Fowlerville Entertains the Neighboring Villages at a Banquet Thursday Night. Brighton will be Host Next Year.

About three hundred attended the inter-city banquet given by the Fowlerville Commercial Club at the high school gym there last Thursday night present: W. C. Miller, Lee Lavey, R. Read, Norman Reason, Claude Ferguson, Kenneth Reason, Earl Baughn, Lucius Wilson, Wm. D'Elway, Roy Clark, P. W. Curlett and P. H. Swarthout.

Following the banquet the different groups were introduced and one person was asked to speak for each group. Lucius Wilson spoke for this town, Martin Lavan for Brighton, Harold Ludtke for Gregory, Guy Hosley for Cohoctah, Paul Flintoff for Oak Grove, and Clinton Stein for Howell. John Voigt, president of the Commercial Club extended the welcome and Clarence Faunce acted as the toastmaster. Judge Joseph A. Collins of Corunna who was holding court at Howell was present and when called on, his witty remarks drew much applause.

Wm. J. Cameron of the Ford Motor Co., formerly of the Detroit News was the speaker of the evening. He has lately been broadcasting Sunday evening against the Roosevelt administration and the address on this occasion ran true to form and he lambasted the present administration unmercifully. The smiles on the face of the Republicans present evidently nettled him as he remarked that the late Mark Hanna started this false philosophy of governmental meddling in business when he got the people's votes by promise of a full dinner pail. Hoover promised them two cars in every garage for their votes and now it is a pension check every month.

This latter he did not explain and may have referred to old age pensions. However, he added, that the country is on a firmer basis than ever before and good and better times are ahead.

Following the meeting Robert Leland, president of the Brighton Chamber of Commerce asked the organization to come to Brighton next year.

EARTHWORM TRACTOR

The Earthworm Tractor is coming into its own. After extended tests, of an Earthworm under field conditions that seemed entirely impractical for tractor plowing, the State Farm Bureau, Agricultural Implementation Department has bought one for demonstration purposes this fall to be given throughout the state. The demonstrations this fall will prepare the public for the heavy demand expected in the spring.

The Earthworm is the lowest priced full size farm tractor on the market. Wilson & Baughn have been nearly two years in developing this mechanical device which combines with a Model A. Ford power unit.

The costs of the unit has been lowered down by persistent effort and competitive bidding among gear manufacturers and parts makers until a farmer can have a powerful farm tractor at a total cost less than the price of a team of horses.

The Earthworm, in an open field test in Iosco recently, plowed a clay hill where a thousand dollar tractor failed. When pulling a double disk harrow in the same field, three gentlemen, making the test for the State Farm Bureau were unable to stall the Earthworm, although they tried every way that could be suggested.

HIGH SCHOOL DEBATE SUBJECT

High School debaters in Michigan and the middle west will find of interest the series of 21 radio programs on this year's national high school debate subject being broadcast over station WJR by the Michigan High School Forensic Association at the U. of M.

Authorities in public speaking and political science at the University will lecture on the technical aspects of public speaking and on the debate question: Resolved: That the United States Should Establish an Alliance with Great Britain. In addition, sample debates, orations, and declamations will be presented by members of the University's debate team. The programs will go on the air each Friday at 8:00 p. m.

Talks hearing directly on this year debate question will be printed and distributed free of charge for use by high school debaters.

Circuit Court in Session

Criminal Docket is Cleaned Up. Two Jury Trials Held. Several Cases Dismissed. Civil Suits to be Tried This Week.

Judge Collins cleaned up the criminal docket last week and returned to Corunna last Thursday night. In the criminal docket the case of C. Holmes of Hamburg charged with cutting off a cow's tail was put over. Joe Daniels demanded a jury trial and was acquitted. He is a poultry buyer and bought branded fowl with out keeping track of the brands. He was convicted and fined $125 in a justice court. However, the jury reversed the verdict. The case against Gus Konehal was dismissed. So was the case against John Goss. He is a deputy in another county and it was alleged, attached an auto unlawfully. Bertha Stearns of Fowlerville demanded a jury trial and was acquitted. She went into a Fowlerville beer garden to forbid them to sell to her husband and got into a fracas with a waitress when they tried to eject her. She was convicted in justice court.

Joe O'Kelly was convicted of the robbery of Sutton's Hardware and sentenced from 1 to 2 in Jackson prison.

John Sulkowski charged with assisting in theft of poultry by driving the car was fined $25.

The trespass case of Margaret Schagene vs Lee Weekley was dismissed.

The suit of Charles Standlick vs Edwin Bidwell of Brighton was settled. The latter was tenant on Bidwell's farm.

The several damage suits against Harry Frost et al were started in circuit court Monday morning. A jury was drawn and some testimony taken when Judge Collins took the case away from the jury and directed a verdict of no cause for action. This case was expected to take several days to try so no other cases were ready and the jury panel was sent home until Thursday. Don Van Winkle represented Harry Frost. H. Frost was driving a car belonging to Curran Palmer of Brighton when the accident happened. His car was insured.

MANCHESTER WINS GAME

Manchester overwhelmed Pinckney in a football game played at Manchester last Friday 39 to 0. The Manchester bunch were too fast, experienced, well coached for Pinckney to stop. Pinckney tried hard but couldn't hold the Manchester boys.

PINCKNEY HAS PRO-WRESTLER

The wrestling match was stopped at Ypsilanti last Wednesday night, close shows being advertised as amateur bouts, but it was found out that all boys taking part are professional wrestlers.

Julius Aschenbrenner of this town, who has taken part in a number of these shows was scheduled to wrestle on the main event.

He has applied for a license for this town, but it is not yet known whether there will be any more shows here. It would cost $50 for a club license, with a $10 fee after this is paid up. It would cost over $40 to put on a single show. His information all comes from the Michigan Association of the A. A. U. All the will be gladly answered.

Michigan Bell Telephone Co. Observes 60th Anniversary

Michigan State Telephone Company Celebrates Its Anniversary. Once Considered a Luxury Its Use Is Now Widespread. Dr. H. F. Sigler Was First Pinckney Telephone Subscriber

Telephone people here and through out Michigan are joining in an informal observance of the 60th anniversary of the founding of the state's first telephone exchange and the issuance of its first telephone directory, both of which occurred in Detroit in the early fall of 1878.

Sixty years ago there were less than 100 telephones in the state, all of them in Detroit, there were only a few hundred in the world, all of them in this country.

Today, there are more than 161 in the Pinckney exchange, alone. The state, today is served by three-quarters of a million telephones, of which the Michigan Bell Telephone Co., operates 600,000 in 252 towns and cities. The lines of the Michigan Bell and of the Bell System make available to every local telephone, connections with 35,000,000 others in 70 foreign countries.

Here as at Detroit, the first telephones were thought of, perhaps, much as were the first crude radio sets of 20 years ago, an interesting experiment. Therefore, at first, telephone service was not much in demand and it was some time before many names were added to the lists of the venturesome first few subscribers. Among these, listed in the 1878 telephone book here possibly are some few of those connected with the local exchange upon its establishment.

The first telephones were brought to Michigan in 1877 by W. A. Jackson, a telegraph operator. He and associates he had interested, secured a license to have been the first license contract the Bell interests ever made to operate telephone service and organized the Telephone & Telegraph Construction Company, forerunner of the Michigan Bell Company.

