

Draft Machinery Is Perfected

County Clerks Are Given Instruction As To How To Handle The Registration on October 16. Draft Drawing to Be Oct. 21-26.

All county clerks received instruction last week as to how to handle the registration of persons eligible for the draft on October 16th next. They are instructed to get in immediate touch with city and township clerks and arrange to have the same election officials usually employed in each voting precinct report for duty on October 16, from 7 a. m. to 9 p. m. The person in charge of each such voting precinct will be designated as chief registrar. These chief registrars will immediately secure the voluntary services of as many assistant registrars as circumstances may require. At least one registrar will be required for each 200 of total population in each precinct.

After having been duly designated by city or township clerks as the chief registrars, the latter will report without delay to the county clerk, who will swear in each one by use of a special oath.

After the introduction into the office, the clerk is instructed to turn over registration cards, certificates of registration and other forms to the chief registrar. After he is sworn in, the chief registrar may swear in any or all of his assistant registrars.

The county clerk also is required to report by telegram to the governor at least three days before registration day of the state of readiness of his county. He also must arrange for the registration of persons who are sick, in hospitals, schools, colleges, asylums, jails, etc.

The drawings by number of the drafted men will be at Washington, D. C. on October 21-26. Each person registering will be given a draft number.

In the world war in the 1918 draft C. J. Clinton of Pinckney had the first draft number drawn out. He went overseas and was wounded in battle in France. He is still resident of Pinckney.

Frank Bowers, supervisor, will be the chairman of the draft registration board in Putnam township. The other members will be Mrs. Eleanor Ledwidge, township clerk and William Jeffreys and Ben White, justices. The place of registration is the Putnam township hall which will be open from 7:00 a. m. to 9:00 p. m. on the day of October 16. Mr. Bowers and all other township supervisors in this county are to attend a school of instruction in the office of county clerk, John Hagman.

M-36 Hard Surfacing Is Completed

Detroit Asphalt Co. Completes Entire Job of Hard Surfacing 23.9 Miles of State Highway in 26 Days.

The hard surfacing of the entire 23.9 miles of M-36 from the Ingham county line, north of Plainfield to U. S. 23, near Whitmore Lake was completed early Thursday afternoon of last week by the Detroit Asphalt Co., of Detroit, who had the contract to do the work for $54,000. The job was completed in 26 days. Now a new paved road is available from Lansing to Detroit which is only two miles longer than the Grand River highway and enables motorists to make the trip and avoid heavy traffic.

Pinckney was the headquarters for this project. The asphalt was shipped here over the Grand Trunk railroad and the sifted and washed gravel was drawn to the railroad yards here from the Green Oak gravel pit. An engine and pump house was put up there and the asphalt heated to 300 degrees and carried to the highway in a heated tank truck and applied to the highway at that heat. First a layer of asphalt was applied, then a layer of gravel and so on until three layers were applied. This will be allowed to set for a year or two and then a seal coat of asphalt will be applied.

The agitation to get this highway blacktopped was started way back in 1933 when Floyd Weeks was the president of the Pinckney Board of Commerce. Several meetings were held in Pinckney at which every township from Mason to Novi was represented. The late John C. Nagel of Detroit who owned considerable property at Buck Lake on M-36 was the first president and led a delegation of over 100 to Lansing to see Highway Commissioner Murray Van Wagener. At that time no promises were made by the highway dept. who stated the route of the highway would have to be changed before the road was blacktopped. Mr. Nagel died and another meeting was held at which Charles Hamilton, Novi supervisor was elected to succeed Mr. Nagel. Several other delegations were sent to Lansing. A WPA project was considered, as Ingham got a portion of M-36 blacktopped that way, but there were not enough men on the WPA in this county for the job. In the meantime Oakland county blacktopped her portion of M-36 from South Lyon to Novi and the Livingston county road commission blacktopped the part from U. S. 23 to South Lyon, so at the present time the full length is hard surfaced.

Another benefit from this project is that the dust nuisance on the highway which was considerable in the summer months has been abated.

The Various Amendments To Be Voted Upon Nov. 5 Are Explained

When Michigan voters go to the polls November 5, they must make an important decision. They must decide whether or not the people can trust their legislature to carry out the popular will.

For many years it has been an old American custom, regardless of the party, for legislators to proclaim: "To the victors belong the spoils!" Proposal No. 2 on the November 3 election ballot is an amendment to the state constitution which would write civil service into Michigan's basic law and set up a four-member, bipartisan commission to administer the merit system directly under the constitution.

The legislature would no longer have any practical authority in the civil service picture. Thus would pass away the traditional power of the elected representatives of the people over this phase of state administration.

Would this transition be good or bad? That is the question the voters must decide, and it is admitted there is much to be said on both sides of the case.

