SUDDEN CALL

JOHN MONKS COMPLETES LIFE AND DAY'S WORK AT SAME TIME

Monday afternoon, after finishing the day's plowing, John Monks unhitched the team and started for home. When he had reached the lane which leads to the barn he fell to the ground and the team went on alone. Mrs. Monks noticed that her husband was not driving as usual and went up the lane to see where Mr. Monks was. She found him where he had fallen, unconscious but still alive. Hurrying to the house she called for Dr. Sigler and Fr. Crowe. They arrived as soon as possible but were too late to assist the stricken man who had breathed his last breath before help came.

Erwin and Claude Monks of Detroit and Miss Lela Monks of Lansing were notified and arrived home late that evening.

The funeral is being held this morning from St. Mary's Church.

OLD-TIME REUNION

A picnic party assembled in the woods on the "Hog's Back" west of town, last Thursday, in honor of Mrs. Plata Hall of Seattle.

Friends of the old days were invited. Those from out of town who responded were Mrs. D. M. Hodgeman of Oak Grove, Mrs. Bert Hause of Ann Arbor, Mrs. Herbert Shoens of Chelsea, Mrs. Jay Stanton and Mrs. Lura Geddes of Detroit. Guests from town were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lake, Mr. Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. C.V. Van Winkle, Mrs. Ed. Cook, Mrs. Bert Hicks, Miss Clella Fish and Miss Flota Hall. Dinner was served on the ground, and all that one could wish for was before him, and in such abundance that a bountiful supper was prepared from the crumbs.

Melons relieved the hunger between, and many of the childhood games were revived. Pictures of the crowd were taken by Mrs. Geddes, and so enjoyable a time was spent that Mrs. Jay Stanton hoped to duplicate it, and so invited the party to meet at her home in Detroit Wednesday, the 29th of this month.

ESCAPES FROM COUNTY JAIL

Thomas H. Thomas of Jackson, who was in the county jail at Howell awaiting trial on the charge of stealing ten bags of wheat, a bicycle and an automobile tire from the Henry Weimier farm about a week ago, broke jail some time Wednesday night and escaped. He took up the plumbing connection in his cell and with the use of a knife furnished him with his meals, cut a hole large enough for him to squeeze through down into the basement, making his escape through a basement window. Mr. Miller, the sheriff, was away at the time and the man's absence was not discovered by Mrs. Miller until some time after his departure. No clues to his whereabouts have yet been found. — Fowlerville Review.

NINETY YEARS OLD

Wednesday, Sept. 15, eighteen Pinckney friends of Mrs. D. Ewen gathered at her home to help her celebrate her ninetieth birthday. Her son Mr. A. I. Ewen of Ithaca, her brother Mr. William Clark of Pulaski, and his daughter Mrs. Willits of Homer were also there.

The party was a surprise to Mrs. Ewen, but one which she enjoyed very much. After having a pot luck dinner the ladies visited with Mrs. Ewen till late in the afternoon.

Mrs. Ewen was born in Lincolnshire, Eng., not far from London. She came to this country in 1840. The journey, which was her wedding trip, was made in a sailing vessel which took six weeks to cross the Atlantic. Mrs. Ewen says that ocean steamers were rarely seen at that time.

After living one year in Ohio Mrs. Ewen and her husband came to Michigan where she has been ever since. For the past 44 years she has lived in Pinckney in her present home. She was for many years an excellent carpet weaver, showing unusual skill and taste in designing and making rag carpets. Mrs. Ewen is remarkably well preserved for her age, and she frequently walks a mile from her house, a distance of nearly a mile.

BOMB EXPLOSION IN WALL STREET

MORE THAN 30 KILLED AND OVER 200 INJURED BY BLAST IN FINANCIAL DISTRICT.

$1,000,000 PROPERTY DAMAGE

Police Believes Clue Is Unearthed
With Discovery of Shortage of Stock Explosive.

New York.—A mysterious explosion in Wall street, near Bond, believed by trained department of justice and police investigators to have been caused by an infernal machine, rocked the heart of New York's financial district, leaving death and destruction in its wake.

At least 32 persons were killed, more than 200 were injured, the banking house of J. P. Morgan & company, the treasury and the assay office were partially wrecked and property damage estimated in excess of $1,000,000 was caused by the blast.

