

Pinckney Eliminated at Lake Orion

Gets Away Badly in Game with St. Gertrude of St. Clair Shores and Takes One Sided Beating of 38 to 15.

A small gym floor and a zealous referee who called fouls on the slightest provocation proved too great a mental hazard for Pinckney to overcome in their basket ball game with St. Gertrude's at the Lake Orion Regional Tournament last Friday and despite the presence of nearly one hundred Pinckney fans who made the journey there to lend the moral support the local boys could not overcome these obstacles.

Pinckney got away good, Martin getting the opening tipoff and later scored a basket in the first moment of play. Then the referee got warmed up and called three fouls each on Joe Lavey and Jack Young the first quarter. They are two of the best defensive players on the team and to avoid going out of the game they had to ease up their defensive game with the result that St. Gertrude soon acquired a commanding lead, being ahead at the half 22 to 9. Bob Martin led the Pinckney scorers with 9 points, and Reynolds and Joe Lavey each got 3. Jack Young went out on 4 fouls around the half and Merlyn Lavey also had to retire on account of a blistered foot. The entire Pinckney second team was sent in in the last quarter and finished the game. They failed to score any points while St. Gertrude continued their stride.

Just why the interscholastic authorities selected Lake Orion as the place for the tournament is hard to say. The gym is shorter than the Pinckney gym but a little wider. About 1000 spectators were present which filled the place to suffocation. There are no other places it would be selected.

Of course the Pinckney boys are disappointed at not making a better showing in view of the fact that such a large Pinckney delegation Continued on Page 6

COMING OUR CHOICE BETWEEN ATHEISM AND CHRIST

Before we choose read Eph. 6:1,4 then read Rev. 22:16,21, read Mat. 16:15-18

When we build a church building we dedicate it to the Service of God through his son, Christ Jesus; and then the property belongs to him.

I see lately that someone thoughtlessly or otherwise has broken a window in the entrance to the Baptist church building and I wonder if the parents of that boy as in Eph. 6:1,4 ordered it to be done. Jesus said He would build His church Mat. 16:15,18 and Atheism, the gate to Hell should not prevail against it. We are helping to destroy the property of Christ? The church was built for people to come together to worship in; and boys and girls to go to Sunday School in and now won't all come to church somewhere and obey Jesus as in Rev. 22nd chapter, especially verses 16 to 20. What is your choice.

Respectfully yours

The Deacon

Communion Service will be celebrated on Easter, March 24 at the Baptist Church in Christ. Come and worship with us. All are welcome. By A. F. Brown

Climax Fanning Mill Operated Here in the Early Days and Did a Big Business. Building Later Was Used for Other Enterprises

We have been asked by many persons about the old fanning mill factory which operated here years ago. Unfortunately we are unable to find much data on it. Years ago fanning mills were part of the equipment on all farms. They were used to clean the grain of chaff and other impurities before it was taken to the mill or elevator. In after years threshing equipment was improved to such an extent that it did this work and fanning mills went out of circulation. In farm auctions in the past ten years we do not remember printing a single auction bill on which a fanning mill was listed. Many years ago we remember turning a crank which operated a fanning mill most of one day. The fanning mill was a box like affair about 5x4 ft. filled with screens and a fan which blew away the chaff and other impurities, the power being furnished by the crank turner.

The history of Livingston county has a very brief account of the Pinckney fanning mill. It states that in 1860 Messrs Thomas & Bates started the Climax Fanning Mill factory in Pinckney. It was located east of the home of the Debarr Sisters and was a wooden building. It really it was only an assembly plant as the gears and other metal parts were cast in the Pinckney foundry operated by Thomas McCullough and the wooden part was made at the sawmill which stood at the present site of Lucius Doyle's home and was operated by the Brokaws. According to the history of Livingston county the factory was later taken over by Thompson & Richards and later Thomas McCullough operated or used the building. Then for many years it was idle. The late Dr. C. L. Sigler, playing there while a boy got one of his fingers smashed in the machinery and it always remained crippled.

