178 commercial cars for 1919. Kent is second with 13,589 passenger and 2,332 trucks. Oscoda County had the fewest, 108 passenger and 9 commercial cars.

SUPREME COURT LEAK FOUND

Grand Jury Indicts Clerk of Judge and Three Others for Conspiracy.

Washington—Indictments have been handed down by the federal grand jury against four men, two minor government officials, who have recently resigned and two outsiders, as the result of investigations conducted by the department of justice following revelations indicating that a coterie of Wall street speculators was profiting through a leak of decisions of the United States supreme court.

Those indicted were: Ashton F. Embry, private secretary (resigned) to Associate Justice Joseph McKenna, of the United States supreme court; J. Harwood Graves attorney in special division, department of justice (resigned); D. E. Moses, attorney at law,

States army, president of the Federal

The four men were indicted on a charge of conspiracy to cheat and defraud the United States in connection with the alleged leak of the United States supreme court regarding a suit of the United States against the Southern Pacific railroad company.

The indictment charges that the accused conspired to cheat and defraud for the purpose of engaging in speculation upon the New York stock exchange and other stock markets upon the faith and advantage of private information as to the time and conclusions and result of the decisions given by the United States supreme court.

SUFFRAGE LOSES IN DELAWARE

Lower House Defeats Amendment to Give Women Vote.

Dover, Del.—Ratification of the equal suffrage amendment was defeated in the lower house of the legislature last week by a vote of 23 to 9.

Delaware was counted on to be the 36th state to ratify suffrage which would have given the women of the Nation the ballot.

The house later defeated a motion to reconsider, thus killing the measure for this session.

Eight Republicans and one Democrat supported the resolution and 13 Republicans and 10 Democrats voted against it.

Governor Townsend said: "I think suffrage is thoroughly beaten. I am sorry, for some Republican representatives have brought a stain upon the integrity of the Republican party."

IRISH DESTROY TAX RECORDS

Easter Uprising in Erin Against England Takes New Form.

Dublin.—Easter demonstrations in Ireland did not develop into a spectacular effort of force against the government, which the adherents of the republican cause considered would be suicidal, but there was a series of outrages in many parts of the island. The malcontents took a new angle in their work when they attacked tax officers in many cities and towns, destroying the records in various ways, but mostly by fire.

At Dublin castle it was stated that the destruction of the tax records would avail nothing; all citizens whose records have been destroyed will be re-assessed, and their taxes are likely to be increased by the need of funds to replace the barracks and huts destroyed.

Home Rule Assured.

London.—The new Irish Home Rule Bill passed the House of Commons on second reading last week, after a brilliant speech by Premier Lloyd George. The vote, 348 to 94, assures passage of the bill on its third and last reading.

Drug Clerk Held For Woman's Death.

New York.—Alleged misreading of a doctor's prescription resulted in the death of Mrs. Bertha de Kaps, of Brooklyn, and arrest of Arthur C. Searis, a pharmacist, on a charge of manslaughter. According to the police, Searis gave the woman, instead of the medicine prescribed for her, a poison with a similar name. The bottle bore the usual poison warning, but the woman could not read English.

Burglaries Boost Insurance Rates.

New York.—Increases of 25 per cent in the rates for burglar insurance in New York city and 35 per cent in nearby territories have been put into effect by indemnity and surety companies here. Various officials admitted that the increase in robberies here and elsewhere since the first of the year was the principal reason for the action. Loss of money in 1919 under the old rates was another reason advanced for the increase.

After Three Physicians Failed

Dodd's Kidney Pills Gave Prompt Relief

Here's one of the many unsolicited testimonials which reach us from every section of the United States. Thousands upon thousands have been relieved of their kidney complaints and there is no reason why Dodd's—standard for two generations—won't give you the same prompt benefit.

Mr. E. C. Birchler of Fulsda, Ind., writes, "In the year 1905, I was very low with a severe attack of kidney trouble and three noted physicians had given me up expecting death at any moment, but death did not come and I lingered for several months until accidentally one day I found an old Dodd's Almanac in my house which described symptoms exactly as mine. I then procured a box of your pills and took a double dose and the second day actually felt relieved. After a week I felt so good that I was glad to be alive. I continued using them for a time and they cured me."
"This was fourteen years ago and I can truthfully say I have never yet been laid up with the same disease. A severe attack of the last winter affected my kidneys to a certain extent so I bought three boxes of your pills and used them for my whole family with the same good results."

