Work on School to Start March 10

Government Men and Contractors Were Here Last Thursday, and Made Plans to Commence Work. Local Men Wishing Employment Must Register.

Engineer Craig of the PWA, who will have charge of both Pinckney and Dexter school additions, Mr. Culbertson of Detroit, who was awarded the general contract for the building, the Hutzel Co. of Ann Arbor, who will do the plumbing and the General Electric Shop of that place, the N. S. R. superintendent for this district from Lansing and Architect Otto Musch, were all at the Pinckney school last Thursday and made plans to start work on the structure, consisting of four class rooms and a gymnasium, on March 10. The time allowed for completion of the building is 220 days. The general contractor will be first on the job, as he will do the excavating and concrete work.

Men now on welfare will be used if they are able to do the work, but the plumbing and electrician may hire union labor if he so desires. It is not thought that the welfare list will supply a sufficient number of men, so anyone not on the welfare list should register at the PWA office at Lansing. Those wishing to work on the excavation should see Mr. Culbertson or his foreman in charge of the work on the job about March 10. If the weather permits, work will start March 10, and material will start arriving most any time now. It may be necessary to transfer men on the welfare from other districts. If this is done it will be through the Ann Arbor office as this is nearer than Lansing. Anyone wishing to work on this project, who is not on the welfare, should see Fred Read in regard to registering.

Naturally we desire to see as many local people employed as possible as the money put into circulation in this way will be spent here. We understand that the contractors are willing to use local labor as far as possible.

TO HOLD PAST MASTERS' NIGHT ON MARCH 27

Livingston Lodge No. 76 F. & A. M. will hold their annual Past Masters' Night Banquet on Friday, March 27. Judge Louis E. Peas, of the Michigan Supreme Court will deliver the address and there will be other speakers on the program. The Howell orchestra will furnish music, and there will also be vocal numbers. The complete program will be announced later. At this time several life memberships will also be bestowed. The banquet will be served at 7:30 p. m. with the program to follow. Lodge will open after the program with the Past Masters in the chairs.

WON FIRST AND SECOND PRIZE

Because they sold more Christmas seals per capita than any other rural school in Livingston county, children at the Green Oak school were this week awarded a handsomely framed picture of Louis Pasteur, famed French scientist and benefactor of mankind. Presentation of the picture to Miss Genevieve Forsyth, teacher at the Green Oak school was made by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association.

Accompanying the picture was a brief story of the life of Pasteur, recalling the fact that in regard to the number and importance of his discoveries, he had hardly a rival in science. Pasteur it was, the story reminds, who developed and later proved the theory that it is possible for man to rid himself of germ diseases. His work on the germ theory has affected the diagnosis, treatment and methods of prevention of every known communicable disease. Rabies, a disease long misunderstood, was explained through his experiments, and hundreds of people have been saved from suffering and death thereby.

Russell and Reeves schools were winners of the second and third prizes, respectively. They will be allowed to make a choice of any of the prizes which the Association offered as school awards during the recent campaign.

Mr. Edwin Haire is the teacher at Russell School, and at Reeves School Miss Arloa Esic is in charge.

In naming the various county winners, the Association commended the teachers for instigating interest among children in the anti-tuberculous program.

MARRIAGE LICENSE ISSUED

A marriage license has been issued to Belma Ludtke, 17, and Laura Peterson, 18, both of Gregory.

RAY LAVEY'S SURPRISED BY NEIGHBORS

Neighbors of Ray Lavey and family near Gregory, surprised them on Tuesday, February 25 at the noon hour, with a delicious pot-luck dinner. During the visiting hour later, they were presented with a purse of money to buy something for their new home. Mrs. O. B. Arnold presented the money with the good wishes of all present for a happy and successful life in their new home in Gregory.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. George Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Donohue and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Carr, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Marshall and sons, and Mrs. Skotick.

Rev. Lewis Dion Is Transferred to Gaines

Pastor of St. Mary's Catholic Church For Past Six Years Is Given Shiawassee County Appointment. Rev. Carolan of Durand Is Successor.

A large list of assignments in Detroit's Catholic Diocese were announced by Bishop Gallagher last Friday. Among them was the transfer of Rev. Lewis Dion, pastor of St. Mary's church at Pinckney for the past six years to Gaines, Mich. He is succeeded at Pinckney by Rev. James Carolan, at present, pastor at Durand. We understand Rev. Carolan is about the same age as Rev. Dion and assisted here recently in a 40-Hour Devotion Service.

Rev. Dion came here from Ruth, Mich., where he had charge of Ruth and Argyle. He succeeded Rev. Merning, who was supplying there, following the resignation of Rev. Forster. Rev. Dion has been a hard working, ambitious pastor, and has made a big success of his pastorate here.

Other appointments announced by Bishop Gallagher are:

Rev. Wm. Bath from Brighton to St. Johns. Rev. Maurice Kissane from Gaines to Brighton. Rev. G. Thomas from Northfield to Otsego. Rev. M. Donahue from Otsego to Northville. Rev. H. Rosebrook from St. Johns to Mt. Clemens. Rev. Victor Renaud from Mt. Clemens to Archerville. Rev. L. LaVoy, assistant to Manchester.

Rev. Lewis Dion will also have charge of the Deerfield parish in addition to Gaines, and will also establish a new parish near Durand. This last named place is about 1 1/2 miles from Gaines. Knowing Rev. Dion's great energy and willingness for hard work, we are sure he will make a success in his new field of endeavor.

Rev. Carolan has been at Durand for the past nine and one-half years. This is, however, a small parish; Pinckney having almost double the membership of Durand. Rev. Carolan will take charge at Pinckney on March 11. Rev. Dion will preach his last sermon here on March 9.

PARENT FARM HOUSE BURNS

The large brick farm house on the Parent or Shuler farm, just west of Chubb's Corners on the Putnam-Marion Townline Road, caught fire from an unknown source about 2:30 a. m. this morning and was totally destroyed. This house was practically new, having been built by Mr. Parent several years ago to replace the Shuler house which burned down. It was modern in all details.

The Parents returned to Detroit last December and the house has been closed all winter. Rex Kraft and Clare Lounsbury were caretakers on the farm but lived in a tenement house. Their car, which was in the garage connected with the house, was destroyed.

FATHER AND SON BANQUET

The Annual Father and Son Banquet will be held in the Congregational church dining room, Tuesday evening, March 10, at 6:30 o'clock. Price: 35c per plate. Tickets on sale at Week's Drug Store.

An interesting and entertaining program with a special speaker, is being planned. All men and boys of the community are urged to attend. If you have no boy of your own, borrow one and come and enjoy the evening.

Mrs. C. H. Zuse, L. A. S. Sec'y

A. A. A. POSTER CONTEST

The Automobile Club of Michigan is putting on safety first poster contest in which $1200 in cash prizes will be given away. The pupil of any school is eligible to enter. The poster must be on street safety only and be 12x17 inches. These posters must be sent to the office of the local A. A. manager not later than April 15. First prize is $25; second $15; third $5; and there will be ten $1 honorable mention prizes. Anyone wishing to enter see us for the rules of the contest.

The A. A. A. is also sponsoring an essay contest on the same subject. This is for high school students only. First prize is $35; second $25; third $10; and there are twelve honorable mention prizes of $2 each.

PATTERSON LAKE COTTAGE BURNS

The cottage just south of Chalkers, at Patterson Lake, owned by Con. O'Connell of Detroit, caught fire at 5:30 p. m. Sunday and was totally destroyed. The family had been there earlier in the day, but had left to return to Detroit some time before the fire broke out. Jack Ketcham, who was at the Chalkers store when the blaze was discovered, ran to the O'Connell cottage and smashed in a door. However, he was unable to go in as the whole interior was a mass of flames. The cottage was formerly owned by the late Floyd Reason and some insurance was carried on it.

REPUBLICAN CAUCUS

The Putnam Township Republican caucus will take place at the town hall on Saturday, March 14 at 3:00 p. m. for the purpose of placing in nomination a township ticket, and to handle any other business that may come before it.

What Does a Farmer Do in the Winter?

Village Election Is Next Monday

There Are Two Tickets in the Field This Year

The Pinckney village election is Monday, March 9. Both Citizen and Union parties have placed tickets in the field and a good contest should result. Both platforms have for their object the betterment of Pinckney. They are as follows:

TO HAVE FREE MOTION PICTURES AGAIN

The Pinckney Board of Commerce made arrangements with Mr. Crout of Michigan Center, to put on free motion, talking pictures here at Pinckney each Saturday night for 18 weeks starting on Saturday, May 9. This is the third consecutive year the board has sponsored free pictures. Mr. Crout will also put on pictures at Dexter and Stockbridge.

The Board is also sponsoring a big auction or rummage sale on town meeting day, Monday, April 6. Anyone who has some articles which they do not need will be asked to donate same. These will be sold at auction and the proceeds used by the Board to further local activities. Anyone having anything they are willing to donate, list it with the secretary and it will be picked up in time for the sale.

