LITTLE WORLD'S SERIES STARTS SEPTEMBER 22

Pinckney-Michigan and Hamburg Teams to Put on Three Game Series To Decide Supremacy of this Section

Next Sunday, September 22 is the date of the opening game of the little world's series which the Pinckney and Hamburg base ball teams are putting on. The first game will be played at Pinckney, a second game will be played at Hamburg, September 29 and the date of the third game will be decided upon later. Both of the above teams have enjoyed successful seasons and have each had long strings of victories. They have not met so far this year. In 1927 and 1928 they met twice each year each team winning a game, giving them a 50-50 split. This year that there will be no argument three games will be played. This is believed to be the first series of its kind to have been played here. The local team is in fact stealing a march on Philadelphia and the Chicago Cubs and getting in ahead of them. However unlike the big league teams there will be no advance in the price of admission which will remain at 25c. The interest has always been intense when Pinckney and Hamburg have met in previous games and there is reason to believe that it will be even greater in this series. Both teams will present strong lineups and it is expected that Moran and Lee will be the battery for Pinckney and Baker and Scarles for Hamburg. Two competent umpires will handle the series and all possible effort will be made to keep it free from quarreling and jangling which have marred other games between the two teams. It will be started at 3:00 p. m. promptly and a large turnout is anticipated.

NO IDENTIFICATION MADE

The body of the man killed by a hit and run driver on Grand River just west of Howell Sept. 5 was not identified. It was thought at first to be that of Thomas Bussy of Toledo. A niece of his who came to Howell and viewed the remains stated that it was not her uncle. According to a law recently passed by the legislature, an identified body can only be held five days. At the end of that time it must be sent to the University of Michigan. There after being held 10 days it can be used for dissection purposes. Accordingly the body was turned over to the U. of M. by Livingston County authorities at the end of five days. We note a similar disposition was made by Chelsea authorities of a body found there on U. S. 12. Both victims are thought to be hitch hikers.

PINCKNEY HAS A TEAM IN BOWLING LEAGUE

Pinckney has entered a team in the Out-of-town Boosters League at the Howell Recreation Building. The team is composed of Fred Read, Ross Read, Reginald Schaefer and Casimer Clinton. The season starts September 30 and continues for six months. The other towns that have teams in the league are Brighton, Fowlerville and Webberville.

Since the opening of the new recreation building at Howell a year ago there has been great interest manifested in bowling and many leagues have been formed. Quite a number of Pinckney people bowled last year and according to present indications the number will be doubled this year. Paul Miller had a team entered in the league there last year which was made up mostly of Pinckney players.

STATE HOSPITAL SITE CHOSEN?

Ann Arbor papers quote William N. Gallagher, Owosso, chairman of the state hospital commission as stating that 1200 acres of land in York township, Washtenaw county, about six miles south of Ann Arbor at the junction of the Ann Arbor railroad and Chicago turnpike had been chosen as a site for the new proposed $7,000,000 hospital for the insane authorized by the legislature at its last session.

Gov. Green when asked for his opinion refused to give any, saying he would wait until the state administrative board acted on the project.

The York site which is near Saline is said to be one of the high priced locations for which the owners were demanding in the neighborhood of $500 per acre. However they may have had a change of heart.

SCHOOL NOTES

The enrollment of the school is as follows:
Primary room—30.
Intermediate room—42.
High School—89.
The students in the High School are putting on a magazine contest. The profits of the contest are to be used in financing Athletics, Debating and Oratory.

Pinckney plays Dexter at Pinckney Friday, Sept. 20. This will be an excellent game. Dexter carried some of the best players that Pinckney met last year. Her team promises to be stronger than it was a year ago. The home team is exceptionally light, but if enough speed can be secured it may develop into a fair team.

GROCERIES AT COST

As I expect to leave for California about October 1st, I will close out my grocery stock at Patterson Lake at cost.

THE PINCKNEY

LECTURE COURSE

The dates of the Pinckney lecture course to be put on at the Pinckney Community Hall this fall and winter have been received and are as follows: The first number is on Oct. 2 and is J. Franklin Babb (lecturer, humorist and after dinner speaker). The angular, Lincolnque in costume. Babb's personality wins you the moment you meet him.

On November 27, the next number is scheduled. It is entitled "Pigs" and is a Broadway Comedy skit. It is acted and is presented by Mrs. M. Wagner-Shank and supporting cast.

The third number is January 2 and is the Loveless Twins Quartette. It is composed of twin brothers married to twin sisters. It is made up of vocal and instrumental numbers including a number of Hawaiian songs in costume.

The Tobias-Ellis troupe is the fourth number, March 3. It is composed of Jay Tobais, comedian and Geraldine Ellis, Mezzo-Soprano. Mr. Tobais specializes in character caricatures of rural types. Miss Ellis has a voice of rare beauty and also assists Mr. Tobais in his comedy skits.

April 7 is the date of the Lundberg Scott Co. This number is filled with musical and dramatic sketches, costume reading, a one act play and many clever novelties. It is composed of James Scott, Edna Lundberg and Dorothy Bracker.

RUSH LAKE COTTAGE RAIDED

The cottage at Rush Lake, owned by E. C. Mack was raided by Sheriff Wimbles force Saturday night. A quantity of wet goods, including Mack arrested on charge of violating the prohibition laws. Mack has been living at Strawberry Lake this summer and only recently moved to Rush Lake. Saturday was the grand opening but the sheriff got there first. As the patrons dropped in they were in groups they were searched by the sheriff and detained until after 12:00 p. m. A booze shipment was expected and it was feared that it might be tipped off. However it did not materialize and the assembly was dispersed by the sheriff giving the benediction to the ample congregation which had gathered.

WANTS TO ORGANIZE LEAGUE

Al Nichols of Williamston who has managed the team there for a number of years was a caller at the Pinckney office Friday. He desires to organize a base ball league for the next year. The teams to be included are Stockbridge, Williamston, Leslie, Howell and Pinckney. They would play Sunday and Tuesday the week day games to start at 7:30 p. m. A meeting of representatives of the different teams will be called later.

Virgil Martin and Wm. Marsh of Tareyton, N. Y., are visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Martin.

Watermelons and TIRES

Watermelons look a lot alike. So do tires. But you can't "plug" a watermelon to make sure it's good. You can't do that with tires. So you've got to rely on the name on the tires. There's one name that means absolute assurance in the way of a guarantee of goodness though and through in tires. That name is GOODYEAR.

