The Political Pot Begins To Boil

Big Primary Battle in This County May Be in the Democrat's Ranks as We Understand There Will Be a Contest for Each Office

According to late reports there may be a contest in the Democrat primaries this year. If this comes to pass it will be the first time such a thing has happened in many years. Usually the big fight is in the Republican primaries and there is never but one candidate for any office in the Democrat primaries.

This year however, it will be different. The reason is that many believe that Murray VonWagoner, generally regarded as the Democrat nominee for governor is conceded an excellent chance to be elected governor over Gov. Dickinson, likely to be the Republican nominee. The county candidates elect the county committee and the county committee controls the patronage to be handed out. Hence the struggle to control the county committee.

On the Republican side in the county there will be apparently no contests except for the office of the sheriff. John Hagman, county clerk, Frank Bush, register of deeds, Mrs. Eastman, county treasurer, Floyd Munsell drain commissioner, Charles F. Adams, representative, Henry Wines and Guy Grieve, coroners, all are candidates to succeed themselves.

For the first time this year the judge of probate and circuit court commissioner will be elected on non-partisan ballots. The two who finish highest in the primaries will appear on the fall ballot whether both are Republicans or Democrats. The circuit court judge will also run on a non-partisan ballot. This is in accordance with the amendment adopted at a recent election.

For sheriff on the Republican ticket there are several candidates. Among them are William C. Miller of Pinckney, former sheriff and Gus Rissman, Howell plumber. We understand there may be others.

On the Democrat side Guy Hosley of Cohoctah and Guy Pitkin of Brighton are candidates for representative; McKinley Payn of Howell and Tom Finlan of Fowlerville for clerk; Jay Barber of Iosco and Robert Gates of Howell for register of deeds, Mrs. Eleanor Ledwidge for treasurer, William Dilloway for a drain commissioner and Wilbur Johnson and Russell Woodruff for coroner. There will probably be other candidates also. Francis Barron of Howell has petitions out for prosecuting attorney.

So far this year for the first time in many moons the heavy primary vote in this county may be cast in the Democrat primaries.

According to latest reports Chas. P. Adams of Howell will be opposed in the primaries by Tracy Crandall of Howell and E. Reed Fletcher of Brighton.

SOFT BALL GAMES

The Gregory team will play Pinckney here on Wednesday night (tonight) at 7:00 p. m. On Sunday the local team will play a benefit game for Goss, Hamburg pitcher, who sprained his ankle in a game recently. The game will be played at Hamburg and starts at 1:00 p. m.

Thursday night a juvenile team composed of Gus Ledwidge, Dale Meabon, Fred Singer, Ross Lamb, etc., will play a Camp Robinson team at Silver Lake. All players be at Dispatch office at 6:30 p. m.

Monday afternoon Coach Burg's boys chalked up their third win of the summer season by defeating Webberville 5 to 1. Joe Lavey pitched for Pinckney, pitching excellent ball, striking out 15 batters and allowing one hit. The lone run came after the one hit in the seventh and was scored on a bad throw to the plate after a passed ball permitted him to go to third.

Pinckney collected 9 hits off the opposing pitcher.

1940 Election Issues Stated

"The 1940 issues have already been hand-made for us.

"We do not intend to personally criticize Governor Dickinson. It will be a clean campaign, based on important public issues.

These words from G. Donald Kennedy, business manager of the state highway department and the deputy highway commissioner, give a clue to the policy which Murray D. Van Wagoner will pursue if he wins the Democratic nomination for governor.

A Mr. Kennedy is campaign manager for Van Wagoner, the reference to Michigan's octogenarian executive nationally known for his religious utterances and condemnation of "the high life", may be considered significant.

It could be an intimation that the Van Wagoner forces anticipate the Republican nomination of Dickinson for Governor. Also within the range of probability is an interpretation that Van Wagoner will avoid the thin ice of a personal, frontal attack on Mr. Dickinson lest it be resented by temperance-loving, church-going citizens.

From an interview with the Democratic vote getter, however, we did get a definite impression that Van Wagoner would have something to say about "boss control" in the Republican party. That would be meant for the Grand Rapids leader, Frank McKay, whose selection as Republican national committeeman from Michigan has placed him out in the open, either for praise or condemnation.

Survey of Issues

With exacting care, Messrs. Van Wagoner and Kennedy have been making a survey of 1940 issues, months in advance of their leader's announcement of candidacy.

In the first phase of the campaign Van Wagoner and Kennedy traveled throughout the state to ascertain the views of local politics. Thus, possible issues have been determined on the basis of county recommendations.

