PRUESS-MURPHY

Of interest to Pinckney friends is the announcement of the marriage of Miss M. Ella Murphy, daughter of Mrs. Mary Murphy 68 Golf Ave., and John P. Pruess of Detroit.

The marriage took place at St. Ambrose's Catholic church, September 12, Rev. James Caroline officiating.

THOSE BLACK TOPS AGAIN

Some folks are never satisfied with what they have and are always on the lookout for more. It would seem that Wirt Hendee would be well enough pleased to capture the lion's share of prizes with his Black Top sheep at the Livingston County fair. But no—he must take them to Oakland county, at the Milford fair last week and allow them to annex 60 per cent of the prizes there with stiff competition to contend with. He made some sales.

HAMBURG SOLDIER BURIED

The body of Clare Rorabacher was brought back from France and buried in Hamburg last week. Clare was a corporal in the 126th Infantry and was killed in action. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Rorabacher of Hamburg and was a graduate of Brighton high school.—Brighton Argus

ELECTRICITY ON RAMPAGE

Previous to May, 1921 Pinckney was hampered by a shortage of electric lighting current; since that time we have had plenty, but Monday night the village had a supply of the juice that the Detroit Edison Company dispenses that might be truthfully called a superabundance.

Something happened to the big transformer that reduces the high voltage current on the main line to the moderate supply directly consumed by the Pinckney patrons. Whether it was struck by lightning during the rainstorm or whether it absorbed too much white mule, so prevalent these dry times is not known. But whatever the cause, the result was certainly undignified for a well regulated electric transformer.

The transformer caught fire and with a loud humming noise the current went on an undignified spree. A beautiful pyrotechnic display illuminated the dripping trees and ground, and painted the cloudy sky beautiful tints ranging from green to purple and pink.

Then for about three hours strange things happened in the village. The telephone transformer in the rear of the exchange caught fire, loud reports like rifle shots were heard, the homes of Jefferson Parker and Will Fisk caught fire. At 9:00 a. m. when S. E. Swarthout the local Edison representative was finally convinced that the whole thing was not a huge joke, the current was switched off from the village lines and town was again in the same old darkness that was with us previous to May.

As soon as the Edison headquarters was notified, with their usual promptness and efficiency they sent a large force of wireman to straighten things out, but it was not until 10:15 Tuesday night that lighting was resumed, owing to the large amount of damage to lines and equipment. The telephone service was also par-

Kalamazoo—The Kalamazoo Kiwanis Club recently gave its first luncheon without coffee, beefsteak or tobacco, regular features of the Kiwanis luncheons since the founding of the organization. Alarming statistics given at last week's meeting by Dr. John Kellogg, of Battle Creek, induced the committee to omit them.

Lansing—The state is without a "dimmer" law. Overlooked by members of the legislature, by the executive office, where the measure was signed and by the secretary of state and the state police, whose duty it is to enforce the motor vehicle laws, an act was passed by the 1921 legislature which repealed the law compelling motorists to equip with or use dimmers.

Marquette—Ten Ishpeming residents who are petitioners for citizenship papers will put up a fight in Circuit Court here in February to prevent George N. Danielson, of St. Paul, Federal naturalization examiner, from depriving them of final papers on the ground that they claimed exemption from military service in the World War because they were aliens. At this term of court 14 Marquette County men were denied citizenship because they took advantage of their status to escape the draft. Mr. Danielson will oppose all such petitioners.

Washington.—Another year at least must elapse before the war records of Michigan officer and nurse veterans, necessary in issuing the state bonus, will be in the hands of the state adjutant-general, it was learned at the War Department. Because of drastic curtailment of the clerical forces available in the department, the compiling of enlistment records for the adjutant-general of the states is now proceeding at a very low rate of speed.

He denied irregularity in the indictments, arguing that the language of the statutes involved had been used in their construction, and declared that the charges set forth are specific enough to satisfy statute requirements.

Mr. Sherwood stressed his demand that if the indictments stand, the defendants must be furnished with bills of particulars, specifying in detail as to time and place, the offenses charged and giving descriptions and amounts of property alleged to have been unlawfully purchased.

He contended it would be unjust to ask his clients to prepare a defense against charges so general as those put into the indictments.

$5,000 BAIL SET FOR ARBUCKLE

County Grand Jury Holds Comedian for Manslaughter.

San Francisco.—A county grand jury indictment charging Roscoe Arbuckle with manslaughter in connection with the death of Virginia Rappe after she had attended a party in his room in the St. Francis hotel, was returned to Presiding Judge Shortall, and bail has been set at $5,000 cash or $10,000 bonds and the case assigned to the court of Superior Judge Harold Louderback in the Hall of Justice.

The verdict charged Arbuckle with manslaughter and directed all official sources concerned conduct a full and exhaustive investigation.