Later the factory was changed into a cider mill and seems to have operated as such for some time under different proprietors. The last ones to operate it we find were Messrs Nelson Mortenson and Geo. Judson, both now deceased. In the nineties after the cider mill had been shut down for some time it was sold to George Meabon Sr. who moved it to Plainfield and operated it there for some years. He informs us that he had a hard time getting it out of the old building at Pinckney as the roof had fallen in on top of it. Mr. Meabon later sold it to Mr. Chipman and after changing ownership several times it was acquired by Ed. Maas of Marion who is still using it or part of it at the present time.

The old fanning mill factory was torn down and no trace remains of it at the present time.

HOWARD HAINES INJURED

Howard Haines, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Abel Haines was quite badly hurt last Thursday night about 11:00 p. m. near the Ledwidge farm on M-36, two miles west of Pinckney. He was riding in a car driven by George Devins and containing Mrs. Devins and Edward Bennett. Near the Ledwidge farm they struck a soft spot in the shoulder of the road and the car went into the ditch and hit a telephone pole and was demolished. Young Haines was the only one hurt. He was taken to the Pinckney Sanitarium when Dr. Ray Duffy put him under an anesthetic and took 12 stitches in a wound extending from his right eye down into his face.

Michigan Mirror State News

Yes, in Michigan you can find: Ghost villages, rows of empty houses, spaced uniformly as though tombstones in a graveyard. Windows boarded up. No smoke from chimneys. Everywhere a scene of desolation, silent in mid-winter under a blanket of white sepulchral snow.

A year-round natural temperature of 94 degrees and 16 foot snow fences, believe it or not, less than two miles apart.

Rugged pine-tipped rocky shores as scenic as anything you can find in beautiful Maine.

Such are some of the picturesque features which we recently viewed in the Keweenaw peninsula, Michigan's most northernmost part of the Upper Peninsula which sticks out in to Lake Superior like a sore thumb. Here is a land of the hardy Finns. It is also a region where more than 8,000 persons today are on relief, where the county is able to pay only 15 percent of its welfare bills.

Unsuited for farming, this forested peninsula was once a bee-hive of mining activity with a score or more copper mines in feverish, prosperous operation.

The population of Houghton county was at one time second only to Wayne county (Detroit) for the entire state! Then came the disastrous and bitter labor strike in the twenties, opening of copper fields in the West and in South America, and finally the Great Depression of 1929-32. Ravaged by adversity, this copper country touched dregs of depression to a degree almost unknown elsewhere in Michigan. Entire train loads of residents left Calumet in one month. ### CIRCUIT COURT IN SESSION

After a one day session last week Monday court resumed to convene again on Monday of this week. A jury was selected to try Jack Sweeney of Brighton arrested on a statutory charge, Sweeney was shot at Brighton a month or so ago by Nightwatch Dorr Hartman when he resisted arrest and spent some time in the Mellus Hospital there recovering from his wound. The complaining witness is a former married woman employed at the Graham Hotel there. Kenneth Webber, former assistant prosecutor of Wayne county, represents Sweeney and Prosecutor Joe Gates appears for the People.

The appeal in the Estate of Walter Miller, deceased, of Isoco is set for trial, following this case.

Last week Judge Collins gave James Cox of Brighton 2 to 5 years in Jackson on a breaking and entering charge and Arthur Simmons a year at the same place for breaking jail. W. B. Eager of Detroit pled guilty to drunk driving and paid a $50 fine. John Burns pled guilty to disposing of chattel mortgage property and will be sentenced this week. The cases of Leslie Cole, forgery, J. K. Chamlin, larceny by conversion, were put over to the May term. Earl Bohm, charged with embezzling school funds had his probation extended two years. Lila Rawley was given a divorce from Lawrence Rawley.

Jack Sweeney was convicted by a jury of assault and battery Tuesday and sentenced to 90 days in jail by Judge Collins. He was charged with rape but the jury failed to bring in a verdict on that count. Kenneth Webber, Wayne assistant prosecutor defended Webber.

EASTER CONCERT

The Easter concert held at the high school auditorium Sunday afternoon was not as well patronized as it should have been. The band played a number of selections. This group of musicians, organized about a year ago continue to show steady improvement. The Congregational church choir also sang four numbers in an excellent manner. R. R. MacFarland sang a solo and the Misses Shirley Rockwell and Patricia Bollinger of Gregory played a piano duet. We understand that more of these concerts will be held.

