

Pinckney Loses to Manchester 14-6

Epidemic of Mumps and Ineligibility Riddled Pinckney Lineup and Reserves are Unable to Hold the Heavy Manchester Backfield.

Pinckney school team dropped in four starts. They were defeated by Manchester 14-6. An epidemic of mumps swept through the Pinckney school last week and claimed the following members of the team as victims, Emmett Clark, Alger Lee, Winston Baughn and William Darrow. Floyd Haines was ruled ineligible and Howard Read and Paul Singer suffered sprained ankles.

The makeshift lineup played hard at Manchester but was not heavy enough to hold the heavy Manchester team and they registered most of their gains through the Pinckney line.

Toward the end of the game the reserves weakened and it was necessary to insert Paul Singer and Howard Read, two cripples into the game. Singer responded by catching two passes and going six yards through the Manchester line for the only Pinckney touchdown.

Ledwidge was again Pinckney's best ground gainer but was handicapped by the fact that the Pinckney line did not hold. The Manchester line usually held when Pinckney got close enough to threaten and it is doubtful if Pinckney could have scored except for the fact that they took to the air in the last half and completed three passes. Singer received two and Otwell one. Each pass netted about ten yards and were thrown by Billie Meyers. Pinckney failed to get the extra point.

Both Manchester touchdowns were gained on end plays and they went the Pinckney line for both extra points.

Two Pinckney players were injured in this contest. Ralph Otwell had his collar bone broken and Raymond Ellis his wrist.

The boys are not at all discouraged by their showing under the circumstances and are determined to take Hartland into camp when that team comes here Friday, October 23. We understand this game will start at 2:30 P. M. A good crowd should turn out and encourage the boys.

Pinckney School Notes

School was closed Monday and Tuesday to allow the teachers to attend the state teachers meeting at Lansing.

Miss Carmen Leland, grade teacher in the Pinckney school for the past several years, assuming her duties in the River Rouge school this week. Her place as instructor in the Pinckney school has been taken by Mrs. Lela Flintoft Lobdell of Howell, a former Pinckney resident.

School Commissioner E. Alma Sharpe of Howell was a caller at the Pinckney school one day last week. Well the boys lost the game at Manchester last that got them down and not the Manchester team.

Pinckney was lucky in having enough substitutes for this game. 19 men were taken and 18 of them got into action.

The CWA officials, contractors, school board etc. are scheduled to meet here Thursday and it is expected that the new addition will be ready for use, possibly by next week.

We are sorry to hear that Ralph Otwell and Raymond Ellis received injuries in the game Friday and hope they will soon recover from same.

Floyd Haines, star Pinckney end got into difficulties with the faculty last week and was declared ineligible. It looks as if you would have to cut down on some of your social duties. Floyd, if you want to play on the team.

Stockbridge which was pushed around considerably in its first two games suddenly came to life and smothered Fowlerville 51 to 0 last Friday. Bob Dickinson was worked for Reason & Son this summer was the Stockbridge star. This victory seems remarkable from the fact that Fowlerville recently beat Highland 40 to 0.

HONORED AT BANQUET

Walter French Lodge No. 557 F. & A. M. of Lansing honors their Past Master, Kirk VanWinkle, at a banquet tonight. Mr. VanWinkle is also a past master of Livingston Lodge No. 76 of Pinckney.

President Roosevelt Visits Michigan

Largest Number of People in the History of the State Great President Roosevelt Thursday in His Trip Across the State. Pinckney is Well Represented in the Multitude.

Last Thursday President Roosevelt visited Michigan. Entering the state at Grand Rapids he continued on to Kalamazoo, Battle Creek, Lansing, Flint, Pontiac, Highland Park, Hamtramck and ended his tour at Detroit. Capt. Wing of the State Police, who accompanied him across the state estimated that approximately 400,000 people saw him out in the state and an equal number in the city of Detroit. The streets along which he passed from Hamtramck to Detroit were lined with masses of humanity in places, 75 deep. There were not enough police in Detroit to handle the crowd. As a rule they were orderly until the presidential parade passed and then they followed him in a mass completely blocking traffic. This resulted in a number of fatalities. Two women were stepped upon by the horses of the mounted police and injured. Others were knocked down and trampled upon while a number fainted away from the excitement. The nearby stores were used as first aid stations and the injured taken there. It probably was the largest crowd ever assembled in the City of Detroit.

Large crowds greeted him all along his route. Mrs. Alta Meyer who was attending the Grand Chapter of the Michigan O. E. S. at Grand Rapids, saw both Landon and Roosevelt and said the President drew the larger crowd and Mrs. Meyers is a Republican at that. Mrs. Winifred Graves of Pinckney who was with Mrs. Meyers was caught in the crush of people, had her clothing torn and one limb injured. She fainted and had to be revived. No stadiums were big enough to hold the presidential crowds at Flint, Hamtramck or other places visited. Hamtramck was visited for the reason that it voted 10 to 1 for Roosevelt in 1932.

Accompanying President Roosevelt in his Detroit tour were Bishop Gallagher of the Catholic Church, Senator James Couzens and the state ticket will address the meeting. Mr. Murphy is known as a forceful and dynamic speaker, thoroughly conversant with governmental questions. It will be the only opportunity to hear Mr. Murphy outside of the big industrial centers of Michigan.

Edmund C. Shields of Lansing, formerly known to most of Livingston County, now Democratic National Committeeman, will deliver an address.

Mr. Shields always has an interesting and instructive message, delivered in an entertaining manner. His appearance at the County of his birth always commands a large audience.

Andrew Transue, candidate for Congress, of Flint, George Gundry, candidate for Auditor General, and others will participate in this meeting.

We are advised that no seats are reserved and crowds will be thrown open at 7:20.

Hunting Season Opened Thursday

Birds and Game Seem to Be Plentiful and Many Good Bags are Reported. Whiterish are Also Running.

The hunting season opened here last Thursday morning with a bang or in fact several of them. The woods and swamps were full of hunters and nearly every one seems to have gotten something.

The duck season opened earlier and quite a few ducks were shot on lakes near here. Norman Miller was fortunate enough to shoot a large wild goose on Hell Creek and we have heard of other geese shot by hunters.

