SUNDAY AUTO ACCIDENT

Sunday morning about ten o'clock John Donohue of Gregory, driving a new Ford touring car, and a Mr. Meyer of near Detroit, driving a Chevrolet sedan collided their cars on Main street at the Howell road.

Mr. Donohue was driving east and about to turn on the Howell road and Mr. Meyer was coming straight west when the accident happened. No one was hurt but both cars were badly smashed.

BLASTING DITCH DEMONSTRATION

The cleaning out of old dredge drains by the use of dynamite is becoming more practical every day. On the Cohoctah-Conway-Marion outlet, between the Henry and John Teller farms, will be a scene of excitement when a stretch of 85 rods through a marsh will be opened up and cleaned with the use of 50 per cent straight nitro-glycerine dynamite. Friday, the 27th, is the day set for the big shooting. The largest shot will take place at two o'clock, fast time, and most of the activities can be viewed from the road.

Drain Commissioner R. K. Wrigglesworth, after consulting experienced parties, is satisfied that this is the most practical method. The place of action is situated three miles southwest of Cohoctah station on the Byron road and about eight miles northeast of Howell. County Agent C. L. Bolander is cooperating with Mr. Wrigglesworth in laying out the project.

REASONS FOR LOW FORD PRICES

According to a statement just issued by Edsel B. Ford, President of the Ford Motor Company, Detroit, a general reduction of $50.00 a car has been made in the prices of Ford Model T cars and the Ford 1 Ton Truck, effective October 17.

"The revision in prices," said Mr. Ford, "is the result of the increased volume of business which our company has enjoyed during the present year, and also, to the fact that we now own and operate many of our own sources of raw material, which enables us to continue increasing the quality of our product and at the same time keep the price so low that Ford cars are in reach of everybody."

"Our production for 1922 is already in excess of a million, which has been an important factor in bringing down costs. Our present daily output is averaging better than 5,000 Cars and Trucks, which means a complete Ford Car or Truck every 5 1-2 seconds of each eight-hour working day. It is in anticipation of this continued demand that price adjustments are again being made in order to keep in effect the policy of selling Ford products at the lowest price consistent with quality."

"Quality, as usual," said Mr. Ford, "will continue to be a prime consideration in the building of Ford Cars. As our business has increased we have constantly increased our equipment and manufacturing facilities, so that this price reduction merely reflects the progressive methods which come as a result of increased volume."

"This reduction, which is the sixth since March 1920, brings the price of the Ford Touring Car from $575, the price in effect early in 1920, to the present extremely low level of $298, which is nearly 50 per cent less. Corresponding reductions have been made on all other types."

The new prices by types follow:
Touring ..... $298
Roadster ..... 269
Chassis ..... 235
Coupe ..... 530
Sedan ..... 585
Truck ..... 880

BONAR LAW SUCCEEDS LLOYD GEORGE AS PREMIER

ANDREW BONAR LAW.

London—Two hours after accepting the resignation of Premier Lloyd George and his entire coalition cabinet, King George of Great Britain summoned Andrew Bonar Law, who in a 20-minute audience, accepted the post and set out to form a new ministry.
The doughty Welshman, who has reigned supreme at Downing street for six years, went down to defeat, smilingly and apparently unconcerned.
But Lloyd George let it be known in no uncertain terms that he is not through. He intends to battle in the election with one object in mind—the re-establishment of himself in the premiership. He has the unwavering loyalty of the conservative ministers who are thrown overboard with him and who control no small coterie of the conservative body politic.

DEALERS TOLD TO SECURE LICENSES

POTTER SENDS APPLICATIONS TO COUNTY ADMINISTRATORS FOR DISTRIBUTION.

INFORMATION WILL BE SECURED

Application Will Give Facts As To Distributors and Amount of Coal on Hand in State.

