ANOTHER FIRE IN UNADILLA

Monday about noon a fire started in the hay mow in the barn on the Orla Jacobs farm near Unadilla. The barn and contents were destroyed and on account of the wind blowing the house caught fire but the flames on the house were subdued by the many fire fighters. Roy Rice, who works the farm said there had been no one in the hay mow where the fire started for some time.

This is the second barn burned on the Jacobs farm in a week and the barn on the Donohue farm nearby was also burned. These fires coming so soon after each other and with apparently no cause gives grounds for the belief that a fire bug is busy in the neighborhood.

SERIOUSLY INJURED

Saturday night, Walter Clark, son of George Clark, while driving his auto east of town, at the W. H. Smith farm, was injured so severely that at present it is not known how it may result.

In passing another car his front wheel struck a large stick of stove wood, the automobile became unmanageable, ran into the ditch, turned completely over and stopped in a field. The car is badly damaged, and while Walter is resting easily at this writing, it is too soon to determine the result. He is badly bruised and his spine is injured.

NINETY-FOURTH BIRTHDAY

On October 14 thirty-seven relatives of Mrs. C. E. Harlow Hanes gathered to celebrate her ninety-fourth birthday at the home of her grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hanes with whom she resides.

All present congratulated this dear one, who has spun so many golden threads in their lives.

Among the most notable guests were her sister, Mrs. Wm. Longyear of Leslie, two of her children Mrs. Cynthia La Rowe of Glendale, Calif., and Mr. Charles Marlow of Leslie, and her great-great-grandson Emmett Swart-hout. The other guests present were grand children and great grand children of Mrs. Hanes.

PHILATHEA CLASS

The Philathea Class held their October meeting at the home of Mrs. Edith Carr. Work was handed out to each member.

The September meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Nettie Johnson.

For the November gathering Mrs. Mildred Bowman has asked the ladies to invite the gentlemen. So all get ready for a regular big time.

OBITUARY

Elizabeth Dowling was born in the parish of Kilallan, in County Meath, Ireland, November 11, 1833.

At the age of seventeen she came to America, settling in New York.

In 1857 she was married to Peter Kelly. They resided in New York two years and then moved to Michigan, residing with Patrick Kelly until the following spring and purchased the farm which they occupied until the death of her husband.

She then moved to Pinckney where she lived until September 1, 1921, when on account of failing health she decided to spend her remaining days at the home of her nephew Robert Kelly until her demise took place Tuesday, October 10, 1922. The funeral was held from St. Mary's church Thursday morning, October 12, where she received the last rights of the church, Solemn Requiem High Mass.

She was the last surviving member of a family of seven children, Mrs. Kelly was a faithful member of St. Mary's Catholic church and was noted for her sterling quality and charitable deeds.

The last illness of Mrs. Kelly covered a period of more than a year's time. She was always perfectly resigned to her condition and her last great happiness was to receive the consoling rites of the Catholic church in which her whole life was spent.

Her age was 89 years, 10 months and 29 days.

Requiescat in pace.

GATHER IN WHEAT

Farmers of Western Canada Rejoice at Harvest.

Largest Crop in the History of the Fertile Provinces May Be Considered Assured.

Reports of Western Canada's wheat crop, which may be considered fairly accurate, as they are made at the end of the season, when the crop is fully harvested, would indicate a yield of between 850,000,000 and 870,000,000 bushels from a total acreage of 21,471,000.

As a result of this combined effort the largest wheat crop in the history of the West was successfully harvested. The threshing reports show that almost universally, in every section of the country, the grain graded high.

Portions of Saskatchewan that had suffered from drought for the past two or three years reaped a crop that largely made up for past disappointments.

In Alberta there was a strange condition. In the central district, always noted for its heavy yields, there was considerable of a falling off.

Point Sometimes Overlooked. He that fancies himself very enlightened because he sees the deficiencies of others may be very ignorant because he has not studied his own.

WINTER SHOULD BE RESPIRE OF FARM ANIMALS FROM PARASITES

Draft Animals of This Kind Doing Hard Work During Summer Season Are Entitled to Some Care During Winter.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Most of the domestic animals that are kept on pastures during the summer collect a wide assortment of internal parasites that spend part of their life cycle within the animal and part of it outside.

Get Rid of Parasites. From these facts about the habits of some of the well-known internal parasites of domestic animals it is plain that fall and early winter is the most opportune time to rid the animals of them.

