

Rebel Banquet is Largely Attended

About 150 Dairymen and Merchants Attend Banquet Given Here Thursday Night by Creamery Co.

Notwithstanding drifted roads and zero weather, about 150 farmers and Pinckney citizens turned out to attend the banquet given here at the Masonic banquet hall by the Rebels of River Rouge.

This company came here and reopened the local creamery last October. The fact that they do not use a base and surplus purchasing system, but buy milk on a straight flat rate, caused considerable opposition from the Milk Combine of the state. However, they persevered and in three months' time had their required supply of milk.

This banquet was to show their appreciation of the efforts of the citizens and farmers of this section to co-operate with them.

The banquet was served in courses by the O. E. S. Music was furnished before and during it by the Brighton seven-piece orchestra.

Rev. C. H. Zuse of the Pinckney Congregational church delivered the invocation. Following the banquet, William Dillaway, president of the Pinckney Board of Commerce, who had charge of the banquet, welcomed the assembled persons and introduced the toastmaster, Lucius Wilson. Mr. Wilson gave a history of the Rebels since their coming to Pinckney and their success, and called upon Thomas Rebel, senior member and founder of the creamery. At this time the assembled guests sang a three-verse toast in honor of Mr. Rebel, composed by Mrs. Alta Myers. This is given at the end of this article.

Mr. Rebel thanked the people for their aid and co-operation in helping him get started here and said, up-to-date, not a single quart of milk received here had failed to pass the Detroit Board of Health test. He pledged himself to do his part in providing them with a satisfactory market.

Nicholas Rebel, his son, was then called on. He related some of his experiences when he visited the farmers in this section and solicited them for their milk. This section for years had been selling cream and milk for baking purposes, which did not have to pass city inspection, so it was necessary for many farmers to fix up their barns and build milk houses.

Frank Rebel, a younger son, was the next speaker. He stated that his father was in the River Rouge plant but that he was glad that he had the opportunity to meet the producers of milk at this time. Mrs. Nicholas Rebel followed. She stated that it was her desire to know and meet all present, personally.

Mr. Palmer, inspector for the Detroit Board of Health, then delivered a fine address. He stated that he had always found the Rebels willing to co-operate with his department to the best of their ability. There are now 62 creameries selling milk in the Detroit market. This comes from some 16,000 farms and it is the duty of his force of 15 inspectors to inspect these. He explained the sediment test and the blue test for milk, and warned that all companies had to follow the same regulations. He recommended the use of insulated tanks and covered milk pails, and said that the Board of Health regulations would be more strict in the years to come. At the present time, only about 5 percent of the farmers in the Detroit area were having trouble following the Board of Health rules. Mr. Palmer's talk was interesting and instructive, and at the close of it he answered many questions asked of him.

This ended the program, but many of the company stayed for an hour or a longer visiting.

Celebrate Their Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Frost of This Village Celebrate 50 Years of Married Life on Feb. 20.

On Thursday, February 20, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Frost of this village celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary. Thirty-seven friends and relatives were present, and others were prevented from coming by the impassable roads.

Mr. and Mrs. Frost were both born in England, but came here when they were children. Practically their entire life has been spent in this section. Mr. Frost has held many positions of trust, being a justice of peace for this township at the present time.

For many years he followed the occupation of farming, owning a farm west of town. About twenty years ago he moved to Pinckney, where he has since lived.

The day was spent in card playing, and a number of old time dances were enjoyed, the music being furnished by a grandson and two friends from Detroit.

A potluck dinner was served and Mr. and Mrs. Frost received many handsome gifts.

Among those present were Mr. Frost's only surviving brother, Ernest, all of the couples children, Chas. and family, Mrs. Cora McLachlan and family; Thomas Frost, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Amburgey, Walter Frost, all of Detroit; Harry of Pinckney; Miss Carmen Leland, niece; Mr. and Mrs. Mel Hartsuff of Ann Arbor; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Durkee and Mr. Singleton. Mr. Singleton is Mrs. Frost's brother, and Mrs. Hartsuff is her sister.

