Soft Ball League Games

Shirey Still Leads with VanBlaricum
Second. Dinkel and Ledwidge in Third and Miller and Campbell Tied for Cellar Position.

There was not much change in the standings of the Pinckney Soft Ball League the past week. Shirey's Viking team won another victory. This is his 6th straight game. Miller's Bearcats were his victims this time but put up a hard fight. The game was scoreless until the 6th when the Vikings got one run. They added 4 in the 7th when the Bearcat infield wobbled a bit. The Bearcats ran came in the 8th. VanBlaricum lost to Dinkel's team Monday 10 to 4, mostly on account of poor fielding. Ledwidge won from Andy Campbell's team Thursday 8 to 4. The schedule for the first part of the season closes July 2, leaving only three more weeks of play.

Echoes from the Philathea Class

Met at the Home of Mrs. Lydia Carr Last Wednesday. A Very Pleasant Afternoon Spent

No class session was held last Sunday on account of the children's day exercises at the Community Congregational church. These were much enjoyed by the adults as well as the children themselves and reflected credit upon the committee who had them in charge. The decorations were especially pleasing and called forth much appreciation.

Our next Sunday class discussion will be based upon the subject "The Sin of Causing Others to Stumble" from the lesson found in Paul's epistle to the Romans 14:13-23.

All report a profitable and pleasant afternoon at Mrs. Lydia Carr's on last Wednesday, about thirty members and friends gathering for the occasion. The meeting was opened by singing and the devotional service included a passage from St. Joseph's Gospel. During the business meeting it was decided to hold an ice cream social, July eleventh, full particulars of which will be given later. Our treasurer needs replenishing, so save your dimes until then. An interesting program followed the business session, and included several pleasing numbers. Mrs. Lola Rogers, Miss Dorothy Carr, also Miss Maxine Marshall of Gregory favored with beautiful solos. A group of readings were much enjoyed, given by Mrs. Mac Daller, Mrs. Meda Henry, and Mrs. Winifred Graves. Little Jean Clark gave a recitation and Mrs. Jessie Bergquist read a very interesting article written by Mrs. Manley Albright, on missionary work in Porto Rico. Two contests enlivened the program. The honors being awarded to Mrs. Edna Euler and Mrs. Mac Daller. The July meeting will be held with Mrs. Gladys Lee at Lakeland.

ALUMNI NEWS
On Saturday, June 20th at White Lodge Country Club will be held the 5th annual gathering of the graduates of Pinckney High School. Twilight golf from 4 o'clock, dinner from 5 to 7:30 after which a short program will be given. Dancing from 8:30 to 12:00. As the ones in charge are making a special effort to make the dinner a success. Please make your reservations.

Reservations for banquet tickets are coming in very slowly and the prospect for a large crowd this is very doubtful. At the present time nearly all reservations are from out of town. Time has been extended until this Thursday noon so anyone who has not procured their tickets may still do so. If an alumni association is to be kept going here the home people must show interest in it or it will flop. Call up one of the officers at once and order your tickets.

Nelle Gardner, Pres.

OLDFOLK'S PIONEER RELIGIOUS MEETING
You are invited to attend the Stockbridge Baptist church's annual Old Folk's Pioneer Religious meeting for everybody in the High school auditorium at 3 o'clock, Sunday afternoon, June 21st.

