General Election Is Tuesday, Nov. 5

Queerest Campaign in History Will Draw to a Close With Both Sides Claiming Victory. No Political Rallies Held in This County This Year.

This is the last week of one of the queerest political campaigns ever held in the history of the state and county. The campaign has been confined mostly to radio talks, usually delivered from Detroit or points in other states. Wendell Wilkie toured the state stopping only at big industrial centers. The Gallup poll following his visit showed Michigan in the Democrat column. Henry Wallace, Democrat candidate for vice president also made a tour here last Thursday but does not seem to have gotten any huge overflow crowds. The people have been demanding that President Roosevelt visit Michigan but so far have been unable to get him to do so. He is undoubtedly the only person who could get a record crowd.

In the meantime a number of lesser lights have appeared at various places in the state without wowing anyone to any great extent. Gen. Hugh "Ironpants" Johnson appeared on the lecture course of Michigan State College at East Lansing last Wednesday. He had been booked some time ago, and the students paid for tickets to hear him. Instead of delivering an ordinary lecture he apologized for omitting this and delivered a bitter Anti-Roosevelt political harangue which was broadcast by the Republican state committee. Henry Wallace was scheduled to appear there the next day. Richard Groening, student council president requested President Shaw of the college to dismiss the college in order to give the students a chance to hear Wallace. This he asked in the name of fair play as the students had been obliged to pay the previous day to hear Gen. Johnson deliver a partisan lecture. President Shaw agreed and recessed the college from 1:50 to 3:00 p. m. so the students could hear Wallace.

In the state Murray VanWagoner and the other Democrat state candidates have pretty much covered every part of the state. The same is true of most of the Republican candidates except Gov. Dickinson who has done little campaigning and that mostly from Methodist church pulpits. He was scheduled to tour the upper peninsula with other Republican state candidates but did not go claiming that he had to be present at a big labor conference in Lansing this week and settle a dispute. Labor leaders claimed no such labor crisis existed and although he did call a labor meeting most of the principal labor leaders failed to attend. The Detroit Free Press in its issue of October 19 gives another reason for the governor's failure to tour the upper peninsula. It states that the governor is eager to declare for "Emergency Prohibition" during the time of war preparedness and on account of the unpopularity of such a program in the upper peninsula, the state committee discouraged his trip there.

In the county the campaign has been the deadest in history. The only candidates on the county Republican ticket offered serious opposition are those for sheriff and representative. None of the other candidates have bothered to have cards or posters printed and have done no campaigning to speak of. The hottest race is between the two candidates for sheriff, Irvin Kennedy, present holder of the office and William C. Miller, both Pinckney residents. Kennedy has held the office two terms and Miller served two terms back in the world war days. The campaign has been mostly personal solicitation as neither party has held a big rally in the county and do not intend to, we understand.

The indications apparently point to a Roosevelt victory and straw poll conducted by Republican organs as the Chicago Tribune show Van Wagoner leading Dickinson. There is little Wilkie money being wagered and the Roosevelt enthusiasts who got up some $700 four years ago have so far been unable to get any bets up this year.

Pinckney High School Loses To Linden

Outclasses Pinckney Throughout the Contest and Takes Easy Victory. More Games Left on Schedule.

Pinckney took the field with a shattered lineup last Friday and the Linden team had little trouble in defeating them 35 to 0. An upheaval took place which resulted in the reassignment of Darrow, freshman backfield man, the teams most consistent ground-gainer and Joe Levey, senior end to the sidelines. Consequently Pinckney had no offense and failed to make a single first down the first half. The Pinckney line failed to hold and the passes they tried were intercepted. In the second half they completed a number of short passes caught by Widmayer and Amburgey but failed to get any nearer to the goal line than the thirty yard line.

The Linden team, about the same weight as Pinckney, had a well balanced offense and scored early in the game, they intercepted a number of Pinckney passes and completed a number of their own. Behind a good solid wall of interference they showed a good running game. Their best performance was by Adams, their speedy quarter back. He picked up a Pinckney punt in the second half and ran it back some 70 yards for a touchdown. Previously he had made a 50 yard run for a touchdown.

The Pinckney team has been a puzzle this year. At times they looked good, especially in the second Hartland game, the only contest they won this year. To the man on the side lines their principal fault is a lack of aggressiveness and cooperativeness.

Friday they meet New Hudson here. This team is having a big season and recently beat Brighton 29 to 7 and also South Lyon. Pinckney's last contest is with Stockbridge the following week.

CIRCUIT COURT NEWS

Judge Collins opened the adjourned term of the circuit court at Howell last week. The case of Harold Austin of Indiana versus the receiver of the Ann Arbor railroad was started before a jury of 4 women and 8 men. Harold Austin, 13, was injured when the truck in which he was riding, with Chester Parks, Jas. Parks and Glen Parks was struck by a train near Chilson in July 1939. James Parks was killed. Austin seeks damages for injuries.

A sanity hearing was held in the case of Robert Chapman accused of gross indecency and he will be brought before a sanity commission for committal to an institution.

Richard and Ivan Bugard, arrested numerous times for drunkenness and who have served terms in Livingston, Genesee and Oakland county jails were each given 9 months to three years in Jackson by Judge Collins.

Divorces were granted to Frances Bennett Post from Raymond Post and Florence Tucker from Frank Tucker, Loren from Anna Meabon.

REGULAR COMMUNICATION

Regular communication of Livingston Lodge No. 76 F. and A. M. on Tuesday evening, Nov. 5th. Following the lodge session there will be open house and the election results will be received via radio in the dining room. There will be cards for those who desire to play.

In Which the Whys and Wherefores of the Various Amendments Are Measurably Discussed

Because of competition, two private feuds go before Michigan voters next Tuesday.

And, as usually the case, the innocent bystander who is most affected is the consumer, Mr. and Mrs. John Q. Public, who pay the bill.

The controversies involve two referendums, State Proposal No. 3, the 1939 bus bill, and State Proposal No. 4, the dentists' anti-competition bill. The state legislature, along with other measures, passed both acts on only to have special groups circulate petitions for a referendum of the people.