Activities of the company were confined, until the summer of 1878, to the construction of private telephone lines rather than exchanges. The two or three telephones on one line could not be connected with those on another. Single iron wires that extended over the roofs, or were attached to trees, were used. Messenger boys were employed as operators, but in 1880 were replaced by girls because of the latter's greater patience and general adaptability. And the first telephone directories contained no numbers, calls being placed by the names of the called parties.

Subscribers on one line began to ask for connections with those on other lines, and the idea of an exchange was born. In the summer of 1887, a canvass was made for customers for exchange service, and a small switchboard was installed in a basement room. There were 73 subscribers, only 53 of them had their lines connected with the central office.

The Telephone & Telegraph Construction Company itself, or by subsidizing local people, also was instrumental in establishing exchanges at other points in the state. Then came a natural demand for inter-city connections, and the state's first long distance line was built from Detroit to Port Huron, in 1881. At the time it was the longest long distance line in the world. Long distance lines connecting other points followed rapidly.

That, briefly, was the beginning of the development of the state's telephone system, the 60th anniversary of which is being noted quietly by Michigan telephone men and women. To them it is an important event, for they believe they are supplying their communities, and their state, with a necessary service, telephone service of a quality that is unexcelled anywhere in the world.

The first telephone exchange was established at Pinckney about 60 years ago with the late Frank Sigler as manager. Mrs. Elizabeth Curlett, mother of the Dispatch editor was employed by Mr. Sigler and was the first operator. She is past 80 years old and still in fair health. In those days she says not one in a hundred persons had telephones and an operator's principal duty was running telephone messages and nearly everyone came to the telephone office to do their telephoning. The late Dr. H. F. Sigler who died in 1926 was the first Pinckney telephone subscriber.

Only day service was rendered by the office and it was not unusual for Mr. Sigler to be routed out of bed at night to put through death or sick calls, Mrs. Curlett says. In order to prevent this it was his custom

CURRENT COMMENT

"By Y. Editor"

Politics are certainly getting a bit scrambled in Michigan. At the Michigan Tourists Convention at Bay City last Thursday both Governor Murphy and his Republican opponent, Frank Fitzgerald were present at the banquet table. The affair came off without any damage being done each throwing a few bouquets at each other and indulging in wisecracks. However, Fitzgerald took the occasion to introduce Leo Nowicki, Democrat candidate for Lt. Governor and predict his election. He also announced that if I die Mr. Nowicki will be the next governor. It was known that the nomination of the aged Luren Dickinson, president of the Michigan Anti-Saloon League as the Republican candidate for Lt. Governor was not favored by the politicians but he won nomination in the primary on account of a split field. Still his being thrown overboard by Fitzgerald so early in the race is interesting. According to the papers you could have heard a pin drop after Fitzgerald made his statement.

The investigation into Communist activities reached Detroit last week and turned up the first concrete evidence yet presented. 10 of the 8000 teachers in Detroit schools were named as Communists and also 1 professors at the U. of M. Most of the teachers named are wives of the well known Communists but have taught for years. The charges against most of them is that they aided in obtaining recruits for the Loyalist army in Spain. Supt. of Schools Cody of Detroit stated that he would take to action against them as all were highly efficient and he had no evidence that they were Communists. Supt. Cody is also a member of the state board of education being elected on the Republican ticket.

The Townsend Old Age Pension Plan has been definitely junked by the state Republican organization. Recently according to a Jackson paper State Chairman Thompson wrote all Republican congressional candidates asking them not to promise support of the Townsend Old Age Pension Plan. However, most of them will probably do as they want to do. We understand that some of the candidates are advocates of the plan.

The troubles in the Holy Land seem to be similar to the Crusades of old. The crusaders usually won at first and then got to fighting among themselves and were finally driven out by the Saracens or Turks. The Holy Land has been in possession of these Mohammedans for hundreds of years. The treaty following the world war set up a free Jewish state there with Great Britain as protector. This effort has been attended with numerous difficulties and constant fighting and last week Bethlehem was captured by the Arabs. Whether a Jewish nation will ever be permanently established there is still a matter for conjecture.

Prosperity seems definitely to have arrived. The auto factories are beginning to open up full force and numerous men have been called back from here to the Detroit factories. Last week the Chevrolet called back 2000 men at Flint. The Oldsmobile and Fisher Body at Lansing 2,350 and the Plymouth and Briggs at Detroit 17,000. The Buick is now running two shifts at Flint. More and more are expected to be called back. So the prospects for this winter appear very rosy.

The 1938 soy bean crop harvest is now well underway in this country and will break all records. With beans the highest priced article in the grain market the soy bean crop is estimated to be worth $30,000,000. Total production is estimated at 50,000,000 bushels. Illinois is the leading bean producing state with 27,000,000 bushels, with Indiana, Iowa and Ohio ranking next. The demand for the beans arises from the fact that an oil used in making automobiles is made from them. They also have many other uses.

HOW to SEW

By RUTH WYETH SPEARS

"DEAR Mrs. Spears:—I want to thank you for the clear diagram of how to hang draw curtains in your Book 1—SEWING for the Home Decorator. This was just what I have been needing as we have casement windows and no shades in our living room. With a pull of the cord my new curtains shut out the light or the outside view. I wonder if you would help me with another problem? I do not want to make the curtains for the rest of the house. Thought I would buy ruffled net ones. Do you think they would be too commonplace? J. T."

Answer: Here is a suggestion for hanging ruffled curtains that will make your windows little different from those of your neighbors and lend no end of style to your rooms. Double curtain rods are needed to give the crossed effect and a valance board is added to the top of the window as shown. Here the valance is the sort that comes with ready made curtains and the top is folded back to make it double. In thumbtacking it to the valance board, do not stretch it—just "ease it on" so that it hangs well. If you feel that the windows need color, the valance and tie backs may be of plain glazed chintz that repeats the strongest color in your room color scheme. A contrasting valance may be either plain or gathered.

Let Father and Young Son and Little Sister help you make the home a center of interest. Book 1—SEWING, for the Home Decorator contains many useful things that every one may take a hand in making. Book 2 shows you with pictures how to make many novelty gifts. Books are 25 cents each. Order both books today and get the patchwork quilt leaflet picturing 36 authentic embroidery stitches free. Address: Mrs. Spears, 210 S. Desplaines St., Chicago, Ill.

HOUSEHOLD QUESTIONS

To Press Ribbons.—Dampen ribbons and iron them between tissue paper.

Save Salty Water.—When water in which salt has been boiling is poured over coal, it makes good coal last longer and improves bad coal.

Salt Improves Coffee.—The flavor of coffee is improved if a little salt is sprinkled on the bottom of the pot before the coffee is put in.

Flowers and Vase for Sick.—It is an excellent idea when sending out flowers to a hospital to send an inexpensive vase with them. Nurses often find it difficult to find vases enough to hold flowers.

Well-Fitting Hose.—Children's stockings ought to be selected carefully. Short ones cramp toes and will eventually make them crooked. Too long ones wrinkle and twist, irritating toes and heels. Also, children should be taught to wear a fresh pair of stockings each morning. Don't allow your youngsters to wear galoshes in the house or classroom.

WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK

By LEMUEL F. PARTON

NEW YORK.—Barring world champion prizefighters, Thomas E. Dewey probably has received more publicity than any other American of his years. He is only 36, but almost everything about him is old news. However, as the New York Republicans nominated him for governor, the whole country seems hungry for information about the cock of his eyebrow, his gold fillings, if any, the set of his suspenders and whether he runs down the heels of his shoes. Friends from the West and Far West have told me, and some have written, that there is more talk about Thomas E. Dewey for President than about all the other possibilities put together. These informants say the talk is not partisan—that New York's young racket-buster is becoming the national symbol of a "happy issue out of all our afflictions."

This reporter hereby hands him the agrarian vote: on the banks of the Shawanese, near Owosso, in the state of Michigan, he was a demon cow milker. People would come for miles to see and hear him milk a cow. Musically gifted, he could make the powerful milk stream ring a tune in the pail as he sang "La Boheme," or "Il Traviata." His father ran a country newspaper.

As to the industrial East, he is a cagey bridge player who never takes his partner out of a business double. He is a squash player in winter, and a tennis player in summer. He sings baritone, a safe vocal as well as political range, and was trained as an opera singer, first in New York on a musical scholarship. There's nothing showy about him and he never makes a play to the press coop.

He appears to be, to this observer, the answer to Stuart Chase's plea for a new kind of politician. In a magazine article printed about a year ago, Mr. Chase tore all political dogmas to tatters and said we would get nowhere until we began to isolate and attack given problems and settle them according to their immediate requirements, without regard to their political or philosophical context. Big town racketeering is one of those "given problems" and then some. It is interesting to note that, in his acceptance speech, Mr. Dewey renounced "political dogma."

On most of the specific political issues of the day, Mr. Dewey's opinion has not been revealed. He has been slated as "liberal" and "progressive," but, in the days of "Tippecanoe and Tyler, too," the country esteemed fighting men and apparently still does.

GREECE has had several associations to get the Elgin marbles from England. They're still there. The Association of Men With Wings seems to have better prospects of reclaiming for America the original Wright brothers' airplane. Orville Wright, who, for quite human and understandable reasons, let the plane go to England, now joins the association in its effort to bring it back to this country.

When and if they succeed, it will be another feather in the flying helmet of Col. Charles Wayne Kerwood. Ever since he stopped daredevilry as one of America's most spectacular and adventurous aviators, he has been plotting to get that plane, even if he has to kidnap it. That was why he formed the above association, of which he is president.

He flew and fought with the French in the World war, with the Greeks against the Turks in 1922, was wounded and grounded more than once, turned to barnstorming and sensational knockabout flying, and became president of the International League of Aviators. He is a native of Chicago, big, bronzed, moustachioed, once a flying and fighting buddy of General Franco, against the Riffs.

THIS department would like to come out boldly against something. An unflinching stand against red fingernails looks pretty safe.

WHAT to EAT and WHY

C. Houston Goudiss Discusses Vitamins And Vision; Explains How and Why You Should Feed Your Eyes

By C. HOUSTON GOUDISS

FOR a number of years, scientists have stressed the importance of a well-balanced diet as a means of maintaining health, promoting growth and preventing disease. Recently, an even more significant development has occurred. It has been determined that a carefully chosen diet is absolutely necessary to preserve the general health and efficiency of every bodily function and that there is a close relationship between a good diet and good eyesight.

Your Food and Your Eyes

Many people regard their eyesight as one of the five senses which operate in some mysterious manner of their own! If they suffer from indigestion, they recognize that it is quite apt to be due to something they ate. If they are troubled with stomach, liver or kidney complaints, they quickly appreciate that prolonged dietary indiscretions may be at the root of the trouble. But it never occurs to them that what they eat may affect the eyes just as profoundly as it affects the internal organs.

It is not uncommon, during an attack of biliousness, to suffer a disturbance of the vision. But that disturbance usually disappears with the disorder that caused it. On the other hand, a deficient diet may produce eye troubles that have a far reaching effect upon health, efficiency, and even personal safety.

Night Blindness Explained

For example, it has been established that there is a definite relation between your vision and the vitamins in your diet; between your ability to drive a car safely at night, and the amount of vitamin A-containing foods that you consume.

To understand this astonishing fact, it is necessary to know that vision under faint illumination is accomplished by means of chemical changes in the pigment at the back of the eye. This is known as the "visual purple" of the retina and one of its important components is carotene, which is the active form of vitamin A.

The visual purple might be compared to the film in a camera. When you are in a dim light and the eyes are suddenly exposed to bright light, the visual purple is greatly reduced or bleached. This change results in a stimulation of the optic nerve and enables you to see clearly.

When an adequate supply of vitamin A is present in the body, the visual purple is rapidly regenerated. But when the supply is inadequate, a much longer period elapses before the corrective chemical change takes place. During the intervening time, many people find it difficult to see.

That is the condition known as "night blindness." And it accounts for the fact that a large proportion of serious motor accidents occur at night. Victims of this deficiency disease are first blinded by approaching headlights, then cannot quickly readjust themselves after the oncoming car has passed. Their ability to drive safely is subsequently impaired for they cannot clearly see the road ahead, and they may miss dangerous curves, pedestrians or other vehicles.

A Common Complaint Unfortunately, the prevalence of night blindness is not generally recognized, though it is held that urban dwellers are more conscious of it than those living in the rural areas. This is borne out by the fact that ocular disorders from vitamin deficiency are less common in urban than in rural areas.

Children Often Victims

Since the discovery of the close connection between vitamin A and the ability to see in dim light, scientists have tested large numbers of school children to determine whether vitamin A was present in their diet in adequate amounts. It was revealed that from 28 to 79 per cent of the children examined had incipient night blindness.

The same deplorable conditions were found among adults. Mild the eyes which are dependent upon vitamins, for they have many other functions to perform. An improper diet may cause people to drive automobiles blindly at night so that they are dangerous not only to themselves and their passengers, but to everyone on the streets and roads. A deficient diet will also send them through life with half-efficient bodies, half-efficient brains, half-efficient senses.

That is why I urge you to learn everything you can about food, so that in planning meals you will not only feed your eyes, your husband's eyes and your children's eyes, but will take advantage of the wonderful discoveries of nutritional science to make every member of the family so efficient that they will enjoy the best of health each day of their lives.

Questions Answered

Mrs. G. C. L.—Yes, indeed, nutritionists do approve of a mid-afternoon snack for most school children. A glass of milk and a slice of buttered bread with jam or preserves; fruit juice and oatmeal cookies; or a chocolate milk shake and graham crackers will provide fresh energy for late afternoon play. Without the between-meal lunch, some children become so fatigued that nerve strain results. Take care, however, that the snack does not destroy the appetite for the evening meal.

Fishermen's Memorial Day

An annual memorial service for fishermen who have been lost at sea is a traditional ceremony of Gloucester, Mass. Every year in August at the memorial service the names of those who have been drowned that year are read and relatives of loved ones of the deceased throw flowers in the sea.

After the service fishermen gather and after tossing their flowers on the waters repeat in unison: "In memory of all the seamen, who through all the years have found a last resting place in the waters that wash every shore, we lovingly strew these flowers."

It isn't difficult to visualize why agriculture is the world's largest industry, after reviewing some of the figures just released by the Farm Service Bureau. These amazing facts were uncovered in connection with the Voice of the Farm secondary radio program.

