The reason he gave for that in that with no tax to pay on it, the moonshiners can underself the legalized distillers who supply the state liquor stores. His only remedy was to cut the liquor tax which he are mitted was impossible as long as the state needs revenue. So repeal, which was to banish all the evils of prohibition, including the bootlegger, seems to have its flaws.

has submitted to congress a list of the legislation Lays Out Work deems necessary to have for Congress the present session adjourns. He has divided it into two categories-"must" and desirable. If congress enacts only the list of "must" legislation and passes over the other group of bills which the President considers desirable, it is made to appear that the membership of the house and senate is due to suffer some of the torrid temperature and the uncomfortable humidity of a Washington summer. The President said he must have legislation extending the National Recovery administration, providing social security, eliminating public utility holding companies, increasing the loaning power of the Home Owners Loan corporation, extension of the so-called nuisance taxes which expire by limitation of law on June 30, and revision of the banking laws.

In addition, the President made known that he would like to have enacted legislation to take the profits out of war, whatever that may mean. He previously had sent a message asking enactment of a law providing for expansion of the American merchant marine through the use of ship subsidies, and he also desires to have enacted legislation setting up machinery for the settlement of labor disputes. This legislation is in the congressional hopper in the form of a bill by Senator Wagner, of New York.

amendments to the agricultural adjustment act in order to eliminate some of the weaknesses which the AAA people admit exist. The airmail contract situation is another matter with which Mr. Roosevelt has been concerned.

Seasoned observers recognize that this list of "must" legislation, not to mention the desired legislation, is sufficient to keep congress grinding away far into the summer. They recognize likewise that if the desired legislation later becomes of such concern that the President wants to place it on the preferred list as well, the membership of congress must be prepared to forego summer trips of any kind.

Since a good many members of congress have grown tired of being called rubber stamps Pets of for the administra-Their Own tion, they naturally have turned attention to legislation which they think will be helpful to their own bailiwicks. to themselves personally or from a party standpoint. Thus there have been promoted numerous pieces of legislation for which some individuals, at least, entertain greater fervor than they do for measures that were drafted by President Roosevelt's official family and transmitted to congress as administration legislation. It is the general observation that an individual, representative, or senator frequently will go much further in fighting for legislation that is his own brain child than for legislation placed before him on a silver platter such as administration proposals have been. Consequently, individual or group measures are constantly cluttering up house and senate legislative calendars. This is a factor meaning delay for administration bills.

It is to be remembered, as has been reported in these columns, that Mr. Roosevelt is unable to ward off criticism of some of his proposals. Indeed, there have been Democratic criticisms and Democratic opposition to a greater or lesser degree to all of the legislation he has proposed since congress convened last January. All of which is by way of saying that congress faces weeks of committee work and floor debate despite the fact that the house Democratic leaders still retain rather solid control of a sufficient majority in the lower house of congress to drive through any pet measures for the administration. In the senate the situation is decidedly dif-

Included in the legislation being fostered by individual members is the bill that would permit cabinet officers to having contributed to this condition appear on the floors of congress for by his many campaign promises, some questioning and explanation, such as of which he has found absolutely imoccurs under the British and French parliamentary systems. The administration does not want this bill. It will have to exert some pressure to avoid passage. The reason is that the Roosevelt administration is no longer one in which the cabinet is dominant. Cabinet officers are only part of the scheme, and if congress wanted to inquire about the handling of relief money, which it probably will desire, it must talk with Administrator Hopkins. Mr. Hopkins is not in the cabinet. The standpoint. same is true of NRA and to some extent to the AAA, although Secretary Wallace of the Department of Agriculture theoretically is a superior officer en Administrator Davis. The administrator is definitely opposed to the passage of bonus legislation for the former soldiers, sailors and marines and it looks like a Presidential veto will be necessary there. The same is trne of inflationary proposals of which there are many. The situation is one. charafore, in which Mr. Roosevelf must he constantly on his guard to prevent Ben which he does not wast as well being sertified at all times with rent session.