Lansing—Distribution of application blanks for coal dealers licenses was begun by State Fuel Administrator W. W. Potter last week, following the county fuel administrators through the signing of the coal regulation bill by Governor Groesbeck.
From the form of application blanks, two purposes will be served by the licensing of coal dealers as provided in the fuel regulation act, first, the application blank is in the form of a questionnaire, which, when filled out, will give the state fuel administrator accurate information as to the quantity of coal sold in the state through dealers last year, the quantity sold thus far in 1922, and the relative quantities sold to domestic, industrial and utility consumers.
The second purpose the application blank will serve, is to provide information concerning the length of time each dealer has been in business, whether he has an established yard and equipment for handling coal and the extent of his facilities for the distribution of fuel in his locality. These facts, it is said, will draw the line sharply between the legitimate, established fuel company, whether wholesale or retail and the fly-by-night broker who goes into the fuel business only during shortages or other unsettled conditions of the market to speculate in coal for the high prices that may be had.
According to Mr. Potter, it is those who enter the business purely as a speculative proposition, during an emergency, that work the most havoc with the fuel market, and bring hardships upon dealers and consumers alike.
It is pointed out that, during the war, much speculation in coal by unreliable persons was carried on with the result that mines were never paid for whole trainloads of coal shipped and artificial increases in prices were brought about.
A great many dealers, who ordered coal through these brokers, in good faith, contracting for it at the going market price, were forced to go into the market and buy at an increased price when they discovered that the coal they had ordered had been sold by the brokers to persons who had offered a slightly higher price than that at which it was contracted for.
One of the objects of the fuel control bill, Mr. Potter declared, is to discourage similar practices in cases of an acute fuel shortage this winter.
All applications for licenses are to be made through the county fuel administrators, and are to be forwarded to the state fuel administrator with the approval of the county officials.

For Drain Commissioner

The nominee for county drain commissioner is Glenn P. Wiggins, of the township of Deerfield. He has held the office of highway commissioner of his township for three years, during which time he had experience in drainage and was never afraid to take the shovel in hand and lead on the job as a saving to tax payers. During the late war he responded to the call of his country and served overseas in the thick of the battle. A vote for him on November 7th, will be a recognition for his service to his country. Two years ago he made the run for this office and went down in defeat in the nation wide victory for the republican party. This year his friends, irrespective of party, are hopeful for his election.

Says It Made a New Person of Her

Thousands of people needlessly endure a half-sick, nervous, run-down condition when they might enjoy sturdy, robust health and all its manifold blessings if they only knew what to do. People in this condition find Tanlac soon ends their trouble and builds up abundance of strength, energy and vitality. Mrs. Paul Lavreau, 67 S. Fitzhugh St., Rochester, N. Y., says: "Sometime ago my health and strength left me all at once. I lost nineteen pounds in a short time and could hardly stay up. I gained five pounds on two bottles of Tanlac and it has made me perfectly well and strong again."

Nervousness and a run-down, tired-out feeling are but symptoms of a hidden cause, which usually lies in the stomach. Tanlac enables you to digest your food properly, eliminate waste and regain your old time strength and vigor. Get a bottle today at any good druggist.—Advertisement.

Mrs. Theresa Wilkerson

South Bend, Ind.—"For some time I suffered from an organic trouble, with pains in my side, backache, and bearing pains. Through this I became so nervous and weak that I could not do anything. I was a miserable wreck, got so thin I only weighed ninety pounds. No medicine seemed to give me relief until I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. After I had taken a few doses of this medicine I knew I had at last found something that was going to help me. I felt so much better. I now weigh 140 pounds, and do not have an ache or a pain, and am completely rid of all my ailments. Can do all my work and am stronger and healthier than for a long time. Favorite Prescription has made a new woman of me."—Mrs. Theresa Wilkerson, 622 N. Walnut St. All druggists sell "Favorite Prescription" in tablets or liquid.

DWINDLING FORESTS ARE FORCING MUCH DECREASED USE OF LUMBER

The Exhaustion of Our Timber Supply is Coming About Because We Have Failed to Use Our Timber-Growing Land.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.) If the food consumed by each man, woman, and child were reduced by one-third, the pinch of hunger would soon be felt and the cry of famine undoubtedly raised.

