DR. AMOS WINEGAR IS KILLED IN AUTO COLLISION

Dr. Amos Winegar, aged 76 years, of Howell, Mich. was killed at that place at 10:00 a. m. Saturday when his car collided with that driven by Frank Hoffman, a Detroit shoe merchant. The accident occurred at the intersection of Grand River Ave. and Center St. Dr. Winegar was thrown out and suffered a fractured skull. He died an hour later at the McPherson Hospital. Hoffman after hitting the Winegar car collided with a car driven by Chief Justice McDonald of Lansing. Hoffman was taken to the county jail but later released to appear at the inquest.

Dr. Winegar was born in Genoa township in 1851 and in 1873 was married to Carrie Grandall. Last August they celebrated their 56th wedding anniversary. She died a short time thereafter. Dr. Winegar was an old-time fiddler and played at many of the social affairs of the community. He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. George Green, a former Pinckney resident.

Banquet will be served at 6:30 p. m. but the old grads had better figure on getting there about an hour before.

Norman Reason will act as toastmaster but the speakers will not be named now for fear they may take fright and stay away. All that we are permitted to say is that Norman Reason promises an entire change of program, specialties, scenery and costumes.

Some of those who have bought reservations are Dr. Bernard Glenn, Lucius Wilson, Dr. Norman Wilson, Mrs. Lynn Gardner, Fred Swarthout, Ruel Cadwell, Eugene Reason, Grace Youngs, Mabel Styler Powers, Ethel Read Smoyer, Louis Monks, Leo Monks, John E. Doyle, Ross Read and Mrs. Alta Myers gave short addresses taking for their theme the senior motto, "Service, Sincerity and Simplicity." Contrary to the rumor which has spread from Bill Meyers' oil station. Although similar to the one Bill has nailed up it is essentially different. Following this was a dance which was not largely attended on account of the heat.

Throughout the game it was always a bright picture sending the ball with high velocity. The home team and Pinckney were in a tight position. The game was a tough proposition. The home team was in a tight position. The game was a tough proposition. The home team was in a tight position.

CHEVROLET MAY PRODUCTION

May was the biggest month in the history of the Chevrolet Motor Company. Production for the month totaled 161,214 cars and trucks, breaking all records.

Under pressure of the greatest demand in Chevrolet history, its 16 giant factories in May experienced the busiest period the company has ever enjoyed. Factory wheels turned with all the speed consistent with Chevrolet's precision manufacturing methods to accommodate the demand for cars that poured in from Maine to California and from Washington to Florida.

May was the third consecutive month to set a new all-time monthly production mark. It far surpassed the March record of 147,273 units and topped the April achievement of 157,522 units.

To accomplish this record performance Chevrolet plants averaged 7,000 cars and trucks daily; an average of 777 cars and trucks were built every hour; an average of 13 were built every minute—and one was built every 4.6 seconds.

From present indications the same relatively high level of production will be maintained in June to keep pace with the demand, which officials report, continues unabated. Dealer stocks are still below normal due to the necessity of filling orders as fast as cars are received. Unfilled orders are over 300,000 ahead of this same period last year. It was announced definitely that June production would break all records for the month.

The sixteen plants that contributed to the record May performance are located in the following cities: Detroit, Flint, Mich., Bay City, Mich., Saginaw, Mich., Toledo, Ohio, Atlanta, Ga., Buffalo, N. Y., Tarrytown, N. Y., Norwood, O., Kansas City, Mo., St. Louis, Mo., Janesville, Wis., and Oakland, Calif.

CURRENT COMMENT

Vacation time will soon be here. We have it in our power to make it one of health and pleasure or one of tragedy and sorrow.

Read the papers on Monday and you will see how many met death while seeking pleasure on the weekend.

The capsize of sail boat, the father who ventured too far out and couldn't swim, the driver who tried to beat the train to the crossing, the reckless motorists who takes chances on crowded highways, the trusting individual who believes everything he reads on a label, all of these contribute to the dark side of the story.