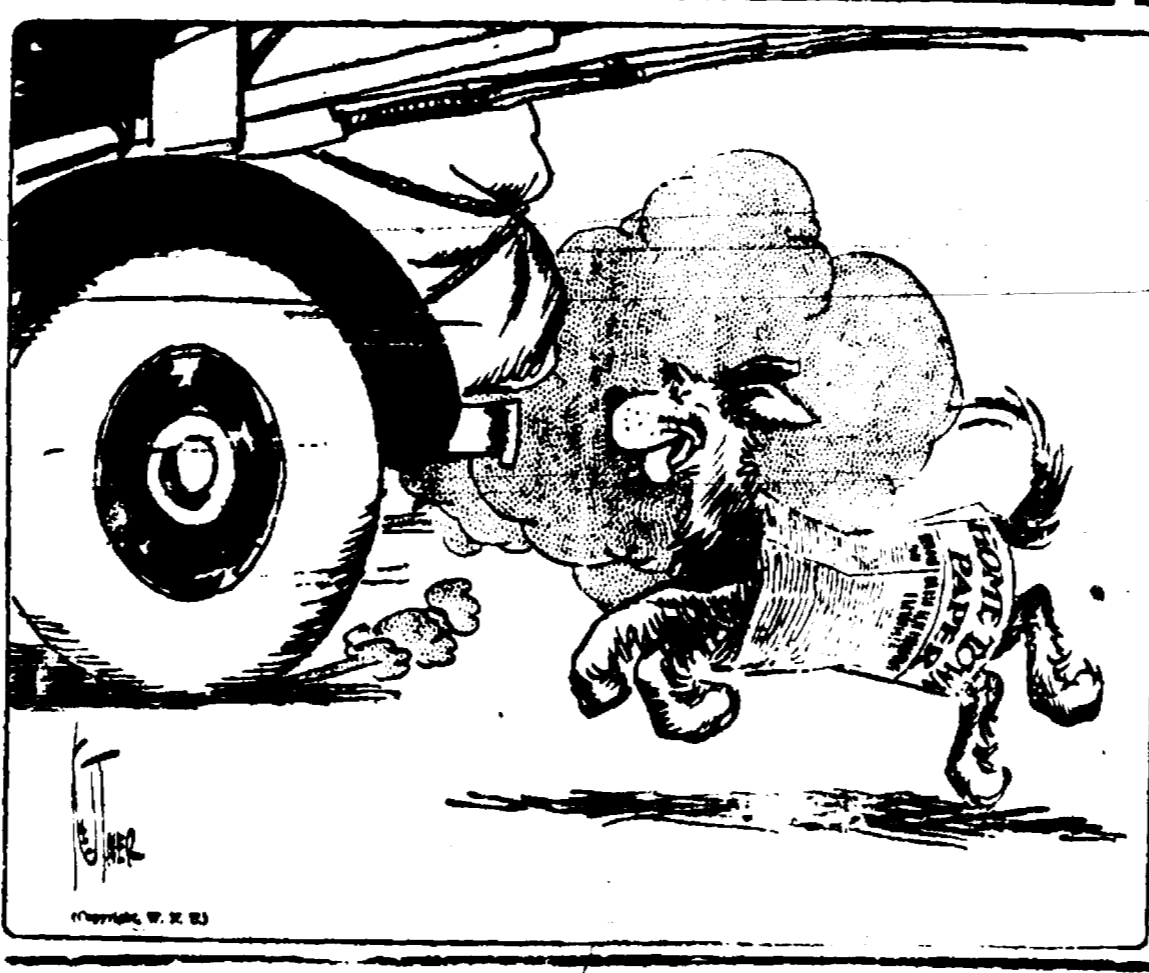

Governor Wilbur M. Brucker has promised to be present, if possible. Rev. Dr. H. H. Savage of Pontiac will deliver the main address. There will also be a full program of other fine features. A worthwhile souvenir will be given to all adults and youth. No admission, only an offering. Please announce. Bring an auto load.

Also hear Rev. Charles A. Wells, famous cartoonist, journalist, and world traveler, in the Baptist church at Stockbridge, Thursday evening, July 2nd. Free.

James F. Goodman, Pastor

YOUR NEWSPAPER
Your home newspaper heralded to the world your birth, says an exchange. It told of your entry into school, applauded your graduation from the high school, started you to college, and when you returned mentioned the first job you secured. It told of your marriage to the sweetest girl in town and also mentioned the advent (or event) of your first born. It told of the visits of pa and ma, sympathized with you in your sorrow, and when you die it will do the best it can to get you through the pearly gates, at a $1.25 a year.

Innovation in Harness Racing

Barrier System to Be Used at Fowlerville Meeting July Fourth.

The barrier system of starting trotters and pacers will make its first appearance in Michigan at the July 4th races at Fowlerville. During the past winter the race meetings held at Longwood and Orlando, Florida, gave the new method a try out and much favorable publicity was given the races because of the absence of the ever tiresome scoring. A similar device has been in use among the runners for some time, but was deemed impractical for harness racing.

