

Pinckney Loses Final Contest to Ann Arbor

Pinckney Boys Put Up a Stubborn Fight and But for Two Bad Breaks Might Have Held Their Opponents Scoreless

The Pinckney high school football team held Ann Arbor high school reserves scoreless for three quarters here last Friday and but for two bad breaks which went against them would have probably held their opponents to no scores.

Ann Arbor had two complete teams but played listlessly and failed to show much team work the first half. Pinckney started with a rush. VanBlaricum intercepted two Ann Arbor passes and ran for one of them back 45 yards. Myer made a 30 yard gain later. However all these gains were made from deep in their own territory bringing the ball to mid field and they were unable to follow them up.

In this period Pinckney made two first downs to Ann Arbor's two. The colored star, Thomas started then was taken out and did not get in again until the second half. Without him they were unable to gain. Ann Arbor tried numerous passes both lateral and forward most of which failed. Pinckney's scores this year have all resulted from passes. Friday they could not complete any as the tall rangy Ann Arbor players intercepted several and the rest were incomplete. On account of this Pinckney made no serious scoring threat except on one occasion when they reached the 30 yard line.

In the second half Ann Arbor put back their starting lineup, including the big negro. Then they started to penetrate the Pinckney line, making three first downs with the colored boy doing most of the ground gaining. However he fumbled and Pinckney recovered near the 30 yard line. This prevented Ann Arbor from scoring.

In the last quarter Ann Arbor began pounding the Pinckney line again and reached the 10 yard line. Here they tried to pass over the goal line. The ball was batted out of the Ann Arbor receiver's hands and was caught by Lavey who was tackled behind the Pinckney goal line for a touchback. The ball was then brought out to the twenty yard line and given to Pinckney. They fumbled and Ann Arbor recovered the ball.

Again the Pinckney line failed to hold and after two first downs Courtwright got a touchdown for Ann Arbor.

The Ann Arbor team was big and heavy but failed to show much teamwork. Substitutes were going and coming all the while and much time was lost on account of this. Pinckney had no players injured this game and only one substitution was made Earl Berquist playing two minutes for Lavey in order to win a letter this year.

DR. HUNTLEY IN LIMELIGHT

Dr. W. B. Huntley, former head of the Mich. State Sanitarium, Howell, is again in the limelight. He is now head doctor, Jackson prison. A negro James Parks, 57 died there Nov. 6, from the effects of having his cell sprayed with formaldehyde when he became refractory. Dr. Huntley told the coroner the use of formaldehyde in such cases was a common practice. Dr. Huntley was not reappointed to the Howell job by Gov. Green when Dr. O'Brien of the sanitarium board charged him with incompetence.

Supervisors Buy Club House for Infirmary

Will Abandon Poor Farm and House Inmates in Club House in the Outskirts of Howell.

The Board of Supervisors voted 16 to 1 Friday to buy the Purdy & Woodruff club house on Howell Lake and use the same to house the inmates of the poor house which recently burned. The resolution was offered by Henry of Howell and seconded by Reason of Pinckney. This personal property at the poor farm will be sold and this money and insurance will be used to buy it. If not sufficient the balance of the purchase price will be taken out of the general fund. Also enough will be taken out of the general fund to remodel the club house to make it suitable for an infirmary. The poor farm will be sold when the time is considered suitable and the purchase price put into the general fund.

On October 25 the board on a motion by Robb supported by Reason voted to buy the club house for the sum of $8000. Purdy and Woodruff however asked $11,000. Last week however they came down to $10,000 which price the board voted to pay. Burr Clark, Marion supervisor where the poor farm is now located cast the only vote against it. There is no land connected with the club house and the stock and tools at the poor farm will have to be disposed of.

This club house was built some years ago when the lake property was subdivided and a golf course was to be built. However it never materialized and Purdy and Woodruff took the club house for their bill for the material. It has stood idle for years. The board set the dog tax for the male and unsexed dogs at $2 a year and females $4.

They entered into contract with the Detroit House of Correction for one year.

They also ordered that all related taxes, school, cemetery and highway taxes be spread on the tax rolls.

LAW SUIT IS SETTLED

The law suit of William Shehan vs Bert Easton of Brighton which was to have been tried in Justice Fry's court Monday was settled. Easton operated a sawmill near the Shehan farm and cut six trees belonging to Mr. Shehan near the boundary line between the farm on which he was operating and Mr. Shehan's. The latter sued for $300 damages. Don VanWinkle represented the plaintiff and Martin Lavan the defendant.

THE UNEMPLOYMENT REGISTER

The unemployment registration is expected to start soon. Two local men Lucius Wilson, sr of Pinckney and Thomas H. Faucett of Howell are employed in this dept. Wilson is at Washington and Faucett is the supervisor of the lower peninsula of Michigan. As we understand it the census will be taken in this manner: "Registration cards, in the form of questionnaires, will be distributed by letter carriers. These may be filled out in the home and then dropped in any mail box. The three agencies of publicity—the press, radio and the movies may be relied on to get the word and to pass along information that is made available by the government. But the co-operation of the public is vital. Without it the census will be only a gesture. It remains a voluntary proposition. There is nothing compulsory about it and not very much about it that is at all systematic. Its effectiveness can be measured only by the degree of the public's response."

TWO BANDED DUCKS SHOT

It is the custom to band ducks in wild life sanctuaries. Anyone shooting one of them is supposed to notify the address given on the band fastened to the ducks leg. Two such ducks were shot at Big Portage Lake last week. Both were black Mallard drakes. One shot Thursday by Winston Baughn bore a band with the inscription Biological Survey, Washington, D. C. No. 10,700. The one shot by Norman Miller carried the Address of Jack Miner Kingsville, Ontario. Both places were notified of the ducks being shot here. Ducks are said to be plentiful this fall and many have been shot here.

Deer Hunters Leaving This Week End

Pinckney Sends Regiment of Natty Hunters To Swell Army of Deer Hunters in the North Woods

It is a fact that if everybody had a brother were going deer hunting. According to our files of 19 years ago not a single deer hunting trophy was sold in Putnam township then. Each is not the case this year. The big game in the number of trophies sold is a record for this section. The deer hunting season is now open. The conservation department has made hunting conditions better and factories are no longer working six and seven days a week.

Just how many are going from here is not known. We will give the names of those we have heard of and add to it next week. So here goes: W. C. Miller and sons, Russell Livermore and others purchased land near Mio and built a log cabin there. They will all hunt this year but not at the same time. Saturday Norman and Claude Miller, Winston Baughn, John Couper, Fredy Haines, Russell Livermore and probably Benben Gauss of Pinckney will go. W. C. Miller and son, Clifford will go later.