District Attorney Brady explained that Arbuckle would not be admitted to bail until two murder charges pending against him had been disposed of.

CHANGES IN LEAGUE UNLIKELY

Unanimous Vote of Assembly Necessary for Amendment.

Geneva.—All chances for revising the covenant of the league, making it less obnoxious to the United States and thereby influencing America to join, were shattered when the judicial committee decided in a secret report to the council that a unanimous vote by assembly was necessary to make changes in the pact.

It is believed that this decision will effectually prevent alterations in the constitution of the league as it is regarded as impossible to get fifty states' members to vote solidly on a subject of this importance.

Officers' War Records Delayed.

Washington.—Another year at least must elapse before the war records of Michigan officer and nurse veterans, necessary in issuing the state bonus, will be in the hands of the state adjutant-general, it was learned at the War Department. Because of drastic curtailment of the clerical forces available in the department, the compiling of enlistment records for the adjutant-general of the states is now proceeding at a very low rate of speed.

SUES TO COLLECT INSURANCE

Ann Arbor Business Woman Alleges $383,650 Fire Loss.

Ann Arbor—Sara Goffe, doing business as the Ann Arbor Stamping & Metal Co., through her attorneys, has commenced suit in the Washtenaw circuit court against 51 insurance companies, for a total of $383,650.

The suits are to recover insurance on a fire which practically destroyed the Goffe plant on December 31, last. None of the companies have so far paid the insurance, though some have manifested a desire to pay, it is said.

An appraisal shows a loss of between $250,000 and $300,000, it is said. The delay in getting insurance paid had worked a great detriment to the business, according to the owner.

NEW HEALTH BOARD CREATED

Dr. R. A. McGregor Will Direct New State Bureau.

Lansing.—Creation of a new bureau of the state department of health, to have complete supervision over the medical, dental and sanitary work of state penal and corrective institutions, was authorized by the state administrative board last week.

He will also have advisory charge of the medical, dental and sanitary work in the state hospitals and other state institutions and will submit periodical reports to the administrative board. Dr. McGregor will receive $4,000 a year.

MARRIED TO SEVENTH SISTER

Nonagenarian Weds Sister of His Six Former Wives.

Atlantic, Iowa.—Fred Harris, 90 years of age, has just married his seventh wife. All his wives were daughters of Peter Yost, who lived in Milwaukee, Wis., and sailed a freighter on the Great Lakes in the sixties.

Harris began by marrying the oldest daughter of Yost, and has gone right down the line. The last five were widows. Mrs. Gustave Eidelmann is the last bride and she is now 78 years old. Her husband, a farmer, perished in the Minnesota forest fires of 1918. She has been married twice before.

May Get Substitute for ZR-2

London.—Reports that the American and British governments may arrange for transfer of one of Great Britain's remaining airships to American ownership to replace the wrecked ZR-2 have received credence in American official circles here, where it is stated the American government, prior to contracting for the ZR-2, considered the desirability of obtaining one of the former German Zeppelins for experimental and instructional purposes.

Divorces Cheaper at Gary.

Gary, Ind.—A general reduction in prices ranging from house rents to costs of a divorce, is in effect in Gary today. The cuts follow closely the big reduction in wages of steel workers. Lower prices were recorded in restaurants, house rents, clothing, etc. Physicians reduced their call charges to $2, and attorneys announced a cut from $100 to $50 for handling divorce cases.

Designer Killed in Collision.

Toronto, Ont.—J. A. Pyke, motor boat designer and builder of Montreal, was killed when the Claire III, in which he was a passenger, was rammed by the Leopard VI, traveling at high speed, after a race on the Exhibition grounds lake. L. A. Chappelle, mechanic of the Claire III, was severely injured. Arthur Claus, of Buffalo, driver of the Leopard VI, was arrested, charged with manslaughter.

Will Bars Liquor and Remarriage.

Chicago.—If either of the two sons of the late Fred H. Atwood, widely known Chicago attorney, use tobacco or alcoholic drinks of any kind during the life of their mother, they will forfeit an inheritance of $400,000, under the terms of their father's will. If the widow re-marries, she will be deprived of the bequest made to her, according to the will. The sons are Ephraim Henry Atwood and Ivan J. B. Atwood, members of a local law firm.

Frauleins Warned Against Marriages.

Berlin.—American officials at Coblenz have issued a written warning to the German civilian population that German girls should refuse proposals of marriage from common soldiers unless the girls are provided with sufficient money to convince the immigration authorities that they will not become public charges. The warning adds that the cost of living is much higher in America than here and that the enlisted soldier's pay is insufficient to support a wife.

of the hordes of "Kleagles" preaching the doctrines of the klan throughout the state.

