

Romulus Wins Game 25 to 0

Wayne County Team Wins Easy Victory From Pinckney Outclass Local Team in All Departments

Romulus who played the local high school team here last Friday had the best team Pinckney has met this year and easily took the game by a score of 25 to 0. The visitors were jangly, heavy evenly balanced and played nicely together. The score does not tell the complete story as they were penalized some 8 times a total of 45 yds which held the score down somewhat. Romulus made 18 first downs and Pinckney one.

The visitors started a march down the field at the start of the game and stole off five first downs in succession mostly on straight plays mixed with a few Statute of Liberty plays and an occasional lateral pass. The first score was nullified by penalty but they went over on the next play. They scored again in the second quarter and made the extra point on a line play.

The Romulus boys made another touchdown in the third period but again their drop kicker failed to get the extra point. At the beginning of the fourth quarter, the complete second team of Romulus was sent in. Against them Pinckney made one first down on a forward pass. Read to Lysiak. On the next play Pinckney fumbled and Romulus got the ball.

The Romulus second team failed to score so the first team went back in again and scored on the first play a triple pass. Then the second team went back into the game with but two minutes to play.

Although the Pinckney team failed to click either offensively or defensively still at times some of their players stood out. VanBlaricum, shifted to end in place of Young played a no game there and made a number of tackles. This is his first year of football. Howard Read and Edsall Meyer continued their good work of previous games although Meyer hurt his leg, injured in the Ann Arbor game again and had to retire from the game. J. Lysiak looked good at times and made Pinckney's only first down. The rest of the team played hard but were up against an aggregation who had it on them in everything including experience. We doubt that Pinckney's team will average over 16 years of age while Romulus is undoubtedly nearer 19.

Board of Supervisors End Oct. Session

Takes No Final Action on Building a New Poor House, Welfare and Relief Bills Approved.

The board of supervisors adjourned until last week until the poor house committee were ready to report. This committee was to see the state tax commission, welfare commission, attorney general etc. to see what would have to be done to build a new poorhouse. At the session last week Melville McPherson, head of the state tax commission, Miss Robinson of the state welfare commission appeared before the board. Mr. McPherson stated that the county could levy a tax of more than 4 and one half mill for construction of a new poor house if it desired to. Miss Robinson said that the only restrictions the welfare and board of health would impose was that the building must be fireproof and sanitary to conform to health regulations. The board now has $15,000 in the poor fund and if they build will use this and not levy an extra tax. It voted to allow all architect 15 minutes to explain their plans for the new infirmary.

Motion by Noecker, seconded by Benson to buy an addressograph machine for $1885, with $400 down. The resolution lost 9 to 6.

The board followed the custom adopted by other county boards of raising their salary from $4 to $5 a day with a mile for each day. They are now paid 10c a mile one day per session.

A resolution was adopted that no member of the board can carry on any financial transaction with the board.

The county infirmary cost for the year was $5,608.43. Temporary relief cost $27,640.98. The relief cost was apportioned as follows:

Brighton City	$800.00
Brighton Twp.	1115.45
Cohoctah	1449.98
Conway	504.95
Deerfield	1091.87
Genoa	821.88
Green Oak	1129.14
Hamburg	2028.37
Hardy	1732.16
Hartland	1002.60
Howell City	2169.30
Howell City	1363.73
Iosco	777.98
Marion	787.98
Oceola	1349.45
Putnam	1197.45
Tyrone	541.80
Unadilla	1137.78

Of Putnams $1197.45, $142.17 went to the Pontiac asylum, $105.30 to the Lapeer home, $111.24 to the county infirmary and $838.74 for temporary relief.

FORD DEEDS BEING PREPARED

Mr. Leobold of the Ford Motor Co. was here last week and left the deeds of the property desired here by the Ford Co. with the register of Deeds. Frank Bush to be made out.

The Spers, Markus, and Bazzock deeds are already finished and those of Mrs. C. L. Sigler, Chas. Skinner, Wm. and Iva Gardner, Ledwidges, S. H. Carr Wm. and Ella Mercer are being gotten into shape. Some property owners have to go into court to clear their titles and this is delaying things.

FAMILY RESTAURANT CHANGES

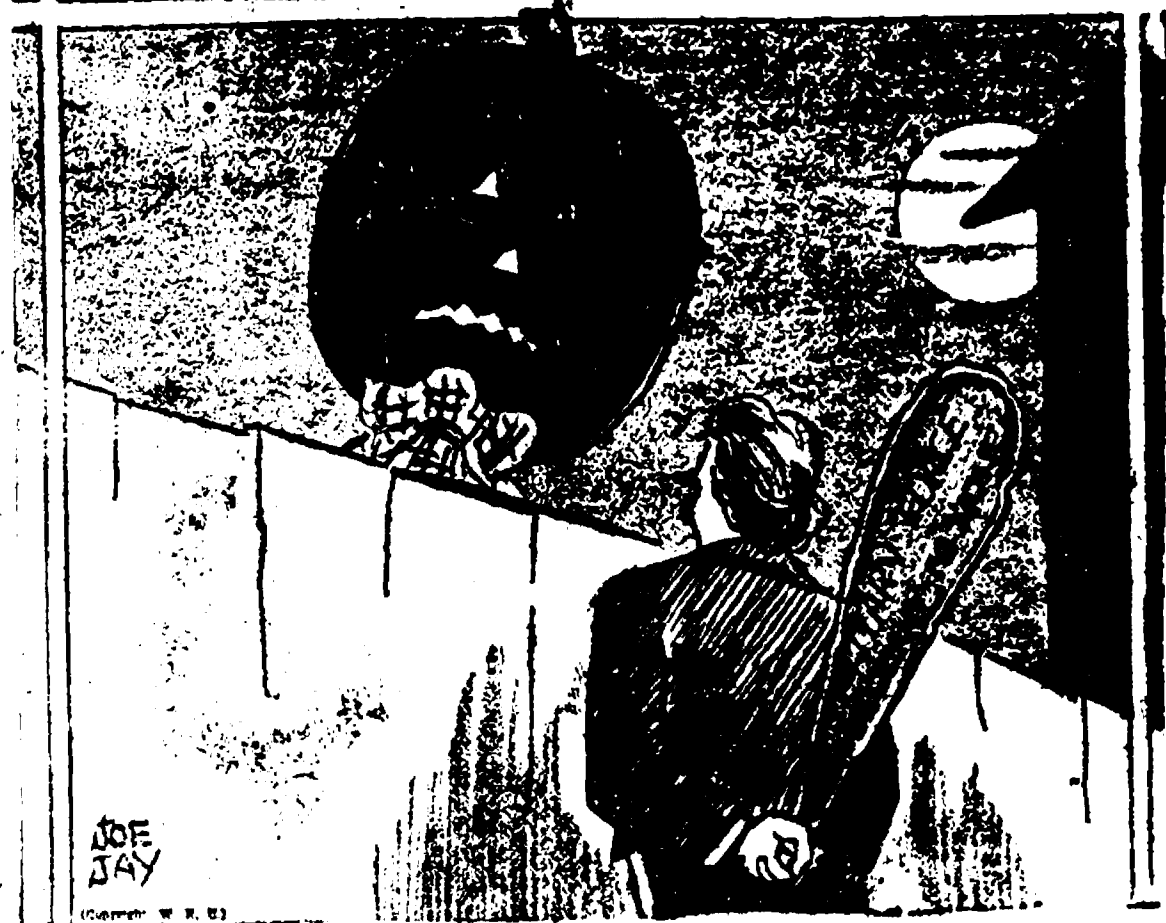

The Family Restaurant at Howell has changed hands. Fred Cronnswett, owner having sold same to Howard Gentry, former deputy sheriff and now mgr. of the state liquor store at Howell and Mr. Abrahamson, mgr. of the A. and P. Store. We understand Mr. Cronnswett will live at his lake cottage. Mr. Gentry will continue to manage the liquor store.