Merit System

Probably the first question in the mind of the neutral voter is, Why is it deemed necessary to strip the legislators of this power? The Michigan Merit System association, sponsor of the amendment, has taken the stand that the legislature cannot be relied upon to give the state a real civil service, and the association leaders point to the state's three-year experience with the merit system as evidence that patronage governs the choice of state employees and disrupts efficiency.

It will be remembered that the 1937 Democratic legislature passed the bill setting up Michigan's first civil service, Frank Murphy, then governor imported William Brownrigg from California to administer the system. Director Brownrigg proceeded to hew to the line so rigorously in choosing employees by question-and-answer tests and in governing employee relations according to the letter of the law, that a political reaction blew him out of office early in 1939.

At that time the newly elected Republican legislature revised the system by what critics called a "ripper" bill. There were observers, in politics and out, who felt the liberalization was justified on the basis that government had sought to do the impossible, namely, to reform government overnight.

8,000 Employees

The original act brought approximately 15,000 workers under civil service. At present there are only about 8,000 of the state's total of 17,000 employees under the setup. All this will be changed if the amendment passes. So sweeping is the measure that only about 370 positions, selected officers, department heads, board and commission members, employees of the legislature, and not more than two other positions for each elected administrative officer and each department, board, and commission) would be exempt.

Furthermore the amendment manipulates the state's pursestrings. It forces the legislature to appropriate less than one per cent of the total state payroll for the merit system. This means considerably more money than civil service is now getting.

Many objections to the amendment have been raised. Various organizations which have supported civil service and which formerly backed the Merit System association's program are opposing the current proposal. They include the state department of the American Legion, Michigan Farm Bureau, Inc., Michigan Federation of Labor, and the Michigan Federation of Business and Professional Women.

The opposition centers on the argument that whatever corrections need to be made to civil service should be made by the legislature and not through constitutional alteration. (Continued on Last Page)

CURRENT COMMENT

Wendell Willkie, presidential candidate visited Michigan last week and according to press accounts his visit was not the big success that was expected. The purpose was to gain the favor of the labor vote in the big industrial centers but at these places he seems to have been given the cold shoulder. The rally at Wyandotte only drew 5,000 where 10,000 had been expected. The Cadillac square meeting in Detroit drew 25,000. President Roosevelt drew 350,000 there in the same place four years ago. At the night meeting at the Olympia in Detroit only 15,000 were present and there were numerous empty seats. The tour of the factory districts in Pontiac, Flint, Lansing, etc., failed to draw out many workers. In Flint the workers boycotted him and when he toured the industrial district there he made no speeches because he failed to find anyone to talk to. In many places he was subjected to acts of violence that no other candidate who visited Michigan was ever subjected to. Misses were hurled at him in Detroit and a bystander was injured by one intended for him. Eggs were hurled at Pontiac and his wife was spattered by one. Eggs and fruit were also thrown at Jackson and at Grand Haven a stone was thrown through the railroad car window. There are all regrettable incidents and never should have happened but one is forced to wonder just why there should be such ill feeling against Willkie. Among the people there is evident growing resentment against him. It is felt that he is not one of them and that also he has nothing in common with the party whose standard bearer this year he happens to be. We are of the opinion that if Thomas Dewey, had been the Republican nominee this year there would have been no such demonstrations here against him.

The fact that the boys in Pontiac, responsible for the egg throwing are high school students, 14, 15, and 16 years old, taken advantage of by the governor Dickinson to accuse schools of teaching Communism. The governor does not like the modern school and thinks these institutions should teach nothing but Reading, Writing and Arithmetic. Supt. of Public Instruction, Gene Elliott, denies the governor's insinuation. These school children were present at all Willkie speeches in Michigan to help swell the crowds. At one stop in Pontiac the crowd was composed almost entirely of school children. Supt. Elliott also asks anyone who knows of a teacher, teaching Communism to inform him. He states he has never been able to find one.

The Detroit world series failed to draw capacity crowds evidently for the reason that the scalpers got possession of many of the tickets and held them for a high price. Not all any of the three Detroit games was there a capacity crowd. Only some 52,000 attended Friday, 54,000 Saturday and over 55,000 Sunday. The scalper bought up the $6.60 tickets and demanded as high as $25 apiece for them. They were no takers however, and in the end these seats sold as low as $1. They even had to go into the rural districts to dispose of them. We understand a scalper was in Howell Friday night offering $6.60 tickets for $5. The capacity crowd at Briggs stadium is, we believe, 57,000 or so.

The Gallup poll published in last Sunday Detroit News recorded another large gain for President Roosevelt in the nation. Whereas on September 20 last 10 states were placed in the Willkie column with some 37 electoral votes this had shrunk to 6 on October 6 with but 32 electoral votes. The poll on the other hand gave President Roosevelt 499 electoral votes and the lead in 42 states. Most of the Roosevelt gains were in the western states where Willkie recently concluded a speaking tour. We understand that Willkie is not allowed to see these Gallup polls.