Philathea Notes

Again we remind you that the March meeting of the class is to be held next Wednesday, the eleventh at the home of Mrs. Rose Hendee. A good attendance is hoped for, and the Missionary features should make it an interesting occasion. The Scripture verse letter for roll call is "U."

Those who have been privileged to attend the Sunday class sessions during this cold winter which has kept so many away, have enjoyed the lessons under the leadership of our teacher, Mrs. Zuse, and the general services in the church parlors.

Our next subject is especially timely: "Jesus Teaches Neighborliness." Luke 10: 25-37. The recent snow-bound conditions demonstrated the need for neighborliness, and the "Christian Life Application" of this lesson is "to discover our own neighbors and what we owe them."

Philathea-keep in mind, and help to advertise the coming Fathers' and Sons' Banquet, sponsored by the Ladies Aid committees for February and March.

CATTLE RUSTLERS CAUGHT

With the arrest of three men, state police believe that they have broken up the first gang of cattle rustlers ever to operate in Michigan. The three are Burr Vincent, 26, Edward Watkins, 41, of 3154 Third St., in Lansing, and Harold Vincent of Holt. They have confessed stealing 33 head of cattle. Their method was to park their truck 10 rods from a barn and then in and pick out the choice cattle. Their examination will be at Bad Axe in Huron county.

SCYMANSKI-COSCIC

Mrs. Stella Scymanski and Bozo Coscic were married at St. Mary's church here by Rev. Lewis Dion on February 22. A reception was served to friends at the Scymanski farm south of town Sunday. The couple will now live on the groom's farm near Baginaw.

GREGORY KING'S DAUGHTERS MEET

The Gregory Circle of King's Daughters met at the home of Mrs. H. E. Marshall, Wednesday afternoon, February 27, at 2:00 o'clock.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Martha Young and the song of the circle was sung with Miss Rita Young at the piano. The secretary and treasurer reports were read and approved. The committee in charge of the entertainment has distributed readings to members who responded during roll call. The readings were on the origin of Valentine's Day, Lincoln's and Washington's birthdays, and novel sayings or jokes about these two great men of history.

Old business was taken care of and money voted to pay for glasses for a child and bills to be paid for groceries for needy families in the community.

The social service and sewing committees distributed sewing for a layette, which was served during the meeting.

The president presented an apron which was donated by Mrs. Olen Marshall to be passed to the members, each to put their name and a donation under a patch. When all members have put on a patch the money will be added to the treasury, and the person donating the largest amount will receive the apron.

The new committees for the coming year as appointed by the president are as follows: Ship Com., No. 1 Mrs. R. D. Brunner; No. 2 Mrs. Guy Kuhn; No. 3 Mrs. Jennie Voegtli; Sewing Com., Chairman, Mrs. Fannie Hill; Mrs. L. Gilmore and Mrs. Carmi Webb; Social Service, Mrs. F. M. Bowditch; Mrs. Ralph Hartley; Flower Com., Mrs. Frank Oviatt and Mrs. Ralph Chipman; Junior Leaders, Girls, Miss Esther Jorgensen and Mrs. Guy Kuhn; Boys, Mrs. R. D. Brunner; Advertising, Mrs. Ralph Hartley.

A birthday card shower for Mrs. Rose Buhl on February 29 was planned.

The officers have worked out a plan by which each member will be in the program for the year. Each month will be represented by three or four members who will have charge of the entertainment and will find the place for the meeting for the month they are in charge.

Meeting closed by prayer of the circle.

The first division served a dainty luncheon to 35 members and guests at 4:30. All departed later, having enjoyed a pleasant afternoon.

Purpose of Pinckney Board of Commerce

Local Institution Organized for the Purpose of Getting United Action Among the People of Pinckney. Has Accomplished Much

In September 1934 a group of local business men met and organized the Pinckney Board of Commerce. The purpose of this organization was to boost local enterprise and work for the betterment of Pinckney. The first officers elected were: President, W. C. Allen; Secretary, Fred Slayton; Treasurer, Paul Curly; and Chairman, Wm. Dillaway. A membership drive was put on by Mr. Lavey, Mr. E. Darrow, Mrs. Nick and Claude Reason, the committee, and nearly 60 members were secured.

The board met first at the fire hall, then over the telephone, and then joined with the American Legion and village council in remodeling the rooms over the fire hall. From their meetings are now held at the fire hall and third Mondays in each month.

Their first enterprise was to hold a drive to get a new fire engine in December, 1934. This drive was a great success. Speakers appearing were Hon. Henry Horbath, Judge L. W. R. Taylor, and other prominent citizens. Several local factory products and others.

Free entertainment put on a picture by the state conservation department, and word travels by Fred Slayton, a panache supper and several free dances. They are for two years the board sponsors a free Saturday night motion picture.

Put on three Christmas tree programs and financed a three-day educational program in 1935. Plans start a movement to get M-26 blacked out or improved from M-20 to M-26 and hold three meetings at which every township on M-36 was represented. This matter is still pending and according to a bulletin issued last fall by the highway department, will be started this year.

Last fall Thomas Reel and son, Nicholas, proprietors of the Rebel Creamery, appeared at a Board of Commerce meeting and asked the aid of the board in re-opening the Pinckney Creamery which had been closed for several years, depriving the farmers here of a satisfactory milk source.

An investigating committee went to River Rouge and found the Rebels satisfactory in all particulars. They opened the creamery here in October. Much work was necessary to get the premises here in shape to pass city inspection. Members of the board spent much time going about the country with the Reels, and calling on the farmers about the work.

Mr. Lavey, C. H. Kenney, W. C. Miller, W. C. Allen, W. H. Meyer, P. H. Seesholtz and others. It was slow at first, but the amount of milk, in addition to the projects accomplished by the board, there are many others.

The officer for the year 1935 were Fred Slayton, president; L. Lavey, vice-president; Paul Curly, secretary and Dan Clark, treasurer. The present officers are: William Dillaway, president; Paul Curly, secretary and Dan Clark, treasurer. The membership is divided into two classes: active members and non-active members. The membership is $1.00 per year. In addition to the regular dues, members pay dues of 25c per meeting or 50c per month.

In the summer months when the picture show is on, the picture shows were 25c and 50c. The picture shows were 25c and 50c. The picture shows were 25c and 50c.

They were W. C. Allen, Slayton and Son and J. G. Canfield.

So if you are not active engaged in business, it only costs $1.00 per year to be a member of the Board of Commerce and obtain all the benefits.

The following is the board membership of the Board of Commerce at the present time: Mrs. Slayton and Mrs. L. Reppert; Mrs. Veda Coy, Mrs. L. Reppert; Mrs. C. E. Clark, Mrs. J. B. Clark, Mrs. C. E. Clark, Mrs. Wm. Dillaway, C. H. Kenney, G. W. Moulton, Jr., W. C. Miller, R. W. Reason and Son, L. Lavey, P. W. Curly, C. H. Kenney, P. H. Seesholtz, Fred Slayton, Mrs. L. Gilmore, Mrs. Carmi Webb, Mrs. F. M. Bowditch, Mrs. Ralph Hartley, Mrs. Frank Oviatt and Mrs. Ralph Chipman; Junior Leaders, Girls, Miss Esther Jorgensen and Mrs. Guy Kuhn; Boys, Mrs. R. D. Brunner; Advertising, Mrs. Ralph Hartley.

THE WEBBERVILLE SPEED TRAP

The state highway department has solved the Webberville speed trap problem by extending the time of the amber to green light change from 2 1/2 to 3 seconds. Webberville put this stop light last fall to safeguard school children who have to cross Grand River. Like Brighton, a few years back, they were not particularly well served. Amongst other things, the amber of the R. 101 bridge, Fred Tamm of the state road commission and R. I. Shugg of the American Rolling Mill Co.

FINISHES TAX COLLECTION

Gorman Kelly, township treasurer, finished his tax collections Saturday. Out of a tax roll of $12,000, he collected over $7,000. This is the best that has been done in several years.

Current Comment

Miss Fern Smith Hammond, deputy state welfare director, has finished her report on 71 county poor houses instigated by the state welfare department.

She personally visited most of these institutions and describes the condition of them as atrocious. The names of these will not be made public until the welfare commission meets on March 12. In many she found children, insane patients and tuberculosis sufferers all housed together. Violently insane inmates were housed in the basement of the institutions. In one place inmates were housed in bays and in a garage. Hardly any of the institutions had adequate fire escapes. The average population of the 71 poor houses was 56. The average cost per inmate was 50 cents per day, though in some cases it was as low as 25c. The average keeper's salary was $125 per month, though in some instances they drew no salary, having to depend on their savings for maintenance costs. For years it was known that conditions were bad at these places but the people have always been stingy in regard to the poor. To get a bond issue passed to improve conditions is an impossibility. We shall watch this report with interest to see if the Livingston county institution is among these blacklisted.

