Vol. XXXVII

Pinckney, Livingston County, Michigan, Thursday April 15, 1920

No. 16,

OBITUARY

Miss Ruth E. May was born in Cayuga county, N. Y., on March 13, 1835, and passed away on March 28, 1920, at the age of 85 years.

She was one of 9 children, two of whom survive her, William May of Bellaire and Mrs. Watson Lane of Unadilla.

When she was 18 years old she came to Unadilla to join her parents, who had come the preceding year. On March 5, 1857, she was united in marriage to Daniel A. Chapman. To this union was born six children, Emaline C., Clark O., Haskell, Estelle M., Hattie M. and Ella D. Only two are now living: Estelle (Mrs. Worden of Gregory), and Ella (Mrs. Criswell of Stockbridge). Her husband passed away on March 11, 1891. Mrs. Chapman leaves twelve grandchildren and twelve great-grandchildren and a host of friends and other relatives who will miss the happy smile and cheerful ways of one who lived so many years among us.

She united with the Presbyterian church at Unadilla 52 years ago and all these years has continued loyal and faithful to her church and Master.

COUNTY SCHOOLS INFORMATION

This information regarding our schools should be of interest to all.

Total number of schools in the County of one room schools closed 9. Number of teachers in graded districts 18 as follows: Howell 27, Fowlerville 17, Brighton 5, and Pinckney 6.

Newly Hatched Chicks

East Lansing, April—The newly hatched chicks should not be fed during the first two days, nature having provided a source of supplies independent of the feed man for this period, is the information given out by Prof.

chick absorbs the yolk into its body, and utilizes this for nourishment during a period estimated at from 69 to 72 hours. Limited or retarded feeding is advisable at this time, according to the college poultry authority, who makes the statement that the chick should not be fed at all until it is 14 hours old. After the feeding starts, five daily feedings are recommended during the first two weeks, and three weeks after that.

The proper temperature is an important consideration in the handling of young chicks. The following schedule is given by Professor Burgess to govern temperatures for young birds: first week, 85 to 100 degrees Fahr.; second week, 90 to 95 degrees; third week, 85 to 90 degrees; fourth 80 to 85 degrees; fifth week, 75 degrees; sixth to twelfth week, or until they roost at night, 65 degrees.

Plenty of fresh water should be kept before young chicks. They should have all the sour milk they will drink, and should not be over-fed. Leg weakness is caused by over-feeding, lack of exercise, and lack of bone building material in the feed. For this reason ten per cent of bone meal should be added to the meal.

HUMAN REMAINS FOUND AT HOWELL

Last Sunday afternoon while two men were walking through an old gravel pit a short distance from Anpere, near Howell, they discovered a human skeleton. Later investigation by the Sheriff and the Coroner showed two skeletons, one of a man and the other supposed to be that of a woman.

It is thought that the remains were buried at least twenty years ago, but as far as is known no one has been missing from that vicinity who could compare to the size of the bodies found.

6 ROGERS C. H. KENNEDY GENERAL MERCHANDISE

AS A TONIC

Milwaukee, Wis.—"For the last twenty years I have used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery at times, as a general tonic, with excellent results. One bottle in the spring and one in the fall are usually sufficient. It has given me added strength and endurance and has greatly aided me in following the strenuous life of a freight handler. I have also found Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets very beneficial and mild in action. I have been through Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute in Buffalo, N. Y., and have found everything as advertised. The pictures they give of their buildings are genuine."—JOHN W. McLAIN, 188 Wisconsin St.

COUGH CURED

Mayville, Mich.—"I feel it my duty to write this. Four months ago I was a very sick woman, I could not lie down in bed but had to sit up in my chair night and day, had an awful cough. I had two doctors and they said I must cough like that until spring. But I got some of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and began to take it and I then wrote Dr. Pierce for advice, and, thank the Lord and Dr. Pierce's medicine, I am cured of the cough. In one week after I started to take the medicine I began to raise and the cough soon disappeared. I had gone down to about one hundred and thirty pounds, I now tip the scales at one hundred and sixty-six and one-half pounds. I don't feel the need of any more medicine but I shall always keep the 'Discovery' in the house."—MRS. C. B. GLAZIER.

