Pinckney School Opens Tuesday

Total Enrollment is Below 200. Football Practice Starts. First Game is Sept. 22

The Pinckney School opened here Tuesday morning. While the total enrollment figures have not yet been tabulated, the total enrollment is probably below 200. The high school enrollment is as follows:

SENIORS	18
Juniors	21
Sophomores	13
Freshmen	21
8th grade	9
6th and 7th	30
3rd, 4th and 5th	32
Kindergarten, 1st and 2nd	31

The first football practice was held Tuesday afternoon with about 15 men out. The squad is expected to be increased next week.

It is probable that the girls will play a few soft ball games this fall. With Ella Hartman, their fast ball pitcher doing the twirling they should win their share.

ROBERTS — HAINES

The wedding of Miss Rachel Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Roberts of Howell to Clifford Haines, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ora Haines of Pinckney took place at the Walnut Street church in Howell on Friday night, Reverend Nieman officiating. The couple were attended by Clifford Miller of Pinckney as best man and Miss Eileen Wilson of Howell as bridesmaid. The bride was dressed in a white satin dress with a long veil and carried white rosebuds. The bridesmaid wore blue satin and carried yellow rosebuds. The groom and best man wore navy blue suits. After the ceremony the bridal couple left for a trip to Mackinac and points north and on their return will reside at Howell. The bride has been employed by the Michigan Bell Telephone Company at Howell as operator for several years. The groom is a machinist at the Sutton Die Set factory, Pinckney. In behalf of their many friends here the Dispatch extends congratulations for a long and happy married life.

PINCKNEY ALA HOLLYWOOD

The Wilding Pictures Co., Inc. finished making their moving pictures of village life in Pinckney on Thursday noon, being engaged in the work for three days here. The Pinckney movie talent was about exhausted and some had to be imported from Gregory. The local actors played parts in the village scenes, walking back and forth on the sidewalk and going in and out of stores. This proved to be strenuous work when taken in long doses and many of the first day actors failed to show up again. This made substitutions many and numerous. Each church will get $75 we understand. The company went from here to the Louis Shehan farm to take farm scenes. We understand that the picture will be shown here in Pinckney some time in November at a joint banquet to be staged by St. Mary's and the Cong'l Churches. This will show the people of Pinckney whether they made a mistake in not going for movie careers.

LADIES AID DINNER

The Ladies Aid Society will serve dinner in the church dining hall on Thursday, September 14th. A business meeting will be held following the dinner. All members are requested to be present as important business will be transacted.

Band Concert Here Saturday

Ann Arbor High School Band To Put on Concert Here on Square Seats for 100 Adults

The Pinckney Merchants Association are sponsors of a concert to be presented by the forty piece band of the Ann Arbor High School on the Public Square at 7:00 o'clock.

The Ann Arbor High School Band boys are again holding their annual camp week at Camp Birkett, three miles south of Pinckney on Big Silver Lake.

William R. Champion
 Director of Ann Arbor High Band
 Chairs will be set to accommodate the first 100 adults to take their places for the concert. The band will play just south of the town hall in order that the audience may be suitably seated for the weekly program of movies which will follow immediately

TB TESTING AT PINCKNEY

The Michigan TB Association will do free testing for TB at the Pinckney school on Tuesday, Sept. 12 from 9:00 to 10:00 A. M. Dr. Ray Duffey of Pinckney will be the doctor in charge. All school children and anyone interested or who has been in contact with the disease are especially invited to make use of this free service.

DISCOUNT CANADIAN MONEY

On account of the war the banks of Michigan are now discounting Canadian money 10 per cent.

GETS NINE AND ONE-HALF POUND PIKE

Norman Reason and Roy Reason showed up here Thursday night with a 9 1/2 lb. pike which they claimed to have caught with a bamboo pole and minnow in the Pinckney mill pond. While we know Norm is an honorary member of the Wisconsin Liars Club, the fish looked fresh when we examined and we could find no ice cubes inside of it so we will have to give them the benefit of the doubt. Norm is supposed to have hooked it and Lefty assisted.

STEEPLE JACK HURT AT HOWELL

Paul Baumgartner, 30, a steeplejack from Jackson, Michigan, had both legs broken Thursday afternoon when he fell 20 feet from the steeple to the main roof of the Walnut St. Methodist Church in Howell. The legs were broken near the ankle. The Howell fire dept. was summoned and Chief Earl Sharp went up a ladder and carried the injured man to the McPherson Hospital and later to University Hospital, Ann Arbor. He was putting a rope around the steeple when he lost his balance and fell.

The Miller Advertising Co. of Lansing who have been putting on free motion picture shows at Gregory this summer will put on a free motion picture show at Pinckney on Thursday night of this week on the public square.

Sam Heusel, 78, engaged in the bakery business in Ann Arbor for 50 years died there in Dr. Gate's Hospital, Thursday.

The following committee was appointed in the Cong'l S S last Sunday, to arrange for Rally Day to be held Sunday, October 1st, Mrs. Earl Baughn, Mrs. Ona Campbell and Mrs. Herman Vedder.
 Wednesday evening choir rehearsal.

PHILATHEA NOTES

A very interesting lesson subject was discussed in our classroom on Sunday with Mrs. Elliott leading and the men's class and some other welcome guests joining us. For next week our lesson concerns, "Hezekiah A King Who Remembered God" II Chronicles 30:13-22. We hope for a good attendance as on some of the recent days. Last Sunday our group was some smaller and the whole school was not up to average.

A committee was appointed for Rally Day, which will probably be on October 1st.

Next Wednesday, September 13, is our regular time for the class business and social meeting. The will be held with Mrs. Mae Daller, and the Missionary offering is to be taken on that day-Remember the date and place.

GEORGE BATES

George Bates, 57, died at Howell Thursday. He was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Washington Bates of Pinckney. The funeral was held Saturday from the Schnackenberg Funeral Home in Howell at 2:00 p. m. Burial was in the Sprout cemetery, west of Pinckney.

ANNUAL COON HUNT

Our annual coon hunt Field Trial Sunday, (September 10th) on the Trapp Farm one and one-half miles northeast of Stockbridge. Starting at 12:00 o'clock noon. $50 guarantee purse. 25c admission. Everyone Welcome

Returns from European Trip

Miss Helen Feidler in Company with Five Teachers From Ypsilanti Spends Summer Touring Europe and Africa.

Miss Helen Feidler of Pinckney who recently returned from a several months tour of Europe and Africa had many interesting experiences. The party took their own auto a Chevrolet, with them which they used exclusively. In Europe they found few autos in general use but many bicycles and cycle cars such as Austins. In many villages of Europe their auto was an object of much curiosity and when they drove into such places the people came from far and near and hung around their car all the time they were there. Board and room was about the same as in this country but gasoline was much higher being around 30c a gallon and in Italy it was 40c. Italy was the most poverty stricken country they visited and food and rooms were much higher there than anywhere else.

Everywhere the people were busy preparing for war. In Germany food was being rationed and every third person was a soldier. They also saw Hitler while there at one of his few public appearances. Clothing is also rationed and a person is only permitted to have two suits of clothes. However, as most of the male population is in the army this is not such a hardship. The military uniforms worn by the soldiers and officers are gorgeous.