The City of Dearborn is making a drive to get married women whose husbands are working off the city payroll. There are 13 such women on the payroll whom they are trying to remove. These women are mostly employed in the city library and in welfare work. Seven of these women have protested their dismissal claiming their husband's employment is irregular and they have children to support. They have obtained an injunction against their dismissal. This is a much disputed question. In boom times it never comes to us, but in slack times it is always stressed. It used to be a leading issue in school districts but owing to the shortage of teachers at the present time, caused by the closing of many county normals, it has not come up there as it did in the past.

The new $20,000 therapeutic pool, given the University of Michigan by the Rackham fund, was opened here last Thursday. This is constructed on the same plan as the Warm Springs, Georgia pool, where President Roosevelt was cured of that disease only at Ann Arbor. The water is artificially heated. The theory of this treatment is that in warm water by swimming, it is possible to exercise and restore paralyzed muscles, made useless by infantile paralysis.

Again the matter of finger print identification has cropped up in Detroit. The re. James Howard was recently convicted of fraud in the sale of oil stock. He was president of the Western and Southern Oil Co. His fingerprints were taken and sent to Washington. Word came back from there that they were identical with those of Fred Lineman, a St. Louis gangster, convicted and sent up 24 years ago. So again it seems murder will out.

A country murder always louts up larger than a city killing. There are many reasons for this. Murder in rural districts is uncommon and not the work of gangsters. Moreover, it is usually premeditated, such as the Blank murder in Gratiot county. The high light in this, which eventually forced the confession was the testimony of the two University of Michigan medical experts, Dr. Bucher and Dr. Eberhart. Their testimony that Mrs. Blank was killed by a blow on the head and being suffocated with chloroform before being saturated with kerosene and set afire, was too big an obstacle for the defense to get over. We have heard of these two doctors before. They gave important evidence in the famous Philathea torch murders some years ago. Their testimony was indisputable.

The suspicions of the state press still persist. They don't take much stock in the "New Hoover." One daily remarks that television, if it comes, will be the biggest thing since Hoover hired himself a new "gag" man.

Maj.-Gen. Hagood comes from an old South Carolina family accustomed to speaking out in meetings. His dismissal after calling WPA funds "stagnant money" is said by Army men to have had a profound effect among those accustomed to speak more or less freely in the Army, if there are any left. It may have been significant that the Hagood dismissal came a few days after Brig.-Gen. Billy Mitchell, outspoken critic of the Army Air Corps, was buried in Wiscasin instead of Arlington where less outspoken military heroes lie.—Ex.

Mrs. W. E. Murphy and son, Harry, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Murphy in Jackson.

C. H. Clinton and wife of Chelsea were Friday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bowman.

DEMOCRAT CAUCUS

The Democrats of Putnam Township will hold a caucus at the Putnam town hall on Saturday, March 14, for the purpose of nominating candidates for the township election and to transact such other business as may come before it. It will convene at 2:30 P. M.

PRIVATE PRIVILEGE

Let people rattle their own family skeletons. Don't you ever do it.

DOCTORS KNOW

Mothers read this:

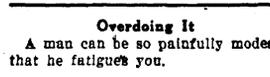

A cleansing dose today; a smaller quantity tomorrow; less each time, until bowels need no help at all.

Why do people come home from a hospital with bowels working like a well-regulated watch?

The answer is simple, and it's the answer to all your bowel worries if you will only realize it: many doctors and hospitals use liquid laxatives.

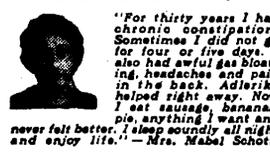

If you know what a doctor knows, you would use only the liquid form. A liquid can always be taken in gradually reduced doses. Reduced dosage is the secret of any real relief from constipation.

Ask a doctor about this. Ask your druggist how very popular liquid laxatives have become. They give the right kind of help, and right amount of help. The liquid laxative generally used is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It contains senna and cascara—both natural laxatives that can form no habit, even in children. So, try Syrup Pepsin. You just take regulated doses till Nature restores regularity.

Overdoing it. A man can be so painfully modest that he fatigues you.

CONSTIPATED 30 YEARS

"For thirty years I had chronic constipation. Sometimes I did not go for four or five days. I also had awful gas bloating, headaches and pain in the back. Adierka helped right away. Now I eat sausage, bananas, etc. anything I want and never feel better. I sleep soundly all night and enjoy life."—Mrs. Mabel Schott.

If you are suffering from constipation, sleeplessness, sour stomach, and gas bloating, there is quick relief for you in Adierka. Many report action in 30 minutes after taking just one dose. Adierka gives complete action, cleaning your bowel tract where ordinary laxatives do not even reach.

Dr. H. L. Shoub, New York, reports: "In addition to intestinal cleansing, Adierka checks the growth of intestinal bacteria and colon bacilli." Give your stomach and bowels a real cleansing with Adierka and see how good you feel. Just one spoonful relieves GAS and chronic constipation. Sold by all druggists and drug departments.

Get quick relief with Cuticura. A world-wide success! Sold everywhere. Soap 25c, Ointment 25c. Write "Cuticura," Dept. 12, Malden, Mass., for FREE sample.

No Need to Suffer "Morning Sickness"

"Morning sickness"—is caused by an acid-conditions. To avoid it, acid must be offset by alkalis—such as magnesia.

Why Physicians Recommend Milnesia Wafers

These mint-flavored, candy-like wafers are pure milk of magnesia in solid form—the most pleasant way to take it. Each wafer is approximately equal to a full adult dose of liquid milk of magnesia. Chewed thoroughly, then swallowed, they correct acidity in the mouth and throughout the digestive system and insure quick, complete elimination of the waste matters that cause gas, headaches, bloated feelings and a dozen other discomforts.

Milnesia Wafers come in bottles of 20 and 48, at 35c and 60c respectively, and in convenient tins for your handbag, containing 12 at 20c. Each wafer is approximately one adult dose of milk of magnesia. All good drug stores sell and recommend them. Start using these delicious, effective anti-acid, gently laxative wafers today!

Professional samples sent free to registered physicians or dentists if request is made on professional letterhead. Select Products, Inc., 4402 23rd St., Long Island City, N. Y.

Townsend Plan Inquiry Attracts Attention

WHILE waiting for instructions as to what to do in the matter of taxation, the members of the house—and many others—directed their attention to the investigation of the activities of the Townsend pension plan promoter. Speaker Byrnes appointed on the probing committee of eight two avowed Townsendites—John H. Tolan, Democrat, and Samuel L. Collins, Republican, both from California. The chairman is J. Jasper Bell of Missouri, Democrat, author of the resolution for the investigation. It was understood that Mr. Bell had already gathered a mass of information to substantiate the charge that the Townsend plan has become a huge racket. The leaders of both parties in congress have been getting rather nervous over the growth of the Townsend movement and are glad to see it attacked; but some impartial observers call attention to the fact that the way the committee is going after it smacks of unconstitutional abridgment of the right to petition.

It was expected that one of the first questions to be considered by the committee would be the salaries received by Dr. Francis E. Townsend, author of the scheme, and R. E. Clements, former California real estate operator, co-founder and general manager. Clements has revealed to newspaper reporters that he and Doctor Townsend receive salaries of $100 a week each from OARP—the old age revolving pension organization—and $50 a week each from the Townsend national weekly, which claims a circulation of 250,000. It has been charged on the floor of the house that this newspaper, privately owned by Townsend and Clements, has a reserve fund of at least $200,000.

Congressman John Steven McGroarty, California's "poet laureate," says the Townsendites will control the house of representatives at the next session, and adds: "They have built up the largest political organization in the history of America, with 10 million enrolled members. If you include those who have signed petitions favoring the Townsend plan the number is increased to 30 million. By November it will be twice this large. This investigation will vastly strengthen the Townsend movement and anybody that knows anything knows that. The American people like fair play and they know that this investigation is just dirty politics."

Gen. Hagood Punished for New Deal Criticism

MAJ. GEN. JOHNSON HAGOOD recently suggested to the house appropriations subcommittee that congress take advantage of what he termed "WPA stage money" and use it to improve housing at army posts. Within a few days came this order signed by Gen. Malin Craig, chief of staff, by order of the secretary of war:

"By order of the President, Maj. Gen. Johnson Hagood, United States Army, is relieved from assignment to the command of the Eighth Corps area and further duty at Fort Sam Houston, Texas. Maj. Gen. Hagood will proceed to his home and await orders. The travel directed is necessary in the military service."

Two Prominent Men Are Claimed by Death

DEATH took from the scene two men prominent in national life—Albert Cabell Ritchie, governor of Maryland for four terms, and Henry Latrobe Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy and distant cousin of the President. Mr. Ritchie was a leader among conservative Democrats, from the start a determined foe of national prohibition, and in 1932 a candidate for the Presidential nomination by his party. Though beaten out by F. D. Roosevelt, he had the satisfaction of seeing his repeal plank put into the Democratic platform. Of late he had been an outspoken critic of the New Deal policies, for he was a champion of state rights.

