Football practice is well underway. The first game is next week Friday, September 22 with Manchester. Let us have a good crowd out to encourage the boys.

The girls will probably not play soft ball this fall as most of them would rather devote their time to basket ball.

Tuberculin tests were given Tuesday forenoon by Dr. Duffy with Mrs. Clare Palmer and Mrs. Hulce as helpers. The tests were free to students in school through the Michigan Tuberculosis Association.

The members of the high school football team had their physical examination at the Pinckney Sanitarium Tuesday.

LIQUOR PROPOSITION LOSES HERE

The proposition to allow the sale of hard liquor by the bottle or glass in Pinckney was defeated at the special election held here Saturday. There were 69 votes for the sale of liquor and 89 against it. This gave a majority of 20 votes against it.

Some time ago the council approved the granting of a license to sell liquor to William Dilloway, tavern proprietor. The liquor commission sent an investigator here and the commission refused to grant the license unless it was submitted to a vote and got a majority in favor of it.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

The Howell Theatre was broken into early last Friday morning, entrance being made through a window in the ladies toilet. The knob of the safe was broken off but they were unable to get into it.

About six weeks ago a two year old bull belonging to Mrs. James Reese turned up missing. A wide search was made for it but no trace was found. Friday 6 head of cattle belonging to Adolph Hartman turned up missing leaving no traces. People are beginning to wonder if cattle rustlers are at work here.

963 pupils are enrolled in Fenton high school. There are 65 candidates out for the football team. The enrollment at Manchester high school this year is 348.

Tomato Sarcity Here Saturday

Judge Rutherford's Followers Leave Town Hurridly Saturday, Following a Tomato Barrage

For some years past the authorities in this county have been having trouble with an organization, calling themselves "Jehovah's Witnesses" head by a Judge Rutherford formerly of Boston, now living in California. This organization is opposed to all churches and their propagation of the Bible. Previous to Saturday they had visited Pinckney several times but had confined their efforts to selling their books and tracts, one of which is called the "Watch Tower". Several years ago one of their salesmen got into the home of Mrs. Erma Lewis, a widow here and refused to leave until the sheriff came and took him in charge. In Howell they made such a nuisance of themselves broad casting from a loud speaker mounted on an auto that the city passed an ordinance forbidding the operation of loud speakers without a permit. In Hartland recently they set up their loud speaker in front of a church, during a meeting and refused to leave until the sheriff came and ejected them.

Saturday about ten members of this sect showed up here in several cars, one of which had a loud speaker, and started a house to house canvass to sell their books here and in the country. The loud speaker car also went around town announcing a big meeting to be held on the square at night. About 4:00 the salesmen, half of whom were women returned and placing sandwich signs on themselves started to parade up and down the streets like strikers picketing a factory. They were ordered to leave town by Deputy Sheriff Frank Bowers and told they would be given no permit to hold a meeting here. They refused and the youth of the town directed a barrage of tomatoes at them. The loud speaker came to the rescue but was put out of commission when the tomato fire was directed at the loud speaker horn. The Rutherford's after an unequal battle fled tomato smeared to Howell where they tried to get redress without avail. Sunday the loud speaker operator and another returned here and tried to get damages for injury done to their microphone but again met with no success. They left when a crowd began to gather.

While a majority of the people here do not contenance mob violence they also believe that there is no room here for any such intolerant sect as this to stir up race and religious hatred.

THE MICHIGAN STATE FAIR

Although the Michigan State Fair this year seems to have been a very successful one the organization finally wound up with a deficit, the receipts being $150,000 under those of 1938. The revenue derived from the fair was $235,000 and the operating costs were $258,00. Harness racing seems to have been the most notable failure of the fair, the $1,500 in daily purses eating up most of the profits from other sources.

LADIES AID DINNER

The Ladies Aid Society will serve dinner in the church dining hall on Thursday, September 14th. A business meeting will be held following the dinner. All members are requested to be present as important business will be transacted.

Electrical Inspection Law Is Voided

State Electrical Inspection Law Is Ruled Unconstitutional by the Supreme Court

In 1935 the Michigan legislature passed a law providing for state inspection of electrical work, inspection fees etc. This has since been in effect with a state inspector in every county. Jack Hall, Howell electrician, refused to abide by the law and was arrested and convicted in the circuit court for violating it. He appealed to the supreme court and that body has just rendered a verdict in his favor and voiding the electrical inspection law. The court based its chief objection to the law on the fact that it exempted from inspection installations built to carry more than ten kilowatts. The supreme court also killed the ordinance passed by the city of Detroit limiting the sale of cut flowers and plants to licensed dealers. This case was appealed by the Kresge Ten Cent Stores.

