

Pinckney School Opens Tuesday

Local School to Open Fall Term Next Week. Big Enrollment Expected. Two New Teachers on Faculty This Year.

The Pinckney school will open its doors for the 1939-40 term on Tuesday morning, September 5th. The school building has been thoroughly cleaned, the floors sanded and is in first class shape for the coming term.

Supt. E. L. Hulce will start his second year as head of the Pinckney school. Last year he gave general satisfaction and piloted the school through a successful year. This year he should repeat. The other teachers are: John Burg, Saline, science and athletics; Charles Schmidt, mathematics; Mrs. Alice Wilson, Latin and History; Mrs. Lola Lobdell, intermediate; Miss Virginia Byington, music and drawing; Mrs. Eva Haring, primary; Wm. Jeffreys, sanitary engineer.

In this list are two new teachers Charles Schmidt of Howell is the son of Augustus Schmidt, Howell florist and Blanche Goodnow Schmidt. He was an "A" student at the Western State College and taught in Belding high school last year. Miss Byington is a graduate of Nazareth College, Kalamazoo where she specialized in music. Her home is also in Kalamazoo.

All new pupils are asked to call at the school on Friday, Sept. 1st, from 9:00 to 12:00 a. m. and enroll. This will relieve the congestion on the opening day.

For several years the school enrollment was over 200. The past few years it has dropped below that figure, chiefly due to students withdrawing from school for financial reasons.

Of course, one of the big questions is what kind of a football team is the school going to have this year? That is still an unanswered question. On paper the team should be much better than the one last year, as most of the boys have an extra year of experience and growth to aid them. The veterans from last year's team are: Bill Baughn, Jack Hannett, Merlyn Lavey, Joe Lavey, Earl Berquist, Beryl Amburgey, Jack Young, Gerald Vedder, Jack Caldwell, Don Thorpe, James McKune. No time will be lost in starting the practice sessions as the first game is with Manchester, early in September. Other games are with Hartland, Ann Arbor Res., South Lyon, and New Hudson. Games may also be played with Stockbridge and Dexter if they have teams.

Most people will be glad to hear the musical sound of the school bell again and see the pupils hurrying to and from school. The school is one of the most important projects in any community and should be encouraged and aided in all ways possible.

PINCKNEY BOYS TO SEE LIONS PLAY

This Friday evening, September 1, Coach Burg will take about 30 boys to see the Detroit Lions Professional football club in their opening game at U. of D. football stadium in Detroit. All boys interested in attending this game notify Coach Burg immediately. Final list will be made Friday during registration at the High School.

OCEOLA WOMAN TAKES LIFE

The body of Mrs. Ralph Bainbridge, 39, wife of the Oceola township clerk, was found hanging from a tree in the woods near her home Saturday night. Coroner Guy Greive of Howell pronounced it a case of suicide and no inquest necessary. Surviving besides her husband are three children and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Merrill of Oceola. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at the residence, Rev. McShane officiating. Burial was at Linden.

State Fair Starts Sept. 1st

Many Stellar Attractions Are Listed For Michigan's Exhibition Which Celebrates Its 90th Anniversary This Year.

The 1939 Michigan State Fair will firmly establish in the minds of everyone that this fair is primarily an agricultural fair. Entries are of record proportions. Applications for stalls for horses and cattle have run far ahead of all previous years. The same is true regarding pens for the swine, sheep and poultry.

It is evident that the promises made by Dr. Linwood W. Snow, the general manager, that his year's fair would be a real agricultural fair has had its effect, not only outstate but throughout the nation. A report handed Dr. Snow early this week by Harry Kelley, director of live stock, showed that in every department, the entries far exceeded those of last year.

A comparison of the 1938 and the 1939 entries shows the following increase:

	1938	1939
Horses	188	245
Beef Cattle	320	468
Dairy Cattle	500	740
Sheep	1,200	1,436
Swine	595	625
Poultry	1,243	1,855

The entry coming the greatest distance is that of the Russell Farms at Lake Charles, La., which is sending 11 head of shorthorn beef cattle. Mrs. Victoria Dreyfus of Brewster, N. Y. is bringing 11 head of Percheron horses of her own and one belonging to Elizabeth Douglas of Tilly Foster, N. Y.

This indicates that from the Atlantic to the Gulf at least the Michigan State Fair has been established in the minds of the breeders as an outstanding live stock fair of the nation.

In the other departments, agriculture, horticulture, floriculture, and Continued on Last Page

MARSHALL SORENSON

The marriage of Hugh Sorenson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sorenson of Dexter to Miss Margaret Marshall, neice of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Moultes of Ann Arbor took place on last Wednesday afternoon in the Ethel Fountain Tussey lounge at the Michigan Union Building, Ann Arbor, Reverend Brubaker of Dexter officiating. The wedding march was played by Miss Frances Rees of Ann Arbor.