A BLOOD PURIFIER

Cured Inflammatory Rheumatism. Jackson, Mich.—"I feel it my duty to write a testimonial in behalf of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, for the sake of suffering humanity. A year ago this past winter I suffered with inflammatory rheumatism. I suffered about five months and then began the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. After taking five bottles of the above named medicine, I was completely cured. I have not been troubled with rheumatism since. As a blood purifier and for the system generally, I have never found a better medicine."—FRANK GUNN, 1901 E. Main St.

Flint—Mayor Keller signed his name 2,468 times to public improvement bonds for $2,647,500, the biggest issue ever taken in this county. They will provide funds for improving parks, waterworks, sewers, and other public works.

Kalamazoo—Charles Johnson living near here is not worried by the high cost of living, at least not the high cost of eggs. He has a flock of 100 hens which the first 8 months

MONEY IN POULTRY

What New South Wales is Doing.

Americans are learning many things about New South Wales from the Australian soldier, for no one can say he is bashful about boasting his country, and consequently people in the United States have had their appetites whetted for further information regarding the industrial and economic condition of the land that bred the boys of the A. I. F., and in official quarters in New South Wales inquiries as to how best to settle on the land, and chase the dollars most successfully, are flowing in from all portions of North America. The following notes are therefore appended to show that among the many industries that occupy the attention of settlers in New South Wales, poultry farming is an important and ever-increasing enterprise.

The Annual Poultry Conference of New South Wales was held recently at the Hawkesbury Agricultural College, and over 600 people, including a number of ladies and returned soldiers, traveled by special train from Sydney to attend this important function. The visitors inspected the college poultry demonstration farm, and the laying competition birds, which are in single pens, and critical examination was made of the different birds competing. An educational exhibit showing the different products used in the industry was on view, while a basket of eggs typified the record of the competition. (324 eggs laid in 12 months by a Black Orpington.)

In opening the proceedings the New South Wales Minister for Lands, said he represented the Minister for Agriculture at his own request, and his own inclination to be associated with one of the leading industries of New South Wales, the fifth in importance in the State, which brought $3,500,000 annually to the 20,000 engaged therein, and he went on to deal with the

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It

Applicants for Insurance Often Rejected.

Judging from reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has been very successful in overcoming these conditions. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of success.

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview on the subject, made the astonishing statement that one reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of those whose applications are declined do not even suspect that they have the disease. It is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Adv.

to be specified at Oden, six miles north of Petoskey, from the road at once.

Albion.—Twenty-two men, who have been canvassing Calhoun County for memberships in the Farm Bureau, closed their work. Of 2,400 farmers in the county as possible members nearly 2,200 were obtained.

Detroit.—Louise A. Muhlbach, 16 months-old daughter of Alois, 17 Waterloo street, died of poisoning. The child chewed the end of a broom handle, the varnish dissolving and causing an illness which resulted in death.

Mt. Clemens.—The county road commissioners have received word from the State Highway Department that surplus Army road building material and machinery will be given the county to aid in road construction this year.

Standish—Arenac county has mapped out a road building program which will add several miles to the trunk line highways this summer. Ogemaw and Roscommon counties also will undertake extensive improvement projects.

Muskegon—Christopher J. Weller, assistant postmaster at Muskegon, pleaded guilty in United States District Court to a charge of embezzlement of $14,098 of postal funds, and has been sentenced by Judge C. W. Sessions to three years in Leavenworth.

Owosso—Farmers of this county will sell all their wool this year thru the county and state farm bureaus. The state bureau has purchased a warehouse at Lansing, and wool from all over the state will be shipped there, graded and then shipped direct to mills.

Mt. Clemens.—Prosecuting Attorney Johnston has started summoning witnesses for the trial of Lloyd Provost, held in the County Jail, charged with slaying J. Stanley Brown. The case is set for hearing in Circuit Court, May 3. The state will summon approximately 100 witnesses.

Pontiac.—The skeleton of what is believed to be a murdered man was taken from an excavation on the Drake farm, Lake Angelus, where a crew are putting up several cottages. The body, when found by one of the workmen, was standing in an upright position. The condition of the bones leads officers to believe that the body has been buried eight or ten years. The man was about six feet tall.

Detroit.—Dr. Henry F. Vaughan, health commissioner, who is supporting the proposed referendum at the August elections to sanction a $11,000,000 bond issue for a filtration plant, says that the health of the citizens of Detroit will be endangered if they are forced to drink unfiltered water from Lake St. Clair many more years. Last year the city had the lowest number of cases of typhoid in its history, which was possible only with the most careful observance of health rules, Dr. Vaughan said.

