Goodyear's New Balloon Tire For Fords & Chevrolets 29x4.40 only $12.05

The new tire shown above is the famous Goodyear All-Weather Tread, scientifically redesigned for balloon tire use.. The first advantages of this new tire are traction and resistance to skidding. The sharpedged, damond shaped blocks are placed in a semiflat design so that they do not only grip the road, but they retain their usefulness longer than any non-skid tread ever before tried. The second advantage is the long, slow, even tread wear. And with these virtues of traction, non-skid and long wear, this new tread is perfectly quiet and does not produce the vibration of many non-skid designs.

Another Earthquake Disaster Takes Heavy Toll of Life in Japan.

THE earthquake that took a toll of more than 2,000 lives in Japan on March 8 will go down in history as one of the catastrophes of the times. The total number of killed and injured was close to 6,000 people. Dispatches from Ango described the pitiful condition of the refugees, homeless, hungry and cold. In some places, at the time the disaster occurred, the snow-was from one to five feet deep, and hundreds of men, women and children, possessing but as few blankets, found meager shelter behind great snowdrifts. The suffering of women and children was considerable, although the efforts of troops, police, and young men's associations alleviated the misery. Efforts to bring aid to the devastated region were retarded because of lack of railway traffic, only motors and wagons being available, in addition to a few airplanes, which car ried some relief supplies. The roads and puths, were badly cracked. The number of houses in the district which collapsed was set at 3,529 and the number burned at 3,646. The principal damage took place in the towns of Mineyama, Amino, Kayetsu, and Mab ito. The damage and casualties at Miyazu and Kumhama were light. Following the damage by quake and fire, floods added to the misery of the 70,000 homeless people, and seriously interfered with the relief offorts of the government. Warm weather and heavy rains turned the deep snow into raging floods. The waters caused the weakened railway embankments to crumble and prevented the movement of relief trains. The government met the situation by inaugurating trains of pack animals for carrying provisions into the devastated district.

T.IE Mexican argument continues from week to week, with evidence of a firmer stand on the part of the administration at Washington since the close of congress. The sudden departure of Mexican Ambassador Tellez for Mexico City caused rumors of a diplomatic break, but these were seemingly without foundation. From Mexico City the ambassador said his return to his home was caused purely by personal matters, and that he would again be in Washington within a couple of weeks. On March 9 the State department made public testimony that was given to the senate foreign relations committee in February in which it was stated that 22,-000,000 acres of land, much of it owned by Americans, had been seized by the Mexican government. During the absence of Secretary of State Kellogg the Mexican situation was being handled directly by the President.

IN NEW YORK on March 8 Thomas W. Miller, former alien property custodian, was sentenced to serve 18 months in Atlanta penitentlary and pay a $5,000 fine by Judge Knox in Federal court. Sentence was passed after Judge Knox denied motions of counsel to set aside the verdict and direct a new trial. Miller was found guilty of conspiracy to defraud the government of his unbiased services by a jury which failed to reach an agreement on Harry M. Daugherty. former attorney general, on trial with Miller. The maximum penalty was two years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

TT HAS been practically decided that the President will spend his summer vacation in the West, though the exact location has not yet been selegted. South Dakota and Wyoming are bidding for the honor of entertaining the nation's Chief Executive, and it is probable that the summer White House will be either the State Game lodge in the Black Hills, 21 miles from Douglas, or the Coe ranch near Cody. Wyoming, bordering on Yellowstone National park. Political wiseacres see in this move of the President an intention on his part to be an avowed candidate for re-nomination, with the expectation that his visit to the West will go far to offset the dissatisfaction among the farmers caused by his veto of the farm relief bill.

PROFITLESS wars is to be the program for France in the future. The French chamber of deputies has passed Paul Boncour's project for the mobilization of every man, woman and child and the conscription of capital in the event of war. Only the communists dissented. Paul Boncour's plan, founded on socialistic ideas, calls for mobilization of everybody in France, "without distinction as to age or sex." M. Shaumie, Radical Socialist deputy, warned against the danger of this plan.