The bride's gown was of white lace with satin bows down the front of the fitted bodice, designed with a sweetheart neckline and short puffed sleeves. The full skirt draped from the high waistline. Her veil was fingertip length and she carried a bouquet of Johanna Hill roses, larkspur and baby breath.

Mrs. John Wurster, of 301 Summit St., formerly Miss Ruth Hayes, was her matron of honor and only attendant. Her gown was of pink net with a shirred bodice and full skirt. Blue flowers decorated the under skirt made with deep flounces and blue flowers also trimmed the shoulders of the bodice which had a square neckline and puffed sleeves. She wore a pink rose in her hair and a veil, shoulder length. Her bouquet was of pink roses, larkspur and of baby breath.

Leon Wylie of Dexter, a school friend of the bridegroom, was the best man, while the ushers were G. Bishop of Bowling Green, O., brother of the bride, and Douglas Van Aken of Dexter, a school friend of the bridegroom.

One hundred guests were present for the wedding and the reception which followed. The couple left for a motor trip along Lake Michigan and will be guests at Grand Junction of the bridegroom's grandmother, who was unable to be present for the wedding. The bride chose a navy blue redingote with white trim for traveling.

Mr. and Mrs. Sorenson will be at home after August 27 at 3294 B. St., in Dexter.

BERNARD MCCLUSKEY

Bernard McCluskey, 73, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Herman Smith near Howell on Monday after a long illness. He was the son of the late Bernard McCuskey and Margaret Ball McCluskey and was born on the McCluskey farm on the Howell road later owned by his brother, James. In early manhood, he was united in marriage to Mary Brady of Genoa. One daughter, Mary Agnes, now Mrs. Herman Smith, was born to this union. His wife died many years ago. Some years ago he was married to Miss Tessie Sweetman of Pinckney, who survives him. Following his marriage the deceased moved onto a farm in Hamburg which has since been his happy home. Several weeks ago owing to ill health he was taken to the home of his daughter where he passed away.

"Cap" as the departed was called by every one was popular everywhere and leaves a multitude of friends to mourn his loss. He was a valued member of St. Mary's church and a generous contributor. He also liberally patronized all public functions in this section and was always willing to aid local enterprises for the betterment of the community. His warmheartedness was proverbial. Many homeless boys were taken into his home educated and aided to make their way into the world. Two of these boys Bryan McCluskey and Joe Basydlo, regarded "Cap" as a father, he being in fact the only one they knew. Both graduated from the Pinckney High School and made good in life. This proved most gratifying to Mr. McCluskey and he never tired of relating their success and praising their efforts to show their gratitude to him. It may well be said that the deceased was wealthy in the many friendships he left behind him.

The funeral will be held from St. Mary's church on Thursday morning at 9:30 with Rev. James Carolan officiating. Burial will be in St. Mary's cemetery.

Auto Accident Sunday Monday

Car Containing Four Unadilla Township People Fails to Make Turn in West End of Town and Car Crashes into Tree.

In the past few years there have been many accidents at the curve on M-36 in the west end of town where the home of S. H. Carr is located. A number of people have been hurt and one boy, a son of Dr. Watkins, a Detroit dentist, was killed.

Early Sunday morning another accident happened there. Ernest Corser, 24, of Unadilla was taken ill after midnight and started to drive to the hospital. With him were his wife Ona, 20, his brother-in-law, Ronald Warner, 17, and Miss Audra Barnhart, 15, all of Unadilla. When they reached Anderson, Corser became ill with a choking spell and was unable to drive further. Warner then took the wheel. He was unfamiliar with the road and when he reached the curve at the S. H. Carr residence turned out too far and lost control of the car. The auto hit two large stones placed there knocking them about 10 feet and crashed into a tree, missing the house by about 4 feet. The car was demolished. Corser had a gash cut in his leg from the ankle to the knee and the others suffered cuts and bruises. Lucius Wilson, jr., and Hubert and Desmond Ledwidge came along about the time of the wreckage and assisted Mr. Carr and Mike Dark, who lives across the street in getting the injured people out of the wreckage. They were taken to the Pinckney Sanitarium where Dr. Ray Duffey rendered first aid. Corser was the worst hurt, the others merely suffering cuts and bruises. Incidentally we understand that the shock of the accident completely cured Corser's choking spell.

Sheriff Kennedy and Deputy Lester Huff investigated the accident.

MEETING OF RURAL TEACHERS OF THIS COUNTY

A meeting of all Rural teachers of Livingston Co., will be held Friday, Sept. 1st in the Court House, Howell at 9:30 a. m. Supplies will be given out by County Commissioner E. Alma Sharpe, and the year work will be outlined. This is a very important meeting and all teachers are expected to be present. Superintendents may call for their supplies on Thursday, August 31st.

IS GIVEN MAJORITY

At a special school election held at Pinckney Tuesday night, the proposal to raise the mill tax two mills in the school district was given a majority there being 59 votes for it and 37 against it. It lacked 5 votes of getting the required two-thirds majority. 94 votes were cast. At the next meeting the board will decide whether or not to call another election. Many believe the proposition would carry if resubmitted.