A very enjoyable time was spent by all and Mr. and Mrs. Frost received best wishes for an extended happy married life.

WON POSTER PRIZES

The persons who won poster prizes sponsored by the Livingston County Garden Club at Howell, were Betty Robinson, 11th grade, first; Betty Leverett, 12th grade, second; Blanche Walter, third. Ambrose Kennedy won a special merit prize, being the only boy to enter. They will now compete in the Michigan State Conservation Department contest.

IS A LOCAL CORPORATION

Dean Reason, formerly with the A. C. A. oil company, is now connected with the Central Michigan Petroleum Corporation, being a director of the same. The president is Carl Jaeger of the Fuel Terminal Co. of Lansing and the other officers are residents of this state, the secretary-treasurer being none other than Major James A. Green, former Pinckneyite, and now a Lansing attorney. The prospectus state that they have oil and gas leases on 7,000 acres in Ada township, Kent county. Their business is buying and selling oil and gas leases.

STILL NO APPOINTMENTS

Still there are no post office appointments forthcoming from Washington. National Committeeman Abbott visited Washington last week for the express purpose of trying to hurry up the post office appointments. He has charge of the patronage south of the line drawn across the state from Alpena.

"Particularly," said Abbott, "I am anxious to hurry appointments for postmasterhips at Kalamazoo, Battle Creek, Muskegon, Owosso, Howell, Pontiac, Bay City, St. Johns, Charlotte, Imlay City, Chesaning, Frankenuith, Monroe and Milan."

EGG REGULATIONS

NOW IN FORCE

The impression that the Michigan egg grading regulations are to become effective and enforced at some later date is a serious error being made by certain egg dealers, James F. Thomson, Commissioner of Agriculture announces. The regulations went into effect January 1, and while the department is considerate, and is conducting an educational program to help those who are required to grade eggs, Commissioner Thomson wants it clearly understood that the regulations are in force. The ruling in regard to egg grades is now a part of the pure food laws and carries the same penalties as prescribed in the act.

After six weeks, Commissioner Thomson announces that the majority of egg shippers and handlers over the state are already complying with the regulations. While the department did not expect to imply penalties for minor violations until an educational program could be conducted, Commissioner Thomson is prepared to have his field force of inspectors clamp down on all violators in the near future.

REGULAR COMMUNICATION

Regular communication of Livingston Lodge No. 76, F. and A. M. will be held on Tuesday evening, March 3. A good attendance is asked at this time as final plans are to be made for the annual Post Masters' banquet on March 27.

UNIVERSAL DESIRE

The profession of funeral directing was developed as a response to the universal desire to pay all possible respect to the remains of those who have passed on. The modern funeral director is a man of specialized training and long practical experience.

His function is to give necessary coun-to those bereaved. The members of this organization are fully prepared to serve

FUTURE DAIRY PROSPECTS

We are in receipt of a report from the Holstein-Friesian Association of America, stating that the number of milk cows in the United States is falling off. They give the following figures:

Number of milk cows in the U. S.
Jan. 1, 1934..... 26,185,000
Jan. 1, 1935..... 25,100,000
Jan. 1, 1936 (Estimated)..... 24,500,000

Total decrease..... 1,685,000

They also estimate that just enough heifers are being raised to maintain the present level. Dairy products held in storage are at the lowest point in some time.

These factors working together, plus the improved general economic conditions places the dairy farmer in a position where better prices and better profits are indicated for some time to come.

The ruling in regard to egg grades is now a part of the pure food laws and carries the same penalties as prescribed in the act.

