Huron River Valley Placement Aid Improvement Given Doctors

The Benefits of the Contemplated Huron River Improvements Is Described

The Huron-Clinton Parkway project which comprises the plan of developing, beautifying and utilizing the valleys of the Huron and Clinton Rivers, which make an almost complete circle irregular circle around the city of Detroit at a distance of 25 to 40 miles from the center of the city, is receiving a great deal of favorable comment and approval from the people of the Detroit area and from the counties through which the two rivers run. These river valley basins containing just the above mentioned streams give access to a large number of lakes, particularly in Livingston and Oakland counties.

The project contemplates an encircling boulevard starting where the Huron River empties into Lake Erie below Flat Rock and following up the Huron River through Monroe, Washtenaw, Livingston and Oakland counties to its headwaters west of Pontiac where it nearly connects with the Clinton River, then following down the valley of the Clinton through Oakland and Macomb counties to where it enters Lake St. Clair at Mt. Clemens. In addition to the park boulevard, recreational facilities are planned for the entire valleys. In this plan boating, swimming, fishing, picnic grounds and camp sites will be provided. Other outdoor sports will be featured including riding and hiking trails, golf courses, etc.

Livingston county has in its borders some 13 miles of the Huron river valley and in addition numerous lakes and low country desirable for summer cottages and year around homes, which will be usable as soon as highway transportation over a fine park boulevard can be made.

This area will provide a great out door play ground for the residents of the Detroit metropolitan area, approximately half the population of Michigan living within fifty miles of Detroit. Existing recreational centers in this area are already overcrowded and this new area is needed to provide for the existing demand, as well as that to come.

From a financial standpoint these parkway projects while costly to build, increase the value of surrounding property and through rental of concessions bring a revenue to maintain them after building. An example is the Bronx river parkway system just outside of New York City where the increase in values of properties adjoining the park ways have brought in an immense revenue from taxable values sufficient to pay the entire cost of the parkway system in a little over twenty years, while rentals of concessions are sufficient to maintain the parkways.

The Huron-Clinton parkway is a very large project and will take a number of years to complete. Meanwhile the residents of the counties bordering the valleys should acquire a knowledge of the project and what it means. The possibility of furnishing a great playground in Livingston county for the resident of the Detroit Metropolitan area as well as for tourists from outside the state is worthy of thoughtful consideration on the part of every resident of this county. To bring this information to you a series of radio broadcasts are to be given.

Michigan State Medical Society Will Supply Doctors for Rural Communities on Request

A placement service, designed to enable communities without a physician to obtain one and to aid doctors in finding locations in which to practice, has been placed in operation by the Michigan State Medical Society, Dr. Henry Cook, of Flint, president, reports in the current issue of the society's journal, published Monday.

The new service is part of the program of the society to make adequate medical service available to all of the people.

Survey Being Made

A survey of the 83 counties in Michigan is being made by the society to ascertain the need for any additional medical service. The society will use its influence to place qualified doctors of medicine where opportunities arise. The public has been invited by the society to advise of any localities needing a doctor.

The announcement by the society coincides with the establishment of a new committee by the American Medical Society to co-operate with the Medical Economics Bureau in working with state and county officials throughout the country for the creation of programs to provide adequate medical care and sponsor preventive medical practices and other health programs.

Dr. Fitch's View

The new policy is the reply to the demand of the "Committee of 100" for action in providing adequate medical care for the all the people.

Dr. Morris Fitch, editor of the Journal of the American Medical Association, in commenting on the new set-up while in Detroit a few days ago, pointed out that no uniform program could be adopted by the association, inasmuch as economic, social and health problems differed in each community. That such a move is necessary is emphasized in the preliminary figures released Monday by the United States Public Health Service, which points out that a national health survey showed that a vast percentage of the disabling illnesses in the country was among people too poor to pay for adequate medical service.