You can still enter The Detroit Times new $15,000.00 Famous Name Puzzle Contest—but you should not delay as this opportunity will not last long. This contest, for residents of Michigan only, offers a $10,000 First Prize, plus 99 other handsome cash awards. For details on how to win you can still enter, see the Detroit Times.

Large Attendance At Banquet

Some Thirty Different Lodges Are Represented at Third Degree Banquet Here Saturday Eve.

An attendance of about 200 was present Saturday night at the banquet and third degree conferred held by Livingston Lodge No. 76 at Pinckney. The lodge dining hall proved too small and a table had to be set in the lodge room. Axel Carpenter acted as chief and Wm. and Edsall Meyer, Clifford and Clair Miller, Cy. AtLee, Raymond Ellis, Billy Baughn, all sons of Masons waited on table.

At the conclusion of the banquet the assembly bowed their heads for 15 seconds in memory of the six members of Livingston lodge who passed away during the past year. The departed brothers are George Benson, George Sigler, Dr. Claude Sigler, Fred Bowman, Peter Conway and Paul Beck.

Percy Ellis, master of the local lodge delivered the address of welcome and Herman Smith, master of Westgate lodge, Detroit, responded. This was followed by community singing with Ford Lamb at the piano.

The following masters and members of different lodges were introduced: Alton Lesser, Dexter, George Atkinson, Chelsea, A. Hale, Wm. Shultz, Ann Arbor, Bob Phillips, Brighton, Ernest Phillips, Howell, Clyde Yelland, Fowerville, Chas. Runciman, Stockbridge, C.A. Pebbles, Quincy, Henry Hauck, Roseville and L. W. Hoff, Flint.

Billy Gibson of Detroit sang several Scotch songs. Harry Lauder style. Kenneth Hull, Detroit, secretary of the Wayne Masters Assoc. composing 100 lodges of Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties spoke on the Masonic Orphan program.

Hon. W. W. Blackney of Flint, former congressman, spoke on historic places of American Masonry had visited.

Rev. W. E. A. Lewis, Mt. Clemens spoke on his recent visit to England. Scotty Strachan of Detroit, a fine soloist, sang several songs.

Walter Thompson of River Rouge and friend of court delivered an excellent address on the subject "What is Masonry." He is an excellent talker and handled his subject well.

Then followed more introductions which included Lynn Gardner, Stockbridge, Glenn Mack, Linden, Dr. Manville, Smith, S.D. J. Mitchell of Neptune Kilwinning No. 422 Scotland, Grover Gregory, Trenton and R. Shawl, Dearborn. Members of Ashlar Friendship, Rubicon, Cyrus, and Olive Branch lodges of Detroit were also introduced.

It being the birthday of David Kennedy, past master of Westgate lodge he was given a Plymouth Rock rooster, each member of Livingston lodge contributing a feather. Also a permit signed by Irvin Kennedy, sheriff and Claude Kennedy, village president, allowing him to take the bird out of the county without the game warden's confiscating it. The Westgate members not to be outdone presented him with a bouquet of sunflowers and golden rod.

Louis Schwab, past master of Westgate lodge was introduced as the father of 5 sons who are Masons and W.C. Miller Pinckney took a bow as the father of three.

The assembly then proceeded to the lodge room where Westgate lodge conferred two third degrees for Livingston lodge.

LEWIS-HOLLIS

The marriage of Miss Lyla Lewis, daughter of Mrs. Erma Lewis of Pinckney to Edward Hollis of Dundee took place at Dundee on Saturday, October 23. The bride graduated from Pinckney high school in 1935 and has been employed in Ann Arbor. Congratulations.

KOELLER-MARTIN

On Wednesday, Oct. 20, 1937, at the Lutheran church at Ypsilanti, Miss Mildred Koeller and Lemuel Martin spoke their marriage vows before an assembly of friends and members of the immediate families. Rev. Finkler read the marriage service using the ring ceremony.

The bride's gown was peacock blue crepe and she wore a shoulder bouquet of talisman roses and was attended by Miss Edna Mack whose gown was blue and old gold and she wore yellow roses.

Elmer Koeller, brother of the bride assisted as best man. Following the services they returned to the home of the bride's parents where a six o'clock dinner was served. The bride chose for her traveling dress a grey with matching accessories.

Amid a shower of rice the young couple left for a trip through northern Michigan.

After their return they will reside in Ypsilanti where the groom holds a responsible position in the electrical dept. of the D. M. Silkworth Co.

VANDERWALL-SHIREY

Miss Francis Vanderwall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Vanderwall of Lakeland was united in marriage to James Shirey Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James Shirey of Pinckney on Saturday, October 23. The marriage took place at the First M. E. church parsonage at Elkhart, Indiana. Rev. Lindeberry officiating. The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Shirey the former being a brother of the groom and the latter a sister of the bride. Miss Helen Vanderwall, a younger sister was also present. The newly-weds will live in Pinckney. We extend congratulations.

THE NEW MARRIAGE LAW

The new marriage law which goes into effect on Oct. 30, requiring all persons to get a doctor's certificate before they can get married doubled the number of marriages for this month. As the state already had a law requiring a five days wait this made last Saturday the deadline.

The Michigan Medical Society claims to have found a flaw in the law which it wants remedied. It should recognize the right to marriage of clinically arrested patients who are not infectious who may have positive findings. The law now bars all persons who show a positive Wasserman test. Sometimes a case of syphilis can be cured in 10 months but 3 yrs. is the time. The physicians want the examination stressed, also the fact that it includes eyes, ear examinations and other tests. Also both applicants for marriage licenses do not have to go to the same doctor.

CURRENT COMMENT

Do you think the country is going dry again? We have been told so and by persons who were never classed as dry sympathizers. Anyway the Morley Oates Veterans of Foreign Wars Post of Lansing has refused to host $1500 in a cocktail bar because its members think the state is going dry again. Dissatisfaction in the way liquor is handled, high prices and quality is said to be the cause.

Did you ever drive a long distance and count the animals lying in the road which have been killed by cars? Even drive from here to Howell to find you will be surprised at the number of dead animals in the road. The conservation dept. has been trying to get figures on this loss of life but so far has failed. The death toll is enormous and more so because it is usually the female rabbits, pheasants and birds are killed.