And so, when you go to the polls next Tuesday, you will be confronted with huge special ballots of bed-sheet proportions. The headings will mean little, if anything.

Bus Competition
The bus act feud involves two transportation concerns, the Department of Street Railways in Detroit a municipal utility, and the Eastern Michigan Motor Bus Company, a private utility.

In 1939 the legislature enacted an amendment to the Motor Carrier Act. This charge said that when Detroit seeks to operate its buses beyond a two-mile limit from the city's borders, and on state highways, it must come under the same regulations and pay the same taxes as do private transportation buses.

The Michigan Motor Bus Association, which seeks a "yes" vote on the No. 3 proposal, wants competition to be put on the same basis for all.

The DSR of Detroit, which as a municipal utility urges a "no" vote, sees the cry of "monopoly" and "profits".

Who is concerned about all this? Consumers in the Detroit suburban area are affected directly. Consumers in up-state communities are affected indirectly in payment, or non-payment, of gasoline taxes.

Dental Competition
The second private feud, also involving the consumer, is between two groups of professionally trained and state licensed dentists.

One group, who term themselves "ethical" dentists, operate single offices, one dental chair to each office.

Another group, known as the advertising dentists, operate low-cost dental offices on the chain store basis. Because of operating economies, these dental offices enjoy big patronage in the industrial centers by telling the consumer about what they have to offer. They do so by advertising. In Detroit these firms even support the Better Business Bureau!

The 1939 dental act contained the provisions, plainly designed to prevent such low-cost competition. We quote the law:

"No Prices"
"No person or persons shall own or manage more than one office for the practice of dentistry in any location, and operate them under his own name with employed operators."
"It shall be unlawful for any dentist or dentists to advertise price, cost charge, fee or terms of credit for professional service or for materials used in the practice of dentistry."

This Henry Ford mass production method in dentistry, with economies made possible largely through advertising prices to the consumer, has thrived in industrial centers where there are many low wage earners. Actually, only a comparative few dentists are concerned by such competition. And likewise, only a few newspapers have ever received dental advertising of this kind.

The Detroit Bureau of Governmental Research, a group that enjoys a splendid reputation, made this analysis of the two competing claims:

"The dentists who secured the passage of this act claim that poor dental work is confined largely to the 'advertising' dentist and by depriving"

"Leaves of Lethargy", the true story of a clever criminal who combined science with "witchcraft" in the search for an elixir of eternal life. The third article in a new series by Master Detective H. Ashton Wolfe, in The American Weekly, the magazine distributed with next Sunday's Chicago Herald-American.

CURRENT COMMENT

It was just 50 years ago that a distinguished citizen of Livingston county, Edwin R. Winans of Hamburg township was elected governor of Michigan in 1890. The Democrat ticket was elected by a landslide. Byron Stout was elected to congress on that ticket and they also won every county office. The Democrats elected were Sheriff, John McCabe; Prosecutor, Dennis Shields; Clerk, Gene Skowe; Register, Alonzo Friere; Treasurer, George Colerick; Circuit Court Com., Judd Yeffand and John Comiskey; Representative, Wm. Harper. Edwin R. Winans had been in politics most of his life time having been supervisor and congressman. His opponent on the Republican ticket, John Turner was a successful business man. Some of his business enterprises were unaverted and when the campaign spotlight was turned on them it resulted in his defeat. The Winans Lake country club is now located on the Gov. Winans homestead in Hamburg township.

Wendell Wilkie still continues to be the target for eggs and the aim of the throwers is improving. The press who play up each of these instances for all they are worth are probably as much too blame as any for the continuance of these incidents. The first throwing which took place in Pontiac was the act of thoughtless school boys but most of those which followed were planned and premeditated by irresponsibly persons who craved publicity and limelight the press gives such incidents. The same thing is true of the heckler who was manhandled by Mayor LaGuardia of New York in Detroit last week. The great amount of publicity and the fact that the press ran his picture on the front page probably will be the high light of his career and was the object of his heckling.

Mayor LaGuardia is the most popular mayor in the nation and one of the world's most humane and liberal rulers. Last summer Wm. Edward White of Emporia, Kansas suggested that the Republicans should nominate LaGuardia for president if they desired to beat Roosevelt. LaGuardia served several terms as a Republican congressman from New York State before he was elected mayor of New York City on a fusion ticket. The fact of his popularity is shown by his reception in Detroit. Cass Technical high school where he delivered his speech was packed to the roof and over 500 people were unable to get in stayed outside and heard the address over the loudspeaker. Cass Technical auditorium seats 8,000 people. The next night the Republicans held a Big No Third Term rally there with Senator Vandenberg as the headliner. The attendance was only between 1500 and 1800 despite a parade of decorated cars all over the city preceding the rally.

A Detroit City motor bus was in town Thursday in the interests of the campaign against the amendment to be voted upon November 5 which would put the Detroit city motor buses under the state regulation of the Public Service Commission. At the present time they are entirely under the control of the city and pay no such taxes as the busses operating outside Wayne county. According to the talk of the men on the bus and the Detroit press, the amendment was put through the legislature by the interests who are jealous of the successful operation of the Detroit street railways and the busses and if passed the net result would be to raise bus fares for the laboring class in Detroit.

During the 8 year term of James Farley as Democrat national chairman he was forced to stand a constant stream of abuse from the press as a cheap Tammany politician, a ward heeler, etc. Now that he is out of the picture all is changed and he has praise coming his way in all directions from the former hostile press. His successor Edward Flynn is now the target for the former stream of abuse directed at him. Farley, as a private citizen is evidently an entirely different person than Farley the national chairman.

Ambrose Kennedy of Howell, M. Ritter, Jr., and Ellsworth Kirkland have all secured positions at the Ford Motor Co. plant at River Rouge.

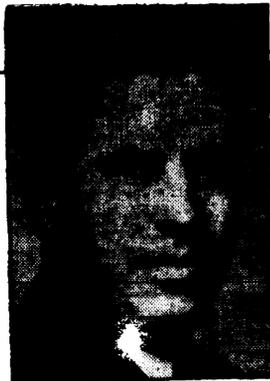

The Emergency Demands We Vote Democratic

Past Experience

Our Present administration and its able leadership have successfully carried this nation throughout one of stormiest periods in history. Dark days lay ahead and we should by all means entrust the destinies of the United States to those who have shown by their actions that they are capable of meeting emergencies.