You don't need to paw over a heap of Goodyear tires to pick out the best. If it says GOODYEAR on the wall you're OK with the first one you lay hands on. Because years of experience have shown tire users that "GOODYEAR" means the "Most Value for the Money," Goodyear makes millions more tires than any other company. That fact is the only "plugging" which Goodyear Tires require. It pays plenty!

The recruit had hurried off to the drill grounds without his rifle. Some of the other rookies would be along soon, so stepping into a canteen he telephoned his company sergeant to have one of the boys bring it along.

"What's that you forgot?" asked the sergeant.

"My gun."

"For what?"

"My gun. You know, G-U-N. G as in Dynamite, U as in Europe, N as in Automatic."

ITEMS OF 25 YEARS AGO

From the Dispatch of Sept. 15, 1904
Miss Ella Murphy began her second year of school in Gregory September 5.

Miss Mae Reason will attend the Ypsilanti Normal and Eugene Reason and Gayle Johnson at Cleary College. At the Democrat county convention held at Howell Monday the following ticket was nominated: Rep., Edwin Farmer; Judge of Probate, H. A. Stowe; Sheriff, John Weimeister; Clerk, S. F. Campbell; Treas., Robert Wright; Pros. Atty., R. D. Roche; Surveyor, John McCreary.

C. L. Grimes began teaching school in Dexter township Monday.

Hugh Aldrich is teaching in the Younglove district.

S. T. Grimes left for Topeka, Kansas where he has accepted a position. Rose and Mary Murray are at the St. Louis Worlds Fair this week.

George Gardner is teaching at Anderson and Joe Harris in the House district.

Threshers report a very light wheat crop in this section.

Fannie Murphy is teaching in the Reeves district.

BOOTLEGGERS AND MALT
The Cuthbertson bootlegger statute and the malt tax law both went into effect Wednesday, Aug. 28. Minor liquor law violators and bootleggers will feel the effect of the former, while the latter will compel home brewers to pay more for the "makings."

The home brewer must pay a tax of five cents a pound on malt, malt extract and malt syrup. It he uses wort, he will be taxed on the basis of six pounds of "malt extract" to a five gallon container.

Final interpretation of the malt tax statute by the department of state virtually denies the existence of wort on the Michigan market. The product will be taxed in the basis of its so-called solid content under the definition of "malt extract in solution," it is announced.

GET OFF THE ROAD
We believe every motorist in the country would be surprised to learn how many people meet death every touring season through failure to get their cars well off the road when they are forced to stop to change a tire or make other needed repairs. It is common custom to stop the car dead in its tracks when there is a puncture, instead of forcing it a foot or so more to where it will be safely out of the traffic lane. And when the repair to be made is on the same side as the line of traffic it is even more dangerous, because that forces the one doing the work to stand immediately in the road. If you must change tires under such conditions, put someone on guard to watch for approaching cars and warn you of their coming. There are plenty of ways to get killed out on the highways without resorting to this careless method of doing it.

Discordant Note
The bureau of standards says that Reinhold's explanation of why a discordant musical note will offend the ear is as follows: The essence of discordance consists merely in very rapid beats or changes in intensity of the sound. Two consonant tones flow on quietly side by side in an undisturbed stream; dissonant tones cut each other up into separate pulses. These pulses may be too rapid for the ear to separate, but their existence may be demonstrated. The nerves of hearing feel these rapid beats as rough and unpleasant because every intermittent excitement of any nervous apparatus affects as more powerfully than one that lasts unaltered.

NEIGHBORING NEWS

The body of an unidentified man was found on U S 12 near Chelsea one day last week. His head was badly crushed and he is thought to have been a victim of a hit and run auto driver. From papers on found him it is believed that he might be A. Dupont of Elmira, New York.

Herbert Lane of Howell was married to Mrs. Florence Parker at the Highland Park Presbyterian church Sept. 10.

L. B. Gallup and sons of Oceola got 765 bushels of oats from 13 acres with a 2 lb. overrun to the bushel making a yield of 63 bushel per acre. Only seven of seventy-two petitions for citizenship were granted by Judge Collins in Shiawassee recently.

The county jail at Howell has been condemned by the state inspector as being unsanitary and inadequate for the needs of the present day. It was built forty years ago. The inspector informed Sheriff Wimbles that unless the board of supervisors remedy conditions the state will.

Davison for the sixth time defeated a school bond issue by a margin of 11 votes.

The enrollment for the Fowlerville school is 337. The average wt. of the football team is 140. The following is the schedule: Sept. 20, Dansville, here; Sept. 27, Brighton, there; Oct. 11, Pinckney, there; Oct. 25, Howell, here; Nov. 1, East Lansing, here; Nov. 8, Holly, there.

U. of M. FOOTBALL

Pineapple at Its Best.
Travelers in Costa Rica love to tell of the delight afforded in partaking of the pineapple grown in that country, and of the novel way of serving it at the table. Servants have developed unusual skill in paring the rind leaving the entire heart of the fruit for the diner. It is served in a wide and deep plate, a fork is stuck in to hold it in place, a spoon then enables the diner to dip out the abundant fruit goodness and enjoy it at leisure. The fruit is overflowing with juice, delicate and refreshing, as the fruit ripens naturally while on the tree.

From 600 B. C.
to Thomas A. Edison

ABOUT 600 B. C.
Thales, a Greek philosopher, recorded a curious phenomenon. He observed that a piece of amber, if rubbed against his woolen chiton, or gown, first attracted and then repelled light objects. Through its suggestion of sunlight, the Greeks named the golden amber "elektron". Experimenting with lodestone—magnetic iron ore which he found near the city of Magnesia—Aristotle, some time later, was prompted to remark: "The stone has a soul since it can move iron".

FOR nearly 2000 years these discoveries lay dormant. Then a physician to Queen Elizabeth of England, Dr. William Gilbert, took up the thread of experimentation, publishing his observations in a book entitled "De Magnete".

Fifty years later, a burgomaster of Magdeburg, Otto von Guericke, discovered that electrical charges could be "conducted". Working with a crude machine of his own creation—consisting of a large ball of sulphur revolving on a shaft and rubbed by friction—he succeeded in passing electric current along a linen thread; and here, in his primitive laboratory, the first step was taken towards the transmission of electrical energy.

Benjamin Franklin's immortal experiment with kite and key, in 1752, definitely demonstrated the identical nature of lightning and the electric spark. In the lightning rod, Franklin made the first practical application of electrical knowledge.

