As the Power House Is to the City Banking is to Business!

As each new colossus of steel and concrete goes thundering skyward, as ships are launched and bridges flung across teeming rivers, we wonder anew at the power that has made these marvels possible. The power is banking. Like the power house of the city that provides a million gleaming beacons in the night, that moves giant trains, carries voices across the continent, propels machines... Banking quietly irresistibly plays its part in the stirring achievements of every day, that is Civilization. Bank... marble and money and men. To you, a citizen of our community, these men and the Power House extend the hand of cooperation.

The Philatheas and the Ladies Bible Class were taught last Sunday by the latter's teacher, Mrs. Hattie Swarouth, the subject being, "Paul in Corinth."

In connection with "World's Temperance Sunday" November 1st Philatheas will find it beneficial to read the article on page ten of the quarterly, "Civilization is impossible without Prohibition" by Ernest H. Cherrington. The lesson verses themselves, Galatians 5:13-26 should also be carefully read, as showing Paul's opinion on this subject.
