

Pinckney Soft Ball
League Scores

Kennedy Team Wins Championship.
Dinkel, Smith and Roche Tie for Second, Ledwidge and Devereaux Third.

The Pinckney soft ball league ended its first half of the season last week. Murray Kennedy's team won first place with a record of seven games won and three lost. Dinkel, Roche and Smith were in a triple tie for second with five won and five lost and Devereaux and Ledwidge tied for third with four won and six lost each. The teams were all closely bunched and Dinkel had a chance to tie Kennedy but was unable to do so. This was supposed to be the feature game but was a loosely played affair filled with misplays. The teams have been using four or five substitutes each game. This week they used but a few as their own men showed up. Their is talk of getting out another schedule with but four teams. In this way it is thought much substituting will be eliminated.

Commencement
Exercises Held

Annual Graduation Exercises of Pinckney High School Held. The Class Numbers Twenty.

Once more the portals of the Pinckney high school have opened to emit another graduating class out into the great world of hard knocks and blows. The class that marched on the stage of the Pinckney Community Hall numbered twenty this year. The hall was beautifully decorated in the class colors of black and silver and with flowers and festoons. The hall was well filled long before the program started.

Following the invocation by Rev. B. F. Esic, the salutatory was given by Drucilla Meabon in which the welcome was extended to the parents and friends of the graduates as well as to the faculty and members of the school board. Leonard Devereaux gave the history of the class during the last four years in which he reviewed their trials, tribulations and achievements and their gradually diminishing numbers. The girls glee club under the direction of Miss Dorothy Wilson rendered several musical numbers, one of which was entitled "To the Grads" being their own composition, the music being by Constance Darrow and Madge Jack and the words by Betty Clinton and Margaret Curlett. The Class Gift was next. This was by Isabelle Nash and gifts were presented to the different members of the class, suitable for their needs. Roy Clinton in the costume of a bell hop assisted in the distribution of them. Henry Wilson recited the class poem of her own composition and Joseph Basydio read the class will in which he gave devised and bequeathed to the different undergraduates the possessions of the class in an appropriate manner. Rita Young rendered a piano solo and Miss Dorothy Wilson a vocal solo and both responded to encourage the class oration was given in an able manner by Gerald Henry. Virginia Hoisel gave the class prophecy and her soothing saying occasioned much mirth. Mrs. Florence Baughn rendered two vocal solos and Ralph Carr followed with the valedictory. This was a masterpiece and at the conclusion of it he was loudly applauded. Supt. Doyle then handed the diplomas to the members of the class.

Then came for many the most interesting part of the program. The distribution of the Albert and Sarah Wilson Memorial prizes in English. These are given each year by Lucius Wilson in memory of his parents, to the pupils having the highest marks in English. This year Ralph Carr won first prize of $15 and Drucilla Meabon second of $10. The benediction was then pronounced by Rev. Esic and the assembly adjourned until June 1933.

A MERCHANTS VALUE.

A merchants value is judged by his civic pride and his desire and willingness to be of most service to his community. On this connection it is his pleasure to call attention to the fact that C. H. Kennedy has joined the International organization of Red and White stores, thus adding one more progressive merchant to that rank of more than eighteen thousand already enrolled. The Red and White organization is a combination of manufacturers, jobbers and independent merchants, banded together for the sole purpose of producing and distributing food products at the minimum cost.

Each R & W store is individually owned and managed but the owner must be qualified in a business sense and a resident of the community in which his store is located. All merchandise under the private labels of this organization has been approved by the The Good Housekeeping magazine which absolutely assures quality.