According to Willard McIntyre, deputy attorney general, the state will ask for a rehearing on the supreme court decisions. It considers the licensing part of the law valuable. During the four years the law was in force about $760,000 in fees was collected from electrical companies. Whether refunds are in order is still undetermined.

He was born in St. Johns, Michigan, March 13, 1882, but had lived in Ann Arbor for the past 25 years where he has been connected with the Mack & Co. Store. On April 6th, 1906, he was married to Miss Hazel Benham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Benham of Hamburg. Surviving are his wife, two daughters, Mrs. Harold Cleavinger of Ann Arbor and Mrs. William Fogg of Chicago. A daughter, Jean, died several years ago. There are also three grandchildren, a brother, Harvey, Ely, of St. Johns and a sister, Mrs. Edward Chapman, of Howell.

Political News from Michigan Mirror

Special Session of the Legislature Is Likely As the Counties Object To Being Billed for Welfare and Relief Costs

Again the tom-toms are being beaten here for a special session of the state legislature this fall.

The reasons:

1. The new welfare act, sought by county supervisors under the leadership of Mel McPherson, has put up to the supervisors the responsibility of raising funds in excess of the state's maximum allocation. Eleven counties in northern Michigan joined to protest against the additional relief and administrative costs and to plead that due to the 15 mill limitation and the decrease in valuation of taxable property, it is impossible for said counties to accept any supplemental burdens.

2. According to the auditor general's office, the state is nearly broke and will be unable to pay the public schools more than $3,000,000 of the $10,417,000 due them this month.

Thus the familiar plaint for more money is being heard at the state capital. It urges a special session before 1940.

What Price Home Rule? Throughout Michigan today the welfare problem is still a controversial hot potato.

It all revolves around the point: Who is responsible for administration and care of the unemployed and the indigent?

Last year the supervisors, superintendents of the poor and other home rule advocates were loud in their demands for economy through localized control of welfare expenditures. Professional welfare workers were blamed for much of the high welfare cost. A referendum resulted, the 1937 act was defeated, and the 1939 legislature responded to the voters sentiment by restoring most of the responsibility to counties.

At the October session, county supervisors will select their own local welfare boards. They will designate their own director, and otherwise will administer the law through their own employees.

According to Judge Emerson R. Boyles, the governors legal advisor, additional local expenditures will be squarely up to the boards of supervisors.

That is where the hitch begins. Many counties insist that local governments are financially unable to carry an additional welfare burden. The 15-mill amendment, where by local voters may impose a tax ceiling on local governments, is generally blamed for the death of the funds.

While Governor Frank Murphy induced the legislature to authorize a

CURRENT COMMENT

Although the United States is supposed to be neutral we seem to have all the effects of war without war. Prices are going steadily upward and there are evidences of profiteering in foodstuffs, especially sugar, flour, etc. The price rise seems to extend to about everything hardware dealers druggists, grocers butchers and all others have been notified of price increases. These increases scared the buying public to such an extent that in some cities so much sugar was sold that the supply became exhausted. The reason for this according to the press is that both raw flour and sugar is controlled by speculators who refuse to release it until the price goes higher. In many places sugar is being rationed out in 10 and 5 lb. bags. Beef and pork is also on the rise which means more money for the farmer but higher prices for the consumer.

One of the phenomena is the fatalist attitude of the people towards the war. One and all express a desire that we may be able to keep out of it, but invariably add "We'll be in it sooner or later, though. 9 out of every 10 persons is against Hitler, or say so, anyway. Some wonder if their fallen arches will exempt them from military duty or if they could get exemption if married. The last war caused a regular epidemic of war marriages and citizenship and applications. This latter seems to be true now as we read that Judge Collins in his court at Corunna last week had a class of 31 seeking to be admitted to citizenship.

For years we have been hearing that the next war will be fought from the air and the warring countries will have so many airplanes that they will darken the sky. So far nothing has happened like that. Both sides have made a few air raids and dropped bombs without any great effect. So far apparently one submarine is able to do more damage than 100 airplanes. Their effect so far is mostly psychological and to inspire fear.

More and more the schools are getting to be big business enterprises with each school striving for pupils. Many schools bought buses this year to transport rural pupils and more will buy them next year. The Stockbridge bus now comes to within four miles of Pinckney to pick up scholars. They have already grabbed off most of the pupils in Unadilla township where there is no high school.

It is probable that a special session of congress will be called to amend the neutrality law. During the regular session this bill to amend it was killed in committee. The president is said to be contacting the different ones opposed to letting this country trade with the countries at war and will not call the session until he has enough votes pledged to pass the bill. A number of congressmen who were caught in Europe by the war and returned home in deadly fear of a submarine attack are said to now be willing to vote for the bill. Also the statement that failure to trade with France and England is aiding Hitler as he has a plentiful supply of raw materials while the allies have not, has had its effect. Senator Vandenberg, however, is still firm on refusal to do any business with France and England.