"In mobilizing the entire nation," he said, "we will automatically deprive ourselves of the protection of the inernational conventions of The Hague and London and give the enemy justification to deport women and children, since they are combatants, or to sink unarmed passenger ships."

The deputies, however, modified the article to read: "Every Frenchman, without distinction as to age or sex, whether combatant or non-combatant,' must participate in the country's

DESPITE the failure of the senate to pass the deficiency appropriation bill before adjournment, thus leaving many departments of the government crippled for lack of finances, the President has declined to consider an extra session. The largest items in the deficiency were $37,200,000 to the pension bureau for pensions to veterans of the Clvil and other wars prior to the World war and their dependents; $35,000,000 for veterans of the World war and $25,000,000 to the veterans', bureau for loans to veterans on soldiers bonus certificates.

Announcement was made by the pension bureau that present appropriations will be depleted about May 1, so that it will not be possible to pay during the months of May and June the 500,000 beneficiaries. On July 1, how ever, when appropriations for the fiscal year 1925 become available, the accrued pensions for a three months' period will be paid. Some arrangement will be made by which veterans receiving compensation under the veterans' bureau will not suffer much inconvenience. As to loans to veterans on bonus certificates, the veterans will have to depend upon the banks until next winter.

TRANCE will make a $10,000,000 payment on its debt to the United States this year. This does not mean that the French government has accepted the terms of settlement of the debt as proposed by this country. It is merely a temporary agreement pending ratification of the debt accords. The action of Premier Poincare in providing for this temporary arrangement was the subject of a bitter debate in the French chamber of deputies, but was finally approved by a vote of 350 to 180. The socialists and communists voted against it. These annual payments are expected to continue until such time as France ratifles the debt

During February the United States received $1,430,000 in reparations from Germany according to the agent general for reparations. This brings the American receipts, in the third annulty year, up to $9,640,000, which is approximately the same as France received in a single month. Germany now has paid, under the Dawes plan, a total of $662,000,000.

THAT there will be a three power naval parley held on the invitation of President Coolidge is practically assured, Japan and Great Britain having assured the United States that they would accept such an invitation. France and Italy will be asked to as sign observers to the conference to be held at Geneva, and it is expected they will do so. That the President is making concessions to the attitude of Japan was disclosed by the character of the revised proposal of a three-power conference Mr. Coolid has made to Tokio and London. In this latest overture the President said nothing about extending the 5-5-3 ratio to auxillaries. He merely proposed that the three powers get together at Geneva to see whether any further naval limitation could be agreed to. In his original invitation to the five naval powers, the President suggested extension of the plied, accepting the invitation, but rejecting the suggestion as to the ratio, clearly indicating that parity with the United States was desired.

A N IMPORTANT decision of the United States Supreme court involving primary elections was handed down on March 7. The decision invalidates a Texas statute forbidding negroes to vote in Democratic party primaries. A negro sought $5,000 damages from election officials for refusing him the right to vote in the primary of the Democratic party, of which he is a member.

"If the defendant's conduct was a wrong to the plaintiff," said the court, "the same reasons that allow a recovery for denying the plaintiff a vote at a final election allow it for denying a vote at the primary that may determine the final result."

It is believed this decision will have a direct bearing on the defense offered by Smith and Vare in their fights for senate seats. Supporters of Smith and Vare contend that the senate cannot properly exclude them for excessive expenditures in the primaries in which they won their nominations because the federal government has no jurisdiction of primary elections. In support of their argument they cite the Supreme court decision in the Newberry case invalidating the federal corrupt practices act of 1911 in so far as it pertained to primaries. Senator Borah interpreted the decision as indicating the conviction of the court that the primary is an inseparable and important part of the general election and therefore within the jurisdiction of congress in the case of election of senators and repre-

This interpretation would destroy the basis of the arguments in behalf of Smith and Vare that what they did in the primaries is outside federal jurisdiction and control,

TME revolution in Nicaragua goes I merrily on. President Diaz has decided the peace efforts were fruitless, and that it will be necessary to fight It out with the rebels outside of the area controlled by United States marines. In the meantime the United States is sending more troops into the country, 1,600 landing on March 7.

