Vol. XXXVIII

Pinckney, Livingston County, Michigan, Thursday, June 30, 1921

No. 26

THE UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY

Selects Lucius E. Wilson, Vice-President and Manager of the American City Bureau, Chicago for the Feature Address to the Graduating Class.

Mr. Wilson is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wilson, a graduate of Pinckney High School in 1896 and was selected for the feature speech of the occasion on account of being thoroughly conversant with large business methods as now conducted throughout the entire nation.

The Lexington, Ky. Leader published the speech in full and it is with great regret that on account of the limited space we cannot do the same.

Below is quoted the finale as published in the Kentucky newspaper.

Era of Trained Minds

"There are before me enough young men and women with trained minds to carry the ideal of service into the changing world of agriculture, business, and make it the dominant element in our working ethics by 1930. But to do this you must think together work together and feel together. You must seek connections with people who think as you do. You will need to encourage such contact if you are to meet unshaken the assaults of a world still satisfied with a crass definition of success. The long view is necessary, so is the broad view. A high school boy in Sharon, Pa., writing an essay for a local paper, said he had observed

SOUTH LYON—Motorcycle officer Elmo McKinley of New Hudson was seriously hurt last Thursday while chasing a speeder on Grand River avenue east of New Hudson. Upon overtaking the speeding car Mr. McKinley turned out to pass it and ran head on into a Ford car coming from the east. Besides suffering a broken leg, he sustained many other serious injuries. An ambulance was called from Milford and he was rushed to a Detroit hospital. At last reports he was doing as well as could be expected.—Herald.

CHELSEA—Eight Chelsea boys left this morning for a two weeks' outing at Camp Birkett, Big Silver Lake. Verne Evans kindly volunteered to take the boys' luggage over to camp in his truck, and William Fahrner, Roland Schenk and Dr. A. L. Steger took the boys themselves. E. P. Steiner will be one of the camp leaders again this year.—Tribune.

They dressed better, lived better, and were more prosperous than the group who were against things. Therefore, said the boy in conclusion, 'When I grow up to be a man I shall be for things.'

TWENTY YEARS FAITHFUL SERVICE

Today Gottlieb Dinkel is celebrating his twentieth anniversary as a rural mail carrier.

He has served in this capacity since the first mail route was established. Mr. Dinkel and Frank Newman were the carriers at that time.

His genial manner has made him a favorite among the patrons of his route, and as far as appearances go, he is no older than when he first started delivering U. S. mail.

machine, stopped ahead with the occupants apparently in trouble. One was waving at him to stop. He drew up thinking to help them when one put a pistol to his heart and demanded that he unload. He did and another went thru his pockets. He thought there were two more in the machine but was not certain. They took his small amount of change but left his watch which they had taken but returned to his hip pocket.—Argus

DEXTER—The water-works system which the village has put in for fire protection for the business section was tested on Monday afternoon and Tuesday morning. The standard size hose was used and two streams at once were thrown over the tops of the three story buildings. The entire length of hose, about 400 feet was then attached, reaching up Ann Arbor street as far as Blanchard's Garage, and an equally strong stream was thrown. There are three hydrants and the water is forced from the raceway below the mill by a 30 h. p. pump which is started by pressing an electric button three of which will be located at different points, yet to be determined. All interested were much pleased with the result of the test and every indication points to its being satisfactory.—Leader.

CHELSEA—Weldon Aldrich, aged 26 years, was instantly killed at 7:50 last Friday morning by an eastbound electric freight car on the D. J. and C. electric railway on the crossing near the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Haefner.—Standard.

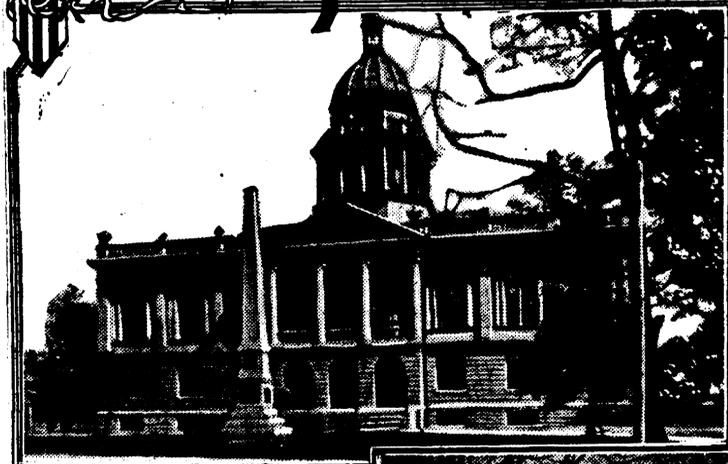

FARMER'S PICNIC

Fourth Annual Summer Farmer's Day at the Michigan Agricultural College has been set for July 29. Hundreds of farmers and rural workers from all parts of the state will gather for the conference, which is second only to winter Farmer's Week at M. A. C. among state agricultural gatherings.

