SIGLER - SANBORN

The marriage of Dr. Hollis LeMoyné Sigler of Howell and Miss Laura Marie Sanborn, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Mark F. Sanborn of Battle Creek, took place at a quiet service at 4 o'clock Wednesday, April 3, in the First Baptist church in Wilkes Barre, Pa.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Charles Roush, pastor, in the presence of members of the immediate families.

The bride wore a navy blue crepe redingote with a small navy straw sailor and a shoulder corsage of white orchids. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Richard Dale of Wilkes Barre who wore pastel blue crepe and shoulder corsage of gardenias. Richard Dale was best man. A buffet supper in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Meixel followed, the places being marked for 12.

Mrs. Sigler has been complimented with a series of teas and dinner parties in Wilkes Barre.

Following a three week's stay at the Cloister Arms hotel at Sea Grand Georgia, Dr. and Mrs. Sigler will return to Howell where Dr. Sigler, who is the third generation of medical practitioners in this county, enjoys a large practice-Liv. Co. Press.

Local Industries of the Past

The Early Blacksmith Shops Were Important Cogs of the Life of the Pioneer Villages and Played a Big Part in the Development of the Community.

The old time blacksmith shops have now pretty well disappeared which is a pity as there was romance connected with them and many of the grown men of the present day spent hours in the dim past watching the sparks fly from the anvil and the doughty smith handling the unruly horses. Longfellow even wrote one of his best poems about the village blacksmith and many famous artists have made paintings of these artisans.

It was a noble and respected calling. Wm. McPherson, the founder of the McPherson family at Howell came there in the early days as a blacksmith. Afterwards he became a banker and merchant. A. D. Crane was one of the first blacksmiths in Dexter. He afterwards became a lawyer and served as circuit judge for many years.

Now a blacksmith is thought of chiefly as a shoer of horses. But in the old days he was far more than that. He was a skilled artisan and turned out many other things on his anvil besides horse shoes. Among the articles we have seen made by the old time blacksmiths in our day were fish spears, iron sleds, wrenches, chains, hinges, shelf brackets, iron bands to go around chimneys, and many other articles now found on the shelves of hardware stores. These were all heated in the forge and pounded to shape on the anvil. They also made iron parts of wagons and carriages, set tires and did general repair work. Moreover, many blacksmiths knew the secret of tempering steel and Peter Madden made butcher knives of old files so sharp that you could shave with them.

Of course the bulk of the blacksmith's work came from shoeing horses and keeping the wagons and carriages used on the highways in running order. This was before the days of the auto and horses did all the transportation work on the highways. These animals had to be kept shod the year around. In the winter it was necessary to put caulk shoes on them and on an icy morning the blacksmiths were usually swamped with work and had to get extra help to shoe the many horses brought in to them. In the early days they also

HAS MANUSCRIPT ACCEPTED

Miss Helene Fiedler has received word from the Columbia University Press, that her manuscript on creative writing has been accepted for publication.

The work will be published in a pamphlet style sometime this Fall. It is designed to be read by teachers as a guide in developing creative writing in elementary grades. The title of the first pamphlet is "The Development of an Eskimo Plan."

She is now working on another manuscript which she hopes to have ready for publication in the near future.

Miss Fiedler graduated from the Pinckney High School. She attended Marygrove College in Detroit and received a teaching certificate from Michigan State Normal College in 1933. She has had a position with the Monroe Public School system for several years. Last year she took the year off to get her B. S. degree. At the present time she is back in Monroe.

HAD GANGSTER TIEUPS

Gerald Patterson of Lansing arrested for drunk driving after an auto accident in front of Bud Barker's Cocktail bar last Tuesday pled guilty when the charge was reduced to drunk on the highway and paid a $5 fine. He is an escaped convict and we understand was taken back to Jackson for parole violation. His companion, Mrs. Berna Nelson, 25, of Detroit, who was seriously injured in the wife of a man now serving time in Jackson prison.

Mrs. Nelson recovered quickly from her injuries and was released. The state police questioned her for several hours but she seemed to reveal anything about the notorious Hillman gang of Detroit, with which she is said to be connected. Her brother is also serving time at Jackson. Gerald Patterson was sent up for the Pottsville robbery. He turned states evidence and got off with a light sentence.

RHETT BUTLER KNEW HIS HORSEMANSHIP, AND SO DOES CLARK GABLE!

