J. Hop Event and Other Items

"Sailing, sailing, over the bounding main", was the atmosphere last Friday night at the annual J-Hop. As you entered you walked up a gangplank to the chain where Ross Lamb and Jim Doolittle as stewards took tickets. You stepped down, then, from the gangplank. At the east end of the gym, on the stage was the pilot house with windows, steering wheel, etc. Right in front of that was another slightly elevated platform upon which sat the orchestra. To the right was the checkroom and to the left punch table. The waitresses were dressed in white slacks and shirts with sailor caps. The ceiling was of light blue cheesecloth hung with silver and red stars. A railing was placed all around the dance floor. At the west end was a picture of the captain's cabin, ventilators and lifeboats. Approximately 150 people attended. Seniors, juniors, parents and friends. Virginia Baughn and her guest led the grand march with Russell Gardner, senior president, and Beryl Amburgey, junior president, and their guests took the place of honor immediately behind them. Everyone enjoyed himself and was glad he had come.

The Juniors would like to thank all the business men who helped so much to make the J-Hop a success. The many services were greatly appreciated. Also, our thanks go to others who lent us furnishings and materials. We hope we merited your help.

Monday afternoon the downstairs rooms were given a party. They went into the gym and danced, and finished the punch left from the J-Hop.

Dancing in the gym at noon is still being kept up for the benefit of those who enjoy dancing and those who want to learn.

Big plans are being made for the Pinckney high school alumni reunion to be held here on June 15. There will be a soft ball game in the afternoon between the high school and the alumni. This will be followed by the banquet, program and dance in the high school auditorium. Complete program will be announced later.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT

When J. R. Griswold was fixing a well at School Lake for Guy Hinchey the other day, he saw a Bluejay flying up to its nest with a white piece of paper in its mouth. Curiosity caused Griswold to climb up to the nest and get the paper. It was a receipt for a payment of $6.19 to William Gawley given by H. F. Sigler & Brother on June 23, 1877. Below the name of H. F. Sigler and Brother was written per Edward Kearney. The late Dr. H. F. Sigler and his brother, Frank, were in business here at that time with a drug store. They also sold groceries. Edward Kearney clerked for them. Wm. Gawley was a Putnam township farmer living near Bentley Lake. All the parties named are now dead. Just how the Bluejay got hold of this receipt is a matter of conjecture. The Gawley farm is over a mile from the nest where it was found. Detroit parties now own the farm. It is possible that the receipt was thrown out with some rubbish and was found by the bird. However it is perfectly clean and can be read as easily as the day it was written some 68 years ago and shows no signs of exposure to the weather. This receipt is now at the Dispatch office and can be seen by anyone interested.

Local Industries of the Past

Market Gardening was an important industry here years ago and Local Farmers Then Supplied all the Vegetable and Berry Needs.

Fifty or sixty years ago a small garden where grown in Pinckney and on some of the farms in this vicinity. The young people of our generation may be surprised to learn that gardens in 1870 and even later were made in small plots or beds side by side with narrow paths between. The varieties grown in those days were usually few in number and were for home consumption.

About 1880 or a little later, Chas. H. Winter, who was a talented portrait artist and landscape gardener, formerly of Genoa, near Brighton, Michigan, came to live with his daughter, Mrs. Elbridge G. Fish (Charlotte A. Winter). "Grandpa" Winter, as he was called, was very active, and in his younger days could defend himself in duel practice with the sword. One time Grandpa threw his overcoat onto the platform of a moving train. Following his overcoat he sprang to the platform, picked up the coat and faced a bewildered conductor. Mr. Winter was a Civil War veteran, spoke four languages and taught German to Norman and Alvin Mann.

Mr. Winter was an ardent lover of flowers so he began landscaping the Fish lawn by making 13 flower beds in the front yard, with beds for the children in the rear. People used to stop as they drove along the road and beg for a few flowers, and Mr. Winter gave away many beautiful bouquets.

He was a frequent visitor at Adolph Buek's, who lived in "Hunters Lodge" at North Hamburg, now the home of Clayton Carpenter. The house now occupied by the Carpenter's is of recent date.

Grandpa had not been in the Fish home very long before the vegetable garden began to grow in size. E. G. Fish could swing a hoe, and Grandpa used to say "If I plant the garden, the men will take care of it." This was the beginning of a market garden business which lasted for several years. Seeds were purchased of James H. Thorburn of N. Y. and later of Wm. Henry Maule, of Philadelphia, and from local stores.

While yet a young lad one of the Fish boys started a little business of his own. He raised sage and picked the leaves and dried them in the shade. The sage was packed in small paper sacks and closed with labels printed by a young man by the name of Winchell, reading as follows: "Pure Leaf Sage, This sage is free from stems and other impurities. It was grown and put up by Freddie V. Fish, Pinckney, Livingston County, Michigan."