Arthur Miller leaves with party from Lake for Drummond Island. Edward Parker will go to Roscommon county. W. H. Meyer will go north of Gayne City, Roy Reason and Andrew Elchman near Wyvern, the Swarthout boys, and Harris Price, near Lovells, Frank Drummond, near Gayne, Louis Wagner and Max and Mrs. Victor Handson will also go north. The Club boys are undecided. Last year they went to Skagway.

Norman Reason will hunt in Roscommon county.

F. R. HOLMES SIGLER HURT

Dr. Holmes Sigler was hurt last Friday night on the Michigan State Highway near the Pinckney road. He had a head injury and was on his way to an examination at the hospital. He collided with a car driven by George Sig, Marion township farmer. Both machines were badly damaged. Dr. Sigler received a head injury and three broken ribs. He was badly cut about the head and face and had to have some twenty stitches sutured.

THE RECENT ELECTION

The political commentators are busy reading the future from the results of the election last week and as is usual are deducing just what they want to find it. Local issues figured in nearly all cases and it is to be expected that national indications can be found. In Detroit Patrick O'Brien attempted to run as a CIO man, a Democrat and an Anti-Klanman etc. found he could not run so many horses at the same time and lost. In no cases except the CIO was he able to get any support. Democrats and Anti-Klansmen worked against him. In New York City Mayor LaGuardia of Jewish and Italian parentage won by the amount of plurality of 454,425 over his Tammany opponent. He is nominally a Republican but supported Roosevelt in the 1932-36 and was his patronage dispenser in New York City. In addition to the Republicans he was backed by the labor parties, communists, trade councils, independent Democrats etc. In view of his great showing it would be supposed he would be the Republican hope for president in 1940. Not so, however, he is even more radical than President Roosevelt. Instead the GOP is backing his running mate, Thomas Dewey who was elected for states attorney by but 108,496 majority and some say rode into office on LaGuardia's coattails. Walter Lippman, commentator remarks that 12 months ago Republicans were attacking President Roosevelt as a red because he had the support of American labor and now they have just won a victory chiefly by the aid of the votes of that party.

Henry Ford paid off some more property claims this week. Among them were M. J. Reason, Leo Monks, Wm. and Iva Gardner, Wm. and Ella Merritt. This cleans up all but two or 3. Rumors are that operations will start here soon.

Current Comment

After some 12 years delay Charles Gehring has at last been given the award for the most popular player in the American League. The trouble with him was that he was not spectacular enough to suit the people who award this trophy, did not sock any umpires, spike any basemen or get mobbed. Consequently he got little publicity. For years he has been Detroit's best ball player but Hank Greenberg with his home runs, Gerald Walker with his temper fits and Rowe with sulky spells always beat him in popular appeal. Gehring played here many times when he was pitching for Fowlerville high school and many here have batted against him. For years he was the center of attraction at the Fowlerville Fair and with a number of Detroit players appeared in the Fowlerville lineup. Then he tangled with the Fair Management and failed to show up for a big Gehring day advertised at the fair and has since been conspicuous at the fair by his absence.

It must be great to be rich. The newspapers related last week, that Henry Ford took an option on the broadcast of the world series between the Yankees and Giants for $100,000. Then it was found there was little interest in it and he declined to exercise his option. The high commissioner of base ball Landis could sell the broadcasting rights to no one else. So Henry Ford paid his option fees of $100,000. The total costs are understood to have been $275,000.

Federal officers have smashed a big counterfeiting ring with head quarters at Pittsburgh, Penn. and Monroe Mich. $80,000 in counterfeit money was seized mostly in $20 bills. A man was arrested in Jackson last week for passing bogus $10 bills.

R. F. Beach, president of Mich. Milk Producers Assoc. told 700 delegates that the association may eventually have to go into the distribution end to determine what is the distributor's fair share of the consumers milk dollar. By the operation of their Adrian plant they have reduced the hauling charges from 36 cents to 20 cents per hundred weight. He also warned the delegates that a large producer is trying to invalidate the filled milk law. Many producers take out the butter fat and replace with nut oils before canning the milk.

Much more significant that these results in our opinion is the treatment accorded to proposals to permit the sale of liquor by the glass. In all cases in Michigan that we hear of these proposals were beaten. Lansing, Kalamazoo, Royal Oak, and Gaylord all defeated such proposals. These cities must stay dry for four years as it will be that long before another vote can be taken. Dry leaders are greatly encouraged and there will undoubtedly be some counties voting on local option in the near future.

The GOP off year convention to frame a set of principles seems to be slated for the discard lined up with Alfred Landon who opposed it from the start are now, Senator Borah, Senator Vandenberg, Senator Townsend, Rep. Martin, Frank Knox many others. The GOP national committee when it meets is expected to sidestep this issue by appointing policy committee to consider the advisability of such a meeting.

Labor's refusal to be exploited seems to have indefinitely postponed the American tour of the Duke and Duchess of Windsor. Their tour was to be directed by Charles Bedaux, a high production man and Louis Fettey, head of an advertising firm. It was announced that its purpose was to study labor conditions in and slum projects. Baltimore, birthplace of the Durhams who was plain Wallie was to be visited. The Baltimore Federation of Labor passed a resolution to the effect that they wanted no contacts with friends of Bedaux or Adolf Hitler of Germany, both bitter foes of labor. President Green of the Federation approved the resolution and then it was learned that Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt would not receive Wallie. In fact of these snubs, with more to come the tour was called off.

Your kidneys are constantly filtering the matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities from the blood. This causes the system and upset the whole body machinery.
Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, swelling up nights, swelling, puffiness, itching of the eyes, a feeling of nervousness and loss of pep and strength. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder may be burning, stinging or too frequent urination.

Washington Digest

National Topics Interpreted
by William Bruckart
National Press Building Washington, D. C.

Washington.—The old mother hen, congress, has settled down, prepared to hatch something from the nest of crop control eggs. At this stage of the proceeding, no one can make a guess as to the brood that congress will produce any better than a farmer's wife can tell what will be hatched by a real hen in her chicken house.

What Will It Hatch?

About all that can be said for sure is that President Roosevelt called congress into special session to enact crop control legislation and, therefore, there is likely to be crop control legislation of some kind. It may not be hatched in the special session; the chances are that the many differences of opinion and the many demands cannot be reconciled in the six weeks which the special session may occupy before the regular session of congress convenes in January.