Philathea Notes

We had a fine attendance in our class on Sunday, and such an interesting lesson discussion on the subject, "Ministering to Physical Needs."

The three special topics assigned sent those who were given them skimming after information and we learned some interesting things concerning leprosy, and other diseases mentioned in the lesson, dispensaries maintained through Cong'l missions, and facts about the hospitals.

We were glad to have in our class Sunday, Mrs. Hamilton, who is Mrs. Zuse's house guest this week.

To those who remembered our Philathea slogan, "We do things" the pastors sermon on Sunday was particularly helpful and thoughtful. His text was, "Without Me" (That is Christ), "ye can do nothing". Surely in these days of unrest, we need to be sure that the Lord is indeed on our side.

Study for next Sunday Mark 1-12 "Ministering to Spiritual Needs".

Washington News

Letter

By Congressman Andrew J. Francis

Adequate Navy
Peace time records for the Navy appropriations were broken last week when the House approved the expenditure of $553,266,494 to give the U. S. a Navy second to none. On the same day the House approved the housing bill after the prevailing Conference Committee's report on wage provision was eliminated, while the Senate continued the prolonged debate on the anti-lynching bill. Senator Allen Ellender of Louisiana made a new long distance talking record while the Senate floor for six days in the organized filibuster and Senator Gilmore Bilbo of Miss. took up his argument, declaring he would talk for 30 or 60 days if necessary to defeat the anti-lynching bill. Senate Majority Leader Alben Barkley declared the night sessions, previously mentioned but not invoked, would begin this week. Administration recommendations were followed by the House in approving the large Navy appropriation that was sent to the Senate. Efforts to eliminate two new warships or to substitute airships for the dreadnaughts failed when the House by a vote of 283 to 15 passed the appropriation. The Navy financial allotment is $24,723,156 more than the current budget item for the same purpose. The bill provides for 18,122,100 for construction of new warships, two cruisers, eight destroyers, six submarines, one fleet sweeper, submarine tender, one fleet tug and other $115,541,050 in appropriations to continue construction of 10 ships under way, including two battleships and three aircraft carriers. Provision is made in the bill for $1,275,600 to reopen the torpedo manufacturing plant at Alexandria, Va. and for an increase of 5,284 enlisted men and 231 officers for the Navy and 24 officers for the Marine Corps. At Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, an expenditure of $2,824,224 is approved with $1,500,000 for the Naval Air Station at Alameda Calif.

Housing Action

Charles H. Henry, R. Steagall of the House Banking and Currency Committee called the House bill before the House last Monday afternoon as the conference committee of the House and Senate had approved the bill with the elimination of the prevailing wage provision that had proved a stumbling block to the joint committee. The bill was passed by the House Committee on Banking and Currency and is designed to speed up the building by cutting down the interest on the new housing program. The Conference Committee added additional terms for the new housing credit. The Housing bill was passed by a large majority of the House. It is considered one of the essential measures in the Administration program to stimulate production.

The court gave Vincent the crops he had raised the past year in lieu of wages. Stanley Berriann represented Vincent and Don VanWinkle, Mr. Fink.

Then the eviction suit of Herbert Lane vs. John Greiner. Lane was given a verdict. Lane sold Greiner a house and the latter failed in his payments.

The suit of Robertson vs. Robertson was settled after some testimony had been taken.

Three young boys were sentenced in circuit court. Herbert Doyne, got 1 to 15 years in Jackson for larceny. A similar charge against his brother, Earl was dismissed. Thomas Jordan got 60 days in jail for taking an auto.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hassenehal and family of Gregory were the Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Br.

Current Comment

The Detroit Free Press is now turning a biography of Henry Ford in which they laud him to the sky. It was not always thus. Back when Ford was an enthusiastic booster of Woodrow Wilson and was the Democrat candidate for senator against Truman Newberry, they had no praise for him. Nor in Ford's slander suit against the Chicago Tribune when that paper classed him an anarchist and a dangerous radical. Some of those editorials would look funny if printed side by side with the present day eulogies. No, the truth is that the Free Press probably doesn't love Henry any more now than they did back in the time of Woodrow Wilson but he opposed President Roosevelt's policies and by lauding him to the heavens they are able to snipe away at the president, sort of like shooting from ambush.

