Another Fire Here Last Week

Dr. C. L. Sigler's Office Damaged By Fire Last Friday. Local Fireman Suffers Broken Ankle

Friday noon, the one-story office building of Dr. C. L. Sigler on Main Street in this village was discovered to be on fire. The fire engine made the run to the fire in good time and after a couple of hours' hard work the blaze was extinguished.

The building is heated by a hot air furnace and the blaze evidently started from this, as when first discovered by one of the nurses from the Sanitarium next to the office building, flames were bursting thru the floor near the register.

The blaze proved to be a stubborn one to battle as the fire got into the attic and inside the partitions. It was necessary to chop openings into these places to get at the fire. Consequently, the structure suffered much damage from fire, smoke and water. Most of the articles were removed from the building except the McCaskey, desk and bookkeeping system and the safe, which were too large. The high school boys aided materially in this part of the work. Through their efforts most of the contents of the drug room were saved together with the office furniture.

There was one accident connected with the fire. Leo Lavey attempted to board the moving fire truck as it started for the fire. He slipped off the running board and fell on the pavement, spraining his ankle. He was taken to the sanitarium where the injury was x-rayed.

Dr. Sigler has moved his office to the Pinckney Sanitarium, where it will be until further notice.

THE WEBBERVILLE SPEED TRAP AGAIN

The attorney general's office, under pressure from prominent Detroit motorists, has taken a high handed way of settling the Webberville traffic problem. In Webberville, it is necessary for the school children to cross the street. Outside motorists persisted in driving through the village at the rate of 50 and 60 miles per hour. Last November the village council put up a traffic light and passed an ordinance providing for a traffic officer and a judge. Many speeding motorists were hauled into court and fined, including a number of prominent Detroiters. They put pressure to bear on the state administration. First, the state highway department extended the time between the changing of the light from amber to red. Then the attorney general suspended Traffic Officer Briggs and Justice Walters and abolished the traffic court on the grounds it was illegal. It was charged that Walters kept no court docket and no record of the fines collected. Neither he nor Briggs drew wages, but split the fines collected between them. Briggs getting two-thirds and Walters one-third. Now the Webberville council is trying to work out another plan to curb speeders.

This same thing happened in other places before. Brighton, a few years back, started a war on speeders. Among those arrested were Gov. Fred Green's chauffeur and Wilbur Brucker, then attorney general. This resulted in Justice Calhoun being removed from office. He was later re-elected. The village of Dexter installed a traffic light several years ago. However, they never hired a traffic officer and therefore have not got into difficulties with the powers that be.

CIRCUIT COURT SESSION

Although court is in session at Howell this week, there will be no jury cases, as the jury was dismissed until the May term. Only chancery and non-jury cases are being tried. Judge Collins handed down his decision in the case of R. K. Elliott vs. the township clerks of Putnam and Howell townships. Some years ago Elliott tried to get transferred from the House school district to the Hicks district. The township boards first refused and then held another meeting and granted his request. Judge Collins ruled this second meeting illegal, as no notices were posted and therefore the transfer illegal.

The bastardy case of the people vs. Wm. Smythe was settled.

Mary Cotton was given a judgment against Albert McClatchy in a suit to quiet a land title.

The following divorces were granted: Edna Norman one from Theodore Norman; Theda from Paul Urban; and Maude from Claude Mummery.

O. E. S. DANCE

Rev. Lewis Dion Is Honored by Parish

Over 100 Members of St. Mary's Church Meet At Rectory Friday Night to Bid Farewell to Rev. Lewis Dion.

Last Friday night the members of St. Mary's Parish gave Rev. Lewis Dion a farewell party at the rectory here. About 100 persons were present. The evening was spent in visiting and a very enjoyable evening was passed by all. Gorman Kelly, in behalf of the parish, presented Rev. Dion with a purse of $115. A poem in honor of Rev. Dion, written by Mrs. Wilhelmina Swartnout, is given at the end of this article.

Rev. Fr. Dion ended a pastorate of six years in Pinckney today, when he left for Gaines where he has been appointed. He will be succeeded here by Rev. James Carolan of Durand, who will arrive here today. At Gaines, Rev. Dion has a big job ahead of him. He is to unite the two parishes of Deerfield and Oceola and also the two parishes of Gaines and Durand. Rev. Fr. Kissane, whom he succeeds at Gaines, was also pastor at Deerfield, Deerfield and Oceola are country parishes. Durand, although quite a city, has a smaller parish than Pinckney. Previous to coming to Pinckney, Rev. Dion was in the thumb district where he had charge of the parishes of Ruth and Argyle. He has been a hard working aggressive priest and has modernized and remodeled both church and rectory during his pastorate here. He leaves affairs here in an excellent condition. Rev. Dion was an easterner, his boyhood days being spent in New England. His brother, Joseph, is also a member of the Catholic priesthood and he has a sister who has entered the convent.

OUR GRATITUDE TO FATHER DION

In our memories you shall have a part. With friends old and new, But in our hearts you've won a Lasting space reserved for you. Hearts full of tenderness, hand-shakes to luck. St. Mary's doth extend, For in our times of death, ah, sickness too, You've ever been our friend.

Delinquent Tax Sale Set for May 5

7,300 Pieces of Property in This Co. Listed for Sale. 67 Pieces of Farm Land in Putnam Township Are on the List.

Unless the circuit court grants the injunction asked in Jackson county, a tremendous amount of property in Michigan will be sold for delinquent taxes on May 5, 1936. There is some doubt as to the legality of the sale, as the descriptions of the land were not published; the owners were not notified; and the property is being sold for 1933 taxes. However, if the court does not grant the injunction, the sale will undoubtedly be held.