SOUTH DAKOTA ADDS ITS STONE TO WASHINGTON MONUMENT

SOUTH DAKOTA has contributed its stone to the Washington monument. With its placement there now remain but four states unrepresented. North Dakota's legislature has the matter under consideration. Idaho is cutting a stone for presentation. Arizona and New Mexico are the two states yet to show interest.

As probably every good American knows, the Washington monument, erected in memory of the Father of His Country in the nation's capital, is the highest masonry structure in the world, rising 555 feet 5 1/2 inches. It is 55 feet square at the bottom and 34 feet square at the top, before narrowing to an apex. It is composed of 202 pieces of Maryland marble, and cost $1,187,710. It was begun in 1848 and finished in 1884. Inside are an elevator and stairway. It is visited by thousands every year and is a scenic feature of Washington. The funds for its erection were raised by the school children of the country in voluntary one-cent contributions.

The monument is more than a memorial to George Washington. As secretary of War John W. Weeks put it in his address:

"The Washington monument is even more than a memorial to the imperishable memory of the founder of the nation, for this great white shaft symbolizes the unity of 48 distinct sovereign states—an indissoluble Union—and typifies the Americanism that has made and has preserved us as a nation. There is no obligation on any state to contribute a stone to the Washington monument. It is a practice founded on beautiful sentiment, and every stone thus presented is in a sense a token of love and a pledge to uphold and maintain the Union."

South Dakota's stone is of native granite, with a facsimile of the great seal of the state carved thereon, the motto being "Under God the People Rule."

The ceremonies attending the placement of the stone were elaborate. But the feature of the occasion, from the viewpoint of many, was the reading of an original prose poem entitled "A Dacotah Ode to Washington," by Mrs. Gertrude Bonnin, an Indian woman from the Yankton agency now residing in Washington. Her name is Zitkala-Sa. The Sioux name for George Washington is Ohitika—hence the caption of this article. Zitkala-Sa's ode is thus reproduced in the Congressional Record:

The Mystic Circle.
Upon the prairie grass sat aged men and women, in mystic circle, their bronzed faces upturned to the stars. Through many winters their once raven hair was whitened till in the uncertain twilight on the plains it appeared luminous about their heads. White blossoming manhood, white flowering womanhood, these seven Da-cotah wicarcana and winocrana held secret conclave under the night sky. Keepers of the sacred eagle mystery, priests and priestesses of the Seven Council Fires of their people, they are sages of that other day when Indian camps vied with huge cloud shadows drifting on the playground of the prairie. Tonight they have chosen from out their seven a member of the smallest fire, summoned before them a Yankton Dacotah of the young generation. The spokesman, a veritable grandfather of the federated tribes, addressed her saying: "Tomorrow is the day of days. Loyal Americans will gather before a great stone shrine at the Nation's capital. South Dakotans beckon to us, the Dacotah, to join them. We accept the gracious invitation of our pale-face brothers. This is brotherhood."

As he momentarily paused, his quiet voice floated out into the eternal spaces among the stars, seemed to echo and re-echo against the stillness of the night in the concave sky. "This is brotherhood!" The voice continued, "You are called as our messenger, our interpreter. Are you willing to serve?" Without hesitation the answer came, "I am." The other members of the circle, hitherto silent, responded in approval. "Be it so," "Hecetu," The spokesman said, "You have answered well. Service is the highest privilege."

Upon the Way.
Together they taught her what to say, placed an eagle plume in her hand. "With this sacred quill write word for word what we have told you here tonight," they commanded. "At dawn start upon the journey to the great stone shrine with our message." In final parting bade her, "Upon the way, keep your heart warm with love and strong with truth. Lift up your eyes for vision."

Straight as an arrow flies from a strong bow, sped the Dacotah runner from the hallow'd circle of the starlit prairie. At break of day hastened with the message, speeding faster ever faster. Upon the way were many relays, from footsore pony to stagecoach plunging over rough country roads, from coach to the iron horse gliding rapidly upon a steel track. The miraculous journey to the nation's capital is made in safety. All faithful to her trust, the messenger stands before the monumental shrine of Washington.

The Message.
"The day of days is at hand. It is now." These the words from the Seven Council Fires of the Dacotah. "We sing the name of our first President. We call him Washington—Ohitika—undaunted leader of nations crying in the dark. He brought them light from the sky, taught them principles of peace and brotherhood: taught the hissing multitudes to say, 'We, the people'; counseled them to observe good faith and justice toward all nations." "The Dacotah people Carol with lusty throats the memorable deeds of Washington. He scanned with eagle eye the hope of a united people and happy; beheld the vision of democratic government. He rose on powerful eagle wings, with the unwavering purpose attained to lofty virtues of public service.