Pheasants were fairly numerous and many were shot early. The prize hunting story comes from Hugh Doolittle of Portage Lake. As he was driving into Detroit Friday on Ford Road near an abandoned golf course, three pheasants suddenly flew in front of his car. One hit the radiator and was killed. Another went through the windshield and the third flew to his car and he caught it. In the melee his car went into the ditch and he had to borrow another car to come home in.

Another Pinckney citizen sat in his yard in this village and shot one as it flew into his yard. Still another reports that he hunted all day without seeing anything and then ran over two rabbits with his car on the trip home.

The game warden again blockaded the roads leading into the cities and searched hunters cars. We understand that so far the number of game law violations seems to have decreased.

TO LAY CORNERSTONE OF NEW HOWELL POSTOFFICE

The Masonic Grand Lodge F. & A. M. of Michigan will lay the corner stone of the new Howell postoffice with impressive ceremonies Thursday afternoon at 2:30 P. M. About 150 Masonic lodges of Michigan have been invited to assist in this and all members of the Masonic order should assemble at the Howell Masonic Temple at 1:30 P. M. This is the first time a corner stone ceremony has ever been performed by the Masonic Grand Lodge in the county.

Messrs. Herman Volder, Axel Carpenter and P. W. Carlett attended a meeting of Group No. 25 of the Masonic Lodges of Michigan at Howell last Wednesday night. The group is composed of lodges from Howell, Brighton, Fowlerville, Pinckney, Webberville and Williamston. This group system was adopted by grand lodge last May for the purpose of stimulating visiting between lodges and to organize degree teams composed of members of all lodges. The following directors for the second section of each degree were chosen: 1st Degree Mark Trevor of Williamston; 2nd Degree, John Damman of Howell; 3rd Degree, Harry Calkins of Fowlerville. The three directors are all past masters of their lodges and proficient in the work. This group will get into action at Howell on Oct. 30 when a Senior Warden's Night will be observed. The group team will be put on the second section. All Masons in this section are invited. Banquet at 7:00 P. M.

LIBERTY POLLS

NEWSPAPER EDITORS

Franklin Roosevelt will most likely be re-elected to the presidency, according to results of the third annual political poll taken among 3,149 newspaper editors by Liberty Magazine.

Liberty asked each editor who he thought would be elected President. About 400 editors turned this question down, leaving some 4,600 lined up as follows:

Franklin Roosevelt 2875 Alfred Landon 1814 William Lemke 18 Norman Thomas 0 Earl Browder 0

The editors predicted as follows: 1. Mr. Roosevelt will receive a minimum of 269 electoral votes—three more than he needs to win, and a number that may be increased by Roosevelt victories in any one of the four doubtful states.

2. The Democrats will win 266 seats in the House of Representatives to 159 for the Republicans, 7 for the Progressives, and 3 for the Farmer-Laborites.

3. The Democrats will win 20 of the falls 36 senatorial elections—giving them 67 seats in the Senate to 27 for the Republicans and 1 each for the Progressive and Farmer-Labor parties.

The Ensworth League of the Howell M. E. Church adopted the following resolutions at a recent session:

Be it resolved that: "We, as a petition the law enforcement officers of Livingston County to do all in their power to enforce the laws against this illicit business."

Be it resolved that: "We, as a group of young people in the welfare of who are interested in the welfare of the youth of this county, to join with us in cooperating with the press and officers to free the county of this slot machine menace."

Louis Crandall Secy. of Ensworth League.

Current Comment

Well both Presidential candidates have come and gone and Michigan is flattered at the attention paid to them. It was not always so. In years past it was considered a hide-bound republican state. The Republican presidential candidate seldom visited it as he regarded its electoral votes a sure thing. The Democratic candidate stayed away because he figured he did not have a chance. In 1902 Michigan jumped the fence and went Democratic. According to all polls in which all classes are polled the state is a 50-50 proposition this year with the odds slightly favoring Roosevelt. This is the season for the presidential nominees visits. This is a healthy state of affairs and long may it continue, this even balance of power.

Commissioner of State Police Oliver predicts that in the space of a few years it will be compulsory that all persons shall have their finger prints taken and placed on file. The average person object to this. For the reason that it has been the practice to finger print criminals only. This is a mistaken idea. The finger print is for identification. If this goes into effect there would be no more unknown dead. For instance a few years ago a half-demented wild man was picked up at Anderson. The sheriff finger-printed him and released him. Over a year later he was struck and killed by an auto near Port Huron. He was not known there but by means of his finger prints he was identified as Charles Newman, picked up by the sheriff at Pinckney in 1933.

The three Black Legionnaires trials at Jackson came to an end last week when Ray and Clarence Ernest and Allen Brown pled guilty to a charge of false imprisonment. The kidnapping charge having been added to that, Ray Ernest was recommended to be sentenced to a year in jail and the other two to 90 days each in jail by the prosecutor, Judge Simpson will pass sentence Oct. 24. We think these sentences are ridiculous in view of the fact that one of their victims died from the effects of their beating.

The Dept. of Agriculture has stated that a crow meat is all right if you can eat it. Crows are a pest and some one hit upon the novel way of exterminating them by making them popular as banquet viands. We doubt if it will work after the twenty years old. A number of years ago muskrat traps were all the rage and even the Lakeland Hotel served muskrat suppers. Eventually it got to be an old story like minnow golf and other things of the past. Crow facts will also go the same way.

Things have changed during the past year. Then the Republican organization announced that if they got into power, farm benefits, like the A. A. A. and other farm and plant would be canceled also the PWA, CWA etc. Now all is changed. Gov. Landon in his campaign promises it is far to the farmers and each benefits similar to the A. A. A. and Gov. Fitzgerald in a speech last week announced the continuation of the PWA CWA and so forth. They have evidently concluded that opposing all things Democratic, irrespective of whether they have merit or not is getting them nowhere.