FINGER PRINT IDENTIFICATION

Last week, the body of an unknown man was found dead and frozen stiff along a highway near Port Huron. He had evidently been killed by a hit and run driver. The Port Huron police took his finger prints and sent them to the state police identification bureau at Lansing. There, records showed that he had been arrested at Pinckney for vagrancy by Sheriff Fawcett in 1935, and given a jail term. He was registered as William Newman. The arrest was made at Anderson on complaint of residents there that he had been annoying children. He was sleeping in barns and hay stacks and had burlap wrapped around his feet in place of shoes. Several years previously he was the so-called wild man, held for a time in the Mrs. Rodney Ward assault case near Fowlerville. He was then living in a brush hut in the woods near there. According to the sheriff's department, he was mentally unbalanced.

4-H Club Work Shows Progress

By H. J. Hart, District Club Agent

The 4-H Club was organized by extension forces about 1914 for the purpose of teaching young people Agriculture and obtaining their help and cooperation in farm and home improvement. The result accomplished by these boys and girls have led us to believe that more of the energy of the extension forces should be directed toward work with them. 4-H Club work is such an efficient agency in training for rural citizenship that we should have little difficulty in obtaining the required number of adults to organize and direct the work properly. Since its organization in 1914 a good many thousands of boys and girls have been enrolled in 4-H Clubs. From these millions a great number who have grown to manhood and womanhood, should be available as a source of local leaders for the oncoming clubs.

Most effective work in the improvement of farm and home practices and the upbuilding of rural communities can be done through increased club membership provided with earnest and enthusiastic local leaders.

In 1935 4-H Clubs represented in variety of interest practically every farm and farm-home activity. Each succeeding year the importance of the farm boys and girls in an agency for bringing about the introduction of improved practices have steadily increased. It is the purpose of this article and succeeding articles to outline 4-H Clubs as they now exist and to attempt to create in this county interests which will make for a bigger and better 4-H Club program.

In boys and girls 4-H Clubs the attention of farm boys and girls in groups is focused upon the community extension program in an interesting, challenging way, and active participation caused to make their own community a better place in which to live. Real life situations are involved involving issues affecting their own interests.

Such a situation is a community consciousness accompanied by a sense of community responsibility. In 1935 the National Congress enacted a law known as the National 4-H Act, which made available funds for carrying on a more extensive 4-H Club program.

The plan for Michigan works out as follows: The state was divided into a number of districts, each of six or seven counties, each depending on the population, putting a 4-H Club agent in each one of these districts. It will be the work of the agents in these districts to assist the county agents in putting a 4-H Club work on a more permanent basis.

Boys and girls in Livingston county this year will have the opportunity to do 4-H Club projects in any of the following lines: (1) work in canning, handwork, electricity, poultry, sheep, swine, dairy, beef, goat, crops and garden. Some of the general requirements for organizing a 4-H Club are: 1. At least five people within club 2. At least one person capable and willing to act as a local leader, such a person should have some time available to devote to the club and should have a working knowledge of the project which the club wishes to work on. 3. It is recommended that the agents use purebred animals. If the animals are purebred they should be registered in the name of the boy or girl doing the project. The maximum age of all club members is 20 years. The minimum age ranges from 10 to 15 years, depending on the kind of project. When a group of boys and girls get together for the purpose of organizing a 4-H Club, the first thing that they have permission to be sure that they have permission of their parents and a place available and equipment with which to work and carry on their project. The next thing is to organize the club by electing officers and sending the enrollments of the club to the county agent's office. In the next article I will give some very valuable points in organizing 4-H Dairy Clubs.

Current Comment

Washington's birthday came on Saturday this year, and as usual the post offices and banks closed up. This resulted in serious inconvenience to many people who had forgotten about it being February 22. While we agree with everyone else that George was a wonderful man, we think that if any person under the canopy of Heaven has been honored, it has been him. Just why it is necessary to close the banks and post offices to do him still further honor, has always puzzled us. These holidays are indeed wonderful things, but they seem to have the faculty of throwing business all out of kilter.