Mayor Reading's libel suit against his late opponent Patrick O'Brien seem to have gone the way of all other such efforts. He announced he had told his attorney, Chester O'Hara, to start suit against O'Brien at once for slander. No such action has yet been filed. The Detroit News states he asked the mayor about this and he referred them to Mr. O'Hara. The latter said he did not know who he would file the suit or whether he would ever file it. Informed of Mr. O'Hara's statement Mayor Reading had nothing to say. We rather hoped such a suit would be filed as people who make the charges Pat O'Brien did should be able to prove them.

It is probable that there will be a number of mush and milk banquets by the GOP on Lincoln's birthday. It has gone over big in some places. In the rural districts especially. These salt pork has been added to the menu. In other places it has not gone so hot. The only such banquet in this county of Wayne will be in Plymouth the home of Elton Eaton, who doped out the idea. We wonder if the color of the mush recommended it to them. You remember that the Landon sunflowers were yellow, too.

Nomination petitions have been taken out for Harry Toy of Detroit who will run for governor in primaries on the Republican ticket. Mr. Frank Fitzgerald has already announced his candidacy. Mel McPherson will wait and see how the wind blows at the state supervisor's convention next week before jumping into the race. McPherson's chief plank is to repeal the new welfare setup and keep the present setup of poor system which many believe is outmoded. He wants to be sure sentiment for this will be strong enough to elect him governor. On the other hand it looks as if the present Governor Murphy would have no serious fight for renomination. An attempt to get former Governor Comstock to enter against him seems to have failed.

There seems to be a movement to repeal or alter the present sales tax and replace it with an income tax. This income tax has been voted upon several times and snowed under. The trouble with an income tax is that the rich man gets out by means of numerous exemptions and the little fellow pays. We have heard no great agitation against the sales tax. It is probably as painless a tax as ever adopted as it relieved the property tax which was becoming excessive and enabled many counties to lower real estate taxes.