"A victory song we sing to the memory of Washington, who disdained kingship upon a lower realm and preferred to be a servant of the people, who by his life demonstrated only 'Right makes might.' Then over all his glorious achievements upheld our sacred emblem, the eagle, pointing to its meaning in all his noble acts."

"We venerate the memory of our great pale-face brother, Washington, the chiefest among guardians of spiritual fires—liberty and unity, Washington, thrice worthy of the decoration of the eagle plume, for he left the impress of his meaning upon the minds and hearts of all Americans."

"This is our glad song today. The eagle represents the conscious spirit of man, soaring into the silent upper air for meditation and spiritual communion, soaring away from the transitory turmoil of the day, into the heights, there gaining wider vision, adding strength and wisdom, then finding the secret of joyous being, unburdened from the pettiness of make-believers."

"Comrades of the earth, the hope of our humanity lies in the preservation of high ideals, in holding fast to these symbols and precepts bequeathed us through all ages and races of men till we have learned their innermost lesson. It is well that the sacred eagle is carved upon America's gold, lest we forget in the heat of world commerce our brotherhood upon earth. It is well that the eagle is engraved upon the buttons and insignia of our brave men, lest we forget in the wild flurry of swift locomotion and radio communication to perfect our relationships, man to man, nation to nation, with justice and mercy."

"Long live the memory of Washington, whose praises we sing this day of days!"

"Long live the eagle principles he inculcated in the hearts of the people!"

"Then shall come many days of peace, prosperity and happiness!"

Not Bo'n in Va'ginia.
Of course, however, it is one thing to be admitted to Virginia society and another to belong to it by right. A case in point is that of a lady visiting in a Virginia city who, while calling at the house of some "F. F. V." was asked by a little girl, the daughter of the house, where she had been born. "Mawtha," said the little girl's mother, after the caller had departed, "you must not ask people where they were bo'n. If they were bo'n in Va'ginia they will tell you so without asking, and if they weren't bo'n in Va'ginia it's very embarrassing." Julian Street in "American Adventures."

Literary Snipers.
Librarians find that many readers delight in discovering errors in classical works and popular fiction and recording them on the margins of pages. Thus it has been noted that in "Around the World in Eighty Days," the hero reaches his club as the clocks of the town are striking "10 minutes to 10"; that in "Monte Cristo," the author or translator makes the crew stand by to drop anchor and leap to the sheets simultaneously, and Rider Haggard makes an eclipse of the moon take place when the moon is new.—New York American.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

Special Care of Baby.

That Baby should have a bed of its own all are agreed. Yet it is more reasonable for an infant to sleep with grown-ups than to use a man's medicine in an attempt to regulate the delicate organism of that same infant. Either practice is to be shunned. Neither would be tolerated by specialists in children's diseases.

Your Physician will tell you that Baby's medicine must be prepared with even greater care than Baby's food.

A Baby's stomach when in good health is too often disarranged by improper food. Could you for a moment, then, think of giving to your ailing child anything but a medicine especially prepared for Infants and Children? Don't be deceived.

Make a mental note of this:—It is important, Mothers, that you should remember that to function well, the digestive organs of your Baby must receive special care. No Baby is so abnormal that the desired results may be had from the use of medicines primarily prepared for grown-ups.

Ebenezer's Explanation Surely Should Have Carried Weight, Under the Circumstances.

Ebenezer Washington was up before the city recorder for being drunk. The judge looked at him for a moment and said: "You have been up here twice for being drunk, Ebenezer, and, seeing you are an old man, I am going to let you off with a fine of $5. Now, see that you don't come here again. It's the road, if you do."

The old negro thanked him and walked out of the court room.

The next morning Ebenezer was up in court again for being drunk. His case was called. The judge looked at him reprovingly and remarked: "Ebenezer, I told you not to come up here again and here you are. Have you anything to say?"

The old negro looked up and replied: "No, sah, judge, only dat dis am de same drunk."—Judge.

John Bull and His Wool.
Australia's biggest lawsuit is to be tried. The wool commission, representing the British government, is bringing action against the Australian wool growers and exporters, claiming damages of about $4,500,000. The wool commission alleges the Australian wool dealers disposed of wool contrary to their arrangement with the British government. The plaintiff's brief covers no fewer than 4,000 pages.