Clark Gable proved that is he ever gets tired of romantic leads he can sign up as a hard-riding western star.

Assigned to "sit out" a scene on a spirited black horse, Gable found the animal feeling too good to stand still. So, before the next take was ready, Gable galloped his steed up the road and gave it such a workout that it was glad to take a rest while the picture was being shot.

The riding part was that of Rhett Butler, in "Gone with the Wind", David O. Selznick's Technicolor production starring Gable, Vivien Leigh, Leslie Howard and Olivia de Havilland, and currently showing at the SYLVAN THEATRE in Chelsea, Michigan.

The horse is a registered thoroughbred, formerly exhibited in mid-western shows under the name of Alexander Twigg. Since Alexander was sold to B. B. Tucker, of Fort Worth and Los Angeles, the animal was given a screen name — Black Chief, under which it has appeared in several motion pictures.

Black Chief, or Alexander Twigg, was formerly the property of R. G. Adams of Odebolt, Iowa.

Another famous horse used in "Gone with the Wind" was "Hi-Yo" Silver, ridden by a prominent Western star.

Jehovah's Messenger Is Acquitted

Religious Sect Member Is Cleared of Assault and Battery Charge at Howell After a Jury Trial

For several years past a religious sect known as "Jehovah's Messengers" have been causing much annoyance in this county. They have been ordered out of Pinckney, Howell and Brighton and Howell even passed an ordinance directed at their distribution and sale of pamphlets.

They seem to be well financed and in some cases have forced their way into homes to sell their books or to play phonograph records pertaining to their belief. Some years ago the sheriff had to be called to get them out of the home of Mrs. Erna Lewis in Pinckney. However, in spite of this, they continue to return to this county. Some time ago a member of this sect, Garfield North, 41, of Detroit got into an argument with Claude Jones of Howell while selling pamphlets and scratched Jones' face.

Jones had him arrested for assault and battery and North demanded a jury trial. The case was tried at Howell in the court house last Friday before a full house, many members of the sect coming out from Detroit to lend moral support. Prosecutor Joe Gates appeared for the people and an attorney named Brown from Detroit for North. Some trouble was experienced in getting a jury but at length it was agreed to try the case before a five man jury. Justice Pardee heard the case. The jury was William Dilloway, late of Pinckney, foreman, John Metz, Arthur Hagman, Clifford Losee, Elmer Van Buren. The sect maintained that no crime had been committed. The jury after being out a short time brought in a verdict of "Not Guilty". This caused much rejoicing among the members of the Jehovah's Messengers present.

Pinckney had a setto with this sect last fall and settled the matter without going to court by aid of a few bushels of tomatoes. Other places have also had trouble with them. Ann Arbor had to fight a case against them in the supreme court and so have Pennsylvania and Connecticut.

CONFIDENCE MAN OPERATED HERE

A confidence man operated here Monday and victimized one place of business and attempted to another. He entered the Kennedy General Store when the proprietor was absent and endeavored to collect for a quantity of aspirin tablets which he claimed had been ordered. When the clerk asked to see the order slip, he left hurriedly. Later he went to the Hi-Speed Station and collected $4.50 for a box of articles he claimed had been ordered. Fritz Gardner, the boss was out at the time, and he collected from the attendant. When Fritz returned he denied ordering any goods. The goods left proved to be of an inferior quality. We understand the license number of the car was obtained.

Whether this man had any connection with two men taking subscriptions for magazines is not known. They were also working the town Monday.

LAW SUIT HERE FRIDAY

The suit of the General Exchange Corporation versus Mrs. Eva Cass was tried in the court of Justice Jesse Richardson at the town Hall Friday. Last September a car driven by Clifford Harter of Milford collided with the Twin Pines Milk truck driven by David Tuck and owned by Mrs. Cass. The collision took place at the intersection of M-36 and the Winans Lake road, east of Lakeland. Harter was insured in the General Exchange Insurance Corp. and Mrs. Cass in the Wolverine Insurance Co. William John Beer of Pontiac represented the General Exchange Insurance Corp. and Don Van Winkle of Howell the Wolverine Co. No jury was called. Justice Richardson gave the General Exchange Insurance Corp. a verdict for $300 and costs.