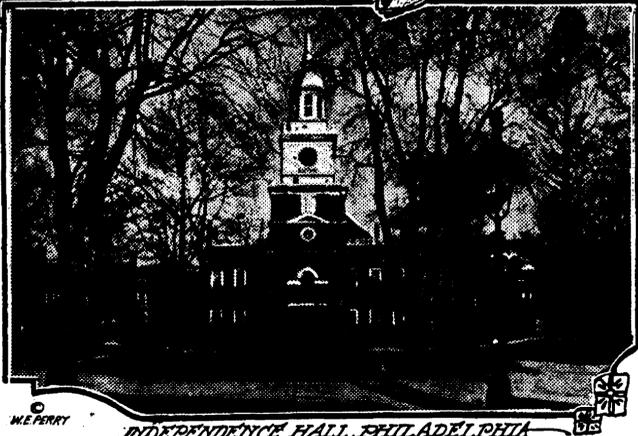

A basket picnic lunch on the beautiful college campus; entertainment and recreational features; inspection of the extensive experiment station plots; and a short afternoon meeting, addressed by one or two leading authorities on agricultural questions, are among the events which will make the day an important one for state farmers. Special plans are being made for the women, and exhibits of interest to them will be on display at the College Woman's Building which is to be headquarters for women visitors during the day.

The M. A. C. herd of prize-winning Belgian, Clydesdale, and Percheron horses will be exhibited at the meeting as will numerous championship animals from the cattle, swine, and sheep barns

Declarations of Independence

MECKLENBURG COUNTY COURT-HOUSE, NINE DECLARATION MONUMENTS

By JOHN DICKINSON SHERMAN.
THERE is of course but one Declaration of Independence—the Declaration of Independence we celebrate on the Fourth of July. It makes no difference that Richard Henry Lee's resolution "That these united colonies are and of right ought to be, free and independent states—" was introduced in congress June 7, 1776; that it was adopted July 2, and that the document itself was not made public until July 5, and was not signed by the members of congress until August 2. It was on July 4, 1776, that the vote on the Declaration was taken, and the printed. So the Fourth of July it is—and ever shall be.

Nevertheless, there are other Declarations, and some of them come pretty near being Declarations of Independence, except that they were not adopted by congress. The truth is that independence was in the air for some time before July 4, 1776. The leaders preferred to say that they were "petitioners in arms," even after Lexington and Concord and Bunker Hill, and many of them doubtless had no determination for independence. But the people in many localities were ripe for independence. So it is not to be wondered that some of them made declarations.

One of the earliest of these Declarations was that of the people of Mendon, Mass., March 1, 1773. It speaks for itself, and here it is:

"That all men have naturally an equal right to life, liberty and property.

"That all just and lawful government must originate in the free consent of the people.

"That the good, happiness and safety of the people is the great end of civil government.

"That a principle of self preservation, being duly planted by the God of Nature in every human breast, it is necessary, not only to the well-being of the individual, but also to the order of the universe, as attraction and cohesion are to the preservation of material bodies and the order of the natural world.

"That a voluntary renunciation of any power or privileges included in or necessarily connected with a principle of self preservation is manifestly acting counter to the will of the great Author of Nature, the Supreme Legislator, that a right to liberty and property is absolutely inalienable.

"That the claim of the parliament of Great Britain to the power of legislation for the colonies in all cases whatsoever is abhorrent to the spirit and genius of the British Constitution, to the letter of our charter and to the most obvious principles of reason and to the essential natural rights given us by God Almighty; and, finally,

"That the introduction of standing armies in a free country in time of peace, without the consent of the people, is a violation of their rights as free men."

Then there is the Declaration of the people of Hanna's Town, May 16, 1775. On that day the men of that portion of the colony of Pennsylvania lying west of Laurel Mountain and embraced in the present limits of the county of Westmoreland, then, and for long afterwards claimed by Virginia to be within the limits of Augusta county, in the Old Dominion, assembled at Hanna's Town, then the seat of justice, to take counsel on the situation. The first two paragraphs of the document adopted are as follows:

"At a general meeting of the in-at Hanna's Town, on May 16, 1775, for taking into consideration the very alarming situation of the country occasioned by the dispute with Great Britain, resolved unanimously, that the parliament of Great Britain by several late acts has declared the inhabitants of Massachusetts Bay to be in rebellion; and the ministry, by endeavoring to enforce said acts, has attempted to reduce the said inhabitants to a more wretched state of slavery than ever before existed in any country; not content with thus violating their constitutional and chartered privileges, they would strip them of their rights of humanity, exposing their lives to the wanton and unpunishable sport of a licentious soldiery and depriving them of the very means of subsistence.