Light your kitchen like this one

...for a cheery, more efficient place to work

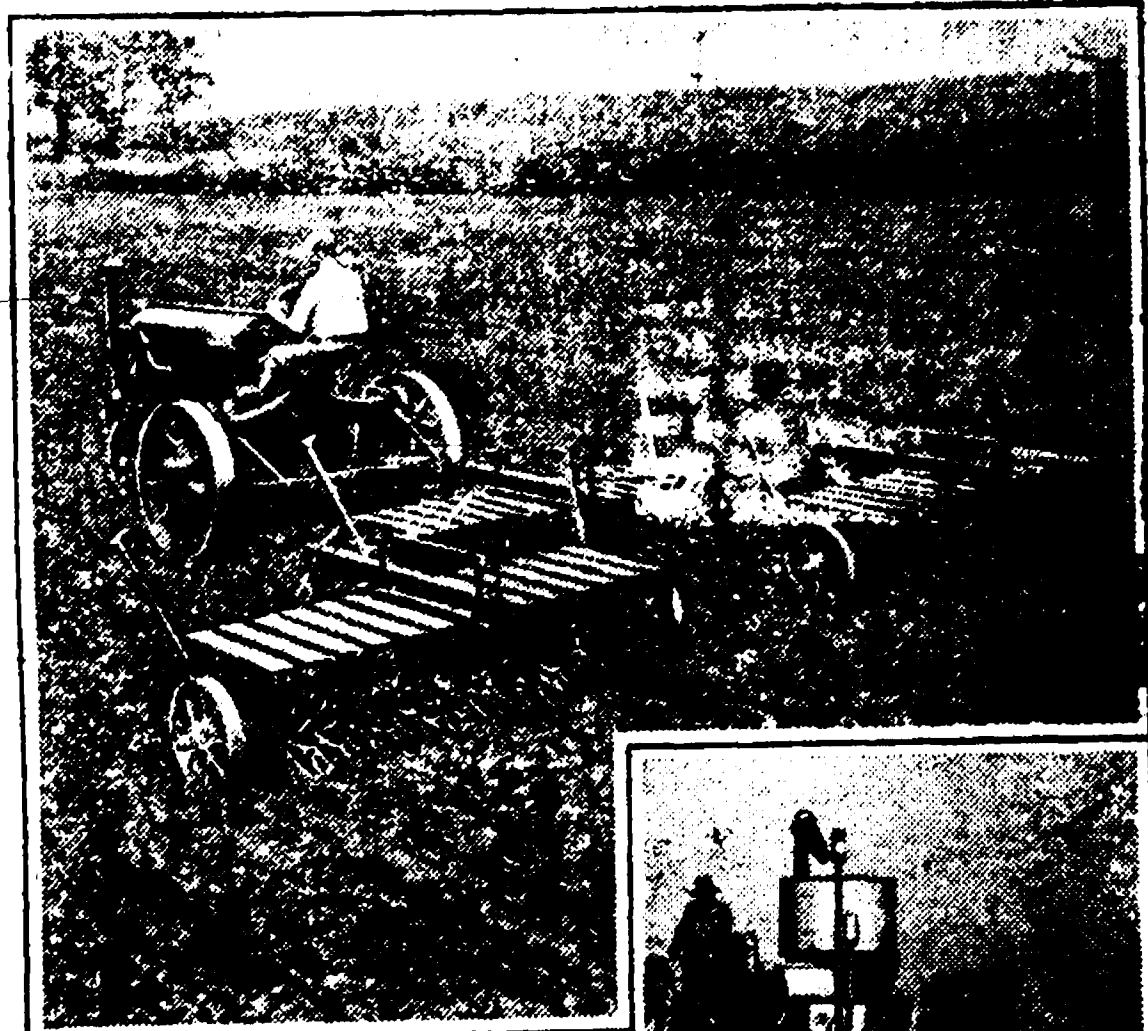

Kitchen work sails along faster with good lighting. No energy is wasted in trying to see—there is no fumbling or groping in dark corners, no mishaps due to uncertain vision in shadowed working spaces. Good lighting can make your kitchen bright and pleasant, as cheery as any room in the house. When you spend so many hours in the kitchen, you want the room to be light and attractive—not dark and gloomy and depressing. Good lighting is a great help to speed your work alone and conserve your energy.

The average kitchen can be well lighted—like the one above—with one 150-watt lamp in the center ceiling fixture, and 60-watt lamps in small brackets over the range, the sink, and the working surface. The cost of lighting your kitchen in this way is only about a cent an hour. If you have a small kitchen, a 100-watt lamp may be used in the center ceiling fixture instead of a 150-watt lamp.

Now in the dark winter months, especially, you will appreciate a well-lighted kitchen. Though skies may be cloudy at midday or pitch black by night, you can work serenely in a pleasant, bright room—speedily and efficiently. For helpful suggestions or advice on your home lighting problems, call a Detroit Edison Home Lighting Advisor. There is no charge for this service.

THE DETROIT EDISON COMPANY

He's An Industrial Worker!

YOU would naturally think of the man operating the tractor as a farmer. And he is a farmer, but he's also an increasingly important figure in the industrial world, not only as a consumer but as a producer. He's engaged in hoeing up a field of soy beans which later, after passing through various factory processes, you'll be using in the form of paint and varnish, soap, linoleum and scores of other products. Consumers Information points out that 91 million pounds of soy bean oil, a comparatively new crop for American farmers, was produced in one recent year. Of this amount, 2 1/2 million pounds went into the soap kettles, 5 million into linoleum and 13 million into paint and varnish.