In all counties it has been necessary to add an extra force to the county treasurer's office to get the descriptions ready. In Jackson county the cost of getting ready for the sale is estimated at $25,000. We have seen no estimate for this county. Several extra clerks have been hired here. We visited the treasurer's office Saturday. We were told that the bulk of the property to be sold is not city and lake subdivisions, but that farm and city lands listed are about 50-50. In Putnam township alone, 67 pieces of farm land are listed. Some of them belong to well-to-do farmers who, for some reason or other, do not seem to have checked up on their taxes. We took a list of the names, whom anyone interested, can see at this office. If you are not sure your taxes have been paid, it would be a good idea to check up on it. Otherwise, the next thing you know a tax title shark will be calling on you with a tax title to your property, and it will cost you money to get it.

The village and lake resort property in this township has not yet been computed. When it is, we will inform our readers.

BOARD OF COMMERCE AUCTION SALE

The Pinckney Board of Commerce will hold a big auction rummage sale on town meeting day, April 6. Look through your garrets. Bring in that stuff that is useless to you. It will be of use to someone. List all articles with the Secretary of the Board of Commerce.

PRIMARY SCHOOL FUND FIGHT

Supt. of Instruction Elliott and Budget Director Thompson have taken their fight over the primary school fund to Attorney General Crowley for a decision.

Under the Thatcher bill the state, for this fiscal year is to provide $36,040,000 for the public school system. Of that amount $15,500,000 is primary school money. The balance is appropriated from the general fund of the state. When the legislature closed its session an amendment to the general appropriation bill giving the governor the right to make a blanket cut in all appropriations of 5 percent was approved. Thompson wants that 5 percent cut to apply to the entire school appropriation of $36,040,000. Mr. Elliott will not agree to any such plan.

Elliott says the primary school fund is created by the state constitution and is not subject to any executive reduction or veto. Thompson insists the reduction should apply to the full amount of the 1935-36 appropriation.

The two state officers are just $775,000 apart. Thompson's cut would mean a reduction of $1,902,000 while Elliott's cut would be $1,027,000.

MRS. CARL WHITEHEAD

A good attendance enjoyed the Sunday services in the church basement, and the Lenten sermons by our pastor are very helpful. It is expected that we can again meet in the church auditorium next week.

All strangers in our community are invited to fellowship with us, and the Philatheas welcome you to the Sunday group, and other class functions. ## Current Comment

All counties have their troubles. California police recently arrested one, William Hayden, wanted at Ann Arbor for the arrest of Patrolman Clifford Stang, a year ago. Prosecutor Kapp, Chief of Police Foley, and Sergeant Mortenson at once prepared to leave for California to bring him back. When they went to Auditor L. O. Cushing for an expense check of $1,000, he flatly refused, saying two men were enough for the job. So much time was lost in argument that the officers missed their train. It was finally compromised by the City of Ann Arbor paying Chief Foley's expenses. L. O. Cushing then issued a check for $750. This same trouble cropped up in this county over the bringing back of Frechette and Hanson from California and was also settled by compromise.

And now is Governor Fitzgerald to be Michigan's favorite son for the presidential nomination? Well, didn't he balance the budget? What further claim has Kansas' Landon to a place in the sun?

Bill Canfield, Liv. Co. Press. "You are right, Bill. There is only one way to balance the budget and that is to levy enough taxes. Here in Michigan, although the state payroll increased over two million dollars in 1935, the tremendous sums of money poured into the state treasury by the sales tax and the liquor tax enabled the state to show a big surplus. The Kansas problem was probably solved in a similar way, as somewhere have we read that Gov. Landon has reduced the state payroll."

Now we read that Gov. Fitzgerald has been offered the Republican vice-presidency, providing that he can get Senator Vandenberg to withdraw from the presidential race. This reminds one of the story about the Devil promising the Lord the world. In the first place Senator Vandenberg has not entered the presidential race as yet, and in the second place the vice-presidential nominee will be an eastern man, as all indications show that the Republican candidate for president will be from the west. Senator Vandenberg at the present time holds the most strategic position in the presidential contest. He may not win, but he holds the balance of power.

Several Jackson lawyers have joined in an attempt to stop the proposed delinquent tax sale by the State of Michigan on May 5. They allege that the sale will cost the state $2,000,000, and that it will cost Jackson county $25,000 with no results. They further allege that no descriptions of the property were published, and the circuit court has no right to authorize such a sale as such rights were repealed. Judge Simpson will hand down his decision in a few days.

The Detroit Times, commenting on the auto license plate matter, states there are still 20,000 cars without 1936 plates in use in Detroit. So far police have been lenient. Just why there should be a game of bluff over the issuance of license plates each year, is a question. The present system is all wrong and it is to create a disrespect for the law. Why not try another method? Offer a discount to all persons buying license plates in November and December, and thus make it worth while for people to get their plates early instead of only rewarding "procrastinators."

Big Hank Greenberg of the Detroit Tigers is a holdout for more wages this spring, and the Detroit papers are running the usual line of balldrool. They are boasting one, Rudy York, who is essaying to fill Hank's shoes, to the sky. He, they claim is a second Greenberg. York is a big buster, who has been in and out of the big leagues several times. Last time Detroit had him he was a catcher. So, dear reader, in all probability when July 1 rolls around York will be back in the minor leagues and Greenberg will be on first base for Detroit.

GROWTH IN CUBBING, SCOUTING AND SENIOR SCOUTING PREDICTED

Spring Months Are Time of Growth, Scout Executive Says.

Predicting the formation of several cub packs, scout troops, and senior scout groups in this vicinity, Scout Executive Walter MacPeck said yesterday. "The three programs are available for use. In every case there needs to be some organization ready and responsible to carry on the group. Often this organization is a church, PTA, American Legion Post, Service Club, or other agency at work in the community."