The girls had little difficulty with passports, etc., but were lucky to get back before the final showdown came between Hitler and the Allies.

BROWN HOMECOMING

After the God given rain on the morning of Labor Day, a goodly number of the children, grandchildren and their friends, met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Brown to celebrate their annual homecoming and after a good visit, and the bright sunshine the table was spread outside, on the lawn, and all to the number of 18 enjoyed a good picnic dinner in the name of Jesus Christ, the source of all the good things we have on this earth in His name.

After which an hour was spent in games by the children, and a game of ball by the older ones, and then goodbyes were said and all wended their way homeward.

NOTICE

The regular meeting of the Kings Daughters will be held at the home of Mrs. S. H. Carr Thursday afternoon Assistant hostesses, Mrs. W. Meyer and Mrs. C. Palmer

New Traffic Laws Are Explained

Were Framed to Provide Greater Safety to Motorists and Pedestrians. Laws were Previously Tried out by State Police.

Further study of Michigan's new traffic law taking effect Sept. 29 reveals more good points for public safety and to recommend it for strict enforcement and full observance by drivers.

The new law brings the regulations down to date regarding driving on multiple lane highways which the state highway department is now building. All know about the need of such regulations because of numerous accidents that have occurred in the past.

The new requirements are simple, effective and easy to observe. The rule is to keep to the right always, no matter how wide the road may be. It will be, after the law becomes effective, a violation to cross the middle yellow line under any circumstance. On three lane highways the middle lane is for passing only, and the same is true on the four-way or more roads.

These safety regulations were not incorporated in the law on a basis of theory and hope. The rules were tried out first in the safety lanes established about the state by state police where fatal accidents were especially numerous. Their strict application cut down the number of head-on collisions and "side-swipes". Now the whole state will benefit by these localized experiments.

There are also special regulations in the new law for pedestrians. Now they may cross a street where there is a traffic light only on the green light.

It is against the law to cross the street when the light is red or amber or even if the light says "wait". The new law conforms with the new street lights installed on Jackson's Michigan Avenue, where the street was repaved. Now when the new signals say "wait" to the foot traffic, it has the authority of the new state law behind it.

LAKELAND COTTAGE DESTROYED

The cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sage of Ann Arbor on the west shore of Zuke Lake was destroyed by fire of an unknown origin Friday morning. The Sages had just closed up the cottage a few days ago and returned to Ann Arbor after spending the summer there. Only a few articles of furniture were saved.

ROBERT J. WRIGHT

Robert J. Wright, 65, prominent in the affairs of Livingston county for the past 30 years committed suicide Saturday by inhaling monoxide fumes from the exhaust pipe of his automobile. His body was found in his car about noon Saturday. The car was parked in his orchard on his farm five miles south of Howell. A note left on the hood of his car gave directions for his funeral but gave no reason for taking his life. He was unmarried and is believed to have become despondent over the death of his brother, Frank, last week Monday. Coroner Guy Grieve was called and pronounced it a case of suicide. A garden hose was found attached to the exhaust pipe and led into the car. Burial sacks were stuffed into the crack in the window through which the hose ran.

Mr. Wright was prominent in the affairs of the Democrat party in this county, being elected county treasurer several times some years ago. He also served as supervisor and held other offices. For several years he served as president of the Livingston County fair held at Howell. He was unmarried but is survived by four brothers and one sister.

Married at Lansing, Friday, Sept. 1, Miss Frieda Hines and Rex Harris of Mason

CURRENT COMMENT

The big world war is now apparently on and the big question seems to be how long will the United States be able to keep out of it? Of course the administration, the papers, the leading industrialists all claim to be 100 percent against participation in the conflict but if our memory serves us right they all took the same attitude back in 1917-18 when we slid into the war almost unknowingly. The Gallup poll states 74 per cent of the people of the United States favor the Allies. So when the Germans start bombing English and French women and children and sink another such American liner such as the Lusitania killing hundreds of American citizens it will be as hard to stay out as it was in 1918.

While war news and dispatches fill the air and the front pages of the Michigan papers, Governor Dickinson of Michigan is waging a private war of his own in Michigan against sin. Apparently he has slight interest in the strife across the ocean. Following his successful onslaught against drinking at the governor's banquet in New York which got him on all the front pages and into the magazines, he directed a broadside against the Boy Scouts for immodesty in wearing shorts. This he rapidly followed by an attack on bridge playing for prizes which he termed a stepping stone to crime. The bingo players next drew his fire, and he ordered the state police to raid all such games, even if conducted by churches or fraternal societies. Sunday he was to launch an attack on check to check dancing in a broadcast over station WJR. However, they changed his script which he submitted to them in advance and he canceled his broadcast and will rely on the press to get his message over. The Detroit Free Press remarks that instead of following the president in setting the date for Thanksgiving on November 23, he might as well have abolished it as Thanksgiving without feather parties will be without appeal.

Don't be surprised if the state police are not over fast to enforce the parallel parking law on state trunk lines passing through villages and cities. Some cities have streets 100 feet wide. Although these have sent delegates to Lansing they have been unable to get excused from the provisions of the law. In a number of cities and villages the curbs are too high to permit the doors of a car parked parallel from being opened. State Police Commissioner Olander has stated that the case of each city and village will be considered separately.

Governor Dickinson seems to have lost his confidence in the ability of the sheriffs to enforce the gambling laws and has put that problem up to the state police. The sheriff of Macomb county seems to be responsible for this. He wrote the governor he was able to enforce the gambling laws in his county without any assistance from him. Whereupon news reporters discovered the Palms gambling hall on Vandike in his county running full blast. The prosecutor managed to close it after several days and now the state police are ordered to see that it stays closed.

The cities of Michigan do not like the new intangible tax as under it the products of municipalities are taxed. In Howell a tax is collected on water bills. 18 cities, including Lansing have filed a petition with Judge Leland Carr at Mason contesting the constitutionality of the law.

The Michigan Chamber of Commerce is endeavoring to organize a Taxpayers League with a unit in every county. Former Senator Ernest Conlin of Grand Rapids a candidate for lt. governor on the Republican ticket is the man behind the scheme. Some press commentators are a little dubious about the success of such an organization and seem to think the senator may use the organization for political purposes.

WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK

By LEMUEL F. PARTON

NEW YORK—On his record, it would appear that Gen. Edward Smigly-Rydz, Poland's strong man, might be more inclined to fight Germany with Russia's aid than with it. He made his career fighting the Bolsheviks, and news dispatches of the last few weeks have hinted that he has been considerably embarrassed at being drawn into the new apparently broken fellowship with Russia. It has been clear that being saved by Russia was the least and last of his ideas.

He is beyond doubt the ablest of Poland's military leaders, and, once the bell rings, there is no question that he can and will fight, as he proved in the campaigns to free Poland and in his forays against early-day Bolshevik Russia.

He never has quite come through as a dictator. In 1935 there was one of those "ideological" build-ups in which he was to emerge as the head of reconstructed Poland. Handsome and imposing, of dominant bearing, he looked the part, but he couldn't seem to manage the big talk necessary for the job. The best they could get out of him was something to the general effect that nobody would ever be allowed to take a single button from Poland's robe.