Prominent persons are jumping from one party to another with great ability. The latest of these is Ralph Strassburger, Norristown, Pa. publisher, and a Republican delegate to the Cleveland convention in which nominated Gov. Landon last June. His paper issued the following announcement:

"No man who worked for the nomination of Hiram Johnson in 1920, as did Mr. Strassburger, could in good conscience go along with the Hearsts, Couglins, Burdies, Pows, Mellons and DuPonts in 1936. Mr. Strassburger's declaration for the President is an effective blow that will be felt, particularly in Pennsylvania where he has a large following."

Rev. Charles Couglin's conclusions are evidently agreed in by all of the members of his class. Bishop Gallagher has announced that he will vote for Roosevelt and was a guest at luncheon with President Roosevelt last Thursday during his visit to Detroit. Mr. John Ryan has made several speeches for Roosevelt in which he took issue with Rev. Couglin.

According to the National Observer column in the Lansing State Journal, the odds on President Roosevelt's election have jumped from 8 to 5 to 11 or 12 to 5 and there are few takers. The defeatist attitude has repudiated the Republican ranks to such an extent that the organizations are having great difficulty getting enough cash donations to function with. The big boys are refusing to kick in. This seems to be the case everywhere. According to the Detroit News of Oct. 11, Paul Tarn, Wayne county patronage dispenser for Gov. Fitzgerald called on the 79 S. D. D. liquor dealers together and asked them for donations. These are druggists etc. for whom the governor got the right to sell liquor. The net results of the collection the Detroit News claims was $48.

Marble Cake

1/2 cupful butter.
1 cupful sugar.
1 1/2 cupfuls cake flour.
1/4 teaspoonful salt.
1 1/2 teaspoonfuls baking powder.
1/2 cupful milk.
1 tablespoonful maple sirup.
1 tablespoonful melted chocolate.
1/2 teaspoonful cinnamon.
1/4 teaspoonful nutmeg.
1/4 teaspoonful allspice.

Place butter in warm place where it will soften slightly, but must not melt. Cream sugar in butter gradually. Add the yolks of the eggs, which have been beaten. Sift flour and salt together several times and add alternately with the milk. Sift baking powder in a little of the flour, which is added last. Fold in egg whites, which have been beaten stiff.

Place one-third of the mixture in a separate bowl and add spices, sirup and melted chocolate to it. Drop a spoonful of each mixture alternately into cake pan. Bake in moderate oven.

This cake in excellent to serve if the meal seems a little rich. It is not heavy and is delicious without icing.

Senator Borah Maintains

INDEPENDENT ATTITUDE
SENATOR WILLIAM E. BORAH of Idaho, whose attitude in the Presidential campaign is a matter of great interest to all parties, has declared he would confine his attention to state matters; but then, being irked by some criticism from Republicans he went further and said he was "going after the Republican party." The veteran said he had been accused of not being regular.

"Well, what is a regular?" he asked.

"A regular is a man with no ideas, who waits for someone to tell him what to do. My idea of being regular is in doing what you believe to be right in the interests of the people you represent."

"Let this be understood—I'm talking all parties, Republican, Democratic, Union—I'm going to advocate the things I believe in whether they cross party lines or not."

Pessimism Prevails at

Last League Session

PESSIMISM and discontent marked the final session of the League of Nations assembly, the leaders admitting that little had been accomplished. Carlos Saavedra Lamas of Argentina, president of the assembly, even asked if he might not raise the question whether "civilization is on the verge of a final breakup."

The question of reforming the league covenant provoked a bitter controversy on whether nonmember states should be consulted. Russia was understood to be anxious particularly to bar German influence and achieved a minor triumph since no definite action to solicit nonmember co-operation was taken. A committee of twenty-eight was named to study reform proposals.

The assembly approved reports of its economic and disarmament committees. The economic report carried a British proposal to create a commission to study accessibility of raw materials. The United States and other nonmembers would be invited to participate. The report of the disarmament committee approved the reconvening of the world disarmament conference at an early date.

Disorders in Palestine Are Dropped by the Arabs
ARABS of Palestine, who had been on "strike" for 175 days in protest against unrestricted immigration of Jews, were persuaded by the British to call off the strike, which had been accompanied by great disorders and the killing of several hundred persons. The Arab high committee issued an appeal to Arabs throughout the country to return to work quietly, and this command was obeyed generally. Sir Arthur Wauchope, British high commissioner, was said to have informed the British government that it was now safe for the royal commission of investigation to begin its work of inquiring into the grievances of the Arabs.

According to a Hebrew newspaper of Jerusalem, the Arabs have arranged for backing by Italian Fascists for their aspirations. Also, the Moslem authority administering Islamic church property is reported to be prepared to sell Catholics a Christian holy place on Mount Zion.

Austria Private Armies

FORCED TO DISSOLVE
KURT SCHUSCHNIGG, chancellor of Austria, is taking his place among the European dictators. In order to consolidate military power in his own hands, he decreed the dissolution of all private armies, this being aimed especially at the Fascist Heimwehr headed by Prince Ernst von Starhemberg. The prince directed his followers to obey the edict, and Major Fey, Starhemberg's rival for control of the Heimwehr, called on the elements recognizing his leadership to preserve order.

The chancellor's order also affected his own Catholic storm troops. All the private troops were ordered consolidated with the Austrian state militia. This would increase Austria's official armed forces to about 158,000 men. The dissolution decree met strong opposition within the cabinet, and was voted after three ministers had walked out.

Schuschnigg's task now is to actually disarm the private armies. If he succeeds in doing this, his complete control over Austria may be conceded. It is recalled that the Heimwehr was ordered to disarm in 1931, that the government seized many weapons, and that a year later some 40,000 Heimwehr men appeared fully armed and uniformed. Von Starhemberg may not be really quelled this time, either. It is a certainty that he has a powerful friend in Premier Mussolini of Italy.

Typhoon in Philippines

Kills Many Persons

ONE of the worst typhoons in the history of the Philippines swept across Luzon island, killing scores of persons and destroying villages. At least 310 perished and the authorities feared the death list would be much larger for four hundred were reported missing. Eighty-two bodies were recovered from the city of Cabanatuan alone.