DANCE—HALLOWEEN MASQUERADE PARTY, OCTOBER 29, ST. JOSEPH'S HALL, HOWELL, DETROIT ORCHESTRA, PRIZES

CURRENT

Gov. Landon delivered a broadcast over a nationwide hookup last week in which he criticized President Roosevelt for having taken too much power. Strange to say news commentators and editorial writers paid little attention to his Roosevelt tirade but label his speech as the opening gun of the fight between himself and Herbert Hoover for the control of the Republican party. Among these papers is the old conservative Detroit Free Press who brand the speech as a complaint and not a battle cry and noted that he ignored the gut together party convention sponsored by Hoover next year. Landon is said to be cold to this as he regards it as an attempt to put the skids under him and relieve him of leadership of the party. Howard Lawrence, columnist, says the Republican party is composed of three elements, those who favor Landon, those who favor Hoover and those who are opposed to both of them. Its big handicap is that it is leaderless and will probably remain so until 1940. At the present time it would seem to be a golden opportunity for Senator Vandenberg to come forward but he is a canny boy and always likes to see which way the wind is blowing before taking in a stand.

The state press is giving much publicity to an editorial written by Mill Marsh of the Ann Arbor News in which he claims that too much pressure put on the Michigan football team caused by their last four years is causing their losing streak. This pressure he claims is applied by the officials on account of failure to pay off on the million dollar stadium debt through dwindling attendance. Mill is a very good friend of ours but we don't think he probes deep enough. Why was all this pressure applied and why was it necessary? The champion race horse does not need the whip to get him over the finish line ahead of the rest of the entries. He has the guts and stuff in him to win without it. That is why he is champion. It is only the horse lacking in these qualities who needs the whip. No one heard anything of this pressure in the days when Michigan was champion.

One out of every four postmasters appointed by President Roosevelt is a woman according to Wm. Dixon, supt. of postmasters. Between March 4, 1938 and Oct. 1, 1937, 28092 postmasters have been appointed of which 7108 are women. Many of these are girls barely over the age of 21. The oldest postmaster in the United States is Mary Stewart of Oxford Maryland. She is now over 80 and was appointed in 1877.

The question of when is older hard seems to be answered by Attorney General Starr. In an opinion requested by Charles Austin, Clinton County prosecutor, he ruled that cider is not legally intoxicating until it is 30 days old. Cider more than 30 days old he ruled must be sold through the state liquor commission.

We note that D. F. Beach, of the Michigan Milk Producers Assoc. has gone to bat for the farmers again and got them an increase of one 8rd cent a quart for milk. This was for the purpose of loading off a threatened milk strike by the farmers. The farmers asked 4 of a cent increase. This increase will amount to about 15 cents per hundred weight.

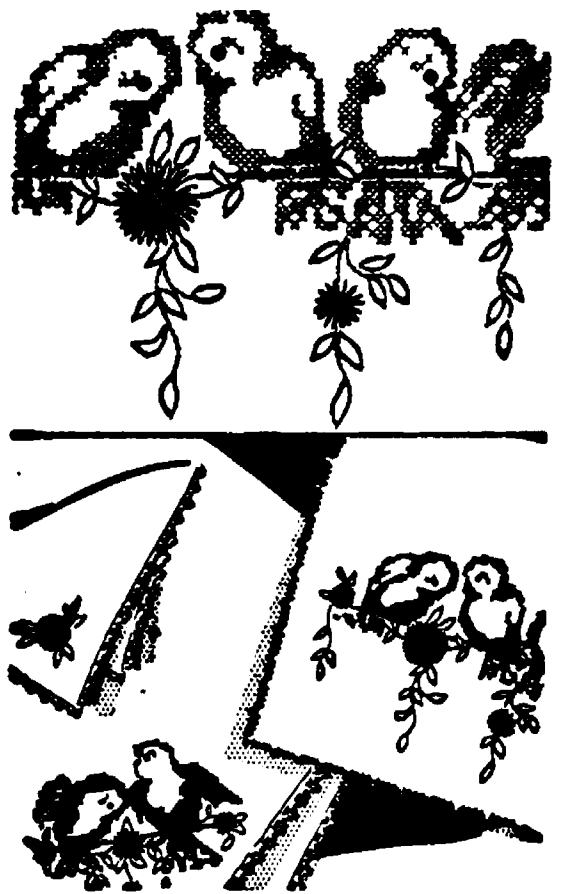

When we first started going to big league ball games in Detroit back when Hughey Banning was winning pennants and Ty Cobb was breaking all records the ball field was called Bennett Park in honor of Chas. Bennett, famous old time player. Then the late Frank Navin tore down the old wooden park and built the present one, naming it Navin field after himself. At his death the Briggs family came in control and now they will rebuild the park and name it Briggs stadium after themselves. We are kind of sorry about this as Navin, aided by Jennings and Cobb made base ball in Detroit what it is today.

HOW TO SEW

by Ruth Wyeth Spears

Crazy Patch Work at Home in a Modern Setting.

THE crazy patch is the oldest of quilt patterns, yet there is something amazingly modern in its angular lines. So whether your living room is traditional in style or newer than tomorrow you will be interested in the revival of crazy patch work for what our grandmothers called a "slumber throw."

A corner of one of these old silk crazy quilts is shown here at the lower right. The pieces were small—many not more than 1 1/2 inches wide or long. A variety of embroidery stitches joins the pieces. Both plain and figured silks were used, the plain patches often being embroidered with flowers, fans and other amusing motifs—note the beetle embroidered on one patch. Several colors of silk embroidery thread were generally used but in the most artistic of these quilts one color predominated in the embroidery.

Larger patches with simple feather stitch and herring-bone stitch at the joinings also give a good effect. The pieces are sewed to a foundation of some firm soft material. Outing flannel or an old wool blanket are good. Pin a piece in place over the space to be filled, trim the edges to the right shape, as at A, allowing enough to turn under, as at B, where the patch laps over the one next to it. Baste the turned edges down as shown. When a number of patches have been basted in place, sew them down to the foundation with the embroidery stitches and then remove the bastings. The backing is tied to the front with silk embroidery thread as comforters are tied. Little or no padding may be used and a plain band around the edge is effective.

GET READY FOR WINTER DRIVING

No section of our population is more dependent upon the automobile as a means of transportation than the residents of the smaller communities and rural districts. Yet each Fall, many car owners cause themselves a great deal of trouble and expense by neglecting one or all of the simple yet necessary steps to assure proper operation of the car in winter weather.

A minimum winter protection program should cover:
1. Complete change to correct grade of lubricants for motor, transmission and differential.
2. Motor tuned up, including adjusting of carburetor, valves, distributor, sparkplugs, generator and all electrical equipment.
3. Drain and flush cooling system. Refill with suitable anti-freeze solution.

Selection of motor oil and greases for winter driving is particularly important. You must select an oil which will permit easy starting, that will lubricate the motor throughout the entire driving range of speeds and will continue to do so for a reasonable mileage.

For many years Quaker State Winter Oils and Greases have been recognized as the highest quality and most generally satisfactory winter lubricants on the market.

Through Quaker State's highly developed methods and equipment it is possible to produce a motor oil which will have a satisfying body over the 400-degree range of temperature it will meet. That is, when the motor temperature is way below zero, the oil will still be fluid enough to allow the motor to turn easily and also to flow freely to all the bearings. Yet this same oil has enough body to stand up and to give the motor proper lubrication when the temperature inside the cylinder wall reaches 400° and over.

As with any other product you buy, you get what you pay for. An oil of Quaker State quality is necessarily expensive to make. This does not mean, however, that Quaker State is more expensive to use. Being pure, concentrated lubrication, it stands up longer in service. It gives more miles per quart and at the same time gives the bearing surfaces safer protection.