Never take a chance. You cannot be too careful when you work. You cannot be too careful when you play. Carelessness demands too high a dividend in sorrow—the happy ones are those who refuse to indulge in such dangerous pastimes.

The wet city dailies carried great headlines last week to the effect that the bootleg gangs were importing gunmen and intended to give armed defiance to the governments at the Detroit river. This is all whole and about the only sequence will be an occasional customs officer shot down from ambush along the river. We predict their rebellion will be even shorter lived than the Whiskey rebellion, which Washington so effectively quelled.

When everything was getting serene again at the White House and the Gann question had been apparently settled another and bigger matter split the society ranks of Washington D. C. President Hoover invited Oscar DePrist, Chicago's negro congressman, and his wife to dinner and ate at the same table with him. The people are now waiting breathlessly to find out what possession Alice Longworth will take on the momentous question.

Mrs. Julia Grieves and daughters Mary and Julia, spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. George Greiner, Little Marion Greiner returned home with them for a weeks visit.

E. J. Dorran and wife of Detroit spent several days last week with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bowers.

1,248 SCHOOLS LIST PATROLS

That there are 1,248 schools with organized safety patrols in the lower peninsula is the statement of H. O. Rounds of Detroit, state patrol leader.

The three southern tiers of counties, Calhoun included, are foremost in adopting the safety movement launched for the spreading of safety gospel. Outside the large cities of Detroit, Grand Rapids, Bay City, Saginaw and Flint, there are 217,000 enrolled for safety.

There are 10 to 25 boys on the school patrol, each one wearing the green felt arm band with safety patrol insignia, and each serving three months. At the end of that time these bands are turned in and service bars are substituted as awards.

A most interesting fact is that 60 per cent of the number enrolled for safety patrol duty are found in the rural schools. Kalamazoo has the highest number of perfect reports and Battle Creek ranks second.

Flags and cups are given patrol for superior standing each year and the number is constantly growing, according to Mr. Rounds. Last year eight cups and ten flags were given out to winning patrols while this year 24 flags and 18 cups are to be distributed.

Poems That Live

TO F. C.

Fast falls the snow, O lady mine,
Sprinkling the lawn with crystals fine,
But by the gods we won't repine,
While we're together,

We'll chat and rhyme, and kiss and dine,
Defying weather.

So stir the fire and pour the wine,
And let those sea-green eyes divine
Four their love-madness into mine:
I don't care whether

'Tis snow or sun or rain or shine
If we're together.

—Mortimer Collins (1827-1876).

Beach Pajama Steps Into Sunlight of Fashion

By LUCY CLAIRE

Watch out for the high styles of today. They are usually destined to become the mode of tomorrow. This is what has happened to the beach pajama. When first introduced it was adopted by only a few of the selective smart women. Last year it was a little more popular, but this year Palm Beach stamped it with approval for general beach wear, and now the summer girl of 1929 will not have a complete seashore wardrobe without at least one pajama costume. It will play a much more brilliant, though less spectacular, part in the beach costumes of 1929 than of 1928, and the more conservative who have hesitated to adopt it must now bow to the acceptance of an established mode.

Wide trousers are the newest flare in the beach pajama. Not all pajamas are designed to wear over the one-piece or shorts and shirt bathing costume, but the wider trouser leg makes the pajama easier to slip on over the wet suit. Of course for the pajama to be worn over the bathing suit the fabric should be sturdy and washable. Mary Nowitzky, who has probably done more than any other couturiere in bringing the beach pajama to its place in the sun, is carrying out her ideas for bathing in gaily printed cottons, elaborately patterned linens, and shantungs with silk and wool jerseys and gabardines. Her pajama styles are adapted to practically every hour of the day, differentiating in materials, just as the coolie coat, more in fabric than in style for evening wrap, boudoir negligee, or beach wear.