There seems to be an epidemic of midnight fires during this zero spell, evidently caused by stoking the furnace or stove too high on retiring. Last Wednesday, a farmer, Clarence Griggs and his 16 year old son, living two miles east of Ypsilanti, were burned to death in a fire which destroyed their home. Many other persons have been forced to flee from their burning homes in the "few small hours" with nothing much but their night clothes. A little more care in not loading the furnace or stove so heavy would have saved many of these homes. We know if it is mighty unpleasant to get up in a cold house these zero mornings, but it is much safer.

The 30-day extension to March 1 for the purchase of automobile license plates, given out by Secretary of State Atwood, killed the sale of license plates and only about 50 percent of the motorists have their plates. This means another last minute rush for plates. Mr. Atwood also takes the occasion to score state employees at Lansing. A checkup of the parking ground at the state capital, where they park their cars, showed about half of them still with 1935 licenses. This game of bluff which takes place every year between the Secretary of State and the motorists over the sale of license plates, is a farce. A set time limit should be fixed and strictly adhered to.

Having been unable to bluff Mr. Coughlin by threatening to kick him "a mile or so through the streets of the capital," the enemies of the good Father have now started another offensive. This time they threaten a congressional investigation of the financial affairs of the League for Social Justice of which Rev. Coughlin is the founder. However, the consensus of opinion is that this will also prove a dud like Ed. Stair's slander suit, and Congressman O'Connor's booting challenge.

Gov. Fitzgerald is getting much favorable comment over his refusal to turn Clarence Owsley, an escaped convict, back to Pennsylvania officers Owsley escaped from a Pennsylvania prison, came to Michigan, married and raised a family. According to the authorities, he had a exemplary life since coming here. In this case mercy seems to have been tempered with justice, and the man evidently deserved his freedom. There is one angle which, apparently, escaped the commentators. Has an escaped convict, with a prison sentence hanging over him if caught, the right to marry an innocent girl and rear a family?

Senator Vandenberg, in a speech expressed the sentiment that old-line Democrats, disaffected with the present administration, should be invited into the Republican party, and even given cabinet posts in case of a Republican victory. Chairman Fletcher also hinted at the same thing. The daily press, however, scoffed at such a thing. If successful, the Republican party is liable to show an unwillingness to surrender any share of the spoils, and anyway, there will not be enough to go around.

In all of the recent speeches of Herbert Hoover and in his book just published entitled "A Challenge to Liberty," he dwells much on the fountain of fear caused by the New Deal. Facts do not bear out his claims. The financial pages tell a story of steadily rising stocks. Two life insurance companies reported a new all-time high for business in 1935, and manufacturers are declaring extra dividends. The stock market trend is upward and the United States treasury shows a net balance of more than ten billion. Yet Mr. Hoover would have you believe that the country is cringing in fear.

The Detroit Times points out one move of Gov. Fitzgerald's which would not seem to tend towards economy. The state administrative offices have been located in the Griswold building in Detroit where a rental of $15,084 per year is charged. Now Secretary of State Atwood has signed a three-year lease with E. D. Stair to the Transportation building for $21,631 per year and will move the offices there. This is an increase of $18,000 per year in the rental. Stair wanted a six-year lease, but Theodore Frye, Democratic State Treasurer refused to sign up for that long.

LAST CALL FOR TAXES

Saturday, February 23, 1936, is the last day on which I shall receive taxes in Pinckney at Lee Lawer's station. After that all taxes must be paid at the office of the county treasurer in Detroit.

Let's Solve the Pot and Pan Cleaning Problem

WINTERTIME kitchens are always in a continual buzz of cooking activity—we get up big company dinners; we fix delectable foods for parties; and, in general, we keep pace with the hale and hearty appetites of the family, too. Such activities as these naturally involve much cooking—much cleaning and polishing of pots and pans—and many times this cleaning is a laborious, confining task. So, why not solve this pot and pan problem now; why not solve it the easy, safe, practical way? To do this, simply use the scratchless, quick-acting cleanser which is made with (the cleanser which polishes as it cleans) for cleaning and polishing all pots, pans, and cooking utensils. To apply, simply sprinkle this cleanser over the surface or on a damp cloth and rub; the stains will disappear and a bright polish will be imparted to these surfaces almost like magic. Finally, rinse and wipe dry.