Johnston is giving instructions to county doctors regarding prescriptions for whiskey. No doctor may prescribe more than one-half pint for one person at one time, and not more than two prescriptions within 10 days.

Grand Rapids—Maj. Edgar H. Campbell, a member of the state military board, has received information from the adjutant general at Washington, that Grayling will be retained as time camp for the Michigan National Guard. July 1 is the tentative date for this year's camp.

Petoskey—A large camp will be erected in the Petoskey region by the Great Lakes Way Association recently organized to build camps for the accommodation of tourists and resorters. Other camps will be located at Cadillac, Traverse City and Holland. Each will cost about $10,000.

Grand Haven—With the business section here threatened by a fire which had swept along Washington street for several hours two fire companies arrived from Muskegon and checked the spread. One of the city's principal business blocks was destroyed, with an estimated loss of $150,000.

Pontiac—Edward Fransdorf, of Hudson, and Herbert Earle, of Bloomfield Hills, purchased 72 acres of land, used as pasture by the Pontiac State Hospital, for $208,000. A special act of Legislature authorized its sale. The state property is one of the few remaining unplatted tracts inside the city limits.

Houghton.—Otto Tolonen, 18 years old, walked in front of a passenger train, laid down on the track, and waited death. His head and feet were cut off. The engineer and fireman, witnessed the act but were powerless. The victim was identified by his dog which remained by the body. Tolonen had been ill.

Detroit.—Her desire to have fine clothes caused Clara L. Zarembo, 19-year-old postoffice clerk, to steal letters containing money from the mails, she told Judge Arthur J. Tuttle in federal court, when she pleaded guilty to violation of the postal laws. She said she commenced stealing from the mails shortly after she was employed at the postoffice and that she had secured about $100 from letters opened.

Detroit.—Twenty-nine blind persons and 45 cripples were placed in Detroit industrial plants in the past year and are now earning full wages on equal terms with normal workers. The placements were all made by a man who is totally blind himself, and who was able, when it was found necessary, to prove his arguments by actual demonstrations. These statements were contained in a report submitted by Miss Rosetta Stone, executive secretary of the committee of the handicapped, at the annual meeting of the Detroit Community union.

reparation of returned soldiers. The Department had already established three poultry group settlements of a total capacity of 100 farms. All the blocks on these settlements were in occupation by returned soldiers, who were making most satisfactory progress and promised great success in the future. Provision had been made for the training of a number of returned men at the Grantham Government Stud Poultry Farm, while 50 returned soldiers were being accepted at the Hawkesbury College for training in various branches of agriculture, including poultry farming. He also intends to secure further poultry farms in the Cessnock District. Construction work had commenced on two more settlements, which would provide for another 100 men. Thus, up to the present, provision had been made for 200 on poultry farms, while a further 100 blocks were in sight. In addition, land was being bought to provide for 175 farms, making a total of 475, which would be available in six months. In carrying out that program the Department would accomplish an enormous undertaking, and it would stabilize beyond doubt the industry in this State, and place it upon a permanent and satisfactory basis. With 475 settlers placed on poultry blocks in the near future the total estimated cost involved would be £678,125 ($3,245,400) and the expenditure of this vast sum must have a far-reaching effect on the industry.

The Minister also dwelt upon the question of market possibilities, and he forecasted the development of an overseas trade in addition to the supply of the whole of New South Wales.

One of the most conspicuous successes of the Soldier Settlements in New South Wales is the Bankstown Poultry Farm Settlement, situated about 12 miles from Sydney. Here 50 more or less invalided men have been placed each on his own scientifically and well set-up farm, in his own comfortable little cottage, and the whole settlement is surrounded by groves of wattle and gum trees most beautiful to see and most health-giving in effect. This area which previously returned about £100 ($480) per annum will, when the 50 farms are in full production next year, return not less than £20,000 ($98,000).

Such an experiment clearly proves two things, i. e., that repatriation in New South Wales is a tangible reality, and that there is money in fowls. NEW SOUTH WALES INFORMATION BUREAU, 149 Broadway, New York City.—Advertisement.

"TAKING STOCK"

Should Sentiment Always Have Precedence?

"Taking stock" of oneself is a periodical duty, probably not always practiced, and is as necessary as taking stock of your household effects or your "store goods."