"A primary contest would be a healthy thing for the Democratic party this year", said Mr. Kennedy. "It would concentrate attention on the candidates. And it might keep Democrats from going over the party fence to participate in the Republican's primary.

National Defense

Just as Van Wagoner has capitalized on the dollars-and-cents benefit to Michigan in having a Democratic highway commissioner at Lansing while a Democratic president was at Washington, so he is expected to stress the value of a Democratic governor during these days of national defense preparations.

"Our need in handling national defense is to be in sympathy with the national administration in order that Michigan may receive full advantage of actions taken by a strong federal government", said Kennedy.

"It is pathetic what we have not done in other fields - such as agriculture. National-state activity with regard to social welfare, resettlement, rehabilitation work, civilian conservation camps and national parks also lie within the possibility (Continued on last page)

It is hoped the town will cooperate to help these boys in this undertaking.

Mrs. Brock Cole of Detroit spent the week end with her mother, Mrs. Anna Kennedy.

CURRENT COMMENT

Starting this month some 10,000 people in the state must the age of 65 will receive old age pensions.

Most of them have been on the waiting list for several years because the legislature refused to appropriate money to pay them. The total number of these on the waiting list is 29,000. Those whose applications were received first will be the first ones to get the pension. The increasing of the list of old age pension beneficiaries is made possible by increased tax collections and deaths in the ranks of pension recipients. Just what amount they will receive is not stated. The federal government will match whatever amount the state pays. So far the average payment here is about $18 a month.

The Glorious Fourth has come and gone and seems to have passed without undue excitement. Although the fireworks are banned still some were fired off in Pinckney as well as in other places. There were brought in from Ohio. Their sale is also banned there in cities and villages but they can be obtained from stands outside the city limits. In Detroit the police jailed seven persons for shooting the fireworks. In Pinckney several complaints were made to the sheriff about the indiscriminate shooting of fireworks especially in the vicinity of the local hospital and Deputy Sheriff Murray Kennedy came over and warned several violators Tuesday night. However, the boys from the fresh air camps and lakes brought plenty in with them to the free picture show Wednesday night. The trouble with the state law is that the law only provides a penalty of $25 fine for the person who sells them. The one who shoots them off is not penalized.

According to Harry Kelly, secretary of state, the Communist Party will appear on the ballot in Michigan this fall as they have completed all the conditions necessary to get their name on the ballot. They filed petitions with the necessary number of names before the final filing date prescribed by law. There seems to be no way by which this party can be kept from the ballot. Rep. McLeod has introduced a resolution in Congress to bar all parties from the ballot who advocate the overthrow of this government by force. The chief argument against it is that it may be unconstitutional and violate the first amendment of the bill of rights, relating to freedom of speech and expression.

Bouke Carter says the first thing Wendell Wilkie must do if he expects to be successful in November is to eliminate the sore spots which his high pressure campaign at the Philadelphia convention caused. Mr. Carter states that while the galleries howled in bedlam when Wilkie was nominated on the 6th ballot down on the floor among the delegates hardly a delegate raised his hand in cheer and not a banner moved or the semblance of a victory parade showed itself. It was one of the strangest conventions on record with continual war between the galleries and delegates. His campaign managers may have been amateurs but they staged one of the most highly mechanized campaigns to put a man over ever witnessed according to the National Observer in the Lansing State Journal. In the first place they seem to have captured the convention organization in the pre-convention maneuvers. Gov. Stassen, the youthful key-note of Minnesota, was their man and floor leader. Congressman Martin, the chairman, was for him and the Massachusetts delegation led the swing to Wilkie. Gov. Langdon and National Chairman Hamilton also worked for him and swung the Kansas and Missouri delegations his way on an early ballot. For this Hamilton was assured that he would be continued as chairman. Against this blitzkrieg Messrs. Taft, Dewey and Vandenberg had about as much chance as Belgium, Holland, Norway and France in the late European affair and were bowled over early. The chairman only recessed for 2 hours for lunch Thursday and refused a Taft recess until next day after the 4th ballot. This gave the opposition no time to get together and organize. $150,000 was spent on Wilkie telegrams to delegates and the taxi drivers, bar tenders, waiters, etc. were all highly organized to boost Wilkie to their customers. The result of all this pressure was that the delegates became too groggy and the delegates surrendered.

U. S. Industry Cannot Compete With Dictators' 'Slave Labor'

Hull's Reciprocal Trade Treaties Will Be Rendered Useless as World Market Becomes Flooded by Materials Produced at Pittance Wages.