The extension of the National Recovery administration is still far off. Senate hearings are just ended and the house is still further behind. No action can be expected in either body for several weeks. The present law expires June 16.

Recently Mr. Roosevelt sent to congress a very bitter message denouncing public utility holding companies and demanding legislation eliminating them from our economic structure. The house committee considering this legislation is just winding up its hearings and the senate committee which will have jurisdiction has taken no action at all. It must be said that a hard fight is in prospect if and when this legislation reaches the stage of debate because investors in these companies are not going to have their equities destroyed while they sit idly by. These investors are doing more now than just making faces at congress and the volume of letters which members are receiving in opposition to the holding companies legislation transcends The President would like to have anything that ever has happened in the memory of this correspondent,

> The banking legislation which Mr. Roosevelt has proposed, or which was proposed for him by Governor Eccles, the New Deal and radical governor of the federal reserve board is faced with opposition equally as bitter and as well organized as that confronting the holding companies bill. Perhaps it can be said that opposition to the banking legislation is even stronger because in that fight the President will be opposed by Senator Carter Glass of Virginia, who must be regarded as the most virulent of all the Democrats in the senate. The house banking committee has about done its job with hearings on this bill but the senate committee where the full force of the Glass opposition will be felt has not even set a date for committee consideration.

> The social security bill about which Mr. Roosevelt has done much talking, because it is distinctly a reform measure, has finally been redrafted in the house while senate leadership is unable to get together on any policy respecting it. Some senators want to split up this bill and pass the section providing for old age pensions, allowing the other parts of the bill to die a slow death.

> The legislation to increase by $1,750,-000,000 the loaning power of the Home Owners Loan corporation probably will get through the senate without much more ado. The house passed the bill because it could not do otherwise with individual members realizing that there was a chance that some of this moneý would go into their particular districts. Included in this bill is a line that promises a good many hundred jobs for politicians and it is natural that the party in power is not going to overlook this possibility.

There remains on the "must" list, then, only the proposal to extend the nuisance raxes which expire at the end of June. It is probable that the bulk of these levies will be accepted by congress as necessary.

One cannot fail, in tramping around Washington these days, to note the frequent expressions

About the concerning the outlook for the New Future Deal and for President Roosevelt's personal political future. In fact, some hardboiled observers lately have been heard to say that Mr. Roosevelt is suffering from too much ballyhoo. He was put up on a pedestal that made of him in the eyes of many persons something of a superman. He himself is regarded as practical as remedies in leading the country out of the morasses and on to a more satisfactory economic plain. In truth, the President's own political colleagues have continued to depict him as an individual capable of things which no human can accomplish and this combination of circumstances is declared by many keen minded persons as likely to bring, if indeed it has not already brought, a definitely bad political reaction from the President's

It is still fresh in the minds of men and women throughout the country how President Hoover was over-advertised as a superior person in an administrative way. Mr. Hoover suffered from too much ballyhoo to an extent greater than any other man who has served as President with the possible exception of Woodrow Wilson. When the depression came and the current turned against Mr. Hoover he was utrerly poweriess. With a recalcitrant congress on his hands and a dissatisfled people, Mr. Hoover met the fate that must have been expected. & Western Newspaper Union.

Wins Wide Distinction as Collector of Violins

Milwaukee Man Is Expert on Rare Old Fiddles.

Milwaukee, Wis. - Stradivarius to Henry Stirn of this city is something that has not only served as an interesting hobby throughout many years, but has also earned for him the title of connoisseur of such rare old instruments. Not less than twenty-four examples of the famous Stradivarius have passed through Mr. Stirn's hands during the course of sixty years, which is really only a slight detail in the history of his once grand collection.

Mr. Stirn, whose vocation is finance and accounting, has shown a zealous interest in the violins since he was seven years old. This interest, however, never for once entered the professional realm, nor was Mr. Stirn ever a dealer in violins. He played the violin, and played it well. Even now he is head of a string quartet which began way back in the '80s; but the members of this little group play strictly for their own pleasure.