On August 6 of this year, when it appeared that Germany might just take the robe and leave the button, he was expected to make a sizzling speech at Cracow. His audience was howling for a knockout punch, but the speech was mostly shadow-boxing, with nothing specific about what he proposed to do about Danzig.

Fifty-four years old, with an engaging personality, he has been a popular dinner guest and holds the honorary presidency of the Polish academy of letters. The old Marshal Joseph Pilsudski, nearing the end of his life, anointed the general as his successor. He has been supremely efficient in his army job, but, as a strong man, has been somewhat overshadowed by the showier, more facile and adroit Josef Beck, the foreign minister. But fighting is his main business and knowing observers figure that, talking little, he is more apt to fight.

A MICHIGAN friend of this writer reports that Gov. Luren D. Dickinson's war on sin may turn out to be good political medicine out there.

War on Sin May Be Very Cute Politics
While big-town political leaders are said to be somewhat embarrassed by the aged governor's alarmed discovery of wickedness in high places, the word is that his forces have been entrenched and widened since he let loose about the drinking and dancing orgies of the Albany conference of governors. His Bible class at Eaton, Mich., is crowded to the doors and he is besieged with requests for lectures and participation in revival campaigns. Currently he tells a gathering of Chicago and Detroit "pupils" that this Albany conference was pretty much like Belshazzar's feast and that our Babylonian wasters will drag us down if we don't mend our ways.

For 25 years, Mr. Dickinson has held in fee simple the anti-sin vote of Michigan. It has held steadily around 200,000 votes, undivided in its allegiance in his repeated forays against evil, chief of which has been his still continuing prohibition battle. He is a spare, bald evangel of righteousness, his friendly eyes glinting behind his octagonal rimmed glasses when he is aroused, his meager frame shaken with pietistic fervor. He employs much of the lexicon of the late Dr. Parkhurst of New York, in assailing sin, and some of his philippics seem to voice again the pious horror of the author of "New York by Gaslight," written 60 years ago.

He is a native of New York, born near Lockport in Niagara county. His parents removed to Eaton, Mich., when he was a small boy. There he still lives, happily engaged with his Methodist church Bible class, and, more recently, with the state of Michigan and, unhappily for his peace of mind, in a bout with evil which he never knew existed before.

Shays' rebellion of 1786 jolted the big-town politicians with a realization of what a mixture of agrarian discontent and old-time religion may amount to. In Governor Dickinson's compact voting phalanx, things are something like that. His allied conservative Republican organization appreciates all this.

International Affairs Likely To Influence Party Politics

Upon Turn of Events Abroad May Depend Strength or Lack of It Shown by Presidential Aspirants; Domestic Life in U. S. Will Feel Effects.

By WILLIAM BRUCKART
WNU Service, National Press Bldg., Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON.—There is an interesting offshoot of the several European crises that has begun to attract attention among political leaders. It has been practically 20 years since international affairs figured to any extent in our domestic politics, but they threaten to do so next year. And upon the turn of events abroad, it appears, will depend the strength or lack of it shown by various presidential aspirants.

It may be that, in the short space of time between the writing of these lines and their publication in your local newspaper, another European crisis will have arisen and actual hostilities will have been started. It is possible, therefore, only to take a peek over the horizon and offer conjecture as to the effect upon our domestic partisan battles. There can be no doubt of the importance of the subject as a matter for thought, however, because: (1) if there is a European war, there will be the struggle between two very powerful forces to drag us in or keep us out, respectively; and (2) if there is no war abroad but a continued threat and continued disturbance of international relations, our domestic life will be constantly feeling the effects in one way or another. So, the situation shapes up that international affairs are likely to be vitally important in the matter of selection of party nominees next year, as well as in the election of one of the major party candidates to the presidency.

The condition warrants thought on the basis that it touches private lives. Private lives are concerned not only because of the ever-present possibility when war stalks in the world that there may be blood shed by some of our people. The effect goes as well into our everyday affairs, the thing which the intelligence usually calls our national economy.

When Political Leaders Took Wrong Side of Question

One needs to go back only to 1920 to recall what happened to political leaders who took the wrong side of a question—the wrong side from a majority of the people. President Wilson's followers stood by him, as they should have done in those days. They committed the Democratic party to a position on the League of Nations and the Versailles peace treaty that proved to be unpopular and a good many of them were engulfed in the flood of the unpopularity of that side of the question.

If there were complex conditions to be considered by voters and thought through in advance of the election of Warren G. Harding over James M. Cox at that time, the conditions then must be regarded as simple to what confronts America at this time. Nor is there any possibility of simplification of those problems. The bulk of the people can say, as I firmly believe the majority sentiment to be, that we must stay out of foreign entanglements—must be isolationists—and there still will remain the influence of those foreign conditions upon our own life and living and means of making a living.

But to be specific with respect to the political picture of presidential aspirants:

The candidates now going about the country herding in delegate pledges or having their representatives do so have thus far proceeded, quite naturally, upon the basis of purely domestic questions. These questions include such as the Roosevelt money policies; the undoubted waste that has characterized the governmental spending; the regimentation of agriculture with its crop control in one place and crop expansion in another without apparent rhyme or reason; the sudden changes in national plans and the consequent instability and uncertainty. Others could be named, but these few suffice to illustrate the point.

Jealousy and Distrust No Matter What Happens

Now, let us assume that actual hostilities have started abroad and that they extend into next year. Of what use is the political strategy now being employed by those seeking pledges of support? Or, assume that Hitler's rapacious plans have been satisfied. There still will be heat, abroad. There will be jealousy and distrust. There is the new pact between the slippery Stalin of Russia, and the blustering Hitler that neither will attack the other. There are now, and will continue to be, dissatisfied minorities in Central Europe, peoples who want to break away or who feel they have been used as pawns. There will be all of these and other things to keep the fires burning, a sort of an international poison ivy case.

Whatever the conditions may be a year from now, there is no way that I can see by which the United States can avoid consideration of policies to meet the circumstances generated by these several influences. Why?

Take agriculture, for example. Our crops long have entered into world markets, although the outgoing shipments have sunk into insignificance lately. But our farmers still have hopes. Consider industry, manufacturing establishments seek export outlets. The amount of their exports determine whether these factories can run at normal capacity, and employ normal quotas of workers, or whether only enough workers can be kept on to maintain supplies for the purely American market. Thus, the unemployment problem, and relief, enter into the picture.

It is far from being simple. One can despise and distrust his neighbor on the next farm or in the next block, but he still has to pass his house on the highway or go down the alley behind his house.

Campaign Strategies, Plans Must Undergo Revision

None knows, for example, whether the agreement between Stalin and Hitler is going to give the Russian lion a free hand in the Orient. That is to ask: can Stalin's forces now align themselves with China and force the Japanese back to their island homes? If so, there is a brand new proposition for us on the Pacific side. We have wanted, and still want, the market of China. But we have to play with the Soviet if, by chance, the conjectured change takes place and Hitler abandons his connections with Tokyo.

Thus, I think we are brought forcibly to the conclusion that the records made by the two major political parties thus far may constitute only a part of the things which the ever-puzzled voter may have to consider next year. It is made quite plain, it seems to me, that campaign strategies, plans, hopes, will have to undergo serious revision in the next few months. How they are revised is going to be dependent almost entirely upon the developments abroad. There is always the thought in the background that most people are interested in the things around them, not 3,000 miles away, and it is not going to be easy for the po-much of a dose they showed attempt to offer.