Pinckney High School Loses at South Lyon

South Lyon High School Takes Game From Local Team Last Friday 19 to 0.

Pinckney high school failed to click last Friday and emerged on the short end of a 19 to 0 score at South Lyon.

So far the boys have been unable to develop any teamwork by means of which they can gain consecutively. Only in the second quarter did the Pinckney team show any offensive. Then they made several first downs in succession and reached the 20 yard line where they lost the ball on downs. The Pinckney lineup was shaken up, Palmer going to an end, Darrow, a freshman, going to the backfield and Vedder starting at guard. However, the Pinckney line again proved weak and the backfield never could get started on offense.

South Lyon made most of her gains carrying the ball, Pinckney being able to break up most of her forward passes. This is South Lyon's second victory, she having won from Clarkston 20 to 0 in her first game. This afternoon Pinckney will meet Hartland here in their first home game. Two weeks ago these teams played a scoreless tie and Pinckney hopes to break into the win column today.

Booklets in Loose Leaf Ring Binders

show you my method of fastening booklets in ring binders. I use 3/4-inch wide gummed tape. Pieces 2 1/2-inches long are folded in half. The fold end is stuck together and punched. These tabs are placed on the rings of the binder and booklet stuck between the open ends.

NOTE: Here is a good suggestion for keeping the series of sewing booklets which Mrs. Spears has prepared for our readers. There are five booklets available and a new one is published every other month.

Inventors Turning to War Devices

National Council Mustered To Develop New Ways To Aid Defense.

WASHINGTON.—Patterned after an agency which turned up dozens of devices for use in the World War, among them a mystery weapon which is still being kept secret, the National Council of Inventors is mustering some of the keenest inventive brains in the country into a search for new tools for the army and navy.

From their research laboratories in every part of the country dozens of scientists, long schooled in the patient and painstaking work of tracking down peacetime inventions, have sent offers to the government to help devise more efficient equipment for war.

In addition to the skilled inventors, the aid of amateurs is being enlisted—and the general call for ideas has brought on a brain-matching contest which already is bringing several hundred defense suggestions a day into the offices of the council.

War Prisoner Loses 66 Pounds in Three Months

VICHY, FRANCE.—Louis Wehrle of Fort Wayne, Ind., former American volunteer ambulance driver who said he lost 66 pounds during his three-month confinement in a German prison camp, arrived here with another captured volunteer, Murray Shipley of Cincinnati.

The two were captured after German parachute troops dropped around them in northern France in mid-May. They were held at Hoyerswerda, near Dresden, along with two others, Alfred Raymond of Chicago and Marcus Clark of Hollywood. All were released August 23.

In the same prison, Wehrle said, were 6,000 French officers, including nearly all officers belonging to the seventh and ninth French armies. Approximately 20,000 other French prisoners and 4,000 Belgians passed through the camp en route to work in labor gangs in Germany.

"The food wasn't so good, but there were no complaints about our treatment," Wehrle said. "We got ersatz (substitute) coffee five times weekly, a porridge made of corn-flour twice weekly. Other meals included potato and cabbage soup, black bread, sometimes codfish, but very rarely meat. On that diet I lost 66 pounds in three months."

Congressional Letter

By Cong. Blackney

During the past week the House of Representatives has taken up miscellaneous matters, waiting until the Senate had completed the discussion of bills already passed by the House. Apparently the major pieces of legislation for this session are over.

Efforts will be made to adjourn, but I do not think that the New Dealers will have sufficient votes to bring it about. There is a considerable feeling existing that Congress should not adjourn but should hold itself in readiness to take up any emergency legislation that might arise under present conditions. Congress will probably recess from time to time, thus making it possible to resume its sessions whenever necessary.

The people have been protesting for many months against the exporting of scrap iron and steel particularly to Japan. After months of protest the Administration placed an embargo, effective October 16, on export of all scrap iron and steel outside the Western hemisphere, excepting Britain. This action was aimed largely at Japan, which obtained 91 per cent of its war materials from the United States in 1939.

Our Government, through the Export Import Bank, loans $25,000,000 to China to support resistance to Japanese invasion and to stabilize Chinese currency. It has been announced by Federal Loan Administrator Jones that the U. S. will obtain from China $30,000,000 worth of tungsten to build up America's stock of essential war materials not produced in quantity here.

The President has issued orders calling out 35,700 National Guardsmen to report October 15 for a year's active duty, supplementing 60,500 guardsmen ordered to duty September 15.

One good amendment that was embodied in the Conscription Bill when passed was that the boys could not be drafted unless suitable food, shelter, material, equipment, etc. were in readiness for them. A bill appropriating $338,000,000 for construction of barracks for drafted men has already become a law.