On March 4 1,200 United States marines were landed at Shanghai and paraded through the streets. This was the first landing of American forces in China. There has been no formal protest made to the American government by the Chinese because of this action. On March 6 500 Japanese sailors were landed and quartered in the Japanese owned cotton mills.

Efforts to patch up some sort of a peace between the contending Chinese faction have been made during the past few days, but up to the time of the writing of this review they have been fruitless. Chang, acting for the Peking government, offers to consider terms of peace if Cantonese will first oust the bolsheviki representatives in an advisory capacity to the Cantonese government.

ENATOR REED, of Missouri, contended in the closing hours of the senate that the life of his slush fund investigating committee did not depend upon the passage of the resolution over which the senate deadlock occurred. After the adjournment of congress he applied to the sergeant at arms of the senate for $1,000 with which to continue recess sessions of his committee. Senator Henry W. Keyes, New Hampshire, chairman of the contingent expenses of the senate, has refused to allow the expenditure of any money for the purposes of the committee, and thus blocks any further investigation. It was the purpose of the committee to continue the investigations in Illinols and Pennsylvania, and to extend it to other states, especially Colorado

O NE of the most remarkable fights to save a human life was waged at St. Francis hospital, Evanston, Ill. For 108 hours 60 comrades of Albert Frick, aged twenty-two stricken with paralysis of the diaphragm and respiratory muscles, labored in pairs in shifts of 15 minutes inducing artificial respiration. Four physicians, leading specialists in that type of disease, were in constant attendance, Because of the desperate fight put un 5-5-3 ratio to auxiliaries. Great Britain's General Strike

By JULIUS H. BARNES, Ex-President U. S. C. of C.

REAT BRITAIN'S general strike was due to that country's failure to observe fundamental economic principles. At the Rome convention of the International chamber of commerce three years ago an American declaration as well as the principles for increasing production, especially as to industrial relations, was unanimously adopted. That declaration is coming into play. Missions of British organized industries and trade unionists, coming here to find the secret of the extraordinary prosperity and high living standards of America, are beginning to realize the economic truth on which the American declaration was based. The declaration has especial point today in view of the general strike in Great Britain, which may rest on the traditional violation of the principles laid down in this Rome declaration, namely, the adoption of every invention and mechanical device that enlarges production; the elimination of restrictions on individual output; the stimulation of individual effort by relative wages based on performance; the advantages of private ownership and operation over state ownership and operation.

At present America is intensely interested in two major aspects of the foreign situation—government interference with the flow of commodities in response to the attraction of supply and demand, and the attempts of other countries, eager for entry into the great markets of America, to raise the question of national protective tariff as a trade barrier.

Christ the Earthly Pledge of God's Everlasting Love and Understanding

By CHAUNCEY M. DEPEW, Veteran Statesman.

I am more firmly anchored to the Bible than ever before and believe implicitly in its teachings and the God it portrays. I believe that there is a supreme intelligence pervading the universe and at times I believe that when a man dies the swarms of billions of highly organized entities which live in the cells desert the body, go out into space, keep on and enter another and last cycle.

Ninety-five per cent of the people are generally on terms with the Lord, and that percentage of any body of people can always be relied upon as being in the right.

I have always felt a real dependence in God. My idea of God is personal rather than one of force. Not a personality, such as we are, of course, but a glorified, divine and infinite heart, brain and spirit-all-comprehending, all-powerful, never failing.