By WILLIAM BRUCKART
WNU Service, National Press Bldg.,
Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON. — The Hitler armistice terms that were imposed upon France brings to this country, and other nations of the Western hemisphere, the stark reality that our whole business structure must undergo drastic reorganization and readjustment. It is a fact that can no longer be ignored. We are face to face with a situation that requires our government and our economic leadership to look first, last and all of the time to the preservation of an American principle.

Whether we like it or not, the terms forced down the throats of the French by Hitler and the gagging added by the fatty Mussolini have put the United States, its consuming public, its workers and its general commercial effort in a tough spot. It is a situation in which we must produce all of the things we need, and we need not plan on producing more than we need!

To present one phase, one result, of the economic destruction of France by the Hitler victory, it is necessary only to point to what has happened to the trade agreement program arranged and defended always by Secretary Cordell Hull of the department of state. Secretary Hull, to my mind, is the most sincere and honest individual of the Roosevelt administration. He conceived and supported the trade agreement plan because he believed it was the solution to many problems arising between nations. It was, he believed, a step toward international peace because most of the international troubles start from international trade jealousies.

Hull's Trade Treaties Are 'Washed Up'

But Mr. Hull's trade treaties are gone, washed up. They mean nothing at all now. None of the European nations that have come under Hitler influence will be able to observe them, because Hitler will direct their trade. Few, if any, of the nations elsewhere in the world can continue to observe the agreements because they must look first to self-preservation.

While I never have felt that Mr. Hull's conception of dealing with international trade was such hot stuff, I have felt always nevertheless that his ideals and his objectives were to be respected. He has fought for the principle through all of my quarter of a century in Washington. Now, one swoop of a military machine, not even within our borders, and the whole program becomes impotent and unimportant. It is a tragedy of the kind that sometimes hits ideals.

And with the Hull program out of the window, what next? At best, any statement can be only a guess. Yet, some of the facts, must be accepted as basic. One of these facts is that throughout all of the Europe, where people live under the steel boot of a dictator, workers are going to be little more than slaves for the next decade or longer. They will be peons. They will do the work assigned to them and they will do it at rates of pay fixed by the dictator.

Since the dictator form of rule will direct at least 80 per cent of all Europe and an equal portion of Asia, it is easy to conceive that the dictators will use the products of the labor to gain money for rebuilding and rehabilitation and for maintenance of the greatest armies the world has ever known. Those products will be sold wherever they can be sold and they will be sold at prices below anything ever dreamed of under our system and the American standard of living.

U. S. INDUSTRY

William Bruckart, Washington correspondent, foresees a closing world market for American products as a result of the European war. He predicts that U. S. farmers and manufacturers will be unable to compete with materials produced in the dictator countries with forced labor. Bruckart advises us to follow the old adage, "charity begins at home."

U. S. Foreign Markets Will Be Closed

To put the question bluntly: how will the owners of our steel mills or our automobile factories or thousands of other businesses be able to compete with that kind of labor? Rates of pay in this country long have been double and triple and more above the European or Asiatic rates. Our workers continue to seek more and more of the share of production. But will the things they produce ever reach a market, except in the United States, when Germans and French and Italians and Russians and Japanese and others are working for a few cents a day? I think not.

Or take agriculture. Will American wheat or corn or fat hogs or dairy products be sold in the markets of the world at the cost of production when the workers of the dictator nations are producing the same things and being given perhaps only enough food for living?

There could be countless other illustrations offered, but these serve to illustrate the steadily closing gap through which our excess of agricultural products and manufactured commodities heretofore have been passing. I think the picture that is plainly visible now ought to compel every government official and every political party to turn thoughts to the American problem.

Hitler's Peace Terms Are Terribly Harsh

The Hitler terms have been released only sufficiently for a conception of their terrible harshness. No one yet can tell how much of France will remain under complete control of Germany, or how much of it will become absolute German territory. We know only that, in general, all of France's sources of supplies will pass into German control, or will be managed under Hitler's Nazi program. We do not yet know whether there will be surrender of all colonial possessions, islands and the like. Yet, there is none so foolish as to believe that Hitler will overlook the opportunity of directing the production and trade of every area which may serve as a cog in the great Nazi economic machine.