If there be a deficit, his endeavor should be to discover the leakage. It may be that he lacks the nerve to go into a retrospective analysis, or falls in initiative that will prompt him to throw his horoscope in the future.

LADY LARKSPUR

MEREDITH NICOLSON

COPYRIGHT BY CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS

"A FOREIGN GENTLEMAN."

Synopsis.—Richard Searles, successful American playwright, confides to his friend, Bob Singleton, the fact that, inspired by the genius of a young actress whom he had seen in London, he has written a play, "Lady Larkspur," solely with the thought that she should interpret the leading character.

"I'll tell you all I know. Just as I was sailing from France I got a letter from Uncle Bob stating in a most businesslike fashion that he was about to be married to a lady he had met on the trip out to Japan.

"You're lucky to have home-folks even in Ohio," I remarked enviously.

"Well, there's always your distant auntie cruising the seven seas in pursuit of husbands. Nobody with an aunt to his credit can pretend to be alone in the world.

"Stop! or I'll call the food censor," I pleaded, picking up my hat. "Send me your copy of 'Lady Larkspur,' and I'll tell you whether it's a classic or not."

"Lady Larkspur," he corrected with a shudder. "You shall have it by trusted messenger tomorrow."

I wired Antoine that I would reach Barton-on-the-Sound the following day. This was September, 1917.

As the train rolled along the familiar shore toward Barton I shook off the depression occasioned by my enforced retirement from the great struggle overseas. I had done under French flag all that it was possible for me to do; and there was some consolation in the fact that by reason of my two years on the battle-line I was separated by a strip of woodland and a formal garden. The garage and quarters for the chauffeur were at one end and at the other were a down-stairs living-room, with a broad fireplace, and three chambers above so planned as to afford a charming view of the Sound, whose shore curved in deeply at this point.

favorable conditions, which may easily be found?

Procrastination is said to be a thief. In this case the axiom is undoubtedly true. To allow the adverse conditions under which you may be laboring to continue may keep you for years longer in the present unsatisfactory position.

There was a man at Brazil, Ind., who made weekly visits for upward of a year to the office of the Canadian government at Indianapolis, Ind., and from the agent secured all the information he possibly could as to conditions in Western Canada. But he lacked decision, did not "take stock," or if he took it, failed to act. This was fourteen years ago. He lived on a small farm, which gave him a mere existence, and no promise of anything more.

That which has been the good fortune of the Brazil glass worker, who had "taken stock" and profited by it, may be that which will follow any other of like temperament and a firm wish to erect for a satisfactory future.

Western Canada submits for consideration and approval conditions in agricultural lines that are exceptional. There is land there that annually produces about the same return as any other farming land, and it can be purchased at but a portion of what the place which has not been a source of profit can be sold for.

World's Two Big Capitals.

New York is undoubtedly the largest city, in respect to population, in this country. Whether it or London is the largest populated city in the world cannot be definitely stated until the census reports (of New York for 1920 and London for 1921) are published; metropolitan London is smaller than New York, but Greater London, with about 8,000,000, is probably larger than Greater New York.

Beyond Challenge.

"Who would you decide is the author in our literature with the largest vocabulary?" "I should say the man who wrote the dictionary."

Fresh air is the best cure for colds.

afterward, I picked up an English paper in a French inn that contained an announcement of the marriage in the usual advertisement form. The lady was succinctly described as Mrs. Alice Wellington Cornford, widow of the late Archibald Reynolds Cornford, Peppercor road, Hants. All Torrence knows of the subsequent proceedings is what he got in official reports of Uncle Bash's death from the consul-general at Tokyo. Whether the widow expects to come to America ultimately or will keep moving through the Orient marrying husbands and burying them is a dark mystery.

"I can see the vampire," said Searles musingly, "landing at the Grand Central with enough hand-luggage to fill a freight-car; a big, raw-boned creature, with a horse face and a horrible mess as to clothes. You will be there to meet her, deferential, anxious to please. You will pilot her up to the coast of Barton, tip the servants heavily to keep them from murdering her, and twiddle your thumbs in your garage as you await her further pleasure. By the way, are those ancient freaks still on the place—those broken-down hotel employees who were your uncle's sole experiment in philanthropy?"

"Torrence assures me they are all very much there." Searles yielded himself to laughter. "An Englishman with lofty ideas of domestic service would certainly enjoy a romp with that crew."