While the names and numbers of klan members in Detroit are carefully guarded, an investigator who has made it his business to keep in close touch with the affairs of the klan estimates that it numbers fully 1,000 members in Detroit alone. This number, it is asserted, has been secured within the past four months, and recruiting is constantly going forward.

Among the members of the klan in Michigan, according to this investigator, are judges, chiefs of police, members of the bar, teachers, and officers of the reserve list of the army and navy. Every effort, he asserts, is being made to recruit heads of village police departments, clergymen, political bosses and other influential persons.

OLD TRAIN PAL VISITS EDISON

Mt. Clemens Man Worked With Inventor On Trains of State.

Orange, N. J.—Thomas A. Edison recently met again a boyhood friend he had not seen in 57 years. It was John Burke, former chief of police of Mt. Clemens, Mich., now a sergeant on the same force, who used to be a candy "butcher" with Edison on trains running from Detroit to Port Huron. Both worked for Edison's father 60 years ago.

When Burke was ushered into the Edison office in East Orange, he showed his hand out and shouted "Hello, Al!" Then they talked about old times for a few minutes. The "Al" is from Edison's middle name, Alva, Burke explained later.

"Al used to lock himself in and experiment when work was over," Burke said. "The rest of the boys played ball. We never could get him out, though."

DOELLE APPOINTED TO BOARD

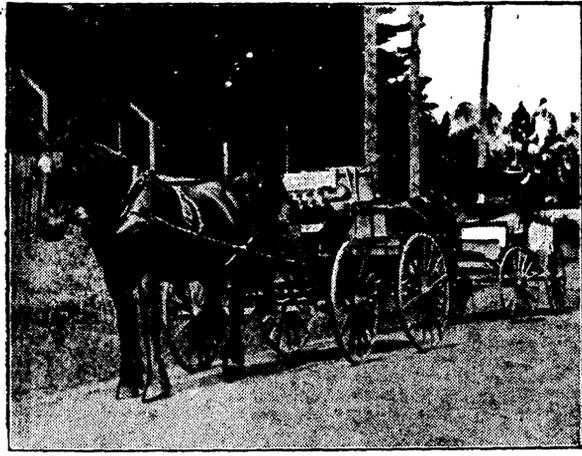

Succeeds W. H. Wallace, Resigned, On Agricultural Body.

Lansing.—The appointment of John M. Doelle, of Marquette, as a member of the state board of agriculture to succeed William H. Wallace, resigned, has been announced by Governor Grosbeck. Doelle is a member-elect to the state board and will succeed himself, January 1.

Hunted Man Shoots Himself

Hibbing, Minn.—John Webb, who shot and killed three members of the Hibbing police force, shot and killed himself in a shack one mile east of Hibbing, when surrounded by a police posse. Search for Webb had been prosecuted without pause since he shot Chief of Police Daniel Hayes. Detective Gene Cassidy and Patrolman William Kohrt, when they went to arrest him on a warrant charging a statutory offense against his young daughter.

SOLVE EGG-MARKETING PROBLEM THROUGH CO-OPERATIVE METHODS

Co-operative Marketing Has Made Egg Production a Business Instead of a "Side Line" With Many Poultrymen.

Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture. From 26 local egg circles which left the problem still unsolved, to a statewide egg-marketing association with central offices in Portland, is the step taken by poultrymen in Oregon in solving the egg-marketing problems. The story, officials of the bureau of markets and crop estimates of the United States Department of Agriculture believe, points a lesson for egg producers in other parts of the country. Recent reports of the success of the association were received by them with much interest, as being an outgrowth of community egg circles along lines advocated by the department.

Egg circles, they say, are good to start small groups of producers along the right course, but do not solve the larger egg-marketing problems, for as soon as a circle grows to such a size as to handle a half carload of eggs it becomes a real business proposition.

Handle Eggs for Few Producers. The circles in Oregon were organized in the leading poultry-producing sections and each operated independently of the others for a while, selling their eggs to Portland produce dealers or to private customers, then are paid out of a charge of 3 cents for each dozen eggs received. So successful has been this association in the southern portion of the state that a similar organization has been formed, with headquarters at Ashland.

The Department of Agriculture is encouraging egg producers in other parts of the country to form similar associations for disposing of their wares. The success of the Oregon organization, it believes, can be achieved in any other community where the producers go about it in a businesslike fashion. Organized marketing along right lines, it says, has been found to be satisfactory to all concerned.

helpless and had very little control over their products. Some eight or ten circles near Salem co-operated through the Salem circle manager, but the business was so small it was not very encouraging. Things went from bad to worse, and it was decided to form an exchange with offices in Portland to which all the circles could consign their eggs.

This move was ridiculed by produce dealers, for they knew the farmers were not under contract with the circles or the exchange; the dealers, therefore, would be able to obtain their supply of eggs by offering higher prices at the country buying points than the exchange could realize on the market. During the egg-storage season some of the firms paid more in the country, and, as they predicted, the exchange practically failed, and it appeared for a time that co-operation in the poultry business was at an end in Oregon.