ALL through the eighteenth-century, the lack of a simple and easy means of producing electricity was a handicap to further experimentation. Hence, the voltaic pile or electric battery, invented by Alessandro Volta in 1799, was one of the most important inventions made up to that time—because it was the first generator of a continuous electric current.

In 1809, Sir Humphrey Davy, using the "voltaic pile", publicly demonstrated for the first time, at the Royal Institution in London, a brilliant arc light established between two sticks of carbon.

"Let There Be Light"

Andre Marie Ampere, about this time, discovered that a spiral coil of wire produced all the effects of a magnet when connected to a battery, and Sturgeon placed an iron bar within the spiral coil and produced the first electromagnet, which has the advantage over permanent magnets of both power and control.

SOON Michael Faraday produced the first electric dynamo, or generator, consisting of a copper disk which could be rotated between the opposite poles of a strong permanent magnet. Two brushes or "collectors" carried off the current generated as a result of the disk rotating through the lines of magnetic force. Working along similar lines other inventors made dynamos of larger size and power.

The dynamo was a step of tremendous importance. Electricity could now be generated much more cheaply than by the electric battery and in such quantity that it was possible to make commercial applications of laboratory experiments. Among the first of these was public use of the arc light, which soon found limited use for street and store lighting and for illuminating large areas. It was evidently not suitable for residences or small interiors.

IMMEDIATELY following the Civil War, many inventors throughout the world attacked the problem, which had come to be known as "the subdivision of the electric light". Several of the leading scientists had proved it mathematically unattainable. How Thomas Alva Edison found the solution in his Menlo Park laboratory, and how, in the invention of his filament lamp, he took the first step in designing a complete system for the generation, distribution and utilization of electric energy to brighten the world and "lift an untold burden of toil from the backs of men and women", will be told in the next of this series.

Ecclesiastics First to Recognize Fair's Value
Fairs, writes Arthur Haslam in the London Daily Telegraph, may be said to be a child of honored and ancient stock. The honor of receiving the first royal charter for a fair belongs to Paris. It was in the early part of the seventh century that the business-like monks of St. Denis drew attention to the enormous opportunities for trading, presented by the great concourses of worshippers who daily visited the famous shrine to pray. The charter was accordingly granted to enable business to be transacted within the ecclesiastical precincts, and thus there arose the medieval customs whereby nearly all the charters for fairs were granted to ecclesiastics. The fairs of St. Denis were held all ways on a saint's day.

Through the centuries the fairs of Europe prospered, as much through the kindly offices of throne and church as through the efforts of the traders themselves. But in England there was one curious anomaly. Valuable as the fairs were for the purposes of international trading, and prosperous as they rendered the towns in which they were held, the local shopkeepers often had cause to eye them with distaste. In consequence of the lack of business they suffered they were often compelled temporarily to put up their shutters. In the case of the one which was held on St. Giles' hill near Winchester, and lasted for 15 days, the heart-burning occasioned by a parliamentary decree that shopkeepers should "not compete" with the fair may be imagined.

Fanning!
A boy entered a toy gun goods store and asked for "Half a yard of devil."
He persisted in his request, explaining that it was to match his granny's dress.
Still he was not understood. Then he said, suddenly, "That man over there is serving what granny wants."
"Oh, it's black sateen you want," said the clerk.
"Yes, sir. It's black sateen," replied the boy. "I knew the chap had names, but I didn't happen to know the one the store is called."

One of the Most Important Lessons

"Every little bit added to what you have makes just a little bit more"

Lessons in thrift often prove as important as lessons in arithmetic, algebra and geography. For what good will it do you to know that $50 plus $5 amounts to $55, if you have neither the fifty nor the five? You can work your algebra more easily if you start with a known sum and then let "X" represent the extra earnings.

And what good will it do to study geography if you never intend to be thrifty enough to visit some of the lands about which you have studied?

The first lesson of school as well as life is thrift. Learn that lesson thoroughly and the rest of your learning will come easily. Begin your study of thrift today by opening a savings account in this old established bank. The interest we will add regularly to your savings account will help you in your studies.

The Renown

Cabinet Heater

is the last word in

Stove Heating

Because it operates like a furnace instead of a stove the Renown is able to keep the small home warm and comfortable. It draws the air in at the bottom, heats it and sends it out at the top in such volume that the warm air circulates in every nook and corner of the room. Coal and wood will give the same good result.

Since there is only one fire to feed, a saving in work and fuel bills results from the use of this heating device.

Paris Is Showing in Shoes

By Lucy Claire

When the average American woman visits Paris she sees shoes, shoes everywhere, and not a pair to wear. Most smart women visiting Paris from America, if they are in the know, provide themselves with the shoes they will require this side of the Atlantic. Of course, one can get the custom made shoes to fit, but who wants to wait for custom shoes on a hurried European trip? Still, just because the Parisian foot is different than the American foot, Paris shoes do have their influence in America, just as do the Paris garments. We follow the style Paris sets in almost every instance.

So let us look to Paris for colors and materials, and to our own country for lasts. As to color, the fall showings in shoes are a study in autumnal tints. There is "havana," a brown that is almost black; "automne," a dark golden brown; "maresque," a light sepia, and "brun dor," a golden copper brown. There are also chestnut browns and the deep claret browns, and there is "grenade," a slightly warmer tone than the light sepia. There is the dark blue marine blue, and, of course, black, which ranks next in importance to the browns at the moment, and will probably take first place as fall cools into winter.

In leathers there are some suedes and a few lizards and other reptiles, but the premier leather is still kid. Reptiles are still being used more for trim than for the entire shoe, and there are combinations of suede and kid which are attractive. There are other materials, just as there are other colors in the "high" styles, but these, with the brown, black and blue, are the staples. Green, a dark red, something like the acaju, of last year, are among the high style colors. Green is becoming more and more popular for shoes, and, like the dark blue, it, too, may some day become a staple.

Evening shoes are still fashioned from fabric and dyed to match gowns, though gold kid seems to be coming to the fore again, probably owing to the vogue for the capucine tones.

Beige Is Popular

Perugia is using considerable silver kid, hand embroidered or adorned with real tapestry, as is also Julienne. Beige or brown kid, combined with lizard in either beige or green, is evidence at Costa's, and Greco is also an advocate of the kid lizard trimmed shoe. Bentivegna, a newcomer, whose art is being watched by the bottiers, uses kid to almost the exclusion of all else. Enzel favors beige kid. Bally, by the way, is replacing many of his new walking pump designs with a kid bow in place of the buckle.