CURRENT COMMENT

For some time the taxpayers have been protesting (some of them at least) that they were being exploited by the class of citizens who pay no taxes and that something should be done about it. It is claimed that this non-tax paying group have taken over the control of the country. Otto Wittwer of Seattle, Wash., has worked out a plan to overcome this he calls the "one-two" plan. It is very simple. Non-tax payers would have one vote and tax payers two. In this way those who own the country would control it. Of course in the years to come there would be amendments to this. A person paying a certain tax could be given 3 and those paying a higher one 4 and so on until you got to Henry Ford who at that rate of figuring could cast a thousand votes. No, dear reader, property qualifications for voters was tried in the early days of the country, found wanting and junked way back in Thomas Jefferson's time. It just won't work.

The spring elections will soon be here and at this time the independent voter or the person who belongs to no party looms large. His vote is eagerly sought after by office seekers and he is the cock of the walk for the time being, at least, in controls. May be you don't believe it but we can prove it. Take this township. There are probably 600 voters here. However you can cross off 100 to start with as about that number never take the trouble to vote or ever manifest any interest in any election. The vote here is usually around 500 and in presidential years a little more. There are probably about 225 Republicans and about a same number of Democrats. They seldom split their ticket to any great extent. In their mind the person who wins nomination by their party becomes sanctified and must be supported at all odds. This leaves about 50 independent or floating voters. These are the ones the office seekers must woo. They are open to persuasion and their vote goes to the candidate who will play up to them and do them the most favors. This may be in various forms. This class as a rule are not tax payers and have no church or fraternal connections which party they support usually wins and at times such as these their vote is all important.

The old school board question seems to have cropped up with a vengeance in the city of Ionia. The contract of Arthur Rather, supt. of the school expired and some members of the board wished to renew for 2 years. However the vote on the proposition was tied at 3 to 3, one member refusing to vote. In order to settle the matter, Dr. Clarence Winchell, president of the board has called a special election to vote on the retention of Supt. Rather.

Gov. Dickinson has announced that once more he will beard sin in its den and inmost recesses and watch its horrible workings by attending the annual governor's conference to be held in Minnesota this year. The governor allows that he is not much on such goings on but in order to get first hand information in his struggle with sin he must view sin himself. Also he does not want anyone to get the idea that he is afraid of the devil in his gilded surroundings. A year ago the governors blast at sin which he claimed raged uncontrolled at the governors conference in New York made the front page for him in all publications in the land.

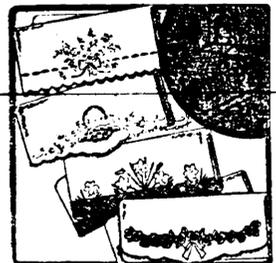

Do you get a kick out of the Finnish war news or are you becoming skeptical? About every day the press announces that the Finns have slain another 80,000 Russians, apparently without the loss of a single man as no Finnish losses are ever given. Evidently the Russians all want to commit suicide and march against the Finns for the sole purpose of getting killed. We fear that most of the war news is highly colored for American consumption.

Advocates of Public Ownership Make Real Bid for Their Plan

Group of Government Officials and Other Interested Individuals Mix 'Movement' Into National Affairs and Politics.

By WILLIAM BRUCKART
 WNU Service, National Press Bldg., Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON.—Behind the thick veil of official secrecy, a thoroughly active group of individuals is developing a broad plan of public ownership. It is using the established machinery of government and it is mixing into national politics to an amazing extent.

We, here in Washington, have heard recurring and increasing rumors of late that a new public ownership drive was contemplated by the extreme radicals nesting in the New Deal henhouse. It was a situation, however, where few details were obtainable. The leaders were making use of the veil of official secrecy that always is available for use by those supposed to be servants of the public. Suddenly, however, the magnitude of the movement became discernible. Its scope is astounding. It strikes me that it is a situation that contains elements of greater danger than did the infamous plan to pack the Supreme court of the United States.

Exposure of the group's intense effort came largely through stupidity of some of its members. Proof of the underlying motives came in the form of a sudden and slimy attack on John W. Hanes, former undersecretary of the treasury. Mr. Hanes was slated to become trustee of the gigantic, but bankrupt octopus, the Associated Gas and Electric company. Mr. Hanes has not been named as trustee, although his official record has not a blemish on it so far as has been found. Instead, Dr. Willard Thorp, economic adviser to Secretary Hopkins, of the department of commerce; Denis J. Driscoll, chairman of the Pennsylvania Public Utilities commission; and Walter H. Pollak, New York lawyer, were named.