"Oh, they are in the same class with me," I explained. "The place can't be sold till I die, and while I live they're to be harbored—about thirty of them—clothed and victualled."

"I think there's a farce in the idea, and I may try it one of these days," he said, scribbling in his note-book. "A refuge for broken-down chambermaids, venerable bell-hops grown gray in the service, and the head waiter who amassed a fortune in tips and then toyed with the market once too often and lost his ill-gotten gains. What was the head waiter's name who presided with such statefulness in the dining-room of the Tyringham?"

"That's Antoine, who married the assistant housekeeper at the Tyringham. He's the butler and has charge of the place. When I get settled I'll ask you up and you can study the bunch at leisure."

"Splendid! I'll be up in a couple of weeks. I'm going to Ohio tomorrow for a family reunion and a look at the loved spots my infancy knew."

their experience of war before them. The tranquil life that had been recommended by the doctors was not only possible at Barton, but it was the only life that could be lived there. My leisure I meant to employ in beginning a novel that had been teasing me ever since I sailed for home.

Of my uncle Bash I had only the happiest and most grateful memories. Quite naturally it had occurred to me at times, and my friends had encouraged the idea, that my uncle would die some day and leave me his money. There was no particular reason why he should do so, as he had never manifested any unusual affection for me and I had certainly never done anything for him.

Antoine was at the Barton station with the touring-car Uncle Bash had bought to establish communication with the village. Flynn, the big Irishman who had been the doorman at the Tyringham for years and retired because of rheumatism acquired from long exposure to the elements at the hostelry's portals, was at the wheel.

Antoine greeted me with that air of lofty condescension tempered with a sincere kindness that had made him a prince among head-waiters. As I shook hands with him his lips quivered and tears came to his eyes.

I bade Antoine join me in the back seat that he might the more easily bring me up to date as to affairs on the estate.

"It must be a little slow up here after the years you lived in town," I suggested, "but of course you're all old friends."

"Well, yes; all friends," he acquiesced, but with so little enthusiasm that I looked at him quickly. He pretended to be absorbed in the flying landscape at the moment. Flynn, I noticed, was giving ear to our conversation from the wheel.

"It was sad, very sad, Mr. Bashford passing away so far from home, sir. It was a great shock. And he had looked forward for years to a quiet life abroad."

Antoine's speech was that of a well-trained English upper servant, and I imagined that in his youth he had taken some English butler as his model. He used to pretend that he knew French very imperfectly, and I was surprised when he now addressed me quite fluently in that language.

"You have been with the armies of dear France," he remarked. "The war is very dreadful. My parents were of Verdun; it grieves me to know of the suffering in the land of my people."

As I replied sympathetically in French I saw Flynn straighten himself at the wheel with an impatient frown of his head. Antoine indicated him with a contemptuous nod: "Married Elsie, the German woman who worked in the linen-room at the Tyringham! This had caused some trouble, and there is a pantry girl, Gretchen, who was ill for a long time before the master left, and he sent her here for the country air. She is a little devil with her dear Fatherland."

I laughed at the old fellow's gravity and earnestness. That the war should be making itself felt on the quiet acres at Barton-on-the-Sound was absurd.

I was pondering the recrudescence of race hatreds due to the upheaval in Europe when he started me by a statement uttered close to my ear:

"There have been inquiries for the widow; these have caused me much anxiety. It seems that there are persons anxious to see her. There have been inquiries, one—two—three times."

"Probably some of her American friends anxious to pay their respects, or some of the neighbors making calls of courtesy," I suggested.

"A foreign gentleman who acts very queerly," Antoine persisted.

My uncle's widow was a vague, unknown being whom I had never expected to cross my horizons. If she meditated a descent upon Barton-on-the-Sound, the trust company would certainly have had some hint of her approach, but Torrence clearly had had no tidings of her beyond her last communication from Bangkok. Still, it was wholly possible that a globe-trotting widow would have friends in many parts of the world, and I could see nothing disturbing in the fact that inquiries had been made for her. I said as much. Antoine's answer was another shrug and a jerk of his head toward Flynn, as though even the employment of an alien tongue might not conceal our conversation from the big Irishman. When we had reached the farm and were running through the grounds Antoine spoke again.

"We thought we would put you up at the house, Mr. Singleton, and not in the garage," he said inquiringly.

"Not at all, Antoine," I answered quickly. "We must stick close to the law in such matters."