(1) Five million dollars is the figure that's handed out in fair prize money each season. State fairs contribute about half of the figure and county fairs put up the remainder.

(2) C. P. Mills, St. Joseph, Illinois, farmer, has shown an extra profit of about $1,000 annually since he started keeping books on his farm operations. His bookkeeping takes about 300 hours a year—and that figure $5.00 an hour.

(3) In Nebraska, Harry Knabe paid $88.00 for a Hampshire breeding sow. The $1750.00 he received for the first litter of pigs for breeding purposes was a gross profit of $1662 on his investment, and he kept two pigs from the litter.

(4) Crowds equivalent to almost two-fifths of the population of the United States attend fairs each year. Fairs feature the attendance at big league baseball, college football, basketball and professional hockey combined.

Through the efforts of the Farm Service Bureau millions of farmers throughout the country are receiving authentic information concerning problems that confront them in the adoption of better farming practices. This organization maintains a corps of practical farm experts and counselors who are prepared to handle any type of farm problem that may arise.—Adv.

NOTES OF 25 YEARS AGO

The famous, railroad play, "The Midnight Express" will be put on at the Pinckney opera house on Saturday evening, October 25, by Edwin Gany, producer.

17 members of the Este Fideles Sunday school classes of which E. C. Ghan is teacher enjoyed a picnic at the Glennbrook farm Saturday afternoon.

The Pinckney milk dealers have raised the price of milk to 3 cents a quart. They are: C. L. Sigler, W. C. Dunning, C. J. Teeple, J. J. Teeple, P. H. Swarthout, Michael Lavey, G. C. Placeway, J. C. Dunkel, and D. D. Smith.

J. R. Martin accompanied Henry Cobb to the Masonic home at Alma last week.

130 foreign students, representing 27 different nations are now enrolled at the U. of M.

The petitions of James Roche and M. H. Marshall, asking that their farms be set outside the village limits have been granted by the board of supervisors.

Mrs. H. E. Sigler picked strawberries from her garden on October 21.

A large number of friends and neighbors helped Mr. and Mrs. John Martin celebrate their 16th wedding anniversary Monday night. Mrs. David Baundin in behalf of those present presented Mr. and Mrs. Martin with silverware and table linen.

SAFETYGRAMS

Why is it so difficult that the driver, the very person who should be reached and in whom an appeal for safe driving should find a ready ear is the hardest person to reach?

Why is it that everybody believes in safety and everybody is for it, but everyone feels that the program is for the other fellow?

We all feel that we are perfect drivers. We can always find fault with the other person. It is easy for us to detect the awful mistakes that some other people make in driving.

The next time we feel that way, let's stop and think and take inventory of our own driving.

Safety is everybody's business.

FEWER LOSS OF OPERATORS' LICENSES DUE TO THE COOPERATION OF DRIVERS

There are two ways to lose an operator's license in Michigan as there are in every other state having operator's license regulations. One is to have the license revoked or suspended by court order or by other authorized authority; the other, which is the most common method is to lose or misplace it.

With public attention centered on safety on our highways, the revocation and suspension of license is on the increase, but it is worth noting that the percentage of licensed drivers who lose their licenses by absent-mindedness or accident is getting smaller all the time. The ability to possess a driver's license means more to an individual now than any time heretofore.

A note of caution to drivers of cars bound to and from football games, is sounded by Leon D. Case, Secretary of State. A football crowd is a happy one in a holiday mood. Extra caution on the part of individuals is required when cars move in masses. Safe, sober driving will save lives these fall days.

Statistics, on the movement of a large number of automobiles and their relation to safety on the highways, reveal normal expectations of deaths and injuries from careless driving in heavy traffic.

For every fatal accident, approximately 35 non-fatal accidents occur and from these two causes every fatality is estimated to cause the community affected, losses of some $50,000, traffic and insurance companies have pointed out.

Traffic safety depends on your cooperation with the local police department.

PHILATHEA NOTES

On Columbus Day, October 12, 1933, the class met with Mrs. R. K. Elliott, to celebrate the 38th birthday of Baraca Philathea, the exact date of the founding of the class being October 20, 1890. Centering the long table in the dining room was a blue and white candle in an antique holder, honoring the Baraca Philathea founder, Marshall A. Hudson. There also was a birthday cake decorated with the Philathea colors, which was also a tribute to the hostess, the class president, and teacher for this year.

An offering was taken as usual and $1.00 directed to be sent in to the World Wide Union at Washington, D. C., with our class candle for the World Wide Birthday party.

For this meeting the chaplain chose out prophetic chapters from the Scripture and Mrs. Peck led in the prayer. (O) was the letter for the roll call, following the reading of the September minutes by the secretary Mrs. H. Vedder. There were several items of business among the minutes, among them the appointment of Mrs. Villa Richards and Mrs. Lola Rogers to buy materials for a quilt. Through the gift of fifty cents by the class, another hundred envelopes have been purchased for use in the church pews. These are to be used each Sunday for Benevolence offerings. The Benevolence Treasurer is grateful for the portion of the offering on Sunday Rally and for a few individual gifts.

The next meeting of the Philathea will be for our regular Missionary program at Mrs. P. H. Swarthout's in November. During the afternoon at Mrs. Elliott's, Miss Blanche Martin and Mrs. Rogers read extracts from the Baraca Philathea News, and Miss Fish read a part of our class history. Our hostess at this point brought out a class picture taken a number of years ago on the Fish lawn. Many of these first members have passed on to their reward. Others are still carrying out our motto, (We do things), either in our own class or in some other work for the master. After the Rally Day of last Sunday, we are looking for an especially large class when the Roll is called next Sunday.

The subject of the lesson for the month of October 23 is Our Day of Rest Read especially Exodus 20:8-11 and Luke 13:10-17.

The pastor extends a cordial welcome to all services of our churches.

Miss Peggy Stackable was home from Lansing the week end. Wm. Doyle Mr. and Mrs. Lupton Doyle and sons visited the Irish hills Saturday.

Emmett Clark of Sturgis spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. W. Clark.

Miss Carrie Hudler of Jackson is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Soper.

Mrs. W. E. Murphy and family were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Murphy in Jackson.

Back of the high quality of telephone service you enjoy today in Michigan is the group of several thousand scientists and experts in the Bell Telephone Laboratories and at the headquarters of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, whose sole job it is "to find a better thing or a better way."

The telephone employees who are engaged day in day in maintaining a high standard of telephone service are doing their part, and a most important part, in increasing the quality and keeping down the cost of service; but progress is assured by having a large group of scientists and experts devoted exclusively to seeking ways and means of making the service better and cheaper.

On the Mark

With the hunting season in full swing we can draw a fitting simile. When a bird "goes up", the hunter automatically takes aim and fires. He has his eye on the mark.

What is our mark in life? With most of us it is to accumulate enough money to permit a comfortable living. To bring financial worries to a minimum and to bring more enjoyment to our families is our driving force. This condition can only be achieved by persistently having our eye on the goal. We must save regularly. We must be always ready to save when surplus funds occur.

Applicants have until November 1 to file their applications for postmaster at Ann Arbor. Mrs. Horatio Abbott is the present postmistress.