Show Spanish Influence
At the extreme left of the sketch is portrayed a beach pajama costume copied from a Patou model. The wide trousers of wood brown flat crepe show the Spanish influence in a group of inverted pleats set in at the sides. The jumper is of beige trimmed with capucine shades, and the coat is of crepe printed in the same colors, the entire costume sponsoring the famous yellow of the season combined with brown.

The model sketched in the center shows a stunning effect in a black and white jersey beach costume with sun-back top, yoked trunks and knee-length matching coat. These costumes are still in vogue for the swimmer, though the pajama costume is newer for the beach lounging outfit.

The very wide trousers are again shown in a striking contrast of color in the pajama costume at the right of the sketch. This model effectively combines geranium red and white in flat crepe. The trousers and jumper are of white with red silk stripes stitched on, and the coat is of the red lined with white, lending a vivid spot in color contrast to the beach ensemble. One of Nowitzky's models for wear over a swimming suit of dark blue gabardine trunks and coral silk tuck-in shirt, is of a Rodier cotton print, which forms the pajamas and lower part of the jumper, with a red coat lined with the print. The upper part of the jumper is of the red that fashions the coat.

Of these 19 men and 43 women were awarded the degree of bachelor of arts; 13 men and 27 women the degree of bachelor of science; 3 men and 13 women were granted limited certificates for one year's work in the college; 37 men and 375 women received life certificates for two years' college work, and 2 men and 31 women received certificates for three years' work.

Movie Fashions

Brass rectangles lend a touch of individuality to the white sports coat worn by Clara Bow, diminutive screen star. She wears with it a small white hat of stitched silk and gaily colored sports sandals, which she matches with a purse of woven straw.

Here Are Remedies For Ivy Poisoning

If you are one of the many unfortunate who are highly susceptible to the torturing effects of poison ivy or sumac there is no need for your camping, fishing, picnic or other outdoor trips to be ruined this summer by accidental contact with these plants.

Scientists have discovered several simple remedies that are almost 100 per cent effective against ivy or sumac poisoning. Some of these are preventive measures, others are cures.

A preventive recommended by Dr. James B. McNair of the Field Museum of Chicago is a 5 per cent solution of ferric chloride in water or in a mixture of water, alcohol and glycerin. Wash the hands and all exposed skin surfaces with this solution before going into woods where ivy or sumac is likely to be encountered, allowing it to dry without wiping. The thin deposit of iron salt left on the skin neutralizes the poison immediately upon contact. This remedy has been used with good results for several years by the botany classes of the University of Chicago.

For persons who have been poisoned Dr. James F. Couch of the United States Department of Agriculture recommends a wash of 3 per cent solution of potassium permanganate. This oxidizes the poison and the area rapidly heals. The brown stain resulting from this remedy may be removed by a 1 per cent solution of oxalic acid.

In avoiding contact with these two poisonous plants, remember that ivy is a low, climbing shrub, bearing three parted leaves and should not be confused with the harmless five-leaved woodbine.

There is no danger of sumac poisoning unless you invade swamps, marshes and bogs which are the haunt of this tall shrub. Do not confuse it with harmless upland sumacs which bear clusters of scarlet red fruit in autumn. The fruit of the poison sumac is a grayish-green berry, borne in pendant clusters, and this species is never found in upland locations.

The World and All

By CHARLES B. DRISCOLL

AT THE GANGPLANK

As the gangplank is about to be hoisted aboard, and I am about to slide across the deep water for something of a stay in Europe, I bethink me of some of the things that need to be said once more.

I am still for Lindbergh. I think he has a perfect right to get married, to work for as big an income as he can get, and to be a little impatient of persistent publicity. I still want to see him in the cabinet as secretary of aviation. I still would be glad to see him given the freedom of the country. I still think his head should be put on a coin and on a stamp.

I am in favor of giving criminals found guilty of first degree murder their choice between prompt electrocution and life imprisonment, with the condition of availability for medical experimentation imposed along with the life sentence.