The House Banking and Currency Committee approves legislation to increase Federal Bank Deposit Insurance from $5,000 to $10,000 to decrease the assessment rate on insured banks and to authorize $5,000,000 for a F. D. I. C. building in Washington.

The Ramspeck Civil Service Bill which places about 200,000 Federal employees in the Civil Service and which had previously passed the House, will be considered in the Senate within a day or so.

These two gas stations
with light!

An increase in net profit of 122 PER CENT—achieved solely by improved lighting: That is the startling record of Mr. John T. Rancu's gas station at Woodward and Stimson Avenues, Detroit. In this "before and after" test, made to determine whether better lighting really pays its way in dollars and cents, a careful record of costs and sales was kept. The resultant figures are actually conservative. . . . Mr. Wilson Morrison, owner of a gas station at 10600 Harper Avenue, enjoyed a similar experience. He added new reflector flood lamps, and increased lamp wattage over the grease and wash racks. Three months after the installation of improved lighting, his gross sales had jumped 116 PER CENT. He says— "Since installing modern floodlighting and reflector lamps at my gas station, I have better than doubled my business. This increase was way beyond my expectations, but I can now appreciate the value of good lighting as a means of increasing business."

Would you like to get an idea of how YOUR gas station will look when flood lighted? We will be glad to demonstrate. No charge or obligation. The equipment can be set up right on your premises. Phone your Detroit Edison office.

PLANT FOOD LACK IMPORTANT CAUSE OF CROP LOSSES

CHICAGO.—Profits or losses on crops harvested on Midwestern farms were largely determined by the presence in or absence of important plant foods from the soil, according to a statement by the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee. "Millions of dollars have been lost from wheat and oats which lodged because of a lack of phosphoric acid, potash or both of these elements," says the statement. "Millions more were lost from corn that failed to mature properly. "During the growing season advances, all growing crops show easily detected signs of plant starvation. For example, corn which lacks nitrogen fails to thrive and develops streaked, yellowish-tinted leaves. A tell-tale clue of phosphoric acid deficiency is lateness of maturity and poorly formed kernels. When potash is sorely needed, growth slows down, leaves scorch, the corn is susceptible to diseases and parasites. "Undernourished wheat reveals disabilities including stunted growth where phosphoric acid is lacking, and poorly formed grains and a blighted appearance when potash is needed. "Legume crops reveal marked evidence of distress when plant food starvation sets in. Alfalfa and clover that need potash develop a spotty, measles-like eruption that spreads over the leaves. "From the experience of this year's crop, Middle West farmers can determine how the lack of im-

ONLY A SKIRMISH

Frank McKay in his paper, the Grand Rapids Times is inclined to belittle the recent victory of Gov. Dickinson over himself and Edward Barnard of Wayne in the recent state convention. He says Barnard has been down before but never stayed there very long and it is believed that he will make a surprise move in the near future. Gov. Dickinson has stated that he intends no purge and that the present office employees, appointed through McKay's recommendations will not be disturbed providing they give satisfactory service. In other words, that means he is completely satisfied with his victory over Tom Read and will seek no further finish fights with McKay.

ANNUAL CHURCH MEETING HELD

October "Family Night" was observed at the Congregational church Monday evening with about one hundred partaking of the pot-luck supper. The program was provided by the Booster Class under the leadership of Mrs. Celia Nash and Mrs. Thelma Hulce. A playlet was presented by the class, and specialty features by Joe Gearhart of Marion township and Chester Clark of Howell. After the program, the annual business meeting of the church was held. Reports from every department of the organization were read, all showing a gratifying balance on hand. Officers who will serve the church next year are: Clerk, Mrs. Hattie Swarthout; Treasurer, Mrs. Rose Hendee; Trustees, P. H. Swarthout and William Euler; Deacon, John Dinkel; Deaconess, Beane Swarthout; Organist, Mrs. Florence Baughn.

family will feel their responsibility to the church for the service rendered to the community for these many years. Each one is indebted to the church for promoting Christianity which makes life safe and property valuable. We all desire to live in a Christian community where the church functions. It costs to operate the church - someone has to pay the bills. We hope each one will take this matter seriously and thank God we still have our freedom and liberty in this democracy of ours. If church is defeated, democracy will be a thing of the past, and we will find ourselves in a similar condition to that of Europe today.

We appreciate your contributions of the past, and are soliciting your contributions for the future. The church needs the talent, time and money of those who believe and appreciate the rich things of life which the church has given to the community.

The committee is under the direction of Mr. P. H. Swarthout, chairman, and Mrs. E. L. Hulce, Secretary. All pledges and contributions will be very much appreciated. We also invite you to attend our Sunday Services and better prepare yourself for the duties of the week, by seeking inner spiritual fortitude which is very essential to Man's spiritual development.

WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK

By LEMUEL F. PARTON
(Consolidated Features—WNU Service.)