This brand new market for American farmers, who are now growing a number of industrial as well as food products, has been developed, like many others, through the vast research programs undertaken by American industry, whose laboratories have added untold millions to the national wealth and also thousands of jobs for American workers.

THE POLITICAL POT BOILS

According to the Sunday's Detroit News the pot is beginning to boil politically in the state and especially in Wayne county. The usual grand elections are beginning to spring up. Republican League has been formed by Donald Wolfe, Joseph A. Strong, former parole commissioner, and Clyde Ford, mayor of Dearborn. Harry Toy when asked about it said he had not attended the meeting but understood it was a Fitzgerald organization. This Wolfe denies, but another member said it would not support Toy. Fitzgerald supporters charge there are already two Toy organizations functioning in the county. One about this girl in the The American is in the National Bank Bldg. and is presided over by Hans Schwilke, son of Ewald Schwilke, coal dealer. The other is in the Dime Bank Bldg. and is operated by Fred Woodward of Pinckney and Fred Stanley. Toy is also denied. Schwilke says his outfit is merely a group of young Republicans and Stanley says his organization is a by-product of the county committee and concerned with county matters only.

The switch of Glen Dunne of Muskegon from the Fitzgerald to the Toy band wagon led many of the wise ones to prophesy that Frank McKay of Grand Rapids would be found in the Toy camp in the primary battle. However as yet there have been no signs of a break between Fitzgerald and McKay.

World's Busiest Street?

JUST LOOK at that traffic roaring by! Yes, sir, that's New York's famous Fifth Avenue, looking toward 42nd Street. And the lady in the stylish white shirtwaist and the snappy little straw skimmer had better be careful when she gets to the corner because you know how those horseless carriage drivers swing around the turns. With the national automobile show approaching, Consumers Information dug out this picture, taken in 1907, to show what a difference 30 years can make. The picture below shows Fifth Avenue as it is today. Advertising which created the demand, and research which perfected the product, are credited with changing the picture from that of 1907, when only a few thousand cars were on the country's roads, to that of today, with almost 30,000,000. The few small manufacturers of 30 years ago advertised to sell their primitive cars, which cost around $3,000 for a "medium-priced" model. They created a bigger demand than they could fill, and so bigger factories, increased employment, and constantly better automobiles resulted. And today we can buy an infinitely superior car for about one-fifth of the price, while half a million men are directly employed in the industry, compared to a few thousand at the time this picture was taken.

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER
Serious Delay
With the approval of the Housing Bill and the Navy Appropriation in the House following the adoption of the Independent Offices Bill, the senate has three major legislative items on the docket that is deadlocked by the anti-lynching argument. Southern senators used up another week to discuss the bill that is meeting intense Southern opposition. Senate leader who have refrained from cracking the whip by the use of night sessions, have decided the deadlock must be broken if the important legislation confronting Congress is to be passed. Motions to sidetrack the anti-lynching bill in favor of immediate consideration of the Housing Bill, were in prospect this week. Once before the senate "talked to death" an anti-lynching measure but at that time the issue was introduced late in the session while this time the House-approved bill was the first major item of importance on the Senate calendar by reason of previous agreement.

Farm Legislation
The Conference Committee that has been selected to iron out the differences between the House and Senate Farm Bills reported to the sessions had progressed to a point where an agreement was expected within the week. The House Farm Bill provides for loans to be made by the Surplus Reserve Loan Corporation based on parity prices. It continues the soil conservation features and gives to those engaged in the production of the five basic crops, Wheat, Cotton, corn, tobacco and rice, the power by referendum and approval of more than two thirds of the farmers interested in any market, to keep surplus crops that exceed domestic and export demand an additional 50 per cent in the case of wheat off the market. This entire agriculture program is based upon voluntary cooperation of the farmers themselves.