The new Gregory fire engine made its first run last week to the saw mill of Ralph Chipman where an overheated pulley caused a blaze.

28 members of the Central Circle of the Chelsea M. E. Church motored to Pinckney last Wednesday where they were entertained at dinner by Mrs. Elwin Hulce.

George Fink, head of the Great Lakes Steel Corp., who recently purchased the Meredith farm near Brighton is remodeling the brick cow barn into a modern stable. The building is 36x60.

Mrs. Russell Coon, 46, died at her home in Dexter Tuesday. She was formerly Esther Hagman of Howell.

The funeral was held at Dexter on Friday with burial at Howell.

Wm. Cone of Gregory has been bound over to circuit court on the charge of unlawfully driving away a car belonging to Lee Osborne of Unadilla.

Lloyd Teeple has accepted a position with the Brown-Biglow Advertising Co., and will have charge of five counties.

Brighton high school continues to enjoy a successful season in football. They are still undefeated. Recently they beat Walled Lake 30 to 0.

The debate subject for Michigan high school this year is Resolved, That United States should establish an alliance with Great Britain.

Street Rash, 46, of Leslie died on October 11 as the result of drinking rubbing alcohol.

Pickle and squash threshing is a new industry in this section. The Ann Arbor News last week ran a cut showing 9 acres of pickles being threshed on the Clayton Carpenter farm in Hamburg for seed. In Jackson county 300 tons of squash were threshed on Miles Bros. farm for their seed. The squash pulp is sold as cattle feed.

The new Masonic temple at Williamston is expected to be ready for use about January 1, 1939. The old temple burned down last February. The Masons purchased the Seeger block which they remodeled. On the first floor are two stores which are already rented. On the second is a 30x60 lodge room and banquet hall.

After many ups and downs the proposition to build a new $400,000 court house at Ann Arbor was defeated by the board of supervisors in Washtenaw county 18 to 15. The rural supervisors except four voted solidly against it. The federal government was supposed to pay 45 per cent of the cost. This was submitted to a vote of the people recently and rejected. However an error was made in the financing provision and it was thrown back into the laps of the board. If the board had approved another vote would have been necessary in November.

MASONIC RESOLUTIONS ON DEATH OF BROTHER FRED SLAYTON

Whereas, It has pleased the Great Creator of the universe to call Brother Fred Slayton from labor on the earth to rest and immortality in the Grand Lodge above, where the Supreme Grand Master himself presides; therefore be it

Resolved, That we acknowledge the wisdom and goodness of our Supreme Grand Master, and bow in humble submission to the inevitable edict from the Supreme Grand East. He departed this life full of years... ripened with age and experience. He was a just and upright Mason, a kind husband and father, an honorable and useful citizen, a sincere friend, a courteous and obliging neighbor, a man who endeavored always to perform every duty... to his God, his country, his family, his lodge, his neighbor and himself, honestly faithfully and well.

We sympathize with the bereaved family and mourn his departure.

Resolved, That our Charter be draped the customary time, a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the records of our lodge; and a copy be published in the Pinckney Dispatch.

CONGRESSMAN A. J. TRANSUE

Congressman Andrew J. Transue who is a candidate for re-election for a second term in Congress, has a background and early environment which gave him a sympathetic understanding of the problems of the farm.

He was born on a farm in Clarksville, Ionia County, Michigan, and his father and mother, Charles J. and Nina Transue still live on this farm. In his subsequent study of law as a practicing attorney and later Prosecuting Attorney for two terms in Genesee County, Congressman Transue never lost his close contact with farmers and their problems.

In Congress the Sixth District's Representative worked diligently for legislation that would give the farmer an equal chance with industry to make a decent living and to get fair prices for farm produce.

Congressman Transue favored direct action by the Government to help the farmer. He voted for the agricultural bill which was later signed by President Roosevelt to protect the income of the farmers throughout the country.

Congressman Transue insisted in Congress that the welfare of the farmers meant prosperity for all of the country. He explained that when the farmers are prosperous then they are able to buy the products of the city factories and the city workers and there is general prosperity. On the contrary when the farmer does not get a fair price for his produce then he must reduce his purchase of things the city worker makes and this means fewer jobs in our factories and industries.

WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK

By LEMUEL F. PARTON

NEW YORK.—Policemen seem to have more social security than almost anybody else, if they behave themselves, and yet about 70 of them have committed suicide in New York in the last few years.

Seek Cause For Cops' Despondency
Just why "a policeman's life is not a happy one" was not made clear by Gilbert and Sullivan, but members of the New York force are out to find out and do something about it.

Their new and unique "trouble clinic" has been investigating and prescribing. It lists eight reasons why policemen get in distress, and the list includes just eight brands of money trouble. The news today is that the department clinic has official sanction and is opening headquarters in the old World building.

Patrolman Joseph J. Burkard of the traffic squad, an energetic, resourceful self-starter, in the department 20 years, pioneers the new clinic, with the aid of a young patrolman who is a student of psychology at Columbia university.

They brought in Dr. Menas S. Gregory, famous psychiatrist, and Dr. Carmyn J. Lombardo, also widely known as a specialist in mental disturbance. The clinic already has handled 150 cases, some of them of extremely serious nature.

The clinic was established under the Patrolmen's Benevolent association, of which Mr.

Idea First Tried Out By Legion
Burkard was elected president last year. It is said to have been his original idea, suggested by similar work by the American Legion, of which Mr. Burkard is a former New York county commander.

He has been a genial mixer in the department for many years, vice president of the glee club and long active in the affairs of the P. B. A.

A friend of this writer, gathering material for a book on New York, quoted to a young police lieutenant Inspector Williams' remark that "There is more law on the end of a policeman's night-stick than there is in a decision of the Supreme court."

"That's bunk, and it always was," said the lieutenant. "College men are joining both the police and fire departments. J. Edgar Hoover, and others, are helping to bring about a new conception of a policeman. The 'fat-foot' era is ending."

And then, said my friend, the lieutenant disclosed that he was a college graduate and engaged in an informal discussion of psychiatric training and methods in connection with police work. Would the cops have made their own psychological clinic in Inspector Williams' day?

THE late Texas Guinan gave George Raft a pair of gold-plated garters. They brought him luck and he still wears them. The sleek, slow-eyed young Italian, alumnus of New York's Hell's Kitchen, has taken success in his easy dancing stride—he's an ex-hooper—but, like other moving picture stars, he's beginning to look a gift-horse in the mouth.

Tex Guinan Gave George Gold Garters
He doesn't like his role in Paramount's "St. Louis Blues," and the company suspends him. It is one more instance of increasing esthetic sensitivity in movieland.

In and around Hell's Kitchen, he was a professional light-weight boxer, winning 25 fights, kayoed seven times. He was an outfielder for the Springfield (Mass.) minor league team for two seasons. He did well enough, but it was a sideline of impromptu hoofing and spoofing which paved him into the night clubs and the big Broadway shows.

He achieved a sinister, reptilian suggestion in his dancing which made him known fraternally up and down Broadway as "The Old Black-snake."

He was just looking on at the Brown Derby in Hollywood when a prowling director seized him as a "type" and ruthlessly sloughed him into fame and fortune. His 1937 earnings report was $202,666, topped only by Cooper and Barter, among the male stars. He owns 45 suits of clothes and a piece of Henry Armstrong.