The services were held last Sunday in the church basement with a good attendance. Everybody invited to join our fellowship next Sunday and share in all our mountain-top experiences. In the business of life we need many spiritual visions.

The monthly meeting of our class is to be held in two weeks on March 11, with Mrs. Rose Hendee. This will be our postponed Missionary meeting. Perhaps we can spare a few extra coins to slip into the Sunday School Missionary offering next Sunday, March 1, and thus hasten our first payment on this year's dues.

"His habitation high is here, and high, His arm encircles me, and mine, and all."

It is impossible to estimate the number of people to whom these lines have brought succor from anxious thought, replacing a troubled sense with reassurance and comfort, when time and space have seemed to separate them from those dear to them. The same arm of tender, omnipotent care enfolding all! Surely such confidence, with its promise of no division, no severance, its assurance of but the one household of God held in His tender care, is worth striving for and attaining!

The effect of realizing that man as the spiritual idea or child of God is always at home in divine consciousness, cannot be overestimated. It supplies a new standard for ethics and morals. It provides a plumb line for righteous thinking and living by which each suggestion or situation can be appraised. It is an impregnable defense against temptation. Moreover, this realization of true manhood engenders genuine self-respect, supplies peace and balance, and imparts a consciousness of dominion over material conditions which can be gained in no other way. The assurance that "His habitation high is here, and high," and that every moment we can mentally abide in this secret place of Love's dwelling and there know the true sense of home, heals all feeling of loneliness or isolation. . . . —The Christian Science Monitor.

CLEVELAND—The American diet is changing, says 62 year old George Lohmeyer, Hotel Cleveland maitre d'hotel, looking back over 45 years of experience with American gastronomy. Colleges and universities are responsible, he says. Millions of young people who either ate at training tables or saw their heroes eat there, are shaping the nation's eating habits as they rush forth each year from halls of sport and learning. Prime American menu favorites are all training table items—salads, orange juice, lamb chops, tomato juice, baked potatoes, etc. A recent increase in tea drinking in many colleges is traced to the same source. Mae West, Repeal, the Depression, the New Deal and similar mass influences are nothing compared to the colleges as a dietary force, he says. TRIM WAISTLINES CALL FOR SALADS
There's Sense to Making Salad, Principal Theme for Meals, Says Food Authority.
Salads are becoming the most popular food dish of the day, according to Katherine M. Hart, assistant food State College, East Lansing.
First course salads are replacing soup and fruits while main course salads gain in popularity over regular dishes, she claims.
"The salad is 'stepping out' today," says Miss Hart. "No longer can it be considered a mere side dish. For many a tempting salad is now a meal in itself."
"Thanks to the advice of doctors and dietitians, and the almost universal desire to avoid extreme waistlines, the popularity of the salad has increased tremendously of late."
Miss Hart recommends the following salad combinations as side dishes:
With fish: cucumber salad, mixed vegetable salad. With cold meat: potato salad, stuffed tomato salad, macaroni, cheese, and olive salad. With chicken: pineapple salad, asparagus salad, gingerale fruit jelly salad, apple and celery salad, green gage plum salad. With pork: cabbage and pineapple salad, apple and raisin salad, grapefruit salad. With veal: stuffed prune salad, tomato and celery salad, pickled beet salad, sauerkraut and olive salad. With beef: head lettuce salad, asparagus salad, apricot salad, cole slaw salad.