You will want to step into the car, even when the mercury is hiding in the bulb and press the starter with every expectation that the motor will start off with its usual Summer zest. This sure starting, plus motor protection, is only possible by preparedness.—Adv.

WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK...

By Lemuel F. Parton

NEW YORK.—Big, square-headed, ham-fisted Ernest Bevin, czar of right wing British labor, lost his first big fight at the Bournemouth conference.

Left Wing of British Labor Gains Power

Mr. Bevin is the Sam Gompers of British labor, opposing political activity, labor theorists, philosophers, communists and intellectuals, and relying solely on the economic squeeze for tying knots in the lion's tail—and on occasion he has made the lion yelp resoundingly. The Bournemouth showdown, lightly touched in American news dispatches, is a victory for the "united front," for such left wing ascendancy as that of Maj. Clement R. Attlee and Sir Stafford Cripps; it marks a potential schism in British labor and it reveals distinct similarity to nascent political and "ideological" trends in American labor. He is head of the powerful Transport Workers' union, a large element of which clamored for a boycott against Japanese goods and threatened to refuse to handle them. England notes all this with acute memories of 1926, when Mr. Bevin and his dock workers gave Britain a severe case of jitters with their paralyzing strike. He was similarly obdurate when he pulled the big London bus strike at the time of the coronation.

Innocent bystanders cheer his roundhouse swings at the reds, but wonder who'll bell the cat if he gets more power—and Mr. Bevin has an aggravated case of the power itch. In the present issue—roughly comparable to the disagreement between John L. Lewis and William Green—conservative opinion is being heavily mobilized behind Mr. Bevin.

He is from the Limehouse district, an expounder of traditional trades-union doctrine, such as Gompers taught, based chiefly on "Reward your friends and punish your enemies," and never mind the philosophy or politics. Bulky, moon-faced and belligerent, he is not only a fighter and organizer, but a clever strategist. As in 1924, battling the ship-owners for a shilling a day raise in dock wages. Professors at a conference showed charts proving a worker could get fat on the current wage. He stepped out and translated a day's wages into bread and margarine. It was a pitiful showing. They won their increase.

MUSSOLINI and Hitler, oiling up the Rome-Berlin axis, didn't hesitate to let the world know they can't lose. They might ponder what happened to Slip Madigan when he broke loose from the traditional inferiority complex of football coaches. Recently, setting a precedent, he said St. Mary's was going to trounce California and there was no use making any bones about it. Then California trimmed St. Mary's, 30 to 0.

Since Mr. Madigan and his "Gallopers" were last seen hereabouts, the bankers have grabbed old alma mater, but they are still going strong, a lurid spot of color on this year's football horizon. It seems to be something new—a top-hole football outfit touring for a fore-closed college.

In the 18 years in which Mr. Madigan coached the little college of Moraga valley, California, 20 miles east of Oakland, he pulled it up from a dejected little hangnail squad to a roving, ravening band of man-eaters. "The Mad Magician of Moraga," alliterated the football scribes, referring to Mr. Madigan, who was not only coach, but trainer, rubber, handler, doctor, dietitian and pants mender.

I remember looking on, in 1920, I think it was, when California beat St. Mary's, 120 to 0. The college was a dingy little red brick building in a sleazy little side street. They took drubbings like that every year.

Then came Slip Madigan, from Notre Dame, via Oregon. His main assets were a law degree, several pink shirts and an unmatched instinct for showmanship. He set the place on fire with football fervor. Two years later, they licked California, just as if Ethiopia should lick Italy today. From then on, there was no stopping them. The college got plenty of funds and moved to a nice home in the Moraga valley. The "Moraga Maulers," with candy-colored pants this year and red silk next year, pounced and devoured all over the country. The financial crack-up focused on Slip Madigan's salary. Last February, bondholders charged the college had turned over to him all of the $38,324.15 receipts from the Fordham game. Last July, the college was sold at auction, but, college or no college, the Gaels keep on galloping. Just a fast, 16-year running start, and they can't slow down.

6. Because the axis of the earth in its revolution around the sun is not perpendicular to the sun's rays, thus the different parts of the earth's surface receive the direct rays of the sun at different periods.

7. The R. C. A. building in New York city is the largest office structure in the world, with a gross area of 2,924,036 square feet. It has a ground area of 99,770 square feet.

8. Of the nine aqueducts which brought water to ancient Rome, three are still in use. One of them, constructed in 149 B. C., is 56 miles long.

9. Engineers have stated that the Empire State building was built to stand a sway of 24 inches. On November 3, 1933, a wind with a velocity of 100 miles an hour was recorded, at which time the sway was only 4 inches.

10. The number of persons involved in proportion to the population is less here than elsewhere, with the exception of Canada and the Irish Free State. In the 1930-1936 period 61 persons in 10,000 were involved in the United States; 63 in Great Britain, 114 in France (strikes only), and 170 in Belgium. The Irish Free State had 24 in 10,000 involved, and Canada, 25.

OF INTEREST TO THE HOUSEWIFE

Polishing Linoleum.—Dissolve a lump of sugar in the water when washing linoleum or oilcloth, and a brilliant polish will result.

Opening Jars.—A strap with a buckle on one end can be used to good advantage in opening glass fruit jars. Run the strap through the buckle and tighten it around the cap. This enables you to get a good grip on the lid.

Using Kerosene Safely.—One of the safest ways of using kerosene is to mix it with wood or coal ashes, then use a few spoonfuls of this mixture when starting or re-kindling a fire. This can be stored for regular use in a gallon bucket or other suitable container.

Crab Savory.—1 crab, 3 tomatoes, 1 lettuce, watercress, 1 egg, pepper and salt. Shred the crab meat finely and mix with a little mayonnaise. Wash the lettuce and arrange leaves around and at the bottom of the dish. Place some crab in the center, then season with pepper and salt; add slices of tomato and hard-boiled egg and watercress.

Spaghetti and Cheese.—A nice way of preparing spaghetti that does not require lighting the oven. Fry one chopped onion and one-half pound ground meat in olive oil until nicely browned. Add two cups tomato puree or sifted tomato pulp, one teaspoon paprika, salt and pepper to taste. When nicely blended serve over plain boiled spaghetti and over the top sprinkle finely grated cheese.

Dried Peel.—It is nice to dry the skins of several oranges and lemons and grate them, then putting them in a glass bottle in the refrigerator to be kept for flavoring purposes. It certainly saves time in the future and one is inclined to use these flavorings in interesting ways if already at hand. WNU Service.