Just an Amateur.

Yet, though but an amateur in all the dealings he has ever had with the violin, Mr. Stirn today is recognized throughout the world as an authority on the instrument. And because of his abundant knowledge in this field, owners of rare old violins often seek his advice, according to the Milwaukee Journal "It has been the supreme joy of my life that I have been able to make the acquaintance of some of the greatest violins of all time," said Mr.

At one time he had in his home close to $500,000 worth of violins, which included two genuine Stradivarii and many famous violins of other makes. All of these, however, were disposed of recently and the sole remainder of his once famous collection is a Gaspara de Salo, once owned by Ole Bull, eminent Norwegian violinist.

The Gaspara de Salo is the violin Mr. Stirn plays in the quartet. It was made about the time of Martin Luther's death, Mr. Stirn believes, and came into his possession through the widow of a friend named Rostav, who had acquired it from Ole Bull himself.

Had Big Collection.

Inside the Gaspara de Salo, when Mr. Stirn first acquired it, was the name Vuillaume, written in pencil, together with six or seven other signatures. In the names were in some way rubbed out, an incident which he regrets, because Jean Baptiste Vuillaume is revered by violin lovers in much the same manner as they think of Stradivarius.

In addition to his private collection of noted instruments; Mr. Stirn has had under his roof more Stradivarius violins at one time than any other person or museum in the world. At various times collectors, dealers and famous violinists have left genuine Stradivarii in his home. Among these "guest" instruments are the Emil Sauret and Lipinski Strads. He, himself, has owned the Hammer Stradivarius, one of the two Stradivarius violins that has never been cracked or tampered and a half Stirn's forefathers lived in Oxenstiernas.

Giant Keeps Order in Canadian Town

Montreal.-The Montreal metropolitan commission has hired a "Tarzan" to bring order to the bankrupt village of St. Michel.

Seeking an inexpensive method of keeping the wilder villagers from creating trouble while they tried to straighten out the village's financial affairs, the commission hired ex-Capt. Z. Desmarteau, former weightlifting champion of the Montreal police department, and sent him to St. Michel.

Desmarteau is 6 feet 4 inches tall and weighs 280 pounds.

Germany, and the name was changed to Stirn, he is a direct rescendant of Count Axel Oxenstierna, chancellor of Sweden under King Gustavus in the early Seventeenth century. According to the genealogy of the Stirn family, Henry Stirn is entitled to the castles Although for more than a century and lands now held by the Swedish

He Learns to Fly in 55 Minutes

After 55 minutes of instruction, Herbert Sargent, twenty-two, of Jersey City, made his first solo flight in a plane at the Jersey City airport and after completing the prescribed maneuvers set his plane down for a three-point landing. Eddie A. Schneider, twenty-three, Sargent's youthful instructor, holder of the junior transcontinental flying record, said he allowed Sargent to go up alone because he handled a plane perfectly. Taking the air on such short instruction

having it restringed a few years ago, I is believed to have brought to Sargent a new record.

American Girl Will Trace Life in the North

Miss Thorn Will Study Beginnings of Eskimo Race.

Edmonton, Alta.—An intensive study of the origin of the Eskimo tribes in Canada's northern Arctic territories will be undertaken next summer by Miss Sue Thorn, graduate in anthropology of the University of California. Miss Thorn is at present in Edmonton laying plans for an extended stay in the Arctic.

The Eskimo language, anthropology customs and folklore will be studied by the young California scientist with a view to proving or disproving the theory that the Eskimo race originally came from the Orient via the Bering straits. She plans to go north to Aklavik, on the Mackenzie delta, early in the summer.

Although this is her first trip north Miss Thorn has spent considerable time studying Eskimo life, language and customs, and is confident she will have little difficulty in facing the rigors of the Arctic.

After spending some time in Aklavik, "becoming acclimatized," she plans to journey east to Victoria island in Coronation gulf and possibly go on to Greenland if she can obtain permission from the Danish government.