Graduates From Nursing School

Rose Elizabeth Spears Finishes a Nursing Course and is Awarded Diploma at Detroit Tuesday.

Rose Elizabeth Spears, daughter of Edward Spears of Putnam graduated from the Mercy Nursing School and was given her diploma Tuesday. The exercises were held in Detroit with dinner and ball at the Book-Cadillac Hotel, Detroit, in the evening.

Miss Spears attended the Pinckney high school and graduated with the class of 1932 of which she was president and also a member of the high school debating team. She had chosen nursing as her occupation and had enrolled at St. Joseph's Hospital, Ann Arbor. However, her mother, Mrs. Rose Murray Spears had died a short time before this and she cancelled her nursing course in order to keep house for her father and look after her brothers and sisters, she being the oldest in the family. This being accomplished, she enrolled in the Kalamazoo State Hospital, but found the work too strenuous at this institution care for the criminal insane. Later she enrolled in the Mercy School of Nursing and has finished her course which was taken in the Good Samaritan Hospital, Detroit and St. Mary's Hospital, Pontiac.

She is an earnest hard conscientious worker and will be a credit to the nursing profession.

JAMES DOODY

James Doody, 76, died at St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor, Friday after a brief illness. He was born in Dexter township and spent his entire lifetime there until ten years ago when he sold his farm and moved to Dexter. This farm is now owned by Hugh Doolittle. Mr. Doody was married to Margaret Armstrong who died in 1920. Surviving are a son, Paul, of Ann Arbor and a daughter, Florence, of Detroit. The funeral services were held Monday from St. Joseph's church, Dexter Rev. Charles Walsh officiating. Burial was in St. Joseph's cemetery.

TO VOTE ON LIQUOR LICENSE

Some time ago the Pinckney village council approved a license to sell liquor for William Dilloway, local tavern proprietor. This was sent to the state liquor commission who sent a Mr. Manning here to investigate. He came here, interviewed a number of people and reported back to the liquor commission. The commission has now ordered a special election here to ascertain if the majority of citizens of the village want liquor sold inside the village limits. In order to have this election called it is necessary to circulate a petition and get 20 per cent of the number of persons who voted at the last village election to sign. As only 74 votes were cast at the village election last April this was not difficult and the number of signers have already been secured and the election will be held soon.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank my many friends for the lovely cards and flowers with which they so kindly remembered me on my birthday.

CURRENT COMMENT

School will open in all Livingston county schools next Tuesday and in most of the schools of this vicinity. In Detroit, on account of an infantile paralysis epidemic the opening was delayed two weeks and the schools will not start until Sept. 18th. Although the closing of school in June is always eagerly awaited, the opening of school in September is also a welcome event. The signs of activity in and around the schools are welcomed generally as a closed school is a lonesome place. Then the school activities which will soon be under way are a welcome part of any community life and provide interest for the entire community as well as the pupils.

Governor Dickinson declared himself well pleased by the replies received from the sheriffs in whose counties slot machines were found by the state police when they staged the raid. The governor wrote these sheriffs and demanded to know why they allowed the machines to operate in their county. So far the governor stated he had received replies from the sheriffs of Roscon and Wayne counties and who offered to co-operate with him 100 percent to eradicate slot machines. However, they seem to have ignored his question as to why the machines were found in their counties. The cracking down business seems to be all off. The governor announces that he will turn the enforcement of the gambling laws back to the counties who never have seemed able to handle it. The liquor commission's threat to take the liquor licenses away from all licensees in whose places slot machines were found has also been softened. Seven such licenses were fined $25 each and another had his beer to take out license taken away but was allowed to keep his beer tavern license.

The Jackson Citizen-Patriot carried a picture last week, showing 5 truck loads of cull onions being dumped to be used as fertilizer. This is in accord with the plan of state association of onion growers which would keep the cull onions off the market in order to keep up the price of No. 1 onions. Jackson county is one of the onion growing centers of the state and this practice of destroying culls will be adopted in all onion growing centers.

Racket Buster Thomas Dewey of New York City revisited the home of his birth at Owosso last week and was a guest at a huge civic reception there and ate dinner at the farm house where he was a laborer at the age of 16 years. This seems to be his opening gun in his campaign for the nomination for the presidency. While at Owosso he was visited by high up Republicans of Missouri, Iowa and other states and was to meet all the leading Republican wheel horses in a meeting at Illinois. Later in the week at a huge reception given him at Owosso, on Thursday night, Judge Joseph Collins of the Livingston-Shiawassee circuit court introduced him. The judge is a life long friend. Tom Dewey is the Republican glamor boy and according to the Gallup poll the leading G. O. P. candidate at the present time. On other hand Senator Vandenberg, his chief opponent says he will make no campaign for the nomination but will take it if it is handed to him. Maybe the senators' passive campaign will win for him but in the convention the block of votes controlled by New York state is going to look very tempting to the boys who handle the convention.