New York.—A clue to the source of the explosive which rocked New York's financial district was unearthed by the fire department after a three day search of all establishments carrying explosives as a stock in trade.

The location and name of the establishment was not made public. A fire department official made the simple announcement that "a suspicious shortage of explosives had been found and that there was no explanation of where it went."

It was further stated that all the facts had been put in possession of department of justice and police officials.

EXTENSION GRANTED NEWBERRY

Washington.—A second extension of time, to Oct. 18, for filing the record in the appeal of Truman H. Newberry and co-defendants from the verdict of the Federal District Court of Eastern Michigan has been granted by the Supreme Court.

Only the record is required to be filed on the date set. The briefs of the applicants and the government will not be filed until later. It is considered doubtful if the case will be argued at the coming winter term.

Since Mr. Newberry has indicated his intention not to try to resume his seat in the Senate pending final decision of the case, Michigan seems likely to be without its allotted representation during the entire short session of Congress, convening in December.

The appeal for additional time for preparation of the case was made by Charles E. Hughes, who has obtained Martin W. Littleton as chief counsel for the defendant.

SEN. JOHNSON TO "STUMP" EAST

Hiram Plans On Coming to Indiana
On Speaking Tour.

Chicago.—Senator Hiram Johnson expects to come east and speak in the campaign and may include Indiana in his itinerary, especially the great industrial district about Gary, where the iron and steel mills are located.

Senator Johnson has written a letter to C. G. Kingwill of Hammond, in which he says:

"My plans are still vague, but I am hoping to come to Indiana in behalf of the Republican ticket. If I do come into your state, I shall be more than delighted to come into Lake county. I want to explain to your people there my appreciation of their very great kindness to me in the presidential primary."

OUSTED SOCIALISTS REELECTED

Five Assemblymen Who Were Denied
Seats Defeat Fusion Candidates

New York.—The five socialist assemblymen who were expelled from the state legislature last spring on charges of disloyalty, were re-elected at special elections held here.

The vote in the five districts where the ousted assemblymen ran was light compared with that when they were chosen at the general election last November. In the eighth district New York county, Louis Waldman, socialist, was elected over Morris B. Reiss, the fusion candidate, by a vote of 3,066 to 2,222.

Samuel A. Dewitt defeated the fusion candidate, Milton Altshuler, in the third Bronx district, 3,865 to 3,310.

DESCHANEL RESIGNS AS PRESIDENT OF FRANCE

M. PAUL DESCHANEL

Paris.—Paul Deschanel, president of France, has presented Premier Millerand with a letter of resignation, and his presidential message which accompanied it has been read to the Senate and the Chamber of Deputies.

The resignation of M. Deschanel comes at the end of almost 45 years of active political life during which he rose from a cabinet officer's secretary and finally to the post of chief citizen of France to which office he was elected January 7, last.

In the early morning of May 27, just five months after his election, M. Deschanel fell from a moving train while en route from Paris to Montbrison to dedicate a monument. His failure to fully recover is believed to be the reason for his resignation.

FIGHTS TO KEEP ON FOOD STRIKE

DR. SEDGWICK, WHITEHALL,
HELD FOR MURDER OF WIFE AND DAUGHTER.

VICTIMS STRANGLER TO DEATH

Accused Doctor Refuses to Speak or Eat; Believed Mentally Unbalanced, Says Brother.

Muskegon.—Physicians made an unsuccessful effort to forcibly feed Dr. Otis W. Sedgwick, of Whitehall, held here, who has refused to eat or talk since he was arrested in connection with the deaths of his wife and three-year-old daughter Ruby. The bodies were found on the lawn at the physician's home in Whitehall. Examining physicians said death was due to strangulation.

Dr. Sedgwick is said to have fought two physicians who attempted the forcible feeding. A small quantity of water was forced down his throat, however.

Herbert Sedgwick, brother of the physician and secretary to the mayor of New Haven, Conn., has informed authorities here that he is sending records from institutions where the doctor is said to have been confined. Mrs. Sedgwick and her daughter were sent to the family home in Forestport, N. Y. Mrs. Sedgwick formerly was a professional singer in Utica, N. Y.