Waterway Money Allotted

for Atlantic Coast

MEMBERS of the Atlantic Deep-sea Waterways association, assembling in Tipton, N. J., for the annual convention, were informed by President Roosevelt that funds totaling $24,000,000 have been allotted for waterway improvements along the Atlantic coast during 1937. In a letter to President J. Hampton Moore of the association, to be read to the convention, Mr. Roosevelt also said:

"This year has been noteworthy in witnessing the completion of the 1,435 mile inside route of the intra-coastal waterway from Trenton to Miami. Much credit for this accomplishment belongs to your association and it is to be congratulated therefor. Other waterway projects of permanent value to the nation sponsored by your organization have been completed or are progressing in a satisfactory manner."

John L. Lewis States

Labor Peace Terms

WILLIAM GREEN, president of the A. F. of L., who had just been calling on President Roosevelt at Hyde Park, N. Y., told the newspapermen that the prospects for peace between the warring factions in the federation were better and that those participating in the controversy were becoming "more temperate." However, that same evening John L. Lewis, the dynamic leader of the Committee for Industrial Organization, rather dashed the aforesaid prospects for peace. In Washington he laid down, as the only basis for restoration of peace in the ranks of organized labor, a program consisting of these two propositions:

1. Revocation by the executive council of the American Federation of Labor of the order suspending ten C. I. O. unions on charges of insurrection.
2. Isolation of certain mass production industries which would be organized strictly on Lewis' "one big union" theory.

It had been stated that David Dubinsky, head of one of the suspended unions, had submitted a compromise peace proposal, but Lewis told the correspondents that he knew of no change in feeling between the battling factions; that he had made no move for peace and contemplated none; that the C. I. O. drive to unionize the steel industry was "proceeding satisfactorily" and that the Dubinsky proposal was similar to the one previously offered to and rejected by the A. F. of L. council.

Russia Angry Warns

Fascist Nations

HELP given the Spanish insurgents by Fascist countries she gave notice that, unless it ceased she would free herself from any obligations to the agreement for neutrality. The representatives of the 27 nations on the international committee of non-intervention in the Spanish war were about to meet in London, and Moscow's challenge caused a real sensation. Molotov, Kagan, Soviet delegate on the committee, specifically named Portugal, Italy and Germany as the offenders and called for an investigation. It is believed that if Russia is not satisfied in this matter she will send airplanes and other war material to the Spanish government.

The committee refused to take any action on the Russian complaint, averring that the charges were not specific enough.

Spanish Fascists pushed their lines so closely around Madrid that they called on the government to surrender the capital immediately and thus save it from a destructive bombardment. An airplane fleet showered the city with circulars telling the citizens that further resistance was useless. One of the most threatening of General Franco's advances was directed at Aranjuez, whose capture would cut off Madrid's food supply from the Mediterranean.

FROM AROUND MICHIGAN

Holland—All attendance records at the Black Lake State Park were broken this season, when 900,000 persons visited the Ottawa Beach resort.

Sault Ste. Marie—A six-year freight tonnage record went by the boards recently when the St. Mary's falls canal reported 11,041,109 tons moved through that waterway in the month of September.

Lansing—Into the record books has gone September 1936, the dampest since weather statistics have been kept in these parts. A series of downpours and steady rains accumulated a precipitation total of 7.76 inches.

Lansing—Alfalfa seed production in Michigan may be nearly double the 1,092,000-pound crop harvested in 1935, the United States bureau of agricultural economics reports. Growers are being offered $20 per hundredweight, compared with $18 to $20 last year.

Seney—A new fire tower is to be erected by CCC men near Walsh between Seney and Shingleton this fall. Towermen in the Seney area will be able to make cross-shots to this tower when visibility is poor and thus determine the location of fires more accurately.

Lansing—Michigan's 1936 duck hunting season opened in a crashing barrage of shotgun fire on marsh and lake and slough in every section of the state at 8 o'clock Saturday morning, Oct. 10. Wildfowl hunters, favored by state and federal regulations, took to the field five days ahead of the upland game army.

Pottsville—This little Eaton county village has its own art museum in which every painting is the work of one person—Mrs. Fronie B. Backus, 77-year-old artist, who for the past 40 years has painted more than 600 pictures, covering a wide range of subjects. About 360 of them are exhibited in her 16-room home here.

Brooklyn—For more than 100 years the Cray family has owned, occupied and tilled the same farm, the third generation now being in possession. The farm is located 2 1/2 miles west of here. Charles A. Cray, grandfather of the present owner, acquired 160 acres of the United States government in 1835. The farm residence was built about 67 years ago.

Ann Arbor—How many trout will occupy a mile stretch of a good trout stream? The institute for fisheries research here conservatively estimates 10,000. The figure is reached by a computation of the number of tagged brook trout known to have been in a 1.75 mile stretch of the north branch of the AuSable river near Lovells. The total was 2,437.

Detroit—Circuit Judge Harry B. Keidan has declared unconstitutional and invalid the act passed by the Michigan legislature after the disastrous Kerns hotel fire in Lansing. A permanent injunction was issued against the state insurance commissioner, to prevent him from enforcing the law in his official capacity. The act provided that buildings used for sleeping accommodations must be of fire-resistant construction.

Quincy—A new variety of grape, combining features of both Delaware and Concord grapes, has been produced here by F. E. Lindsey. He has named the new variety "Delco," from the names of the basic varieties. Dark amber in color, it is said to have the tang of the Concord variety and the sweetness of the Delaware. It ripens about Aug. 1, according to Lindsey, and is ready for the market not later than Aug. 5 or 6.

Battle Creek—An ultra-modern seven-room apartment has been completely furnished even to the latest labor-saving devices, to serve as a laboratory for the home management course at Battle Creek College. "Families" of five students and teacher will occupy the apartment, with the students taking turns at having complete charge of budgeting, marketing, household organization, care and use of household equipment and entertaining.

Owosso—An experiment being carried out in Cheboygan County is being watched by cattle men with the thought in mind that the vast cutover lands of northern Michigan may sometime be turned into profitable grazing grounds. The "Circle 8" ranch, in its second year, receives cattle from the west, cowboys turning them loose and watching over them while they graze during the summer. Only a few weeks of dry feed in the fall is required to "finish" them.

