Some Conclusions, Predictions, Afterthoughts as 1940 Starts

Many Signs of Awakening Lead to Optimism for New Year; Work of Labor Relations Board Criticized; SEC Weaves A Tangled Web; Too Much Federal Government.

By WILLIAM BRUCKART WNU Service, National Press Bldg., Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON.—DEAR FOLKS.—There are some things that I want to get off of my chest. Some facts, some conclusions, some afterthoughts, some predictions, just odds and ends, consequential and inconsequential—that ought to be said. The start of a new year strikes me as a good time to do it.

You folks may have disagreed with me many times during the last year. I have no quarrel about that. I, however, the product that I have sent you each week has failed to cause you to think more deeply about the problems of government, the problems of the United States, I am forced to conclude that I have not done my job very well.

The President

Confidentially, I have believed for a long time that it is up to you folks out there to do the thinking that is followed up by governmental policies. The brand of thinking that is dominant in government now has gone sour. It surely is getting us no place very fast.

I am rather optimistic about the new year, however, because there are so many signs of an awakening.

It is the kind of an awakening that causes voters to sweep out panaceas and blue printed programs. The country's trend definitely is, I believe, towards its old conservative base after aimless wanderings around in the garden of isms.

We have been pestered with fantastic phrases that have disappeared each time with the rainbow. Forunately, there were comparatively few who made or followed those preachments. Yet there were some who believed them, and all that they have left is an unhappy memory. The reason there were so few out of all the millions in America who strayed off from sound Americanism lies in the fact that the nation has grown great by restricting government to government functions.

Retrospect and Prospect New Year sets Bruckart musing. General awakening warrants optimism for future. Sees trend toward conservatism. Dies committee does a whale of a job. Finds too much federal government. Plays Labor board and SEC.

Members of Labor Board Simply Became Dictators

We have seen only recently what can come from excursions of government into fields where it does not belong. Consider what has been exposed by the special house committee in its investigation of the labor relations board. I take some pride in recording the rottenness of that federal agency, because more than a year ago I was severely criticized for saying that the labor board and the labor relations act do as much harm to organized labor as they do to the cause of the laborer. I am glad to see the sworn statements of how some members of the board and many of its employees simply became dictators; how they threatened to "get" private employers or employees who disagreed or disobeyed the federal command; how attempts were made to suppress news stories that were unfavorable to the board and the silly law under which the board operated; how representatives of the board refused to hear statements from those who were charged with violation; how one union faction was given almost complete freedom of action and another was told, in effect, to go jump into the river, and how union leaders and racketeers had played politics to maintain their dominance in legislation. And when you look through the roster of employees of the board and examine their history, you plainly see what the isms have dragged in.

Then, there is the house committee, headed by Chairman Martin Dies, Texas Democrat. It has done a whole of a job in bringing to light the inside borings of the same type of men and women that were shown to have made a farce of democratic principles as demonstrated in the labor board.

Much of SEC Rules, Edicts Seem Wholly Unnecessary

I get pretty disgusted with the mouthings of those folks who change us all over night and turn us into robots to be used by The Voice of the People and ex-issued so many rules and regulations, has entered so many decisions, has made so many investigations that appear to be wholly unnecessary that it has put the federal government in a position from which it probably never will fully untangle itself. I had quite an argument the other day over the statement that most people believe a permit by the SEC to sell a certain stock amounts to federal approval of the shares involved. Of course, I know that a permit by the commission does not give that approval. The damage is that people will be influenced by knowledge of such a federal permit. They will think the shares are good, whether they are or not.

The wages and hours division of the department of labor is another example, like the securities and exchange commission, of too much federal government.

It was bad enough to combat all of the mess made by the brand of thinkers in the labor department. The wages and hours gang strikes me as being much worse.

Frankly, I doubt that those folks know enough to come in out of the rain. Yet, they are striving to expand their power. They will bring farmers, small town businesses and everything else under the death-hand of government if they can get away with it.

Mr. Ickes must not be forgotten. He is secretary of the interior, but "Honest Harold" has not missed an opportunity in seven years to attack anybody and everybody who happened to disagree with him.