A study was made of the Poultry Producers' association of central California, which was more successful, and as a result after a year's effort, the Oregon producers launched forth again to do their own business on a new basis. A state-wide membership campaign was undertaken, and the producers were asked to join the association and sign a three-year contract, or marketing agreement, whereby their whole production was to be delivered to the association to be marketed. These contracts and the storage of surplus production during the storage season placed the association in position to be an important factor in the Portland market.

Modern methods of grading, packing and standardization were adopted, and all eggs are now candled and graded into three classes. Those which are of the finest quality are put under the Diamond brand, while No. 2's, which contain off colors, under-sized and off-shaped eggs, are graded out; No. 3's are sold to the bakery trade. The business during the year was expected to reach a volume of approximately 2,000,000 dozen.

During the present season the association has shipped several cars each week to eastern markets, thus keeping the Portland market clear of surplus and in a stable condition. The success of the association has been so great and the increase in business so rapid that as recently as February no new members were being admitted, although applications at the rate of 30 a day were received. The reason for closing the membership temporarily was that they were storing eggs and the finances of the association did not permit handling additional supplies from new members.

Organized on Co-operative Basis. The association is organized on a co-operative basis, with both common and preferred stock. Each member is obliged to purchase a $10 share of common stock for each 100 hens or fraction thereof. The preferred stock carries no vote and is limited to an 8 per cent cumulative dividend. Some $40,000 preferred stock has been sold and is being retired by a levy of one-half cent on each dozen eggs. The operating expenses of the association best seed of beans and peas is to be obtained by marking a few of the finest plants with a bit of cloth at the beginning of the harvesting season and allowing the crop of these plants to ripen completely, say experts of the United States Department of Agriculture.

In making such selections it is best to choose plants alike in varietal character and earliness. When ripened until dry, pull these plants in the early morning, in order to avoid shattering, and hang or spread them in an airy, dry place until the seed is quite hard. Then shell the seed, spread it out not over two or three grains deep, and when thoroughly dry, store it for the winter in bags of coarse open-meshed fabric hung in a cool, dry place.

Pods which for any reason have been overlooked when picking beans or peas for the table should be saved, since they can be shelled for seed, though inferior to the selected stock described above. In saving seed from remnant crops of this kind it is well to discard all pods containing only one or two seeds, as these may have come from plants with a tendency to produce poorly filled pods.

Some very destructive bean diseases, including pod-spot, are carried in the seed; so it is extremely important to observe the general rule that no seed should be saved from diseased plants when saving beans for seed. Never save seed from pods which are not bright and clean.

HANDLING BRUSSELS SPROUTS

Considered by Some as Superior to Cabbage Because of its Milder Flavor.

There seems to be a growing appreciation of brussels sprouts, which some consider much superior to cabbage because of its milder flavor. The fact is not always realized, though, that the brussels sprouts can be kept long in the winter. It is only necessary to dig them up and take them indoors when cold weather comes, setting the roots in earth in boxes or on the cellar bottom. This can be done even if some of the sprouts have been removed, and, of course, they should be taken off as fast as they grow large enough for use.

SCATTER GRAN FOR POULTRY

Proper Way to Give Feed to Hens is Distribute It Over a Large Surface.

Some hens are gluttons, and in their greediness will seize food to prevent other hens from securing their share. Those are the hens that become over-fat and finally quit laying. When food is given in a way that permits the hens to eat without having to scratch, there is sure to be an unequal distribution of the food among the fowls of the flock. The proper way is to scatter the grain over a large surface so that each hen will be compelled to work, and all will fare alike.

Attorney Indicted for Murder. Jacksonville, Fla.—John Pope, local attorney, and Frank Rawlings, of Chicago, were jointly indicted for murder in the first degree, by the Duval county grand jury, as a result of the shooting to death of George H. Hickman, manager of a local vaudeville theater, during an attempt to rob Hickman of the box office receipts. Rawlings is charged with firing the shot that killed Hickman and is said by the police to have confessed that Pope planned the robbery.

Paris Fads and American Taste

Paris proposes, but the American woman disposes, asserts a prominent fashion authority.

No one knows that better than the American importers, or the buyers for American stores, who go pouring onto the continent and fairly tread on each other's toes in their effort to follow what is new in French clothes and to make necessary purchases.

It is important for them to know Paris—at least the Paris that centers its interests in making and wearing clothes at this time of year. It is important for them to know how to buy. Lots of things are important—but most important for them is the knowledge of American women. Conglomerate though we are, product of a melting pot in which have been thrown all the races of Europe, there is a very distinct something that is American taste, as unlike French taste as it is unlike British or South American taste.