Fred planted potato balls and he raised several varieties of potatoes. A blue potato, called by E. G. Fish, "Blue Victor" took first prize at the Stockbridge fair in 1888. Other vegetables were entered at same time. Twelve first premiums were secured. Elmer Shotwell was one of the judges.

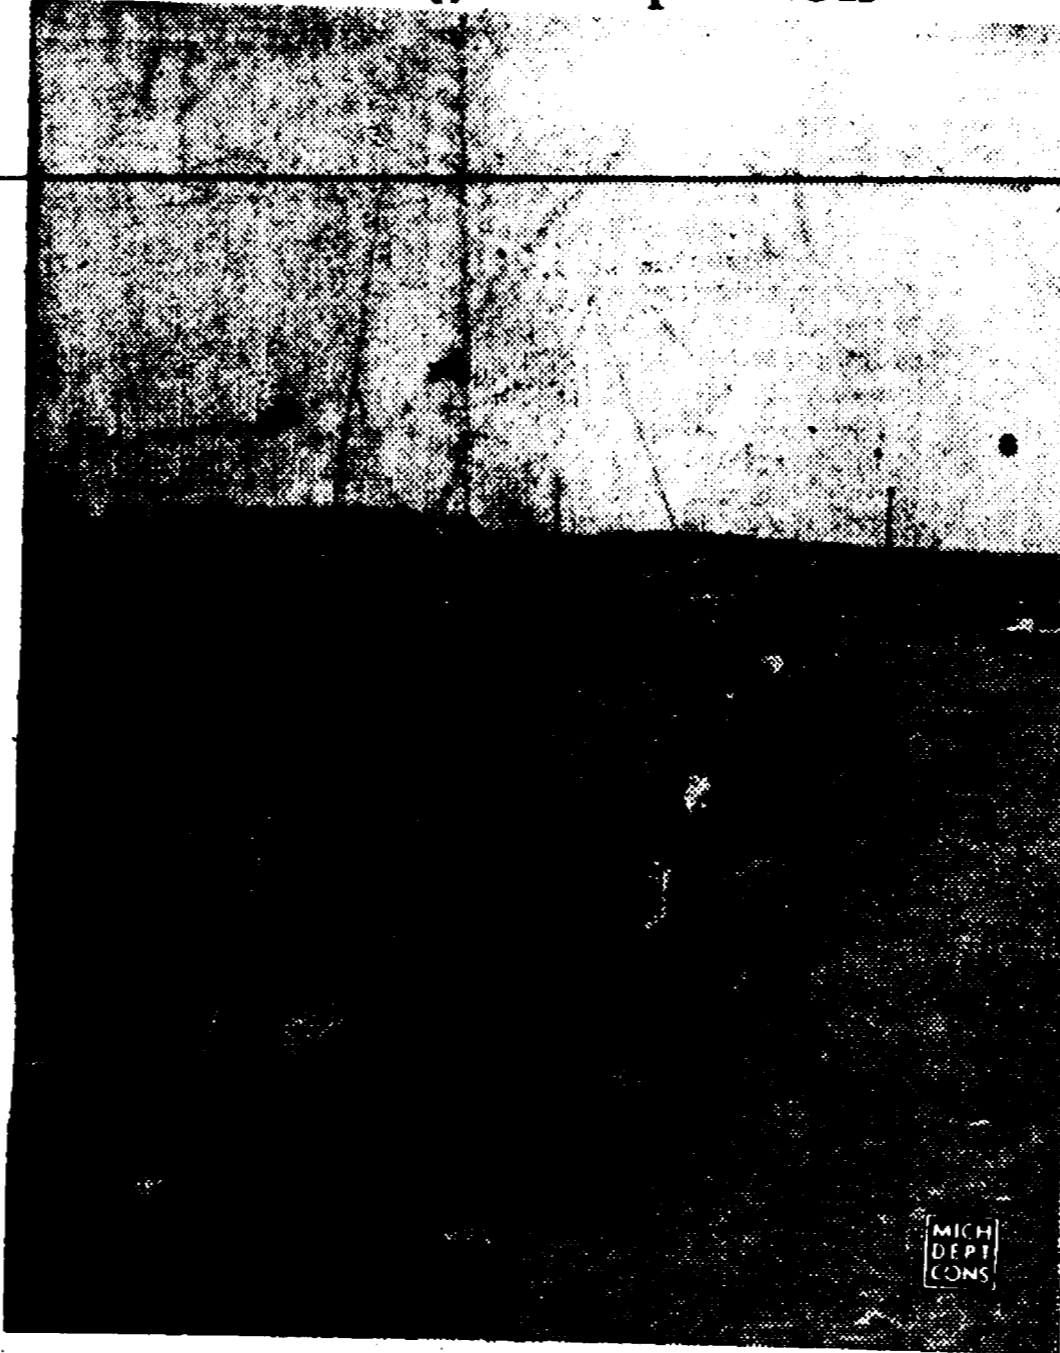

At first most of the garden truck was sold from a lumber wagon. Later a long spring wagon with a convenient top was purchased, and a young team took the place of Speedy and

The Republican State Convention

Vandenberg Endorsed for President.
Contesting Delegates Will be Sent to Philadelphia as a Result of 6th District Scrap.