Governor Dickinson continues to land on the front page regularly. At the Ionia Fair, as is the custom, he was given an honor guard of Boy Scouts. As the weather was warm, they were garbed in shorts. For this the aged governor took them severely to task, stating that shorts were immodest and indecent. Henceforth the governor's honor guards will be compelled to wear trousers. However despite the governor's stern attitude shorts will probably continue to be the Scouts' summer garb.

To Check Constipation Get at Its Cause!

If constipation has you down so you feel heavy, tired and dopey, it's time you did something about it. And something more than just taking a pill!

If you eat the super-refined food most people eat, the chances are the difficulty is simple—you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean heavy food. It's a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines.

If this common form of constipation is your trouble, eat Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast every day and drink plenty of water. All-Bran isn't a medicine—it's a crunchy, toasted, nutritious cereal. And it will help you not only to get regular but to keep regular, day after day. Made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek. Sold by every grocer.

WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK

By LEMUEL F. PARTON

NEW YORK.—With Edward R. Stettinius Jr. as chairman, the newly announced war resources board can be expected to function swiftly and smoothly. The War Board Chief chairman of the board of the United States Steel corporation goes from his home at 21 East Seventy-Ninth street to his office at Broadway and Rector by subway to save moments. He eats no lunch to save more time. He cuts through formalities with his many business callers and saves more.

Stettinius is that reputed rarity, a rich man's son who has made good. His father became an industrial leader in St. Louis, and was invited to become a Morgan partner. The son lost little time after his graduation from the University of Virginia in beginning his business career, not because he had to, but because he wanted to work. He was 24 years old when he went into General Motors in 1924, 31 when he became vice president, 34 when he was made vice chairman of the finance committee of U. S. Steel and 38 when he took the top job as chairman of the board.

Modernity stands out in the strong lines of his figure, his crisp speech, and his attitude toward problems of politics and business. They say he nearly fainted when he first saw the office furniture of the 21 floors of the Steel Corporation building after he became chairman. The rolltop desks and similar items were unchanged since the days of Judge Gary. The refurbishing began immediately under Stettinius, and was thorough.

Mr. Stettinius plays neither bridge nor golf; he takes his exercise on the bedroom floor, and occasionally goes out to his 500-acre farm in Virginia.

OWEN A. TOMLINSON, the man who forbade the building of an 11-foot mound on the top of Mt. Rainier so that it might retain its laurels as third highest mountain in the United States, was once a captain in the Philippine scouts under Gen. J. G. Harbord. Before that he was a buck private in the United States army, in which, altogether, he served 14 years, participating in the Filipino insurrection. He was born in Whitestown, Ind., 57 years ago, and in 1923, after leaving the army, he was appointed superintendent of the Rainier National park.

When Tomlinson, sorrowfully, refused to permit the Tacoma chamber of commerce to pile, as it were, Pelion on Ossa, thus bringing Rainier a foot higher than Massive of Colorado, he underwent some of the tribulations that used to be his when, as lieutenant-governor of the sub-province of Iugao in the Philippines, he had some 139,000 head-hunting savages to handle. However, report has it that public clamor is dying down, a tribute to Captain Tomlinson's persuasive tact in convincing his fellow statesmen that little of the genuine honor lies in the artificial adding of cubits to stature.

GEN. JUAN YAGUE is named by Generalissimo Francisco Franco as minister of air in the new cabinet he has formed and of which he has named himself as premier. So far as advices from Spain are concerned, this is the most favorable news concerning Yague heard since the fall of Toledo.

Outspoken always, he is the man who, in preliminary maneuvers of the advance upon Lerida, accused Franco of sanctioning the bombing of open cities and of sounding off too eloquently in praise of German and Italian contingents in the Rebel army. For this contumacy, report had him behind bars and later a suicide—both, to quote Mark Twain, greatly exaggerated.

Later, when he was removed from command of his Moroccan corps, a personal disaster, specifically, the garrote, was reported to awaiting him.

And so what? Nothing short of bestowal of the aerial portfolio and the consequent strengthening of the falange as the backbone of post-war Spain.

President Hits Top in Precedent Breaking in Thanksgiving Change

Stirs Up More Comment Than Any Statement Ever Emanating From a Chief Executive; Element of Uncertainty Injected Is What Makes It Harmful.

By WILLIAM BRUCKART WNU Service, National Press Bldg., Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON.—President Roosevelt's ability to keep things stirred up has been demonstrated numerous times since his accession to the White House. He seems to have a highly developed penchant for doing the unexpected. He calls it "precedent breaking." The results have been varied, although it strikes me that more of the "breaks" have been against him in recent months than when he first began to break precedents as President in 1933.