While all football coaches are worrying over the lack of material or the quality of it there is one coach who has no such worries of this kind. This is Coach Noonan of the prison team of Southern Michigan. He had 44 candidates out for the prison team. This squad he is to cut to 30. This is the team's third season. Last year they won 18 games, tied 2 and lost 2. On their team they had six lifers. The team played one outside game at Benton Harbor and may play at Detroit this year. Yes, Coach Noonan has little to worry about in regard to training rules or late hours for his team.

Treasury Official Discusses Our Needs Regarding Taxation

Government Wants to Know What Business Has to Say About Present Levies; Where Are We Going to Get the Revenue to Pay Our Debts.

By WILLIAM BRUCKART
WNU Service, National Press Bldg., Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON.—In these days when the menace of a world-destroying war hangs perilously overhead, it is heartening to read something or hear something that gives consideration to the problems of America and Americans. While international broadcasts were filling the air with facts and alleged facts and just plain propaganda the other night, it struck me as most significant that an official of the treasury should take time out and talk, by radio, on the general subject of taxation and the country's needs in this regard.

Undersecretary John W. Hanes, then serving as secretary of the treasury because of the absence of Secretary Morgenthau, made what a good many described as a dry speech. Certainly, most editors so regarded it, or else they thought that the European backyard fence with its mess of tomcats squalling at each other was more important. There can be no debate, of course, that the war situation requires the closest scrutiny and the calmest of nerves; but the point is that all of us hope our nation is going on over the horizon of the future, and attention needs to be given—and must be given—to our internal affairs as well as our relations with those across the seas who insist upon quarreling over the line fence.

So it was that, when Mr. Hanes made a statement concerning the need for a general reallocation of taxes, a great many people felt it to be a very hopeful sign. Now, it is always a healthy indication when an official of the federal government looks facts in the face. We have not seen a great deal of that in recent years.

But if such things are significant and valuable, how much more important it is to see an official come out of the heart of the New Deal and say, in effect, that the treasury wants to hear what business has to say about the present taxes. Mr. Hanes went further: He said the treasury wanted to hear these things in private, not in a public demonstration where the individual who has grievances about unfair taxes could be held up to public scorn. You will remember, of course, how some of the New Dealers staged a vaudeville show a year ago; how it picked out cases of taxpayers who had avoided taxes by taking advantage of the provisions of law, and how each of these was marked as an unpatriotic citizen.

Many of the Taxes That Had Been Tried Failed Miserably

If I read the speech by Mr. Hanes correctly, what he had to say was that a good many of the taxes that had been tried by the sputtering type of New Dealers have failed miserably. Of course, Mr. Hanes could not say it just that way, but he told of repeal of a group of taxes and revision of others, and in almost the same breath, he predicted the changes would aid business recovery.

The thing that is important to me in this situation is that Mr. Hanes had the courage to take a definite position for reallocation of taxes on an equitable basis—for I do not believe anyone can justify the silly structure that now is used to keep the federal government going. It can be said, moreover, that Mr. Hanes recognizes what confronts the nation in the way of revenue needs. None of us have heard very much from top flight officials lately as to how this $45,000,000,000 debt is ever going to be paid. The boys who spent the money, and had a good time doing it, are sinking to cover. They don't want to face the facts. Whatever their attitude may be, however, taxes are going to come higher, 59-cent dollar or no 59-cent dollar, and Mr. Hanes apparently was willing to tell the country the story of taxes up to this time.

Leaders of the house of representatives in the last session of congress recognized the general situation. But they were only half-hearted about it, as politicians always are when taxation is before them. New taxes don't encourage votes anywhere. But the house leaders put through a resolution authorizing the ways and means committee to start a study of the general tax problem. A sub-committee, headed by Representative Cooper of Tennessee, was appointed to do the job. And here is where the treasury got into the situation, because Mr. Hanes suggested the treasury could be of help in making the study.

Might Be Smart Politics To Undertake Tax Revision

It is much too early for one to hazard a guess as to what will be done. Next year is a year for general elections, from the President on down the line. It is rather unusual for a congress to undertake tax revision (especially upward) in advance of a campaign, but somehow I believe it might be pretty smart politics to do so next year. There is nothing to indicate that Mr. Hanes had any politics in his mind; indeed, I think the contrary is true, because Mr. Hanes has been a business man and it is unlikely that he is versed in politics. He told of the situation in a rather simple and understandable way, and when it is summarized what he said was: We have to have more tax receipts but on an equitable basis. It will remain to be seen whether congressional leaders will have the guts to place the taxes on a sound basis.

One can look over present tax laws and find so many instances where tax burdens break the back of one line of business and fall absolutely to touch another. The demagogues will tear their hair and moan about taxing the poor, and proceed to lay taxes that are hidden in a hundred articles that wage workers must have. And that is the menace of the present tax situation: hidden taxes. I wonder how many political leaders would be able to hold on to their jobs if they would tell the truth about the taxes they have concealed.

