Farm and Garden

Early cabbage should be in the garden now. If necessary to purchase plants, Early Jersey Wakefield is a good variety.

A small tarred felt disk placed on the ground around the stem of each plant will help control the cabbage maggot.

Early potatoes are now being planted on warm sandy soils. Irish Cobbler and Early Ohio are excellent varieties to grow in Michigan.

For potato scab, soak the tubers 30 minutes in a solution of Formalin (1 pint to 30 gallons of water). This should be done before the potatoes are cut.

This is a good time to divide and reset perennial flowering plants such as larkspurs and phlox. These often do better if the clumps are divided every three or four years.

"Strawberry Shortcake in October". You can have it if you set everbearing strawberry plants now. We have found the Suberb one of the best varieties of this type.

Better tomato plants are secured by giving them plenty of space in which to grow. Remove the plants from the seed boxes and transplant them at least two inches apart in flat or shallow boxes.

South-western Michigan stood the brunt of the state's fruit loss in last week's freeze, according to reports from over the state which have been gathered by the Horticultural Department at M. A. C. Severe damage to certain crops is noted from this section, particularly in Berrien County, while reports from the northern part of the state indicate but slight loss to cherries and apples there.

God news for lovers of "sputtering row" apples by the fireside is contained in the report from the college that winter varieties of apples, over the entire state, show only slight damage. In fact, late varieties in general seem to have escaped the ravages of the April freeze.

An estimate of the damage caused in the South-western parts places the grape loss at about 80 per cent;

FORD COMPANY READY TO BUY

The Ford Company is now ready to buy the land along the creek and Mill Pond, needed by the company for its water power site.

Mr. Leibold of the Ford Company was here Monday and ordered all those who gave options on land to get their abstracts ready, as Ford is ready to take the property over.

NEW DECORATOR

J. M. Bennett, formerly a decorator in Detroit, has opened a shop in the old Irvin Kennedy blacksmith shop.

Mr. Bennett is an all around painter and decorator and comes highly recommended. He has been living at Paterson Lake but has decided to locate here permanently.

Present: President, Clerk, and Trustees Capple, Weeks, Read, Kennedy and Carr.

The following resolution was submitted to the council, which reads as follows:

Be it further resolved that notice of this resolution and of said meeting be given by publishing a copy of said resolution in the Pinckney Dispatch for two consecutive weeks prior to said day of hearing.

The Spider as a Silk Maker. Successful experiments have been recently made in the island of Madagascar with the use of spider's web in the place of the thread of the silk worm in the manufacture of silk. It is claimed that a fabric has been made from the spider's thread that is far superior in many respects to anything that has ever been devised.

"BILL" HAYWOOD REPORTED IN RUSSIA; DUE TO ENTER PRISON THIS WEEK.

U. S. ATTORNEY PLANS SEARCH

Expect Definite Information in Short Time; Representative Makes Excuses For Haywood.

Chicago.—Federal officials have received confidential information that William D. Haywood, secretary of the I. W. W. and scheduled to begin a sentence at the Leavenworth, Kans., penitentiary, had fled from the United States and now is in either Moscow or Riga.

Otto Christensen, attorney for Haywood, said he had been informed that Haywood sailed from New York on the Oscar II, about April 1, and landed at Riga about April 16. He said he thought Haywood had gone to Russia on a personal mission and that he was not fleeing from the penitentiary sentence.

"This information came to me and I immediately communicated it to Mr. Clyne," said Mr. Christensen.

"It was the first intimation I had that Haywood was not in the country, and I do not believe that even his closest friends knew he planned to go to Russia. I am sure he went on a personal mission—provided he did go—and that this reported trip has nothing to do with the I. W. W. in this country.

"Haywood has not been fleeing from his penitentiary sentence, for he has too much sense to do that. His position in the labor world over here is such that for him to flee would simply result in hari kari and do him and his cause more harm than good. He knows that.