That Third Term Bugaboo

What the Founding Fathers Thought

AT THE CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION, which in 1787 drew up our Federal Constitution, the very cornerstone of our Republic - the third term question was debated thoroughly over a period of weeks. Proposals to write in any prohibition against a third term were overwhelmingly defeated.

Some third Term proponents among the Founding Fathers

AMONG THE THIRD TERM PROPONENTS WERE: Governor Morris, Alexander Hamilton, George Washington. Their reason: Because at some time of national emergency, a third term limitation would be highly detrimental to the nation's welfare.

What Congress has Thought

TIME AND AGAIN, bills have been introduced in both Houses of Congress proposing to limit the term of the Presidential office. In all our national existence, no such bill has ever been passed.

W.M. HOWARD TAFT said: "It would be very satisfactory if Coolidge were to run for a Third Term."

Some Republican statements about a Third Term

WILLIAM E. BORAH said: "The people who could be trusted to determine whether or not they desire a President for Second Term may also be trusted to determine whether or not they desire a President for a Third Term. I think they can be trusted to settle both questions in a way to best conserve the interests of the people and the Republic."

HERBERT HOOVER said: "I still believe that President Coolidge should be nominated and re-elected" (when Calvin Coolidge was being urged to run for a Third Term).

What About Dictatorship,

THE DANGER TO DEMOCRACY comes not from an experienced statesman who has handled the gravest domestic emergencies, but from an inexperienced leadership which may become panic stricken in time of crisis.

THERE CAN BE NO DICTATORSHIP where we have a free press, free speech, and free elections. No one need fear a Third Term unless he fears the people.

Is this the time to bring national defense to a standstill WITH THE WORLD CRISIS GROWING more acute daily, nothing would please Hitler more, or do more to stymie our national defense program, than a change in the Presidency at a time when the United States needs continuity of national leadership.

GEORGE WASHINGTON said: "I can see no propriety in precluding ourselves from the services of any man who in some emergency shall be deemed universally most capable of serving the public."

That the emergency today is great is evident from the appropriation of millions of dollars for armament and the drafting of men. That the President is deemed universally most capable of serving the people is evident from every poll.

FRANKLIN ROOSEVELT said: "Today, all private plans, all private lives have been repealed by an overriding public danger - my conscience will not let me turn my back upon a call to service. The right to make that call rests with the people through the American method of a free election."

THE COUNTY'S SHARE OF COST

"Ridiculously low" will be Livingston County's share of the cost of this long-range program of park and parkway development which will be launched when the voters of the five counties centering around Detroit approve the Parkway-Playground Proposal, State Proposal Number 5, in the election next Tuesday.

This is the opinion of R. Bruce McPherson of Howell, who is a member of the general committee of the Detroit-Huron-Clinton Park and Parkway Association, the civic organization which is furthering the proposal.

Upon the passage of the proposal, McPherson explained, a Metropolitan Authority, or Commission, will be established for the counties of Livingston, Wayne, Washtenaw, Oakland and Macomb. This authority will be empowered to plan, develop and maintain adequate public parklands, playgrounds, bathing beaches and other recreational facilities, and also parkways, or limited access highways, serving all parts of the five-county area.

"Wayne County, having the greatest population and the most wealth of any county in the area, will pay the major part of the expense necessary to maintain the Authority," McPherson explained. "Edward H. Williams of the Wayne County Board of Auditors has announced that Livingston's share will be only seven-tenths of one-percent of the total cost. Livingston's share of the cost, under the law, cannot exceed a maximum of $6,128 a year. It is likely that for several years to come Livingston's share will be only about one-fifth of this amount, or less than $1,500 a year, because early planning does not cost much money.

"The new Authority, working in close harmony with the federal, state county and other agencies which will actually finance and build the parks, parkways, express highways and the bathing beaches that are so badly needed in this area, will be in a position to see to it that many of this small amount will be spent in this county. We of this county stand to be big gainers if we say "Yes" to the Parkway-Playground Proposal."

Actually, many advantages, material, and social, will accrue to the people of the county he said.

Passage of the Parkway-Playground Proposal means safe, fast, convenient express highways, capable of taking the county's residents to and from the heart of Detroit in two thirds their present driving time, with no traffic lights, intersections or congestion to cause delay," he pointed out. "The plan also means a development of the county's natural resources here. A similar plan in Greater New York City accomplished just this for outlying counties. The plan will bring hundreds of thousands of new tourist dollars here each year, for parklands and playlands attract profitable tourist trade. And the plan will create a great deal of additional employment for our citizens.

"All these things spell greater prosperity, better health and increased happiness for every man, woman and child in the county, at a low annual per person cost that is less than that of a package of cigarettes or an ice cream soda".

PHILATHEA NOTES

Our Notes didn't have "their hat on" last week, but they were in the paper nevertheless.

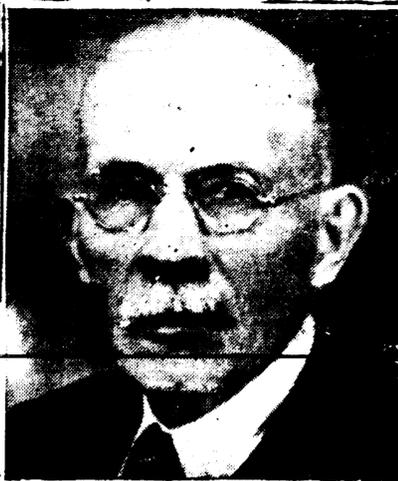

Rev. McLucas, the teacher of the Paraca Class kindly welcomed the Philathea into his class for the Sunday discussion period. This was a very important lesson, the topic being, "Christian Motives for Abstinence." "Abstinence" goes further than the generally accepted meaning given to "Temperance". A prominent lesson example was John the Baptist of whom it was said, "For he shall be great in the sight of the Lord, and shall drink neither wine nor strong drink, and he shall be filled with the Holy Ghost even from his mothers womb". Luke 1:15. It would be hard to find an example where one is filled with the Holy Ghost and with strong drink at the same time. They never harmonize, and the person who thinks they do, has little influence on the side of real righteousness.