The Republican state convention at Grand Rapids would have been a very drab affair last Thursday if the Sixth District composed of Ingham, Genesee and Livingston counties had not decided to make it interesting. The convention met for the purpose of endorsing Senator Vandenberg for the presidential nomination and electing delegates to the national convention at Philadelphia. The Vandenberg endorsement went over according to schedule and then the election of the 38 delegates to the Philadelphia convention started. 37 were elected with no trouble at all but on the 38th a battle was waged in the 6th district caucus that lasted four hours. In the 6th district Genesee has 63 votes, Ingham about 50 and Livingston but 11, so the two larger counties usually get all the gravity and Livingston only the crumbs that fall to the ground. Ingham elected Clyde Ford as their delegate but Genesee staged a hot battle. Bill McKeighan, old time boss and Harry Galt, Flint lawyer staged a four hour battle over this 38th delegate job. McKeighan lost control of the Flint city government in 1932 after being mayor 5 times and the Galt crowd has since controlled it except for Democrat intervals. The Galt boosters claimed a majority of the Genesee delegates at first but the Bill McKeighan men then appealed to Lynn Gardner of toso who for the last several conventions has been the 6th district chairman. There were 13 vacancies in the Genesee delegation and he gave Beagle, the chairman, authority to fill them. He did so with McKeighan men. The and held a separate caucus electing and under the leadership of Brownell, a Flint lawyer withdrew Galt men refused to accept this ruling Galt. The McKeighan men held one electing their man. Chairman Gardner refused to sign the Galt credentials certifying the election of Galt, presented to him by Mrs. W. C. Jones, secretary of the Genesee county caucus but signed the McKeighan credentials. Previously he had appointed an investigating committee composed of Glenn Mack of Howell, Casper Glenn of Stockbridge and Judge Sam Street Hughes of Lansing. They reported in favor of McKeighan. Then the entire matter was taken to the floor of the convention when it was ruled that that body had no authority to pass upon the credentials of delegates to a national convention and the whole matter was referred to the credentials committee of the national convention in Philadelphia in June.

MICH. CROP OUTLOOK

A smaller crop of fruit is in prospect for Michigan.

That news from Verne H. Church, statistician in charge of the Michigan cooperative crop reporting service, together with a warning that rainfall has been only 60 to 70 per cent of normal over the past 10 months, has created an air of uncertainty about Michigan agriculture income for 1940.

Only 88,000 acres of the 152,000 acres sown to rye last fall are expected to be harvested for grain—the smallest rye crop for the state in more than 50 years.

"Prospects for hay and pasture were not as good on May 1st as in other recent years", stated Church. "Not only has growth been retarded by cold weather but rains have been insufficient in many sections. Furthermore, there is a considerable deficiency in subsoil in many counties of southern Michigan."

As for fruit outlook, he says: "Fruit growers are looking for a somewhat smaller crop of fruits this year, a usual sequence in years following a large production such as that of 1939. Cold weather has held back the opening of the fruit buds, and blooming which has just begun, is a week or ten days later than in normal seasons. The recent cold weather was not severe enough to cause any damage apparently to the buds."

"Low temperatures in January thinned peach buds in some sections but prospects are favorable for a fairly good crop in all districts except an area in southern Michigan extending from the eastern part of Berrien county eastward and northward to the southern part of Ingham county. In that area, temperatures of 15 and 18 degrees below zero occurred which is a little frigid for peach buds ordinarily to withstand."

CURRENT COMMENT

"By Ye Editor"

About a year or so ago Col. Chas. Lindbergh was entertained by Hitler in Germany during which time he inspected the German army, air force etc., following which he issued a statement in which he said the German army and air forces were vastly superior to that of Great Britain and France. For this he was called Pro-Hitler by the Allies and their sympathizers and his popularity declined. The recent German sweep seem to have proved his statements and his stock has risen. Sunday night he spoke over the radio. After censuring this country and the administration for the state of unpreparedness he appeared skeptical of the ability of this country to get prepared. He also said that this country was not in the slightest danger of invasion and that if the war ended with a Hitler victory it would not make the slightest difference to this country. We doubt this. The Gallup poll shows about 90 percent of the people here in favor of the Allies. Lindbergh has been away from this country so much in recent years that he does not grasp the viewpoint of the people.