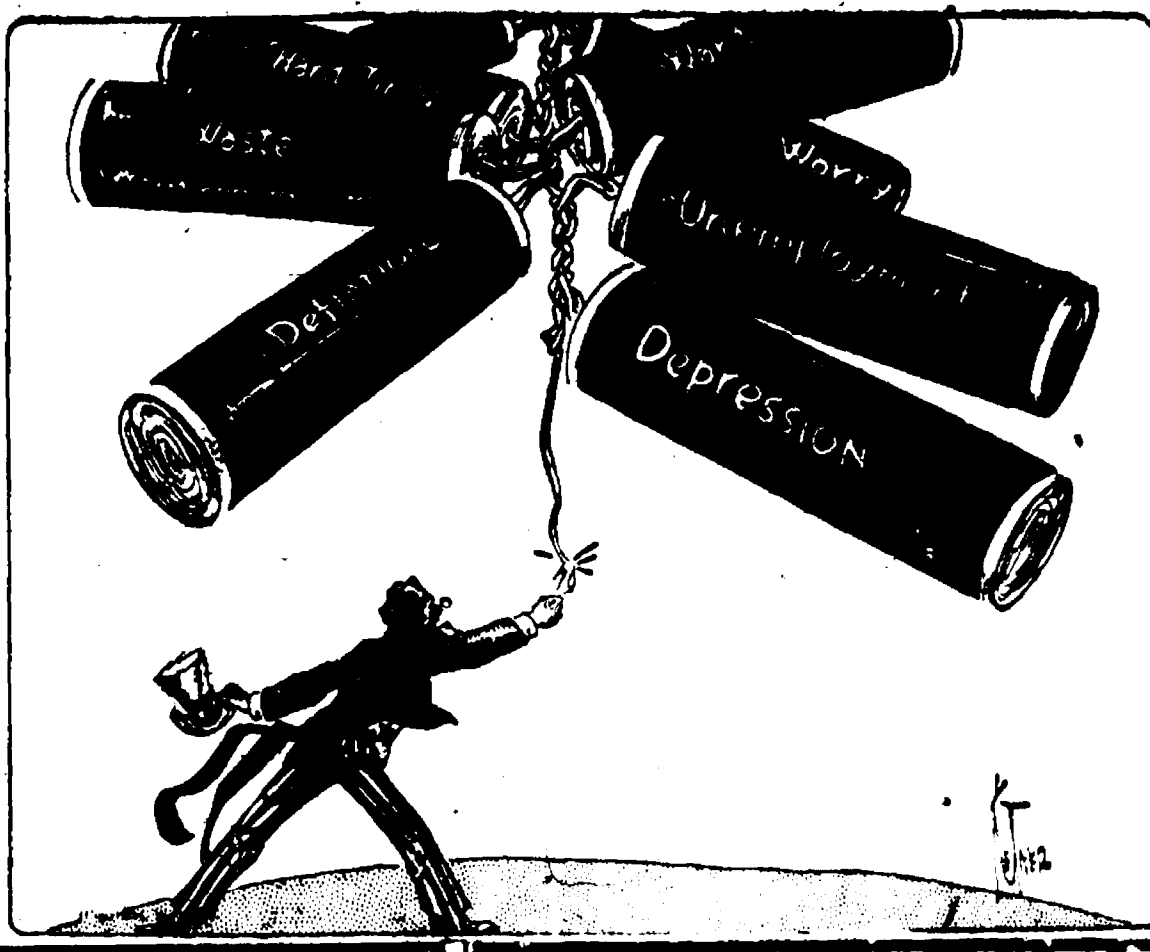

BURNETT DEVOE

Married at the Baptist parsonage by Rev. B. F. Esic on Tuesday, June 21, Miss Viola Burnett to Arthur DeVoe of Ann Arbor. They will reside in Ann Arbor.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Burnett and graduated from the Pinckney high school in the class of 1929. Since graduation she has worked in Ann Arbor. Congratulations.

We are informed that Herbert Cope, entertainer, son of Rev. Cope, former Pinckney pastor, died recently at Cairo.

Merchants Can Not Boost Prices

Federal Tax Can Not Be Used As Excuse for Increase.

With the new federal taxes becoming effective recently, a warning was issued by Fred L. Woodworth, collector of internal revenue, that a merchant will be guilty of fraud under the Revenue Act if he uses this as an excuse for raising prices on goods already in his stock, and paid for without the new tax. As prescribed in the act of 1926, a fine of $1,000 or a year's imprisonment, or both may be imposed as the penalty.

Retailers of gasoline and oil are also warned against such action, but a tax effective earlier in the month, is given by one of the companies as the basis for a raise of 1.1 cents.

The application of the tax upon public activities has brought a flood of questions upon the office. Forms are being mailed from the revenue office to taxpayers throughout the state. The tax will apply to telephone and telegraph messages, or on checks on banks, theater admissions amounting to 40 cents, as well as on specific purchases. A three per cent tax on electric energy went into effect also.

The tax will be collected in varying ways, by the sale of stamps or direct collection, and taxpayers must file returns and make payment on or before the last day of the month succeeding the month for which the return is made. A 25 per cent penalty will be imposed for failure to file the return, with five per cent added for failing to pay the tax and interest at one per cent a month until paid.