The Philatheas were chosen for table committee for the Monday evening, October 28th family night.

Next Sunday is Missionary Day in our Sunday School. We hope for a good attendance in all classes.

Study Luke 4:16-30 for next Sunday's lesson, "Jesus Declares His Mission." Golden Text, "For the Son of Man is come to speak and to save that which was lost." Luke 19:10.

STATE DENTAL BILL

This is an important message to you, Mr. and Mrs. Consumer. Michigan has a model statute governing the use of advertising.

It fully protects the consumer against misuse of advertising by false or misleading statements of any kind.

Newspapers are ready at all times to keep their advertising columns clean from such abuse. Merchants likewise do not wish to mislead the consumer with inaccurate statements which result only in ill will and loss of patronage.

The economic freedom of the consumer depends largely on his or her ability to get truthful information. Is there any justification for a scheme to rob you of this right, to prohibit telling the truth?

State Proposal No. 4, the Dental Bill, would deny the consumer this important privilege. It would prohibit the telling of prices. It would encourage other groups to work for special legislation to restrict competition.

It would evade the American system of justice by court and jury. It would deny to both consumer and business man the freedom of truthful advertising.

Consumers, Guard your rights!

Defend the right to tell the truth, as judged by court and jury, and as safeguarded against abuse by the Michigan false advertising law.

This is the American way!

NOTES of 25 YEARS AGO

Dispatch of October 3, 1915

Henry Dudley Grieve, 77, died at his home here on October 30. He has been a resident of Putnam and Unadilla since he was four years old. He leaves his wife and two daughters, Mrs. Grace Croofot, and Mrs. Katherine Placeway.

Mrs. M. J. Reason gave a shower at her home on the night of October 28 in honor of Miss Florence Reason, a coming bride. A luncheon was served and the guest of honor received many beautiful gifts.

The recent Holstein cattle sale at Howell totalled $14,780, averaging $152 per head.

The recently organized Howell Electric Motors have broken ground for a new factory. The Shaefer's have the contract.

Florence Cook is teaching in her Sister Madge's school at Hartland.

Messrs. A. H. Flintoft, Lee Gattrell, Frank Kennedy and Lester Brenningstall have gone to Gladwin and Roscommon counties to hunt.

The Misses Nellie Gardner and Fannie Monks attended the funeral of Andrew Hackett in Detroit Tuesday.

The following from here attended the Anti Saloon league meeting in Lansing Tuesday: Dr. H. F. Sigler, Rev. Casburn, Miss Kate Brown and Mrs. Sam Denton.

At the Sunday school convention held here Thursday speeches were made by Mr. VanBuskirk, Detroit, Rev. and Mrs. Kotesky, Mrs. Elmer Braley, Rev. Brooks, of Howell, Mrs. Minnie Arnold, Gregory and George L. Adams, Fowlerville.

Week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Darrow were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Loomis, jr., of Detroit, Wm. Gillen and wife of Lansing.

William Parsons, 81, retired rural mail carrier, died at his home in Dexter Friday. He leaves his widow and a sister, Mrs. Samuel Wheeler of Dexter.

THE MANDATE OF 1938—Two years ago the people of Michigan registered a protest at the ballot box. It was a protest against wasteful spending, mounting deficits, and a betrayal of honest laboring men.

You gave the Republican party in Michigan a mandate to do a job.

This party has kept the faith!

NO NEW TAXES—Needs of public service have been met on a "pay-as-you-go" basis without recourse to new taxes.

Business has been encouraged to GO AHEAD—hire more men, increase payrolls. Industrial peace has replaced industrial turmoil.

The party has kept the faith!

SENIOR NEWS

All the plans were made for a Senior party at a class meeting last week. The party will be a weiner roast and will be held Saturday, on November 2nd. It is invitational and will be held on a hill about a half mile from Pinckney.

PRIMARY ROOM

This week those who helped in the "news" are Junior Petsch and Norma Young.
The following people were in per-

JUNIOR NOTES

The junior class received play books and the cast will be chosen by Mrs. Wilson, our class sponsor. Mrs. Wilson is giving the cast their books this afternoon and we will start practice right away. Every one in the Junior class will have something to do with the play. If they do not have a part in the play they will have to help with the lighting, advertising, and one person is to be chosen as assistant director.

INTERMEDIATE ROOM

The 6th grade has been studying about calories and balanced diets in Hygiene.

On Thursday, October 31, Miss Byington, Miss Darragh and Mrs. Lobdell's rooms will have a Halloween Masquerade party and a short program in the gymnasium. Each room will contribute numbers for the program.

Report cards were received this week. The average marks are higher this month than last. Keep up the good work.

The 7th grade wrote to Cady, Wyoming for information in ranch life and received some very interesting pictures and stickers from the City Club. We expect to hear from the Cady school children very soon.

GRAMMAR ROOM

The children in Miss Byington's room are going to have a masquerade party Thursday. There will be prizes for the best-dressed boy and girl, and for the funniest-dressed boy and girl.

The monitors have been elected for the month of November. They are David Ledwidge and Mary Gentle for the hall. The third grade grade, Jeraldine Feiner, and fifth monitor is Barbara Haines; fourth grade, Russell Clark.

In connection with their studies of the Southern states the fifth grade have written to different sections of the South for samples of cotton and tobacco and other Southern products.

Five birthdays were celebrated this last week. They were: Thursday Douglas Liebeck; Saturday, Aaron Barber and Neil Baughn; Sunday, Junior Truhn and Richard Schneider.

On the sick list this week is Joe Plummer.