CURRENT COMMENT

The coup in Scandinavia pulled off by Germany last week crowded all other news off the front pages and off the radio as well who returned to the hour by hour broadcast of war news started last September. However most of their news was conjecture as little news of importance trickled through from the war zone. The press seems to think Hitler pulled a fast one and wonder why Chamberlain and the French were so dumb as not to see it coming. The cautiousness of the Allies is proverbial. They know they can lick Hitler but they do not want to pay the huge price it will cost in lives and money so they are relying on time as an ally. Just what they will do in the present case is anyone's guess. So far they have contented themselves with sending their navy to Norway. Whether they will follow with soldiers and land forces is a question. In the cases of Poland and Finland these countries were left to their own fate. However the seizure of Scandinavia by the Germans threatens Great Britain's control of the seas.

More and more it looks as if Tom Dewey, the New York Glamor Boy, will be the Republican standard bearer this fall. Senator Vandenberg of Michigan who disputed his way in both Wisconsin and Nebraska was trimmed to a finish by the New Yorker in both contests last week. Dewey also won in Illinois but here for some reason Senator Vandenberg was not entered in the presidential primaries. Senator Vandenberg is beginning to puzzle his friends by his method of campaigning. Apparently he has no organization or no financial backing. Dewey stumped both Wisconsin and Nebraska and had an efficient organization in both states. Vandenberg did not visit either state and with the exception of some radio speeches made for him by friends of his in the senate made no campaign. Many are wondering if his candidacy like that of Vice President Garner is synthetic and if he is merely the spearhead of a "Stop Dewey" movement. In the meantime a "Dewey for president club" is being formed by the Shiawassee county residents and they expect to swing the state to Dewey if Vandenberg withdraws. Dewey now has 188 delegates pledged to him.

For some time past the press and prominent men have dined into our ears that the only way to restore prosperity was to lower the tax on industry and raise it on the middle classes and the poorer classes. Prof. Frank, formerly of the Wisconsin University went into a huddle for three years and came up with the same theory. The theory is that industry untaxed and unfettered by laws will soon put the idle to work. We doubt it. Industry was practically unfettered for 30 years up to 1932 but they failed to perform any miracles. The theory that shifting the tax burden from the rich to the poor and middle classes is the cure-all is bunk.

Life for Frank McKay is just one vindication after another. Recently The Grand Rapids Association of Insurance writers preferred charges against him for unethical conduct in obtaining insurance business from them. They alleged he was doing business for a company not licensed to operate in Michigan. They appeal to John G. Emery, state insurance clean bill of vindication. He found no law violation on McKay's part but stated he did not go into the moral or ethical side of the transaction. This was up to the insurance association, he added.

Fire ends the strange life of the "Witch of the Osarks". Hundreds beat a path to glimpse the future or to seek help from Old Jeanne Wallace who had an astonishing gift for solving other's problems but not her own. An unusual illustrated feature in The American Weekly, the magazine distributed with next Sunday's Chicago Herald-American.

Philathea Notes

The class is meeting this Wednesday afternoon at the church parlors for its quarterly Missionary meeting and cooperative supper.

An instructive class session was held on Sunday with Mrs. Elliott in her place as teacher. The Bible study aim was to get 'Hosea's vision of a Holy God who forgives much because He loves much'.

Next Sunday another interesting lesson centers about the subject, 'Micah's Vision of Peace' Micah 4: 1-5 and 5: 2-5a.

The What-ever class are holding a bake sale on Saturday forenoon in the telephone building and all are invited to contribute.

Everyone invited to our helpful church services.

Elrton - Breaking a basement window thieves recently stole a quantity of Lincoln pennies which members of a church society had been saving for a missionary offering. A small log cabin, used as a bank for the pennies was smashed by the robbers.

Sandusky - An insect rarely seen in Michigan, a banana spider, was found recently by A. H. Laureen. Placed in a jar to preserve it for display, the spider in a short while produced many offspring.

WHO OWNS THIS BANK?

You probably know the answer, yet it's one of those simple obvious facts that are often lost sight of. The stockholders who own this bank are your neighbors and ours—average citizens who take part in the home, social and business life of this community. They invested their money in our capital stock because they had faith in the community's future, and in the progressiveness of their fellow men. Often the money they invested was part of their hard earned life savings. This confidence on the part of our stockholders who in turn enjoy the confidence and respect of many others, is a good will-building force which we value highly. To quote a familiar saying it means that we are "of the people, for the people and by the people."