Cubbing Forging Ahead

Six cub groups are already at work in Ann Arbor, with others started in Ypsilanti, Brighton, Dexter, and elsewhere. Cubing is a home centered program for 9, 10, and 11 year old boys.

Senior Scouting. There are now four Sea Scout groups, and four Explorer groups in the Washtenaw-Livingston Council. Scouts over fifteen are grouped into senior groups whenever feasible, in order to give them an advanced type of training.

The Man Who Knows

Whether the Remedy You are taking for Headaches, Neuralgia or Rheumatism Pains is SAFE is Your Doctor. Ask Him

Don't Entrust Your Own or Your Family's Well-Being to Unknown Preparations

BEFORE you take any preparation you don't know all about, for the relief of headaches, or the pains of rheumatism, neuralgia, ask your doctor what he thinks about it—in comparison with Genuine Bayer Aspirin.

We say this because, before the discovery of Bayer Aspirin, most so-called "pain" remedies were advised against by physicians as being bad for the stomach; or, often, for the heart. And the discovery of Bayer Aspirin largely changed medical practice.

Countless thousands of people who have taken Bayer Aspirin year in and out without ill effect, have proved that the medical findings about its safety were correct.

Remember this: Genuine Bayer Aspirin is rated among the fastest methods yet discovered for the relief of headaches and all common pains... and safe for the average person to take regularly.

You can get real Bayer Aspirin at any drug store—simply by never asking for it by the name "aspirin" alone, but always saying BAYER ASPIRIN when you buy.

Italy Wins Another Battle and Talks About Peace

FROM the Italian army on the northern front in Ethiopia comes the news that the invaders have defeated the natives in a series of severe combats and have reached and taken the mountain stronghold of Amba Alaji. The Ethiopian losses are estimated at 10,000 dead and many more wounded. The Tembien region is now completely in the hands of the Italians and their way to the center of the country is fairly clear.

Dispatches from Addis Ababa admitted that the Italians also were advancing rapidly in the southern part of the country and said Ras Desta Denu's army and large numbers of warriors from all over the south were gathering to try to stop them. Marshal Badoglio's troops in the north were besieging Abbi Addi, 25 miles west of Makale and the 5,000 Ethiopians there were said to be facing surrender or extermination.

With these successes on the military side, Mussolini was reported to be losing economically because of the increasing pressure of the various sanctions against Italy. Because of his weakened position at home, it was said in Geneva and Paris he probably would be disposed to negotiate peace if terms satisfactory enough to save his face are proposed.

The sanctions committee of the League of Nations unexpectedly decided that Mussolini should be asked once more whether he is ready to discuss peace; and it was understood that if he said no, the league would proceed to impose an embargo on oil. Such a step, Mussolini has repeatedly asserted, would mean war in Europe.

Emperor Haile Selassie, according to Geneva dispatches, sent a message to Great Britain, offering to discuss peace on the basis of the status quo, letting Italy retain the territory she has occupied, provided King Edward will act as intermediary.

Japan Military Revolt Ends in Failure

JAPAN was calming down after the amazing revolt and attempted coup d'etat of a thousand soldiers led by a group of young "fascist" officers who thought the Okada government was hampering the military progress of the nation. So far as can be judged at this distance, the net results of the uprising were: Admiral Viscount Makoto Saito, former premier and lord keeper of the privy seal; Korekiyo Takahashi, minister of finance, and Gen. Jotaro Watanabe, chief of military education, were assassinated by the rebels. Premier Okada escaped death, his brother-in-law being mistaken for him and slain. The mutineers, threatened by loyal troops and the fleet, obeyed an edict by Emperor Hirohito and surrendered. Of their 23 leaders, two committed suicide and the rest were put in prison to await probable trial by court martial.

One other important result is likely to follow the uprising, and that is the formation of a new government more national in character and including some able military men. That is what the army wants, not caring especially who is premier. Okada, after emerging from his place of hiding, offered his resignation, but the emperor commanded him to carry on for the present.

It may be Japan will really be the gainer for the revolt, but it suffered one great loss in the death of Takahashi, who was a financial genius.

The whole affair emphasizes the fact that the Japanese do not look with disfavor on assassinations and suicides that are motivated by "patriotism."

Building Service Strike Cripples New York

MORE than 150,000 workers in 11,000 buildings in New York City were called out on strike by James J. Bambrick, president of the Building Service Employees' International union, and the skyscrapers from the Battery to Washington Heights were badly crippled. Elevator men stopped their cars, furnace men banked their fires and scrubwomen threw down their mops, and all marched out of the buildings and formed picket lines. There was some scattered fighting between the pickets and men hastily hired to take their places, but the entire police force of the city was mobilized in a hurry to preserve the peace.

For almost a month the union leaders and building operators had been trying in vain to reach an agreement that would avert the strike. Bambrick said that he called the strike said the owners must now sign the union terms and that he would accept no calls for arbitration. Each building, he asserted, must sign for itself.

Since the strike affected not only office buildings but innumerable apartment buildings also, the occupants of the latter were deprived of heat and telephone connections, and in many cases sick persons were marooned without food supplies. This led Mayor La Guardia to call the city health officials into conference, and to declare a civic emergency and order Health Commissioner Rice to see that fires were stoked and that trips necessary to health of the tenants and care of the sick were made in all residence buildings of more than six floors.

Union officials in Akron, Ohio, warned the law enforcement officials there that a general strike would be called in that city if force were used to break the strike blockade by pickets at the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company plant. About 14,000 workers of Akron are idle because of the strike, which was started in protest against layoffs which the company said were seasonal reductions in production.