ADVANTAGE OF ELECTRICITY

Thomas Alva Edison was the inventor of many of our electric appliances which are used today in Milan, Ohio, February 11, 1847 and died in 1931. He, in his early life, sold candy on a train where he earned his money. He used a box car for his laboratory until he tipped over a bottle of phosphorus which caught fire to the box car. His appliances were improved each year. Electricity is a great help to mankind. It gives us light and heat and many other useful things. It is made from falling water. When the water falls off from a high cliff it falls into cups which turn around a large wheel. The turning of this large wheel turns other large wheels and machinery, thus electricity is generated. It is sent through the air to houses, buildings and factories. Electricity is cheaper than coal or gas. Now electricity is installed in many homes because it is so convenient. The Edison Company now has headquarters all over the world where their trucks of equipment full of wires and tools are all near to repair broken lines. Every one or two years they put up new poles which cost about one dollar, and they put up new wires to prevent fires or accidents. They hire many men to be ready to work day or night. They have electric lights on corners to prevent accidents.

The Edison Company installs meters which run automatically to keep the number of hours we use electricity. We thank Mr. Edison for making life easier for homes by inventing many electrical appliances. There are electric milking machines to milk the farmer's cows. There are electric street cars to carry people to and from work. In the farmer's home they have many electric things, such as stoves, flatirons, tea kettles, toasters, vacuum cleaners, fans, sewing machines, refrigerators, and many other things.

The flat iron is easier than the old irons because you can keep it hot all the time. It only costs .0385 cents an hour. The toaster is very useful; you will put two slices of bread in and in a few minutes the toast will automatically pop out, so there is no chance of burning. This costs .035 cents an hour. The vacuum sweeper is another electric implement. All you do is push a button and it sucks all the dirt into a sack, and it sucks all the dirt into a sack. In a few minutes your rug is clean. It takes .0105 cents to run it. The fan is very useful in hot weather. It will turn around very fast and blow cool air out. I will cool you very fast. A fan is very convenient for sick people in summer. It costs .0028 cents an hour. The sewing machine is very useful also. It costs only .0035 cents an hour. The electric stove is very useful to us. All you do is put potatoes on the stove turn it on for a while, then turn it off and they will cook very nicely.

It has a large oven and costs .0402 cents an hour.

Electricity saves us a lot of work that we would do if the old method was used. It tells us about the ball games, and many other exciting adventures of well-known men. It tells us of politics and many other useful things. Electricity has many advantages for the world.

ETIQUETTE

This week we are starting an etiquette column and we hope it will prove beneficial to each reader.

You can find a lot of definitions for the word "etiquette" in the dictionary. Boiled down, they all mean the same thing as the old proverb: "book favor" into other words you would have others do it for you.

This week our topic deals mainly with the boys. Our last school party gave us an idea for this week's column. Boys, can you dance. Most boys will answer "yes" to that question, but if we were to say "Can you dance properly?" the correct answer for most of you would be "no".

Everybody should know how to dance. But no one ever learned by watching from the entrance. In order to master rhythm, practice by yourself. Turn on the radio or whist and tap your foot until you feel you can keep exact time to the music; then stand up and dance around the room in a simple side-step. If you don't know how to begin, ask someone to help you. Even if you know about dancing, but you lack her to teach you at a public dance. She wants to spend her evening dancing, not teaching.

Later steps are forever changing, but dance etiquette remains about the same here are some hints on good dance etiquette.

1. Don't grab her so tightly that she has to gasp for breath. On the other hand, don't hold her so gently that she won't be able to follow.

2. Hold your left arm at the elbow and keep your hand steady as you dance. If you hold your left arm out like a poker you are likely to poke someone in the eye and do not bounce your arm up and down like a pump handle.

3. Remember: No girl likes to be made conspicuous on a dance floor. Exhibition stuff is for the stage.

4. Don't take her to a dance and leave her to entertain herself.

5. After finishing a dance with a girl thank her graciously for it. Give her the impression that she's almost a second Ginger Rogers.

6. There an etiquette question you would like answered. Drop your question in the public letter box in the session room. Your name doesn't have to be signed to it. We will answer it in this column as soon as possible.

By: Thank you and Please.
Last Thursday morning the entire school saw a motion picture, in the auditorium. The name of it was "Peck's Bad Boy in the Circus". The show had many laughs in it, and I'm quite sure it was enjoyed by all. We only wish we could turn in our 36 millimeter machine for a 40 millimeter machine, and that we could use it more often, not only for enjoyment, but it would be helpful in our education also.

TEACHER'S INSTITUTE

In the previous weeks Mrs. Wilson's and Mr. Burg's impression of the Teacher's Institute have been given you. This week we will give you Mr. Reader's impression.

On Friday of the Teacher's Institute Mr. Reader attended a mathematics meeting. There, John Chesman, Principal of the High School at Vandercook Lake; and Jasper Hieftje, of Jackson High School gave speeches on "Teaching Arithmetic in the High School". The idea brought out was that the pupils in high school must be taught arithmetic in order to review their earlier training. These men had taught mathematics for many years and thought that in some schools arithmetic was not being stressed enough. A good knowledge of arithmetic is a very valuable asset to a person after he gets through school.

NOTES OF THE GAME

Linden showed one of the best high school teams we have seen this year. The boys were well schooled in the fundamentals of the game and their backfield was exceptionally fast and shifty.

The Pinckney boys experienced a lot of difficulty in trying to figure out the Linden attack because the quarterback called no signals. The ball was snapped as soon as the center saw that the backs were in position.

One of the bright spots of the game from the Pinckney standpoint was an exceptionally fine kicking of the placekicker. On one occasion one of his kicks traveled 68 yards and then rolled out of bounds. His average for the game was approximately 38 yards.

In the Pinckney backfield Amburgey was the only back who showed up well. Beryl threatened to break away several times but inability of the blockers to act effectively held him back.

The question what is wrong with Pinckney football, perhaps an answer can be found in checking the number of boys who report for practice, each night during the week. On Monday night 13 boys turned out to go to Howell for a scrimmage game. Tuesday night 9 boys showed up. Wednesday night 8 boys and on Thursday night 14 boys. If this is all the interest that can be aroused in football it would seem that the school authorities would do well to cancel this sport and use the money expended in a manner that more students will be benefitted.

In spite of a dismal season Pinckney has an opportunity to tie for the leadership of the Owl league when they play New Hudson here this Friday afternoon. As the race now stands New Hudson leads with two victories and no defeats while Pinckney and S. Lyon are tied for second place with one game victory and one defeat apiece. Let's come out and see if the boys can pull an upset.