In the meantime war orders are pouring into this country from all sides. We are informed that the Pinckney Die Set factory is working on war orders now. 24 hours a day and seven days a week. They are making die sets for shells and cartridges. The Hoover Steel Ball Co. of Ann Arbor reports war orders. The Detroit factories such as the Chrysler and Cadillac are busy on war orders for airplane motors and trucks. With an appropriation of $1,182,000 asked by the president for war orders expected to go through, a big increase in war orders is expected.

The Republican woods are full of candidates for lt. governor. Among them are: Arthur Wood, Detroit, Dan Knaggs, Monroe, Jim Thompson, Parma, Felix Flynn, Cadillac, H. T. Barnaby, Grand Rapids, Rev. Holtsapple, Cass City, Herbert Banes of Clarkston and doubtless many others. All these men are burning with a desire to serve their country and also with Governor Dickinson past 80 years of age anything may happen if he is elected governor and then the lt. governor takes over. If the governor was not past 80 how many of these candidates would be in the race, do you think? All this activity for this office seems ghouliah.

Are the Republicans inclined to accept an ex-Democrat again as their standard bearer. It will be remembered that Herbert Hoover was once a Democrat served under President Wilson and ran in the Democrat primaries for president. Now Wendell Wilkie, who was a Democrat until 1936 is being boomed for the presidential nomination on the Republican ticket. The idea is that like the late President Harding he will go into the convention with a few delegates, and after the leading candidates have killed each other off he will emerge as the grand compromise candidate. To that end the newspapers and the magazines are giving him worlds of free publicity and buildup. The fact that he is a Wall street man and is president of a public utilities company is glossed over by them.

Some of the news commentators of the big dailies are suggesting that the national conventions of the two major parties be postponed until a latter date on account of the European war. Their reasoning is that with the war raging as it is at the present time, it has crowded all other news from the front pages and the minds of the people to the detriment of said national conventions. Also at the present time with the map of Europe changing daily it would be impossible to frame a satisfactory foreign plank for the platform. National Chairman Hamilton of the Republican party derides the suggestion. Nevertheless it is under serious consideration.

The Dexter high school alumni banquet is to be on school 8. Mrs. Carolyn Liston, 67, died in Detroit on May 14. She was formerly Carolyn Fleming of Dexter. Surviving are a brother, Henry and a sister, Nellie of Dexter, 2 sisters in California and a brother, Jack in Montana. The funeral was held in Redford on Thursday with burial in Dexter.

PINCKNEY, GREGORY

TIE 6 TO 6

Last Thursday night the Gregory team came down here on short notice and played a 9 inning tie game with Pinckney, the score being 6 to 6. Pinckney had the game won in the 7th inning 5 to 3 when the infield blew up, made three errors and gave Gregory two unearned runs. Dinkel pitched a good game for Pinckney letting the visitors down with 7 scattered hits some of which were scratchy.

Gregory got a run in the first inning on an error by Reason and Howlett's drive over short. Pinckney got 4 in the third on a single by Van a double by N. Miller, a walk to J. Singer and Paul Singer's home run. They got another in the fifth when Norm Miller again came through with a hit and scored on an error. Gregory added a run in the 6th on 2 hits and a base on balls. Then in the 7th the local team blew up. Barber flied to Hendee, Owens grounded to third and Hulce dropped Reason's throw. Cole walked, Munsell struck out, Young hit to D. Ledwidge, who threw wild to first, a run scoring, Caskey hit through P. Singer who recovered in time to get Young at third, but Cole scored the tying run. Kuhn struck out. No runs scored in the 8th. In the 9th Cole singled, went to second on D. Ledwidge's error and scored on a hit by Caskey. In Pinckney's half of the 9th K. Ledwidge was out third to first, Lefty Reason tripled and D. Philathea Notes

The secretary's report on Sunday said the attendance in the Philathea Class was thirteen. We considered that a lucky number, for it means the presence in our class again of Mrs. Peck, who has been absent during the winter, and of a dozen others who are always welcome in the class. The lesson was the seventh in the current series on prophets and their message to their people. In considering Sunday's lesson on Jeremiah, and his denunciation of false prophets, it was remarked that a Jeremiah is needed in our day to detect the wheat and separate it from the chaff. The thought was brought out and propaganda by measuring it with that we could detect false prophets the Bible standard. As "Lovers of Truth" we Philatheas should "search the Scriptures" thoroughly in the light of the fast moving events of the present times.

BUILDING INDIVIDUAL CREDIT STANDING

Credit standing is persons financial reputation. In determining this credit standing as a basis for a loan a bank considers these factors:

Has he a good job?
Has he held it for some time?
Does it seem permanent?
Has he been able to keep continuously employed?