Propaganda Is Used To Make People Slaves

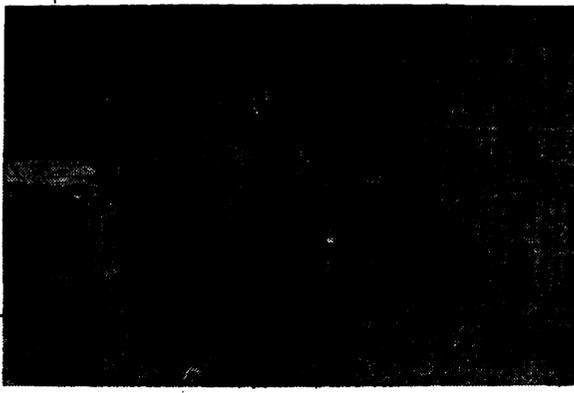

Some may ask why this dark outlook is emphasized and what basis there is for it, beyond the explanations already given. I think the answer is simple. The drain of war preparation that has been made upon all of those nations involved, not to mention the tremendous expenditure of men and money during actual fighting, has left each race of peoples denuded. The dictators dare not let revolutionary movements get started. The steel boot will walk across the bodies of every person who offers opposition to any order to produce food and fiber. Propaganda will be used to convince those peoples that it is their duty to their homeland. Propaganda was successful in working those people like slaves, as Hitler did, in building up the war machine.

We have seen some indication of this in Russia. The Soviet dictator has decreed an extension of working hours for all workers in Russia. The people were told merely that they will work many hours more. They have to do it, or be shot.

It may be that the new Soviet order represents a renewed war preparation on the part of the Communists. None here knows the answer. The fact remains, however, that the great horde of Russians are to be driven like plow mules into long days of harsh labor—while the cheap Communist agitators in this country foment new strikes for short hours and higher and higher pay. It is a sour situation. But it is very real, and it shows what dictators can do.

All of which seems to me to prove that there is a right important battle in the United States that we had better win. While administration folks and partisan politicians shout and create new hysteria about a military machine to defend us, I hold to the idea that we had better divide attention to defense of the nation into two phases. We had better prepare to defend within as well as without.

It is tragic, of course, that millions of old people and women and children are suffering in Europe. But I rise to inquire whether they have a claim on our government ahead of the folks who have become a part of America? There have been a dozen or more appeals from within this country by which it has been sought to make homes here for the destitute and the unfortunate victims of the European conflagration. The sentiment is fine but I, for one, still believe in the old adage that "Charity begins at home." We should eliminate suffering here first.

WHEN YOU MAKE JAM OR JELLY
(See Recipes Below)

Household News

By Eleanor Howe

"Sugar 'nd spice 'nd everything nice" goes into the preserving kettle, and out of it comes a tantalizing array of jellies, jams, pickles and relishes, and rich fruit butters and marmalades.

This year, why not add to your stock of preserves (and to your reputation as a good cook!) by doing some of your own canning and preserving? It's as easy as A,B,C, if you'll follow a few simple suggestions and use tested recipes.

Most of the equipment you need for canning and preserving you will have on hand; large kettles or saucepans, a colander, coarse strainer, wooden masher, wooden spoons, a skimmer, wide-mouth funnel, glass jars, jelly glasses, jar covers and new rubbers. It may be necessary to buy a few new jars each year, for nicked jars are likely to cause spoilage.

Wash jars, glasses and covers thoroughly in soapy water, and rinse in boiling water. Sterilize them just before using and let them remain in the hot water until you are ready to fill them. Use new rubbers every year, and dip them in boiling water just before you put them on the jars. When jars or jelly glasses are to be filled with hot foods, place the hot glasses on a clean towel which has been wrung out of hot water.

If you have an old-fashioned gravy boat with a spout and handle, use it in filling glasses with jellies, jams and preserves. Allow the jam to cool in the glasses before sealing with paraffin. When the paraffin has set, wipe the glasses with a damp cloth, cover, and label them. To prevent the formation of mold, store jams, jellies, and preserves in a cool, dry place.

Homemade Tomato Soup.
(Makes 8 pints)
1 peck tomatoes (14 pounds)
1 bunch celery
1 quart onions (sliced)
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup flour
1/2 cup sugar
4 to 5 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper

Scrub the tomatoes and celery, and cut into pieces. Add the sliced onion, and cook over a low flame until the vegetables are thoroughly soft (about 1 hour). Strain. Blend together the butter, flour, sugar, and seasoning, and add to the strained tomato mixture. Bring to a boil, and boil gently for 20 minutes, stirring frequently. Seal in sterilized jars. To serve, combine the tomato soup with soup stock or milk.