Our neighboring rival of Stockbridge also continues to have its football difficulties so the big game here November 8 shapes up as one hard to figure out. However it looks as if the Pinckney squad will have to show a lot more pep and drive if they are to prevent Stockbridge from registering its first football victory over Pinckney.

SOPHOMORES NOTES

THE KISS OF DEATH

In the short space of one week John L. Lewis, labor leader has charged from the lowest reptile in the dust to one of the angels on high all by the simple expedient of transferring his allegiance from President Roosevelt to Wendell Willkie. Four years ago when Lewis and his henchmen invaded Michigan and other states with their sitdown strikes. Then the press heaped their wrath upon him. He was lower than the lowest, a beast and aspired to wreck civilization and become a despot of the world. No calamity was too great to hurl at him. Now as he takes his place alongside Willkie he has been washed clean of all his sins and is pure and full of virtue. The Free Press and other papers who are filled with his praise should reprint some of their articles they printed about him four years ago. The contrast would be amusing with their present day eulogies.

Of course, there is a story connected with this Lewis endorsement of Willkie. According to Frank Grille, secretary-treasurer of the United Rubber Workers of America, Lewis visited President Roosevelt with a written endorsement of the president in his pocket which he promised to sign providing the president would grant his requests. These requests were: 1. To deny government contracts to Bethlehem Steel and the Ford Motor Co.; 2. To re-appoint Chairman J. Warren Madden to the National Labor Relations Board. President Roosevelt refused his demand and Lewis went over to Willkie who got the endorsement. Labor as a rule does not seem to be following Lewis into the Utility candidates camp. Unions representing 600,000 workers met in Detroit Sunday and affirmed their allegiance to President Roosevelt. Over 2,000 unions also sent telegrams to Lewis endorsing Willkie. His speech endorsing Willkie was broadcast at a cost of $65,000, a Willkie organization paying the bill. He spoke on a radio period previously engaged by Willkie.

It is freely prophesied that his endorsement will carry little more weight than that of Al Smith who swallowed slurs thrown at him in 1928 and went over to the opposition camp followed by no one.

OLD BILL says "Here's what I think"

"I think that Senator Vandenberg should be returned to the United States Senate on his great record as the most useful Senator in Washington."

"Honestly, folks, Michigan is fortunate in having Vandenberg on the Foreign Relations Committee, Committee on Finance and Committee on Commerce—he is the only Michigan Senator ever to achieve such leadership."

"You know that when his party controls the Senate he will be President pro tem of the Senate."

"He believes in the American way and never ever wavered in his allegiance to the Constitution and its Bill of Rights."

"I would vote for him on his record of being the father of Bank Deposit Insurance alone."

"I like his fight, particularly for the American farmer, where his greatest work was in championing the sugar beet industry."

"Being a member of the International Printing Pressmen's Union for many years has brought him many endorsements by organized labor, for he has always stood for collective bargaining—and chiefly thanks to him, every worker in the land was spared a 50% increase in Social Security taxes last January."

"How he has been able as a member of a minority party to accomplish so much is really remarkable."

"I agree with Tom Dewey that it would be a calamity if Michigan and the nation were to lose the statesmanship of Vandenberg."

"Every Michigan mother should be happy to have the privilege of voting against war by marking her ballot on November 5 for Willkie in the White House and Vandenberg in the Senate. That is really an All-American pair to me."

!!Let's finish the job on Nov. 5!!

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Franklin D. Roosevelt starts last week of campaign leading, according to the Gallup Poll, with 36 states and 410 electoral votes while Willkie has 12 states and 121 electoral votes.

With Europe still in a crisis, the President's foreign policy got first attention from American voters. They remember that Roosevelt led the fight to change the Neutrality Law against the opposition of Senator Vandenberg and other isolationist Senators so that America could furnish England war materials on a cash basis to take over on English boats. The Spanish-American war and the last World War were started by the sinking of American boats. The change in the Neutrality Law has proved to be right during the past year and not a boat sunk and yet many shiploads of arms and ammunition have enabled England to keep the war across the Atlantic.

The Gallup Poll proves that the American people do not believe in changing horses in an emergency. This was good logic in the days of Abraham Lincoln and is true today.

The endorsement by John Lewis of Wendell Willkie may prove to be the kiss of death. Labor leaders claim that three weeks ago, Lewis told union officers that he was holding an endorsement of President Roosevelt in his pocket to gain two objects: 1st a denial of Government contracts to certain firms, including Bethlehem Steel and the Ford Motor Company; 2nd, the reappointment of Chairman J. Warren Madden to the National Labor Relations Board. Roosevelt had the courage to refuse these demands. Lewis was also peeved because President Roosevelt opposed his sit-down strikes.

Michigan farmers and business men now realize the demands made upon the President and the President will receive many new supporters because he has the courage and will not permit John Lewis or any other ruthless leader to stand in the way of national defense.

FERTILIZER'S USE IS INCREASED ON FARMS IN MICHIGAN

LANSING, MICH.—Farmers of Michigan have increased the tonnage of fertilizer used on their land by 74 per cent since 1934, according to a statement issued here by the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee.

"Michigan farms utilized 144,811 tons of commercial plant food in 1939," says the statement, "compared with 82,470 tons in 1934."

"This increase indicates that Michigan farmers appreciate the place fertilizer must occupy in modern farming conditions. Michigan soils are becoming older. They have been tilled continuously for nearly a century. The reserve of virgin fertility stored in them during the thousands of years of soil formation which preceded the advent of farming is becoming rapidly exhausted.

Fertilizer helps produce bumper corn crop.

"This means that replacement of vital fertilizing elements removed by growing crops is necessary if profitable crop yields are to be obtained. Higher yields must be produced if farm products are to compete successfully on the market with products grown on more highly fertilized soils."

"The increasing use of fertilizer also indicates that farmers have found them profitable. Surveys have indicated that every dollar spent for fertilizer results in an average increased value of crops amounting to about three and a half dollars."