In the sketch are shown an interesting blue kid oxford with high heel and antelope trim, by Marouf; a brown kid sports shoe with low leather heel trimmed with antelope in a lighter shade; a black kid pump with high heel, and red trim around the collar, seen at the Grand Prix; an artistic step-in with the kiltie tongue, in kid and suede combinations, by Phillips; a yellow and black crepe de chine pump, with gold and silver trim, by Bunting, and a blue silk rep and crepe de chine cut-out pump, by Julienne.

In the center is shown one of the new fur trimmed frocks for fall. The fabric is heavy black crepe, with a one-sided effect created by hip shirings, and the split cape trimmed with beige galay. The matching of shoes, hat and handbag are still the vogue. They should either match the furs or the frock for street wear, and as there is so little of the fur in this instance, a black leather bag and a black felt hat accompany the black kid pumps with the Bally bow.

are large enough to accommodate groups of fifty persons each. Stoves, cooking utensils, drinking water, and sanitary conveniences are provided, also cleared places for tents for those who prefer canvas shelter.

Camp regulations state among other things that group camp buildings are for the use of children between the ages of eight years and eighteen with an adult accompanying each group of fifteen or less. The length of stay in one camp is limited to two weeks, although on special permit this time may be extended.

The following state parks are now equipped with group buildings: Bay City, Cedar Hills, Dodge Brothers' Nos. 9 and 10, Interlochen, Marquette, Orchard Beach, Van Buren and J. W. Wells state park.

The Seven Mistakes of Man

"There are seven mistakes of life that many of us make," said a famous writer, and then he gave the following list:

1. The delusion that individual advancement is made by crushing others down.
 2. The tendency to worry about things that cannot be changed or corrected.
 3. Insisting that a thing is impossible because we ourselves cannot accomplish it.
 4. Refusing to set aside trivial preferences, in order that important things may be accomplished.
 5. Neglecting development and refinement of the mind and not acquiring the habit of reading and study.
 6. Attempting to compel other persons to believe and live as we do.
 7. The failure to establish the habit of saving money.
- But no one need make the mistake of neglecting the development and refinement of his mind, declares the National Home Study Council of Washington, D. C. In addition to our public school system there are about 500 schools which offer home study courses in almost every conceivable subject, and at the cost of a few cents Uncle Sam's postmen will carry these courses to the most remote and inaccessible regions.

Poems That Live

Ebb and Flow
I walked beside the evening sea,
And dreamed a dream that could not be;
The waves that plunged along the shore
Said only—"Dreamer, dream no more!"

But still the legions changed the beach;
Loud rang their battle-cry, like speech;
But changed was the imperial strain:
It murmured—"Dreamer, dream again!"

I homeward turned from out the gloom,
That sound I heard not in my room:
But suddenly a sound, that stirred
Within my very breast, I heard

It was my heart, that like a sea
Within my breast beat ceaselessly:
But like the waves along the shore,
It said—"Dream on" and "Dream no

STUDENTS WILL ATTEND FIRST FOOTBALL GAME

Following the custom instituted two years ago when the new stadium was first opened, the University of Michigan, through the Board of Control of Athletics, is again inviting all Michigan students in high schools, parochial schools and preparatory schools in general to the first football game at Ann Arbor, September 28. All schools of high school grade, whether public or private, are included in the invitation.

Information as to the method of securing tickets will be mailed to the principals of all such schools about September 19, and the University is anxious to have as many students as possible as its guests on the day of the game.

Unusual interest is centering around the opening of the 1929 football season. A double-header with Albion college, Albion, Mich., and Mt. Union college, Alliance, Ohio, both strictly Varsity games, is the initial attraction. Albion, for years dominating eleven in the M. I. A. A., will provide plenty of competition for the Wolverines. Alumni of 10 or 15 years ago will recall with eagerness another football alliance with Mt. Union, for in the years preceding the war Mt. Union provided many a real football thrill on old Ferry Field. The Ohio team has always ranked high among the teams representing smaller institutions with which Michigan competed. The largest crowd to see an opener in the new stadium is expected September 28th.

Air Explorer Weds Stage Star

Captain Sir George Hubert Wilkins, daring Australian aviator and explorer, who flew over "the top of the world" in 1928 and who circled the globe with Dr. Hugo Eckener on the Graf Zeppelin, snapped with his bride, the former Miss Suzanna Bennett, one-time Broadway stage star, shortly after their marriage at Cleveland. The two were attending the air races at the Ohio metropolis and were wed by a justice of the peace.

The World and All

By CHARLES B. DRISCOLL

THE WORST

The worst thing about bridge is the prize, and finding an appropriate place to hide it. The worst feature of Ganna Walska is her voice. The worst feature of rheumatism is the pain. The worst about a bootleg liquor party is the next day. The worst feature of youth is its brashness, and the worst about age is its lack of enthusiasm.

The worst feature of motoring is the motorist. The worst of Theodore Dreiser is his writing. The worst about swimming is the cramps, unless you happen to be at a New York City beach, where the garbage in the water is even worse than the cramps.

The worst thing Washington had to deal with was his set of false teeth. The worst statue in the United States is in the Public Square in Cleveland. The worst thing in school is arithmetic, and the same holds for after school. The worst feature of poverty is the deprivation of beauty in some of its aspects, and the worst thing about wealth is that it doesn't confer good taste or appreciation of the beautiful.

The worst manners are those of Smedley Butler, but the worst headache often results from eye trouble. The worst light to read by is red or rose, and the worst imitation of art is found in some churches and on some magazine covers.

The worst crime is breach of trust. The worst citizen is a hypocrite. The worst drink is the stuff the doctor gives you before taking an X-ray of your interior, and the worst coffee is Turkish coffee. The worst feature of a hog is stubbornness, and the worst characteristic of a mean horse is cruel cunning.

The worst feature a woman can possess is an ungente manner, and the worst feature you may find in a man is untrustworthiness. The worst thing about Ethel Barrymore is her voice, and the worst fish for eating is the carp. The worst medicine is castor oil, and the worst weather is a high wind with half-frozen sleet. The worst occupation I can think of is that of a professional solicitor of funds. The worst public manners are found in New York, and the worst situation a person can be in is to be sick, lonely, broke, unemployed and disappointed in love. The worst thing about most musical comedies is the singing. The worst feature of most radio programs is the announcer. The worst racket in the world is made by the Kansas City street cars, and the worst stock is the one that you bought at high.