In addition to the lack of time in which to maturely examine crop control questions, a rivalry has developed between the house and the senate over the honor of drafting and putting through the law which will tell the farmers what they can and what they cannot do as farmers. Let me say just here that such a rivalry may work to the benefit of agriculture because it is bound to mean a compromise between the house and senate on the legislation that finally is enacted. In other words, extremists, for and against any proposal, will have to yield and this may possibly result in some workable program for crop control.

The main question before congress is the type of crop control law to be enacted. There are two kinds. Control may be compulsory or it may be voluntary. Most of the powers that be in the Department of Agriculture seem to favor the compulsory kind—a law that will tell the farmers they can or cannot do certain things and if they violate the decree, they can be punished. Many groups of farmers, however do not want that sort of thing. In consequence we find in congress now proponents of both the compulsory and the voluntary programs and each side appears to be determined in its position.

We have seen both types used. Potato growers will remember how the potato control law laid down the rule that a quota of production should be imposed upon every farmer and that he must pay 45 cents per bushel above the value of his potatoes for every bushel produced above his quota. These growers will remember also the agricultural adjustment administration requirement that all potatoes sold must be packaged in a certain way that was prescribed for the grower by the AAA. In this connection it will be recalled how there was a penalty in addition for those who failed to properly package the potatoes they sold. Beyond these requirements, there was also a penalty prescribed to be invoked against any person who did not properly package his potatoes and place a government stamp thereon.

Besides all this, there was an "informer" section in the potato control law. It provided something of a bounty for any person who relayed to the authorities any information he had respecting failure of any farmer to comply with the law and the regulations issued thereunder. It was reminiscent of prohibition days when informers were paid to squeal on bootleggers.

The compulsory cotton control law was less stringent but it had penalties attached so that any cotton farmer who failed to comply with the regulations had to pay a tax on cotton produced over and above his allotment. This tax was so high—50 per cent of the value—that it amounted to a fine as punishment. The other kind of cotton control law, the voluntary plan, had no penalty provisions. This control was exercised by issue of subsidies or payments to farmers for raising various crops provided they limited the amount to the dictation of the AAA. Thus, under the voluntary control, the farmer could take the government's money and limit his crop to what the AAA said was his quota and thus be paid for compliance. Or, he could refuse the government's subsidy and raise what he pleased.

Now, in addition to these propositions, Secretary Wallace of the Department of Agriculture, is promoting what he calls his "ever normal granary" plan. This is to serve as supplemental to the crop control on the production side. The secretary has an idea that the federal government can take the surplus of good years off of the hands of farmers and hold them through the lean years when poor crops have failed to produce the amount required for American home consumption.

The secretary's "ever normal granary" plan is a red hot poker and there will be plenty of sparks flying off of the handle as well as the hot end when this thing is debated in congress. Opponents of the secretary's scheme contend that this program is straight out regimentation and that it goes as far in this effect as anything done by either the Fascist Mussolini or the Communist Stalin. It takes no stretch of the imagination, therefore, to see what is just ahead in the matter of a controversy for crop legislation for the reason that each of the programs that has been thus far advanced contains political dynamite.

Chairman Jones of the house agricultural committee began work on drafts of bills for crop control long before the session convened. Several weeks prior to the opening day of the special session, Mr. Jones appointed six sub-committees; each was charged with drafting legislation applicable to a specific commodity. In doing this, Mr. Jones threw the door wide open. He included six farm crops to share the alleged benefits of crop control legislation, including the "ever normal granary" surplus control program. The sub-committees were directed to work out legislation covering cotton, wheat, corn, tobacco, rice and dairy products. Inclusion of rice and dairy products came as a surprise. Heretofore, there had been little talk about including rice and none about dairy products. The information that filters into Washington is that a majority of the dairy people have no particular hankering for government dictation in their business. Chairman Smith of the senate agricultural committee likewise has been busy. Throughout the summer he has been attempting to get a line on farmer sentiment by a number of hearings in various parts of the country. From all indications, Chairman Smith, who comes from South Carolina and is a farmer in his own right, is not enthusiastic about too much government dictation in the field of agriculture.

Over on the house side of the Capitol, Secretary Wallace has many followers. Obviously, he will co-operate with them very closely. Indeed, some of the house members who do not like Mr. Wallace or his "ever normal granary" scheme are referring to the Wallace supporters in the house as "Henry Wallace's boys." That indicates better than anything I can say how deep-seated the feelings are.

To add to the complexity of the job facing congress, President Roosevelt has said definitely that if there are subsidies paid to farmers in connection with crop control legislation, that legislation must carry additional taxes to take care of the bounty payments authorized. Simmered down, therefore, what Mr. Roosevelt has said is that if the farmers want that kind of crop control legislation, they and all consumers must pay for it with added taxes.

I have heard general commendation of the President's position. It surely represents a straightforward policy by the Chief Executive in this regard. He has told the country now that he is willing to support agricultural subsidies through control of the crops if the whole country which has to pay the bill is willing to bear the extra taxes that are required.

Having presented the picture as I see it, it seems almost unnecessary to add that there will be two enormous lobbies bearing down on congress in the special session as well as probably in the regular session that convenes in January. I think I foresee now how Secretary Wallace and those who believe with him are going to operate both within and without the administration. That is to say, there will be administration pressure and when anyone says that there is administration pressure, they are saying nothing more or less than that the administration is lobbying. It has always been that way and it is no exception that the Roosevelt administration does the same sort of thing.

The other lobby will embrace a considerable representation of farmer sentiment that is opposed to Washington dictation and which feels that additional taxes will have to be absorbed in part at least by agriculture. This happened in the case of a processing tax which was thrown out as unconstitutional. It will happen in every case for the reason that no one is going to absorb taxes when they can be passed on. When they are passed on to the farmers, that is the end because the farmer has no place to send them. The consumer is in the same fix.

In addition to this farm sentiment, the lobby in opposition to the Wallace program likely will find certain phases of other industry aligned with it. It will in all probability find a certain share or segment of consumer opposition because the consumers will have to pay in higher prices.

Pride in Perfection

A GREAT deal of the joy of life consists in doing perfectly, or at least to the best of one's ability, everything which he attempts to do.

There is a sense of satisfaction, a pride in surveying such a work—a work which is rounded, full, exact, complete in all its parts—which the superficial man, who leaves his work in a slovenly, slipshod, half-finished condition, can never know.

It is this conscientious completeness which turns work into art. The smallest thing, be it well done, becomes artistic.—William Matthews.