The public administration clearing house, an institution designed to aid state governments by dissemination of information regarding the various states, released a statement a few days ago that was quite illuminating as to the steps being taken in tax matters. It showed that four additional states—Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Rhode Island and New York—had enacted new taxes on cigarettes in 1939. That makes a total of 25 states now using this source of taxes. There are eight cities that have special taxes on cigarettes, in addition to state levies.

25 States Make Users Of Tobacco Pay a Tax

Now, I am not here to plead the cause of the cigarette. The tobacco industry and the tobacco farmer, I assume, are able to take care of their own problems. But how many people have stopped to think that 25 states are making the users of tobacco pay a tax ranging from one cent to five cents on a pack of cigarettes, and that the federal government takes six cents a pack (of popular priced brands) before the pack reaches the retailer in your town!

The political demagogue will harangue at length, slap his hips and wipe motion picture tears from eyes about a sales tax that "takes as much from the poor as from the rich," and vote glibly for a tax on cigarettes. Nor does he mention ever that such a tax as the one just cited—and there are many others that could be mentioned—promotes something akin to bootlegging. He will avoid saying that persons living near a state boundary will, and do, cross over to the next state and buy cigarettes and tobacco if that neighboring state does not have such a tax. He probably still talks about a tobacco tax being a tax on a "luxury" article, which makes a point of the statement by Mr. Hanes that "new conditions require new methods."

Not any one can, or ought, to say that tobacco ought to be free from taxes. I have seen no sign from the industry or organizations of tobacco farmers making such a contention. Yet, from an unbiased viewpoint, the basis established by Mr. Hanes, it seems to me there should be attention given to this type of taxation, whether on tobacco or any one of a thousand other commodities. It is a type of taxation that, for the most part, is concealed.

Where Are We Going to Get Revenue to Pay Debts?

People may ask what the alternative is. Where are we, as a nation, going to get the revenue necessary to pay the interest on this gigantic public debt of nation, states and cities?

The income tax is certain to continue. It ought to continue, because those who have incomes must carry their share, or more. But I am quite sure that every one else ought to know that he is a part of the government, too. It may be, therefore, that a general sales tax—open and above board—is the answer. Surely, it would be better than the present several hundred hidden taxes that are nothing more or less than sales taxes, and quite unevenly distributed. It would have the effect of making every one conscious of his part, and it would cause quite a few folks to stop and think before they put pressure on their state legislators or the members of congress for a new expenditure of public money. We are paying as much as thirty cents out of every dollar, now, for government. The debts are on our shoulders and must be paid, but why not have some honesty about how the money is taken away from us.

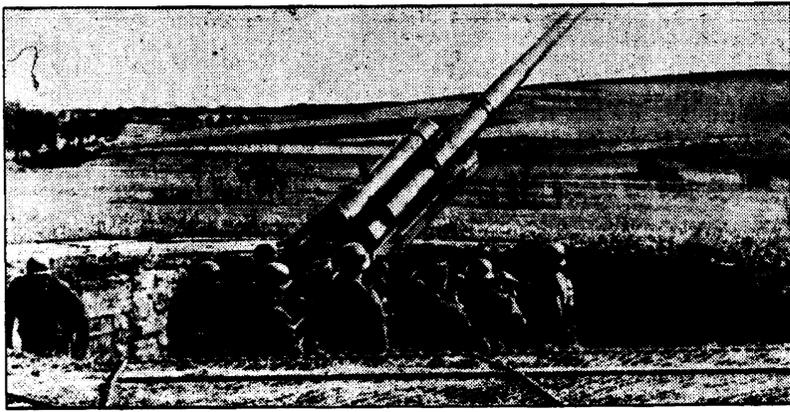

We have heard much about planning for the future, assuring security and honeyed words of that kind, and so it seems not improper to suggest that attention be given to a general program of taxation that will help in bringing about those objectives.

War Map of Europe

The above map shows nations involved in the present European struggle, with the military, naval and air strength of each of the contestants. England's navy of 2,079,963 tons is considerably greater than the combined navies of Germany and Italy, which total 541,623 tons and 717,920 tons, respectively. France's navy totals 815,331 tons, larger than that of either of the dictator nations.

France's army of 6,000,000 men is looked upon as one of the greatest armies in the world. Army officials, in answer to President Roosevelt's plea, guaranteed that French forces will not bombard open cities or civilian populations as long as enemy forces do not do so.

Evacuation of London Children

Scene at a London railroad station as many thousands of children were being taken from the city to places of more security in the country in anticipation of German air raids. The total population of the designated evacuation areas is about 11,000,000, but only about 3,000,000 of the residents fell into the first group that was moved. That group included school children, their teachers, pre-school children and their mothers, the adult blind and crippled, and invalids who were in condition to be moved.