Sweet Pantry Slices.
(Makes 6 to 7 pints)
1 gallon cucumbers (3 to 5 inches long)
1 1/2 quarts white onions (sliced)
1/2 cup salt
5 cups sugar
1 tablespoon ground ginger
1/4 teaspoon turmeric
2 tablespoons mustard seed
1 tablespoon celery seed
5 cups vinegar

Scrub cucumbers and slice thin (without paring). Add sliced onions and salt, and if crushed ice is available, stir in 1 pint which aids in crisping. Cover with a weighted lid and let stand for 3 hours. Drain, and add remaining ingredients. Place over low heat, bring to the simmering point, and simmer for 5 minutes. Pack in sterilized jars and seal.

Strawberry-Rhubarb Conserve.
2 pounds strawberries
2 pounds rhubarb
3 pounds sugar

Wash fruit; hull strawberries and cut rhubarb in small pieces (you'll find the scissors a great finger-saver in cutting the rhubarb). Place fruit in deep pan like a dish-pan and place in cold oven. Set temperature control to 400 degrees and start the oven. Cook about 1 1/2 hours, then add sugar. Cook, stirring occasionally, for 1/2 to 1 hour, or until conserve becomes thick. (The time varies according to the "juiciness" of the fruit). Pour into sterilized jars or glasses and seal immediately or cool and cover with melted paraffin.

Quick Strawberry Jam.
(Makes 6 glasses)
1 quart strawberries
Boiling water
4 cups sugar

Remove caps from strawberries and wash thoroughly. Then pour boiling water over berries until water is lightly tinted with pink. Drain and place berries in saucepan, add 2 cups of sugar, and shake over low flame until sugar is dissolved and mixture begins to boil. Then increase heat and boil hard for 4 minutes. Reduce heat, add remaining sugar and boil hard again for 4 minutes longer. Pour into jelly glasses, allow to thicken, and seal when cold.

Sunless Sun Preserves.
Take 4 cups of strawberries which have been washed and hulled and 5 cups sugar, place 1 cup berries in a heavy saucepan and cover with 1 cup sugar and continue until all of the berries and sugar have been placed in the saucepan layer by layer. Bring slowly to a boil and boil gently for 9 minutes. Remove from fire and add 3 tablespoons lemon juice. Let stand overnight. Next day bring to a boil and boil gently an additional 9 minutes. Remove from fire, skim, and let stand in saucepan until thoroughly cold, then seal in hot sterilized jars. The berries remain whole and retain their natural flavor and color.

Rhubarb Butter.
(Makes 6 to 7 glasses)
2 1/2 pounds rhubarb
2 pounds sugar
3/4 cup vinegar
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon ground cloves
Cut rhubarb in small pieces (do not peel). Combine with remaining ingredients and cook for about 2 hours—or until the mixture is the consistency of fruit butter. Pour into sterilized jelly glasses. Cover with melted paraffin.

Chili Sauce.
4 quarts ripe tomatoes
6 apples
2 onions
1 1/2 cups brown sugar
2 cups vinegar
1 tablespoon salt
3 tablespoons pickle spice
2 teaspoons paprika
Peel and chop fine the tomatoes, apples and onions. Add the brown sugar, vinegar and salt and the spices tied in a spice bag. Cook slowly until thick, stirring frequently. Remove spice bag. Seal in hot sterilized jars.

Brass will need less cleaning if, after being polished in the usual way, it is rubbed with a cloth slightly moistened with furniture polish or cream.

To make cut glass sparkle, dip a small brush in lemon juice and scrub the glass with it.

Lime marks on bath tub, caused by hard water, can be removed by rubbing with peroxide of hydrogen.

Excellent pads for the stair-carpet can be made by covering a fairly thick pad of newspaper with hessian, felt or cloth.

GET VITAMINS YOU NEED...

AS YOU REFRESH YOURSELF!

Oranges can help you to feel your best
When you want refreshment, eat an orange! Or help yourself from the big family pitcher of fresh orangeade! "Hits the spot!" you'll say.

But that's not all. Oranges add needed vitamins and minerals to your diet. And fully half of our families, says the Department of Agriculture, do not get enough of these health essentials to feel their best!

The best way to be sure of getting all the vitamin C you normally need is to drink an 8-ounce glass of fresh orange juice with breakfast every morning. You also receive vitamins A, B, and G and the minerals calcium, phosphorus and iron.