The French dressmakers and designers, most of them, think they know what this American taste amounts to. They seem to think that by making certain alterations to suit the different average anatomy of the American figure, by eliminating certain trimmings and adding some others, lengthening one season, and shortening another, they will suit the American taste. But there is more of it than that. It is the result of so many complex forces that when a man or woman possesses this interpretation of American taste we usually call it intuition.

Interpreting Dress Events. Some women—many of them—find diversion and help, sometimes even a source of economy, in interpreting the events in the dress centers of France for themselves. You may follow the development of fashion because somehow or other it shows you better than anything else the trend of opinion and taste, because it brings you into very close touch with France in a season when you must stay at home. How much easier to imagine the French races if you know that this season they have worn black and white, combinations of black and white and shades of violet. If you know that there have been striking examples of the new styles, possibly into the winter?

French women are going slowly and American women will go even more slowly. However, the very short skirt is gone. For some women who never did take up the very short skirt—and there were a very great many even among the smartly dressed who did not—this means to stand pat so far as skirt lengths are concerned.

The shirt that touches or nearly touches the toes will be extreme for many months, as it surely is now. And remember this, if you do decide to indulge in this extreme be sure that you jet have played an important role, that women are wearing Spanish hats, that black lace floats from these hats or forms the wraps with which they are worn, that sleeves that are long or flowing form a contrast to sleeves that still reveal almost the entire arm!

Now you may read fashion news merely for this sort of diversion. You are wise if you look at this matter subjectively, asking yourself as you read of these departures in dress just what bearing they may helpfully have on your personal dress problem. Anything like a literal reading would be absurd. Just because one French woman makes a fad of wearing real flowers on her hat, don't come to the conclusion that you must consult the florist as well as the milliner about your new hat.

Because the correspondents make a good deal of the fact that some one appeared in the Bois de Boulogne wearing a white shoe with a black stocking and a black shoe with a white stocking, don't imagine that Parisians have all gone in for a pebald effect. Just because some friend in Paris writes you that "Every one in Paris is wearing enormous, long skirts," don't be entirely convinced. Remember that one very long bouffant skirt would attract more attention than four of the sort you are used to seeing.

What about skirts, anyway? What policy should you adopt, in planning new clothes now that you will want

Don't trust the little dressmaker by the day with your first very long skirt. It is the easiest thing in the world to have this new skirt look dowdy. If you don't take care you will look as if you had gone backward to fashions that are out rather than forward to those that are coming.

The skirt that is both long and full should not be selected for a street costume. It is better to cling to the straight silhouette save for indoors and evening. There have been circular skirts that were attractive and that called forth much favorable comment. But to be on the safe side select a skirt whose fullness is disposed in side draperies or in straight lines.

Long Sleeves Are Good.

The long sleeve is better established than the very short skirt. For the most part sleeves are either very short or very long, although the loose three-quarter sleeve has received the approval of two or three of the French dressmakers. The sleeve that is long and tight seems to be sidetracked for the present, and if you are one of those neat souls who delight in feeling a cuff fastened securely around the wrist you will have to endure patiently the floating drapery of a sleeve that hangs loose from the armhole.

Don't fail to observe that many of the dressmakers—Lanvin, for instance—are making use of a "V" neck line. This does not mean, as you may have heard, that the bateau or boat-shaped neck line is done for. This is probably good for many months to come. But as an alternative, if you find the bateau line unbecoming, or merely as a matter of variety, you may select a rather narrow "V" which may be used on the otherwise unbroken surface of the bodice. For bodices are left very plain. There are no plaits or tucks or gathers, and the tendency is to pile trimming on the skirt and to omit it from the bodice. Sometimes when embroidery is used it is worked heavily on the sleeves and on the skirt drapery, while the bodice is left in striking simplicity.

Loose, Low Waist Line.

If you are one who is waiting patiently for a more definite waistline you will probably have to keep on waiting. For the most part waistlines are still wide and fairly low. There is little chance that they will be raised or tightened for some time to come.

To be sure there are some exceptions where the waistline seems to be closely confined. Poiret on certain evening frocks makes use of metal cloth that drapes very snugly from one shoulder down and around the waist at the opposite side. This is used in connection with a very full, very long tulle skirt that balloons out at the hips, giving stress to the drawn lines of the bodice. Again there are bodices that are quite frankly dartsed or tucked in at the waist. But these are not numerous and always the nipping in is more obvious than real. Quite definitely we are getting away from the coat silhouette that bulges at the hips and waist.

NEIGHBORING NEWS

BRIGHTON—The Chevrolet touring car of H. S. Jacobs, editor of the Brighton Argus, was badly wrecked in a head-on collision with the Reo touring car of Robert A. Campbell, treasurer of the University of Michigan, early Friday afternoon near Williamston when he and his wife were returning from Lansing. The Reo was also damaged. Mr. Campbell was accompanied by a gentleman friend. Mrs. Jacobs suffered a strained ligament in one of her feet.