There seems to be no doubt that developments between now and next June, for example, will have a vital effect upon Mr. Roosevelt's political fortunes. Most sound thinking men seem to agree on that. One hears discussions pro and con. Many wagers have been made around Washington that Mr. Roosevelt can not be elected, or even nominated, for a third term, but always there is the reservation "unless there is a war." Always, there is that reservation "unless." I relate this, not because it indicates more than the views of those making the bets, but because it illustrates how closely linked are our affairs with those of the rest of the world.

May Call Congress to Revise the Neutrality Act

There is talk that Mr. Roosevelt will call congress into extra session to deal with international problems—and acting with Roosevelt suddenly, he may have issued the call two hours after this is written. He has wanted the so-called neutrality act revised to meet his ideas. You will recall that he could not even gain consideration of his program by the foreign relations committee of the last senate. They turned it down cold. But the question is due to come up whether in the regular meeting next January, and it cannot be avoided. Who can guess what the political effects of that may be. I can not foresee them, nor has anyone been able to convince me of their ability to see that far into the future.

As I am able to examine the puzzle of the future, therefore, I can see only a very difficult time ahead for those who want to have a voice in their government. Of course, there is going to be a percentage of voters, as always, whose convictions will be those of their political party. But there is an increasing number of voters who would like to know what they are voting for or against; why they are voting for one man over another. They probably constitute the balance of power in American politics, and if they do it is a splendid thing. Yet, I repeat they are going to have their hands full in trying to understand the issues next year. It is a tough proposition to learn what proposed policies will do for or to us when those policies concern affairs close at home. It is just that much more perplexing when we are called upon to figure out what will happen when the issues of a campaign involve not only our own affairs but the affairs of other nations, as well. And it strikes me that next year would be a good time for political leaders to start being honest about what they seek to accomplish.

Burma, Important British Colony, Provides 'Back Door' to China

"BACK DOOR" OPEN. Map shows the route of the recently completed highway running from Rangoon, Burma, to Chungking, capital of war-torn China. Because many of China's eastern seaports are blockaded by the Japanese this route has become an important life line for the forces of Chiang Kai-Shek.

Recently Completed Highway Used for Shipping War Supplies.

Prepared by National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C.—WNU Service.

Burma, where demands for independence are reported to be growing steadily more insistent, is an important link in the British Empire chain.

East of India, Burma touches on the north the border of Tibet; on the east that of China proper, French Indo-China, and Siam. With fingers of land thrust into the Bay of Bengal, Burma stretches south far down the west coast of the Malay peninsula, to share with Siam the narrow and strategic land bar to the China sea which culminates in the Malay States and England's naval base of Singapore.

From Burma runs the recently completed highway that is China's vital back door entrance for supplies, now that many of her eastern ports are closed by Japanese occupation. Connecting Rangoon—half-way down the long coast of Burma—with the Chinese provisional capital of Chungking, in the heart of that war-torn country, this route covers in all more than 2,000 miles, twisting a tortuous motor path over China's high western plateaus, dipping deep into rugged gorges and rising high over mountain passes.

The Burma section of the route, about one-third of the entire distance to Chungking, is mostly by rail, which provides communication between Rangoon and Lashio, near the western border of China. On the way the railway passes the town of Mandalay, of Kipling romance.

Through Rangoon, as capital and chief port of Burma, flows most of the country's foreign trade, now reported to include incoming trucks, gasoline, machinery, and munitions destined for the Burma-China road as a result of the war in China. Altogether, Burma's import-export business was estimated for the last fiscal year at more than $278,000,000.

Rangoon, accessible to river navigation 900 miles inland, is also known in the international transport field for its excellent airport, where three major lines converge. So many 'round-the-world' aviators and air-minded travelers come this way that it has been predicted that Rangoon will become to the air lanes what Singapore is to sea lanes—a "crossroads of the East."

Burma is strictly agricultural country with rich soil and plenty of rainfall. It is more fortunate than many of its oriental neighbors; for with little more than 14½ million people to support in an area of about 261,610 square miles, there is an adequate food supply of the East's chief staple—rice. More than two-thirds of all cultivated land in Burma is devoted to rice production, which provides a large exportable surplus sent not only to populous India and other Far Eastern countries but also to Europe.

A largely one-crop economy, however (of secondary importance are other products such as peanuts, cotton, millet, sesame seeds), presents problems of its own. There is need for new industries to provide more diversity and help solve the unemployment problem. Of Burma's millions, less than 90,000 now are employed in industry.

After farming, the famous teak industry is Burma's next best means of livelihood.

Without Caste System.

The Burmese have developed into a group different from either Indian or Chinese, yet with traces of the influence of both. They are without the caste system and their women go unveiled. Although their main religion came from India, their dialects are related to those of the Indo-Chinese. Most travelers agree that the people of Burma are easier to understand than other Orientals; for while their manners are those of the East, they have also a frankness and direct sense of humor akin to that of the Westerner.

Yet despite geographic, racial and other differences that set it apart from India, politically Burma was divorced from the larger country only two years ago. Today this country, as a crown colony of Great Britain, has its own senate and house of representatives, although the legislation of these bodies is subject to veto by the English governor who also controls national defense and foreign relations.

Odd Regulations Give Protection To Auto Driver

Traffic Safety Rules Vary on Highways of Foreign Nations.

Prepared by National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C.—WNU Service.

While many traffic safety regulations are similar the world over, some countries have evolved unusual and even comic measures for the safety of their people. Though comic many of these rules are none the less effective.

In England there is no speed limit on highways except in the congested areas. In Bucharest authorities have recently instituted a drive for pedestrian control. A special court has been set up to try offenders. This safety regulation has been successfully used in other European and American cities.

The traffic board of Calcutta long ago passed a rule banning ra-

NOISELESS COP. You can't blow your automobile horn in Rome, and the traffic cops don't have any whistles, but they stand on a pedestal in the middle of the street. So the old excuse about not having seen them doesn't go at all in traffic court.

dios or phonographs in automobiles as distractions to motorists and therefore traffic hazards. Officials of Riga, capital of Latvia, quieted traffic by prohibiting the unnecessary tooting of horns and ordering that all milk cans be silenced by wrapping them in sacks or straw. Americans visiting large European cities are often amazed by the lack of traffic noise due to such "non-tooting" regulations.

Several countries have adopted the use of posters as a means of reducing accidents. In Sweden posters are used to combat jaywalking. One Swedish sign warning pedestrians against jaywalking shows a hen scuttling precariously across a busy street. The sign reads: "Don't be a Laura!"

Flashing red and green signals are the usual world-wide traffic symbols denoting stop and go. However, there are found many and amusing variations in style and color. In Lisbon, on narrow streets, policemen hold up paddles painted red on one side and green on the other. In Singapore the traffic "cops" have a long horizontal, white board attached to their backs. To regulate traffic, the policemen turn not a light, but themselves.

These Smart Patterns Look Ahead to Fall

DO YOU take a woman's size? Then here is a lovely dress for you, (1799) youthful yet sophisticated, with clever bodice detailing, to create a round-bosomed effect, and a paneled skirt that makes your hips look narrow. It's a perfect style for luncheons and club affairs, yet not too dressy for street and shopping wear, too. Flat crepe, thin wool and rayon jersey are smart materials for this.