I think of God as being interested in mortals and mortal affairs. Christ was his earthly manifestation, Christ who understood, lived and toiled and suffered upon earth as men and women do, Christ who died as we must do before we live again. Christ is God's pledge of love and understanding.

I don't believe much in chance. You have to make things come your way and they will come your way if you will follow the rules of moderation, not worrying or diversifying your interests, of trusting God and loving your fellow beings.

United States Must Be Ever on Guard Against Propaganda of "Reds"

By CURTIS D. WILBUR, Secretary of the Navy.

America now is enjoying peace and prosperity, but abroad there is a new peril declaring spiritual warfare and ready to declare material warfare upon the people of this nation.

Where our children are willing to listen they are taught the ways of the Third Internationale. We find its hand clutching at the heart of our sister republic on the south. We find it stirring up trouble in Asia, in China, in Nicaragua. This government by the people, it is said, has become imperialistic.

Knowing ourselves as we do, knowing our form of government as we do, and the purpose of its people, we are inclined to take lightly this new form of attack which seeks to destroy the foundations of this government, namely, the home and sense of religious obligations. It would destroy home and government and God.

In the face of this insidious propaganda within our own territory and in other nations, it behooves us to be vigilant, in the training of the young and in answering the misstatements and the misrepresentations put forth to destroy this government.

We owe it to ourselves to be strong, to maintain an adequate army it must be said that he is original. and navy. Yes, we owe it to others to be strong in order that if there is to be a world revolution, we may, by our example, if not by our army and ity we must look for in the handwritnavy, assist weaker nations to maintain free government.

Elders No Longer Able to Impose Their the originality to go ahead without Dogmas on Modern Youth

By MRS. ROBERT E. SPEER, President National Board Y. W. C. A.

The question: "What is the matter with the old people?" is a very important one in the universal study of youth of today. Youth, above right, indicating a self-assured, selfall, dislikes our attitude that our opinions must become theirs. As their elders of an older generation, we have a way of being too tense and dogmatic. Instead of inviting willing co-operation from young people, we usually the style of this writer and too easily assume the right to enforce our opinions. Understanding between the two generations can only come when we, as their elders, become be seen. The upper loop of the letopen minded and easy and pleasant to deal with.

Boys and girls are released so early from economic suppression that the committee on audit and control of it behooves parents to begin team work and fair play early in the game. The boy or girl who doesn't have to say "by your leave" about money is not apt to say "by your leave" about anything.

World Must Prepare for the Inevitable Coming of the Five-Day Week

By BR. GEORGE B. CUTTING, President Colgate University.

Henry Ford may be a little ahead of his time with a five-day week, but it is coming, and coming soon. If we can afford it, we should welcome it, but first we should prepare for it. No greater danger threatens us than leisure for which we have no plans and with which we know not what to do. The youth of today has been set down in the midst of this a chair. condition and Satan is finding some mischief still for idle hands to do. as well as giving a spirit of unrest which we call revolt.

Modern machinery has enabled every man to accomplish 20 times as to save the young man's life the case much as his ancestor of two centuries ago; this has decreased man's workday from 16 hours to 8, with further decrease in sight

spent a lot of

The man who usually has the goods but doesn't deliver—the hesitant swain-how do we know him? In conversation with you he may give the impression of being right up to the minute, but does he act that way with strangers? Get his letter and look for these signs:

First notice if his writing runs up hill. If it runs neither uphill or on the level but is inclined to descend then he is easily discouraged. His t bar will start out with heavy pressure, perhaps, but it will get lighter as it goes along and will end with a sharp point. At the end of each word you will find the last letter fails to reach out toward the right. He will usually write a small hand. The capitals will be comparatively small and none of the upright letters will reach very high. Toward the end of each long word you will find that the letters become smaller. If he writes a back-hand style then you may put him down as having all of these traits to a pronounced degree. And seldom will you see the sign of emphasis—the heavy t bar or terminal. Look for the signs of repression in his writing as shown in the chapter on, "Does He Withhold His Ability?"