CARDS AND GAMES—300 Watts

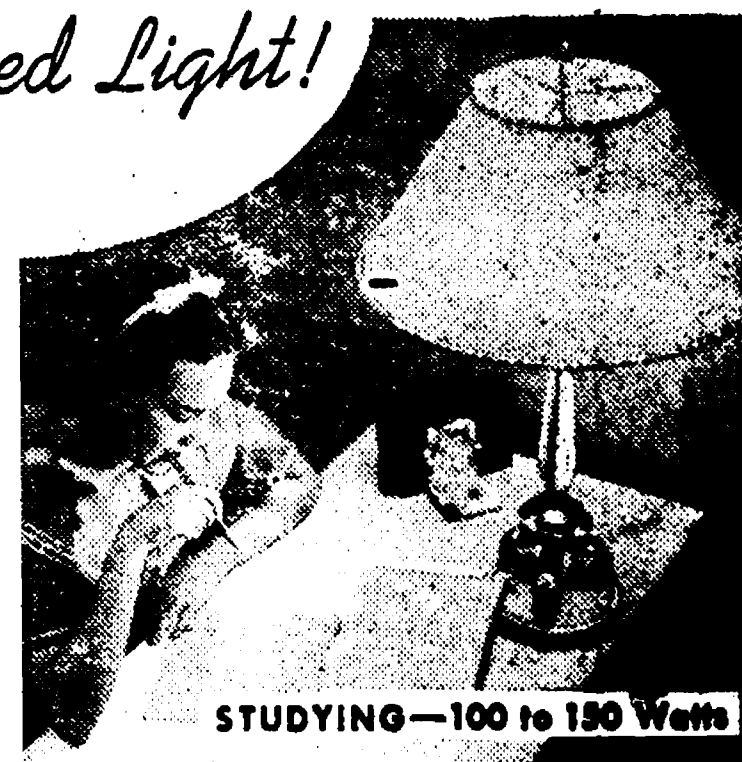

FOR ALL THESE SEEING TASKS, YOU NEED

HOBBIES—100 to 150 Watts

Conditioned Light!

SEWING—300 Watts

STUDYING—100 to 150 Watts

For a friendly game of bridge; for close visual work entailed by such hobbies as ship model building, stamp collecting or drawing; for sewing and mending; for reading, writing and studying, you need CONDITIONED LIGHT . . . to help to avoid eyestrain and fatigue, and to assure easy, comfortable seeing.

Conditioned Light means light that is soft and restful, free from glare and harsh shadows. It means the right kind and the right amount of light—light that is ample for the seeing task, spread over a wide working area. It means light that is evenly distributed throughout the room, bringing out the beauty of rugs, draperies and furnishings. Conditioned Light can transform a room, lending warmth and color and richness to everyday surroundings.

Light Conditioning is flexible. You can start with one room if you like, and gradually include the entire house. Our Home Lighting Adviser will be glad to measure your lighting with the Sight Meter, room by room, and explain how easy it is to enjoy Light Conditioning in your home. Telephone today for a home lighting survey: There is no charge for this service.

'STREAMLINE' BANKING

In the transportation field of motor cars and railroads a new word "Streamline" has forged to the front. To thousands of people it means "new, modern, and up-to-date." While the term refers primarily to appearance it represents the experience of transportation engineers over many years.

In banking there is no single word to describe the modern financial services. But in types of services, in speed, in accuracy and in every day convenience to the customers, banking is keeping abreast of the times. The twentieth century tempo of business would be impossible without the widespread facilities of the American banking system.

This bank is an active unit in our nation-wide banking system. We invite you to make use of our services in your daily financial affairs.

Plaintiffs

vs.

Hannah Hag, and her unknown heirs,
devisees, legatees and assigns,
Defendants

Suit pending in the Circuit Court for the County of Livingston in chancery at Howell, Michigan on the 23rd day of October 1937.

It appearing from the sworn bill
of complaint as filed in said cause, that the plaintiffs have not been able after diligent search and inquiry to ascertain whether the said defendants are alive or dead, or where they may reside, if they are, or if they have any personal property, or heirs living, or where they or any of them may reside, or whether the title, interest, claim, or possible right of these defendants have been assigned to any other person or persons, or whether such title, interest, claim, lien or possible right has been disposed of by will by said defendant.

And it further appearing that the plaintiffs do not know and have been unable after diligent search and inquiry to ascertain the names of the persons who are included as defendants without being named.

Upon motion, therefore, of Don W. VanWinkle, attorney for plaintiffs it is ordered that the above named defendants and their unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns, cause their appearance to be entered herein within the next month, from the date hereof, and that in default thereof said bill of complaint be confessed by said defendants and each and all of them.

It is further ordered that the plaintiffs cause this order to be published within forty days in the Pinckney Dispatch, a newspaper printed, published and circulating in said County, once in each week for at least six successive weeks.

interested will meet at church parlors on Thursday afternoon to work on quilts. This meeting was postponed from a week ago Tuesday.

The Baraca-Philathea News for September-October is at hand. We note that the Seashore Convention held at Ocean City June 29, July 3 adopted a new constitution, elected a new president, a new treasurer, a new board of Trustees decided to secure an administration building for the Baraca-Philathea and reallocated the responsibilities of several officers of the World Wide Union. The new president is Wm. Camelford of Dun-ford Ont. Baraca-Philathea was 47 years old on October 20.

On June 23 occurred the death of Alonso Nevison Heron, brother of Baraca-Philathea's General Counselor.
Mr. Heron was an artist and had given freely of his time and talent to Baraca-Philathea.

The October meeting of the class was held in the church parlors on the 13th. A few items of business and a work program featured the after noon.

Red Coral Always Prized

It is red coral that is and always has been prized, not solely for jewelry and buttons, but as a charm to bring safety, health and secrets not revealed to the ordinary person. As ancient Gauls rushed headlong into battle, they trusted their safety to their swords' strength and the "magic" coral imbedded in their shields or helmets. Many Italians and Indians regard coral as protection against the "evil eye." The world's red coral comes from the reefs off the Mediterranean coast of Africa, says the Washington Post, and is obtained chiefly by Italians.

LOCAL PATROLS PREPARE FOR FIRST AID CONTEST

Keen competition is anticipated in the First Aid Boy Scout contests to determine the Patrol which will receive the honor of being the outstanding First Aid Patrol of the Wa-shenaw-Livingston Council.

Each troop is to have an interpatrol
First Aid contest during the next few weeks, and the outstanding patrol of each troop will then be invited by the Neighborhood Commissioner to take part in the intertroop con-winning patrol in each neighborhood will then strive for first place in their test within the neighborhood. The districts. The victorious patrol in each of the four districts will then compete among themselves for the honor of being the outstanding First Aid Patrol of the Washtenaw Livingston Council.

Council finals for this contest will be held shortly after the first of the year. The finals for this part of the state will be held early in the spring while the Midwest finals will be held in Chicago in March.

The Pinckney Scout Troop under the leadership of Robert Seckel will take part.

EXTENSION WORK PROTECTS HEALTH

Better methods of feeding families and better usage of Michigan grown foods are results counted in thousands of farm homes in the state as a result of home economics extension work in the past year.

As a new year starts with an additional rural women enrolled in extension projects for communities, a summary of last year's results in the food facts alone indicates the scope of the work.

More than 3,500 women report that they now know better vegetable cooking methods. Men often frown on salads. Yet Michigan vegetables and fruits can supply many combinations for salads that help protect health.
In this part of the campaign the su-mary shows 1,616 families have learned to like raw foods. Carrot stick cabbage apples and tomatoes are the favorites.

Even that scoffed at vegetable,
spinach, was included in one lesson.
An uncured kettleful was cooked for a short time without water other than the drops that cling after washing. The proof of this lesson was in the green color and the attractive.

Undernourished children or grown-ups with out good health often can blame improper food selection rather than lack of sufficient quantity of food. Better use of Michigan grown foods including fruits, vegetables, milk and meat, can add butter to the helpful effects.

Roberta Hershey, nutritionist at Michigan State College, which is the center of the state-federal extension work in the state, advocates the use of Michigan grown foods. Variety leads to good appetites she says. Another reason is that most farm families in the state can grow nearly all foods necessary for a well balanced diet.