"I am making every effort to reach him and as soon as I can get word to him that he is wanted here, I am sure

NOVEL AND SATISFACTORY PLAN BETWEEN LANDLORD AND TENANT

Fixed Wages Plus a Share in Profits Give Zest to Farm Work.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture)

"I took the same interest in my work as a tenant as I take in my own farm. I began work without a dollar and with very little knowledge of farming, but while I was on the farm I learned a good deal. I had ample opportunity to study the principles controlling crop growth, soil improvement, stock management, etc. The inspiration I received was valuable indeed, and during my period of service I earned enough money to buy the small farm on which I now live."

This extract from a statement made by a former farm tenant employee, now a farm owner, reviews a relationship between owner and tenant that a great many persons on both sides of the farm-landlord situation may well envy. There is possibly no subject connected with the business of farming which leads to as many misunderstandings, dissatisfactions and mutual labor, machinery repairs, depreciation, and the cost of fertilizers and seeds.

Each of the two managed farms has a house for the manager, who also can use the work horses to drive for personal use, has a garden, and a cow or two for supplying the family with milk and butter. Fifty chickens are furnished, and the family is permitted to raise as many as possible to supply the needs of the farm table, but on December 1 all the chickens above the original number must be sold, and the landlord gets one-half the receipts. The purpose of this limit on chickens is to enable the manager to have his own poultry supply without taking undue advantage of his opportunity.

In order to calculate the amount of money which the manager is to receive on this plan it is necessary to do a certain amount of bookkeeping. This is left to the owner, who keeps a set of farm accounts, and on March 1 a complete inventory is taken and a golden rule would ever bring about satisfactory arrangements between the owner and occupant of a farm, and yet, in this case, there was nothing eleemosynary in the arrangement.

Tested by Fifteen Years' Trial.

The man who made the statement quoted above was for a number of years the manager of one of two ordinary-sized hog farms owned by a man in Illinois, and the plan under which he was engaged as farm manager has been followed by the owner with almost unflinching success for more than fifteen years. Briefly, the plan was nothing more or less than a straight annual salary which included tenant house and the usual garden and poultry perquisites, and, as a bonus, a share of the net profits.

The profit-sharing plan has served to stimulate the efforts of the employee and has greatly lessened the supervision necessary on the part of the owner. By the use of the telephone and occasional visits he is able to keep in touch with the farm problems and to co-operate effectively with the manager. Since the owner was farming himself it was important that the management of his other two farms take as little of his time as possible. Thus far the managers have been selected from the men employed on the home farm, which serves as a training school.

How Net Income Is Determined.

The managers are given a regular monthly wage and a bonus consisting of one-third of the net farm income. In determining the net income 5 per cent interest on the valuation of the property is first taken out, as due return for capital, after which all expenses are deducted, such as for thrashing, the manager's wage, extra cropland, or a portion thereof which is unavoidable, thus cutting down the income of the manager, the owner makes some allowance and gives the manager, in addition to the wages he has received, what he thinks is due him for the work he has done, and the responsibility he has assumed.

In the period before war inflation the managers made from $41 to $49 per month the year round, in addition to having their rent, garden, milk, butter and eggs. The manager of the smaller farm, comprising 98 acres, received $35 a month straight wages for four years up to 1918, and his bonus averaged $168 a year. The manager of the other farm, comprising 160 acres, formerly received $30 per month and was increased to $35.

Manager Well Paid.

When the fact is taken into consideration that the managers employed under this system are provided with houses in which to live and are given the privilege of raising their home supplies of vegetables, milk, poultry and eggs, it will be seen that their necessary expenses are inconsiderable, and it must be conceded that they are well paid for their services, in view of the fact that they have no investment risk. The length of time which the men remain on the farms shows that this method of employment must have been satisfactory both to employee and landlord in these cases. It should be pointed out, however, that the tenant should have absolute confidence in his landlord before he would be justified in working under this system.

Plan for Good Sires.

Now is the time to think about a good sire. If you cannot afford to buy a matured animal get a well-bred bull calf and raise him. Few chances

TOMATOES ARE BEST IF RIGHTLY PRUNED

Fruit Is Larger, Cleaner and Superior in Flavor.