If your dealer can't supply you send 50c in stamps to the Dodd's Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y. Tell us the name of your druggist.

LADY LARKSPUR

By
MEREDITH NICHOLSON

LADY LARKSPUR

"Lady Larkspur" is a delightful little whimsy of a story by Meredith Nicholson, author of "The House of a Thousand Candles" and other charming romances that nearly everybody has read. It's short and sweet and full of the fanciful charm which has made Nicholson deservedly popular.

Bob Singleton is the hero. He's an aviator inviolated home. His Uncle Bashford has married an English-woman in Japan in his old age, died and left a widow whom Bob has never seen. Said widow, present whereabouts unknown, is mystery No. 1. Mystery No. 2 is Violet Dewing, an entirely possible an upward step into straight comedy. Even as we talked a capacity house was laughing at his skit, "Who Killed Cock Robin?" just around the corner from his lodgings. So his story was not the invention of a rejected playwright to cover the non-appearance of a play which nobody would produce.

"Isn't it always a mistake to write a play for a particular star?" I suggested. "Seems to me I've read somewhere that that is among the besetting sins of our playwrights."

"Old stuff, my boy; but this isn't one of those cases. The person I had in mind for this play wasn't a star, but a beginner, quite unknown. It was when I was in London putting on 'Fairy Gold' that I saw her; she had a small part in a pantomime, and pantomime is the severest test of an actor's powers, you know. A little later she appeared in 'Honorable Women,' a capital play that died early, but there again I felt her peculiar charm—it was just that. She was exquisite! No one ever captured my imagination as she did. I watched her night after night. I was afraid that when I heard her voice it would break the spell, and I actually shook like a man with an ague when she tripped out on the stage as the ingenue in 'Honorable Women.' And her laughter! You know how hollow the usual stage mirth is, but that girl's laugh had the joy of the lark ascending!"

"By Jove!" I ejaculated, "there's more here than appears. You're in love with the girl!"

"Rubbish," he cried impatiently. "You'll think I'm talking rot, but this girl was the visualization of a character I had dreamed of and groped after for years. That's all; but it's a whole lot, I can tell you!"

"Let us be practical for a moment, Searles," I urged. "Emperors, presidents, and popular murderers are not more conspicuous than the people of the stage. No girl talented enough to get two engagements, even for small parts, in a first-class London theater could vanish. With your acquaintance in the profession you'd be able to trace her anywhere on earth. By the way, what did the paragon call her

She refused to be photographed—wrote it into her two contracts that this was not to be asked. I never saw her off the stage, and I can't give you a description of her that would be of the slightest assistance to the keenest detective alive. In that pantomime she was a frolic, the clown's daughter, and, although nobody saw it, she was the whole piece, the elusive sprite that could evoke laughter and tears by a gesture, a lifting of the brows, a grimace. By utterly different methods in 'Honorable Women' she proved her wide range of appeal. Hers was the one true characterization in the piece. When Terry was in her prime you remember how we used to say that only one bird sang like that, and from paradise it flew? Well, this bird sings on the same branch! Her voice was her charm made audible!"

"Have some more!" I pleaded. "You never talked better in your life." "Don't be an ass," he said sourly. "Let's forget her and take a squint at your affairs. Just what do you mean to do with yourself?"

"My shoulder still creaks a little, and the doctors advise me to sit around for a while. They offered me some jobs in Washington, but desk work and inspection duty are too tame after a couple of years spent in star climbing. I'm going up to Barton-on-the-Sound and I'll camp in the garage on my uncle's place."

"Your uncle played you a nasty trick," interrupted Searles; "getting married and then adding to the crime by dying. You couldn't beat that for general spitefulness."

"Do you remember the immortal lines:

"Oh, skip your dear uncle!
The Bellman exclaimed
As he angrily unknied his bell!"