> Is He Artistic? Artistic, But Vain, I Dot

Artistic ability can be seen by original formations standing out and apart from the ordinary style of the ordinary mind. Evenness of writing and perfection of letters is usually found but at times the writing of an artistic type is disturbed by nerve energy. Then we find a person who is a better critic than workman and one who is able to direct in the field of art, if not actually producing.

Margins showing a sense of order and fine formation all through the letter will classify the writer as having artistic ability.

Often the small o is made so small that it appears as a pinhead. This is a sign of originality, to be found when the writer is artistic. When the word "of" is nothing more than a scroll and slighted at thatwhen this occurs, the artistic sense of the writer is well defined. Often I dots are made like a doughnut.

And again the signs usually telling of vanity can be used to determine the artistic temperament of the writer. This obtains when the rest of the writing is simple and clean in appearance.

Is He a Self-Starter?

When one is able to start by himself

He does not need others to think for him. Initiative, then, is the first qualing. Let us see:

Anything unlike copybook formation will indicate inventive ability or copying some form or plan of procedure. Unusual capitals or small letter formations indicate the self-starting type. If he had to wait to be told, he would write as others of the "Let George do it" lodge write.

Long pronounced t bars flying to the starting, restless writer will be found in the script of the one who goes ahead by himself. Large writing is energy will be seen sticking out all over it. Many unusual strokes will ter f will be large and indicate a keen mentality. Writing will be fairly heavy but firm and clean. Loops will mostly be missing under line. Writing will slope forward in majority of cases, Angular writing will prevail and rounded writing indicates easy-going. self-contentment.

Note.-Do not make final judgment until other signs in writing are studied.

Grouping of Furniture

Arranging the furniture in a number of definite groupings is the modem trend in decorating a room. A grouping will consist of, for example, a console table with mirror above, a torchere on either side and a small rug in front of it. Another grouping will be a desk with a panel hung back of it and flanked on either side with

They Verify Existence of the Radio "Ceiling"

Existence of a layer in the upper air which bends radio waves back to earth has been verified as the result of experiments just concluded by Dr. G. Breit (left) and Dr. M. A. Tuve (right), research investigators in the department of territorial magnetism of the Carnegie institution in Washington. The scientists compute the "ceiling" to be about 100 miles above the earth, although it rose and fell within a range of 50 to 130 miles.

Most Stammering and Muteness Due to Nervousness, She Says.

San Diego, Calif.—If children stutter, stammer, lisp, talk like babies, or fail to talk at all, charge it to confidence. At least, Miss Esmer Knudson, former University of Minnesota and University of California girl, has found these to be the chief causes of the faults named.

She conducts classes here, and has found that a startling number of children need speech correction, and that nearly all of their troubles are psychological-or "imaginary."

Miss Knudson-"mother teacher," her children call her-begins by having her charges relax completely. While they listen with closed eyes she calms them by describing in a restful voice some quiet scene, assuring each that he has the power to speak without stammering or other impedi

No Fuss About It.

When actual work starts there is no nervousness, no fuss, no excitement. The children begin by repeating in a chorus of whispers, enunciating slowly and carefully, various phrases.

There are individual tests, each stammerer (if that is the affliction) rising and repeating a verse or answering in his own words a question. The lesson soaks in well, for seldom does a speech impediment appear during a session.

The class in "pronunciation diffi culties" offers some interesting sidelights also. Some children cannot pronounce the sibilant "s," and instead lisp a "th" or "f." Some use i the "f" sound for the "th." Some will use "sh" for "s," others "sh" for "The first thing is to determine whether the defect is due to a physical handicap. If a physical defect is discovered that is remediable by the school nurse and the doctor, they are notified. Otherwise, I try to overcome the defect by education

"In each case, the child is shown how to form letters and syllables by an exaggeration of the movements by the teacher. Then the child attempts to imitate the movements.