Is he industrious?
Does he take advantage of opportunities?
Does he seem stable or is he constantly switching from one job to another?

Has he a steady income?
Is he thrifty?
Is he building up a reserve in the form of savings, life insurance etc?

Is he honest, trustworthy, reliable?
Does he pay his debts and obligations promptly?

Is he always in debt?
Does he overdraw his bank account?

Does he study to improve himself in his work?
Is he looking forward and planning for the future?

A study of these factors will indicate the course you should follow to strengthen your personal credit standing. Always keep this question in mind,
"Will the bank be justified—on the basis of my record in order trusting its depositors funds to me?"

TAKE YOUR KITCHEN OUT ON THE porch!

IT'S A FACT! You can pick up your kitchen and move it outdoors... lend added zest to porch suppers and informal summer entertaining. Your electric cooker is a complete stove in itself. It will prepare delicious casserole dishes such as waterless pot roasts, Boston baked beans, Irish stews, etc.; it will cook a complete meal at one time; it will keep food warm while serving.

Cooker plugs into any convenience outlet

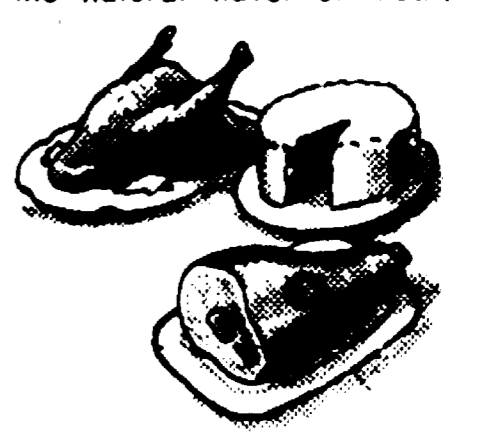

One of the things you will like about it is the fact that you can use it anywhere... in your kitchen, on the porch, at your summer cottage. Simply plug it into the nearest electric outlet and it is ready for use. The cooker will bake pies, cakes, biscuits, muffins; steam vegetables, fruits, puddings; and roast all cuts of meat to perfection.

Unsurpassed for delicious flavor

Electric cooking makes every recipe taste better. Your family will be enthusiastic about the natural flavor of meats and vegetables cooked in their own juices. Important minerals and food values are retained. Here is HEALTHFUL waterless cooking at its easiest and best!

80,000 OF YOUR NEIGHBORS now use these electric cookers. See them on display—in many different sizes and models—of furniture and department stores, hardware stores, electric appliance dealers and all Detroit Edison offices. The Detroit Edison Company as easy as this!

THE modern way of preparing meals is cool and pleasant... as easy as plugging in your electric toaster. Simply put a whole dinner into your electric cooker at one time, and go out for the afternoon while the meal is cooking. When you come home your dinner is waiting, perfectly cooked and ready for the table.

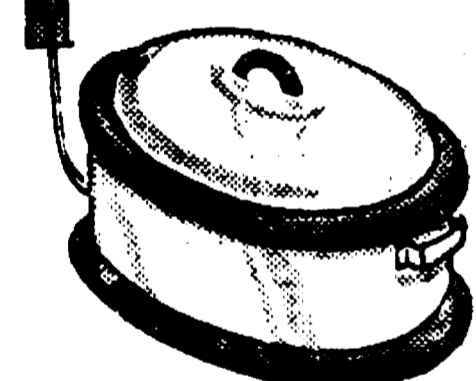

Spend extra hours out-of-doors

An electric cooker brings you freedom from the kitchen, more leisure time to spend out-of-doors. You'll enjoy the cleanliness and convenience of this up-to-date cooking method. But you'll also marvel at the deliciously different FLAVOR of foods cooked electrically.

Electric cooking is healthful, waterless cooking. Important minerals and food values are SEALED-IN... meats and vegetables cook to melting tenderness in their own juices. Your electric cooker will roast a 15-pound turkey or a whole ham. It will bake pies, cakes, biscuits. It will steam and stew. And it is economical to use.

WM. E. SHANE PROMOTED

Announcement was made today of the promotion of William E. Shane, Central Division commercial superintendent for the Michigan Bell Telephone Company with headquarters at Saginaw, to a similar position in the larger Southern Division, with headquarters at Grand Rapids. The appointment becomes effective June 1.

Shane succeeds W. Calvin Patterson, whose appointment as assistant to president of the company at Detroit followed the election of J. T. Sheafor, who has held that post, as secretary and treasurer of the company to fill the vacancy created by the death of the late George J. Brett.

It was also revealed that William H. Wagner, assistant district commercial at Lansing, has been promoted to district superintendent at Flint to succeed Paul G. Leslie, who succeeds Shane at Saginaw.