It appears, however, that Mr. Roosevelt reached a new peak in precedent breaking when he changed the date of our annual Thanksgiving day. Probably no statement ever forthcoming from a Chief Executive stirred up as much comment—unless perhaps it was the famous statement by Calvin Coolidge that "I do not choose to run." True, Mr. Roosevelt moved the date only one week, making this year's Thanksgiving day, Thursday, November 23, instead of November 30. The effect was the same, however, whether the change was one week or one month. Next year, he proposes that the date should be moved forward another week so that thereafter the date upon which we pay homage to God, as a nation, will be the second Thursday in November, instead of the last Thursday of the month.

In announcing his plan, the President said he was desirous of rearranging the November holiday so that "holidays will be more evenly spaced." There is Labor day on the first Monday in September; there are no national holidays in October; Thanksgiving day in November and Christmas day near the end of December. So, Mr. Roosevelt said it seemed better to move Thanksgiving day a bit forward. His action, he explained, was taken after many business men had urged it as a means of giving more time for Christmas shopping. It is well known that shoppers do not really get going in their Christmas buying until after Thanksgiving day, and Mr. Roosevelt said the change might spread out the usual rush.

Thanksgiving Day Change Stirs Up Unusual Comment

Whatever the reason for the change, the announcement broke out all of the hissing steam that was pent up. Business interests here and there tried vainly to show a united front. But that was impossible because retailers disagreed as to its possible benefits. There was no disclosure by the President of the identity of those business interests he had consulted. Some lines of trade felt that terrific damage had been done them and their shouts were angry. Religious groups have remained silent, as organizations, but their individual members have had unpleasant things to say about the change. Altogether, the picture seems to show a bad reaction throughout the nation.

Let us look at the thing, however, from a practical standpoint:

Mr. Roosevelt made his announcement without consulting the state department. If he had sought advice there, he would have learned that a presidential proclamation can be enforced only in the District of Columbia and the territories of the United States. No state needs pay any attention to a White House proclamation unless it desires to do so. Hence, the declaration that Thanksgiving day shall be November 23, 1939, is binding only upon us folks here in Washington, and those in Alaska, Puerto Rico and Hawaii.

There are 11 states that have laws fixing Thanksgiving day for the last Thursday in November of each year. Their legislatures are not in session. They will not be called into session again before the forthcoming Thanksgiving day. Which day will they celebrate and praise God for the blessings He has given them? There is no national statute fixing the date. It is a traditional ceremonial day, a day which, to Americans, means actually the connection between our economic life and the Almighty Power that guided our nation from its inception, the link between material things and religion.

For the reasons of its establishment, it strikes me that there ought not be a national law on the subject. It is a sacred thing. But my guess is there will be a law and that law will say that the last Thursday in November shall be set aside as a national holiday for expression of our gratitude. I think such a law will be passed at the next session of congress.

Arouses Fear That All Our People Are Being Regimented

Mr. Roosevelt surely could not have guessed the repercussions, the backfire, that has greeted his announcement and that has continued in unabated fury. The politicians seized upon it for some of the dirtiest wisecracks I ever have heard. I heard one that really warrants repetition here. The remark recalled that King George, on his recent visit to North America, reset his birthday so that it could be celebrated while he was in Canada—that being a prerogative of a king and emperor. The question was then propounded whether our President contemplated a flexible holiday schedule that would permit celebration of events whenever the White House thought national morale was low.

There is more to that remark than just a laugh. Behind the thought is an indication of a fear that all of our people are being regimented, told when to shout or when to weep, when to work and when to play, what to eat and what to wear and not to think, but to obey. Of course, it is an exaggerated viewpoint; it is not so exaggerated, however, that it is not possible of attainment. It is to be remembered that the people of Russia, and then of Italy and then of Germany have gone through that very stage. It was a step which they took, and disregarded as unimportant. It led directly to the conditions under which those people now live and have their being, regimented all, controlled, beaten down, living a life of fear.

Now, lest I be misunderstood, I hasten to say that I believe there was no such thought as those in Mr. Roosevelt's mind. I believe his action was taken because of his ever-present urge to make changes. There are many persons who hold that it was another move by the President designed to keep people from thinking of their troubles, to help them forget the terrible struggles through which we have been, and are, passing.

Take a Look at Practical Side of the Situation

Again, as to the practical side and the results flowing from the breaking of another precedent:

Let us consider first the lithographing and printing industry of the country. There are thousands upon thousands of other businesses that use the product of the lithographer and the printer. Consider the calendar that hangs on your wall. It will show November 30 as the Day of Thanksgiving. The annual bill for calendars, paid for by industry and by each of us who buys a calendar, exceeds $100,000,000. The calendars are not useless, of course, but the fact that the "calendar is wrong" has some indescribable effect upon me.

Take the transportation industry. Officials begin planning many months ahead for tours, special rates, excursions. Public events and ceremonies have been scheduled. Each ties in with some other—scheduled for Thanksgiving day when Thanksgiving day was to be November 30. The printing industry has done its job for most of those things ahead even of today. What a mess that is going to be!