I still believe that congress sessions should be opened to the public by means of the radio.

I am opposed to cruel fraternity initiations and other forms of barbarism still widely practiced in some of our high schools and colleges. Alumni associations could put a stop to these murderous affairs if they would give their attention to them instead of to the sportification of the American educational system.

I like the magazine Plain Talk because it discusses interesting things. North American Review and World's Work are magazines that are coming back with good editing. I note outstanding improvement in the art department, as well as in other departments, of Cosmopolitan. Literary Digest doesn't amuse me as it once did. For fun I like College Humor, and for stimulating discussion the American Mercury. Harper's always has at least two articles that I have to read, and Smart Set seems to be plowing new ground extremely well.

I think there is plenty of room for both California and Florida in the Union, and I believe that grapefruit, oranges, grapes, lemons and pineapples are among the best foods for the health of the average individual. I do not believe that the mystery of the atom will be solved in our time, and I do not think the New York police will ever solve the Rothstein murder "mystery." Barring war, I believe that Washington will be the most beautiful city the world has ever seen, and Chicago the biggest.

Living and Loving

By MRS. VIRGINIA LEE

"My Dear Virginia Lee: You mentioned in your column the other day that the general cry of your readers seems to be 'What can I do to be popular?' I am a used-to-be popular girl who learned the secret of popularity. Listen!

"If you ever studied salesmanship, you heard about the 'you attitude.' The clever salesman goes to his prospective customer and tells him how the produce he has to sell will help his business or interests. He doesn't say, 'This is a wonderful cash register. It's just the thing I need in my business.' No, he appeals to the self-interests of the customer. He talks about the customer's business, not his own.

"A girl seeking popularity is trying to sell her personality. She can't do it by making clever remarks to a man or telling him what she thinks about things, or by smiling bewitchingly, or even by being beautiful. She must appeal to his self-interest. She must show an interest in the things he says to her, encourage him to talk about himself, and talk to him about the things he is interested in. Example: Bill says to you, 'I feel tired tonight.' You might say, 'So do I. I ironed all morning and this afternoon I helped mother can fruit.' If you did Bill would probably be bored. The reply he expected was, 'What have you been doing?' That gives him a chance to tell you something that he wanted to tell you.

"Every man has his talents and strong points. If you appreciate that fact, popularity is easy. If the man you are with is interested in biology and knows a great deal about it, encourage him to talk about it. That gives him a chance to shine. Be an intelligent listener. If you expect to hold his interest long, you must learn something about biology so that you can show an understanding of what he is saying. If baseball is his hobby, start him talking about it by remarking, 'I noticed in the paper that Babe Ruth knocked another home run yesterday.' Get the idea?

"Above all, never make a man feel inferior. Always laugh at his jokes, but never ridicule his opinion on serious matters. Don't express your ideas too forcibly; be good natured about it. If you disagree with something he says, tell him so, but don't treat his idea as if it wasn't worth considering.

Subtle flattery is the keynote of popularity. Make a man feel he is wonderful and he will respond by making you feel that you are wonderful. Make him feel that you are trying to be the star performer, and he'll start looking for a girl who will say, 'How do you DO that, John?'

"Will you print this letter, Virginia? I realize that it is rather long, but I think it is what your readers are looking for. Cleopatra."

You see I am printing it, Cleopatra, and thank you. It is what I have been trying to say for some time and better than I could say it. I might add that the same rule works with all people, male or female, old or young, and that a genuine interest in people and their hobbies goes further than a feigned one.

"Dear Virginia Lee: I am a girl of 18 and have been keeping company with a fellow 19 for at least three years, but we are not engaged yet, but thinking about it. But we are accused of things that aren't so. Please give us your best advice, as I am very anxious to know what to do?"

"Polly E." Go your own way and pay no attention to what people say, Polly E. They must have something to talk about. You and the boy friend happen to be the victims this time, that is all.