AUTO OWNERS BEWARE
With but a short time remaining in which motorists of Michigan may buy and install their 1936 automobile license plates or stickers, if the plan to continue driving, Orville E. Atwood, Secretary of State, points out: "If there aren't enough hours remaining in which the late-comers can be served, it will in reality mean that some people are going to be deprived of the use of their cars until they can get plates—there can be no extension of the deadline after midnight next Saturday, by me or by anyone else."
Asked if he might canvass members of the legislature to determine their attitude toward an "unofficial extension" of the deadline, Atwood said that no such course would even be considered by him.
The State Department head said that the record-breaking severity of the winter weather had made it inconvenient, if not impossible, for many residents of rural areas to reach branch offices to buy their plates during the past two or three weeks, but, that such conditions did not prevail in other sections of the state. "In any event," he said, "I have extended the time to the last date permitted by law. If some motorists have to put their cars up for a day or so while all late-comers are accommodated with plates the responsibility rests with those who delayed their purchases when they might have bought them conveniently and without delay any time since early in the winter season."
Auto owners, unable to purchase full year license plates, may purchase a sticker good until July 31st at half the full year rate.

A WELCOME CHANGE
The old newspaper version that it is news "when a man bites a dog," had a new variant at Lansing the other day when the State Administrative Board voted to lean the Highway Department $1,380,000 out of the general fund to tide it over until the end of the fiscal year. For something like eighteen years under the "live off your fat" camaraderie that existed between the several departments of government at Lansing, it was not unusual to dip into highway funds when the financial road of the general fund became hard to travel. Although the last legislature loaded an additional fourteen and a half million dollars in obligations onto state government it has managed to carry the load and still find itself in position to do the rescue act when necessity demanded. Regardless of who or what conditions have made possible this excellent showing in state finances the citizen taxpayer welcomes it as wholesome change from the old "red ink" days of impunctuality in state government.

HENS IN CONTEST CACKLE AT COLD
Below Zero Weather Fails to Cut Egg Production When Full Feeding Is Practiced.
Hens in the Michigan Egg Laying contest at Michigan State College, East Lansing, are cackling their delight at the cold spell as they set new record highs for winter production. Temperatures as cold as 10 degrees below zero hold no fears for these 630 competing birds. They laid more and bigger eggs to attain a January average production of 58.4 percent, as compared to the estimated laying average of about 35 percent throughout the state.
These facts are revealed in a summary of the Michigan Egg Laying Contest results for January prepared by C. G. Card, professor of poultry husbandry at the college. The hens remain at the college for the duration of the competition which lasts until October 23, 1936, and are housed in ordinary chicken coops.
"The secret of our success in egg production in January lies in the feeding," Professor Card says. "Cold weather does not hurt if fluctuation in temperature are at a minimum as they have been this year. We have long noticed that birds in the Upper Peninsula have high winter production because their weather, although cold, is usually more stable than down here."
"We have kept high records because we use about 25 pounds of feed daily equally between mash and grain, per hundred birds daily. Most farmers do not keep up feeding, and as a result have exceptionally low production this winter. The estimated average for poultry farms in the state this winter has been about 35 percent."
The record production for January was made by the New Hampshire breed with an average of 64.7 percent, Professor Card stated.

THE CURVE PASSER

The Curve Passer is a very common one. He believes that traffic is always traveling in his direction and, so believing, he blithely takes chances by going around other cars on "blind" curves.
Good drivers never pass other cars on the road unless they are sure that it can be done safely.

SOME RANDOM SHOTS

By ELMER C. ADAMS

THE H... of it
Napoleon worked his lovely plan, a plot upon upon the race. His warriors over Europe ran, and changed her ancient face. His conquests stirred up much concern, what was the world to do? When Wellington, with courage stern, pulled up at Waterloo To end Napoleon's empire dream and put him in exile. He died without the world's esteem and went to hell awhile. Now Satan wanted none of this; he needed no crown prince. He ruled alone in evil bliss and has reigned ever since. So he changed Napoleon to a town and put him back on earth. An obscure town without renown—an emperor's rebirth. And lest Napoleon might subside and rise up from the place. Placed Waterloo close by his side, to make him hide his face. Then Satan stroked his chin to smile at what his wife had wrought. Descended back in hell awhile, came out again and brought A tiny piece of Hades soil and guarded it right well. He dropped it near Napoleon's tail and now we call it "Hell."