FISHING SEASON OPENS

WITH OLD RULES IN EFFECT
A half million Michigan fishermen have now dusted off their rods and reels in the event that the fishing season has opened.

There will be no changes in the fishing regulations this year, the Department of Conservation has announced.

The last session of the legislature made a few changes but these were in effect last year. Among these changes were the removing of the size limit on perch. However, the creel limit remains and only 25 may be taken in a day. The size limit for Rock, Warmouth, Calico and Striped bass and crappie was also removed last year.

Non-residents must now have a license to fish in Michigan waters of the Great Lakes as well as in the inland waters. In former years non-residents were not required to have a license to fish in Great Lakes Waters.

6th Annual Meeting
P. H. S. Alumni

Increased Attendance at Alumni.
Fine Program Given

Despite the everlasting depression, bank failures and other financial troubles, the 6th annual meeting of the P. H. S. alumni was larger this year than last.

At 7 o'clock 125 members and guests sat down to a very appetizing dinner, after which the meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Alta Meyer, and she presented Lucius Wilson as toastmaster, who presented the following program. Prof. Morse of Stockbridge sang two negro spiritual songs accompanying himself on the guitar; Wilhelmina Bourbannais read a poem, "To the Graduates"; Miss Josephine Rosa gave a reading from "Penrod" by Booth Tarkington; Mildred Haines entertained the assembly with a piano solo; Dorothy Wilson sang three songs; Mr. Wilson then introduced Mr. John Krause of Lansing who entertained with jokes and stories and then introduced James (Sleepy) Crowley, head football coach at Mich. State College and a member of the famous Four Horsemen of Notre Dame University, which defeated every football team in the country. Mr. Crowley told a few football stories much to the amusement of the crowd.

Prof. Morse again sang two songs and Mrs. Doyle of Pinckney each gave a short address, after which Mr. Wilson turned the meeting back to Mrs. Meyer for the business part. The Secretary's report was read and approved, also the Treas. report.

Nominations were made for the various offices and the voting became very warm. The final results were: President, Mrs. Alta Meyer; Vice President, Cal Hooker; Secy-Treas. Miss Nellie Gardner. There being no further business, motion was made and seconded for adjournment.

Motion carried. The balance of the evening was spent in renewing friendships and dancing. During the dance, four girls from Stockbridge tap danced, and a little lady from Bay City gave a very nice exhibition of Ballet Dancing.

The officers wish to thank the various committees and those who helped to make the meeting a success.

WEBSTER BOY KILLED SUNDAY

James Geraghty, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Geraghty of Webster township was instantly killed about 12:45 Sunday when he was hit by a car driven by Paul Gregory of Dexter. Young Geraghty was riding on the fender of a Ford roadster which was being driven by his brother, Lee Geraghty, 18, around the winding roads of the Loch Alpine golf course just east of Dexter. Going around a curve they were sideswiped by the other car and Geraghty was caught between the two cars and instantly killed. He was rushed to St. Joseph's hospital, Ann Arbor, but was dead when admitted. Coroner Ganzhorn was called but had not decided yet whether an inquest was necessary.

Curtis Chamberlain, a pupil in the Pinckney high school, was one of the boys in the Geraghty car. They were on their way to Loch Alpine to work as caddies.

IS BADLY HURT IN

AUTO ACCIDENT
Friday morning when on their way to Howell in the Buick sedan owned by E. A. Kuhn of Gregory the car collided with one driven by Mrs. Hiram Smith of Howell who was driving to Pinckney. The accident occurred near the Frank Eisele farm about two miles west of Pinckney. The two sedans met head on and both were badly smashed up. Mrs. Smith's three children were with her and were bruised and cut by flying glass. So hard was the impact of the cars that three tires on the Smith car were blown out and one on the Kuhn car. In the Kuhn car were Mrs. Monica McKune, daughter of E. A. Kuhn, her daughter, Margaret, who was driving, and niece, Rita Young all of Gregory. Mrs. McKune was badly hurt suffering internal injuries, the exact extent of which is not known. She was taken to the Pinckney Sanitarium and is in a dangerous condition at the present time. PHILEATHA NOTES

The review lesson on Sunday was especially interesting to those who were privileged to stay for the lesson period. The next quarters study of Moses will be deeply helpful. Begin it with us next Sunday and come every Sunday possible. We especially invite our resort visitors and all who have no other class preferences.