With the Women of Today

By LILIAN CAMPBELL

Our own Rosa Ponselle, Metropolitan opera star, recently scored a brilliant triumph in London, England, in the role of "Norma," in the opera of that name.

Never since Dame Nellie Melba made her debut in Covent Garden has a singer so stirred an English audience, it was said.

Rosa Ponselle was born in Meriden, Conn., was educated in the public schools of Meriden and under private tutors in New York City. She joined the Metropolitan in 1918. She is of Italian descent and was the first American singer to make her debut in a leading role with Caruso.

The late Mrs. Jane Havron, 80, of Sorento, Ill., was said to hold the record as the champion great-grandmother of the state. She left five sons, one daughter, 45 grandchildren, 75 great-grandchildren and 20 great-great-grandchildren.

'GATE TO BEAUTYLAND' BERRIEN'S NEW SLOGAN

Berrien county, "the beginning of Beautyland," leads all others in the vacation directory just issued by the West Michigan Tourist and Resort Association.

Each county is given two pages in the directory. One is a map, in colors, showing the roads, lakes and rivers, resorts and golf courses. There is also a map, in the Berrien county section, listing all the hotels in St. Joseph and Benton Harbor.

The other page contains reading matter, telling briefly of the history of the St. Joseph river, Blossom week, the horticultural products of the county, forms of recreation available, and of the mineral baths.

The map lists 11 golf courses in Berrien county. These are the Benton Harbor municipal golf courses, Berrien Hills Country club, Martin Hills, Taber farm at Sodus, Advertisers' club at Bridgman, Chikaming Country club at Lakeside, Grand Beach, at New Buffalo, Waterlily-Paw Paw Lake public course at the Paw Paw Lake Country club at Paw Paw lake, and two courses at Niles. Included in the directory is a large road map of Michigan.

U. S. Title Given To Water Front

At least some owners of Lake Huron frontage in Port Huron are snapping their fingers at the action taken recently by Fred W. Green in vetoing the Atwood relicted land bill. Owners of frontage in the La Salle tract, which is bordered on the north and south by Lakeside municipal park and the lighthouse reservation tourists' camp have title to their property direct from the United States government through the patent issued in 1811 to Antoine La Salle. The patent of 1811 to the 626 acres antedates by 18 years the government survey of 1829 when the controversial meander line was established.

STATE TO RUSH NEW BUILDINGS FOR HOSPITALS

Work has already been started on the institutional building program authorized by the Hartman bill.

The fiscal year begins July 1. Gov. Green hopes to complete the building operations scheduled for the first year before July 1, 1931, in order that the second year program may be undertaken promptly. The Hartman bill contemplates a four-year program, costing $23,427,300. The appropriations for the third and fourth years are subject, however, to the approval of the 1931 legislature.

In the forthcoming fiscal year, a total of $5,740,000 is to be expended, for building operations, as follows: Kalamazoo State hospital, $300,000; Pontiac State hospital, $350,000; Traverse City State hospital, $430,000; new hospital, $1,500,000; Michigan Home and Training school, $1,000,000; addition to University hospital, $250,000; nurses home at state tuberculosis sanatorium, $25,000; naval reserve armory at Detroit, $250,000; field artillery at Detroit (rental) $30,000; Detroit cavalry unit, $20,000; University of Michigan, $500,000; land at University, $175,000; Michigan State college, $250,000; College of Mining and Technology, $200,000; Girls' Training school, $50,000; State Public school, $50,000; Michigan Soldiers' home, $300,000.

The expansion of the Michigan Home and Training school at Lapeer will be undertaken immediately, the governor said. Already overcrowded, the institution has a long waiting list.

A site for the new mental hospital is being sought in southeastern Michigan by a special commission, the membership of which has not been disclosed.

"We are looking for land that can be purchased at a low figure," Gov. Green stated. "If we can't get a site at the right price, we can make use of the 915 acres of state land northwest of Lansing which the legislature made available as a hospital site. However, we want to get a site somewhere in the southeastern part of the state, for the congestion is there."