An Amateur Decorator Uses a Curved Needle

By RUTH WYETH SPEARS

"DEAR MRS. SPEARS: Some time ago in an article you suggested using a curved needle, such as upholsterers use, for sewing heavy cord trimming in place. I found that these needles are also used in making candle wicking bedspreads and are on sale in most notions and fancy work departments. Mine has been very useful to me; especially when reupholstering an old chair. This is just one of the many useful hints I have found in your articles and books. Thank you so much for all of them.—G. H."

Here is the picture of the curved needle used to sew bright contrasting cord to an upholstered couch. It is a useful tool when you are sewing to fabric that is stretched tightly. ## TRUTH

Today's popularity of Doan's Pills, after many years of world-wide use, surely must be accepted as evidence of satisfactory results. And favorable public opinion supports that of the able physicians who test the value of Doan's under existing laboratory conditions. This is a physician's too, approve every word of advertisement you read, the objective of which is only to recommend Doan's Pills as a great, simple treatment for functional kidney disease and for relief of the pain and worry it causes.

If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove waste that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole body suffers when kidneys lag, and chronic inflammation would be more often employed. Besides, early or late, kidney inflammation may be warning of disturbed kidney function. You may suffer aching back-ache, persistent headache, swelling of the ankles, getting up at night, urinating, or pain under the arm-axils, or even, all played out.

Get Doan's Pills. It is better to rely on a medicine that has won world-wide acclaim than on something less favorably known. Ask your neighbor!

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Last Sunday's Free Press had an entire page devoted to the immorality and indecency of dancing, by Governor Dickinson. If there was anyone laboring under the impression that the governor was only 40 or 50 years behind the times, this article should dispel the fog, as it coincided with the fanatical religious ideas advanced in the days of Salem Witchcraft, though we very much doubt if the suggestive language used in this article could have gotten into print in those days or any other, if written by anyone but the governor. The fact that immorality can be found most anywhere, if you look hard enough and long enough for it, might not have occurred to the governor. However the publicity given his ideas on reform (whether good or otherwise) encourage him to greater efforts in the interest of mankind. Stockbridge Brief-Sun.

Governor Dickinson's latest warning against the (hellish brink) consists of a tirade against Boy Scouts who wear shorts. So the Scout leaders declare their willingness to put long pants on all Scouts who attend the Governor in the future. To be perfectly fair, the Governor also ought to crusade against shorts for girls. Certainly a gentleman of his age should find little interest in any legs other than the size of ham that might come from a pig's leg, or the proportions of a nice pot roast that might be sliced from a dead steer. ### DESSERTS IMPORTANT IN MENU

Desserts That Are Different

Build up your menu to an interesting climax with a new and delicious dessert!

Desserts really play an important part in the menu, and in nutrition, too.

Sweets, provided in proper amounts and in the proper place in the diet, are just as necessary to good nutrition as milk, meat, fruits, vegetables and cereals.

Plan the dessert to fit the menu—a light sweet for the close of a hearty dinner, and a richer, heavier dessert to wind up the meal that is fairly simple. Consider the weather, too, and when it's hot and humid, serve sweets that are temptingly dainty. When the temperature drops and appetites perk up accordingly, desserts may be sweeter, richer and more substantial.

You'll find in this collection of tested recipes from my own kitchen a dessert for almost any occasion.

Queen of Puddings.

- 2 cups milk
- 1 cup soft bread crumbs
- 1 tablespoon butter (melted)
- 2 egg yolks (well beaten)
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- Dash salt
- Currant jelly
- 2 egg whites
- 1/2 cup granulated sugar

Scald milk and pour over the soft bread crumbs. Add melted butter, and allow the mixture to stand 10 minutes. Then beat egg yolks and add to the mixture, together with 3 tablespoons sugar, the vanilla extract and the salt. Pour this mixture into a buttered baking dish, place in a pan of hot water, and bake in a slow oven (275 degrees Fahrenheit) for 45-50 minutes or until custard is firm.

Cool and spread with a layer of currant jelly or strawberry jam. Cover with meringue made by beating egg whites and adding sugar slowly. Brown meringue in a slow oven (300 degrees Fahrenheit) for 18 minutes. Serve hot, warm or cold.

Lemon Meringue Pie.

- 1 cup sugar
- 1/4 cup cornstarch
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup cold water
- 1/2 cup boiling water
- 3 egg yolks
- 1 tablespoon butter
- 1/4 cup lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind

Combine sugar, cornstarch and salt. Add cold water; stir until smooth. Add boiling water and cook, stirring constantly, until mixture is clear and thick. Cook 3 minutes longer. Beat egg yolks; stir cooked mixture into them. Add remaining ingredients, return to flame and cook 1 minute. Pour immediately into baked pie shell. Top with meringue.