Recurring Demands That F. D. R. Give Third Term Stand

This is a year of national elections. There will be a lot of snarling as, indeed, it already has started. There was that recent incident of President Roosevelt musing into an already badly messed Ohio relief situation. Facts that situation has since developed indicate that Mr. Roosevelt criticized Governor Bricker, of Ohio, either because the President was given a lot of misinformation or because the Ohio governor is mentioned frequently as a "dark horse" for the Republican presidential nomination.

There are those recurring demands by Republicans, and some Democrats, that Mr. Roosevelt announce right away, if not sooner than that, whether he is going to seek a third term.

All that is accomplished by that sort of thing is to show definitely how foolish a politician can appear when he talks out of turn.

Such public statements demanding that Mr. Roosevelt announce are no more ridiculous, however, than the action of numerous would-be Democratic candidates for their party's top nomination when they said they are candidates "if Mr. Roosevelt does not run." That shows something, too.

It demonstrates that those who have taken such a position are cheap and are not willing to rise or fall with the tide of politics. I liked the way "Cactus Jack" Garner announced. He said he was in the battle to win, because he wanted the nomination. No mention was made of Mr. Roosevelt's possible candidacy. There were no ifs or ands or buts.

Hopes Republicans Will Soon Show Signs of Sense

And while I am taking down my hair and combing out the bangs, I wish that the Republicans would begin to show some signs of sense. But here they are: three candidates out and only one shooting straight from the shoulder. Senator Vandenberg of Michigan has been riding two or three horses at once. He apparently still has a package of liberalism in his pockets and District Attorney Dewey with one big-time speech that I could not understand. However, I reckon the speech had something in it because a lot of New Dealers made fun of it. If they had been hit, they would not have squealed. The other Republican candidate, Senator Taft of Ohio, has tangled a time or two with President Roosevelt and my guess is that he took off some White House bark because he was pretty close to the shark. But in the background are a lot of hopefuls who are sticking out their tongues, among them former Governor Landon of Kansas, who once ran against Mr. Roosevelt on a program and platform that he could do better than Mr. Roosevelt the very same things that Mr. Roosevelt was doing.

Well, anyway, folks, I think we may live through it. That is, we will survive if rural America keeps its head and uses it.

English Alliance With Indians Aided New World Conquests

Iroquois Tribe Swung Balance of Power Against French.

(Prepared by National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C.—WNU Service.)

The conquest of the New World by the Spaniards is a story of the quest for gold. The conquest of northeastern North America is a story of the rivalry of the French, the English and the Dutch for control of the fur trade.

Since furs were to be obtained only through friendly alliance with the natives, the three European rivals were not long in aligning themselves in accordance with the natural enmities among the Indians.

When Champlain undertook the colonization of the St. Lawrence region early in the Seventeenth century, it was only natural that he made friends with the Algonquians who then occupied that territory.

This alliance inevitably brought the French into conflict with the Iroquois, the hereditary enemies of the Algonquians.

What Champlain had no means of knowing was that the agricultural ough knowledge of the aboriginal tribes before they had become greatly altered by contact with the Europeans. The good Fathers found the Indians difficult subjects for conversion. The entire background and philosophy of the Christian religion differed fundamentally from the native beliefs of the Indians.

Christianity Was Incomprehensible. The basic idea of Christianity—immortality, with conduct during life determining the reward or punishment of the soul—was incomprehensible to the aborigines, who had but little thought for the hereafter and did not mix their ethics with their religion. Moral principles of good and evil were not sharply defined and the ideas of any such spirit abode as a "happy hunting ground," or an Indian hell, were foreign to native thought until the idea was implanted by missionaries.

Dreams or visions, induced by fasting or drugs, wherein he regularly saw the souls of individuals known to be dead, were ample proof to the Indian of the existence of a

English Chose Iroquois. When the English undertook to aid the Iroquois in their struggle, they allied themselves with the side that represented the balance of power.

So it came about that North America is now English instead of French. The English did not indulge extensively in missionary activities, but with the Roman Catholic French the desire to convert the natives to Christianity was a leading factor in stimulating exploration.