BRIGHTON—The ballot in the election today upheld the expectations of the advocates of consolidation by resulting nearly 2 to 1 in favor of consolidation. Of 183 votes cast 144 were Yes and only 38 No; one was spoiled.

A new era in education is ushered in for Brighton and community by this strong ballot. It is clear that the parent of this vicinity want the best for their children.

As stated in previous issues of the Argus the following school districts have renounced their old geographical lines and have merged as one consolidated district: Bethel, Bird, Beumann Lyons, Oak Grove, Cady, Bitten, No. 6 frl Hamburg, Benjamin, No. 5 frl. Brighon and Genoa.—Argus.

One night his last week persons entered Fred Dolbee's melon patch in Auclius township. After they had left, there was not enough melons left to wad a shot gun, and according to Fred he had some fine ones. But in their zealous endeavor to get everything of worth from the patch, one of the thieves lost a ring. Further, it was plainly evident they discovered their loss before leaving the patch, for their tracks showed they had hunted long and diligently near where the ring was found. Mr. Dolbee has asked the News to let this fact be known this week and that the person losing this ring can have it by calling at his place. Fred says he will make this person no trouble. However, if it is not called for before next week, he will publish the initials of the person, and if that fails to produce the owner, he will go further the following week. Better get busy, because such a procedure is always embarrassing to say the least. —Ingham County News.

American Lumber Company's Practical Aid to the People of War-Devastated Districts.

Thirty-one hundred portable houses are being sent to northern France and Belgium by one American lumber company; the first shipment left Baltimore on the New Britain recently, says the Christian Science Monitor. The size of the contract is better understood when one realizes that the cost of transporting the $15,000,000 worth of houses, each weighing from forty to sixty tons, will be $4,000,000. Together with the other contracts which preceded and which will follow, this means the transformation of many square miles of landscape, a second transformation since the summer of 1914. Among the ruins of stone cottages many centuries old, wherever a stretch of level ground has been cleared between cellar and shell holes, new, brightly painted frame houses are springing up overnight.

The effect on the peasant of this great change in housing, a leap from the middle ages to the latest development in the quick and cheap, will doubtless be varied. Many doors and many windows will make a difference, and so will walls which are anything but soundproof. But most important will be the question which will come to him as he gazes on his American-made dwelling: "My house has traveled. Why not I?"

CHEERFUL HOUSE FROCKS

House dresses are as important certainly as any others, and they have cheerful charms of their own—more lasting ones than their costlier rivals. They are usually bought ready-made, come in pleasing colors, are cut on graceful lines and are inexpensive. More than all, they return from their tubings fresh and crisp. Here is one made of gingham and trimmed with chambray and braid. It is one of many pretty and practical models.

To Preserve Famous Trees.

The National Geographic society recently presented the United States government with the title to the last 840 acres of land which complete the "big tree" stands forming Sequoia national park. The park, established to preserve the most massive trees in the world from being converted into lumber, totals 1,916 acres. It was purchased in three sections, during 1916, 1920 and 1921, for a total of $146,380, only $50,000 of which was contributed by the government. The remainder was contributed by the members of the National Geographic society, their friends, and by a tax levy of Tulare county, California.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

 success. There is a hat for every points and be kind to its faults. Three

War's Effect on Domestic Animals.
 Even the cats and dogs of Central Europe have degenerated as a result of the war, says Prof. Balkanyi, director of the veterinary school of Budupest, who is investigating how the habits of domestic animals have been influenced by that cause. Most of the town-bred cats in this part of the world refuse to drink milk because it is unknown to them, due to lack of milk during the war, the professor asserts.
 Both dogs and cats are relapsing to the savage ways of their unimpaired ancestors," he says. "The vagrancy of dogs is startling. Pet dogs elope from heart-broken mistresses, joining packs of many village dogs, where they live in communist equality."
 The same authority says that, besides hydrophobia, nervous diseases are very frequent among animals. I am afraid domestic animals in eastern Europe are degenerating and that the stock must be replenished from overseas.—Exchange.

625,000 BOTTLES SOLD IN NEW YORK

Biggest Thing of Kind Ever Seen in That State, Declare Big Wholesaler.

The fact that 625,000 bottles of Tanlac have been sold in the state of New York since its introduction there less than one year ago, is a big business item that will attract unusual attention throughout the entire East, for nothing like it has ever happened before. It breaks all records.

Mr. George B. Evans, manager of the Gibson-Snow Company, the well-known wholesale druggists, with branches in Albany, Buffalo, Rochester and Syracuse, recently announced that the preparation was now selling in their trade territories alone at the phenomenal rate of approximately 500,000 bottles a year.