"Resolved, unanimously, That there is no reason to doubt but the same system of tyranny and oppression will, should it meet with success in Massachusetts, be extended to other parts of America; it is therefore become the indispensable duty of every American, of every man who has any love for his country, or any bowels for posterity, by every means which God has put in his power, to resist and oppose the execution of it; that for us we will be ready to oppose it with our lives and fortunes. And the better to enable us to accomplish it we will immediately form ourselves into a military body to consist of companies, to be made up out of the several townships under the following association, which is declared to be the Association of Westmoreland County."

And, finally, there is the famous so-called "Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence," adopted at Charlotte, Mecklenburg county, North Carolina, May 20, 1775, of which the first three resolutions are as follows:

"Resolved, That whosoever directly or indirectly, abetted, or in any way, form or manner, countenanced the unchartered and dangerous invasion of our rights, as claimed by Great Britain, is an enemy to this country, to America and to the inherent and inalienable rights of man.

"Resolved, That we, the citizens of Mecklenburg county, do hereby dissolve the political bonds which have connected us to the mother country, and hereby absolve ourselves from all allegiance to the British crown, and abjure all political connection, contact or association with that nation, who has wantonly trampled on our rights and inhumanly shed the blood of American patriots at Lexington.

"Resolved, That we do hereby declare ourselves a free and independent people, and of right ought to be a sovereign and self-governing association, under the control of no power other than that of our God and the general government of the congress; to the maintenance of which independence we solemnly pledge to each other our mutual co-operation, our lives, our fortunes, and our most sacred honor."

called for May 19. Its original purpose was to pronounce the annulment of all laws and commissions in consequence of the king's address of February declaring the colonies in a state of rebellion; and to make provision for a temporary form of government "until instructions from the provincial congress regulating the jurisprudence of the province shall provide otherwise, or the legislative body of Great Britain resigns its unjust and arbitrary pretensions with respect to America." In this expectation an elaborate set of resolutions had been prepared.

Discussion of these resolutions was interrupted by the arrival of a courier with the news of Lexington. The convention reassembled in a fury of patriotism. It seethed and debated until well into the morning of May 20, when the quoted paragraphs were adopted as a preliminary to the regular business of the convention. It must be admitted that the Mecklenburgers did a good job. They organized a provisional central government. They sequestered all public and county taxes and all quit rents to the crown and declared traitors all persons who should accept new commissions from the crown or exercise old commissions. And they formed nine military companies for action—when the time should come.

Curiously enough, this Mecklenburg Declaration did not become generally known till 1819, forty-four years later, and then through publication in the Raleigh Register. Its publication caused an enormous stir, and began a controversy that may be said to be yet going on, inasmuch as some historians still refuse to accept the genuineness of the document. In 1819 Jefferson and John Adams were both old and testy. Adams said, in so many words, that Jefferson evidently had plagiarized. Jefferson angrily retorted that in his belief the document was spurious.

The controversy over the genuineness of the Mecklenburg Declaration immediately became fast and furious. North Carolina finally took a hand in it, and in 1831 its legislature appointed a committee of investigation. This committee reported that the document was genuine. Accordingly, May 20th was made a state holiday, which is celebrated as the "Anniversary of the Signing of the Mecklenburg Declaration." In 1898 in Charlotte, was dedicated a monument in commemoration of the signing of the Mecklenburg Declaration.

The historians have been busy all these years, and little by little the case of the Mecklenburgers has been built up, until now it is generally accepted.

The contract of government signed in 1620 in the cabin of the Mayflower in Massachusetts Bay may be said in a sense to be the first Declaration of Independence, out of which grew the Declaration of Independence of 1776.

AN OPEN LETTER TO WOMEN

Mrs. Little Tells How She Suffered and How Finally Cured

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I was not able to do my housework and had to lie down most of the time and felt bad in my left side. My monthly periods were irregular, sometimes five or seven months apart and when they did appear would last for two weeks and were very painful. I was sick for about a year and a half and doctored but without any improvement.

A neighbor recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to me, and the second day after I started taking it I began to feel better and I kept on taking it for seven months. Now I keep house and perform all my household duties. You can use these facts as you please and I will recommend Vegetable Compound to everyone who suffers as I did."—Mrs. J. S. Little, 3455 Livingston St., Philadelphia, Pa.

How much harder the daily tasks of a woman become when she suffers from such distressing symptoms and weakness as did Mrs. Little. No woman should allow herself to get into such a condition because such troubles may be speedily overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for more than forty years has been restoring American women to health.

Woman Teacher's Opportunity Came to "Call" the Bluffer, and She Surely Improved It.