Lansing—The State fire marshal plans to ask the 1937 Legislature to enact more stringent laws on the handling of volatile liquids, such as gasoline. Aftermath of an explosion in Flint in which two persons were killed and six injured seriously, an investigation showed that waste gasoline was poured by mistake into a basement pipe, where the fumes came in contact with flames of a water heater. It developed later that no city ordinance or State law covered the condition reported.

Kalamazoo—Kalamazoo College recently inaugurated its ninth president, when Dr. Stewart Grant Cole was formally inducted to office. The institution is 103 years old.

Lansing—The State Administrative Board will purchase for state use this year, an amount of Michigan coal equal to that used in state institutions last year. A total of 30,350 tons from Michigan mines were consumed.

Traverse City—Northern and western Michigan wore its most beautiful robes for autumn tourists the past week. Communities in this section organized numerous "color tours," designed to take motorists through the most beautifully wooded sections.

Detroit—The last of 12 men, convicted for the Black Legion murder of Charles A. Poole, have been sentenced to prison by Circuit Judge Joseph A. Moynihan. The sentences, ranging from life to five years, closed the first major Black Legion trial, which started Sept. 1.

Detroit—A daytime storm warning station, intended primarily for small craft operating on Lake St. Clair, is to be established immediately at the Marine Hospital in Windmill Point, Clarence J. Root, meteorologist in charge of the Detroit office of the Weather Bureau, has announced.

East Lansing—Sixty-four pens of pullets from leading poultry farms in the United States and Canada are competing in the fifteenth annual egg laying contest at Michigan State college. The race will run for 51 weeks. The competition is one week short of a full year as the college reserves seven days of each contest to thoroughly clean the laying houses.

East Lansing—The stray dog problem, bad for years, is driving farmers out of the sheep business in some sections of the state. Heaviest losses are suffered by livestock producers in counties north of Kent and Bay. A total of 109 stray dogs were killed by the village marshal of Standish this summer. Despite this big round up, Arenac sheep men have suffered heavily.

Ann Arbor—Several movements are on foot throughout the northern part of the state, to launch intensive campaigns against ragweed. Sponsors, composed of public spirited persons and organizations, scientists, members of the medical profession, etc., have expressed the hope that the weed may be eradicated. Michigan will then become the haven of hayfever sufferers.

Oscoda—King Lumber is not dead in Michigan. Almost 100 years from the time the first saw mill cut the first logs which launched the state's major pioneer industry, sawmills again buzzed loudly in several sections of the northland. The revival is confined to removing the "deadhead" logs from lake and river bottoms. It is estimated that more than 15,000,000 feet of lumber will be thus recovered.

Lansing—Michigan, center of the automotive industry, reported for 1935 an increase of more than 20 per cent over 1933 in business done by blacksmith shops, the Federal bureau of the census has reported. Although the number of shops remained at 369, receipts jumped to $443,000 from $364,000. A smaller number of employees received a payroll totaling some 38 per cent higher, the average annual wage being $679.

Lansing—Surfacing with oil aggregate nearly three miles of the highway north of the M-55 intersection to connect with a 14-mile stretch of concrete under construction south of Houghton Lake has been approved at a cost of $10,263.20. U. S. 27 ultimately will run straight north and west of Houghton Lake, as called for in Federal routing, so the three-mile oil aggregate work is intended only to complete a hard surface to the Straits.

Benton Harbor—Michigan orchardists, experiencing one of the most golden seasons since 1919 and 1920, are getting out of debt. In addition, growers also are reported to be taking advantage of good prices to purchase or order needed farm equipment and some are even planning vacations. These signs of prosperity's return to orchardland are largely the result of Michigan's good fortune and other states' misfortunes in the matter of fruit yield this year.

Ann Arbor—Prof. E. Blythe Stanson, adviser to the State Legislative Council's Subcommittee on Taxation, states that the committee will recommend assessment of property partially on its revenue producing capacity rather than on its cash value. The Council will propose legislation enabling the State to hold tax sales of property forced on it by unpaid taxes, and a measure authorizing "scavenger sales" in which the State could sell such property to the highest bidder.

Grand Rapids—The State Chamber of Commerce has laid plans to complain to the Interstate Commerce commission with reference to the freight rates on coal shipped into the state. The traffic director for the organization stated that no reduction had been made in the rates governing coal shipped from the eastern bituminous fields since they were nearly doubled about 20 years ago. Member organizations will be called together to draft a formal complaint which will be presented to the ICC.

Stockbridge used, Dodge, Michigan State College pitcher and Roberts of the Southern Michigan League. Myron Dunning was the big noise for Pinckney, his two triples accounted for all their runs. Joe Sugden, scout for the Detroit Tige, was present and offered both Myron Dunning and Harold Swarthout, contracts.

The Misses Florence Rice and Bernice Hart were home from the U. of M. over Sunday.

The big hunting match was pulled off here last Thursday by two sides of 17 men chosen by Irvin Kennedy and James Smith. James Smith's side won, chiefly by means of a limit bag of woodcock shot by Norman Reason by aid of the trained thoroughbred dogs of Coddington Bros. of Detroit. The losers served the winner an oyster supper in the town hall, cooked by Clyde Darrow. Nothing marred the night's event except that M. E. Darrow who waited table, skidded and poured a bowl of oyster soup down Will Jeffrey's neck.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edley of Northfield, Oct. 13 a 7lb. daughter.

While three of Mark Bell's boys were driving home after the hunting match another horse and carriage ran into them in front of the buggy Monks farm. A subscription paper was passed around and $75 collected for Mark Bell, the owner of the dead horse.

CAPABLE

EXPERIENCED

It's amusing to ride with some people and hear the present-day automobilist criticize the construction of highways.

He wants highway engineers not only to build roads straight and wide, but mark them so that all problems confronting him in driving will be called to his attention. Then he proceeds to violate all the laws of decency and safety, and pays absolutely no attention to the markings on the highway.

If we want wide roads, sloping ditches, wide shoulders, and all the other safety measures on our highways, we ought to be sporting enough to use them correctly.

You and I can help by setting the right example.

UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN

STRAW VOTE.

The annual straw vote for president was taken at the University of Michigan last week. Landon won this by 28. The vote was Landon 1849, Roosevelt 1821, Thomas 178, Browder 102, Lemke 13. This is significant when the records for the straw vote of 1932 show Hoover to have received 1615, Roosevelt 748, Thomas 420, Upshaw and Foster 33. The vote shows that Roosevelt gained 1077 votes and Landon only got 235 more votes than Hoover. It also contradicts the widely circulated statement that the colleges are filled with Communists, both students and teachers.

MACHINES CAN TAKE MICHIGAN'S BALLOT

Not to exceed nine political parties will face Michigan's voters, on ballots or voting machines, Nov. 3, Department of State records show.

Of interest in this connection is the fact that the modern style voting machine will not accommodate more than nine parties, without the machine adjustment by factory representatives. City clerks, in cities where voting machines are used, were concerned over the one time possibility that paper ballots might have to be resorted to throughout the state. Fifteen parties originally filed their vignettes with Orville E. Atwood, Secretary of State. No voting machine could accommodate them all.

Ten parties will face Wayne county voters as the candidates of one party will be confirmed to Wayne county races. Paper ballots are used in that county however.

The order in which political parties are arranged on the ballot, is, under state law, determined by the number of votes cast for the several party candidates for Lieutenant Governor at the last preceding general election. The nine parties certified on the ballot by the Department of State, in the order in which they will appear on the ballot, follows: Republican, Democratic, Socialist, Communist, Farmer-Labor, Socialist Labor, Commonwealth, American and The Third Party.

Six parties of the original fifteen, will not be represented for a variety of reasons. No candidates' names were filed for the People's Progressive, National, Proletarian or Liberty parties. The candidates on the Progressive party withdrew. The state of the United party was not accepted because of its failure to conform with state election law requirements.

FIRESIDES TURN TO POPPING CORN

Good weather for ducks in the fall of the year usually means that families which resort to popcorn for fireside gatherings are about ready to open the season for cider, crisp apples and popcorn and it's usually about the time Halloween approaches.

High prices for popcorn this fall and unfavorable weather for a good home grown supply point out the necessity of better care in harvesting and storing, according to J. R. Duncan of the farm crops department at Michigan State College.

Years spent in the study of popcorn growing and use have given Duncan many points of information about the crop. In harvesting, the popcorn must be allowed to mature thoroughly on the stalk. Immature ears are high in moisture and may not only spoil but spread mold spores to the more mature ears with which they come in contact.

Corn should be dead to the third joint below the tassel if it is to be cut and shocked. If husked from the hill, the stalk should be entirely brown and dead before separating the ear from the stalk.

Most important to those who handle the popper, whether that person is the grower or a city buyer, is the moisture content. Fourteen per cent is considered best.

Too little moisture, says Duncan, causes corn to pop quickly and feebly. Sprinkle with a little water three to four days before using, or hang in a bag where moisture can be absorbed from the air. Too little moisture causes popcorn to steam and then scorch with little popping. The corn should be placed in a moderately warm dry place where the temperature is between 60 and 70 degrees.

Insist it move by railroad

When there's freight to go, when there's freight to come, insist it move by railroad.

Freight via railroad means efficient handling, speedy movement, on-time arrival.

Freight via railroad means a protected shipper, a protected shipment, a protected delivery.

Freight via railroad means using the only transit agency whose average charge is less than a penny a ton a mile.

Make this a habit: Have all freight go—and come—by rail.

We have missed something all through the campaign, until it came back to us as we were thinking of a speech we heard the late lamented Wm. J. Bryan make about 40 years ago. We don't know what that means, and maybe it is all out of style now, but it seems more sensible than a lot of the "phony phrases" they are using at the present time. ... Springfield Signal.

We think Brother Sibley is mistaken. According to our memory Theodore Roosevelt made this expression famous when he included it in his acceptance speech at the Bull Moose convention at Chicago in 1912 when he accepted their nomination as candidate for President. He was beaten out of the Republican nomination when the old guard members of the party who were in control refused to seat the delegates from many states who were for Roosevelt.

The Typical American

Foreign observers note a marked change in the physical appearance of Americans within the last half century. Fifty years ago the tall lantern-jawed man typified Uncle Sam. Today, they say, the square-faced, stocky business man of the Babbitt type best typifies him.

Murder Masquerade

BY Inez Haynes Irwin

Copyright Inez Haynes Irwin WNU Service.

PRELUDE

My name is Mary Avery. I am forty-six years old and a widow. I have lived all my life in the little harbor town of Sautit, Massachusetts, the scene of the famous Second Head murder. The old Avery house on Second Head has been my home for the twenty-five years that have elapsed since I married Mark Avery. It was on my place that the murder was committed. Because of that and for other reasons I have decided to write the whole story of that murder. I say the whole story because some of its details have never reached the newspapers. Those facts are buried deep in my memory and in that of one other person. I shall put this manuscript in my safe deposit box with instructions that it may not be opened until my death.

Murder in Sautit! It seemed almost as fabulous as a communist uprising among the flowers in an old-fashioned garden. And indeed when the murder occurred we, the citizens of Sautit, became almost as helpless as a gardener in the face of such a revolution. Thitherto, our equipment for handling crime had been meager. We had a police station, a chief of police, a few policemen, mainly engaged in traffic duty; everything in short but crime. Patrick O'Brien, our chief of police, who bore the leading part in solving the mystery, is of course a citizen of Sautit, known and loved by all of us. Indeed Patrick and I were graduated the same year from high school. Patrick was president of the class and I was treasurer. It was always a race between us two in the matter of marks. In the end Patrick won out and finished at the head of the class.

I have noticed that all mystery stories begin with a description of the crime; then of the locale. I, an amateur, am going to reverse that process. First of all, I am going to describe Second Head where the murder occurred. Second Head is one of four cliffs, rather unimaginatively named First, Second, Third and Fourth Head, which stretch east into Massachusetts bay. To the west of Second Head runs a road, ending north at First Head and south at the Indian river which separates Second and Third Head. Beyond this road, to the west stretches broad marsh, penetrated at high tide by a tiny estuary from the harbor; and beyond the marsh the rest of the big township.