Henry L. Roosevelt was the fifth member of his family to serve as assistant secretary of the navy, and in recent months he had played an increasingly important part in the affairs of the department, acting as secretary during the illness of Secretary Swanson. He was a student in the naval academy class of 1909, but left before graduation to become a second lieutenant in the marine corps, in which service he rose to the rank of colonel. He was buried in Arlington National cemetery with full military rites after funeral ceremonies that were attended by President Roosevelt and many other high officials.

Week-End Activities of President Roosevelt

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT had a busy week-end. First he went to Philadelphia and received from Temple University the honorary degree of doctor of jurisprudence. His delivery of an address in the course of which he said: "True education depends upon freedom in the pursuit of truth. No group and no government can properly prescribe precisely what should constitute the body of knowledge with which true education is concerned. The truth is found when men are free to pursue it."

Next the President hurried up to Cambridge, Mass., to see his son John initiated into the old aristocratic Fly club of Harvard. Returning to Hyde Park, Mr. Roosevelt delivered a radio address marking brotherhood day of the national conference of Christians and Jews, and he called on all believing Americans to unite against the wave of irreligion that challenges all faiths.

Ship Subsidy Measure Seems to Be Discarded

DEVELOPMENTS in Washington lead to the belief that the Copeland ship subsidy bill has been abandoned. It came from the White House, although the President, although he initiated the principles of the measure, would not press for its passage; and Senator Royal S. Copeland, whose commerce committee approved the bill which was a part of the administration program, is so irritated that he may drop it. Senator Guffey of Pennsylvania has prepared a rival measure, not yet introduced, and Senator Black of Alabama is opposed to the Copeland bill.

Shipping interests have given warning that new construction for foreign trade will continue to be paralyzed by uncertainty and lead to additional insistence by the Navy department on the building of its own auxiliaries.

New Farm Relief Bill Sent to Conference

DIFFERENCES between the house and senate versions of the new farm relief measure were utterly irreconcilable, if you could take the work of the conferees of both bodies to whom the bill was sent. Nevertheless, it was expected the disputes would all be adjusted within a few days and the measure sent to the White House. Senator Smith, chairman of the senate agriculture committee, voiced indignant opposition to a house amendment providing that tenant farmers and sharecroppers shall be included in cash benefits paid landowners for conserving soil and thus controlling production.

Eden Warns That Another World War Impends

CAPT. ANTHONY EDEN, British foreign minister, stood up in the house of commons and warned the world that recurrence of the World War was imminent and in his opinion could not be averted except by a system of collective security "embracing all nations in an authority which is unchallenged and unchallengeable." Eden impressed upon members of the parliament the difference between a policy of collective security and one of encirclement, such as the "ring of steel" which Germany complains is being forged about her by France. "The British government will have no lot or part in encirclement," Eden said.

Earlier in his speech the minister announced that the sanctions already imposed upon Italy by members of the League of Nations are achieving their purpose of hastening the cessation of war between Italy and Ethiopia. He failed to satisfy the opposition on the question of an oil embargo against Italy by sidestepping a definite commitment on such a boycott.

Puerto Rico Slays May Start Reforms

POLITICAL conditions in Puerto Rico, notoriously unsatisfactory, may be rectified as a result of the assassination in San Juan of E. Francis Riggs, chief of the insular police, and a district police chief. Riggs, a former United States army colonel, was shot by two Nationalists; two hours later District Police Chief Francisco Velez N. Ortiz attempted to put down a Nationalist riot at a cafe in the central town of Utuado and was killed. The assassins of Riggs were caught and admitted the killing, saying it was in revenge for the Rio Pedras "massacre" in which police killed four Nationalists last November. While being questioned, the murderers, the police said, reached for guns and were shot to death.

MICHIGAN NEWS BRIEFS

Lansing—Orville E. Atwood, secretary of state, has indicated that the 1937 license plates for motor cars in Michigan would be made on blue, the colors of the University of Michigan.

Bay City—Police are holding $625 in old currency which a 17-year-old boy found in a glass jar when wreckers demolished a barn near his home. The barn was on the property formerly owned by Robert Rochnow, who died last year.

Detour—Members of the road crew recovered the body of Andrew Thompson, 35 years old, from beneath 15 tons of frozen coal that fell on him as he was loading coal. Thompson, a Great Lakes sailor, drove a coal sleigh during the winter.

Lansing—Inmates of Michigan's prisons are to wear hand-made shoes. Only the arrival of materials is needed to start the new shoemaking industry in the Marquette Branch prison. To provide as much work as possible, most of the cobbling will be done by hand. Necessary machinery will be rented from the manufacturers.

Sault Ste. Marie—Late opening of navigation on St. Mary's River was predicted by Coast Guard and United States Navy hydrographic officers due to the heavy ice caused by the prolonged cold wave. Last year the season opened April 16. The ice this year averages 10 inches in thickness. Ice in St. Mary's River is 22 inches thick.

Lansing—By presidential order, $700,000 has been put in the hands of Secretary of the Interior for purchase of Isle Royale land to become a National Park. Thinking the Federal appropriation might be insufficient, promoters of the National Park plan got the State Administrative Board to set aside an additional $100,000.

Ann Arbor—Arthur Peters, of Birmingham, a University of Michigan freshman, was the only representative of the state to capture a first prize in the annual Avery Hopwood literary competition for yearlings. Peters won $50 in the essay division. A third prize of $20 was awarded to Christine Gezell of Ann Arbor, for her entry in the fiction class.

Lansing—The State Old Age Assistance bureau received a check for $380,000 as its allotment from the National Social Security Board. The director of the state bureau, has estimated that the Federal supplement to Michigan funds would raise old-age assistance checks to nearly 20,000 recipients from an average of $11 a month to $18.50 in March and April.

Houghton Lake—Enrollees from CCC Camp Houghton Lake are engaged in building a 103-foot log bridge, the largest of its kind in the Lower Peninsula, across the Muskegon River, near Houghton Lake. When completed the bridge will be an important link between the old area of the Houghton Lake State forest and the newly acquired deer refuge areas in Missaukee county.

Grand Haven—If Mussolini ever reads this he will junk his auto and buy a different make. It seems that Il Duce's car and Haile Selassie's throne are both upholstered with the same make of leather—provided by the Eagle Ottawa Leather Co. of this city. The company here has specialized until it leads the world in the manufacture of leather for cars and for chairs.

Lansing—The State Highway Department has awarded contracts for two hard surfacing road projects on US-27. The Grace Construction Co. of Marshall received the contract for 5.319 miles of surface from Olivet northeast. Its bid was $133,057. The McKenzie Co. of Dearborn received the contract for 2.827 miles from Charlotte south on its bid of $72,205. The projects will provide a hard surface on US-27 from the state line to a point just north of Harrison.

Lansing—A $500,000 WPA food control fund for Michigan has been asked of Washington by Harry L. Pierson, state works progress administrator. WPA headquarters has sent out information that funds will be available "to provide for necessary emergency work when danger to life or grave risk to property is engendered by flood conditions." Pierson recently met with his eight district directors and asked them to draft projects where conditions indicate a danger of floods.

Lansing—The 1937 Legislature will decide whether the state shall refund $2,000,000 of sales tax money. Items used in agricultural production or industrial processing were exempted from the sales tax by the 1935 legislature. The act was made retroactive despite some doubt as to whether this could be done legally, and the attorney-general held the provision valid. About $2,000,000 had been paid on items used in agricultural production or industrial processing before the exemption became effective.

Lansing—Included in the three rural settlement administration and the forest service plans for the developing of three forest community projects, is the Basswood settlement near Iron River. The Basswood project, located in the Ottawa national forest, calls for a village type of settlement for 113 families. Acreage from one-half to ten acres, and small houses will be provided for each family, and the major income of the individual family, said the announcement, will be derived from logging of private and Government timber.

Monograms Make Your Linens Doubly Precious

PATTERN 1126

Variety's the Spice of Life—and monograms, too, for the smartest ones today combine letters in varying sizes. That's why we included four different alphabets—a large, a medium and two small ones—so that you may "scramble" your own. They work up easily and quickly, using a combination of satin, seed and buttonhole stitches with a bit of cut-work. Anyone with "Hope Chest" linens will find these alphabets invaluable. They fit beautifully into a diamond or triangular shape.

Pattern 1126 comes to you with a transfer pattern of an alphabet 3 inches high; one 2 inches high; and two alphabets 1 1/4 inches high; information for placing initials and monograms; illustrations of all stitches needed.

Send 15 cents in stamps or coins (coins preferred) to The Sewing Circle, Needlecraft Dept., 82 Eighth Ave., New York, N. Y.

Household Questions

All the boys' shoes and they will last longer and become water resistant. Use castor oil sparingly on the leathers, but give the soles all the oil they will absorb.