Yet substitute the word "wood" for "food" and you have exactly what has happened in the use of lumber. The per capita consumption has dropped from 500 board feet in 1900 to 316 board feet in 1920, says the forest service, United States Department of Agriculture.

This decreasing use of a fundamental commodity, according to forest experts, is not a result of decreasing needs but a result of forest exhaustion. It is not being accomplished without economic hardship or without curtailment of industrial expansion. It is not a temporary condition that will automatically adjust itself, for even at this reduced rate of consumption we are still cutting our forests more than four times as fast as they grow. The situation proclaims, according to the forest service, that if we are to remain a nation of timber users, we must become a nation of timber growers.

Reached Highest Point in 1906. In 1906, when American lumber production reached its highest point, the average per capita consumption of lumber in the United States was approximately 500 board feet. Since that time the per capita consumption has rapidly and consistently decreased until in 1920 the average citizen used approximately 316 board feet. This is a reduction of 37 per cent in 13 years, or nearly 3 per cent a year. Should this decrease continue at its present rate, by 1940 the downward sweep of consumption would approach zero. This, of course, will not happen. The average consumption will ultimately reach a fairly stable level, which will depend mainly upon the extent to which our devastated forests are made again productive.

The consumption of lumber is not evenly distributed. Previous studies indicated that the states of the Pacific Northwest, now the last great stronghold of big lumbering operations, had a much higher per capita consumption than those of other regions, but the present figures are the first to give information for all states upon the same basis. Naturally the greatest per capita consumption occurs where wood is plentiful and the population is relatively small. In Washington and Oregon the consumption appears to be between 900 and 1,000 board feet annually per person.

Next come California, Montana, Idaho, and Wyoming, where the rate of consumption is from 500 to 800 feet per person annually. In these states timber is relatively plentiful as compared with the density of the population, and a very considerable expansion has been taking place in the development of farms and other natural resources.

The group next lower in per capita consumption includes the Lake states, and sweeps southwesterly across the prairie states through Colorado, New Mexico, and Arizona. In this group the annual consumption is between 300 and 500 feet, board measure.

Use Less Than 300 Feet. Practically all the remaining states fall into a class in which the annual consumption is 200 to 300 feet. This group extends in a broad belt from Texas along the southern and eastern Atlantic coast to Cape Cod, Mass. It also includes North Dakota, Iowa, Utah, and Nevada.

The lowest consumption of all is in Rhode Island, the District of Columbia, South Carolina, and Georgia, in which the average consumption is rated between 100 and 200 feet per year. In the District of Columbia there is an extreme situation in density of population. No lumber is produced, there is little farming or manufacturing, and the entire population consists of urban dwellers in houses of brick and stone and require relatively little lumber. All the lumber used in the District of Columbia is imported from other states, just as it is in some of the non-timbered prairie states.

In general, the older and more densely settled states show the lowest average consumption. The states characterized by heavy agricultural operations come next, and the greatest use per individual is indicated in those states where there is still considerable timber and where the extension of home building is proceeding at a rapid rate, using the abundant material provided by the forests. The states are going through an evolutionary process, building first of lumber and later of more costly materials as the forests recede before fire and axe.

Seed Corn Tips

There should be a free circulation of air around the ears while they are drying. Corn should not be dried in the direct sunlight. Poorly dried corn will be much lower in germination. Artificial heat or kiln drying quickly expels the excess moisture from the ears and prevents injury by freezing. Kiln-dried seed corn has the greater vigor and vitality. Do not overheat the corn while it is moist. Partially dried corn should not be exposed to zero weather. After drying, corn should be stored in a dry room which is free from rats and mice.—R. A. Moore, University of Wisconsin.

MATERIAL FOR ROAD MAKING

First Shipment of Surplus Army Equipment Used in Germany Arrives at Brooklyn.