They are both teachers in the same town, only he's much more on the "bluffing" order than she. Yet she does like a spicy retort and she has always longed to give one when he so often says to her: "Now, whenever you want anything from the school board just let me know and I'll ask them for it, because I've a pull with them."

The other night they both happened to be present when his petition for more salary and hers for new office furniture came up. His request was refused, while hers was granted. And after the meeting instead of offering the sympathy he expected she gave the retort: "After this, when you want anything from the board—anything like salary, or the like, you just tell me and I'll ask them for you. You can see from the way I got my furniture that I have a pull with them."—Indianapolis News.

Too Much for the Statistician. A report has been received that the "Mad Mullah" (ruler of rebel derishes in Somaliland) is dead, but it has not been confirmed. Mr. Churchill informed the house of commops. Sir J. Rees—Is there any record in the colonial office of the number of times the Mullah has died? Mr. Churchill—In these hard times we cannot undertake to keep unnecessary statistics.

The fact that the number of days is due to a provision that the state must pay mileage of members coming to and returning from sessions, regardless of the length of the sessions. The members receive $5 a day, during special sessions, for the first 20 days that the legislature is technically in session. This includes the period between actual adjournment and the technical final adjournment. Those familiar with legislative custom say that, even though the actual work were completed in the two days considered necessary by the governor, the technical adjournment would probably be delayed 10 days so that the members would receive $60 pay instead of $10.

CUSTOMS FIFTY YEARS AGO

Who among us would say to-day, "I never use a Dentifrice, I never have to?" Yet Fifty years ago, odd as it may seem, not one person in 1,000 used a Dentifrice—or even a tooth brush.

So to-day, after more than 30 years of persistent publicity of Allen's Foot-Ease, the Antiseptic Powder for the Feet, not many well-turned-out people care to confess, "You know, I never have to use a Powder for the Feet!"

More than One Million five hundred thousand pounds of Powder for the Feet were used by our Army and Navy during the war. The reason is this: Incasing and confining the feet in Leather or Canvas Shoes is bound to create friction, more or less. Allen's Foot-Ease removes the friction from the shoes, and freshens the feet. It is this friction which causes smarting, calluses, corns and bunions. You know what friction does to your motor-car axle. Why not remove it from your footwear by Shaking into your Shoes to-day, Allen's Foot-Ease, the cleanly, wholesome, healing, Antiseptic powder? Get the habit, as millions now have it.

Jazz Music.

Jazz music is simply a return to a more primitive type of music much in vogue among Indians and negroes. The chief characteristic of this class of music is what is known as syncopation, which changes the regular recurrence of accent, and destroys the rhythm. Nearly all savages have this irregular idea of music. When properly treated syncopation is very effective, but its abuse is very objectionable to anyone with any sense of rhythm or to people of musical education. The craze is fast dying out, and is not often heard now outside a fourth-rate picture house.—Exchange.

LEGISLATURE TO CONVENE JUNE 30

GOVERNOR CALLS ANOTHER SPECIAL SESSION TO AMEND SOLDIER BONUS BILL.

TAX EXEMPT CLAUSE IS WANTED

Bankers Refuse to Buy Bonds Until Change is Made; May Issue Short Term Bonds.

Lansing.—Governor Alex J. Groesbeck has issued a proclamation calling the legislature for another special session to convene Thursday, June 30, at 1 o'clock, to act upon the soldier bonus legislation.

The legislature will be asked to consider several plans to make the bond issue popular. One of these is to make the issue tax exempt, although Representative George Lord, the financial expert of the house, holds the belief that this is beyond the power of the legislature under the constitution. He suggests instead that the rate of interest be raised to 6 per cent, and that a specific tax of one-half of 1 per cent be imposed. Some of the bankers who have conferred with the state administrative board are insistent that the increased rate be considered.

Another proposal is to issue 6 per cent notes for several millions to tide over the present, and to issue the bonds when the market is more favorable. Failing all else, it is Governor Groesbeck's intention to appeal to the public to take up the bonds. It is believed that such a drive would be successful if the bonds were issued in denominations of $50 and upwards instead of $1,000.

If the legislature remains in session only two days, the time considered adequate by Governor Groesbeck, the special session will cost about $7,500. If it remains for 10 days, the time proportionate to the number of days is due to a provision that the state must pay mileage of members coming to and returning from sessions, regardless of the length of the sessions. The members receive $5 a day, during special sessions, for the first 20 days that the legislature is technically in session. This includes the period between actual adjournment and the technical final adjournment. Those familiar with legislative custom say that, even though the actual work were completed in the two days considered necessary by the governor, the technical adjournment would probably be delayed 10 days so that the members would receive $60 pay instead of $10.

SAM GOMPERS AGAIN ELECTED

Effort to Oust Old Labor Leader Falls in Convention.

