JUST WATCH HIS STEP

Last week our village president spent considerable time cleaning up and making the public square look more inviting. He did not merely give orders about the work, or stand around and oversee the job, but personally conducted rakes and other tools around the square until it now looks "as clean as a whistle."

President Kennedy already has a fine reputation for keeping his own premises in apple pie order. His store is always kept neat and in the alley behind the store no refuse is allowed to accumulate to harbor flies and increase the fire risk. He is in the right position now, as village president, with the assistance of all citizens who like to see the village kept clean, to insist on a better appearance of our streets.

Why not cooperate with him in this respect? Those unsightly and unsanitary heaps of ashes and rubbish that have accumulated so many years are unsightly, unsanitary and are a positive loss in insurance rates, as they make the fire risks more hazardous.

We believe Mr. Kennedy is the right man for president and that, with some assistance, will give us an administration that will be satisfactory to all right minded citizens.

EXTENSIVE IMPROVEMENTS ON THE BLUFFS

At the suggestion of Lucius E. Wilson of Chicago, the resort property at The Bluffs, Portage Lake, will be greatly improved this coming season. Mr. Wilson and family have spent the summer seasons at different resorts and last summer visited The Bluffs. They have decided to make this resort their permanent summer home. At his suggestion, Earl Baughn and W. E. Miller, who own and control all the available sites there, will convert one section into a high class summer colony with building and other restrictions that will ultimately result in an ideal summer resort.

The Pearce, Robinson Company, landscape architects with a national clientele, have been engaged to make the improvements necessary and work will soon be under way, as their representative visited the property this week and made the preliminary survey. Sanitary conditions will receive necessary attention, sewerage provided and all the details attended to.

Mr. Wilson was here Monday, and with his large experience will be of valuable assistance to the owners in developing this property into an ideal playground.

SPECIAL EASTER SERVICE

The Community Congregational church will give a special Easter service next Sunday, April 12th. There will be special music, Easter anthems and the pageant "Her Easter Choice" will be presented by the young ladies of the church.

O. E. S. DANCE

There will be a Monday Easter Ball given by the O. E. S. in the Masonic Hall, Monday evening, April 13th. This dance will be given for the benefit of the Orphanage Fund. Good music. Dances for all. Everyone invited. Ladies of O. E. S. please bring cake.

NOTICE

During the fire Monday night autos were driven over the hose in the street. This damages the hose and must be discontinued.

EASTER, 1925

Scientific View of Easter

THE festival now known as Easter was celebrated by the Jews for many centuries before the birth of Jesus as the Passover, based on the striking event mentioned in Exodus 12:27, when destruction fell on the Egyptians and not on the Hebrews.

The Easter festival, as we now celebrate it, says Edgar Lucien Larkin, director, Mount Lowe observatory, was unknown in the early Christian centuries. The first Christians, being largely derived from the Jewish church, continued for long to observe the Passover, as well as other ancient ceremonies.

But the Passover very gradually became transformed to Easter when Jesus was substituted for the paschal lamb of Israel while in Egypt. Then a difference arose as to the time of celebrating between the Christians of Hebrew and Gentile descent. This contention existed for centuries.

Those of Jewish descent held that the day of the death of Jesus should be the date of the ending of the paschal fast, which, in Hebrew rites, always was on the fourteenth day of the month in the evening; therefore the subsequent, or Easter festival, would follow irrespective of the day of the week.
But the Christians who had been Gentiles and strangers to Jewish customs wanted the first day of the week, or Sunday, to be the first day of the resurrection festival.

Thus the Friday preceding would be observed as the date of the crucifixion without paying any attention to the day of the month, the fast continuing until midnight of Saturday.

This memorable dispute was one of the most noted in the history of mankind and was caused by the irregularities of the time of full moon in reference to the year.

The Hebrew sacred year, Exodus 12:2, began, as ours ought to, at the instant of the vernal equinox. This time is subject to slight changes due to the astronomical fact of perturbations of the motion of all bodies in the solar system.

But the variations are as nothing compared with the wide variations in times of full moon.

The Hebrews based their years on lunar chances, while we now find the exact length of the year by watching the sun and stars with exceeding accuracy. Confusion always harassed the ancient Hebrews in chronology, because they based the beginning of each month at first sight of the new moon.

Then, by applying the ancient Jewish rules to Easter, the effect was that the dates of the crucifixion and resurrection, two days supposed to be fixed for all time, varied.