Princess Lines and Shirring. Business and college girls will like the slim lines and simplicity of this very attractive dress (1780), with princess skirt cut high in the front, shirred shoulders, and flaring revers that frame your face becomingly. For this, choose flat crepe, taffeta or thin wool, with revers in white or a pastel tint.

The Patterns. No. 1799 is designed for sizes 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, and 46. Size 34 requires 5½ yards of 39 inch material. ½ yard of lace for vestee.

No. 1780 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, and 40. Size 14 requires 5 yards of 39 inch material; ½ yard contrasting.

Send your order to The Sewing Circle Pattern Dept., Room 1324, 211 W. Wacker Dr., Chicago, Ill. Price of patterns, 15 cents (in coins) each.

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste
Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work, and as a result you may feel tired, nervous, and lose weight and strength. Other signs of kidney or bladder trouble may be burning, stinging, or frequent urination.
There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is what you need. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a national reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

Give a Thought to MAIN STREET

For, in our town... and towns like ours clear across the country... there's a steady revolution going on. Changes in dress styles and food prices... the rise of hat crowns... the fall of furniture prices—these matters vitally affect our living... And the news is ably covered in advertisements.
Smart people who like to be up-to-the-minute in living and current events, follow advertisements as closely as headlines.
They know what's doing in America... and they also know where money buys most!

The only teakettle of its kind in AMERICA!

You've never seen a teakettle like this one. It is an educated teakettle . . . one that shuts off the electricity
 if negligence permits it to boil dry.
 When the water boils too low, the connection plug pops out—and it can't be replaced until the kettle has cooled off. But aside from this desirable feature, the teakettle has other unique advantages. Made of polished aluminum and spotlessly clean, it can be used anywhere in the house—in the kitchen, the laundry, the sick room.
 Simply plug into the nearest electric outlet. A special high-speed element heats water in a few minutes—from one to four quarts. You will find this teakettle a great help in your housework . . . it will save you time and steps. And with reasonable care, it should last a lifetime.

$4.95 AT ANY DETROIT EDISON OFFICE

Mary Greiner is teaching school grounds were packed and the exhibits and midway were first class.

 In the ball games Fowlerville beat Webberville Wednesday and Stockbridge beat Gregory on Thursday.
 In the final game Stockbridge beat Fowlerville.

John Denison of Hamburg recently bought a farm there on which a school house stood. Recently the school built an outhouse. Denison claimed he owned the land where it was built and tore down the building. The school board haled Denison into court and proved the school had had possession of the land they were using for 60 years. Justice Stowe fined Denison $20 or 30 days in jail. He paid.

At the Democrat convention at Howell Tuesday W. E. Murphy of Pinckney was elected a delegate to to avoid the Hessian fly.

Conservation Dept
 Notes

During the month of July 416 persons were arrested for violation of the conservation laws. 377 were for violating the fishing laws. Of these 126 failed to obtain fishing licenses.

Labor Day is expected to show a record turnout for Michigan's 56 state parks. 85,000 more people have used the parks this year than last, according to a checkup the second week in August. The Bay City park was second with 768,000 visitors; an Grand Haven first with 867, 000.

The states drive on predatory animals netted 147 during June, the take including 5 female wolves. All districts of the upper peninsula turned in catches and three counties in the lower peninsula.

A long range policy of relieving local government of tax delinquent properties and putting them back in production will be the topic at a conference to be held in Escanaba August 30 to Sept. 1.

The east half of the upper peninsula suffered four-fifths of the forest acreage burned during the week ending August 22.

Any person desiring to ship out of the state a fur bearing animal or raw fur must secure a permit from this dept.

About 150 boys will open the fourth annual 4-H club conservation camp at Camp Shaw near Munising September 11. They will be chosen from 6,000 4-H members in 50 counties. They will receive instruction in soil conservation, game animal disease, game bird care, prevention of forest fires and proper use of firearms. State police will conduct a shooting contest.

Moose are decreasing so rapidly in Canada that in Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and much of Ontario no shooting of them is allowed.

The 6th annual state conservation conference for women will be held at Ludington Sept. 26-27. 250 women will attend.

The second annual Upper Peninsula pistol shooting tournament will take place at the Escanaba fair on Sept. 10. Police, sheriff's officers and army men are expected to compete.

58 predatory animals were destroyed in Michigan during July and $985 in bounty money paid. There were 48 coyotes and 1 wolf.

Officials of Michigan cities and villages in northern Michigan will begin a study of the tax delinquency situation. The law provides that all tax-reverted lands north of Muskegon-Bay City line shall revert to the conservation dept.

Why does man make it a rule to take off his hat when riding in a hotel elevator carrying a woman?
 Why will man always pause to let a lady go first when entering or leaving a building.

Why, at social functions, will a man spend his entire evening hobbing up and down like a jumping jack whenever a lady enters the room?

Why does man maintain a general policy of courtesy to all members of the fair sex.

If you have that answer, then answer this one, too - just let a lady, any lady, get behind the wheel of a motor car and he thinks nothing of crowding her off the road or even sending her to the hospital if she dares for a moment to question his possession of the right of way.
 Why?

If courtesy is the rule, let's remember that courtesy is also the rule while driving.
 "I'll kill that guy!" So spoke a friend of mine recently when a driver behind us persistently blew his horn at an intersection.

How many times have you felt the same way?

About the most discourteous driving habit people have is to try to "blow others out of their way." This is dangerous and well as discourteous. Frequently drivers become frantic in traffic when this is done, and I know of many accidents that were a direct result of such action.

Public opinion should rise against this type of driver until he realizes that courtesy is the keynote of cor-duct on our highways.

"It's Smart To Drive Carefully".

BOKROS - PETHO REUNION

The Bokros-Petho Reunion was held Monday, Sept. 4th, 1939.

Although the weather was raining it did not stop the people from coming.

All enjoyed the day playing ball, horseshoes and cards.

In the evening all gathered around a large bonfire and sang songs.

There were approximately 75 in attendance.

WAR BOOSTS PRICES

The European war has started a price boost that may prove troublesome if it continues. Remembering the last world war which skyrocketed prices and led to the rationing of sugar in one pound lots many people have tried to lay in huge supplies of sugar, flour and lard before the raise takes place. The result is that in many cases the merchants supplies of these commodities was quickly exhausted. This drew in turn on the wholesale grocery houses and alarmed the refineries and mills so that they are withholding their goods from the market until the price settles. The wholesalers, however, advise the people not to become alarmed as no wholesale boost in foodstuff is likely unless the public causes a temporary one by a mad stampede to buy.

MICHIGAN'S GOATS EARN REPUTATION

International attention to the abilities of a herd of Michigan goats has followed the unusual practice of enlisting the herd in an advanced registry system of testing for milk and fat production.

The herd is that of Mrs. Carl A. Sandburg, Herbert, Michigan, wife of the famed contemporary poet. An Indian name, Chikaming, denotes the Sandburg goat farm.

Origin of the herd is as recent as 1933, when the project was started for Helga Sandburg, daughter in the poet's family. First animals came from Berrien county, six head of grades and purebreds. Since then outstanding stock has been purchased from the New Mexico Agricultural College which owns the largest and highest producing herd in the country.