Two race meetings have just been finished in Ohio, where it proved so successful that turf writers, horsemen, spectators gave it hearty endorsement. At Urbana, Ohio, less time was used in starting a four day program consisting of thirty heats than is often used for one heat under the time worn scoring method. The old system, in vogue since racing started, because of delays in the programs, caused many to lose interest in the sport.

MUNITH PLAYS HERE SUNDAY

Munith will be Pinckney's opponent at the local grounds next Sunday. A number of years ago they had a strong team in the Southern Michigan league in which Stockbridge, Williamston and Leslie were also members. When the league broke up the players scattered going to different teams. This year they have reorganized and are going good. We don't know much about their lineup except that Butt Barker, a rival of Harry German's for the number of years in which he has indulged in the national pastime is in it. He may be a little slow but he can still hit them on the nose. A good attendance is greatly desired.

AUGUST JONCKHEERE GETS FREE TRIP TO STATE FAIR

Thirty boys in Livingston county wrote the special State Fair examination. The winner was August Jonckheere, son of Victor Jonckheere of Fowlerville, Route 1. The teacher of the Thayer school, which August attended, is Ann Dillingham of Fowlerville. The winner gets a trip to the State Fair with all expenses paid.

The boy who won second place is W. E. Krasney of Green Oak No. 1. Miss Eva Wenderlein, teacher, of Hamburg. The alternate gets a chance to go to the State Fair if the winner cannot go.

SCHOOL SUIT WON BY DISTRICT BOARD

The suit of D. D. Alderice, contractor, against the Stockbridge board of education, was thrown out of court as no cause for action, Tuesday, without the defense calling a witness.

The suit which has been pending in court for nearly a year is the outcome of the building of the school here last year, and on which Mr. Alderice claimed that upwards to $30,000 was due him for work in the building. The board have never taken the suit seriously.

The matter of final payment can now be taken care of and the building fund closed. — Brief Sun.

WINS SECOND CONSECUTIVE VICTORY
We are reprinting the following clipping sent us by Roy Henry which was taken from the Battle Creek Moan-Journal, inasmuch that it relates to Jimmie Moran, star pitcher, for the Pinckney base ball team of 1929-30 who is now a member of the Battle Creek Kellogg team:

Kellogg's remained undefeated in class A Friday by upsetting Consumers Power, 9 to 3, for its fifth consecutive victory. In the other major recreational game Wilcox-Rich outslugged Eagles for a 12 to 6 triumph.

Jimmie Moran hurled for the Peps against the Powermen and allowed seven hits for his second decision in league play. The peps earned only nine safeties off Bill Heath but his mates committed five errors which helped Kellogg's in some of their scoring.

Kellogg's scored four runs in each of the second and third innings after Consumers had tallied twice, one in each of the first two frames, to sew up the contest early. Fred Katz and Better led the Peps with four of their nine safeties.

NOTES OF THE GAME
The Howell team is composed of five members of this year's high school team, three members of the previous years team and two Hibbard boys from Byron. They played a snappy fielding game.

Pinckney's errors were costly inasmuch as each one enabled Howell to score a run.

Lefty Reason hit three batsmen. There was a suspicion, however, that two of these were caused by the batsman stepping into the ball.

Coach Paul Bennett of Howell was a spectator. It was his suggestions

Pinckney Loses Twelve Inning Game Sunday

Howell Wins Hard Fought Contest Sunday in the 12th Inning on Jones' Triple.