Boulder Dam Turned Over to the Government

COMPLETED two and one-half years ahead of schedule, Boulder dam and its power houses were turned over to the reclamation service. The job was the biggest single contract ever executed for the government. There was no ceremony in the transfer. Frank Crowe, construction superintendent for the Six Companies, Inc., contractors, said to Ralph Lowry, reclamation service engineer: "Take it; it's yours now," and that was all.

The dam and power houses are done, but there is plenty of work on the entire project remaining to keep the government engineers busy for a long time. The Six Companies received $54,500,000, and the total cost will be $165,000,000.

Putting New Farm Bill Into Quick Operation

IMMEDIATELY after President Roosevelt signed the new soil conservation-farm relief act passed to take the place of the invalidated AAA, Administrator Chester C. Davis began planning ways to spend the $500,000,000 authorized.

Under his orders more than five thousand employees of the AAA who had been waiting since January 6 for something to do got busy placing the new program into effect.

The goal of the new law, Mr. Roosevelt said in announcing his signature, is parity, not of farm prices, but of farm income. He said the New Deal has "not abandoned and will not abandon" the principle of equality for agriculture.

The President, in a formal statement, stressed three "major objectives" of the program which he said are "inseparably and of necessity linked with the national welfare." They were:

1. "The conservation of the soil itself through wise and proper land use."
2. "The re-establishment and maintenance of farm income at fair levels so that the great gains made by agriculture in the last three years can be preserved and national recovery continue."
3. "The protection of consumers by assuring adequate supplies of food and fiber now and in the future."

Davis planned, as the first move, a series of four conferences with agricultural leaders in Memphis, Chicago, New York and Salt Lake City to formulate plans to take 30,000,000 acres out of commercial production this year and place them in legumes and other soil conserving crops.

The new law provides benefit payments to farmers who co-operate in federal suggestions for conservation of soil fertility in 1936 and 1937. It provides, also, for federal subsidies to states setting up permanent state programs in 1938 and thereafter.

Federal Judge Ritter Impeached by House

ARTICLES of impeachment against Federal Judge Halsted L. Ritter of the Southern district of Florida were voted by the house of representatives. The vote was 181 to 148. The judge is accused of accepting $4,500 from a former law partner who collected $50,000 in fees in Ritter's court.

This impeachment is the twelfth voted by the house in American history. Of the 11 men previously impeached eight have been judges, one a senator, another a cabinet officer, and the other was a President, Andrew Johnson. Only three, all judges, were found guilty by the senate, which sits as the court in such cases.

Breckinridge in Ohio's Democratic Primary

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT apparently isn't going to have the Democratic presidential primary in Ohio all to himself. C. A. Weinman of Columbus announced he had received petitions signed by Col. Henry Breckinridge of New York, to enter his name, and said he would at once set about getting the necessary 1,000 signatures from 30 counties. This does not mean an attempt to get pledged convention delegates, there being in Ohio a separate Presidential preference ballot. Breckinridge is a member of the American Liberty league, and is attorney for Col. Charles A. Lindbergh.

Lansing—The fifteenth annual Citizens' Military Training Camps for Michigan will be conducted from July 2 to 31 inclusive, Maj. Wharton G. Ingram has announced. Camp Custer at Battle Creek has been selected for training infantry and cavalry candidates; Fort Brady at Sault Ste. Marie, for Upper Peninsula residents, and Camp McCoy in Wisconsin, for the field artillery candidates.

Port Sanilac—One of the diminishing number of Indian landmarks in Southern Michigan, an Indian burying ground, is becoming a summer playground. It was the burial place for the followers of Chief Pontiac and for redskins before and after Pontiac's rule. For years, it was a treasure trove for hunters of Indian relics, but now it has been so paved over that scarcely a sign of its original use remains.

Dowagiac—A partial revival of the old apprenticeship plan, designed to do away with a portion of the severe indictment against American education, is about to be instituted in Dowagiac schools. Steps have been taken to form an instruction course to train pupils for jobs. The next steps in the classes will be outlining of subject matter to be studied and the formation of "out of school, on school time, trade training" projects.

Lansing—Protests from the Ann Arbor Chamber of Commerce and the Ypsilanti Board of Commerce against the proposed discontinuance of the Michigan Central Railroad's commuter service of Detroit have been made to the State Public Utilities Commission. The two organizations contend that the company now has 40 regular passengers for its 7:45 a. m. train, enough to support its operation. Their briefs set forth that the service is indispensable to commuting business men.

Bozette City—Despite the fact that some of the famous smelt streams still are choked up with winter ice, plans are going forward in communities, both in the Lower and Upper Peninsulas, for the annual celebrations which are held in connection with the gathering of sportsmen who enjoy wading out into the icy waters and dipping up these little fish. Some festivals are expected to be held this season in Bozette City, Beulah, and East Jordan in the Lower Peninsula, and in Escanaba and Menominee in the Upper Peninsula.

Kalamazoo—Swooping down upon the Wolf Lake Hatchery near Kalamazoo, merganser ducks and herring killed every Montana grayling in the pond there in an almost unprecedented fashion. There were several hundred grayling, from 10 to 14 inches long, which were being held for propagation and planting, after being raised from imported eggs at great cost and effort. Loss of these adult fish means that Michigan's plans for propagation and planting Montana grayling are all off for at least two years.

Ann Arbor—A descendant of Fletcher Christian, who led a mutiny on H. M. S. Bounty way back in the time of King George III and ended his days in exile on a lonely South Sea Island, was a recent patient at University Hospital. He is Archie McLiver, 51 years old, of Benton Harbor. He relates that his mother was the great-granddaughter of Fletcher Christian, and migrated from Pitcairn's Island to Norfolk Island in 1856 when her birthplace would no longer support its growing population.