Roughly speaking, the houses on Second Head which are most intimately connected with this story lie in a big oval. The center of this big oval is a small oval—a kind of Common. Here a marble basin, filled with water, supports a colony of goldfish. Every family on Second Head pays a small fixed annual sum to keep this scrap of Common mowed and orderly. We adults call it The Egg. Successive generations of children have always called it Cat Park—although as far as I know, only a few cats ever sunned themselves there.

Next to me—a wide field bordered by high lilac hedges, intervening—lived a childless couple, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Stow. I am very fond of the Stows. Peter is a painter and a good one. Mattie Stow is perhaps the plainest woman in God's world; she is also perhaps the nicest. Their house, an old one and a big one, its lower floor amplified by wide glassed-in piazzas adapted perfectly for the purpose of entertaining, is one of the most charming in Sautit. Every summer for twenty-five years, the Stows have given a masquerade. It is the social event of the season.

It was one of the guests of this year's masquerade who was murdered.

Next up the slant of Second Head toward the ocean—to the east—come two houses belonging to Doctor and Mrs. Geary. Doctor Geary is a surgeon with an office in Boston. The Gearys occupy the one nearest the ocean and their married daughter Edith and her husband, Alfred Bray, the one nearest the Stows. I have always known the Gearys and of course I have watched Edith grow up. I like them all, although none of them thrills me especially; at best they are a little innocuous. The blond Brays are an average happy young couple. Both the Gearys and the Brays went to the masquerade. Their first connection with the murder was when we called Doctor Geary after my maid, Sarah Darbe, found the body of the murdered man.

Next to the Gearys, and still on the ocean side, is the house occupied for the summer by Doctor Marden and his step-granddaughter. Big, very beautiful, more modern than the rest and hence naturally more convenient and infinitely less interesting, it looks forward onto a "moon-light" garden.

An interesting pair these: Doctor Myron Marden and his step-granddaughter. He, a widower, a middle-westerner by birth, has practiced in Paris for twenty-five years. Caro Prentiss, the step-granddaughter, was born in France, had never visited America before. Her mother had died soon after Caro was born.

Caro Prentiss is a new type in the Sautit garden of girls. She has had a continental education and she possesses the most beautiful type of continental manners. In conversation, she displays a kind of swift, wide-flung intelligence very different from that of our Sautit girls. Grandfather and granddaughter fused admirably into our social life. Both went to the masquerade.

Next beyond the Howard house—wide hedged lawns separating them—is the Eames house. Equally with the Stows, I love the Eameses. Paul and Lora Eames went to school with me, and I am god-mother to their only child—Molly. Paul is one of our leading citizens, the president of our bank. Lora busies herself in every good work in the community. They are solid people; fine people. As for Molly—

The Eames house is a little like my own—old, what most people call "quaint," which, whatever else it may signify, certainly means inconvenient. It is at present the most popular house on the Head: for wherever Molly is, the young of her generation congregate. The main connection of the Eames family with the murder is that Molly Eames was engaged to the murdered man. Though why she was engaged to him constituted the most recent of Sautit's social mysteries—he was twenty-five years older than she. In addition, everybody in Sautit believed that Walter Treadway was the man whom Molly really loved. Walter Treadway had been for two years secretary to the murdered man. Molly had been engaged to Walter for six months. A year before the murder, the engagement was suddenly broken off and Walter left town; six months after Walter's departure and six months before the murder, Molly became engaged again—and to a man who was destined to be murdered. All three of the Eameses attended the masquerade.

Coming around the curve of the circle and down the slope of the Head, we reach the pretty little house of the Fairweather sisters. Flora, the younger, is dying from cancer and Margaret, the older, nurses her with a passionate devotion. Naturally, neither was present at the Stow masquerade.

Coming still farther down the hill, we close the circle with my house, which, separated from it by gardens, lawn, trees and road, overlooks the marsh; a big, old place, built in 1710 by my husband's first ancestor in the country—the original Mark Avery. It consists of what in the family we call the Old Place and the New Place.

The New Place is a little brick all to the Old Place, quite modern and extremely convenient, to which I retire for the winter. I built it in the first year of my marriage. The New Place bears no part in this story for it is always closed during the summer; but many scenes of what was known as "the Sautit case" played themselves out in the Old Place. Inside, it follows on a largish scale the plan of many colonial houses—broad hall running from front to back—past the fine broad doorway ending half-way down the width of the house. On one side of the hall is the library, on the other, a small living-room. Back of the hall and back of both these rooms, lies what was formerly the ample kitchen and is now my big living-room, stretching across the whole width of the house. Back of this—and now we are in the ell—are dining-room and kitchen. Upstairs is a colonial tangle of big rooms and small. Broad screened-in piazzas augment both ends of the house.

Outside, the place is a little haphazard and complicated. But it is, I think, utterly charming. In front are a pair of gardens, one on each side of stepping-stones which lead to the front door, all surrounded by a white picket fence. Beyond that is smooth, velvety lawn running down to the stone wall which protects me from the road. To my right the driveway comes up past my side door, turns in a great loop, rejoins itself, so to speak, and flows back to the road. To my left is a small wood which I call the Spinney. My estate numbers a generous dozen acres and the Spinney takes up perhaps a half dozen of them.

A grassy path runs from my left-hand piazza to the edge of the Spinney. There it becomes a broad gravel path, and pursuing a course irregularly oval, runs through the Spinney, curves upward and around and ends at my back door. In the Spinney, farther toward the ocean—not in sight from my house—is a tiny wooden log-cabin which we have always called the Little House. Years ago two of my nephews built the Little House. They sleep there by preference whenever they come to visit me—and entirely through sentiment I have always kept it in repair. The Spinney path runs past the Little House. Down near the stone wall, within sight of my house, there is a tiny pond. It is circular and no larger than a small room. Until I came here, everybody called it by its hereditary name—the cow well. But when my nieces and nephews began to grow up about me, we decided that it should have a more agreeable name. Some of them had visited in Connecticut in a house situated on the Mud river. We adored the name. After long debate it was decided to call the pond the Merry Mere. The Merry Mere is fed from a spring in the hillside; it is perhaps three feet deep in the center. Near it is a big, gray lichened rock which, from time immemorial in the family, has been called Mud-Pie Rock.