Living and Loving

By MRS. VIRGINIA LEE

PROBLEM OF ADJUSTMENT FACES YOUNG COUPLES AS FIRST GLAMOR FADES

The June brides and grooms have been married long enough now to have settled down somewhat. They've passed the intensive billing and cooing period and discovered that each has a few unsuspected faults—is not quite the angel the other thought them.

They've also found out, let us hope, that each is a little bit nicer in many ways than they thought.

Love and kisses are fine fare for a lifetime, mixed with other things. Older married folks often forget that. But a real partnership must go with it.

Wife often gets her first disillusionment when she finds hubby has no intention of making her a partner in money matters. If he is the type that is convinced that he is the owner of the family salary because he works outside the home for it, this is pretty bitter, especially if his wife has been earning her money before marriage.

Doing the washing, ironing, scrubbing and baking, as many wives do, it is rather humiliating to have him boast of buying her a new dress, as if she had no right to it and only got it through his generosity.

And if it's HER house and hubby isn't allowed to make himself comfortable in it, to put his feet on the table or the couch and to smoke and to bring his friends home, wife isn't playing fair.

"Dear Virginia Lee: About two months ago my brother's boy friend came to our house. He asked me to let him wear my watch. I did. He has never returned it. I have asked him for it several times but he has broken it and says he will have it fixed before returning it. My father knows nothing of this, but he will be very angry when he finds out, because he gave me the watch for Christmas.

"Virginia, please tell me of a way I can get my watch back from him. This same boy, I have found out since, has three more watches that he got the same way from other girls.

Margaret." Ask your brother to get it for you, and if the boy won't give it to him have your brother tell him he will tell your father, or even go to the police about it. That sort of thing is no joke. His excuse for not returning it is probably not true, and he should be broken of his little habit before he gets into serious trouble.

Little Lonesomeness: My dear child, if I haven't answered your letter I have answered plenty just like yours. Now look here: Do you go about looking sad and friendless or are you smiling and friendly? You say you try to be social and friendly. Unless there is something very unusual about you, then, you should attract friends. You are always clean and sweet, well groomed? Interested in other people? And still you do not attract?

All right. Then stop worrying and crying about it. Make up your mind that you don't care a continental whether you make friends or not. You are going to get a lot of life anyway. Is it possible for you to take private dancing lessons? A few are not expensive, to get you started anyway. If possible, study dancing as an art, make it your hobby. Can't you join a girls' club in church, the Y. W., or something, or a dancing class? Take up music or reading or art, anything to get your mind off yourself and your worries. Make up your mind to be happy, anyway, and if you see anyone who seems to need a friend, try to be a friend to that person. Try this and then write to me and let me know if, as I think, your woes will pass away. If you make yourself an interesting personality you cannot help being attractive.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Menu Hint

Bacon Spinach, Scrambled Eggs
Sliced Tomatoes
Blanc Mange with Peaches
Milk

This is a luncheon menu for a family with children. The tomatoes may be eaten with a little sugar or salt if the children are too young to have mayonnaise or French dressing.

Recipes

Spinach and Scrambled Eggs—Two cups cooked spinach, three tablespoons butter, three eggs, two tablespoons milk, one pimento, pepper, one-half teaspoon salt. Chop the spinach fine after draining well and season with two tablespoons of the butter, half of the salt and pepper. Arrange it in a neat border on a hot platter. Add the milk to the eggs, stirred just enough to mingle the yolks and the whites, add the rest of the salt and pour into a saucepan in which the remaining tablespoon of butter has been melted. Scramble this mixture, keeping it in as large flakes as possible. When done, remove from the fire and pour into the center of the platter. Garnish the top with the pimento cut in strips.

Suggestions

Cheese Sandwich Filling
Three-quarters pound snappy cheese (New York) butter size of walnut, one-half teaspoon dry mustard (scant), one teaspoon salt, one teaspoon pepper (scant), dash paprika, one-half cup milk (very scant), one egg. Grate the cheese, melt in a double boiler and add the butter. Beat egg and add milk. Mix dry ingredients and add to the beaten egg and milk. Add all to the milk and cheese, stirring constantly. Cool. Spread one side of the bread with this filling and the other side with butter. Press together and toast. Serve hot.

This filling will keep several days in a closed jar in the ice box. However, it will need creaming before it can be spread on bread.

Steppledchase

Put cooked lamb through the food chopper. Season it with minced onion, chopped parsley, salt and pepper, and moisten it with a little white sauce, just enough to hold the meat together.

Form into croquettes, cone-shaped, and set away in ice box for half an hour to cool. Roll in egg mixture, then in bread crumbs, and fry in deep hot fat until browned. At last minute, drop bacon curls into the hot fat to brown, and serve the croquettes with a bacon curl atop each, fastened on with a toothpick, end of which is concealed with a tiny bit of parsley.

With the Women of Today

Among the speakers before the brilliant assemblage of the Institute of Public Affairs at the University of Virginia was Miss Emma Wold. She is an international lawyer and officer of the National Woman's party. In addition to her academic and legal degrees, Miss Wold holds an honorary degree of doctor of laws and is a member of the American Society of International Law.

Each summer prominent persons from the United States and Europe gather at the Institute of Public Affairs to listen to lectures and discuss matters of national and international import.

Good Will Guests

Eight young women educators from England are guests in the United States of the English-Speaking union. They are visiting schools, churches, welfare agencies, summer camps and many other American institutions. Each one chooses the places she most desires to visit according to her special tastes. The purpose of the visit is to help foster a better understanding between the United States and Europe. In the various cities on their itinerary they are guests of branches of the English-speaking union.

Fur Buyer Gets Stiff Sentence

The latest conviction resulting from the drastic action against beaver poschers in northern Michigan now being taken by the law enforcing agencies of the conservation department is that of R. W. McInnis of Newberry. This conviction resulted from the possession of 35 beaver pelts.

McInnis pleaded guilty to the charge, was fined $100, and costs of $7 and was given 60 days in jail by Justice F. W. Beck's of Newberry. A new automobile of expensive make was confiscated. It is possible that McInnis will be prosecuted at the expiration of his present term for carrying a rifle in deer country without a permit. McInnis was armed with a deer rifle and a heavy caliber pistol.