"Oh, I'm not knocking the dead!" he protested. "Mr. Bashford always struck me as a pretty decent, square sort of chap, and not at all the familiar grouchy uncle of fiction and the drama. I made notes on him from time to time with a view to building a play around him—the perfect uncle, unobtrusive, never blustering at his nephew; translating the avuncular relationship into something remote and

"Like him! It was the greatest shock of my life. To the best of my knowledge he never knew any women except the widow of his partner in the importing house. She was about eighty and perfectly safe. He spent twenty years in the Tiringham, the dullest and most respectable hotel in the world, and his chief recreation was a leisurely walk in the park before going to bed. You could set your clock by him. Pretty thin pickling for a dramatist, I should think. He used to take me to the theater regularly every other Thursday—it was a date—and his favorite entertainment was vaudeville with black-face embellishment preferred. But in his shy fashion he was kind and generous and mighty good to me."

"If you hadn't gone to war, but had kept right at his elbow, the marriage might have been averted," suggested Searles. "He did leave you something, didn't he?"

"Fifty thousand cash and the right to use the garage at the Barton farm. Calling it a farm's a joke; it's rocks mostly. He bought the house to have a place to store his prints and Jap ceramics. He hated motoring except in taxis up and down town, and when I urged him to set up a machine, he told me to go ahead and buy one and build the garage. Told me I'd better fix up the studio in the garage and have it as a place to work in. His will provides that I may lodge in the garage for life."

"The estate footed a million, as I remember, so I can't praise his generosity. But the widow, your unknown auntie, the body-snatcher who annexed the old boy—what of her?"

"I've asked the trust company people whether she's in sight anywhere, and they assure me that she is not on these shores. Torrence, the third vice president—you know Torry; he was in the class ahead of us at college, the man who never smiles—Torry said she acknowledged the last remittance three months ago from Bangkok—wherever that is. I suppose the old girl's resumed her tour of the world looking for another retired merchant to add to her list."

view. Bob's friend Searles has written a play, "Lady Larkspur," especially for her and naturally is combing the universe to find her. Bob goes to the Bashford "farm" at Barton in New England to recuperate. The household is made up of broken-down hotel employees befriended by the uncle—comedy material.

A young and attractive woman arrives and says she's the widow. Bob is quickly captivated. Appears in due course a puzzling stranger, a remarkable fan, and a suspected German spy—material for adventure and incidents both exciting and entertaining, to say nothing of mystery deep and dark.

In the end—but what's the use in spoiling it! Read it for yourself.

CHAPTER I.

The "Troops"

"It was hard luck," said Searles, "that I should spend a year writing a play for a woman only to find that she had vanished—jumped off the earth into nowhere. This was my highest flight, Singleton, the best writing I ever did, and after the vast pains I took with the thing, the only woman I ever saw who could possibly act it is unavailable; worse than that, absolutely undiscoverable! Nobody knows I have this script; I've kept quiet about it simply because I'm not going to be forced into accepting a star I don't want. I have a feeling about this play that I never had about my other things. The public has been so kind to my small offerings that I'm trying to lead 'em on to the heat I can do; something a little finer and more imaginative, with a touch of poetry, if you please. And now—"

He glared at me as though I were responsible for his troubles. As he knew I had been flying in the French aviation corps for two years and had just been inviolated home, I didn't think it necessary to establish an alibi. Fate had been kind to Dick Searles. In college he had written a play or two that demonstrated his talent, and after a rigid apprenticeship as scene-shifter and assistant producer he had made a killing with "Let George Do It," a farce that earned enough to put him at ease and make her by. I assumed that, of course, all I had to do was to finish my play and then have Dalton, who represents me over there, make an appointment to read it to her; but Dalton worked for three months trying to find her, without success. I wasn't the only person who was interested in her. Dalton said that half a dozen managers had their eye on her, but after "Honorable Women" closed she stepped into the void. I knew what you're thinking—that the other members of the two companies she appeared with must have had some inkling of her identity, but I tell you Dalton and I exhausted the possibilities. It was by accident that she got her chance in the pantomime—some one wouldn't do at the last minute, and they gave Miss Dewing a trial. She was well liked by her associates in spite of the fact that she was a bit offish and vanished from their world the minute the curtain fell."

"A clever governess out of a job, satisfying a craving for excitement and playing the mysterious role as a part of the adventure. Am I to assume that you've burned your play and that the incident is closed?"

"Oh, I didn't burn it; I have a copy locked in a safety vault, and Dalton left one heavily sealed at a small exclusive London hotel where, he found after much difficulty, the girl had lodged during her two engagements." "You're morbid," I said. "Show me her photograph."