The 18-months-old baby of Dr. Sedgwick, found sleeping in the home after the finding of the bodies, also will be taken to the home of the grandparents.

LESS HARD COAL IS PRODUCED

Slump of 70 Per Cent Due to "Vacations," Report Shows.

Washington.—Production of bituminous coal in the United States fell 70 per cent during the week ended Sept. 11, the first full week following the "vacation" walkouts of the anthracite miners, it was reported by the Geological Survey. With production shortened also by suspension of work on Labor Day, the total number of cars loaded was only 10,640 as compared with more than 35,000 cars the last week preceding the walkout. Although the total production of bituminous coal, 10,566,000 tons, also reflected the loss of one day, the daily average production was slightly above that of the preceding week, the total output for which was 11,170,000 tons.

Y., to supply power for a new manufacturing plant at that place. The proposed project will generate 6,000 horse power and the power plant itself will be built over the Government dam at Troy, for which the company already has purchased land on Green Island.

Boundary Commission May File Suit Against Wisconsin.

Lansing.—Members of the Michigan Boundary Commission, created by the last Legislature, were in Lansing to arrange with Alex J. Groesbeck, attorney-general, for filing a suit in the United States Supreme Court to compel Wisconsin to relinquish 400 square miles of land which the commissioners say their investigations have proved belong to Michigan.

One Capt. Cram, in 1841, made a mistake in a survey, the commissioners declare, with the result that Wisconsin for three-quarters of a century has been administering the law and collecting the taxes on lands which rightfully belong to this state. The territory in controversy includes Hurley, Wis., once famous for having the most saloons per capita of population of any village in the country. It also includes several islands in the Menominee River, on one of which stands a statue of Isaac Stephenson, former United States senator from Wisconsin.

AVIATOR HURT BY PROPELLOR

McLoughlin, Who Appeared At Recent
Michigan Fair, Injured in N. Y.

Syracuse.—Five hundred feet in the air, in view of 80,000 visitors at the State Fair, "Tex" McLoughlin, airman, was badly injured, when struck by the propeller of the higher airplane to which he had transferred himself in mid-air.

He clung to the rope ladder of the machine until it reached the ground, blood dripping over the spectators as the machine circled in descending, partially out of control. McLoughlin was still conscious when reached, though he had been dragged more than 100 feet on the ground. He is in the Crouse-Irving Hospital and will recover.

McLoughlin was one of the stunt aviators appearing at the Michigan State Fair, at Detroit, held recently.

U. S. CHARGES PRISON CRUELTY

Federal Prisoners in Maryland State Penitentiary Ordered Removed

Washington.—All federal prisoners in the Maryland state penitentiary will have to be moved to another institution as a result of an investigation of charges of brutality practiced there, it was announced at the department of justice. Assistant Attorney General Adams has approved the report of federal inspectors recommending the removal of the prisoners. It was stated, but none of the details of the conditions found to exist in the penitentiary were made public.

The Deputy Sheriff of the Michigan State Penitentiary, who was injured by the pipes blew up. Instead of the ceremony the congregation had to watch the fire department at work.

Hydro-Plane Lost in Alps.

Geneva.—A large hydro-airplane, which was last seen over the Alps near St. Gothard, is being searched for. The machine is believed to have fallen into an abyss. It was on its way from Italy to Finland, piloted by an Italian aviator and with a Finnish officer and a passenger, having been bought for the Finnish army.

Would Starve, Rather Than Beg.

Los Angeles.—"I'd rather starve to death than beg. I've not eaten a meal in 12 days, but I'd go along until the end before I'd beg for anybody." That is what 80-year-old Patrick Dempsey told the Santa Monica police. He was found under the shelter of the Palisades, where he had built a fire, by which he was seated.

Mexico Orders 37 New Ships.

Ottawa.—The new government of Prince Rupert Drydock Co. to build Mexico has placed an order with 37 ships, mostly oil tankers. The contracts have been handed to the minister of marine for indorsement, the company applying for the government guaranty as provided in the shipping legislation passed at the last session of Parliament.