AUTO TAG SALES USE BLANKS BY MILLION

Although the total number of passenger commercial and trailer vehicles in Michigan for 1938 will be somewhere in the neighborhood of 1,500
000. Leon D. Case Secretary of State has ordered 3,300,000 application forms for license plates for these vehicles. Experience of the dept has shown that about twice as many of the forms will be needed as there are vehicles are needed to meet the demand of the public.

The human inclination to get accounts for the excess number of blanks—all of which cost taxpayers money. It is not particularly uncommon for applicants to use three or four or even more blanks, before completing one correctly. The more than 3,000,000 forms are for full year plate applications only. When forms for half year plates and plate transfer applications are added in a total comes to 8,850,000, which have been ordered for this some 1,500,000 add motor vehicles.

Total registration of passenger and commercial vehicles, and trailers for 1937, is now in excess of 1,600,000 exceeding last year's total of approximately 1,500,000 records show. On Oct. 19, registrations of these three divisions of motor vehicles were as follows: passenger, 1,351,338 commercial, 114,538; trailers, 122,258;
house trailers 9,679. for a total of 1,633,645 vehicles.

Safety education is a very important item in our schools today. It should be taught to all classes. Teaching or preaching safety however is not enough. If the only thing a child gets out of the safety education is a bundle of facts he can recite to the teacher or visitors, I don't believe we have taught him a thing. He must do what he is being taught—he must do what people preach to him. A famous author once said I have quit trying to be good, but I have not quit trying to do good.

That is the thought. Cultivate safe habits in the children through safety education. Safety education must of course, be based on intelligence, facts and ideals, but it must have coupled with that desirable and safe habits.

Safety education is a conception of life or a state of mind. It must at the same time create a machine or a thought for building efficient and safe conduct.

There is an easy way to keep dust from sifting through the cracks of the asphalt door when shaking furnace grates. Quite a few readers have asked me how it can be done, and I'm sure many more of you will be interested. Here's how:

Have a spray made of small pipe, connected with the cold water system installed in the asphalt of the furnace. Only a short length of pipe will be needed. In it have small holes drilled and cap the free end.

Just before shaking the grates, turn on the spray. It will throw a fine mist over the whole asphalt, wetting down the ashes as they drop through the grate openings and settling the dust immediately. Then remove the ashes from the asphalt. They will be sufficiently wet to prevent the dust from rising and settling in the cellar.

The cost and installation of such a spray will be but little, and it certainly will save you considerable work in dusting off things on which the dust would otherwise settle.

Favorite Recipe of the Week

Open Peach Pie.

6 peaches 1 cupful flour
Sugar, cinnamon 1 egg
1 egg yolk 1/2 teaspoonful 3 tablespoons 1/2 cupful cream baking powder
1 tablespoonful 2 tablespoons butter milk

Make a cookie dough type of crust from last six ingredients, as follows: Mix dry ingredients. Work in butter, and add the slightly beaten egg and milk. Mix and then pat and roll out on board or pastry canvas. Fit into nine-inch pie plate. Peel the peaches, remove stones and slice in even slices. Arrange in circular fashion over the dough. Sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon mixed. Beat the egg yolk, add three table-spoonfuls cream and drip over and around the peaches. Bake in hot oven for about 30 minutes or until crust is browned and peaches are soft.

A Three Days' Cough Is Your Danger Signal

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold, or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with any remedy less potent than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble and aids nature to soothe and heal the inflamed mucous membranes and to loosen and expel the germ-laden phlegm. Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, try Creomulsion. Your druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not thoroughly satisfied with the benefits obtained from the very first bottle. Creomulsion is one word—two, and it has no hyphen in it. Ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)

CHAPTER VIII—Continued

He dropped to his knees and touched it. Sticky! He flashed his light on it. Sniffed. Turpentine? He sank down on his heels and choked back a shout of laughter. He had been fooled by red paint.

How had it come here? What was that dark heap beyond it? Overalls! Blue denim overalls still warm from the wearer's body. The driver of the car he had heard a few moments ago must have shed them before he left the garage. Why had he worn them?

Mark projected and rejected explanations with lightning speed. The man who had shinned from the balcony had come from the room where the scenery was being painted. Wasn't the roof of the cottage on the backdrop red? Why the shower? Why the shave? Was it he who had removed the key from the door of the storeroom tonight? But that man had disappeared via the connecting door, presumably into Lookout House.

He flashed a dim light over the white cover. More red! A clumsy X. "Make X on cover when—" The words on the scrap of paper in the storeroom were explained. "X marks the spot where the body was found."

The sentence flashed into Mark's mind as if set in electric lights. Body! Jed was missing! Perhaps his body had been dumped inside the limousine!

He set his heel on the thought. He would imagine a horror like that. That infernal cross probably meant nothing, but he'd take a look-see so that he wouldn't ask himself later, "Why didn't I?"

Soundlessly he reached the other side of the limousine. The disarranged cover which left the door exposed revealed also a license plate. All set to go! He flashed his light inside. Something long, something rounded on the rear seat was covered with an automobile robe.

Dread paralyzed Mark's hand for what seemed to him hours; then with a muttered imprecation he thrust it under the robe. The silver! Nothing but the silver! That X on the white cover was a sign that it had been moved from his house. Who had moved it? That was easy. It had been removed while he and Jed had been at the Reburns by the man who had driven away. Sure of plenty of time he had stopped for a shower and shave. Moving the loot to the garage had been his share of the job. Would a pal appear to drive the stuff off?

"He will, and here he is!" Mark muttered, as the frosty gravel outside the garage crunched faintly.

A key in the lock! Not a minute to waste. Where should he go? Inside Brooke's town car! The breaks were with him. It wasn't locked. The garage door was sliding back. Mark saw a patch of sky. He banged his forehead as he plunged headfirst into the sedan, and saw a million stars. His head spun as he crouched in the space left by the turned back seat and drew the door shut without latching it. He held it in place as barely breathing he listened.

Footsteps on the cement floor! Cautious footsteps. A light on the ceiling! Suppose it should flash into the town car? It had stopped. Whoever it was, was taking his time. An engine turning over! Was some darn fool starting a car with the garage door closed? Mark raised his head turtle-fashion. No, the door was open. He might have known it. Was it likely that the bandit would allow himself to be bumped off by carbon monoxide? Not that bad boy. He had too much at stake.

He must follow. How? He couldn't trail in another car. He would be heard. Could he hang on to the empty trunk-rack? That was an idea. He would follow the limousine out of the garage, slip into the shadow of a shrub when the man went back to close the door, then grab the trunk-rack when the car started again. A stunt, but he'd make a stab at it. If he were to hold the man now he would learn nothing of his destination. He cautiously tiptoed after the limousine. He was safe behind the shrubs when the driver returned and noiselessly closed the garage door. A soft hat was drawn low over his eyes, but Mark knew him. Henri.

He was behind the wheel again! The limousine was coasting down the incline! Mark crouched as he ran after it. As the engine started, he drew himself carefully to the trunk-rack. He barely breathed. Had the driver felt a jar? Evidently not. He was increasing speed. He was not headed for the causeway. He was going in the opposite direction. What did that mean?