COMMANDS DUCE'S ARMY

Gen. Rudolpho Graziani, who commands the Italian expeditionary force against Ethiopia, is shown here in his tropical fighting uniform.

She will be accompanied by native guides, but will be the sole scientist in in the party.

Miss Thorn will learn the Eskimo language thoroughly in an effort to determine its origin. Older and more isolated members of the Eskimo tribes will be sought as guides and instructors by the scientist in order to obtain native customs and beliefs untainted by contact with the white races.

After ending her Arctic researches, Miss Thorn will go to the Chicago university, where she studied before graduating from the University of California, and write a thesis on her findings.

Pilot Completes First Million Miles of Flying

Chicago.-A million miles of flying in United Air Lines' service since he piloted the first mail plane between Chicago and the Southwest in 1926 was the record scored by Richard L. Dobie, when awarded his eighth service star, signifying completion of his eight thousandth hour of company flying. He is a pilot on the New York-Cleveland-Chicago division. Dobie is said to be the first pilot in the world | icine for Mr. Bethencourt." to fly a million miles for a commercial air line.

Prior to joining United's staff. Dobie had 2,500 hours of flying time. This gives him a total of 10,500 hours and approximately 1,250,000 miles—equal to 50 trips around the world at the Dobie learned to fly in the army in 1917 and was later on army instructor. Nine years ago he made the inaugural air mail flight from Chicago to Kansas City.

Norfolk Church Saves

Cannon Ball of 1776 Norfolk. Va.-On January 1, 1778, Lord Dunmore, in command of the British forces in Virginia, sent Norfolk New Year's greetings in the form of round shot, hot and cold. When his men finished. Norfolk lay in smoldering ruins. Only one building remained standing. The building was St. Paul's Episcopal church, still in use today.

All but one shot fired at the church fell to the ground. That shot struck and stuck. When Norfolk was rebuilt after the revolutionary war St. Paul's was repaired, but the tuckpointers carefully placed their mortar around the shot, to preserve it there as a reminder of what happened that fateful

SIMPLICITY AND CHIC COMBINED

PÄTTERN 2150

In spite of its very definite air of chic, this is the sort of dress that an experienced seamstress can run up in an hour or so-and even a beginner really should take no longer than a day to finish it. Just to show you how very simple it is, we've given you a little sketch of how the frock will look before you sew up the side seams. See-there are only four pieces to the whole body of the dress, and the sleeves and shoulders are cut in one, which does away with the setting-in of sleeves! Make it of any pretty inexpensive cotton material—use gay buttons—you'll be sure to pat yourself on the back when you see the result!

Pattern 2159 is available in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44. Size 16 takes 31/4 yards 86 inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this pattern. Write plainly name, address and style number. BE SURB

The Law just passed by the legislature and signed by Governor Fitzgerald to give relief to the aged residents of Michigan who are in need, is somewhat different from the Old Age Pension Law passed two years

The resources of many of the aged which represented savings for their care during old age, have ben de pleted due to the present financa depression which has also affected the employment of the aged so that many wno heretofore have been able to maintain themselves by their own labor are now compelled to ask for public aid. So-called "Pension Laws" are not truly pensions as the word is generally considered, but are rather Old Age Assistance Laws to assist those who, due to age, are no longer able to care for themselves. This new Act, therefore, is called an Old Age Assistance Law. Relief under this Act is not given as something to which a person is entitled merely because of age, but is a form of public aid to be paid from the General Fund of the State in order that those who are eligible may continue to live in their present surroundings rather than to be placed in public institu-

This Act does not become effective until July 1, 1935, after which date, new assistance certificates will be issued as promptly as possible those who qualify. Many persons, misunderstanding the intention of the previous Old Age Pension Law, have filed applications although they are not entitled to relief. All applications must be investigated, which of course, takes time, and therefore, all those who are eligible cannot expect to receive aid immediately. Those who have filed applications under the new Age Assistance Bureau. Applicants are requested not to write concerning their applications, as the handling or this additional correspondence merely slows up the process of issuing any assistance grants. Those eligible for assistance under this Act must meet with the followng requirement:

EXPLORERS URGED AS SCOUT PROGRAM

A new program, open to first class [ Scouts over 15 years of age, the Explorers, to supplement the 200,000 Senior Scouts already in regular troops, was discussed at a Scout Leaders' Conference held at Camp Newkirk, Monday evening.