Here I live all the year around; alone except for my maids Bessie Williams and Sarah Darbe, colored women who have been with me for years. At the time of the murder, my eight-year-old niece, Sylvia Sard, was visiting me. She spent most of her days playing on the shore of the Merry Mere with her little friend Nancy Burton. Both Sylvia and I went to the masquerade; and both my maids were helping that night in the Stow kitchen.

FRIDAY

As I have said, the Stow masquerade is an annual fete. The first summer after they were married, twenty-five years ago, Peter and Mattie sent out invitations for a masked party. It was so great a success that, thereafter, they gave one every year; ultimately it became the social event of the season. This success is in part due to the fact that Mattie and Peter take such pains to make it so. They leave no stone unturned to give the affair glow, gayety, gorgeousness—picturesque quality of every kind. The Stows themselves always say that the success of the party is due to the fact that we, the invited, take as much pains as they, the inviters, to make it so. We are, I am sure, as far as masquerades are concerned, a rather special group. We have always enjoyed dressing up. A dinner party will, at the request of the hostess, turn at the last moment into a costume affair. No one of us but has in the attic a trunk crammed with the costumes we have worn on such occasions. At house auctions, we bid feverishly on old clothes, hats, boots, shawls.

It is a point of honor to disguise ourselves from each other as thoroughly as possible. We keep an inviolable secrecy in regard to our plans. On the night of the masquerade, families separate to dress in alien households and to arrive at the Stow place at different times. Husbands fool wives and wives hoodwink husbands.

Household Questions

To polish a table that has become spoiled by hot dishes, apply a few drops of essence of peppermint with a clean cloth and rub briskly.

Never allow cold water to run into an aluminum pan while it is hot. If done repeatedly the rapid contraction of metal will cause pan to warp.

A teaspoonful vinegar beaten into boiled frosting when flavoring is added will keep it from being brittle or breaking when cut.

When whisk brooms have become worn, cut them down for sink brushes.

For Russian dressing, mix two tablespoons of chopped dill pickles, two tablespoons chopped ripe olives, two tablespoons chili sauce and one tablespoon of catchup to one-half cup of mayonnaise. Serve on lettuce or vegetable salads.

A GAME

PROGRESS.

When one looks up and down our streets it is with a certain feeling of pride. Many towns of our size have grown for several years and then stagnated. Howell is not one of these.
The character of our citizens is such that it will not be content to sit back and watch the world go by. Since the introduction of the automobile a good deal has gone by, but due to our progressiveness we find a lot of the world stopping with us. One can mark the changes of the past year.
The new Line store, new front, for Sutton Hardware, new Ford Garage, are but a few of the changes. Now a new Post Office building is under construction. Most of our streets are hard surfaced and all modern conveniences are available to every home.
Our merchants believe that there is more business if one goes after it.
Our farmers improve their herds for better milk production and purchase modern equipment for more efficient cultivation. Our manufacturers have kept us employed almost constantly even in the hardest times. We have worked together and the results speak for themselves.

Interest paid on Savings Accounts and certificates of Deposit. Money to loan at reasonable rates. All deposits up to $5000.00 insured by our membership in Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

Let's Look at the Record

LAVAN SPEAKS AT CONWAY TOWN HALL

Martin J. Lavan, Brighton lawyer, Democratic candidate for Prosecuting Attorney is making an aggressive campaign for the office, and at a recent meeting at the Conway township hall said in part:
"If a Prosecutor cannot stand on his record then there is little or no excuse for his continuance in office. It is his duty to create a feeling of harmony and good will among the enforcement officials of Livingston County, and to work with them. There is no such feeling at this time, and, certainly there is no evidence of cooperation.
There is but one class of cases to which a Prosecutor can in fairness point when he is talking about his record. These are the felonies—cases where warrants are ordered by the Prosecutor's office.
In these instances the complaining witness or at office reviews the case for the Prosecutor and it is the Prosecutor's duty to weigh the information and if, in his opinion, a crime has been committed, issue a warrant. It would be assumed then that the Prosecutor would know fairly well what the outcome of each case will be when he orders a warrant."

PROSECUTORS COURT RECORD

But let us look at our Prosecutor's court record; during his administration thirty-two cases in all have been bound over to the Circuit Court; seven of these cases were appeals from Justice Court, and it is significant to note that all of these cases after arrival in the Circuit Court were dismissed by that Court on the Prosecutor's own motion. Three cases were actually tried in the Circuit Court during our Prosecutor's term of office, namely: People vs. Frechette, People vs. Bonmarito and People vs. Hayes, and is well known, Mr.
Gordon Tapping from the Attorney General's office conducted the trial in two of these, the third and remaining case was tried by the Prosecutor, and, after a jury disagreement and a costly trial, this case was dismissed by the court on the motion of the Prosecutor.

THE FRECHETTE CASE

One of the cases above mentioned, commonly known as the Frechette case is said to have cost this county several thousand dollars, and while the State of Michigan refunded some $1800.00 of Livingston County as a partial reimbursement it is generally agreed that the credit for securing such reimbursement from the state belongs primarily to the Hon. Joseph H. Collins, Circuit Judge.

COSTLY OUTSIDE HELP

I respectfully submit that the Prosecutor's office demands and deserves the services of a sane, capable and experienced lawyer, who will co-operate with other law enforcement agencies in bringing about a better enforcement of the laws, and who will not foolishly waste the taxpayer's money by the issuance of unwarranted and un-investigated complaints nor the hiring of costly outside help.
A Prosecuting Attorney should know that it is against the law to hire outside help to conduct the affairs of his office, but not withstanding this such bills for outside help have been presented to the Board of Supervisors for payment and with the request and approval of the Prosecutor to pay same, and these bills were paid by Livingston County. These bills were for local counsel and should not be confused with the expense attendant to the Attorney General's assistance in our Circuit Court.