There's nothing else so delicious that's so good for you. So order a supply of Sunkist Oranges right away. They're the pick of California's best-ever crop of wonderfully juicy summer oranges. Copyright, 1944, California Fruit Growers Exchange

PINCKNEY DEFEATS HOWELL

The Howell Sportsmen team with a record of 10 wins and no losses had an off day when they met Pinckney here last Tuesday night and lost 13 to 2. Voss, the Howell pitcher had plenty on the ball, but was wild walking 7 men. Clifford Miller's triple in the second with the bases full put Pinckney in the lead and they stayed there. ## PINCKNEY WINS AT SANITARIUM

Pinckney won from the Michigan State Sanitarium in a game played there Friday 12 to 2. Pinckney got a 2 run lead in the third on singles by the Miller Bros. and Doc Hendee's double. They added another in the 4th when Edsil Meyer got a home run and 3 more in the 5th on a single by Hendee and two San errors. In the 6th they got 3 more on singles by Singer and Haines, a walk to Meyer and Hendee's triple. 3 more came in the 7th on hits to C. Miller, Ledwidge and Haines and P. Singer's double.

The San had trouble solving Dinkel's delivery. They could get men on but couldn't score them. Their only run came in the 5th on Beaupre's home run. He hit one square again in the 7th but was nipped at the plate when he tried to stretch it into a home run. Doc Hendee threw him out from center field. Doc had a big night, getting a double, single and a triple in 3 times up.

Try Michigan for YOUR Vacation!

Michigan's fine roads do much to account for our State's prestige as a far-famed vacation playground.

Land ahoy! ... Five thousand lakes make Michigan a favorite gathering place for those who are interested in sailing, canoeing or motor-boating.

Have you considered Michigan for your vacation? There is much to recommend it.

You can, for example, pitch your tent or park your trailer beside a lake no larger than a mill-pond, or one so vast that it resembles an inland sea. You can choose among thousands of trout streams.

You can visit historic shrines and famous industrial plants ... hike through splendid forests ... or doze among picturesque sand dunes!

A great vacation State, Michigan has this added advantage: It's nearer, so your money goes farther!

And while you are away, remember that you are as near home as the nearest telephone.

Philathea Notes

This week Wednesday our schedule calls for a Class Picnic, being held at the home of our teacher, President, Mrs. R. K. Elliott, with all the ladies of the Community cordially invited.

Last Sunday's lesson discussion centered about Job's temptation to doubt God's goodness. In the absence of the teacher (and a big percent of the members), the period was in charge of this reporter. Better things are hoped for during next Sunday's lesson hour, when we consider "Job's Struggle to Faith in Life After Death", "Job 14:13-17; Job 17:13-16 and Job 19:23-29.

Holy Communion was administered last Sunday, after an appropriate sermon by Rev. McClucas from Luke 22:19 and much appreciated music including a special number by some of our "summer colony". Our faithful choir is taking a well deserved rest from the usual choir practice.

Our Philatheas and other old friends of Miss Flota Hall, formerly of East Putnam, will be glad to know that she is visiting in Michigan at present. For a number of years her home has been in Seattle, Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Soule and daughter of Howell, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Sprout and children spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bush at Michigan Center, Mich.

A Bank's Duty
To Its Depositors

The American Bankers Association in its Statement of Principles of Commercial Banking says, "The safety of the funds entrusted to the bank by all of its depositors must be the foremost objective of the commercial banker."
Thus banks must exercise extreme care in granting loans and making investments to safeguard deposits.

It is our duty to render a prompt and adequate checking service for the safety and convenience of our depositors in transmitting funds.

To avoid discriminating against certain depositors by failing to require each account to pay for the service it receives, it is obviously necessary either to require balances sufficient to reimburse the bank for such services, or to make a fair charge for rendering them.

Parent's Love

How many hopes and fears, how many ardent wishes and anxious apprehensions are twisted together in the threads that connect the parent with the child!

No child can be sure to escape BOWEL WORMS

Maybe you don't realize how easy it is to become infected with round worms! Your child may catch the infection from other children, from a dog, from uncooked vegetables, from infected water.

So, watch out for these warning signals: Unsteady stomach, fidgeting and squirming, itchy nose and other parts, finicky appetite, biting nails. And if you even suspect that your child has round worms, start using JAYNE'S VERMIFUGE at once!

JAYNE'S VERMIFUGE is the best known worm-expeller in America. It has been used by millions for over a century.

JAYNE'S VERMIFUGE has the ability to drive out large round worms, yet it tastes good and acts gently. It does not contain castor oil. If there are no worms it works merely as a mild laxative. Ask for JAYNE'S VERMIFUGE at any drug store.

Today's popularity of Doan's Pills, after thirty years of world-wide use, is a sure proof that they must be accepted as evidence of satisfactory use.