The trouble is due to the fact that the moon revolves around the earth in 27 days 7 hours 43 minutes 11½ seconds, and the earth around the sun in 31,558,149 seconds. Therefore the moon makes 13,3687 revolutions to the earth's one.

Then full moon times are not in harmony with the spring equinox. This fact caused great trouble with time in all antiquity. The difficulty continued for 325 years until settled by the Council of Nice.

Not being able to decide how to predict the recurrence of Easter, the

Day Devoted to Hope Greatly Worth While

EASTER DAY brings a benefit apart from specific religious belief concerning its significance. To have at least one day in the year devoted to hope, the highest and most daring hope, is greatly worth while. To encourage the faith that life will eventually swallow up death is needed with perhaps a special urgency for our time.

At Easter we are accustomed to put emphasis upon its promise to personal immortality—"Death is swallowed up in victory." That note has brought rejoicing to many a heart, and the implications involved in the belief that man is immortal, that the individual survives the grave, are of great importance.

But Easter holds a further promise. It is the assurance that the ideals and program of Jesus will be realized in the earth life of mankind; the spirit of man will conquer its material environment, the law of love will prevail over the law of force. To the Christian, Easter is the proof that the conception of life which Jesus brought to men has behind it the power of God. When those who give allegiance to Jesus are willing to take up the cross and follow Him, that power will work another resurrection. It will bring back from the grave which Mammon has made and sealed all that is best and most beautiful in the capacities of the human soul, and men will live the life for which God destined them—the life of sons of God.

And the meaning of His life was just this—that the reality in the life of all men is the possibility of becoming like Him, of expressing beauty and goodness and truth, of living new and always in the power of the life eternal.

It is the revival of that resurrection faith which the world needs today, a faith in the reality of the continuing life and the things which belong to it. Nothing else can save us from the perverted sense of values which curses humanity, from the circling pursuit of illusion, from the vain struggle for that which cannot satisfy.

The vital message of this Easter season is the call to every man to live in the light and power of the life eternal, and the assurance that to every man such a life is possible. Jesus lived it supremely. Those who dare to follow where He leads may know its joy and when the world accepts His leadership it will find both righteousness and peace—those treasures it can never find while it gropes amid the shadows of its passing pride and pomp.

But we build this faith upon the empty tomb, but, in fact, it had deeper foundation than that. It went back behind the tomb and the cross to the living Christ as they had known Him. To have known Jesus was to have known that there is a spiritual reality which transcends the material and the temporal. This consciousness had been quickened in the souls of His followers. The jealous hatred of His foes, the brutal cross of Roman power, the sealed tomb—these were the evanescent, the illusory means whereby it was stupidly sought to destroy the eternal reality of His love, His wisdom, His soaring faith in God. And the effort had failed. How could it be otherwise? How can it ever be otherwise?

HIGH SCHOOL SCHEDULE

The Pinckney High School baseball team will open their schedule with Fowlerville. The first game will be played in Pinckney on Friday, April 10. The boys hardly expect to win as Fowlerville will bring to town a veteran team, while Pinckney will have several inexperienced players in her lineup. In order to fill the positions left vacant by Cox, McClear, Harris, Hooker, Reason and Hall it will be necessary to build a practically new team. The only men certain of starting in the positions played last year are Captain Bourbonnais at first and Hendece at short. The big problem confronting Pinckney is the development of a suitable hurling staff and a competent third sacker. Van Blaircum, Swarthout and Reason are expected to take care of the pitching while Campbell, Henry and Swarthout will do the receiving. G. Reason will start at second or third while K. Reason will take care of one of the out-field positions. The other positions will be filled from the following list of candidates, Shehan, Blades, H. Reason, Stackable, Sider, Nash, Miller, Campbell, Hendece and Graves.

P. H. S. GIRLS' BASE BALL

The girls of Pinckney High school have organized a baseball team which promises to be a successful one, under the able management of Captain Leola Stackable. Captain Bourbonnais' team will now have to be on their toes or find themselves trailing in the dust.

The girls have won the county championship in 1923 and 1924 under Captain Velma Hall and expect to cop the 1925 bunting under Captain "Peggy". The schedule is now being arranged. Among those who have enrolled for the spring tryouts are:

Hazel Smith, Ruth Van Blaircum, Winifred Wallace, Marion McDonald, Blanche Jones, Nellie Jones, Dorothy Carr, Fannie Johnson, Vera Kellenberger, Mildred Hafnes, Lucille Stackable, Velma Hall, Leola Stackable, Justine Ledwidge.