NEW YORK.—One of the greatest philippics of William Pitt was his famous denunciation of that foul word, "democracy," which had come into the English language "from the sewers of Paris." To Merwin K. Hart joins in attacks on "Democracy" in his only associations were homicide and madness. This department has noted recently 11 comparable attacks on this subversive word from similarly respectable and authoritative sources. The latest is the address by Merwin K. Hart, at the Union League club in which Mr. Hart "suspected" that the word was eased into the country, subversively, by the Communist Internationale in 1935.

This thesis, which may develop into something of an American "kultarkampf," is based on the contention that the founding fathers set up not a democracy, but a republic, and that the word, "democracy," is inseparable from Dubious Marxist associations. Mr. Hart also insists that the Marxists have kidnaped the word "liberal," which was all right until it got into bad company.

Mr. Hart is president of the New York State Economic Council. He has been for many years a vigorous and hard-hitting assailant of radicalism in any form. He shells the "subversionists" from his estate on Pippin hill near Utica. His targets have been labor unions, child labor legislation, social insurance, socialized medicine, compulsory health insurance and extravagant expenditures for public education.

Graduated from Harvard in 1904, Mr. Hart has made his business career in insurance, law and manufacturing. He was gassed in the war, is a licensed aviator and a patron of aviation. He urges national discipline. In his Union League address he warned us that we are becoming too soft to stand up against the "tougher products that result from a fascist education."

SIR ERIC COATES was the first British composer to treat modern syncopation seriously, and write compositions in the quickened beat.

Sir Coates of Quicken Beat Gets Last Toot Many bricks were thrown in his direction by his classical confreres, but now he gets the last word—or the last toot. They gear their whirling war machines to his "hot licks" tempo, broadcast to the forges and workbenches. It is speed-up music and workers and machines catch the pace. A favorite piece is his recent "Calling All Workers" in which he says he sought to capture the spirit of the "wonderful British people in their war effort."

It is a tribute to the surprising adaptability of the British at a time when their traditional work-beat was supposed to be something like "Auld Lang Syne." Significantly, war and rumors of war stir lively music and frantic dancing, as attested by the historic dance of the Carmagnole which has been the forerunner of European wars and revolutions, the jazz outbreak before our entry into the World war, and the present swing craze. At any rate, Sir Eric is in tune with the times and by all accounts Old England is, too, as her war production hits a machine-gun tempo to the beat of a swing baton.

Sir Eric was a romanticist and classicist, which makes his change of pace all the more interesting. For many years, he was the principal viola in the Queen's Hall orchestra. He gradually gained eminence by his numerous orchestral works and songs and became a Fellow of the Royal Academy of Music in 1922. One of his best-known songs is "I Pitch My Lonely Caravan at Night"—a mood ironically at variance with London's night-time musings just now. He is the son of a back country surgeon. His avocation is photography which passion he indulges even when the bombs are falling.

IN 1905 Joseph A. Rosen arrived at Michigan State agricultural college from Russia with fifty cents and a few grains of rye. The fifty cents blossomed into the education of Dr. Rosen and the handful of rye spread over 1,800,000 acres in Canada and the United States, the highest yielding rye in the world known as "Rosen rye." Today Dr. Rosen, as head of the European Refugee colony in the Dominican Republic, reports things are going swimmingly in this new home base for the victims of aggression abroad.

President in Power Holds Many Advantages Over His Opponents

Political Party in Office Receives the Most Publicity Because It 'Makes' the News; Opponents Are Merely 'Talking Politics.'

By CARTER FIELD
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

WASHINGTON.—This idea of his being too busy for politics—having to devote his every energy to the national preparedness program—is working out pretty well for President Roosevelt so far as publicity is concerned. This goes for the newspapers, for radio news and comment, and for the newsreels. It is perhaps better for the Roosevelt candidacy in the newsreels, proportionately, than in other mediums of reaching the public.

All over the country opponents of the third term, whether Democrats or Republicans, are complaining that when they go to the movies they are treated to too high a percentage of Roosevelt propaganda which they have no way of avoiding unless they want to miss the rest of the show. They complain further that the New Dealers in the audience get plenty of chance to applaud their hero, but very frequently there is no showing of Wendell Willkie at all.

Presidents Have Many Advantages

Apparently this is just one of the little perquisites which modern invention has given to the man who happens to be in the White House. Obviously it might be true no matter whether he were a Democrat or a Republican, a man seeking merely his second term or a man seeking his fifth.

Whatever the President of the United States does is news. There is no getting away from that. If he dedicates a new dam, or park, or if he talks to a group of friends who visit him at his country estate, it is still news. But when Wendell Willkie talks, he NOT being the President but merely a candidate for the office, that—to the minds of the gentlemen who decide what goes out in the newsreels—is just politics.

This is manifestly unfair, but it is difficult to see what could possibly be done about it. Mere existence of the situation might be a good point against a third term, though it would exist if the race were merely for a second term.