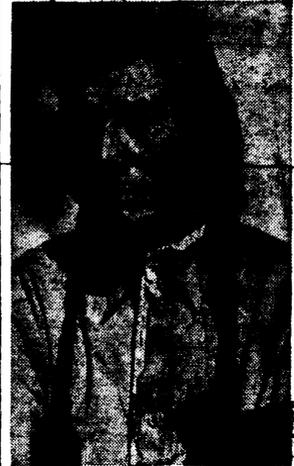

In 1615 Champlain thought the time was ripe to send missionaries into the territory of the St. Lawrence. This work was begun by the Recollets, a Franciscan order.

When it continued, the officer investigated, thinking something might be wrong. Interrupted by alcoholic hiccoughs, the driver asked how to get to Louisville. "You don't. You're staying here," replied the trooper. The driver stayed.

WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK

By LEMUEL F. PARTON

NEW YORK—The Finns are going ahead bravely with their plans for this year's Olympic games, and Urho Kekkonen, minister of the interior, crowding in Helsinki feasts another statesman in the 100-meter race, coming under the wire in 12.5 seconds. His time in a race against the same opponent 15 years ago, was 10.9. Recently, in the Trisathlon, 10 members of the Finnish parliament, some of them with a touch of frost over the ears, engaged in the 100-meter sprint, the broad jump and shot-putting events.

Mr. Kekkonen, a leader in Finnish politics since Finland gained her independence in 1917, is president of the Finnish Athletic federation and a fervent advocate and exemplar of physical fitness. When, in 1932, the Swedes disqualified Pzavo Narmi, the Finnish distance runner, as an amateur, the Finns slapped a boycott on the Swedes, and, for years thereafter, there was bickering in the Baltic, with Mr. Kekkonen out in front as a peace advocate. In 1935, the Finns refused to lift the boycott, but, under the shadow of foreign aggression, this was more or less forgotten and the sprinting statesman was in the lead for Scandinavian solidarity, in war and sports.

He helped suppress the Communist party in 1930, and with equal vigor drove against the Fascists in later years. In November of last year, the diet sustained him in his move to restrain the 373 Fascist and Nazi organizations in Finland, and their 18 newspapers, but, a month later, a Helsinki magistrate sustained his totalitarian opponents. He followed with a devastating expose of their subversive activities and had the nub of the argument when Germany made its deal with Red Russia, Finland's old bete noir. The Russians are now complaining bitterly that the Finnish sprinters, in the cabinet and out, insist on running in their direction. They seem to think it isn't sporting.

LONG before the Civil war, girls like Scarlett O'Hara were learning to curtsy and how to enter a ballroom in Athens college, at Athens, Ala. Along with news of Atlanta's grand swirl of crinoline and old lace comes word that Athens college, of prunes and prisms tradition, is putting in a big hosiery mill to be operated by the college girls. It will employ 100 students, at 25 cents an hour.

Dr. Eugene Rudolph Naylor, president of the college, thought up the mill plan and gathered funds for it. He says, "This is a liberal arts college, steeped in the traditions of the Old South, and the main purpose of this experiment is to give the students means to obtain a liberal arts education."

"And," he might have added, "silk stockings to match the education." Cactus colleges have been getting their turn in the spotlight for turning out lethal football. Dr. Naylor, an alumnus of several of them, has been working small-college innovations, of possibly greater interest and importance. He has been president of Columbia college of Milton, Ore., Woman's college of Jackson, Tenn., Logan and Athens colleges, dean of Logan college and professor at Wesleyan, and Emory and Henry colleges. He is a resourceful educator who thinks it's a good idea for girls to learn how much material and work goes into a pair of silk stockings.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S first dollar-a-year man becomes president of the $1,000,000,000 Associated Gas and Electric company. He is Roger J. Whiteford, Washington lawyer, and former general counsel for the Federal Housing administration.

It is a score for the little red schoolhouse in his home town of Whiteford, Md., named after his ancestors—a schoolhouse in which two signers of the Declaration of Independence were taught. After his graduation from West Nottingham academy, he was a high school principal for two years, at Sandy Springs and Redville, Md., studied law and began practice at Washington.