The Pinckney Independents lost a 7 to 6 game to the Howell All-Stars Sunday but it took the county seat lads 12 innings to get the decision. Lefty Reason and Vin Wiltze went the complete distance for their respective team. They allowed 9 and 7 hits respectively. Reason had the edge on his opponent as he only issued 3 passes to Wiltze's 9. Pinckney took the lead in the third when they scored twice. Miller and Ward grounded out, Swarthout was safe on the Howell short stop's fumble. Lefty Reason tripled over the right fielder's head scoring Swarthout, Brown walked, Reason scoring when the throw to get him at third went wild. Howell did not score until the fifth inning. Casey Jones popped to Lefty Reason, Gehring hit a short fly to center which fell safe, F. Hibbard got a hit to center, Wiltze was hit by a pitched ball, filling the bases. E. Haire placed a perfect bunt scoring Gehring, F. Haire also bunted and Hibbard scored, Wiltze scored on a passed ball. F. Haire scored on E. Hibbard's sacrifice fly to Miller and Jones ended the scoring by flying out to Campbell. Pinckney added a run in the 6th when Maycock walked, stole second and third and scored on a wild throw to third. H. Reason who had also walked tried to follow him but was out at the plate. Howell got a run in the 7th and so did Pinckney. F. Haire reached first on an error, and scored on another misplay. For Pinckney Brown walked stole second and third and scored on a passed ball. Howell scored again in the 9th on hits by E. Haire and E. Hibbard. Pinckney going into the final inning 2 scores behind, scored twice and sent the contest into extra innings. Mack fled out to Pelky, Miller walked, Ward fled out to Casey Jones, Swarthout singled through short, scoring Miller. Lefty Reason failed to connect. This ended the scoring until the 12th. Miller singled in the 11th but was left at third. Lefty Reason doubled in the 12th but Lee and Brown both fled out to center. In this inning Gerald Jones first up for Howell hit a high fly to center which H. Reason bunted and was out at first but Jones scored, Maycock threw out McCook and F. Hibbard struck out. It was a tough game to loose. Such contests are decided on luck and Howell had plenty of it. Next Sunday Month plays here and a good contest is expected.

The malt tax law seems to have all the dealers and retailers up in the air. The law provides that all merchants who sell it must pay a tax of $25. All trucks used in transporting it must also pay that amount. Attorney General Voorhies ruled that chain stores should pay but one tax for the entire number. President Fenner of the Home Defense League, an independent dealers organization, charged unfairness and ordered all members of his league to refuse to take out a license and stop the sale of it. Secretary of State Fitzgerald, overruled this and ordered each individual chain store to pay the $25 license. Whereupon all the chain stores stopped selling it. The factories found themselves with no outlet and were unable to sell their malt. So in Lansing, Jackson and other cities they have made arrangements with a number of independent groceries to pay the tax for them provided they handle their goods.

The Puritan Malt Co. of Jackson is said to have taken out six licenses for Lansing grocers last week. Ultimately the prices of the malt will be boosted sufficiently (judging by the past) so that the dear people will pay the tax themselves.

Current Comment

Life in Detroit seems to be just one scandal after another. A huge fraud has now been discovered in the welfare department there. This is the bureau which cares for the poor and people out of work. After investigation this class are given grocery orders on certain stores for a stated amount per week. This amount depending on the number in the family of the applicant. Owing to the great number of unemployed the Welfare Dept. was undermined and rushed with business. An ex-convict, named Lewis, saw an opportunity for easy graft. By means of forging the name of Charles T. Fisher, the General Motors magnate, to a letter of recommendation he obtained a job as clerk in the dept. Many small grocery stores turned their poor orders over to the wholesaler. Lewis stole a number of Lee & Cady orders, changed the name, put in the name of a fictitious firm, notarized them himself and cashed them. $219,000.00 was obtained in this way by him since last March. He was caught when bank clerks became suspicious when his account jumped from $100 to over $200,000. Since then another Welfare employee has been caught using the same method and the Ford Motor Co. claims to have discovered more frauds in the welfare dept.

The matter is especially interesting to Pinckney people for the reason that Thomas Dolan, head of the Welfare Dept. is an old Pinckney boy. He is the son of the late William Dolan, an old time Pinckney merchant. Many years ago he worked as clerk in Mann Bros. general store here. He has held his present position for nearly 40 years and has always been regarded as an upright, high class public official. There seems to be a tendency to put the blame for the present mess on his shoulders and make him the goat. His friends here hope that he will not be forced to act as a burnt offering.

The new auto license law does not seem to have had a very discriminating effect so far, judging by figures from the office of the secretary of state. Out of 35,000 applications, only 41 have been rejected. They were mainly on account of inability to read the English language, physical disability and mental incompetence. One hundred fifty-nine applications were returned to the counties sending them for more complete information. We trust that the need of increased revenue will not dictate the issuing of licenses to incompetent drivers.