Many editorials have been written, many interviews given out, concerning the effect of the new Thanksgiving date on the college "football industry," for college football receipts run into millions of dollars every year. Through all of the years, traditional games—the big games—the peak of the season—has been the Thanksgiving day game for hundreds of colleges. But if Thursday, November 30, is just another Thursday, what about the "gate" of those games?

Element of Uncertainty Is What Makes Change Harmful

And that brings us to the crux of this situation. It is the element of uncertainty that Mr. Roosevelt injected into our national life by the change in one holiday date that is harmful. Instead of promoting a feeling of security, my hunch is that the President has spread uncertainty and has caused confidence to crash in many a spot of which he never dreamed. Instead of creating a net increase in business by making a longer Christmas shopping period, I believe a cold analysis will show that the change will cost the country, as a whole, many millions of dollars in net losses.

Our nation has grown up, not in one piece, but in many pieces, each one fitted to another as smooth working as the gears of your automobile. When the engine turns over, it exerts pressure on the clutch, then on the drive shaft, then on the gears and then on the wheels, and the car moves. When any one unit of industry in America—any one phase of life—is changed suddenly, the clutch and the drive shaft and the gear: and the wheels of others are affected. More than any other one thing that has happened in recent years, I believe, the President's announcement proves how closely knitted our lives are. It shows, too, that government can wreck national life as well as preserve and protect it.

Disobedience Often Sign of Forgetfulness

IMPULSIVE ACTS OF child are made without thought either of being obedient or disobedient. Help in remembering often much more necessary than any form of punishment.

By GEORGIA LOTT SELTER

"OH, WHY need children be quite so heedless and disobedient?" sighed Mary Lance wearily.

"I wonder if they really are," answered her neighbor, Mrs. Jaynes, comfortably. "They behave as they do because they are children. They usually act on impulse, without any thought either of being obedient or disobedient. You must expect such conduct until they begin to acquire the knowledge that experience brings.

"I am convinced that children need real help in remembering much more frequently than they need punishment. This belief is based partly on my own never-to-be-forgotten childish experience with a detested red apron. My aunt, with whom I lived, made me a big red apron from one of her old house dresses and said: 'Lucy, you are to put this apron on over your school dress each morning until your work is done.' I had no objection to that, but several times each week I rushed heedlessly away to school, flaunting the apron's faded ugliness for all to see. My aunt always sent a message by an older girl who was our neighbor, reminding me to remove the apron. And no reproff was ever considered complete until these episodes of the red apron were held up to me as evidence of my disobedience!

"I've never forgotten the unhappiness and embarrassment they incurred. Yet how easily my aunt might have prevented them. She could have said, 'Always come to me before you start to school to be sure you look nice.' Or, 'Always kiss me good-by, Lucy.' My love-hungry little heart would never have allowed me to forget to do that, you may be sure! And there would have been no hurting apron episode."

"But Henry's case is different," said Mrs. Lance. "He is a boy and should learn to take responsibility. Yet he never remembers his chores or his errands."

"Appreciation Lightens Labor." "He just needs the help of a little reminder," insisted Mrs. Jaynes. "Suppose you mention it casually before his father each time he does his work well and without being reminded? Even we older folks find that appreciation lightens labor."

"Try to make work pleasant. Never use it as a punishment. Let work lead naturally to suitable rewards. If Henry helps you with the dishes and tidies the house, it would be quite evident that you would have more time. Perhaps you could both go to the movies or for a ride. When he has learned to prepare food he can have picnics and parties. If he keeps his room in order, let him know how restful you find it when you go in to spend a few moments with him. If he takes good care of his clothes, brushing them and hanging them up neatly, he would be happy indeed if Mother should buy for Father and him two articles just alike."

"If Henry is apt to forget his duties, do not credit it to disobedience but study how you may make it interesting and profitable for him to remember. Children dread to work alone, so make his duties, so far as you reasonably can, something that you can share. Do not expect results beyond the ability of his years. Praise him when he does well. Reward him in a natural and sensible way. Help him remember for he honestly needs your help."

"And presently you will have the satisfaction of seeing that he has acquired the habit of reliability and accepts work as a pleasant and necessary part of normal living." National Kindergarten Association (WNU Service.)

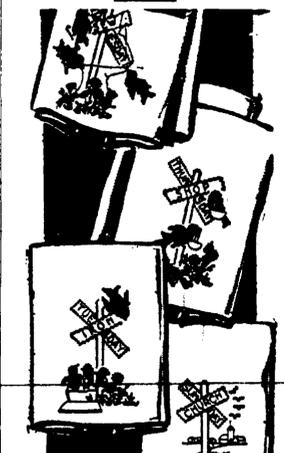

Ben Jonson Burial

Tradition says that Ben Jonson was buried in a sitting position because the plot provided for him on the north side of the nave in Westminster abbey was not large enough for the body to be placed in the grave in a horizontal position. According to a legend, King Charles I personally promised Jonson that he should be interred in the abbey in any spot that he might choose. After his death August 6, 1637, it was found that the space he had selected for burial was already occupied except about "eighteen inches of square ground." Charles kept his promise and Jonson was buried with his head toward the sky, the only occupant of the abbey to be so honored. The famous inscription, "O Rare Ben Jonson," was cut in the slab over his grave. Many years later a portrait bust to his memory was placed in the Poet's corner.