He laughed ironically. "Never a chance, Singleton! You haven't yet got the idea that this young woman is out of the ordinary,

Nerves All Unstrung

"But Doan's Made Life Again Worth Living," Says Mrs. Harris

"I was in excellent health until my kidneys weakened," says Mrs. N. A. Harris, 1009 Indiana St., Neodesha, Kansas. "The kidney secretions burned like fire and passed so often I couldn't get a moment's rest. My back ached and for days at a time I was fairly tortured with the sharp pains. I couldn't stoop without fairly screaming with misery."

I lost strength and weight and was so weak I became a nervous wreck. Headaches and dizziness added to my distress. My sight blurred; limbs, hands and face were swollen and puffy sacs came under my eyes. I lost hope of being well again."

Finally a neighbor brought me a box of Doan's Kidney Pills, and later I got several boxes. My troubles began to lessen and soon I could sleep all night and wake up refreshed and happy and life was again worth living. I am now a strong, healthy woman and owe my health and happiness to Doan's.

PROCLAMATION

Unusual economic conditions have affected all lines of business and all professions. There is today in Michigan, and this condition is common to all of the States of the Union, an alarming shortage of teachers and the work of our schools is consequently greatly hampered. The need of efficient teaching and anything that interferes with the proper work of the teacher is calculated to do the commonwealth a real injury. What can be done to remedy present conditions? An educational campaign, with a special effort to enlist the interest and sympathy of the best of our young people in the cause of education, ought to be helpful, and the suggestion that a particular week be definitely set apart as School Week seems to me to be a most valuable one.

Therefore, I, Albert E. Sleeper, Governor of the State of Michigan, do issue this my proclamation and designate the week beginning April 11, 1920, as school week; and I urgently request the press, the pulpit, all clubs, and other social and educational organizations, to give thoughtful and earnest consideration to the problem of the supply of teachers, and to set aside some portion of that week for the discussion of this and other school problems.

Given under my hand at the Capitol in Lansing, this thirtieth day of March, 1920.

Albert E. Sleeper, Governor.

"EXECUTED" HIS DEAD BODY

Stern Decree of Justice Carried Out on Corpse of Ancient Dalmatian Archbishop.

Dalmatia has made rapid strides in science and literature, the story of her culture, however, being one of personal achievement rather than public advancement. Zara, its largest city, for example, had no printing press until 1796, while Venetian Dalmatia had only one public school in the eighteenth century.

Roger Joseph Boscovitch, one famous son of Dalmatia, was esteemed by scientists for his work setting forth a new atomic theory, but more popularly known because of the adoption of his plan for assuring the uprightness of the dome of St. Peter's at Rome when a crack was discovered in it. He wrote verse voluminously, but not as successfully as he wrote his numerous scientific treatises.

Marco Antonio de Dominis, another Dalmatian of public note, mingled theology and natural philosophy with serious consequences to himself. He set forth the first correct explanation of the rainbow, but his theological career was less fruitful. As archbishop of Spalato he attacked his superiors in his writings, fled to England, returned to Rome, then did penance by writing a book refuting his heretical works. He was tried, but died before the trial ended. The trial went on and he was sentenced to be dragged through the streets of Rome and burned publicly. His body was removed from his coffin and the sentence executed.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Insist on Genuine Ford Parts

Imitation "Ford" parts are being sold by many mail-order houses, downtown stores and garages to unsuspecting Ford owners as "Ford" parts. But they are not Genuine Ford parts made by the Ford Motor Company. They are made by concerns who have no connection whatsoever with the Ford Motor Company. These imitation parts are not even made from the same grade of steel, or under the same formulas used by the Ford Company. They are counterfeit parts. Tests have shown them to break when the genuine Ford parts didn't even bend, and they generally are from thirty-five to one hundred per cent lower in quality.

The Authorized Ford Dealer is your protection. As such we handle nothing but the Genuine Ford parts. They are made from the famous Ford Vanadium Steel and each part according to its use is heat-treated in the way that will give it the longest wearing qualities. Every part is the same as its duplicate in your Ford car or Ford truck.

Our stock of parts is complete. And our Ford garage and Ford mechanics are at your service at all times. Drive in when replacements or repairs for your Ford car may be necessary. Save your car and also your money.