SOIL IMPROVEMENT PAYS FARMERS BIG DIVIDENDS
NINETY-ONE cents out of every dollar which the manufacturer of commercial fertilizer receives from the sale of his product is used to defray the costs of producing that fertilizer. The remaining nine cents has to take care of taxes and insurance, of depreciation of the factory and equipment, of interest and profits. A survey of the cost of producing mixed fertilizer in representative plants throughout the United States revealed that of each dollar received by the producer at the plant, 67 cents went to pay for materials. Labor costs took another seven cents and other direct manufacturing costs took 17 cents more. All things considered, commercial fertilizer is about the lowest priced commodity the farmer buys.

Notes

A five year low level for lakes and streams of northern lower Michigan exists. This is due to the drought years of 1930 and those following.

Whether the war in Europe will affect the Michigan tourist business is the big question. The world war did. All fishing licenses showed a big increase in numbers last year. The best beaver pelts are 65 inches long. The smallest 35 inches. The average price being paid is $18.

Snow is still 3 feet deep in the upper peninsula and the beaver trappers are using dog sleds. 31 sharp-tailed grouse, live trapped in Canada, have been planted in Michigan near Alpena.

Hastings will hold its third annual bluegill festival from June 28-29. 50 otter carcasses have already arrived at conservation headquarters. Trappers may take 2 otter in each of 24 counties.

Light trailers that will tow at high speed behind cars and carry 25 men will be used in fighting fires this year.

Perch runs on the Pine River east of Standish are reaching their peak. 800 anglers took 1000 lbs. of perch here since April 7th. Deer starvation in over-browsed area is believed to have been average for last winter.

A total of 1,568,590 fisherman and hunters in 1939 paid in a total of $1,639,850 in fees according to figures just released. Reforestation on suitable lands in the Fenton Farm project which includes the townships of Dearfield, Tysons, and Hartland in Livingston county will coincide with the soil conservation project.

145 more trappers were licensed to take beaver in 1939 than in 1938 but the total take of pelts was 1,228. With the Michigan water table

RURAL MUSIC PROGRAM

"Music for every child; every child for music" is the slogan of the rural music extension program conducted in Livingston County. This project is in its eighth year due to the splendid cooperation of Miss E. Alma Sharpe, Commissioner of the schools and her staff of one-hundred four rural teachers.

In 1939, a man had the vision of all boys and girls in one-room and small village schools having access to the world of music. This man was the late Lewis Richards, head of the Music department of Michigan State College. Through his efforts and perseverance the vision became reality. While not all counties of Michigan have the music program, yet there is an exceedingly large group of children and teachers who are permitted to participate each year.

In Livingston County alone, approximately one-hundred teachers and 1400 children receive direct music supervision. Of this number, some seven-hundred appear in the Spring festival of songs and folk games. This year the festival will be conducted in the auditorium and the gym of the Howell Public School, on May 18. Miss Elsie Thrasher of the Music Staff of Michigan State College is the director. Mrs. Ines Musson, supervisor of music in rural schools of the Hartland Area is the accompanist.

PINCKNEY LOSES TO BRIGHTON 5-3

Pinckney had opening game at Brighton Tuesday. Through a mix-up of schedule: Brighton was forced to play a double header with Webberville. The Pinckney game went only five innings. The local boys showed some promise but the old jinx of error caused too much trouble. Ken LaMont, catcher, made 5 errors allowing 4 runs. Peach Palmer playing his first game at second has the honor of getting the first hit of the season for Pinckney. Jack Young pitched winning ball allowing only 2 hits, walking one and striking out three men. Alex Chanyi pitched his first ball Tuesday by striking out 1 allowing no hits and no walks in one inning. If the boys can eliminate the errors Pinckney should make a good showing this season. This Friday the Pinckney boys play Hartland there. Next Friday April 26th, the opening home game here with South Lyon.

INDUSTRIES OF THE PAST

shed oxen. The oxen were put in a cradle and lifted off the floor to be shed. When western horses were brought here from the plains many of them were so wild they had to be roped and thrown before they could be shed.

Just who was the first blacksmith in Pinckney we cannot say as no early history gives his name. However when Prof. Kirland established the town in 1835 he had a blacksmith shop. In a writeup in 1870 four blacksmiths are listed. They are: Dan Richards, who also made wagons. His shop was the one back of the Hi-Speed Gas Station, Samuel Sykes & Son had a shop where the National Doorcheck and Mfg. Co. is located. They also made carriages and wagons and Wm. Bert-whistle worked for them. He was a brother-in-law of Samuel Sykes. Deacon Noble had a blacksmith shop near where the Pinckney Sanitarium is located and Christian Brown just north of the Baptist church. The Richards shop is the only one standing and this was not the original shop as it was built in 1889 to replace one destroyed by fire.