New Spring Coats

Novel Furs Trim

Soft Shades of Beige, Green, Black and White and Pearl Gray Favored.

Smooth fabrics with a suedelike finish and luxurious fur trimining feature the spring models, states a fashion correspondent in the Detroit News. Soft shades of beige as putty and Mother Goose, several tones of green a new shade called buckskin, very attractive; pearl gray and the ultrasmart black, which is really the last word in spring coats, particularly when combined with white, are among the colors on display.

A coat is oftentimes known by its fur trimmings, and to be correct this season the selection should be white, platinum or beige fox, natural lynx, ermine in white or beige; or, ombre lapin-a soft shaded fur that is equally good-looking on either sports or dressy frocks. Calfskin is also very popular. A charming effect is produced by using the whole fox skins, crossing each other at the back and tuxedo effect at the front of the coat. Sometimes the skins are detachable and can thus be worn with good effect on silk frocks.

The straight and narrow coat lines are still in vogue and even when tucks are added, the slim silhouette is retained. Speaking of collars, smart cuts include the shawl style, notched collar with lapels and the small, tallored collar. Sleeves, too, play an important part in the general scheme as integral parts of the whole garment. Some of them are fitted and hoast of numerous buttons; others have small, turned-back cuffs.

Soft, twilled fabrics when cut on plain, tailored lines, are chic, and worn over a plain or printed frock, make a good-looking ensemble. For that comfortable, well-dressed feeling, nothing seems quite to replace the smart black satin coat, and so it is shown again this year, cut on conservative lines and trimmed with white fox, black and white calfskin, white broadtail or monkey fur.

Sports coats are intriguing and youthful in appearance. Fashioned of interesting mixtures in tan, gray, black and white, or in plain fabrics, with large, fluffy collars of fox or smaller collars of the popular flat furs they emphasize the mode.

Many of the sport models have leather belts and fancy pockets. A leather trimming which gives the appearance of leopard fur is effectiveused for the collar, cuffs, belt and

Use of Tucks to Trim Fashionable Spring Duds

The use of tucks has been commented upon as one of the salient points of interest in spring frocks. They provide the means of achieving individuality, and at the same time keeping to the slender straight lines that mark the silhouette of the new season.

Horizontal tucks, diagonal tucks, and tucks which converge in the center, are chosen to give distinction to the smart little frocks of slik and wool that are introduced in anticipation of the needs of springtime.

THAWING FROZEN COMBS IS EASY

Thaw frozen combs on poultry by applying snow or ice water," say poultrymen at the New York State College of Agriculture at Ithaca. "Carbolated grease, which may be purchased at most drug stores, will do the trick. A New Jersey agricultural bulletin suggests the following ointment: Five parts of refined petroleum, three parts of glycerin, and one part of turpentine by volume. This should be applied gently and rubbed in fairly well. Remove the black dead tissue from badly frozen combs, so that they will heat more quickly.

"At this time of year many flocks suffer from frozen combs. This trouble is particularly bad with roosters of the single-comb White Leghorn hithe day and for every day in the year. breed because their combs are so big. If a rooster's comb is badly frozen, it seriously affects his vigor and impairs his usefulness in the flock."

Poultrymen at the state college say that the best farmers in the state put their roosters in the breeding pens early in the winter and watch them carefully during the coldest weather so as to minimize the danger of freezing. The college recommends curtains in front of the roost on very cold nights in narrow houses. This is not recommended in houses that are wider than 15 feet. Another suggestion is the use of wooden floats with 1-inch holes in them to be placed in the drinking vessels. This reduces the water when they drink.