Shane, a graduate of Kalamazoo College in the class of 1918, has worked up through the ranks of the company's commercial organization, the department that deals directly with the public. He began his telephone career as a clerk in the com-

WORLD RENOWNED SCIENTIST TO TALK AT FENTON

Dr. W. C. Lowdermilk, internationally-known scientist and authority on soil erosion problems, will give an illustrated lecture at the Fenton community hall, May 28, at 8:30 p. m., according to an announcement made today by the directors of the Fenton Soil Conservation District. The Fenton community hall is also known as the Rackham building.

The 115,000 acres comprising the district are quite typical of 5 and one half million acres of farmland in southern Michigan. Through the efforts of the board of directors the services of Dr. Lowdermilk have been obtained. Because of his studies in Asia, and several European countries, Egypt, Algeria, Libya, Palestine, Syria he is considered to be an authority on land use. He is firmly convinced that soil erosion and deposition have been factors in the decadence of ancient civilizations. The Promised land which 3,000 years ago was flowing mercurial department at Kalamazoo in 1922 and progressed through various positions there, at Lansing, Pontiac and Detroit until his appointment two years ago as central division superintendent.

Wagner was manager at Grand Rapids two years before going to Lansing last October. He also served as manager at Flint and Saginaw and in various capacities at Detroit and Kalamazoo before going to Grand Rapids.

with milk and honey, he found to be a "sad commentary on man's stewardship of the earth." One of the many illustrations he will present shows a scene in the hills of Judea, where the soil has washed off the slopes to bare rocks and lodged in the valleys.

On the brighter side, the directors say, there will be photographs showing how terraces and other soil-saving practices in the Old World are still protecting the land after centuries of continued cultivation.

This lecture should be of especial interest in this section, as some of the pages from Lowdermilk's notebook could well be embodied in formulating a work program for the district.

The lecture will begin promptly at 8:30 o'clock, but the directors urge those planning to attend to arrive early as seating capacity of the hall is limited to approximately 500 persons. There is no charge for admission.

THE FORD WAY OF DOING BUSINESS

The Ford Motor Company was founded by a working-man for working-men. Its present officers began as employees of the Company. It was the first company to pay a minimum wage, beginning in 1914, at the then astounding figure of $5 a day. That was double the prevailing wage of the time. The Ford minimum is now $6 a day for all employees engaged in production work. And from that, the wages rise to $10.80 a day, with the average wage $7.25, exclusive of salaried employees.

The Ford Motor Company was the first large company to establish the 8-hour day—also in 1914. And the 40-hour week was inaugurated by the Ford Motor Company in 1926, years before any such laws existed.

The Ford Motor Company employs men without regard to race, creed or color. It is common knowledge that working conditions in the Ford shops are the best that science and constant care can make them. A square deal, a just wage and stabilized employment for a large proportion of our employees—and as fully stabilized for all as conditions will permit—enable our men to retain their personal independence.

In consequence of these policies the Ford Motor Company has one of the finest bodies of employees in the world. The larger proportion are mature men of long service with the Company—sober, decent family men. Hundreds of them have been with the Company for more than 25 years—thousands for more than 15 years. Their health record, home ownership and citizenship records are good.

All this is reflected in Ford products, whether cars, trucks or tractors. The work is honestly done. Materials are the best that can be made or procured. Less profit to the Company and more value to the customer is known throughout the motoring world as "Ford's way of doing business."

Ford Motor Company was the first to make a motor car within the means of the average family—quitting the manufacture of what was then the largest selling model in the world to do so. Its chosen field in all the 30 years since that time has been the average American family—for which it has consistently provided car facilities which formerly only the wealthy could buy.

It is the policy of the Ford Motor Company to share the benefits of advanced methods and management with workers and public alike. Increased wages and employment over a period of many years have resulted in

A 300 per cent increase in the built-in value of the Ford car and a 75 per cent reduction in its price.

More Trim, Trig Slack Suits Being Worn Than Ever Before

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

AT FIRST popularized by women at swank summer and winter playgrounds, then spreading like a banyan tree to include women everywhere, the vogue for slacks has been growing until this summer more trim, trig and versatile trouser suits are being worn than ever before in fashion history.

It is no wonder that women the country over have adopted slacks as the most sensible costume ever invented. For housework they are a sheer delight, likewise for driving, for long cross-country trips, for golf, tennis, picnicking, marketing and for informal dining, slacks have become an enthusiasm that knows no bounds.

Designers who have always had their ears to the ground to catch the trend of women's likes and dislikes have caught this sweeping approval of slacks and have set about creating new and fascinating styles. This has added to the growing demand for American designers—designers who understand the psychology of the American woman. It is interesting to note that Ruth Wade Ray, director of the Vogue School of Fashion Design in Chicago, says that the greatest number of calls they have for graduate designers comes from manufacturers of sports wear. This, of course, includes slacks and shows the nation-wide trend toward simplified smart attire.