The David C. Cook's Editorial Platform includes this seventh plank, "To teach missions and develop missionary enthusiasm." It is hoped that many are in attendance today at the regular meeting of the missionary society at Mrs. Hattie Decker's, because as Philatheas we need all the missionary helps we can get—and perhaps we can help a bit too.

The Philatheas Charter in our class room will be draped for one month in memory of our beloved Chaplain, Mrs. Jessie Berquist. Our Pastor and family have our deepest sympathy in their sorrow.

ARE GIVEN PARTY

Mrs. Robert Jack and Mrs. Gladys Lee entertained at the former's home last Friday evening in honor of the 16th birthday of the Jack twins, Mildred and Madge, the tables were set for 21 on the lawn and a very pleasant time was had at games and contests. The twins received many beautiful gifts.

NEIGHBORING NEWS

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the farm house and buildings of Lewis Drayton, one mile north of Howell one night last week.

The Milford village council has set the tax rate at $9 per thousand for the coming year. Northville's is $19.21, Plymouth $12.00, Birmingham $17.50 and Oxford $10.00.

Harold Bowdish of Stockbridge was one of the 22 members of the undefeated track team of Western State college freshmen.

The work of giving the Washtenaw county portion of the Dexter-Pinckney road an asphalt top started last week and the road is closed to traffic from Dexter to Hudson Corners. All traffic must detour on the East Huron River road.

A plan is now under consideration by the state prison commission to use the abandoned Chelsea Cement plant to manufacture fertilizer. This is made from limestone and the present machinery could be used. Convict labor would be used, there being at present time some 3,200 idle convicts.

In a speech at the German Lutheran church at Scio, Washtenaw county last week, Gov. Brucker praised the Republican platform and stated that he had reduced state expenses 5 1/2 million for the coming year. The governor was the guest of State Treasurer Reichert who is a member of the Scio church.

spick and span, too!

"WHEN I first bought my new Electrochef electric range, my friends couldn't believe that it was possible to cook without blackening utensils, as on a flame-type stove. They were amazed when I showed them an aluminum saucepan almost as bright and shiny as when it was new. I had been using it on my Electrochef for months because electric heat is CLEAN—as clean as sunlight. There is no smoke or soot, nothing but pure heat from a glowing wire. For the same reason my kitchen walls and curtains stay fresh much longer. They do not require nearly so frequent cleaning. And one of the best things of all about my Electrochef is its COOL cooking."

but you can't fool
the Trade-in!

Sure, there are lots of corners that you can cut to save money on your car. Simple things like using cheap gas and oil, and going without a grease job. You may even save two dollars a month.

You may fool yourself on this economy now—it may look like good business. But, Mister, when the appraiser sharpens his pencil—you'll pay!

Your motor car is more than transportation—it's an expensive investment. Dixie quality products, at a fair price, will protect your investment and sustain the trade-in value of your car.

MRS. EDWARD J. BERQUIST

Jessie Maycroft Berquist, daughter of W. H. and Mary L. Maycroft, was born April 28, 1886, at Conklin, Michigan, and on June 19, 1932, she passed to the heavenly mansions, after a week's illness at her parsonage home in Pinckney, Michigan.

She was married December 28, 1908, to the Rev. Edward J. Berquist of Grand Rapids, Michigan. To this union were born 4 children, Eloyse, aged 19 years, Arnold, 16, Esther Rose, 11, and Earl, 7. There are also left to mourn their loss, her father and mother, two sisters, Mrs. A. G. Carson, of Green Bay, Wis., and Mrs. R. B. Franks of Grand Rapids, and three brothers, Earl B. Maycroft of Coopersville, Rev. H. E. Maycroft of Lakeview, and Floyd L. Maycroft of Grand Rapids.

At the age of 17 years, she gave her heart to the Lord and consecrated her life to His service. The after years showed how deep and perfect was this consecration. Immediately after her marriage, she went to Sharon, Pa., and engaged in Rescue Mission work, where her husband was superintendent at that time. After three years in the work there, they accepted the call to the larger work in New Castle, Pa. and engaged in the same service for the master. Here they remained for 17 years, Rev. Berquist being then called to the pastorate of the Community Congregational Church at Pinckney, Mich., entering the field there in December 1929.