Old Masters

The question arises as to what percentage of the paintings called "old masters" are fakes. No compilation of statistics is available. By way of illustration, however, of the volume of the business done in spurious "old masters" it is said that 2,000 paintings attributed to Van Dyck have been sold to art collectors and galleries, whereas the artist actually produced only 70 paintings during his lifetime.

Beware Coughs from common colds That Hang On

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold, or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with any remedy less potent than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble and aids nature to soothe and heal the inflamed mucous membranes and to loosen and expel the germ-laden phlegm. Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, try Creomulsion. Your druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not thoroughly satisfied with the benefits obtained from the very first bottle. Creomulsion is one word—not two, and it has no hyphen in it. Ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)

WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK... By Lemuel F. Parton

NEW YORK.—Career diplomacy is closed to women. Brilliant girls, just out of college, keep on knocking at the door, but it doesn't open. In the Department of Commerce, things are different. Trade commissioners or assistant commissioners in seven countries are women. They have been singularly successful, working as Uncle Sam's saleswomen, finding out what people of other nations want, employing tact and discernment in their work, supplying the department with all sorts of keenly observed data about preference, taste and sales possibilities. They are proving themselves excellent trade envoys.

Smart Girls Help Spur U. S. Trade

The National League of Women Voters, publishing its "survey of women in public office," notes especially the success of Miss A. Viola Smith at Shanghai and Miss Elizabeth Humes at Rome.

Miss Smith has been with the Department of Commerce in China since 1920. A native of Los Angeles, she was graduated in law at George Washington university. She was at Peiping two years before being transferred to Shanghai.

She has been president of the American Women's Club of Shanghai, vice-chairman of the International Committee of Women's organizations, and has been active in many fields of social and civic life in China.

Miss Humes, assistant trade commissioner in Rome in 1925, and commissioner thereafter, showed typical resourcefulness in inducing Italian women to wear backless bathing suits. This, with a successful cosmetics campaign, opened new avenues for American trade in Italy.

She travels a great deal around Italy and keeps the department minutely informed on trade conditions and opportunities. She was reared in Louisiana and educated in Italy and Switzerland. In the war, she was with the Red Cross and later was attached to the American embassy in Rome.

Miss Gudrun Carlson has made a similar success at Oslo, Norway. Other nations in which America is represented by women in trade posts are Brazil, Guatemala, Chile and Venezuela.

All reports are that chic, intelligent women are highly esteemed in foreign capitals and it would appear that more good jobs for bright girls are coming along in the Department of Commerce, as clerks or commercial attaches, if not as commissioners.

AS THE Buddhists have it, "The turn of the wheel is the whole of the law," so Ignatius Timothy Trebitsch Lincoln has six wheels etched on his bald skull with hot irons, and becomes Chao Kung, a Buddhist monk. In Manchukuo, he opines that "Japan will bring about more peaceful conditions on earth than the Christians have done."

An internationalist, he was chased and caught by a Brooklyn policeman, landed in an English jail, circulated during the war, pretending to be a German spy, helped in the Kapp putsch in Germany, was chased out and went to the Orient. He was born in Hungary and reared in the slums of London. He became a Presbyterian missionary, then a vicar in the Anglican church, and, in 1910, a member of parliament.

When the Brooklyn police nailed him it was supposed to be a spy case, but it was later disclosed that England wanted him for forgery. That was in 1915. Thereafter he staged himself in a great deal of European spy melodrama, all of it supposedly imaginary.

Out of prison, he was engaged in arms traffic in Germany and built an impressive estate in Ceylon. Then he became a Buddhist abbot, in coarse robe and sandals.

FOR the first time, the forty or more peace societies seem to be making themselves heard at Washington. One hears talk of their possible influence in changes, enforcement or negation of the neutrality law.

Peace Army Lifts Up a Loud Voice

Mrs. Estelle Sternberger, executive secretary of World Peaceways, is a blue-eyed, brown-haired grandmother who has swiftly risen to leadership in the peace army during the last few years.

She sharply challenges the President's stand. "In his Chicago speech," says her organization, "the President points the American people down the road that led to the World war." Her gospel is simply that war is horrible and we've got to keep out of it.

She was Estelle Miller, reared in Cincinnati, an alumna of the University of Cincinnati. Much of her life has been given to philanthropy and civic enterprise.

Jiffy Blouse and Skirt Done in Plain Knitting

Here's simplicity itself—a jiffy knit that not only goes fast but is only plain knitting, no purling, throughout. What's more, it's made in two identical pieces (not counting the sleeves), seamed up front and back—no side seams.

Pattern 1568.

Make the blouse with long or short sleeves and a plain skirt. Pattern 1568 contains directions for making this blouse and a plain knitted skirt in sizes 16-18 and 38-40 (all given in one pattern); illustrations of blouse and stitches used; material requirements.

Send 15 cents in stamps or coins (coins preferred) for this pattern to The Sewing Circle, Needlecraft Dept., 82 Eighth Ave., New York, N. Y.

Blue Moons

Once in a blue moon is supposed to mean never, or hardly ever. But we learn from a high meteorological authority that blue moons are seen.

There was a blue moon reported at Santa Barbara, Calif., last year, colored as brightly as the blue of a rainbow and seen through a thin veil of magenta-hued cloud.

A blue moon was noted by the astronomers in Ireland during the eclipse of 1927, and after the explosion at Krakatoa, when volcanic dust floated all over the world, blue moons and green were reported.

WOMEN WHO HOLD THEIR MEN NEVER LET THEM KNOW

NO matter how much your back aches and your nerves scream, your husband, because he is only a man, can never understand why you are so hard to live with one week in every month. Too often the honeymoon express is wrecked by the nagging tongue of a three-quarter wife. The wise woman never lets her husband know by outward sign that she is a victim of periodic pain.

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomfort from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three or four years of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age."

Don't be a three-quarter wife, take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and Go "Smiling Through."

BUY FOR 1949

when you buy a new stove today!

50,000 OF YOUR NEIGHBORS

HAVE Switched TO ELECTRIC COOKING

TWELVE years is the average length of time a family keeps a stove. That means that the stove you buy today will be cooking for you in 1949. Electric cooking is the latest and most modern method of cooking. If you buy an electric range today you will know that your cooking method will be up-to-the-minute.

The trend is to electric cooking. Ten thousand families in and around Detroit have switched to electric cooking during the past year. Today more than 50,000 of your neighbors cook with electricity—and their comments are enthusiastic.