Lansing—The worst winter in decades through which Michigan is passing may prove to be a blessing in disguise for tourist, resort and marine interests, say State officials. The State Stream Control Commission has concluded that serious damage threatened by low levels on lakes and streams has now been definitely averted. The credit goes to the heavy snows and zero weather. Similar optimism was expressed by the Department of Conservation. Higher water levels in the inland lakes are almost assured for the next few years.

Uncommon Sense

By John Blake
© Bell Syndicate—WNU Service

Man has attained an ascendancy on this earth because he reasons.

Use Your Reason
Of all the creatures on earth he alone is able to think consecutively.

I admit that many of his tribe reason a very little.

But, unless they are morons, they can use their reasoning faculty, and if they don't, they alone are to blame.

If you do not make use of your reasoning power, you have no one but yourself to answer for it.

In spite of the Declaration of Independence, I submit that all human beings are not born equal.

But they all have an equal chance to live and to learn and to think out their own problems.

Use that mind of yours. Keep it open. Keep it busy. Keep it active.

Take nothing for granted.

There is an old proverb to the effect that a man has two eyes and two ears, but only one tongue for a definite purpose.

Begin by learning to use your own language clearly and effectively.

There is nothing that will help you more on your way up the ladder than the ability to use words well and clearly.

Cultivate as far as it is possible the acquaintance of men and women who think deeply and speak well.

Read as much and as widely as it is possible.

All the world's wisdom up to this time can be found in books.

You need not learn alone from your own experience.

The experience of others is yours to employ whenever you are willing to take the trouble.

Wrestle with your own problems before you apply for help from others.

Make the acquaintance, and if possible gain the regard of intelligent busy people, who have mastered their own problems, and are usually willing to be of help to others.

There is so much to be gained from life that it is a shame to neglect it.

You may not leave the record of your achievement on the sands of time. But you will at least get what there is to be got out of this life, and that is a great deal.

It is natural said a great American orator "to indulge in the illusions of hope."

Hope isn't enough right word.

Hope always is an illusion. Through all time it has functioned as does the will-o-the-wisp, that little dab of ignited marsh gas which you sometimes see moving over bogs if you go out in the night in the summer time.

The man who indulges in the illusions of hope will never be rich, or important, or even moderately successful.

He gambles with his life as a professional gambler plays his game, with the difference that the professional gambler knows he is going to win—for he operates an apparatus which can't lose, while the illusion holder is lucky if he ever wins at all.

It stands to reason that if you know your own business and practice it that you will have more chance of success than if you try too much some other fellow's game.

Yet there are thousands, probably millions of people in this country who imagine that they can by using some kind of a "system" get rich quickly and continue to keep the money rolling in.

The psychology of such people is curious.

Having no knowledge whatever of the stock market, they put their savings into it without consulting intelligent men in Wall Street, lose it, repine for a little while, and then when they get a little more money through hard work go through the same process again, and once more are stripped of all they have.

Back your hope with knowledge and experience and you stand a reasonable chance of succeeding in the enterprise in which you have embarked.

Back it on tips, or your own "hunch" that experience is not necessary to enable you successfully to play some other man's game, and you will soon be going to your friends for help which you ought not to be given and which in all probability you will not be given.

In gambling houses, in the brokers' rooms where tickers count out the hours, you will find dozens of forlorn and poor but always hopeful men—and sometimes women.

What they live on I don't know. But it cannot be anything substantial for they are a sad and disconsolate set of people.

Why should anybody think that a game that thousands of people have played successfully can be beaten by a lucky guess or two?

Why should they think that luck will go over the heads of many deserving but unfortunate people and single out the abjecting gambler for its capital prizes?

Crocheting an Afghan, Tomorrow's Heirloom

PATTERN 5254

What more conducive to "forty winks" than this duffy, lacy afghan! Its crocheted warmth will ward off the most treacherous draughts, its color brighten and gladden any room it adorns. A very simple pattern to follow, too. The stripes look like tiny daisies strung together, and are in a crochet stitch which busy hands and needle soon learn to do by heart. Lovely in three shades of one color, it is also effective with each stripe a different color.

In pattern 5254 you will find directions for making the afghan; an illustration of it and of the stitches used; material requirements, and color suggestions.

Anne Louise Reinzi, of Boston, could talk fluently in seven languages. But for more than 25 years she uttered not a single syllable of one of them to a living soul!

In 1910 she became a recluse, locking the door of her home to all visitors. Gas, electricity and water companies had to turn off supplies because she refused to admit their inspectors. Recently kindly neighbors grew anxious when she was not seen about. Police were called, battered down doors, found her lying on the floor with a fractured leg. She was rushed to a hospital, where she died, aged ninety.—Pearson's Weekly.

CONSERVATION NOTES

A compilation of incomplete reports received up to February 20 on the sales of 1935 resident, non-resident, non-resident temporary and "wire" fishing licenses revealed total sales of $50,837 licenses.

Sale of pelts on which bounties were paid during 1935 netted a total of $2,982.45, which was placed in the state game-protection fund. Eighteen hunters lost their lives as a result of gun accidents in the woods during the 1935-1936 small-game and deer hunting seasons in Michigan. Three fatalities occurred during the deer season and 15 during the small-game hunting seasons.

NO LICENSE REQUIRED

No license is required by the Department of Conservation for the use of launches or boats with outboard motors on inland waters or waters of the Great Lakes, except when such boats are used for commercial fishing.

Many inquiries are received by the Department each year pertaining to this matter, especially from non-resident persons.