Denver.—Samuel Gompers, 71-year-old veteran, scored the greatest triumph of his career here when for the fourth time he was elected president of the American Federation of Labor.

In an election replete with dramatic interest, he won over the younger element seeking to wrest control of the federation by electing John L. Lewis, 41-year-old head of the United Mine Workers of America.

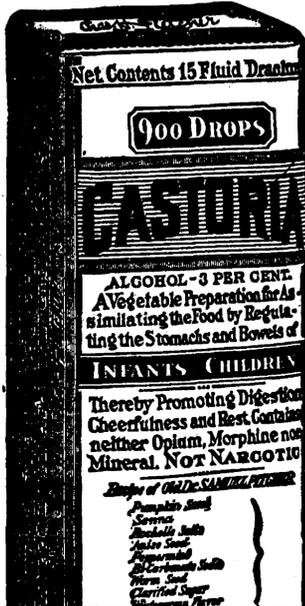

Are You Human?

A little baby. A little child. Don't they appeal to you? Doesn't your heart yearn to pick them up, to cuddle them close to you, to shield them from all harm? sure it does else you're not human. Being human you love them. Their very helplessness makes you reach out in all your strength to aid them. In health there's no flower so beautiful. In illness there's no night so black.

Save them then. Use every precaution. Take no chance.

When sickness comes, as sickness will, remember it's just a baby, just a child and if the Physician isn't at hand don't try some remedy that you may have around the house for your own use.

Fletcher's Castoria was made especially for babies' ills and you can use it with perfect safety as any doctor will tell you. Keep it in the house.

Net Contents 15 Fluid Drachms 100 DROPS CASTORIA ALCOHOL-3 PER CENT. Vegetable Preparation for Assimilating the Food by Regulating the Stomach and Bowels of INFANTS CHILDREN Thereby Promoting Digestion Cheerfulness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor Mineral. NOT NARCOTIC.

Children Cry For

Do the People Know?

Do you know why you are asked to call for Fletcher's Castoria when you want a child's remedy: why you must insist on Fletcher's? For years we have been explaining how the popularity of Fletcher's Castoria has brought out innumerable imitations, substitutes and counterfeits.

To protect the babies: to shield the homes and in defense of generations to come we appeal to the better judgment of parents to insist on having Fletcher's Castoria when in need of a child's medicine. And remember above all things that a child's medicine is made for children—a medicine prepared for grown-ups is not inter-just as essential for the baby. The Castoria Recipe (it's on every wrapper) has been prepared by the same hands in the same manner for so many years that the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and perfection in the product are synonymous.

MOTHERS SHOULD READ THE BOOKLET THAT IS AROUND EVERY BOTTLE OF FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Bolivia's Tin Zone.

Bolivia is the only land in the western hemisphere where tin is found and worked in amounts that repay the investment today. The tin zone in Bolivia is divided into four districts—LaPaz in the north, Oruro in the center, Chorolque in the south and Potosi in the east. The city of Oruro is the tin metropolis and commercial center of the industry. The mining country is rich in the Cordillera Real range and the lodes are found at altitudes of from 11,000 to 18,000 feet, the height of one in the Monte Blanc mining section being 14,500 feet above the sea.

SWAMP-ROOT FOR KIDNEY AILMENTS

There is only one medicine that really stands out pre-eminent as a medicine for curable ailments of the kidneys, liver and bladder.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root stands the highest for the reason that it has proven to be just the remedy needed in thousands upon thousands of distressing cases. Swamp-Root makes friends quickly because its mild and immediate effect is soon realized in most cases. It is a gentle, healing vegetable compound. Start treatment at once. Sold at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.

His Busy Day.

A solemn-faced individual wandered into the office of Mr. Dubwaite, who was up to his eyes in work. "My brother," said the solemn visitor, "I come to you with a message." "Hand it to one of my clerks," answered Mr. Dubwaite, as his pen continued to trace his signature at the bottom of business letters. "He'll sign for it and bring it to my attention if it contains anything that—ahem—requires my attention."—Paul Cook, in the Birmingham Age-Herald.

Western Canada Offers Health and Wealth and has brought contentment and happiness to thousands of home seekers and their families who have started on their FREE homesteads or bought land at attractive prices. They have established their own homes and secured property and independence. In the great grain-growing sections of the prairie provinces there is still to be had on easy terms Fertile Land at $15 to $30 an Acre—land similar to that which through many years has yielded from 20 to 45 bushels of wheat to the acre—oats, barley and flax, also in great abundance, while raising horses, cattle, sheep and hogs is equally profitable. Hundreds of farmers in Western Canada have raised crops in a single season worth more than the whole cost of their land. Healthy climate, good neighbors, churches, schools, rural telephone, excellent markets and shipping facilities. The climate and soil offer inducements for almost every branch of agriculture. GARDEN NOTES

Plants of late cabbage, cauliflower, and celery are commonly set during the first two weeks in July.