"Very good, sir. Stop at the garage, Flynn."

To the casual observer the garage

WEAK AND WORN?

Has winter left you dull, tired, all worn out? Do you have constant back-ache, with headaches, dizzy spells, sharp, shooting pains, or annoying kidney irregularities? Influenza and grip epidemics have left thousands with weak kidneys and failing strength. Don't wait until serious kidney trouble develops. Help the weakened kidneys with Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's have helped thousands and should help you. Ask your neighbor!

A Michigan Case

John H. Ingles, carpenter, Wood St., Harbor Beach, Mich., says: "I had an attack of lumbago. I had pains across the small of my back and at night I couldn't sleep. Mornings when I got up I wasn't fit to do my day's work. When I stooped over sharp pains would pierce me in the small of my back. I had headaches and suffered from dizzy spells and my feet swelled. Doan's Kidney Pills took the sharp pains away. The dizzy spells left me and my kidneys became normal."

How would YOU like a raise like this?

THAT is the kind of increase in salary the minister has received. His living expenses have risen just as fast and as far as yours.

But he is paid on the average just 52 cents more per church member than he was paid 34 years ago.

The Minister Never Fails You

Every officer of the Government with a war message to deliver appealed to the ministers first of all.

But 80% of the ministers receive less income than government economists figure as a minimum for the support of an average family.

When hospitals need money they enlist the support of the ministers—and receive it.

But when sickness visits the minister or the members of his family they must be treated in a charity ward. His pay is less than a day laborer's.

8 out of every 10 ministers receive less than $20 a week—about half the pay of a mechanic.

We Pay Him Half the Wages of a Mechanic

And of these pitifully inadequate salaries, how much do you contribute? Nothing if you are outside the church; the community. They marry us; bury us; baptize our children; visit us when we are sick. In their hands is the spiritual training of the youth.

We Are All Profiteers at Their Expense

Part of the Interchurch World program is this—a living wage for every minister of Jesus Christ; an efficient plant, and a chance to do a big man's job.

If you want better preachers, help to pay the preachers better. It's the best investment for your community—and for your children—that you can ever make.

Indian Squaw Lays Many Plants and Trees Under Contribution for Her Bright Colorings.

In making Indian dyes the stems of the maidenhair fern and the dark of the willow produce a dark brown; a shining black from the claws of the unicorn plant; a brilliant red from the yucca roots and numerous mineral and vegetable substances yield for her a variety of colors.

The season for gathering the fibers for baskets is when the stalk has finished growing and before it hardens. These the squaw splits and rolls them in cloths or bark and lays them away for future use.

When about to be used the split withes are soaked in tepid water and woven when still saturated with water. Some tree roots, as spruce and cedar, require many weeks of soaking before they are free of all soft matter and ready to be woven.

THE VEGETABLE GARDEN.

Even with very little space one may have a garden and, by having a new crop growing as the crop already matured is being used, there is always something green coming on.

Radishes and carrots may be sowed in the same row; the radishes when pulled will help to loosen the earth around the carrots, and as the radishes grow much faster they are out of the way before the carrots need the room. Vegetables that grow quickly and those that are slower of growth are best to sow together when space is very valuable. Where there is room a small herb bed will be an especial delight. Sage, summer savory, chevil, thyme, marjoram and other herbs will take but a small space and give back large yields of savory herbs which will be used all the year.

Peas can be planted a week apart for four or five crops, if one is fond of that delicious vegetable. Most all gardeners strive for the early varieties of vegetables, but they are not always as well flavored or as satisfactory as those that come a little later.

An asparagus bed, when once started, will bear for years with little care. Asparagus is one of the earliest of vegetables and almost universally well liked. A few cans may be put up for winter after the appetite has been partly satisfied, or when the bed produces abundantly. A can or two may be put up at a time, taking little time and labor.

A few horseradish roots are another vegetable which will be greatly cherished. Grated, the root is a good spring tonic and in the fall the pickle jar lacks flavor if it is not added. This is another vegetable which once started cares for itself.

One or two hills of cucumbers well taken care of will produce all the fresh cucumbers the family will eat, and a vine or two more all the pickles for winter use.

“So you remember me, do you, Pomp?”

inexperienced schoolboy read aloud the admonition to Lucy: He had been taught that when he encountered two letters of the same kind he should pronounce them “double-o,” or whatever they might be. Instead of ‘a,’ ‘o,’ ‘So he sternly recited, not ‘Up, up, up, Lucy! The sun is in the sky,’ and so forth. Why do you not double up, and to your tasks away?”