After spinning past old landmarks, the car slowed down and stopped. Mark saw the white cottage. The filling-station. He must not be seen here. Surely the driver would make contact with someone inside before he left the limousine. Henri stepped out of the car. He stopped as if to make sure he was not observed.

Mark slipped off the trunk-rack. He was cramped and stiff. He hobbled rather than walked into a deep purple shadow cast by a pine. He could see the cottage. He held his breath as Henri gently turned the knob of the front door and entered. What would he do next? Come back to the limousine? What a chance to grab him.

What was he doing inside the house? He was taking his time. The door was opening again! Mark hardly breathed. A man slipped out. His hat was pulled down over his eyes. He slunk along in the shadows. Reached the shore road. Ran on the dried grass which bordered it as if pursued by furies.

Had that been Henri? Had he delivered his message? Had he been warned to beat it? Couldn't have been a fight inside. No loud voices. Had the limousine with the silver been left for someone else to drive away?

Someone else! What a break! What a break! He would drive it back and park it in his garage—no, that wouldn't do, he would leave it with Mike Cassidy. Mike was as dependable as the sun.

He stole from the shadow of the pine. With every faint scrunch of his feet on the frosty ground his blood stopped running. Could he reach the limousine before someone came? Only a few feet more. He was behind the wheel. With a hand stiff from cold he touched the self-starter. Hang it! Wouldn't you know the motor would back-fire! A light! In the front dormer! He had awakened someone! He hadn't a moment to lose.

With his ears strained to detect pursuit, with his eyes roaming from side to side, Mark shot the car ahead. He went in an opposite direction from that taken by Henri—if the man who had burned up the road making his getaway from the white cottage had been Henri—he wouldn't run the chance of overtaking him. It seemed years before he reached Mike Cassidy's garage at the entrance to the causeway, hours before he could rouse the man, before he partially opened the door.

"Let me in quick, Mike," he whispered to the blinking, cursing proprietor, who was gripping something that gleamed dark and blue and ugly in a hairy, ham-bone fist. "It's only you, Mr. Mark! Thought it might be a hold-up."

Cassidy's lower jaw swung like a gate on loose hinges. He slipped the automatic into his pocket before he rolled back the garage door. "Where can I hide this?" Cassidy pointed.

Not until the limousine was stowed behind a motley collection of broken-down cars did Mark Trent explain. "I've just rescued the family silver, Mike. The yarn I have to tell you will beat any of the thrillers you get over the radio. Not afraid to keep the car here, are you?" Cassidy's red-rimmed eyes grew moist. He wiped his nose on a shabby coat sleeve.

"I ain't afraid to do nothing for you, Mr. Mark. You an' your family give me my start; sometimes you've kept me goin' when I didn't know where the next meal was comin' from. I felt when I let my Maggie go to work for Mrs. Hunt who treated you so bad, but we needed the money somethin' terrible, so she took the job, though it was at that new fillin' station that's tryin' to put me out of business."

A telephone rang. The two men stared at one another. Mark's blood turned to ice. Cassidy whispered: "Holy mackerel! Who's callin' this time of night? Have they traced you and the silver this quick? Perhaps there's a gang after you!" Mark nodded toward the telephone. "Answer!" His muscles tensed as he listened.

"Cassidy's garage—You, Maggie! What t'ell—Stop blubberin'—What! Who?—I can't hear, you're cryin' so—Something terrible?—Never mind, never mind. I'll call police headquarters—You've got to stay there, girl, till I get Bill Harrison. If anyone comes, don't talk. Don't talk!—Sure, I'll come, just as soon as I get the police."

"Mike! What's happened?" Cassidy's face was ashen as he shook Mark's hand from his arm. "Wait!"

He dialed. He spoke into the transmitter. "Someone's hurt bad at the white cottage—that new filling station on the point—Mike Cassidy talkin'—I got to go. You don't understand—my daughter's there—All right. I'll wait here."

He hung up and wiped a grimy hand across his sweat-beaded forehead.

"That was my girl, Maggie, who called."

"Talk, man, talk! What's happened?"

"Someone hurt bad."

"Who?"

"I couldn't make out."

"Someone hurt at the white cottage! But I was there not more than ten minutes ago, Mike."

"If I was you I wouldn't say that, Mr. Mark. It wasn't just hurtin'. I was breakin' it easy. Someone's dead."

CHAPTER IX

"Don't move! I've got you covered!"

In obedience to the hoarse warning, Sam and Brooke Reburn stood as if turned to stone in the dark hall of Lookout House.

Lights flared. Brooke stared incredulously. Was that Jed Stewart with his hand on the switch glaring at them with wide dilated eyes, with his mouth open as if he had just swallowed a salt wave? That was a flashlight he was pointing at them, not a pistol. It was Jed Stewart without his coat, with his black bow tie under one ear, with only one shoe on.

"For the love of Mike, Jed Stewart, perhaps you'll tell me why you're holding us up in our own house? Why this Public Enemy No. 1 touch?" Sam demanded. Stewart blinked.

"What are you two doing wandering round this house half dressed at this time of night?"

"Stop shouting, Jed. You'll have Lucette down here," Sam said. "Come into the living room and tell us what you're doing in this house, Jed."

"Let's go to the kitchen instead, more likely to stabilize our emotions," Brooke suggested. "I'll make cocoa and we'll scramble eggs. Jed must need food after the late ex-citement — he's fairly twitching with it—and I feel hollow to my toes. Come on, Sam."

"Sounds okay to me. I'm a growing boy, I need lots of nutriment. You'd better eat, Brooke; you didn't touch a thing when we came back from rehearsal. I'll run up and get a couple of bathrobes. Take these, Jed." He kicked off his slippers. "I'll put on shoes upstairs."

"Perhaps You'll Tell Us How You Got In and Why, Jed?"

Sam followed her into the kitchen. "Sam can be speedy when he wants to be," she admitted, as her brother entered with a lurid bathrobe over his pajamas and another all red and green stripes which he flung at Stewart.

"There you are, m'lady."

"Bring the milk, eggs, butter and bacon from the icebox, Sam. Toss me that apron, Jed, the big white one—that's right. Toast some bread, Sammy."

Soon Sam sniffed. "Doesn't the bacon smell dandy! Here you are, folks." He arranged thin, crisp strips around a mound of fluffy scrambled eggs. "You and Jed sit down, Brooke, and I'll bring the cocoa after I find the marshmallows to drop into the cups."

Brooke slipped off the apron and waited until Sam had served steaming hot cocoa with a little melting white island floating in each cup and helped himself lavishly to scrambled eggs and bacon, before, with elbows on the porcelain table, chin on her clasped hands, she suggested:

"Now that the shock of discovering us roaming round in our own house has somewhat worn off, perhaps you'll tell us how you got in and why, Jed?"

Stewart leaned back in his chair with the air of a man whose appetite has been abundantly satisfied. (TO BE CONTINUED)

Snakes Have Quick Tongues
Garter snakes are among the commonest of our native reptiles. The quick, darting forked red tongue gathers many insects for food, which together with frogs, toads, salamanders and worms, forms its principal diet. It is perfectly harmless and of great economic value. It hibernates below the frost line in soft mud or sand and emerges in early spring after being awakened by warming suns.

A Trio of Triumphs

THE way to day-in, day-out chic for the woman who sews is shown in today's attractive new three-way plan. It goes deeper than the surface, you see, in the presentation of a sleek new slip. Ah, and it gives great thought to the surface, too, as you can't help but note in the two wing-side models. This is one triangle every woman who sews should want to know all about.