And favorable public opinion supports that of the able physicians who test the value of Doan's under exacting laboratory conditions.

These physicians, too, approve every word of advertising you read, the objective of which is only to recommend Doan's Pills as a good diuretic treatment for disorder of the kidney function and for relief of the pain and worry it causes.

If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove waste that clogs the blood, without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole body suffers when kidneys lag, and diuretic medicine would be more often employed.

Burning, scanty or too frequent urination, swollen feet, disturbed kidney function, you may suffer morning back-ache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eye—these are signs, all played out.

Use Doan's Pills. It is better to rely on a medicine that has been tested and found safe than on something less favorably known. Ask your neighbor!

Entrancing Rubber Flowers To Wear With Your Swim Suit

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

A THEME for poet and painter, and as to those whose mission it is to tell the story of fashion in columns such as this, the dictionary, quick! It's super-glamorous adjectives we must have to describe the beauty of water-sprayed flowers worn by fashion's mermaids. The happy thought about these flowers is that, being made of rubber, they come up out of watery depths looking as fresh as flowers in a summer garden.

It is indeed a pretty fashion that has been launched of wearing flowers made of rubber to wear with swim suits. There is simply no limit to the possibilities this fashion envisions in the way of picture effects. When one sees the charming bathing ensembles by Kleiner that are enhanced with flowers, one is brought to a realization of the importance of the role rubber is playing in the fashion realm.

Faithful reproduction of the color and design of real flowers has taken years of training in workmanship. It requires artistic ability plus to successfully reproduce in rubber realistic camellias, violets, water lilies, anemones, sweet peas, forget-me-nots, gardenias, roses, cornflowers, dahlias and chrysanthemums such as fashion offers this season. We are showing below in the picture just a few types available, and if you go in quest you will be shown many more where swim suit accessories are sold. The swim suits here pictured are most as interesting as the flowers that trim them, in that they are made of a new rubber fabric that has a crepe-like knitted surface that can be softly draped to give a dressmaker touch. From the outside these attractive, practical rubber suits appear to be seamless. In reality the seams and reinforcements have been scientifically designed to prevent the possibility of ripping. Being of rubber, when you emerge from the water your suit will dry quickly, fit smoothly and feel wonderfully comfortable.

Were the accompanying illustration printed in color, as we wish it might be, one would see how amazingly realistic are the tones and tints of the flowers. The lady shown to the left is putting out to sea in a dressmaker swim suit which reflects Hawaiian influence in its wide-skirted silhouette and garland of turquoise and coral sweet peas that outlines the bodice top. Dress, flowers and matching turban are all of rubber. The striking beachbag flung over her shoulders is rubber lined. The picture centered below gives a close-up view of the flower arrangement.

The costume to the right presents an interesting study in rubber flower culture. This clever maiden selected a flower bedecked suit in deep pink. Under the flower cluster a "mad-money" pocket is hidden, which also holds locker key and lipstick, which is self explanatory as to why this suit is called "pocketeer."

And now for another revelation in rubber artistry. This time it is rubber jewelry. Note the matching halo to hold tresses in place and bracelet which the lovely lady pictured in the center at the top is wearing. Blue and yellow corn flowers form the straps of the bathing suit and the jewelry. This ensemble is called "debutante" no doubt in honor of its wearer.

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Red, White and Blue

"Three cheers for the red, white and blue" and it's fashion that is joining in the chorus in accents loud and clear. This stunning hat and bag ensemble sounds a patriotic note in its red, white and blue color scheme. It is woven of cord in the three colors and emphasizes the importance of matching accessories. Accessory sets simply thrill with exciting adventures such as a bag and hat made of print cotton of the old-fashioned calico type. Polka dot bags and hats are the rage. Latest is hat, bag and shoes made of print in bizarre colorings.

Field Flowers
Daisies seem to be the winning design in the flower group, with daffodils and lilies next.

Gingham Safety
Brightly checked gingham is a gay touch to add to a tailored summer suit.

Felt Cartwheels

In for Popularity

If hat designers have their way, big-brimmed hats will be the outstanding successes of this summer. Felts as big as cartwheels are shown again and again and, to make them more interesting, their brims and crowns are intricately manipulated. Some are arranged in fan shape, others swoop back from the face and are trimmed with gay feathers. Almost all of them, even the largest, are trimmed with veils—some long enough to reach the waist.