CONSERVATION ED. PROGRAM

Beginning with a tour of the upper peninsula that will start with the first week of April, a Conservation exhibit will be routed to include eventually practically every town in Michigan, the Department of Conservation announced today.

The exhibit is one of the most comprehensive and educational ever designed and is primarily for the purpose of interesting school children in conservation and instructing them in the identification of wildlife and various conservation problems.

Included are specimens of practically every fish found in Michigan waters; all game birds, waterfowl and predatory birds; murals, depicting various phases of conservation; specimens of various fur-bearing animals; types of traps and traps used in the state and models of forest-fire detectors and fighting equipment.

With the exhibit will be continuous showings of Department conservation motion pictures.

In most instances the exhibit will be housed in school buildings for the convenience of school children during the day hours. It will be open to the public each evening.

DAIRY FARMERS FIND PROFIT IN SWAPPING BULLS

College Extension Staff Recommends Small Expenditure To Keep Mature Bulls Under Control in Pens.

Too many mature bulls in dairy herds in Michigan have been shipped to beef markets before their real value as sires has been known, says A. C. Baltzer, extension dairyman at Michigan State College. Swapping of bulls among farmers is increasing and is being recommended by the animal husbandry department at the college.

"Farmers who sell dairy bulls because of fear that the animals are dangerous as they become mature, are correct in protecting lives, but fail to realize that as little as a $20 investment in a bull pen will pay for itself immediately," says Mr. Baltzer.

He cites the prices prevailing in Michigan for the average young and mature bulls. Many dairymen are paying $125 to $150 for a young bull six months to a year of age. At six months many of these bulls are sold as beef and are priced at around $100, although as breeders they may be worth as much or more than the younger animals which have displaced them in herds.

Dairy herd improvement associations in the state now number 51, with 14,000 cows and 1,008 herds under test. The cow testers report that 88 bulls were "swapped" or traded in January by farmers who are exchanging breeding lines in the belief that more bulls eventually will be that more bulls eventually will be proved according to their daughter's yields.

Dairy herds are being culled at a high rate, says Mr. Baltzer, in commenting on the reports received from the 51 cow testers. Herds are gaining an increasing percentage of cows which are producing at least 50 lbs. of butterfat in a month. In addition, dairymen reduced their feed costs per hundredweight of milk in January, according to a comparison with December figures, and with those for a year ago.

CO. FARM AGENT'S LETTER

Soy Beans
Soy beans are a good crop. Some industrial concerns are contracting acreages in nearby counties. Even though we do not get any contracts our acreage should be materially increased. To justify this statement, compare the food value in soy bean oil meal with that of some of the other protein supplements and see if there is any reason why you should grow the crop for livestock feed.

According to the census figure covering the past 15 years one of the most outstanding changes has been in poultry industry. In 1920 we had 261,000 chickens that laid 87,000 dozen eggs; 1925, 217,000 chickens laying 90,000 dozen eggs. In 1930 208,000 chickens laying 87,000 dozen eggs. This represents a decrease of 53,000 chickens and only a decrease of 18,000 dozen eggs. These are figures for Livingston county.

Dairy Herd Improvement
Since the annual meeting of the Dairy Herd Improvement Association five new members have been added bringing the membership up to a total of 22. Anyone interested in this project can get full details at the County Agent's office. Call 317.

Potatoes
The other day I was interested in an item in the news broadcast. A reference was made to Michigan potatoes. They were labeled non-potatoes. Perhaps if some slogan of this type could be permanently adopted, Michigan growers could sell their product in little 10 pound cloth bags for 35¢ each. Facts are that since Michigan potatoes bake as well as the Idaho bakes. The real name of this potato is the Russett Burbank and Michigan growers produce some Burbanks each year.

PHOTOS, FINGER PRINTS, URGED FOR LICENSE

Much of the difficulty encountered in making and enforcing a practical license law is the popular impression that a license is a piece of tax, said by Inspector C. J. Schlamp, of the Detroit police department, at the twenty-second annual Michigan Highway Conference, meeting at the University of Michigan.

Drivers licenses should have a "permission to operate" granted by the State and should be regulated as such if traffic is to be regulated in the interests of the community safety, he declared.

Eight per cent of drivers applying for new licenses have traffic records of habitual negligence in driving, in Inspector Schlamp's experience, in connection with the Detroit Recorder's Court. These persons and traffic violations who move frequently, as ordinary offenders, could be better controlled by a more descriptive license and by granting to police power to make immediate arrest in cases in which the usual summons or warrant frequently goes unexecuted or unneeded.

Other proposals made by Inspector Schlamp included the establishment of a central State traffic record bureau to which all offenses would be immediately reported; State examination of local authorities permitted photograph of the owner, his thumb prints and a blank on which would show a record of traffic offenses, under stricter licensing proposals made to examine applicants for licenses and the requirement that such officers follow a uniform procedure, and a reduction of the plate fee, with compensating increase in the license fee. Auto theft and title transfer trouble would also be lessened by his proposals, Inspector Schlamp believes.

POP CORN CHEESE EASY TO PREPARE

Eight Steps Necessary to Finish Home-Made Product, Says State College Staff

Michigan State College extension workers in dairy and home economics are co-operating in a project to enlarge the variety of foods for farm families.

Jewell M. Jensen, extension dairyman, and Helen Strow, extension nutrition specialist, are holding a series of demonstrations in eight Michigan counties to emphasize ways of utilizing the pop corn type of cottage cheese. Women leaders in each county will take the results back to home communities and neighbors.

"The purpose of our cottage cheese demonstrations is to provide better living for farm families, utilize more home produced food products and to enlarge the variety of food for farm families," Mr. Jensen says.