Billion-Dollar Utility Property Was to Be 'Proving Ground'

The public ownership group wanted to swing the trusteeship for this billion-dollar utility into the hands of the Securities and Exchange commission, as might be done under the SEC law. They proposed to use this great property, so badly muddled up, as proving ground for their public ownership ideals. It was contemplated that the Associated properties eventually would be welded into TVA, and a great north-and-south system under government ownership would have become a fact.

To accomplish this program, however, it was necessary to dispose of Mr. Hanes, who favors private ownership in industry and who wants to see America retain its fundamental traditions. In due course, we were treated to publication of the views of Senator Norris of Nebraska, who was the father of TVA. I doubt very much that the aged Nebraskan knew that he was being used in the fashion that was the case. But the scheme worked and the Norris criticism that Mr. Hanes had been a stock broker smeared the former treasury official who had done more to prevent New Deal financial mistakes than most of the others.

The attack on Mr. Hanes, however, failed to get the trusteeship into the hands of the Securities and Exchange commission. The schemers failed to cover up their tracks. But, while they failed on one track,

Public Ownership?

A group of government officials in Washington are strong advocates of an extensive plan of public ownership, according to William Bruckart. And he believes that these officials are using the cloak of government secrecy to formulate their plans. The plans have only recently come to light because of attempts to smear John W. Hanes, former undersecretary of treasury.

they did succeed in getting the gravy of trustee fees for men of their own choosing—Thorp, Driscoll and Pollak. Dr. Thorp's beliefs were so contrary to sound views that only a few years ago the senate refused to confirm his nomination as assistant secretary of commerce. Mr. Driscoll's affiliations in Pennsylvania show how he has been linked consistently with nearly every wild-eyed proposal that had New Deal ownership. He was licked for re-election to congress a term or two ago and became a lame duck appointee to the Pennsylvania commission by the then Governor George H. Earle. So, while it is accepted that the gravy is important, it was much more important that the trustees should think right, according to radical lights.

Third Term for President Was in Political Strategy

Such is the picture of how the public ownership crowd operates. That picture fails, however, to disclose what is going on beneath the surface. Here is that story:

The strategy to be used, politically, contemplates that support of the payrollers, who seek to nominate President Roosevelt for a third term, shall be had for the public ownership theories in return for support of the third term program. A good political horse-trade. It is good because the public ownership segment figures that an apparent national political party endorsement will be available, or folks will be induced to believe there is such an endorsement. My information is that the public ownership crowd is counting on a repetition of conditions in 1932, when, it will be recalled, Mr. Roosevelt's political wings covered 57 varieties of political thought and theory.

Important members of the Washington group that heads up the public ownership group are placed in nearly every department of the government. They are in key positions. Whether they are influencing national policies is a question I cannot answer, but I can say they are in a position to use such influence very effectively. A decision here and a ruling there could be of vast help to such a program without there being any visible connections.

Then, as to rumors, again. We hear a great deal of gossip about some members of the Supreme court serving as advisers to less experienced agitators in the executive branch of the government. I repeat that I do not know whether these stories are true. There have been many signs indicating that frequent conferences take place, and no one denies that close ties of friendship exist between several of newer Supreme court justices and their proteges in Washington's downtown section. The rumors, therefore, are very disturbing to those of us with the old fashioned idea that the Supreme court should be an agency to serve the people in a judicial capacity and that its members should confine their activities to that field.

Advocates of Public Ownership Are on Government Payroll

The general situation becomes all the more threatening, in my opinion, when it is known that there have been numerous advocates of wholesale government management of private industry operating on the government payroll. Some of them have taken the position that the way to obtain government ownership of private industry is to get industry so far into debt that the federal government would have to assume control. That is to say, only the federal government would have sufficient credit and borrowing power to pay off the debt.

As I said earlier, many details of the snakelike operations of this gang remain in deepest secrecy. Some facts have leaked out, however, that cause shivers to run up and down my spine.