The Double Squeeze

BY HENRY BEACH NEEDHAM

Illustrated by IRWIN MYERS

Rome remembers to this day what ensued. The alcoholic eruption ended shortly after midnight. Barney Larkin, a dirty sweater draped to his head about his powerful shoulders, his head bare save for a wreath flched from the tomb of Raphael, paraded up and down the middle of the Piazza di Spagna, pausing only to cool his brow in Bernini's nautical fountain, and proclaimed himself Caesar! At his heels shuffled the riffraff, tagrag, and bobtail of modern Rome shouting: "Evviva l'Amer-i-ca-no!" It required six Roman policemen, reinforced by a pair of Carabinieri, to complete his arrest. The next day he pitched one of the most effective games of his careless career.

This game was staged in the Villa Borghese, where Rome annually engages in the battle of flowers. It was a rare occasion, honored by the king of Italy and his suite, all in brilliant uniform—especially the representative of the cavalry arm who wore a long cape of Alice blue. The diplomatic corps contributed quantities of gold lace to render the spectacle even more splendid. It really transcended the posters with which the late Phineas Barnum was wont to commemorate the performances of his circus before "the crowned heads of Europe." Barney Larkin said it beat pitching on ladies' day with the president of the United States looking on

Up went a shout. The tying run was scored for the Giant-killers! And like unleashed lightning the batsman was making tracks for first base.

At the same time, rounding third and never pausing for an instant, the base runner who had been on second was coming home. Of course he was crazy! The pitcher would look up, see him halfway to the plate, toss the ball to the catcher, and the foolish base runner would be an easy out.

But the pitcher was rattled. Already the score had been tied. He must make sure of one putout. So blindly, he wheeled and threw the ball to first base. The man who had bunted was out by inches. But—another runner had flashed over the plate!

The Giant-killers had won! When it was explained to him, the king congratulated Tris Ford. The next thing John Bismar got the manager's ear: "That proves it—proves you have the best team. With the king of second basemen in the game you would have won the world's championship—sure!"

In a grotto of the Borghese gardens they met right after the game. With his uniform there was no mistaking his profession. He was a ball player. And she had said she didn't care for baseball! Courageously, but not with much confidence, he had submitted to the test. She should look upon him in his true setting—in the pastime he loved. If he was to lose out in the Important Game, as he had seated next to Victor Emmanuel III, to explain the game to his majesty. In the adjoining box was the American ambassador. His excellency John Bismar had with him Mrs. Leonard and her daughter, Imogen Leonard. He had insisted that they be his guests, and as James Winton Shute offered no objection—indeed, offered no conflicting invitation—the ladies had accepted.

Baseball history repeats itself. The Giant-killers went to bat in the last half of the ninth inning with the score 2 to 1 against them. On the first ball pitched, Ryan singled—and the king nodded approvingly at Tris Ford, who was trying to sit unmoved in his chair. The Giant-killers then fooled their opponents—rated as the world's champions—who figured that Olds, the next man up, would bunt. Instead of that, the signal was given for the hit and run, and Ryan sprinted for second base at the same time Olds was swinging at a fast ball. Expecting a bunt, the first baseman was almost toppled over by the "grass cutter" and juggled it long enough to let the batter get to first and Ryan to second. A moment later the pair pulled off the double steal. There was a man on third, a man on second, and nobody out!

John Bismar leaned into the adjoining box and whispered to Tris Ford: "Exactly the situation in the last game of the world series!"

"One big difference," corrected the manager of the Giant-killers, "there ain't the same lad at bat. Watch!" The man who came to bat in the crisis had a familiar bearing. He carried himself like a figure known to this recital. But his face was either unknown or strangely transformed. The sporting writers at home could have explained this: Those prehistoric caps worn by the Giant-killers! Long had the homely headgear been condemned as something which dated known as "rounders," but Tris Ford back to the time when baseball was wouldn't change. To alter the design might bring bad luck! Now the man at bat was glad that there had been no change. Not a soul—not even herself—would recognize him!

He shifted around restlessly at the plate. "Hardest man to pitch to in the league!" he was called. "One ball." "One strike!" he had let it go by. He moved about, swung his bat, raised his shoulders to let out a kink in his muscles, and, quickly but unobtrusively, pulled down the visor of his cap.