More Light
The Rural Electrification Administration last week announced a loan of $8,000 to the Tri-County Electric Cooperative of Eaton Rapids which serves Livingston and Ingham Counties along with six other Michigan Counties in the Southwest part of the State. This loan will be loaned by the co-operative to its members to finance up to 80 percent of the cost of installing electric and plumbing fixtures. The loans will carry a straight 6 percent interest without carrying charges and will extend electric service to about 75 farms in the district served by the Cooperative. R.E.A. officials said more money would be available if additional loans are asked.

Although Washington has enjoyed a winter resort climate in an unusual winter this year, the tourist season has taken the usual drop during the cold months. In consequence of this reduced demand the Good Year Blimp Enterprise, which has visited Flint and Lansing several times in conjunction with aviation shows, has cut prices during week days for an ariel trip over Washington.

Service and Dominion

WHEN Christ Jesus, the Way-shower, declared to his ambitious disciples (Luke 22:27), "I am among you as he that serveth," he revealed the essential relationship between service and dominion. Service, on the part of one universally acknowledged to be master, would seem anomalous did not spiritual understanding discern their inseparable nature.

According to the first chapter of Genesis, man, in the image and likeness of God, has dominion—even over all the earth. This declaration of truth, however, remains but an abstract statement until proved by demonstration. In demonstration it soon becomes apparent that the greater the service rendered, and the greater our understanding of the spiritual nature of right service, the more scientifically do we prove our spiritual dominion.

The meaning of service became elevated and ennobled recently in the thought of one who, seeking in a well-known dictionary for a definition of "servant," found amongst other renderings, "One consecrated to God." Because men are growing into a better understanding of spiritual values and proportionately relaxing their tenacious grasp upon material things, service is being recognized more and more as the way to happiness and progress.

When on that well-known occasion, the Master, girding himself with a towel, proceeded to perform the humble service of washing the disciples' feet, he set a seal of spirituality on service which it can never lose. The first thought of mortal mind under like circumstances would be one of superiority to such an action. Yet but little study shows how there simply could not be anything in mortal thought superior to the spiritual qualities which man—as Christ Jesus understood him—forever reflects. Of our mortal selves we do nothing. Man's true being is in God, and is manifested in the reflection of the Godlike qualities of love, kindness, usefulness, activity, and service. In short, in those qualities man expresses the divine Principle. The expression of God being man's chief end, it

BANK DRAFTS

Most people are familiar with checking accounts. Money is deposited with a bank and the customers draws checks against his deposit. A bank, like an individual deposits cash in other banks situated in large centers of trade such as New York, Chicago or Detroit. This is done as convenience to a banks customers in transacting out-of-town collections and the normal exchanges of credit which pass between banks every day. A bank can draw a check against these deposits. Such a check is called a Bank Draft. In transacting business in other parts of the country it is sometimes difficult for an individual to find acceptance of his personal check. To facilitate matters the bank sells its customers its checks payable to the party who is selling goods and drawn on out of its corresponding banks. Thus at slight cost the delay in establishing credit standing of the individual is saved and the endorsed Draft is returned to the bank as a permanent record of the transaction.

Writings, p. 126): "Who hath not learned that when alone he has his own thoughts to guard, and when struggling with mankind his temper, and in society his tongue? We also have gained higher heights; have learned that trials lift us to that dignity of soul which sustains us, and finally conquers them; and that the ordained refines while it chastens."

From the human standpoint alone
does the struggle to be Christlike seem to meet with ridicule, frustration, or defeat. Yet all such experiences teach us to guard our thoughts, our tempers, our tongues. They teach us to live with people amiably; and through these lessons we may grow in grace. Every seeming fall is of value, if, because of it, we seek and find God, and thereby our true selfhood, and learn to express more love to our neighbor. It is satisfyingly sweet to "rise again, stronger than before the stumble," and to attain in some measure to that "dignity of soul which sustains us, and finally conquers."—The Christian Science Monitor.