“That is a very good story,” replied the sluggard, “but it does not move me. We are told that nature does most of her repair work on us while we are in bed. It is my intention to lie here until she fixes me up so that I feel like going to work.”—Kansas City Star.

A very homely man returned to his native town in the South after 15 years' absence. One of the first to recognize him was an old negro.

“So you remember me, do you, Pomp?”

“Couldn't nebbber forgit yo' face, Hammond, nebbber,” grinned Pomp. “Hit's so kinder complicated.”—Boston Transcript.

Where Ignorance Was Bliss.

A farmer saw a boy picking apples from one of his best apple trees. He tried to catch him, says the Weekly Telegraph, but the boy was too quick for him, and so the farmer changed his tactics.

“Not likely!” replied the boy. “Little ones like me don't need to know everything.”

STOMACH TROUBLE AND CONSTIPATION ENDED

Suffered So He Couldn't Work for a Year, but Mr. McCormick Was Cured Promptly.

"I had stomach trouble and constipation for five years. One year of this time I was unable to work, suffering untold agony. I doctored with some of the best physicians, also took many proprietary medicines, but could not find permanent relief. Finally a friend recommended Milk's Emulsion. The first few doses relieved me greatly, and three bottles of it effected a permanent cure."—C. A. McCormick, Anderson, Ind.

Mr. McCormick is only one of many hundreds who have endured torture for years and then found that Milk's Emulsion gives blessed relief and real, lasting benefit. It costs nothing to try.

Milk's Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy and natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength Milk's Emulsion is strongly recommended to those whose sickness has weakened, and is a powerful aid in resisting and repairing the effects of wasting diseases. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. Truly wonderful for weak, sickly children.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milk's Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions, and if not satisfied with the results your money will be promptly refunded. Price 50c and $1.20 per bottle. The Milk's Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold by druggists everywhere.—Adv.

Know His Manners.

A man from one of the back country ranches visited Los Angeles for the first time and went into a restaurant to have dinner.

All went well until the waiter brought him a serviette. The eyes of the rancher flamed and, pulling a six-shooter from his hip pocket told the waiter his mind.

"Take that blamed thing away at once," he said evenly. "I reckon I know when to use a handkerchief without having them darned hints."

SALTS IF BACKACHE AND KIDNEYS HURT

Stop Eating Meat for a While if Your Bladder is Troubling You.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.—Adv.

BISCUITS, BUNS and ROLLS

From the NEW ROYAL COOK BOOK

BISCUIT! What delight this word suggests. So tender they fairly melt in the mouth, and of such glorious flavor that the appetite is never satisfied. These are the kind of biscuits anyone can make with Royal Baking Powder and these unusual recipes.

Biscuits

8 cups flour
4 teaspoons Royal Baking Powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon shortening
1/2 cup milk or half milk and half water

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt, add shortening and rub in very lightly; add liquid slowly; roll or pat on floured board to about one inch in thickness (handle as little as possible); cut with biscuit cutter. Bake in hot oven 15 to 20 minutes.

Royal Cinnamon Buns

3/4 cups flour
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon Royal Baking Powder
1 tablespoon shortening
1 egg
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 tablespoon seeded Raisins

Sift 3/4 cups flour, salt and baking powder; rub shortening in lightly; add beaten egg to water and add slowly. Roll out 1/2 inch thick on floured board; brush with melted butter, sprinkle with sugar, cinnamon and raisins. Roll as for jelly roll; cut into 1 1/2 inch pieces; place with cut edges up on well-greased pan; sprinkle with a little sugar and cinnamon. Bake in moderate oven 20 to 25 minutes; remove from pan at once.

Parker House Rolls

4 cups flour
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon Royal Baking Powder
1/2 tablespoon shortening
1 1/2 cups milk

Sift flour, salt and baking powder together. Add melted shortening to milk and add slowly to dry ingredients stirring until smooth. Knead lightly on floured board and roll out 1/2 inch thick. Cut with biscuit cutter. Grease each circle with back of knife one side of center. Butter the small section and fold larger part well over the small. Place one inch apart in greased pan. Allow to stand 15 minutes in warm place. Brush each with melted butter and bake in moderate oven 15 to 20 minutes.