Most important of all, THE PRICE IS ABOUT THE SAME for an electric range and an ordinary stove of comparable size and features. Today you can have the extra value of an electric range at the same price. For the same amount of money you would pay for an ordinary stove, you can enjoy the proven superiority of electric cooking. And an electric range brings you advantages you can not obtain elsewhere:

CLEANLINESS, with pure heat from a glowing wire—heat as clean as sunlight. BETTER FLAVOR... the delicious natural flavor of meats and vegetables cooked in their own juices. HEALTHFUL WATERLESS COOKING, with precious minerals and important food values sealed-in, without requiring special waterless utensils. MORE LEISURE—extra hours of freedom away from the kitchen. And best of all, a bright, sparkling kitchen, with less frequent need for redecorating—and practically no scouring of utensils.

When you buy a new stove today, look at all makes and models. Ask yourself which stove gives you the most advantages... Then choose an ELECTRIC range!

GHOULS AT WORK

Someone broke into the Wheeler family vault in Lakeview cemetery, Howell and opened the grave of a person buried there 22 years. The deed was discovered last Friday morning when the vault door was broken open and the body was found.

HIGH HATS DUE TO DEFLATE

Prediction that women's high hats that are so fashionable this fall may suffer a downfall in popularity is suggested by Miss Martin Hillhouse, clothing instructor at Michigan State College.

"To say that hats are high is to state the truth mildly," Miss Hillhouse claims.

Women want their hats to be new. The extremely high hat is a complete change from the flats of last spring and summer. But even more than newness women want hats that are youthful and becoming. The lower crown is decidedly more youthful on most women.

One way in which the efficiency height can be attained and yet use a crown that conforms to the contour of the head is suggested by Miss Hillhouse. Quills, ribbons or folds of felt can offer a suggestion of more height to a hat. The extremely high crown, she claims, is not as becoming or youthful. In fact such hats look heavy and have even been designated in derogatory manner as being matrons hats.

DESTROY '37 TAGS CASE ASKS

Leon D. Case, Secretary of State, has asked all persons to destroy their 1937 motor vehicles license plates when purchasing new ones for 1938. Motorists, it is pointed out, sometimes unwittingly lend aid to criminals who could equip cars with discarded but undestroyed 1937 plates, to avoid identification of their cars. Case has instructed managers of branch offices of the Dept. of State to accept 1937 plates turned in when 1938 plates are purchased. Such plates will be destroyed as a measure of cooperation with police officials throughout Michigan.

Conservation Dept. Notes

A meeting was held at Owosso Tuesday for the purpose of organizing Michigan sportsmen and conservationists into a state-wide federation to preserve game and aid conservation.

Waterfowl specialists are scanning the sky to see if the blue geese will repeat last years record flight when more geese appeared than ever before and stayed in Michigan a month before going south.

During the month of September there were 326 arrests for game law violations. 83 for carrying a gun without a permit, 18 for carrying loaded guns in autos, 15 for training dogs while carrying firearms, 52 for possession of undersized fish. $3,987 in fines were collected and $2,200 in costs. 258 days in jail sentences were handed out.

The total number of acres burned over this year by forest fires is 14,195. This is 4,000 under last years total.

The mild weather last winter resulted in a big increase of the deer herds and there were few instances of starvation. It is expected the deer license this year will total 150,000. Last year the total was 187,000. There were 44 hunters to a square mile in the state's deer areas of 84,500 square miles. About 45,000 deer were legally killed last year.

A blind fawn was picked up near the Isoco game refuge and is being cared for there.

A decrease in the ruffed grouse and small game law violations is reported this year for October.

Large deposits of limestone, suitable for manufacture of rock wool, used in insulating homes has been found in Michigan. Further investigation as to its commercial possibilities are now underway.

The Three R's AND TELEPHONE TAXES

Approximately $29,000,000 of the money which the people of Michigan have paid for telephone service over the past ten years has come back to them in the form of primary school education for the boys and girls of the state.

That is because taxes assessed by the state against certain utilities, including the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, are paid into the primary school fund. From there the money is distributed among the 83 counties of the state, and helps support the elementary, grammar and high schools.

Money alone could not account for Michigan's high standards of public education. Our state has been fortunate in the men and women entrusted with this work—the superintendents of public instruction, state, county, city; the local school boards, Parent-Teacher associations, and the individual teachers.

This Company makes the largest individual payment into the primary school fund. During the past ten years the Company has paid into the fund $28,978,000, this year's payment alone amounting to $2,624,092.47. This is an important contribution to a school system to which is entrusted the education and character-molding of 960,000 boys and girls—Michigan's school children today, her citizens of tomorrow. These taxes are in addition to the Company's Federal and miscellaneous taxes.

OF INTEREST TO THE HOUSEWIFE

Whipping of Cream.—If whipped cream will not stand up, it is often due to the fact that the cream is not sufficiently chilled. It is important, too, to have a heavy cream of the right butter fat (20 to 30 per cent) and 12 to 24 hours old. The cream must be cold, and is best beaten in a cold container.

Inexpensive Stew.—Chop two onions and a large carrot finely, and cut a pound of neck lamb into small pieces. Put into a saucepan with one cup macaroni broken into small lengths, cover with warm water and season. Let it simmer gently for one and a half hours.

Removing Blueing Spots.—Blueing spots on white clothing can be removed by boiling in clear water.

Serving Omelets.—Omelets should be placed on hot platters to keep them from falling.

Save Table Surface.—If you will place a folded cloth under a dish which contains foods to be beaten you'll find the table surface will be saved many marks and the dish will be kept steady.

Scaling Fish.—Fish may be scaled easily by first dipping them into boiling water for a minute.

Ox-Tail Pie.—Wash ox tail in salted water and joint; put into pan, cover with water, and simmer until almost cooked. Line bottom and sides of pie dish with slices of raw potato sprinkled with pepper and salt. Cover with strips of bacon, then place ox tail in center and pour in stock; season and cover with more slices of potato. Cover with pastry and bake in a quick oven.

"Go on, Maggie. You looked down and then what?"

"I see a swell dressed fella talking to the boss. I couldn't see his face 'cause his hat was pulled low; you know, the kind you see in the classy ads."

"Could you hear what they were saying?"

"No. That window was closed. I open the front one in cold weather, an', gee, has it been cold in that attic!"

"What did you do next?"

"Went back to bed, Inspector."

The girl's voice had cleared. Rising excitement was driving out fear. "I must have gone to sleep again for the next thing I knew I was sitting up straight in bed calling out:

"Who's shootin'?"

"I switched on the light and ran to the front window, and I saw a big car going lickety-split down the road."

The policeman appeared at the door.

"Okay 'bout the back window and garage, Inspector."