Mrs. Berquist was an untiring and sweetly spiritual worker in every worthwhile activity of church and community life, and won the hearts of young and old alike with her beautiful personality and sympathetic contact. Always with a smile on her sweet face she radiated cheer and courage in the parish, and every individual and each organization deeply feels her loss. Everywhere we hear the question, "How can we get along without her?" The local circle of King's daughters, the Missionary and C. E. Societies, the Women's Philathea S. S. Class, her own class of young people, which she had built up until it was one of the largest in the state, the Junior church, where she had given such splendid service, the local chapter of O. E. S., and above all the home, where most unspeakably her great loss will be felt, everywhere hearts are mourning the sudden calling of our dear one.

At the funeral services held in the church at Pinckney on Monday afternoon, June 20, the very large attendance and the grief of everyone bespoke the hold she had upon all hearts. Rev. Homer Mitchell, Noble of Howell, Michigan, had charge of the Pinckney services, seven pastors of the county being in attendance. Her Sunday school class and the O. E. S. attended in a body, and Mrs. Earl Baughn sang feelingly at this service.

Immediately following the rites in the Pinckney church, the body was taken to her parents' home near Coopersville. On Wednesday afternoon another funeral was held which was in charge of a brother, Rev. Horace E. Maycroft of Lakeview, assisted by Dr. Lloyd of Lansing, Superintendent of Mich. Congregational Conference, and by the Rev. C. E. Davis, pastor of Coopersville M. E. church. Mrs. H. E. Maycroft sang two very comforting selections and the brothers and brothers-in-law served as pall bearers at this service. The great profusion of flowers and the very large procession as she was carried to her resting place in the Coopersville Cemetery, also attest to the loving regard of all. Her work has not ended, though her physical presence has gone from our midst. Her sweet influence lives on.

BIG DROP IN RENTS, SURVEY OF U. S. SHOWS

Rents are decreasing in nearly all sections of the nation, a survey reveals. Reports from most cities showed rent reductions ranging from 5 per cent to 50 their rents were unchanged.

Salt Lake City, Utah, and Omaha, Nebr., were the only cities to report rising rents. Salt Lake City reported a 2 per cent increase in residence rents during the last year. House rents in Omaha were rising because of a shortage of residences.

Real estate associations in many cities revealed the depression had caused thousands of jobless families to "double up." Other thousands migrated to the country and smaller towns.

Memphis, Tenn., experienced the greatest declines in rents, with reductions running from 25 to 50 per cent. The higher figure applied to virtually all residences in the negro section.

Landlords appeared to be holding their own in Des Moines, Iowa, Seattle and Philadelphia.

The swiftest decline was in Oklahoma City, where the reduction was 20 per cent in eight months. Less than a year ago there was an acute shortage of dwellings because of an oil boom. Events changed and oil field workers departed.

Knoxville, Tenn., rents slumped from 25 per cent to 40 per cent after the 1929 stock market decline.

Chicago, the nation's second largest city, has seen rents decline 5 per cent to 10 per cent. Boston reported rents $5 to $10 lower. Zealand Schools Will Stage Fair

The first annual Zealand school fair will take place Oct. 2 in the high school gymnasium. The fair is sponsored by the Future Farmers of America and is open to all the rural and city pupils who entered the garden and pet clubs last spring. More than 2000 entries are expected. Rural schools will exhibit produce as a school unit. It is planned to stage a small fair in each rural school and let the winners represent the school against other schools at the local fair. The farm animals exhibit is open to all students.

The high school pupils will stage a Smith-Hughes fair at the same time. Twenty-six Smith-Hughes projects are being carried on by the local high school pupils.

In the afternoon the pupils will be guests of the athletic department at the football game between Zealand and Martin. An informal dinner will be served at the school in the evening with County Agent C. P. Milham and County Demonstration Agent Miss Esther Lott as speakers.

The fair will be staged under the direction of the Future Farmers president, Russell Bouwa, and Otto Pino, high school agricultural instructor.

Odd Fellows and Rebekahs to Hold 4-Day Convention

Potoskey will throw open its homes Oct. 19, 20, 21 and 22 when the state Odd Fellows and Rebekah convention is held there. Approximately 3,000 members are expected.

The new Potoskey High school gymnasium will be used for joint meetings and the school rooms as committee meeting places.

Harbert Fox of Potoskey is general chairman.

Screen Beauties Illustrate Whimsies of Present Mode

1, Marian Marsh costumed in eighteenth century garments; 2, Loretta Young wearing transparent velvet ensemble trimmed with chinchilla; 3, Anita Page displaying chiffon evening frock with silver rhinestones scattered over it.