Meringue.

- 3 egg whites
- 6 tablespoons sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon salt

Beat egg whites partially; then add sugar slowly, beating until mixture is stiff. Bake in slow oven (300 degrees) for 18 minutes.

Maple Cake.

- 1/2 cup shortening
- 1 1/2 cups brown sugar
- 3 eggs (separated)
- 2 teaspoons maple flavoring
- 2 cups cake flour
- 3 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup milk

Cream shortening thoroughly, add sugar in small amounts, creaming after each addition. Add egg yolks, one at a time, continuing to beat well. Blend in the flavoring. Sift dry ingredients together, and add to the creamed mixture alternately with the milk. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Fold gently into the batter. Pour into two well-greased cake pans, 9 inches in diameter and 2 inches deep. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for about 40 minutes. Note: This cake is especially good with a fig filling and maple-flavored frosting.

Steamed Chocolate Pudding.

(Serves 5)

- 1 1/2 cups pastry flour
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 1/2 squares bitter chocolate
- 3 tablespoons butter
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 egg
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract
- Vanilla or peppermint candy ice cream

Sift flour, salt and baking powder. Melt chocolate and butter in top of double boiler and pour in bowl. Cool slightly; then add sugar, un-beaten egg, milk and vanilla extract. Beat well. Add sifted dry ingredients and stir until smooth. Pour into top of a well-greased double boiler and steam for 1 1/2 hours. Serve with ice cream.

Graham Cracker Ice Cream.

- 1 cup graham cracker crumbs
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 2 cups coffee cream
- 1 cup milk
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract

Combine the cracker crumbs and the sugar; add cream, milk, and vanilla. Pour the mixture into the freezing container of a modern ice cream freezer; assemble the freezer, and cover. Pack with a mixture of 3 parts of crushed ice to 1 part of rock salt. Turn the crank slowly and steadily, for about 5 minutes, or until turning becomes difficult. Then carefully remove the cover, lift out the dasher, and pack down the ice cream with a spoon. Replace the cover, draw off the water, and replenish with ice and salt. Cover, and allow to harden for at least an hour before serving.

Good Old Pan Dowdy.

- 1 cup light molasses
- 1/4 teaspoon allspice
- 1/4 teaspoon clove
- 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
- 2 teaspoons cinnamon
- Apples
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 2 tablespoons butter
- Rich pastry

Combine molasses and spices. Arrange pared and sliced apples in a baking dish, sprinkle with sugar, and dot with butter. Pour molasses mixture over this, and cover with a rich pastry, rolled rather thick. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for about 45 minutes. Then cut the baked pastry top in 2-inch squares and push them down in the molasses and apple mixture. Let cool slightly. Serve with thick cream.

Suede Plays an Important Role In Wardrobe of the College Girl

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

A GAIN comes up that ever recurring problem—clothes befitting fall and winter activities, formal and informal and for all occasions in between. Campus doings, the football series, evening festivities, motoring, travel, town-wear outfits, the well-equipped wardrobe must be built around all these fashion demands. And here's the big news! Everyone of these issues is being met with fashions in suede.

Every college girl, in fact every woman who aspires to the best that fashion has to offer, should reckon, in fact must reckon, with suede as one of the factors of high importance in the assembling of a wardrobe. What leather workers, designers and style creators have succeeded in doing with suede deserves to be classed with the seven wonders of the world.

Suede has that something about it that lures you on to indulgence, especially this season when the hats, bags, neckwear, belts and countless other accessories are made of it, coats and suits tailored of it, daytime one-piece frocks, the evening gowns and wraps fashioned of it, surpass all previous showings. According to Paris cables and reports of returning buyers this is going to be the biggest suede season ever.

The fact that you can get anything you want these days fashioned of suede from sports togs to evening attire adds to its lure. Then, too, with the tang of autumn in the air comes the urge for clothes that tune to the colorful landscape and as every woman knows when it comes to rich beautiful colors there's nothing in fashion media that can surpass suede. Note the wide scope of coat and dress types expressed in terms of suede as here pictured.

A coat such as shown to the left will grace any grandstand occasion, at the same time that it flings a defy to biting winds on a frosty autumn day. This model is of duck green suede. Jean Parker, featured screen artist, wears it. Self lacing gives the hand touch to this handsome practical coat, the lacing applied to pockets, front, shoulders and sleeves. Handcarved matching buttons are used for the high double-breasted line. The demure Peter Pan collar, padded shoulders, huge patch pockets and back flare are smart notes. The flowerpot crown bonnet in wood violet suede matches the casual double pouch bag and stitched slippers.