The Pontiac State hospital is to have a new power plant. When the new hospital is completed, it is the intention to abandon the Pontiac institution and sell the land, which has become valuable for subdivision purposes.

Leading architects will be consulted as to the design of the new mental hospital and certain other buildings, the governor said, but the supervision of construction will rest with the state building department.

State "Y" Secretary Lauds Iron County

The most outstanding work in the town and country departments of Michigan's Y. M. C. A. was accomplished by Ernest Richards, secretary of the Iron county organization, Mr. Freeman, state secretary, told a gathering of 300 during the fifty-fifth state convention held at Bay City. Mr. Richards was especially commended for the manner in which he had rehabilitated the work in the county, restoring it to a sound and healthy economic and useful status.

Mr. Richards was in attendance at the group conferences. He reported that additional opportunity will soon be provided Michigan's town and country department of the Y. M. C. A. through the terms of a large bequest by Millard T. Conklin, releasing a substantial sum for enlarged activity.

Urges Monroe Harbor

Monroe's industries have developed a volume of business sufficient to justify the United States government in building a lake port at that point without waiting for further development of the steel industry, is the opinion expressed by Henry E. Riggs of Ann Arbor, former professor of the University of Michigan, after making a complete survey of conditions at Monroe at the instance of the Monroe Industrial Commission. The survey was made with a view to making recommendations to the government for the improvement of the River Raisin channel.

In his reports Mr. Riggs shows how the development of the harbor would result in large savings to Monroe industries. He points out that the saving to the Monroe paper companies and to the first unit of the Newton Steel Company, would amount to $553,380 a year. He declares that if the estimate of total savings were cut 25 per cent, it still would be sufficient to justify an expenditure of $7,500,000 for harbor improvement, an amount greatly in excess of any estimate he made.

Chain May Sell Autos

Agreement which has been entered into between research department of Sears Roebuck & Co. and Gardner Motor company provides for investigation into possibility of automobiles as a merchandise item distributable through retail store channels. The agreement calls for Sears paying a certain portion of cost of the investigation and does not provide for sale of a single automobile to Sears, nor does it mean that Gardner will produce a car which may be sold by Sears.

This step is in line with policy of Sears Roebuck to investigate all kinds of products for possible distribution through its organization. Company also has been submitted three propositions to distribute airplanes, but no investigation has yet been started in that connection.

Every communicant member of the Lutheran churches is being asked to contribute. The purchase of a 26-acre site at Ann Arbor and Beck Roads is contemplated, and plans are complete for the various buildings to be built.

The Rev. William Gielow is superintendent of the institute and the principal is John A. Klein. Members of the campaign committee are the Rev. E. C. Fackler, the Rev. F. A. Hertwig, the Rev. J. M. AUTO ENGINE BIG IN FUTURE

Those who think car engines of the present sizes are sufficiently powerful for all time to come are not in step with engineering thought in the automotive industry. Twelve and sixteen cylinder engines, as against the present sixes and eights, are regarded by the latter group as certain to be developed.

One prominent leader of engineering thought, visualizing the next few years, goes beyond the average prophet and declares that the time will come when only eight, twelve and sixteen-cylinder cars will sell for more than $1,000. What a merry little battle would prevail in the lower price class should this prediction come true.

In looking forward to this greater power development, the engineer's thought is not so limited as that of the average layman. In spite of all the latter has read about the creation of superhighways, two decked streets and the like, he still is inclined to measure the future automobile by the present facilities afforded for automobile use.

Why have more power than can be used? he wants to know, thinking terms of even the best of present day roads. That is the juncture at which the engineer and the engineer part company. The latter envisions as a parallel development, streets and highways made to order for motor cars driven by engines of 12 and 16 cylinders.

The whole history of motordom sustains the judgment of the expert. The average man can see the fact merely by looking backward to the day of the dirt road.