A good distance for planting the late large growing varieties of cabbage and cauliflower is 2 1/2 by 3 1/2 feet.

The soil should be moist and well prepared for planting, otherwise transplanting from the seed bed into the garden or field may not be successful unless the plants are carefully "watered in".

White or light colored stalks of celery are secured by blanching, which consists of growing the plants in darkness so that the coloring matter of the stem is destroyed. Blanching also makes the stalks more crisp and tender and improves the quality.

Each celery is most easily blanched by setting up boards about 12 inches wide against the plants each side of garden each individual plant may be carefully wrapped by hand with good, heavy paper. The blanching operation usually requires about 2 or 3 weeks. When blanched in this manner a distance of 2 1/2 feet is sufficient.

Late celery is best when blanched by banking the soil. Commonly the plants are set six inches apart in rows not less than 3 1/2 or four feet apart, but you will find that 5, or even 6 feet is better especially for the late growing varieties.

Chinese cabbage or "celery-cabbage" is best grown as a fall crop. Seed should be sown during the latter part of July so that the crop will mature during the cool fall months.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. Catarrhal Deafness requires constitutional treatment. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced, your hearing may be destroyed forever. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system, thus reducing the inflammation and restoring normal conditions.

Land clearing operations will cover a three-year period, during which time 2,500 acres will be transformed each year into level ploughed fields, ready for crops. As soon as the land has been prepared, the company will enter the agricultural field on a wholesale scale. Agricultural experts will be employed.

Fifty-six men are on the pay roll now, 40 of them in the land clearing operations. Four motor tractors and nine teams are being used to drag stumps out of the way and haul underbrush.

A New Romance of the Storm Country

By GRACE MILLER WHITE

Copyright by the H. K. Fly Company

TONY—ANOTHER TESS.

"Lean against me, dear," murmured Philip. "And this time—oh, Tony, don't leave me today without telling me you love me a lot."

Tony glimpsed him with one little upward glance. Her eyes were star-bright.

"I love you more'n the whole world," she trembled. "More'n I know how to tell."

This confession of love comes right in the middle of this fascinating story; there's a lot of exciting action ahead of it and still more after it before Tonnibel Pendlehaven gets everything the world can give to one little girl.

This is another of the thrilling stories by Grace Miller White of the "storm country" of New York state. It was "Tess of the Storm Country" that made Mary Pickford Fairbanks famous and Tony is another Tess. Over 1,000,000 copies of the author's romances have been sold in book form and motion pictures have made her name a household word.

CHAPTER I.

"Tony"—For Short.

Another winter had lifted its icy

Philip MacCauley, the captain of the Salvation army in Ithaca, bowed, and then he laughed.

"Every one is welcome here," he quoted, coming forward. "Where'd you come from? I've never seen you before."

"I'm staying up Hoghole way," replied Tony. "I ain't been around Ithaca long. This is an awful nice room, ain't it, huh?"

"Yes, very. We like it," replied the young man. "Sit down; don't be in a hurry. I want to talk to you."

Tonnibel did sit down but not very comfortably. She was embarrassed in the presence of this handsome young stranger, abashed in the glamor of his uniform, and all the beauty of him.

With boyish admiration he was contemplating the sparkle of her gray eyes, shaded by long lashes as ebony black as her hair which hung in ringlets to her waist. He decided that she was very pretty, and that he liked to have her in the Salvation army quarters.

"Can't you stay for meeting this evening?" he asked presently. "We have singing here."

Tony's eyes deepened almost to lustrous black.

"Oh, I'd love that!" Then she shook her head. "Nope," she went on, "I got to go home to mummy. She's all alone! Mebbe when my daddy gets back, I'll come some time and sit clean through the night."

For an instant the smile stayed about the boy's lips, then gravely settled once more over his earnest young face.

"What's done in this place?" she questioned after a while.

"Not quite," answered Philip, started. "No! Not that."

"Then what?" demanded Tony.

"What kind of a God do you mean?"

"One that is good," explained Philip. "There isn't any God but the one who helps—"

"My mummy?" breathed the girl, misty tears shadowing her eyes.

"Yes."

"Where is he, then?" The words shot forth with such insistence that something within Philip MacCauley rose to its demand.

"Some one's got to be good to my mother," the girl ran on before he could speak. "She's sick—and lonely. Oh, I've got to do something for her. Where's your helpin' God, mister?"

"Right here in this place," said Philip, a strange emotion sweeping over him. "In fact there isn't any place where God is not."

"He wouldn't come in a dirty canal boat, would He?" demanded Tony, breathlessly.

Astonished at such crudeness, Captain MacCauley shifted himself about so he faced her squarely. Was it pretended ignorance or innocence in the searching gray eyes? Then he decided that truth was stamped on every line of the upturned face.