It is interesting to note that every modern development with respect to publicity has increased the advantage of the man in office as against the man trying to get in. In the good old days the sitting President was sometimes thought to be at a slight disadvantage. It was considered undignified for him to go barnstorming, and that was the only way he could reach the people.

Man in Office Given Publicity

Press conferences, in which the President, twice a week, pours out through the Washington newspaper correspondents just what he wants the country to read that afternoon or next morning, were unknown. Virtually no President until Theodore Roosevelt had the gift of publicity. Presidents did not have press agents, either on the public or national committee pay rolls.

That day has gone forever. Now the government at Washington has a corps of publicity men running well up into the hundreds, all of them on the government pay roll. In addition, the national committee has a staff of publicity experts. In the case of the present administration, it has the advantage of having perhaps the greatest political publicity man of all time, Charles Michelson.

If Wendell Willkie is elected, HE will have a tremendous advantage over his opponent four years hence, even if he should decide to eliminate the government press agents. Then what HE did would be news, while what his opponent said would merely be politics.

WASHINGTON WEEK

WASHINGTON.—Reports coming in from all parts of the country indicate the strong possibility that the first quota of 400,000 men to be mustered into the army by January 1, 1941, will be filled by volunteers, without resort to the nationwide draft.

This comes as a surprise to some of the draft officials, but old-timers point to the huge enlistment figures prior to the enactment of conscription during the World war. Until October 16, prospective

THE PRESIDENT

Regardless of who is President, he always has a great advantage over his opponent, according to Carter Field. He explains this advantage by pointing out that what the President does is news, but what his opponent does is politics in the eyes of reporters and editors. Field makes an interesting analysis of the extent and effect of this advantage on the coming election in his column this week.

doughboys must enlist under regular army regulations—that is, for a three-year period. After that date, under terms of the Burke-Wadsworth conscription act, the army will accept volunteers for the one-year enlistment period. Many applications for one-year enlistment have already been received and have been deferred until after "registration day." Scattered figures give rise to the opinion that the enlistments after October 16 will show a rate of 62 men to each conscription district, which would fill the required quota.

Official sources have not commented on the reasons for this trend but it appears to be a healthy situation. Men who join the army of their own free will should make better soldiers. While it is argued by some commentators that many of the young men planning to enlist are doing so merely to avoid waiting two or three years before their number turns up in the draft, nevertheless their attitude will be better for they have joined the ranks on a decision made by themselves, and have not been actually "forced" or drafted.

Will over-confidence defeat the Democratic ticket in November? That is a question being rather freely tossed around the nation's capital city by political observers these days. Administration leaders here seem to be very confident that the race is as good as over; that their man is "in."

But many experienced observers, while admitting that the President has shown real strength in the various polls, are inclined to point out that election day is still some time away.

Major factors that might give the Democrats a real jolt, say these observers, are (1) the third term issue and (2) the "huge independent vote." They point out that the first factor—the third term issue—hasn't been given a real airing by the Republicans. While the President has been the object of numerous potshots for his precedent-making decision, it hasn't been the shining light in the Willkie "crusade" that many people were sure it would be. It may be that Republicans are saving this vital and highly inflammable issue for their final drive down the stretch.

The second factor—the independent vote—is equally important in forecasting the results of the election. Neither the Republicans nor the Democrats can "claim" it until the ballots are counted. Roosevelt backers know it was this vote which elected the President in 1936 and feel sure he will hold it again in November. Republicans, of course, feel that Wendell Willkie has captured the imaginations of this great bloc of independents and when the imagination is captured, they argue, the ballot is so marked.

Small towns throughout the nation have an important stake in current defense plans, judging from the information issuing from the offices of the Civil Aeronautics authority here in Washington.

This is the story: It is quite generally conceded that one of the major weaknesses in the nation's defense system is the lack of airports equipped to handle large bombers. And in any plan to strengthen this nation's defense these airports must in some way be provided.

The CAA is attempting to work out a program whereby this can be brought about and at the same time commercial aviation can be given a real boost.

This would mean a network of airports reaching to every section of the nation, all able to handle the largest of U. S. army bombers. Thus these same airports could also accommodate the large commercial airliners. Commercial aviation would be given its needed impetus in many "remote" sections, and the defense of the nation would be strengthened.

Selective service officials in Washington have announced that plans call for the employment of about a million persons to serve without pay in carrying out provisions of the conscription act. These unpaid workers will consist of various local draft boards, their medical, legal and business advisers and other administrative aids.

Some idea of how the nation feels about material aid to Great Britain, or at least how the administration in Washington thinks the nation feels, might be gleaned from Senate Majority Leader Alben Barkley's reply to Senator Lodge's request for a full debate on the recent transfer of the 50 over-age destroyers to England. In effect, the Democratic leader asserted that there was no use taking up the senate's time to debate a "fait accompli" and one which the whole public approves.