SAME PRESCRIPTION
HE WROTE IN 1892

When Dr. Caldwell started to practice medicine, back in 1875, the needs for a laxative were not as great as today. People lived normal lives, ate plain, wholesome food, and got plenty of fresh air. But even that early there were drastic physics and purges for the relief of constipation which Dr. Caldwell did not believe were good for human beings.

The prescription for constipation that he used early in his practice, and which he put in drug stores in 1892 under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a liquid vegetable remedy, intended for women, children and elderly people, and they need just such a mild, safe bowel stimulant.

This prescription has proven its worth and is now the largest selling liquid laxative. It has won the confidence of people who needed it to get relief from headaches, biliousness, flatulence, indigestion, loss of appetite and sleep, bad breath, dyspepsia, colds, fevers. Japanese Giant Radish

This is the great Sakurajima Radish from Japan. The largest radish grown, often attaining the enormous weight of 15 pounds, and sometimes 20 or 30 pounds.

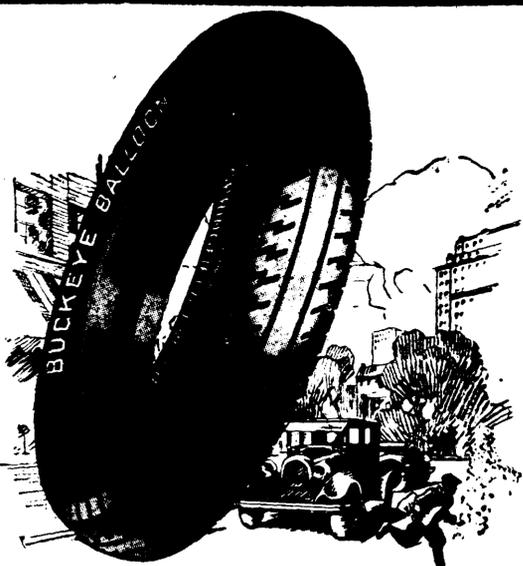

It is a real "novelty" to most Americans, and the taste is immediately convincing anyone of the fact that it is not merely a curiosity but a radish of extraordinary quality. The flesh is solid, firm and brittle, and of most excellent flavor. It will grow and thrive in any soil or climate.

This is a radish that can be planted in the spring and eaten all summer long, and can also be kept through the winter if dug in the late fall and buried in a box of dry sand in the cellar. As a summer radish it is a wonder, and it will grow and thrive when it is so hot and dry that common radishes would be a failure. By all means try the Sakurajima Radish and you will be surprised at the real value of this monstrous variety. Send for package of the seed today before it is all gone. Quality better than ever prices lower than ever

A few years ago, Kelly-Springfields were the highest priced tires on the market—and they were worth the difference in cost. Today, Kellys are consistently giving two and three times the mileage they did seven or eight years ago. yet they now cost no more than any of the well known makes. The explanation is simple. Public demand for Kellys led to large production and lowered costs, thus making it possible for us to offer you far better prices than the old Kellys, at half the price. If you have never used Kelly tires, it will pay you to get acquainted with them.

11 YEAR OLD GIRL WINS SPELLING CHAMPIONSHIP

At the county spelling contest held at Howell Saturday afternoon, Elizabeth Richards, aged 11 years, of the Graham school, Cohoctah, won first prize and Dorothy Snively of the Younglove school, Putnam was awarded second prize. There were 17 contestants. The winner spelled successfully over 200 words propounded by School Commissioner Alna Sharp and finally went down on the word "aberation" as did also Dorothy Snively. A tie-off was then started in which both missed the words "disparagement" and "divestiture". Finally Dorothy missed the word "dogma" and Elizabeth spelled it correctly giving the latter the prizes consisting of two silver loving cups, one given by the Livingston Co. Fair and one given by the Livingston County Press.

The word which proved the stumbling blocks to the contestants and on which others failed were: February, conference, appreciation, salable, pre-terests, quantity, apprallel, colander, facility, aborigine, and aberration, two and three of the spellers missing the last three named words.