MICHIGAN RANKS HIGH IN HUNTING, FISHING LICENSES

Michigan ranked among the four leading states of the country in funds received from the sale of hunting and fishing licenses during 1927-28, according to information furnished by the U. S. department of agriculture. The peninsular state accumulated a total of $710,523.47 from hunting and fishing licenses, while Pennsylvania showed the largest return with $1,006,157.70 from hunting licenses alone. New York was also high on the list with $699,873.52 from combined hunting and fishing licenses.

New York had the largest number of resident hunters and fishermen but Michigan was close in the running with 362,808 hunting licenses. Ohio outstripped Michigan by its total of 368,377 hunting permits, and Pennsylvania did better with 515,948.

While Michigan, New York and Pennsylvania are leading the race for the premier hunting and fishing state, and Michigan is behind these two, it is pointed out that the concentration of population is markedly higher in the eastern region. Of the states bordering on the great lakes, Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin and Minnesota, the Wolverine state had no strong competition aside from that offered by Ohio.

Michigan outranks by a safe margin the seven states of Idaho, Maine, Montana, Nevada, North Dakota, Oregon and Tennessee combined for the number of hunting and fishing licenses sold during the years of 1927 and 1928.

Six Alligators Added To Charlotte Park Zoo

Labor Day crowds visiting Bennett park found some new attractions in the zoological park conducted by H. Hugh Green, in the shape of six alligators, placed in a new basin which had just been prepared for them. The amphibians were the gift of John Ball park, Grand Rapids. The largest one is about five feet in length and the smallest about two feet. The Grand Rapids park management still has several alligators left, all of which are larger than the ones given Charlotte, besides several fine buffalo and deer, which they are considering letting the Bennett park zoo acquire.

MECOSTA LOSES PROPOSED PARK

One "nay" ballot saved Mecosta county taxpayers $10,000 when the board of supervisors turned down the proposal of purchasing a county park. This action was the culmination of almost a year of investigation, controversy and verbal combat among members of the board. The investment of this amount has been one of the principal topics of conversation in all sections of the county since the last session of the supervisors. The solons failed to pass the project with a vote of 13 to 7. A two-thirds majority was necessary. One member was absent.

The proposed county park is located on Schoolsection lake in the geographical center of Mecosta county. The site consisted of 35 acres with a three-quarters-mile shoreline.

Refuge Law Is Now In Effect

With the new wild life sanctuary law, which went into effect August 28, the department of conservation was given complete control over all private game refuges and will be in a position to use the law in developing game in the state.

Under the old law, which was enacted back in 1913, it was mandatory upon the department to accept any game refuge dedication offered. Once land was dedicated as a refuge it could not be withdrawn until the period of the dedication expired.

Under the new law the commission can examine all land offered and accept only such as is suitable for wild life refuges. It also may make a division in dedications under which certain wild animals or birds are protected. As an example a holder of land may dedicate it as a deer refuge and still retain the small game hunting rights. Marshes may be dedicated as duck refuges and kept open for

ROAD BUILDING WILL AID FARM RELIEF, IS CLAIM

With 23 per cent of the nation's motor vehicles owned on farms, congress can render no greater aid to the farmer than by speeding up road building to enable the agricultural interests to market their products and further eliminate the isolation of rural life, the American Automobile association declared.

The national motoring body declared that an increase in the annual federal-aid appropriation from the present amount of $75,000,000 to $125,000,000 will enable the states to more quickly complete their primary highway systems and aid in the building of secondary or rural roads.

The A. A. A. pointed out that the progress already made in constructing roads has done much to improve standards of farm life and allow the farmer to overcome the isolation which once surrounded his home.

"At the same time," says the statement, "the farmer has been brought into closer touch with public affairs and is taking a more active interest in demanding his rights as a citizen. An indication of this is seen in the fact that rural mail routes are now in excess of 1,270,000, while five families are served per mile with an average of 3,810 pieces of mail handled per mile."

The A. A. A. said that modern highways have already made available to the rural resident school facilities equal to those found in cities; rough consolidation of the one-room one-room schools; contributed the prosperity of the farmer by enabling him to deliver his products nearby markets.

The statement continues: "At the close of 1928, there were 493,124 motor vehicles registered in the United States and 5,426,900 these were on farms. Texas led the list with 362,600 farm-owned motor vehicles, while Ohio, Illinois, Iowa, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, New York, Minnesota and Missouri trailed the order named. It is also significant that the larger proportion of these cars are used for work in connection with the farm.

"The need for improved roads to give the farmer is seen by the fact that at the outset of 1928 there were 1 per cent of the farms located on improved dirt roads and 31.3 per cent on improved dirt roads. Only a small percentage were on gravel or paved highways.

With such a situation prevailing, congress can hardly afford to longer delay to increase the progress of road building throughout the United States."

Greenville Boys in Eight Thousand-Mile Hike

Three Greenville youths, seniors in high school and sons of prominent business men, returned recently from a trip of more than 8,000 miles which they made in a new touring car.

The trio, Robert Choate, Cass Kemp and Franklin Parsons, left Greenville June 17, stayed in Grand Rapids their first night and then went to Chicago. After they left Chicago they started "roughing it."

They went through Iowa and Nebraska. The longest drive of their journey was 428 miles from Shelton, Neb., to Denver. They had their first bit of mountain driving and their first flat tire at the end of 2,000 miles.

Taos, the Cimarron canyon, the painted desert and the petrified forest were visited in turn. Then came Flagstaff, Ariz., where they visited the Lowell observatory, and the Grand canyon. The heat in Arizona was so great they could not travel before 5:30 p. m. or after 9 a. m. Finally they reached Phoenix, where the heat was so terrific their football, which they had taken with them to keep in training, exploded while lying in the car.

Leaving Phoenix they drove 300 miles to Yuma on the California border, where they were subjected to search for fruit. The first stop on the coast was San Diego. From there they went to Long Beach and thence to Catalina Island, San Pedro, Los Angeles, Hollywood and Universal City. At the latter place they saw a motion picture being made.

They visited Yosemite National park, where they spent three days. Driving north from there they went into Oregon and through Washington and Idaho. Then came Yellowstone National park, Shoshone lake and Cody, Wyo.

Montana was next, followed by Minnesota, with Duluth as the last stop before entering Michigan. They spent a little time at Ironwood and Sault Ste. Marie, but after crossing the straits lost no time in getting to Greenville and home.