Certain Test.
Two fishermen were angling in a river, when one suddenly dropped his rod. "Say!" he ejaculated, "Did you see that fellow fall off that cliff over there into the river?"
"Don't get excited, Bill," soothed the other. "Mebbe it was a movie actor makin' pictures."
"But, my stars! How kin we tell?"
"Well," counseled the judicious one. "If he drowns, he ain't"—Epworth Herald.

Not Without Reason.
Katherine Louise, age four, came into the house with her little face barely recognizable, so unusually grimy was it. Suspicious-looking black furrows were down her plump cheeks.
"My, but some one I know has an awfully dirty face," remarked her mother.
"Course," came back the matter-of-fact reply. "I been cryin' on it."

Kind Word in Season.
An American, newly arrived, went into a London tea-shop, took his seat and waited. Presently a bright-eyed waitress approached him and asked: "Can I take your order?"
"Yes. Two boiled eggs and a kind word."
The waitress brought the eggs and was moving on when the American said: "Say! What about the kind word?"
The waitress leaned over and whispered. "Don't eat the eggs."

'Flying Dutchman' Legend
The legend of the Flying Dutchman is of a Dutch skipper who, in the early part of the seventeenth century, was trying to round the Cape of Good Hope in the teeth of a succession of heavy gales, against which his clumsy craft was unable to beat to windward and gain any way. This Dutch skipper is said to have blasphemed the Almighty to keep him from rounding the cape, and declared that he would keep at it, in spite of heaven and hell, until he made it. He was taken at his word, and is supposed to be still at it. Imaginative seafarers of bygone years, when encountering the common occurrence of heavy weather off the cape and a head wind, used to imagine that out of the mist they could see the galliot of the Flying Dutchman, with its dauntless captain standing on her high poop and shaking his fist at the stormy sky. It is quite safe to say that the Flying Dutchman has not appeared a

FARM BUREAU NOTES

Dr. David Friday to be at Howell

The question asked so often in the last six months by farmers, business men and bankers, who are interested in the future of Livingston County as a dairy center, is, what will be the climax as the result of dairy price fluctuations of the last twelve months.

This being a very important subject, dealing directly with the welfare of at least 75 per cent of the farmers and the other 25 per cent who should be interested with their market sources, of which both business men and bankers of the county are vitally interested, outside data was looked for.

County Agent C. L. Bolander, realizing the condition, took the proposition before Dr. David Friday, President Michigan Agricultural College, and he has consented to be in the county on the 17th of November. Through the cooperation of Supt. Page of the Howell High School, a banquet is being arranged for, which every man in the county is cordially invited to attend. Everyone interested and who can be present, should notify Prof. Page or send word to the County Agent's office. The seating capacity of the High School for a dinner is limited to 200, so it is very important that the committee in charge be notified accordingly.

Dr. Friday, without question, is one of the greatest economists in the country today and will be in a position to give some very valuable information. It is rather a difficult task to get him out to such gatherings, as his time is so taken up with the many State and National problems, that Livingston County can be counting itself mighty fortunate of the opportunity.

Over 850,000 worth of corn was grown by the 20,000 young farmers who were members of boy's corn clubs last year, according to the United States Department of Agriculture.

SUNDAY HUNTING UNLAWFUL

The Dispatch recently published a statement that it was unlawful to hunt on Sunday. This statement has been a subject of some controversy and some hunters are of the opinion that no such law exists.

In order to enlighten those who do not know the law referred to we are publishing the legislative acts.

Act 273. P. A. 1905

Section 1--It shall be unlawful for any person or persons, whether residents of this or any other state, to hunt, for game with firearms, dogs, or otherwise on Sunday on any lands or premises of another in the county of Livingston of this state, without the consent of the owner or lessee of such lands or premises.

Evidence of Violation

Section 2--Any person or persons found upon the lands or premises of another without the consent of the owner or lessee of such lands or premises, with firearms in his possession on Sunday, shall be deemed prima facie evidence of a violation of this act.

Penalty

Section 3--Any person or persons violating the provisions of this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall be liable to a fine of not more than twenty-five dollars and cost of prosecution, or to imprisonment in the county jail of not to exceed thirty days, or both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court: Provided, however, that no complaint shall be made or entertained against any person or persons for the violation of any of the provisions of this act, unless the same shall be made by the owner or lessee of such lands or premises trespassed upon: Provided further, That any officer duly authorized to make arrest, including the state game and fish warden and his deputies, may arrest without warrant any person or persons caught by him in the act of violating any of the provisions of this act, when requested by the owner or lessee of the lands or premises trespassed upon. Such arrests may be made on Sunday in which case the person arrested may be taken before a justice of the peace having jurisdiction and proceeded against as soon as may be on a week day following the arrests.