When cutting a frosted lemon pie use a knife that has been dipped into cold water. The meringue then retains its shape.

Chamois gloves should not be wrung out after washing. Squeeze them in the hands and press in a dry towel. Pull into shape and hang to dry in the open air.

Bacon fat may be clarified by slicing a raw potato into it while fat is hot and adding a pinch of baking soda. Strain through a piece of cheesecloth.

An excellent deodorizer is made with a few drops of oil of lavender added to a cup of boiling water.

To remove all grated lemon peel from a grater use a clean vegetable brush kept in the pantry for this purpose. It may also be used to wash the grater.

Wash sleeves always in soda water and never in soapy water. Particles of soap may adhere to sleeve and give a soapy flavor to foods put through it.

Corned beef will be more tender and the flavor will be improved if a dash of vinegar is put into the liquid in which beef is boiled.

A clever way to use chints that has a large colorful design is to cut the material in wide scallops and use in narrow widths at the sides of the window and across the top as a valance. In this way a single width of the material may be utilized to make a pair of curtains, for only half of a single piece is needed for each side. The effect is unusual and most attractive.

Tarahumara Indians Still Use Their Ancient Bows

The Tarahumara Indians, who inhabit the interior of the Sierra Madre in northern Sinaloa, in Mexico, live almost entirely independent of the white man, writes J. A. Hogle, Jr., in Popular Mechanics Magazine. They still hunt with bow and arrow and maintain their tribal customs, just as their ancestors did in pre-Columbian days. Their wants are few and, aided by nature, are met easily.

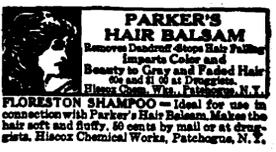

It is the belief of many that somewhere in a hidden inaccessible valley of the Sierra Madre exists the fabled cities of Cibola. There is no denying that these mountains, peopled as they are by various Indian tribes who have shunned the ways of the white man of whose past little is known, remain a fertile field for further exploration that may result in changing some of the fabled Indian stories into realities, just as Moore's expedition proved the Berranca del Cobre to exist instead of being a product of imagination as heretofore accepted.

Hendee Motor Sales

DE SOTO, PLYMOUTH, SALES & SERVICE

This popular automobile agency is located in Ann Arbor at 503 E. Washington; Phone 2-3151.

The 1936 De Soto is a market for thousands of buyers who are eager to own a style car and could afford it due to the upturn in business conditions. The new De Soto is actually a custom-built car built to sell for only a few dollars more than lowest priced cars. Its interiors are most beautiful. The outside styling you can see for yourself is distinctive and pleasing. It is our frank opinion that it will be the best looking, most distinctive car of 1936.

In addition, it is a marvelous performing automobile, easy to steer, stops quickly and the engine is the most powerful in its price class.

Furthermore, tests have shown that the new gas-saver transmission is capable of the remarkable economy of 25 miles per gallon.

The 1936 Plymouth is not only the most beautiful, but also the biggest and roomiest of the leading low-priced cars. A new costly enamel gives it the most durable and brilliantly lustrous finish you have ever seen on a car of its price class. Women pick Plymouth on sight. It is as luxurious inside as it is outwardly beautiful.

There's greater safety, too, for your family. Reinforced steel body—100 percent hydraulic brakes.

In this business survey we are pleased to compliment the Hendee Motor Sales. We suggest a visit to their showrooms as both interesting and profitable.

Prompt service and careful handling are two traits that have been responsible for the large demand for their service.

You need not carry your own risk for careless handling of your furniture. It will pay you to be certain of such responsibility when giving orders for moving.

H. & T. MOTOR SALES & Service

HUDSON TERRAPLANE

One of Ann Arbor's leading automotive institutions, located at 214 W. Huron, invites the people of this section to visit their showroom on the next trip to town.

The new 1936 Hudson and Terraplane have five new features that you've never heard of before.

The Terraplane has broken record after record for acceleration and hill climbing. But in spite of this, these cars are economical too. They give more power for less gasoline and doubled oil economy.

Style, too, has a strong appeal. Hudson-built cars last year started a trend which many others have followed. This year Hudson and Terraplane again step ahead with longer and lower bodies, smart new lines, perfected balance and proportion. Protecting steel all around you, wider seats, extra big, and lots of elbow room. We advise you to look carefully before buying any other low-priced car. "Drive them all—then decide."

This company will gladly let you put one of these fine new cars thru its paces.

THE QUARRY INC.

The Quarry Inc., located in Ann Arbor at State at N. University; Phone 7611, 7616, is headquarters in this part of the state for camp-support braces, artificial limbs, splints, surgical instruments, and sick room, physician and hospital supplies.

They feature trusses for Hernia, expertly fitted to men, women and children; corsets and supporting garments; spinal corsets and elastic stockings.

This is the day and age when the public demands not only magnanimous service, but the best in quality at a reasonable price. Thoroughly conversant with conditions and with a wide experience in their particular field of endeavor, the management has been able to render a service in their line that is distinctly satisfactory.

Prompt service at reasonable prices has been the guiding influence of their policies and it has brought them trade from all the surrounding territory.

THE ROBERTS SHOP

We are pleased in this review to compliment Saffell & Bush upon their selection of high class merchandise and the courteous treatment they extend to all callers and patrons at their place of business.

DR. G. E. MICKLE

OSTEOPATHIC PHYSICIAN

Dr. Mickle's office is in Ann Arbor at 240 Nickels Arcade; Phone 2-1944.

The fundamental principle upon which the theory of osteopathy is based is that of natural recovery of the body after injury. Under normal conditions, the body is able to maintain itself in a state of health, manufacturing all the substances used in its action and doing all the necessary work of its everyday life. When it becomes deranged, the osteopathic physician seeks, and if possible, removes the cause, whether it be within or without the body. He uses such measures as will best help the body to restore itself.

Dr. G. E. Mickle has kept pace with the times, having carefully studied all the developments in this important branch of modern science.

We are glad to compliment him upon the standing he has attained in his profession.

SCHLANDERER & SONS

This jewelry is one of Ann Arbor's most progressive stores, located at 208 S. Main and is headquarters for suitable presents for every occasion.

The gift season is always on and the jeweler receives his share in making possible the wisest selection of presents for all occasions. An up-to-date jeweler is indispensable to every community of taste and refinement, and he, whose work shows marked skill, is sure of liberal patronage. Schlanderer's are in no way behind in this respect and the generous patronage extended to this popular jewelry firm shows how this community appreciates their efforts.

The stock has been selected with rare judgment and includes everything necessary to conduct a modern up-to-date store. Here will be found the leading makes of watches, diamond rings, pins, studs and ornaments, novelties in silverware, clocks of handsome design and an extensive variety of jewelry.

We take particular pleasure in directing our readers to this establishment and to point out to this store as one of the business enterprises of the community that is aiding in making this a more progressive place to live.

Blue Front Cigar Store

The Blue Front Cigar Store ranks among the leading business houses of Ann Arbor. It is conveniently located at 701 Packard at State; Phone 5686.

It is strictly modern and up-to-date, carrying a full line of news periodicals, magazines, candies, cigars, tobacco, pipes and sundries. Here you may always be assured of securing your favorite brand at all times.

They take great pride in having the various brands always available, whether it is one of the popular-priced brands of the day or something more exclusive and expensive.

The patronage of this institution includes some of the leading people of this part of the state who drop in to buy a smoke and to talk over the sports and politics of the day. Here many meet for a business conference or a social chat. Others use this store as a meeting place for other engagements. You may feel welcome at all times.

Klager's Hatchery

This popular concern has a store in Ann Arbor at 308 S. Ashley; Phone 4050, and hatcheries at Bridgewater and Chelsea. Klager's is the home of sturdy blood-tested, T. B. tested chicks.

They want the public to know that it is always welcome to visit at all times as their aim is to leave every customer satisfied. Personal attention is given every patron regardless of the amount of purchase.

People who are interested in poultry raising should visit this hatchery if they have not already done so, as this institution is considered an authority upon these matters. They operate their own incubators where they hatch thousands of chicks each year.

The management of the hatchery are people of wide experience in this important business and are considered authorities upon all matters pertaining to baby chicks as well as all kinds of poultry. Their chicks are sturdy and full of pep and those who have purchased baby chicks here invariably re-order from this firm when they are in the market again. They are always willing to give any information desired and give prompt attention to letters, personal calls or telephone inquiries and orders.

In this review we wish to urge all readers that they will find it worth while to consult with the Klager's Hatcheries on all matters pertaining to baby chicks.

Old German Restaurant

When mealtime catches you in Ann Arbor, stop into the Old German Restaurant, located at 120 W. Washington and enjoy a well-cooked meal at a reasonable price.

The reason for the immense growth of this business is its excellence of service. Should dissatisfaction occasionally arise, it is always cheerfully adjusted. This helps to account for the enviable reputation the place enjoys.