The thing that none of us here know about, definitely, is whether Mr. Roosevelt has been persuaded to adopt the program. Some of my informants assure me that it does not matter whether Mr. Roosevelt even knows about the plan, because its tentacles extend like those of a jellyfish into many hidden places. In other words, a few of the cocky leaders believe the movement has grown so large that it is beyond the President's control.

I recall that, in 1934, the public ownership group was determined to take over the nation's railroads. They had a bill drawn by which the rail lines would be bought for $13,400,000,000, that being the amount of the outstanding bonds of the companies.

At that time, there was talk also of nationalizing the coal mines and the oil wells. But Mr. Roosevelt put his foot down on the idea. He did yield numerous concessions in the direction of cutting deeper gashes into private management, but stayed away from the fatal step.

Just why left-overs should be considered the problem children of the kitchen, is a mystery to me! They're a challenge to one's housewifely imagination, of course, but cleverly combined and judiciously seasoned, they may become a distinguished dish, around which to build an attractive and satisfying meal.

If they're served as left-overs there's nothing particularly inspiring about the little dabs of vegetables that accumulate in the refrigerator. But when they're seasoned with care, combined in a smooth, creamy cheese sauce, and served in an unusual bread ring, they become a totally new, delicious and nourishing main dish for a meal. Left-over vegetables combine, too, to create "vegetables a la king," or a hearty lunch or supper salad.

Odds and ends of vegetables and meat unite to make a meat loaf of distinction, and scraps of Sunday's roast can be used to advantage in tasty appetizers or "buffet supper rolls."

Even the bits of yesterday's cake and pie contribute to the success of today's dinner. Not-so-fresh cake, served with a hot sauce, becomes cottage pudding; from dry cake slices, dried or candied fruit, and a custard, a cabinet pudding is evolved; and that quarter of berry pie left over from last night's dinner is the basis of a truly delicious "Cinderella Dessert."

Left-overs are time and budget savers—much too important to be merely heated and served as "scraps." Use them wisely and well to add variety to meals, to save time, and to cut food costs.

Of Course You Want a Copy of 'Household Hints'
 In spring a home maker's fancy turns to thoughts of crisp curtains, and clean, sparkling windows, rugs that are fresh and bright, and walls that aren't ashamed to face the light of a sunny day! That means housecleaning, of course, and all the odd jobs that go with it—what to do to make the dining room curtains last one more season, how to renovate the kitchen linoleum; or how to wash chintz window shades. You'll find the answers and other puzzling questions, in Eleanor Howe's useful booklet "Household Hints." To get it, just send 10 cents in coin to "Household Hints," care of Eleanor Howe, 919 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago, Ill. (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

By RUTH WYETH SPEARS
STUFFED toys of oil cloth or water-proof bath curtain material are something mothers have been dreaming about. Just wipe them off with a damp cloth to keep them fresh and clean.
 The Easter bunny shown here is 11 inches long. He is white, hand-stitched in heavy pink thread and has pink bead or button eyes. Make your own pattern for him by following the diagram. Rule paper into 1-inch squares; number them; then draw the pattern outlines. Cut two body pieces; four ear pieces and a 2-inch strip to be used between the two sides of the body. Interline the ears to make them stand up. Join all raw edges, as shown, leaving an opening in the body for stuffing tightly with cotton or bits of soft cloth; then finish sewing.

NOTE: Mrs. Spears' Sewing Book No. 2 contains numerous gift and bazaar items, including a doll's wardrobe; men's ties; purses; baby's bassinet; 32 pages in all.

Four men were seated facing each other in a railway coach. One of them seemed to be monopolizing the conversation. All of his talk was about himself as he told how clever he was.

This went on and on, mile after mile, till at last one fellow could stand it no longer, and without due apology he burst in upon the conversation of the boasting one. "Say," he said, "tell us something you can't do, and I'll do it for you!"

There was a moment's silence, then up spoke the chap who had been interrupted, a smile on his face: "Well, I must admit that I can't pay my fare."

made the trip to Lake Orion and helped Betty Baughn, local cheer leader in the yelling with all their might. However, the local team have gotten higher than any other Pinckney team did and with their fine trophy as Class "D" district champions should be well satisfied with season's play. The tournament competition is usually tough, Keego Harbor who has won 62 of its last 69 games in class "C" in the last three years has been eliminated in the regionals for three successive years. This year, however, they won from Clawson at Lake Orion 26 to 22 and are favored to beat St. Frederick's of Pontiac in the finals on Saturday night. St. Frederick's of Pontiac beat St. Stephen of Port Huron in the final game 34 to 26.