The batters will be the same reliables who proved so invincible in 1923 and 1924, Velma Hall, with a repertoire of 4 1/2 curves, a fast straight ball and a change of pace that always disconcerts opposing batters, will occupy the mound, while Leola Stackable, on the receiving end will continue as formerly to be the invincible backstop. She reports her trusty wing to be in first class condition this spring and will continue to have the pill down to second and cut off any base runner who may have the temerity to try and pifer. The selections for the other positions have not yet been made but with this promising material to select from a championship team is again assured.

The officers are:
Coach.....J. P. Doyle
Captain.....Leola Stackable
Treasurer.....Hazel Smith

COW TESTING ASSOCIATION NUMBER 3

The Cow Testing Association No. 3, makes a fine showing in their past year's work. Nels Hansen the tester did some very nice work and it is regretted that he will not stay for another year.

The value of Milk and Fat that was sold during the past Cow Testing Association year by the membership was $43,997.56 and the cost of the feed was $19,157.20 leaving a net profit of $26,840.36, or an average of 0.1036.10 per farm.

The total number of cows averaged $111.43 per cow above their feed cost. The high herd averaged 12,099 pounds of milk and 379.8 pounds of fat with 18 cows in the herd. Returns on a dollar in feed $1.91.

The lowest producing herd consisting of 15 cows averaged 3706 pounds of milk and 150 pounds of fat. The returns on one dollar expended for feed 96 cents or a loss of 4c per hundredweight on all milk produced.

"NO MORE WOMEN" BIG COMEDY DRAMA

"No More Women", a comedy drama by Elmer Harris featuring Madge Bellamy, Matt Moore, Kathleen Clifford and a brilliant supporting cast is to be the feature offering at the opera house Saturday.

"No More Women" is said to have a wealth of laughs and thrills in its development from a story based on broken hearts and tickle noads—and a faithful dog. It deals with the effort of a young man whose fiancée "stood him up" on the eve of their wedding and who vowing never to interest himself in women again, is on the verge of success when a pretty young girl being robbed by two swindlers sees him and he finds that response to a common duty awakens his his romantic soul and his pledge gradually evaporates.

Matt Moore, whose work in a score releases is known to all screen lovers, is cast as Peter Maddox, the young woman-hater. Madge Bellamy, petite star of many popular plays, lends charm to the young miss in search of adventure, and a husband. Kathleen Clifford essays the part of a fickle young butterfly who breaks poor Peter's heart, and then finding he has a new fiancée, repents too late.

Clarence Burton plays "Beef" Hogan, a flashy crook who has more sources of income than just the gasoline station he operates; George Cooper is seen as Tex, a dog catcher. H. Reeves Smith, former Broadway favorite is seen as Mr. Van Dyke, wealthy oil operator, and Stanhope Wheatcroft plays the part of the shy, condescending Randolph Parker.

A Slogan

A butcher in a certain town had read, considerable about "Milk From Contented Cows," and wanting to keep up with the times, he placed this sign in his window: "Sausages From Pigs That Died Happy."

Food and the Stomach

The measure of food ought to be (as much as possibly may be) exactly proportionate to the quality and condition of the stomach, because the stomach digests it.—Benjamin Franklin.

Is It Not So?

Some men are always wanting people to tell them how good looking they are, but a woman will stand up in front of a mirror and see for herself.—Washington Star.

Accident Record

The accidental deaths in this country in the course of a year amount to more than those from typhoid, measles, diphtheria, dysentery and whooping cough together. Among the various kinds of accidents those attributed to the automobile have grown with far greater rapidity than any of the other and are now placed among the major causes of accidents in this country.

The Shy Bridegroom

One of the strangest marriage customs is that observed by some of the women of Assam. There the bride sometimes takes the initiative. She goes to fetch the bridegroom, and it is etiquette for him to hide and resist until carried off. Women of means are permitted to choose a temporary husband and when tired of him pay him off and take another.

Of French Origin

The term "tailor" comes from the French tailleur, to cut. At one time the tailor, or cissor, made clothes of all descriptions, including underwear and the padding and lining of armor; hence the name "Tailors and Linnen Armorers" which figures in the early charters granted to the Merchant Tailors' Company of the City of London.