The three-piece style we are illustrating is becoming almost a universal favorite in that it is so eminently practical, including, as it does, both skirt and slacks. Yvonne Andersen, a Vogue school pupil, designs this utilitarian threesome of soft yet firm gabardine in a lovely shade of desert green (gabardine comes in a whole list of other detectable colors). The smart lumber-jacket shirt blouse can be worn outside with the slacks (shown to the left) or tucked in and worn with a narrow belt when a more tailored appearance is desired. A multiple duty feature is added with the skirt (centered in illustration) which, worn with the blouse, becomes a costume for shopping, bridge or almost any place you desire to wear it.

An idea gaining popularity this season is a new version of the lounging pajama. But they're slacks just the same! The trousers are very wide looking, almost like a skirt until the wearer moves about. These are made in soft materials, often with contrasting blouses as shown to the right in the group. In this instance the trousers are in a most attractive clay red and the blouse is of sun-yellow crepe, a coloring in keeping with the environs of a California living room, the theme of which includes a gay sombrero on the wall, a basket to match and candelabra of glittering tin, something very new in household decoration.

So completely have women become converted to the trouser-costume idea, slacks in more or less colorful and designful mood are considered quite proper, have, in fact, become very popular as an informal dinner costume. Certainly they are vastly becoming and have lots of appeal in their accents of gay color. Some of the slack suits have cunning little jackets to be worn with a sheer blouse and they are smart enough for informal dining or dropping in on your neighbor for an evening of bridge.

Ceramic Jewelry

Something new in the jewelry realm! Authentic copies of genuine old china for necklaces, bracelets, lapel pins and gadgets. Marion Weber, American artist, is the ceramist that is modeling and enameling ceramic charms that bear every resemblance to their originals. In this most attractive ceramic motif, authentic copies of fine old American, English and French pieces are achieved such as one sees in collections at private and public museums. These, interspersed with miniature gold cups, spoons, knives and forks, are suspended from a gold chain or otherwise cleverly assembled to form stunning necklaces and bracelets in the manner pictured.

Shawls for Sports New Fashion Trend

The fashion for wearing shawls has advanced from suits and evening gowns to dresses for spectator sports wear. A gray linen outfit that buttons up the front has a matching gray and white linen shawl with a deeply fringed border.

White Accessories On Style Program

White hats, white shoes, foamy white neckwear, white gloves, boutonnières, and loads of white jewelry, such is the program for the coming weeks.

For flattery try one of the new white chenille dotted white veils. Glorify your navy straw hat with an exquisite realistic huge white rose. Trim your new gray felt hat with white violets repeating the violets on your lapel.

Be sure your white handbag is immense (the larger the smarter) and see to it that your white gloves go elbow length—and so on and so on, for the story of "white" is too lengthy and rife with brilliant high spots to condense in a few paragraphs.

Jeweled Ear-Hooks New Paris Fashion

Newest Parisian earrings hook over the top of the ears and drip chains of diamonds or other precious stones. The hooks are designed of fine gold wire shaped like spectacle frames. They hold a large round diamond against the lobe of the ear, and pendants of pear-shaped jewels over the top of the ear, close to the hairline.

Jersey Slack Suit Has Strong Appeal

Brown and white jersey, in a half-and-half arrangement, is used for an attractive slack suit that may also be worn for lounging. The back of the suit and one sleeve and shoulder are brown, while the rest of the suit is white. The jersey jacket is long and very fitted and has two patch pockets that extend all the way across the front.

Many medieval Russian artists, when painting a holy personage on an icon, used an odd method to make each figure "realistic." They would first paint the skeleton, then the body organs, then the flesh and, lastly, add the clothes.

During Japan's last suicide wave, which occurred between 1933 and 1935, 313 persons succeeded in jumping into the volcano on the island of Oshima. Of the 1,208 others who were foiled by the guards at the crater's edge, 29 managed to jump off the boats on the way back to the mainland.

Although granite, like marble, is noted for its hardness and durability, granite buildings have been known to crumble and fall in devastating fires that have only scratched marble surfaces.—Collier's.

As You See Yourself

A photographer has discovered that most of us don't recognize ourselves. He takes an ordinary portrait of a sitter, and then makes two prints—one right, and one wrong. In the latter, left becomes right and vice versa.

When confronted with these two images of himself and asked which is the better likeness the sitter invariably picks out the "wrong" print. That is because we are so used to seeing ourselves in the mirror that we don't really know what we look like.

MICHIGAN MIRROR NEWS

Affect of War

Prof. E. L. Anthony, dean of agriculture, Michigan State College, points out that with the exception of bean and pork products, prices of agricultural commodities are about the same as one year ago before the war was declared. So far, the new European conflict has not put millions into the American farmer's pocketbooks, as optimistic forecasters loudly proclaimed last September.