Eighty-three head are now owned by the Sandburgs. Most of these are Toggenburgs but there are also a few Nubians.

Read this record of Shonyo Boliver Betty: at two years she produced 2,915.4 pounds of milk containing 100.28 pounds of fat, the highest known 305-day record of any goat in the Toggenburg breed.

Orders for the Sandburg goats have poured in from nearly every state in the Union, as well as from Mexico, Canada, Venezuela and Brazil. Work of the milk and fat production testing is supervised as a part of the service of the Michigan State College, says E. C. Scheidhelm, extension dairyman who visited the Sandburgs recently.

Goats are dainty eaters and will touch nothing unclean. Mrs. Sandburg reports: Hay feed includes alfalfa, clover and soybeans. Other items include carrots, corn, barley, oats, linseed oilmeal, bran, steamed bone meal, salt and appetizer pellets. Triplets are most common, but Creamy's First, a Nubian, has had one set of quintuplets.

Miss Mary Otwell of Howell was Sunday guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. Meyer.

PINCKNEY AND HAMBURG PLAY TIE GAME

Pinckney and Hamburg soft ball teams played a tie game at Hamburg Thursday night. Both pitchers were in good form, Pinckney getting but 3 hits off Voss, the Hamburg pitcher and Hamburg four off Dinkel. The game was scoreless until the third inning when Pinckney scored 2 runs. Miller first up fouled out. Baker walked and so did Dinkel, Lamb doubled to left scoring Baker, Lavey hit to third and Dinkel was run down between third and home, Lamb taking third where he scored on a pass ball. That ended the Pinckney scoring. Hulce singled thru short in the 4th and Lamb over second in the 5th but both were left on bases. Hamburg got a run in the 3rd on an error and Broegman's hit to right. In the 5th, Voss bunted and was safe when Dinkel fell down fielding it. Williams hit down the third base line and the ball rolled fair, Voss scored on a passed ball. Dinkel fanned B. Bennett and Broegman flied to Singer.

This will end the night games for the year but a few more Sunday contests may be played as the boys are not yet ready to end the season.

Shelf Edging Dresses Up Kitchen Windows

SOME of us can remember seeing our mothers cut scalloped shelf papers. Dextrously they folded and snipped the edge in points or curves; sometimes adding a cut out diamond in the center of each scallop. For many there is more satisfaction in this creation of their own hands, than in using fancy lace edge paper by the roll. Today, we find that same satisfaction when we choose oilcloth shelf edgings—thinking in terms of color has a fascination even beyond scallops with diamonds in the center.

The suggestion sketched here for using shelf edging to dress up kitchen windows was sent in by a reader. The busy homemaker will appreciate the fact that the curtains are perfectly straight and plain and easy to remove for laundering. When windows and shelves match the effect is especially good. Banded towels may be of the same color, and tin containers for bread, sugar, and spices may be painted with bright enamel, to match.

The new Sewing Book No. 3 by Mrs. Spears is packed full of useful, money saving ideas, that almost any homemaker may put to practical use. Every idea is clearly illustrated with large sketches. You will be fascinated with the variety of interesting things to make for the home and for gifts. The price is only 10 cents postpaid. Send coin with name and address to Mrs. Spears, 210 S. Desplains St., Chicago, Ill.

How Women in Their 40's Can Attract Men

Here's good advice for a woman during her change (usually from 35 to 45), who fears she'll lose her appeal to men, who worries about hot flashes, loss of hair, dizzy spells, upset nerves and moody spells.
Get more fresh air, 8 hrs. sleep and if you need a good general system tonic take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made especially for women. It helps Nature build up physical resistance, thus helps give more vitality to enjoy life and ward off ailing (jittery nerves and disturbing symptoms that often accompany change of life. WELL WORTH TRYING!

TASTY SUNDAY NIGHT SUPPERS

(See Recipes Below)

Sunday Night Suppers

Even though you expect everyone to have had a noon meal with staying power on Sundays, people do like to eat when Sunday evening rolls 'round! To be sure, they like food that's somewhat lighter, and food that's out of the ordinary. So it's a grand time to leave the beaten path and serve something a little different.

If you serve left-overs, be sure to serve them in a new way or with an unusual accompaniment like the jellied chili sauce I've suggested in menu No. III. If you plan a meal especially for Sunday night, plan one which can be served "help-yourself" style and arrange foods, dishes and silver on the table so that guests may serve themselves. Appetites will be quickened by the eye-appealing arrangement of the table, and the air of informality makes Sunday night supper a sociable affair.

These menus are suited, too, to serving larger numbers—lodge groups, church organizations or clubs. Recipes for the main dish and salad in every menu are easily increased. Unless you have special recipes and equipment, cakes and pastries are likely to be better if the single recipe is used.

Sunday Night Supper Menus

- Wafers Assorted Relishes
- Lettuce and Tomatoes with Roquefort Cheese Dressing
- Pineapple Cream Tarts Beverage
- Tuna Casserole
- Orange-Cherry Salad
- Hot Rolls
- Beverage

- Thin Slices of Cold Roast Beef
- Jellied Chili Sauce
- Mixed Vegetable Salad
- Toasted Loaf
- Cocoa Marshmallow Cake
- Coffee

- Lettuce and Tomatoes with Roquefort Cheese Dressing. (Serves 6)

- 1 head lettuce
- 2 tomatoes
- ½ pound Roquefort cheese (crumbled)

French dressing
Remove coarse outer leaves from head of lettuce. Cut into wedges. Peel tomatoes, remove stem end, and cut into eighths. Place in salad bowl with the lettuce. Add crumbled Roquefort cheese and French dressing. Toss lightly until well mixed.

- Cocoa Marshmallow Cake.
- 2 tablespoons cocoa
- ¼ cup sweet milk
- 2 cups brown sugar
- 3 eggs (separated)
- ¼ cup butter
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 2 cups cake flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- ¼ teaspoon soda
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- ½ cup sour milk

Place cocoa, sweet milk, 1 cup brown sugar, and 1 egg yolk (beaten) in top of double boiler. Cook over hot water, until mixture is well blended. Cool. Cream butter, and add remaining cup of brown sugar while beating constantly. Add the two remaining egg yolks, together with the vanilla extract and mix thoroughly. Then mix and sift all dry ingredients and add alternately with the sour milk. Beat egg whites stiff but not dry, and fold into the cake mixture. Place in 3 well greased layer cake pans and bake in a moderately hot oven (375 degrees) approximately 30 minutes. Ice with boiled icing to which 8 marshmallows (cut in quarters) have been added.

Jellied Chili Sauce.

- 1 tablespoon gelatin
 - 2 tablespoons cold water
 - 1 cup chili sauce (or catsup)
- Soak gelatin in cold water for 5 minutes. Add to chili sauce, which has been heated to the boiling point, and stir until dissolved. Pour into tiny paper cups, individual molds, or small pan from which the chili sauce may be sliced or cut in attractive shapes when firm. Chill thoroughly before serving.

Tuna Casserole.