Another attempt is being made to obtain freedom for Irving Latimer, the famous matricide and Michigan's most celebrated criminal. The affair happened 40 years ago but on account of Latimer's, persistent attempt to get his freedom, the details are familiar to many. Then too the Latimer family lived at Stockbridge where Latimer's father was in the drug business. At the time of the crime the elder Latimer was dead. Latimer was residing with his mother in Jackson and living a rather fast life. Mrs. Latimer was found murdered. Her son was arrested for the crime and convicted, largely on circumstantial evidence. It was proved that he had gone to Detroit, regis-

WEEK OF JUNE 21

The fair weather predicted for the last part of the past week is expected to run over into the beginning of this week.

About Monday or Tuesday we look for increasing cloudiness resulting from a new storm center that is expected to come out of the west.

The middle days of this week will be mostly fair, but about Thursday we are expecting some showers and wind storms.

Temperatures during the last half of this week in most parts of Michigan are expected to be normal or slightly below.

At exactly 28 minutes past 4 o'clock in the morning on June 22nd, eastern standard time, which is central standard summer time, in most cities of Michigan...

Summer Is Coming

Technically speaking we are going to have a longer summer than either 1929 or 1930—four minutes longer than 1929 and thirteen minutes longer than last year.

VIENNA ROAST

By HAROLD W. BRECHT One of O'Brien Pfize Story Selections

I used to eat lunch at Mike's Arcadia Cafe, on Sixth street, Philadelphia, one of those little restaurants where where one can lunch completely if not wisely, for thirty cents, or even a quarter, by foregoing the luxury of dessert.

We who were Mike's regular patrons sat as often as possible at the same table, and we exercised strict proprietary rights over the seats which it had become our daily habit to occupy.

By this means we ate day after day in the same company, but we did not talk much with one another. The waitress would be greeted with "Hello, Maggie, watcha got good today?"

I don't know how long I sat at Maggie's table, the one nearest the door, before I became acquainted with Mr. Canby.

We would look from one to another, not seeing the ordinary, familiar faces nor the food on the heavy white plates, our minds busy with visions of what we could accomplish with a little capital of stores and apartment houses in the center of the city...

Through all this Mr. Canby would continue eating unmoved, as though he were not listening. I fancied, however, that his silence was one of disapproval and, since I was usually silent myself, there was gradually built up between us a sort of wordless understanding, as though we two were the only ones with sufficient fortitude to accept existence without repining.

"No?" said I. "No. The trouble with him is he hasn't any, as you might say, grit."

I had been impelled to study him from the first occasion that his silence had impressed me. He was, say, forty-five. His clothes were shiny and cheap, his cheeks invariably had a stubble of beard, two of the characteristics which fatally marked Mike's patrons.

He was evidently under the need of the strictest economy. He smoked only on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, a five-cent brand of cigar which he lighted with every appearance of enjoyment. On those days he did not buy dessert. There was on the Arcadia menu a dish called Vienna Roast, a horribly unpalatable mixture of scrappings and left-overs which cost only twenty cents, but which even a starving man would hardly attempt more than once.

I was interested in him, but at the beginning my curiosity had to be content with the poor gratification of sitting beside him. "Good morning," he would greet me in his grave, detached way.

He and I were the only representatives at Maggie's table of our respective offices, and could share in none of the anecdotes of what the shipping clerk had said to the stenog, or how the boss had talked to the speaker's advice.

I gave him the money, and in addition offered him a cigar. He refused it with longing in his eyes; I had forgotten that this was not a cigar-day.

"On Monday, immediately after saying "Good morning," he handed me two wrinkled one dollar bills that looked hard-earned.

He was very sorry to hear of my illness. "Sickness is a terrible thing," he remarked in his grave way. I know, I've had a lot of experience with it.

"That's just it. Of course, to look at her you'd think she was strong, but she never really feels herself."

"That's just it, you know how it is, you get an idea in your head—I've had this so long I feel sometimes I'm sort of a little, as you might say, cuckoo about it."

"I was born and raised in Vermont," Mr. Canby said. "On the next farm to ours there's a marble. Enough marble to make me rich, to make me a rich man."

gin' away." He returned to the hot, heavy food on his plate, dismissing the subject.

About a month later, on another Saturday, I could tell from Mr. Canby's manner as he surveyed me over the unappetizing mess on his plate that he had something which he wanted to say to me.