Note: Napoleon is a small village in southeastern Jackson County 25 or 30 miles south of Hell, which is in southwestern Livingston County. Waterloo is another obscure village almost on a line about equidistant between Napoleon and Hell.

GORTON RIETHMILLER.
A correspondent writes me that the old adage is false. He drove up, or down, to Hell, Mich., last Sunday, and reports that the streets are paved not with good intentions but with exceptionally slick ice.

ALL CORN SHOULD BE TESTED

Millions of dollars will be lost to Michigan corn growers in 1936 unless strictest germination tests of all ears of seed corn are made before planting.

Michigan has enough seed corn for state consumption but rainy weather and improper drying for seed constitute a real danger, according to R. E. Decker, extension specialist in farm crops at Michigan State College. Germination tests at the college this winter reveal the poorest seed corn crop in years.

The state income from corn last year amounted to $31,000,000. The 1936 income may be decreased by half unless farmers use seed with strong germination results, Mr. Decker insists.

"Seed corn used in the last few years gave strong germination tests of 95 percent, but most of the seeds tested by us in the last few weeks reveal had germination," says Mr. Decker. "The average was about 60 percent strong germination and 20 percent weak, for a total of 80 percent germination. One farmer brought his best seed corn to the Farmers' Week program, and of the best 10 ears tested, three showed no results and seven had weak germination."

"Many farmers are accustomed to going to the corn crib before planting, selecting their best ears, and planting without testing. Due to the wet fall, the kernels will be subject to mold and will germinate poorly. Drying might help fight molds but testing of individual ears is absolutely necessary to avoid disastrous results."

Michigan is in a better position than many mid-western states, surveys indicate. If care is taken in planting there will be little danger and damages to seed corn in other states may be expected to raise the value of Michigan seed.

Two easy methods are offered for testing individual ears of corn. Farmers who plant not more than 25 acres can test the germination qualities of every ear by keeping eight to ten rog dolls in several inches of water in an ordinary pail. Rog dolls are made by marking off squares two inches on a side on a muslin cloth four feet by one foot. When a half dozen kernels are in squares marked according to the ear number, the muslin is rolled up, dampened, and kept in a warm place. The other method involves use of a box with sawdust on which strings mark off squares for kernels.

Barley and oats germination tests at the college have given surprisingly good results, but Mr. Decker recommends that white navy beans and alfalfa be given attention. Root rotting is an important danger in the bean seed this year, while the value of the alfalfa crop makes attention to seed germination qualities important.

SALES TAX PUT AT FORTY-TWO MILLION

Sales tax collection in the present fiscal year will certainly reach $42,000,000 and may run $2,000,000 higher," says Joseph S. Fencley, sales tax director.

"During the last fiscal year collections were $38,600,000 and in the first year of the tax they were $34,500,000, Fencley said. "January collection of the December tax were $4,573,982, more than $700,000 higher than in last April, the previous peak."

"We are finding that a considerable number of tax payers listed as delinquents have really gone out of business. We discontinued 6,139 accounts last month for this reason. Also 2,514 are temporarily discontinued because their business is seasonal."

ARE FEEDING DEER

Man has come to the aid of hungry deer in the Luther-Baldwin swamp, north of Baldwin, Michigan.

The entire enrolled personnel of CCC Camp Sable River is engaged in a release-cutting project for the Department of Conservation, and the deer in the immediate vicinity of operations head in to feed on the slash, which is excellent deer browse.

These cuttings are being made in an effort to determine a satisfactory method of increasing the supply of suitable winter feed for deer. Many different methods and degrees of cutting are being tried and a complete record of each project is being kept. Similar release cuttings are being conducted in the Cusino refuge unit and the Escanaba River tract of the Upper Peninsula but neither has been so heavily patronized by the deer as the operations near this place, state conservation authorities say.