This same screen artist also selects a dress of suede. See it centered in the group. This one-piece frock, in an adorable dahlia red, boasts patch pockets on the simple bodice with an overlay bow of matching suede. The skirt, in four sections, has a slight flare at the hemline. With this costume by Voris of Hollywood, Jean wears gloves that match her dress in exact tone, and her hat (not pictured) is a visor type of moss green suede.

The suit to the right is a likable affair. It is done in amber suede which offsets the Mojave brown of the high-neck blouse, which in turn matches the swagger hat with high crown. A copious purse of suede a shade deeper than the suit complements the ensemble.

The East Indian influence in fashion is reflected in the dinner frock of robin's egg blue suede shown in the inset. It is worn by Joan Perry. The belt is in blue and dusty pink. A sparkling massive gold bead necklace adds the finishing touch. (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Modern Swedish Ensemble for the Young Hopefuls

In contrast with the past, when only wealthy families could afford special furniture for the nursery and less fortunate children inherited hand-me-downs from adult bedrooms, is the present practice of using juvenile furniture for the coming generation. Moderately well-off families now are buying ensembles like this Swedish modern suite for their hopefuls.

Silver Fox Trim For Cloth Coats

The style prestige of choice silver fox both as a trim for the cloth coat and for the separate fur piece or stole is in nowise abating. Throughout all coat collections you see this fur used to a lavish degree. One of the newer treatments sponsored this fall is the big youthful looking sailor collar which trims many a fashionable coat in advance showings.

Whims of Fashion

Turbans this winter. Black is back as a smart town hue. Apron dresses for the flat-in-front girl. Pink, pet of the winter season in accessories. Paris openings concentrate on the importance of period styles. Lapel ornaments to match the ornament on your sports hat. Between-season frocks of rayon jersey are of a rich mauve-tinged gray.

Lovely Filet Squares

The palm, since ancient times, has inspired artists. It is no wonder, then, that this lovely square in such simple crochet uses it as a motif. A stunning cloth or spread of mercerized string—smaller articles in finer cotton—will give you handiwork you'll treasure. Pattern 6373 contains instructions and chart for making the square; illustrations of it and of stitches; materials needed.

More Taxes to Follow
blank check for welfare millions without trying to find new sources of revenue to pay for them, Governor Dickinson is said to be standing firm that any increase in the state welfare appropriation must be financed by new taxes.

If the people demand a special session and more money, the governor's legal advisor said, they (the people) must remember that by doing so they are acquiescing in having the legislature find more revenue. That means more taxes.

Where could the state scrape together $5,000,000 to $5,000,000 in new tax revenue? Chairman McPherson of the state tax commission and commission members have been at work studying the possibility of advancing the effective date of the new intangible tax from January, 1941, to January, 1940. This would mean a change in the law, and such would have to be made by the legislature in special session.

Throughout the next nine months the state government will be called up to pay $39,000,000 to local school districts. This amount will be paid in installments, if and when, the state collects revenues. Only a month ago, the auditor general's office had to resort to careful strategy to keep state pay checks from bouncing. Employees were instructed to take their checks out of the state capitol building in order the treasury could accumulate enough funds to honor payments to banks and business firms.

Diplomatic Kelly
At Washington the secretary of state is the nations official diplomat.

While the same office at Lansing deals chiefly in automobile license plates, the local incumbent, Harry F. Kelly, has demonstrated that he, too, is somewhat of an adept juggler of tough assignments. His recent trip to New York World's Fair is proof at hand, for he arrived immediately in the wake of Governor Dickinson's blast at sin in "high places which" which had made Dickinson overnight a front page character from coast to coast.

Quoth Secretary of State Kelly: "Our high estimate of his (Dickinson's) sincerity would suffer a terrific jolt if we ever heard Luron Dickinson speak otherwise. In a state where retail liquor and beer sales in 1938 amounted to close to $100,000,000 you can see that it takes courage to continue the battle for prohibition. You can see too, when you consider the volume of the state liquor traffic that there must be people in Michigan who honestly disagree with their governor.

For pure diplomacy Kelly's remark put him in the front row.
Interesting in this connection was the fact that the secretary of state was accompanied to New York City by the governor's personal publicity counsellor, Heinie Weitschat, of whom Kelly has the highest admiration for general ability as a public relations expert. Weitschat was employed by the late Frank Fitzgerald for campaign service along with Duke Shilson, now a member of the state public service commission. Both Weitschat and Shilson are astute observers of public opinion.

War Profits
The affect of a European war on Michigan's mining industry (iron and copper) would be to raise prices stimulate production, and thus increase employment.

Such was the advice given us recently by competent observers in the Upper Peninsula.

The Quincy mine at Hancock is an example. Shafts for copper have gone to a depth of 2 to 4 miles and half. Copper land lies within a narrow belt from two to four miles wide and more than 100 miles long. Michigan copper is found in a pure state, and since 1845 eight per cent of all the copper produced in the world has come from the Upper Peninsula.