Prompt service is featured, and as a result an extensive trade is enjoyed from miles around.

When you want a quality sandwich or a salad, or any other appealing delicacy for luncheon or midday or evening repast, distinctly superior, try an order here, and be pleased with the quality and freshness of the food you are served.

An institution such as this adds to the reputation of the community for being abreast of the times. It earns favorable comment from both the local and the traveling public, and helps to make this a better place in which to trade or live.

Abbott Gasoline Co.

This prominent Ann Arbor firm has its office on S. State Street. They are distributors of Hi-Speed Products.

The managers of this company have a wide experience in the business and they have demonstrated their ability as oil and gas men and as a result, this company has come into the prominent position it occupies today. From a small beginning it has progressed until today it is recognized as one of the outstanding industrial and commercial organizations of the state and renders a service that is necessary to onward progress.

Their gasoline gives power and speed as well as pick-up. You do not have to ever change from one gas to another with the change in weather if you patronize dealers or stations which handle their products.

The company has also in the past and will continue to be in the future a willing, liberal contributor to the social welfare of this community, donating much of its time and money to the up-building of the welfare of the community in an economic and social way.

We are pleased to point with pride to the Abbott Gasoline Co., and to commend them in the class of service they furnish to the trade, and assure everyone that when they buy oil and gas from them, they will get the very best.

ELECTRIC SERVICE CO.

Fixtures, appliances, light and power wiring and a complete service in electric motor repairing can be secured at this firm in Ann Arbor at 330 S. Main; Phone 3514.

The modern trend is toward electricity. This concern is prepared for the increase in sales and repairs of electric motors which is bound to follow in the trend of the electrifying of more and more machinery in garages, machine shops, lumber yards, and even in farm pumping plants.

All kinds of repair work on electric motors and generators and the rewinding and reuniting of motors and generators is done by this concern. A large stock of motors are always available for use while having yours repaired. They also have new, used and rebuilt motors for sale.

In many instances, the trouble is just some minor defect which can be remedied in a very short time when taken to a reliable shop such as this, but if not taken care of immediately or if taken to an amateur, serious trouble can and will develop. If you are going to town, stop here with your radio, and when you have finished your shopping they will have your set in the best condition for you to take home with you.

RENTSCHLER'S STUDIO

This popular art center is located at 319 E. Huron; Phone 5541.

During the last few hectic years, the greatest loss the average family has suffered is in its photographic record—especially that of growing children. Almost everything else that was lost can be replaced but the picture of your child as he was one, two or three years ago can never be taken now.

Truly it has been said: "Your friends can buy everything you can give them—except your photograph." And photographs are not expensive because the proprietors of this studio are prepared to serve you in the most efficient manner, at small cost.

They are leaders in their profession. Their work has elicited the highest commendation, especially among the prominent families of the community, and the studio is at the service of clients whenever they desire.

Ann Arbor Florists, Inc.

This popular Ann Arbor concern merits the consideration and trade of anyone interested in anything in the line of flowers. It is centrally located at 122 E. Liberty; Phone 6216.

A florist supplies a vital need in the life of the modern city, and this establishment, through its experience in serving the public for 16 years, has gained an enviable reputation, and without doubt has done its share to make famous the slogan: "Say it with flowers."

The management specializes in artistic floral designs. Those of our readers who desire special designs for parties, weddings, funerals, or any other occasion, should give this floral shop first consideration.

In making this business review of our progress, we wish to recommend this floral shop to all our readers as one worthy of their fullest consideration.

Hamburg

A few pupils in Hamburg village school braved the blizzards, zero and sub-zero weather during the month of February, to have their names appear on the honor roll for the month those pupils neither absent nor tardy during the month.

In Mrs. Grace Beebe Beckwith's room were: Glen Bennett, Edna DeWolf, Elsie DeWolf Betty Ann Kuchar, Arlene Lear, Donald Shannon and Edwin Shannon. III.

In Miss Helen Wenderlein's room: Jeanne Bennett, Donald Briggs, James Featherly, Ernestine Keenan, Kenneth Leach, Robert Moon, Mary Moore, Robert Moore, Rhoda Richmond and Lobby Roberts.

But three names remain on the honor roll for the year: Jeanne Bennett, Mary Moore and Robert Moore.

Miss Helen Wenderlein, teacher in the primary room of Hamburg village school, is ill at her home in the village.

Mrs. Mabelle Hildebrandt, of Howell, substituted for her during the past week, and is substituting this week. While Miss Wenderlein is better, she is not yet well enough to be on the job.

The Hamburg village school was a place of hilarity on the night of February 14, when a Valentine Party was given. Those present were: Bill Bennett, Glen Bennett, Edna DeWolf, Elvera Strong, Arlene Lear, Mary Charlotte Moon, Betty Ann Kuchar, Edwin Shannon III and Donald Shannon. The party was conducted by Mrs. Grace Beckwith, teacher of the High School.

The school room was beautifully decorated, in keeping with the festivities. The entertainment consisted of bean guessing contests, relay races, "my sheep comes from China, a valentine box, the box having bean made hearts for a prize. A deli ou lunch cookies and punch. Needless to say, by two of the pupils, and a hunt for a dozen of sandwiches, fruit jello, cake, everyone had a jolly time.

Dan J. Nozeker, Henry M. Queal, E. Clyde Dunning and Mr. Rutter were in Lansing Friday evening, where they attended a Republican rally of the sixth district, with approximately 800 in attendance from Ingham, Genesee and Livingston counties. The speakers were Charles Adams of Detroit, president of the Michigan League of Republican Clubs, and George S. Sibley, of New York, chairman of the eastern region of Young Republicans.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Blades and two daughters, Barbara and Billy, of Ann Arbor, were recent guests of Mr. Blades' parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Blades.

Mrs. Earl C. Lear and daughter, Hazel, her mother, Mrs. Elmira Bennett; sister, Mrs. John D. Moore, and niece, Mrs. Marvey McMichael visited Mrs. Bennett's son, Edward Bennett and family in Lansing. Mrs. Bennett remained for a more extended visit.

Mrs. Cleo Smith is at Middleton, where she is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adney Reynolds.

TOO SOON FOR CAR DATA COMPARISONS

Because of two factors, weather and time, which influenced the sale of 1936 automobile license plates and "stickers" accurate comparison of the number of motor vehicles to be licensed this year, with the total licensed in 1935 is impossible at this time.

This statement is made by Department of State officials as clerks clear their way through the huge volume of eleventh hour applications for 1936 plates and "half-year" stickers which were sold as the deadline approached.

The snowfall in many sections of the state was unprecedented in recent years. Many rural roads were blocked at the time when car owners in these areas might ordinarily buy their plates or "stickers." Until present road conditions improve, many motorists will not purchase plates or stickers until they are ready to again use their cars.

In 1935, the deadline for the purchase of plates or half-year stickers was moved forward to March 15. This action was taken in response to a resolution by the 1935 legislature then in session, and was regarded as a necessity. The printing of half-year stickers was held up until the legislature had by law made the plan a permanent one. Prior to that, authority to sell half-year stickers had been limited to expire in 1934.

However, because this year's deadline is 15 days earlier than last year's accurate comparisons of the number of cars to be licensed this year, with the number on the roads last year, cannot be made probably until the end of March, department officials print out.

BREAKFAST SETS TEMPO FOR DAY

Food More Important Than Getting Up From Right or Wrong Side of Bed.

A good breakfast is the best antidote for those "early-morning blues" according to Roberta R. Hershey, extension specialist in nutrition at Michigan State College, East Lansing.

A cheery atmosphere at the breakfast table is guaranteed to dispel that getting-up-early which ruins the rest of the day for many people, Miss Hershey declares.

"Did you ever sit down to a breakfast that failed to cheer you up when you were afflicted with the 'early-morning blues'?" she asks. "There is more psychological effect in a plate of piping hot muffins served to your family at 7 a. m. than in volumes of books written on the subject."

"A bright atmosphere at the breakfast table will do much toward starting your family off on a happy successful day. Breakfast is obviously the meal of the day that needs special thought and it is the one which usually little or none."

Miss Hershey recommends fruit, ware of any seed unless it has been tested and accurately tagged to comply with the seed law. Any seeds sold must carry an analysis tag on each bag. Usually, Thomson pointed out, untaged seeds sold in this manner have been turned down by regular dealers on account of the foul stuff it carries. This will be especially true this year, the Commissioner said, as seed is not plentiful.

CHAPTER VI—Continued

I had no time to close the casement itself. As the servant pushed open my door, I took my stand behind it, with my back to the wall.

When he found the room dark, he let out a grunt of surprise. For an instant he hung on the threshold, then he turned back to the passage and closed the door.

As his steps died away, I turned the handle once more. . . .

It was half past eight now, and the hall was dim.

I could hear no sound of talking, but I knew that Rush was yet in the sitting-room.