"Of course, everywhere," he exclaimed brokenly. "Why, dear child—"

Tony Devon interrupted him swiftly. "Tell me how to manage it," she pleaded. "How can I wheedle your God to the Dirty Mary?"

"To the what?" was the question the boy asked in shocked swiftiness.

"The Dirty Mary," repeated Tony. "My mummy and me live on a canal boat. Once she were just called

"Nope, and I squinted in every beer hole in Ithaca," Tony replied, "but—but—but I found out something for you. Listen! There's somebody on this boat besides me, and you—and Gussie."

"Who?" came sharply from the woman.

She shivered, fearing that the law lay in wait for her absent husband.

"Who, brat?" she repeated imploringly.

Tonnibel bent over and looked straight into the sad, wan face.

"God, just a plain lovin' God!" she replied, her countenance expressing unusual exaltation. "Sit a minute while the tea's makin' good, and I'll tell you."

Side by side they sat together on the bunk while with lowered reverent voice the girl told the story of the Shepherd who had said long ago with infinite pity, "Feed my sheep."

"And mummy," the girl continued, leaning her head against her mother's arm, "Darling mummy, that beautiful man said, 'Love'd make crooked things straight, and—and it's so.'"

A look of unbelief came over Edith Devon's face.

"Fiddle," she said in a disgusted voice. "Tony, you ain't a brain in your bean."

"I don't need any brains as long as I got this, Edie," the girl replied, lifting the card she held. "Come on, let's say these things over. Here's one that'll keep—well, it'll help keep daddy from beatin' you."

Mrs. Devon grasped the girl's arm in sudden frenzy.

"You told some one Uriah beats me?" she demanded sharply.

"Mebbe I did, and mebbe I didn't," answered Tony, slyly, "but these here words about standin' still and watchin' Salvation sin good all about will keep pappy's fists up his sleeves. Say it, Edie," she ended.

"I won't," said Edith, getting up swiftly. "If there's anything in it, Tony, you can show me by gettin' your daddy back home. Mebbe he's in jail."

"Even if he was," retorted the girl, with a wise shake of her head, "lovin' hard could make the coop-doors fly wide open, and daddy'd flop out like a dogfish flops into the lake. I'm gold to find out more some of these days, mummy?"

"Yes," muttered Edith, "but I'm getting a guess out of the days I spent on this boat that God, or whoever you're talkin' about, ain't botherin' his head over the Dirty Mary, nor us either."

"Uriah, if you go on with this, I'll tell 'er all I know."

Woman Suffrage in Wyoming
For more than half a century the men of Wyoming have insisted that women deserved the same rights as men. It is now 51 years since the voters of Wyoming, then a territory, first stunned the rest of the world by conferring full suffrage upon women without a preliminary battle on the part of the women themselves, considering it simple fairness. When the men were taken to task they replied that their women folks had endured the same hardships as themselves and demonstrated equal ability as pioneers. When statehood was applied for in 1890 feeling was so intense against admitting the territory that congress found itself in an uproar, and the Wyoming legislature was notified that statehood could hardly be possible unless the suffrage clause was eliminated. The legislature replied, "We will remain out of the Union 100 years rather than come in without woman suffrage."—Philadelphia Ledger.

REPUTED TO LIVE CENTURIES

Holy Men in India Believed by the Natives to Be More Than 1,000 Years Old.

Hundreds of Hindus believe that Rishis and Sadhus, aged 1,000 years or more, are still alive. They do not care to appear before the public. They are living in some Himalayan caves, practicing yoga. Whether a 1,000-year-old Sadhu has really been seen by anybody, there is no record; but many people will tell you that Sadhus 300 years old or more are still to be seen. Baba Thakurdassji is a renowned Sadhu. He has many thousands of disciples, among whom several are Europeans. His disciples claim that he is more than 300 years old, but he does not appear to be over 60. He is a power in India.

A Sadhu of greater repute is Baba Satchitananda Bharati. He is the Guru of the Nepal rajahs. He well remembers the famous battle of Panipat, which took place in 1526 A. D. He has also met Gauranga, the famous preacher of "Bhakti" (religion of spiritual love); Shinaji, the founder of the Maharatta power; and other distinguished Indians. He has thousands of disciples in different parts of India. Questioned as to how he attained such an age, he has said that moderation in diet, regular habits, and practice of "pranayam" are the secrets of long life.

Famous "Regent" Diamond.

The Regent or Pitt diamond, considered the finest and most perfect brilliant in Europe, which was bought by Mr. Pitt, governor of Madras, in 1702, for about $100,000, is the next largest to the Koh-i-noor. He bought it in London, had it cut as a brilliant and sold it to the duke of Orleans for Louis XV. for 2,500,000 francs (normally about $500,000). It was sent to Berlin at the time of the first French revolution, but reappeared in the gift of the sword of state worn by Napoleon I. This stone underwent two years of constant manipulation at the hands of gem cutters before it was complete.