"Separate groups of Explorers wil. probably be set up. Also many troops probably be set up. Also many troops conducted by churches, P. T. A.'s, etc. will organize an Explorer's section in their already existing troop. In time this group of older Scouts with their adult Counsellor will gradually develop into a separate Explorer troop," Mr. MacPeek said.

There are about 180,000 older Scouts in land Scout troops, about 20,000 in Sea Scout groups and this number of 200,000 Senior Scouts may soon be doubled by the addition of the Explorers, Scout leaders predict.

The Explorers will continue the Scout program of adventure, going on expeditions into the wilderness in quest of discovery. These wilder-nesses into which Explorers will go include, in addition to physical wildernesses, those of vocation, avocation, citizenship, etc.

After a 60 day period of probation a First Class Scout 15 years of age or over may become a Scout Explorer He then becomes eligible for "Junior-Honors" and later for "First Honors" as an Explorer. He will wear the insignia reading "Explorer, B. S. A."

SYNOPSIS

Theodore Gatlin adopts a baby, "Penelope," in an effort to solve his matrimonial troubles. But his wife has never wanted her, and their affairs end in the divorce court. At a baseball game a ball strikes ten-year-old Penelope on the nose. Mrs. Gatlin spirits the child to Europe. Gatlin wills Penelope all his money, and is about to begin a search for her when a motor accident ends his life. Some ten years later, in San Francisco, Stephen Burt, rising young psychiatrist, is presented by Dan McNamara, chief of police, with a new patient-Nance Belden, a girl with a dual personality, for which her "saddle nose" is in part responsible. McNamara does not think she is a criminal and obtains Burt's testimony in court. Linny, the doctor's office nurse, is also won over. Nance's criminal record outweighs Doctor Burt's explanation of her case and she is sent to San Quentin penitentiary. Nance escapes, although shot, and goes to Lanny's apartment. From one of the men in the boat on which the girl escaped McNamara learns that Nance's real name is Penelope Gatlin. He also discovers that she is heiress to $750,-666. Fearful of McNamars, in his of-Scial capacity, Nance flees. Lanny finds her in her apartment, asleep. Then she disappears, and McNamars learns that she is living in Paris. He also discovers he is in love with Lanny,

CHAPTER IX—Continued --21---

The instructions are fine, but why commit forgery by signing Dan's name? If the original is traced—"

"I have signed it Mac, and the world is filled with Macs. When, Dan has reached his office, telephone him and tell him to do something that will prove in any court he was in his office | Gatlin?" when I filed this cablegram."

Lanny relented. "You might make a detective, at that."

Twenty minutes later Dan McNamara Stephen's cablegram over his private "Excellent," was his sole comment, "but print it in block letters. Even a typewriter can betray one. When Steve files this telegram have him pay for it with a hundred-dollar bill, and have him wear large black goggles and the rim of his hat pulled down all the way round. The girl who receives it will think one crook is cabling another. If she's ever asked what sort of man filed it, her description of the sender, plus my own perfect alibi, will put me in the clear."

"How are we to manage after she has eluded the Paris police?"

McNamara sighed gustily. "Flynn will be in touch with her bank, and every time she cashes a draft on her letter of credit, Flynn will have a line on her address."

"You're no help," Lanny snapped, and hung up. Half an hour later, from the cable company's main office, Stephen dispatched the cablegram.