"If the present rate continues," said Mr. Evans, "this state alone will probably require considerably over 750,000 bottles a year. This is a tremendous figure, but I am really conservative in making this statement."

Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.—Advertisement.

His Job.

"I thought you said your father was in the railroad business."

"I did not. I said he was a depot master."

"Yes, but isn't that a railroad job?"

"Not at all. He's depot master at a gasoline station."

WHY DRUGGISTS RECOMMEND SWAMP-ROOT

For many years druggists have watched with much interest the remarkable record maintained by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine.

It is a physician's prescription. Swamp-Root is a strengthening medicine. It helps the kidneys, liver and bladder do the work nature intended they should do.

Swamp-Root has stood the test of years. It is sold by all druggists on its merit and it should help you. No other kidney medicine has so many friends.

Be sure to get Swamp-Root and start treatment at once.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Advertisement.

CATARRHAL DEAFNESS

is greatly relieved by constitutional treatment. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced, your hearing may be destroyed forever. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts through the blood on the mucous surface of the system, thus reducing the inflammation and assisting Nature in restoring normal conditions.

WOMEN WHO CANNOT WORK

Read Mrs. Corley's Letter and Benefit by Her Experience

Edmund, S. C.—"I was run down with nervousness and female trouble and suffered every month. I was not able to do any work and tried a lot of medicine, but got no relief. I saw your medicine advertised in a little book that was thrown in my door, and I had not taken two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before I could see it was helping me. I am keeping house now and am able to do all of my work. I cannot say enough for your medicine. It has done more for me than any doctor. I have not paper enough to tell you how much it has done for me and for my friends. You may print this letter if you wish."—ELIZABETH C. CORLEY, care of A. P. Corley, Edmund, S. C.

Ability to stand the strain of work is the privilege of the strong and healthy, but how our hearts ache for the weak and sickly women struggling with their daily rounds of household duties, with backaches, headaches, nervousness and almost every movement brings a new pain. Why will not the mass of letters from women all over this country, which we have been publishing, convince such women that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help them just as surely as it did Mrs. Corley?

HOW THE FARMER WILL BE AIDED

DIRECTOR OF THE WAR FINANCE CORPORATION ON THE AGRICULTURAL RELIEF ACT.

IT'S WORKABLE, SAYS MEYER

Meets Present Conditions by Assisting in the Carrying of Farm Products So They Can Be Marketed More Slowly.

By EDWARD B. CLARK.

Washington.—Solemnly officials of government directly charged with the work of administering the agricultural relief act, which was passed by congress and approved by the President recently, believe that the legislation is to bring some of the results which are desired. Experience alone probably will determine the outcome, but the War Finance corporation is planning the work and is expressing confidence in real accomplishment.

Eugene Meyer, Jr., is the managing director of the War Finance corporation. His views on the agricultural relief act ought to be of interest, for his organization is charged with the work of its administration. His views, to be approved, or perhaps combatted, according to the viewpoint, are as follows:

"The agricultural relief act is a measure of great significance to our agricultural interests. It is a very constructive piece of legislation, and, in my opinion, is thoroughly workable from the administrative point of view. It recognizes the new conditions existing in our international and domestic trade and aims to meet these conditions by giving the War Finance corporation power to assist in financing the carrying of agricultural commodities until they can be marketed in an orderly way.

"The inability and unwillingness of foreign merchants and manufacturers to purchase the greater part of their requirements for the years during the period immediately following the harvesting of our crops, as they are accustomed to do in normal times, coupled with the failure of our own merchants and manufacturers to carry normal stocks, has brought about study of the industrial situation and of the causes of a condition which has forced nearly six million American men and women to idleness."

Apparently no official in Washington seems to think that means can easily be found to put the idle back to work, but it seems to be the hope that somehow something can be done, through legislation or otherwise, to relieve the present situation. There are doctors enough with their cures for the trouble, but most of the doctors disagree as to the remedy, and as one high official put it, the man who can find a remedy not only will be a public benefactor, but can write himself down as the first person who ever succeeded in overcoming that rare old partnership of supply and demand.

As a matter of fact, no one here believes that the men who are to come here to discuss unemployment will be able to suggest anything definite that will relieve the situation, unless the recommendation shall follow the line of suggestions of legislation of various kinds which already has been proposed.

There are men here who say that if congress will put the railroads back into running, so to speak on smooth rails, and will supplement proper legislation for the benefit of the agricultural interests, all will be well; but here again one runs up against conflicting views. There are men who think that the railroads do not need any additional legislation for their benefit and that the farming interests already have been sufficiently provided for, and that therefore something entirely new in the way of legislation is needed to start the factory whistles of the country to blowing again.

Disagree on Legislation.