"In order to meet a growing demand or utilization of by-products on the farm, we have planned these cottage cheese demonstrations. The chief values found in cottage cheese are a concentration of the milk proteins which are excellent muscle builders and the milk minerals which are so indispensable to good health."

Demonstrations already have been scheduled in Emmet, Charlevoix, Muskegon, Ingham, Livingston, Saginaw, Washtenaw, and Lenawee counties.

Steps in the manufacture of the pop corn type of cottage cheese follow:

Step 1. For cottage cheese making, prepare a starter at least 24 hours before the skim milk is to be set. To make starter, set a mason jar full of sweet fresh milk, cooled to 72 degrees temperature, and hold at this temperature until sour. Skim off the cream. The remaining sour or curdled skim milk is starter.

Step 2. Temper skim milk in a double boiler to 72-74 degrees Fahrenheit. Stir in one pint of good, clean starter for each 2 gallons of skim milk. As high as a quart for each two gallons may be used safely and will bring quick results.

Step 3. Cut the curd into one-half inch cubes, using the back side of a heavy fork or the prongs of a long heavy fork.

Step 4. Heat the water slowly in the pan. It should take about 20-30 minutes to raise temperature from 7. to 115-120 degrees.

Step 5. Stir curd carefully during the first part of cooking period. Do no more at this time than pull the curd away from the side of the pan so that all of it cooks evenly.

Step 6. As the curd firms, more rapid agitation can be used, although the curd should not be beaten into fine bits. The temperature of the whey in the making of this type of cheese should not be raised above 120 degrees.

Step 7. When curd is of proper firmness, drain the whey, and wash curd twice with good cold water. Allow to drain in pan or draining rack until most of the free water has run off.

Step 8. Salt to taste. Add thin cream, folding the cream into the curd.

SCHOOL LIBRARY MONEY WITHDRAWN

It may be of interest to school officials and others to know that this is the last year funds for the purpose of purchasing school library books will be given to school districts. At the last session of the legislature the statute which gave funds received from the penal fines of the county to school districts for library material was removed and given to the county law library fund for the use of circuit, probate and others affiliated with the court, up to $750 per year. Funds over $750 not in violation of penal acts again did not provide libraries for the children, but goes to Grand Rapids for further purchasing of law books for a superior court library.

With the removal of these funds, school children will be deprived of new and better material in the form of books, unless some public-spirited individuals with the desire to place in the hands of children books which will help them become good citizens and present the type of material which young children should be reading, will lend a hand.

Anyone interested in helping to promote this cause may obtain further information at the office of the county school commissioner.

WAR ON WORMS AIDS LITTLE PIGS

Precaution against roundworm infestation of swine should be planned right now, Prof. Verne A. Freeman, animal husbandry department, Michigan State College, advises. Clean pastures, clean farrowing quarters, and clean sows will eliminate the danger of roundworm parasites and insure larger litters at weaning time, fewer runs, and a more profitable product, he points out.

"Roundworms are about the most common and troublesome parasite affecting pigs raised in Michigan," he says. "Pigs become infested by swallowing the eggs of the parasite, swallowed up on infested ground. The eggs are dropped in the manure from infested pigs and develop in a few weeks. Now is the time to plan to control to produce thrifty profitable pigs."

The eggs of the parasite are microscopic in size and may live for years in the soil or in and about the hog houses. The young pigs need protection until they are three or four months old, after which they become resistant and the worms do not cause them any trouble.

FORECAST HEAVY MAPLE SAP FLOW

Michigan's maple sugar industry can expect a good yield this spring.
This is the opinion of Verne H.
Church, state agricultural crop statistician, who has made a special study of the industry which will likely be looking for the first sap flow within a few days.

"Severe winters are usually followed by a good maple sugar yield," he says. "Total rainfall and the amount of moisture in the ground determines the amount of flow of maple sugar."

"If the snow and ice thaw out soon
so that farmers can begin tapping trees shortly we may expect an excellent yield. The sooner tapping is possible the better will be the yield and the quantity."

The season usually lasts four weeks
but it varies with the year and weather conditions. In the northern part of the state, it starts several days later than in the middle, while the season in southern Michigan opens several days earlier.

FRUIT SPRAYING TO BEGIN SOON

Trees, vines and canes that produce Michigan's annual 15 to 20 million dollar fruit crop are worth the insurance that a wise program of spraying can provide, according to Ray Hutson, professor of entomology, Michigan State College, East Lansing.

He is one of the authors of the "Spraying Calendar" which will be distributed upon request by the county agricultural agent.

As soon as equipment can be wheeled through orchards without getting mired, it is time to apply the season's first dormant spray which will treat such pests as San Jose scale, red mite, oyster shell scale & the pear psylla. In addition to allowing for traction for the spraying equipment the job must also be done when the operator knows that there will be five or six hours when the temperature will not drop before the spraying job is completed. This first dormant spray is applied normally late in March or early in April, depending upon the weather.

Quality Eggs

If you are to produce quality eggs on the farm the following simple rules must be followed:

1. The laying flock must be housed in a comfortable laying house equipped with dropping boards, clean nests, in which the nesting material is frequently changed, sanitary mash hoppers and drinking fountains.
2. Eggs must be gathered often and kept in a cool, moist, odorless room between 50 degrees and 60 degrees Fahrenheit. Broody hens must be separated from the regular flock so that they will not set on fresh eggs and thus injure the quality.
3. The shell of the egg is porous. When eggs are left in a warm or dry place evaporation takes place rapidly. The contents of the egg evaporate and the cell naturally becomes larger and we find that the size of the egg is used as one of the means of judging quality.

Setting Eggs

When a dozen eggs are set in a box, the eggs should be set in a single layer. If a dozen eggs are set in a box, the eggs should be set in a single layer. If a dozen eggs are set in a box, the eggs should be set in a single layer.