- 1 7-ounce can tuna
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1 cup cooked peas
- 1 can button mushrooms
- 2 cups cooked noodles (medium width)

Salt, pepper and butter 1 cup milk
Butter individual baking dishes. Sprinkle tuna with lemon juice. (This brings out the tuna flavor). Arrange alternate layers of tuna, peas, mushrooms and noodles, putting noodles on top. Season each layer with salt and pepper. Dot top generously with butter. Pour milk into dish and top with buttered bread crumbs. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 30 minutes. (Serves 4-6.)

Toasted Loaf.

Trim top and side crusts from a loaf of unsliced white bread. Cut through the center of the loaf, lengthwise, cutting just to the lower crust, but not through it. Then cut crosswise, spacing the cuts about 2 inches apart. Brush top and sides generously with melted butter. Toast in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees) until the loaf is golden brown. Serve hot.

There are so many points to be considered in planning meals. One which is all too likely to be overlooked is this—that the dessert is more than something to satisfy the family's "sweet tooth"; it really plays an important part in the menu.

Next week in this column Eleanor Howe will tell you why—and will give you, too—some of her favorite recipes for "Desserts That Are Different."

Clam Chowder.

- (Serves 6.)
 - ¼ cup carrot (chopped)
 - 2 tablespoons onion (chopped)
 - 1¼ cups potato (chopped)
 - ¾ cup celery (chopped fine)
 - 1 pint clams
 - 2 cups water and clam liquor
 - Salt and pepper to taste
 - 1 pint milk
 - 3 tablespoons flour
 - 3 tablespoons butter
 - 1½ tablespoons parsley
 - ¼ teaspoon paprika
- Chop the vegetables in small pieces and place in large kettle. Chop the clams and add together with the clam liquor, water, salt, and pepper. Cover and cook about ¼ hour, or until vegetables are tender. Scald milk. Make a smooth paste of the flour and water. Add half of this flour paste to the clam mixture and half to the scalded milk. Cook each, stirring constantly, until the mixture thickens. Combine and add butter, parsley and paprika. Serve very hot.

Miss College Girl Is Engaging Attention of Fashion Designers

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

IT'S no secret as to who has been chosen to play the part of leading lady on the stage of fashion during the early fall days—College Girl is her name. To this important personage all fashiondom is paying homage at the present moment. On every side you are reminded that the idea is motivating to cater to the whims and wardrobe needs of the girl who is going away to school.

The style program arranged for Miss College Girl and her younger schoolgirl sister fairly teems with excitement. For instance, there is the new bustle dress. The idea has taken the collegiate set by storm. The quaint bustle dresses that grandmothers galvanized in as girls in the '80s are actually proving inspiration for frocks that the modern girl will wear this fall.

The highpoints of these oldtime silhouettes are being revived such as waistslines of vanishing inches, slim corseted midriffs and wide back-swirling skirts interpreted in novel bustle treatments but modified so cleverly they are made thoroughly practical and wearable for this day and age. Then there is the new vogue that calls for a velvet or plaid jacket worn with a gay veiled wool skirt or a contrasting or matched solid color as fancy dictates. The decided military air that the new fashions take on is also a big factor in the new mode and most outstanding of all is the importance attached to fine materials.

These and other significant style trends were revealed at their glamorous best in an advance fall fashion revue staged by the Style Creators of Chicago. The three models pictured were especially applauded by the audience of visiting merchants as fashions that are representative of what the up-to-date fashion-alert girl will be selecting for her going-away-to-school wardrobe.

The clever little date frock of shepherd check velveteen shown to the left in the group is sure to enjoy a gay campus career. Its cunning tunic bustleback and its full circular-cut skirt gives it swank and distinction such as collegiate fashions demand. Its red suede belt supplies a fetching dash of color. Approval for the new bustle-back dresses is assured for being interpreted in simple words, bustle-back is merely a way of saying "back fullness" achieved in ingenious ways that are conservative and wearable without being overdone.

The suit to the right is very style-revealing, stressing as it does the continued triumph in the mode of richly colorful striped woolsens. The stripes, the plaids and the marvelous artistry with which designers combine them with monotonous related tone simply hold one spell-bound. The gorgeous striped wool that fashions the costume suit keys to the smartest fall colors, harmonizing vibrant greens with luscious blackberry tones. The skirt is all-around pleated. The boxy jacket tops an emerald green velvet blouse closing with novel key-and-keyhole ornaments. An oversized quill tops the moss green sailor hat.

You may expect to see gay little velvet jackets dotted all over the college campus. The girl centered in the picture wears a snug black velveteen jacket quite military looking as so many of the newer fashions are, with a plaid pleated skirt that introduces an artful blend of grape, pink and yellow tones, climaxed with a sweater in warm yellow hues. Juniors, likewise college sophisticates, simply dote on the new plaids and stripes. A Scotch cap of black velvet with satin ribbon streamer, together with the plaid carries the message that fashions for young folks have gone very Scotch this season. High Color Tweed

Here is a smart version of the costume suit that combines plain woolen with gay tweed. The fitted jacket is of yellow and black tweed in a diagonal weave. Yellow and gold tones are held in high favor according to what is showing in advance Paris collections. The costume includes a jacket, swagger coat and skirt. This idea of both jacket and topcoat done in matching color scheme is very practical. The saucer brim hat is of black felt.

Offers Solution For One Problem

For many women, the most trying coat length of recent inspiration is the rather popular just-below-the-waist length that nips in at the midriff and hugs the hips.

It is a good style for a slender woman with a streamlined figure and is being shown in any number of varieties, of which one of the most popular is a monotone wool jacket worn over a gay print dress. But the problem is not so simple for those who border on plumpness.

One suggestion is that the slightly swallow-tail version deals more kindly with the heavy woman.

Two-Skirt Outfit Real Money-Saver

A money-saver for the bride consists of a two-skirt suit of very sheer wool or crepe, designed with a suave fitted jacket. The street-length skirt can be worn with the jacket and printed crepe or organdy blouses to make a smart runabout costume by day.

A floor-length skirt of the same material, combined with the jacket and a sheer chiffon blouse makes a chic dinner costume for boat and hotel wear in the evening.

New Coat Silhouettes
Coats are no longer a simple matter of straight boxy lines or fitted and flared effects, for Parisian designers are showing intricate details of cut and design in their most recent collections.

We Deliver at all Times

The Good Neighbor

WE HEAR much today of the "Good Neighbor" policy. One of the most encouraging signs of the progress of social justice in the world is the increasing sense of responsibility concerning the welfare of our fellow beings. Between governments and nations the "Good Neighbor" attitude should be encouraged. Community welfare campaigns often adopt the slogan, "Be a Good Neighbor." In times of disaster organized agencies spring into action to alleviate distress regardless of race, creed, or color. Men are definitely awakening from callous indifference to the sufferings of others to a desire to relieve these sad conditions and remove their causes.

In view of this awakened consciousness we may well ask ourselves, "Just what is a good neighbor?" Jesus eloquently answered this question in the parable of the good Samaritan. But it is well to remember that he prefaced his description of true neighborliness by first emphasizing the two great commandments (Luke 10:27), "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbour as thyself." Then followed his story of the man who fell among thieves and was left by the roadside in his distress, and was passed by until rescued by the Samaritan, who thus proved himself a good neighbor.