Grown in Home Garden Staking and Pruning Require Little Trouble and Will Fully Repay Trouble, Say Specialists.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture)

A thrifty tomato plant left to itself will spread over a space from 4 to 6 feet in diameter and will produce a peck or more of tomatoes. If staked and pruned it will yield about the same quantity of fruit, the tomatoes will be larger, cleaner, better flavored, and superior in every respect, and enough space can be conserved to accommodate five other plants cared for in a similar manner, say garden specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture. The staked and pruned plants are easily sprayed, and will continue to produce fruit later in the fall than plants which are allowed to spread naturally. As a rule, also, the pruned tomatoes will mature earlier. On the scale on which tomatoes are grown in the home garden, staking and pruning require little trouble, and will fully repay the effort.

When the plants begin making a vigorous growth, shoots will appear in the little pockets where each leaf joins the stem. Later the blossoms appear on the opposite side of the stem. In pruning the plant, remove all these side shoots and those around the base of the plant, being careful not to disturb the blossom clusters. The shoots, sometimes called suckers, should be pinched off shortly after they appear. The main stem can be carried to the full height of the stake, then allowed to hang over. By this time six or seven blossom clusters, on which the fruit is developing, should be set on the stem.

Pigs from hay sows show a greater size in bone and are harder in every way, showing the value of the hay in the hogs' ration.

MRS. REIFENSTEIN, AGED 67, GAINS 25 POUNDS

Declares She Would Like To Put a Bottle Of Tania In The Hands Of Every Sick Man, Woman and Child In This Country — Never Saw Its Equal.

MRS. EMMA REIFENSTEIN, 337 Webster Ave., Syracuse, N. Y.

"I am sixty-seven years of age, but in all my experience I have never known a medicine like Tania. Think of it! At my age to gain twenty-five pounds in weight, but that is just what I have done," said Mrs. Emma Reifenstein, of No. 337 Webster avenue, Syracuse, N. Y.

"If I had it in my power," she continued, "I would put a bottle of Tania in the home of every sick man, woman and child in this country, for I know what this wonderful medicine would do for them. For almost two years I was almost a nervous wreck. I did not dare to leave the house or even go up town unless my husband went with me. I was afraid to even cross the street and had a feeling of dread all the time.

"My stomach was weak and easily upset. For days at a time I would go without solid food. I could not rest at night to do any good and felt tired and worn out all of the time. Some days I could hardly drag myself across the room and was so weak and miserable I was ready to give up.

"My health is fine now and I eat anything I want and never have a touch of indigestion. I have never slept better than I do now. My recovery is the talk of our neighborhood, as it was generally believed I could not last medicine has brought me health and happiness and I just can't say enough in its praise."

Mr. J. Reifenstein, in commenting on his wife's statement, said: "Yes, her recovery has been a happy surprise to us all. A few weeks ago I had no idea she would be able to pull through, but now she is in better health than I have ever seen her and the credit is due to Tania. We have been married fifty-two years today and I don't believe I have ever seen her looking any better."

Captain Recognized Prospective Marine Engineer as a Man After His Own Heart.

They are so close in some parts of Scotland that the lakes can't get enough water, and have to go dry.

A visitor tells the story of a Scotsman, a prospective marine engineer, who was being examined by the captain.

The skipper asked a number of difficult questions in order to confess the applicant, but the latter was always ready with an answer.

Finally, in a tone of deepest concern, the captain asked:

"Now, suppose the water in your injector was working properly, your boiler check was not stuck, or your pipes clogged, but you were not getting any water in your boilers, what would you do?"

The engineer looked puzzled for a moment, unable fully to grasp the situation; then, with a knowing smile on his face, he answered:

"I'd go up on deck and see whether there was any water in the lake."

"You'll do," said the captain.—Chicago Daily News.

BROUGHT BACK OLD TIMES

Familiar Phrase Touched Responsive Chord in the Breast of Former War Comrades.

A jostling, heaving crowd was struggling for the few vacant places on the last bus home. A tired-looking conductor, wearing on his breast the 1915 ribbon, regulated the rush.