Light-Colored Paints
Good light-colored outside paints contain white lead, often mixed with smaller quantities of other pigments. Colored pigments are added to the white to produce tinted paints, or used without the white to produce dark paints. It is generally recognized that the dark paints give better service under the same weather and exposure conditions

President's Supporters Catch Brunt of Opposition Criticism

Roosevelt Personally Under Direct Fire of Enemies Only Twice; Interference in State Primaries Now Subject of Bitter Controversy; Prestige Will Be Hurt.

By WILLIAM BRUCKHART
WNU Service, National Press Bldg., Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON.—It has been a matter of frequent reference among observers how President Roosevelt's supporters or subordinates, or spokesmen for him, have caught the brunt of opposition criticism. Mr. Roosevelt personally has been under the direct fire of his enemies on only two occasions. He played his political cards so that, when some plan blew up, it was some subordinate or supporter whose neck was found out too far. The President, of course, found himself as the target when he proposed packing the Supreme court with six additional justices of his own choosing and when he sought reorganization of the government, but, generally speaking, the Roosevelt prestige has avoided damage, until now.

Which brings us to the bitter controversy over presidential interference in state primaries, and the second stage—Mr. Roosevelt's declaration that it was a violation of public morality for Republicans to enter a Democratic primary. This controversy is the most heated and has the broadest implications of any of the three in which the storm centered about Mr. Roosevelt's own head. It is likely to be the most far-reaching in its result. The Roosevelt prestige is bound to be damaged whether he wins or loses when the score finally is totaled, and, as far as can be seen now, he will not be able to avoid it.

I remember having written, when the President made his cross-country trip in the dual capacity of President and head of the Democratic party, that it appeared difficult to dissociate the two capacities. I predicted at that time, two months ago, that there were germs of trouble in such an attempt. It was not long before the germs were growing. Mr. Roosevelt's pat on the back for Senator Bulkley of Ohio, and his bold command to the Democratic voters of Kentucky to send Sen. "Dear Alben" Barkley back to the senate brought a shower of ripe verbal eggs onto the head of either the President or the head of the Democratic party. I did not know which personality was naming the favorite Democratic candidate in the primaries then, nor do I yet know. From all of the information from those states since, I gather that the voters in the primaries did not know whether they were voting to support the President of the United States or the head of the Democratic party.

Pat on Back for McAdoo,

Face Slap for O'Connor

Then, on to the Middle West and the Far West, the pat on the back for Senator McAdoo, who has opposition for the Democratic senatorial nomination in California; and, next, in Georgia where Mr. Roosevelt uttered the now famous "God bless you, Walter—but you're no liberal" to Senator George, to be followed by a direct endorsement of Lawrence Camp for the senatorial nomination against Mr. George. Later, Mr. Roosevelt gave a vicious political slap in the face to Rep. John O'Connor, in New York, and attacked Senator Tydings in Maryland by saying that Representative Davy Lewis ought to have the Democratic nomination.

In addition to these direct interferences in state primaries, Mr. Roosevelt's subordinates—men like Relief Administrator Hopkins and Secretary Ickes—horned into primaries in Iowa, Oregon, Idaho and elsewhere. They were well licked in Iowa and Idaho, and it was the result in the latter state that has brought up the second stage of the controversy.

Idaho's Senator Pope used to say that if any constituent wanted to know his position on a given question, it was necessary only to inquire whether the President was for or against it. Apparently, the voters in Idaho did not like that; they preferred a senator to vote their views rather than one who consistently voted the President's view. Anyway, they nominated Representative Clark, in their Democratic primary. He had something in excess of 3,500 more votes than Mr. Pope.

The licking administered to Senator Pope did not taste well to the President or the coterie of New Deal advisors. Senator Pope obviously did not like it either, and he did the childish thing of emitting a loud and noxious squawk that the nomination was taken from him by Republicans. He said they went into the Democratic primary and gave Representative Clark their votes in sufficient number to override the will of a majority of the Democrats in the state. Senator Pope went to Hyde Park, N. Y., to weep out his story on the shoulders of Mr. Roosevelt, but it has not been made clear whether it was the shoulders of the President of the United States or of the head of the Democratic party. Anyway, there was weeping at Hyde Park.

Takes Important Second Step in Controversy

And after that meeting and when the tears were wiped away so there would be no sniffing, Mr. Roosevelt took the important second step in the controversy. He denounced the Republicans as having "violated public morals" by voting for Mr. Clark in a Democratic primary, although if the ballots were secret as the law requires I have been unable to figure out how either Mr. Roosevelt or Mr. Pope know that it was the Republicans and not the Democrats who brought about Mr. Pope's defeat. Anyway, Mr. Roosevelt—either as President of the United States or as head of the Democratic party—condemned such terrible things as Republican votes in a Democratic primary. Such a course of action, the President or the head of the Democratic party said, constituted an attempt to destroy the direct primary system. It apparently did not matter to the President or the head of the Democratic party that Mr. Clark had campaigned as a Democrat while Senator Pope was sounding off as a 100 per cent New Dealer.

I have been wondering, since the Hyde Park condemnation of the Republicans, how Mr. Roosevelt's position in the two phases of his course can be reconciled. It never has seemed to me to be so terrible for the President or the head of the Democratic party (or the head of the Republican party if the President be a Republican) to state his views about candidates. Probably, the presidential office ought not to be used that way, but I can not get so excited about it as some writers and some newspapers and some politicians have done. I am inclined to regard such action as the purest of politics and politics is a game and the voters have to recognize that it is a game. There has been a lot of meaningless gushing going on about Mr. Roosevelt's course that just fails to impress me at all.

But, on the other hand, there is an old, old quotation: Consistency, thou art a jewel. In remembering and applying that thought, it appears to me that Mr. Roosevelt has gone off the deep end of the pool without an inflated rubber tube for an arm rest. Indeed, isn't it a rather silly thing, an utterly stupid piece of business, to claim the right to interfere on his own part and tell the common, ordinary garden variety of voter that he can not take a position because he once played on the other team?

Is Roosevelt's Forgettery Working Well These Days?

Further, I am wondering whether Mr. Roosevelt's forgettery works so well that he fails to recall his appeal in 1932 and again in 1936 for Republicans to follow him, elect him as the savior of the country. It seems to me if it is sauce for the goose, the old gander can eat the same food.

Further, there is a bit of logic about the whole thing that ought to be examined. Take the state of Georgia, for example, where the Democratic nomination means election. A Republican in Georgia would be sunk without a trace, as far as selection of someone to represent him in congress is concerned, if he wanted to have his real choice recorded. His only course, if he preferred one Democratic candidate to another, would be to enter the Democratic primary and vote for one of those candidates. Assume that the Republican voter lives in Idaho. If that voter felt that neither of the candidates for the Republican nomination for the senate measured up to his ideas, why should he not be allowed to vote in the Democratic primary in order to express his preference? It might well be that a Republican voter in Idaho would feel that the Democratic nominee had a better chance of being elected in November than did the Republican nominee. If he felt that way, it appears to me that he would be showing good sense, common horse sense to express his preference on that side of the fence. I believe Mr. Roosevelt's record would look very much better at this point if he had extended his congratulations to Representative Clark in Idaho, and promised him the support of the Democratic national committee in the forthcoming election, as was done by National Democratic Chairman Farley. Surely, that would have been sportsmanship and the attitude of a good loser.