For Best Results—After putting water and soap into washing machine, let it run for a minute or two to dissolve soap before putting in clothes.

Let the dirt around a potted plant come within half an inch of the top of the pot. Then fill the pot with water every day for the average house plant. If you have unusual plants ask your florist about the amount of water they need.

In removing basting threads cut them every few inches, and do not pull a very long thread out at one time, as you are very apt to leave holes in the goods.

To make peanut butter spread easily, add a little boiling water, and then a speck of salt for better flavor. Mix until creamy with a fork. Add some chopped raisins to peanut butter and use as filling for Graham bread sandwiches for the children's lunches.

At least once a year take down shades, stretch them out on a flat surface and after dusting them thoroughly go over them with a wet (not dripping) cloth rubbed lightly with white soap. Clean a portion of the shade at a time, rinsing off the soap with a cloth squeezed out of clear water. Dry thoroughly.

 ations. If the law-makers are not now doing the will of the people, then the voters can elect legislators who will. That is the contention.
 Pro and Con

There are other lesser objections, however. For instance, the various ex-servicemen's organizations are zealous to safeguard the advantages they have gained through the veterans preference act. The amendment would nullify that law and leave preference questions entirely up to the new commission. The commissioners, incidentally, would be appointed by the governor and serve staggered terms.

The Michigan Federation of Labor has attacked the amendment because it pre-allocates funds and on the ground it would jeopardize the bargaining rights of labor.

On the other hand, proponents of the amendment emphasize the efficiency angle. The words of Samuel H. Ordway, Jr., of New York city, president of the National Civil Service Reform league, illustrate this point.

"Each of us as citizen and taxpayer," he said in a recent talk in Lansing, "is concerned not only with getting a dollar's worth of service for a tax dollar paid, but, for the preservation of democracy itself, in seeing that all these service are as effectively rendered as skill, non-partisanship, and high morale can assure".

Democracy

Supporters of the amendment argue that the measure represents the very essence of democracy, in that the people thereby write their own law into the constitution. California and one or two other states are said to have used this means to safeguard civil service against legislative tampering.

This leads to the most serious objection made against the amendment, namely, the implications as to continuation of the American form of representative government. If the legislature cannot be trusted, and if civil service can more efficiently and more satisfactorily be administered by a small super-commission, why not finances, health matters, and everything else the legislature now handles?

Why not gradually dissolve the legislature and let constitutional bureaus do the whole job? These are the questions being advanced.

It is further contended that the net result of adoption of the amendment would be a growing laxness on the part of the electorate. The need of watching legislators would be somewhat diminished, and a legislature now said to be weak would become still weaker.

Thus the people would be doing less than ever to govern themselves intelligently, it is argued.

Although neutral observers have been slow to take up the crisis of alarm raised by some opponents of the amendment, it is freely admitted the proposal implies a modification in the traditional American pattern of government. Some observers regard this change as desirable, as one calculated to streamline and strengthen the familiar party system of representative government.

It is apparent that the amendment will be supported in November by many who feel that in no other way can a stable civil service be effected. It is also apparent, however, that the proposal will meet opposition on the ground that the legislature, with all its faults, should remain the administrative arm of the people.

Mr. Elziner is one of the few in the whole United States who owns this variety of bulb and since importations from Holland are difficult his flowers are a great treat here. The many varieties were exhibited at the county fair at Hartford the past week.

TEACHERS INSTITUTE

This week Thursday and Friday there will be no school because of Teachers Institute. Undoubtedly you have often wondered why there was a Teachers Institute and what goes on at a Teachers Institute. We are going to explain these two things. First, the purpose. The purpose is to give the teachers an opportunity to view and discuss good teaching principles. They receive new ideas and their interest in their profession is revived.

Here is a brief outline of what teachers in the Pinckney Public School intends to do at the Teachers Institute of Region 3 held at Lansing, Michigan. First of all, all the teachers will attend two general meetings. One Thursday morning consisting of an address, "Making a Profession of Teaching" by Eugene B. Elliott, state superintendent of public instruction, and an address, "Wake Up America" by Channing Pollack, lecturer and playwright. The other general meeting is Friday afternoon consisting of an address, "Twice Told Tales" by John F. Thomas, president of Michigan Educational Association, and "Youth in Airplanes, Not Covered Wagons" by Camille Kelley, judge in Juvenile Court, Memphis.

Otherwise the teachers will attend the following meetings.

- Mr. Hulce:-
 Junior and Senior High School; English.
 Mrs. Wilson:-
 Junior and Senior High School. Social Science and History.
 Mr. Reader:-
 Junior and Senior High School. Mathematics
 Mr. Burg:-
 Special Education, Physical Education.
 Mrs. Lobdell:-
 Junior and Senior High School. Later Elementary.
 Miss Byington:-
 Elementary. Early Elementary.
 Miss Darragh:-
 Early Elementary.
 Miss Darragh, Miss Byington, and Mrs. Lobdell intend to include a tour of Grade Schools. They also hope to see the Commercial exhibit.