Spicy New Model.
As shipshape as a Parisian streamline fashion and, in its own role, as important—that's the little number at the left above. It does wonders to give one that up and doing feeling that's handy to have around the house in the morning. You can repeat it time and again without fear of being repetitious; without losing your fondness for it. Anything in gay cotton: shantung, print, gingham, crash, will do nicely for this one.

A Congenial Slip.
Beneath a well-groomed surface hangs a perfect fitting slip! That's an old and honest notion and one Sew-Your-Own abides by religiously. Today's five piece version is as easy to put together as it is congenial to your comfort and outward superbness. Make two while you're about it: one with a plain top for everyday, the other with a bit of frou-frou for dress-up occasions.

Deft Design.
The "girl in the little green hat" wears a dress with many tucks in this her latest picture. It is the dress for you, Milady, to star in at familiar Fall festivities. Deftly but definitely it gives you emphasis where you want it; soft pedals worry-areas. No more willing and able frock than this was

HEADACHE REMEDY

STARTS WORKING IN SECONDS

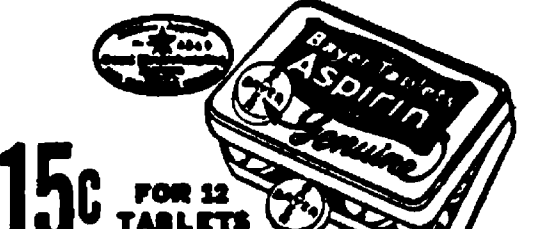

THE REASON BAYER ASPIRIN WORKS SO FAST
Drop a Bayer Aspirin tablet into a tumbler of water. By the time it hits the bottom of the glass it is dissolving. This speed of dissolution enables greater Bayer Aspirin tablets to start "taking hold" of headache and similar pain a few minutes after taking.

All people who suffer occasionally from headaches ought to know this way to quick relief.

At the first sign of such pain, take two Bayer Aspirin tablets with a half glass of water. Sometimes if the pain is unusually severe, one more tablet is necessary later, according to directions.

If headaches keep coming back we advise you to see your own physician. He will look for the cause in order to correct it.

The Early Bird Gets the Worm

WATCH a robin on the lawn some sunny morning. A few hops, then a pause. A few more hops, and he lives again. Then, triumphant, he pulls out a fat, wriggling worm. A silly bird, you would say, if he merely pecked here and there, hoping to strike it lucky.

Reading the advertisements before you start cooking his head is for the robin. Advertisements tell you just where the fat is hidden. Cook your eye on the advertisements in this newspaper. They may save pecking on barren ground.

NOTES OF THE GAME

Many people can't seem to figure out just what has happened to the Pinckney football team. It doesn't seem but a short time ago that Lu Wilson, Sam Lamb, Lefty Reason, Don Swarthout, Stanley Dinkel, Jack Dilloway, Hookie Battle, Buck Berquist, John Willie, Jim Lamb, Jim and Mark Nash, the Read boys Dr. Hendie, the Kennedy boys and the Campbell boys were playing on it. None of these were midgets. The answer is that the local students are becoming younger and lighter. One graduated last year who was not yet 16. Several members of this year's graduating class are only 16. A few years back the graduates were 19 or 20 when they got through school. These extra years which they do not get now made better football players of them.

One reason for the lowering age of high school students is said to be the abolition of the eighth grade examination. This formerly barred many country students and gave them a chance to grow before they got into high school.

Romulus is a consolidated school and the team made the trip here in a school bus. The team played like veterans and undoubtedly most of the first team had 3 or more years experience.

Pinckney had a much lighter team this game than before as Young had not recovered from a nose injury suffered in the Ann Arbor game and R. Gardner has quit the team.

The only one of the Pinckney team are Edsall Myer, Howard Read and J. Hannett played last year.

Muck, the Romulus 't end is rated one of the best high school ends in the state.

Next Friday Pinckney plays Hartland here. Pinckney beat this team 6 to 0 for their only victory so far. So this game will be a tossup as the teams are evenly matched.

See the cartoons of this game in the Dispatch office window drawn by Bob Martin official cartoonist.

Pinckney ends the season here on Nov. 5 with Ann Arbor high school reserves.

The Boy's Athletic Assoc. is giving a dance for the benefit of the athletic fund on Oct. 30. Come out and help them out if you can.

The Girls Yell team got into action but their numbers were few compared to the days when Dot Carr led the outbursts of some 50 or more enthusiastic co-eds.

DON'T NEED DEPUTY

Supervisor Norman Reason informs us that there was much discussion over hiring a deputy sheriff for the town of Pinckney at the recent session of the county board of supervisors at Howell. It seemed to be the consensus of opinion that one was not needed here in the winter months. He himself agreed with this opinion. A deputy next year one may be put on for the summer months.

Gregory has no all night telephone service and is near the center of the union industry which employs many. A deputy is needed here, Mr. Reason believes.

Our supervisor further states that he is working on a plan to get the road south of town black-topped on past the Brown, Harris and Bokrus farms to the county line and that in company with members of the county road commission he visited the office of state highway commissioner Von Wagoner and was told that grading of M-36 to prepare it for blacktop will start next July although the present right of way may be changed somewhat.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

The new marriage license law which goes into effect on October 30 has caused a flood of marriage license applications in all counties. There were 11 licenses issued in this county last week. According to some authorities last Saturday October 23 was the deadline owing to the five days wait required in this state on marriage licenses. The following secured licenses last week.

Lawrence Bielman, 28, Howell, Annabelle Buhl, 39, Tyrone; Wm. Hogar, 36, Brighton, Mary Wiesniewski, 38, Detroit; Wayne Brookland, 20, Fowlerville, Marion Pollock, 20, Fowlerville; Bert Hinkley, 60, Howell; Roy Kelsey, 64, Howell; Robert Best, 18, Fowlerville, Francis Yokum, 20, Webberville; Eula Beauchamp, 38, Howell, Charles Scott 36 Ann Arbor; Howard Jenks 29, Howell; Anna Frinkell 22, Stockbridge; Walter Steffe, 42, Detroit; Frieda Graham 43, Howell; Alex Barron 27 Howell; Lena Frisbee 19 Engardine; Archie Teller, 32 of Claudia Grassman 29 Howell; Wade Howard 30 May Scott 24 Howell.

CHURCH COMMITTEES NAMED

POTATOES WANTED Swann's store will allow top price for 100 bushels at once in exchange for clothing and footwear.

Open Evenings.

Henry Fleming and sister, who have been camping in a house trailer on the Albert Shultz farm left for Florida Monday.

You evidently can tell nothing by comparative scores. Manchester beat Pinckney several weeks ago 12 to 0. Ann Arbor beat Pinckney 25 to 0. This would appear to give Ann Arbor the edge over Manchester but last week the Manchester team smeared Ann Arbor by means of an unstoppable forward passing attack 32 to 0.

A UNIVERSAL DESIRE

The profession of funeral directing was developed as a response to the universal desire to pay all possible respect to the remains of those who have passed on. The modern funeral director is a man of specialized training and long practical experience. His function is to give necessary counsel and advice, as well as actual service to those bereaved. The members of this organization are fully prepared to serve in such a manner.