Substitutions - Pinckney, D. Widmeyer, LaMont, E. Widmayer, Hendee, Thorpe, Hannett, Baughn. St. Gertrude, M. Maison, Lingeman. Field goals - Martin 3, Reynolds 1, J. Lavey 1, Vernier 3, F. Of this year's team Merlyn Lavey Jack Young, Emmett Widmayer and Jack Hannett and Gayle Hendee are seniors. This leaves Bob Martin, Max Reynolds and Joe Lavey as a nucleus around which to build a team next year. The boys will all be a year older then and bigger and stronger. Some of the reserve material looks very promising and the boys should be able to start from where they left off this season. This school was without basket ball for several years and they are slowly beating back. The large delegation of local people who made the trip to Lake Orion Thursday night is gratifying. It has been many years, not since the boys were winning football championships back in 1926 that they have been so loyally supported.

Tuesday, March 18, the 4-H Clubs will hold a preliminary exhibit at the Pinckney high school. Exhibits will be shown from 5:00 on at night. The girls would like to have all those interested come, and even if you are not, come and see the work the boys and girls are doing, you will encourage your own children to join this organization.

Conservation Dept. Notes

This month is the critical time for Michigan deer as hunger stalks the swamps. In some swamps conservation men have cut trees and the deer have become so hungry that they will eat the top branches while the men are lopping off the lower ones.

Walter Hastings has a new film featuring archery. It shows the Indian method of making bows and arrows compared to the modern method, and a one reel film of Michigan archers in competition. It can be had on loan.

Clarence Deemer who left 200 shocks of corn in his field near Bendon in Benzie county has entertained a flock of 200 geese all winter.

Vermontville will have a maple sugar festival on April 15 and East Jordan will crown a smelt king on March 30.

Corn is the best food for pheasants and quail. Pheasants also eat ragweed, lambs quarters, red root and burdock.

The $2,224,284 fish harvest for commercial fishermen last year shows a decline of Great Lakes fishing for several years since 1935 particularly in whitefish. Trout continues to be the most valuable with herring next and pike perch third. Saginaw Bay is the best fishing grounds.

Applications are now on file in the conservation office for 30,000 pheasant eggs. They will be distributed about May 15 to 4-H clubs, future farmer clubs, sportsmen and farmer clubs and private individuals. Not more than 500 will be given to any one group.

Between 8,000 and 9,000 acres in this state will be planted to forestry this year.

Because of impending exhaustion of timber supplies, in the next 15 years there will be work for only 8 sawmills in the state according to an estimate.

Game county reports an abundance of rabbits and foxes along the Saginaw border where there are many wooded areas.

300 pheasants are wintering on the new Prairie Farm Reserve near Howell.

Game trapping season opens at 10 o'clock until April 10. A license is necessary. Last year 2,000 trappers took 6,422 beaver.

The accident statistics for 1940 have recently been released.

Motor vehicle accident fatalities numbered about the same in 1939, as in 1938-approximately 32,600.

Home accident deaths went from 31,500 in 1938 to 32,000 in 1939, an increase of about 2%.

Approximately 8,800,000 persons received non-fatal injuries in accidents during 1939.

The year's economic loss due to accidents was about $3,300,000,000. This includes wages lost, medical expense, the overhead costs of insurance and property damage in motor vehicle accidents and fires.

These are staggering totals, showing how important it is that all of us pay more attention to the accident prevention problem.

Philathea Notes

About fourteen members and friends were present in class on Sunday to share in the helpful presentation of the lesson by Mrs. Elliott. The need was stressed for meeting great crises and suffering in the same spirit Jesus did. "Thy will, not mine, be done."

Next Sunday, Palm Sunday, should see all of our members in class, and at church for communion. The subject of our lesson is "Calvary" Triumph Through Sacrifice" Matthew 27:38-50.

The class is meeting this Wednesday p. m. at the home of Mrs. P. H. Swarthout for business and fellowship.

On Wednesday evening again the Lenten service will be held with message by the pastor and on Saturday afternoon instruction for the children.