His career has been advanced in his profession, and in finance—he holds several important industrial directorates—and his dollar-a-year job is one side-turn to public life. (Continued Feature—WFO Service.)

Arrived! New Spring Fabrics; Make Your Selections Early

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

FABRIC shoppers, get busy! The fun of going sight-seeing in realms of new spring materials is on.

Did you know it's considered quite the smart and fashionable thing to make your own clothes these days? It is. As a matter of fact it has grown to be quite a hobby among women who feel the urge to create apparel individualized to themselves. You really should add sewing to your list of accomplishments. It will make your clothes budget reach farther.

If you are planning a sewing program the quickest, surest way to gain inspiration is to visit the fabric sections where it's springtime in advance. There are so many really new materials out, one has the feeling of having set forth on a pilgrimage of discovery. It's the "something different" from yester season that is ever the hue and cry where fashion holds sway and you will find this longing fully satisfied in current fabric collections.

The stunning materials that make up the three smart fashions pictured are as new as buds on tree and bush on a balmy spring day. See the plaid jersey that fashions the dress to the right in the picture. Here's a new fabric that takes you by storm. You are sure to fall in love with this jersey of bemberg rayon for it is so caressingly soft to the touch and has that sleek texture that endears because of the comfort in wearing. Best of all it is practically crush-proof and wears like iron. Ask your salesperson to show you the different color combinations in which these jerseys come. It will likely test your power of decision making a choice. The dress pictured is marvelous for going places and doing things for you can rely on it giving excellent service.

To be sure, stripes are stripes, but when the stripes are colorful yarn-dyed blazer stripes in a duvety-faced fabric with a soft satin black weave of bemberg rayon, be assured you have come across the "something different" you crave. When you see these vivid stripes in their glamorous color combinations you will vote them the prize-capturing stripes of them all. This sports material is grand to work with, tailors perfectly and is easy for even an amateur to handle. The dress pictured, center, designed for active young women, has a convenient zipper fastening—smart for resort wear.

There's no more certain sign of the approach of spring than the urge that stirs within for a new print frock. No need for the doctor to prescribe a spring tonic when a gay print begins its effective work on midwinter jaded spirits. Imagine a tonic you can buy by the yard, but you'll find the new prints just like that. Among the print winners that are ushering in an early spring you will find a newcomer. We are speaking of the new surah of bemberg rayon and silk in neat little geometric patterning. Typical of the well-styled good-looking tailored dresses in surah of bemberg rayon and silk is the model to the left in the group. (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

High-Style Gray

Comes word of the increasing importance of gray. Wool with fur, in matching gray will carry your costume to a new high in chic. The style-alert young woman pictured is wearing a smart coat of gray wool with kidskin jacket top. The picture is also interesting in another direction in that it carries exciting news about ways of wearing lowers. The smartest bouquets are attached to comes which cause you to become the cynosure of all eyes if you are in the grandstand cheering for your hero.

Black Lace High Spot in Fashion

A charming fashion has come into the "picture" this winter. It's the adorable little basque blouses that are made of exquisitely sheer black lace. You can wear this cunning lace basque over an evening dress of pastel taffeta that has a camisole top and a bouffant skirt, or you can make it serve as a blouse to wear with various skirts.

Describing a typical little mode that was sighted among a collection of modish lace fantasies, the basque of sheerest of black Chantilly lace is high-necked and has soft-styled three-quarter sleeves. There is a cunning peplum ruffle about the hips with a cascade of the same lace rippling down the front opening, suggesting a jabot held in place by a row of black velvet-covered buttons. Quaint is this model as can be and as enchanting as it is quaint.

Wear a blouse of black lace with your daytime suit of black velvet, for glamorous black lace is a high spot in this season's fashion lure.