Sprouted Oats for Hens Is Most Excellent Plan

There is nothing in the world that will make the old hens feel as much like spring is here as a box of sprouted oats every day, experienced poultrymen say. Sprouting oats is not necessarily expensive or a lot of bother. Equipment may be homemade. A tub or keg will do to soak the oats in. Five or six boxes about 4 inches deep will do for the trays. A room which ranges from 50 to 80 degrees in temperature all the time is satisfactory. Soak the oats 12 hours in the tub or keg. Drain them and put them in a box where they should be kept moist until the sprouts are about ½ inch long. Feed them at that time, which is usually about five days after boxes will make it possible to start a box each day and weed one regularly.

Green Feed Is Perfect

for Poultry in Winter Many poultry raisers are now feeding mash to their hens, but a lack of palatable, succulent feed is too often the limiting factor in winter poultry finest forms of succulence. The Nebraska Agricultural college poultrymen offer the following suggestions: Good heavy oats with strong germinating power produce best results. Soak the oats for about 24 hours. Drain off excess moisture. Turn into lard tub or candy pail which has holes The flowers and the lighting play a in bottom to allow excess moisture to drain off. Add moisture later if necessary. Keep in fairly even moderate temperature. Feed when the sprouts are one-half to one inch long ("greening" is unnecessary).

SUNLIGHT BIG HOG NECESSITY

Sunlight is essential in the successful hoghouse and brings about dryness, warmth and sanitation. The correct use of sunlight means the proper placing and arrangement of windows at the time the building is constructed. Farrowing time comes between February 1 and April 15, and is the best time of the year to have sunlight fall on the nesting places.

Sunlight which passes through glass has very little disinfectant power. To reduce reflection, windows should be placed so that the glass is as nearly at right angles to the sun's rays as possible. The angle at which sunlight strikes the earth depends on latitude and time. It varies for each hour of Experimental work has shown that the house facing south is preferable to the house with the long axis placed north and south. On the average, one square foot of glass on the latter admits only 68 per cent as much light to the floor and 47 per cent as much to the bed as the same area in an east and west house.

Well placed windows in the east-west house will admit twice the light poswible in the north-south house, will be less exposed to cold winds, and will accumulate more heat from the sun because they can be placed close to the nesting place so the sunlight pattern will not travel rapidly across the floor. In addition, summer shade can be sedanger of freezing, as it keeps the cured by planning the light to fall in birds from dipping their wattles in the . the feed alley during the hot weather season and the light can be more con-In exceptional cases, it may be well 'centrated and controlled.—Orve K. to grease the combs and wattles of Hedden, Assistant Professor in charge especially valuable birds during cold of Farm Mechanics, Colorado Agricul-

Halter-Broke Yearling Will Command Premium

Animals that are halter broke command a premium over the absolutely green kind. "If the young colt is halter broke at weaning time or as soon thereafter as possible, the animal, even though never handled again before reaching maturity, will never forget its lessons," says J. H. "A desirable feature of halter breaking the colt or yearling is 6, law 5, stage 4, politics 3, journalism that they are lighter in weight than and literature 3, private detectives 3, they ever will be again and therefore more easily handled. They are less likely to injure themselves when young. Another good feature is that when the colt reaches the age to be broken for saddle or work, a good half of the job is done, due to the early halter training.

Grind Corn for Hogs

For pigs under 150 pounds in weight, there has been no appreciable saving whatever in grinding corn, according to experiments. However, older and larger pigs seem to make a little better gain on ground corn than on whole corn. It would seem, therefore, that there is no appreciable advantage in either shelling or grinding corn for young pigs; whether the 4 to 10 per cent saving in grinding corn for pigs over 150 pounds weight will cover the cost of preparation must be determined by the feeder.

A Word With the Old Folks

Elderly People Are Learning Importance of Good Elimination.

> TN the later years of life there is apt to be a slowing up of the bodily functions. Good elimination, however, is just as essential to the old as to the young. Many old folks have learned the value of Doan's Pills when a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys is required. Scanty or burning passages of kidney secretions are often signs of improper kidney function. In most every community are scores of users and endorsers who acclaim the merit of Doan's. Ask

MAINTAIN LARGE SNAKE VILLAGE

Venom Extracted for Serum to Cure Bites.