It may be, however—and this is an implication from the indications of the day—that Mr. Roosevelt is trying deliberately to force a realignment of voters throughout the country. He may be seeking to drive radicals into his camp—in case of a third term urge—and the conservatives into another camp.

C. Houston Goudiss Enumerates the Nutritious Values of the BANANA

Explains How Our Most Satisfying Food Fruit Helps to Maintain Health at All Ages.

By C. HOUSTON GOUDISS

6 East 39th Street, New York City

BEFORE the discovery of the vitamins and before we knew as much regarding the body's mineral requirements, interest in food was centered around proteins, carbohydrates and fats. Fruits which in general supply little protein and fat, and widely varying amounts of carbohydrates, received scant consideration as a source of essential nutrients.

But with our steadily increasing knowledge of vitamins and of the importance to the body of a long list of essential mineral elements, fruits have assumed a commanding place in nutrition. And those who follow the primary rule of a well balanced diet and serve fruit twice daily have been rewarded with increased health and vigor.

In addition to their minerals and vitamins, fruits are valued because of their bulk or cellulose which helps to insure regular health habits.

The Most Economical Fruit

Many homemakers consider that fruits as a class are among the more expensive items included in the food budget.

But that statement is far too general and indicates a lack of information concerning the comparative nutritive values of the different kinds of fruit. For example, it has been said of the delicious and economical banana, that it gives more nutritive as well as money value than almost any other food.

Fruits, in general, are frequently divided into two classes; they are known as flavor fruits when they contain 80 per cent or more of water and as food fruits when the water content is less than 80 per cent. Bananas are a food fruit of the first order!

Ripe bananas are rich in carbohydrates and furnish the body with splendid energy values, with a minimum tax on the digestive system.

Double Fuel Value

When fully ripened, this fruit provides quick energy because a certain amount of its sugars are almost immediately absorbed by the body. On the other hand, several hours must elapse before the remaining sugars are completely assimilated. Thus, eating bananas provides a continuous supply of energy for a considerable period. They not only help to promote rapid recovery from fatigue but also furnish a continuing supply of energy which keeps one from becoming hungry again too soon after a meal.

The edible portion of one average-sized banana weighs about 3½ ounces and provides 100 calories. It takes almost the same weight of white potato to yield the same number of calories.

Bananas a Protective Food

Bananas take an important position among the protective foods, because they are a good source of four vitamins, A, B, C and G, and contain a total of 11 minerals. They leave an alkaline-ash following digestion.

Fully ripened bananas are easily digested and are mildly laxative.

Valuable in Child's Diet

Bananas deserve a prominent place in the child's diet from infancy to maturity. Some baby specialists prescribe mashed and strained ripe bananas as one of

OVERWEIGHT. Spoils Your Looks Impairs Efficiency

... And it may seriously affect your health. If you are over 30, and weigh more than the normal weight for your height at the age of 30, the chances are that you would benefit greatly by a rational program of weight reduction.

You are invited to write to C. Houston Goudiss for his scientific Reducing Bulletin, which outlines the safe, certain and comfortable method of weight reduction by counting calories. It includes balanced reducing menus and a chart showing the caloric value of all the commonly used foods.

With it, you can easily compute the caloric value of every meal you eat.

Just write to:

values with a minimum of digestive effort.

Most Versatile Fruit

Bananas are always in season and are usually most inexpensive. It is desirable, of course, that only fully ripened bananas be eaten raw. That is because their constituents vary with the degree of ripeness.

Bananas are picked when they are green and hard, and the carbohydrate content is almost entirely starch. As they ripen, the starch is converted into easily digested sugars.

In fully ripened bananas—those in which brown flecks appear on the yellow skins—the starch has almost entirely disappeared and the flavor has been developed to its highest point. The all-yellow banana is also ripe enough for eating and it is likewise firm enough for cooking. Partially ripe bananas—those which are yellow with a green tip—may be cooked and served as a vegetable or as dessert.

Considering their availability, ease of digestion, high food value and economy, bananas deserve to be classed as one of the staple foods in every well planned dietary.

Questions Answered

Mrs. G. R. McK.—When peas and beans cause discomfort, owing to their tendency to form gas, they can frequently be eaten without distress in pureed form.

Miss M. L. A.—Both sweet and white potatoes contain vitamins A, B and C; but sweet potatoes are a much better source of vitamin A than white potatoes.

HOW to SEW By RUTH WYETH SPEARS

A LETTER comes telling the story of a clever girl designed for her dressing table. The problem was to make them to fit spaces of unusual size. Her room color scheme was blue and white and a design of white embroidered snow crystals on cool blue linen was what she wanted.

Here is the way she achieved a charming result.

The linen was cut the desired size and narrow hems creased with a warm iron. The hems were then backstitched in white from the right side with three strands of six-strand mercerized embroidery cotton. She wanted the arrangement of the snow crystals to be helter-skelter—just as they would fall; so she took a handful of coins and tossed them onto the linen. She drew around each coin where it fell.

Still using three strands of the white cotton she took four stitches across the marked circle and then brought the needle out in the center, as shown here in step 2, ready to take a tiny stitch to bind the

PARENTS ENROLL IN RADIO SERIES

A series of six topics on (The Growing Child), is available for the parents and other persons interested who listen to the WKAR radio station of Michigan State College. These special programs begin October 21st and continue each third Friday at 2:30 o'clock for five successive months, with the final one scheduled on March 17. Each will deal with a different phase of growth of the child. The material is planned and broadcast by Alice Hutchinson, specialist in child development at MSC, who announces the following subjects:

1. The physical growth and development of the child. Oct. 21st.
2. The child's motor development. November 18th.
3. Your child's developing mind. December 16.
4. The emotional growth of the child. January 20.
5. The child's group membership. February 17.
6. The interests and activities of the growing child. March 17.

Plans for enrolling in a radio listening group may be secured by a letter to Miss Hutchinson, Home Economics Extension Department, East Lansing. Copies of each broadcast will be sent in advance to enrolled group members. Organization materials and age development records are available.

MICHIGAN NEEDY RECEIVE AID FROM STATE

According to figures released today by the Auditor General, George T. Gundry, nearly two thousand afflicted children, unable to pay for hospitalization, received treatment in Michigan hospitals in September. Many of these patients were hospitalized at the U. of M. Hospital at Ann Arbor, Michigan.

The law provides that the Auditor General in cooperation with the Michigan Crippled Children Commission, shall establish a fair schedule of rates and fees to be paid by the state to hospitals and physicians for the care and treatment of crippled and afflicted children unable to pay for themselves.

The procedure followed by the parents of the child in need is: 1st to make application to the Judge of probate. From the Judge of Probate the report is sent to the Auditor General's Department with recommendations for commitment to a hospital.

Applications are daily received by Mr. Gundry's department where they are given careful consideration. However, inasmuch as the Auditor General's duties in this matter are strictly prescribed by law, his activities are confined to the routine of careful audit.

Because of the improved business conditions of the past few months, and the good outlook for the future, Mr. Gundry expects the demands for free hospitalization to decrease, although he says that (no deserving child, in need of medical care, and unable to pay should go without aid.