By Mme. Lisbeth

Some of the whimsies of the present mode are illustrated by these costumes worn by some of our screen actresses—who, by the bye, can afford to indulge in such things much better than some of us who have to think of the practicality of our clothes as well as their beauty and style.

At the extreme left, 1, Marion

Marsh is all dressed up in an elaborate Eighteenth century costume with voluminous skirt, lace ruffles, tiny bows and elaborate powdered wig. A far cry, indeed, to the recent modes of straight skirts and bobbed heads. Not so far away from the feminized fashions of the moment, however.

Two is a modern evening ensemble with long, transparent velvet dress and short velvet wrap trimmed with chinchilla.

Another charming evening frock is worn by Anita Page, 3. It is fashioned of chiffon with silver rhinestones, giving a scintillating effect scattered over the whole dress. This trimming is emphasized by silver slippers and silver necklace showing crystal ornaments.

TRAINED NURSE FOR ALL U. OF M. DORMITORIES

After a year's highly successful trial, the policy of having a graduate nurse in residence at each of the five dormitories for women at the University of Michigan will be continued, according to the University Health Service.

"When it is realized that about one-quarter of all women on the campus are housed in five large dormitories, the importance of having a competent advisor and caretaker readily available is readily seen as a health and educational measure," states Dr. Margaret Bell of the Health Service. The duties of resident nurse are numerous and varied. She keeps the dormitory director informed of the health of her charges. A major work is disease prevention whenever possible, as well as first aid treatment. At any time she advises and helps students and follows the bed cases. She decides when a doctor should be called, and aids the Health Service with information. Prescribing and diagnosis are left strictly to the doctor, however.

"In most instances the dormitory nurse has been a graduate student in Public Health Nursing, and the personnel has been ideal. Though demands on her time are unlimited and her pay is small, she has been of great service to both student and university doctors," says Dr. Bell.

M. S. C. Co-eds Take Scholastic Honors

Co-eds at Michigan State College walked away with scholastic honors last year, according to a report compiled by the registrar's office of the college. Four sororities head the list in the society average, two of which retain first and second placed attained in 1929-30. The average of all women societies tops that of the men, as do the averages of national women organizations, all college women, and non-society women. Both men and women belonging to societies showed a higher scholastic record than independent students.

The college average as a whole shows a gain over the previous year. In 1929-30 the average was 2.253; whereas last year the average was 2.272.

The first four places in the society averages are held by Sigma Kappa, Alpha Chi Omega, Alpha Phi and Sigma Kappa. Sigma Kappa tops the list with a 2.735 average.

Grand Haven High Will Draw Pupils For Classes Only

As a result of the crowded condition of the Grand Haven high school, it has been decided to have pupils in the upper classes do their studying at home and go to school to attend classes only. The enrollment shows 610 pupils or nearly 59 more than a year ago. The building was designed for 400.

An extra teacher has been hired to assist the 19 regular teachers and the six part-time teachers. The increased enrollment, according to Glen Olsen, principal, is due to more rural pupils and the unemployment situation.

The Common Touch

By F. K. Glew

No matter how far we may go in this life
To gather some fortune and fame;
There's little achievement for any of us,
Unless there's real good in our name.
The man of position ne'er gets very far,
Unless he oft finds it worth while
To speak with a kindness straight from his heart,
To let those he meets see his smile.
The greater the man, the greater the deed;
He may come from the bench or the plow,
If his thinking is straight and his heart is of gold
He's the greatest man living right now.

Household Hints

MENU HINT

Fruit Cup
Lamb Chops Potatoes
Baked Squash with Tomatoes
Sliced Cucumbers
Apple Pie Tea

Recipes

Fruit Cup—Peel peaches, cut in small pieces, add powdered sugar to taste. Remove seeds and rind from cantaloupe, and also cut in small pieces. Wash raisins and cut in halves. Raisins should be seedless, of good quality, moist and plump. Mix all together and pile into sherbet glasses with a little of the peach juice in the bottom of glasses, and chill. Before serving place a spoonful of whipped cream on top and garnish with either chopped nuts, maraschino cherry or candied orange peel.

Baked Squash with Tomatoes—Cut one small or one-half medium squash (about three pounds) and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Slice one onion thin, add two cups tomatoes and two tablespoons butter and pour into squash. Place in a pan and bake until squash and onions are tender, from one and one-half to two hours. Serve right from the shell. Serves six.