Bag and Bracelet

In Red Style Note

The fashion for bright red hats, bags, jewelry and other accessories is going strong this summer. Try this combination to enliven your navy, white or black costume—a stunning bag in red leather of fabric, together with a striking red bracelet which may be of the carved plastic type or one of the new poppy red flower effects. It is within the bounds of good taste to add a matching necklace if your enthusiasm for red carries you that far.

Trim It With Lace

Is Now Sure Fire

When in doubt trim it with lace. Bolts and bolts of fine lace edging are contributing to the news in summer fashions. Hats are very smart with bows, bands, brims and crowns of lace. Accessories include matching lace bags and belts of lace—and it's chic to carry a lace parasol, too!

Patterns SEWING CIRCLE

SWEET and summery as a basket of flowers, this frock (8729) is perfect for warm afternoons. In printed silk, or flower-patterned cottons like voile or batiste, it will look so cool and fresh and feminine, with its open-topped sleeves, heart-shaped neckline, and frills that put all the emphasis up at the top, an effect always becoming to slim figures. The skirt has the lifting grace of circular fullness.

And notice how little detailing is required—just a few gathers at

Sea Bed Reveals History

In 10 feet of sand and mud on the Atlantic ocean bottom scientists can read a million years of history of the Ice age. Samplings have been taken from the sea bed across the North Atlantic with a cannon-like tube that is shot by gunpowder into the floor as it touches bottom. From these samplings the United States Geological Survey scientists have found evidence of advancing and retreating ice, of one-celled animals and of periods of volcanic activity, the latter indicated by layers of ash thrown off perhaps by eruptions in Iceland.—Popular Mechanics.

200-Mile Lights
No Double Joints
Ban Animal Flesh

The brightest lights ever created by man are the 800,000,000-candlepower carbon-arc searchlights that are owned by the United States army. Their beams, when directed vertically into the night sky, can be seen for a distance of two hundred miles.

There are no such things as a double joint in a human being, a revolver silencer outside of fiction or a blood test through which it is possible to determine whether an unknown parent of a child is of the white or Negro race.

Several Americans pay a larger federal income tax than is collected from all persons in any one of about 12 states.

of greater benefits to Michigan. "In the field of national defense, the state program should be one of backing up the federal defense program both with regard to industrial production and use of the national guard."

State Finances
In the Van Wagoner declaration of candidacy are found some other "straws in the wind" as to conception of issues for the fall campaign. "Crippled state finances and muddled state purchasing must be among the first evils tackled by the next governor of Michigan," he said, referring to a state deficit of $31,000,000.

Warning that the national defense program would "necessarily" impose additional federal taxes, the highway commissioner declared: "We must initiate in Michigan a wise and thrifty state government. Home-spun economy and rigid business management must prevail."

Rather than pre-suppose what the public is thinking, the Van Wagoner formula is to "go directly to them (the people) for their opinions; giving them a chance to be heard and heeding what they say".

With forthright frankness he is expected to condemn administrative practices without condemning Governor Dickinson. At least, such is his intention in mid-July.

National Issues
National issues - such as the administration's unofficial intervention in the European war - are to play a major role in Michigan's ballot drama.

"Michigan faces other issues that have a deeper significance even than political trends," said Van Wagoner at a Pontiac homecoming. "A war is threatening our American democracies. Our nation faces a critical period. The American people have watched and approved President Roosevelt's stalwart leadership in meeting the world crisis of the past months and endorse his now proven foresight of the past years in urging more adequate national defense for our country."

This came from a man who has never worshipped blindly at the altar of F. D. R. as has Frank Murphy. Van Wagoner has been more of a middle-of-the-road Democrat than an avowed New Dealer. His thinking has been that of a practical engineer; not social planner.

This open endorsement of Roosevelt is another indirect result of the current war crisis. It reflects the lengthening shadows of national issues over Michigan's state election in November.

Editor's Note: The Michigan Mirror, a non-partisan state news letter, presented the Republican viewpoint in a series of interviews two months ago with James Thomson, then chairman of Republican State Central committee.

National Defense

For several weeks past we have had a continuous flow of information concerning the state of our national defense. The Coast Guard claim the coastal defense is undermanned and in many instances obsolete. The Army claims mobilization is far behind and lack of artillery and supplies places them far short of a prepared point. The Navy while strong is not equipped to split the fleet and meet a strong attack of any one foreign navy.

Second thought is not as alarming as it might be. With a permanent program set up for National Defense we can now proceed to fill the gaps without throwing normal industrial production out of gear.

Our own individual defenses can best rest in a Savings Account. Each dollar added thereto is a bulwark against emergencies that happen in every day life. Nationally we must prepare our defense, but equally important is preparing our self-defense.