FITZGERALD - DICKINSON ROW

The flareup between Frank Fitzgerald and Luten Dickinson, Republican candidates for governor and lieutenant governor, has given the news reporters much material and they have made much of their opportunity. This row had its inception at a joint meeting at Bay City last week at which both Democrat and Republican state candidates were present. Fitzgerald took it upon himself to introduce the Democrat candidates and when he introduced Leo Nowicki, the Democrat candidate for lieutenant governor, he said, (I expect this man to be re-elected. If I die, he will be governor of Michigan). Dickinson was not present but prepared a scathing denunciation of Fitzgerald which he with held from the press for 48 hours while the Republican state central committee endeavored to pour oil on the troubled waters. Fitzgerald made no statement until Friday when he said his endorsement of Nowicki was in jest. However, he refused to go to Charlotte, the home of Dickinson to see that gentleman. A conference was arranged at Lansing on Monday but Fitzgerald sent word he could not attend. Former Governor Chase Osborn characterized Fitzgerald's action as Benedict Arnold politics. Luten Dickinson's nomination is said to be displeasing to the GOP machine as he is president of the Anti-Saloon League and would cause the ticket to lose the wet vote.

The peace conference seems not to have been held. State Chairman Thompson says the press a letter from Fitzgerald apologizing to Dickinson for the Nowicki endorsement which he said was a joke and one from Dickinson accepting said apology.

REGISTRATION NOTICE

For General Election
Tuesday, November 8, 1938
 To the qualified electors of the township of Putnam, county of Livingston, State of Michigan.

A notice is hereby given that in conformity with the "Michigan Election Law", the undersigned Twp. Clerk, will upon any day except Sunday and a legal holiday, the day of any regular or special election or primary election, receive for registration the name of any legal voter in said township not already registered who may Apply To Me Personally for such registration. Provided however that I can receive no names for registration during the time intervening between the Second Saturday before any, regular, special, or official primary election and the day of such election.

The last day for General Registration does not apply to persons who vote under the Absent Voters Law. (See Registration by Affidavit). I will therefore be at my home M-36 west of Pinckney, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1938 First day before the twentieth day, preceding said election.

From eight o'clock a. m. until 8 o'clock p. m. on each day for the purpose of REVIEWING the REGISTRATION and REGISTERING such of the qualified electors in said township as SHALL PROPERLY apply therefor.

In any township in which the clerk does not maintain regular office hours the board of such township may require that the clerk of such township shall be at his office or a designated place for the purpose of receiving applications for registrations on such of those days as it shall designate prior to the last day of registration, not exceeding five days in all.

Notice is hereby given that I will be at my home on Saturday October 22nd, 1938 from 11:00 a. m. to 4 p. m.; Wed. Oct. 26, 1938 from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m., Sat. Oct. 29

1938 from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. SATURDAY, OCT. 29, 1938 LAST DAY for General Registration by Personal Application for Said Election from 10 o'clock a. m. to 6 o'clock p. m.

The name of no person but an actual resident of the precinct at the time of said registration and entitled under the Constitution, if remaining such resident, to vote at the next election shall be entered in the registration book.

REGISTRATION BY AFFIDAVIT
 Sec. 10-Registering of Electors: Any absent voter, as defined in this act, whose name is not registered and who shall claim the right to vote by absent voters ballot at any election or primary election, may at the time of making application for absent voters ballot present to the twp. clerk an affidavit for registration which shall be in substantially the following form:

AFFIDAVIT FOR REGISTRATION
 State of Michigan,
 County of Michigan, S.S.

I, _____ being duly sworn, depose and say that I am a citizen and duly qualified elector of the _____ precinct of the township of _____ in the county of Livingston, State of Michigan; that my postoffice address is No. _____ street or R. F. D. No. _____ P. O. _____ that I am not now registered as an elector therein and that I am voting by absent voters ballot at the election or (primary election) to be held upon the _____ day of _____ 1938, the application for which ballot accompanies this application; that I make this affidavit for the purpose of procuring my registration as an elector in accordance with the statute; that I make the following statements in compliance with the Michigan Election Law: Age _____; Race _____; Birth place _____; Date of naturalization _____ I further swear or affirm that the answers given to the questions concerning my qualifications as an elector are true and correct to the best of my knowledge and belief.

Taken, subscribed and sworn to before me this _____ day of _____ 1938.
 My Commission expires _____ 19____
 Signed _____

Notary Public in and for said County State of Michigan.

Upon receipt of such affidavit in the time specified herein, the clerk shall write in registration book the name of the applicant together with other information required by this chapter and such applicant shall thereupon be deemed to be duly and properly registered.

Note-If this acknowledgement is taken outside the state the Certificate of the Court that the person taking the acknowledgement is a notary must be attached.

Registration of Absentee by Oath

If any person whose name is not registered shall offer and claim the right to vote at any election or primary election and shall under oath state that he or she is a resident of such precinct and has resided in the Township 20 Days next preceding such election or primary election, designating particularly the place of his or her residence and that he or she possesses the other qualifications of an elector under the constitution and that owing to the sickness or bodily infirmity of himself or herself or some member of his or her family or owing to his or her absence from the village on public business or his or her own business, and without intent to avoid or delay his or her registration he or she was unable to make application for registration on the last day provided by law for the registering of electors preceding such election or primary election, then the name of such person shall be registered and he or she shall be allowed to vote at such election or primary election. If such inspector of election shall have authority to make such registration and to swear such person to the registration affidavit.

All the provisions relative to registration in Townships and cities shall apply and be in force as to registration in townships.

Eleanor Ledwidge, Twp. Clerk.
 Dated October 15, 1938

tom to leave the subscribers connected with the doctors office when he closed the exchange at night. This worked out all right as the telephone was used only in cases of extreme necessity. It was not until farmers and other groups organized telephone companies and built their own lines that the use of the telephone in rural sections became general. A great number of these groups have now been taken over by the Michigan Bell Telephone Company.

SCHOOL NOTES

The sixth and seventh grades entertained the high school Wednesday October 12 with a play of (Columbus) and individual and group singing. Guests were Mrs. Fred Read, Mrs. Ezra Plummer, Mrs. Doolittle, Mrs. Lucius Doyle and son, Jimmy. The public is invited to all these programs. They are held Wednesday mornings from 10:45 to 11:30.

The football team put up a good fight against Manchester but just couldn't reach the other end of the field. Keep pushing boys, we're for you.

The boys who worked on the cess pool got quite a bit of work done. This week the girls are helping by doing the janitor's work so that he may work on the showers uninterrupted. They never realized how much work is put in a janitor's shoulders.

The Student Council ruling took effect Monday although they haven't given us a complete set of rules yet. There seems to be a bit of controversy on the Student Council. Mr. Hulce has given us that as a topic for this week's theme.

In World History, Mrs. Wilson is asking for volunteers to carve different styles of Grecian columns out of soap.

The next football game is with Romulus, there, October 21st.

Those trying for the school song had better hurry, because the contest closes this Friday, October 21st.

All adults interested in the Pinckney High School are earnestly requested to be present at a reception given the teaching faculty Thursday evening at 7:30 in the School Auditorium.

Professor Quiz has a prominent part in the program and should you have any puzzlers, just write them down, together with the answers, send or bring them to Prof. Quiz Thursday night and they will be answered from the platform by carefully chosen experts.