HORTICULTURAL SHOW AT PONTIAC

The Michigan Horticultural Show will hold their spring meeting at the Board of Commerce Building at Pontiac, March 3rd and 4th. The program is arranged so as to be of interest to all. Included among the many speakers are R. D. Anthony of Pennsylvania State College, James F. Thompson, commissioner of Agriculture, State of Michigan; Michigan State College Extension Specialists from the Department of Horticulture, Botany department, and Farm Management Department. Topics for group discussion will be led by some of the representative growers from the fruit belts of Michigan. We hope that it will be possible for a representative of Livingston county horticulturists to be present at this meeting.

The first meeting is called for 9:30 the morning of March 3. Be sure to hear this discussion on the thin wood method of trimming by H. D. Footman. Programs may be procured from the County Agent's office at Howell. If you are interested, either write or call and we will send a program to you.

A UNIVERSAL DESIRE

The profession of funeral directing was developed as a response to the universal desire to pay all possible respect to the remains of those who have passed on. The modern funeral director is a man of specialized training and long practical experience. His function is to give necessary counsel and advice, as well as actual service to those bereaved. The members of this organization are fully prepared to serve in such a manner.

POLITICAL COMMENT

Those who are loudly censuring the national administration for punishing Gen. Hagood, have short memories. According to them this is the first action of its kind by a national administration. During President Coolidge's administration, Gen. Wm. Mitchell of the air forces, a world war hero, was tried by court martial for criticizing the administration's aviation policy and dismissed from the service. So the action of the war department has a precedent.

The big news item is Gov. Comstock's desertion of the Democratic party. The entire cause of the matter seems to be patronage distribution. The choice for Federal Judge at Detroit, was deadlocked for months. Finally Senator Couzens put his support behind John Lederie, a noted lawyer, and he was appointed. Comstock's choice was Frank Picard. This caused the former governor's "walk." In order to understand this, it is necessary to go back a few years. For a long time Ex-Gov. Comstock was the angel of the Michigan Democratic party. He paid many of their bills and ran for governor several times when no one else would. In the landslide of 1932, he was swept into office. While an admirable figure in defeat, he failed to loom large in victory. He quarreled with many of the Democrat leaders, and preferred the council of one, Isaiah Lebove, an oil operator, the Frank McKay of his administration. Like Hannibal, who conquered Rome, he knew how to win a victory, but not what to do with it. This caused a split in the party, and he was defeated for renomination by Judge Lacy.

Now Mr. Comstock's complaint is that he has been persistently ignored in patronage matters, and that independent and irregulars like Frank Murphy of Detroit, are placed ahead of him. We can't see why this should not be. These independents who flocked over to the Democratic party in swarms in 1932, are the ones who put the Democrats in power and the tremendous prestige and power of Frank Murphy in Wayne County had more to do with the huge Democratic vote than Mr. Comstock's efforts. Our opinion is that the Governor's complaint is too big a job for Mr. Comstock. If he possessed the qualifications of the late Woodbridge N. Ferris, he would have been given a second term.

This patronage and of politics is serious. It will sweep a candidate into office but may also sweep him out. Gov. Fitzgerald has stated several times that it is a nightmare to him and his principal worry. The main difficulty is that there are never enough jobs to go around. It will be remembered that President Garfield was killed by a disappointed patronage seeker. Yet how to hold a political machine together without patronage has never been worked out.

COMMERCIAL ACCOUNTS

Of course, a lot of people use checking accounts, but there are a great many who do not. Those who do not are influenced, perhaps, by the service charge on balances falling below $100.00. It is our plea, that you who could not maintain a $100.00 balance throughout any given month could save more than the cost of the service charge for several months by having a check as a receipt for a paid. In such a case the service charge has been good insurance.

Many concerns require payment of bills by bank draft or certified check. If you have a commercial account you may have your check certified without charge. Again you have made a saving.