"All right, Tim. Stay where you are. What next, Maggie?"

"I stood looking out a minute, thinking that the big car must have back-fired an' what a hick I was to think the sound was shootin' when I'd grown up in a garage, an' then I had a kinder creepy feeling; you know, the kind when they say a rabbit's walkin' over your grave—"

"Don't shiver, Maggie, there won't be nothing walking over your grave for years yet; don't the papers say we're all going to live to be a hundred—barring accidents? Then what?"

"Then I began to wonder what that big car was doing out here in the middle of the night, and then I began to think of hi-jackers an' kidnapers an' bandits till I thought I'd scream, an' then I remembered Mrs. Hunt's rings an' jewelry—she had classy jewelry."

The girl's voice had risen till the last word was shrill with excitement.

Mike Cassidy patted his daughter's shoulder.

"Take it easy, Maggie. Tell the inspector the rest that happened; then I'll take you home to your Ma. Won't I, Bill?"

"Sure, Mike, sure. What did you do after you thought of Mrs. Hunt's diamonds, Maggie?"

"I stuck my feet in slippers an' pulled on my blanket wrapper. I beat it downstairs an' come into this room. It was lighted an' she—she was lying there—just like she is now an'—an'—oh, gee!"

"We're almost through, Maggie," the inspector encouraged. "What did you do when you came into this room and saw—"

"I guess I let out a yell first; then I just flopped to my knees beside her. I didn't touch nothing though; I learned that in the movies. When I saw she wasn't breathing I beat it to the garage, an' I know I yelled then for the boss was on the floor face down, his hands behind him, an' his feet tied."

I grabbed his shoulder an' turned him over. There was a big bump on his forehead and his eyes were closed. I shook him. When he didn't say nothing, I rushed to the phone and called Pop. I guess you know the rest." Her lips quivered, and for the first time her eyes filled with tears.

The inspector patted her shoulder.

"Good girl, Maggie, just one more question and you can go. Did you hear any rowing between the boss and herself lately?"

"He was nice to her."

"Sure, Maggie, but even folks who think a lot of each other—take your Pa and Ma now—" he winked at Cassidy—"have a cat and parrot fight sometimes, don't they? You know they do. So Mr. and Mrs. had a quarrel, had they? What about?"

The girl twisted her print dress in unsteady fingers.

"It was last evening, late—it's tomorrow now, isn't it? An' she'd been phoning—I was in the kitchen, you can hear plain in this house—an' I heard him say loud:

"What's this about a paper?"

"I couldn't hear what she said, but he kinder shouted:

"I didn't mind starting this joint to gouge money out of Trent, but what you're planning now is different. It'll be jail for us if we—"

The door closed hard an' I didn't hear any more."

"All right, Maggie. Make a cup of strong tea for her in the kitchen, Mike; then take her home." Mike Cassidy put his arm about his daughter as they left the room. Mark Trent watched them out of sight.

"My hat's off to you, Inspector. That girl told you everything she knew without being frightened into it."

The inspector's eagle eyes retreated into bony caverns.

"My boy, 'bout two thousand years ago a Man laid down a rule for living that I ain't never heard improved on. I've got a girl of my own, and all the time I was questioning Maggie I was thinking how I would feel if my daughter'd been mixed up in this mess. Has Hunt come to?" he demanded of an officer who entered. The steel was back in his voice.

"Yes, Inspector, but he's groggy."

"I'll go to the garage. Will you come along, Mark? Cripes, I never can remember to call you Mr. Trent."

"Why should you? Didn't you hand me my first and only summons for speeding? I'll go with you, but you won't leave—" he glanced at the still figure on the floor.

"Tim will stay. The coroner ought to be here any minute now. Come on. I'd like to have you hear what Hunt has to say."

The garage was lighted by one glaring bulb, littered with tools and cans; the floor was patched with oil stains, and the air was strong of gas. On a pile of old times, a man was braced upright against the rough cement wall. He was blond and must have been fine looking before life and dissipation had done cruel things to his face. He opened his eyes as the inspector spoke to him. He tried to smile.

"Another dick? Maggie sure called out the whole police force. 'Twasn't necessary. I'll be all right in a minute."

Didn't the man know what had happened in the house, or was he acting, Mark asked himself. The inspector rolled an empty gas can on its side and sat down.

"Course you'll be all right. As for Maggie calling out the force, she got an awful jolt coming out here an' finding you all tied up like a bundle of old clothes."

Hunt put an unsteady hand to his head.

"Why did the girl come out here at this time of night? She's never done it before." His eyes narrowed. He clenched his hand. "What are you doing here, Trent? You can't get Lola back!"

"Take it easy, Hunt, take it easy. Mr. Trent was with me in Cassidy's garage—I'm Inspector Harrison, in case you don't know—when his daughter phoned that you were hurt. He came along to help. What happened to you, Hunt?"

"Someone beat me up, you can see that, can't you? I was working late, I—I hadn't been feeling well all day and I was making up time, when a man drove up in a roadster and said he had a punctured tire and could I put on a spare. I said, 'Sure, I guess there's no law against my doing that if the old tabbies here won't let me sell gas.' I turned to get my tools, and that's the last I knew until I looked up to see an officer bending over me."

"Who was the man?"

"I don't know, Inspector."

"Ever see him before?"

"No."

"Sure?"

"Go on," prodded the inspector.

"Nothing to go on about. I was blackjacked. I thought the man took a crack at my head, but my feet feel as if they were in iron casts."

"Probably those ropes stopped the circulation. Were you—"

Mark didn't hear the rest of the inspector's question. His eyes were on Hunt's right foot. Between the upper and sole of the unlaced shoe was a faint line of red.

CHAPTER XI

From behind the tea-table in the living room at Lookout House, Brooke Reburn watched the sun fling the earth a spectacular good-night.

Mrs. Gregory, in a chair beside the crackling birth fire, set down her cup.

"Is it only two weeks since the tragedy at the filling station?" asked Brooke. "When, last October, I told Jerry Field that I was coming to Lookout House to live, he said:

"What will you do marooned on a rocky point of land in a place where the residents dig in and nothing ever happens?"

"He can't say that nothing ever happens here now. The days have flown and have left behind them hours smeared with police questioning; men swarming over this house for finger-prints; newspaper front pages shrieking clues which were corrected in the next issue; slaking and lots of it; pointsettias in place of chrysanthemums in the conservatory in honor of Christmas. It was such a strange Christmas without Mother, and with Sam absorbed in the production of the play. Now

New Year's has slipped into the limbo of yesterdays, and in 48 hours the curtain will ring up on 'Islands Arise.'"