These four were followed by a great many other blacksmiths, including the famous Barney Lynch who guaranteed to shoe horses so they did not "strike" or interfere. Neit McCullough was also a blacksmith and so was Gus Smith, Charles Henry, Emil Brown, A. H. Flintoft, Fred Alexander, Derrick Knickerbocker, James Ball and I. J. Kennedy, now sheriff of this county.

The auto and truck put these artists out of business as most of their custom came from the road horses and vehicles. The big foundries also were able to produce shelf hardware cheaper than the blacksmith could make. It now very few of these craftsmen are to be found working at their trade as many tractors operate on the farms and the farm horses require little shoeing for the work on the farm.

BLIND HORSE PICKS FERTILIZED PLOT FOR BETTER GRASS

Expans South Is Advocate of Pasture Improvement.

GEORGETOWN, OHIO.—Believe it or not, a Brown county farmer owns a blind horse that can accurately pick out the part of his pasture that has been fertilized.

Now the sightless equine sleuth accomplishes this feat was described by G. E. Pulliam, county agricultural agent here.

Mr. Pulliam assisted several Brown county farmers in laying out pasture improvement demonstrations last season. After the grass had time to respond to the fertilizer treatment, the farmers noticed that livestock would go directly to the improved areas to graze and move only to adjoining ground when the grass on the treated soil had been eaten down.

Know Their Pasture

This was not regarded as unusual, for agronomists have noted the eagerness of livestock to graze fertilized areas, or spots where the soil was naturally more fertile. Lined and fertilized pasture produces a darker green grass, of more luxuriant growth and greater palatability than pasturage on unfertilized soil.

But one farmer reported that he owned a blind horse which could go alone to the improved pasture as accurately as animals with normal vision.

"If a blind horse can find a small plot of improved pasture in a good sized field," Mr. Pulliam observed, "then it seems that these human beings admitted the values obtained from pasture improvement."

"This is the first time in history anywhere that a blind horse has been a leader toward a better agricultural system."

Pasture Improvement's Value

The advantages of pasture improvement not only in Ohio but elsewhere was pointed out by the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee. Not only does improved pasture produce grass richer in minerals, but the fertilized grass grows more rapidly than grass on depleted land, a benefit to the farmer. Thus it provides a diet essential to healthy growth and prevents the occurrence of deficiency diseases among livestock.

"A program of pasture improvement through the use of commercial fertilizers of recommended grades and analysis," says the bulletin, "is an investment that returns valuable dividends. It helps conserve the soil, prevents erosion and adds to the long range value of the farm."

"The secret of success is relatively simple. In addition to practicing sound farm management and selecting good seed, be a firm believer in commercial fertilizer containing nitrogen, phosphorus and potash, and be sure to use it in generous quantities. His experience has demonstrated to him that fertilized crops are of better quality and higher yield. He has found, too, that such crops are more resistant to insect and disease attacks."

Waterless cooking at its best

You'll marvel at the difference electric cooking makes. Meats and vegetables cook to melting tenderness in their own juices, with very little water.

Important minerals and food values are SEALED-IN, instead of being boiled away or poured down the sink with excess water.

Cooks even cheap cuts of meat to tenderness

You can save money on meat bills, too, by buying cheaper cuts and cooking them electrically. And your family will compliment you on the cakes and pies and pastries you can bake in the cooker. An accurate heat control eliminates guesswork and assures successful baking results time after time.

What is Thrift?

Thrift is Saving. Thrift is spending. Thrift Borrowing. But all must be done wisely.

Saving is the first conception of thrift. We save in order that we may satisfy some future want. When we satisfy that desire, saving has accomplished a good useful purpose.

Spending is the second conception of thrift. Money spent wisely will earn dividends making possible further savings.

Borrowing is the third conception of thrift. Borrowing wisely may make possible purchase of new equipment or knowledge which when properly used will bring increased profits and savings. Wise Borrowing is Not Over Borrowing.

We are prepared to help your thrift program in any or all of the three conceptions of thrift. A Savings Account, a loan, or current information published on business conditions and corporation reports.