Then Bugle, pacing the apron, slipped into and out of my view.

It occurred to me that he was waiting for Rush to finish his meal; then the two would go off together and I should be left. Meanwhile Pharaoh was in action.

Rush was moving—I heard the scrape of his chair as he thrust it back. An instant later he made his way out of the house.

I heard him say something to Bugle and I saw him turn to the right.

As neither reappeared or started the car, it looked very much as though they were sitting down on the bench to the right of the steps. If I was right, then a man at the sitting-room window would be above and behind them and able, if they were talking, to overhear every word. Fate that had used me so rudely, played into my hands.

“Yes, I know that bit,” said Rush. “I’ve heard it before. But if he’s such a marvel, where’s Bohun gone? Bohun was bound to be here on Monday night. ‘Cos why? ‘Cos Pharaoh’d wired him—‘cos Pharaoh desired his presence. Well, that’s three days ago, an’ he ain’t here yet.”

“What’s Bohun matter?” said Bugle. “Er grace the Duchess of Sheba is what we want.”

“Who said he mattered?” said Rush. “I never said he mattered. Wot I said was that Pharaoh knows ‘ow to slip up. ‘Oh, don’t talk silly, you says. ‘Pharaoh’s a genius, and geniuses don’t slip up.’ ‘All right,’ I says. ‘Where’s Bohun?’ ‘In manifest dudgeon he sucked at his cigarette.’ ‘Pharaoh said he’d be here on Monday night. He near told us the soot of clothes he’d ‘ave on. Well, he isn’t here, is he? I don’t say Bohun matters, but I’d just as soon know where he is. He may be an artist, but he knows how to use a gun.”

“Now look ‘ere, Rush,” said Bugle, crossing his legs. “‘Ow many you can mention could of done wot Pharaoh’s done. Beg and beggane into that castle—the guest of the Count. Me an’ you here in the rooms wot the Willies ‘ad. No more one-eyed pubs; no landlords with sweaty necks; no cottagers stoppin’ an’ startin’; no watchin’ out; but everything smooth an’ ship-shape, an’ nothin’ to do but wait.”

“Wait?” screamed Rush. “I’ve waited long enough on this job. You can talk as much as you like, but we ain’t no nearer now than when we begun. Look at Dewdrop there, callin’ him ‘Sir’ an’ ‘Capting’ an’ standin’ behind his chair.”

“It’s all in the game,” said Bugle. “If—”

“Yes, I could play that game,” said Rush. “It’d suit me down to the socks. But who ever plays it but him? When he asks me in on this job he calls it ‘a change of air.’ ‘Soft as silk,’ was his words, ‘an’ a mayn’t even need your ‘elp. But you’d better be there,’ he says, ‘in case there’s a dobr wants openin’ before we’re through.’”

“You was took on as I was, an’ just as glad of the job. I want you, says Pharaoh—that’s all.”

“All?” yelled Rush. “Why—”

“All,” barked Bugle. “Before we met him in Paris, he never spoke of the job, an’ then he spoke to us all.” As the other sought to protest, he let out a terrible oath. “Why try an’ put it across me, you fool. Pharaoh don’t ask; he takes. That was his way—always, an’ I’ve known him longer than you. You talk as if you was his equal; he ain’t got no equal alive. We’re in his employment, we are. An’ if we play his game, he’ll make us—look at Long John. Six hundred a year and a pub, and I know that’s true.”

“Who wants a pub?” snarled Rush. “An’ who’s Mr. Pharaoh to pick an’ choose? He’s the boss, of course—that’s his job; but we’re not his servants.”

“All right, all right,” said Bugle, as though he were sick and tired of the other’s complaints. “Call it a game. Sign on with ‘im, an’ you’ve got to take wot’s comin’—that’s all I meant.”

“Yes, an’ wot is comin’?” said Rush. “That’s wot I wants to know. I judge a man by results. Three weeks to-morrow we’ve been here, an’ wot’s your Napoleon done? I’ll tell you.” Bugle groaned. “In the first place he’s been beat by a girl an’ a groom. He knew they was comin’, an’ he knew they was carryin’ gold; an’ they got away. If we’d roped the road, we’d of had them; but when I made the suggestion he tells me to shut my face. An’ wot else has he done—that counts? He’s let us all in for murder—that’s wot he’s done. As long as young Arthur walks, there’s a rope round each of our necks.”

“He won’t walk long,” said Bugle.

“Says you,” cried Rush. “Why we don’t even know where he is. Nor the girl. Nor Bohun—that was comin’ on Monday night. But we know where that groom is all right—an’ so do they.”

“You make me sick,” said Bugle. “You know just as well as me our luck’s been rank. ‘Ow many English narks would you look to find in an Austrian jungle at break o’ day? An’ another thing. Did you expect that we’d pick up a quarter of a million by takin’ a week-end trip?”

“In course I didn’t,” said Rush. “Wot I says is this. Up to date Pharaoh’s failed. Dress it up ‘ow you like, he’s lost every game.”

For the next 20 minutes they wrangled much as before, whilst I stood masked by a curtain that was not drawn.

At length Bugle got to his feet and crossed to the car. Then, to my great surprise, he opened a door and sat down in the driver’s seat. I watched him start the engine and switch on his lights, while Rush sat still below me, winding his watch. Bugle drove the car slowly forward, as though to go down to the bridge. Then he brought her to rest and got out, leaving his engine running and both of his headlights on.

As he sat down again below me, I understood his action and saw why the car was there.

The stone bridge was bathed in brilliance. No one could possibly cross it without being seen.

I think this must show that while they may have been experts in the planning and execution of ordinary crimes, in a campaign such as this had become the rogues were clean out of their depth. I was standing three feet behind them, but I had not used the bridge; and how could they think that because the bridge was denied him, a man who proposed to approach would turn round and go back?

“Ten minutes more,” Rush announced, “an’ I’m goin’ off. I’ve ‘ad enough o’ late nights. When I’ve nothin’ to do, I like to do it in bed.”

“I should keep your boots on,” said Bugle. “He’s comin’ back.”

There was a moment’s silence. Then—

“What?” screamed Rush. “Comin’ back?”

“That’s wot I said,” said Bugle.

“Wot for?”

With studied deliberation Bugle lighted his pipe.

“Dewdrop’s back,” he said.

“Where from?” said Rush. “I didn’t know he was gone.”

“Of course you didn’t,” said Bugle. “When Bohun never showed up, you’d ‘ave dropped that line. But that isn’t Pharaoh. That wire didn’t bring Bohun ‘ere, but it fetched ‘im out of his digs.” He paused to exhale luxuriously. “Dewdrop’s back from Salzburg—with a letter young Arthur’s wrote.”

“Wot, not sayin’ where he is?”

“An’ the Duchess of Sheba,” said Bugle. “Pharaoh’s gone off this evenin’ to rope the two of them in.”

CHAPTER VII

The Race to the Swift.

The rogues were at my mercy, but I had no thought for that. I was transfixed with horror, for the nightmare which I had rejected had become an accomplished fact.

Though Bugle and Rush were still speaking, I had no idea what they said, and when I looked at my watch I could not tell the time, because my wrist was shaking and the dial seemed a great way off.

Then the disorder passed, and my brain seemed to leap into life.

The car. I must get to the car. Pharaoh had had a start of an hour and a quarter or more, but I knew the way to the cottage better than he.

At once I saw that to thread the woods in the darkness would take me five times as long as to go by the lane. But the way to the lane was barred—barred by those cursed headlights that I had found so futile ten minutes ago.

For an instant I glanced about me. Then I picked up the lamp and hurried it into the grate.

The base of the lamp was of china and heavily built; the crash of its fall was frightful, and the flames leaped up like streamers, to lick the breast of the chimney within and without.

Now I had expected that Bugle and Rush would, both of them, make for the sitting-room door. And Bugle did. But Rush stood up on the bench, to look, instead, through the window I was proposing to use.

I suppose the fellow was lazy, and laziness brings no luck. Be that as it may, I hit him between the eyes before he could think and vaulted out of the casement on the flags.

And then I was in the closed car and was storming down to the bridge.

My journey may be imagined—I drove in a mist of fear. At every bend of the road I could see the sinister shadow of some mishap, but I wrung from that car a pace that she had not been built to give.

Enough that I entered the track at five minutes past ten and that eight minutes later I was stumbling across the clearing, to find the path to the cottage by the light of my torch.

“Do what you like,” said Freda. “I tell you she’s gone.”

“You know where she is,” said Pharaoh, and lighted a cigarette.

The man was sitting half on the table, swinging a leg; Freda was at the foot of the little staircase.

“You know where she is,” said Pharaoh, quietly enough.

“That I do not,” said Freda, and swung up her head. “Her man was gone, and she was but waiting for me, to give over the child.”

“Did she take the path to Witchcraft?”

“Nay,” said the forester’s wife, “she took the path that she knew.”