Advertising Expense Of Shoe Sales Found

The percentage of advertising expenses with relation to net sales of shoes in 1928 ranged from 2.25 to 6.5, with an average of 3.83, according to figures compiled by a retail shoe association and made public by the department of commerce Sept. 3.

The department's statement follows in full text:

The percentage of advertising expense devoted to window display ranged from 5.6 to 16.6, the average being 9.4 per cent. The highest percentage of advertising expenses devoted to newspaper advertising for the stores reporting was 92.4 and the lowest 27 per cent, the average being 60.3 per cent. Direct-mail advertising was reported to account for approximately 30 per cent of advertising expense.

Inferior Counterfeits Of New Bills Detected

The first attempt to counterfeit the new small-sized currency has ended in failure, it was stated orally by the chief of the secret service, W. H. Moran.

Advices have been received by the secret service that several counterfeit bills had been placed in circulation in a small town in Iowa, but were quickly detected. One man was reported under arrest on charges of counterfeiting.

Details of the counterfeiting scheme and the location where the fraudulent bills were found were withheld by Chief Moran pending developments. He said, however, that the counterfeiters were poor imitations, and few people would have been deceived.

It was the official opinion that the new bills were exceedingly hard to counterfeit. It is the expectation of the department of the treasury that the number of counterfeiters will gradually decrease as efforts to locate the new bills end in failure.

CHANNEL JOINS 5 BRANCH LAKES

A comprehensive campaign by lake property owners in Branch county is being made to develop what promises in the years to come to be one of the most important pleasure and summer resorts in southern Michigan.

About ten miles south of Coldwater lies Coldwater lake, with an area of 3,600 acres and one of the largest inland lakes in this section. It is first of a chain of lakes which extend a distance of twelve miles northeast towards Quincy. The lakes in this chain, other than Coldwater, are Long, Mud, Bartholomew and Marble.

Through the activities of the Wolverine Portland Cement Company in looking for marl in those lakes, a channel, navigable and safe, has been dug, which now unites the entire chain with over 40 miles of shore line.

These lakes are varied nature, with islands, peninsulas, deep bays and a widely diversified shore line. Fishing is excellent. There are hundreds of cottages on the various shores and numerous excellent building sites await development.

The most important move has been the work done by C. F. Megow, Detroit, on Lyopawa island, Coldwater lake, which is famous in Indian lore as the battleground of the Pottawatomies. By means of a built-in road this island has been transformed into a peninsula of 129 acres extent. Once famous as a fruit and peony farm, it now has a nine-hole golf course, which is increasing in popularity. High point on the island is one of the most delightful spots to be found anywhere on southern Michigan waters.

Enlarge Chromium Plant

The Chromium Plating Corporation of Jackson, due to the increase in production, has enlarged its plant by an additional 5,000 square feet. The new laboratory installation is of the latest type for the analysis of customer's problems as well as the company's, thus insuring uniformity in the deposition and quality of plating. Due to additional orders being received, a new hard plating unit is being installed to take care of the demand for this class of work.

When Food Sours

Lots of folks who think they have "indigestion" have only an acid condition which could be corrected in five or ten minutes. An effective anti-acid like Phillips Milk of Magnesia soon restores digestion to normal.

Phillips does away with all that sourness and gas-right after meals. It prevents the distress so apt to occur two hours after eating. What a pleasant preparation to take! And how good it is for the system! Unlike a burning dose of soda—which is but temporary relief at best—Phillips Milk of Magnesia neutralizes many times its volume in acid.

Next time a hearty meal, or too rich a diet has brought on the least discomfort, try—

MICHIGAN HIGH SCHOOL DEBATE SCHEDULE OUT

Over 300 Groups to Compete for State Honors

More than 300 high schools in Michigan will compete this year in the 1929-30 program of the Michigan High School Debating League, it was announced yesterday by Professor G. E. Densmore, manager of the league. Special bulletins giving full details of this year's contest have been mailed to every school in the state.

The subject to be debated throughout the year will be: "Resolved, that a judge or board of judges should be substituted for the jury in all state and municipal trials in Michigan."

Professor Densmore pointed out that the subject was selected by the high schools of the state last spring, and since that time a great deal of effort has been expended in special research, selecting library aids for use in studying this important legal question.

In explaining the 1929-1930 program, Professor Densmore gave out the following information:

"The schools of the state will make a thorough study of this debate subject with the library material furnished by the University of Michigan and on November 15 will meet in several hundred statewide debates, the first step in the race for state forensic honors.

"Three other state-wide debates, December 2, January 10 and January 24, will constitute the four preliminary debates in which all schools will participate in order to compete for entrance in the elimination series of debates which begin February 14.

"Only the 64 schools with the highest percent of victories will be entered in the elimination series, and each of these will receive the University of Michigan wall plaque trophy through The Detroit Free Press as an award for excellence in debate.

"This trophy is in the shape of a shield, the design of which was taken from the well-known University of Michigan shield. Its base is of beautiful American walnut, 17 inches in height, 15 inches across the top, and one one inch thick.

"The medallion superimposed upon the shield is nine inches in diameter, three-eighths of an inch thick and is cast in solid bronze, with all lettering artistically embossed. During the past four years, The Detroit Free Press has presented 256 of these trophies to the victorious schools of the state.

"While the elimination series are in progress, the 64 schools will debate among themselves, with the defeated schools dropping out of each debate, until only two undefeated schools remain. These two will be brought to Ann Arbor for the state championship debate, April 25.

"Each of the six debaters of this final debate will be presented with a gold watch by The Detroit Free Press and both schools will receive a large bronze trophy cup, one engraved 'First Honor,' the other 'Second Honor,' presented by the University of Michigan extension division. Each of the two semi-final schools will be presented with a bronze trophy cup, properly engraved.

"Any four-year high school of the state may become a member of the Michigan High School Debating League, and applications for membership will be received beginning tomorrow. Immediately upon the receipt of such membership, the library material for studying the debate question will be dispatched to the member schools with postage prepaid.

"The membership will remain open until October 19, but will close on that date, in order that the schedule for the first debate, November 15, may be sent to the member schools on October 26.

"The Michigan High School Debating League, the largest forensic organization in the United States, was organized by the board of regents of the University of Michigan in 1917, with a membership of 64 schools, which has steadily grown until the membership was 150 schools last year.

"With this largest enrollment in the history of the league, 1,500 high school debaters participated in 650 debates, which were heard by 150,000 people of the state. The final state championship debate of last year, held in Hill auditorium at Ann Arbor, when Cheboygan high school defeated Royal Oak high school, was attended by 4,500 people—the largest audience ever to attend a debate in the state."