Clark, Junior Petsch, Eugene Esch, Neil Bell.

Perfect spelling for the week (second grade) Jo. Ann Griffiths, Marlene Schneider.

GRAMMAR ROOM

The Room elected Monitors for this month. It is the duty of the Monitors to pick up the papers from the floor, lead the children when passing to the gym, etc. David Ledwidge is fifth grade Monitor; Sammy Gentile, fourth; Aaron Barber, third. The hall Monitors are Junior Thruhn for the boys and Leona Campbell for the girls.

Those who were neither tardy nor absent during the month of September were: in the third grade - Joe Clark, LaVerne Clark, Shirley Esch, Joe Jeffries, Robert Lavey, Jeannette Liebeck, Joe Plummer, Marilyn Portis and Richard Schneider; the fourth grade - Donald Clark, Gerald Clark, Eloise Flauger, Patsy Mauk, Betty Petsch, Sammy Gentile; in the fifth grade - David Aberdeen, Neal Baughn, Richard Gallup, David Ledwidge, Douglas Liebeck, Marilyn Petsch, Fannie Shirley, Don Stackable and Mary Gentile.

INTERMEDIATE ROOM

Last Friday morning the 6th and 7th grades listened to a music program that Miss Thrasher (county music director) broadcast from Lansing College. The Ogaman County boys and girls did the singing. Miss Thrasher invited the 6th and 7th grades of Pinckney to broadcast from the college some time in the late spring or early fall.

The 7th grade is starting a study on electric lights. Some of the pupils have made personal interviews of electricians.

SOPHOMORES

The Sophomore Class of Pinckney High School is putting on a Halloween Party, October 26th. The plans are not all made, but the different committees are chosen and the class voted on having it a semi-masquerade, so a costume is not necessary. We think if you have the Halloween spirit you will be sure to wear a costume. As an added incentive a substantial prize will be awarded the best costume.

A variety of games and dancing is being selected to provide the entertainment for each high school student and his guest.

Don't forget to buy your candy from the Sophomores at the Football Game Wednesday. Your nickel will help us get to Washington, D. C.

JUNIORS

The Junior Class during this week has held two class meetings. The first one was to decide where we are going on our Senior trip, and as most of the other classes have done, we picked Washington, too. In order to save enough money to go to Washington we changed our class dues to a nickel a week.

The second class meeting was to decide upon a Junior play. Our committee selected two plays and the class decided upon the best one. We have ordered one play book and the class will read it over to see if we think it is suitable. We assure you of a good play again this year and we are hoping for a very large crowd.

The play will be held December 6th, 1940.

YE OLDE GOSSIP COLUMN

A certain Junior girl needs to improve her signals to a certain Senior boy. As it is he is looking the other way most of the time when she is waving. Anyone with a guaranteed method of communication is requested to get in touch with E. J. After a lapse of several years we find that Gerald V. is once more interested in our neighboring town of Gregory.

Can a couple of boys from Howell in a '34 Ford have anything to do with Pauline and Gloria cutting choir practice and recreation night?

One of the big topics under discussion by the "Grape Vine" this week is whether or not a certain Junior boy will continue to ignore the local girls during the school year. How about it, Bill?

Thursday night seems to be a favorite date night this year. Can it be the power of the local shows?

The elder of the Swarthout boys is evidently trying to get a Head. Eh, Isabelle?

We see that some of the local lassies have taken quite an interest in horseshoe pitching. Nice going, Roy.

NOTES ON THE GAME

Pinckney took the field wearing brand new white Jerseys with scarlet number. This made a colorful appearance.

As a whole the team looked greatly improved over its previous showing in the Hartland game. There were some evidences of real blocking in spots and back field men were for the most part running hard and fast. If the boys continue to improve they will cause their future opponents a lot of trouble.

Pinckney played its best ball in the second and third quarters. In these periods they decisively outplayed their opponents and were driving hard for a touchdown when the first half ended.

Pinckney's best offensive threat seems to be Darrow, hard running freshman back. Reynolds is another back who shows a lot of drive.

Probably the best defensive playing of the day was turned in by Palmer, sophomore end.

It is hoped that a large crowd will be in attendance this Wednesday at 3:30 when the local lads meet Hartland in the first home game.

The night game with Ann Arbor has been moved ahead from Friday, October 18th to Saturday, October 19th. This was due to the fact that the Ann Arbor varsity plays at home on Friday night. The game with Ann Arbor will be the last game away from home this season. After that on successive Fridays, the boys meet New Hudson, Linden, and Stockbridge.

We notice that Stockbridge is encountering difficulty in winning this year.