“Think again,” said Pharaoh smoothly, with his eyes upon Freda’s face. Crouching without the casement, I saw the girl wince before the ice of his tone; but though she was now very pale, she gave him back look for look. As I drew my pistol, I heard her steady reply.

“I tell you she took that path,” and, as she spoke, she pointed out of the window, directly over my head. And, as she pointed, she looked in the same direction—and saw my face.

She started ever so slightly, but that was more than enough.

As I leveled my weapon, Pharaoh swung round and fired but his pistol was yet in his pocket and his bullet went wide of my ear. And then in a flash he had swung himself off the table, and all the candles were out.

So I threw away a chance in a million.

That the forester’s wife should have seen me was sheer bad luck.

There was only one thing to be done, for the moonlight was all about me, and Pharaoh and Dewdrop could see me without being seen.

The Man Was Sitting Half on the Table.

I fell on my face, writhed my way into the shadows and darted across to a tree that stood some twelve paces off. And there, flat against the trunk, I took my stand, with my eyes on the door of the cottage which was full in the light.

I was ready now, at last, and the moment I saw the door move I fired at the latch. This had the effect I desired, for the door did not move again.

I was now as composed as I had been distracted, for the knowledge that my darling was safe had made me another man. My nerves were steady, my brain was clear, I felt like a giant refreshed, and I saw at once that my lady must be at Witchcraft, where she was waiting to stay me from hastening back to the cottage and so into Pharaoh’s arms.

One minute later I was behind the cottage and was running as fast as I could for the Witchcraft path.

I was more than halfway to the cross roads when Sabre touched my hand. With a leaping heart, I at once took hold of his collar and ran by his side. Thirty yards on he stopped.

“Nell,” I said quietly. “Nell.”

There was a rustle behind me. As I turned round, her arms went about my neck.

“I heard shots,” she breathed. “Not a scratch, my queen.”

“Thank God, thank God.”

She clung to me desperately. “Oh, John, I can’t spare you again. Ever since you left, I’ve been half out of my mind. You see . . . without you I’m beggared . . . you’re all I’ve got.”

Her tears were wet on my lips, as I strained her against my heart.

“Come along, my lady. We’ll talk when we’re out of the wood.”

Less than 10 minutes later I lifted the Rolls from a thicket and on to the road.

“Freda appeared,” said Helena, “at a quarter to eight. It seems that she missed her train in a final, frantic endeavor to do as we said. We told her to deliver the letter to Geoffrey or Barley alone. Ten times she took that letter to your cousin’s Salzburg address; 10 times she was asked to leave it, and 10 times the poor girl refused. When she had missed her train, she determined to try once more, and this time they managed to bluff her into giving it up. Well, the moment I heard her story, I knew that the damage was done, so Sabre and I made for Witchcraft as fast as ever we could. I confess I was rather worried. You see, though you didn’t know it, you and Pharaoh had now the same objective. It seemed extremely likely that you would use the same roads. And even when Pharaoh arrived—as he did, about half past nine—I couldn’t be sure that he’d missed you, for he might have dealt with you and come on for me. I watched him take the path. When they’d gone I made sure of the Rolls and came back to watch—and pray. The darkness was very trying, for the path, as you know, was in shadow and I had to watch for you both. And then, far away in the forest, I heard two shots. . . .”

Uncommon Sense

By John Blake

© Bell Syndicate.—WNU Service.

If somebody has done you what in common parlance is called “a dirty trick,” you will, if you are human, resent it, and you may make up your mind to get even at the earliest opportunity.

But by making such a resolution, and following it out, you will bring on yourself a weight of bitterness that will take the joy out of life until you wake up some day and discover how futile it is.

You do not get “mad” at a stone on the road which turns your ankle, or at a gust of wind which blows your hat off.

You do not fall into a fit of fury at a sidewalk on which you slip and hurt yourself.

Why, then, should you trouble yourself about slights or injustices from other people?

As soon as you get angry, you lose your power to think.

If your grievance is caused by somebody else it will not be lightened by punching him on the nose the first time you see him.

Here you are in a world filled with all manner of people.

Some of them will be friendly, some quite the reverse.

It is easy enough to keep away from those who are not friendly.

Just avoid them, and you will destroy their ability to do you any further damage.

But if you sit up nights to dislike them, and plan how you are going to revenge yourselves on them, you are going to have a pretty disagreeable time until you learn better.

As soon as you learn not to be bothered with annoyances, big or little, the sooner you will find that this world can be made an extremely pleasant place in which to live and move and have your being.

I remember when I was a young man seeing two belligerent men pummeling each other with their fists—both of them getting hurt in the process.

When the battle was over I asked a bystander what it was about, and was told that the row started over an argument regarding the price of flour.

Probably neither of them cared very much about the price of flour, but the dispute they had engaged in embittered them both, and after they had begun calling each other ignoramuses and fatheads, they sought to settle the dispute with blows, and as a result became permanent enemies.

Make up your mind that some people are so galled that they cannot be friendly or agreeable. Then keep away from them.

Trying to get even for old grudges has just lately brought on a great and highly destructive war.

Nobody with hatred in his heart can be happy.

Crime waves are due to lack of imagination on the part of the people.

There is no Criminals crook, no matter how clever—and very few crooks are clever—who could last for a week if the public once made up its mind to put him out of business.

The reason that they continue to “gang up” on the populace, is that the populace merely reads of their raids and their killings, observes “how dreadful” and turns to something else.

Any man who is afraid to make an honest living is a coward.

The men who have terrorized the country for the past eight or ten years are usually “hopped up” when they go out to rob and kill or plunder.

They are just keen enough to keep in a hideout until they see a good chance for a hold up, or for the robbery of valuable goods. Then, with their stock of machine guns, their knowledge of the whereabouts of the officers of the law, and their seemingly reckless disregard of capture, they rob a bank, run away with a truckload of treasure, and then go into a hide-out until the public has forgotten all about them—and that never takes very long.

Sometime or other the inhabitants of this country will become sufficiently terrified to do something, as did the Vigilantes in the gold days in the West.

Sometime they will begin to understand that such people, if sufficient force is used by an adequate number of law enforcement officers, can’t possibly win.

I was a reporter in Portland, Ore., when two men of the highwayman type fought and shot their way out of a penitentiary. They succeeded in getting as far as Puget Sound, killing many people as they went.

But one of them, Tracy, became suspicious of his pal Merrill, and shot him.

Tracy went on alone, traveled in a boat from near Olympia to Seattle, where he shot three more people, and then made his way to eastern Washington.

There he was run down and shot. He was an ignorant man and might easily have been captured had he been really hunted. But few people understood what a menace he was.

When the public really wakes up, crooks of the highwayman stripe will find the country too hot to hold them.

Find Out

From Your Doctor if the “Pain” Remedy You Take Is Safe.

Don’t Entrust Your Own or Your Family’s Well-Being to Unknown Preparations

BEFORE you take any preparation you don’t know all about, for the relief of headaches; or the pains of rheumatism, neuritis or neuralgia, ask your doctor what he thinks about it—in comparison with Genuine Bayer Aspirin.

We say this because, before the discovery of Bayer Aspirin, most so-called “pain” remedies were advised against by physicians as being bad for the stomach; or, often, for the heart. And the discovery of Bayer Aspirin largely changed medical practice.

Countless thousands of people who have taken Bayer Aspirin year in and out without ill effect, have proved that the medical findings about its safety were correct.

Remember this: Genuine Bayer Aspirin is rated among the fastest methods yet discovered for the relief of headaches and all common pains . . . and safe for the average person to take regularly.

You can get real Bayer Aspirin at any drug store—simply by never asking for it by the name “aspirin” alone, but always saying BAYER ASPIRIN when you buy.

A SURE CHECK TO SOIL LOSS SEED FOR ERODED LANDS

The Soil Conservation Service has collected approximately 2,300,000 pounds of tree and shrub seed and 700,000 pounds of grass seed. The grass seed, together with acorns, walnuts and hickory nuts, will be planted on demonstration areas. Most of the tree seed will be used for nursery planting. Restoration of vegetation to acres damaged by erosion is one of the surest ways to check further soil losses.

WHY YOU WANT TO YAWN WHEN YOU SEE OTHERS DOING IT

Pointing out the discovery recently made by scientists which indicates that this useless habit has its origin in an ancient brain center, inherited from our fish ancestors, which is similar to the brain centers that make people blush or go into panics. This interesting article appears in The American Weekly with Sunday's Dispatch Times.

Of course, a lot of people use checking accounts, but there are a great many who do not. Those who do not are influenced, perhaps, by the service charge on balances falling below $100.00. It is our plea, that you who could not maintain a $100.00 balance throughout any given month could save more than the cost of the service charge for several months by having a check as a receipt for a bill paid. In such a case the service charge has been good insurance.

Many concerns require payment of bills by bank draft or certified check. If you have a commercial account you may have your check certified without charge. Again you have made a saving.