The first shipment of surplus war material used by the American army of occupation in Germany and now to be distributed among the states for use in road construction arrived at Brooklyn, N. Y., July 1. The equipment consisting of 30 trucks, 7 tractors, 4 concrete mixers, and 3 road rollers, will be distributed by the bureau of public roads of the United States Department of Agriculture in the same way as was several million dollars' worth of material from France and the arsenal and camps in this country. Additional material for road making to be shipped from Germany will consist of several hundred trucks, a number of tractors, and about 2,000,000 pounds of spare parts for trucks.

FIRST CALF MOST VALUABLE

One Reason is That Heifer Devotes Her Time to Nourishment and Growth of Youngster.

There are numerous reasons why the first calf from a heifer may be more valuable than succeeding calves, and one of these reasons is that the sole duties of a heifer are to grow and nourish her first-born, while her duties of future years include the production of milk and butterfat and these take toll from her and the food she receives in proportion to the magnitude of her production.

IMPORTANT IN CHICKEN YARD

Health of Fowls Depends Largely on Kind of Feed That is Given and How it is Served.

The health of our family depends largely upon the kind of feed that is given them and the way it is served. It is just as important to feed right in the chicken yard. Have the right kind of feed and see to it that it is of good quality, and not tainted in any way.

PUREBRED MAKES BEST GAIN

Puts on Weight Faster on Same Feed Than Either Grade or Scrub—Brings Higher Price.

The grade hog is more profitable for the farmer than the scrub or razor-back and the purebred is more profitable than the grade. The purebred gains weight faster on the same feed than either the grade or the scrub and finishes so much better for market that it invariably commands a much better price.

Most Profitable Hog. The bigger a hog a hog can make of himself the more profitable hog he is.

A Reminder.

A man was almost frantic with toothache. The only other person in the room was his pompous, pedantic, matter-of-fact aunt. Presently the man burst out: "Oh, I wish to goodness people were born without teeth." His aunt glanced at him from her paper. "A moment's consideration, my dear Alfred," she said, "will remind you that that is precisely what does happen." And she went on reading.

Evidently Christians.

An American family living in China recently hired two servants from Nanking, a missionary center. Accordingly, the new servants were Christians. Another Chinese servant in the family discovered the newcomers' religion and reported the fact to his mistress. Asked how he knew the new boys were Christians, he said: "Oh, they know all about God, Jesus Christ, and Santa Claus."

If You Need a Medicine You Should Have the Best

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the article did not fulfill the promises of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited to those who are in need of it. A prominent druggist says, "Take for example Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend, for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy has so large a sale."

According to sworn statements and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact, so many people claim, that it fulfills almost every wish in overcoming kidney, liver and bladder ailments, corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism. You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by parcel post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents; also mention this paper. Large and medium size bottles for sale at all drug stores.—Advertisement.

Musical Note.

A very dear old woman walking along the street saw an Italian turning a peanut roaster. She stood looking at it awhile, shook her head, and said: "No, I shan't give you any money for such music as that. I can't hear any of the tunes, and besides it smells as if there were something burning inside."—The Congregationalist.

Hint for Amateur Painters.

When painting or varnishing soft wood, always first paint the wood with shellac and let it dry before painting or varnishing. This saves about half the paint and gives a much harder and smoother surface to the wood.

Punctilious.

"That fellow is very equitable about his debts." "Heh?" "He pays nobody."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

There are some things that are better said than done, but lovmaking isn't one of them.

Eggnog is still made without the essential ingredient; but it is used to pour on the pudding.

Somehow the average boy lacks a mania for acquiring good-conduct marks at school.

Could There Be a Fish Famine?

How many fish are in the sea? Are we catching them too fast? Can we keep up our Friday diet on other days and be sure that the taste we are cultivating will continue to be satisfied? Nobody seems to know. Will F. Thompson of the California Fish and Game commission has told the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Mr. Thompson thinks we are taking long chances by not finding out and wants biologists to get accurate figures on the subject. We cannot continue to double the catch every ten years without reaching the limit some time, and we ought to know the reasons why many fish come to net one time and not so many the next. The weather and ocean conditions have a tremendous effect as well as other natural changes which have nothing to do with overfishing. We ought to know how fast they grow, and where they go when they are not here.