"The prices of beans and pork products have increased in recent months," said Dean Anthony, "and there is some basis for speculation that Canada is buying supplies here for shipment overseas now that England has been shut off from Denmark as a leading source of butter, pork, and lard."

"The hog people believe that pork prices will continue strong due to Canadian demands. You will recall that prices jumped after declaration of war last September only to slump again in December, January and in February. Pork prices are up again, however. Certainly if the war continues another year the result will be an increased demand for American war munitions which in turn will help to stimulate domestic consumption of food and will tend to raise food prices."

"However, it is only wishful thinking to believe that the war is going to benefit the farmer of Michigan in 1940."

Oats, Rye and Beet Sugar

While the deficiency in rainfall remains a threat to 1940 crop yields, it has put the ground in fine condition for early spring plowing.

Oats and rye conditions are miserably poor, but winter wheat looks fairly good and the wheat acreage abandoned due to winter injury is estimated at only 12,000 acres which is the smallest loss in many years. A yield of 20.5 bushels per acre is indicated which compared with 21.0 bushels per acre obtained last year.

Beet sugar people report that the war is not expected to affect sugar prices in this country. At present a large surplus of sugar stocks remains on hand. Indirectly through improved industrial conditions the sugar industry may benefit through better prices, but this will be a long-range development, certainly not in the present picture or 1940.

Canned fruits rely on domestic consumption largely, while dried fruits have been exported heavily. Consequently, little change is anticipated in Michigan on fruit prices with regard to the war. California on the other hand, may suffer considerably from loss of export trade.

Secretary of State Harry F. Kelly reports that departmental savings will reach $250,000 for the 1939-40 biennial.

Auditor General Vernon J. Brown favors a separate budget for state aid funds (those which are returned to local governments for local spending) and another budget for state funds.

Robert Riley, state purchasing agent, ridicules alleged claims of special favoritism to Frank McKay. Declaring that he had only met McKay once, Riley added: "He asked no special favors then nor since of the purchasing department."

Murray D. Van Wagoner, state highway commissioner, says surveys show that automobile traffic in Michigan will double in the next 20 years. "We are faced with this staggering realization of what the future holds, knowing full well that our present highway facilities are inadequate," he told the American Road Builder's association upon being honored at the conclusion of a second term as national president.

Passage of the civil service constitutional amendment is being privately conceded by some state politicians, most of whom are scared over its possibilities at the ballot box.

on account of illness was elected an alternate delegate and so was Max Buek of Brighton. They act if the regular delegates do not attend. W. C. Miller who was a delegate to the convention says he had a big time and enjoyed the 6th district caucus debates immensely. The only drawback was that they lasted so long he lost his dinner hour and you know how Bill likes his meals regular.

According to the Livingston county delegates this county missed an excellent chance to get a delegate to the national convention. During the deadlock in the Genesee caucus the McKeighan men offered to support a Livingston county man for the delegate and Ingham county, disgusted with the scrap was willing. However for some unknown reason no Livingston man was nominated, and a golden opportunity passed, and Livingston had to be content with two alternates.

INDUSTRIES OF THE PAST
Jennie. Business boomed, and the Fish family were often picking strawberries by three or four o'clock in the morning.

As far as we know, the first alfalfa for this locality was grown on the Fish farm. C. H. Fish (Pickett), who lived in Chico, Butte Co., California, sent his father ten pounds of seed. This trial growing of alfalfa was not very successful. In later years, the same field planted to northern grown German seed produced a bountiful crop. E. L. McIntyre, living just to the north, raised tons and tons of alfalfa. When the Fishes began the market garden operations, "Early Bird" peas and radishes were not known, but seeds of other varieties were sown April 5th on ground having about seventy-five loads of barn yard fertilizer to the acre. Twenty-three head of stock were kept in order to have plenty of heating element to keep the seed bed warm during freezing weather and when covered with banks of snow.

Many of the new things have been tried out since the market garden business was originally established. We will name some of the new varieties of vegetables, etc., planted from time to time on this farm: celery, kohlrabi, cauliflower, salsify, ground cherry, egg plant, peanuts, high bush blue berry, Youngs berry, sweet potatoes, garden huckleberry, and Boysenberry.

Most of the Market garden operations have been discontinued in their old form, but a good home garden is still maintained. The farm is now owned by Mrs. Mayme Fish Sloan, of Corunna, Michigan.

Editor's Note:—The above article was handed in by Miss Clella Fish. The auto and the motor truck was probably the cause of the decline of market gardening in this area. Now most of the vegetables for local consumption come off a fruit and vegetable truck which visits this place daily. Many of them are southern grown, and despite this can be sold cheaper than home grown produce.