VIGOR OF GROWING CROPS DEPENDS ON FERTILITY OF SOIL

CHICAGO—The health and vigor of growing farm crops depends directly on the health and vigor of the soil that produces them, according to a bulletin made public here by the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee.

"Farmers everywhere in the Middle West," says the bulletin, "are finding that they cannot continually draw against the fertility account of their land without making some substantial deposits in the form of necessary plant foods."

"Only by a steady program of fertility replacement and soil building practices can the continuous productivity of a farm be assured."

"The alert Middle Western farmer spends an average of several hundred dollars each year on the repair of his buildings, machinery, fences and in the purchase of new equipment. However, he spends, on an average, less than thirty dollars for the purchase of fertilizer to replace vital plant food elements removed every year by growing crops. Yet even this small investment means a greater return on his crops and improvements in the form of soil repair."

"The abundance of peace and truth"

PEACE is not a surface condition. Whether considered in relation to the individual or to society, peace is deep-founded, fundamental. It is not negative; it does not result from indifference. In fact, peace can be found only in clear thinking, humbly maintaining an ideal even in the face of odds; it is not found in merely drifting with the tide of contemporaneous beliefs. The characteristic of peace is co-operation. Thus is national as well as individual character developed.

True character is expressive of spiritual verities. It furnishes evidence that real existence is not, as unenlightened materialism pretends, the sport of forces divided between good and evil. Spiritual truth proclaims that the achieving, conquering, sustaining laws of being are entirely spiritual, that man is spiritual, and that real existence is governed by divine law. . . .

Christianly scientific thinking proves man's divinely bestowed dominion. This is the opposite of personal domination, for domination comes from that faith in matter which breeds fear and selfishness. Dominion, on the other hand, is found in knowing God's infinitude. . . . It would not be convincing to pray that God's will be "done in earth, as it is in heaven," unless it were understood that God's bountiful provision for His idea, man in His likeness, is humanly available in terms of health, goodness, joy, and opportunity. Jesus' great healing work, done in accord with the divine will, clearly proved that the Christly understanding of spiritual being can dispel the effects of disturbing fears and theories.

Murray VonWagoner

For Governor of MICHIGAN

He is a young man, 42 years of age, with 7 years of experience as Highway Commissioner.

Michigan is a great state, with nearly five million people and handles more than 100 million dollars per year. It therefore requires the full time of a vigorous, able administrator. Now, with more than 500 million dollars of Government contracts coming into Detroit and other Michigan cities, the next two years may be serious years.

Murray D. VonWagoner has no private interests or corporation connections requiring his time and therefore can give his full time to the State government.

The Next Few Hours May Decide
THE DESTINY
OF OUR COUNTRY

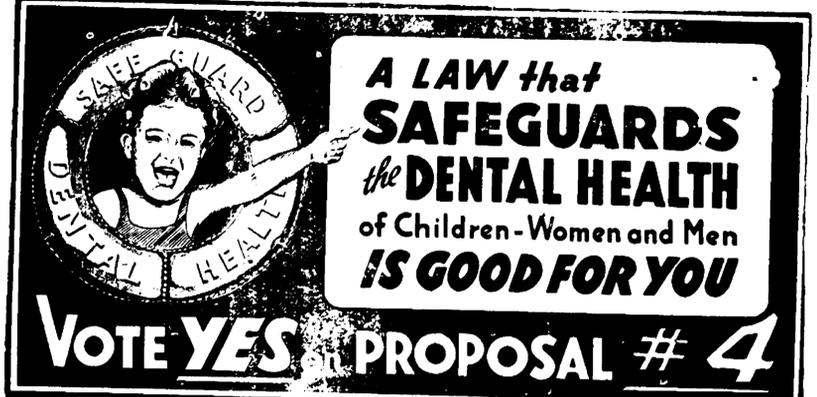

In a few hours you will be called upon to decide whether a President of the United States shall break one of our most cherished and hallowed traditions.

There are—of course—other grave issues. But none, however grave, is likely to have such a far-reaching effect on the future of our country. Shall we, with open eyes, go down the road that leads to Fascism, Nazism, Communism or whatever you choose to call a type of government which denies the dignity of man and the rights of the individual? Shall we, for the first time in our history, accept the theory of the indispensable man, as against the fact that no man in all history has ever been indispensable?

Make no mistake. Once we set foot on the road to dictatorship there is no turning back any more than the people of Germany or Russia can now turn back and choose other leaders... any more than the people of Germany can now end the terrible war that their present leaders have led them into.

So when you enter the polling booth on Tuesday—and you are alone with your conscience—with the ballot spread out before you, it will be up to you to choose whether we shall surely remain free men and women working together in a democracy, or whether we shall put ourselves in peril of one day living as slaves ruled by despots. It has happened there—it could happen here.

SENATOR VANDENBERG

When You Vote for Vandenberg
You Vote for Michigan

Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg is Michigan's champion. In foreign relations, in finance, in commerce, he is one of the few successful, influential and important men Michigan ever sent to Washington. BUT he has never forgotten the people who sent him there. For thirteen years he has fought for Michigan's interests—from sugar beets to automobiles, from furniture to fruit. He's a staunch friend of farming, an aggressive spokesman for organized labor . . . and an implacable foe of extravagance.

Vandenberg is the man who sponsored the famous "munitions investigation" that took big profits out of war.

He is the man who forced congressional reapportionment, gaining four seats for Michigan in the House of Representatives, and four votes in the Electoral College.

He is the man who was chiefly responsible for last January's bill which stopped an increase of 50% in taxes on 40,000,000 workers.

He is called "the Father of Bank Deposit Insurance."

He is the man who saved America $500,000,000 by defeating the shamefully wasteful Passamaquoddy and Florida Ship Canal and a number of other senseless projects.

He has done all these things for the nation, but he has never been too busy to "deliver the goods" for Michigan.

He saved the state's copper industry with his tariff.

He sponsored Isle Royale's development as Michigan's first National Park.

He has vigilantly guarded the state's vast interests in Great Lakes commerce, and he is working now for Michigan's share in National Defense.

This is the man who is a great leader of the Senate minority party . . . the man whom Life magazine picked among the "first ten" Senators.