SUGGESTIONS

Apple Marmalade

Five pounds sugar, two and one-half cups water, five pounds apples, two oranges, two lemons. Heat sugar and water together until sugar is dissolved. Slice oranges and apples rather thin and add the juice of lemons. Add to syrup and boil very slowly until thick, about an hour and a quarter. Turn into sterile glasses and seal at once.

Cold Cocoa

When making hot cocoa or chocolate for the kiddies' breakfast prepare enough extra so that it may be placed in bottles and put in the ice box for their lunch or between meals.

Cause of Tears

Tears on meringue are caused by removing it from the oven before completely cooked. The eggs have liquified and the meringue settled flat. If a meringue is cooked too fast it will toughen, wrinkle, shrink and liquify. Too slow an oven causes the same results.

Potato Pancakes

Pare and soak three large potatoes in cold water to cover over night. In the morning drain, dry and grate them in a bowl, then add one-half cup of flour sifted with one teaspoon of baking powder, one-half teaspoon of salt and a few grains of pepper. Add one well beaten egg and milk enough to make a batter. It will require very little milk. Cook on a hot, well-greased griddle as other griddle cakes. Serve with apple sauce or apple jelly, as liked.

TIE CHILD IN HARNESS FOR SAFETY

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

Some while ago I advised against tying a toddler to punish him. There may be some exceptions. If you improvise a harness for the child of two or three and were to drive him with you to the grocer's, both of you might be happy. If, moreover, you took him with you in a rowboat, you would be sensible to have him tethered by a rope as a means of safety in emergency. But he would not, of course, consider such as punishments.

There is a place for tying younger children, so long as tying is not interpreted by him as a form of penalty. The child beginning to stand and climb may not be safe in a high chair or a baby carriage unless well secured by some stout device. A mere strap about the child's waist is hardly safe, for he easily can slip out of it. There should be straps over his shoulders. Anyone can easily improvise a harness which will be dependable. It can be made of cloth. Good ones can be bought. Be sure they are strong.

The child from eight months to a year or more may, when put outside for a nap, climb up and fall out of his crib or carriage, be so interested in looking around as not to go to sleep. The right kind of harness which will hold him down when applied before he has acquired the habit of getting up will make him remain in a prone position without resistance from him. The important thing is to take measures early enough before he develops the habit of getting up when tucked away for a nap. A good, vigorous spank might work, but for the child of this age it may not be advisable as a means of keeping him down. In the first place, with him all bundled up, his bare bottom is hard to get at; and in the second place he will pretty readily respond unemotionally to means of holding him down if applied early enough. On the other hand, nothing may be better than a good spank to keep the toddler from getting up after being tucked away or sent to bed. Children in motion won't sleep, soles.

Pinning fast the nighties or blankets of the child under six or eight months may prove workable, but it has obvious dangers. The important thing is that the child is made secure and cannot get up, and that he grows used to being held down early enough not to be stirred into rage by such a means.

Always work for good results with the least amount of annoyance and the greatest comfort to the child; but by all means get results.

I shall be glad to answer, in these columns, questions addressed to me in care of this paper, provided these questions seem to be of general interest.

Gladys Glad on Beauty

AMERICA'S FOREMOST BEAUTY

SOFT RINSE ELIMINATES HAIR SNARLS

By Gladys Glad

"Dear Miss Glad: I always give my hair the best of care, as it is really my only asset. It is thick and glossy; and I'm very proud of it. However, whenever I shampoo my hair, it snarls and tangles so badly that I have a lot of difficulty in combing it. Moreover, I sometimes lose my patience and pull out a lot of the tangled hairs with my comb. Is there anything I can do about this?" M. A. F.

I would suggest first of all that you use one of the softening rinses on your hair after you shampoo it. The vinegar rinse is excellent for this purpose. Make a solution of half a glassful of cider vinegar and a quart of water, and use it as the final rinse after the shampoo. When your hair has dried, brush it first with a flexible-bristled brush. This should remove a great many of the snarls. Then comb the hair with a wide-toothed comb to eliminate any remaining tangles.

"Dear Miss Glad: I've been following the dieting and exercising instructions outlined in your booklet on 'The New Figure' for about two weeks and thus far have had the most satisfactory results. You see, I've not only gained 14 pounds already, but I also feel in much better health. However, a friend told me that I should not do any exercising as it would keep me from gaining. She says that exercise is bad for thin people. Is she correct in this?" Inez A.