"Full up!" he cried at length, effectually barring further progress to a sturdy built young man who had swung himself on to the platform.

The latter stepped off reluctantly, exclaiming, "San Fairy Ann." The conductor turned quickly and laughed, and the demobilized soldiers on the bus who recognized the barbarous but familiar perversion of "Ca ne fair ren," laughed with him. "Come on," he said, and the man jumped on the moving bus with a smile of understanding in his eyes.

A catchword, universally used in France had revived something of the army spirit of camaraderie.—London Chronicle.

Ink Spots.

For fresh ink stains apply an abundance of soap and wash hard. A little lard rubbed on the stained places before the soap is applied will loosen the stain. If this is not successful a saturated solution of oxalic acid is about all that will remove the ink. Soak the stain for a few seconds, then rinse in clear water and finally in water to which a few drops of ammonia have been added.

"There's a Reason"

FAMINE FUND WORK AT HALF-WAY MARK

Thomas W. Lamont, Chairman,
Tells of Relief Administered and Task to Be Completed.

The American Committee for China Famine Fund, according to a statement issued by Thomas W. Lamont, chairman, has reached the second stage of its mission of mercy of sending funds from America to feed the millions of starving famine victims in the far eastern republic. At the lowest estimate, the statement says, just as much more is needed to carry "the last 5,000,000" through to the June harvest as has already been sent.

Mr. Lamont points out that "the response by America to appeals made by President Harding and his predecessor, President Wilson, has resulted in such prompt distribution of relief that the threatened magnitude of the famine has been checked to a marked extent. A continuation of the efforts so far made, it is declared, will place the famine relief for China among America's most effective philanthropies.

The Waiting Millions

There remain, however, the statement shows, a "last 5,000,000" to be saved, and these people can be saved only by continuous and voluminous relief resulting from American subscriptions.

The statement, in part, follows: "Quick response to the appeal of the American Committee for China Famine Fund gives us at the half-way point in our work the cheering assurance that the subscriptions from generous America already have served a great humanitarian purpose, inasmuch as relief already administered has held the famine in bounds and made it possible for America to save a multitude of human beings.

"Whereas early estimates made it seem that millions must perish, we now are advised that instead of the 15,000,000 who, it was originally feared, were doomed to death from hunger, relief at present in sight from all sources, American, Chinese and foreign, cept 5,000,000 people. These "last 5,000,000" are destitute, according to our latest reports from the American Advisory Committee in Peking and are dependent for existence upon new help coming from outside sources, and this means America.

From All the People

"It is the earnest hope of the Committee that the number of contributions made as well as the aggregate will be such as to make our humanitarian gift, in a real sense, a gift of the American people as a whole.

"One way to make individual effort and generously contribute toward saving China's starving population is for every one responsive to China's need, in effect, to pick a pal in China for a day." The thought behind this special appeal in connection with the latter part of our effort will be for American men, women and children to choose, figuratively, a Chinese famine victim as a friend for a day and to send what they spend one day on themselves or an American friend to the China Famine Fund either through local committees, banks or churches or direct to Vernon Munroe, treasurer, Bible House, New York City.

"No American is so poor that he cannot save a life at the lowest rate ever quoted, one dollar a month. Life's quotations fluctuate, sometimes in one nation, sometimes in another, but the lower the quotation the greater the opportunity of humanity, the opportunity of human beings to save human life. China is far away—8,000 miles—but hunger is hunger, whether around the corner or beyond the Pacific.

"We appeal to America to make effective the work already done in checking the China famine disaster by saving until harvest those already saved from death."

Personal Preference.

"Have you given up the idea of subdividing the farm into town lots?"

"For the present," answered Farmer Cornstossel. "My boy Josh and I couldn't quite agree. He didn't see the sense of providing sites for any public buildings except motion picture theaters."

An Annoyance.

"Here comes Green! Let's keep out of his way. I don't want to see him."

"What's the matter? I thought you were the best of friends?"

"We are. But his wife's away and mine isn't, and if he sees me he'll want me to go somewhere with him."