Jewelry Fashions For Little Folks

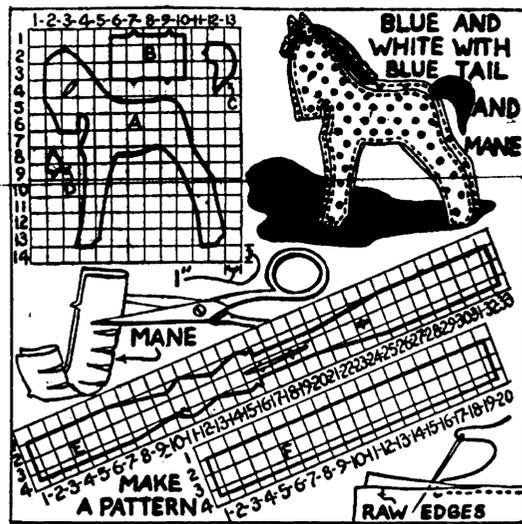

Babies wear rings again. Tiny fine gold or platinum chains with little heart lockets are also worn by the little darlings of the household. Thus another family album fashion has been revived.

Little girls adore the thought of a little wrist watch of their very own, and little boys are taking prideful joy in sleeve buttons, wrist watches and tie pins of the bar type.

Side Bustle Moving a bustle bow of shiny cire ribbon from its customary place at the center back, to a point just over the left hip, will add a note of individuality to a severe black crepe frock.

HOW TO SEW

By Ruth Wyeth Spears

A washable pony.

THIS pony may be made of oil cloth or other waterproof fabric. It is stuffed with cotton or bits of soft cloth, and is a fascinating toy for a gift or to sell at bazaars.

Rule paper into 1-inch squares; number them; then draw pattern outlines, as shown. The pattern for the body is shown at 4; the mane at B; tail C; ears D. The strip E joins the two sides of the body. The openings are for mane and tail. The projections show where ears are sewed. Cut two pieces for each ear, and the tail; sew together, padding slightly. Strip F is for bottoms of feet; and under part of body and legs.

The raw edges are sewn together on the right side as at the lower right, with heavy thread to match tail and mane.

NOTE: Mrs. Spears' 32-page Sewing Book No. 4, contains directions for making dolls; gift items for all ages; and novelties that have sold unusually well at bazaars. She will mail copy upon receipt of name, address and 10 cents in coin.

Write Mrs. Spears, Drawer 10, Bedford Hills, New York.

AROUND THE HOUSE

Do not waste cake or bread by cutting off a burned crust. This can be removed by a flat grater, and it will leave a smooth surface, instead of a jagged crust.

Prunes for Puddings.—Prunes lend themselves to almost any form of bread pudding. For this purpose it is well to soak them until the stones can be taken out easily, and then chop them.

When using soap dyes that come in cake form, put cake into soap shaker and shake until dye is right color. It will not then be necessary to strain dye.

To clean a griddle that has become crusted, put over a very hot fire and cover thickly with salt. After the salt has burned brown, the crust and salt will brush off together, leaving the griddle like new. After washing the griddle, grease well and heat before putting away.

An excellent cleaning "weapon" for kitchen utensils is found in a good-sized bottle cork. Moisten the bottom end, dip it in a powdered cleaner and rub the utensils.

To clean rubber sponges, put half an ounce of bicarbonate of soda in half a pint of water and soak them all night in this solution.

Salted meat requires longer boiling than fresh. Put it into cold water, quickly bring it to a boil, then let it simmer.

Touch of Garlic.—Rub the broiler lightly with a clove of garlic before broiling a steak.

For Dessert.—When you have a saucer of apple sauce and don't know what to have for dessert, make a one-egg layer cake, dust the lower layer with powdered sugar and spread with the apple sauce (and this is improved if a bit of candied orange, lemon or grapefruit peel has been cooked with it). Cover with the other layer and dust powdered sugar over the top.

All labor and many things not shown in the report and balance on hand in money left to carry into the New Year.

We are thankful to the Great God of Heaven for his help during the year 1939 and to all continuous contributors to the church work in the spirit, prayer, finances, labor and making out the good report for the year. Our pastor Bro. Don Patton has given to us the unvarnished word of God, and is recommended as a true servant of Jesus Christ Our Lord. Come and hear him.