Many Violate Law

It is against the law in the United States and Canada to open a pack of cigarettes from the bottom; hundreds of thousands daily break the federal cigarette law by failing to destroy the tax stamp on every sock of cigarettes consumed.

Michigan's sugar beet industry made a big comeback in 1938. They paid 17,000 farmers a total of $9,100,000 for 341,000,000 lbs. of sugar raised on 140,000 acres. Twelve factories provided work for 17,000,000 hours for workers. Every 100 lb. sack of sugar represented eight hours of labor. The industry was operated at 70 per cent capacity last year. Although this is a state industry Cubs still furnish 45 per cent of the sugar used.

PINCKNEY BEATS GREGORY IN OVERTIME GAME

Pinckney won from Gregory here Wednesday night 3 to 2. Both teams were tied at 2 all at the end of the 7th and had to play an extra inning. The game was tight, Pinckney making no errors and Gregory but one. Pinckney broke the ice in the second inning when Meyer doubled, went to second on Hulce's out and scored on a hit by Norm Miller. Gregory got all their runs in the third when after two were out Hackenburg was safe on a fielders choice and Dick and Dan Howlett singled in succession between first and second. That ended their scoring. Pinckney made the count even in the 6th when K. Ledwidge hit a home run. Baker followed him with a double but failed to advance. Neither team could do anything in the 8th, Hackenburg flied to Miller, Dick Howlett tried

Sew a Bag to Keep Your Ball of Twine In

By RUTH WYETH SPEARS
 WHEN you want to wrap a package do you always know where to find twine? A ball of it in a bag like this one hung over the kitchen table will be ready for use.
 Scraps from your piece bag may be used in this way. The bag is just big enough to cover the ball loosely and is made of a straight piece of goods with the ends seamed together with a French seam. The top and bottom are bound with prepared bias binding. A single cord is run through the binding at the bottom. It is drawn up to leave a small opening and the ends are tied and sewn securely. Two cords are run through the top with a loop of each cord left on the outside so that the bag may be drawn up by pulling them. The ball of twine is placed inside with the end running through the bottom opening.

 Did you see the good news in the paper last week? About the new Sewing Book No. 3, which is now ready for mailing. It contains 32 useful ideas for home decorating; and things to use as gifts, and to sell at bazaars. You will be delighted with it. The price of this new book is only 10 cents postpaid. MANY VARIETIES OF COOKIES (See Recipes Below)

Household News
 BY Eleanor Howe

Cookies in the Cupboard

What cookies do folks like best to eat?
 A cookie that's rich, and spicy and sweet?
 A soft, thick cookie with fruity flavor,
 Or the thin, crisp wafer the tea drinkers savor?
 A chocolate cookie that's moist and rich,
 Or a tasty tidbit with nutmeats, which
 May be flavored with honey, molasses or spice?
 Any kind of a cookie is pretty nice!

There are as many varieties of cookies as there are occasions for serving them. And what satisfying morsels they are for the school lunch box, for afternoon tea, or for a family meal at home. You'll find among the tested cookie recipes below one for any such occasion ranging from dainty tea cookies to thick, soft, molasses cookies for an after-school or bedtime snack. They're all grand recipes for the Girl Scout cookie sale you may be planning, or for the next meeting of the church guild.

'Swing Style' Reading Not New; The Greeks Had a Word for It

Every now and then, the newspapers report a "brand new" idea or a "brand new" discovery. Take, for instance, the report about "swing reading." According to recent headlines, "swing reading" is the latest thing imaginable—the invention of two smart eye doctors in Los Angeles.
 As the papers say, the doctors disclosed their "idea" a short time ago at a national convention of the American Optometric Association. Advocating a new system of printing in "swing style," the doctors said they had something that would help the eyes. In short, they urged this type of thing:

Many of the convention delegates a rof snoives dennuhs yadreysey day on the golf course. The weath- enif sau re along the next, and so on.

 Well, we don't like to make ourselves seem scholarly, but the doctors have unwittingly dug up something pretty old. As a matter of fact, the ancient Greeks had a word for it, used the system and gave it up. They called it boustrophedon, and you can find the word in a good dictionary even to this day. Pronounced boostro-fee-don, with the accent on the third syllable, it means literally "turning like oxen in plowing." It is a compound of two Greek words—bous, meaning ox, and strephein, meaning to turn.
 P. S. Incidentally, the excerpt quoted above reads normally this way: "Many of the convention delegates yesterday shunned sessions for a day on the golf course. The weather was fine." Anybody else got a new idea?—Pathfinder.