In my opinion, your friend is anything but correct in her statements. For exercise is just as essential for the individual who is attempting to gain weight as it is for the one who is attempting to lose weight. Of course, too strenuous exercise is not advisable for the thin individual, as it may prove too exhausting. But slow, rhythmic exercise helps to increase weight, as it makes the tissues active and healthy. Moreover, it stimulates the circulation, enables the blood to carry nourishment to every part of the body, and causes the development of firm muscle in the starved tissues. Follow my course exactly as it is outlined, exercises included, if you wish to continue to gain weight.

"Dear Miss Glad: I have an excellent set of even, white teeth, and it is my intention to keep them in their present attractive condition until, perhaps, they fall out with age. I am very careful in the cleansing of them, and always procure a new tooth brush every three months. However, how should one treat a new tooth brush before using it? Some cleansing procedure is essential, is it not?" "Mae E."

It is indeed essential that a new tooth brush be cleansed and disinfected before it is used on the teeth. A simple but effective procedure is to scrub the new brush with soap and hot water, and then to permit it to soap over night in a strong solution of cold salt water. You should also disinfect your tooth brush after each time that you use it, you know. An oxygen-producing medium is best for this purpose. The simplest method is to wash the brush with soap and water after you use it, rinse it, sprinkle salt on it, and permit it to dry. The salt will not only sterilize the brush, but will also help to keep the bristles stiff.

All of Us

My Minister
He Preaches, I Have Not Heard Him
He Is Truly a Minister

He is my friend. I am his. We get along extremely well together.

We do not always agree. Our backgrounds are so very different. Our racial strains are far apart. He lived in the East when he was young. I have lived in the West. He went to schools that were quite unlike the ones that I attended. He is a minister and believes certain things that are not a part of me. I am a newspaperman and some of my ideas and beliefs are strange to him. He does not quite understand why I believe what I do, I do not know exactly how his mind works.

But we do not argue. He does not abuse me because I differ. I do not abuse him because he does not agree with me. If we were not friends, we might. But, being friends, we do not. I do not believe we ever shall. He preaches, but I have never heard him preach. On Sunday he talks to a congregation, but I have yet to be part of those who sit and listen. It would not embarrass him, but somehow I have not gone to hear him. He reads what I write, however, and that's an unfair advantage. But I get more from him than he gets from me.

He is my minister. He ministers to me by the way he endures his life. I have watched, I have suffered with him. He has suffered agonies I am afraid I could not bear. He has braced himself to meet awful shocks, heart-tearing losses, and he has come through them as strong a man as he was before. He has a faith and he lives by it. I have watched him do so. He does not, like weaker men, abandon his faith when he needs it most. But his faith, a deep and true part of himself, has held him on his feet when he might have crumpled to the earth. I have seen him. I know how he lives. I envy him. I am proud of his friendship, and yet I am humble, too, in its presence.

He is my friend and he is truly my minister. Because every true friend that man or woman has ministers to the heart and rescues it from the deep and companions it on the dark ways and preserves whatever faith, be it dim or splendid, that it cherishes. My friend is like that.

The Changing Seasons

Spring, Summer, Fall and Winter come and go with such regularity that we know that they will follow one another year after year. When Winter has been with us a certain length of time, we do not say it is always going to be winter and we will not plant new crops; but we make the land ready so that we can sow seed and look forward to the reaping of a new harvest.

Depressions come so seldom and the experience is so new to us that we are often filled with discouragement and think that things will never be better. The experience of years shows that just as things look the darkest, they are about to break into sunshine. The law of action and reaction is always working.

Liberal interest paid on Savings Books and Certificates of Deposit. Your business always appreciated.

U. S. BUYS 90% OF COLOMBIA'S COFFEES

Coffee is Colombia's aristocrat, both as a beverage and as a raw product. In other words, Colombians take as much care and pride in preparing their "cafe" as a drink as they do in cultivating the trees which produce coffees famed throughout the world for their fine full flavor and aroma.

Picking Coffee Cherries.

In that republic, all coffee cherries are hand-picked, not stripped, from the branches.

During either a social or business visit, Colombians always serve their guests "tintos"—small cups of coffee without cream or sugar. This custom is becoming increasingly popular throughout America in the serving of demi-tasse.

Colombia is the world's largest quantity producer of the best grades of coffees, known as "milds." More than nine-tenths of Colombia's entire output is purchased in the United States for domestic consumption.