Concerning some of the legislation which the administration evidently desires to have put through for the purpose of ending unemployment, there is a vast gulf of disagreement between representatives of the employers and representatives of the employed. Legislation for the relief of the railroads is a point at issue. The executives of the roads look at it one way and men employees look at it another way. There will be some kind of a compromise on legislation, but the history of things ever since the days of the Missouri Compromise goes to show that compromises generally are only strong enough to struggle through a short life.

It is certain that there is economic trouble in the country. Some six millions of Americans have acute knowledge of this fact. Men and women who made big wages during brothers and sisters who also made big money but who insisted on enforcing themselves in silk shirts and Alaska seal skins. The virtue of thrift is preached from a good many pulpits of the land every Sunday, but there are some millions of Americans today who apparently stand ready to say that experience is a better teacher than any preacher.

Small Nations and the Conference.

Based on information which came from men in touch with the intentions of the various countries of earth, the statement was made six weeks ago that "while the disarmament conference membership will be limited to certain great nations, there will be present outside the conference chamber many pleaders in behalf of countries and half-countries which lie along a line much longer than that which runs from Byzantium to Spain."

Although warned long ago, the administration and the State department are only today taking something like alarmed notice of the intention of every small nation of earth, every half-nation, and every country that wants to be a nation, to have representatives in Washington at the forthcoming disarmament and Far East conference.

Today Washington officialdom is re-asserting its determination that there shall be no consideration of any international problems "that may becloud the main issue." Apparently it took the State department a long time to learn of the activities of the agents of small countries who have been working in Washington with a view to securing some kind of a representation in the forthcoming conference, or, failing this, to force the consideration of problems with which the representatives at the conference are supposed to have nothing to do.

Headquarters for Propaganda.

Of course the will of the administration will prevail, and nothing will be taken up at the conference except disarmament and Far East problems, but if the propagandists in behalf of other things are given the news and newspaper opportunities which they seek, the public will be given full information concerning the alleged needs of this land or of that land, the boundary and other troubles of every small state, and a full presentment of the wishes of all the peoples under the sun.

In other words, Washington will be the headquarters during the conference of the propagandists in behalf of countries, races, and very likely religions. The conferees will have trouble to keep away from the importunists, and to dodge vocal and printed importunists.

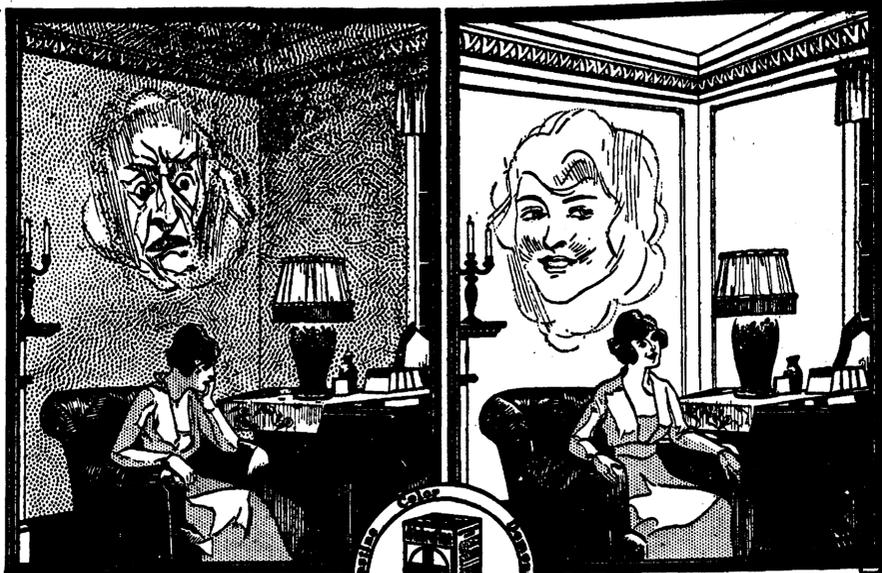

On the Contrary.

Friend—It is hard to borrow money in a strange town.

"SHOWING OFF" THE COLONEL

Storekeeper Had Eye for Business in Keeping Good-Looking Customer Waiting for Attention.

A woman in a small town asked her husband, Colonel Blank, to call in at the dairy when passing to order some new-laid eggs. After making a brief demur the colonel yielded. A little later he called at the shop in question, quite a small and unimportant establishment on a back street.

Two or three minutes passed; then, as no one came to serve him, the colonel gave a gentle knock on the counter. This had no effect; so a smart double rap was given. Then a curly-headed youngster put his head around the door and announced, "Father's a-comin'."

By the time the father arrived the colonel was boiling with rage.

"What do you mean by keeping me waiting all this time?" he roared.

"Very sorry, sir," said the man, "but you see it's like this. You're the very first good-looking man that I've had in my shop, and as there were a lot of people passing by I thought what a good advertisement you was a standing there."—Philadelphia Public Ledger.