Promises may make friends, but it takes performances to keep them.

THIS MAN DREADED TO SEE NIGHT COME

Was So Restless He Couldn't Sleep and Daylight Was Always Welcome.

"With the exception of a little milk toast, which comprised my diet for more than eight weeks, I could not eat anything," said Capt. Geo. W. Womble, residing at 105 Jennings St., Knoxville, Tenn., a highly respected citizen of that city.

"I am now able," continued Captain Womble, "after taking two bottles of Tanlac, to eat practically anything. I had a bad form of stomach and intestinal trouble for a long time and for months my condition had been such that I suffered agony. I got so I could not eat the simplest food. I tried doctor after doctor and all kinds of medicine, but nothing that was prescribed for me seemed to do me any good. I had a terrible pain in my breast just over my heart and for weeks and weeks I got no relief."

"I finally got so nervous that I actually dreaded to see night come, as I could not sleep, and was always so restless that I would rejoice to see daylight come. I was also constipated all of the time. In fact, life seemed a burden and I was so miserable that I was almost on the verge of despair. Several of my neighbors told me about Tanlac and advised me to try it."

"I am personally acquainted with Mr. Dan M. Chambliss, of the firm of Kuhlman & Chambliss and when I told him of my condition and how I suffered he advised me to begin taking Tanlac without delay and that it had relieved hundreds of the best people in Knoxville. I have now taken two bottles of Tanlac and am giving you this testimonial in the hope that it may induce others to take it. Since taking this medicine I actually feel like I had been made all over again with the youth, energy and ambition everywhere.—Advertisement.

Why He Couldn't Fall.

Tom was making his first visit to the country. He enjoyed riding on the old, gentle horse.

When his aunt arrived to spend the week-end he was anxious to display his new achievement.

With hands deeply imbedded in the horse's mane, Tom rode proudly by.

"Be careful or you will fall off," admonished his aunt.

"No I won't," was the reply. "I got hold of her hair."

World Loves Sweet Smells.

War discourages the international sale of perfumes, cosmetics and all toilet preparations, but such articles come quickly back to their own in foreign trade. This appears in the fact that in 1920 exports of these articles from this country were valued at $8,739,593, which is over five times the value in the pre-war year of 1914. Our largest buyer was England; our next, Cuba; third, Australia; and fourth Brazil.

we can help people. There's such a lot of misery in the world."

"That's as true's you're born," came back promptly from the parted red lips. "I know that because my mother is sick every day, and she cries too. That's misery, ain't it?"

Captain MacCauley was used to tales of woe, but he knew a panacea for them. "Yes, it is so," he said. "Perhaps you could get her to come here some evening! Do you think you could?"

"Daddy wouldn't let her," was the reply, and she lifted unfathomable saddened gray eyes to his. "You see when a man owns a woman, and she don't do the things he tells her to, he beats her, huh?"

There was mute pleading in her expression as she drew back on the bench a little farther away from him. Ah! He might have known that she had been swept along by the relentless tide of brutality. He sighed a little. He had seen enough of ignorant men with their supreme egotism, to know she told the truth.

"Your father is—is—cruel to your mother, then?" he faltered.

She remained in deep thought for the space of a few seconds.

"A swat or two, mebbe more, ah!" was a killin' thing to women folks," was the response she made confusedly at length.

So unusual had been her answer that Philip MacCauley gazed at her in amazement.

"Have you ever heard of—of God?" he asked finally, his own confusion apparent in the stumble of his tongue.

Tonnibel laughed.

"I hear God d—n more'n a hundred times a day," she replied. "Is that what you mean?"

An Appeal!

To the People
 Of this Vicinity,
 Men and Women:

When the representative of this paper, upon the Teeple Hardware Company to see what they had to say about advertising this week—Mr. John J. Teeple said they were too busy to attend to the matter and requested us to write an ad, using our own judgment about what to say.

You all know what this firm is up against right now.

THEY NEED MONEY

Just imagine yourself in their predicament and ask yourself if you too, would not need it. And we are sure, knowing the community as well as we do, that every man or woman who owes this concern—the oldest mercantile firm in this part of the county—will come down this week and pay their accounts in full if possible. If this is not possible, give them what you can on account, and if you are not just at present in a position to do either, you surely can come down and give them a hearty, sympathetic hand-shake and tell them you will do the best you can as quickly as possible.

The future of this concern is largely in your hands at the present critical time. What are you going to do about it?

They are at home under the opera house with a small stock of hardware. The stock of implements was not destroyed, and they will be glad to see their many friends at all times.