Section 5--The word "Sunday" as used in this act shall be construed to mean the first day of the week.

FARM BOYS AND GIRLS VIE IN INTERSTATE EXPOSITION

Farm boys and girls enrolled as club members by extension agents cooperatively employed by the United States Department of Agriculture and the State agricultural colleges were represented by champion demonstration and judging teams from the 12 central states at the interstate boys' and girls' club exhibit and encampment at Sioux City, Iowa, September 18 to 23. Over 8,900 of these teams competed in 1921 for representation at Sioux City, putting on nearly 10,000 public demonstrations of club activities. The total enrollment in the 12 States last year was more than 180,000 club members, whose production was valued at $2,640,000.

The United States Department of Agriculture cooperated this year with the State Agricultural colleges and the fair association in the installation of a striking series of 12 booths in the special boys' and girls' club building, exemplifying the leading lines of club work, as follows: Illinois, corn; Iowa, poultry; Kansas, pigs and sorghum; Michigan, handicraft; Minnesota, bread; Missouri, home management; Montana, clothing; Nebraska, radio; North Dakota, food; Wisconsin, dairying; Wyoming, canning.

The fact that farm boys and girls are making a substantial contribution to the agriculture and life of their communities is being strongly emphasized throughout the exhibit. In addition to putting on exhibits and demonstrations these young farmers and home makers are receiving practical instruction in better farming and home making and in developing their abilities for leadership.

Public Roads of the United States Department of Agriculture. Registration of passenger cars, taxis, busses, and motor trucks totaled 10,620,471 on this date, an increase of 157,176, which is a healthy growth, as the first half of the year is the of season for registration of new vehicles.

The surprising fact, however, is that of the 157,174 increase in registration motor trucks constituted 116,701, against 85,080 passenger cars and 5,448 taxis and busses. This means an increase of over 16 per cent of the number of motor trucks at the beginning of the year. Figures are not available to show what part of the increase of 5,448, or nearly 11 per cent, in the taxi and bus registration is due to the increase in the number of busses traversing rural and suburban routes, but it is very probable that a considerable part of the increase is due to the development of this new form of transportation.

It has been frequently said that the traffic is always ready and waiting when good roads are built, and that the commercial vehicle as a class is more handicapped by lack of good roads than the pleasure vehicle. The increase in the registration of commercial vehicles, coupled with the present activity in highway construction, seem to bear out this statement in the opinion of department officials.

The table of statistics issued by the bureau shows a registration of 9,467,874 private cars, 55,990 taxis and busses, and 1,096,605 motor trucks, making a total of 10,620,471.

Reports received by the U. S. Department of Agriculture indicate that 2,215,000 farmers or about 1,110 per county adopted methods introduced by county extension agents.

ZONA GALE
 One of Wisconsin's most distinguished daughters, Zona Gale, did not achieve recognition without a struggle. Born at Portage, and finishing her education at the state university, she went to Milwaukee to become a newspaper woman. Progress was slow, and was still slower when she made a try in New York.
 Miss Gale made two different attempts and spent nearly two years before she gained a precarious foothold in the journalism of the metropolis. One of these years, in order to obtain a regular salary, she spent in secretarial work. Next, she put in two years of unremitting industry or sketches and stories before one was accepted by a magazine of standing.
 After placing a story with Smart Set and another with Success magazine, she had confidence in her ability to succeed as a writer and returned to Portage. Her "Friendship Village" and other stories, which have placed a number of Wisconsin communities on the map, gave her a name in the world of letters. Now, as the author of "Miss Lulu Bett," one of the most successful novels of recent years, she has leisure to plan other big work and to take the delight of a true nature lover in the flowers, trees, squirrels and birds of her pretty home.
 We are fortunate in having secured the serial rights to "Miss Lulu Bett" and shall offer it to readers of this paper.

GLENN P. WIGGINS
For Drain Commissioner

The nominee for county drain commissioner is Glenn P. Wiggins, of the township of Deerfield. He has held the office of highway commissioner of this township for three years, during which time he had experience in drainage work and was never afraid to take the hard hand and lead on the job as a saving to tax payers. During the late war he responded to the call of his country and served overseas in the thick of the battle. A vote for him on November 7th, will be a recognition for his service to his country. Two years ago he made the run for this office and went down in defeat in the nation wide victory for the republican party. This year his friends, irrespective of party, are hopeful for his election.