With Dan McNamara definitely out of the fight, Stephen felt lonely and apprehensive. He wondered why the girl had fled to Paris in the face of Dan McNamara's instructions to fiee to Lower California, to enter which no passport is required. He asked Lanny.

"Oh, that's no mystery, Stevie. \ I brought home from the office, intending to show it to Dan, an article by a celebrated plastic surgeon of Paris. Penelope read it with great interest. She went to Paris to consult this French plastic surgeon and also to have samples of her new nose drawn by a competent artist."

"So that's how the Paris police informed Dan she was having her portrait done by an American artist, eh? I suppose it will be her luck to be in a hospital undergoing the operation when the Paris police receive word to deport her."

"I'm afraid she's balled everything up, Stephen. Flynn will have the number of her passport and Dan will have no time to fix a new passport photograph on to it. They'll not trust to the photo to identify her if she tries to land. They'll check up on the passport number also."

"Will you never cease discussing this miserable business. Lanny?" Stephen burst out irritably. "If it hadn't been for you we wouldn't be in this wretched predicament."

When the captain of detectives called in Detective Sergeant P. Flynn and related to him the tale told to him by Rudolph Merton, Flynn gave no of being particularly interested. Carefully and methodically he arranged in his mind the facts as stated, he had had an official interview with superior, all he knew was that he was | rious case; except Dr. Stephen Burt. to strive to recover a lost heiress by name Penelope Gatlin, and that she had a nose that should make her recognizable anywhere. After nine hours of refreshing slumber, Flynn proceeded to ponder the case of Penelope Gatlin of the saddle nose. "I seem to be getting my fill of girls with saddle noses who disappear mysteriously," he decided lazily-and instantly something clicked in his brain and he knew he was on the trail of Nance Belden again. An heiress, eh? McNamara had hinted at powerful influences back of Nance Belden, and she certainly must have hired the expert help she had had in her escape from San Quentin penitentiary.

"McNamara knows who she is." Flynn decided. "He's getting his-in chunks-for helping her. I'll bet it's the same girl."

He decided not to take Angelloti into his confidence. For two hundred and fifty dollars, Angelloti had agreed to abandon his interest in Nance Belden: whereas I. Flynn had scorned to quit. He would pick up the trail again alone. and when he had Nance Belden or Penelope Gatlin on his hook-well, she had to pay somebody to keep out of San Quentin, and that somebody should be P. Flynn.

He went to San Jose that day and interviewed the officials of the bank, who, when he flashed his shield, gave him all the information they possessed. Dan McNamara had artfully destroyed all the girl's police photographs, but if she had secured a passport, Flynn argued to himself, she had left two of her passport photographs with the passport office, and Flynn knew he could borrow one of them.

Flynn's shield was an open sesame to the man in charge of the passport office. Two minutes after his arrival he knew Nance Belden had secured a Employing identically the same means McNamara had employed, he traced Penelope Gatlin to Paris within three days. But he had now to prove that Penelope Gatlin and Nance Belden were one and the same person, so he interviewed the United States marshal, who secured for him one of the girl's passport photographs. Armed with this, Flynn crossed the bay to San Quentin.

"Is that Nance Belden?" he asked the matron.

A tremor ran over Mrs. Merton's face. It seemed to Flynn that she was frightened, disturbed.

"Well?" he demanded. "You can't was listening to Lanny reading expect the police to find your missing daughter if you don't help. Is this her picture or isn't it?"

> "I-I don't know. I have never heard of her before."

> "lever heard of her! Why, she's your daughter!"

"I haven't any daughter."

"Why, you called on the captain of detectives and asked him to find your daughter. What do you mean by telling me you've never heard of her?"

"I can't remember. I don't know, Oh, please, please don't ask me! Somethink terrible will happen. I—I—" "You refuse to identify this photo as that of Penelope Gatlin?" Flynn was growing irritated. Finally she had bysterics and a maid came in and asked P. Flynn to leave

"I've always thought you and the excellent Angelloti didn't make the best of your opportunities." Stephen murmured. "Still, I suppose you were playing with dynamite."