Instantly the runner on third edged off the bag, more and more, and the moment the pitcher lifted his arms and began to wind up he dashed for the plate. There was a gasp, for it seemed that the man was rushing in to certain destruction. But the agile youth at bat reached out and deftly tapped the ball! It rolled with exasperating slowness toward the pitcher, who was hurrying to field it

STANDARDIZATION IS ESSENTIAL FOR ECONOMICAL MARKET SYSTEM

The basket on the right may appear to hold more potatoes, but in fact it contains fewer potatoes than the one on the left.

It is generally agreed that if food costs are to be lowered a more economical system of distribution of farm products must be perfected and placed in practical use.

Standardization, say experts of the bureau of markets, United States department of agriculture, is the essential basis for such a system. This means not only standard grades for fruits and vegetables, but standards for the containers in which they are packed.

Should Sell by Weight. The bureau of markets is charged with the enforcement of the United States standard container act which provides only for standard capacities for grape and berry baskets used in interstate commerce. The application of this law has resulted in the widespread use of these containers in intrastate commerce also, for shippers have come to appreciate the benefits derived from the use of uniform methods of marketing such fruits.

Standardization of larger shipping containers, such as hampers and round-stave baskets, is equally desirable, say the bureau's experts. Of course the best method is to sell produce by the pound, but where it is impracticable to sell by weight uniform containers should be used. Bushel baskets of peaches from Georgia and Colorado should contain the same quantity of peaches. The same is true in hampers or baskets. An illustration of how the present methods result in dissatisfaction is the case of a Florida producer who recently shipped potatoes to the New York market in a container with which the trade was not familiar. Although the potatoes were of high quality difficulty was experienced in disposing of them. When they were finally sold the price was considerably lower per pound than that commanded by potatoes packed in the customary manner.

At present there are about fifty types of hampers and over twenty sizes of round-stave baskets in use. Many of these sizes are simply the outgrowth of custom in various shipping localities; others are used for the express purpose of deception. And aside from the confusion and uncertainty that result from the use of dozens of different kinds of containers millions of dollars are annually lost through destruction of produce in transit on account of the weak construction of the containers used.

Would Reduce Number of Containers. Many large growers, shippers and basket manufacturers appreciate the desirability of reducing the number of these containers, and a nation-wide movement is on foot to eliminate many of them. Co-operative selling organizations are already doing much to promote uniformity and standardization. It means money to them not only because of the familiarity of the trade with the containers used but in permitting methods of loading into cars that reduce the likelihood of breakage to a minimum.

After a careful canvass of the situation the bureau of markets believes, and in this those who have studied the problem are of the same opinion, that the standard hampers and four stand-specifications provide for volume, dimensions or shape and strength. In addition to the advantages of uniformity the adoption of these sizes will enable the railroads to work out load- ing rules that will permit of a more intensive utilization of car space, and which will be bound to reduce to a minimum claims on account of damage in transit.

THICKEN STAND OF ALFALFA

Labor Involved and Cost of Seed is Little Compared With Plowing and Reseeding.

While it is not always possible to thicken a thin stand of alfalfa, the labor involved and the cost of seed is little as compared with plowing and reseeding entirely, which makes a trial well worth while. It is worth trying if the old plants are hardy and vigorous, indicating favorable soil conditions. If the old plants are weak it is well to learn the difficulty before spending more money and time to get a stand.

INCREASED NUMBER OF EGGS

Ten Hens Given Abundance of Room Will Lay More Than Twenty in Crowded Enclosure.

It has been shown that ten hens in a house that gives them plenty of room will lay more eggs than 20 hens that are crowded; hence, one not only gets fewer eggs when there are too many hens together, but the cost of the food is greater and the amount of the work is increased.

A Good Triumvirate.

Charcoal, grit and oyster shell constitute a triumvirate that possesses little real food value, yet in their physical action they are indeed important for the prosperity of fowl life.

Fowls Need Dust Bath.

Chickens never wash, as many other birds do, but cleanse themselves of insects by wallowing in soil. For this reason every poultry house should be provided with a dust box.

Diamonds were first found in India.

DESTROY LICE IN BROODERS

Excellent Plan to Make Sure That All Vermin is Cleared From Coops Before Storing.