Finally Name Was O. K. Though Not 'O,' but 'K'

A gentleman had completed his purchases, and the clerk, in filling out the sales slip, asked: "What is the name, please?" "Jepson," replied our hero. "Sixteen twenty-one West—"
 "Your first initial, please."
 "Oh, K."
 "O. K. Jepson."
 "I said 'Oh.'"
 "O. Jepson."
 "No. Rub out the O."
 The clerk began to look haggard.
 "Your initials again, please?"
 "I said 'K.'"
 "Pardon, you said 'O. K.'"
 "I said 'Oh.'"
 "Just now you said 'K.'"
 "I said 'Oh,' because I didn't understand what you were asking me. I didn't mean it was my initial. My name is Kirby Jepson."
 "Oh."
 "No. Not O, but K. Here, give me the pencil and I'll write it myself. There, I guess it's O. K. now."—Annapolis Log.

Continued from First Page THE MICH. STATE FAIR

women's arts the same story is apparent. Record entries have been made in the women's department alone. Needle-work and cooking, baking as well as dress designing are all drawing their full share of entries. The women's speed crocheting contest, which was inaugurated at the fair last year, has been adopted nationally so that those who will compete this year will be sharing in national prizes.

However, none of the other features of the fair that have found favor in the past will not be curtailed.

There will be ample farm machinery exhibits, harness racing, a rodeo and a grand array of famous stars of the screen and radio present every day.

The Coliseum will be turned over to the judging of livestock on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. On Wednesday will be the day when the annual auction of the prize winning stock will be held.

FINED FOR VIOLATING DOG QUARANTINE ACT

On August 22, last, dogs belonging to Lonzo Halsel, Roger Christensen and E. Kahn of Unadilla were running at large in violation of the Dog Quarantine and attacked a flock of sheep belonging to W. J. Crossman of Unadilla, doing $75 worth of damage. The above dog owners appeared before Justice Francis E. Barron of Howell and plead guilty to the complaint against them. Halsel paid a $10 fine and $3.75 costs, Christensen paid a $15 fine and $3.75 costs, Kahn paid a $15 fine, $3.75 costs, $1 license fee and $1.50 pound fee. The Halsel and Christensen dogs were caught in the attack and disposed of. Nine lambs and six ewes were killed by the dogs.

The Quarantine law is in effect in this county until October 1, 1939

PINCKNEY GOES HOLLYWOOD

Most of the inhabitants of Pinckney spent Tuesday engaged in making motion pictures. The Wilding Pictures Inc. of Detroit came here to make a movie talkie for the International Harvester Co. The film was to advertise the company's trucks. Previous to Tuesday they contacted St. Mary's and the Congregational churches and offered each $50 if they would each furnish 25 people to take part in the picture from 9:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m. The plot of the story has to do with a farmer his wife, son and small daughter attempting to load a roll of chicken wire on the running board of a car. They encounter difficulties until a man pulls up with an International Harvester truck and solves them for the ruralists. The pictures were taken in front of Reason and Sons store and the village people furnished background going in and out of stores, and passing along the sidewalk continually. We hear that Bob Martin, the Pinckney Adonis who looks like Clark Gable was offered a Hollywood contract. This we are unable to verify, however.

The company will take farm films at the Lewis Shehan farm for two days following their work here.

Keith and Keven Ledwidge and Joe Lavey took in the Detroit-New York base ball game at Detroit last Tuesday.

Elmer Book who is living in Detroit has rented his house to Clare Miller.

4-DAY BIBLE CONFERENCE

The Bible Conference at the Baptist Church in Christ, held for four evenings last week by Rev. Dornhoeffer of Springboro, Pa., closed on Friday evening; a fine crowd being present; a number of specials in song and music and on instruments was enjoyed by old and young, after which the speakers gave a fine and instructive Bible reading on the subject of prayer which closed the meeting.

Philathea Notes

A timely sermon on Sunday preceded our very helpful lesson, with a good percentage of members present in our class room. Mrs. Elliott and members emphasized several pertinent points in the study of "Uzziah: A King Who Forgot God." The menace to our spiritual life attendant upon prosperity, pride, and the undue exaltation of self, our influence for right or wrong, the question of who are prospered and whether financially or spiritually—these were among the many points brought out. These are days when as never before we present Christians are called upon to stand firm for God, and our pastor urges a faithful attendance at church by our people, also our Philathea Class welcomes all women to our class room, and promises an interesting and helpful Bible lesson. For next Sunday, Sept. 3, 1939, we consider: "Isaiah: A Life Dedicated to God." Isaiah 6:1-18. The general topic is, "God's Call and our Response," with the Goden Text: "Here am I, Send Me"

Rev. and Mrs. J. M. McLucas and family spent Sunday afternoon and legs, East Lansing Monday and Tuesday assisted in the 4-H stock Rev. McLucas preached the evening sermon in the Methodist Church.