"I'll be glad when it's over. Your eyes seem tired, Brooke."

"Do you wonder? They have looked at the scum and dregs of the underworld, at pictures in rogue galleries, at line-ups, at patients in hospitals, trying to identify the man who ran through my room."

"I heard that the police were sure that Hunt was the man when red paint was found on his shoe."

"The trouble with that clue was that it wasn't his shoe. When he first regained consciousness in the garage, he complained that his feet felt as if they were in iron casts. Then the police with their steam-shovel methods hurried him into the living room of the white cottage. When he saw what lay on the floor he collapsed. After he was taken to the hospital—he's still in a coma—his shoes had to be cut off. Then it was found that they were a size smaller than his at the cottage. The man whom the Cassidy girl saw in the garage must have changed and taken Hunt's shoes. He was a quick worker."

"Bill Harrison may be smart, but what has he done toward clearing up this tragedy? Nothing."

"He wants the case to drop out of the headlines. He says that the guilty parties will then think that the hunt for them is cooling off."

"I wish they'd put me on the force, I'd show them a thing or two." The brim of Mrs. Gregory's large hat flopped in unison with the thump of her cane. "I'm not afraid of bandits. I've ordered some of my jewels from the bank to wear to Sam's play."

"Oh, Mrs. Gregory! Is it safe?"

"Safe! Do you think I'll be frightened out of wearing what I like? Besides, lightning never strikes in the same place twice. Lucky the performance is coming off soon; everybody is getting edgy."

"We'll relax tonight. Mark Trent is giving the Fields and Reburns a party in town at that new Supper Club. It was planned for two weeks ago but it was postponed. It seems a century since I have been to a real party."

"Mark needs a change of thought too. It's an ill wind that blows nobody good. Lola is out of his life, thank heaven. But, much as I love you, Brooke, I'll never forgive myself for signing my name as witness to Mary Amanda Dane's will which cut him off."

Brooke's mind whirled and steadied. Mrs. Gregory's signature was not on the will which had been probated; she had made sure of that again recently. Perhaps the one to which she referred had been drawn earlier.

"How could you know what you were signing? Witnesses are not supposed to see the contents of a will, are they? When did you witness it?"

Brooke asked the question quickly. She must know and get the uncertainty off her mind.

"Just a week before Mary Amanda died. Perhaps you remember the day. You drove in just as I went out—and good heavens, I forgot! I promised Jed Stewart that I wouldn't mention it. Forget I told you, Brooke. It wasn't very tactful of me anyway, but when was I ever tactful? I like that rust-color gown on you."

Why had Jed Stewart asked Mrs. Gregory not to mention her signature? Did he suspect dishonesty? Why wonder? Hadn't she been sure for weeks that the two men in Mark Trent's house were there for some other reason than sheer love of a New England village in winter?

The thump of Mrs. Gregory's cane brought her mind to attention.

"I've asked you twice, Brooke, if you thought Sam liked Daphne Field."

"He likes her, Mrs. Gregory, but Sam won't allow himself to go sentimental over anyone at present."

"Allow himself! Then he isn't in love. We may be living in a profoundly changing society, but love hasn't changed. It still strikes like lightning, burns, and if it's the real thing, settles into a steady flame. But I'm glad he doesn't care for the Field girl."

She rose and drew her sable cape about her shoulders. "If you are going to town tonight you ought to be dressing. What are you wearing?"

"An adorable silver frock. It does things to my hair, brings out the copper glints in it."

Mrs. Gregory lingered on the threshold. "Be nice to Mark, Brooke. He's a wonderful boy, don't you think so?"

"I'd hardly call him a boy—he's too dictator-minded, but that's the trend. Chacun a son gout—I've joined a French class—I prefer Jerry Field's type."

Mrs. Gregory expressed her reaction by a denatured snort.

"You prefer Jerry Field! I'd like to take you over my knee and spank sense into you! Good-night!"

Brooke laughed.

"Good-night, Mrs. Gregory. Even if you don't approve of me, I hope you'll come again soon."

She was still smiling as she returned to the living-room window for a last lingering look at the colorful west.

It is unbelievable that all this comfort really is mine," she told herself. "Only a year ago, Brooke Reburn, you were driving a shabby sedan, and counting every penny and—"

Fashion's Triple-Threat

HERE'S something new in the way of triple-threats, Milady:

This trio of smart contestants in the thrilling game of Sew-Your-Own! With all three in your wardrobe you'll know stadium style, classroom coquetry, and sorority chic. Best of all, you won't spend a king's ransom nor a "long stretch" in their making, thanks to the economy and simplicity of these modern Sew-Your-Owns!

Sorority Chic. Sorority chic begins and ends in the boudoirs on the third floor. This highly tasteful smock (above left) is a sorority requirement of the first order. You may choose either the short length to work in or the long length to be lazy in. Use percale, gingham or silk print.

Classroom Coquetry. What if your knowledge of bugs or battles, or what have you, is limited? You can count on a certain coquettish smile and a certain smooth-lined frock (above center) to take you through any inquisition. It will put the stamp of approval on your appearance indelibly. Try your version in dull crepe or sheer wool.

Stadium Style. Big moments come fast and furious when you're rooting for dear old Alma Mater, but you have to look the part to be one with that glamour and fun. Sew-Your-Own suggests its newest spectator dress just for this purpose—that you may look the part, feel the part and be on the winning side, no matter when or where the competition takes place.

The Patterns. Pattern 1997 is designed in sizes 14 to 20; 32 to 44 bust. Size 16 requires 3½ yards of 35-inch material. In full length 3½ yards (short sleeves).

Pattern 1353 is designed in sizes 36 to 52. Size 38 requires 4½ yards of 39-inch material.

Pattern 1357 is designed for sizes 12 to 20 (30 to 40 bust). Size 14 requires 2½ yards of 54-inch material.

Send your order to The Sewing Circle Pattern Dept., Room 1020, 211 W. Wacker Dr., Chicago, Ill. Price of patterns, 15 cents (in coins) each.

New Pattern Book. Send 15 cents for the Barbara Bell Fall and Winter Pattern Book. Make yourself attractive, practical and becoming clothes, selecting designs from Barbara Bell well-planned, easy-to-make patterns.

ARRON J. SNYDER

HEARS ALL

Junior was right there at the game last Friday with his new Chevy. Wonder why he left one of the doors open? How's the new bus on mountain climbing Junior?

Howie seems to be rushing some of the local gals lately. What's the matter Howie, have you started a bank account with your car money? Seen in Howell last Saturday M. A. walking down the street in the latest Parisian creation.