EXAMINATION IS AGAIN ADJOURNED

The examination of Hymen Levinson, editor of the Farmington Enterprise and Martin J. Laven of Brighton scheduled for last Friday has again been adjourned for the third time, this time by request of Attorney General Bead who is apparently not satisfied with the efforts of Prosecuting Attorney Dick Foster of Ingham county who has been handling the case. Foster when interviewed by the press stated that he had not asked the attorney general for help but that the latter had the power to do so if he desired. Read said Assistant Attorney General Kenny would handle the case but as Mr. Kenny is tied up in the Detroit graft cases it may be some time before he is at liberty. March 22 was set as a tentative date for the examination on the charges growing out of the Oakland county tax sale advertising in 1938.

OWNS OLD SKATES

Charlotte (MP) - Fifty-four years ago a man bought a pair of ice skates to this country from The Netherlands. Today his son, S. W. Stremeler, is using them on skating rinks in the vicinity. They have a wood base with steel runners, and are fastened with leather straps.

Vicksburg (MPA) - When winters snows forced closing for a few days the Mattawan high school, they were notified of re-opening of classes in a novel manner. Instead of being called by a school bell, a Kalamazoo radio station broadcast word that sessions would be resumed.

Plain Twills, Checks, Plaids Are 'Top' Wools for Your Suit

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

AS A starter to the new spring wardrobe one can make no better move than to invest in a stunning suit tailored of the perfectly gorgeous wools that are bringing glory to the fabric realm this season.

Whipcords, twills or wool crepe in navy blue is outstanding suit news for spring. Navies with white lingerie accents are having a stupendous success.

A characteristic feature of tweeds this spring is that they present a finer, smoother texture and are lighter in weight. Their colorings take on new lure.

This idea of wools in "families," so to speak, is being promoted throughout current suit styling. Suits of color-related and weave-related wools go so far as to give you a skirt done in tweed, topped with either a flannel or wool jersey blouse in vivid color contrast.

Japanned trays may be cleaned with a mixture of vinegar and powdered whiting. Apply with a soft flannel, wipe off with a clean cloth and polish with chamolis.

If mayonnaise curdles in the making, add a few drops of cold water to the curdled mixture.

To loosen dirt on linoleum add a few tablespoons of kerosene to the water with which it is to be washed.

Energy Saver.—Keep a dry mop and duster on each floor of your house thus saving time and energy where cleaning.

Burnt Privet Hedge.—If your privet hedge should be accidentally burned during cleaning do not dig it up. Cut it back almost to the ground. New shoots will spring up and in another year you will have a fairly good hedge.

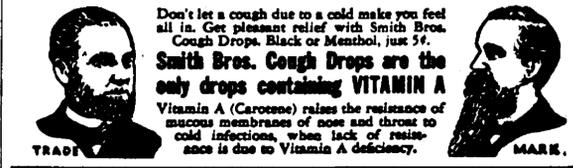

Suggested Dishes.—Hang a slate and pencil in your kitchen. Let the various members of the family jot down the dishes they would like to have as they think of them. At the end of the week you will have enough suggestions to plan your coming week's menu and please the tastes of all.

"You Can Too!" Prize-winning flowers! People all over the country are growing them from FERRY'S SEEDS.

Pocket Belt

Pockets, pockets everywhere, and style at high tempo in every one! Straight from Paris to America sweeps the pocket fashion, and presto! the pocket rage is on.

Collarbone Accents Go in for Whimsy

You're going to have lots of fun this spring with the collarbone accents—this year's name for what used to be called lapel gadgets. You can wear them on the lapel of your new spring suit or set them near the collarline of your frock (winter or spring).

Black With Color For College Wear

Black frocks with accents of bright color are excellent selections with which to replenish the college girl's wardrobe at this time of year. Some, made of heavy black crepe, have wide, flared skirts with shirred border details around the hems.

Background Dress Is Best in Colors

Because they combine with so many other fabrics, satins or smooth-surfaced crepes seem to be the most successful materials for the background dress for evening wear. With a satin background dress one can wear jacket or bolero tops in crepes, wool, velvet, fringes, feathers, marabou or beads.

We Deliver at all Times

The Michigan Mirror
 other industrial centers there are today literal "colonies" of former Houghton county folk who departed not from choice but from dire necessity.