Michigan's iron belt extends from Ironwood to Marquette and south as far as Norway.

Mechanization of mines has progressed rapidly in recent years. While a boom for war metals would not mean a boom in employment, it would assure steady work for everyone and undoubtedly would create some more jobs. In 1915 war-time copper production in Michigan totaled 89,821 tons; in 1935 it had fallen to 17,775 tons. That tells the grim story! Europe's war clouds may have a silver lining for Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

True Independence

WHEN Paul said (Acts 22:28), "I was free born," he spoke of his freedom as a Roman citizen's freedom that was his because of his father's citizenship. But, although the great Christian warrior valued highly the heritage of liberty that was his right as a Roman citizen, he knew well that genuine freedom is not a matter of race, color, or creed, but of individual spiritual living and demonstration of the power of God in human affairs. He said in Romans (8:21), "The creature itself also shall be delivered from the bondage of corruption into the glorious liberty of the children of God."

Materiality is bondage. Spiritual freedom is won in individual experience by putting off the old or carnal concept of man, and putting on the new or spiritual idea of man and the universe. Jesus reasoned with Nicodemus on the problem of spiritual independence when the ruler of the Jews came to him by night in a questioning attitude. The Master said, "Except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God." Nicodemus revealed his material-mindedness in the query, "How can a man be born when he is old? can he enter the second time into his mother's womb, and be born?" Then Jesus replied, "Except a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God" (John 3:3, 4, 5).

Jesus was speaking of the new birth, the salvation of mankind through spiritual living. The aim of the Nazarene's glorious ministry was to prove for all time that spiritual regeneration is a present possibility. All can, and indeed eventually must, overcome any belief in man as material. A material concept of existence, manifested in sin, sickness, poverty, death, gives place to the truth of being, accepted and utilized.

The world is greatly in need of enlightenment as to what constitutes genuine freedom. Independence is not so much a condition of environment as of thought. When Paul and Silas were in prison, bound with chains, they sang songs of praise to God. Their thoughts were not bound, although hands held them and prison walls were around them. Nothing could deprive them of their true freedom—their rejoicing in God's goodness. The natural result of their conscious spiritual freedom was release from prison.

The belief that man is material, that he lives in matter and finally dies out of matter, is a binding, limiting belief. It is not the truth of being. The real man is the reflection of God, Spirit; he lives and moves in infinite Mind. Mary Baker Eddy writes in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" (p. 475), "Man is idea, the image of Love; he is not physique." Continuing, she says: "Man is incapable of sin, sickness, and death. The real man cannot depart from holiness, nor can God, by whom man is evolved, surrender the capacity or freedom to

War! What Effect?

Since actual declaration of hostilities between the allied powers of Great Britain, France and Poland against Germany, there has been much speculation as to the effect on the United States of America. As a neutral nation we enjoy the blessings of peace in the midst of war. We will find our own economy little affected for some time to come. Naturally our foreign markets for produce will be almost closed as far as Europe is concerned, but the South American trade should improve. As the war progresses demand will increase for our supplies and surplus commodities which at present are a dead weight on our markets here at home.

Our own markets should remain quite stable and progress toward prosperity should continue without interruption.

With the individual begins to see man's spiritual freedom, he is in a state of mental bondage; but the dark experiences of sin, sickness, poverty, and despair yield to the understanding that the real man is spiritual and perfect—the image and likeness of God. Besides stating a great spiritual fact, the Master gave an arresting command in these words (Matthew 5:48), "Be as therefore perfect, even as your Father who is in heaven is perfect." Obedience to human law brings freedom in experience, as is readily seen. Traffic signals, for example, give freedom by their very restraints. So do other necessary laws of restraint provide freedom to those who observe them. Restrictions of law seem binding to the undisciplined; but a mistaken sense of freedom sought through self-will may bring about destruction. There is no freedom in the exercise of passion, in self-indulgence, in fear. The moral code, understood and obeyed, is the best guarantee of individual and universal liberty, the basis of true democracy.

The need for universal liberty is growing in the hearts of men. Divine Love has planted the seed therein, and each obedient, grateful thought aids the growth. As this growth is nurtured, human laws will become better and be more generally obeyed, and mankind will finally accept the Master's summary of the moral code as their chart of life. They will love God and keep His commandments, and they will love their neighbor as themselves. Speaking of freedom, under the marginal topic "Proper self-government," Mrs. Eddy says (Science and Health, p. 100): "Let our nation, Christian Science has the designation of Independence and God's Kingdom, a nation with inalienable rights among which are self-government, reason, and confidence. Man is properly self-governed only when he is guided rightly and governed by his higher, divine truth and love." —The Christian Science Monitor.