After the chicks get too big for brooders or coops and are ready to start roosting in the houses, it is well to make sure no lice or mites remain in the coops and brooders before they are put away for next season.

Make Use of Pastures.

At present prices for grain feeds every effort possible should be made to make profitable use of late fall pasturage.

RIDDING LAND OF THISTLES

Alfalfa is Excellent Crop as it is Cut Three Times in Season, Thus Killing Weeds.

Alfalfa is a splendid crop to rid land of Canada thistles, because the alfalfa is cut three times during the summer and the Canada thistles will soon become exterminated, if they are cut three times a year, so this is a good way to get rid of them and make a good crop besides.

Cull in Wrong Way.

A good many farmers cull their poultry flocks in the wrong direction. By this it is meant that they sell some of their best fowls instead of always marketing the poorest specimens.

Important Factor.

The important thing in raising chickens is to see that they are fed liberally and have proper conditions for development so they will make a continuous growth.

A Wild, Open-Air Life.
Postmaster General Burleson said at a San Francisco luncheon, apropos of a political dispute:
"Our opponents put up a very warm but very unsatisfactory defense. They remind me of the chorus girl."
"A young divine met in Broadway a chorus girl from his home town. In the course of their conversation the divine said:
"You like the city best, Lalage, but I love a wild, free, open-air life."
"And don't I too?" the chorus girl protested hotly. "Every evening after the show I get my supper on a roof garden."

Glady and George, recently engaged, were having one of their spats. Glady was endeavoring to make things clear to George, who was inclined to be obstinate.
"No, George, dearie," said she. "I am afraid it's quite impossible. The thing can never be. We should never get on well together. You know I always want my own way."
"That will be all right, Glady," replied George, "you can continue wanting it after we are married."

PARIS PLAID MAD

Fashion Land Seized With Fad for Black and White.

Color Combination Prevails in Skirts, Suits and Jackets—Laces in the Lintelight.

After months of subdued colors and deepest mourning Paris has been suddenly seized with a fad for wearing plaits and plaids in black and white. Since a few dressmakers displayed some summer models with black-and-white designs in accordion plaits, the novelty has been taken up along the boulevards, and after a popular run at the races continued in favor long after the usual time for such innovations had expired.

Plaits are coming out stronger and bolder. And black-and-white check skirts and suits are now included in the models. The fabric makers are showing plaited braid, and dressmakers have accepted the patterns. The black-and-white craze has not left the male apparel untouched. Suits in black-and-white stripes and black-and-white checks are numerous in the show windows and on the streets. At the race-courses black or white jackets with black-and-white striped or checkered skirts predominate.

Other combinations are in white chiffon trimmed with black embroidery or black net embroidered in big white flowers, and likewise there's any amount of black lace worn over white satta. A popular model is a white silk

Simple frocks and plenty of them is the best possible guide to the mother who would have her small daughters

Sport outfit with black-and-white wool skirt with popular checks and accordion plaits; topped with black sweater and white striped scarf.

Jersey with black lace inserts, relieved with white motifs. Coarse linens will be worn, although quite expensive. Another dainty innovation is the revival of the figured parasols and organdie dresses. Painted dresses, with batik flowers, will afford cheerful combinations in color with the graceful parasol.

Snakes Supplant Bluebirds. The last season's vogue of patterned lingerie which specialized in cerulean-hued bluebirds and butterflies is on the wane—probably because our bluebird guest has been back on his native shores for some time. Whenever any pattern is used, it is some bizarre, weird creation such as a wriggling green snake, a garment-free cannibal, or a bevy of alligators.

groomed is always attractive looking. Elaborately trimmed dresses are never in good taste for children. Another point that should be considered when planning clothes for members of the younger generation is the matter of type. There are plain tailored children and fluffy-ruffles children, just as there are different types of grown-ups, and certainly the blue-eyed cherub with golden curls and the dark-eyed youngsters with straight, dark hair, bobbed just below the ears, do not require the same styles in clothes.

For warm weather organdie has had a great vogue this season, sharing honors with dotted swiss. Volles have rather gone a-begging, although some dainty little volles frocks have been brought out. Volles does not generally launder quite as attractively as organdie, which probably accounts for the leaning to the latter fabric.