Such is some of the remarkable background of a region that is as far to the north as Quebec, Canada. Recovery Road

Undaunted by reverses, Houghton and Hancock (separated by only a bridge) are steadily recovering economically.

They are looking forward optimistically. Here is the picture as we found it a week or so ago.

While the iron ranges near Marquette, Iron River and Ironwood are enjoying good times due to war demands, the copper mines of the Keweenaw range are having difficulty in competing with open mines in Arizona, Montana, Chile and other points.

The Quincy mine at Hancock, for example, has sunk its main shaft to a depth of 9,100 feet! It is the deepest mine in the United States. Underground at that low level the temperature is 94 degrees the year around, winter and summer. Above ground are 16-foot snow fences.

When miners are lifted in cars at a 45 degree angle, they emerge into the daylight like men coming out of a Turkish bath.

Working nine hours a day, they drill through solid rock, blast out the copper ore, and place it into elevator cars which are lifted by long steel cables to the surface.

The Calumet and Hecla Mining company last fall employed 147 men underground, 1,194 others above ground. The smelting works and reclamation plant operate at Lake Linden; the mine is at Calumet.

But the total number of miners employed in Houghton county, according to the last state report, was 3,099. This is a mere fraction of the army of yester-years. Hence the shut-down mines, deserted villages. College Boom

Where copper mining is sluggish because of unfavorable competitive conditions and the current price of copper (protected as it is by a 4-cent tariff), the Michigan College of Mining and Technology at Houghton is enjoying a boom.

Together with a steady growth of the tourist business, the college has contributed substantially to the recovery of this copper area.

Although 5 per cent of Michigan's population is in the upper Peninsula this northland college has doubled its student enrollment during the past five years. In that respect it has duplicated Michigan State College's remarkable record, identically the same. The major sport is hockey; the University of Alaska team flew down two years ago to take on 'Tech' in a series of games.

Today, one-fifth of the student enrollment is studying mining, although the college of mining has a world-wide reputation and is far better known outside of Michigan than within it. Among its graduates is William Hannold, Los Angeles, mining partner of Herbert Hoover for many years.

In August, 1935, Grover C. Dillman assumed the presidency and the expansion continued its natural momentum. The most recent course, added to a list including metallurgy, mechanical engineering, civil engineering, electrical engineering, chemistry and chemical engineering, is that of forestry.

"Within 200 miles of Houghton lie 50 per cent of all the national and state forest area of the nine states in the central region," explained President Dillman.

Climatical Benefit
 There is a climatical stimulation of this northland country that is highly beneficial.

With the natural advantages of forests and rugged hills and the haunting "Frontier" appeal of ghost mining towns, the Keweenaw peninsula is rich in tourist possibilities. Brighter days are sure to come to this northernmost land in the Upper Peninsula, the worst hit of all during a long depression.

1000 words in length on a subject connected with the Detroit Huron Clinton Park and Parkway Project. The contestant may choose his own title as, "What the Detroit Huron, Clinton Park and Parkway Project would mean to this county, to this High School to Me, or he may select some one of the proposed recreation developments, such as beaches, trails camps, parkways, etc.

All essays must be in by June 1 or earlier as the individual school may determine. The winning essays in each school will be sent on to the county contest and the county winners will be allowed for the grand prize of the five-county area. The winning essays will be printed in the papers, with public presentation of awards in most cases.

Essays will be judged on the information they contain, their public interest, their literary quality and their originality. Personal experiences and local studies related to the project will be taken into consideration. Photographs and drawings may help. Essays should be written on only one side of the paper and should be typewritten when possible.

Judging the essays in each school will be in charge of the school faculty with such outside help as they may care to enlist. Each county will be judged by a special committee, and a central judging committee will select the grand prize winners from the winners of the county contests.

Contestants are urged to watch the newspapers, listen in on the radio for talks on the subject and to consult their teachers, parents and friends. If they can pay visits to sections included in the project, such as the Edward N. Hine's Parkway on the Rouge below Northville and others, it will help.

According to the provisions of the bill, Public Act 147 of the 1939 Legislature, the citizens of the five counties are to vote on the project in November of this year. If the five counties or any two adjacent counties vote in favor, a metropolitan district will be established over these counties.

While this is called a competition its real purpose is a study of the act and the area, topics admirably adapted to class work in civics and in English.