Therefore, in striving to be a good neighbor to one's fellow men one must start with love for God and man. Intelligently to love God requires a correct understanding of His nature. In the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, God is defined (p. 587) as "the great I AM; the all-knowing, all-seeing, all-acting, all-wise, all-loving, and eternal; Principle; Mind; Soul; Spirit; Life; Truth; Love; all substance, intelligence." Thus God must be acknowledged as the only power and presence, the All of men's existence. One must turn to Him in childlike trust, confident that His law of ever-operative good is sufficient to meet every human problem. This is truly loving God supremely.

How easy it is to love the all-loving God, but how often it seems difficult to love one's neighbor when so much that is unlovable is apparent about him! But is the unlovely mortal one's real neighbor? The Bible tells us (Genesis 1:27) that "Love worketh no ill to his neighbour: therefore love is the fulfilling of the law." The love which does no harm to one's fellow man is that expression of the Christ-spirit which was so perfectly exemplified by Jesus during his ministry. He was often wrongly accused, yet he retaliated in no way, but healed and blessed. . . .

All forms of aggression, greed, hatred, desire for war, and the like, arise primarily from a wrong concept of God, with its attendant fear. Belief in evil or the power of evil is disbelief in God. This naturally breeds fear, for ignorance is the very foundation of such a state of thought. John wrote (1 John 4:16, 18): "He that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him. . . . There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear." Thus, we see, the solution to our problem of overcoming fear or distrust of a neighboring nation will be accomplished as we gain the right understanding of God and His perfect government of His creation, and as we express the love which "dwelleth in God." The acceptance and realization of the fact that, since there is one God, there is but one creation—spiritual and united—enables one effectually to apply this understanding for the alleviation of human suffering.

Unity of thought regarding God and His creation engenders brotherly love, which precludes the possibility of inhuman warfare. Mary Baker Eddy says (Science and Health, p. 340): "One Infinite God, good, unifies men and nations; constitutes the brotherhood of man; ends wars; fulfills the Scripture, 'Love thy neighbor as thyself.'" And on page 487 she further states: "It should be thoroughly understood that all men have one Lord, one God and Father, one Life, Truth, and Love. Mankind will become perfect in proportion as this fact becomes apparent, war will cease and the true brotherhood of man will be established."—The Christian Science Monitor.

What Is Abroad in the World Today?

"Open the door, let in the air, The winds are sweet, and the flowers are fair, Joy is abroad in the world today, If your door is wide open it will come your way. Open the door."

THIS stanza was memorized by the writer when a child. At that time it made an appeal largely because of its pretty picturing and happy rhyme. Many years later it came back to thought with a deeper significance, which led to the contemplation of spiritual joy.

The door to our mental home is our receptiveness to whatever comes knocking for admission. To what are we opening our door? Are we definitely closing it against the intrusion of fear, distrust, despair, ill-health, poverty? Do we welcome in the good we wish to see objectified in our experience?

If we are silent, and listening to Truth, we shall become aware of the spiritual joy, trust, healthy thoughts, assurance of peace and happiness which are awaiting only our receptiveness to come in and abide with us.

In the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," Mary Baker Eddy gives us this counsel, which, when obeyed, is far-reaching in its effects and influence (p. 332): "Stand porter at the door of thought. Admitting only such conceptions as you wish to realize."

Today mankind, finding itself in a condition of great economic complications, is asking, "Is there a way out?" Fear of lack of individual and national security is knocking loudly for entrance into human consciousness. Are we to stand by, helplessly feeling that there is no answer available, or that the answer is dependent upon those in authority who may or may not be guided wisely? Definitely, no!

There is an answer, a solution, to the individual and world problems of today. We read (ibid., p. 390), "It is our ignorance of God, the divine Principle, which produces apparent discord, and the right understanding of Him restores harmony." How simple, yet how profound, is the answer—"the right understanding of Him!" In His love, God has endowed each of His children with the ability to understand His Father-Mother God, and His understanding of God, and of man in His likeness, dispels all that is imperfect, unlovely, sinful, sick, or sorrowing.

Divine ever-operative Principle, when understood and applied in our human experience, establishes the true concept of brotherly love, and a corresponding desire to reflect Love, God. Thus, as understanding is gained, wars will cease; and in due course whatever is wrong will be annihilated, and nothing discordant will remain. . . .

The only real, true government of man is by God's law of harmony. And the understanding of God's law precedes obedience to that law. When we shall have fully awakened to the glorious privilege of submission to the guidance of unerring, infinite divine Mind, then shall we experience the reign of everlasting life, Truth, and Love. We need not wait one hour to begin the joyous task of helping to bring about the kingdom of heaven on earth. What we harbor in thought decides whether or not the pathway we are treading is leading us upward and onward into God's kingdom. The radiance of thought which is in accord with divine Love not only illumines our own journey but helps to brighten the pathway for others. As the light of a tiny candle dispels some darkness, so does the least reflection of the light of Truth in our consciousness dispel some error; and gradually but surely shall all humanity come to the recognition of universal good, glorious and triumphant.

May we then open wide the door of our thought to let in light, peace, freedom, dominion, power, and the spiritual joy that are more and more appearing in the world today. Then shall be brought to pass the promise given by the prophet Jeremiah (Jeremiah 31:34), "And they shall teach no more every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord; for they shall all know me, from the least of them unto the greatest of them, saith the Lord."—The Christian Science Monitor.

Peace—With What?

PEACE is defined as "a state of quiet or tranquillity; freedom from disturbance or agitation; calm; repose."

Generally speaking, humanity knows not where to find true tranquillity, nor with what to make a compact in order to be free from disturbance. It perplexedly views the spectacle of men and nations that have little or no peace even after making great sacrifices to obtain it. Many gaze unconsciously upon the settled peace of the reformer who has perhaps provoked storms of hate and opposition, but who never-

War! What Effect?

Since actual declaration of hostilities between the allied powers of Great Britain, France and Poland against Germany, there has been much speculation as to the effect on the United States of America. As a neutral nation we enjoy the blessings of peace in the midst of war. We will find our own economy little affected for some time to come. Naturally our foreign markets for produce will be almost closed as far as Europe is concerned, but the South American trade should improve. As the war progresses demand will increase for our supplies and surplus commodities which at present are a dead weight on our markets here at home.

Our own markets should remain quite stable and progress toward prosperity should continue without interruption.

He is himself serene, because he is in agreement with Truth and good. With what, then, shall we seek to be in agreement? Here is indeed the vital question, for our choice will result either in gaining spiritual peace or in experiencing the lack of it. In seeking a basis for peace, should we not turn to the Bible, the acknowledged storehouse of truth, wisdom? If we accept its inspired teachings, which reveal God, good, as the basis for all action, agreement, and being, shall we not find our peace in reflecting Him?

Attempts to make peace with human personalities as such, or with shifting material conditions and temporal pressures, bring only confusion. Since Truth, Life, and Love alone are enduring, there can be intelligent expectancy of peace only through conscious agreement with divine Principle. The would-be peace which springs from human temporizing, is as temporary and transitory as is its illusive foundation. Enduring peace is built upon an enduring basis.

The decisions of world politics cannot prevent the individual from experiencing peace through his adherence to Truth. Nothing can stop one from loving and being loved, from being grateful to God for His goodness, and from helping others to be happy by his expressions of