His re-election is Michigan's duty to 47 other states as well as to itself. His re-election means that Michigan will continue to be "tops" in the United States Senate!

Re-elect MICHIGAN'S NATIONAL LEADER!
ARTHUR H. VANDENBERG

One of the unique figures of the present campaign is that of the Democratic Candidate for Congress from the Sixth District, Charles R. Adair. He has long been a figure in the public and political life of Flint and Genesee County. He has always been a keen student of both our social and economic problems. He is a recognized authority on the entire monetary system.

From the beginning of the depression in 1929, Mr. Adair was an earnest seeker for a solution. When he first read the Townsend Plan he felt that it had the possibilities needed by the country, if recovery is ever to be achieved. Since then he has been a consistent advocate of adequate provision to the old. This seemed wise for several reasons. First, it would remove fear and that "pallid giant" is the cause of most panics. Then their removal from the active search for jobs would mean that the young people would have their chance. If they faced a world where constant concern for the future was not necessary weight to be carried they might make a new world instead of keeping the one they found.

Mr. Adair wishes to go to Congress to do something to assist in bringing about a better condition among the people of, not only the sixth Michigan District, but of the entire country.

Personally, he would bring to the office not only the wisdom acquired by experience and long study but also the viewpoint of one whose heart has never grown old. A visit with him will convince anyone that the only mark the years have left upon him is to be found in the greying of his massive head of hair.

Even those who are opposed politically admit that "Charlie" Adair is honest and sincere. Certainly nothing more valuable can be found in a public servant than these two qualities.

When asked about his chances, Mr. Adair said with a twinkle in his eye "Well anyway, they all know I'm running. Yes, and it looks good."

PARKWAY PLAYGROUND

(STATE PROPOSAL NUMBER 5)

What the Parkway-Playground Proposal Means to You!

YOUR "YES" VOTE means the setting up of a joint Commission, or Authority, for the Metropolitan Counties of Wayne, Washtenaw, Oakland, Livingston and Macomb . . . representing you in the planning, developing and operating of adequate parks, playgrounds, bathing beaches, and of safe, fast, convenient express highways to take you to your destination without delay or danger due to traffic jams!

AN ANNUAL COST of less than 15 cents a person . . . the mere price of a nut sundae! . . . will get this vitally-needed program well under way throughout the five-county area!

YOUR "YES" VOTE means children of this crowded area will have an abundance of safe places to go and play! Actually, your "Yes" can save the lives of many children who otherwise are destined to meet sudden tragedy on our motor-jammed streets and highways! (Seven years of parkway-playground progress in Greater New York has reduced traffic accidents to children 42 per cent! And juvenile delinquency 20 per cent!) Let's give our own children a chance for happiness! On Tuesday, let's all vote "Yes" on our own Parkway-Playground Proposal!

YOUR "YES" VOTE means manifold other benefits to be shared by every one of the three million people living in the five counties centering about Detroit! "Yes" means greater employment, for it takes men to build parkways, playgrounds, bathing beaches! "Yes" means millions more tourist dollars, because playlands attract visitors! "Yes" means a more gracious home environment! "Yes" means a healthier, happier, more prosperous people! For all our sakes . . . let's all be sure to vote "Yes!"

ing them of advertising, they would lose their cliental, who would seek more competent care.

"The 'advertising' dentists claim they are able to attract persons who otherwise would neglect their teeth, that their work is as good as other dentists, that advertising prices prevent other dentists from 'gouging' the public, and that advertising is as rightfully applied to dentistry as to the sales of any other service.

Doesn't Make Sense

Continuing the Bureau's analysis "The public at large is not particularly concerned with a quarrel within a dental profession. It is concerned with the protection of public health. No doubt much of the material of this act (P. A. 122) is in the interest of public health.

"As to the allegation that advertising and the operation of more than one office is prima facie evidence of poor dental practices -- to the laymen THAT DOESN'T MAKE SENSE. Possibly the answer is competent state regulation of all dentists -- advertisers and non-advertisers alike.

As both dental groups must have professional training at a recognized dental college and must be licensed by the dentists' own state dental board, the competitive motive behind the bill is easy to see, as the Detroit Bureau points out. From the consumer's viewpoint, the anti-competition restriction "doesn't make sense."

Shutting out Competition

If the State Proposal No. 4 was the only anti-competition bill to confront the consumer, perhaps there would be less reason for concern.

But such is not the case. Stuart Perry, editor of the Adrian Daily Telegram which has never received a penny in dental advertising, has called attention editorially to the point that the dentists' act is designed to stifle competition and would establish a dangerous precedent for the consumer who always pays.

If it is wrong to advertise the truth about dental prices, then it is wrong to tell the truth about other prices. And where will it all end?

In 1911 the "truth in advertising" statute, making it illegal for anyone to make an untruthful, deceptive or misleading statement in any advertisement, was introduced nationally. Michigan's statute is considered to be a model law of its kind. Advertising of prices. Invariably the point arises: Why is it necessary for any group to have a special law of its own, forbidding price advertising of any kind, when Michigan already has a statute of its own, fully protecting the interest of the consumer? The answer always brings up the legal delays, continuances and politics which are involved by a suit at law. There are the prosecutor, the judge, and the jury, and they all take time. The legislative trend since NRA has been to circumvent the usual system of justice by establishing special state bureaus, empowered to regulate competition as far as the legislature will permit them. That the trend is distinctly anti-competition is shown by State proposal No. 4 for the provision to forbid more than one dental office with the mass economy savings for low-income groups. The ban on truthful price advertising is the heart of the entire proposal and has been so conceded privately by the Michigan State Dental Society, its sponsors. Behind the 6,000 words is this significant denial of consumer rights.

"PRODUCTION"

On the assembly line of any manufacturing process each movement of an operator counts in the completed article. One mistake may ruin the work of many hands. With your own planning for the building of an estate, the small beginning of a Savings Book Account is an absolute necessity. It is not the amount you save, but the fact that you save which is the key to successful production of an estate. It is never too late to begin production on your estate. As the chief operator on the line your job is to add regularly to the Savings Book. A slip in the program may spoil the outcome.