Love's Dream Shattered.
When I was in the eighth grade I was greatly infatuated with one of my classmates. One day while I was uptown I stepped into the confectionery store to buy some candy, and whom should I see in there, slipping at an ice-cream soda, but my prince charming. He immediately invited me to have some ice cream with him, which I was only too glad to do. But when the waiter came over to take my order my love for my idol dissolved into hatred, for he condescendingly asked the waiter to bring two more straws for me.—Exchange.

AUTO CLUB HEAD FIGHTS GAS TAX

CALLS PROPOSED PLAN TO MULCT CAR OWNERS FOR FUEL THEY USE UNJUST.

PAY ENOUGH NOW IN TAXES

If Additional Money is Needed to Run State Affairs Conference Should Be Called to Work Out Plan.

BY COL. SIDNEY D. WALDON
President Detroit Automobile Club

Certain interests in the State of Michigan are advocating a tax on all gasoline used within the borders of the State. They have been openly working for the measure for some months to develop sentiment in favor of additional taxation for the man who owns a motor car. It is their intention, they intimate, to go before the Legislature in January, 1923, and ask that body to enact a law that will require every user of gasoline to pay a tax of one cent or more per gallon on all they purchase.

As is usually the case in tax matters the proponents of the plan are proceeding under the assumption that anything used in connection with an automobile is readily taxable. They seem to feel it is the duty of the more than 500,000 motor car owners in Michigan to dig into their purses just because somebody happens to think this a good way to raise money.

Auto Made Michigan.
If there is one State in the Union where unjust taxes should not be saddled on to the motor car it is Michigan. The motor car has been the making of the Wolverine State industrially. Had not this wonder industry in Michigan the State would be industrially where it was two decades back. We all know Michigan was not among the industrial leaders, though she is today, and the motor car is to be thanked for the progress made.

The motorists of Michigan and the United States are already paying their fair share and perhaps more, of the taxes. Take, for instance, the main tax levies, of which there are five. They may be listed as follows:

1. National income taxes common on all individuals.
2. Sales tax paid by the manufacturer and passed on by him to the owner, and limited to the automobile and a few other industries.
3. Taxes on repair parts; a percentage charge on the life of all automobiles, whether passenger or truck, a tax specific to the auto owner.
4. State license and registration fees, a virtual monopoly to the automobilist.
5. Scattering taxes, such as driver's license, chauffeur's license, certificate of title, etc.

Motorists Pay Millions.

Bureau of Internal Revenue figures for 1920, the last available in Governmental reports, show that the public treasury collected in round figures $267,000,000 in special and discriminatory taxes on automobiles in the year. The Federal Government took $149,000,000, the States $107,000,000, and Municipalities $11,000,000.

A study of tax figures in Michigan is interesting. It reveals that personal and real property pay only 2.90 percent on assessed valuation, while motor cars pay 5.12 percent, almost 100 per cent more. These figures are based on State figures for 1921, personal and real property value being $5,483,535,114, while cars are worth $181,814,868. The real and personal property pays $158,388,566.57, and the automobiles $6,751,924.51.

When a Michigan man buys a Ford car he must pay taxes equalling approximately 7 percent of the cost of the car. The United States takes part and Michigan the rest. Is any other property as heavily taxed?

Many people have tentatively assented to a tax of one or more cents per gallon because they have been told it is a small item and because they do not realize how much the motor car owner is already paying in taxes on his vehicle.

Would Cost $4,000,000.

Figures supplied the Detroit Automobile Club by the Standard Oil Co. and Sinclair Refining Co., the largest gasoline dealers in Michigan, show that motorists of Michigan will be forced to pay approximately $4,000,000 per annum if they accept the gasoline tax. This sum is based on gasoline sales in 1921. Are the motor car owners of Michigan ready to hand over this amount just to satisfy the whim of some group of tax proponents?

The idea seems to be to tax the automobile when in doubt. It is assumed that the motorist is "easy" and will not object to a little more taxation. Even if more money is needed to operate the State Government no tax of any kind should be founded on reasons of expediency such as ease of collection or ability to pay. Every tax should be based on rules of justice and equality.

The gasoline tax is not just, inasmuch as motorists are already paying a fair share of Michigan's taxes. If more money is needed to conduct the State's affairs some equitable way of assessing the additional tax should be worked out.