Each contestant was given two chances by Miss E. Alma Sharpe, county school commissioner, who propounded the words to the contestants, which numbered ten girls and seven boys, and who represented the winners in their various school districts throughout the county where previous district contests had been held.

Robert J. Wright, president of the Livingston County Fair association, presents the cup to the school and Miss Sharpe made the presentation of the cup to the individual winner, Elizabeth Richards.

Following the spelling contest, which was witnessed by a capacity house, the large school auditorium being filled, Miss Sharpe presented the diplomas to the eighth grade graduates, and also presented each contestant in the spelling contest with a booklet or certificate of excellence.

PINCKNEY-MICHAGAMMA'S WINS IN 13th

Lee Scores from 2nd base in 13th on Bowman's Hit to Defeat Dexter 5 to 4

The Pinckney-Michagammas baseball team won their sixth straight game Sunday from Dexter 5 to 4 but they had to battle Gus Eck's team 13 innings to do it. Chet Haupt, Owosso high school athletic director, pitched for Dexter and was extremely hard to hit with runners on base. Moran for Pinckney out-pitched him but was handicapped by poor support all of the Dexter runs resulting from Pinckney misplays. Moran was forced repeatedly to pitch himself out of holes. In the 5th Dexter filled the bases with one out but Moran struck out Eck and Vick fled out to Bowman. Pinckney scored twice in the second when Reason and Miller singled and scored on Mulvaney's hit. They scored again in the 5th when Lee tripled and scored on Moran's hit. Dexter scored twice in the 6th when Lickley walked, Rayment was safe on an error and Wedemeyer scored both with a hit. They tied the score in the 8th on Haupt's single, Wedemeyer reached first on an error and both scored on Tomion's hit. From then until the 13th neither side scored although they got men on several times. Haupt reached third in the 13th with one out but Moran struck both Wedemeyer and Cole out. In the last of the 13th Brown first up fled out, Lee walked, Moran singled and Bowman hit to right scoring Lee and ending the game. The game was featured by snappy fielding at times Lewis's snappy fielding at times, Lewis's a nice piece of work. Dexter made two double plays and Pinckney one.

NOTES OF THE GAME

Six straight victories now if we can only make it seven next Sunday.

With both Cox and Swarthout, the Pinckney clean-up men missing, Pinckney was forced to present an entirely new outfield. Lefty Reason, P. H. S. high school star played left like Lewis center and Bowman right. They snared ten flies between them.

Moran was great in the pinches. Dexter filled the bases on errors in the 5th with one out. Then Moran came across, fanned Gus Eck and caused Vick to fly to Bowman. Haupt reached 3rd in the 13th with one out but again Moran tightened up and fanned both Wedemeyer and Cole.

Vick, ex St. Louis Cardinal who caught in the world's series of 1926, had a tough day at bat. He struck out three times and fled out three times. The Pinckney base runners also took considerable liberties on him. Brown stealing both second and third in the 2nd. In the latter stages of the game he improved a little and threw out Brown stealing second and Bowman stealing third.

Gus Eck took a bad spill in the second when Brown stole third. As he went in the air for the throw, Brown slid under him and Gus fell over backwards. He had to be helped up.

Ike Lewis made a great catch in the 7th. Vick drove to right. Howmar came in fast but the ball just touched the tips of his glove and Ike coming up behind him and caught it.

Hub Lee again hit for three bases. It was the only extra base hit in the game.

Ed Brown again played an errorless game. He dove head first to get Millers wide throw in the 11th and stopped it.

Miller made up for his error a second later when he pulled down Tomion's line drive and doubled Cole at first.

Our friend Percy Rayment of Ann Arbor played left field for Dexter. He dropped one fly but got 4 others.

Tomion and Smith the, Ypsilanti Normal keystone artists, played second and short for Dexter.

This is the longest game ever played on the local field.