A Happy New Year to one and all is our wish for 1940.

A. F. Brown, Chairman of the Board.

FAIL TO FILE OATHS

According to Supt. of Public Instruction Eugene Elliott between 300 and 400 teachers failed to file their oaths before the deadline in December last and can be deprived of their certificates. Mr. Elliott, however, stated that all oaths coming in after the deadline will be reported to the legislature who will be asked for an extension of time.

Philathea Notes

Our usual interesting lesson on Sunday, on the topic, "Friends and Foes of the Kingdom", completes another year's study on great men of the Bible. The last quarter dealt with the early years of "The Man Christ Jesus" New quarters were passed out Sunday. On the inside cover page is a very fine editorial, "Let's Take Stock".

Our first lesson, for January 7, 1940, is "The Christian's Confession of Faith", from Matthew 18:13-24. These very helpful lessons should be shared by large numbers, not only in our Philathea Class, but by 100 per cent of the other classes in our Church School.

The Pastor announced a Communion Service for next Lord's Day, the first in the New Year, also a Family Night on Monday evening, January 8th. Everybody invited to both services.

Our next class business meeting, which will be our regular annual election of officers, will be held on Wednesday p. m., January 10th, at the home of Mrs. Nelson Bussard. A banner attendance is hoped for on this first important meeting of the year.

NO HITCHING POST

PORTLAND (MPA) - When Tom Beaver parked his car and went into the post office he probably didn't even think about a hitching post. But when a few minutes later someone rushed into the post office and exclaimed that a car had just smashed a big shop window in a Main St. store, Tom had misgivings. He was right; his car had rolled a block from where he parked it, ending up in the store window.

FINDS THIRD LEG

ST. LOUIS (MPA) - While dressing a pheasant shot this fall, a local woman discovered a fully formed third leg. It was found tucked away under the bird's left wing, and was only slightly smaller than the other two.

1940 AGRICULTURAL CENSUS

Before long you will be visited by a man carrying a large piece of paper pretty well covered with questions. This man is a representative of the U. S. Department of Commerce. He is with the Bureau of Census. It is pretty big job to determine the number of people living in the U. S. where they are located, how they earn a living, how many stores and factories they operate, and how many farms they work.

The questions asked of the rural people will pertain to farming, and farming is a big business in the U. S. From this census report, data on questions such as these will be compiled. Are more farms being worked, what crops are being grown, what type of livestock and poultry raised, how is the farm land being used, and other questions that are vital to the farming industry. From a composite of these reports it will be possible to depict the entire agricultural situation as it now exists providing this schedule of questions is answered to the best of your ability.

LIVESTOCK MEN TO MEET

Arnold Fikins, president of the Livingston County livestock association has arranged for a meeting of farmers and livestock producers to be held January 11th at the Co-op Building at 2:00 o'clock to meet with representatives of the Michigan Livestock Exchange.

Twenty-five district meetings of this type will be held by various county organizations belonging to the State Association. The intent of these local meetings is to give the 17,000 members a better picture of the exchange and its services. The programs at each of the district meetings will include a talk by John G. O'Meilly, secretary of the State organization and an election of officers for each district will be held at this meeting.

The annual meeting of our Exchange will be held at Lansing on February 24th and it will be necessary for our 807 members to elect delegates to this meeting. In former years I know that the delegates have enjoyed themselves and have made material contributions to the meeting.

TRAPPING SEASON

The trapping season ended the last day of December and according to reports the fur take was considerably below that of 1938 when $50,000 worth of fur was taken in this state. War, weather, and lack of ice has been responsible for the diminished fur crop. Muskrats were the biggest part of the fur crop, 500,052 muskrats being taken last year. Calhoun county yielded most with 28,051, Branch was second with 26,790, Hillsdale third with 24,598 and Washtenaw fourth with 23,524 and Livingston fifth with 20,927.

Last year Andrew Kirtland was the champion trapper in this section with 320 rats. This year he only got half that number. Norman Miller, with about 230 had the largest take we have heard of. Some coon, mink and skunk were taken but muskrats as usual were the bulk of the crop.