"We were." said Flynn, "but no more. The chief's one of the biggesthearted men in the world, but a picnic egg if you rub him the wrong way. So we pussy-footed."

"No fair man could deny the excellence of your pussy-footing. I know all about it. How about a wee Dock an' Doris?" Stephen suggested.

"Is there any reason why I should express an opinion?"

"Not unless you choose to be goodnatured. I suppose you know you're in Dutch for aiding and abetting an escaped convict." "Well?"

"Naturally we don't want to make the going hard for a man of your standing," Flynn continued.

"My dear sergeant, you would have started the fireworks long ago if you had anything tangible to proceed upon."

Flynn sipped his highball. "You're being well paid for shielding this girl. of course. I don't blame you a bit, but -you're too big a figure in your profession to get into trouble with the police."

"Dan McNamara is my friend."

"Well, Mac is out of it. He can't protect you because he must protect himself. It might interest you to know that Nance Belden and a lost heiress, Penelope Gatlin, are the same person, and I have the Paris police watching her right now."

"Are you quite certain the girl is still at that Paris address?" asked Stephen.

"I know it." "I know she isn't—and the Paris police do not know where she is."

"Do you?" "No, but if I did, I wouldn't tell you." "Look here," said Flynn. "What's it worth to your young girl friend to

"When were you to see a doctor "At the age of twenty-two. Why?"

"How old are you?" "Forty-two."

"Well, just to prove I'm friendly I'll give you a quick physical examination. It may save you a fee later from some other physician. Mind if I give you a quick look-see?" "Go to it," said Flynn.

Stephen tested Flynn's heart action accessory-conscious, this season, the and lungs and took his blood pressure.

"You're up thirty-six points," he told Flynn was distinctly perturbed.

"What does that mean?"

"It means that you have a fairly well developed case of hardening of the arteries. If you were to be re-examined physically, for promotion, you might be retired on pension."

"I couldn't afford that," cried Flynn. "I've got a wife and five children." "Nevertheless, I would suggest you

Crocheted Rug in "Cubes and Stars"

By GRANDMOTHER CLARK

This is another rug design that our readers will recognize as taken from the "Cubes and Stars" quilt design that is possibly a hundred years old. This rug measures thirty inches and requires about two pounds of material to crochet. It is made up of 12 diamonds and slip stitched together to form a star or blocks, depending on the way the color scheme is worked out. It is always an interesting rug to study (count the cubes) and well adapted for a child's room.

This is one of the twenty beautitiful crocheted rugs shown in colors with directions in rug book No. 24. If this rug interests you send 15c to our Rug Department and get the instructions for making this rug and nineteen others.

THE SAME COUNTRY

By ROBERT V. FLEMING Vice President, American Bankers Association

There is a growing appreciation, both on the part of the people and the Government, of the earnest and sincere efforts being made desirable that we miss no opportu nity to foster pub lic understanding of the bankers problems. We are living in an age of complex and upset economic conditions. Our af fairs are closely inter-related no only within the confines of our own borders but extend to other countries throughout the world.

The Greatest Difficulty

I think the greatest difficulty we have to overcome in America today is due to our impatience with the progress we are making towards recovery. We must realize that while the Government can help by directing some measures for relief and recovery, we must help ourselves by doing our share to give impetus to the Government's efforts. We have the same country and basically the same businesses, factories and people we had prior to the depression, and business initiative must step forward if real recovery is to be achieved.

The theory we often hear expressed that banks create business activity is wrong. Banking can only make a supplementary contribution to business activity. Bankers have the facilities and the desire to extend credit, but business must initiate activity by seeking the credit which is readily available to all worthy borrowers.

Let it be said for business, however, that business men are as eager as bankers to contribute towards recovery, I think some of the trouble lies in the fact that too many legislative measures have been proposed for reform which leave an uncertainty in the minds of business leaders as to their eventual outcome and effect. Consequently, they hesitate to expand until the probable effects of such legislation are known.