County Planning Commission

The first meeting of the City Council Planning Commission was held at the City Council Rooms at Howell, Monday, March 2. Mr. H. Decker from the College briefly outlined the work that could be done by such a group. The Commission is made up of representatives from every farm organization in the county. The next meeting will be held on the last of March. I would suggest that at the next meeting of your organization your delegate be asked to give his reaction to it.

Bridge Grafting

During the past week or ten days we have had a great number of inquiries concerning damage to orchards by mice and rabbits. In the field, the past week, we have observed the most severe mouse injury that has occurred during the past decade.

This can be remedied in some cases by bridge grafting. The wood used as scions should be collected now as soon as possible. It should be from 8-18 inches long and should be from a lead pencil in diameter. These scions should be wrapped in damp burlap and buried in the north side of a building to a depth of 12 to 18 inches and should be far enough out so that the drip from the building will not fall on the spot where the scions are buried. A mimeograph circular will be published within the coming week and will be sent on request from the County Agent's office.

Unusual Achievement

At the conclusion of the Wolverine Lamb Production contest, Mr. Harry Wright of Standish was declared the winner. He established a new state record producing 179.96 pounds of lamb per ewe in 135 days. He entered 26 grade Oxford ewes which produced 57 lambs and was able to raise 33 of this number. His net return per ewe in the flock was $18.86. Mr. Wright attributed part of his success to the standard practices that he has followed. Upon request we will be glad to furnish mimeographed material outlining practices and ration used by Mr. Wright.

Dairy Herd Improvement Assoc.

Donald Fisher has completed his February report covering the D. H. A. Summarizing the report, we find:

- In the 2 yr. old class Reg. L. D. Coffey 1st; Norman Topping 2nd.
- 4 yr. old class Reg. C. A. Bachman 1st; L. D. Coffey 2nd.
- 5 yr. old class Reg. L. D. Coffey 1st; L. D. Coffey 2nd; William Haack 3rd.

Commercial Fertilizers

The Extension Dept. of the College held a series of meetings with fertilizer dealers to determine the amounts and kinds of fertilizers used. From these meetings the following data was collected and compiled. In 1935, 34.6 percent more commercial fertilizer was used than in 1934 and 70 percent of this was recommended by the Soil Department of the Michigan State College or by county agents.

In the state there are 475 analysts and brands licensed; 81 are licensed for sale. However 2 analysts made up over half of the tonnage sold. Super-phosphate is worthy of greatly increased use on an economy basis.

Fertilizers give best results in lime bearing soils. Except for potatoes and a few acid loving plants, marling or liming strongly acid soils should be the first step. Fertilizers may then profitably follow.

Best results from fertilizer are secured when the fertilizer is placed down in the seedbed, beside the seed but not touching it. Where nitrogen fertilizers are used alone, surface applications are preferable.

An Addition to the House

Very few purchasable things add as much to a home—solid value per dollar of cost—as modern telephone service.

It adds security. The presence of a telephone in the house means that here no time will be lost when some sudden crisis demands the services of a doctor. It means dependable, 24-hour contact with the police. It is a valuable form of insurance, for its swiftness in summoning the fire department can easily mean the difference between trifling damage and a crippling loss.

It adds comfort. The telephone frees every member of the family, and especially the housewife, from the drudgery of unnecessary steps. It saves them bothersome errands.

It often enables them to escape hazardous exposure to disagreeable weather.

It adds enjoyment. The family accessible by telephone has greater opportunities for social pleasures. Over it they can both extend and receive invitations; they can send congratulations, or exchange greetings of the season. They can take part in "voice reunions" with distant friends or relatives—can indulge in the amenities of life to an extent denied those families without this modern, inexpensive convenience.

By delivering genuine value, telephone service of the type this Company supplies to Michigan has earned recognition as a welcome, sensible addition to the house.

Charles Clark

REV. LEWIS DION HONORED
Thy never tiring efforts to instruct
Lost souls—so well regained,
Conversions, oh, a myriad or more
You're work for us—unstained.
For didn't our dear Savior meet with hardships, darkness, too?
To make his crown more perfect
When his love for us was due.

No famous artist of our realm
Is critic free, you see,
For poison slander makes you fine
To the best of friends and He.
And when to Calvary He trudged,
That cross of sins for me,
A few costly friends among his foes
Were all he had—those three.

And Father, as I glanced among
Those so-called foes of thine,
They sadly wiped a tear away,
Their sorrow was sublime.
So God forgive their weaknesses—
Of tongue and eyes and ears,
For in their hearts they did not mean
The thing that caused your tears.

Thus may your sorrow be their light
And teach them to refrain
From evils of their shamefulness,
And in God's fold remain.
So, Father Dion, as you trudge
Along God's chosen way,
May light and tender be the cross
That in your path will lay.

For grateful we will always be
Your work with us was grand,
Thus you have left us one sweet thought—
May jewels bedeck your worthy cause
Mankind to understand.
To form the shape of hope.
May welcome be your next new home
And charity their scope.
Trust not in friend or foe—but God,
For evil lurks in man.
For all God asks of anyone
Is to do the best you can.
—Wilhelmina Swarthout.

COMMERCIAL ACCOUNTS

Of course, a lot of people use checking accounts, but there are a great many who do not. Those who do not are influenced, perhaps, by the service charge on balances falling below $100.00. It is our plea, that you who could not maintain a $100.00 balance throughout any given month could save more than the cost of the service charge for several months by having a check as a receipt for a bill paid. In such a case the service charge has been good insurance.

Many concerns require payment of bills by bank draft or certified check.
If you have a commercial account you may have your check—certified without charge. Again you have made a saving.