For next season, in cotton fabric frocks, plain colors will predominate, as at present. Where checks are used they will generally be rather small. The striking Scotch plaid gingham has not been very popular for several seasons with designers of very high class frocks for children.

Autumn's Hats Are Gay. Feminine New York says that autumn hats must cover the eyebrows, and that the brim must not be even. These hats will be properly covered with fruits, and no somber colored hats will be seen. Leading colors are copper, royal and Algerian blue, mahogany, cerise, jade green, chow brown and canary yellow. Gaudy embroideries in soutache, wool, tinsel, metallic threads and celluloid or wooden beads carry out the Eastern effect.

FABRICS NAMED FOR CITIES

Origin of Names of Many Popular Materials Traced to Various Foreign Towns and Villages.

The origin of the names of popular fabrics is even more interesting than the tracing to third lingual roots of ordinary words, says a writer in the New York Evening Mail.

About the year 1829 the woolen trade of England became located at Worsted, about fifteen miles from Norwich, and it was at this place that the manufacture of the twisted double thread woolen, afterward called worsted, was first made, if not invented.

Linsey-woolsey was first made at Linsey, and was for a long time a very popular fabric.

Kerseymere takes its name from the village of Kersey, and the mere close by it, in the county of Suffolk.

We have to thank Gaza, in Palestine, the gates of which Samson carried away, for gaze or gauze. Gaza means "treasure." Voltaire, wishing to describe some intellectual but dressy woman, said: "She is an eagle in a cage of gauze."

Muslin owes its name to Mossoul, a fortified town in Turkey in Asia.

Tulle obtains its name from that of a city in the south of France. Travelers by rail in Brittany often glide past Guingamp without remembering that it was here that was first produced that useful fabric, gingham.

Damask derives its name from the city of Damascus; calico from Calicut, a town in India formerly celebrated for its cotton cloth, where also calico was printed; cambric from Cambray, a town in Flanders, where it was first made; and tweed from a fabric worn by fishermen upon the River Tweed.

Scrim Curtains. A very effective curtain is made of scrim and is put on curtain rods, both top and bottom. Stretch the curtains tight; they can be washed and hung when wet. This stretches and dries them at the same time. It saves time and doesn't make curtain washing a burden. This kind of curtain is especially attractive when a draping of some kind is hung with it.

"ASPIRIN"

WARNING! Unless you see the name "Bayer" on tablets you are not getting genuine Aspirin prescribed by physicians for 20 years and proved safe by millions. Name "Bayer" has same meaning as 14 Karat on gold.

SAFETY FIRST! Accept only an "unbroken package" of genuine "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin," which contains proper directions for Headache, Earache, Toothache, Neuralgia, Colds, Rheumatism, Neuritis, Lumbago, and for pain generally. Strictly American!

Handy tin boxes of 12 tablets cost but a few cents—Larger packages. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monacochemicalwerke of Barmen, Germany.

Convivial Gentleman Preferred to Buy His Wine Rather Than Comply With Wife's Request.

Three men about town had a very good day at the races. Each vowed that he would go home and cheerfully obey the first request that his wife made him. A bottle of wine depended upon the result.

The following night they compared notes. "My wife told me, as I slipped on the cat's saucer, to break all the china in the house, so I did," said No. 1. "I happened accidentally to sit on the piano," said No. 2, and my wife

WHY DRUGGISTS RECOMMEND SWAMP-ROOT

For many years druggists have watched with much interest the remarkable record maintained by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine. It is a physician's prescription. is as profitable as grain growing. Successes as wonderful as those from growing wheat, oats, barley, and flax have been made in raising Horses, Cattle, Sheep and Hogs. Bright, sunny climate, nutritious grasses, good water, enormous fodder crops—these spell success to the farmer and stock raiser. And remember, you can buy on easy terms.

Farm Land at $15 to $30 an Acre

Land equal to that which through many years has yielded from 20 to 40 bushels of wheat to the acre—grazing land convenient to good grain farms at proportionately low prices. These lands have every rural convenience; good schools, churches, roads, telephones, etc., close to live towns and good markets. If you want to get back to the farm, or to farm on a larger scale than is possible under your present conditions, investigate what Western Canada has to offer you.