"Of course, it's quite a big favor," Mr. Canby deprecated, arguing, as usual, on the opposite side, "and it'll be quite all right if you don't see your way clear to . . . . Coming from a perfect stranger, as you might say."

He said finally, "I was wondering if I might make bold to ask a sort of a favor from you."

"Please," he smiled at me, his knife, held in his fist, resting upright on the table.

I answered to the effect that it would be from one friend to another, and that I should be really glad to do anything that I could.

"The smell of a rose is very beautiful; but I don't want a woman to have a rose's fragrance. Perfume should be mysterious."

"How is she feeling?" I inquired. "Well, she's feeling pretty good, just about up to par, as you might say. And that's a big load off my mind, a big load."

"I guess maybe you're thinking," he went on slowly, "that it's a sort of a funny thing that a man pretty well on in years like I am should be so hard put to it for a couple dollars."

"That's just it, you know how it is, you get an idea in your head—I've had this so long I feel sometimes I'm sort of a little, as you might say, cuckoo about it."

"I was born and raised in Vermont," Mr. Canby said. "On the next farm to ours there's a marble. Enough marble to make me rich, to make me a rich man."

"The building of the East Leonard Street Christian Reformed church of Grand Rapids will be sold under foreclosure unless a lien granted a subcontractor in the construction of the edifice in 1929, is satisfied by July 1, under a decree signed by Circuit Judge William B. Brown."

An apparel merchant recently leased a corner shop on Fifth Avenue at a reported rental of $3,344 a month for space facing 23 feet on the avenue and 16 feet on the street, the tenant paying 100,000 on a percentage basis for the first 1,000,000 in sales and a larger proportion for sales above that figure.

From letters reaching the department of state, many persons do not know exactly when they must secure a new automobile driver's license under the provision of the 1931 law. All persons who secured their present driver's license before Jan. 1, 1925 must register prior to Nov. 1, 1931 while persons securing licenses prior to January 1, 1928 have until May 1, 1932 to re-register. The new law increases the fee to $1, of which 15 cents is returned to the county municipality. Because of this feature of the law the department has taken a definite stand against an additional notary fee of 25 cents being imposed by local officials.

One of the Most Important Lessons

"Every little bit added to what you have Makes just a little bit more."

Lessons in thrift often prove as important as lessons in arithmetic, algebra and geography. For what good will it do you to know that $50 plus $5 amounts to $55, if you have neither the fifty nor the five? You can work your algebra more easily if you start with a known sum and then let "X" represent the extra earnings.

And what good will it do to study geography if you never intend to be thrifty enough to visit some of the lands about which you have studied? The first lesson of school as well as life is thrift. Learn that lesson thoroughly and the rest of your learning will come easily. Begin your study of thrift today by opening a savings account in this old established bank. The interest we will add regularly to your savings account will help you in your studies.

 ed at a hotel there, returned to Jackson by a late train and again returned to Detroit by an early morning train on the day of the crime, that he was heavily in debt and would benefit by his mother's death. After serving two years he escaped by drugging two guards. One of the guards, George Haight had a weak heart and died from the effects of the drug. Since then a persistent attempt has been made to free Latimer but without avail. Of late the effort has been redoubled as the details of the crime faded and Latimer has been presented as an old broken down man. He has steadily maintained his innocence. The latest attempt to free him is in the form of a circular letter by William Hollinrake, for 15 years, a deputy warden of Jackson prison affirming his belief in Latimer's innocence.

 that prompted Howell to start their bunting game in the 5th which enabled them to score 4 runs.

Hub Lee played third five innings and then went to right field. He was only able to hit one safe. Three times he flied out to center field on hard hit balls which were too high in the air to fall safe.

This was Pinckney's first game in two weeks and the lay-off seemed to have dimmed the team's batting eyes. Only Lefty Reason ran true to form with a triple and a double.

Don Swarthout appeared in a new role, that of a second baseman. He speared 8' out of 9 chances. He seems to fit in most anywhere.

Vin Wiltse's chief stock in trade was a quick out curve. At that his support pulled him out of difficulties time and again.

McFarland who finished the game at third for Pinckney lives near Gregory. He formerly played in the Detroit base ball federation on the Free Press team.