Professor Densmore added that in view of the great interest in debating on the part of Michigan high schools, it is confidently expected that the Michigan High School Debating League will have a larger enrollment this year than ever before.

OBITUARY

May A. Porter, aged 77 years, was born in Hillsdale, Michigan, February 11, 1851 and died at the home of her son at Pinckney, September 10, 1929.

Mrs. Porter was united in marriage to Charles Henry Potter Nov. 8, 1874. To this union three children were born, two of whom survive, H. E. Porter of Pinckney and Mrs. Phoebe Coltrin of Williamston, the other dying in infancy.

The deceased has spent her entire life in Michigan. For the last three years she has been almost a helpless invalid but was always of an agreeable, pleasant and loving disposition and leaves many friends to mourn her passing. Since the death of her husband five months and three days ago, she has lived with her son at this place. The funeral was held from the Gorsline Funeral Home at Williamston Thursday morning and interment was at Delta Center.

There remains to mourn her loss, two children, H. E. Porter of Pinckney and Mrs. Phoebe Coltrin of Williamston, one sister, Mrs. Ella Fellows of California and two grandchildren, Charles and Nova Porter, also a host of friends both here and at Williamston.

CURRENT COMMENT

On account of extremely dry weather in this section, it is said that the late potato crop is a failure and that winter spuds will be extremely scarce and high priced. The potato crop is one of the most unstable in this section. There is either an unusual overcrop or none at all. In either case the farmer gets it in the neck. If the crop is a big one the price is too low to allow much profit and if there is a scarcity he usually has none to sell.

The state inspector has condemned the Livingston county jail and stated that if the board of supervisors does not put it in satisfactory condition the state will. We do not look for any drastic action by the board as they are close to popular sentiment and know that the taxpayers are inclined to vote "no" when it comes to expenditures on the jail or poor house. Washtenaw county voted down an appropriation for a new jail a year ago and other counties have done likewise. People are fast enough to vote for improvements where they will be benefitted. However they fail to class the jail or poor house as beneficial.

Football has come into its own and the high school and college teams everywhere are busy getting into shape. Hardly any town or college, no matter how small but has a team in the field. The most important result of inter-scholastic and inter-collegiate football is that it is a molder and builder of school spirit. It cements the student body together as nothing else does and causes them to cheer their heads off for their alma mater. It catches popular appeal and it is apparently impossible to build a stadium big enough to hold the crowds.

They come at you from every angle—we mean the easy money boys who are so anxious to help you invest your surplus earnings in sure-fire investment propositions. They are willing to give you expert financial advice without charge unless you realize a profit on our recommendations.

Nothing is said about making good losses sustained by suckers who bite on the worthless stocks they are out to peddle. The sensible man will not be caught by any such drivel. There is plenty of money where these fellows operate to take care of every legitimate enterprise, only the shady and most times worthless issues being actively pushed outside the financial centers of the country.

It is the wise man who makes it a hard and fast rule to consult his banker before making an investment of any kind. You'll find that many an alluring proposition promising big dividends, don't look so good after it has passed under the scrutinizing eye of your banker. He is your best friend when you have money to invest. Do not hesitate to seek his advice.

Suit pending in the Circuit Court for the County of Livingston in Chancery at Howell, Michigan, on the 8th day of August 1929.

It appearing from the sworn bill of complaint as filed in said cause, that the plaintiffs have not been able after diligent search and inquiry to ascertain whether the said defendants are alive or dead, or where they may reside if living or if they have any personal representatives or heirs living, or where they or any of them may reside, or whether the title, interest, claim, lien or possible right of these defendants have been assigned to any other person or persons, or whether such title, interest, claim, lien or possible right has been disposed of by will by the said defendants.

And it further appearing that the plaintiffs do not know and have been unable after diligent search and inquiry to ascertain the names of the persons who are included as defendants without being named.

Upon motion, therefore, of Don W. VanWinkle and Willis L. Lyons, attorneys for Plaintiffs it is ordered that the above named defendants and their unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns cause their appearance to be entered herein within three months from the date hereof and that in default thereof said bill be taken as confessed by said defendants and each and all of them.

It is further ordered that the plaintiffs cause this order to be published within forty days in the Pinckney Dispatch, a newspaper printed, published and circulating in said County, once in each week for at least six successive weeks.

DOG OWNERS TAKE HEED

This morning when Don Swarthout opened the Pinckney Puro station for business he noticed a sack laying on the pavement in front of it. On it was fastened a neatly printed sign which read "Unlicensed Dog Owners Take Warning." The sack when opened was found to contain two dogs of the poodle variety, both of which had died of gunshot wounds. Whether the deed was perpetrated by a band of night riders or group of vigilantes is hard to determine. It is evidently intended as a warning to all owners of unlicensed dogs. Don will hold the bodies five days for identification as the law directs.

Dr. Noble, pastor of the Howell Presbyterian church was in town this morning in the interests of the Livingston county church rally day to be held Sept. 29.

Don Cushing, Dexter high school athletic star, has enrolled at Olivet college.

PREVIOUS GAMES BETWEEN HAMBURG AND PINCKNEY

Pinckney and Hamburg met on the diamond the first time in June 1927. Pinckney won by score of 16 to 7. Dallas Cox pitched for Pinckney on that day. In a return game played at Hamburg in August of that year Pinckney was defeated 7 to 5. Charlie Zahn pitched for them on that occasion and Burton for Hamburg. In May 1928 Pinckney batted Burton hard and won by a score of 11 to 1. This game was played at Hamburg. Chet Haupt pitched for Pinckney. In a game played at Pinckney a week later Hamburg won by a score of 5 to 4. For this game they had a southpaw from the U. of M. pitching by the name of Whitney who showed a brilliant change of pace. At that fielding errors lost the game for Pinckney. Jamieson was the Pinckney pitcher on this occasion.

Earth's Motions.

The Naval observatory says that it cannot say that the earth has any certain definite number of motions. "Popular Astronomy," by Flammarion and Gore, gives the following as the 11 principal motions of the earth—other authorities might record their number as greater or less than 11: Rotation on its axis, revolution about the sun, precession of the equinoxes, motion around the center of gravity of earth and moon, nutation, variation in the obliquity of the ecliptic, variation in the eccentricity, motion of the perihelion, planetary perturbations, motion of the sun around the center of gravity of the solar system and the sun's motion through space.