The West Side Social Season was officially opened last Saturday night. How about it M. A.?

Bob we hear someone has been beating your time with the Howell redhead.

We hear Ed. has been blowing two stiff upper lips lately. What's the matter Ed.?

We have been unable to find you any Hannett-AtLee wisecrack lately as Cy informs us that they are not speaking while this column lasts.

We also understand Don Thorpe is walking the straight and narrow path while Bob and Earl are keeping their eyes on him.

Arron J. Snyder, a former Pinckney resident, died at Detroit Saturday. The funeral was held Monday with burial at Stockbridge. The deceased owned what is known as the Patrick Kennedy or Martin Harris farm at one time and in 1918 when Editor Clyde Sibley of the Pinckney Dispatch went overseas to serve in the world-war he ran the Dispatch for a year. He was a musician of considerable ability and had organized several bands in his time. Surviving are his widow, a son, Walter, and a daughter, Theodora.

NEW TAX RULING

According to an article in the Ann Arbor News Monday night, all township clerks must file with the county clerk official certificate of the spreading of the tax by the township board. Previously the clerks had failed to file these certificates and railroads and corporations have challenged the legality of the tax spread by the township. This is supposed to be filed not later than the second Monday in October but to fill the legal loophole it will be now attached to the township clerk's taxation statement already on file.

NOT READY YET

The Livingston County Farm Security Administration office has been receiving numerous requests from the farm tenant and factory workers to purchase farms under the farm act, says Walter L. Clark, County Rural Rehabilitation supervisor at Howell.

Applications for tenant purchase loans cannot be accepted in the county offices until machinery has been set up for administering the program and the counties selected where the program will be initiated this year. Not more than ten nor less than five loans will be made in any county selected. Only farm tenants and farm laborers or those receiving most of their income from farms will be eligible for a loan.

With the allotment for tenant purchase loans in Michigan based on farm population and percentage of tenancy set at $109,952, not more than 40 or 50 families in the state can be brought under the program this year said Mr. Clark.

The act calls for doubling the allotment next year and further insuring it the third year.

County supervisors have been advised that nominations to the state advisory committee have been forwarded to Secretary of Agriculture Wallace for approval. After this state committee has been appointed they will select the counties where the program will be carried on. County committees will then be named by the secretary to consider applications. However, Mr. Clark stated, until the counties are picked and local committees named there will be little use in filing applications.

With the amount of funds available this year and considering land values in any part of the state for farms that would be desirable, it is doubtful if it will be possible to operate in more than four or five counties.

A loan made under the tenancy act provides for repayment of the principal in, not to exceed forty years at 3 percent. The act includes provisions for proper farm practice and forbids the sale or transfer of a farm to protect the security of the loan, farm without consent of the secretary of agriculture in the first five years after the loan is taken out.

MARRIAGE LICENSES ISSUED

Since Nov. 1 the marriage license market has hit a slump and but two were issued last week. They are Francis Hood, 21, Hartland and Emily Taylor, 20, Hartland; Berkeley French, 21 Howell Mary Lou Marr, 23, Howell.

NOTES OF THE GAME

This game ended the football careers of five Pinckney players. They are Capt. Howard Read, Edsall Myer, Francis Shehan, Joe Lysiack and Tel. Bourbonnais. Although the boys are seniors none of them played four years. Read played 3, Myer 2 and the others but one.

This gives Pinckney two wins, both over Hartland, in seven games played. The team made two touchdowns one by Read and one by VanBlaricum. This gives them 12 points for the year. Last year they scored 26 points in all games but the Hartland contests their opponents out weighed them about 20 lbs. to the man. Pinckney now has difficulty in scheduling suitable opponents. Brighton, Stockbridge Fowlerville and Chelsea whom they met in previous years are all members of different high school leagues and their schedule is full.

The Pinckney Yell Team did some good work Friday with Ruth Nash and Mary Hoisel doing the leading. The girls were real acrobatic and must have been doing some gym work.

Read and Myer have been doing the bulk of the tackling in the Pinckney backfield. Myer was hurt in the last quarter and although a substitute was sent in for him refused to leave the game. In this he was supported by Capt. Read.

Both teams did plenty of holding although they drew but one penalty for it. Neither penalty figured in the scoring.

The Pinckney team probably set a low scoring record for Pinckney this season when they scored but 12 points. Last year they scored 26. As a rule this year they held their opponents to a low score except in the opening game with Milford. Their light line undoubtedly kept them from developing a good offense or defense.

Basket ball practice will start as soon as possible as the opening games are scheduled with Dexter for Dec. 3. As is usual there will be a first and second team. Pinckney will have to build from the ground up this year as Vincent Young is the only one who has had any experience.

Dundee seems to have the best football team in this section for a small school. They won the Huron League championship this year by beating Milan 39 to 0 Friday. They also won last year. Michigan Center, perennial winner of the Jackson county title was challenged for the class "C" title. They accepted their challenge giving Dundee the state championship by default. This year Dundee won all seven games, scoring 215 points to their opponents 12. They beat Milan 39 to 0, Saline 71 to 0, Chelsea 48 to 6, Clinton 54 to 0, Bellville 44 to 0, Roosevelt 59 to 0. Tecumseh forfeited.

Just for curiosity we compared Dundee's record with that of the Pinckney team of 1928 which beat Michigan Center 26 to 0 for state class "D" championship. That year Pinckney scored 330 points to their opponents 18 in ten games played. They met Stockbridge, Brighton, Byron, Fowlerville, Salina, New Hudson, Howell Reserves, South Lyon twice and Michigan Center.

King's Daughters

The Pinckney Circle of Kings met at the home of Mrs. Sadie Read Nov. 3 with 25 members and friends present. Two new members were admitted, Mrs. AtLee reading the admission service. Members planned to meet on Monday afternoon to sew for County Nurse to help replenish the loan closet. Meeting closed with prayer of the order and all enjoyed a delicious pot-luck luncheon.

"ARMISTICE"

Each year we approach Armistice Day with a sense of satisfaction—another peaceful year for America. In America we have always built for peace. Our highway development allows mobility of population. Our business transactions are for the most part done by credit. Mutual trust and confidence redound to our benefit. A steady growth in National wealth and a continued rise in our standard of living, are products of peace.

Through peace we prosper, through war we destroy our progress. In Europe denser of population and lack of natural resources make for war, not so here. State boundaries make a different people not prevent flow of natural resources. Let us have peace and we will build a real future both in dollars & cents and security.