Boston, - Mass. - Harvard university, the United States and the United Fruit company are co-operating through the Antivenin Institute of America to maintain "the largest and most modern snake village in the world" in a war against snake polsoning.

The village, which has a capacity of 5,000 scaly inhabitants, is at Tela, Honduras. Dr. Afranio do Amaral of Brazil is director. He recently made a flying trip from Central America to lecture before the Harvard school of public health.

The village is a concrete-walled inclosure, roofed with palm leaves, and containing 16 houses divided into three apartments each with two shallow drinking basins.

There the venom is extracted from the captives and shipped to Glenolden, Pa., where horses are gradually inoculated with it. Their immunized blood makes a serum which is used to protect human life from the venom of snake Lites.

The yellow chin, or fer-de-lance, is the most common of the dangerous snakes of that section. There is also the eyelash snake, or horned viper; the cascebla rattler, and the corai

The institute also has a station at San Antonio, Texas, which is aided by the army, and this station captured 4,000 rattlesnakes in a four-month period last fell. Seventy-two bites were reported to the station in a threemonth period, and twenty-six of those bitten were given the serum. None of these died, but 85 per cent of those not treated died.

The principles of antivenin treatment were developed by the state of Sao Paulo, Brazil. There the antivenin is distributed to the farmers, but Doctor Amaral believes the best means of distribution here is through the drug stores. In Brazil hunters or cattle riders in snake-infested territory may obtain small syringes containing

THE "MANSARD" ROOF

WE ARE all familiar with the mansard roof, which is constructed with, a break in the steep sides of today. the ordinary A-shaped roof so that ch side has two planes, which makes the rooms underneath habitable and eliminates the useless garret found under the other style of roof. Some of us have used the name "mansard" roof without knowing the origin of the term.

The "mansard" roof is named after Nicholas Francois Mansart, a famous French architect, who lived from 1598 wholesome living conditions spells to 1608. At the height of his Influence Mansart designed most of the important public buildings erected at the time in Paris, as well as the famous chateau of Maison-sur-Seine for Louis XIV. His work is noted for tts classical refinement and purity of detail. THE HUMAN ELEMENT IN IN-DUSTRY

N THE average manufacturing industry about 30 per cent of the cost of production is charged to raw material, the remaining 70 per cent to labor. The successful purchase of raw material at the lowest possible market price is only one factor in anticipating profits. The most important element Some people is so careful they'd is not material but labor, not stock but cal values are as indispensable to success in business as are material values. The ratio of importance would seem to be as seventy is to thirty.

Labor refuses to be reduced to an the ball. automaton. Employment of men and women as machines creates reactions | disturbing to industry and lessens profits. Labor is human and will not be dehumanized, without disastrous results. The human element in industry claims that its most valuable asset is not cotton, jumber or wool, but the capacities of men to create, produce and serve. The most important | diesticks are especially desirable, and thing is not machinery, materials or bronze are equally good though rather markets, but men, and that the biggest | heavy in appearance for the table. Sprouted Oats for Hens Is Most Excellent Plan

There is nothing in the world that will make the old hens feel as much like spring is here as a box of sprouted oats every day, experienced poultrymen say. Sprouting oats is not necessarily expensive or a lot of both- before reaching maturity, will never er. Equipment may be homemade. A tub or keg will do to soak the oats in. Five or six boxes about 4 inches deep will do for the trays. A room which ranges from 50 to 80 degrees in temperature all the time is satisfactory. Soak the oats 12 hours in the tub or keg. Drain them and put them in a box where they should be kept moist until the sprouts are about 1/2 inch long. Feed them at that time, which is usually about five days after they are put to soak. Five or six boxes will make it possible to start a box each day and weed one regularly.
